The SPEAKER. The Clerk will notify the Governor of the State of New York of the action of the House.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Mr. CRAWFORD. Mr. Speaker, I was unable to attend votes today due to a previously scheduled family commitment. Had I been present, I would have voted "yea" on rollcall No. 690 and "yea" on rollcall No. 691.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. Under clause 5(d) of rule XX, the Chair announces to the House that, in light of the expulsion of the gentleman from New York (Mr. SANTOS), the whole number of the House is 434.

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that when the House adjourns today, it adjourn to meet on Monday next, when it shall convene at noon for morning-hour debate and 2 p.m. for legislative business.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. NUNN of Iowa). Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from New Jersey?

There was no objection.

MOMENT OF SILENCE HONORING THE LIFE AND LEGACY OF JUSTICE SANDRA DAY O'CONNOR

(Mr. STANTON asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. STANTON. Mr. Speaker, this morning, we lost one of our greatest Americans, and today, I rise along with my colleagues representing all of Arizona, Republicans and Democrats alike, to honor the life and legacy of the most influential Arizonan in history, Justice Sandra Day O'Connor, who passed away this morning at the age of 93.

Justice O'Connor spent her life breaking down barriers in pursuit of a more just society. She blazed every trail she set foot on, defying the odds stacked against women in the legal profession to rise to become Arizona's assistant attorney general, our first female majority leader in the State senate, Maricopa County Superior Court judge, and, ultimately, the first female Justice on the United States Supreme Court.

She brought her Arizona brand of pragmatism and independence with her to the Supreme Court and was often the swing vote on deeply consequential decisions.

In the years since her retirement from the Supreme Court, I have admired her steadfast commitment to preserving our democracy through objective, fact-based, and collaborative civil discourse through her creation of the Sandra Day O'Connor Institute and, of course, through the Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law at Arizona State University.

Her work will inspire future generations to follow her example to become engaged and thoughtful civil participants.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentlewoman from Arizona (Mrs. LESKO).

Mrs. LESKO. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding, and I thank our colleagues for standing in respect of a great woman. She was not only a great woman from Arizona but a great woman and trailblazer for all women across America.

As was said, she was the first female majority leader to serve in the Arizona Senate. She went on to be the first woman to serve as a Supreme Court Justice. She stood up for truth. She stood up for justice. She was not only a wonderful woman and representative of Arizona but a wonderful American.

We are saddened by her passing, but she set the trail for all of us women. She was a great Republican, a great American, and we praise her each and every day.

Mr. STANTON. Mr. Speaker, I ask the House to join me in a moment of silence.

CELEBRATING RUTH SELLERS' 100TH BIRTHDAY

(Mr. McCLINTOCK asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. McCLINTOCK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to wish a happy 100th birthday to Ruth Sellers of Mariposa, although the general consensus is she is really in her midfifties. Skeptical or not, the town is going to celebrate with her tomorrow. From our Nation's Capital, I want to join them to express our love and respect.

An Army brat, she spent her youth in prewar China and the Philippines. In the war, when she wasn't Rosie the Riveter at the Newport shipyard, she was a USO volunteer, where she met her husband, Earl.

After a successful career at IBM, she retired to Mariposa in 1986 and has since been a terrifyingly inexhaustible force of nature in so many community endeavors it would take an hour to catalog.

She will be celebrating many more birthdays in the year ahead, and Mariposa will be better for it.

Happy birthday, Ruth.

PROMOTING PIPELINE SAFETY

(Mr. PAYNE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. PAYNE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to discuss the bipartisan efforts to make our Nation's pipeline network safer.

Recently, the House Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure introduced the Promoting Innovation in Pipeline Efficiency and Safety Act, or PIPES Act, of 2023. This bill would help secure 2.6 million miles of pipelines that carry natural gas and petroleum to communities nationwide.

It would allow the Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration to hire more workers to monitor pipeline safety and create proper protections to regulate carbon dioxide pipelines more efficiently. Also, it would promote more methods to contain greenhouse gases.

In addition, the bill would make it easier for historically Black colleges and universities and other minority-serving institutions to educate and develop the next generation of pipeline safety professionals.

As the ranking member of the Railroads, Pipelines, and Hazardous Materials Subcommittee, I applaud my colleagues from both parties for creating a bill that works for the American people.

ADDRESSING RED TAPE FOR MEDICARE ENROLLMENT

(Mrs. KIM of California asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. KIM of California. Mr. Speaker, under current law, American seniors who defer enrollment in Medicare may find themselves hit with higher fees due to late enrollment charges. Permanently raising seniors' healthcare premiums for delaying Medicare enrollment only hurts seniors who are already struggling on fixed incomes.

That is why I helped introduce the Medicare Economic Security Solutions Act. This is a bipartisan bill to cap these fees and address red tape for seniors enrolling in Medicare.

As someone who is approaching the eligibility age myself—believe it or not—protecting the benefits our seniors have earned is personal to me.

I am proud to help lead this bipartisan and commonsense bill that would lower costs for my constituents. I urge my colleagues to join me on this bill.

HONORING DR. ALZO J. REDDICK

(Mr. FROST asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. FROST. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to celebrate and honor one of Orlando's legends, the first Black man hired to teach at Winter Park High School, the first Black administrator at Rollins College, the first Black man from Orlando who was elected to the State legislature since Reconstruction, the first Black chairman of the Orange County Democratic Executive Committee, and the first Black legislator to pass two constitutional amendments—Dr. Alzo J. Reddick.

A son of central Florida, Dr. Reddick has been a tried and true tireless leader for our Orlando community and, importantly, for the advancement of our Black and Brown people, and folks across the entire country.

He was on the forefront of the fight to uplift the working class and poor folks of our community, to extend educational opportunities to students from all walks of life, and to create a world where our community knows peace, equity, and equality. Dr. Reddick paved the way for legislators like me to be where we are today.

Today, I thank him and honor him for all the work he has done for every single Floridian.

CONGRATULATING WILLIAM "LOU" REED

(Mr. CARTER of Georgia asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CARTER of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to congratulate William "Lou" Reed on being named Rincon's new fire chief.

Reed started with the Rincon Fire Department in November of 2011 and has served as a firefighter, an engineer, and a captain.

Lou was appointed to be the Rincon fire chief on September 11 after having led the department on an interim basis for 20 months.

He recently received a bachelor's degree in fire administration and is working toward a master's degree in public health administration.

As the new chief, he has already created goals to reduce the number of fires and fire-related deaths by analyzing response data, providing safety education programs to residents, and enforcing State and local fire prevention codes.

Lou has already shown he has the skills of a true leader. I am excited to see what he accomplishes further as the new Rincon fire chief.

A RISE IN ANTI-SEMITISM

(Mr. GARAMENDI asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GARAMENDI. Mr. Speaker, today I rise in support of Senator SCHUMER's address on anti-Semitism in the Senate.

I echo Senator SCHUMER's concerns. Anti-Semitism is on the rise in our country, and it is simply unacceptable.

As Americans, we have the responsibility to condemn bigotry and hate in all of its forms, including anti-Semitism.

To quote my friend and colleague in the Senate, "We are stewards of the flames of liberty, tolerance, and equality that warm our American melting pot, and make it possible for Jewish Americans to prosper alongside Palestinian Americans, and every other immigrant group from all over the world."

I thank Senator SCHUMER for his powerful words. As we watch the events abroad and here at home unfold, I urge Americans to remember that our shared humanity, commitment to equality, and tolerance are our greatest strengths.

Mr. Speaker, I include in the RECORD Senator SCHUMER's remarks. <https://www.democrats.senate.gov/newsroom/press-releases/majority-leader-schumer-delivers-major-address-on-anti-semitism-on-the-senate-floor>

CONGRATULATING KIT SEKELSKY

(Mr. THOMPSON of Pennsylvania asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. THOMPSON of Pennsylvania. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize Warren County native Kit Sekelsky for her success on "Jeopardy!" In 2021, Kit won three games, taking home nearly $40,000.

Earlier this month, she had the opportunity to compete again as part of the Second Chance Tournament. The Second Chance Tournament gives champions from past seasons an opportunity to qualify for this season's Tournament of Champions. Kit was able to make it out of the quarterfinal before finishing second in the semifinal match.

While she was unable to move forward in the competition, Kit earned the elusive "Jeopardy!" champion title.

Congratulations, Kit, on this special achievement.

PAYING TRIBUTE TO ROSA PARKS

(Mr. THANEDAR asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. THANEDAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Rosa Parks, a beacon of hope during the civil rights movement.

As we mark the 68th anniversary of her historic defiance against racial segregation, we remember her decision to not give up her seat on a Montgomery bus in 1955 and how it ignited a movement that reshaped our Nation's history.

Detroit, her adopted home and final resting place, has been indelibly marked by her courage. Her spirit and resolve continue to inspire generations in Detroit to stand up against racial disparity and champion inequality.

In her honor, and in recognition of the city she loved, we must persist in our efforts to dismantle systemic racism and build a society where every individual, regardless of race, can achieve their full potential.

WYFF 70TH ANNIVERSARY

(Mr. DUNCAN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. DUNCAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today not just as a South Carolinian but also as co-chair of the Broadcasters Caucus to celebrate the 70th anniversary of WYFF News 4.

Known originally as WFBC, the station started broadcasting on December 31, 1953. The first anchor for the station was Norvin Duncan who worked for WFBC radio before joining the newly created WFBC-TV.

Channel 4 was the first broadcaster in South Carolina to televise a live game, which was a basketball game between Furman and Newberry Colleges.

By the 1970s, technology had advanced, and WYFF's staff had to increase as well to ensure accurate, timely news for upstate South Carolina, Georgia, and western North Carolina.

WYFF was also the first station in South Carolina to have an African-American anchor when Deborah Lee began anchoring "The Scene at 6."

For 70 years, WYFF news has kept the upstate informed on innumerable local events, heartwarming stories, storms, and national emergencies.

WYFF has even lost staff members in the field who were just working to keep citizens informed as storms raged. I remember specifically Mike McCormick and Aaron Smeltzer who passed away in 2018.

I thank Carol, Nigel, Jane, and the rest of the WYFF team for continuing
