PROVIDING FOR AN ADJOURNMENT OF THE HOUSE

Ms. FOXX. Mr. Speaker, I send to the desk a privileged concurrent resolution and ask for its immediate consideration.

The Clerk read the title of the concurrent resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentlewoman from North Carolina?

There was no objection.

The text of the concurrent resolution is as follows:

H. CON. RES. 91

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That when the House adjourns on any legislative day from Thursday, November 5, 2015, through Thursday, November 12, 2015, on a motion offered pursuant to this concurrent resolution by its Majority Leader or his designee, it stand adjourned until 2 p.m. on Monday, November 16, 2015, or until the time of any reassembly pursuant to section 2 of this concurrent resolution, whichever occurs first.

SEC. 2. (a) The Speaker or his designee, after consultation with the Minority Leader of the House, shall notify the Members of the House to reassemble at such place and time as he may designate if, in his opinion, the public interest shall warrant it.

(b) After reassembling pursuant to subsection (a), when the House adjourns on a motion offered pursuant to this subsection by its Majority Leader or his designee, the House shall again stand adjourned pursuant to the first section of this concurrent resolution.

The concurrent resolution was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

VETERANS DAY

(Mr. HOLDING asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. HOLDING. Mr. Speaker, after Mary Louise Roberts' father died during the Depression, she worked in a laundry, then she trained as a nurse. After Pearl Harbor, she joined the Army.

Two years later, she waded ashore at Anzio, Italy, to set up a field hospital on the battlefield. The hospital tent was bombed, killing three nurses. Three days later, German artillery killed two more nurses. As shrapnel tore through the burning tent, Mary Roberts calmly supervised surgeries on wounded soldiers.

Mary was called "the Angel of Anzio," and was the first woman to win the Silver Star.

Today, Mr. Speaker, all you have to do is open the newspaper to see the cruelest kind of barbarism has been re-born in the world—ISIS burns people alive and sells women in slave markets in Syria and Iraq.

On Veterans Day, let us remember Mary Roberts and all our veterans, and, by the grace of God, offer a prayer of thanks for the soldiers whose courage keeps us safe at home, every day.

WILLIAM C. WAGGONER

(Ms. TITUS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. TITUS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to honor my friend William C. Waggoner, a legendary union leader and a tireless advocate for the hardworking men and women who have built this country.

Mr. Waggoner first joined the Operating Engineers in 1951, and he rose through the ranks to occupy the highest office in the local union, business manager, which is the position he held for 40 years. While there, he established the cutting-edge Crane Operators Training program, which became the model nationwide.

Mr. Waggoner is known as a fighter for workers and their families. He believes in fairness above all and has consistently pushed for safety in the workplace, for fair wages and benefits, and for the right to collectively bargain.

Away from the union hall, he remains devoted to his wife, Patty, and his family, and he is committed to his community of Long Beach, California. Many Little League Baseball players and children with special needs have greatly benefited from his generosity.

I humbly thank him for his tireless service, congratulate him on a career well spent, and wish him the best in retirement.

Now, don't be a stranger, Wag. You are welcome anytime in Las Vegas—a proud union town.

Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to address the House for one minute, and to revise and extend my remarks.

I rise to honor my friend, William C. Waggoner, a legendary union leader and tireless advocate for the hard working men and women who built this country.

Bill first joined the International Union of Operating Engineers in 1951 and immediately rose through the ranks, starting as a bulldozer operator before becoming a Foreman, Steward, Advisory Board Member, Business Representative, and District Representative for Southern Nevada and Orange County. In 1970 he was elected as President of IUOE Local 12, and in 1976 he was named to the highest office in the local union, Business Manager, a position he held for 40 years.

As Business Manager, Mr. Waggoner served as Trustee for Local 12's Pension, Health & Welfare, Vacation-Holiday, and Apprenticeship Trusts, and established state-of-the-art training centers, including the cutting-edge Crane Operators Training Program, which has become the model for all crane training in the nation.

In addition to his work with IUOE Local 12, Bill served as a Vice President of the California Federation of Labor, General Vice President of the International Operating Engineers, and President of the Western Conference of Operating Engineers.

Bill is known far and wide as a fighter for workers and their families. He believes in fairness above all. As his adversaries will tell you, he is an outstanding negotiator, always keeping the concerns and rights of his members at the forefront. He has consistently pushed for safety in the workplace, fair wages and benefits, and the right to collectively bargain.

Away from the union hall, Bill remains devoted to his wife Patty and his family and committed to his local community of Long Beach, California. Many Little League Baseball players and children with special needs have greatly benefited from his generosity. His awards are too numerous to mention but I know he is especially proud of being named "Man of the Year" by the Kern-Inyo Mono Counties Building Trades Council.

Jack Henning, retired Secretary Treasurer of the California Labor Federation, said Bill "represents the finest traditions of the American Labor Movement." I could not agree more. He has been there for me throughout my political career and for the working families I proudly represent.

I humbly thank him for his tireless service; congratulate him on a career well spent; and wish him the best in his retirement. Don't be a stranger, Wag. You're always welcome in Las Vegas, a strong union town.

ENSURING ACCOUNTABILITY AT THE VA

(Mr. PAULSEN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. PAULSEN. Mr. Speaker, on November 11, Veterans Day, we will honor and remember the efforts of those who serve our country. We owe it to our veterans to keep the promises made to them when they first joined the military.

Despite bipartisan action in Congress to increase efficiency and care at the VA, we are still suffering from a lack of transparency that makes it very difficult to determine what actions still need to be taken to ensure quality, timely care for our veterans. Now we have learned that there are over 140 investigations by the inspector general that were hidden. These investigations were shelved; they were not made available to the public or to Congress.

That is why I am supporting bipartisan legislation, the Veterans Care and Reporting Enforcement Act, which will require reports from the investigations by the inspector general to be made public, to be made available to Congress.

I want to thank my Minnesota colleagues, Congressmen TOM EMMER and TIM WALZ, for bringing this legislation forward. It will go a long way toward making the VA more accountable so that our veterans get the care that they deserve.

FAIR RATES ACT

(Mr. KENNEDY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. KENNEDY. Mr. Speaker, last year, when an energy capacity auction increased certain rates in my region from $1 billion to $3 billion, I asked the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission to take a close look at those prices and determine whether they were set fairly for consumers.

During the review, FERC had only four sitting Commissioners and deadlocked at 2-2. That meant that rates went into effect "by operation of law," and consumers were left with no avenue to appeal.

To me, that is unacceptable; so I introduced the Fair RATES Act to ensure that ratepayers are guaranteed an opportunity to have their voices heard.

Unfortunately, last week, Commissioner Philip Moeller stepped down—again, leaving FERC with just four Commissioners. Without a confirmation or even a nomination for a fifth Commissioner in sight, we find ourselves in the same situation. FERC is, once again, reviewing rising rates in my region and, once again, is at risk of a deadlock that would leave consumers holding the bag.

That is why we must pass Fair RATES today. Since last year's auction, our rates have jumped another billion dollars, and $3 billion is too steep an increase for my constituents to pay just because Congress will not act.
