STATEMENTS ON INTRODUCED BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS

By Ms. CANTWELL (for herself and Mrs. MURRAY):

S. 3028. A bill to redesignate the Olympic Wilderness as the Daniel J. Evans Wilderness; to the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources.

Ms. CANTWELL. Mr. President, I am pleased to join with Senator MURRAY in introducing legislation to rename the Olympic Wilderness in Olympic National Park as the Daniel J. Evans Wilderness, in honor of former Washington Senator and Governor Dan Evans.

Dan Evans has had a long and distinguished career in public service. He was first elected Governor of Washington in 1964 and was reelected in 1968 and 1972. In 1983, he was appointed to fill the term of the late Senator Henry M. Jackson and served an additional term in the Senate before retiring in January, 1989. From 1993 through 2005, Senator Evans served as a member of the University of Washington Board of Regents.

During his time in the Senate, Senator Evans was a leader in the passage of two major wilderness bills in our state. He was a cosponsor of the 1984 Washington Wilderness Act, which designated more than one million acres of national forest lands in Washington as wilderness. And he was the lead sponsor of the Washington Park Wilderness Act of 1988, which designated more than 1.5 million acres of wilderness in Olympic, Mount Rainier and North Cascade National Parks.

Thanks to Senator Evans' dedication to protecting many of our state's most spectacular wildlands, Washingtonians and all Americans are able to enjoy outdoor recreation opportunities in some of our Nation's most iconic areas, including protection of more than 876,000 acres of wilderness in Olympic National Park.

This dedication will not affect the management of either the national park or the wilderness, but it will appropriately recognize the important role of Dan Evans in securing the permanent protection of this magnificent landscape.

S.J. Res. 34. A joint resolution providing for congressional disapproval under chapter 8 of title 5, United States Code, of the rule submitted by the Department of Labor relating to defining and delimiting the exemptions for executive, administrative, professional, outside sales, and computer employees; to the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. President, I am here today to introduce a Congressional Review Act resolution of disapproval on the administration's so-called overtime rule. I am joined by Senator JOHNSON of Wisconsin on this effort and also 43 other Senators who are cosponsors.

While President Obama is running around talking about keeping college costs down, his administration has put out this so-called overtime rule that could raise tuition by hundreds of dollars for millions of American college students or cause layoffs at our colleges and universities. In Tennessee, for example, colleges report to me that they may have to raise tuition by anywhere from $200 a student to $850 a student in one case because of this rule.

The administration's new rule is a radical change to our Nation's overtime rules. What they have done is doubled the salary threshold for overtime. Here is what that means. Hourly workers are usually paid for overtime work, but salaried workers generally don't earn overtime unless they are making below a threshold set by the Labor Department, as required by the Fair Labor Standards Act. Today that threshold is $23,660. This administration is raising it all at one time to $47,476. The administration calls this the overtime rule. I think we should call this the "time card" rule or the "higher tuition" rule. This means that a midlevel manager in Knoxville or Nashville who is making $40,000 a year is going to have to go back to punching a time card.

The rule affects 4.23 million workers nationwide and nearly 100,000 in Tennessee. It is going to create huge costs for employers, including small businesses, nonprofits, such as the Boy Scouts, and colleges and universities. They have to decide whether to cut services, cut benefits, lay off or demote employees, or create more part-time jobs or do a little of all of that.

The University of Tennessee says that if they increase everyone's salaries to meet the new threshold, they will have to increase tuition by over $200 per student on average, with some seeing as much as a $456 increase.

If they put all the salaried employees back on time cards, they will face big morale issues.

Listen to this letter I received from a University of Tennessee employee:

Currently, I am an exempt employee but I stand to fall under the non-exempt status under the new standards. While this may not seem like a major issue to many, I stand to lose a substantial amount of benefits if my status changes. The nature of my position does not ever cause me to work overtime, as I work in an office from 8:30-4:30 daily and I am salaried. If I am reclassified, it appears I will lose 96 hours of annual leave per year, as well as be subject to an almost 100 hour lower cap on accrued annual leave.

Another private college in Tennessee tells me it will cost them the equivalent of $850 a student if they don't lay off any employees.

As employers, they also face the cascade of regulations that is coming from the Labor Department.

This rule should be called the "time card" rule because they are going to pull millions of Americans who have climbed their way to salaried positions backwards—back to filling out a time-card and punching a clock, back to having fewer benefits, backwards in their careers, back to being left out of the room, back to being left off emails and even out of the discussion.

Want to show your stuff at work? Want to get up early, leave late, climb the ladder, earn the American dream the way that so many Americans have before you? Tough luck. Employers are going to say: Don't come early. Don't stay late. Don't take time off to go to your kids' football game. Work your 8 hours and go home. I don't have enough money to pay you overtime.

This rule says the Obama administration knows best. They know how to manage your career, your work schedule, your free time, and your income. They know better than you do.

Today, somebody who makes a salary of less than $23,660 must be paid overtime. Almost everyone agrees that threshold is low and should begin to go up. Almost everyone said to the administration: It is time to raise the number, but don't go too high, too fast or you will create all kinds of destruction.

They didn't listen, so now we are going to have these huge costs.

Let's talk about employers. Let's remember that we are talking about nonprofits like Operation Smile, which is a charity that funds cleft palate operations for children. They say this rule will mean 3,000 fewer surgeries a year. Then there is the Great Smoky Mountain Council of the Boy Scouts, my home council, which estimates $100,000 in added annual costs because during certain seasons, employees staff weekend campouts and recruitment events, which mean longer hours.

Many Americans are discouraged by this economic recovery. Millions are still waiting for the recovery. But you don't grow the economy by regulations such as this.

The National Retail Federation says the rule will "curtail career advancement opportunities, diminish workplace flexibility, damage employee morale, and lead to a more hierarchical workplace."
