IN RECOGNITION OF THE KENTUCKY LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS MEMORIAL

HON. ANDY BARR

OF KENTUCKY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, May 7, 2013

Mr. BARR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the nearly 900,000 law enforcement officers in the Commonwealth of Kentucky who put their lives on the line every day for the safety and protection of others.

Today, the Kentucky Law Enforcement Memorial Service was held in observance of those who have given their all in our Commonwealth. The event was hosted at the nationally recognized Department of Criminal Justice Training Center on the campus of Eastern Kentucky University in Richmond, Kentucky.

The protection of our families can come with a heavy price. Over the last decade, an average of 160 Kentucky law enforcement officers per year have been killed in the line of duty.

I am saddened that I was unable to attend today's service in Kentucky due to votes in Washington. I will, however, continue to honor the sacrifices of officers such as the most recent officer killed in the line of duty in Kentucky, Officer Bryan Joseph Durman of Lexington.

Officer Durman, and other heroes like him, will not be forgotten and will always remind us of the ultimate sacrifices that our Law Enforcement Officers make every day. We remember them, and their families, each and every day.

CONGRATULATING THE CREEKSIDE MIDDLE SCHOOL NATIONAL SCIENCE BOWL TEAM

HON. SUSAN W. BROOKS

OF INDIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, May 7, 2013

Mrs. BROOKS of Indiana. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to congratulate Creekside Middle School in Carmel, Indiana in celebration of the team of students who placed first in the National Science Bowl, sponsored by the United States Department of Energy.

The National Science Bowl is an annual competition designed to encourage the best of our nation's young students to develop an interest in science and mathematics and to make contributions in those fields. It is a competition that promotes discovery, innovation, hard work and a commitment to a better tomorrow.

For all of these reasons and many more, I am so proud that a team from Indiana's 5th District won the national championship. It is a wonderful display of the best of Indiana's young minds. Over 5,000 middle school students from 1,023 teams across the country participated in this event, making Creekside's win all the more impressive.

As a member of the Education and the Workforce Committee, I also want to acknowledge how important it is to our nation's future to encourage and raise a new generation of Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics—STEM—leaders. For America to maintain its competitive edge in our global marketplace, we must pursue STEM excellence with a sense of urgency and passion.

Students like those at Creekside give me hope that we'll accomplish this vital mission. Their outstanding work is an inspiration to students, educators and parents across the nation. Once again, congratulations Creekside, I am very proud of you.

A TRIBUTE TO SAMANTHA DILOCKER

HON. TOM LATHAM

OF IOWA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, May 7, 2013

Mr. LATHAM. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor and congratulate 13-year-old Samantha Dilocker of Red Oak, Iowa, who has been named the state's top middle school youth volunteer for 2013 by the Prudential Spirit of Community Awards.

The Prudential Spirit of Community Awards program is our country's largest youth recognition program based entirely on volunteer community service. The program was created in conjunction with Prudential and the National Association of Secondary School Principals to honor middle and high school students for outstanding service to benefit others at the local, state, and national level. Since 1995, 345,000 American youths have participated in this program, with only 102 state honorees chosen each year.

Samantha's path to this prestigious award began in 2006 when she received the troubling news that her mother's employer would be closing its doors resulting in lost jobs not just at home, but across her community. Equipped with the determination to help her neighbors, Samantha began to establish an auction for baked goods at her local Elks Lodge by soliciting donations, creating advertising posters and signs, and working hands-on to run the auction. Samantha's first auction raised more than $1,000 and left no doubt in her mind that her work would continue. Now, her annual craft and baked goods auctions have raised more than $22,000 over the past seven years for a local food pantry, a community toy drive, a scholarship fund, and even provided assistance for a family whose young boy was diagnosed with cancer.

As a state honoree, Samantha received a $1,000 prize, an engraved silver medallion, and was recently recognized at an award ceremony and gala dinner reception at the Smithsonian's National Museum of Natural History in our nation's capital.

Mr. Speaker, it is with great pride that I recognize and applaud Miss Dilocker for her sincere dedication to positively impacting the lives of others in her community and beyond. Samantha's commitment to a cause greater than herself is a testament to the high-quality character and unwavering work ethic instilled in Iowans both young and old. Our future is bright with young people like Samantha, and it is an honor to represent her and her family in the United States Congress. I invite my colleagues in the House to join me in congratulating Samantha, thanking her supportive family, and thanking all of those involved in this wonderful project for their life-changing efforts.
