

State officials and experts to determine an appropriate solution and remove the detrimental and excessive approach attempted by the Obama administration.

I urge my colleagues to support my amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mrs. NAPOLITANO. Mr. Chairman, I claim the time in opposition to the Banks amendment.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentlewoman from California is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mrs. NAPOLITANO. Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition to the amendment.

Congress has a long history in supporting the Clean Water Act. In 1972, Congress overrode President Nixon's veto of the Clean Water Act, demonstrating bipartisan support for the Federal regulation of our Nation's water. The measure was very clear: human health would no longer take a backseat to big business.

Now, more than 45 years later, we are again voting to overturn the Clean Water Protection rule, a rule that, for the first time in over a decade, provides clarity for regulated parties and protection for our Nation's rivers and waters.

What message are we sending today? Clearly, we are telling the American people that what water they have left isn't worth protecting.

Mr. Chairman, when developing the Clean Water Protection rule, the EPA and Army Corps of Engineers went to unprecedented lengths to engage with stakeholders, including ranchers, farmers, and municipalities. They held over 400 stakeholder meetings on the rule and reviewed approximately 1 million public comments to the rule.

It is evident that EPA and the Corps wholeheartedly considered these comments and concerns because many of the Clean Water rule's reforms benefit industry, agriculture, and municipalities. These reforms include limiting permits for ditches and municipal storm water sewers, and codified exemptions for certain agricultural, construction, and mining activities.

Let us not forget that the farmers and developers, alike, call the Clean Water Act's current regulatory process "ad hoc," "inconsistent," and "costly."

The rule we are attempting to overturn would keep the old, confusing regulations in place permanently. The same groups that asked for this rule and actually benefited from the rule are now asking us to do away with the rule.

The only thing I can surmise is that those who oppose the rule would oppose any rulemaking that did not drastically limit the application of the Clean Water Act; or, said in another way, these groups are simply opposed to the Clean Water Act entirely.

□ 1045

In my State of California, 99.2 percent of the population gets its water from the drinking water systems that rely on water bodies protected by this rule. With numbers like that on the line, intervening now is simply reckless.

Mr. Chairman, I urge my colleagues to join me in opposition to this amendment, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. BANKS of Indiana. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Arizona (Mr. GOSAR), the chairman of the Western Caucus, who has been instrumental in developing this amendment.

Mr. GOSAR. Mr. Chairman, I rise in support of the amendment offered by my good friend and colleague, Mr. BANKS.

The previous administration's Waters of the U.S. rule, commonly referred to as WOTUS, attempted to assert Clean Water Act jurisdiction over nearly all areas with even the slightest connection to water resources, including man-made conveyances. The Obama administration threatened the very livelihoods of farmers, ranchers, small businesses, water users, and property owners when unilaterally enacting this overreaching water and land grab by executive fiat.

Contrary to claims by the Obama administration, this regulation directly contradicts prior U.S. Supreme Court decisions which imposed limits on the extent of Federal Clean Water Act authority. Although the agencies maintained the rule was narrow and clarified the Clean Water Act jurisdiction, it would actually aggressively expand Federal authority under the Clean Water Act while bypassing Congress and creating unnecessary ambiguity. In fact, even the agencies admitted, when announcing the final rule, that WOTUS would expand agency control over 60 percent of our country's streams and millions of acres of wetlands that were previously non-jurisdictional.

Moreover, the rule was based on incomplete scientific and economic analysis. In recent years, the House has voted at least five different times to block or reduce the damage associated with the Obama WOTUS rule. In January 2016, the House and Senate passed legislation blocking WOTUS, utilizing the Congressional Review Act, and put a bill on President Obama's desk that he subsequently vetoed.

WOTUS is a dream-killer for future generations and will result in significant job losses as well as considerable harm to our economy. Congress must take action today to repeal this fundamentally flawed mandate once and for all. I applaud Representative BANKS for his strong leadership and tireless efforts to protect the livelihoods of farmers, ranchers, businessmen, and other local stakeholders by repealing this unconstitutional power grab.

Mr. Chair, I urge adoption of this lawful and necessary amendment.

The Acting CHAIR. The Committee will rise informally.

The Speaker pro tempore (Mr. NORMAN) assumed the chair.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

A message in writing from the President of the United States was communicated to the House by Ms. Gabrielle Cuccia, one of his secretaries.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Committee will resume its sitting.

AGRICULTURE AND NUTRITION ACT OF 2018

The Committee resumed its sitting.

The Acting CHAIR (Mr. COLLINS of Georgia). The gentlewoman from California is recognized.

Mrs. NAPOLITANO. Mr. Chair, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. CARTWRIGHT).

Mr. CARTWRIGHT. Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition to this amendment, the Banks/Gosar amendment, as a clear threat to a bedrock protection of the American people of the Clean Water Rule. The Clean Water Rule guarantees clean drinking water for 117 million Americans. My constituents rely on the Clean Water Rule, which protects critical waterways like the Chesapeake Bay.

By eliminating this rule, we jeopardize the streams, headwaters, wetlands, and other bodies of water supporting critical wildlife ecosystems that naturally filter out pollution and provide essential, clean drinking water to a third of our Nation.

Mr. Chairman, the farm bill should be a tool for protecting Americans. It must not be used to poison their water. A vote for this amendment is a vote against clean water, and I urge my colleagues to oppose it.

Mr. BANKS of Indiana. Mr. Chairman, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. JOHNSON), my fellow freshman colleague and a great defender of private property rights.

Mr. JOHNSON of Louisiana. Mr. Chairman, I appreciate the gentleman from Indiana's leadership on this amendment, and that of Mr. GOSAR and others.

Since its inception, the 2015 Waters of the U.S. rule has been an unworkable and unreasonable interpretation of the intent of the Clean Water Act. It was an overreach of an administration wishing to flex its muscles by imposing additional regulations where it had no jurisdiction.

We are regulating things like backyard ditches and mud puddles, which we have a lot of in Louisiana. The absurdity of this rule has been evidenced by the back-and-forth legal battles that have ensued in the courts, most recently this past January in National Association of Manufacturers v. Department of Defense. The Supreme Court's opinion in that case has thrown some industries into chaos, as uncertainty once again looms.

Congress has the capability to provide a permanent statutory answer on the merits of the rule, once and for all, by nullifying the rule in its entirety. The Waters of the U.S. rule is bad for America's farmers, bad for American energy, and bad for America's builders. My friend calls it the poster child of government overreach, and I could not agree more.

Mr. Chair, I urge adoption of this amendment.

Mrs. NAPOLITANO. Mr. Chair, may I inquire how much time I have remaining.

The Acting CHAIR. The gentlewoman from California has 1½ minutes remaining. The gentleman from Indiana has 30 seconds remaining.

Mrs. NAPOLITANO. Mr. Chair, I yield 30 seconds to the gentleman from Minnesota (Mr. PETERSON).

Mr. PETERSON. Mr. Chair, I rise to support this repeal.

Mr. Chair, I just want to caution people that I am worried about us getting this through the Senate. I spent a lot of time trying to work this thing before, had a number of meetings with Gina McCarthy. The underlying problem with this is that we have four different agencies that have jurisdiction over what a wetland is.

We passed in 1985 the wetland, the swampbuster bill in the farm bill. We still, to this day, cannot define what a wetland is. And what I am worried about when they do this new regulation, which they are probably going to have to do to replace the old one, they are not going to be able to come up with a definition because we haven't been able to do it in 20-some years.

Mr. BANKS of Indiana. Mr. Chair, I reserve the balance of my time for closing.

Mrs. NAPOLITANO. Mr. Chairman, I just think that, again, we are saying anything Obama did is wrong. I want to continue protecting the waters of the United States for the American people.

Mr. Chair, with that, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. BANKS of Indiana. Mr. Chairman, in closing, this amendment isn't just important to farmers; it is important to all landowners in our country. It is a big step forward in protecting our private property rights. I applaud President Trump for delaying the rule as he had, but this is our opportunity to repeal it once and for all.

Mr. Chair, I yield back the balance of my time.

The Acting CHAIR. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Indiana (Mr. BANKS).

The question was taken; and the Acting Chair announced that the ayes appeared to have it.

Mr. BANKS of Indiana. Mr. Chair, I demand a recorded vote.

The Acting CHAIR. Pursuant to clause 6 of rule XVIII, further proceedings on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Indiana will be postponed.

Mr. SEAN PATRICK MALONEY of New York (during the reading). Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to dispense with the reading of the motion.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from New York?

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from New York is recognized for 5 minutes in support of his motion.

Mr. SEAN PATRICK MALONEY of New York. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself as much time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, this is the final amendment to the bill. If adopted, it will not kill the bill or send it back to committee. If adopted, we will proceed to final passage, as amended.

I offer the motion to recommit on behalf of farmers and rural communities who are confronting threats to their livelihood, sadly, that are included within this bill.

Mr. Speaker, the communities I represent rely heavily on agriculture. Hudson Valley farmers feed New York and America, they create thousands of jobs and billions of dollars in economic activity, and they preserve the cultural heritage for generations of farmers who have done the same.

I was raised in a small town surrounded by family farms, and I am proud to say I still live in one today. Agriculture drives the economy of my district.

Suffice it to say, I didn't think I would ever oppose a farm bill. I was proud to be part of the bipartisan team that wrote the last one. That bipartisan bill was a huge win for farmers in my part of the world, but this farm bill is very different, and I am disappointed to say that we are following the best farm bill ever for the Hudson Valley with the very worst farm bill ever for the Hudson Valley.

It claims to create efficiencies, but really just ends up going after people who need a hand, the ones we are supposed to focus on in this bill.

One instance is simply the mandate that parents pay their child support or lose their SNAP benefits. Now, that, on its face, sounds like it makes sense: You don't pay your child support when you have kids, that should be a problem, but this bill goes about it in all the wrong ways and it ends up hurting the very children who rely on that child support, and it would actually end up costing more than it would save us.

It also goes after critical trade programs just as millions of our farmers are reeling from a trade war and the renegotiation of NAFTA.

Earlier this week, my Hudson Valley district was slammed by a series of storms, which destroyed acres and acres worth of crops. My office has been inundated with calls from farmers whose very livelihoods are in jeopardy as a result.

One farmer named Josh Morgenthau, who runs the famous farm called Fishkill Farms, may have lost $1 million worth of crops. That is just one farmer in Dutchess County.

So the very same week when we faced these deadly storms, we are now talking about responding to millions of dollars in crop damages without improving the very crop insurance programs that farmers like Josh depend on today, right now. That is a kick in the teeth to the guys I represent.

But the problems with this bill don't stop with crop insurance, as bad as those are.

This bill eliminates America's largest conservation program, and that is a killer for rural New York because of growing urban sprawl and the loss of farmland around New York City. In fact, in New York State, we lose 10 times more farmland than we preserve every single year. Now, you don't need your slide ruler to figure out that is a big problem for us.

This bill does too little to help small, diverse family farms like I represent, but it is a huge win for corporate industrial agriculture. It doesn't add a penny to the very research foundation that is funding local efforts in my part of the world to fight invasive species like the allium leafminer, which threatens the entire onion crop of the black dirt region, one of the Nation's largest.

This is all happening against the backdrop of aging farmers, and that fact threatens the sustainability of the industry. New farmers can't get access to crop insurance or farmland they need to start a viable business. The land costs too much. These kids are loaded up with student debt.

Don't take my word for it. The National Young Farmers Coalition adamantly opposes the Republican bill.

We can't wait for the next farm bill to fix these problems. The average age of our farmers is going up all the time. It used to be 50; today it is 60 years old, the average farmer. It keeps going in the wrong direction.

We should be doing more in this bill to support young and beginning farmers and to incentivize careers in agriculture.

I promised my farmers, including my agricultural advisory board, on which Josh Morgenthau and other young farmers sit, that I would fight for them in Washington.

In our motion, we provide almost $400 million for the Market Access Program, Foreign Market Development, and Technical Assistance for Specialty Crop Farms over 5 years.

For the scholarships at 1890s institutions and Historically Black Colleges that help to prepare our next generation, we provide $95 million, and we fund the Beginning Farmer and Rancher Program at $120 million.

We provide $80 million for organics research. We commit $140 million to promote farmers markets and local foods, and we invest $125 million in outreach and assistance for socially disadvantaged farmers.

For research on specialty crops to advance the fruit, vegetable, flower, and nut growers that contribute the largest portion of our Nation's farm gate value, we provide $175 million.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. CONAWAY. Mr. Speaker, I rise in opposition to the gentleman's motion.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Texas is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. CONAWAY. Mr. Speaker, this attempt at legislating is a little late. For all of the rhetoric, my colleagues on the other side of the aisle have said for over a month now that this bill was so broken they couldn't fix it.

They come tricking trotting in here this afternoon with an amendment of this scope.

This would have been a great conversation to have had in committee, but we spent 5 hours listening to complaints that we weren't amenable to any changes.

It would have been handy to have that go through the Rules Committee so we would have had at least overnight to look at what this deal does.

To come in here now and pull this procedural trick, which, quite frankly, the minority always does. When we are in the minority, we do it. When you are in the minority, you do it as well, and I oppose the gentleman's motion.

Mr. Speaker, we are at a point in time where it is now time to move forward. We have had a relatively complicated process, a 600-page bill, 51 amendments made in order, now this attempt to legislate at the last second.

But it is about to get real simple. We are about to start putting up red and green votes on the board behind you, Mr. Speaker.

And let me tell you what the green votes are for. Green votes will mean you stand with Americans. You stand with those producers out there who are in a terrible circumstance. There has been a 50-percent drop in farm income the last 5 years.

Today's headlines in the USA Today: Farmers being forced to quit as income dies.

That is who you will stand for with a green vote. Or a red vote says, no, we want to continue to argue about this. We want to take advantage of what might happen in November because we are going to say "no" to this.

We have got SNAP beneficiaries out there who are dependent on this new program we are going to put in place to have their case managers to help them walk through this labyrinth of social networks to try to get them to a job. So you are saying "no" to those guys as well.

We are going to say "no" to the men and women who eat our food every single day.

You can love the farm bill or you can hate the farm bill, but it delivers the most effective, affordable, and safest food and fiber supply of any developed Nation in the world.

That is a pocketbook issue that comes across this country, and a "no" vote says: Never mind. A "yes" vote today will say we stand with those men and women who buy food every single day; for those paycheck-to-paycheck families whose rent doesn't change, their car payment doesn't change. If something happens to them, it comes out of their food budget. Why on Earth would we intentionally try to screw those folks over by raising the cost of food, by not continuing this process and moving forward?

Mr. Speaker, this is pretty darn simple. Very darn simple. Either vote with those SNAP recipients whose lives would be better, whose impact will be better, or you vote against them.

You will vote with the men and women who suffered through the terrible times in the last 5 years, the worst since the Depression, or you vote "no."

There is no group of Americans more in tune to what goes on on this floor than the men and women of production agriculture. It is vital to their livelihood, vital to their existence, what we do here tonight.

And you will hear a lot of rhetoric about those red votes, reasons why they voted “no” on it, but I guarantee you, those farmers and ranchers back home that are watching this clock and watching what happens, they will understand what it means. They will understand that those “yes” votes mean we are going to move this process forward. We are going to continue to attempt to give them the assurance over the next 5 years what this farm bill will do for them and how they will stay in business, how their bankers will make plans in moving this thing forward.

Mr. Speaker, we have had 3 years of hard work on this, 114 hearings. We are ready to move this bill forward. I recommend that my folks vote against the last-minute, last-ditch effort to look like they are legislating because they ignored the legislative process for over a month, including in committee, and let's move this forward.

Mr. Speaker, vote “no” on this amendment and “yes” on the bill.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the previous question is ordered on the motion to recommit.

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion to recommit.

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the noes appeared to have it.

RECORDED VOTE

Mr. SEAN PATRICK MALONEY of New York. Mr. Speaker, I demand a recorded vote.

A recorded vote was ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 and clause 9 of rule XX, this 5-minute vote on the motion to recommit will be followed by 5-minute votes on:

Passage of the bill, if ordered; and Agreeing to the Speaker's approval of the Journal, if ordered.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—ayes 183, noes 226, not voting 18, as follows:

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Maryland will state his parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Speaker, am I not correct that you called for the yeas and nays and that you interrupted the vote while it was in progress? From a parliamentary perspective, is that the power of the Speaker to interrupt a rollcall vote for the purposes of declaring that the vote has been postponed?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair postponed debate under clause 8, rule XX. That was stated from the Chair.

THE JOURNAL

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, the unfinished business is the question on agreeing to the Speaker's approval of the Journal, which the Chair will put de novo.
