TRIBUTE TO RICHARD AND TIM SMUCKER

Mr. PORTMAN. Madam President, today I wish to congratulate Richard and Tim Smucker for being awarded the Harvard Business School Club of Northeastern Ohio's 2012 Leadership Award. These two brothers carry the legacy of a company created by Jerome Monroe Smucker over a century ago in 1897. Today, Smucker's employs more than 4,000 people and manages 29 domestic and 5 international brands, including Jif, Folgers, and Crisco. I have visited the company's headquarters and manufacturing facilities and seen firsthand how they have kept this great Ohio company at the forefront.

Richard Smucker has been a Smucker's director, having also served as president, co-chief executive, and executive chairman. In August of 2011, Richard was named chief executive officer of the company and continues to serve in this role.

Tim Smucker became a company director in 1973. He has also served as the company's chairman, as well as its co-chief executive. Since August of 2011, Timothy has served as the company's chairman of the board.

Mr. President, Richard and Tim Smucker received the 2012 Leadership Award for their continued and steadfast commitment to the J.M. Smucker Company, its brands, and its employees. I wish them both continued success in the future and commend them for their outstanding leadership in our State.

ADDITIONAL STATEMENTS

RECOGNIZING MAYOR MIKE WOOLSTON

• Mr. BLUNT. Mr. President, on May 22, 2011, the city of Joplin, MO, was struck by an EF5 tornado. The path of devastation was an incredible 6 miles long and almost 1 mile wide. The destruction was beyond words. Too many were lost, and lives were upended. Homes, schools, and businesses were destroyed. Joplin's mayor that terrible day was Mike Woolston. Mayor Woolston showed the world that Joplin was up to the challenge of not only surviving but rebuilding.

Mayor Woolston grew up in Joplin. Mike graduated from Joplin's Parkwood High School and Missouri Southern State University. After graduation from MSSU, Mike served his country in the U.S. Marine Corps at a number of locations at home and abroad. In 1988 Mike returned to Joplin and embarked on a career in real estate. For nearly 25 years Mike has been active in the Joplin community, serving on a number of community organizations such as United Way of Southwest Missouri, Community Blood Center of the Ozarks, American Red Cross, Salvation Army, and Joplin public schools' Bright Futures Program.

Mike was elected to the Joplin City Council in 2002. In 2010 his council peers elected him mayor. Mike was serving in that position when the most destructive tornado of the last 60 years struck the city of Joplin. Mayor Mike Woolston spent countless hours guiding the city through rescue, recovery, and eventually the beginning of the rebuilding process. Mayor Woolston's calm demeanor, positive attitude, and recognition of the thousands of others who were involved in every stage of post-tornado actions gave the citizens of the Joplin area hope for the future. As the face and voice for the city of Joplin, Mayor Woolston gave the Nation and the world a shining example of the spirit of cooperation and can-do work ethic which exemplifies Joplin, MO.

I hereby recognize and thank Michael R. Woolston for his leadership of the city of Joplin in the wake of the May 22, 2011, tornado and for his commitment to the citizens of his community.●

RECOGNIZING THE JONES BAR-B-Q DINER

• Mr. BOOZMAN. Mr. President, today I wish to recognize the owners of one of the oldest African-American-owned restaurants in America, the Jones Bar-B-Q Diner in Marianna, AR, which has been honored by the James Beard Foundation Awards.

The foundation recognized Jones Bar-B-Q as one of five restaurants from across the country in the "America's Classics" category at the 2012 annual awards ceremony taking place today at the Lincoln Center in New York City.

Foodies will tell you this honor is a big one. Arkansas writer Rex Nelson calls the Beard award the equivalent of the Pulitzer Prize for journalism—certainly high praise for a small operation that began on a back porch, but this is no ordinary run-of-the-mill barbecue.

This honor is a long time in the making. Jones Bar-B-Q Diner has been in operation, in some form, since at least the 1910s. Walter Jones, the founder and first pitmaster, lived in a bare wood dogtrot house and first served barbecue from the screened-in back porch on Fridays and Saturdays. The family recalls that original cooking setup as a "hole in the ground, some iron pipes, a piece of fence wire and two pieces of tin."

Eventually, Walter moved from selling the meat on the back porch to a small place in town called the Hole in the Wall. It was literally a window in a wall from which he would sell meat from a washtub. The modern incarnation, the Jones Bar-B-Q Diner, opened in 1964.

The business today remains true to its smalltown, family roots. Hubert Jones, Walter's son, is the present day proprietor and his son, James, tends the pits. The pork shoulder is still smoked with a simple setup over the pit. They still serve a very limited menu that centers around smoked pork hacked into bits and served on white bread with the Jones' vinegary sauce.

The James Beard Foundation—which is a not-for-profit 501(c)(3) organization dedicated to celebrating, preserving, and nurturing America's culinary heritage—only awards its "America's Classics" distinction to restaurants with "timeless appeal . . . that are beloved for quality food that reflects the character of their community."

To qualify for the "America's Classics" award, establishments must have been in existence at 10 years and they must be locally owned. The honorees are selected each year by the James Beard Foundation's Restaurant Committee, which is comprised of 17 people throughout the country, many of whom are notable food critics and culinary writers. The foundation is acutely aware of how special Jones Bar-B-Q Diner is to Marianna, the State of Arkansas, and southern cuisine.

I will leave you with one piece of advice. If you want some of Jones' famous smoke pork, it is best to arrive early. The diner usually opens around 7:30 a.m. Monday through Saturday and then closes by early afternoons when all the meat runs out. So get there early, bring your appetite, and be sure to congratulate the Jones family for being recognized by the James Beard Foundation. Their restaurant is definitely an integral part of the community and of Arkansas's culture. I am proud of Jones family's contribution to the Natural State's heritage and commend them for receiving this honor. The Jones Bar-B-Q Diner in Marianna truly is an American classic.●

RECOGNIZING THE ALASKA QUARTERLY REVIEW

• Ms. MURKOWSKI. Mr. President, I wish to recognize one of our Nation's literary magazines, the Alaska Quarterly Review. This quiet giant in the Alaska arts scene has earned numerous accolades and high praise. Today I want to specifically recognize the magazine for reaching its 30-year anniversary and for its continued literary excellence.

Since the magazine's birth at the Anchorage campus of the University of Alaska in 1982, the Alaska Quarterly Review has served as an instrument to give voice to Alaska writers and poets as well as also publishing excellent material from non-Alaskan authors. In other words, while it is firmly rooted in Alaska, it has maintained a national perspective, bridging the distance between the literary centers across the country and Alaska. This balanced presentation of views over the years has earned the Review local, regional, national, and even international recognition.

The founding editor of the Review, Mr. Ronald Spatz, envisioned the Review as a way to break through stereotypes and present Alaska to the greater literary community as a partner. With the Review under his direction for three decades, he has also continued his focus on publishing new and emerging writers. After 30 years of hard work at the Review, each issue still contains the same labor of love and excitement from edition to edition.

Advances in technology have turned publishing on its head, but the Review has remained both a faithful forum for conventional work and an outlet for work that challenges accepted forms and modes of expression. It has established itself as distinctly Alaskan because it is strongly influenced by the place, the people, and the cultural traditions, without ever being restricted by its geographical location. The magazine's body of work is eclectic.

Through its stories, oral histories, folk tales, and poems, the literary magazine seeks to portray Alaska's rich and diverse Native cultures. It pays tribute to the Native language speakers and tradition bearers that keep their cultures alive through their stories and through their words. Over the years Alaskans have learned that one of the best ways to protect the social fabric of Native Alaskans is to protect their culture, thus maintaining their pride in their history and their heritage. In this vein, Ronald Spatz has published stories in Eyak, Haida, Tlingit, Tsimshian, Alutiq, Central Yup'ik, St. Lawrence Island Yup'ik, Inupiaq, and Dena'ina. The Review has done much to preserve the culture and history of Alaska and her people.

To help commemorate these achievements and reaching the 30-year benchmark, the Review is producing an ambitious photojournalism collection in their spring/summer issue. The collection, called "Liberty and Justice (For All): A Global Photo Mosaic," pays tribute to photojournalists Tim Hetherington and Chris Hondros, who died in Libya in 2011. The biannual publication will also feature a special section in the fall/winter edition in the form of 60 poems by 60 different poets.

Alaska, and America, is far richer because of the Alaska Quarterly Review.

I commend it and its contributors for its many achievements, as well as the University of Alaska board of regents and the leadership of the University of Alaska Anchorage for its support of the publication. It has taken a tremendous commitment to academic and artistic excellence to continue publication these 30 years. Again, congratulations to the Alaska Quarterly Review for reaching 30 years of continued literary excellence.●

RECOGNIZING THE CITIZENS' HOSE COMPANY NO. 1

● Mr. CARPER. Mr. President on behalf of Senator CHRIS COONS, Congressman JOHN CARNEY, and myself, I wish to offer my congratulations to fire chief Isaac Willis, president S. Christopher Hudson, and the entire Citizens' Hose Company No. 1 as they celebrate the Company's 125th anniversary of service to the town of Smyrna in Delaware. The success of the Citizens' Hose Company is a tribute to the many dedicated men and women who not only have served in this company but have served this community in a number of ways.

In 1885, the town of Smyrna installed water mains and fire hydrants throughout the town in preparation of the founding of the Citizens' Hose Company. Since that time the members of this company have protected the property and residents throughout this historic community. The company has reached many milestones throughout the last 125 years—initially fighting fires with a man-drawn hose tender and ladder cart to now answering fire calls using a 100-foot KME Kovatch ladder truck which, in 1999, was the first ladder truck the company purchased new. Additional milestones included the formation of the Ladies Auxiliary in 1950, as well as the expansion of the station in 1985 to accommodate office space and future growth. With over 440 members today, the Citizens' Hose Company No. 1 maintains the highest level of excellence. Over the last several years, the Citizens' Hose Company has answered an average of 475 calls per year and are on pace to keep that record in 2012.

The Citizens' Hose Company serves as a great neighbor to all in the Smyrna area. The company participates in numerous community activities throughout the year and has a renowned company band. Since 1947, the Citizens' Hose Company Band has provided music for the marching unit of the company during parades and other community gatherings. An annual participant in the Delaware Volunteer Firefighter's Association Parade, the Citizens' Hose Company has won the prestigious Governor's Cup Award a record 31 times. The company band has had the honor of playing music throughout Delaware as well as in Dublin, Ireland, New York City, and even represented the First State at the inaugural parades of both President Bill Clinton and President Barack Obama in Washington, DC.

Delaware's firefighters are dedicated and caring professionals who willingly put themselves at risk—day and night, in all kinds of weather. As their congressional delegation, we are all sincerely grateful for the continued service of the men and women of Citizens' Hose Company. The hard work and commitment of these devoted volunteers is an inspiration to us all. Moreover, the Citizens' Hose Company No. 1 has crafted a tradition of superior and selfless service.

Today, we send our warmest congratulations to the members, volunteers and families of Citizens' Hose Company No. 1 on this momentous anniversary, and we look forward to hearing of their continued success and exemplary service for another 125 years and beyond.●

RECOGNIZING 15TH ANNIVERSARY OF NUMBERSUSA

● Mr. SESSIONS. Mr. President, I wish to recognize the 15th anniversary of NumbersUSA, a national grassroots organization that advocates for immigration policies that seek to serve the national interest.

NumbersUSA was formed in 1997 by Roy Beck, a former journalist who has been recognized by the Houston Chronicle as "one of the five leading thinkers in the national immigration debate." Under his leadership, NumbersUSA has grown from a mostly Internet-based organization of about 2,000 grassroots members to nearly 1.3 million activists, giving a voice to American citizens on the important issue of immigration and securing our border.

Those who were in Congress during the 2006 and 2007 debates on comprehensive immigration reform will confirm just how effective NumbersUSA is. NumbersUSA was an active leader in an outgunned coalition that stood up to virtually all the elites in Washington. The big lobbies pulled out all the stops, spent millions of dollars, and bore down hard in their push for mass amnesty. But Goliath fell to the grassroots David, whose faxes, e-mails, rallies, visits to our offices, and phone calls registered the clear message that the American people would not accept Washington rewarding lawbreaking. The overwhelming grassroots response actuated by the NumbersUSA coalition was most evident when citizens called Capitol Hill in such volume that it shut down the Senate's telephone system.

NumbersUSA approaches the important and sensitive issue of immigration by emphasizing the number of immigrants that are lawfully admitted to the United States. Their approach is captured in a statement prominently placed on their website: "To talk about changing immigration numbers is to say nothing against the individual immigrants in this country. Rather, it is about deciding how many foreign citizens living in their own countries right
