

men who stormed the beaches of Normandy 74 years ago today, June 6, 1944, known as D-Day. The largest amphibious assault in the history of the world was also one of the bloodiest. By the end of the day, 10,000 Allied soldiers were killed or wounded.

But with that, the irreversible liberation of Nazi-occupied Europe had begun, and just a couple of years later, it would be complete. It is now 74 years again from that day, and most of those who were there to witness it are no longer with us.

It sometimes seems we may forget that sacrifice that they and many others made so that we could all be free—liberate Europe and keep America safe. We must not lose sight of what is important.

The obstacles we face today do not compare with the nightmare our fathers and grandfathers faced on those beaches. On D-Day, Allied soldiers indeed carried the weight of the free world on their shoulders. The Nazi threat was obviously very real, and that threat was soon defeated.

I pray that this generation and the next recognizes the gravity of this heroism, never forgets, and takes into account what it takes to remain free as a nation and as a people that love freedom and export that freedom.

BARRY FAILE NAMED THE 2018 SHERIFF OF THE YEAR

(Mr. NORMAN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. NORMAN. Mr. Speaker, it is my honor and privilege to announce to the 115th session of Congress that Lancaster County Sheriff Barry Faile was named the 2018 Sheriff of the Year by the South Carolina Sheriffs Association. This honor was bestowed on Sheriff Faile by his peers representing 46 counties.

He began his career in law enforcement 29 years ago where he began as a patrol deputy in 1989 and moved through the ranks of every department until 2009 when he was elected sheriff.

Under the leadership of Sheriff Faile, the accomplishments include: national accreditation of his office; implementation of body cameras; Neighborhood Crime Watch programs grown from 12 neighborhoods to 37 in 2 years; and creation of the first Crowd Control Unit in 2017.

In 2011, Sheriff Faile led the agency through a gang investigation resulting in one of the first grand jury indictments by the State Attorney's office of 15 local gang members, along with the arrest of local members of the Hells Angels as part of a statewide crack-down.

His commitment to the local Lancaster community includes serving as a board member of Springs Memorial Hospital, the Rotary Breakfast Club, and the USC Lancaster Educational Foundation.

He is currently the president of the South Carolina Sheriffs Association. Sheriff Faile is only the third person in our area to win this prestigious award.
