

Hawthorne Lathrop who nursed cancer patients in New York City in the late 1800s before founding the Dominican Sisters of Hawthorne. The hospice home in Saint Paul was the furthest west out of all six homes and took shape during a globally perilous time in history as World War II was waging in Europe. Nevertheless, the grand opening for Our Lady of Good Counsel's home in Saint Paul was set, and they opened their doors on December 7, 1941—a day that would live in infamy for the attack on Pearl Harbor that would launch the United States into the war.

From that day onward, the sisters and other volunteers at the home have provided compassionate care for terminally ill patients while bringing comfort and support to their loved ones. Though the modern practice of hospice care was not introduced until the late 1960's, the Dominican Sisters of Hawthorne had been quietly providing hospice care for decades. Throughout those first few decades of service, Our Lady of Good Counsel depended entirely on donations of goods, money, time, and service, and they never accepted payment from patients, families, insurance companies or the government. Today they still rely heavily on volunteers and donations to cover any costs not covered by Medicare payments in order to ensure a free service to patients and families. In 1980 they were able to replace the old Tri-State Telephone Company building in which they were founded with a brand-new building. The new building included a chapel, central courtyard with gardens and a fountain, and two floors for patient rooms; expanding their capacity to the twenty-one beds that remain today.

The turn of the century marked a period of expansion and transition for the organization. In the early 2000's they introduced an official hospice program which allowed them to provide end-of-life care outside of their residential facility and serve people in their homes throughout the entire 7-county metro area in Minnesota. They also established the Home Health Care program which provides in-home help with daily living, post-operative care and other therapies. They are also affiliated with the Highland Block Nurse Program which is funded in part by Title III of the Older Americans Act and provides a variety of services for older adults and their caregivers in the Highland Park neighborhood in St. Paul. In 2009 the operation of the home was transitioned to the St. Paul-based Franciscan Health Community, and two years later the home was officially renamed "Our Lady of Peace."

Led by President & CEO Joe Stanislav, Our Lady of Peace is served today by four Franciscan Clarist nuns and employs over 130 workers including chaplains, social workers, nurses and a full-time physician. And despite their ties to the church as a Catholic non-profit organization they serve patients from all religious or non-religious backgrounds and walks of life. For 80 years they have upheld their mission to gently comfort and care for those most in need near the end of their lives, wherever they call home, regardless of means. Madam Speaker, please join me in recognizing Our Lady of Peace's benevolent and dedicated staff and volunteers—as well as the patients and families they serve—on their 80th anniversary of service.

HONORING THE LIFE OF MÓNICA
CRIADO-CUEVAS

HON. JIM COSTA

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, December 30, 2021

Mr. COSTA. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the life of Mónica Criado-Cuevas. Mónica passed away on December 13, 2021. She was an inspiring woman, mother, mentor, wife, and cultural figure.

Mónica was born on February 5, 1967 in Fresno, California, where she was raised. Mónica was brought up from humble beginnings. Her parents worked as seasonal farmworkers, and she herself took on the same responsibility to support her family. This was no small feat for Mónica. While working to become the first individual to ever graduate in her family, she worked long hours picking oranges, peaches, and grapes. Mónica persevered and went on to earn her bachelor's degree at Fresno State and her master's degree from National University.

Mónica worked for State Center Community College District for 23 years and became the Dean of Student Services and Counseling at Fresno City College, where she will be remembered for her care, kindness and commitment to the students and faculty. Mónica was a beacon of light for many students that came from similar circumstances as herself. Her ability to recognize and understand the challenges that presented themselves in those students' lives allowed her to help them overcome their obstacles more effectively. She was adored by her students. In 2019, Mónica was inducted into the Muro de Honor (Wall of Honor) for accomplished district alumni.

Mónica's excellence extended far beyond her profession. She was a prominent cultural figure in the Latino community. Mónica served as president of the Latino Educational Issues Roundtable and was secretary of the Hispanic Serving Institution Consortium of the San Joaquin Valley. Her heritage was captured vividly in her love for Folkloric dance, which she developed a deep passion for at a very early age. Mónica would put audiences in awe while perfectly executing elaborate traditional dances at charitable events and gatherings.

Mónica will be remembered for her profound impact on the lives of those she came across. It was her kindness, care, and charisma that allowed her to touch the hearts of everyone around her. We send out our thoughts and prayers to her family. She is survived by her mother, Alicia Criado; her sister Leticia Montes; children Michael, Matthew, and Miranda; and two granddaughters.

Madam Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in honoring the life of Mónica Cuevas. Her service and contributions to the city of Fresno will be missed dearly. I join her family and friends in celebrating Mónica's life.

HONORING 50 YEARS OF ALLIGATOR RECORDS

HON. JANICE D. SCHAKOWSKY

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, December 30, 2021

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Madam Speaker, I rise today along with my colleagues, Congressman CHUY GARCÍA, Congressman CASTEN, Congressman KRISHNAMOORTHY, Congressman KINZINGER, Congresswoman ROBIN KELLY, Congressman SCHNEIDER, Congresswoman BUSTOS, Congressman RUSH, Congresswoman MARIE NEWMAN, Congressman BILL FOSTER, Congresswoman UNDERWOOD, and Congressman QUIGLEY, to honor the 50th anniversary of Alligator Records.

Chicago blues music has its roots deep in the Mississippi Delta and was carried north in the Great Migration of 1916 through 1970 by the millions of African Americans who migrated to northern industrial cities in search of good jobs and to escape from Jim Crow racism.

Chicago's blues community nurtured thousands of musicians and dozens of record labels, and the city became the world capital of blues and eventually gave birth to Alligator

Records and the rich, soulful Chicago blues heritage and culture that we know and love today.

With nothing but his love of the blues and entrepreneurial spirit, Bruce Iglauer founded Alligator Records in 1971 at the age of 23, using all his savings to record his favorite Chicago blues band, Hound Dog Taylor and the HouseRockers, although the band had no national presence, no booking agent, no manager, no publicist, and played almost entirely in tiny neighborhood clubs on the South and West Sides of Chicago.

Beginning with this one album, Iglauer built a blues record label that is now celebrating its 50th birthday.

Today, Alligator Records is the largest independent blues label in the world, with over 350 albums and an artist roster that ranges in age from 22 to 78, and has won three Grammy Awards and an astonishing 48 nominations, as well as over 150 Blues Music Awards and over 115 Living Blues Awards.

Alligator Records has been a driving force in support of Chicago blues and blues music worldwide, and a glowing example of our country's rich tradition of musical and entrepreneurial spirit. Now, my colleagues in the House of Representatives and I honor Alligator Records on 50 years of business and celebrates the American cultural legacy of Chicago blues music.

Together we urge the United States Government to take all necessary steps to preserve and advance the art form of Chicago blues music; recommit itself to ensuring that recording labels like Alligator Records and their artists receive fair protection under the copyright laws of the United States for their contributions to culture in the United States; and reaffirm the status of Chicago blues as a unique national treasure.
