

recent decades, the number of women pursuing breast reconstruction has continued to increase. In 2019 alone, 107,238 breast reconstructive procedures were performed in the United States—a 36 percent increase since 2000 when 78,832 procedures were performed. Post-mastectomy breast reconstruction is now universally recognized as a gold standard component of comprehensive breast cancer treatment. Breast reconstruction has been proven to significantly improve a woman's psychological and physical well-being, providing self-assurance, and affording women a new beginning.

The final stage of breast reconstruction surgery is to the nipple-areolar complex. This results in fully restoring the breast to a natural, symmetric appearance. This is achieved by a combination of tattooing with or without the addition of a surgical procedure to create a nipple. At times, tattooing is the only option for nipple-areolar reconstruction in patients that may have damaged tissue due to radiation therapy or simply want to avoid an additional surgical procedure. Most commonly, nipple-areolar tattooing is performed in a surgeon's office if a woman selects to have tattooing performed, which is not always the case. However, plastic and reconstructive surgeons are increasingly recognizing that professional tattoo artists can achieve superior results, including an impressively realistic 3-D nipple-areola complex tattoo. The price of tattooing can start at approximately $400 for a single breast and reach as high as $1,000 for both breasts.

Greater standardization of insurance coverage for nipple-areolar reconstruction across insurance carriers is needed. In order to achieve this consistency, we need to amend the Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998 (WHCRA), within the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974. Further, we need to enhance the requirements for Medicare and Medicaid through the Social Security Act to protect a woman's right to comprehensive breast reconstruction, including nipple-areola complex tattooing.

My bill will:

Amend the Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998 (WHCRA) to state that nipple-areola complex tattooing is medical necessary and is a part of breast reconstruction;

Amend the Social Security Act to require Medicare to follow the Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998;

Amend the Social Security Act to add licensed tattoo artists to the list of Medicare providers; and Amend the Social Security Act to require Medicaid to add nipple-areola complex tattooing (as medically necessary) to the list of required services each State must offer relating to breast cancer reconstruction.

Madam Speaker, as you know, breast cancer can affect not only a woman's physical well-being, but also her psychological well-being. Considering the significant role psychological factors can play in patients' overall well-being, it is essential that comprehensive breast reconstruction, including nipple-areola complex tattooing be required coverage by group health insurance companies, Medicare, and Medicaid.

I urge my colleagues to assist women in their fight against breast cancer by supporting this important legislation.

TRIBUTE TO MIKE BAKER

HON. HAROLD ROGERS

OF KENTUCKY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 9, 2020

Mr. ROGERS of Kentucky. Madam Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Mike Baker who recently retired as Clay County Clerk after nearly a decade of service to the people of Clay County who elected him to that role in 2010.

Mike's heart for public service was inspired by his aunt, Florence Baker who also served as Clay County Clerk. In fact, his first job in public service was under her watch, when he started working as her Deputy Clerk at the young age of 19. It was a role he thrived in and maintained under the administration of three other county clerks, encompassing a total of 38 years of service in the Clay County Clerk's office.

Outside of the Clerk's office, Mike and his wife, Linda have been faithful stewards to the community through various philanthropic efforts. Together, they have collected thousands of Christmas Shoeboxes for Samaritan's Purse, filled with gifts for less fortunate children around the world. Mike has also partnered with the Manchester Baptist Church and Blanket America to collect and distribute more than 10,000 coats for the people of Kentucky's Appalachian region who are most in need during winter months.

As he begins a new chapter of life, I wish Mike many wonderful years of retirement with his family.
