NOMINATION OF SARA MARGALIT AVIEL TO BE UNITED STATES ALTERNATE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF THE INTERNATIONAL BANK FOR RECONSTRUCTION AND DEVELOPMENT

Mr. REID. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate proceed to consider the following nomination: Calendar No. 640, and that the Senate proceed to vote without intervening action or debate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered. The clerk will report the nomination.

The legislative clerk read the nomination of Sara Margalit Aviel, of California, to be United States Alternate Executive Director of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, the Senate will proceed to consideration of the nomination.

Mr. BARRASSO. Mr. President, I rise to speak on the nomination of Sara Aviel to be the Alternate Executive Director to the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development. Had the Senate conducted a recorded vote, I would have voted against Ms. Aviel's nomination.

In 2011, the World Bank released a new 10-year energy sector lending strategy which includes a proposal to limit lending for new coal generation projects. I strongly disagree with the World Bank blocking any access to coal-powered energy. Their strategy will drive up energy prices around the world, and will make affordable and reliable energy for poor countries difficult to secure.

The World Bank should be focused on poverty reduction and economic growth. Using advanced technologies, coal provides a clean, low cost and reliable energy source which is critical to countries looking for assistance in poverty alleviation and economic development. I believe representatives of the United States at the World Bank should support low cost and dependable energy sources as a means to help countries spur economic growth.

Sara Aviel supports the World Bank providing financing for coal power generation but only to the poorest countries when no other options are available. She reiterated this point when I asked her whether she would support the World Bank's financing of a new coal-fired power plant project in Kosovo. She stated:

There are a number of compelling reasons in favor of this project. First, Kosovo, one of the poorest countries in Europe, is greatly in need of reliable base load power and there appears to be no other viable alternatives.

Since the majority of lending by the World Bank is for middle-income countries, and not to the poorest of countries, the World Bank strategy supported by Sara Aviel will place significant limits, if not eliminate, lending for coal power generation. I believe she will use the World Bank 10-year energy strategy as a means to restrict World Bank lending for coal power generation projects, even when the proposal represents the most cost effective alternative. Requiring borrowers to accept higher cost projects when affordable and reliable alternatives are readily available is no way to operate a bank, especially when the bank is being funded with taxpayer dollars.

The World Bank has also started a shift from providing financing to help the poorest of countries with economic growth and reducing poverty, to a focus in other areas with a strong emphasis on lending to middle-income countries. Middle-income countries that receive the vast majority of World Bank financing include nations such as China and Brazil.

While Sara Aviel agrees that middle-income countries are able to borrow on international capital markets at commercial rates, she believes the World Bank should continue its lending to these countries. I disagree with her support of this policy.

The World Bank should be aggressively working towards the graduation of middle-income countries from borrowers to donors. The resources of the World Bank should be directed at helping the poorest of countries eradicate poverty and implement successful economic development projects. Their primary focus should be on assisting countries that cannot access international capital markets at commercial rates, not financing middle-income
