CONGRATULATING MIDWEST THEATER ON THEIR 80TH ANNIVERSARY

(Mr. SMITH of Nebraska asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. SMITH of Nebraska. Mr. Speaker, today I rise to celebrate 80 years of the Midwest Theater, a place that has meant so much to Scottsbluff, Nebraska, and surrounding communities.

For eight decades, this theater has been more than just a building. It has been a gathering place, a community hub, and a doorway to worlds far beyond our own. Children, parents, grandparents, and friends have come through these doors to laugh, to cry, to wonder, and to be transported into stories from every corner of the globe.

The Midwest Theater has given us the gift of escape, the chance to set aside the worries of everyday life, and lose ourselves in imagination, creativity, and shared experiences.

While it began as a movie house, it has grown into something even greater: a thriving performing arts center that enriches the cultural life of western Nebraska through film, music, theater, and live performance.

As we celebrate 80 remarkable years, we also celebrate the countless number of volunteers who have sustained this institution and the generations still to come who will create new memories here.

Happy 80th anniversary, Midwest Theater. May your lights continue to shine brightly for many years to come.

EATING IS A BASIC NEED

(Mr. HERNÁNDEZ asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. HERNÁNDEZ. Mr. Speaker, yesterday students from the University of Puerto Rico gave me this graduation cap. It says: I want to graduate without hunger.

Eating is a basic need. Puerto Rico is not eligible for SNAP. As a result, many people, including our students, have to choose between buying a textbook or buying food. We are working to change that, and today I have very important news.

For the first time in this initiative's history, we have a Republican cosponsor in the Senate, and I thank Senator ROGER WICKER for joining Senator GILLIBRAND and 17 other Democrats in extending nutrition fairness for Puerto Rico. I thank the Senate Republicans as well and 58 Democrats who cosponsored my bill to extend SNAP to Puerto Rico.

The fight goes on. We are making progress, and the people have hope.

REMEMBERING BRETT SCROGHAM

(Mr. SHREVE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. SHREVE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to remember Brett Scrogam, a young Hoosier from Greenwood, Indiana, whose life was taken in Indianapolis nearly 2 weeks ago.

Brett was 23 years old. He was a son, a brother, and a friend to many. He had recently graduated from IU's Kelley School of Business in Indianapolis, where he was among our top students.

He had just started his career in Indianapolis, working in commercial real estate for a good friend of mine.

That part of Brett's story hits close to home for me. I started my own career in Indy at that age in the same field. He was headed to an Indianapolis Indians game in the light of day with his family when he was killed in a carjacking attempt right downtown.

That happened in my hometown. It happened in our hometown, and it is painful for me to say that out loud.

A family should be able to go to a ball game in our capital city and come home safely.

Parents should be able to watch their son build a career, start a life, and become the man they raised Brett to be. Instead, his family is grieving a loss no family should have to endure.

Today, I want his family to know from this well of the House that Brett is remembered and that his life mattered.

RECOGNIZING MINNESOTA SENATE PRESIDENT PRO TEM ANN REST

(Ms. OMAR asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. OMAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize Minnesota Senate President Pro Tempore Ann Rest for over 40 years of service in the Minnesota Legislature.

Senator Rest led with cogovernance, often holding listening sessions at Frankie's Chicago Style Pizza in New Hope where she heard directly from community members and let their voices lead her policymaking.

She made history as the first and only legislator to chair the Taxes Committee in both the State house and the senate where she shaped the largest tax cut package in State history.

That landmark legislation invested more than $1.5 billion in a child tax credit fund and included over $105 million to expand affordable housing in our State.

I have been incredibly grateful for her steadfast leadership and unwavering commitment to bettering the lives of all Minnesotans, and I wish her the very best in her retirement.

She has made an incredible mark on my life and the lives of so many young Minnesota legislators, and I am so grateful for her.

HONORING DR. RICHARD ALLEY

(Mr. BRESNAHAN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BRESNAHAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today alongside Congressman MEUSER to honor the life of Dr. Richard Alley, a devoted community member dedicated to education and patient care on a local and global level.

Dr. Alley was not only a physician and professor in Wilkes-Barre, where he provided decades of compassionate care for people within his local community, but also participated in international medical mission trips to provide care to people abroad.

Dr. Alley also engaged in educational philanthropy through assisting with high school scholarships in the Greater Wyoming Valley, and thus, enhanced educational opportunities for younger generations.

His actions in the academic world will continue to live on for many years to come.

Dr. Alley not only helped in the spheres of education and medicine, but he also served the armed services. He was a proud U.S. Navy veteran, where he served as a lieutenant in the Medical Corps.

Today, we honor Dr. Alley's service to his local community, to his country, and to the world.

May we honor his legacy not just with words but by striving to live with the same compassion, care, and devotion he showed every single day.

CELEBRATING JUNETEENTH

(Ms. TLAIB asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. TLAIB. Mr. Speaker, happy Juneteenth.

On Juneteenth, we honor and celebrate both liberation and perseverance. Juneteenth marks the moment when the promise of freedom finally reached the last enslaved Black Americans in Texas more than 2 years after emancipation had been declared.

As many of our residents across the country celebrate, we recognize the contributions of many of our Black communities whose labor, leadership, and sacrifices helped build this country.

We also remember the struggle for justice did not end on Juneteenth. Each generation has been called to continue the work of expanding opportunity, protecting civil rights, and ensuring that every person is treated with human dignity.

Juneteenth is a reminder that freedom must be more than a promise. It must be reflected in our schools, our workplaces, our neighborhoods, and in our democracy.

Black neighbors need more than a day, Mr. Speaker. They deserve reparations. Let's celebrate Juneteenth, but let it be a reminder that, again, the future must include real results and real accountability for every family so they can thrive and a community can be valued.

HONORING THE CONTRIBUTIONS OF DR. RICHARD ALLEY

(Mr. MEUSER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. MEUSER. Mr. Speaker, I, as well, rise today along with my colleague, Congressman BRESNAHAN, to honor the contributions of Dr. Richard Alley, a great American from Bear Creek Township, Pennsylvania, who passed away this month at the age of 91.

Dr. Alley was born in Berwick, Pennsylvania, the center of my district. He dedicated his life to caring for friends and neighbors as a physician and was a proud veteran of the United States Navy.

During his distinguished career in medicine, Dr. Alley served as an attending physician at Mercy Hospital in Wilkes-Barre and as a medical consultant at facilities across the region. When he wasn't caring for his patients, Richard was teaching medical students at Drexel Medical School.

Dr. Alley also generously gave his time to community organizations, including the Rotary Club, the Salvation Army, the Northeastern Pennsylvania Boy Scouts of America, and was himself an Eagle Scout.

Dr. Alley's legacy of service lives on in his siblings, Ali, Samie, Albert, and Elaine; and every student he taught and every patient he treated.

Mr. Speaker, please join Congressman BRESNAHAN and I as we express our deepest condolences to Dr. Alley's family, friends, and community.

CO-OP CITY BUILDING ASSOCIATION PRESIDENTS

(Mr. LATIMER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. LATIMER. Mr. Speaker, let me continue to recognize the voluntary service of those residents of Co-op City in the Bronx who are serving as building association presidents. We cannot recognize all of them in any one setting, but let me add to the list of names already mentioned for the work that they do to help make Co-op City the outstanding complex that it is:

Leah Graham, Building 23;
KaTrina Dinham, Building 12;
Yvette Livingston, Building 1;
Bernard Cylich, Building 7;
Jewel Crawford-Duncan, Building 10;

Deborah Henry, Building 11;
Bruce Silberman, Building 24;
Barbara Johnson, Building 17;
Ezekiel Springer, Building 32;
Helen Atkins, Building 18; and Sonia Feliciano, Building 19.

There are more buildings and townhouses to recognize, and we will do so in the days to come. This is the Nation's largest cooperative complex. It is run in an exemplary fashion because the residents and their shareholders care deeply about their community.

MOURNING THE LOSS OF SERGEANT DEVIN A. SEIBEL

(Mr. CRANK asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CRANK. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to mourn the loss of Sergeant Devin A. Seibel, assigned to the Air Ambulance Company, Second Battalion, Fourth Combat Aviation Brigade, at Fort Carson in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Devin was a dedicated soldier who was deployed in support of Operation Inherent Resolve, an American-led coalition working to prevent a resurgence of ISIS in Iraq and Syria.

On May 31, Devin, at only 26 years young, tragically passed away during a training-related incident on Erbil Air Base in Iraq. His sacrifice is not only a reminder of the price of peace but also the unwavering dedication to our freedoms.

He leaves behind his loving wife, his stepfather, parents, and brothers, whom we will be praying for.

Mr. Speaker, I ask that you join me in remembering Sergeant Devin Seibel and his service to our Nation.

INVEST IN A DIVERSE PORTFOLIO OF AFFORDABLE, CLEAN ENERGY

(Ms. SALINAS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. SALINAS. Mr. Speaker, President Trump and I ran for office on the same promise: to lower costs.

Let's review the promises President Trump made to the American people.

The average cost of gas on the day President Trump took office was around $3 per gallon. On the campaign trail, he said he would bring the price of gas to under $2 a gallon. Today, the national average of gas is $4 a gallon, and it is over $5 in Oregon. Diesel is even higher, around $6 a gallon. Oregonians, from families to farmers, are paying the steep price.

Trump also promised to cut Americans' energy bills in half, but electricity rates haven't fallen. Rates are up 10 percent under the Trump administration, which is more than the rate of inflation and way more than hard-working families can afford right now.

President Trump promised over and over again to make America affordable. It is obvious that this administration has not lived up to its promise. Instead, Trump has propelled our Nation into an illegal war, which has disrupted global oil markets and has put his administration's foolishness on a global stage.

For the sake of our wallets, our environment, and the future workforce and economy, we need to invest in a diverse portfolio of affordable, clean energy and rein in Trump's recklessness.

HONORING BATTALION CHIEF CHRIS EDDY

(Mr. CARTER of Georgia asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CARTER of Georgia. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of my bill, Chief Chris Eddy's Law.

Battalion Chief Chris Eddy tragically passed away at the age of 35 from an explosion while attempting to put out a fire in a refrigerated container unit.

Chief Eddy was a fearless firefighter with 17 years of service at fire departments including Walton, Rockdale, Morgan, Putnam, and Greene County.

His death is a true tragedy. Unfortunately, it was an avoidable one. That is why I have introduced Chief Chris Eddy's Law, which will create substantial changes that will help prevent this from happening again.

By requiring placarding for refrigerated containers, firefighters will quickly be able to recognize if a container truck has the potential to explode before they decide how to handle the fire.

Our firefighters put their lives on the line for us every day. The least we can do is ensure they have the information necessary to perform their jobs safely and effectively.

Mr. Speaker, Chief Eddy dedicated his life to saving others, and we owe it to him to ensure that this tragedy brings substantive change.

CELEBRATING JUNETEENTH FESTIVITIES IN PIMA COUNTY

(Mrs. GRIJALVA asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. GRIJALVA. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to celebrate Juneteenth festivities happening in southern Arizona and throughout the country.

The Emancipation Proclamation was issued by President Lincoln on January 1, 1863. However, it took until June 19, 1865, 2½ years later, for all enslaved people to be informed of this order.

As a member of the Pima County Board of Supervisors, I was proud to champion the board's first-ever funding of the Tucson Juneteenth Committee and support making Juneteenth a paid, administrative holiday for Pima County employees.
