So (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

PROMOTING OPPORTUNITIES FOR NON-TRADITIONAL CAPITAL FORMATION ACT

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, the unfinished business is the vote on the motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill (H.R. 3422) to amend the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 to require the Advocate for Small Business Capital Formation to provide educational resources and host events to promote capital raising options for traditionally underrepresented small businesses, and for other purposes, as amended, on which the yeas and nays were ordered.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Montana (Mr. DOWNING) that the House suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended.

This is a 5-minute vote.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 321, nays 87, not voting 23, as follows:

Mr. HARIDOPOLOS changed his vote from “yea” to “nay.”

So (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the bill, as amended, was passed.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Mr. STANTON. Mr. Speaker, I was necessarily absent and missed three votes on the House Floor today. Had I been present, I would have voted YEA on Roll Call No. 172, H.R. 1998; YEA on Roll Call No. 173, H.R. 3394; and YEA on Roll Call No. 174, H.R. 3422.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Ms. TITUS. Mr. Speaker, I was absent from the floor and the roll call votes today.

Had I been present, I would have voted: YEA on Roll Call No. 172, the Motion to Suspend the Rules and Pass H.R. 1998; YEA on Roll Call No. 173, the Motion to Suspend the Rules and Pass H.R. 3394; and YEA on Roll Call No. 174, the Motion to Suspend the Rules and Pass H.R. 3422.

IN MEMORY OF MARK AND MELISSA HORTMAN

(Ms. MORRISON asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. MORRISON. Mr. Speaker, I rise today alongside my colleagues from the State of Minnesota to honor the lives of Melissa and Mark Hortman, who were shot and killed in an unspeakable act of political violence last week.

Minnesota House Speaker Emerita Melissa Hortman was truly the best of us. She was exactly the kind of person you would want to run for office. She was a dedicated public servant who got up every day determined to make life better for all Minnesotans.

She was a brilliant legislator and a tough negotiator. She was often the smartest person in the room, but you wouldn't know it because she was so humble. She was a generous friend, a good neighbor, and a mentor to me and to so many others. She saw the dignity in all people and treated everyone with respect. She led with humility, humor, and compassion.

Her Catholic faith informed her work and she kept the beautiful prayer of St.

Francis of Assisi tucked in her wallet as a guiding principle: Make me a channel of your peace.

Melissa led us through some of the State's most difficult challenges, often with a divided legislature, and the tributes that have poured in from her former colleagues from both sides of the aisle speak to her character and her leadership style.

She knew how to get things done and she did it with determination, respect, and pragmatism. She built bridges across the aisle and she kept her diverse caucus together to usher through some of the most consequential legislation in our State's history. Her work and legacy undoubtedly improved the lives of Minnesotans for generations to come.

Let us heed the words of Melissa and Mark's children who wrote in their beautiful tribute to their parents, "The best way to honor our parents' memory is to do something, whether big or small, to make our community just a little bit better for someone else."

Let us all honor Melissa and Mark by leading with kindness and compassion, by prioritizing civility and humility in our service, and by always striving to make our communities just a little bit better for someone else.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to my colleague from Minnesota (Mr. EMMER).

Mr. EMMER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today on behalf of all Minnesotans to honor the lives and legacies of former Minnesota Speaker of the House Melissa Hortman and her husband, Mark, who were viciously murdered in their home on June 14.

We also continue to pray for Minnesota State Senator John Hoffman and his wife, Yvette, as they recover from this heinous attack, as well.

There is no place in our country for politically motivated violence. None. The fact that the Hortman and Hoffman families are being forced to endure the consequences of inexplicable evil is heartbreaking, devastating, and infuriating for us all, but it is through tragedies like this that we are reminded that we are stronger together. There is more that unites us than divides us, and when we turn to our faith in God, we can maintain hope in the midst of absolute turmoil.

We are grateful to local, State, and Federal law enforcement for their swift action in apprehending this evil coward who attacked these dedicated public servants and we look forward to justice being served.

Ms. MORRISON. Mr. Speaker, I ask all of us to join in a moment of silence in honor of Melissa and Mark Hortman.

CELEBRATING THE RETIREMENT OF NANCY JOHNSON

(Mrs. FEDORCHAK asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. FEDORCHAK. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize and celebrate the retirement of Nancy Johnson, the longtime executive director of the North Dakota Soybean Association.

For over two decades, Nancy has been a driving force in advancing North Dakota's soybean industry. Her leadership, strategic insight, and tireless advocacy have strengthened not only our State's agriculture economy but also the national voice of soybean producers.

She brought people together, farmers, researchers, and policymakers, to promote innovation and sustainability in agriculture. Nancy's dedication has left a lasting mark on rural communities across our State.

On behalf of North Dakota, I thank Nancy for her remarkable service. Her legacy will live on in the fields she fought for and the people she empowered. We wish her all the best in her retirement.

TIME TO END THE DAMAGE OF THE DOBBS DECISION

(Ms. BYNUM asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. BYNUM. Mr. Speaker, tomorrow marks 3 years since the Supreme Court voted to strip women of their reproductive healthcare rights, overturning 50 years of legal precedent. I am talking about the Dobbs decision.

I rise today because that devastating decision has put the health of women nationwide at risk. Since then, States have issued extreme restrictions on abortion, forcing thousands of women to travel or risk prosecution to access basic healthcare.

Mr. Speaker, this is unacceptable. As a mother to two daughters, hear me when I say it: Decisions regarding reproductive healthcare should not be in the hands of politicians and lawmakers. We must protect and expand reproductive freedom for women everywhere.

Mr. Speaker, it is time to end the damage of the Dobbs decision and restore a woman's right to choose.

HONORING ELIZABETH HARTLEY

(Mr. CARTER of Georgia asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CARTER of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Elizabeth Hartley, who has been named a national ambassador for health science education and a finalist for Georgia's top new teacher in technical education.

She has led an exceptional career in the Bulloch County School System, receiving a variety of awards within her first 5 years of teaching. As an ambassador for the National Consortium for Health Science Education, she will cohost seminars, webinars, support major events, and boost national engagement in health science education.

Outside of the classroom, Ms. Hartley is not only a registered nurse but also the Bulloch County Therapeutic Allied Health and Medicine career pathway instructor. The pathway helps more than 130 students annually, serving as a local pipeline for future healthcare professionals.

Today, we express our gratitude to Elizabeth Hartley for her service to Bulloch County students.

RECOGNIZING LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS LEADERSHIP

(Mr. LATIMER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. LATIMER. Mr. Speaker, Westchester County is fortunate to have an active citizens group, the League of Women Voters, who are committed volunteers that advance voter education, discussion of key local, State, and national issues, holding seminars and programs on timely topics, and moderating public candidate debates in a nonpartisan manner.

In my home county, we have a number of local leagues, and their leadership is indispensable to ensuring good civic participation at every level of government.

Let me recognize: New Rochelle, Joan Alexander; Larchmont-Mamaroneck, Louise Perez and Beth Radow; Scarsdale, Beth Cukier; Rivertowns, Susan Maggiotto; White Plains, Alan Cass; Rye-Rye Brook-Port Chester, Liz Rotfeld and Roz Carvin; and the Countywide League of Women Voters of Westchester for the past 5 years under the leadership of Kathy Meany.

In upholding our Nation's values, we salute their voluntary service and recognize them today on the floor of the House of Representatives.

CONGRATULATING THE OKLAHOMA CITY THUNDER

(Mrs. BICE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. BICE. Mr. Speaker, a month ago, I spoke on the House floor to congratulate the Oklahoma City Thunder on winning the Western Conference finals. Now, I am thrilled to be able to recognize the Thunder on their first NBA Finals championship.

This team is truly historic. Their season win total is now tied for the third highest ever. Shai Gilgeous-Alexander hit a rare superfecta: Regular season MVP, Finals MVP, NBA champion and scoring champion.

This season is the culmination of the vision of Clay Bennett and the entire ownership team, the team's General Manager Sam Presti, and of course Coach Daigneault.

I know that I speak for the entire State when I say thank you to SGA, Alex Caruso, Chet, Jalen, and the entire Thunder team. They truly have inspired us all, and we are all proud of them.
