“(1) IN GENERAL.—If the Secretary of Agriculture finds, after notice and opportunity for a hearing, that the employer has failed to provide the benefits, wages, and working conditions that the employer has attested that it would provide under this subsection, the Secretary shall require payment of back wages, or such other required benefits, due any United States workers or H-2C workers employed by the employer.

“(2) AMOUNT.—The back wages or other required benefits described in paragraph (1)—

“(A) shall be equal to the difference between the amount that should have been paid and the amount that was paid to such workers; and

No job offer may impose on United States workers any restrictions or obligations which will not be imposed on H-2C workers.

“(B) INTERPRETATION.—Every interpretation and determination made under this section or under any other law, regulation, or interpretative provision regarding the nature, scope, and timing of the provision of these and any other benefits, wages, and other terms and conditions of employment shall be made so that—

“(ii) employment opportunities within the United States benefit the United States economy.

“(2) REQUIRED WAGES.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Each employer petitioning for H-2C workers under this subsection (other than in the case of workers who will perform agricultural labor or services consisting of meat or poultry processing) will offer the H-2C workers, during the period of authorized employment as H-2C workers, wages that are at least the greatest of—

“(ii) FAILURE TO MEET GUARANTEE.—If an employer affords the United States workers or the H-2C workers less employment than that required under this subparagraph, the employer shall pay such workers the amount which the workers would have earned if the workers had worked for the guaranteed number of hours.

“(B) CALCULATION OF HOURS.—Any hours which workers fail to work, up to a maximum of the number of hours specified in the work contract for a work day, when the workers have been offered an opportunity to do so, and all hours of work actually performed (including voluntary work in excess of the number of hours specified in the work contract in a work day) may be counted by the employer in calculating whether the period of guaranteed employment has been met.

“(ii) REQUIREMENTS.—If a worker's employment is terminated under clause (i), the employer shall—

“(I) fulfill the employment guarantee in subparagraph (A) for the work days that have elapsed during the period beginning on the first work day and ending on the date on which such employment is terminated;

“(2) REQUIREMENT TO REMAIN OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES.—In the case of H-2C workers who were employed in a job of a temporary or seasonal nature whose maximum continuous period of authorized status as H-2C workers (including any extensions) have expired, the aliens may not again be eligible to be H-2C workers until they remain outside the United States for a continuous period equal to at least the lesser of $\frac{1}{2}$ of the duration of their previous period of authorized status as H-2C workers or 45 days. For H-2C workers who were employed in a job not of a temporary or seasonal nature whose maximum continuous period of authorized status as H-2C workers (including any extensions) have expired, the aliens may not again be eligible to be H-2C workers until they remain outside the United States for a continuous period equal to at least the lesser of $\frac{1}{2}$ of

“(3) EXCEPTIONS.—

“(A) The Secretary of Homeland Security shall deduct absences from the United States that take place during an H-2C worker's period of authorized status from the period that the alien is required to remain outside the United States under paragraph (2), if the alien or the alien's employer requests such a deduction, and provides clear and convincing proof that the alien qualifies for such a deduction. Such proof shall consist of evidence such as arrival and departure records, copies of tax returns, and records of employment abroad.

“(B) There is no maximum continuous period of authorized status as set forth in paragraph (1) or a requirement to remain outside the United States as set forth in paragraph (2) for H-2C workers employed as a sheepherder, goatherder, in the range production of livestock, or who return to the workers' permanent residence outside the United States each day.

“(B) a period of not more than 14 days after the conclusion of their authorized employment for the purpose of departure from the United States or a period of not more than 30 days following the employment for the purpose of seeking a subsequent offer of employment by an employer pursuant to a petition under this section (or pursuant to at-will employment under section 218B during such times as that section is in effect) if they have not reached their maximum continuous period of authorized employment under subsection (m) (subject to the exceptions in subsection (m)(3)) unless they accept subsequent offers of employment as H-2C workers or are otherwise lawfully present.

“(2) FAILURE TO DEPART.—H-2C workers who do not depart the United States within the periods referred to in paragraph (1) or, as applicable, paragraph (3), will be considered to have failed to maintain nonimmigrant status as H-2C workers and shall be subject to removal under section 237(a)(1)(C)(i). “(3) APPLICATION FOR MAXIMUM PERIOD.—Notwithstanding the duration of the work requested by the employer petitioning for the admission of an H-2C worker, if the alien is granted a visa, at the request of the alien, the term of the visa shall be for the maximum period described in subsection (m)(1), except that if such an alien is unable to secure subsequent employment 30 days after the conclusion of their authorized employment, the alien shall be required to depart the United States as described in paragraph (1)(B).

“(o) ABANDONMENT OF EMPLOYMENT.—

“(1) REPORT BY EMPLOYER.—Not later than 72 hours after an employer learns of the abandonment of employment by H-2C workers before the conclusion of their work contracts, the employer shall notify the Secretary of Agriculture and the Secretary of Homeland Security of such abandonment.

“(B) performed agricultural labor or services in the United States for at least 5.75 hours during each of at least 180 days during the 2-year period ending on October 23, 2017.

“(3) SPECIAL APPROVAL PROCEDURES.—Before an alien described in paragraph (2) can be provided with nonimmigrant status under section 101(a)(15)(H)(ii)(C), the alien must depart the United States for a period during the interval between the date of issuance of final rules carrying out the AG Act and the date that is 12 months after such issuance. If such an alien is the beneficiary of an approved H-2C petition, for the purpose of meeting such requirement to depart the United States before being provided with nonimmigrant status under section 101(a)(15)(H)(ii)(C), the Secretary shall authorize parole for the alien to travel to the United States without a visa and shall issue an appropriate document authorizing such travel. Prior to authorizing parole for the alien, the Secretary shall conduct an in person interview, as appropriate, and a background check to determine that the alien is not inadmissible to the United States under section 212(a) or deportable under section 237(a), except with regard to the grounds of inadmissibility and grounds of deportability waived under paragraph (1).

“(q) TRUST FUND TO ASSURE WORKER RETURN.—

“(1) ESTABLISHMENT.—There is established in the Treasury of the United States a trust fund (in this section referred to as the ‘Trust Fund’) for the purpose of providing a monetary incentive for H-2C workers to return to their country of origin upon expiration of their visas.

Internal Revenue Code of 1986 had the H-2C workers been subject to such chapters.

“(3) DISTRIBUTION OF FUNDS.—Amounts paid into the Trust Fund on behalf of an H-2C worker, and held pursuant to paragraph (2)(A) and interest earned thereon, shall be transferred from the Trust Fund to the Secretary of Homeland Security, who shall distribute them to the worker if the worker—

“(A) ATTESTATION AFTER EXAMINATION OF DOCUMENTATION.—

“(i) ATTESTATION.—During the verification period (as defined in subparagraph (E)), the person or entity shall attest, under penalty of perjury and on a form, including electronic and telephonic formats, designated or established by the Secretary by regulation not later than 6 months after the date of the enactment of the Legal Workforce Act, that it has verified that the individual is not an unauthorized alien by—

“(I) obtaining from the individual the individual’s social security account number or United States passport number and recording the number on the form (if the individual claims to have been issued such a number), and, if the individual does not attest to United States nationality under subparagraph (B), obtaining such identification or authorization number established by the Department of Homeland Security for the alien as the Secretary of Homeland Security may specify, and recording such number on the form; and

“(II) examining—

“(aa) a document relating to the individual presenting it described in clause (ii); or “(bb) a document relating to the individual presenting it described in clause (iii) and a document relating to the individual presenting it described in clause (iv).

“(ii) DOCUMENTS EVIDENCING EMPLOYMENT AUTHORIZATION AND ESTABLISHING IDENTITY.—A document described in this subparagraph is an individual’s—

“(I) unexpired United States passport or passport card;

“(II) unexpired permanent resident card that contains a photograph;

“(III) unexpired employment authorization card that contains a photograph;

“(IV) in the case of a nonimmigrant alien authorized to work for a specific employer incident to status, a foreign passport with Form I-94 or Form I-94A, or other documentation as designated by the Secretary specifying the alien’s nonimmigrant status as long as the period of status has not yet expired and the proposed employment is not in conflict with any restrictions or limitations identified in the documentation;

“(V) passport from the Federated States of Micronesia (FSM) or the Republic of the Marshall Islands (RMI) with Form I-94 or Form I-94A, or other documentation as designated by the Secretary, indicating nonimmigrant admission under the Compact of Free Association Between the United States and the FSM or RMI; or

“(VI) other document designated by the Secretary of Homeland Security, if the document—

“(aa) contains a photograph of the individual and biometric identification data from the individual and such other personal identifying information relating to the individual as the Secretary of Homeland Security finds, by regulation, sufficient for purposes of this clause;

“(bb) is evidence of authorization of employment in the United States; and “(cc) contains security features to make it resistant to tampering, counterfeiting, and fraudulent use.

“(iii) DOCUMENTS EVIDENCING EMPLOYMENT AUTHORIZATION.—A document described in this subparagraph is an individual’s social security account number card (other than such a card which specifies on the face that the issuance of the card does not authorize employment in the United States).

“(iv) DOCUMENTS ESTABLISHING IDENTITY OF INDIVIDUAL.—A document described in this subparagraph is—

“(I) an individual’s unexpired driver’s license or identification card if it was issued by a State or American Samoa and contains a photograph and information such as name, date of birth, gender, height, eye color, and address;

“(v) AUTHORITY TO PROHIBIT USE OF CERTAIN DOCUMENTS.—If the Secretary of Homeland Security finds, by regulation, that any document described in clause (i), (ii), or (iii) as establishing employment authorization or identity does not reliably establish such authorization or identity or is being used fraudulently to an unacceptable degree, the Secretary may prohibit or place conditions on its use for purposes of this paragraph.

“(vi) SIGNATURE.—Such attestation may be manifested by either a handwritten or electronic signature.

“(B) INDIVIDUAL ATTESTATION OF EMPLOYMENT AUTHORIZATION.—During the verification period (as defined in subparagraph (E)), the individual shall attest, under penalty of perjury on the form designated or established for purposes of subparagraph (A), that the individual is a citizen or national of the United States, an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence, or an alien who is authorized under this Act or by the Secretary of Homeland Security to be hired, recruited, or referred for such employment. Such attestation may be manifested by either a handwritten or electronic signature. The individual shall also provide that individual’s social security account number or United States passport number (if the individual claims to have been issued such a number), and, if the individual does not attest to United States nationality under this subparagraph, such identification or authorization number established by the Department of Homeland Security for the alien as the Secretary may specify.

“(C) RETENTION OF VERIFICATION FORM AND VERIFICATION.—

“(i) IN GENERAL.—After completion of such form in accordance with subparagraphs (A) and (B), the person or entity shall—

“(I) retain a paper, microfiche, microfilm, or electronic version of the form and make it available for inspection by officers of the Department of Homeland Security, the Department of Justice, or the Department of Labor during a period beginning on the date of the recruiting or referral of the individual, or, in the case of the hiring of an individual, the date on which the verification is completed, and ending—

“(aa) in the case of the recruiting or referral of an individual, 3 years after the date of the recruiting or referral; and

“(bb) in the case of the hiring of an individual, the later of 3 years after the date the verification is completed or one year after the date the individual’s employment is terminated; and “(II) during the verification period (as defined in subparagraph (E)), make an inquiry, as provided in subsection (d), using the verification system to seek verification of the identity and employment eligibility of an individual.

“(ii) CONFIRMATION.—

“(I) CONFIRMATION RECEIVED.—If the person or other entity receives an appropriate confirmation of an individual’s identity and work eligibility under the verification system within the time period specified, the person or entity shall record on the form an appropriate code that is provided under the system and that indicates a final confirmation of such identity and work eligibility of the individual.

“(II) TENTATIVE NONCONFIRMATION RECEIVED.—If the person or other entity receives a tentative nonconfirmation of an individual's identity or work eligibility under the verification system within the time period specified, the person or entity shall so inform the individual for whom the verification is sought. If the individual does not contest the nonconfirmation within the time period specified, the nonconfirmation shall be considered final. The person or entity shall then record on the form an appropriate code which has been provided under the system to indicate a final nonconfirmation. If the individual does contest the nonconfirmation, the individual shall utilize the process for secondary verification provided under subsection (d). The nonconfirmation will remain tentative until a final confirmation or nonconfirmation is provided by the verification system within the time period specified. In no case shall an employer terminate employment of an individual because of a failure of the individual to have identity and work eligibility confirmed under this section until a nonconfirmation becomes final. Nothing in this clause shall apply to a termination of employment for any reason other than because of such a failure. In no case shall an employer rescind the offer of employment to an individual because of a failure of the individual to have identity and work eligibility confirmed under this subsection until a nonconfirmation becomes final. Nothing in this subclause shall apply to a rescission of the offer of employment for any reason other than because of such a failure.

“(III) FINAL CONFIRMATION OR NONCONFIRMATION RECEIVED.—If a final confirmation or nonconfirmation is provided by the verification system regarding an individual, the person or entity shall record on the form an appropriate code that is provided under the system and that indicates a confirmation or nonconfirmation of identity and work eligibility of the individual.

“(IV) EXTENSION OF TIME.—If the person or other entity in good faith attempts to make an inquiry during the time period specified and the verification system has registered that not all inquiries were received during such time, the person or entity may make an inquiry in the first subsequent working day in which the verification system registers that it has received all inquiries. If the verification system cannot receive inquiries at all times during a day, the person or entity merely has to assert that the entity attempted to make the inquiry on that day for the previous sentence to apply to such an inquiry, and does not have to provide any additional proof concerning such inquiry.

“(V) CONSEQUENCES OF NONCONFIRMATION.—

“(aa) TERMINATION OR NOTIFICATION OF CONTINUED EMPLOYMENT.—If the person or other entity has received a final nonconfirmation regarding an individual, the person or entity may terminate employment of the individual (or decline to recruit or refer the individual). If the person or entity does not terminate employment of the individual or proceeds to recruit or refer the individual, the person or entity shall notify the Secretary of Homeland Security of such fact through the verification system or in such other manner as the Secretary may specify.

“(bb) FAILURE TO NOTIFY.—If the person or entity fails to provide notice with respect to an individual as required under item (aa), the failure is deemed to constitute a violation of subsection (a)(1)(A) with respect to that individual.

“(VI) CONTINUED EMPLOYMENT AFTER FINAL NONCONFIRMATION.—If the person or other entity continues to employ (or to recruit or refer) an individual after receiving final nonconfirmation, a rebuttable presumption is created that the person or entity has violated subsection (a)(1)(A).

“(D) EFFECTIVE DATES OF NEW PROCEDURES.—

“(iii) AGRICULTURAL LABOR OR SERVICES.—With respect to an employee performing agricultural labor or services, this paragraph shall not apply with respect to the verification of the employee until the date that is 24 months after the date of the enactment of the Legal Workforce Act. An employee described in this clause shall not be counted for purposes of clause (i).

“(iv) EXTENSIONS.—Upon request by an employer having 50 or fewer employees, the Secretary shall allow a one-time 6-month extension of the effective date set out in this subparagraph applicable to such employer. Such request shall be made to the Secretary and shall be made prior to such effective date.

“(v) TRANSITION RULE.—Subject to paragraph (4), the following shall apply to a person or other entity hiring, recruiting, or referring an individual for employment in the United States until the effective date or dates applicable under clauses (i) through (iii):

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in subparagraph (B), a person or entity shall make an inquiry, as provided in subsection (d), using the verification system to seek reverification of the identity and employment eligibility of all individuals with a limited period of work authorization employed by the person or entity during the three business days after the date on which the employee's work authorization expires as follows:

“(B) ON A MANDATORY BASIS FOR MULTIPLE USERS OF SAME SOCIAL SECURITY ACCOUNT NUMBER.—In the case of an employer who is required by this subsection to use the verification system described in subsection (d), or has elected voluntarily to use such system, the employer shall make inquiries to the system in accordance with the following:

“(i) The Commissioner of Social Security shall notify annually employees (at the employee address listed on the Wage and Tax Statement) who submit a social security account number to which more than one employer reports income and for which there is a pattern of unusual multiple use. The notification letter shall identify the number of employers to which income is being reported as well as sufficient information notifying the employee of the process to contact the Social Security Administration Fraud Hotline if the employee believes the employee’s identity may have been stolen. The notice shall not share information protected as private, in order to avoid any recipient of the notice from being in the position to further commit or begin committing identity theft.

“(ii) If the person to whom the social security account number was issued by the Social Security Administration has been identified and confirmed by the Commissioner, and indicates that the social security account number was used without their knowledge, the Secretary and the Commissioner shall lock the social security account number for employment eligibility verification purposes and shall notify the employers of the individuals who wrongfully submitted the social security account number that the employee may not be work eligible.

“(iii) Each employer receiving such notification of an incorrect social security account number under clause (ii) shall use the verification system described in subsection (d) to check the work eligibility status of the applicable employee within 10 business days of receipt of the notification.

If an employer chooses voluntarily to seek verification of any individual employed by the employer, the employer shall seek verification of all individuals employed at the same geographic location or, at the option of the employer, all individuals employed within the same job category, as the employee with respect to whom the employer seeks voluntarily to use the verification system. An employer’s decision about whether or not voluntarily to seek verification of its current workforce under this subparagraph may not be considered by any government agency in any proceeding, investigation, or review provided for in this Act.

“(D) VERIFICATION.—Paragraph (1)(C)(ii) shall apply to verifications pursuant to this paragraph on the same basis as it applies to verifications pursuant to paragraph (1), except that employers shall—available for inspection by officers of the Department of Homeland Security, the Department of Justice, or the Department of Labor during the period beginning on the date the verification commences and ending on the date that is the later of 3 years after the date of such verification or 1 year after the date the individual’s employment is terminated.

“(ii) retain a paper, microfiche, microfilm, or electronic version of the form and make it

“(B) FORMER E-VERIFY VOLUNTARY USERS AND OTHERS DESIRING EARLY COMPLIANCE.—Notwithstanding the deadlines in paragraphs (1) and (2), beginning on the date of the enactment of the Legal Workforce Act, the Secretary shall provide for the voluntary compliance with the requirements of this subsection by employers voluntarily electing to participate in the E-Verify Program described in section 403(a) of the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act of 1996 (8 U.S.C. 1324a note) before such date, as well as by other employers seeking voluntary early compliance.

“(5) COPYING OF DOCUMENTATION PERMITTED.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the person or entity may copy a document presented by an individual pursuant to this subsection and may retain the copy, but only (except as otherwise permitted under law) for the purpose of complying with the requirements of this subsection.

“(6) LIMITATION ON USE OF FORMS.—A form designated or established by the Secretary of Homeland Security under this subsection and any information contained in or appended to such form, may not be used for purposes other than for enforcement of this Act and any other provision of Federal criminal law.

“(7) GOOD FAITH COMPLIANCE.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, a person or entity is considered to have complied with a requirement of this subsection notwithstanding a technical or procedural failure to meet such requirement if there was a good faith attempt to comply with the requirement.

“(B) EXCEPTION IF FAILURE TO CORRECT AFTER NOTICE.—Subparagraph (A) shall not apply if—

If providing confirmation or tentative nonconfirmation, the verification system shall provide an appropriate code indicating such confirmation or such nonconfirmation.

“(3) SECONDARY CONFIRMATION PROCESS IN CASE OF TENTATIVE NONCONFIRMATION.—In cases of tentative nonconfirmation, the Secretary shall specify, in consultation with the Commissioner of Social Security, an available secondary verification process to confirm the validity of information provided and to provide a final confirmation or nonconfirmation not later than 10 working days after the date on which the notice of the tentative nonconfirmation is received by the employee. The SPEAKER pro tempore. The bill, as amended, shall be debatable for 1 hour, with 40 minutes equally divided and controlled by the chair and ranking minority member on the Committee on the Judiciary and 20 minutes equally divided and controlled by the chair and ranking minority member of the Committee on Homeland Security.

The gentleman from Virginia (Mr. GOODLATTE) and the gentleman from New York (Mr. NADLER) each will control 20 minutes. The gentleman from Texas (Mr. McCAUL) and the gentleman from Mississippi (Mr. THOMPSON) each will control 10 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Virginia.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mr. GOODLATTE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days in which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on H.R. 4760.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Virginia?

There was no objection.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I introduced H.R. 4760, along with MICHAEL McCAUL, MARTHA MCSALLY, and RAÚL LABRADOR, to provide an equitable and permanent legal status for unlawful aliens who grew up in America after their parents brought them here as children. Just as importantly, we want to strengthen our borders, close gaping loopholes, curtail endemic fraud, and enhance interior immigration enforcement so that our Nation won't face the same dilemma in a few years.

President Trump did the right thing and tried to end President Obama's blatantly unconstitutional DACA program. As a Federal court ruled in enjoining DACA's sister program, DHS cannot "enact a program whereby it not only ignores the dictates of Congress, but actively acts to thwart them. . . . The DHS Secretary is not just rewriting the laws; he is creating them from scratch." President Trump also did the right thing by immediately turning to us, asking Congress to fix the problem.

As he asked for, H.R. 4760 solves the DACA conundrum. It provides DACA beneficiaries with an indefinitely renewable legal nonimmigrant status allowing them to live and work in the United States without worry and travel abroad as they choose. It also allows them to receive green cards on the same terms as any other intending immigrant around the world.

As I indicated, the bill will help ensure that the distressing DACA dilemma does not recur. It ends catch and release at the border, battles asylum fraud, and ensures that unaccompanied minors caught at the border will be treated equally, regardless of their home country. It will ensure that the law no longer tempts minors and their parents to make the dangerous illicit journey to the United States and to line the pockets of cancerous cartels with hundreds of millions of dollars.

The bill will also take away the other magnet that draws millions of persons to come to the United States illegally: the jobs magnet. Through the inclusion of LAMAR SMITH's Legal Workforce Act, it makes E-Verify mandatory. After two decades of constant improvement, E-Verify has become an extremely effective, reliable, and easy way for employers to ensure that they have hired a legal workforce. Three-quarters of a million employers currently use E-Verify, which almost instantaneously confirms the work eligibility of new hires 99 percent of the time.

The bill will also allow DHS to deport members of MS-13 and other virulent criminal gangs and allow it to detain dangerous aliens who cannot be removed. It will combat the public safety menace of sanctuary cities in multiple ways, including by allowing the Justice Department to withhold from them law enforcement grants.

The bill makes significant reforms to our legal immigration system. It puts an end to extended family chain migration and terminates the diversity visa green card lottery, which awards green cards at random to people with no ties to the United States or any particular skills.

In addition, it replaces the dysfunctional H-2A agricultural guestworker program. The H-2A program is slow, bureaucratic, and frustrating, often forcing growers to leave crops to rot in the fields. They also must pay an artificially inflated wage rate, along with providing free housing and transportation. In doing the right thing, H-2A users are almost always repaid by being placed at a competitive disadvantage in the marketplace.

The bill provides growers with streamlined access to guestworkers when sufficient American labor cannot be found. It finally provides dairies and food processors with year-round labor needs with access to a guestworker program. It avoids the pitfalls of the H-2A program, and it will remain at its core a true guestworker program. As growers learned the hard way after the 1986 amnesty, illegal farmworkers will leave en masse and flock to the cities when provided with permanent residence.

The Agricultural Guestworker Act contained in this bill is supported by the American Farm Bureau Federation, the dairy industry, and over 200 distinct agricultural organizations from across the United States.

Following introduction of this legislation, I have sat down with my colleagues for months to learn of any concerns and to strive to improve the bill. The product of this intensive work is better legislation. While I am disappointed that the rule did not allow me to include all of the improvements made possible by the input of so many Members, I am gratified that I could include the refinements to the H-2C agricultural guestworker program.

To give just one example, the bill now clarifies that the Department of Homeland Security will issue documents to unlawful alien farmworkers who have been sponsored by growers to join the program, authorizing them to return to the United States without the need for visas after completing their initial touchbacks. This will create certainty for growers, allowing them to receive pre-approval of their H-2C petitions for current workers before they leave the country and precertification of the workers' admission back into the United States before they leave.

Congress has a unique opportunity to act before the country ends up with another large population who crossed the border illegally as children. Let's take this historic moment to come together and support vital legislation that provides commonsense, reasonable solutions.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to join President Trump and support H.R. 4760, and I reserve the balance of my time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
COMMITTEE ON HOMELAND SECURITY,
Washington, DC, June 20, 2018.

Hon. BOB GOODLATTE,
Chairman, Committee on Judiciary,
Washington, DC.

DEAR CHAIRMAN GOODLATTE: I write concerning H.R. 4760, the "Securing America's Future Act of 2018". This legislation includes matters that fall within the Rule X jurisdiction of the Committee on Homeland Security.

In order to expedite floor consideration of H.R. 4760, the Committee on Homeland Security agrees to forgo action on this bill. However, this is conditional on our mutual understanding that forgoing consideration of the bill would not prejudice the Committee with respect to the appointment of conferees or to any future jurisdictional claim over the subject matters contained in the bill or similar legislation that fall within the Committee on Homeland Security's Rule X jurisdiction. I request you urge the Speaker to name members of the Committee to any conference committee named to consider such provisions.

Please place a copy of this letter and your response into the Congressional Record during consideration of the measure on the House floor. I thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

Sincerely,

MICHAEL T. MCCAUL,
Chairman.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
COMMITTEE ON THE JUDICIARY,
Washington, DC, June 20, 2018.

Hon. MICHAEL T. MCCAUL,
Chairman, Committee on Homeland Security,
Washington, DC.

DEAR CHAIRMAN MCCAUL: Thank you for consulting with the Committee on the Judiciary and agreeing to be discharged from further consideration of H.R. 4760, the "Securing America's Future Act of 2018," so that the bill may proceed expeditiously to the House floor.

I agree that your foregoing further action on this measure does not in any way diminish or alter the jurisdiction of your committee or prejudice its jurisdictional prerogatives on this bill or similar legislation in the future. I would support your effort to seek appointment of an appropriate number of conferees from your committee to any House-Senate conference on this legislation.

I will seek to place our letters on H.R. 4760 into the Congressional Record during floor consideration of the bill. I appreciate your cooperation regarding this legislation and look forward to continuing to work together as this measure moves through the legislative process.

Sincerely,

BOB GOODLATTE,
Chairman.

Mr. NADLER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself 3 minutes.

Mr. Speaker, I strongly oppose H.R. 4760.

This legislation is nothing more than a wish-list of the far right anti-immigrant fringe. It would do nothing to solve the real problems plaguing our immigration system, while causing untold suffering for millions of people.

The world has watched President Trump create a family separation crisis out of thin air. I personally met with fathers whose children had been ripped from their arms, who have no idea when, or if, they will ever see their children again.

One father I spoke to was promised he would be kept with his young child, only to have officers enter his room in the middle of the night and forcibly take away his young daughter.

We have all seen the anguished faces of the parents separated from their children, and listened to the desperate cries of sobbing children screaming for their parents. This is government-sponsored child abuse.

This bill does absolutely nothing to solve the crisis. The President, after falsely claiming that he had no choice but to enact this cruel and brutal policy, now says he will end it, proving that he and his administration were lying all along. But it is not clear that yesterday's executive order immediately ends family separation. It also puts our country on a dangerous path to prolonged detention for parents and children.

The Keeping Families Together Act, which I introduced this week, along with virtually every Democratic Member, would actually prevent children from being separated from their parents, except in extraordinary circumstances.

We could vote on that legislation today. But instead, we have this bill before us now. This bill turns all undocumented immigrants into criminals. It takes particular aim at families, children, workers, businesses, public safety, and our fundamental values as a nation, all at once. It is almost impressive how many bad ideas have been crammed into one comprehensive package.

For example, it eliminates most visa categories that promote family reunification, as well as the diversity visa program, which provides residents of many countries the only method of immigrating to the United States. It removes critical protections for unaccompanied children, and it does away with other important safeguards for children traveling with their parents.

It would decimate the agriculture community by requiring employers to use the E-Verify employment verification system without fixing the underlying immigration system. And it would undercut American workers by importing guestworkers at drastically depressed wages.

It would also undermine our asylum system, breaking with our proud tradition of being a beacon of hope and freedom for the oppressed.

In exchange for all these harsh, anti-immigrant provisions, it offers the most minimal protections to Dreamers, creating a renewable temporary status with no path to citizenship, leaving them in perpetual limbo, and unable to become full members of society in the only country they have ever known.

This is an act of extortion we cannot abide. This bill fails to repair our broken immigration system and, indeed, in many ways, makes it even worse, and all without substantially helping the Dreamers.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to reject this bill, and I reserve the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Members are reminded to refrain from engaging in personalities toward the President.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Mr. Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. SMITH), who is the author of an important provision in this bill related to electronic verification of employment, and he is the former chairman of the House Judiciary Committee.

Mr. SMITH of Texas. Mr. Speaker, let me thank the chairman of the Judiciary Committee, the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. GOODLATTE), for all that he has done to advance immigration reform during this Congress.

I do support H.R. 4760, Securing America's Future Act. This legislation ensures that our immigration policies put the interests of Americans first.

We need to thank not only Chairman GOODLATTE, but others who have put so much time and effort into this legislation. We appreciate Mr. GOODLATTE's diligence, expertise, and commitment to improving our immigration system.

Any immigration reform considered by Congress must, at a minimum, secure our borders, implement workforce verification to end the illegal jobs magnet, reduce chain migration, bolster interior enforcement, and prevent abuse of our asylum laws. Securing America's Future Act includes all of these necessary provisions.

The bill delivers on the President's pledge to voters to complete physical barriers along our southern border, penalize lawless sanctuary cities, and end the Obama administration's catch-and-release policy that returns dangerous criminal immigrants to our streets to prey on innocent Americans.

Of special interest to me is the inclusion of the Legal Workforce Act in the bill, which requires all new employees' work eligibility to be verified. This will reduce illegal immigration and save jobs for American workers.

Also important is the deadline to finally implement an entry-exit tracking system to identify visa overstayers. They comprise half of the almost 1 million new illegal immigrants every year.

Securing America's Future Act helps keep our communities safe and protects American workers. It deserves our enthusiastic support.

Madam Speaker, again I want to thank Chairman GOODLATTE for offering this legislation.

Mr. NADLER. Madam Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. LOFGREN), the distinguished ranking member of the Immigration Subcommittee.

Ms. LOFGREN. Madam Speaker, this is an anti-immigrant bill. It slashes legal immigration. It will injure the ag industry. It criminalizes nearly the entire undocumented population. It will undermine public safety and removes critical protections for families and children, and it even fails to provide a pathway to legal permanent residence for Dreamers.

Sometimes my friends across the aisle say the problem with immigration is we don't have assimilation. You don't get assimilation when you create a permanent underclass of people who are Americans in every way but their paperwork.

It eliminates family-based categories, and this is the relatives of Americans. American citizens and legal permanent residents, forget it. You are not going to be able to get your family members in if this bill passes.

It mandates the use of E-Verify, which would be highly disruptive to restaurants, hotels, and other industries, and the changes in the ag worker provision are just a fig leaf.

The bill transforms a civil law violation into a crime so that undocumented immigrants, including the parents of Dreamers the bill purports to help, become criminals overnight.

It would accelerate separation of kids from parents when 11 million American workers suddenly become subject to prosecution.

Undermining our asylum system by establishing impossibly high evidentiary burdens, it removes protections, as I have said, and it does nothing to reunite the thousands of children who have been taken away from their parents at the border. Instead, it facilitates putting mothers in the cages with their toddlers.

So why are we debating a bill that nearly everyone, even many in the Republican Party, think is a terrible idea? I fear it is because the very extreme elements of the Republican Party have become the loudest and the most powerful.

I continue to have faith in the good people of our country. The American people spoke out loudly against President Trump's family separation policy. They couldn't stand seeing little children, babies, and toddlers ripped from their mother's arms. And we saw a reversal, but it is not a solution, because locking up mothers, putting those mothers in the cages with their toddlers is not the solution to this problem.

We are not going to let hatred, bigotry, and xenophobia prevail in this country.

Madam Speaker, I urge a "no" vote on this bill.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. NADLER. Madam Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Illinois (Mr. GUTIERREZ).

Mr. GUTIERREZ. Madam Speaker, the reelection strategy for every single Republican Member of the House is to stand strong with a President willing to take children from their parents in order to look mean and nasty and cruel to children who are fleeing for their lives. You own that. That is your campaign strategy.

As of today, Republicans want to put the children in the same jails as the parents and fight to hold them indefinitely and demand we charge asylum seekers as criminals and jail them with their children. The more than 2,300 children who have been taken from their parents and put in a vast system spread over thousands of miles, we just don't know if those children will ever see their families again. You own that, too. That is what you are campaigning on to save your jobs this coming November.

Taking DACA away from Dreamers: that is your policy, too. And then putting bills on the floor to cut legal immigration and build a wall are your strategies to blame Democrats for what you are doing.

Republicans want to be both the arsonists and the firefighters, and you can't be both.

I don't blame Speaker RYAN and Chairman GOODLATTE. They are not bad people. They are both decent men of faith who have been put in a position of defending policies that are cruel, inhumane, and run deeply contrary to the will of the American people and the values of our Nation.

This must be morally wrenching for them. But honestly, I have little sympathy. Each has made a devil's bargain to trade their reputation for Stephen Miller's agenda and Donald Trump's name.

Legal immigration? No.

An asylum policy that protects human lives? No.

DACA to protect Dreamers? No.

Policies that treat wife-beating, rape, and human trafficking as matters that require us to protect women? No.

A nation of immigrants? No.

All they want is a wall.

Even though both are leaving office because the Republican Party is no longer home for decent men and women of values, faith, and conscience, both are leaving us with one last commitment: to put the needs of this erratic President above the will of the people and above the good of our Nation.

At some point, someone needs to stop complimenting the emperor on his new set of clothes and start telling the President he is naked. Covering his rear end from all the lies, the deceit, and the soullessness is no longer sustainable.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Ms. FOXX). Members are reminded to refrain from engaging in personalities toward the President and to direct their remarks to the Chair.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume to respond to some of the false charges that we are hearing here.

First of all, with regard to E-Verify, unfortunately, there is a misconception that it is our intention to implement the new H-2C program and mandate E-Verify for agriculture simultaneously. This could not be further from the truth.

The AG Act, under that act, E-Verify would not be mandated for agriculture until the H-2C is properly up and running and no sooner than 24 months after enactment of the legislation. In addition, E-Verify will only apply to future hires.

Secondly, I want to respond to those who complain about what we are doing for the DACA recipients in this legislation. I want to make it very, very clear we are going to do something that is legal, something that is constitutional for them instead of something that was illegal and unconstitutional, and it is going to be superior in this bill to what was done for them there, because they will be allowed to remain in the United States permanently, renewing every 3 years. They are only excluded if they do not meet certain criteria.

The fact of the matter is we will have an opportunity for them to avail themselves of existing pathways to citizenship. If they are married to a United States citizen, as it would be logical that a great many of these DACA recipients are because of the fact that they have grown up here, they will be able to benefit from that. They could not do that under the Obama executive order. So this is much better than how the Democrats have treated the DACA recipients.

Lastly, whether the labor workforce status quo is sustainable for American agriculture, under current law in California and other States, farmers are facing chronic employee shortages. Last fall, the California Farm Bureau announced the results of an informal survey of its members. The survey showed that 69 percent of those surveyed were experiencing labor shortfalls. Despite all the efforts California farmers and ranchers have made to find and hire people to work on their operations, they still can't find enough willing and qualified employees.

California Farm Bureau President Paul Wenger said: "Farmers have offered higher wages, benefits, and more year-round jobs. They have tried to mechanize operations where possible and have even changed crops or left ground idle, but employee shortages persist."

The labor force status quo is simply unsustainable for American agriculture. Clearly, this is not a situation that is going to be solved by granting permanent resident status to farmworkers. In fact, that is the opposite of what is needed.

Granting permanent resident status to illegal farmworkers will not do anything to ensure that farmers and ranchers have access to the labor they need for years to come. It is short-sighted and does nothing to relieve employers or legal farmworkers of the unnecessary burdens and competitive disadvantage they face under the outdated H-2A program.

Americans' food can be grown in other countries where land and labor are far cheaper. To ensure that our meat and produce continue to be grown in America and that our Nation's agricultural industry thrives in the global marketplace, the U.S. needs a flexible, workable, and fair guest worker program like the H-2C program established in the AG Act and contained in the legislation that we are debating right now.

Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. NADLER. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Minnesota (Mr. ELLISON).

Mr. ELLISON. Madam Speaker, let me thank the gentleman for yielding the time.

Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues to stand in full opposition to Securing America's Future Act, H.R. 4760.

First of all, let me say that the only thing that the President's executive order shows is that he is willing to rip families apart unless it costs him politically. If there is a political price to pay, then he will back up and try to confuse what is really going on. But at the end of the day, this zero-tolerance policy is absolutely wrong and we have to end it now.

Making unlawful presence a crime is probably a violation of international law. This bill makes it difficult, makes it impossible for people who are seeking asylum to come here and try to get their cases adjudicated. They are running, in many cases, from the most abominable situations imaginable. People should know that America is the kind of place you can come to if you are seeking refuge.

Let me also say that this thing to build this wall, we will never allow that. We will never agree to that, and we will oppose it with everything we have because it is a symbol of hate and division.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Madam Speaker, may I inquire how much time is remaining on each side.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Virginia has 8 minutes remaining. The gentleman from New York has 11 minutes remaining.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. NADLER. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from California (Mr. CORREA).

Mr. CORREA. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman from New York, Congressman NADLER, for this opportunity to speak on this bill.

Madam Speaker, I was hired to work across the aisle, to come to Washington to get things done, to fix problems. Earlier this month, we had a discharge petition that we needed two more signatures on that would have given us the opportunity here on this floor to vote on four immigration bills under the queen-of-the-hill rule. Essentially, that means that whatever bill gets more votes moves ahead.

Among those four bills was Mr. GOODLATTE's bill, and, of course, also one of those bills was the Aguilar-Hurd bill that was a product of both Democrats and Republicans coming together working on a solution.

□ 1245

Unfortunately, we weren't given the opportunity to vote on all these four bills. And the current bill on the floor today does not offer a pathway to citizenship for Dreamers. Of course, it does not address the current problem of reuniting children who are separated from their families.

Madam Speaker, I ask today, my colleagues, please reject this legislation. And I ask the Speaker to give us the opportunity to vote on the Aguilar-Hurd bill.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Madam Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Idaho (Mr. LABRADOR), the chairman of the Immigration and Border Security Subcommittee of the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. LABRADOR. Madam Speaker, I rise in strong support of H.R. 4760, the Securing America's Future Act. This bill provides the tools needed to enforce our immigration laws, secure our borders, and begin the process of reforming our legal immigration system while also ensuring a generous protection for DACA recipients.

Enforcement remains the key to our system. Without enforcement, our laws have little effect. This bill targets criminal gangs, dangerous aliens, and the sanctuary policies that allow these public safety threats to thrive.

The bill also provides a permanent solution for DACA recipients. They can apply to receive a 3-year, indefinitely renewable visa so they can live and work in the United States forever, as long as they abide by the laws. This permanent status gives DACA recipients more surety than President Obama's temporary program ever did.

The bill will finally make good on our commitment to grant our growers and other workers a workable agricultural guest worker program. The lack of a reliable source of labor when an American workforce is simply not available is imperiling the future of American agriculture.

The bill's H-2C program will be a true guest worker program that will allow the current agricultural workforce to participate on the same terms and conditions as any other worker around the world. The program is endorsed by the American Farm Bureau. It is a critical part of this bill.

Finally, it closes the loopholes that have allowed fraud to destroy the integrity of our asylum system by raising the credible fear standard and sending a clear message that fraud and frivolity will not be tolerated in the United States.

This is a good bill, and I encourage every Member to support it.

Mr. NADLER. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Michigan (Mrs. LAWRENCE).

Mrs. LAWRENCE. Madam Speaker, I rise today in strong opposition to H.R. 4760, the Securing America's Future Act.

Instead of working in a bipartisan manner, like open rules and committee hearings, Members of this body now must vote on two bills that will hurt immigrant families and communities by worsening the family separation crisis on the border and funding the divisive border wall.

H.R. 4760 is a hardline anti-immigration bill that fails to provide a permanent path to citizenship for our Dreamers. It makes family reunification much more difficult. It provides $25 billion for the Trump wall. This is while we are going to be confronted with a farm bill that cuts food for starving and poor children in America. It would expand the family separation, and it harms children.

Madam Speaker, this is not the America I know. This bill is nothing more than an attempt to appease the administration and the most extreme faction of the Republican Party.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. NADLER. Madam Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. JACKSON LEE), the ranking member of the Crime, Terrorism, Homeland Security, and Investigations Subcommittee.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Madam Speaker, it certainly saddens me to have to come call legislation harsh and cruel; for if there is anything that we should do in a bipartisan or, frankly, non-partisan manner, it should be the complement to the Statue of Liberty, which, over the centuries, has been the standard-bearer of the values and virtues of this Nation.

I am saddened that we have come to a point, having worked on the Judiciary Committee with outstanding leaders like my ranking member, my chairman, the subcommittee ranking, Ms. LOFGREN, for many years on real immigration reform, here we are today.

Let me tell you why I am opposed to this. It may be because I represent Americans, Americans who are in the 18th Congressional District in Texas. It may be because we are one of the most diverse cities—my mayor says the most diverse city—in the Nation. It may be that we have South Asians and Haitians. We have people from Eastern Europe. We have those, of course, who are Latino. We have those from the Caribbean, and Africans, and many, many more. We have those from Europe.

Here is what this bill will do. It will quash any opportunity for mom and dad to bring in extended family members, citizen mom and dad to bring in their family members. It ends legal immigration and what we have called the values of America, family reunification.

At the same time, the ugly name that has been given to diversity visas is not true. Those who come through the diversity visa for small countries—should we discriminate against small countries?—have the highest level of education and go into medicine and science and try to help.

Then there is no relief for DACA. People who are military, paramedics, lawyers, teachers, we are dependent upon them, having grown up here, loving this Nation, pledging to the flag, pledging to the United States flag.

Then, finally, let me say that it is a sin and a shame that we have such an administration.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentlewoman has expired.

Mr. NADLER. Madam Speaker, I yield the gentlewoman from Texas an additional 30 seconds.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Then, as we have not done anything for DACA, we have not done anything for the children snatched away from their families, the children that I saw for 2 days on the border at Texas—Roger, who I held in my hands; maybe the 2-year-old like this—because what it does is it does nothing to reunite the children. It does nothing, after 20 days, to be able to protect them, because the fake executive order does not go beyond 20 days.

Frankly, we don't know where the 2,000 children are, and I know the values of the faith community in America are to reunite. I am saddened that we have this bill. I ask my colleagues to oppose this bill.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Madam Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. BARTON).

Mr. BARTON. Madam Speaker, I rise in support of the pending legislation before us. I believe it is very important that we show that we do want to address this issue, and I think the Goodlatte-McCaul bill does that in a humane way.

Now, we have this issue of separation of children that has arisen at the border just in the last week or so. The Trump policy is not any different on paper than the Obama policy was. What is different is the way it has been covered, and President Trump has realized that something needs to be done differently and has signed an executive order yesterday to that effect.

I personally think that we ought to go back to the original policy where, if you wanted political asylum, you applied at the embassy or the consulate in your home country. And if you bring your children, and you march them across the deserts of Mexico, and you bring them all the way to the Texas border, you do get a court hearing, but I would say that we give that court hearing back in their country of origin. And if we have to send them back at taxpayer expense, we deduct the cost from existing aid packages that we are giving to those home countries. That way, they don't have to come all the way to the Texas border or the California border or the Arizona border or the New Mexico border in order to get their day in court. They wait in their home country, and then they get their day in court there.

Nobody wants to separate families, but it is the parents who bring the children with them. It is not the United States Government that is forcing those parents to try to come to this country illegally and bring their children.

The Goodlatte bill funds border security. It begins to solve some of the issues of the lottery system. I personally think it is much better to have a merit-based immigration system than a lottery system where you just happen to, luck of the draw, get a come-into-the-United-States card.

I think this is a good piece of legislation, and I hope we pass it this afternoon.

Mr. NADLER. Madam Speaker, how much time is remaining, please?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from New York has 6½ minutes remaining. The gentleman from Virginia has 4 minutes remaining.

Mr. NADLER. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. JUDY CHU).

Ms. JUDY CHU of California. Madam Speaker, I rise today in strong opposition to this cruel, anti-immigrant bill. This bill is so bad, they even want to destroy legal immigration to this country.

For decades, our immigration laws were discriminatory, favoring Nordic and Western Europeans, restricting Italians and Jews, and banning the Chinese completely. Finally, in 1965, during the civil rights era, Senator Ted Kennedy ushered in a fair immigration system based on family reunification.

Because this system brings families together, immigrant households are less likely to rely on public benefits. And immigrants are also buying homes and starting businesses at a faster rate.

But now, with this bill, Republicans are trying to undo that progress and make America White again.

Worse, they are tearing families apart to do this. While Trump and Republicans are ripping parents from children at the border, they are trying to do the same through our immigration laws. This war on families must stop.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Madam Speaker, I continue to reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. NADLER. Madam Speaker, this afternoon, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce sent an alert to Members of Congress that says the cuts to legal immigration in this bill are bad news for States.

Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from California (Mr. TAKANO).

Mr. TAKANO. Madam Speaker, I rise in strong opposition to the Securing America's Future Act. It is obscene to bring this deeply flawed bill to the floor when thousands of children have been ripped from their parents.

Americans across the country are outraged over the Trump administration's actions to separate families at the border. And Trump's answer? An executive order that cages families indefinitely and will be immediately challenged in court.

Unfortunately, this bill before us would do nothing to stop any of this. Instead, it criminalizes every undocumented man, woman, and child in this country and subjects them to the same cruel policy being played out at our border. It is shocking we are even considering this bill.

Let's be on the right side of history. Let's stop tearing families apart. Let's stop caging people fleeing violence.

I urge my colleagues to do the right thing and defeat this repugnant bill.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Madam Speaker, I continue to reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. NADLER. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. LEE).

□ 1300

Ms. LEE. Madam Speaker, I thank the ranking member for yielding me the time and for his tireless advocacy.

Madam Speaker, I rise in strong opposition to H.R. 4760. This is an anti-immigrant bill, plain and simple: It fails to provide a pathway to citizenship for Dreamers; it dismantles family immigration; it ends the important diversity visa lottery program; it funds $30 billion for Trump's border wall; and it fails to address the horrible zero-tolerance policy.

Why are we moving forward with a bill that does not address the malicious detention of families seeking asylum, a bill that does nothing to reunite the 2,300 children separated from their parents?

These policies are really a disgrace and a stain on our country.

Just imagine the horrors of these families fleeing violence, domestic abuse, but we are not providing refuge. No. Our government—our government—has been ripping children out of the arms of parents. We are holding kids in cages. And now the Trump administration wants to leave whole families, including young children, in jail for extended periods of time.

Locking up kids is child abuse. It is a violation of their human rights. We must ensure that these children are reunited with their families.

Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues to vote "no" on this bill. And as my colleague Congresswoman CHU said, it is about making America White again.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. NADLER. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Texas (Mr. AL GREEN).

Mr. AL GREEN of Texas. Madam Speaker, I thank the ranking member for yielding me the time.

Madam Speaker, this bill does many things, but the one thing that it does not do is heal the wound in the soul of America. It does not provide a pathway for these babies to return home to their parents.

This bill is about as bad as it can get if you care about what you see in this picture. Children should not become the tools of the trade for politicians.

This bill will legitimize children as the tools of the trade. We cannot pass it. We should not pass it. We must rethink what we are doing to this country.

Mr. NADLER. Mr. Speaker, how much time do I have remaining?

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. HOLDING). The gentleman from New York has from 2½ minutes remaining. The gentleman from Virginia has 4 minutes remaining.

Mr. NADLER. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1½ minutes to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. LOFGREN), the ranking member of the Immigration and Border Security Subcommittee.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Speaker, this bill is a step in the wrong direction in so many ways.

I wish that we had had an opportunity to sit down, reason together, and come up with a plan that really serves our country. That didn't happen.

Here is what the result was: The Chamber of Commerce has just reported that the Niskanen Center that they have relied on indicates that, if this bill became law, the U.S. would lose $319 billion in GDP. That would be the impact, according to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, for adopting this bill.

And I wonder what my colleagues on the other side of the aisle are really doing by turning every undocumented person in the United States, currently a civil law violation, into a crime. We are now creating 11 million prosecution opportunities.

At the same time, The Washington Post is just reporting, this is the headline: "Trump Administration Will Stop Prosecuting Migrant Parents Who Cross the Border Illegally with Children, Official Says."

What are we doing here? We are doing a bill that would incarcerate families and children to pursue a policy that the administration now says they don't intend to pursue.

Now, I don't have a lot of trust in the Trump administration because it changes daily.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentlewoman has expired.

Mr. NADLER. Mr. Speaker, I yield an additional 30 seconds to the gentlewoman from California.

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Speaker, I would urge my colleagues on the other side of the aisle to take a step back here.

Your President has left you out on a limb. He just sawed that limb off for a bill that does damage to the country for a policy that he now has apparently abandoned. This is a ridiculous situation here.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. NADLER. Mr. Speaker, how much time do I have remaining?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from New York has 30 seconds remaining.

Mr. NADLER. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, this bill is a harsh anti-immigrant package that fails to provide a pathway to citizenship for Dreamers and that fails to end family separation, while slashing legal immigration, crippling our agriculture industry, criminalizing undocumented immigrants, undermining public safety, and removing critical protection for families and children, all in one monstrous bill.

Mr. Speaker, there is no justification for anyone voting for this bill. I urge my colleagues to oppose this legislation, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, first of all, this bill has been mischaracterized and was just again.

This bill makes provisions for when the immigration service prosecutes somebody at the border. It doesn't tell them when to do that. So it is entirely incorrect to make that assertion.

I see the conflicting news reports about what the intention of the administration is today on that issue, but that does not change the fact that that has nothing to do with the good measures in this bill that correct the problems that we are speaking about.

The overwhelming majority of the American people want children to be with their parents, and I have just seen a poll a few minutes ago that shows that the overwhelming majority of them want those children detained with their parents, not to have the parents and the children released into the interior of the country where they never return for their hearing.

That kind of open border policy that is supported by the advocates on the other side of the aisle is not good for America, and it is not good for sound immigration policy.

We are a nation of immigrants. There is not a person in this room who can't go back a few generations or several generations and find someone in their family who immigrated to the United States. But we are also a nation of laws, and respect for the rule of law and following our legal immigration system is the foundation of our society.

So, to me, when you say that it is not good enough to do better for the DACA recipients than Barack Obama did, where do you get that idea from?

When you say that we are not a generous country with regard to immigration and that this is an anti-immigration bill when it sustains far more legal immigration than any other country on Earth, they are completely wrong.

But at the same time that we do that and we promote that in this bill, good legal immigration policy and something fair for the DACA recipients, we must also have secure borders in our country, and we must give any administration, not just this one, the tools it needs to close the loopholes to secure the border and to end crazy programs like the visa lottery program that gives 55,000 green cards to people just based on pure luck. There are better things to do with those green cards to move to a merit-based immigration system.

I urge my colleagues to support this important legislation, reject the negative ideas of the opposition, and move forward with a policy that does both something important for the DACA recipients but also secures America's national security interests and the interests of our citizens.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support this legislation, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. McCAUL. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today because we finally have the opportunity to secure our borders once and for all.

Before coming to Congress, I was a counterterrorism prosecutor in the Justice Department. I saw the threats along our border firsthand.

After getting elected to the House, the very first bill I introduced put an end to this catch-and-release system. Here we are in this Chamber 14 years later, and I am still fighting for it.

Doing nothing should not be an option. As I have said before, it is time for Congress to act. Today, we have an historic opportunity to fix this problem once and for all with the Securing America's Future Act.

Our legislation delivers on the President's four pillars, which I worked closely with him on. It secures the border by building a wall, ends chain migration and the diversity lottery, provides a rational DACA solution, and also deploys new technology and adds boots on the ground.

We must move toward a moral, merit-based system and not a random system.

This legislation also provides, Mr. Speaker, a legal solution that will keep families together when they cross the border illegally.

Our bill brings a generational change that prevents us from revisiting these problems down the road.

But this isn't just about closing loopholes and fixing broken laws. Border security is a national security issue. Violent gangs like MS-13, human traffickers and smugglers sneaking into our country infect our neighborhoods, and too many lives are at risk, and opioids come across the border.

Unfortunately, the threats do not stop there. We know that international terrorists are trying to exploit our border. This was made clear from the materials found in bin Laden's compound and from propaganda outlets like Inspire magazine. The 9/11 Commission report even stated that predecessors to al-Qaida had been exploiting weaknesses in our border security since the 1990s.

In April, Secretary Nielsen testified that ISIS has encouraged its followers to cross our southwest border, given the loopholes that they are also aware of. We must solve this problem, and we must solve it today.

So, Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support this bill and give the American people the security that they have long demanded and deserve.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. THOMPSON of Mississippi. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I rise in strong opposition to H.R. 4760, a bill that doubles down on the President's cruel zero-tolerance policy. This harsh anti-immigrant, anti-American bill is the realization of the President's cruel immigration and border security rhetoric and policies.

Remember when the Republican Party used to say it was the party of family values? H.R. 4760 is focused on families, but not in a good way. It is focused on separating families, incarcerating families, and eliminating pathways for family-based immigration.

Remember when the Republican Party used to say it was the party of law and order? Well, it does take action with respect to local law enforcement, but not in a good way. It would withhold Homeland Security and other law enforcement grants from so-called sanctuary cities that, for the purpose of public safety, seek to foster trust from immigrant communities.

Law enforcement officials across the country oppose this provision because it would make their communities less safe. For example, Latinos in three major cities have been reporting fewer crimes since President Trump took office, particularly as it relates to domestic violence and sexual assault.

Finally, remember when the Republican Party used to say it was the party of fiscal discipline? Well, no more.

□ 1315

If enacted, H.R. 4760, would require billions of taxpayers' dollars to be wasted on the President's border walls, which I seem to recall hearing that it will be paid for by the Mexican Government. Now they want the taxpayers of America to pay for it.

It also waives the paygo scorecard. So now you pull a hat trick. You spend the money, but you don't score it. So, ultimately, it won't show up in our budget numbers. Shame on you.

With that, Mr. Speaker, I urge a "no" vote on H.R. 4760, and I reserve the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Members are reminded to refrain from engaging in personalities toward the President.

Mr. MCCAUL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to gentlewoman from Arizona (Ms. MCSALLY), the chair of the Subcommittee on Border and Maritime Security.

Ms. MCSALLY. Mr. Speaker, I thank the chairman for his years of hard work on this issue to secure our border.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 4760, the Securing America's Future Act. As one of only nine Members of Congress who represent communities along our southern border, and as the Border and Maritime Security Subcommittee chair, I have witnessed firsthand the security threats we face from an insecure border and the dysfunctions of our immigration system.

Since I came to Congress, I have been working passionately to protect Arizonans from the public safety threats that accompany a porous border, and to start to fix a dysfunctional immigration system.

This bill which we have been tirelessly working on since September last year, along with Chairman MCCAUL, Chairman GOODLATTE, and Congressman LABRADOR, represent an important step to keep our country safe by securing the border, including building the wall, closing many legal loopholes, ending chain migration, ending the visa lottery, cracking down on sanctuary cities and MS-13 gangs, and providing a legislative solution to the DACA population that is reasonable and fair and doesn't incentivize more illegal activity in the future.

This is the first legislation on these topics in the House that President Trump has supported, and we worked very closely with the administration in the process to propose this thoughtful solution to fix these very real and complex security and economic challenges.

Like many pieces of legislation though, this bill is not perfect. There are many improvements, such as the guaranteed funding mechanism for border security, including the wall, and other technical corrections that we worked on over the last 6 months that I sure would have liked to have seen in this version of the bill on the floor.

Nonetheless, I strongly support passage of this legislation as the first significant proposal to solve these very serious issues that continue to impact communities in Arizona and the rest of the country.

I remain ready to lead and help deliver legislation to the President's desk that he can sign into law. I would urge our colleagues, especially on the other side of the aisle, who say they care about border security and DACA recipients, to not play politics and vote "yes" on this bill.

Mr. THOMPSON of Mississippi. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1½ minutes to the gentlewoman from Florida (Mrs. DEMINGS), the retired chief of police of Orlando, Florida.

Mrs. DEMINGS. Mr. Speaker, during my 27 years in law enforcement, I fought many threats to our families. But today, I have to say that I am ashamed that our leaders now say that those families are the threat.

Families seeking asylum are not a threat. Toddlers and children at the border are not a threat. Dreamers who are brought here as young children, both of us know, are not a threat.

Mr. Speaker, I ask: Why is it so easy to reject those who we believe are different from us? We will not allow this administration to make America a country that only accepts the rich and well-connected. When we know better, we are supposed to do better.

And so I urge my colleagues on the other side of the aisle, you are right, let's stop playing politics. Let's do better and reject this dangerous piece of legislation.

Mr. MCCAUL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Louisiana (Mr. HIGGINS), a member of the Homeland Security Committee.

Mr. HIGGINS of Louisiana. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 4760, the Securing America's Future Act of 2018. I am a cosponsor of this legislation. I remind all of my colleagues that a sovereign nation cannot stand without sovereign borders.

I remind my colleagues on both sides of the aisle that we are Representatives of citizens of the 50 sovereign States of America. We have not been elected by citizens of Mexico or Nicaragua or El Salvador.

We represent American interests. This is an America-first bill that secures America's southern border.

Mr. Speaker, I urge all of my colleagues to embrace their oath and to recognize their service to these citizens that depend upon sound, decisive measures from this body.

Mr. THOMPSON of Mississippi. Mr. Speaker, we all recognize the sovereignty of our country, but we also recognize its diversity, and we all are immigrants. So let's get over it.

Mr. Speaker, I yield 1½ minutes to the gentlewoman from New York (Miss RICE).

Miss RICE of New York. Mr. Speaker, it is a shame that we are wasting our time today on two bills that are harmful and hyperpartisan when we all know that the USA Act, introduced by Representatives AGUILAR and HURD, have the votes to pass on this House floor.

This bipartisan solution would finally provide our Dreamers, college students, veterans, servicemembers, and business owners with the status and certainty that they have long deserved. The USA Act would also effectively secure our borders without wasting taxpayer money on a wall that would not make us any safer.

The bills being considered today are simply not what most Americans want. They deny Dreamers a path to citizenship. They abandon our obligation to protect those fleeing persecution and violence. And they do nothing to reunite the families who have already been torn apart by the Trump administration.

Mr. Speaker, I urge you to do the responsible thing, to finally govern, and allow the bipartisan USA Act to come to the floor.

Mr. MCCAUL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentleman from Kansas (Mr. ESTES), a member of the Homeland Security Committee.

Mr. ESTES of Kansas. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 4760, Securing America's Future Act.

Mr. Speaker, our immigration system is broken. For decades, administrations have offered temporary fixes or chosen to not enforce certain provisions of the law. However, the election of President Trump shows a clear desire by the American people to fix our broken immigration system and secure our border.

The Securing America's Future Act addresses these issues and provides needed solutions. The bill secures our border by authorizing a wall, providing new border technology, and putting more boots on the ground.

The bill refocuses legal immigration on skills that are needed by ending the visa lottery program and chain migration. It also prevents future illegal immigration by mandating E-Verify for employers and cracking down on sanctuary cities.

Important for my State of Kansas, this bill includes H-2C agricultural visas which allows people to come work and provide the skills our farmers need.

Finally, this bill gives stability to children brought here illegally by providing a renewable legal status as long as recipients pay taxes and obey the law, without providing a special path to citizenship because no one should get to jump the line.

Mr. THOMPSON of Mississippi. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1½ minutes to the gentlewoman from Houston, Texas (Ms. JACKSON LEE).

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Mr. Speaker, I thank the distinguished gentleman for yielding the time.

I would offer to say that those Guatemalan Americans, El Salvadoran Americans, those Americans from the country of Mexico, and others who serve in the United States military, certainly reflect the diversity of this Nation.

I would offer to say that, sadly, this is the image that is America today. It is not the Statue of Liberty. I stand to oppose this bill because I know, as a member of the Homeland Security Committee, we had a plan that was bipartisan that would provide for border security that included technology and barriers.

Now, we have succumbed to a process which every good-thinking person has to oppose, including the business community. Law enforcement opposes this legislation, in particular, because it makes communities less safe.

Just this week a Texas sheriff's deputy was arrested for sexually assaulting a 4-year-old girl and threatening to deport the undocumented mother if she reported the claim. Good law enforcement officers understand that they need to have people report the crime.

We know that it was an immigrant, a researcher, who helped us get the polio vaccine.

Finally, young people who now are coming to this country, snatched away from their parents, unaccompanied youngsters as well, will no longer have the protections of the special immigrant juvenile status. It strips crucial protections for abused, abandoned, and neglected children by limiting their ability to access special immigrant juvenile status.

This bill is a bad bill. It is not an immigration bill. It is a bad bill and it really is not for the American people.

Mr. MCCAUL. Mr. Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Arizona (Mrs. LESKO), the newest member of the Homeland Security Committee.

Mrs. LESKO. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 4760, the Securing America's Future Act, vital legislation to the State of Arizona. My constituents back home know all too well how desperately we need our borders secured. I signed on as a cosponsor of this bill because it will fund a wall and other protective infrastructure, close the gaping loopholes in our immigration laws, and finally secure our southern border, ending this problem once and for all.

It is disappointing that with all of the rhetoric coming from my colleagues across the aisle, they still refuse to come to the negotiating table and work toward a legislative solution.

Our broken immigration system cannot continue to be ignored. I want to thank Chairman MCCAUL and Chairman GOODLATTE for their work on this much-needed legislation, and I urge all of my colleagues to support this bill.

Mr. THOMPSON of Mississippi. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Speaker, as you heard, H.R. 4760 is fatally flawed. We are here only today debating it because the Republican leadership was essentially extorted by extremists within its ranks.

Instead, we should be here debating legislation to give Dreamers a path to citizenship. We should be here debating legislation to give safe haven to refugees from Haiti, El Salvador, Sudan, and Nicaragua.

We should be here debating a measure to end zero tolerance and family separation. Even before the Trump administration created this family separation crisis, America's image was suffering the effects of the Trump slump due to the President's inflammatory and cruel immigration and border security policies and rhetoric.

In fact, last June, the Pew Research Center released an international survey that concluded that sentiment regarding the U.S. had taken a dramatic turn for the worse.

What the President and supporters of H.R. 4760 do not understand is that what makes America great is its people, both native-born and immigrants.

Let's send a message to the President that we know what makes America great. Let's defeat H.R. 4760.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Members are reminded to refrain from engaging in personalities toward the President.

Mr. MCCAUL. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Let me say, this is a historic opportunity to get something done that we probably haven't gotten done in 25 years. But let me first say that I am a father of five children.

I have been down to the detention centers and seen these kids down there, these babies. From a human standpoint, it is one of the most horrible experiences I have had in my lifetime.

Let me say this, Mr. Speaker: this bill protects our children. It protects our children because it provides a deterrent for them not to come here in the first place. It also keeps families together and doesn't separate them, as current law dictates. Current law dictates this, if we don't change the law.

Let me also add, I talked to the Secretary today and 10,000 of these 12,000 children who are in the detention centers came without their parents. And who were their guardians: the drug traffickers, the smugglers, and the coyotes, as they made the dangerous journey from Central America all the way up through Mexico and into the United States.

□ 1330

I have seen horrors of that, and this bill will provide the deterrence to stop that from happening because, as we know, they are abused on the way up that journey. They are abused physically and sexually and demoralized and recruited. That has to stop, and, Mr. Speaker, this bill will stop that.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support it, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong opposition of H.R. 4760, the “Securing America’s Future Act of 2018.”

H.R. 4760 is a DREAM Killer Bill that fails to fix our nation’s fractured immigration system.

This bill slashes legal immigration, it cripples our agricultural industry, criminalizes undocumented immigrants, undermines our public safety, and denies critical protections for children and families.

H.R. 4760 withholds grants from communities implementing community trust policies that limit law enforcement officials questioning an individual’s immigration status.

This Republican-sponsored bill forces local governments to comply with Trump’s mass deportation agenda, despite Republican’s historic demands that the federal government stay out of people’s lives.

My colleagues and I will never vote in favor of a bill that perpetuates the administration’s mass deportation agenda, especially in light of the human rights violations we are currently witnessing at our U.S.-Mexico border.

When I visited the border this past weekend, what I witnessed was horrific. It was not the America that I know and love.

Since early May, more than 2,300 children have been separated from their parents.

By playing the blame game and putting the burden on Congress to fix what President Trump alone has started, the Administration issued an Executive Order yesterday that pretends to open the door for a halt of his intentionally barbaric policy of separating families intended to deter people from attempting to cross the border.

The new policy detains entire families together, including children, but ignores legal time limits on the detention of minors.

The President is ignoring the immigration laws that set the precedent on this arena.

The Flores Settlement, issued in 1997, was the result of a class action lawsuit filed on behalf of immigrant children in the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California.

It requires the government to release children from immigration detention without unnecessary delay to parents, relatives, or those willing to accept custody.

It also mandates that the government cannot keep children in detention for over 20 days.

Trump’s executive order is in direct violation of the Flores agreement by allowing children to be detained for well-over 20 days.

H.R. 4760 is a politically motivated bill intended to spread the false narrative that immigrants are criminals, liars, and job stealers who are somehow a drain on our society and deserving of punishment.

Nothing could be further from the truth.

Many of our nation’s most beloved and respected figures that are even taught about in schools, were immigrants.

H.R. unfairly and unnecessarily subjects immigrants to lengthy criminal sentences, as well as excessive detention and unreasonable scrutiny.

The restrictive features of the bill—including asylum provisions, cancelling the applications of 3 million people waiting to immigrate legally, and permanent reductions in legal immigration—we are told are a small price to pay to help Dreamers gain a pathway to citizenship.

However, this is not the case.

The CATO Institute recently reported that 82 percent of Dreamers would not even benefit from this bill’s citizenship path.

H.R. 4760 does not provide a pathway to citizenship for Dreamers; instead, it denies Dreamers the coveted American Dream.

Mr. Speaker, I stand in strong opposition to H.R. 4760, the “Securing America’s Future Act of 2018.”

This bill offers minimal protections for Dreamers in exchange for implementing Trump’s mass deportation plan.

It includes a litany of bad proposals from the House Judiciary Committee.

It eliminates most family-based immigration categories, as well as the diversity visa program.

It mandates the use of E-Verify on a nationwide basis, thereby crippling industries such as agriculture, restaurants, hotels, construction, and many others.

It purports to address concerns in the agricultural industry. But its solution is to replace the 1 to 1.5 million undocumented farmworkers in this country with an army of guest workers at drastically depressed wages.

This would undermine the wages and working conditions on farms and a host of other sectors (like forestry, logging, and food processing) that employ many U.S. workers and have never been considered agriculture.

It subjects each and every undocumented immigrant over the age of 18 to criminal prosecution by making it a crime to be here without immigration status.

This would effectively turn most undocumented immigrants—including the parents of the Dreamers the bill purports to help—into criminals overnight.

It undermines our asylum system by establishing impossibly high evidentiary burdens and denying asylum to those that travel through “so-called” safe third countries.

It removes critical protections for unaccompanied children and creates a scheme to swiftly remove them without an opportunity to see a judge.

It also abolishes important child safety protections for children traveling with their parents.

No Path to Citizenship: In exchange for all of the above, and much more, the bill offers no path to citizenship.

Instead, it creates a renewable “contingent nonimmigrant” status that would perpetually deny Dreamers the American Dream.

Dead on Arrival: We are only voting on this bill to appease members of the House Freedom Caucus.

A similar bill offered by Senator Grassley only received 39 votes in the Senate.

The bill is simply too extreme for many Republicans, as indicated by letters of opposition from right-leaning groups such as the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, the Koch-brothers funded LIBRE Initiative, and the CATO Institute.

Expands Family Separation: The Trump/Sessions zero-tolerance prosecution policy is fueling the wave of family separation at the border.

This bill doubles down on the use of criminal prosecution by making unlawful presence a misdemeanor, or a felony under many circumstances.

This would exponentially increase family separation in the interior, as it transforms non-violent, civil immigration violations into criminal offenses.

The result would be the arrest, conviction, and detention of millions of immigrants.

Harms Children: Republicans will likely argue that this bill treats unaccompanied alien children (UACs) from Central American like those from Mexico and therefore does nothing more than remedy a loophole in the law.

But in fact, this bill removes basic protections for all UACs. Among other things, the bill: removes protections for young children aged 13 and under, as well as children with disabilities; eliminates an existing provision allowing limited government funding for counsel for UACs, relegating many children to appear in immigration court without legal representation; requires DHS to investigate and remove all potential UAC sponsors. This would both disincentivize sponsors from coming forward to claim children and overburden state foster care systems:

eliminates the ability for all UACs to first present their asylum claims to specially trained USCIS asylum officers in a non-adversarial setting. UACs would instead be required to present their claims in open court to an immigration judge, opposite a trained ICE trial lawyer, and likely without legal representation; and strips crucial protections for abused, abandoned and neglected children by limiting their ability to access Special Immigrant Juvenile status.

Makes Communities Less Safe: The bill withholds DHS grants and other law enforcement grants from communities that implement community trust policies that limit or restrict law enforcement questioning of an individual’s immigration status.

Although Republicans often demand that the federal government stay out of people’s lives, the bill forces local governments to cooperate with Trump’s mass deportation agenda.

Republicans have long sought to turn “sanctuary cities” into a pejorative term, but studies show that such jurisdictions have “statistically significantly lower” criminal activity compared to other jurisdictions.

Law enforcement officials across the country oppose these provisions because it would make their communities less safe.

For example, Latinos in three major cities have been reporting fewer crimes since Trump took office, particularly as it relates to domestic violence and sexual assault.

Just this week, a Texas sheriff’s deputy was arrested for sexually assaulting a 4-year-old girl and threatening to deport the undocumented mother if she reported the crime.

If enacted, the bill would supercharge Trump’s deportation agenda, thereby turning undocumented immigrants into prey for criminals.

Destabilizes Agriculture: The bill mandates E-Verify use nationwide, despite the reliance on undocumented immigrants by several large sectors of the U.S. economy.

To address labor concerns in agriculture and various other industries, the bill creates a massive new guestworker program in which undocumented farmworkers may purportedly participate.

But the bill's unrealistic and anti-worker provisions would have devastating impacts on those workers, as well as similarly situated U.S. workers and employers.

Among other things, the bill provides status to undocumented farmworkers through a "report to deport" guestworker program that requires them to first leave the country—including their homes and families—with no assurance that they would be able to return.

Few would participate in such a program.

The guestworker program would eventually result in millions of guestworkers in the country, and all would be paid at far-below market wages.

This combination would have devastating impacts on the labor market—not only in agriculture, but in other covered industries such as logging, forestry, and food processing.

Given what Republicans often say about the need to protect U.S. workers, we cannot see why they would support this bill.

Fails to Fix the Broken System: The bill fails to repair our fundamentally broken immigration system.

H.R. 4760 is simply a politically motivated bill intended to propagate the fiction that immigrants are criminals, liars, and job stealers who are somehow a drain on our society and need to be punished.

Nothing could be further from the truth. Immigrants generally play a positive role in our society, and this bill unfairly and unnecessarily subjects them to lengthy criminal sentences, as well as excessive detention and unreasonable scrutiny.

Republicans have long championed their identity as the "Party of Lincoln," but this bill proves that they have clearly become the "Party of Trump."

Trump champions nativist fear-mongering, relies on alternative facts, and seeks to send America back to the dark ages of isolationism and cultural in-fighting.

This is the wrong direction for our country.

Family Immigration Led To John Tu's Billion Dollar Company.

John Tu created wealth, shared that wealth with his employees and demonstrated people can achieve the American Dream while also fulfilling the dreams of others.

Immigrant entrepreneurs possess relatively few options for starting a business and remaining in the United States.

There is no startup visa that allows individuals to receive permanent residence specifically for starting a business.

Once someone acquires permanent residence (a green card) he or she has the freedom to start a business in America.

That is why the stories we hear about successful foreign-born entrepreneurs come almost exclusively from individuals sponsored by an employer or family member.

John Tu is a great example of this.

John Tu (No. 87 on the Forbes 400 list) was born in China in 1941, where he lived with his parents and sisters.

He describes himself as a mediocre student unable to attend the best Chinese colleges.

He was denied a visa to the United States and instead applied to a college in Germany, where in 1978 he earned a degree in electrical engineering.

"My dream of coming to the United States persisted," said John in testimony before the Senate Subcommittee on Immigration.

He recalled visiting his sister, who was living in Boston.

She had come to America as a student and married a U.S. citizen born in Taiwan. That trip reignited his dreams.

"My experience brought me to the conclusion that in the U.S. one can be anything he wants. I decided right then that I would find a way to make my home in America."

His sister, who became a U.S. citizen, sponsored John for immigration through the immigrant preference category for the siblings of U.S. citizens.

As someone willing to take a chance on a new country, it's not surprising John Tu quickly became an entrepreneur.

He started a one-man gift shop in Arizona, where his sister had moved to, and sold collectables imported from China.

A few years later, John ventured into commercial real estate, eventually buying a condominium in Los Angeles.

In California, he met David Sun, his future business partner, who also was born in China.

In 1982, John Tu and David Sun started a computer hardware company called Camintonn Corporation.

They later sold the company to AST Research, with each man earning about $1 million.

But a year later, John and David lost almost everything.

Their broker, a trusted friend, invested poorly, which caused their savings to be nearly wiped out in the October 1987 stock market crash.

John Tu and David Sun picked themselves up and did what entrepreneurs do best—they started another business.

Their new company, Kingston Technology, sought to fill a niche in the marketplace for computer memory products.

"Kingston soon began developing memory products for a variety of PCs and thriving beyond either of our expectations.

It is ironic that from the biggest financial failure came my most successful venture," said John.

The company grew to over 500 U.S. employees and by 1996 was valued at $1.5 billion.

Not surprisingly, this attracted the interest of buyers. That year, John and David sold 80 percent of Kingston to Japan-based Softbank Corp.

While the sale initially made news, it is what John Tu and David Sun did with the proceeds that generated worldwide attention: The two men set aside $100 million in profits from the sale and awarded bonuses to their American employees, something virtually unheard.

In many cases, the bonuses ranged from $100,000 to $300,000.

This decision changed the lives of those working at Kingston, allowing many to fund dreams for themselves and their children.

"The bonus meant a great deal to the employees, for some it meant ridding themselves of debt, for others a down payment on a house, and for one person the opportunity to return to college and finish his education," said Kingston employee Gary McDonald.

He decided to use the bonus money to fund schooling and assistance for his four children, two of whom had special needs, including one with autism.

"Without the bonus it would have been much more of a financial struggle," he said.

Fate intervened and in July 1999, for business reasons, Softbank decided to sell its 80 percent share in Kingston back to John Tu and David Sun for less than half of the original sale price.

Today, Kingston is "the world's largest independent manufacturer of memory products," according to the company.

Kingston employs more than 3,000 people around the world and maintains its headquarters in Fountain Valley, California. It has garnered a number of awards, including Fortune magazine's list of the "Best Companies to Work for in America." John and his company Kingston contribute to many charitable causes.

An Immigrant And An Immigrant's Son Saved Americans From Polio.

Polio struck future presidents and poor children alike, becoming an epidemic that consumed Americans throughout much of the 20th century.

Immigrant Albert Sabin and the son of an immigrant, Jonas Salk, developed the vaccines that ended polio as a threat to Americans.

Neither Salk or Sabin—or their life-saving Polio vaccines—would have been in America if not for family immigration.

"Without Sabin and Salk, American children would continue to be paralyzed for life by polio," Michel Zaffran, director of polio eradication at the World Health Organization, said in an interview. "Their contribution is quite simply immeasurable."

Americans today do not consider polio a threat. That was not always the case.

"No disease drew as much attention, or struck the same terror, as polio," according to David Oshinsky, author of the Pulitzer Prize-winning book Polio: An American Story.

"Polio hit without warning. There was no way of telling who would get it and who would be spared.

It killed some of its victims and marked others for life, leaving behind vivid reminders for all to see: wheelchairs, crutches, leg braces, breathing devices, deformed limbs."

Franklin Delano Roosevelt, who used a wheelchair throughout his presidency, is the most famous victim of polio.

But at its approximate height, in 1949, around 40,000 cases were reported in America, according to Oshinsky.

In San Angelo, Texas, one out of every 124 residents contracted the disease, resulting in 24 deaths and 84 cases of permanent paralysis, affecting mostly children.

Cases of polio first appeared in the U.S. in the 1800s.

The invention of the electron microscope in the 1930s allowed researchers to see the virus that causes the polio infection, which is spread through fecal waste, from one person to another, by hand, food, water and other methods.

When Albert Sabin was born in Poland in 1906, Americans could not have known this Polish infant would someday grow up and change their lives.

"When he was 15, his family came to the United States to escape the murderous pogroms [against Jews] that erupted there following World War I," according to David Oshinsky.

"The Sabins settled in Paterson, New Jersey, an immigrant textile center, where his father took a job as a weaver. Fluent in Polish and German, but knowing no English, Sabin was tutored by a cousin who encouraged him to avoid the dead-end life of the silk mills by getting an education."

Sabin did well in high school, while working to help support the family, and accepted an offer from an uncle who offered to pay his college tuition if he agreed to join him as a dentist.

Albert did not enjoy studying dentistry and lost his uncle's financial support.

In a great example of mentoring, the well-regarded New York University (NYU) professor William Hallock Park, a bacteriologist, saw something in Sabin and arranged for a scholarship.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. All time for debate has expired.

Pursuant to House Resolution 954, the previous question is ordered on the bill, as amended.

The question is on the engrossment and third reading of the bill.

The bill was ordered to be engrossed and read a third time, and was read the third time.

Ms. MICHELLE LUJAN GRISHAM of New Mexico (during the reading). Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to dispense with the reading.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentlewoman from New Mexico?

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentlewoman is recognized for 5 minutes in support of her motion.

Ms. MICHELLE LUJAN GRISHAM of New Mexico. Mr. Speaker, this is the final amendment to the bill, which will not kill the bill or send it back to committee. If adopted, the bill will immediately proceed to final passage, as amended.

When DACA was terminated in September, this Chamber promised hundreds of thousands of young people and the American public that we would have a public debate and vote to protect Dreamers. We gather here today, instead, to vote on legislation that fails to protect these young people, radically changes our immigration laws, and derails the bipartisan queen-of-the-hill effort that would give us a solution.

H.R. 4760 is a hyperpartisan, sweeping bill which would fundamentally change our legal immigration system and negatively impact our economy, which is why it is opposed by the majority of the Republican Conference, faith groups, businesses, chambers, and, quite frankly, everyone in between.

If enacted, these policies would undermine local law enforcement, hurt businesses, and rip apart communities through mass deportation, while telling hundreds of thousands of American Dreamers that they can only be a guest in the only country most of them have ever known, but that they will never truly be American.

The truth is that this bill is a poison pill-ridden effort that does nothing to get us closer to passing a bipartisan, narrow, and targeted solution for Dreamers.

Congress—that is each and every one of us—has a responsibility to address this Trump-created crisis in a bipartisan, rapid, compassionate, and meaningful way. This is what the American people want us to do. But since the start of the Trump administration, a divisive and twisted narrative has been perpetrated to villainize, scapegoat, and hurt immigrant families.

This week, the pain of immigrant families was felt by each and every person in America who heard the terror and cries of children being torn from their parents. This week we have experienced the horror many immigrant families feel every single day, and we have seen how ugly it is to use vulnerable immigrant children, mothers, and fathers as political pawns.

But we have also seen Americans stand up for these families. We saw them rebuke the President and his heinous policy. Today we must do the same thing by standing up for Dreamers. We must meet our responsibility as Members of Congress by voting for legislation that fixes this Trump-created DACA crisis, not by voting for legislation that makes it worse.

Every time that a bipartisan fix for Dreamers is within our reach, this chaotic Republican Conference caves to those who aim to exploit Dreamers in order to impose radical changes to our immigration system.

The provisions in H.R. 4760's partisan anti-immigrant bill betray our most fundamental American values. It is a reflection of the xenophobic agenda of the Trump White House which prioritizes billions upon billions on a wasteful wall, cuts legal immigration, and ends our obligation to protect Dreamers.

This is the latest example of Republicans putting Trump's anti-immigrant demands above moral decency, families, Dreamers, and the will of the American people. It is indefensible and immoral that this House continues to derail bipartisan efforts to protect Dreamers. The antics that we are witnessing are why the American people have lost faith that their Representatives can find bipartisan solutions to our Nation's most pressing issues.

But as a Member of Congress in the minority party at a time of deep political division and instability, I still believe it is possible for us to work together to improve the well-being of families, children, and young people. Mr. Speaker, that is why I am asking and I am imploring you to join me in voting for the bipartisan Dream Act that upholds our values and fulfills our promise to protect Dreamers and their families.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Mr. Speaker, I claim the time in opposition to the motion to recommit.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Virginia is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. GOODLATTE. Mr. Speaker, I rise in strong opposition to this effort to distract us from the major problems that we are attempting to address in our country. This motion to recommit only—only—deals with amnesty for a far larger population of people than the American people expect to have addressed. The people who are the DACA recipients are people who arrived here as young children before June 15, 2007.

This bill does nothing to solve the problem with the surge of people at the border of our country. It does nothing to create a new border security wall and fencing system, technology and personnel who are needed, and judges in courtrooms to process the huge number—the 600,000 backlog—of amnesty cases that we have.

This does nothing to close the loopholes that are allowing people to enjoy what is called catch and release. When they come into the country, some of them even turn themselves in knowing that, ultimately, they are going to be released into the interior of the United States. We need to give the administration the tools they need to stop this problem. It is not a new problem.

The Obama administration wanted a number of the changes that are in this bill with regard to clarifying things like the terrible Flores decision, which is at the heart of the problem we have with young children being separated from their parents.

We fix those things in this legislation, and yet this would substitute all of that for something that is just targeted at what the other party wants to do. And they call upon us to work in a bipartisan fashion.

This bill addresses all of the areas that need to be addressed, and they give lip service to the other areas, but they do not address them. This is proof of that by the fact that it only deals with amnesty.

We need to have a movement to a merit-based immigration system. We need to end the terrible visa lottery system, which is a national security problem and which is something that does not benefit the American economy.

We need to move from chain migration to a merit-based system, and we need to make sure that we treat the DACA recipients better than they are treated under the unconstitutional, illegal Obama process, but not at the cost of not doing the other three pillars that we are seeking to address.

We need to address border security and interior enforcement; we need to end the visa lottery and move to a merit-based system; and we need to end chain migration.

It also doesn't have anything about E-Verify or helping 1 million agricultural guest workers who want to work in this country legally and the farmers who want to have a system that allows them to do that legally.

This is the bill that we need to pass, not this motion to recommit. I urge my colleague to oppose the motion to recommit and support the underlying legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the previous question is ordered on the motion to recommit.

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion to recommit.

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the yeas appeared to have it.

Ms. MICHELLE LUJAN GRISHAM. Mr. Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 9 of rule XX, the Chair will reduce to 5 minutes the minimum time for any electronic vote on the question of the passage of the bill.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 191, nays 234, not voting 2, as follows:
