HONORING LARRY SLY

HON. MIKE THOMPSON

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, February 4, 2020

Mr. THOMPSON of California. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor Larry Sly for over four decades of service to our community and to celebrate his retirement from the Food Bank of Contra Costa and Solano.

Mr. Sly began his work with the Food Bank after graduating from the University of California Berkeley. He accepted a job as a truck driver for the then newly formed Food Bank of Contra Costa and Solano. In just three years, he became the organization's Executive Director. Since that time, he has been instrumental in the development and growth of the Food Bank's mission and success. When he became Executive Director, the Food Bank was distributing just 36,000 pounds of food per year from parking lots and churches. 40 years later and due to Mr. Sly's devoted service and leadership, the Food Bank now distributes 25 million pounds of food each year to our community.

Mr. Sly served as Vice Chair of the Board of Directors of Feeding America, the national food bank network, and on the National Council, an elected group of food bank leaders who serve as the voice of the network for Feeding America. He has also served on the Board of Directors of the California Association of Food Banks, and now chairs the Emergency Food and Shelter Board that works to allocate federal funds to hunger and shelter agencies in Contra Costa County. He has served on State Advisory Committees on hunger and has been appointed to several task forces for Feeding America. His commitment to nourishing our community is truly unprecedented and we are grateful for his many contributions.

Madam Speaker, Mr. Sly is the kind of citizen we should all strive to be. His incredible work and leadership have served countless people in our community. It is therefore fitting and proper that we honor him here today.

IOWAN OF THE WEEK—KRISTI MYERS

HON. CYNTHIA AXNE

OF IOWA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, February 4, 2020

Mrs. AXNE. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor Kristi Myers from Des Moines on this year's World Cancer Day.

Kristi is the mom of a smart and talented daughter, Audrey, and the wife of a wonderful partner, Dan. She works as a high school English teacher at Central Academy, and I hear she's a student favorite. Kristi is forever a Chicago Cubs fan, which speaks to her constant optimism. Kristi is a beautiful soul with a generous heart.

And Kristi is another thing—a cancer survivor. She's fought and beaten cancer three times, and she is supported by her community making sure she'll be a fourth-time survivor. She's survived Hodgkin's lymphoma, a brain tumor, breast cancer, and is now fighting a second brain tumor. I am in awe of Kristi's strength, and the love and support of her family, to stand up to cancer four times over. On this World Cancer Day, I want to honor Kristi's fighting spirit, thank her family and our community who have helped support her, and make sure that we remember all those who have cancer on this day.

Cancer doesn't know age or gender; it doesn't care about your race or how much money you have. When someone is diagnosed with cancer, it impacts us all. Everyone in Iowa knows someone with cancer, and that's why I'm committed to providing research and development funding for all types of cancer—across the board. As a mom, I'm committed to making sure that moms across Iowa have a fighting chance.

Kristi, and all cancer fighters in Iowa, need our support. Today, on World Cancer Day, it is important we remember that cancer affects us all. I'll keep fighting for more funding and research, and I know that Kristi will keep fighting too.
