

specifically in the microelectronics manufacturing areas of integrating heterogeneous devices, stacking memory, logic processing, sensors, communications, and packaging with security and advanced interconnect methods.

One of the foundational technologies required for advanced system integration is copper-based silicon interposer technology. This foundational interposer technology can enable almost any microelectronic dependent, or internet of things, system. However, advanced system integration capabilities have moved offshore due to cost, and there currently is no domestic sources that can reliably serve the low volumes of advanced microelectronics that the Department of Defense requires.

That is why there is a need for the Industrial Base Analysis and Sustainment Support Program to leverage existing public-private-partnerships to establish a U.S. based manufacturing development platform for advanced microelectronic system integration, including the foundational copperbased silicon interposer technology. This funding increase will help to accomplish this, and I thank the Chairwoman for the overall funding increases for the Industrial Base Analysis and Sustainment Support Program within the Research, Development, Test and Evaluation, Defense-Wide Account.

I want to express my gratitude and thank Chairwoman LOWEY, Chairman VISCLOSKEY, and the full Committee for all their work on the issue.

Mr. SOTO. Madam Speaker, I would like to acknowledge that Division A of H.R. 1158, Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2020's Joint Explanatory Statement to Division A, provided an increase to the Trusted and Assured Microelectronics program within the Research, Development, Test and Evaluation, Defense-Wide account. These funds will allow the Department of Defense to leverage existing public-private-partnerships to enable a U.S. based manufacturing development platform for advanced microelectronic system integration, including anti-tamper heterogeneous integration and foundational copper-based silicon interposer technology.

I want to express my gratitude to Chairwoman LOWEY, Chairman VISCLOSKEY, and the full Committee for the inclusion of this funding increase and for recognizing the urgent need to invest in trusted foundries, advanced microelectronics cybersecurity, and manufacturing capabilities that will translate our domestic research into fielded capabilities for the warfighter.

Ensuring quick, reliable, and secure access to leading-edge microelectronics is often a challenge. The changing global semiconductor industry and the increasing sophistication of U.S. adversaries require us to update our domestic microelectronics security framework.

Continued U.S. global leadership in microelectronics depends on U.S. owned firms operating at the leading edge of advanced logic technologies and digital memories. The next generation of electronic devices will require significantly greater functional density, in other words, packing functional components together even more tightly than current technology allows. This requires technical leadership in microelectronics system integration, specifically in the microelectronics manufacturing areas of integrating heterogeneous devices, stacking memory, logic processing, sensors, communications, and packaging with security and advanced interconnect methods.

One of the foundational technologies required for advanced system integration is copper-based silicon interposer technology—also known as heterogeneous integration. This foundational interposer technology can enable almost any microelectronic dependent, or internet of things, system. However, advanced system integration capabilities have moved offshore due to cost, and there currently is no domestic sources that can reliably serve the low volumes of advanced microelectronics that the Department of Defense requires. That's why this funding is so critical. We must invest in these advanced integrated capabilities so we can secure our microelectronic systems that our service members depend on.

Again, I support disruptive science and technology that enables a rapid modernization of our trusted and assured microelectronics systems. I thank my colleagues for their shared support.

Mr. SOTO. Madam Speaker, I would like to acknowledge that Division A of H.R. 1158, Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2020's Joint Explanatory Statement to Division A, provided an increase to the Defense-Wide Manufacturing Science and Technology Program within the Research, Development, Test and Evaluation, Defense-Wide account. Specifically, a general program increase of $20,000,000, a $5,000,000 program increase for manufacturing engineering programs, a $10,000,000 program increase for manufacturing innovation institutes, a $10,000,000 program increase for advanced manufacturing, and a $14,000,000 program increase for manufacturing cybersecurity.

I want to express my gratitude to Chairwoman LOWEY, Chairman VISCLOSKEY, and the full Committee for the inclusion of joint explanatory language to the bill noting the importance of obtaining advanced microelectronics manufacturing, in support of the defense industrial base, from trusted domestic suppliers.

Ensuring quick, reliable, and secure access to leading-edge microelectronics is often a challenge. The changing global semiconductor industry and the increasing sophistication of U.S. adversaries require us to update our domestic microelectronics security framework by establishing a comprehensive, public-private partnership-structured microelectronics cybersecurity center.

This center can provide the defense industrial base with access to manufacturing resources to support antitamper, devices, hardware security, and other evolving new concept technologies that support trusted and assured manufacturing, combined with advanced system integration and packaging technologies—known as heterogeneous integration.

The Defense-Wide Manufacturing Science and Technology Program enables the Department of Defense to advance reliable and secure state-of-the-art technologies. The funding increase provided in this legislation, along with the increased funding for advanced manufacturing, will facilitate America's innovative, secure, and domestic foundry operations and greatly contribute to our national defense through the establishment of a microelectronics cybersecurity center structured as a public-private partnership.

Again, I thank the Committee for recognizing the urgent need to invest in trusted foundries, advanced microelectronics cybersecurity, and manufacturing capabilities that will translate our domestic research into fielded capabilities for the warfighter. I would like to thank Chairwoman LOWEY, Chairman VISCLOSKEY, and the full Committee for all their work on the issue.

Mr. SOTO. Madam Speaker, I would like to acknowledge that Division A of H.R. 1158, Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2020's Joint Explanatory Statement to Division A, provided an increase to the Soldier Lethality Technology Program within the Research, Development, Test and Evaluation, Army account. Specifically, a general program increase of $5,000,000.

I want to express my gratitude to Chairwoman LOWEY, Chairman VISCLOSKEY, and the full Committee for the inclusion of this funding increase. These funds allow the Army Research Lab to conduct work on a number of important disruptive science and technology programs, including millimeter-wave imager sensor technology needed to improve situational awareness to our service men and women.

Ensuring access to low cost imager sensors to provide leap-ahead capability in urban combat and situational awareness will enable troops to move, communicate, protect, and sustain themselves better in any combat environment. Such sensors can be used in a reconnaissance role, with the ability to see inhabitants within building structures and provide significant situational insight within dense urban environments.

Again, I support the modernization of the U.S. Army and to support disruptive science and technology. I thank my colleagues for their shared support.

The Bureau of Indian Affairs and the Bureau of Indian Education may carry out the operation of Indian programs by direct expenditure, contracts, cooperative agreements, compacts, and grants, either directly Notwithstanding Public Law 87-279 (25 U.S.C. 15), the Bureau of Indian Affairs may contract for services in support of the management, operation, and maintenance of the Power Division of the San Carlos Irrigation Project.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no funds available to the Bureau of Indian Affairs or the Bureau of Indian Education for central office oversight and Executive Direction and Administrative Services (except executive direction and administrative services funding for Tribal Priority Allocations, regional offices, and facilities operations and maintenance) shall be available for contracts, grants, compacts, or cooperative agreements with the Bureau of Indian Affairs or the Bureau of Indian Education under the provisions of the Indian Self-Determination Act or the Tribal Self-Governance Act of 1994 (Public Law 103-413).

In the event any tribe returns appropriations made available by this Act to the Bureau of Indian Affairs or the Bureau of Indian Education, this action shall not diminish the Federal Government's trust responsibility to that tribe, or the government-to-government relationship between the United States and that tribe, or that tribe's ability to access future appropriations.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, no funds available to the Bureau of Indian Education, other than the amounts provided herein for assistance to public schools under 25 U.S.C. 452 et seq., shall be available to support the operation of any elementary or secondary school in the State of Alaska.

No funds available to the Bureau of Indian Education shall be used to support expanded grades for any school or dormitory beyond the grade structure in place or approved by the Secretary of the Interior at each school in the Bureau of Indian Education school system as of October 1, 1995, except that the Secretary of the Interior may waive this prohibition to support expansion of up to one additional grade when the Secretary determines such waiver is needed to support accomplishment of the mission of the Bureau of Indian Education, or more than one grade to expand the elementary grade structure for Bureau-funded schools with a K-2 grade structure on October 1, 1996. Funds made available under this Act may not be used to establish a charter school at a Bureau-funded school (as that term is defined in section 1141 of the Education Amendments of 1978 (25 U.S.C. 2021)), except that a charter school that is in existence on the date of the enactment of this Act and that has operated at a Bureau-funded school before September 1, 1999, may continue to operate during that period, but only if the charter school pays to the Bureau a pro rata share of funds to reimburse the Bureau for the use of the real and personal property (including buses and vans), the funds of the charter school are kept separate and apart from Bureau funds, and the Bureau does not assume any obligation for charter school programs of the State in which the school is located if the charter school loses such funding. Funds available under this Act may not be used to establish satellite locations of schools in the Bureau school system as of September 1, 1996, except that the Secretary may waive this prohibition in order for an Indian tribe to provide language and cultural immersion educational programs for non-public schools located within the jurisdictional area of the tribal government which exclusively serve tribal members, do not include grades beyond those currently served at the existing Bureau-funded school, provide an educational environment with educator presence and academic facilities comparable to the Bureau-funded school, comply with all applicable Tribal, Federal, or State health and safety standards, and the Americans with Disabilities Act, and demonstrate the benefits of establishing operations at a satellite location in lieu of incurring extraordinary costs, such as for transportation or other impacts to students such as those caused by busing students extended distances: Provided, That no funds available under this Act may be used to fund operations, maintenance, rehabilitation, construction or other facilities-related costs for such assets that are not owned by the Bureau: Provided further, That the term "satellite school" means a school location physically separated from the existing Bureau school by more than 50 miles but that forms part of the existing school in all other respects.

(b) PHASED TRANSFERS.—Transfers of project-based assistance under this section may be done in phases to accommodate the financing and other requirements related to rehabilitating or constructing the project or projects to which the assistance is transferred, to ensure that such project or projects meet the standards under subsection (c).

(8) If the transferring project meets the requirements of subsection (d)(2), the owner or mortgagor of the receiving project or projects shall execute and record either a continuation of the existing use agreement or a new use agreement for the project where, in either case, any use restrictions in such agreement are of no lesser duration than the existing use restrictions.

(9) The transfer does not increase the cost (as defined in section 502 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974(2 U.S.C. 661a)) of any FHA-insured mortgage, except to the extent that appropriations are provided in advance for the amount of any such increased cost.

The annual budget submission for the program offices and the Office of General Counsel shall include any such projected litigation costs for attorney fees as a separate line item request. SEC. 218. The Secretary is authorized to transfer up to 10 percent or $5,000,000, whichever is less, of funds appropriated for any office under the headings “Administrative Support Offices” or “Program Offices” to any other such office or account: Provided, That no appropriation for any such office or account shall be increased or decreased by more than 10 percent or $5,000,000, whichever is less, without prior written approval of the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations: Provided further, That the Secretary shall provide notification to such Committees 3 business days in advance of any such transfers under this section up to 10 percent or $5,000,000, whichever is less.

Such requirements shall apply to insured and noninsured projects with assistance attached to the units under section 8 of the United States Housing Act of 1937 (42 U.S.C. 1437f), but do not apply to such units assisted under section 8(o)(13) (42 U.S.C. 1437f(o)(13)) or to public housing units assisted with capital or operating funds under section 9 of the United States Housing Act of 1937 (42 U.S.C. 1437g).

(c)(1) Within 15 days of the issuance of the REAC inspection, the Secretary must provide the owner with a Notice of Default with a specified timetable, determined by the Secretary, for correcting all deficiencies. The Secretary must also provide a copy of the Notice of Default to the tenants, the local government, any mortgagees, and any contract administrator. If the owner’s appeal results in a UPCS score of 60 or above, the Secretary may withdraw the Notice of Default.

(A) require immediate replacement of project management with a management agent approved by the Secretary;

(C) abate the section 8 contract, including partial abatement, as determined by the Secretary, until all deficiencies have been corrected;

(D) pursue transfer of the project to an owner, approved by the Secretary under established procedures, which will be obligated to promptly make all required repairs and to accept renewal of the assistance contract as long as such renewal is offered;

(G) seek judicial appointment of a receiver to manage the property and cure all project deficiencies or seek a judicial order of specific performance requiring the owner to cure all project deficiencies;

(H) work with the owner, lender, or other related party to stabilize the property in an attempt to preserve the property through compliance, transfer of ownership, or an infusion of capital provided by a third-party that requires time to effectuate; or

(I) take any other regulatory or contractual remedies available as deemed necessary and appropriate by the Secretary.

(d) The Secretary shall also take appropriate steps to ensure that project-based contracts remain in effect, subject to the exercise of contractual abatement remedies to assist relocation of tenants for major threats to health and safety after written notice to the affected tenants. To the extent the Secretary determines, in consultation with the tenants and the local government, that the property is not feasible for continued rental assistance payments under such section 8 or other programs, based on consideration of—

(1) the costs of rehabilitating and operating the property and all available Federal, State, and local resources, including rent adjustments under section 524 of the Multifamily Assisted Housing Reform and Affordability Act of 1997 (“MAHRAA”); and

(2) environmental conditions that cannot be remedied in a cost-effective fashion, the Secretary may contract for project-based rental assistance payments with an owner or owners of other existing housing properties, or provide other rental assistance.

(e) The Secretary shall report quarterly on all properties covered by this section that are assessed through the Real Estate Assessment Center and have UPCS physical inspection scores of less than 60 or have received an unsatisfactory management and occupancy review within the past 36 months. The report shall include—

(1) the enforcement actions being taken to address such conditions, including imposition of civil money penalties and termination of subsidies, and identify properties that have such conditions multiple times;

(2) actions that the Department of Housing and Urban Development is taking to protect tenants of such identified properties; and

(3) any administrative or legislative recommendations to further improve the living conditions at properties covered under a housing assistance payment contract. This report shall be due to the Senate and House Committees on Appropriations no later than 30 days after the enactment of this Act, and on the first business day of each Federal fiscal year quarter thereafter while this section remains in effect.

SEC. 163. CONCERNS OVER PDVSA TRANSACTIONS WITH ROSNEFT.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) In late 2016, Venezuelan state-owned oil company Petróleos de Venezuela, S.A. (referred to in this section as “PDVSA”), through a no compete transaction, secured a loan from Russian government-controlled oil company Rosneft, using 49.9 percent of PDVSA’s American subsidiary, CITGO Petroleum Corporation, including its assets in the United States, as collateral. As a result of this transaction, 100 percent of CITGO is held as collateral by PDVSA’s creditors.

(2) CITGO, a wholly owned subsidiary of PDVSA, is engaged in interstate commerce and owns and controls critical energy infrastructure in 19 States of the United States, including an extensive network of pipelines, 48 terminals, and 3 refineries, with a combined oil refining capacity of 749,000 barrels per day. CITGO’s refinery in Lake Charles, Louisiana, is the sixth largest refinery in the United States.

(3) The Department of the Treasury imposed sanctions on Rosneft, which is controlled by the Government of the Russian Federation, and its Executive Chairman, Igor Sechin, following Russia’s military invasion of Ukraine and its illegal annexation of Crimea in 2014.

(4) The Department of Homeland Security has designated the energy sector as critical to United States infrastructure.

(5) The growing economic crisis in Venezuela raises the probability that the Maduro regime and PDVSA will default on their international debt obligations, resulting in a scenario in which Rosneft could come into control of CITGO’s United States energy infrastructure holdings.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) control of critical United States energy infrastructure by Rosneft, a Russian government-controlled entity currently under United States sanctions that is led by Igor Sechin, who is also under United States sanctions and is a close associate of Vladimir Putin, would pose a significant risk to United States national security and energy security; and

(2) a default by PDVSA on its loan from Rosneft, resulting in Rosneft coming into possession of PDVSA’s United States CITGO assets, would warrant careful consideration by the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States.

(c) PREVENTING ROSNEFT FROM CONTROLLING UNITED STATES ENERGY INFRASTRUCTURE.—The President shall take all necessary steps to prevent Rosneft from gaining control of critical United States energy infrastructure.

(d) SECURITY RISK REPORT.—Not later than 90 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the President shall submit a report assessing the national security risks posed by potential Russian acquisition and control of CITGO’s United States energy infrastructure holdings to—

(1) the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate;

(2) the Committee on Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs of the Senate;

(3) the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs of the Senate;

(4) the Committee on Foreign Affairs of the House of Representatives;

(5) the Committee on Homeland Security of the House of Representatives; and

(6) the Committee on Financial Services of the House of Representatives.

TITLE II—EASTERN MEDITERRANEAN SECURITY AND ENERGY PARTNERSHIP

SEC. 201. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the “Eastern Mediterranean Security and Energy Partnership Act of 2019”.

SEC. 202. FINDINGS.

Congress makes the following findings:

(1) The security of partners and allies in the Eastern Mediterranean region is critical to the security of the United States and Europe.

(2) Greece is a valuable member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) and a key pillar of stability in the Eastern Mediterranean.

(3) Israel is a steadfast ally of the United States and has been designated a “major non-NATO ally” and “major strategic partner”.

(4) Cyprus is a key strategic partner and signed a Statement of Intent with the United States on November 6, 2018, to enhance bilateral security cooperation.

(5) The countries of Greece, Cyprus, and Israel have participated in critical trilateral summits to improve cooperation on energy and security issues.

(6) Secretary of State Mike Pompeo participated in the trilateral summit among Israel, Greece, and Cyprus on March 20, 2019.

(7) The United States, Israel, Greece, and Cyprus oppose any action in the Eastern Mediterranean and the Aegean Sea that could challenge stability, violate international law, or undermine good neighborly relations, and in a joint declaration on March 21, 2019, agreed to “defend against external malign influences in the Eastern Mediterranean and the broader Middle East”.

(8) The recent discovery of what may be the region’s largest natural gas field off the Egyptian coast and the newest discoveries of natural gas off the coast of Cyprus could represent a significant and positive development for the Eastern Mediterranean and the Middle East, enhancing the region’s strategic energy significance.

(9) It is in the national security interest of the United States to promote, achieve, and maintain energy security among, and through cooperation with, allies.

(10) Natural gas developments in the Eastern Mediterranean have the potential to provide economic gains and contribute to energy security in the region and Europe, as well as support European efforts to diversify away from natural gas supplied by the Russian Federation.

(11) The soon to be completed Trans Adriatic Pipeline is a critical component of the Southern Gas Corridor and the European Union’s efforts to diversify energy resources.

(12) The proposed Eastern Mediterranean pipeline, if commercially viable, would provide for energy diversification in accordance with the European Union’s third energy package of reforms.

(13) The United States acknowledges the achievements and importance of the Binational Industrial Research and Development Foundation (BIRD) and the United States-Israel Binational Science Foundation (BSF) and supports continued multiyear funding to ensure the continuity of the programs of the Foundations.

(14) The United States has welcomed Greece’s allocation of 2 percent of its gross domestic product (GDP) to defense in accordance with commitments made at the 2014 NATO Summit in Wales.

(15) Energy exploration in the Eastern Mediterranean region must be safeguarded against threats posed by terrorist and extremist groups, including Hezbollah and any other actor in the region.

(16) The energy exploration in the Republic of Cyprus’s Exclusive Economic Zone and territorial waters—

(A) furthers United States interests by providing a potential alternative to Russian gas for United States allies and partners; and

(B) should not be impeded by other sovereign states.

(17) The United States Government cooperates closely with Cyprus, Greece, and Israel through information sharing agreements.

(18) United States officials have assisted the Government of the Republic of Cyprus with crafting that nation's national security strategy.

(19) The United States Government provides training to Cypriot officials in areas such as cybersecurity, counterterrorism, and explosive ordnance disposal and stockpile management.

(20) Israel, Greece, and Cyprus are valued members of the Proliferation Security Initiative to combat the trafficking of weapons of mass destruction.

(21) The Republic of Cyprus continues to work closely with the United Nations and regional partners in Europe to combat terrorism and violent extremism.

(22) Despite robust economic and security relations with the United States, the Republic of Cyprus has been subject to a United States prohibition on the export of defense articles and services since 1987.

(23) The 1987 arms prohibition was designed to restrict United States arms sales and transfers to the Republic of Cyprus and the occupied part of Cyprus to avoid hindering reunification efforts.

(24) At least 40,000 Turkish troops are stationed in the occupied part of Cyprus with some weapons procured from the United States through mainland Turkey.

(25) While the United States has, as a matter of policy, avoided the provision of defense articles and services to the Republic of Cyprus, the Government of Cyprus has, in the past, sought to obtain defense articles from other countries, including countries, such as Russia, that pose challenges to United States interests around the world.

SEC. 203. STATEMENT OF POLICY.

It is the policy of the United States—

(1) to continue to actively participate in the trilateral dialogue on energy, maritime security, cybersecurity and protection of critical infrastructure conducted among Israel, Greece, and Cyprus;

(2) to support diplomatic efforts with partners and allies to deepen energy security cooperation among Greece, Cyprus, and Israel and to encourage the private sector to make investments in energy infrastructure in the Eastern Mediterranean region;

(3) to strongly support the completion of the Trans Adriatic and Eastern Mediterranean Pipelines and the establishment of liquefied natural gas (LNG) terminals across the Eastern Mediterranean as a means of diversifying regional energy needs away from the Russian Federation;

(4) to maintain a robust United States naval presence and investments in the naval facility at Souda Bay, Greece and develop deeper security cooperation with Greece to include the recent MQ-9 deployments to the Larissa Air Force Base and United States Army helicopter training in central Greece;

(5) to welcome Greece's commitment to move forward with the Interconnector Greece-Bulgaria (IGB pipeline) and additional LNG terminals that will help facilitate delivery of non-Russian gas to the Balkans and central Europe;

(6) to support deepened security cooperation with the Republic of Cyprus through the removal of the arms embargo on the country;

(7) to support robust International Military Education and Training (IMET) programming with Greece and the Republic of Cyprus;

(8) to leverage relationships within the European Union to encourage investments in Cypriot border and maritime security;

(9) to support efforts to counter Russian Federation interference and influence in the Eastern Mediterranean through increased security cooperation with Greece, Cyprus, and Israel, to include intelligence sharing, cyber, and maritime domain awareness;

(10) to support the Republic of Cyprus' efforts to regulate its banking industry to ensure that it is not used as a source of international money laundering and encourage additional measures toward that end;

(11) to strongly oppose any actions that would trigger mandatory sanctions pursuant to section 231 of the Countering America's Adversaries Through Sanctions Act (CAATSA) (Public Law 115-44), to include the purchase of military equipment from the Russian Federation;

(12) to continue robust official strategic engagement with Israel, Greece, and Cyprus;

(13) to urge countries in the region to deny port services to Russian Federation vessels deployed to support the government of Bashar Al-Assad in Syria;

(14) to support joint military exercises among Israel, Greece, and Cyprus;

(15) to fully implement relevant CAATSA provisions to prevent interference by the Russian Federation in the region;

(16) to support efforts by countries in the region to demobilize military equipment supplied by the Russian Federation in favor of equipment provided by NATO and NATO-allied member countries; and

(17) to strongly support the active and robust participation of Israel, Cyprus, and Greece in the Combating Terrorism Fellowship Program.

SEC. 205. REPEAL OF PROHIBITION ON TRANSFER OF ARTICLES ON THE UNITED STATES MUNITIONS LIST TO THE REPUBLIC OF CYPRUS.

(a) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that—

(1) allowing for the export, re-export or transfer of arms subject to the United States Munitions List (part 121 of title 22, Code of Federal Regulations) to the Republic of Cyprus would advance United States security interests in Europe by helping to reduce the dependence of the Government of the Republic of Cyprus on other countries, including countries that pose challenges to United States interests around the world, for defense-related materiel; and

(2) it is in the interest of the United States to continue to support United Nations-facilitated efforts toward a comprehensive solution to the division of Cyprus.

(2) better integrate NTD control and treatment tools and approaches into complementary development and global health programs by coordinating, to the extent practicable and appropriate, across multiple sectors, including those relating to HIV/AIDS, malaria, tuberculosis, education, nutrition, other infectious diseases, maternal and child health, and water, sanitation, and hygiene;

(3) establish low-cost, high-impact community- and school-based NTD programs to reach large at-risk populations, including school-age children, with integrated drug treatment packages, as feasible;

(4) as opportunities emerge and resources allow, engage in research and development of new tools and approaches to reach the goals relating to the elimination of NTDs as set forth by the 2012 World Health Organization publication “Accelerating Work to Overcome the Global Impact of Neglected Tropical Diseases: A Roadmap for Implementation”, including for Chagas disease, Guinea worm, human African trypanosomiasis (sleeping sickness), leprosy, and visceral leishmaniasis; and

(5) monitor research on and developments in the prevention and treatment of other NTDs so breakthroughs can be incorporated into the Neglected Tropical Diseases Program, as practicable and appropriate.

(b) PROGRAM PRIORITIES.—The Administrator of the United States Agency for International Development (referred to in this section as the “Administrator”) should incorporate the following priorities into the Neglected Tropical Diseases Program (as in effect on the date of the enactment of this Act):

(1) Planning for and conducting robust monitoring and evaluation of program investments in order to accurately measure impact, identify and share lessons learned, and inform future NTD control and elimination strategies.

(2) Coordinating program activities with complementary development and global health programs of the United States Agency for International Development, including programs relating to water, sanitation, and hygiene, food and nutrition security, and education (both primary and secondary), in order to advance the goals of the London Declaration on Neglected Tropical Diseases (2012).

(3) Including morbidity management in treatment plans for high-burden NTDs.

(4) Incorporating NTDs included in the Global Burden of Disease Study 2010 into the program as opportunities emerge, to the extent practicable and appropriate.

(5) Continuing investments in the research and development of new tools and approaches that complement existing research investments and ensure that new discoveries make it through the pipeline and become available to individuals who need them most.

SEC. 305. ACTIONS BY DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

(a) OFFICE OF THE GLOBAL AIDS COORDINATOR.—It is the sense of Congress that the Coordinator of United States Government Activities to Combat HIV/AIDS Globally should fully consider evolving research on the impact of NTDs on efforts to control HIV/AIDS when making future programming decisions, as necessary and appropriate.

(b) GLOBAL PROGRAMMING.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of State should encourage the Global Fund to take into consideration evolving research on the impact of NTDs on efforts to control HIV/AIDS when making programming decisions, particularly with regard to female genital schistosomiasis, which studies suggest may be one of the most significant cofactors in the AIDS epidemic in Africa, as necessary and appropriate.

(2) GLOBAL FUND.—In this subsection, the term “Global Fund” means the public-private partnership known as the Global Fund to Fight AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria established pursuant to Article 80 of the Swiss Civil Code.

(c) G-20 COUNTRIES.—The Secretary of State, acting through the Office of Global Health Diplomacy, should encourage G-20 countries to significantly increase their role in the control and elimination of NTDs.

SEC. 306. MULTILATERAL DEVELOPMENT AND HEALTH INSTITUTIONS.

(a) FINDING.—Congress finds that the treatment of NTDs, including community- and school-based deworming programs, can be a highly cost-effective intervention, and schools can serve as an effective delivery mechanism for reaching large numbers of children with safe treatment for soil-transmitted helminthiases (roundworm, whipworm, and hookworm) in particular.

(b) UNITED NATIONS.—The President should direct the United States Permanent Representative to the United Nations to use the voice, vote, and influence of the United States to urge the World Health Organization and the United Nations Development Programme to—

(1) ensure the dissemination of best practices and programming on NTDs to governments and make data accessible to practitioners in an open and timely fashion;

(2) highlight impacts of community- and school-based deworming programs on children’s health and education, emphasizing the cost-effectiveness of such programs;

(3) encourage governments to implement deworming campaigns at the national level;

(4) consider the designation of a portion of grant funds of the institutions to deworming initiatives and cross-sectoral collaboration with water, sanitation, and hygiene efforts and nutrition or education programming, as practicable and appropriate;

(5) encourage accurate monitoring and evaluation of NTD programs, including deworming programs; and

(6) engage governments in cross-border initiatives for the treatment, control, prevention, and elimination of NTDs, and assist in developing transnational agreements, when and where necessary.

SEC. 307. RULE OF CONSTRUCTION.

Nothing in this title may be construed to increase authorizations of appropriations for the United States Agency for International Development.

TITLE IV—PREVENTING CHILD MARRIAGE IN DISPLACED POPULATIONS

SEC. 401. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the “Preventing Child Marriage in Displaced Populations Act”.

SEC. 402. FINDINGS.

Congress finds the following:

(1) According to United Nations Children’s Fund (UNICEF), 12,000,000 girls marry before the age of 18 every year.

(2) Early marriage denies children, especially girls, their right to make vital decisions about their well-being, including relating to their health, family, and career. Child brides are less likely to finish their education, and are at higher risk for abuse, contracting HIV, and dying while pregnant or giving birth.

(3) Child marriage also imposes substantial economic costs to developing countries, impeding development and prosperity gains.

(4) Displaced populations are particularly vulnerable to child marriage, in communities where poverty, instability, and displacement put pressure on families to marry children, particularly young girls, off at a young age.

(5) One United Nations (UN) study found that child marriage rates were 4 times higher among displaced Syrian refugees than among Syrians before the crisis. This indicates that displacement, instability, and poverty are driving child marriages.

(6) United Nations agencies, including UNICEF and the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), have acknowledged the dangers of child marriage and taken steps to address its risk in the populations they serve.

(7) The UN Joint Program on Child Marriage supports this work by building the resilience of populations to indirectly prevent child marriage and by generating new data and evidence on the prevalence of child marriage in humanitarian and fragile settings. For example, in Uganda, the UN Joint Program on Child Marriage helped 27,000 adolescent girls strengthen critical skills through school clubs and Go Back to School campaigns, as well as life skills and financial literacy training.

(8) After the UN Joint Program on Child Marriage identified Yemen as one of its focus countries, 65,000 people, of whom 45,000 are adolescents, were reached with awareness-raising activities on the harms of child marriage in 2018 alone. As a result, local council representatives, elders, and community leaders from 6 districts signed a pledge to support advocacy efforts to end child marriage.

SEC. 403. PREVENTING CHILD MARRIAGE IN DISPLACED POPULATIONS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—The President shall direct the United States Permanent Representative to the United Nations to use the voice, vote, and influence of the United States at the United Nations to call for an adoption of an agreed upon definition of “child marriage” across United Nations agencies.

(b) STRATEGY.—The President shall direct the United States Permanent Representative to the United Nations to use the voice, vote, and influence of the United States at the United Nations to call for the development of a comprehensive strategy to address child marriage in refugee settlements administered by the United Nations. The strategy should include the following elements:

(1) A mandate to regularly collect and report data related to the number of known or suspected child marriages taking place inside each such settlement.

(2) Protocols for United Nations personnel regarding prevention and monitoring of child marriages inside each such settlement.

(3) A description of United Nations programs administered at such settlements that include—

(A) physical, mental, and emotional rehabilitation and support to children who have extricated themselves from child marriage; and

(B) alternatives to child marriage, such as education initiatives.

(4) Protocols regarding how United Nations personnel should—

(A) report adults participating in illegal child marriages in each such settlement; and
(B) monitor the prosecution of such adults by the authorities of the country in which the settlement at issue is located.

(c) RESEARCH.—The President shall direct the United States Permanent Representative to the United Nations to use the voice, vote, and influence of the United States at the United Nations to advocate for the United Nations and its appropriate agencies to include, as appropriate, in all of its research regarding child marriage, the relationship between child marriage and violence against girls, including young children and infants.

(d) DEFINITIONS.—In this section:

(1) CHILD MARRIAGE.—The term “child marriage” means a formal marriage or informal union involving at least one person younger than age 18.

(2) ILLEGAL CHILD MARRIAGE.—The term “illegal child marriage” means a child marriage that is illegal under the laws of the country in which the child marriage occurs.

(b) STAKEHOLDER CONSULTATION.—The Global Fragility Strategy required under this section shall be developed in consultation with representatives of civil society and national and local governance entities in countries and regions described in section 505, as well as relevant international development organizations with experience implementing programs in fragile states, multilateral organizations and donors, relevant private, academic, and philanthropic entities, and the appropriate congressional committees.

(c) REPORT.—Not later than 270 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the President shall submit to the appropriate congressional committees a report setting forth the strategy described in subsection (a), which shall be submitted in unclassified form, but may include a classified annex if necessary, and shall include, at a minimum, the following elements:

TITLE VI—COMBATING WILDLIFE TRAFFICKING

SEC. 601. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the “Rescuing Animals With Rewards Act of 2019” or the “RAWR Act”.

SEC. 602. FINDINGS; SENSE OF CONGRESS.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

(1) Wildlife trafficking is a major transnational crime that is estimated to generate over $10 billion a year in illegal profits and which is increasingly perpetrated by organized, sophisticated criminal enterprises, including known terrorist organizations.

(2) Wildlife trafficking not only threatens endangered species worldwide, but also jeopardizes local security, spreads disease, undermines rule of law, fuels corruption, and damages economic development.

(3) Combating wildlife trafficking requires a coordinated and sustained approach at the global, regional, national, and local levels.

(4) Congress stated in the Eliminate, Neutralize, and Disrupt Wildlife Trafficking Act of 2016 that it is the policy of the United States to take immediate actions to stop the illegal global trade in wildlife and wildlife products and associated transnational organized crime.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Congress that the Department of State’s rewards program is a powerful tool in combating sophisticated international crime and that the Department of State and Federal law enforcement should work in concert to offer rewards that target wildlife traffickers.

SEC. 603. WILDLIFE TRAFFICKING PREVENTION AWARDS PROGRAM.

Subparagraph (B) of section 36(k)(5) of the State Department Basic Authorities Act of 1956 (22 U.S.C. 2708(k)(5)) is amended by inserting “wildlife trafficking (as defined by section 2(12) of the Eliminate, Neutralize, and Disrupt Wildlife Trafficking Act of 2016 (16 U.S.C. 7601(12); Public Law 114-231) and” after “includes”.

TITLE VII—CHAMPIONING AMERICAN BUSINESS THROUGH DIPLOMACY

SEC. 701. SHORT TITLE.

This title may be cited as the “Championing American Business Through Diplomacy Act of 2019”.

SEC. 702. FINDINGS.

Congress makes the following findings:

(1) According to the 2017 National Security Strategy of the United States of America, “Retaining our position as the world’s preeminent economic actor strengthens our ability to use the tools of economic diplomacy for the good of Americans and others.”

(2) A November 7, 2018, cable from Secretary of State Michael R. Pompeo to all diplomatic and consular posts—“Boosting Commercial Diplomacy Around the World”—stated that “helping American companies is a foreign policy priority. . . Promoting broad-based, responsible, and sustainable economic growth helps to stabilize regions and creates new and growing markets for U.S. companies. A transparent and level playing field for U.S. investment in these countries counters real and growing challenges such as China’s Belt and Road initiative.”

(3) In the January–February 2019 issue of The Foreign Service Journal, Ambassador Barbara Stephenson, the President of the American Foreign Service Association, wrote, “Foreign Service support for American business. . . is a major reason why the U.S. Foreign Service was created.”

SEC. 703. ECONOMIC DIPLOMACY WITHIN THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

Subsection (c) of section 1 of the State Department Basic Authorities Act of 1956 (22 U.S.C. 2651a) is amended—

(2) by inserting after paragraph (2) the following new paragraph:

“(3) ASSISTANT SECRETARY FOR ECONOMIC AND BUSINESS MATTERS.—

(I) development and testing that does not involve human clinical trials, if the eligible product developer has agreed to comply with any conditions the Secretary determines necessary; or

(II) development and testing that involves human clinical trials, if the eligible product developer has—

(aa)(AA) submitted protocols, informed consent documents, and informational materials for testing that include protections that provide safety protections comparable to those provided by the REMS for the covered product; or

(BB) otherwise satisfied the Secretary that such protections will be provided; and

(bb) met any other requirements the Secretary may establish.

(iii) NOTICE.—A covered product authorization issued under this subparagraph shall state that the provision of the covered product by the license holder under the terms of the authorization will not be a violation of the REMS for the covered product.

(3) AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE.—In a civil action brought under paragraph (1), it shall be an affirmative defense, on which the defendant has the burden of persuasion by a preponderance of the evidence—

(II) that the license holder failed to comply with an order issued under clause (i).

(B) MAXIMUM MONETARY AMOUNT.—A monetary amount awarded under subparagraph (A)(iii) shall not be greater than the revenue that the license holder earned on the covered product during the period—

(ii) ending on the date on which the eligible product developer received sufficient quantities of the covered product.

(C) AVOIDANCE OF DELAY.—The court may issue an order under subparagraph (A)(i) before conducting further proceedings that may be necessary to determine whether the eligible product developer is entitled to an award under clause (ii) or (iii) of subparagraph (A), or the amount of any such award.

(C) LIMITATION OF LIABILITY.—A license holder for a covered product shall not be liable for any claim under Federal, State, or local law arising out of the failure of an eligible product developer to follow adequate safeguards to assure safe use of the covered product during development or testing activities described in this section, including transportation, handling, use, or disposal of the covered product by the eligible product developer.

(d) NO VIOLATION OF REMS.—Section 505-1 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 355-1) is amended by adding at the end the following new subsection:

“(1) PROVISION OF SAMPLES NOT A VIOLATION OF STRATEGY.—The provision of samples of a covered product to an eligible product developer (as those terms are defined in section 610(a) of division N of the Further Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2020) shall not be considered a violation of the requirements of any risk evaluation and mitigation strategy that may be in place under this section for such drug.”.

“(II) a different, comparable aspect of the elements to assure safe use under subsection (f).

“(ii) The Secretary may require a drug that is the subject of an application under section 505(j) and the listed drug to use a single, shared system under subsection (f), if the Secretary determines that no different, comparable aspect of the elements to assure safe use could satisfy the requirements of subsection (f).”;

(3) in subsection (i), by adding at the end the following:

“(3) SHARED REMS.—If the Secretary approves, in accordance with paragraph

(1)(C)(i)(II), a different, comparable aspect of the elements to assure safe use under subsection (f) for a drug that is the subject of an abbreviated new drug application under section 505(j), the Secretary may require that such different comparable aspect of the elements to assure safe use can be used with respect to any other drug that is the subject of an application under section 505(j) or 505(b) that references the same listed drug.”; and

(4) by adding at the end the following:

“(m) SEPARATE REMS.—When used in this section, the term ‘different, comparable aspect of the elements to assure safe use’ means a risk evaluation and mitigation strategy for a drug that is the subject of an application under section 505(j) that uses different methods or operational means than the strategy required under subsection (a) for the applicable listed drug, or other application under section 505(j) with the same such listed drug, but achieves the same level of safety as such strategy.”.

(g) RULE OF CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in this section, or in section 505-1 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 355-1), shall be construed as—

(1) prohibiting a license holder from providing an eligible product developer access to a covered product in the absence of an authorization under this section; or

(2) in any way negating the applicability of a REMS with ETASU, as otherwise required under such section 505-1, with respect to such covered product.

“(A) is maintained by employers which have a common interest other than having adopted the plan, or “(ii) such employer (and not the plan with respect to which the failure occurred or any other employer in such plan) shall, except to the extent provided by the Secretary, be liable for any liabilities with respect to such plan attributable to employees of such employer (or beneficiaries of such employees).

“(3) POOLED PLAN PROVIDER.—

“(A) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this subsection, the term ‘pooled plan provider’ means, with respect to any plan, a person who—

“(i) is designated by the terms of the plan as a named fiduciary (within the meaning of section 402(a)(2) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974), as the plan administrator, and as the person responsible to perform all administrative duties (including conducting proper testing with respect to the plan and the employees of each employer in the plan) which are reasonably necessary to ensure that—

“(B) GOOD FAITH COMPLIANCE WITH LAW BEFORE GUIDANCE.—An employer or pooled plan provider shall not be treated as failing to meet a requirement of guidance issued by the Secretary under this paragraph if, before the issuance of such guidance, the employer or pooled plan provider complies in good faith with a reasonable interpretation of the provisions of this subsection to which such guidance relates.

“(i) at the time of the selection, the insurer is financially capable of satisfying its obligations under the guaranteed retirement income contract; and

“(ii) the relative cost of the selected guaranteed retirement income contract as described in subparagraph (B)(ii) is reasonable.

“(2) FINANCIAL CAPABILITY OF THE INSURER.—A fiduciary will be deemed to satisfy the requirements of paragraphs (1)(B)(i) and (1)(C)(i) if—

Nothing in the preceding sentence shall be construed to require the fiduciary to review the appropriateness of a selection after the purchase of a contract for a participant or beneficiary.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is amended—

(1) by redesignating subsection (o) as subsection (p); and

(2) by inserting after subsection (n) the following new subsection:

“(o) SPECIAL RULES FOR APPLYING NONDISCRIMINATION RULES TO PROTECT OLDER, LONGER SERVICE AND GRANDFATHERED PARTICIPANTS.—

“(1) TESTING OF DEFINED BENEFIT PLANS WITH CLOSED CLASSES OF PARTICIPANTS.—

“(A) BENEFITS, RIGHTS, OR FEATURES PROVIDED TO CLOSED CLASSES.—A defined benefit plan which provides benefits, rights, or features to a closed class of participants shall not fail to satisfy the requirements of subsection (a)(4) by reason of the composition of such closed class or the benefits, rights, or features provided to such closed class, if—

“(i) for the plan year as of which the class closes and the 2 succeeding plan years, such benefits, rights, and features satisfy the requirements of subsection (a)(4) (without regard to this subparagraph but taking into account the rules of subparagraph (I)),

“(ii) after the date as of which the class was closed, any plan amendment which modifies the closed class or the benefits, rights, and features provided to such closed class does not discriminate significantly in favor of highly compensated employees, and “(iii) the class was closed before April 5, 2017, or the plan is described in subparagraph (C).

“(B) AGGREGATE TESTING WITH DEFINED CONTRIBUTION PLANS PERMITTED ON A BENEFITS BASIS.—

“(i) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of determining compliance with subsection (a)(4) and section 410(b), a defined benefit plan described in clause (iii) may be aggregated and tested on a benefits basis with 1 or more defined contribution plans, including with the portion of 1 or more defined contribution plans which—

“(I) provides matching contributions (as defined in subsection (m)(4)(A)),

“(II) provides annuity contracts described in section 403(b) which are purchased with matching contributions or nonelective contributions, or “(III) consists of an employee stock ownership plan (within the meaning of section 4975(e)(7)) or a tax credit employee stock ownership plan (within the meaning of section 409(a)).

“(ii) SPECIAL RULES FOR MATCHING CONTRIBUTIONS.—For purposes of clause (i), if a defined benefit plan is aggregated with a portion of a defined contribution plan providing matching contributions—

“(I) such defined benefit plan must also be aggregated with any portion of such defined contribution plan which provides elective deferrals described in subparagraph (A) or (C) of section 402(g)(3), and “(II) such matching contributions shall be treated in the same manner as nonelective contributions, including for purposes of applying the rules of subsection (I).

“(iii) PLANS DESCRIBED.—A defined benefit plan is described in this clause if—

“(I) the plan provides benefits to a closed class of participants,

“(II) for the plan year as of which the class closes and the 2 succeeding plan years, the plan satisfies the requirements of section 410(b) and subsection (a)(4) (without regard to this subparagraph but taking into account the rules of subparagraph (I)),

“(III) after the date as of which the class was closed, any plan amendment which modifies the closed class or the benefits provided to such closed class does not discriminate significantly in favor of highly compensated employees, and “(IV) the class was closed before April 5, 2017, or the plan is described in subparagraph (C).

“(C) PLANS DESCRIBED.—A plan is described in this subparagraph if, taking into account any predecessor plan—

“(i) such plan has been in effect for at least 5 years as of the date the class is closed, and

“(ii) during the 5-year period preceding the date the class is closed, there has not been a substantial increase in the coverage or value of the benefits, rights, or features described in subparagraph (A) or in the coverage or benefits under the plan described in subparagraph (B)(iii) (whichever is applicable).

“(D) DETERMINATION OF SUBSTANTIAL INCREASE FOR BENEFITS, RIGHTS, AND FEATURES.—In applying subparagraph (C)(ii) for purposes of subparagraph (A)(iii), a plan shall be treated as having had a substantial increase in coverage or value of the benefits, rights, or features described in subparagraph (A) during the applicable 5-year period only if, during such period—

“(i) the number of participants covered by such benefits, rights, or features on the date such period ends is more than 50 percent greater than the number of such participants on the first day of the plan year in which such period began, or

“(ii) such benefits, rights, and features have been modified by 1 or more plan amendments in such a way that, as of the date the class is closed, the value of such benefits, rights, and features to the closed class as a whole is substantially greater than the value as of the first day of such 5-year period, solely as a result of such amendments.

“(E) DETERMINATION OF SUBSTANTIAL INCREASE FOR AGGREGATE TESTING ON BENEFITS BASIS.—In applying subparagraph (C)(ii) for purposes of subparagraph (B)(iii)(IV), a plan shall be treated as having had a substantial increase in coverage or benefits during the applicable 5-year period only if, during such period—

“(i) the number of participants benefitting under the plan on the date such period ends is more than 50 percent greater than the number of such participants on the first day of the plan year in which such period began, or

“(ii) the average benefit provided to such participants on the date such period ends is more than 50 percent greater than the average benefit provided on the first day of the plan year in which such period began.

“(F) CERTAIN EMPLOYEES DISREGARDED.—For purposes of subparagraphs (D) and (E), any increase in coverage or value or in coverage or benefits, whichever is applicable, which is attributable to such coverage and value or coverage and benefits provided to employees—

“(i) who became participants as a result of a merger, acquisition, or similar event which occurred during the 7-year period preceding the date the class is closed, or

“(ii) who became participants by reason of a merger of the plan with another plan which had been in effect for at least 5 years as of the date of the merger, shall be disregarded, except that clause (ii) shall apply for purposes of subparagraph (D) only if, under the merger, the benefits, rights, or features under 1 plan are conformed to the benefits, rights, or features of the other plan prospectively.

“(G) RULES RELATING TO AVERAGE BENEFIT.—For purposes of subparagraph (E)—

“(i) the average benefit provided to participants under the plan will be treated as having remained the same between the 2 dates described in subparagraph (E)(ii) if the benefit formula applicable to such participants has not changed between such dates, and

“(ii) if the benefit formula applicable to 1 or more participants under the plan has changed between such 2 dates, then the average benefit under the plan shall be considered to have increased by more than 50 percent only if—

“(I) the total amount determined under section 430(b)(1)(A)(i) for all participants benefitting under the plan for the plan year in which the 5-year period described in subparagraph (E) ends, exceeds

“(II) the total amount determined under section 430(b)(1)(A)(i) for all such participants for such plan year, by using the benefit formula in effect for each such participant for the first plan year in such 5-year period, by more than 50 percent. In the case of a CSEC plan (as defined in section 414(y)), the normal cost of the plan (as determined under section 433(j)(1)(B)) shall be used in lieu of the amount determined under section 430(b)(1)(A)(i).

“(H) TREATMENT AS SINGLE PLAN.—For purposes of subparagraphs (E) and (G), a plan described in section 413(c) shall be treated as a single plan rather than as separate plans maintained by each employer in the plan.

“(I) SPECIAL RULES.—For purposes of subparagraphs (A)(i) and (B)(iii)(II), the following rules shall apply:

“(i) In applying section 410(b)(6)(C), the closing of the class of participants shall not be treated as a significant change in coverage under section 410(b)(6)(C)(i)(II).

“(ii) 2 or more plans shall not fail to be eligible to be aggregated and treated as a single plan solely by reason of having different plan years.

“(iii) Changes in the employee population shall be disregarded to the extent attributable to individuals who become employees or cease to be employees, after the date the class is closed, by reason of a merger, acquisition, divestiture, or similar event.

“(iv) Aggregation and all other testing methodologies otherwise applicable under subsection (a)(4) and section 410(b) may be taken into account.

The rule of clause (ii) shall also apply for purposes of determining whether plans to which subparagraph (B)(i) applies may be aggregated and treated as 1 plan for purposes of determining whether such plans meet the requirements of subsection (a)(4) and section 410(b).

“(J) SPUN-OFF PLANS.—For purposes of this paragraph, if a portion of a defined benefit plan described in subparagraph (A) or (B)(iii) is spun off to another employer and the spun-off plan continues to satisfy the requirements of—

“(i) subparagraph (A)(i) or (B)(iii)(II), whichever is applicable, if the original plan was still within the 3-year period described in such subparagraph at the time of the spin off, and the treatment under subparagraph (A) or (B) of the spun-off plan shall continue with respect to such other employer.

“(ii) subparagraph (A)(ii) or (B)(iii)(III), whichever is applicable,

“(2) TESTING OF DEFINED CONTRIBUTION PLANS.—

“(A) TESTING ON A BENEFITS BASIS.—A defined contribution plan shall be permitted to be tested on a benefits basis if—

“(i) such defined contribution plan provides make-whole contributions to a closed class of participants whose accruals under a defined benefit plan have been reduced or eliminated,

“(ii) for the plan year of the defined contribution plan as of which the class eligible to receive such make-whole contributions closes and the 2 succeeding plan years, such closed class of participants satisfies the requirements of section 410(b)(2)(A)(i) (determined by applying the rules of paragraph (1)(I)),

“(iii) after the date as of which the class was closed, any plan amendment to the defined contribution plan which modifies the closed class or the allocations, benefits, rights, and features provided to such closed class does not discriminate significantly in favor of highly compensated employees, and “(iv) the class was closed before April 5, 2017, or the defined benefit plan under clause (i) is described in paragraph (1)(C) (as applied for purposes of paragraph (1)(B)(iii)(IV)).

“(B) AGGREGATION WITH PLANS INCLUDING MATCHING CONTRIBUTIONS.—

“(i) IN GENERAL.—With respect to 1 or more defined contribution plans described in subparagraph (A), for purposes of determining compliance with subsection (a)(4) and section 410(b), the portion of such plans which provides make-whole contributions or other nonelective contributions may be aggregated and tested on a benefits basis with the portion of 1 or more other defined contribution plans which—

“(I) provides matching contributions (as defined in subsection (m)(4)(A)),

“(II) provides annuity contracts described in section 403(b) which are purchased with matching contributions or nonelective contributions, or

“(C) SPECIAL RULES FOR TESTING DEFINED CONTRIBUTION PLAN FEATURES PROVIDING MATCHING CONTRIBUTIONS TO CERTAIN OLDER, LONGER SERVICE PARTICIPANTS.—In the case of a defined contribution plan which provides benefits, rights, or features to a closed class of participants whose accruals under a defined benefit plan have been reduced or eliminated, the plan shall not fail to satisfy the requirements of subsection (a)(4) solely by reason of the composition of the closed class or the benefits, rights, or features provided to such closed class if the defined contribution plan and defined benefit plan otherwise meet the requirements of subparagraph (A) but for the fact that the make-whole contributions under the defined contribution plan are made in whole or in part through matching contributions.

“(D) SPUN-OFF PLANS.—For purposes of this paragraph, if a portion of a defined contribution plan described in subparagraph (A) or (C) is spun off to another employer, the treatment under subparagraph (A) or (C) of the spun-off plan shall continue with respect to the other employer if such plan continues to comply with the requirements of clauses (i) (if the original plan was still within the 3-year period described in such clause at the time of the spin off) and (ii) of subparagraph (A), as determined for purposes of subparagraph (A) or (C), whichever is applicable.

“(3) DEFINITIONS AND SPECIAL RULE.—For purposes of this subsection—

“(A) MAKE-WHOLE CONTRIBUTIONS.—Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (2)(C), the term ‘make-whole contributions’ means nonelective allocations for each employee in the class which are reasonably calculated, in a consistent manner, to replace some or all of the retirement benefits which the employee would have received under the defined benefit plan and any other plan or qualified cash or deferred arrangement under subsection (k)(2) if no change had been made to such defined benefit plan and such other plan or arrangement. For purposes of the preceding sentence, consistency shall not be required with respect to employees who were subject to different benefit formulas under the defined benefit plan.

“(B) REFERENCES TO CLOSED CLASS OF PARTICIPANTS.—References to a closed class of participants and similar references to a closed class shall include arrangements under which 1 or more classes of participants are closed, except that 1 or more classes of participants closed on different dates shall not be aggregated for purposes of determining the date any such class was closed.

“(III) the amendment was adopted before April 5, 2017, or the plan is described in clause (ii).

“(iii) SPECIAL RULES.—For purposes of clause (i)(II), in applying section 410(b)(6)(C), the amendments described in clause (i) shall not be treated as a significant change in coverage under section 410(b)(6)(C)(i)(II).

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 765, the motion shall be debatable for 1 hour equally divided and controlled by the chair and ranking minority member of the Committee on Appropriations.

The gentlewoman from New York (Mrs. LOWEY) and the gentlewoman from Texas (Ms. GRANGER) each will control 30 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentlewoman from New York.

GENERAL LEAVE

Mrs. LOWEY. Madam Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and include extraneous material on the House amendment to the Senate amendment to H.R. 1865.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentlewoman from New York?

There was no objection.

Mrs. LOWEY. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

This domestic priorities and international assistance minibus combines eight appropriations bills: Labor-Health and Human Services-Education, Agriculture, Energy and Water Development, Interior-Environment, Legislative Branch, Military Construction-Veterans Affairs, State-Foreign Operations, and Transportation-Housing and Urban Development.

The Appropriations Committee is fortunate to have outstanding cardinals, and they have done an extraordinary job negotiating these bills. Because of their hard work, we have secured record funding levels for Head Start, Child Care and Development Block Grants, and title I schools; hundreds of millions of dollars in increases for programs that expand access to housing; $41.7 billion for lifesaving medical research at the NIH, a $2.6 billion increase and a record level; $25 million for gun violence prevention research at the CDC and NIH, which is being funded for the first time in more than 20 years; strong funding for environmental protection, with $9 billion for the EPA, $495 million for the Land and Water Conservation Fund, and robust investments in clean energy to address the climate crisis.

Turning to my bill, I am proud that the State, Foreign Operations, and Related Programs Subcommittee reached bipartisan agreement on a robust bill that rejects the short-sighted, dangerous cuts proposed by the Trump administration. Our bill provides $54.7 billion in discretionary funding, which is $467 million above fiscal year 2019 and $11.3 billion above the request.

To confront today's global challenges, from poverty to civil war, from climate change to violent extremism, our bill provides strong investments in security, humanitarian, and development assistance; basic education; and global health programs like HIV/AIDS, nutrition, TB, and malaria.

It restores the State Department's and USAID's staffing to 2016 levels and increases funding for many of our critical partners, like the National Endowment for Democracy, the Global Fund, the U.S. Institute of Peace, the Inter-American Foundation, and the U.S. African Development Foundation.

Of critical importance, the bill limits the administration's ability to redirect or deviate from congressionally directed spending levels.

Amid all these successes, I must note how disappointing it is that, in these negotiations, President Trump and congressional Republicans refused to relent on their counterproductive assault on women's rights and health programs that provide basic healthcare to women and families here and around the world.

Madam Speaker, I joined the Appropriations Committee because it is the best place to give more people a better chance at a better life. With this bill, we have lived up to that promise by making historic investments for the people. I am so proud that we are able to do so much good for children and families across the country and around the world.

Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting this important legislation, and I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. GRANGER. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

I rise today in support of H.R. 1865, a bill that will provide funding for the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education; Agriculture; Energy and Water; Interior; the Legislative Branch; Military Construction and the Veterans Administration; State and Foreign Operations; and Transportation and Housing.

This package protects the sanctity of life and provides vital funding to promote the health and well-being of all Americans. In particular, the bill maintains all prior year pro-life protections and secures the largest pro-life victory in a generation by maintaining the Trump administration's Title X Family Planning regulations.

It provides funding to the National Institutes of Health to continue their groundbreaking research in the areas of Alzheimer's disease and cancer research, including childhood cancers. It combats the opioid and methamphetamine epidemic in this country by providing funds for prevention, treatment, recovery, and research into alternative therapies for pain management.

The bill also includes key provisions to help Americans in rural areas, such as significant funding for broadband programs; support for those farmers and ranchers around the country severely affected by hurricanes, floods, drought, and other national disasters in 2018 and 2019; and promotes economic growth and opportunity through loans for housing, utilities, and businesses.

Increased funding for the Army Corps of Engineers is also included in this package to support navigation and flood control improvements.

In addition, the bill continues to advance the Nation's all-of-the-above solutions to energy independence through targeted investments in research and development.

Finally, the bill includes several key wins for the military and veterans, as well as our diplomats abroad, such as an increase in funding for military construction and family housing projects; improved resources for veterans to address mental health, suicide, and homelessness; and expanded programs for female veterans.

The bill strongly supports our ally Israel and fulfills the U.S.-Israel memorandum of understanding by providing funding for military assistance and maintains funding to keep our embassies safe and secure.

Like the package we just debated, there are many provisions here that are good for our country. I hope we can move this bill quickly through the House and the Senate so the President can sign it into law before funding runs out Friday.

Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mrs. LOWEY. Madam Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentlewoman from Ohio (Ms. KAPTUR), the chairwoman of the Energy and Water Development Subcommittee.

Ms. KAPTUR. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding me this time. I thank Chairwoman LOWEY and Ranking Member GRANGER for bringing these important measures to the floor.

The Energy and Water division of this bill makes critical investments in energy and water systems to sustain life on Earth, to combat climate change, to build public water infrastructure, and to invest in nuclear security.

I sincerely thank our ranking member, Mr. SIMPSON, who has been a truly constructive, able, and amiable partner in these efforts.

I thank our subcommittee staff, these young, gifted, patriotic Americans who have worked so hard to put this bill together: Jaime Shimek, Angie Giancarlo, Scott McKee, Farouk Ophaso, Mark Arnone, Mike Brain, and Marcel Caldwell.

Our bill rejects the President's short-sighted proposed cuts that would harm our Nation's interests for both today and tomorrow. Instead, our bill invests in the future to meet serious national priorities.

Addressing the needs of the future both economically and environmentally requires that our Nation be at the forefront of global innovation. The Energy and Water division of this bill moves our Nation forward on that vital front.

Further, American companies require advanced means to produce and ship goods efficiently in a highly competitive and uneven global marketplace. We seek to advantage them.

Finally, ensuring water and electricity for millions of Americans seems fundamental, but there are weighty new challenges. We provide additional support to meeting those priorities.

We achieve this by providing $7.65 billion for the Army Corps of Engineers, $652 billion above 2019, likely our Nation's premier infrastructure bill for 2020.

We provide $1.66 billion for the Bureau of Reclamation, $110 million above 2019, for the desertification of Western States.

We provide $38.6 billion for the Department of Energy, $2.9 billion above 2019. Within the DOE, Department of Energy, we responsibly fund our Nation's nuclear deterrent while providing a significant boost for vital non-proliferation efforts.

Our bill increases the Department of Energy's Energy Efficiency and Renewable Energy program; ARPA-E, the advanced research programs; and the Office of Science to sharpen America's edge to invent the future and to ensure our Nation's energy leadership, security, and independence for generations to come, as all of our research labs, both public and private, across our country are being hacked constantly by those that seek to steal our patents and our innovation.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentlewoman has expired.

Mrs. LOWEY. Madam Speaker, I yield an additional 30 seconds to the gentlewoman from Ohio (Ms. KAPTUR).

Ms. KAPTUR. In sum, the Energy and Water division of this bill invests in innovative programs to yield future opportunities and jobs.

Our focus is on ensuring future economic prosperity. We underpin national security, and we bolster economic security and trade.

Fundamentally, our work together prepares our country to mitigate, adapt to, and intelligently manage the awesome challenges of climate change, including the significant water events across our country, including our Great Lakes region.

Our bill is needed more than ever to move America forward. We are living in a pivotal era. I look forward to answering any questions that individuals may have privately.

Ms. GRANGER. Madam Speaker, I yield 5 minutes to the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. ROGERS).

Mr. ROGERS of Kentucky. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding.

I rise today in support of this second appropriations package to fund the government for fiscal year 2020. I especially want to state my heavy support for this portion of the bill that funds the State Department and our foreign operations around the world.

I thank the distinguished chair, Mrs. LOWEY, and the ranking member, Ms. GRANGER, on their masterful work to shepherd this compromise all the way through the maze that is the Congress to this floor where we sit today.

I especially value Chairwoman LOWEY's partnership on the State and Foreign Operations title of this bill, which she also chairs. She and I may differ on some issues—in fact, we do differ on some issues—but on the whole, this bill represents the priorities of Congress in support of our national security.

The agreement includes significant funding to secure our 200-plus diplomatic posts around the world, our embassies, consulates, and the like, and to support critical allies like Israel, Jordan, Egypt, Georgia, and Ukraine. It will allow us to respond to a growing threat that China poses to our security.

In our own hemisphere, the bill prioritizes funding for Latin America as the region continues to face instability from the crisis in Venezuela, as well as from the rampant drug problem and corruption.

The bill also continues vigorous oversight of U.S. assistance, denies funding for the Green Climate Fund, and respects the sanctity of life around the world.

This package also includes a number of provisions of critical importance to my district in southern and eastern Kentucky.

First, there is a strong commitment to our coal miners and the communities where they live. I am exceedingly proud that a bill I cosponsored to protect our retired miners is also included in this bill. It ensures that these hardworking individuals receive the healthcare and the pensions that they have earned. I hope the 100,000 families impacted by this provision will have peace of mind heading into this Christmas season.

This bill also provides $115 million for the Abandoned Mine Lands Pilot Program, which has been monumentally successful in creating new economic development opportunities in Appalachia.

□ 1230

This funding is a strong complement to the Appalachian Regional Commission, which is robustly funded at $175 million in this package. Within the Department of Agriculture, there is strong emphasis on rural infrastructure, including broadband deployment.

I am also proud that my Kentucky Wildlands National Heritage Area Study Act is included in today's package. I have been proud to work with Leader MCCONNELL on this initiative to truly recognize the incredible natural and historic value of eastern Kentucky.

This legislation will also ensure that the veterans in our region receive the care they need and deserve. I advocated for a new pilot program to provide transportation assistance for our Nation's many rural veterans, like those in eastern Kentucky, and I am grateful for the seed funding to get that off the ground.

Finally, nearly $6 billion is provided for opioid addiction prevention, treatment, and recovery, and research into alternative therapies for pain management. A new loan repayment program that is funded in the bill will help get qualified treatment professionals into underserved communities like ours in Kentucky.

But I am especially thankful for the inclusion in this bill of sufficient funds to help us fight the problem of opioid addiction, which got its start in my district some 15 years ago.

Madam Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding. I urge support of this bill.

Mrs. LOWEY. Madam Speaker, I am pleased to yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from North Carolina (Mr. PRICE), the chairman of the Transportation, and Housing and Urban Development Subcommittee.

Mr. PRICE of North Carolina. Madam Speaker, I am pleased to rise in strong support of H.R. 1865.

I want to first thank our chairwoman, NITA LOWEY, and also Ranking Member KAY GRANGER for their leadership and cooperation. I want to thank my good friend, MARIO DIAZ-BALART of Florida, for his collaborative approach. I couldn't ask for a better ranking member and partner in our subcommittee's work.

The T-HUD section of this bill invests in America's transportation and housing infrastructure with a particular stress on safety, on addressing the needs of the most vulnerable, and on mitigating the impacts of climate change.

It includes $74.3 billion in discretionary funding. That is an increase of $3.2 billion above the 2019 level, and it is $15.8 billion above the President's budget request.

On the housing side of the ledger, all Section 8 vouchers are renewed. The HOME program and Community Development Block Grants each receive $100 million in increased funding, and there is a $95 million increase for public housing capital expenditures to address the maintenance backlog.

Vital transportation programs are also robustly funded, including $1 billion for BUILD, formerly TIGER, grants. We provide more than $3 billion in discretionary resources above authorized levels for highways, transit, and aviation projects for every State and territory in this Nation. Amtrak, competitive rail grant programs, and port infrastructure also receive strong funding.

These investments support a renewed commitment to safety. The FAA receives additional resources to bolster aircraft certification, including dedicated funding to hire new safety inspectors, engineers, and data scientists. Every State will receive new funding to repair aging and deficient bridges. And resources are provided to address hazards in Federally-assisted housing, such as carbon monoxide, radon, and lead.

Vulnerable populations are targeted in our bill. We prioritized assistance for them, for example, for the construction of new housing units for the elderly and disabled, new vouchers for veterans, as well as resources for the homeless, people with HIV/AIDS, domestic violence survivors, and at-risk youth.

Finally, I am proud that this legislation lays the groundwork to integrate resiliency principles into the full range of programs under the bill's jurisdiction. For example, we require in this bill HUD grantees to think ahead about storm and hazard mitigation as part of their planning process.

So, in closing, we are proud of this bill, and we urge its support. It makes forward-looking investments while boosting safety and protecting vulnerable populations. It will benefit and serve all American communities, urban and rural, and lay the foundation for economic growth and prosperity.

Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support this bill.

Ms. GRANGER. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from Washington (Ms. HERRERA BEUTLER).

Ms. HERRERA BEUTLER. Madam Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 1865, which includes funding for the Legislative Branch.

The recommendation for fiscal year 2020 Legislative Branch Division provides for $5.049 billion. This is a 4.4 percent increase above fiscal year 2019.

The allocation provides the budget request for the Office of the Congressional Workplace Rights and the Government Publishing Office, as well as increases for the House of Representatives, Capitol Police, Congressional Budget Office, Library of Congress, Government Accountability Office, and the Open World Leadership Center.

I am really pleased that this bill supports the Capitol Police, as well as funding for important Architect of the Capitol security infrastructure improvements to keep the Capitol campus safe and to keep its visitors safe, its staff, the Members, and the folks who work here.

I am also supportive of the funding that supports the Library of Congress' Visitor's Experience enhancements and other programs that my constituents, all of our constituents, enjoy regularly, as well as upgrades to the Capitol complex facilities for visitors and staff with disabilities, which will make it easier for the blind and the visually impaired to access and enjoy the Capitol complex.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentlewoman has expired.

Ms. GRANGER. Madam Speaker, I yield the gentlewoman from Washington an additional 30 seconds.

Ms. HERRERA BEUTLER. Madam Speaker, I appreciate Chairman RYAN's cooperation and support on several initiatives that are important to us and this institution. I would like to thank Chairwoman LOWEY and Ranking Member GRANGER for their support and guidance throughout this process.

Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues to vote in favor of H.R. 1865.

Mrs. LOWEY. Madam Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. BISHOP), the chairman of the Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies Subcommittee.

Mr. BISHOP of Georgia. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman for the time, and I rise in support of H.R. 1865.

As the chair of the Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies Subcommittee, I am pleased to briefly highlight the important national priorities addressed in this bill.

From the safety of our food and medicines, to agriculture research, to rural development, and nutrition assistance, the programs in this bill touch the lives of every American on a daily basis. The strong investments we make in this bill will improve people's lives at home and abroad.

The fiscal year 2020 Agriculture bill provides $23.5 billion in discretionary funding, $183 million above the fiscal year 2019 level. In addition, it provides the latest estimates for mandatory programs required by law.

The legislation makes major investments, totaling almost $3.8 billion, in our rural communities, including $1.45 billion for rural water and waste program loans and $545 million in grants for clean and reliable drinking water systems, $640 million for broadband programs, including $555 million for the Re-Connect grants and loans, an issue with strong bipartisan support.

The bill funds all of the domestic nutrition programs, including SNAP, WIC, and the Child Nutrition Programs, sufficiently to meet anticipated participation in fiscal year 2020.

In addition, it provides $35 million for the Summer EBT program, $30 million for the school kitchen equipment grants, and $5 million for the school breakfast expansion grants.

The bill provides $1.8 billion for farm programs, including $35 million to address staffing shortages at county offices to ensure farmers and producers receive the best possible customer service.

It also extends and expands disaster assistance to continue assisting farmers, ranchers, and producers in States that were devastated by natural disasters, including Hurricane Michael that devastated my district.

The legislation makes critical investments in agriculture research by providing $3.2 billion, a $171 million increase over fiscal year 2019.

We provided record levels of resources for the Food for Peace and McGovern-Dole programs. These programs send American commodities all over the world to address global hunger and are an essential tool of American diplomacy.

The Food and Drug Administration will receive $3.16 billion in discretionary funding, with specific funding dedicated to fighting rare cancers, gaining efficiencies for generic drug reviews, improving response to foodborne illness outbreaks, and the continued implementation of the Food Safety Modernization Act.

The bill funds the Commodity Futures Trading Commission at $315 million, a historic, necessary, and long-overdue increase.

I am pleased that the bill provides funding for several programs authorized in the 2018 farm bill, including the 1890 National Scholars program.

Finally, Madam Speaker, I would like to thank Chairwoman LOWEY and Ranking Member GRANGER for their historic and effective leadership throughout the appropriations process. I would like to also thank the subcommittee's distinguished ranking member, Mr. FORTENBERRY. He has been a great partner during this process.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mrs. LOWEY. Madam Speaker, I yield an additional 30 seconds to the gentleman.

Mr. BISHOP of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, of course I have to give a tremendous shout out to the hardworking Appropriations Committee staff, both majority and minority. They have worked hard through multiple challenges, and they have delivered us a good bill, although not perfect, to avoid a government shutdown.

Madam Speaker, this is a good bill, and I urge my colleagues to support it.

Ms. GRANGER. Madam Speaker, I yield 4 minutes to the gentleman from Idaho (Mr. SIMPSON).

Mr. SIMPSON. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding time.

Madam Speaker, I rise today in support of H.R. 1865, the Further Consolidated Appropriations Act for Fiscal Year 2020, and particularly division C, the Energy and Water Development and Related Agencies Appropriations Act.

Madam Speaker, before I get into the details of the bill, I would like to thank several Members involved in this effort: my chairwoman, MARCY KAPTUR, and our Senate partners, LAMAR ALEXANDER and DIANNE FEINSTEIN. The four of us have now worked several Energy and Water conferences together, and I continue to appreciate the collegiality and determination to advance national and constituent interests that my colleagues bring to the discussions.

Madam Speaker, I would also like to thank our full committee leadership, Chairwoman LOWEY and Ranking Member GRANGER here in the House and Chairman SHELBY and Ranking Member LEAHY in the Senate, for their leadership and support throughout this year's process.

As ranking member of the House Energy and Water Appropriations Subcommittee, I believe this fiscal year 2020 Energy and Water bill is a good bill, and I am pleased that so many House Republican priorities are included in this final bill.

First and foremost, the bill strongly supports our national nuclear security programs, providing a total $16.7 billion for the National Nuclear Security Administration, including weapons activities, defense nuclear nonproliferation, and naval reactors.

Weapons activities specifically is funded at $12.5 billion, an increase of $1.4 billion above fiscal year 2019. Within this amount, the bill fully funds the maintenance and modernization of our nuclear weapons systems, including each nuclear weapon life extension, alteration, and modification program, as well as activities to rebuild production capabilities for strategic materials, such as plutonium pits.

Next, the bill includes substantial investments in our Nation's water resources infrastructure. The Corps of Engineers is funded at a total of $7.65 billion, an increase of $651 million above last year.

Within this amount, an estimated $1.63 billion is for the Harbor Maintenance Trust Fund activities. That level exceeds the annual HMTF target. In fact, it represents 91.5 percent of the estimated revenues, compared to the revenue fiscal year 2020 target of 80 percent established in WRRDA in 2014.

Finally, one of my personal priorities, the bill promotes innovation and growth in nuclear energy, funding research, development, and demonstration activities at $1.3 billion, an increase of $160 million above fiscal year 2019.

Within this amount, the bill establishes a new advanced nuclear reactor demonstration program. The goal is to build two demonstration reactors by the mid-2020s, in a move towards commercializing the next generation of carbon-free nuclear energy technology to be deployed here in the United States and around the globe.

I am also pleased to see several provisions included in other divisions of this bill. Specifically, the Interior and Environment Appropriations bill includes many important policies and funding provisions to ensure that sage grouse remain off the endangered species list.

The agreement could not be more important for rural counties thanks to full funding for PILT and 2 years of SRS funding.

This agreement is historic because it will be the first time the Forest Service and the Department of the Interior will have access to budget cap adjustments for wildfire fighting. This allows wildfires finally to receive equal treatment with other natural disasters and allows our land management agencies to focus on prevention efforts to get ahead of the issue.

In the Agriculture Appropriations bill, this agreement delivers vital research funding for potatoes, grain, and other commodities, and it signals an important step forward for the sheep station in Dubois, Idaho, and acknowledges the diverse stakeholders who seek to collaborate and grow future research at the station. I am eager to continue the momentum to build capacity at Dubois.

Finally, and probably most importantly, I thank the staff of all of our subcommittees, but particularly the ones I work with on Interior and Energy and Water. They do a tremendous job for us. They are here on weekends. They are here during holidays and other times behind the scenes, actually putting together these bills. This is a job we could not do without their support.

All in all, this appropriations package, including the Energy and Water division, is a strong bill that incorporates many priorities, and I urge my colleagues to support it.

Mrs. LOWEY. Madam Speaker, I am pleased to yield 3 minutes to the gentlewoman from Connecticut (Ms. DELAURO), the distinguished chair of the Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies Subcommittee.

Ms. DELAURO. Madam Speaker, I rise to speak about the fiscal year 2020 appropriations bill for the Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies Subcommittee.

The Labor-H bill reflects our priorities as a Nation. It touches our constituents at every single stage of their life, from birth to retirement, for their health, work, and education. It provides people with a better chance at a better life.

For years, the Labor-H bill has been shortchanged. Now, we are making up for lost ground. We fought the Senate to win crucial investments. The result: a hard-fought, positive bill with a net increase of 3.5 percent over 2019, or $6.5 billion more for the people of this country.

I first want to thank Congresswoman NITA LOWEY, the full Appropriations Committee chair. Her leadership and dedication to Labor-H helped to ensure that this bill could create real opportunity for people. I thank our ranking member, KAY GRANGER, for her dedication and determination. And I acknowledge Congressman TOM COLE, my partner, the ranking member of the subcommittee. We have found common ground over and over again, which is rooted in our shared values about what is good for the people of this country.

Let me describe some of the investments.

Education: $550 million increase for Child Care and Development Block Grant; $550 million increase for Head Start and $25 million increase for preschool development grants; $450 million increase for title I, $400 million increase for special education, and a new initiative in social and emotional learning, including $65 million in innovation grants; $93 million increase for minority-serving institutions and a $150 increase to Pell grants.

Health: $2.6 billion increase for National Institutes of Health and $637 million increase for Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, including tobacco prevention, public health data modernization, and suicide prevention; full funding for a new HIV initiative to eliminate new transmissions of HIV over the next decade; and continued high funding for State opioid grants.

I am disheartened that the Republicans obstructed us from defending women's health from the administration's attack on the Title X program. We will continue that long fight, and we will win in the near term. All women's reproductive health must be on equal footing.

An incredible win was $25 million for evidence-based gun violence prevention research, the first time in 20 years that we have provided money and resources to look at research on trying to prevent gun violence. It follows our hearing on gun violence research that was the first hearing that we had.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentleman has expired.

Mrs. LOWEY. Madam Speaker, I yield an additional 30 seconds to the gentleman from Connecticut.

Ms. DELAURO. The significance of the achievement cannot be overstated. It will save lives.

Labor: $48 million increase for worker protection, $30 million increase for the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act State grants, $25 million increase for Job Corps, and a new $40 million grant for community colleges to train people for in-demand jobs.

For too long, workers and families have been shortchanged. We fought hard. We are making up for lost ground. We can make opportunity real for people.

Let me thank the staff on this job, subcommittee staff Robin Juliano, Stephen Steigleder, Jen Cama, Jackie Kilroy, Laurie Mignone, Jared Bass, Philip Tizzani, and Brad Allen; my staff Letty Mederos, Liz Albertine, and Caitlin Peruccio; and the minority staff Susan Ross and Kathryn Salmon. As I say, our names are on the door, but they do the work for us.

Ms. GRANGER. Madam Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Florida (Mr. DIAZ-BALART).

Mr. DIAZ-BALART. Madam Speaker, I rise to support this bill, and particularly, I want to talk about the transportation and housing portion of it. Chairman PRICE and I worked with our Senate colleagues to craft a fair agreement to meet our Nation's transportation and housing needs.

The T-HUD discretionary total is $74.3 billion, which is $1.5 billion below the House-passed level.

I would note that there are a lot of pressures in this bill. We required $2 billion above last year just to meet housing inflation and another $2 billion just to make up for lost receipts, so there is a $4 billion hole to start with.

Some tough choices had to be made. Let me talk about specifics: $2.4 billion for highway grants, which provides funding directly to our State DOTs, $1 billion for BUILD grants to help transform communities, and $225 million for port infrastructure. This bill also emphasizes safety, and that is something we should be proud of.

For HUD, we provide $3.4 billion for Community Development Block Grants, a huge priority for Members, both Democrats and Republicans.

The bill meets our commitment to provide housing assistance to our most vulnerable, including the elderly, the disabled, and our veterans.

I am proudly particularly proud and pleased that the bill provides $2.8 billion for homeless assistance grants. I have seen the results of this program firsthand. In Miami-Dade County, we, in essence, effectively eliminated homelessness among veterans in our county.

As a final point on the T-HUD bill, I would note that this agreement drops all the controversial riders in the bill. Once again, Chairwoman LOWEY and Ranking Member GRANGER led us through difficult negotiations by working day and night and never giving up, and we are grateful for their leadership.

Finally, I thank Chairman PRICE for his friendship and his partnership. He has been a joy and a delight to work with, as well as our Senate counterparts, Senator COLLINS and Senator REED.

I am proud of this bill. I think it is a great bill for transportation and infrastructure, and also for our housing needs, and I urge a "yes" vote.

Mrs. LOWEY. Madam Speaker, I am very pleased to yield 3 minutes to the distinguished gentlewoman from Minnesota (Ms. MCCOLLUM), the chair of the Interior, Environment, and Related Agencies Subcommittee.

Ms. MCCOLLUM. Madam Speaker, I rise in support of this bill. It is the product of bipartisan negotiations that reflect compromise and a shared desire to fund the Federal Government.

The Interior and Environment section provides $36 billion, which is $437 million more than last year's fiscal year 2019 enacted bill.

We make critical investments in environmental protection, in Indian Country, to public land management, and the arts.

Here are a few highlights: $43 million for PFAS research to set standards for clean drinking water and for cleaning up PFAS; an additional $24 million for EPA enforcement and compliance activities, the first increase in a decade; the largest increase in a decade for the National Endowment for the Arts and Humanities, each funded at $162 million; and the Land and Water Conservation Fund is at the highest level since 2003, with $495 million in new funding.

The bill enhances the EPA's ability to protect human health and the health of our environment, providing $9.08 billion, the second-highest level ever for the agency. An all-time high for environmental justice funding is included at over $10 million.

It also provides record funding for the endangered species program at a time when 1 million plant and animal species are at risk of extinction.

We continue our subcommittee's non-partisan approach to issues facing our Native American brothers and sisters by investing in programs critical to the health, safety, and well-being of Native peoples.

In the bill, we are serious about addressing the climate crisis and recognizing the importance of science in understanding how our planet is changing. We prioritize funding by providing $52 million for renewable energy development and $416 million for climate change research and adaptation activities, a $30 million increase.

Programs in the Interior bill impact all of us, preserving our natural and cultural heritage to ensure the air we breathe and the water we drink is clean not only for today but for future generations.

Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to support this bill. I wholeheartedly thank staff on both sides for their help in making this happen.

Ms. GRANGER. Madam Speaker, I yield 4 minutes to the gentleman from Nebraska (Mr. FORTENBERRY).

Mr. FORTENBERRY. Madam Speaker, first of all, let me say how thankful I am for the leadership of Chairman BISHOP and, frankly, for the partnership that we have developed over this past year. It has been truly remarkable. I also thank Chairwoman LOWEY and Ranking Member GRANGER for their intensive effort around this important piece of legislation, and that of the staff. This is good for America.

Agriculture, Madam Speaker, is, in its essence, really essential to the well-being of our country. The Agriculture portion of this entire package includes support for the hard work of our farmers, ranchers, and producers who give us something that we really all do take for granted, some of the lowest grocery prices in the world, as well as protection for the most vulnerable who are in the midst of food insecurity and disaster relief for humanitarian causes.

Madam Speaker, in the midst of a House divided, I would like to say this: Food is food. A meal brings us together. Agriculture production is the basis for economic and social well-being, and I am very proud of this effort. We found a reasonable path forward to consensus in meeting the needs of fellow Members. This cooperation allowed us to fight hard to defend, in a bipartisan fashion, House Member priorities.

For example, this bill includes funding streams for the building and rebuilding of critical infrastructure needed in our rural communities, from housing to utilities to economic development. Specifically, the bill includes $555 million for the ReConnect broadband program we started just 2 years ago. The Senate bill didn't include any money for this basic utility, but we have.

The bill includes an additional $87 million for other rural broadband initiatives that will help bridge the gap and create an ecosystem of livability for telework, telehealth, precision agriculture, and a host of beneficial digital outcomes for rural America.

Beyond food, this bill also includes a certain level of responsibility for our Nation's healthcare policy. We support initiatives at the Food and Drug Administration to enhance blood safety, stop opioid abuse, reduce generic drug prices, and further food safety. Continued investments in generic drug competition will help bring down prices for the healthcare needs of all of our constituents.

The bill before us maintains a number of very important provisions, such as a Buy America requirement for water and waste infrastructure and flexibilities for child nutrition programs. Interestingly, as well, and of note, the sale of tobacco and vaping products now moves to 21 years of age.

No bill includes everything you fight for, but this bill includes a number of benefits for Americans in our diverse communities back home.

It supports a number of smaller yet highly impactful programs, enhancing nutrition programs for Native Americans, supporting the Farm and Ranch Stress Assistance Network, and the Rural Microentrepreneur Assistance Program.

Madam Speaker, let me highlight the importance of one particular program, the farm to school program. We are on the verge of a new movement in this country, connecting the farm to the family, the city to the country. People want to know where their food comes from, Madam Speaker. Programs like this will inspire our youth, build new markets, and uphold the value of agriculture to all America.

Madam Speaker, this is a good bill for all of us, and I urge its support.

Mrs. LOWEY. Madam Speaker, I am pleased to yield 3 minutes to the distinguished gentleman from Ohio (Mr. RYAN), the chairman of the Legislative Branch Subcommittee.

□ 1300

Mr. RYAN. Madam Speaker, I am pleased to rise in support of H.R. 1865, in particular, division E, the fiscal year 2020 Legislative Branch appropriations.

My thanks go to full committee Chairwoman LOWEY and her ranking member, KAY GRANGER, for putting this entire bill together, not just this subcommittee. This has been an amazing process. I want to thank my minority counterpart, Representative HERRERA BEUTLER, and all who have guided and supported this bill through.

I am pleased to announce there is a $213 million increase to the Legislative Branch appropriations bill, 4.4 percent above fiscal year 2019. This bill gives Members and committees the funding needed to improve their constituent services and legislative oversight responsibilities.

With this bill, we have been able to increase our Members' representational allowance, support committee budgets, and restore funding shortfalls in the account that pays House health and retirement benefits.

The bill will allow an increase in intern allowances, from $20,000 to $25,000 per Member office, so that a more diverse group can apply without worrying about the financial burden of working for free.

The bill continues to fund the Wounded Warrior Program, as well as the new congressional Gold Star Family Fellowship Program.

We have provided first-year funding for both the Office of Diversity and Inclusion and the Office of the Whistleblower Ombudsman so that Congress has the tools to encourage greater staff diversity and to effectively handle whistleblower complaints.

It also includes sufficient funding to extend the Select Committee on the Modernization of Congress.

The bill increases funding for our important support and oversight agencies: the CBO, the GAO, the GPO, and the Capitol Police.

Members will be pleased to learn that our bill provides another $10 million for the Library of Congress visitor experience, for a project total of $20 million.

I am pleased that the bill includes a provision that permits an increase in the pay levels of senior congressional staff.

I would also like to just make a comment or two on the broader bill. I think Speaker PELOSI said this earlier in the day, and I know Chairwoman LOWEY said it earlier in the day and in the last few days.

This appropriations bill, while it lacks things like the Butch Lewis Act, where we need to take care of pensions for some of our workers out in the country, this bill is about the future.

There are investments in here in social and emotional learning, healthy food, the Department of Energy, and creating an energy incubator fund so that we can win the economy in the future around new forms of energy.

This bill has money in it for new auto companies, $5 million for the Advanced Technology Vehicle Manufacturing loan program, which will allow facilities like the one in Lordstown, Ohio, to refurbish itself to move into the future.

This is a good bill, and I encourage people to vote for this bill. This bill will help America win the future.

Madam Speaker, I am pleased to rise in support of H.R. 1865—in particular, Division E, Fiscal Year 2020 Legislative Branch Appropriations. My thanks to full Committee Chairwoman LOWEY, her ranking Member KAY GRANGER, and my minority counterpart Rep. HERRERA BEUTLER. They have all guided and supported me in my first year taking the helm of the Legislative Branch appropriations subcommittee. I'd also like to give a nod to our staff on both sides for their hard work—Faye Cobb, Sue Quantius, and Jenny Holmes.

I'm pleased that we have the resources to start on the path to strengthening Congressional operations. Funding in the bill totals $5.049 billion—$213 million or 4.4 percent above fiscal year 2019. The bill gives Members and Committees the funding needed to improve their constituent services and legislative oversight responsibilities.

With this bill, we have been able to increase the Members Representational Allowance, support Committee budgets, and restore funding shortfalls in the account that pays House health and retirement benefits. Intern allowances will increase from $20,000 to $25,000 per Member office so that a more diverse group can apply without worrying about the financial burden of working for free. The bill continues to fund the Wounded Warrior Program as well as the new Congressional Gold Star Family Fellowship Program, which was established this fall.

We have provided first-year funding for both the Office of Diversity and Inclusion and the Office of Whistleblower Ombudsman so that Congress has the tools to encourage greater staff diversity and to effectively handle whistleblower complaints. The bill also includes sufficient funding to extend the Select Committee on the Modernization of Congress. We look forward to the implementation of their recommendations.

The bill increases funding for our important support and oversight agencies—CBO, GAO, GPO and the Capitol Police.

Members will be pleased to learn that our bill provides another $10 million for the Library of Congress Visitors Experience project for a total of $20 million provided to date. Once developed, the project will result in better displays of many of the treasures in the Library's collection, clearer communication of the Library's mission, and more activities targeted to children and youth.

Finally, I'm pleased that the bill includes a provision that permits an increase in the pay levels of senior congressional staff. We will be able to slightly increase the salaries of our most experienced, senior staff. A higher rate will make the House more competitive to recruit highly skilled employees.

Our bill begins the journey to making Congress more effective. I hope you will join me in voting for HR. 1865.

Before concluding, I would like to acknowledge with regret the retirement of David Reich, the staff director of the Appropriations Legislative Branch subcommittee.

David has a storied history in the budget and appropriations world, having served here for decades and for two masters of that trade—Rep. Martin Sabo and Rep. David Obey. He headed the staff of multiple appropriations subcommittees—Labor, HHS; Financial Services; and Leg Branch. He also kept a steady hand on the rudder in the full committee as committee counsel. In what could be partisan posts, David has won praise and admiration from both sides of the aisle.

Besides being skilled in parliamentary and committee procedure, generous, patient, and self-effacing to a fault, David was always known for having the quick yet correct answer to any complex or arcane budget question thrown his way. David retired from Appropriations once, but was persuaded to return to be Chairwoman LOWEY's staff for the Joint Select Committee on Budget and Appropriations Process Reform. Following that endeavor, he agreed to stay on for a time to be sure that my subcommittee got off to a steady start.

We knew we were on borrowed time with him and that he was anxious to get back to his outside pursuits. David left in August and we are truly sorry to have lost him. Our best regards to him and his family as he continues his post-congressional life.

Ms. GRANGER. Madam Speaker, I yield 4 minutes to the gentleman from Ohio (Mr. JOYCE).

Mr. JOYCE of Ohio. Madam Speaker, I thank the ranking member for the time and opportunity to speak today as the ranking member on the Interior, Environment, and Related Agencies Subcommittee.

I also want to thank the chair of the subcommittee, my friend and fellow Great Lakes advocate, Congresswoman BETTY MCCOLLUM. We have worked tirelessly over the past month to negotiate a reasonable compromise in order to be able to deliver the product before you today and avoid a government shutdown.

While it is not the bill I would have written and there are things in here that I might not necessarily agree with, I do believe that there is more in this bill that unites us than divides us.

The bill increases America's investment in our own abundant energy and mineral resources. It fully funds the Payments in Lieu of Taxes program which is so critical to counties with Federal lands. It also invests $1.8 billion for maintenance and construction of our Nation's parks and our other public lands.

This agreement also provides for a 29 percent increase to fight devastating wildfires that threaten our communities.

This agreement provides an additional $392 million for healthcare, law enforcement, and related programs to honor our country's sacred trust and treaty obligations to the American Indians and Alaska Natives.

I am deeply proud of our nonpartisan efforts in support of these important programs. But just as important as the targeted funding increases are the longstanding policy provisions we have fought to hold on to and the new poison pills that we have successfully fought to eliminate.

For example, we have succeeded in continuing two provisions blocking the Green New Deal regulation of greenhouse gas emissions from livestock. We have successfully blocked an attempt to limit reorganization of the Department of the Interior and relocation of the BLM and EPA offices.

Finally, as a lifelong Ohioan, I want to highlight the work we did to protect the Great Lakes, one of the greatest natural resources and economic powerhouses in the United States. They hold 95 percent of the United States' fresh surface water. The lakes also support over 1.5 million jobs and provide $62 billion in wages, annually.

Protecting the Great Lakes is not a red issue or a blue issue. Many Members of Congress from both sides of the aisle understand the important role the lakes play in our lives and the need to protect them.

My colleague BETTY MCCOLLUM has been a great partner to work with in my fight to protect the Great Lakes, and I am happy to report the conference agreement includes $320 million—a $20 million increase—for the Great Lakes Restoration Initiative, which helps us provide and address invasive species like Asian carp, reduce phosphorus runoff that causes harmful algal blooms, and protect and preserve the Great Lakes for future generations.

In closing, I want to thank Chairwoman LOWEY and Ranking Member GRANGER for their leadership and the staffs on both sides of the aisle for their extremely hard work to get the annual appropriations bills over the finish line once again.

I urge all of my colleagues to vote "yes" on this bill.

Mrs. LOWEY. Madam Speaker, I am pleased to yield 3 minutes to the gentlewoman from Florida (Ms. WASSERMAN SCHULTZ), the distinguished chairwoman of the Military Construction, Veterans Affairs, and Related Agencies Subcommittee.

Ms. WASSERMAN SCHULTZ. Madam Speaker, I thank Chairwoman LOWEY for yielding.

I rise in support of this funding package which includes Military Construction-Veterans Affairs funding, which I am privileged to chair, and seven other appropriations bills.

This package increases funding for our national priorities and soundly rejects President Trump's unserious and immoral budget. This package increases funding and makes sure that our bicameral, bipartisan compromise that we reached on the Military Construction-Veterans Affairs bill meets the needs of our servicemembers, supports our military families, and provides for our veterans.

I want to underscore that the agreement does not provide any money for backfilling the funding that President Trump took—really, stole—from our military projects after he declared a fake national emergency for the border wall, and it also denies advanced backfilling by the administration for their next attempt to steal more funding.

There are zero dollars in the Military Construction-Veterans Affairs legislation for this wasteful border wall project.

We secured a solid $1 billion in military construction, notably in family housing improvements, energy resiliency, and child development centers.

Further, this agreement fully funds family housing construction at $1.3 billion and includes $140.8 million for costs associated with mold, lead-based paint, and vermin.

I am disappointed that we could not get agreements from the administration to limit the transfer of funds from all MILCON dollars, but I am pleased that we were able to prevent vital disaster funding from being transferred in the future.

The administration needs to think twice about moving money from congressionally approved projects to fund a border wall and understand that there is no back door around Congress' power of the purse.

I am proud that the bill includes $585 million in funding for gender-specific care for women for the first time, as well as additional funding for homeless assistance programs, whole health, and mental health and suicide prevention programs.

As a member of the Energy and Water Development, and Related Agencies Subcommittee, I am thrilled by how much this bill invests in water infrastructure, clean energy, and economic ecosystem restoration—and by how much this bill helps my home State of Florida.

The bill includes mine and other Floridians' request for full funding for Everglades restoration at $200 million. Even more, it fully authorizes the Central Everglades Planning Project, a suite of restoration projects that aims to fix freshwater flows in south Florida's ecosystem.

I am also proud to have helped secure six new construction starts and funding to help major ports like Port Everglades, in my district, expand and adapt to the modern economy.

As a breast cancer survivor, I am glad that the Labor-HHS-Education division of the bill includes language that I sponsored to ensure that young women have access to coverage for breast cancer screenings beginning at age 40.

It also includes $5 million to fund my EARLY Act legislation for the CDC to promote breast cancer awareness for young and at-risk women.

The Foreign Operations division ensures that America helps Venezuelans who are suffering through instability and economic pain and includes funding for democracy promotion, human rights, and civil society programs in Venezuela.

Finally, I am pleased that the mini-bus also includes legislation that I sponsored and worked on with my south Florida colleagues. The Venezuela Emergency Relief, Democracy Assistance, and Development Act will require greater monitoring and strategies to prevent Russian meddling in Venezuela's affairs, a bill I sponsored; increased humanitarian aid; and restrict the exportation of weapons used to stifle domestic dissent in Venezuela.

I urge all Members to support this bill.

Ms. GRANGER. Madam Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. SMITH).

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Madam Speaker, I want to thank both leaders, but I want to thank KAY GRANGER for her extraordinary support for legislation that I authored, two bills that are included in this act. I thank NITA LOWEY as well, the distinguished chairwoman.

The first bill is known as the TICK Act. Twenty-one years ago, in 1998, I introduced the Lyme Disease Initiative Act of 1998. Every 2 years, every Congress, with well over 100 cosponsors, would have a bill that would look to create a national strategy in combating Lyme disease.

This legislation includes that strategy, and I am deeply grateful for that. It also is now named after Senator Kay Hagan, who, sadly, died from a tick-borne disease in October. But it provides a national strategy, $150 million authorization for Lyme research, prevention, and treatment programs, and enables additional Federal agencies to step up and coordinate their efforts in the fight against Lyme.

As we know from the working group, there are 300,000 new cases every year. The high-end estimate is 437,000 cases. Chronic Lyme is a very serious problem.

The NIH recently came out with their new strategy, and I am very grateful to the Trump administration for doing that because there is no real detection capability that is reliable, so the diagnosis is often faulty. There is also the very real problem that there are no therapeutics that can deal with Lyme disease, especially if it is missed in the beginning from a tick bite.

Madam Speaker, the second bill has to do with ending neglected tropical diseases, another one of my bills that just passed this House on December 3.

We know for a fact that 1.4 billion people are walking around with horrific worms and parasites which, terribly, cause death, but also there is a great deal of morbidity attached to it.

Thankfully, this legislation has that bill in its entirety in it, so there is no need to worry about the Senate taking up this bill. It will become law, and I am thankful for that.

I had a number of hearings on neglected tropical diseases in Africa and other places, particularly where there is a warm environment. People are walking around with parasites. They are walking around with dengue and all of the other diseases, so I am very grateful for both of those bills.

Mrs. LOWEY. Madam Speaker, I am pleased to yield 1 minute to the gentlewoman from California (Ms. LEE), a senior member of the Appropriations Committee.

Ms. LEE of California. Madam Speaker, let me thank Chairwoman LOWEY for yielding, but also for her tremendous and tireless work, day and night, on behalf of the American people, and also our ranking member, KAY GRANGER, for her leadership.

I rise in strong support of this domestic and foreign assistance appropriations bill. First, as a member of the Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies Subcommittee and also the Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies Subcommittee, I am really pleased to see such a comprehensive bill that strongly invests in our rural and our urban communities.

For example, there is $266 million for the new Ending HIV initiative. This is new funding. We have an increase of $42 million to historically Black colleges and universities and a $19 million increase to Hispanic-serving institutions. These institutions help improve the higher education of our students of color; also, an increase in the Healthy Food Financing Initiative and the College Hunger Initiative, which this bill addresses.

It also includes $65 million for the Education Innovation Research grants for computer science for young girls and students of color and $20 million for Special Olympics education programs, which the President's budget initially proposed to eliminate.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The time of the gentlewoman has expired.

Mrs. LOWEY. Madam Speaker, I yield the gentlewoman an additional 10 seconds.

Ms. LEE of California. Madam Speaker, I also want to thank our chair of the State, Foreign Operations, and Related Programs Subcommittee for the increase for our international AIDS program and for the Global Fund.

Ms. GRANGER. Madam Speaker, I yield 2 minutes the gentlewoman from Puerto Rico (Miss GONZÁLEZ-COLÓN).

Miss GONZÁLEZ-COLÓN of Puerto Rico. Madam Speaker, I thank Ranking Member GRANGER for this opportunity, and I appreciate the hard work and bipartisan work that the gentlewoman, Chairwoman LOWEY, and the leadership have put together to make this bill a reality.

I rise in strong support of the spending package for fiscal year 2020 because it includes several provisions that directly impact 3.2 million citizens living in Puerto Rico by providing funding for the Nutritional Assistance Program, as well as the Puerto Rico Air National Guard projects, and the Army Corps of Engineers, among others.

I am especially pleased that the agreement provides 2-year funding for the island's Medicaid program. The funding levels included in the bill will give certainty to the 1.1 million beneficiaries who rely on this program to meet their healthcare needs, as well as to put into effect several critical sustainability measures designed to enhance the provision of healthcare. This guarantee of funding for the next 2 years constitutes an important step towards correcting the problems arising from the chronic underfunding of the program.

I look forward to continuing this conversation for a long-term solution that guarantees citizens in Puerto Rico a standard of healthcare that we can expect from a nation as great as ours.

Mrs. LOWEY. Madam Speaker, I yield 1 minute to the distinguished gentlewoman from California (Ms. PELOSI), who is an appropriator. She is and has been valuable in our discussions of this bill and getting the completion of these bills in an orderly and timely way.

Ms. PELOSI. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding in a very gracious and generous way. More importantly, I want to thank her for her tremendous leadership as chair of the Appropriations Committee to bring a bill to the floor that has shared values, meeting the needs of the American people. And I want to commend Ranking Member KAY GRANGER for her leadership, as well, so that we can have strong, bipartisan support in meeting the needs of the American people.

I congratulate Madam Chair for getting all of our bills done this summer. The gentlewoman worked around the clock and across the aisle to overcome any opposition and to craft a strong appropriation package that we are bringing to the floor.

As the gentlewoman mentioned, I am an appropriator, and when I served on committee I had always said to the administration and to others: When left to their own devices, our appropriators can get the job done. They have experience in working in a bipartisan way, they understand everyone's concerns, regional needs, and the rest, and that we must by the clock get the job done. I thank the gentlewoman for doing that and making today possible.

Madam Speaker, this weekend I was pleased to join a bipartisan delegation to observe the 75th anniversary of the Battle of the Bulge. We spent time in Luxembourg and in Belgium where so much of that conflict took place. We met with the leaders of the community, the king, the queen, and the archduke; and that was all wonderful.

But what was really important, and the purpose of our visit was to meet with our own veterans—now 75 years later, who are revisiting the site—and to thank them, to hear their ongoing stories, and to hear their purpose in fighting.

Some of them were as young as 18 years old at the Battle of the Bulge. Do the math. They are in their nineties. One of them told me he was 20, and one was 21. The oldest one is 98 years old now. But all of them were full of vitality and concern about our country as we go forward. We promised them in a tribute to their courage, their determination, and their patriotism that we know that our responsibility is to build a future worthy of their sacrifice and that we also want to always be ready to meet the needs of our men and women in uniform today as they protect and defend democracy and freedom as our valiant veterans did 75 years ago.

Mr. CONAWAY was with us on that trip—a very valued leader on that trip—and I think you will agree, Madam Speaker, that America was truly blessed by the courage of our veterans then and now.

So I am glad that in this legislation we meet the needs of those who are providing for our defense and the security of our country to make us the home of the brave and the land of the free.

I do believe that our success on this legislation began when working together we were able to come to an agreement on the caps in funding to make sure that although we obviously all support our national security, we want to be sure that people understood that we measure the strength of America not just in our military might but in the health, education, and well-being of the American people, and this part of the legislation does just that.

We will vote on the earlier part and now on the part that deals with, shall we say, the health and well-being of the American people. With this agreement we are investing in the good health of the American people. We are protecting the quality of affordable healthcare of millions as we permanently repeal healthcare taxes and block the President's ACA sabotage nuclear options by preventing him from ending silver loading and auto re-enrollment.

At the same time we are investing in innovation and the future of healthcare with robust funding for the National Institutes of Health that our distinguished colleague, Mr. SMITH of New Jersey, mentioned, we continue our leadership to combat the opioid epidemic, and we honor our responsibility to our fellow Americans in Puerto Rico and the other territories.

Of course, we want more, and, of course, we need to get more at some point. But for now we are very pleased with the fact that we have 2 years' adequate funding to go forward. Again, I look forward to preparing further into the future.

While this legislation does not contain permanent fixes for everything, we are proud that it lays the groundwork for further progress to end the financial catastrophe of surprise billing, to lower prescription drug costs, and to extend robust funding for key health initiatives.

This appropriations package also achieves critical victories for, as I mentioned, our national security and the economic security of the American people. Our appropriations legislation makes America safer at home by funding gun violence research at the CDC and the National Institutes of Health for the first time in more than 20 years; and funding election security grants to protect against foreign attack which the minority, the Republicans, then the majority, refused to do last year.

These bills make workers and families stronger by protecting the pensions of 100,000 coal miners; reauthorizing the job-creating Export-Import Bank; extending the National Flood Insurance Program; protecting schools, small businesses, and other pillars of communities, as well as commercial interests by reauthorizing the Terrorism Risk Insurance Program and doing so in a timely fashion; extending key tax provisions through 2020 that encourage investments in clean energy, provide relief for families recovering from disasters, support investment in low-income communities with the low-income housing tax credit, and protect families facing high medical costs for the loss of home to foreclosure.

Again, this is very personal. People always talk about coming to Washington and having a seat at the table. The most important seat at the table for us is the seat at America's kitchen table where people talk about their plans for the future and how they intend to meet their financial obligations, whether it is the education of their children, the mortgage on their house, their medical expenses, or providing for their own pension future.

Personally and officially, I am proud that this legislation takes strong action to advance the health and well-being of America's children. The three most important issues, in my view, facing the Congress are the well-being of our children, our children, our children; strengthening Family First Prevention Services; securing record funding levels for Head Start, Child Care and Development Block Grants, and Title I schools; and extending funding for thousands of schools in rural communities across 41 States because there is no better investment that Congress can make than an investment in the education of our children.

By the way, there is nothing that we can do that brings more resources to the Federal Treasury than investing in education: early childhood, K-12, higher education, and lifetime learning training for our workers.

I also want to acknowledge the important investment that this legislation does in IDEA, meeting the needs of our children with additional challenges.

In this House our title and job description are one and the same: Representative. Today we must pass this legislation so that we can meet the needs of the people whom we are privileged to represent. I know that this is going to be a strong, bipartisan vote, and I think that is a very good thing for the health, the economic security, and the well-being of the American people.

I am grateful to Ranking Member GRANGER, Chairwoman LOWEY, and all of the leadership of our subcommittees who made this successful day possible for us.

Madam Speaker, I urge a strong, bipartisan vote on minibus 1 and minibus 2, and, again, a great victory for our children, our children, our children.

Ms. GRANGER. Madam Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time to close.

Madam Speaker, this is a strong conservative package that provides the President with the funding and authority he needs. I look forward to passing these bills through the House and Senate and getting them to the President's desk for his signature before time runs out on Friday.

Madam Speaker, before I close, I want to give a special thanks to my staff director, Anne Marie Chotvacs, for her tireless work and leadership throughout the process. Her wisdom and guidance have been invaluable to me and all the committee members.

Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues to join me in voting in favor of these bills, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mrs. LOWEY. Madam Speaker, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Madam Speaker, as we close debate on this important package, I want to thank the many hardworking staff who made this possible. While there are too many to name them all, many thanks to my staff at the State, Foreign Operations, and Related Programs Subcommittee; my entire committee staff led by Staff Director Shalanda Young, Deputy Staff Director Chris Bigelow, and to the minority staff as well. To the extraordinary staff in my congressional office, I want to express my appreciation because it is teamwork that brought us to this point.

Madam Speaker, I urge support for the bill, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. JACKSON LEE. Madam Speaker, I rise in strong support of the House Amendment to Senate Amendment to H.R. 1865, which makes the consolidated appropriations needed to fund critical departments, agencies, and programs of the federal government through September 30, 2020.

I thank Chairman LOWEY, Ranking Member GRANGER, and their fellow House conferees for their work in reaching this bipartisan agreement.

Specifically, this legislation provides $540.4 billion and reflects conference agreements for the FY 2020 Labor-Health and Human Services-Education, Agriculture-Rural Development-Food and Drug Administration, Energy and Water Development, Interior-Environment, Legislative Branch, Military Construction-Veterans Affairs State-Foreign Operations, and Transportation-Housing and Urban Development appropriations bills.

Madam Speaker, in total this appropriations package provides:

1. $35.9 billion in base defense funding;
2. $484.5 billion in base nondefense funding;
3. $0.6 billion for defense Overseas Contingency Operations;
4. $8 billion for nondefense OCO;
5. $6.2 billion for defense emergency requirements;
6. $4.6 billion for nondefense emergency requirements, program integrity, and wildfire suppression; and
7. $0.6 billion for 21st Century Cures Act funding.

I appreciate the Appropriations Committee working with me to include the following Jackson Lee Amendments in the legislation:

LABOR-HHS

1. Amendment reprogramming $10,000,000 to support greater diversity in the pool of diabetes research professionals and patients participating in clinical trials.
2. Amendment reprogramming $10,000,000 to support programs providing outreach and support services targeting college students at greatest risk of not completing a college degree.

STATE AND FOREIGN OPERATIONS

3. Amendment reprogramming $1,000,000 to combat the practice of Female Genital Mutilation.
4. Amendment reprogramming $1,000,000 to combat the poaching and trafficking of endangered species.

AGRICULTURE

5. Amendment increasing funding by $2,000,000 for the USDA agency that provides grant research funding for "1890s Land Grant Universities," which are 19 Historically Black Colleges and Universities.

T-HUD

6. Amendment reprograms $10,000,000 to support urban bicycle and pedestrian safety programs financed through the National Infrastructure Investments account.

7. Amendment reprograms Office of Inspector General account to provide $2 million to investigate the Department's delay in releasing over $5 billion in Hurricane Harvey Disaster Community Block Grant funds.

Madam Speaker, left to our own devices, House Democrats clearly could and would have made many different and better funding decisions, but this agreement is the best deal attainable in the circumstances, and importantly, it responsibly funds the government for the remainder of the fiscal year.

Coming from a border state, I am very pleased that this legislation does not provide the President the billions of dollars he demanded for a wasteful, ineffective, and immoral concrete wall.

Madam Speaker, the bipartisan agreement before us rejects the Trump Administration's attacks on the environment by blocking the Administration's deep cuts to initiatives to protect clean water, clean air and public lands and it invests more than $9 billion in the EPA and Land and Water Conservation Fund.

The agreement reinforces and strengthens America's global leadership by rejecting the Trump Administration's radical cuts and securing $9.1 billion in security assistance for allies, including $3.03 billion for Israel, $5.9 billion for PEPFAR and $1.7 billion for the Food for Peace program.

Madam Speaker, I would like to draw particular attention to provisions in the consolidated appropriations conference report that are of special interest to my congressional district.

Madam Speaker, shutting down the Government of the United States, or any portion thereof, is not an acceptable tactic or strategy for resolving differences regarding policy, funding levels, or governing philosophy. It should never happen.

And that begins with an overwhelming majority vote in support of the House Amendment to Senate Amendment to H.R. 1865.

Mr. RICE of South Carolina. Madam Speaker, I rise today to clarify the intent of Section 205 of this amendment and thank you for including my 60 day disaster relief extension in the House Amendment to the Senate Amendment to H.R. 1865—Further Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2020, although I cannot support this bill in its final form.

The language of Sec. 205 of the House Amendment to the Senate Amendment to H.R. 1865—Further Consolidated Appropriations Act of 2020 was originally introduced in my bill, H.R. 3287—Tax Relief and Expedited Assistance for Disasters Act of 2019 (TREAD Act). This provision provides disaster related tax relief to those who are victims of a natural disaster. Specifically, this provision allows for people to receive a 60 day extension to file their taxes if there is a federally declared disaster. I want to clarify that this extension is not limited to the current Internal Revenue Service (IRS) policy of extending by a declaration for FEMA Individual Assistance or FEMA Public Assistance, but may be triggered by any federal assistance under the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act, as amended, and Related Authorities as of August 2016. This would include Technical Assistance to State and Local Governments for Effective Warnings or any assistance outlined in Section 202 of the Stafford Act. Additionally, this provision does not prevent the IRS from extending this tax relief beyond 60 days.

Thank you again for including this common sense provision to assist disaster relief victims.

Mr. CARTER of Texas. Madam Speaker, I rise to express my support for the Military Construction, Veterans Affairs, and Related Agencies Appropriations bill, 2020, as it is included in H.R. 1865.

The bill includes a total of $11.315 billion for military construction projects and military family housing. This is $1.05 billion above the FY19 enacted level and includes $1.045 billion in funding for the Services' unfunded priority projects.

At the Subcommittee's first hearing for the FY20 appropriations cycle in February 2019, we heard from the Senior Enlisted leader in each Service. Each of them testified about the need to ensure clean, safe and quality housing and childcare facilities for Servicemembers and their families. I'm pleased this bill maintains the additional $141 million included in the House-passed bill to help the Services improve oversight of privatized military housing, as well as the additional $33 million for the Services to speed up planning and design for childcare centers where they are most urgently needed.

The bill includes a total of $233 million for the Energy Conservation and Infrastructure Resilience Initiative. With this funding, the bill funds 7 projects on the Services' unfunded priority list. The bill also includes nearly $400 million in the Base Closure account to clean up former military installations. Some of these installations have PFOS/PFOA contamination in their drinking water supplies. The bill provides an additional $60 million for cleanup efforts.

I am thrilled to mention that the bill provides a total of $67 million for urgent projects at Fort Hood. This includes $32 million for a new barracks; $18.5 million for a vehicle bridge; and $16.5 million for the Central Energy Plant. This is good news for the home of the Army's premier heavy armor units and good news for the surrounding communities. We have a lot to do to reinvest in Fort Hood and its soldiers, civilians and families. I am already looking forward to continuing this effort next year.

For the Department of Veterans Affairs, the bill provides a total of $92 million for Veterans programs. Recognizing the scourge of Veteran suicides, the bill includes $9.4 billion, an increase of $20 million above the budget request, for mental health and suicide prevention programs. It also includes $800 million for medical and prosthetic research, an increase of $21 million above FY19, and for the first time carves out a specific amount of funding ($585 million) for women Veterans' health care.

The bill provides a total of $15.3 billion to fully fund implementation of the MISSION Act (Medical Community Care) and includes funding to provide for Veterans now eligible for benefits and care under the Blue Water Navy Vietnam Veterans Act. The bill provides $1.5 billion for VA to continue to develop an interoperable electronic health record system and maintains the strong reporting and oversight guidelines to ensure the efforts stays on track and on budget. It also includes a new provision that limits VA's research that uses canines, felines, and non-human primates.

The bill includes funding for four agencies that provide a unique and important service to the Nation's Veterans. They are the American Battle Monuments Commission, the Army's National Military Cemeteries and Arlington National Cemetery, the Armed Forces Retirement Home, and the Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims. While the allocation would not permit significant funding increases for these agencies, the Subcommittee does continue to support their unique missions. It is fair to say the Subcommittee strongly support Arlington National Cemetery and its Southern Expansion. We firmly believe the Cemetery must remain available into the 2050 timeframe to serve Veterans.

Importantly, the bill provides more than $6.22 billion in emergency funding to repair damage from earthquakes, flooding, hurricanes, and tornadoes that affected military installations in 2018 and 2019. China Lake Naval Weapons Station, Camp Lejeune, and Tyndall and Offutt Air Force Bases sustained significant damage in these storms. Without this funding, our national security will suffer as these installations are struggling to fully execute their missions.

In closing, I would like to thank the Subcommittee's Chairwoman for her commitment to our bill and her willingness to work across party and regional lines. I also extend my great appreciation to the Subcommittee's majority staff, Matt Washington, Sarah Young, Jenny Hollrah, Nicole Cohen, and Keihysha Cenord, as well as the Subcommittee's minority staff, Betsy Bina and Kiya Batmanglij, for their expertise, generosity, and support for America's Servicemen and women and our Nation's Veterans.

I urge my colleagues to support this bill.
