Thursday, March 2, 2017

Ms. VELÁZQUEZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise to honor March 2017 as National Eye Donor Month. This is a month dedicated to promoting awareness of the need to register as an eye donor, recognize donors as well as their families, and celebrate the lives of donor recipients.

Since President Ronald Regan proclaimed the first National Eye Donor Month in 1983, the Eye Bank Association of America (EBAA) and each of its 86 member eye banks across the U.S., have designated March to recognize over one million corneal tissue recipients who have regained their sight. In 2015 alone, EBAA member eye banks recovered 118,752 corneas from 66,065 donors and provided 74,173 corneas for transplant in the U.S. and around the world. Also in 2015, my home state of New York provided 2,835 corneas for transplant and 715 for research and education by six eye banks statewide.

Eye banks have a special significance in the 7th Congressional District of New York, the Eye-Bank for Sight Restoration (EBSR) in my district was the first eye bank in the world. Since its inception in 1944 by Dr. Townley Paton, EBSR has given the gift of sight to over 63,000 men, women and children.

On this special occasion, I commend the Eye Bank Association of America and the eye banks across the country for their great work. I encourage my colleagues to support efforts that urge all Americans to give the gift of sight by registering to become eye, organ and tissue donors.

THE INTRODUCTION OF THE RFS REFORM ACT OF 2017

HON. BOB GOODLATTE

OF VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, March 2, 2017

Mr. GOODLATTE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to introduce legislation to provide relief from an onerous mandate that has been placed upon the backs of the American people for over 10 years. The mandate I'm referring to is none other than the Renewable Fuel Standard (RFS), a mandate requiring that increasingly larger volumes of corn-based ethanol be blended into our gasoline. The RFS mandates that 36 billion gallons of renewable fuels be part of our nation's fuel supply by 2022.

After 10 years, it is clear that the federal government's ethanol mandate is not working, and Congress must have a serious conversation about continued market-distorting ethanol promotion. One of the big drivers of ethanol prices and supply is an artificial market created by the federal government.

The federal government's creation of an artificial market for the ethanol industry has quite frankly resulted in a domino effect that is hurting consumers. This year over 35 percent of the U.S. corn crop will be used for ethanol production. With increasing food and feed stocks being diverted into fuel, we are seeing volatility in the marketplace which negatively impacts livestock and food producers.

While the RFS is causing instability in food prices, it has not provided its intended relief for consumers at the pump. It is a known fact that ethanol-blended gasoline has a lower energy density than that of traditional gasoline. Therefore, Americans are forced to buy more fuel to make up the difference. In fact, some studies show that drivers in the U.S. pay at least $10 billion more each year because of the RFS. The RFS is causing unintended and negative consequences for American consumers, energy producers, livestock farmers, and food manufacturers and retailers. It is clear that the RFS needs fundamental reform. That's why I am introducing legislation to accomplish this task, and I am pleased to have the support of Reps. COSTA, WELCH, and WOMACK in introducing this bipartisan bill.

The RFS Reform Act will eliminate the corn-based ethanol requirements, cap the amount of ethanol that can be blended into conventional gasoline at 10 percent, require the EPA to set cellulosic biofuel levels that reflect industry production levels, and decrease the total volume of renewable fuel that must be contained in gasoline sold or introduced into commerce for years 2017 through 2022.

The RFS Reform Act has the support of a broad range of agriculture producers, consumer groups, energy manufacturing, retailers, environmental, and taxpayer organizations. I am a proponent of renewable fuels when they compete fairly in the marketplace, but the current policy needs fundamental reform. I ask my colleagues to support meaningful reform of the current status quo and advance this bipartisan legislation.

RECOGNIZING THE LIFE OF FALLEN MISSISSIPPI SOLDIER ARMY STAFF SERGEANT (SSG) WILLIAM S. RICKETTS

HON. TRENT KELLY

OF MISSISSIPPI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, March 2, 2017

Mr. KELLY of Mississippi. Mr. Speaker, today I rise in memory of Army Staff Sergeant (SSG) William "Seth" Ricketts who paid the ultimate sacrifice while defending our nation on February 27, 2010, during Operation Enduring Freedom III. SSG Ricketts was killed by a sniper when his unit was ambushed by insurgents at Bala Murghab, Afghanistan. Before SSG Ricketts was fatally injured, he was assisting a fellow soldier who was wounded during the attack.

Bill Ricketts, SSG Ricketts's father, says his son followed in the footsteps of his great-grandfather, grandfather, and uncles who all served in the military. When terrorists attacked our country on September 11, 2001, SSG Ricketts joined the Army the next day. At the time of his death, SSG Ricketts was assigned to Company B, Battalion, 508th Parachute Regiment, 4th Brigade Combat Team, 82nd Airborne Division, Fort Bragg, NC.

More than 3,000 people attended his funeral held in Corinth. Bill Ricketts says people lined the streets to pay their respects all along the two-and-a-half mile procession. It was led by members of the Patriot Guard Riders.

SSG Ricketts is survived by his wife, Rosie Jones Ricketts and his sons, Aiden, Cullen, and Seth Wesson. He is also survived by his parents, Bill and Sandi Ricketts and his siblings, Benjamin Ricketts and Tiffany Ricketts Sneed.

IN HONOR OF THE PREGNANCY ASSISTANCE CENTER NORTH

HON. KEVIN BRADY

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, March 2, 2017

Mr. BRADY of Texas. Mr. Speaker, today I honor the Pregnancy Assistance Center North (PACN) for more than three decades of dedicated work to empower women and men to choose life-affirming healthcare options, address health issues for medically underserved women, and build healthy families in the northern Houston suburbs.

In January of 1986, a small group banded together with the common goal of helping families struggling with unplanned pregnancies. Members of this group poured out their compassion on those families, and demonstrated their willingness to serve by donating tools for education, support, and resources to the new ministry.

PACN served its first clients in February of 1987. These families were welcomed into donated office space and later, Sunday school classrooms of partnering churches. From that early network of eight churches, support has now grown to include over seventy-five church partners and nearly one-thousand financial supporters.

The organization, which started with just $100, now operates two full-service medical clinics totaling almost 15,000 square feet and provides top-notch well-woman care on an annual budget of just over $1.25 million, all without a single tax-payer dollar.

In its early years, PACN served just 360 clients each year. Today, an average of 7,000 clients visit the clinics annually, receiving pregnancy tests, ultrasounds, STI testing and treatment, women's health exams, post-abortion support, and material assistance for those who choose to give birth and raise their children.

By placing their focus on empowerment through education, PACN's education and counseling programs provide clients with the tools they need to break free from past decisions, chart a new path for their lives, and begin building strong family legacies.

Each week, over 130 volunteers give their time to PACN. They are the backbone of this
