TRIBUTE TO MARGARET DOUD

● Mr. PETERS. Mr. President, I rise today to honor Margaret Doud, the longtime, highly regarded mayor of Mackinac Island. Mayor Doud has made an immeasurable impact on Mackinac Island as she has faithfully led the city over the past 51 years, and it is a privilege to recognize her here today as we celebrate her 52nd term, and her status as the longest serving mayor in the United States.

Mayor Doud is a native of Mackinac Island, a small island in the Straits of Mackinac home to roughly 500 full-time residents. A former teacher and current owner of the iconic Windermere Hotel, she almost did not run for office when she was first approached, believing she would not get elected. The following year in 1975, she won her first election—and 51 more since then. On Mackinac Island, mayors only serve 1-year terms, which means she has had to run for reelection for all her years of service. Her ability to have won reelection for the past 51 years—receiving 100 percent of the votes just this year—is a testament to the trust she has earned from her community.

While Mackinac Island may only have 500-full time residents, it is also one of the busiest and most visited destinations in the State of Michigan. Every summer, over 1 million visitors come to island to visit its historic sites, enjoy beautiful views, and shop at the many small businesses. Through it all, Mayor Doud has been steadfast in her commitment to making the island a safe, thriving area for both residents and visitors alike. Her fierce dedication to her community, whether it be its tourism industry, its small businesses, or its unique car-free status, is more than deserving of recognition.

I cannot understate the impact that Mayor Doud has had on Mackinac Island and the State of Michigan over the last 51 years. As the mayor of Mackinac Island, her compassion, dedication, and strategic vision have led to its great success, and I know she will continue to serve her community in the highest regard. For this reason, I am honored today to recognize the great achievements of Mayor Doud. Please join me in celebrating her long, storied career leading Mackinac Island.●

RECOGNIZING THE INTERNATIONAL HEARING SOCIETY'S

● Mr. PETERS. Mr. President, I rise today to honor the International Hearing Society as they celebrate 75 years of advocacy, education, and support for hearing aid specialists in Michigan and around the world.

Since its founding in 1951, IHS has grown to become the leading organization representing the interests of hearing aid specialists, spanning a vast network of healthcare professionals, advocates, and policymakers. Through this work, the organization aims to live up to its mission of "advancing global hearing healthcare by strengthening professionals through education, advocacy, and ethical patient care." It is a privilege to recognize such an important Michigan institution as they celebrate this anniversary.

For over seven decades, IHS has grown to meet the needs of its expanding membership of healthcare providers through the sharing of best practices that ensures a stable continuity of care. The organization demonstrates its commitment to education and quality care by offering industry-standard specialist accreditations, competence certifications, and a multitude of expertly crafted online courses for aspiring specialists. Not only do these opportunities provide critical support for providers, but they also expand hearing healthcare accessibility for patients and improve quality of service system-wide.

IHS also maintains a robust network of advocates at the State, Federal, and international level, ensuring that hearing health providers can communicate their needs and expertise to lawmakers. The organization has continuously supported legislation intended to expand access to hearing aid specialists for millions of Americans, particularly veterans and those from rural and disadvantaged backgrounds. Their work has led to a meaningful expansion of hearing-related care and quality of service in the United States, and the country is better for it.

Given their 75 years of service, I ask you to join me in recognizing International Hearing Society as they celebrate this momentous occasion. I am grateful for the valuable work they have done to improve hearing care for countless Michiganders and fellow Americans, and I wish them all the best as they continue to support specialists and patients alike for years to come.●

100TH ANNIVERSARY OF TEMPLE KNESSET ISRAEL

● Mr. SCHIFF. Mr. President, today I rise to honor and celebrate Temple Knesset Israel in Los Angeles for its milestone 100th anniversary.

Founded in 1926, Temple Knesset Israel has been a beacon of light for its community; a congregation that has shown an ability to grow in the modern world and build strong foundations for future generations. One of the oldest congregations in Los Angeles, Temple Knesset Israel has focused on giving its members spiritual connection and cultural awareness.

Fostering strong ties to its visitors, the temple has been a cornerstone of empowering all religions and ethnicities. A place where everyone is welcome, Temple Knesset Israel has been a powerful force of good.

The temple has always been a welcoming home for those in need. Comprised of congregants from many ethnic groups, Temple Knesset Israel is proud to be a congregation focused on inclusivity and community. Its continued efforts to educate its members and bring together those of all walks of life has made the congregation a critical part of the Los Angeles community.

Temple Knesset Israel's spiritual leaders Rabbi Robert Elias and Cantor Lee Greenberg have been pillars of spiritual guidance and continuity throughout the years. Maintaining stability in trying times, these leaders have been a centerpiece for calm and perseverance.

I ask all members to join me in acknowledging the importance of Temple Knesset Israel. Its impact on the Los Angeles region cannot be overstated, and for 100 years, it has worked to bring together the Jewish community with immensely positive impact.●
