

HOUSING FOR THE 21ST CENTURY ACT

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The unfinished business is the vote on the motion to suspend the rules and concur in the Senate amendment to the House amendment to the Senate amendment to the bill (H.R. 6644), a bill to increase the supply of housing in America, and for other purposes, on which the yeas and nays were ordered.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Arkansas (Mr. HILL) that the House suspend the rules and concur in the Senate amendment to the House amendment to the Senate amendment to H.R. 6644.

This will be a 5-minute vote.

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 358, nays 32, not voting 41, as follows:

□ 1925

So (two-thirds being in the affirmative) the rules were suspended and the Senate amendment to the House amendment to the Senate amendment to H.R. 6644 was concurred in.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

Stated for:

Mr. STUTZMAN. Mr. Speaker, had I been present, I would have voted YEA on Roll Call No. 224.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

Mrs. McIVER. Mr. Speaker, I was absent from floor proceedings. Had I been present, I would have voted YEA on Roll Call No. 223 and YEA on Roll Call No. 224.

REMEMBERING EIGHT INDIVIDUALS LOST IN B-52 STRATOFORTRESS CRASH AT EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE

(Mr. FONG asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. FONG. Mr. Speaker, our hearts are heavy as we honor and remember the eight individuals lost in the B-52 Stratofortress crash at Edwards Air Force Base on Monday, June 15, in Kern County, California:

Colonel Gregory Watson
Lieutenant Colonel Gabriel Estrella
Retired Lieutenant Colonel Miles Middleton

Major Alexander Davis
Major Robert Dee
Major Brad Hovey
Jeromy Smith
Christopher Rischar

These brave men dedicated their lives to this Nation's defense, and their sacrifice will never be forgotten.

Behind each of these heroes are family, friends, and loved ones facing an unimaginable loss. They represent the very best of our community and our country: Americans willing to give everything in defense of the United States of America.

I ask our Nation to join us in lifting up the Edwards community and everyone grieving this devastating loss.

May God grant them strength and peace during this difficult time. May He forever bless the memory of those we lost.

Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from California (Mr. WHITESIDES), my colleague and friend.

Mr. WHITESIDES. Mr. Speaker, I join my colleague in solemn remembrance today, standing here on behalf of the Edwards Air Force Base community and all those across the Nation who feel this loss so profoundly.

The eight crewmembers who lost their lives last week were heroes. They were performing work that was essential for the national security of our great country, work that is deeply woven into the fabric and history of the Antelope Valley.

Our prayers are with their families, friends, and loved ones.

Mr. FONG. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the House observe a moment of silence for these eight great Americans.

PERMISSION FOR MEMBER TO BE CONSIDERED AS FIRST SPONSOR OF H.R. 2323

Mr. PFLUGER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that I may hereafter be considered to be the first sponsor of H.R. 2323, a bill originally introduced by Representative GONZALES of Texas, for the purpose of adding cosponsors and requesting reprintings pursuant to clause 7 of rule XII.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. HURD of Colorado). Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Texas?

There was no objection.

CELEBRATING EMERGENCY CONSERVATION PROGRAM RELIEF FOR NEBRASKANS

(Mr. SMITH of Nebraska asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. SMITH of Nebraska. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to celebrate the House passage of the Emergency Conservation Program Improvement Act, and I thank Congresswoman LETLOW and Senator FISCHER for their leadership in sending this important legislation to the President's desk.

Wildfires have wreaked havoc across Nebraska's Third District, with more than 860,000 acres burned this year alone.

Now more than ever, Nebraskans deserve relief, not additional burdens.

I was proud to cosponsor this commonsense piece of legislation, which will ensure that Emergency Conservation Program eligibility can be triggered faster in response to a natural disaster, like the wildfires in my district, and provide much-needed flexibility for producers as they begin to rebuild.

Nebraskans are resilient, but they shouldn't have to navigate unnecessary red tape while recovering from disaster.

Today, with final passage of this bill, we took a meaningful step toward providing producers with the timely support they need to rebuild, restore, and recover.

Mr. Speaker, I look forward to seeing President Trump sign this into law.

PUBLIC HEALTH EMERGENCY IN BOYLE HEIGHTS

(Mr. GOMEZ asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GOMEZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to address the ongoing public health emergency caused by the Linage Logistics warehouse fire in Boyle Heights.

What started off in Boyle Heights has now spread smoke and fumes across Los Angeles. Our neighbors can't go outside. They can't open their windows. They are worried about the air they are breathing.

This disaster demands answers, but more importantly, it demands accountability. For far too long, working-class immigrant communities and communities of color have been forced to bear the burden of industrial pollution and environmental hazards.

Firefighters have worked around the clock to put out the fire, but the response can't stop there. We need air quality testing, soil testing, and frequent health monitoring.

I will keep fighting to ensure every affected family gets the answers, accountability, and resources they deserve.

ACCESS TO HEALTHCARE

(Ms. BYNUM asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. BYNUM. Mr. Speaker, this past week, I kept running into Oregonians who are really upset about their healthcare.

One small business owner told me she dropped her family plan, which was costing about $36,000 a year, and she joined a cost-share plan to lower her bills. She still pays out of pocket.

Another constituent, who is caring for her ailing husband, told me: "I have been inundated with doctors' visits and advocating for him. Our medical system is extremely frustrating."

Then a rural constituent told me that a simple surgery was rescheduled four times because no doctor was available.

Then, last week, I talked with Silicon Valley executives and asked them what they could do. I told them: Help us solve America's problems: healthcare, wildfires, you name it.

Mr. Speaker, I urge you to do the same. Lead Congress to solve America's problems and not create more of them.

CANIACS CELEBRATING STANLEY CUP CHAMPIONSHIP

(Ms. ROSS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. ROSS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to celebrate a victory that North Carolinians have waited years to see: The Carolina Hurricanes are Stanley Cup champions for the first time in 20 years.

From the first puck drop of the season to the final horn, the Hurricanes showed the grit and teamwork that define our State. They proved that success isn't built overnight. It is earned through discipline, perseverance, and trust in one another.

Today, we celebrate the players, coaches, staff, and the hundreds of thousands of Caniacs who never stopped believing, especially Head Coach Rod Brind'Amour, who first led our team to victory in 2006 as team captain.

The Canes have shown the hockey world that North Carolinians are hockey fans, and hockey belongs in the South. Of course, the championship belongs in North Carolina. The Stanley Cup is finally home.

CIVIL ENGINEERING PLAN FOR LINCOLN MEMORIAL REFLECTING POOL

(Ms. KAPTUR asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. KAPTUR. Mr. Speaker, the Lincoln Memorial Reflecting Pool requires a civil engineering plan.

First, replace the fractured subterranean pipes: Underground, the pool's 12-inch supply and return lines are deteriorated. They leak an estimated 16 million gallons of water every year. The Mall site actually sits in a floodplain related to drainage into the Potomac River. Water pressure pushes upward against the floor, forcing paint and sealant to blister, pop, and peel off.

Second, stabilize the lateral soil movement. While the 2012 overhaul stopped the pool sinking downward, it did not solve the side-to-side shifting. The pool sits on the Potomac River mudflats that continuously ooze and shift laterally.

Third, reengineer the expansion joints for shifting. A 2,000-foot concrete pad naturally expands and contracts like an accordion in freezing winter weather. Engineers have to install heavy, flexible water stops that seal gaps while letting slabs move without tearing.

Finally, there is drainage. Proper drainage and soil stabilization are required to manage runoff and prevent groundwater from seeping through the basin and compromising the concrete.

It isn't a vandalizing problem. It is an engineering problem. It can be solved.

HONORING ST. RITA HIGH SCHOOL BASEBALL TEAM

(Mr. GARCÍA of Illinois asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GARCÍA of Illinois. Mr. Speaker, I rise today as a proud alumnus of St. Rita High School in Chicago to celebrate their baseball team's first championship victory.

In a historic night of eight innings, the St. Rita Mustangs persevered and made history with a 12-11 score.

If you are a baseball fan, I encourage you to find a video of the end of this wild game and watch it. This was one for the books. The game had it all. There was suspense and shock when the Mustangs thought they had won, but the umpire ruled that the catcher had dropped the ball. It had anxiety when the game resumed. With the State title on the line, the rival team tied it, forcing it to extra innings. It had relief and joy when St. Rita secured the victory.

The Mustangs gave it their all. Their determination and hard work got them the victory that they had been chasing for 4 years in a row.

Mr. Speaker, I congratulate the Mustangs. They deserve this victory.
