

amount of time over the years looking at times in which OMB makes an estimate and then the reality is dramatically different.

So to carve out based on the Office of Management and Budget, which is a Cabinet-level, partisan appointment of the President, would have one believe that it is perfect. The reality is not only is it not perfect, but its track record tends to be very self-serving. Just the amount of times in which CBO scores very differently would cause all of us to know that this is not a good enough reason for a carve-out.

Having said that, I look forward to working with the gentleman from Virginia on both CBO and OMB scoring reform in the next Congress because I think we have a long way to go to get numbers right. If we get numbers right on both regulations and proposed laws, we can all do a better job.

In the case of the second portion of these two, I have to say that climate change has been unfairly made a political issue. The world is getting warmer; we know that. How much of it is caused by various things, we need to know, and I would hope that regulations would not be a source of that. But this President has, by many of his own statements, taken great credit for his use of a pen and a phone to make decisions related to his view of a single cause of climate change, that being carbon.

The fact is I look forward to working with any President on sensible regulations, but those regulations have to be consistent with the laws passed and the regulatory options given to the other branch. It is for that reason that we have the ability to disapprove.

So again, I would hope we all not look at specific regulations that may or may not be contested by the next Congress and, instead, look more appropriately at should we have the efficiency to consider maybe 20, maybe 10, maybe only 4 en bloc, all as one, or maybe in two separate. The reality is efficiency of the process of disapproval does not for a moment change the responsibility and authority of this body.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. Chairman, may I inquire how much time remains on my side.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from Virginia has 2 minutes remaining.

Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. Chairman, I take my friend from California's point about data. Let's look at OMB's latest report to Congress on Federal regulation which found that the monetized benefits of Federal regulations over the past decade are significantly higher, by a 10 to 1 margin, than their cost. That is their report. It is an inconvenient fact, but there it is.

I will finally end, Mr. Chairman, because I want to be respectful of my friend's intent here in trying to amalgamate these two amendments.

I am sorry, this is another bill in the long process of trying to delegitimize

President Obama's Presidency, and it, to me, is a shameful episode where some of my friends on the other side of the aisle—not necessarily Mr. ISSA—have attempted to basically nullify his ability to function as President, and therefore he has had to rely on executive powers in the absence of legislative action and thwarting.

I think the most egregious one besides this bill is, of course, leaving a vacancy open on the Supreme Court under the very dubious logic that somehow he is not entitled in the last year. That logic leads every single Member of Congress basically to not do anything in the second year here in the House because the same logic would pertain to them. They are lameducks until they are reelected or until the will of the people is heard in the next election cycle. That is, to me, foolish logic, dangerous logic, and I think it will put a cloud over the next President's tenure.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. ISSA. Mr. Chairman, may I inquire as to how much time I have remaining.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentleman from California has 2½ minutes remaining.

Mr. ISSA. I won't use it all. I thank the chairman, and I thank my colleague from Virginia. Let me take a moment to reflect, perhaps, on something that my colleague and friend said.

During my tenure with Mr. CONNOLLY, our committee sent 23 pieces of legislation to the President that he signed; we sent 74 to the other body. So if there is an enemy, perhaps it is the great bipartisan legislation that left the House and never got to the President. The President signed all 23 pieces of legislation, though, that got through the Senate, including legislation that Mr. CONNOLLY and I worked on together.

Since my leaving that committee, additional legislation has come through that committee on a bipartisan basis, including a huge expansion of the Freedom of Information Act. I would hope that in these last days, we would reflect on the successes of this Congress and the successes of our outgoing President because, in fact, for all that we all do in the performance of our oversight role, we also have had fine and notable successes and good legislation under this President; and I would like to take this moment to take note that, in fact, the President has signed the vast majority of legislation that left here on a bipartisan basis, including a piece of legislation that Mr. CONNOLLY was critical on.

I yield to the gentleman if he has any further comment.

Mr. CONNOLLY. I thank my friend for yielding.

I am struck by a humorous observation when he talks about what happened in the other body to a lot of legislation. I believe it may have been

Sam Rayburn who said, as a Democratic Speaker, the Republicans are in the opposition but the Senate is the enemy.

Mr. Chairman, I, of course, meant no disrespect. I was simply quoting a former Speaker of this body.

Mr. ISSA. Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendments en bloc offered by the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. CONNOLLY).

The question was taken; and the Acting Chair announced that the yeas appeared to have it.

Mr. CONNOLLY. Mr. Chairman, I demand a recorded vote.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to clause 6 of rule XVIII, further proceedings on the amendments en bloc offered by the gentleman from Virginia will be postponed.

Mr. ISSA. Mr. Chairman, I move that the Committee do now rise.

The motion was agreed to.

Accordingly, the Committee rose; and the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. VALADAO) having assumed the chair, Mr. DOLD, Acting Chair of the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union, reported that that Committee, having had under consideration the bill (H.R. 5982) to amend chapter 8 of title 5, United States Code, to provide for en bloc consideration in resolutions of disapproval for "midnight rules", and for other purposes, had come to no resolution thereon.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 12(a) of rule I, the Chair declares the House in recess until approximately 10:50 a.m. today.

Accordingly (at 10 o'clock and 28 minutes a.m.), the House stood in recess.

□ 1050

AFTER RECESS

The recess having expired, the House was called to order by the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. YOUNG of Iowa) at 10 o'clock and 50 minutes a.m.

MIDNIGHT RULES RELIEF ACT OF 2016

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 921 and rule XVIII, the Chair declares the House in the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union for the further consideration of the bill, H.R. 5982.

Will the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. DOLD) kindly resume the chair.

□ 1050

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The Acting CHAIR. When the Committee of the Whole rose earlier today, a request for a recorded vote on amendments en bloc printed in part B of House Report 114-818 offered by the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. CONNOLLY) had been postponed.

So the en bloc amendments were rejected.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

The Acting CHAIR. There being no further amendments under the rule, the Committee rises.

Accordingly, the Committee rose; and the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. DOLD) having assumed the chair, Mr. HULTGREN, Acting Chair of the Committee of the Whole House on the state of the Union, reported that that Committee, having had under consideration the bill (H.R. 5982) to amend chapter 8 of title 5, United States Code, to provide for en bloc consideration in resolutions of disapproval for “midnight rules”, and for other purposes, and, pursuant to House Resolution 921, he reported the bill back to the House.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the rule, the previous question is ordered.

The question is on the engrossment and third reading of the bill.

The bill was ordered to be engrossed and read a third time, and was read the third time.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. POCAN. Mr. Speaker, I have a motion to recommit at the desk.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is the gentleman opposed to the bill?

Mr. POCAN. I am opposed.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk will report the motion to recommit.

The Clerk read as follows:

Mr. Pocan moves to recommit the bill H.R. 5982 to the Committee on the Judiciary with instructions to report the same back to the House forthwith with the following amendment:

Add, at the end of the bill, the following:

(c) EXCEPTION FOR RULES THAT PUT AMERICANS BACK TO WORK AND MAKE THE UNITED STATES MORE COMPETITIVE INTERNATIONALLY.—Section 801(d) of title 5, United States Code, as amended by this Act, is further amended by adding at the end the following:

“(5) Paragraph (4) shall not apply to any rule that pertains to improving employment, retention, and earnings of workforce participants, especially those participants with significant barriers to employment, improving the quality of the workforce, and enhancing the productivity and competitiveness of the nation.”.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Wisconsin is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. POCAN. Mr. Speaker, this is the final amendment to the bill, which will not kill the bill or send it back to committee. If adopted, the bill will immediately proceed to final passage, as amended.

Mr. Speaker, when I was 23, I decided to open a small business in my home State of Wisconsin, a business which I still own today nearly 3 decades later. I know what it takes to create jobs, good family supporting union jobs. I know what a headache misguided regulation can be.

No one supports dumb regulation. There is a regulation that says it is a crime to sell “turkey ham” as “ham turkey” or with the words “turkey” or “ham” in a different font. That is just dumb.

But I also know that rhetoric about regulation can go too far and in the wrong direction and sometimes be done for the wrong reasons. Last week, we all heard loud and clear that there is economic anxiety in this country, more than anyone ever imagined.

□ 1130

While the economy has largely come back from the crash of 2008, too many are working more hours for less, and many don’t earn what they used to in jobs that have left us and have gone overseas. The last thing we should be doing right now is anything that costs us jobs in this country, and that is exactly what this bill before us would do today.

This motion to recommit is simple. We should support any rules and regulations that help put Americans back to work. I think that is something everyone should be able to agree with; but, unfortunately, some in Congress want to stop all sorts of regulations, even ones that help the American people get back to work, just because some powerful special interests don’t like them. That means you would throw out regulations that have the ability to help increase people’s paychecks and create jobs right here in America.

Let’s face it. President Obama knows a thing or two about creating jobs. Under his administration, over 13 million jobs have been created—twice the number that were created under President Bush—and we have added jobs consistently for the last 73 months. That should be something we are all glad about and support. It is no wonder that President Obama’s approval rating is at 56 percent today; but now Congress wants to take away the President’s ability to continue to help the economy—Congress, which, by the way, cost 1.6 million jobs through passing sequestration; Congress, which cost the economy $24 billion when we shut down the government a few years back; and Congress, which can’t even pass a budget or appropriations bills—the essential 101 of government.

Congress is going to tell the President what he is doing wrong and what he should and shouldn’t do while he is still President. Really?

Remember, the President’s approval rating is 56 percent, and the majority’s rating is about 15 to 20 percent. So Congress is going to tell the President what he should do even if it would cost us jobs. That is not the message from last week, my colleagues. People want more job growth and bigger paychecks, not less.

If you are serious about stopping bad regulation, we are with you. If you simply want to stop the President from continuing to be President for the remainder of his term and stop us from creating jobs by doing that, you didn’t get the message from last week—but we did. We are hyper-focused on creating good, family supporting jobs, and we aren’t going to stop a President who is doing that just so Republicans can say “thank you” to some corporate special interests.

I urge my colleagues to support the Democratic motion to recommit.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the motion to recommit.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Virginia is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Mr. Speaker, earlier this week, the majority leader and the committee chairs sent a letter to hundreds of government departments and agencies, saying stop, stop with the overregulation of our economy. It is time to stop this. We heard the results of the election loud and clear.

This motion to recommit misses the forest through the trees, and the ever-increasing avalanche of Washington regulation is stifling job creation, suffocating recovery, and strangling our economy. Federal regulation since 1980 has been estimated to have cost this country $4 trillion worth of annual GDP—a full 25 percent—by 2012; and things have only gotten worse since then as the record-setting Obama administration has piled evermore costs on top. Now here they come again. Here is the list in fine print of over 180 new midnight regulations they want to jam through before the end of this administration.

In administration after administration, the most abusive period of regulation has been the midnight rule period—the last, vanishing months of an outgoing administration as it seeks to cement the last pieces of its regulatory edifice in place. This is the time when the pace of executive branch regulation most easily overwhelms Congress’ institutional capacity to check executive overreach.

With one simple change to the Congressional Review Act—this bill—it will free Congress to disapprove any and all midnight regulations in one fell swoop. With one disapproval resolution, we can boldly restore Congress' Article I authority over lawmaking and check the abuse of midnight regulations. The motion carves out some rules that may be good, but we can always leave them out in the disapproval resolution under the bill, as written.

Vote against this motion. Vote for this bill. Vote for job creation. Vote for the new administration. I urge my colleagues to vote for the underlying bill.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the previous question is ordered on the motion to recommit.

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion to recommit.

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the noes appeared to have it.

RECORDED VOTE

Mr. POCAN. Mr. Speaker, I demand a recorded vote.

A recorded vote was ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 and clause 9 of rule XX and the order of the House of November 16, 2016, this 5-minute vote on the motion to recommit will be followed by 5-minute votes on the passage of H.R. 5982, if ordered; the motion to recommit on H.R. 5711; and the passage of H.R. 5711, if ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—ayes 181, noes 239, not voting 14, as follows:
