RECOGNIZING NATIONAL FAMILY CAREGIVERS MONTH

(Mrs. KIGGANS of Virginia asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. KIGGANS of Virginia. Mr. Speaker, I rise today as a co-chair of the Assisting Caregivers Today, or ACT, Caucus, to recognize National Family Caregivers Month.

Every November, we bring awareness to the people who dedicate their time, money, and efforts to care for their loved ones. There are roughly 48 million family caregivers in the United States who give around-the-clock care for their family members.

On average, caregivers across the country provide nearly $600 billion in unpaid labor annually. In addition to providing these essential services unpaid, more than three in four family caregivers spend their own hard-earned money to take care of their loved ones.

These sacrifices often go unrecognized, so it is important that we, as Members of Congress, do what we can to recognize their commitment and ensure they have the resources they need.

As the only geriatric nurse-practitioner in Congress, I have seen firsthand the challenges they face and the vital services they provide. I am proud to advocate for caregivers and policies that would make their already difficult situation easier to navigate.

Today and every day, we thank those who dedicate their lives to caring for their parents, children, spouses, and other loved ones.

AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK

(Mr. DAVIS of North Carolina asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. DAVIS of North Carolina. Mr. Speaker, I rise to honor the teachers, education support professionals, family volunteers, and above all, learners at all levels.

As we celebrate American Education Week, it is essential to reflect on how education shapes our future. Education is a lifeline, especially in eastern North Carolina.

Our communities demonstrate enormous resilience and a deep commitment to the success of learners. Educators work tirelessly to create an environment where every learner can live the American Dream.

Mr. Speaker, as we celebrate American Education Week in eastern North Carolina, we are so excited to break ground today for the East Carolina University Center for Medical Education building.

Indeed, education is a pathway to personal success and building a stronger economy. We must continue to support and uplift education in America.

RECOGNIZING BRENDON GALLO

(Mrs. LESKO asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mrs. LESKO. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the person that helps my world go round, my deputy chief of staff, Brendon Gallo.

Brendon is a dedicated staffer who works tirelessly to ensure our office runs smoothly each and every day. He is committed to serving me and the constituents of Arizona's Eighth Congressional District.

Whether it is a meeting in our office, a Capitol tour, or a visit to the White House, Brendon is the guy you call to get the job done.

A graduate of NYU and a Pennsylvania native, Brendon joined my team in 2020 and has shown his commitment to public service throughout his tenure.

I cannot thank him enough for his dedication to me, our district, the State of Arizona, and the Nation. As I leave Congress, I have no doubt Brendon will go on to do great things as he continues his public service.

Mr. Speaker, I wish him nothing but the best in all of his future endeavors. I am going to miss him. God bless him.

HONORING NATIONAL RURAL HEALTH DAY

(Ms. SALINAS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. SALINAS. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize National Rural Health Day. Approximately, one-fifth of America and about one in three Oregonians lives in a rural or frontier community.

However, many rural areas do not have enough providers or facilities to meet community needs, forcing residents to travel long distances and requiring time off of work.

Your Zip Code should not prevent you from accessing potentially life-saving care. As a founding member of the Bipartisan Rural Health Caucus, I have championed several pieces of legislation that will help close these gaps and ensure rural America is not left behind.

For example, my Home-Based Telemental Health Care Act would expand access to virtual mental health and substance use treatment services in rural communities.

In addition to making it easier and cheaper for folks to see a provider, the bill would also help reduce stigma by allowing people to get care from the comfort and safety of their own homes. This is just one commonsense idea among many I have supported to expand access to healthcare in our rural communities.

As we approach the start of a new Congress, I remain committed to working with anyone on both sides of the aisle who is serious about finding solutions to the mental health and addiction crisis. Every American deserves high quality, affordable healthcare regardless of where they live.

RECOGNIZING DESSIE BEBOUT

(Ms. HAGEMAN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. HAGEMAN. Madam Speaker, I rise today to recognize the life and legacy of Dessie Bebout.

Born as the fourth of nine children and raised in the small town of Hudson, Wyoming, love of family and community quickly became guiding principles that steered the course of Dessie's life of unending service.

Following the 1941 attack on Pearl Harbor, Dessie was one of the first women to join the war effort under the newly established Women Accepted for Volunteer Emergency Service program where she took part in recording and tracking the arrival and departure of sailors to and from the Pacific fleet throughout the war.

Despite her excelling in this role and later being presented with the opportunity to participate in officer training school, Dessie chose to return to Wyoming with the love of her life, Herbert Hugh Bebout, after getting married while they were both on leave.

However, it was in 1962 that Dessie began her notable 13-year-long career at the Shoshoni Post Office where she would serve as the postmaster with great distinction, and upon her retirement, received the Order of the Vest, the highest and most prestigious recognition given to postmasters.

Dessie peacefully passed away in May 2023 at the age of 102, after living a remarkable life rooted in public service.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY MOM

Ms. HAGEMAN. Madam Speaker, shout out to my mother today for her birthday. She is 101 years young. Happy birthday, Marion Hageman.

RECOGNIZING THE NOTTOWAY TRIBE

(Ms. McCLELLAN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. McCLELLAN. Madam Speaker, the Commonwealth of Virginia is home to seven federally recognized Indian Tribes, including the Chickahominy Tribe in my district.

In addition, we have four State-recognized Tribes, one of which is the Nottoway Indian Tribe of Virginia, which received State recognition in 2010.

During the October recess, I had the opportunity to visit the Tribe's community house and interpretive center in Southampton County where I met with Chief Lynette Allston and Tribal Chair Denise Walters to discuss their rich history.

The Nottoway people first appear in the written record in 1650, when merchant and colonist, Edward Bland, encountered two Nottoway towns on the Nottoway River.

These Iroquoian-speaking people live in dispersed communities along the river in present day Dinwiddie, Isle of Wight, Nottoway, Sussex, and Southampton Counties.

Today, in honor of Native American History Month, I am filing a resolution to provide Federal recognition to the Nottoway Tribe of Virginia and look forward to finally seeing their sovereignty recognized.

HONORING CONGRESSMAN RICK NOLAN

(Mr. STAUBER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. STAUBER. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor the life and service of my predecessor, Congressman Rick Nolan.

Congressman Nolan has a long and distinguished history in this Chamber.
