OF VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, June 27, 2017

Mrs. COMSTOCK. Mr. Speaker, I am honored to recognize a local business in Virginia's 10th Congressional District that will be significantly expanding its already extensive operations. On June 27, 2017, Unanet, a pre-eminent and innovative organization in the software industry, will open a new headquarters in Loudoun County, in the heart of my district. Unanet plans to make significant financial investment in this new operation as part of their expansion, which will result in a larger facility and will enable the organization to create new local jobs in the next few years.

Founded in 1998, by the present Chief Executive Officer, Fran Craig, Unanet has continued to prosper since its inception, as the organization has increased its revenue by about 20 percent per year over the past decade. Today, Unanet is one of our region's premier software companies and a leading provider of Cloud and On-Premise software for project-based organizations. Unanet currently serves over 1,000 organizations nationwide, including many government contractors located in the Washington D.C. metropolitan region.

While Unanet has been an economic catalyst for the Washington D.C. area as a whole, the organization, headquartered in Loudoun since 2003, has deep roots in Loudoun County and has played an integral role in the development and success of the county's nascent technology industry. In addition to their plethora of economic contributions, the organization has also done extensive philanthropic work in our community and been firmly committed to supporting local charities, including Loudoun Hunger Relief, Loudoun Education Foundation, Loudoun Laurels Foundation, and Loudoun Cares.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in applauding Unanet for their entrepreneurial achievements and for their numerous contributions to our local economy. I wish Unanet all the best as they celebrate this major expansion. I look forward to seeing their continued success and am thankful for the plethora of occupations and other opportunities they will provide my constituents.

CELEBRATING THE 150TH ANNIVERSARY OF BABCOCK & WILCOX

HON. TIM RYAN

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, June 27, 2017

Mr. RYAN of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to commemorate the 150th Anniversary of Babcock and Wilcox. While their headquarters are in Charlotte, North Carolina, I am proud to have one of their major operations located in my district in Barberton, Ohio. B&W's remarkable history began 150 years ago in 1867, when Stephen Wilcox and George Babcock established the company to manufacture and market their patented water tube boiler.

Since then, B&W has been at the forefront of energy innovation in the United States and around the world. In the 1880s, the company's boilers supplied energy for the first electric street lights in Philadelphia and the first central public utility, Pearl Street Station in New York City. B&W's boilers also powered Thomas Edison's laboratories and New York's first subway. In Barberton, B&W Power Generation Group designs and builds boiler and steam generators for industry.

As environmental issues moved to the forefront beginning in the 1970s, B&W became a leading innovator in emissions control technologies. B&W's environmental equipment protects the air we breathe, the water we drink and the land we use by controlling nitrogen, sulfur, heavy metals, ash, particulates and other emissions from hundreds of power plants and industrial facilities around the world.

Today, B&W employs 5,000 people on six continents and continues to be a global leader in commercial power and environmental technologies, renewable energy, and industrial power and emissions control. As the company celebrates its 150th anniversary, it's important for us to recognize and to be thankful for the hard work and outstanding contributions from the many thousands of employees who have proudly served at B&W, our customers for their support and trust in our technologies and expertise, and for the communities and the leaders who have stood behind B&W all of these years.

Congratulations on 150 years of quality work and innovation.

HONORING INDIANA'S RURAL TEACHER OF THE YEAR JAMES
WILDERMUTH

HON. JACKIE WALORSKI

OF INDIANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, June 27, 2017

Mrs. WALORSKI. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor North Miami Community Schools agriculture teacher James Wildermuth on being named Indiana's Rural Teacher of the Year.

Since 2004, the Indiana Small and Rural Schools Association has been recognizing exemplary teachers from small and rural towns across our state. Mr. Wildermuth is well deserving of this high honor. He truly embodies the characteristics of an exceptional Hoosier educator who has had a profound impact on student achievement, serves as a collaborating member of the greater rural community, fosters valuable learning among his students, and exemplifies leadership in a way that should inspire us all.

Mr. Wildermuth has taught for 17 years, including the last four at North Miami Community Schools. In addition to his remarkable accomplishments and sterling reputation as a teacher, Mr. Wildermuth serves as the district advisor for the local Future Farmers of America Program. Given his dedication to his students and the rural community as a whole, it is no surprise that he stood out among more than 6,000 Hoosier teachers in over 70 school districts considered for this prestigious award.

I am grateful that North Miami students have Mr. Wildermuth as a role model and mentor. With his kind spirit and innovative teaching style, he is sure to keep his students engaged and focused not only on the lesson at hand but also on how the knowledge and skills they learn each day will benefit them in their future. Mr. Wildermuth is a gifted educator in many ways, and his ability to connect with his students and enlighten them beyond the standard curriculum is where he truly makes a difference. He uplifts his students and teaches them how to grow as individuals with the confidence to succeed. He is a true inspiration to young Hoosiers and a truly valued leader in our community.

Mr. Speaker, on behalf of 2nd District Hoosiers, I want to thank Mr. Wildermuth for all he has done to educate, support, and guide his students on the path to achievement. It is a privilege to represent teachers like Mr. Wildermuth who help make our communities vibrant and our children's futures bright.

RECOGNIZING NATIONAL SUNGLASSES DAY

HON. DORIS O. MATSUI

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, June 27, 2017

Ms. MATSUI. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize National Sunglasses Day. When it comes to protecting the eyes from the sun's UV rays, sunglasses with lenses that offer UVA/UVB protection are so important. Individuals—regardless of age—should always wear sunglasses during daylight hours, as UV rays are present year-round, despite the season. Unprotected exposure to these UV rays may cause serious vision problems. In the short-term, individuals may experience sensitivity to light, trouble seeing, sunburnt eyes or eyelids, irritated eyes, and red or swollen eyes. While in the long-term, individuals may experience cataracts, macular degeneration, and even cancer on or around the eyes.

Today I want to honor the sunglass manufacturers and suppliers throughout my Sacramento Congressional District, the State of California and around the country. California accounted for nearly 14 percent of all Plano sunglass unit sales from March 2016 to March 2017, and is home to a variety of optical industry leaders. I commend the sunglass industry and their trade association, The Vision Council—which includes 92 members hailing from the state of California—for their ongoing research and outreach campaigns to educate consumers regarding the damaging effects of ultraviolet (UV) rays to the eyes, as well as the sunglass and lens solutions available to maintaining healthy vision.

Since UV damage cannot be reversed, prevention through protection is key. Schedule an annual eye exam to talk to your eyecare provider about your UV eye health, and join The Vision Council, the greater optical industry and the National Sunglasses Day movement by donning sunglasses not just today on June 27th, but every time you go outside.

HONORING WESLEY JONES

HON. CATHY McMORRIS RODGERS

OF WASHINGTON

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, June 27, 2017

Mrs. McMORRIS RODGERS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the contributions of Wesley Jones of Spokane, Washington.

The American Network of Community Options and Resources (ANCOR) recently selected Wesley Jones as a recipient of its 2017 Direct Support Professional (DSP) of the Year Award for the state of Washington. Founded in 1970, ANCOR is a national trade association of more than 1,200 private providers supporting over 600,000 people with disabilities.

The prestigious Direct Support Professional of the Year Award is given annually to outstanding individuals in each state to recognize the work of direct support professionals across our nation who support people with intellectual, developmental and other significant disabilities.

Mr. Jones has created inclusive and engaging environments for the residents of Spokane that have increased the ability for individuals with disabilities to pursue autonomy and self-determination. For one resident, Mr. Jones identified the triggers that led to self-injurious behaviors and helped calm the individual by painting his room a warmer color, changing the light bulbs, and purchasing new linens with warmer hues. For a resident who struggled to leave her home, Mr. Jones worked to build a trusting relationship and developed her coping skills, which ultimately enabled her to venture outside her home.

Direct support professionals, such as Wesley Jones, constitute the backbone of community supporters and services for American families and individuals across the country. I am proud to honor Mr. Jones for his valuable selfless contribution to the community of Spokane, and congratulate him again on receiving ANCOR's 2017 Direct Support Professional of the Year Award.
