

Land Transfer Clarification Act of 2012, corrects the legal description of land placed into trust for the Barona Band of Mission Indians in 2004. The bill places the proper parcel into trust as originally intended and clears title to the property misidentified under existing law.

S. 3193 was discharged by the Subcommittee on Indian and Alaska Native Affairs earlier this month by unanimous consent after having been passed by the full Senate in September, also by unanimous consent.

This bill is supported by the administration, the tribe, and the affected non-Indian stakeholders. I, too, support this legislation to correct Congress' error and urge my colleagues to vote in favor of passage.

With that, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BISHOP of Utah. Once again, I'm the only speaker we have over here, and I'm prepared to close when the gentleman from the Northern Mariana Islands is.

Mr. SABLAN. Mr. Speaker, I have no further speakers, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. BISHOP of Utah. Mr. Speaker, this is another bill that is non-controversial. It solves a problem that should have been solved a long time ago, and I urge my colleagues to vote for it.

With that, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Utah (Mr. BISHOP) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, S. 3193.

The question was taken.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. In the opinion of the Chair, two-thirds being in the affirmative, the ayes have it.

Mr. BISHOP of Utah. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, further proceedings on this question will be postponed.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 12(a) of rule I, the Chair declares the House in recess until approximately 6:30 p.m. today.

Accordingly (at 4 o'clock and 41 minutes p.m.), the House stood in recess.

□ 1831

□ 1857

Messrs. CLAY and CONYERS changed their vote from “yea” to “nay.”

Messrs. CROWLEY, HASTINGS of Florida, BERG, Ms. ZOE LOFGREN of California, and Ms. LINDA T. SÁNCHEZ of California changed their vote from “nay” to “yea.”

So (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

Stated for:

Mr. Speaker, Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. on rollcall No. 627, had I been present, I would have voted “yea.”

Mr. LARSON of Connecticut. Mr. Speaker, on December 17, 2012—I was not present for rollcall vote 627. I was attending a vigil in memory of the lives lost at the Sandy Hook Elementary shooting in Newtown, CT. If I had been present for this vote, I would have voted “yea” on rollcall vote 627.

MOMENT OF SILENCE IN MEMORY OF VICTIMS OF CONNECTICUT SHOOTING

(Mr. MURPHY of Connecticut asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. MURPHY of Connecticut. Mr. Speaker, on Friday morning, I brought my 4-year-old to school. I dropped him off at 8:45, just like millions of other parents did all across this country, and a few hours later I saw him again. He had a big smile on his face.

In Newtown, Connecticut, on Friday, 20 parents dropped their first graders off at Sandy Hook Elementary or kissed them good-bye as they got on the school bus, and that was the last time they saw their kids.

Something horrible, something unexplainable happened at Sandy Hook Elementary last week. When people ask me how are folks doing, I tell them right now there's a lot of blank looks, these people are just trying to process what happened. Twenty gleaming, beautiful children were gunned down, along with six adults who loved them dearly, by a young man with a sickness that masqueraded as evil that day.

So we are left asking all these questions: Why? Why us? Why these little kids? Why did he do it? Why weren't we able to prevent this from happening? The whys are almost infinite.

In the coming days and weeks, I guess we'll get some answers to these questions, but most of them won't have answers. But when you peek through this vast crippling darkness of the last 4 days, there's one answer that we know for certain. If we ever wondered what kind of community Newtown was, if we ever doubted the deepness of our love for one another, those questions have been answered, and they've been answered definitively.

They were answered by Principal Dawn Hochsprung, who told her colleagues to run one way so that she could run the other way, directly toward the gunman. They were answered by Victoria Soto, who hid her kids in a closet and died shielding her students from the assassin's bullets. And they've been answered by the thousands of individual acts of humanity that have overflowed from the people of Newtown in the days since the shooting, a community just pouring out love trying to help console this incalculable grief.

I went to the first of too many funerals this morning, and the last thing we know is this: All those wonderful little faces that you see on TV and in the newspaper, like Noah Pozner, who was laid to rest this morning, they're a reminder that despite the terrible and awful things that happened, that inside the hearts of all of this is this unbelievable goodness. That's all Noah Pozner had was goodness, was just this purity of spirit.

Newtown is going to survive this because it's a close town. They hurt more because they're close, but they also can survive because they're close. And they can also survive because they will get this inspiration from these 20 little kids who are asking this town to remember how good they were and try to equal that.

As Newtown wrestles with this grief and recovery, the thoughts and the prayers from others matter. I want to thank everyone here for all of the individual love that you've showered down upon our little town. I want to thank the Connecticut delegation here with me today for all of their support. It helps in some small way to know that the world is grieving with us.

So, Mr. Speaker, I would ask that the House now rise and observe a moment of silence for the 20 beautiful children and six courageous adults who perished on a crisp, cold Friday morning in Sandy Hook, Connecticut.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would ask all present to rise and observe a moment of silence.
