Mr. WHITEHOUSE (for himself, Mr. LIEBERMAN, Mr. FRANKEN, and Mr. CARDIN) submitted an amendment intended to be proposed by him to the bill H.R. 1, making appropriations for the Department of Defense and the other departments and agencies of the Government for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2011, and for other purposes; which was ordered to lie on the table; as follows:

After section 1105, insert the following:

SEC. 11 ____ (a) The Senate finds that—

(1) extreme weather events threaten lives, property, the economy, national security, and sense of place;

(2) the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, the leading international body for the assessment of climate change, concludes that a changing climate leads to changes in the frequency, intensity, spatial extent, duration, and timing of extreme weather and climate events;

(3) the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change further concludes that it is at least 90 percent likely that—

(A) the length, frequency, and intensity of warm spells or heat waves will increase over most land areas;

(B) mean sea level rise will contribute to upward trends in extreme coastal high water levels; and

(C) locations currently experiencing adverse impacts, such as coastal erosion and inundation, will continue to be adversely impacted due to increased sea levels;

(4) Congress has been asked to approve an emergency aid package at a cost of $60,400,000,000 to assist recovery efforts from Hurricane Sandy, the second costliest Atlantic hurricane on record;

(5) in addition to Federal disaster assistance, private insurance companies are expected to pay billions of dollars in claims related to Hurricane Sandy;

(6) global insurance and reinsurance businesses acknowledge that climate change is real;

(7) Munich Re, the largest global reinsurer in the world, has reported that “there is evidence that, as a result of warming, events associated with severe windstorms, such as thunderstorms, hail and cloudbursts, have become more frequent in parts of the USA, southwest Germany, and other regions”;

(8) the Munich Re natural catastrophe database shows “a marked increase in the number of weather-related events”, including, globally, “a more than threefold increase in loss-related floods since 1980 and more than double the number of windstorm
