RECOGNIZING CHAFFEY COLLEGE TRUSTEE KATHLEEN BRUGGER

HON. NORMA J. TORRES

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 2, 2025

Mrs. TORRES of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Kathleen Brugger, and her countless years of dedication to Inland Empire students, as she retires from the Chaffey College Governing Board after 32 years of service.

Ms. Brugger is a lifelong resident of our community; in 1961, she graduated from Montclair High School, and in 1963, she earned her associate's degree from Chaffey College. Later on, she earned a bachelor's in social work from Cal Poly Pomona, which kick-started her journey to becoming a social worker.

In 1977, Ms. Brugger ran for the Ontario-Montclair School District board. She served on the board for 16 years before joining the Chaffey College Governing Board in 1993. Under her leadership, Chaffey College championed the expansion of the college from one to three campuses, the opening of the Industrial Technical Learning Center, and the development of critical support services.

When serving on the Governing Board of Chaffey College, Kathleen participated in long-term planning, budget oversight, and policy decisions, helping ensure continuity across multiple phases of the district's development. Her work also spanned multiple accreditation cycles, budget planning periods, and district governance processes, and her expertise and familiarity with the operational requirements of a multi-campus institution were invaluable to the college.

Kathleen's widespread involvement demonstrates her enthusiasm for public education systems in the Inland Empire. Her hard work has left a lasting impact on many, as seen by her recognition as Chaffey College's 2002 Alumni of the Year, and with Chaffey College being named a top-10 finalist for the 2017 Aspen Prize for Community College Excellence.

Beyond her contributions to Chaffey College, Kathleen has also served on several critical boards and organizations in the Inland Empire community, including the San Bernardino County Committee on School District Organization, the Montclair Chamber of Commerce, the Ontario YMCA, the Assistance League, and the Ontario-Montclair School District Board of Trustees.

Kathleen's retirement concludes more than three decades of service to education in the Inland Empire, including roles with Chaffey College, the Ontario-Montclair School District, and several local organizations. Even after retiring from the Chaffey College Governing Board, Kathleen will continue to support students across the region as a member of the Chaffey College Foundation Board.

For her outstanding service to our students and community, it is my honor to recognize Kathleen Brugger. Her commitment to the Inland Empire and beyond is worthy of the highest commendation.

HON. TERESA LEGER FERNANDEZ

OF NEW MEXICO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 2, 2025

Ms. LEGER FERNANDEZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise to honor Dr. Robert Martin, former President of the Institute of American Indian Arts in Santa Fe, New Mexico.

As one of the 37 tribal colleges in the United States, and the only fine arts college in the world dedicated to the study of contemporary Native American and Alaskan Native arts, the IAIA fills a vital space in the academic world.

A world class arts education institution doesn't just happen overnight; it takes leadership and vision. Dr. Martin spent the last eighteen years providing that vision as he expanded IAIA from 2007 to 2025.

The student body represents 99 tribes and includes individuals from 35 states. Dr. Robert Martin has inspired not only Congress, but philanthropists to invest in the school. The many famous alumni, like Sherman Alexie, a celebrated author, poet, and screenwriter, to Roxanne Dunbar-Ortiz a historian and author known for works in indigenous issues to the next generation who are active in helping him guide the school and inspire present day students in the classroom and in the studio.

He has also championed tribal colleges beyond IAIA because he knows that they nurture the languages that keep tribal cultures alive and vibrant like the Navajo, and the Zuni that even have programs offered at the college.

As a champion for indigenous art and education, he nurtures the university mission to empower creativity and mold the indigenous leaders we need. His extensive experience in higher education is a testament to his commitment to indigenous students and stories.

I know the impact of his work lives on in the students, faculty, and staff of every institution he has been a part of. His legacy as an outstanding leader in higher education has even earned him his own day in Santa Fe, November 8, called "Dr. Martin Day".

His dedication to education and cultural preservation has also earned him distinguished recognition from the White House, as one of the recipients of the 2022 National Humanities Medal.

I am honored to include his name into the Record, so history will remember him. There is strength in culture and tradition, there are leaders who answer the call. Let Dr. Martin be remembered as one of those leaders.

RECOGNIZING THE DEDICATED PUBLIC SERVICE OF REVEREND
DR. DELLA J. OWENS-BARBER

HON. JAMIE RASKIN

OF MARYLAND

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 2, 2025

Mr. RASKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the public service of Rev. Dr. Della J. Owens-Barber in advance of her fourth anniversary banquet as Senior Pastor at the Saint James Christian Church on December 7, 2025. Rev. Dr. Owens-Barber is a dedicated pastor, scholar, community leader, and advocate for spiritual and social transformation. Over the past decade, she has played a key role in the nationwide campaign to advance a powerful moral agenda to end poverty.

As National Security Director for Repairers of the Breach, Rev. Dr. Owens-Barber has been a steadfast leader of the Poor People's Campaign and has championed an agenda against poverty and inequality. At a recent Poor People Campaign's Moral March on Washington, D.C., she spoke on behalf of millions of Americans who are uninsured and underinsured. As a result of her unflinching leadership in the campaign to address the needs of poor Americans, she has been both praised for her determination and arrested for non-violent civil disobedience. She has been central to the outstanding work of both Repairers of the Breach and the Poor People's Campaign.

Rev. Dr. Owens-Barber is an accomplished leader in her ministry, developing robust programs that engage and empower senior citizens, organizing community food giveaways and promoting mental health awareness. She has also fostered intergenerational connection through worship, education and outreach.

Rev. Dr. Owens-Barber previously led a distinguished career in law enforcement, higher education, youth development and social justice leadership.

Rev. Dr. Owens-Barber earned advanced degrees in Criminal Justice and Theological Studies and a Doctor of Ministry. She continues to lead community service through the North Carolina Council of Churches where she serves on the Board of Directors, the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, and health advocacy networks. I am honored to recognize Rev. Dr. Della J. Owens-Barber on her fourth anniversary as Senior Pastor at the Saint James Christian Church and salute her for her passionate service to her community and our country.

HONORING SIRICO'S CATERERS ON ITS 100TH ANNIVERSARY OF
SERVICE TO THE BROOKLYN COMMUNITY

HON. NICOLE MALLIOTAKIS

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, December 2, 2025

Ms. MALLIOTAKIS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize Sirico's Caterers of Brooklyn, New York, on the occasion of its 100th anniversary and to honor a century of family tradition, community service, and culinary excellence.

Originally, Frank and Rose Sirico brought their children from Little Italy, where they had lived for about ten years on Spring Street, to 13th Avenue in Brooklyn.

They moved to Dyker Heights after purchasing a property on 13th Avenue to expand their bread business, which they had established in New York City. Frank and Rose lived above the store and began their workday each morning at 3:30 a.m., turning on the ovens and preparing fresh Italian bread. Their oldest sons, Sal and Carmine, were responsible for baking the bread. During that time, Sirico's served both commercial and residential clients, delivering bread directly to customers' homes.

In the 1930s, when pizza gained popularity in America, the Sirico family began serving it as well, utilizing the same ovens used for baking bread and drawing on their Neapolitan heritage. This expansion soon led to the addition of pasta dishes and, ultimately, to the opening of a full-service restaurant, with Grandma serving as the first chef. The restaurant offered both indoor and outdoor dining and flourished following the repeal of Prohibition. Sirico's Restaurant and Bar endured throughout World War II, even as the sons left to serve their country. Frank and Rose, assisted by their daughters, continued to operate the business. Upon returning from the war, Carmine and Hercules helped grow the family enterprise further.

By the early 1960s, Sirico's had developed into three distinct businesses, managed by brothers Carmine and Hercules: a pizzeria in one building, a restaurant in another, and a catering hall where the outdoor garden had once been. By 1980, the catering operation had become so successful that the restaurant and pizzeria were closed in order to focus entirely on catering. Under the leadership of Jim and Hercules, Jr., Sirico's has continued to serve the Dyker Heights community, hosting thousands of weddings, communions, sweet sixteens, and dinner dances, and remaining a proud Brooklyn institution for generations.

As Sirico's celebrates a century of success and four generations of family leadership, it stands as a testament to Brooklyn's enduring spirit of hard work, hospitality, and community.
