

Now the IRS will have “sophisticated cellphone dragnet equipment known as Stingray.” These devices “work by pretending to be cellphone towers in order to strip metadata and in some cases even content from phones which connect to them.”

Mr. Speaker, why does the IRS want to spy on Americans? It sounds like the old Soviet Union to me. The Fourth Amendment protects Americans from this type of widespread, abusive government spying.

It is time for Congress to make sure that the constitutional right of privacy applies to the IRS and to this new technology. Technology may change, but the Constitution does not.

And that is just the way it is.
