INTERPRETATIONS

Sec.

AUTHORITY: The provisions of this Part 250 issued under 12 U.S.C. 248(i) and as otherwise noted.

INTERPRETATIONS

§ 250.101 Necessity for Board approval of stock dividend by State member bank.

(a) The opinion of the Board of Governors has been requested as to whether section 5199(b) of the Revised Statutes of the United States, as amended September 8, 1959 (12 U.S.C. 60), requires the Board's approval for the declaration of a stock dividend by a State member bank in an amount which would exceed the total of net profits for the present year combined with the retained net profits of the preceding 2 years. This statute is made applicable to State member banks by the sixth paragraph of section 9 of the Federal Reserve Act (12 U.S.C. 324).

(b) The purpose of this provision is to prevent the depletion of the capital structure of a bank by the payment of excessive dividends. Since a stock dividend does not result in the distribution of cash or assets, the Board does not consider the term "dividend" in this statute as including stock dividends. Consequently, the Board's approval for the declaration of a stock dividend is not required.

(12 U.S.C. 60)

§ 250.102 Payment of dividends; effect of net losses.

(a) Section 5199(b) of the Revised Statutes (12 U.S.C. 60), as amended in 1959: Provides, That:

> The approval of the Comptroller of the Currency shall be required if the total of all dividends declared by [a national bank] in any calendar year shall exceed the total of its net profits of that year combined with its retained net profits of the preceding 2 years * * *

Under the sixth paragraph of section 9 of the Federal Reserve Act (12 U.S.C. 324), member State banks are required "to conform to the provisions of section 5199(b) * * * with respect to the payment of dividends", except that the approval of the Board of Governors is required in lieu of the approval of the Comptroller.

(b) The question has arisen whether it is necessary in determining whether a bank's dividends in a particular year "exceed the total of its net profits of that year combined with its retained net profits of the preceding two years", to take into consideration the amount of a net loss in the current year or in one or both of the preceding 2 years.

(c) The purpose of the 1959 amendment of section 5199(b) was to prevent a bank from paying a dividend (except with supervisory approval) unless it has on hand, from operations during the 3 latest years, sufficient net profits to cover the proposed dividend. If a net loss for one or more of those 3 years was disregarded in making the calculation called for by section 5199(b), a member State bank could pay dividends, without the approval of the Board of Governors, even though the aggregate results of the 3 latest years' operations was a net deficit. This was precisely the sort of situation in which Congress intended to prevent the payment of a dividend unless the supervisory authority was satisfied that special circumstances justified the proposed dividend.

(d) Accordingly, it is the position of the Board that, in making the calculation required by section 5199(b), it is necessary to take into consideration the actual results of operations during the current year and the 2 preceding years, whether the figures for those years are plus or minus figures. For example, if a bank had

(1) Retained net profits of $30,000 from 1959;

(2) A net loss of $40,000 in 1960 (and dividends of $10,000 were paid in that year, with the Board's approval); and

(3) Net profits of $20,000 in 1961,

It could not pay any dividend in 1961 without the Board's approval, since the calculation required by section 5199(b) would result in a zero figure ($30,000 minus $50,000 plus $20,000). It will be noted that, for the purposes of section 5199, any dividends paid in a loss year must be included in the "net loss" for that year, just as dividends paid in a profitable year must be deducted from "net profits" in calculating "retained net profits".

(12 U.S.C. 60)

§ 250.103 Payment of dividends exceeding net profits to date of declaration.

(a) Section 5199(b) of the Revised Statutes of the United States (12 U.S.C. 60) and the sixth paragraph of section 9 of the Federal Reserve Act (12 U.S.C. 324), provide in effect that "the approval of the Comptroller of the Currency (or the Board of Governors) shall be required if the total of all dividends declared by such association (a national bank or a member State bank) in any calendar year shall exceed the total of its net profits of that year combined with its retained net profits of the preceding two years."

(b) The question has been presented whether the Board's approval must be obtained when the amount of a dividend proposed to be declared by a member State bank, prior to the end of the calendar year, would exceed the total of the bank's net profits up to the date of the declaration, combined with its retained net profits of the preceding 2 years.

(c) If the question related only to the literal meaning of words, divorced from the statute's underlying purpose and from the factual situations to which it relates, it might be contended that since the statute refers to "all dividends declared * * * in any calendar year" and "the total of its net profits of that year", its applicability cannot be determined until the calendar year is completed. As explained below, however, such an interpretation is not required by the language of the statute and would substantially defeat its purpose, as revealed by the legislative history; and consequently it is believed that the statute should be construed as relating to dividends declared, and to net profits, in the calendar year up to the date of such declaration.

(d) The purpose of the statute was described as follows by the Senate Banking Committee:

> This provision is designed to restrict the payment of dividends * * * where such payments would result in dissipating needed capital funds. This provision strengthens the regulatory authority of the Comptroller [and the Board of Governors]. Under it, he will be able to prevent the declaration of dividends which are not justified by current and recent accumulated earnings, and which would result in a weakened and undercapitalized bank and violate safe and sound banking practice.
> (S. Rep. No. 730, 86th Cong. (Aug. 19, 1959), pp. 6–7)

(1) It seems that Congress had in mind the following test: At the time the dividend is declared, does the bank have available, from profits of the current calendar year and the 2 preceding calendar years, enough profits to cover the dividend? If not, the dividend may not be declared and paid unless the Comptroller or the Board of Governors specifically approves, in view of the circumstances of the particular case.

(2) Bearing in mind the Senate Committee's reference to "dissipating needed capital funds," it is obvious that the danger that a proposed dividend would unduly weaken a bank's capital structure is just as great if the dividend is declared in June as if it is declared in December. If a bank does not have profits on hand sufficient to cover a proposed dividend, the fact that the declaration is made in 1 month rather than in another has little or no bearing on the extent to which payment of the dividend may unduly diminish the capital "cushion" on which depend the bank's continued existence and the safety of its depositors.

(e) An illustration may be helpful. For simplicity, let us assume that a member State bank opened for business on January 1, 1959, with a capital structure of $300,000, as required by the supervisory authorities. The bank had no net profit in 1959 or 1960. Up to June 30, 1961, it still has no net profits, but nevertheless the directors declare a dividend of $20,000 on that date. The bank's capital structure is thereby reduced from $300,000 to $280,000. It seems that this was precisely what Congress intended should not happen unless the Board of Governors approved the dividend, for adequate reasons. An undesirable situation would exist, and the Congressional purpose would be defeated, if such a weakening of the bank's capital structure were permissible if the dividend was declared and paid (without supervisory approval) in June, whereas the same action would involve a violation of the statute if the dividend was declared and paid, instead, in December. This might actually mean that no violation of section 5199(b) could occur except with respect to end-of-year dividends—unless, perhaps, it could be established that the bank's directors, when they declared the dividend earlier in the year, knew (or had reason to believe) that the bank's net profits for the entire year would not be sufficient.

(f) The statutory reference to "all dividends declared * * * in any calendar year" can be interpreted, even from the viewpoint of literal meaning, as referring to dividends declared in a calendar year up to the date of declaration. Particularly because the clear Congressional purpose would otherwise be largely defeated, it is concluded that this is the correct interpretation and that, consequently, the declaration by the member State bank, without the Board's approval, of a dividend in the amount of $20,000 would be in violation of the applicable statutes, since the amount of that dividend would exceed "the total of (the bank's) net profits of that year combined with its retained net profits of the preceding two years."

§ 250.120 Underwriting bonds payable from proceeds of State sales taxes.

(a) The opinion of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System has been requested with respect to the authority of member State banks to underwrite securities issued by States and political subdivisions thereof, with particular reference to $35,750,000 of Public Building Bonds, 1961, Series D, and Public School Plant Facilities Bonds, 1961, Series C, of the State of Washington. The Comptroller of the Currency has held that said bonds are eligible for underwriting by national banks.

(b) Paragraph Seventh of section 5136 of the Revised Statutes (12 U.S.C. 24) provides that a national bank "shall not underwrite any issue of securities", but further provides that this restriction "shall not apply to * * * general obligations of any State or of any political subdivision thereof". The 20th paragraph of section 9 of the Federal Reserve Act (12 U.S.C. 335) subjects State member banks to the same limitations with respect to the underwriting of investment securities "as are applicable in the case of national banks under paragraph 'Seventh' of section 5136."

(c) Under the statutory provisions quoted above, member banks are prohibited from underwriting securities issued by a State unless those securities are "general obligations". In the opinion of the Board of Governors, securities are not "general obligations" unless they are backed by the full faith and credit of the issuer. As stated in paragraph 520 of the "Digest of Opinions of the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency", "Securities payable only out of particular funds or out of the obligor's revenues from a particular source are not general obligations." In order to be eligible for underwriting by member banks, the issuer must possess the power of general property taxation and the securities must be supported by that power, as a part of the "full faith and credit" of the issuer.

(d) The bonds in question are issued pursuant to Washington Laws of 1961, Ex. Sess., Chapters 3 and 23. These statutes provide that the bonds "shall not be a general obligation of the state of Washington but shall be payable * * * from the proceeds of retail sales taxes * * *." The statutes also provide that "the state undertakes to continue to levy the taxes referred to herein and to fix and maintain said taxes in such amounts as will provide sufficient funds to pay said bonds and interest thereon until all such obligations have been paid in full."

(e) The statutory provisions that the bonds in question "shall not be a general obligation of the State of Washington" and "shall be payable * * * from the proceeds of retail sales taxes" appear to indicate that the bonds will not be supported by the full faith and credit of the state, including its power of general property taxation. If this is correct, it follows, on the principles previously stated, that these bonds would not be "general obligations" of the State within the meaning of R.S. 5136 and would not be eligible to be underwritten by member banks. The undertaking to levy retail sales taxes that will provide sufficient funds to pay the bonds in full reflects the intent of the State that the bonds (and interest thereon) shall be paid, but it does not negate the plain statement in the Washington statute that the bonds shall be payable from a particular source—namely, the proceeds of retail sales taxes—and are not general obligations.

(f) This conclusion does not conflict with the decision of the Supreme Court of Washington in State of Washington v. Martin, decided August 7, 1963. It was there held that bonds of this nature are "issued upon the credit of the state and are in truth debts of the state." However, the Court made it quite clear that such bonds are not supported by the full faith and credit of the State and its plenary taxing power. Under the State constitutional and statutory provisions dealt with in that decision, bonds of the State of Washington that are payable from a particular source of revenue constitute a debt of that State but are not general obligations thereof.

(g) For these reasons, the Board concludes that the bonds in question are not "general obligations" within the purview of section 5136 of the Revised Statutes and consequently are not eligible for underwriting by State banks that are members of the Federal Reserve System.

(12 U.S.C. 24, 335)

§ 250.121 Application of investment securities regulation to member State banks.

(a) General. A revision of the Investment Securities Regulation (Part 1 of this title) was issued recently by the Comptroller of the Currency. Under section 9 of the Federal Reserve Act (12 U.S.C. 335) the regulation is applicable to member State banks as well as to national banks, insofar as it conforms to paragraph Seventh of section 5136 of the Revised Statutes (R.S. 5136; 12 U.S.C. 24).

(b) Provisions of regulation with respect to "exempt securities". (1) Paragraph Seventh refers to two areas of securities transactions by a bank: (i) Underwriting and dealing, which are grouped as "underwriting" herein, and (ii) investing (called "purchasing for its own account" in the statute).

(2) The statute contains a general prohibition against a member bank (i) underwriting securities or (ii) investing more than 10 percent of its capital and surplus in the securities of any one obligor. In addition to this 10 percent limitation, the power of national banks and member State banks to purchase securities for investment is subject to "such limitations and restrictions as the Comptroller of the Currency may by regulation prescribe". The term "investment securities" is defined in paragraph Seventh and is subject to "such further definition * * * as may by regulation be prescribed by the Comptroller".

(3) The statute also provides, however, that "The limitations and restrictions herein contained as to dealing in, underwriting and purchasing for [the bank's] own account, investment securities shall not apply to obligations of the United States or general obligations of any State or of any political subdivision thereof," or certain other securities. In other words, national banks and member State banks are legally free (i) to underwrite such "exempt securities" and (ii) to invest therein without regard to the 10 percent limitation mentioned in this section.

(4) The authority of the Comptroller of the Currency to issue investment regulations pursuant to R.S. 5136 does not include authority to exempt additional kinds of securities from the prohibition against underwriting or the prohibition against investing more than 10 percent of capital and surplus in securities of any one obligor. Despite this, § 1.3 of this title, the Comptroller's recent revision of the Investment Securities Regulation, contains a definition of "public security" and § 1.4 of this title states that "A bank may deal in, underwrite, purchase and sell for its own account a public security subject only to the exercise of prudent banking judgment." The term "public security" is so defined that, in effect, the regulation purports to authorize national banks and member State banks to underwrite, and to purchase without limitation on amount, securities that are not exempted by law from the statutory prohibition against underwriting and against investing in excess of the 10 percent limitation. For example, the terms of the regulation would authorize such banks to underwrite some securities of public corporations that are payable solely out of revenues derived from the operation of a tunnel, turnpike, bridge, or the like, despite the fact that the applicable statute does not exempt such securities from the general prohibition against underwriting by banks.

(5) Since the Comptroller is not authorized by law to expand the category of exempt securities established and described in paragraph Seventh of R.S. 5136, the current regulation does not have the force and effect of law insofar as it attempts to do this. Accordingly, member State banks are informed, that, in the opinion of the Board of Governors, the only securities that are exempt from the limitations and restrictions of paragraph Seventh are those specified in R.S. 5136. Unless a particular issue of securities is exempt by virtue of that provision of law, member State banks may not underwrite the issue, and the 10 percent limit is applicable to investments therein. Since so-called "revenue obligations" of the kinds mentioned above, as well as other revenue obligations, are not exempt from the limitations and restrictions of R.S. 5136, it would be unlawful for a member State bank to underwrite such securities or to invest in them in excess of the 10 percent limit.

(c) Convertible securities. (1) From time to time corporations issue debentures or similar securities that constitute an obligation to pay a specified dollar amount of principal (as well as interest) and in addition give the holder an option to convert the security into a specified number of shares of the corporation's stock. When the market value of the stock into which such a debenture is convertible is substantially less than the face value of the debenture, the debenture ordinarily will sell at a price that reflects principally its value as a corporate obligation, without regard to the conversion option. However, the market value of the stock sometimes increases to such an extent that the shares into which a debenture is convertible have a market value that is much greater than the face value of the debenture. For example, a number of convertible debentures traded on the New York Stock Exchange sell at prices of $2,000, $3,000, or more, for securities with a face value of $1,000. These prices approximate very closely the current market value of the shares of stock for which the convertible may be exchanged at the holder's option.

(2) A question has arisen as to the circumstances in which a member State bank may purchase convertible debentures for its investment portfolio under the provisions of the Investment Securities Regulation of the Comptroller of the Currency, as recently revised.

(3) Section 1.3(b) of this title defines "investment security" to exclude securities "which are predominantly speculative in nature", so that, under R.S. 5136 and the regulation, the purchase of "predominantly speculative" securities is not permissible. When the market price of a convertible debenture is far in excess of its face value because of the conversion feature, and its price fluctuations parallel the fluctuations in the price of the stock into which it is convertible, the debenture is necessarily speculative. Market conditions may induce price fluctuations that may have no relationship to the quality of the debenture or even of the particular stock into which it can be converted.

(4) Accordingly, it would appear that a bank is prohibited from purchasing convertible debentures in the circumstances described. However, uncertainty as to this matter could arise from the terms of § 1.10 of this title (Comptroller's Revised Regulation), which might be read as indicating that a bank may purchase convertible securities generally, provided that the cost of such a security is written down promptly "to an amount which represents the investment value of the security considered independently of the conversion feature".

(5) Quite apart from questions of interpretation of the revised regulation, however, it is to be noted that the law itself (paragraph Seventh of R.S. 5136) in effect forbids national banks and member State banks to purchase "any shares of stock of any corporation". When the market price of a convertible security reaches 200 percent or 300 percent of its face value due to a rise in the price of the related stock, purchase of the convertible security is, for practical purposes, equivalent to the purchase of the stock it represents.

(6) In the light of these statutory and regulatory provisions, it is the position of the Board of Governors that a member State bank may not lawfully invest in a convertible security whose price exceeds, by more than an insignificant amount, the investment value of the obligation, considered independently of the conversion feature. Adherence to this principle will avoid violations of the statute and regulation that would occur if a bank were to purchase convertible securities in such circumstances that the security necessarily would be "predominantly speculative in nature", for the reasons described, and the transaction would be tantamount to a purchase of corporate stock.

§ 250.122 Underwriting of public Authority bonds payable from rents under lease with governmental entity having general taxing powers.

(a) The Board of Governors has been asked whether securities of a public Authority that are to be paid from rents payable under a lease of the Authority's facilities to a governmental entity that possesses general powers of taxation, including property taxation, constitute "general obligations" within the meaning of section 5136 of the U.S. Revised Statutes (12 U.S.C. 24). In cases where this question can be answered in the affirmative, member State banks of the Federal Reserve System may lawfully underwrite and deal in such securities, and invest therein without limitation on amount, as far as Federal banking law is concerned.

(b) The Board understands that the issuing Authorities usually have no taxing powers and that their obligations are not, under pertinent State constitutional and statutory provisions as interpreted by the courts, "debts" of the lessee—that is, the governmental entity with general powers of taxation. However, whether a security constitutes a "debt" for purposes of State law is not determinative as to whether it is a "general obligation" within the meaning of section 5136, a Federal statute. (See § 250.120.)

(c) During recent Hearings before the Committee on Banking and Currency of the House of Representatives, published under the title "Increased Flexibility for Financial Institutions—1963", the Board expressed its understanding of the meaning of the phrase "general obligations of any State or of any political subdivision thereof" as used in section 5136.

(d) As the House Committee was informed, the Board understands that phrase to include "only obligations that are supported by an unconditional promise to pay, directly or indirectly, an aggregate amount which (together with any other funds available for the purpose) will suffice to discharge, when due, all interest on and principal of such obligations, which promise (1) is made by a governmental entity that possesses general powers of taxation, including property taxation, and (2) pledges or otherwise commits the full faith and credit of said promisor; said term does not include obligations not so supported that are to be repaid only from specified sources such as the income from designated facilities or the proceeds of designated taxes." (Hearings, p. 1018.)

(e) A major requirement of the foregoing definition is that a "general obligation" must be supported by general powers of taxation, including property taxation. The Board recognizes, however, that such support by general powers of taxation may be indirect as well as direct.

(f) If a State (or other governmental entity having general powers of taxation) agrees unconditionally to pay to an Authority rentals that will be sufficient and will be used, in all events, to cover required payments of interest and principal on the relevant securities when due, the securities, in the opinion of the Board, are indirectly supported by general taxing powers, and, accordingly, constitute "general obligations" within the meaning of R.S. 5136. On the other hand, if the lease does not contain an unconditional promise of the State to provide sums sufficient, in all events, to cover required payments of interest and principal on the bonds of the lessor Authority as they become due, the securities cannot be considered "general obligations."

(g) The status of a particular issue of such lease-supported bonds thus depends upon the terms of the lease involved. Where the lease is for a term of years not less than the maximum maturity of the relevant bond issue, and the State unconditionally promises to pay rentals sufficient to cover all payments on the bonds as they become due, the bonds ordinarily will qualify as "general obligations". Where the promise of the State is to pay a fixed dollar rental, the securities will not qualify as "general obligations" unless the lease provides that rental payments in amounts sufficient to service the bonds cannot be expended by the authority for any other purpose than the payment of principal and interest thereon.

(h) This interpretation is intended to indicate the circumstances in which securities isssued by public Authorities without taxing powers constitute "general obligations" that are eligible for underwriting by member banks, under R.S. 5136. The status of any particular issue can only be determined through examination of all relevant laws and contracts, in order to ascertain the actual legal and financial arrangements.

(12 U.S.C. 24, 335)

§ 250.123 Underwriting of notes payable from proceeds of subsequent sale of general obligation bonds.

(a) The Board of Governors has received inquiries whether California Bond Anticipation Notes constitute "general obligations" of the State of California within the meaning of paragraph Seventh of section 5136 of the U.S. Revised Statutes (12 U.S.C. 24).

(b) The Board understands that, in anticipation of the sale of general obligation bonds duly authorized, Finance Committees of certain public authorities of the State are empowered, under section 16736 of the Government Code of California, to direct the State Treasurer to issue Bond Anticipation Notes whenever "the committee deems it in the best interests of the State".

(c) Although there appears to be no judicial decision as to the nature of Bond Anticipation Notes under California law, the State Attorney General has issued an opinion (No. 63/182 of Nov. 8, 1963) concluding that the Notes do not constitute "a general obligation of the State in the sense that they are secured by the State General Fund and general taxing power of the State".

(d) While the California Attorney General's opinion is not controlling in a determination as to whether the Notes are "general obligations" within the meaning of section 5136, a Federal statute, it is significant in such a determination insofar as it indicates that the Notes are not secured by the State's "general powers of taxation, including property taxation", a sine qua non of "general obligations" under section 5136. (See § 250.122.)

(e) Although the Board of Governors has recognized that the pledge of the "general powers of taxation, including property taxation" may be indirect as well as direct, with respect to payment of the principal of its Bond Anticipation Notes the State of California does not commit its general taxing powers either directly or indirectly. The principal of such Notes is payable solely from the proceeds of subsequent sale of other securities, which means that the State retires the Notes through the exercise of its borrowing powers as distinct from its taxing powers.

(f) That the general obligation bonds, from the proceeds of whose sale the Notes are expected to be paid, will pledge the State's taxing powers cannot be considered an indirect pledge of that power to secure the Notes, because the pledge of the State's taxing powers attaches to the general obligation bonds only after they are sold and can in no way be utilized for the payment of the Notes. In order for obligations to be secured directly or indirectly by general taxing power, that power must be available for use, if necessary, to provide funds for the required payments of both principal and interest.

(g) The Board of Governors accordingly concludes that California Bond Anticipation Notes do not constitute general obligations within the meaning of section 5136. The Notes, therefore, would not be eligible for underwriting and dealing in by member State banks.

(12 U.S.C. 24, 335)

§ 250.140 Member bank acquisition of stock of another bank.

(a) The Board of Governors has recently considered, in several cases, whether a member bank may lawfully acquire stock of another bank. In some instances, a direct acquisition was involved; in another, the stock was to be purchased by a wholly owned subsidiary of the member bank. In one instance, the bank stock was to be purchased for cash; in others, the consideration was to consist of newly issued shares of stock of the acquiring bank. All of the cases involved acquisition of a majority of the stock of the "subsidiary" bank.

(b) The Board reaffirmed its position, originally taken shortly after enactment of the Banking Act of 1933 (1933 Federal Reserve Bulletin 449), that such acquisitions by member banks are not legally permissible. Section 5136 of the U.S. Revised Statutes (12 U.S.C. 24) forbids a national bank to purchase "for its own account * * * any shares of stock of any corporation." That prohibition is also applicable to State member banks, under section 9 of the Federal Reserve Act (12 U.S.C. 335). Legislative history and judicial interpretations in this field support the view that Congress did not intend to permit national banks or State member banks to acquire, for their own account, the stock of other banks, either directly or through intermediary corporations. The statutory prohibition applies to any voluntary acquisition of the stock of another bank, whether the consideration given for the stock consists of cash, other bank assets, or shares of stock of the acquiring bank.

(c) The Board concluded that such acquisitions would also violate the provisions of section 5155 of the Revised Statutes and section 9 of the Federal Reserve Act (12 U.S.C. 36 and 321) that prohibit the establishment of branches by member banks except under prescribed conditions. Those provisions of law were intended to permit national banks and State member banks to operate additional banking offices only with the prior approval of the Comptroller of the Currency or the Board of Governors, respectively. When one bank owns all or a majority of the stock of another, the offices and resources of the latter are a part of the banking organization owned by, and subject to the control of, the parent bank, despite the existence of separate corporate entities. Consequently, if such acquisitions of stock were permissible, member banks could conduct banking operations through additional offices without obtaining supervisory approval, which would undermine an important regulatory purpose of the Federal statutes relating to multiple-office banking.

(d) This incompatibility with the Federal banking statutes is particularly apparent when the offices of the "subsidiary" bank are situated in places where the acquiring bank may not lawfully establish and maintain direct branches, under applicable State and Federal laws. If a bank in those circumstances could acquire an existing bank or establish a new one, it could effectively circumvent public policy and accomplish indirectly what it could not accomplish directly—namely, ownership and control of banking offices in places (even in another State) where it is forbidden by law to conduct banking operations.

§ 250.141 Member bank purchase of stock of "operations subsidiaries."

(a) In response to several inquiries, the Board of Governors has reexamined the question whether member banks may establish and purchase the stock of "operations subsidiaries"; that is, organizations designed to serve, in effect, as separately incorporated departments of the bank, performing functions that the bank is empowered to perform directly. That question involves the interpretation of the following provision of section 5136 of the Revised Statutes (12 U.S.C. 24), the so-called "stock-purchase prohibition":

> Except as hereinafter provided or otherwise permitted by law, nothing herein contained shall authorize the purchase by [a national bank] for its own account of any shares of stock of any corporation.

(b) The Board's reexamination has confirmed its previous position that the stock-purchase prohibition, which is made applicable to member State banks by the 20th paragraph of section 9 of the Federal Reserve Act (12 U.S.C. 335), forbids the purchase by a member State bank "for its own account of any shares of stock of any corporation" (the statutory language), except as specifically permitted by provisions of Federal law or as comprised within the concept of "such incidental powers as shall be necessary to carry on the business of banking," referred to in the first sentence of paragraph "Seventh" of R.S. 5136.

(c) The Federal banking statutes explicitly permit the purchase of stock of a number of kinds of corporations, including stock of Federal Reserve Banks, bank premises subsidiaries, safe deposit companies, "Edge" and "Agreement" corporations, small business investment companies, bank service corporations, and certain foreign banks. In addition, it has been held that, in the process of collecting defaulted loans that were contracted in good faith, the "incidental powers" of national banks include the power to purchase corporate stock where that action constitutes a reasonable and appropriate step toward the collection of the indebtedness.

(d) In one proposal presented to the Board, the stock to be purchased would have been that of one or more corporations engaged in the business of leasing personalty to customers of the member bank and in the business of selling money orders. The Federal statutes contain no express permission for the purchase of stock of corporations of these kinds, and the Board of Governors concluded that the power to purchase the stock of such corporations may not properly be regarded as comprised within "such incidental powers as shall be necessary to carry on the business of banking", within the meaning of section 5136.

(e) One of the inquiring member banks contended that the above-cited provisions of the National Bank Act and Federal Reserve Act:

> were intended to restrict member banks in dealing in securities and stock in the sense of trading therein or in the sense of the purchase of the stock of a going concern and, perhaps, further to restrict national and member [State] banks from engaging through subsidiaries in activities in which such banks were not directly empowered to engage, but not in the sense of holding the entire stock of an operating corporation created by the bank.

Along the same lines, the contention has been advanced that the stock-purchase prohibition was intended by Congress only to prevent banks from investing depositors' funds in corporate stock for income and appreciation, in the way that banks invest in debt obligations of the Federal Government, municipalities, and private corporations.

(f) The Board did not adopt either of these constructions of the statutory provisions. Although the prevention of such investment in stocks undoubtedly was a major Congressional purpose, it appeared to the Board that the stock-purchase prohibition was intended generally to prevent the purchase of the stock of corporations, including those created to perform functions that could be performed by the bank itself. The provisions have been so interpreted and applied by the Board (and by the Comptroller of the Currency until recently) since their enactment in the Banking Act of 1933.

(g) One of the banking problems that principally concerned Congress in the early 1930's and that led to the enactment of the Banking Acts of 1933 and 1935 was the "affiliate system," including member banks' ownership of other corporations. Among the objectives of the Banking Act of 1933, as expressed by the Senate Banking Committee, was "To separate as far as possible national and member banks from affiliates of all kinds." (S. Rept. No. 77, 73d Cong., p. 10.) Together with a number of other provisions of the Banking Act of 1933, the stock-purchase prohibition of R.S. 5136 served the purpose of confining the bank-affiliate system by preventing banks from purchasing the stock of other corporations, except to the limited extent specified in that general prohibition.

(h) The Board also considered, among other contentions, the assertion that, despite the apparent intent of the terms of the pertinent statute and its legislative history, it should not be interpreted to prevent the separate incorporation of a banking department engaged in a legitimate activity. The supporting argument would be that, if a proposed course of action cannot possibly produce the evil effect at which a statutory provision was directed, a construction of the provision that would prevent such action would be unrealistic, and, by emphasizing statutory language rather than underlying purpose, would injure rather than safeguard the public interest.

(i) The Board agreed that, if a proposed course of action could not result in any evil at which a statute is aimed, interpretation of the statute to prohibit such action should be avoided, if possible. However, it appeared to the Board that this principle does not apply to the situation presented by the inquiries. Experience in the supervision of banks has revealed that the likelihood of unsafe and unsound practices, violations of law, and other developments contrary to the public interest is significantly greater when banks operate through subsidiary corporations. There appears to be an inevitable tendency for some banks, in time, to regard their subsidiary corporations as separate enterprises and thereupon to conduct their operations in a way that is unsuitable for a part of a banking enterprise, to disregard pertinent restrictions and requirements, and, in particular, to venture through their subsidiaries into activities that are beyond the powers of the parent bank. It is reasonable to infer that Congress, having in mind the predepression affiliate system, concluded that the American banking system and the general welfare would be benefited by limiting the authority of member banks to conduct their operations through separately incorporated organizations.

(12 U.S.C. 24, 335)

§ 250.142 Meaning of "obligor or maker" in determining limitation on securities investments by member State banks.

(a) From time to time the New York State Dormitory Authority offers issues of bonds with respect to each of which a different educational institution enters into an agreement to make "rental" payments to the Authority sufficient to cover interest and principal thereon when due. The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System has been asked whether a member State bank may invest up to 10 percent of its capital and surplus in each such issue.

(b) Paragraph Seventh of section 5136 of the U.S. Revised Statutes (12 U.S.C. 24) provides that "In no event shall the total amount of the investment securities of any one obligor or maker, held by [a national bank] for its own account, exceed at any time 10 per centum of its capital stock * * * and surplus fund". That limitation is made applicable to member State banks by the 20th paragraph of section 9 of the Federal Reserve Act (12 U.S.C. 335).

(c) The Board considers that, within the meaning of these provisions of law, "obligor" does not include any person that acts solely as a conduit for transmission of funds received from another source, irrespective of a promise by such person to pay principal or interest on the obligation. While an obligor does not cease to be such merely because a third person has agreed to pay the obligor amounts sufficient to cover principal and interest on the obligations when due, a person that promises to pay an obligation, but as a practical matter has no resources with which to assume payment of the obligation except the amounts received from such third person, is not an "obligor" within the meaning of section 5136.

(d) Review of the New York Dormitory Authority Act (N.Y. Public Authorities Law §§ 1675–1690), the Authority's interpretation thereof, and materials with respect to the Authority's "Revenue Bonds, Mills College of Education Issue, Series A" indicates that the Authority is not an "obligor" on those and similar bonds. Although the Authority promises to make all payments of principal and interest, a bank that invests in such bonds cannot be reasonably considered as doing so in reliance on the promise and responsibility of the Authority. Despite the Authority's obligation to make payments on the bonds, if the particular college fails to perform its agreement to make rental payments to the Authority sufficient to cover all payments of bond principal and interest when due, as a practical matter the sole source of funds for payments to the bondholder is the particular college. The Authority has general borrowing power but no resources from which to assure repayment of any borrowing except from the particular colleges, and rentals received from one college may not be used to service bonds issued for another.

(e) Accordingly, the Board has concluded that each college for which the Authority issues obligations is the sole "obligor" thereon. A member State bank may therefore invest an amount up to 10 percent of its capital and surplus in the bonds of a particular college that are eligible investments under the Investment Securities Regulation of the Comptroller of the Currency (12 CFR Part 1), whether issued directly or indirectly through the Dormitory Authority.

(12 U.S.C. 24, 335)

§ 250.160 Federal funds transactions.

(a) It is the position of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System that, for purposes of provisions of law administered by the Board, a transaction in Federal funds involves a loan on the part of the "selling" bank and a borrowing on the part of the "purchasing" bank.

(b) For example, for purposes of section 23A of the Federal Reserve Act (12 U.S.C. 371c), a "sale" of Federal funds by a member bank, whether State or national, to an affiliate of the member bank is subject to the limitations prescribed in that section.

(12 U.S.C. 371c)

§ 250.161 Capital notes and debentures as "capital," "capital stock," or "surplus."

(a) The Board of Governors has been presented with the question whether capital notes or debentures issued by banks, that are subordinated to deposit liabilities, may be considered as part of a bank's "capital stock," "capital," or "surplus," for purposes of various provisions of the Federal Reserve Act that impose requirements or limitations upon member banks.

(b) A "note" or "debenture" is an evidence of debt, embodying a promise to pay a certain sum of money on a specified date. Such a debt instrument issued by a commercial bank is quite different from its "stock," which evidences a proprietary or "equity" interest in the assets of the bank. Likewise, the proceeds of a note or debenture that must be repaid on a specified date cannot reasonably be regarded as "surplus funds" of the issuing corporation.

(c) Federal law (12 U.S.C. 51c) expressly provides that the term "capital," as used in provisions of law relating to the capital of national banks, shall mean "the amount of unimpaired common stock plus the amount of preferred stock outstanding and unimpaired." In addition, when Congress in 1934 deemed it desirable to permit certain notes and debentures—those sold by State banks to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation—to be considered as "capital" or "capital stock" for purposes of membership in the Federal Reserve System, Congress felt it necessary to implement that objective by a specific amendment to section 9 of the Federal Reserve Act (12 U.S.C. 321). These plain evidences of Congressional intent compel the conclusion that, for purposes of statutory limitations and requirements, "capital" notes and debentures may not properly be regarded as part or either "capital" or "capital stock."

(d) Accordingly, under the law, capital notes or debentures do not constitute "capital," "capital stock," or "surplus" for the purposes of provisions of the Federal Reserve Act, including, among others, those that limit member banks with respect to loans to affiliates (12 U.S.C. 371c), purchases of investment securities (12 U.S.C. 24, 335), investments in bank premises (12 U.S.C. 371d), loans on stock or bond collateral (12 U.S.C. 248(m)), deposits with nonmember banks (12 U.S.C. 463), and bank acceptances (12 U.S.C. 372, 373), as well as provisions that limit the amount of paper of one borrower that may be discounted by a Federal Reserve Bank for any member bank (12 U.S.C. 84, 330, 345).

§ 250.162 Whether undivided profits may be considered part of capital or surplus of member banks.

(a) The Board of Governors has been presented with the question whether a bank's undivided profits may be considered as part of its "capital stock," "capital," or "surplus" for the purposes of provisions of law imposing requirements or limitations upon member banks of the Federal Reserve System.

(b) It is obvious that undivided profits are not a part of a bank's "capital stock"; and Congress has explicitly indicated in the national banking laws that the more general term "capital" is limited to common stock and preferred stock (12 U.S.C. 51c).

(c) In the banking field, the undivided profits account traditionally represents a fluctuating amount as distinguished from the relatively fixed and permanent amount of a bank's "surplus" or "surplus fund." This distinction has been explicitly recognized by the Supreme Court of the United States:

> By incorporated banks the term [undivided profits] is commonly employed to designate the account in which profits are carried more or less temporarily, in contradistinction to the account called surplus in which are carried amounts treated as permanent capital, and which may have been derived from payments for stock in excess of par, or from profits which have been definitely devoted to use as capital. Edwards v. Douglas, 269 U.S. 204, 215 (1925)

(d) The Federal banking laws use the terms "undivided profits" and "surplus" as having different meanings. For example, with respect to the admission to membership in the Federal Reserve System of mutual savings banks having no capital stock, the Federal Reserve Act requires such a bank to have "surplus and undivided profits" not less than the amount of capital required for the organization of a national bank in the place in which the savings bank is located (12 U.S.C. 333). Similarly, various provisions of the National Bank Act distinguish between "undivided profits" and "surplus fund." Thus, a national bank may not declare dividends if its losses have exceeded its "undivided profits" (12 U.S.C. 56); and, until a national bank's "surplus fund" equals its common capital, it may not declare dividends unless a special percentage of its net profits is carried to its "surplus fund" (12 U.S.C. 60).

(e) If undivided profits were regarded as a part of a bank's surplus or "surplus fund," such provisions for transfer of profits to surplus would be meaningless and the application of other provisions would be uncertain and impracticable. For example, subscriptions by member banks to Federal Reserve Bank stock are based upon the amount of the member bank's "capital stock and surplus" (12 U.S.C. 287), so that, if undivided profits were regarded as a part of "surplus," the amount of a bank's subscription to Reserve Bank stock would have to be increased and decreased continuously, an inconvenient and costly procedure that could not have been contemplated by Congress.

(f) It is recognized that the question whether undivided profits may be added to capital stock and surplus in calculating the lending limitations governing member banks is a matter for determination under applicable State law in the case of State banks and under the National Bank Act in the case of national banks, except as further limited by particular provisions of the Federal Reserve Act. For the reasons indicated above, it is the Board's opinion that undivided profits do not constitute "capital," "capital stock," or "surplus" for the purposes of provisions of the Federal Reserve Act, including those that limit member banks with respect to loans to affiliates (12 U.S.C. 371c), purchases of investment securities (12 U.S.C. 335), investments in bank premises (12 U.S.C. 371d), loans on stock or bond collateral (12 U.S.C. 248(m)), deposits with nonmember banks (12 U.S.C. 463), and bank acceptances (12 U.S.C. 372, 373), as well as provisions that limit the amount of paper of one borrower that may be discounted by a Federal Reserve Bank for any member bank or accepted as security for an advance to a member bank (12 U.S.C. 330, 345, 347).

§ 250.180 Reports of changes in control of management.

(a) Under a statute enacted September 12, 1964 (Public Law 88–593; 78 Stat. 940) all insured banks are required to report promptly (1) changes in the outstanding voting stock of the bank which will result in control or in a change in control of the bank and (2) any instances where the bank makes a loan or loans, secured, or to be secured, by 25 percent or more of the outstanding voting stock of an insured bank.

(b) Reports concerning changes in control of a State member bank are to be made by the president or other chief executive officer of the bank, and shall be submitted to the Federal Reserve Bank of its district.

(c) Reports concerning loans by an insured bank on the stock of a State member bank are to be made by the president or other chief executive officer of the lending bank, and shall be submitted to the Federal Reserve Bank of the State member bank on the stock of which the loan was made.

(d) Paragraphs 3 and 4 of this legislation specify the information required in the reports which, in cases involving State member banks, should be addressed to the Vice President in Charge of Examinations of the appropriate Federal Reserve Bank.

(12 U.S.C. 1817)

§ 250.181 Reports of change in control of bank management incident to a merger.

(a) A State member bank has inquired whether Public Law 88–593 (78 Stat. 940) requires reports of change in control of bank management in situations where the change occurs as an incident in a merger.

(b) Under the Bank Merger Act of 1960 (12 U.S.C. 1828(c)), no bank with Federal deposit insurance may merge or consolidate with, or acquire the assets of, or assume the liability to pay deposits in, any other insured bank without prior approval of the appropriate Federal bank supervisory agency. Where the bank resulting from any such transaction is a State member bank, the Board of Governors is the agency that must pass on the transaction. In the course of consideration of such an application, the Board would, of necessity, acquire knowledge of any change in control of management that might result. Information concerning any such change in control of management is supplied with each merger application and, in the circumstances, it is the view of the Board that the receipt of such information in connection with a merger application constitutes compliance with Public Law 88–593. However, once a merger has been approved and completely effectuated, the resulting bank would thereafter be subject to the reporting requirements of Public Law 88–593.

(12 U.S.C. 1817)

§ 250.200 Investment in bank premises by holding company banks.

(a) The Board of Governors has been asked whether, in determining under section 24A of the Federal Reserve Act (12 U.S.C. 371d) how much may be invested in bank premises without prior Board approval, a State member bank, which is owned by a registered bank holding company, is required to include indebtedness of a corporation, wholly owned by the holding company, that is engaged in holding premises of banks in the holding company system.

(b) Section 24A provides, in part, as follows:

> Hereafter * * * no State member bank, without the approval of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, shall (1) invest in bank premises, or in the stock, bonds, debentures, or other such obligations of any corporation holding the premises of such bank or (2) make loans to or upon the security of the stock of any such corporation, if the aggregate of all such investments and loans, together with the amount of any indebtedness incurred by any such corporation which is an affiliate of the bank, as defined in section 2 of the Banking Act of 1933, as amended [12 U.S.C. 221a], will exceed the amount of the capital stock of such banks.

(c) A corporation that is owned by a holding company is an "affiliate of each of the holding company's majority-owned banks as that term is defined in said section 2. Therefore, under the explicit provisions of section 24A, each State member bank, any part of whose premises is owned by such an affiliate, must include the affiliate's total indebtedness in determining whether a proposed premises investment by the bank would cause the aggregate figure to exceed the amount of the bank's capital stock, so that the Board's prior approval would be required. Where the affiliate holds the premises of a number of the holding company's banks, the amount of the affiliate's indebtedness may be so large that Board approval is required for every proposed investment in bank premises by each majority-owned State member bank, to which the entire indebtedness of the affiliate is required to be attributed. The Board believes that, in these circumstances, individual approvals are not essential to effectuate the purpose of section 24A, which is to safeguard the soundness and liquidity of member banks, and that the protection sought by Congress can be achieved by a suitably circumscribed general approval.

(d) Accordingly the Board hereby grants general approval for any investment or loan (as described in section 24A) by any State member bank, the majority of the stock of which is owned by a registered bank holding company, if the proposed investment or loan will not cause either (1) all such investments and loans by the member bank (together with the indebtedness of any bank premises subsidiary thereof) to exceed 100 percent of the bank's capital stock, or (2) the aggregate of such investments and loans by all of the holding company's subsidiary banks (together with the indebtedness of any bank premises affiliates thereof) to exceed 100 percent of the aggregate capital stock of said banks.

§ 250.220 Whether member bank acting as trustee is prohibited by section 20 of the Banking Act of 1933 from acquiring majority of shares of mutual fund.

(a) The Board recently considered whether section 20 of the Banking Act of 1933 (12 U.S.C. 377) would prohibit a member bank, while acting as trustee of a tax exempt employee benefit trust or trusts, from, under the following circumstances, acquiring a majority of the shares of an open-end investment company ("Fund") registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, or more than 50 percent of the number of Fund's shares voted at the preceding election of directors of the Fund.

(b) The bank has acted as trustee, since December 1963, pursuant to a trust agreement with a county medical society to administer its group retirement program, under which individual members of the society could participate in accordance with the provisions of the Self-Employed Individuals Tax Retirement Act of 1962 (commonly referred to as "H.R. 10").

(c) Under the trust agreement as presently constituted, each employer, who is a participating member of the medical society, directs the bank to invest his contributions to the retirement plan in such proportions as he may elect in insurance or annuity contracts or in a diversified portfolio of securities and other property. The diversified portfolio held by the bank is invested and administered by the bank solely at the direction of a committee of the medical society.

(d) It has now been proposed that the trust agreement be amended to provide that all investments constituting the trust fund, apart from insurance and annuity contracts, will be made exclusively in shares of a single open-end investment company to be named in the trust agreement and that the assets constituting the diversified portfolio now held by the bank, as trustee, will be exchanged for the Fund's shares. The bank will, in addition to holding the shares of the Fund, allocate income and dividends to the accounts of the various participants in the retirement program, invest and reinvest income and dividends, and perform other ministerial functions.

(e) In addition, it is proposed to amend the trust agreement so that voting of the shares held by the bank as trustee will be controlled exclusively by the participants. Under the proposed amendment, the bank will sign all proxies prior to mailing them to the participants, "it being intended that the Participant(s) shall vote the proxies notwithstanding the fact that the Trustee is the owner of the shares * * *".

(f) The bank believes that amendments are now under consideration that will also require investment of the assets of these plans exclusively in the Fund's shares. Accordingly, the bank may eventually own the Fund's shares in several separate trust accounts and in an aggregate amount equal to a majority of the Fund's shares.

(g) Section 20 of the Banking Act of 1933 provides in relevant part that "no member bank shall be affiliated in any manner described in section 2(b) hereof with any corporation * * * engaged principally in the issue, flotation, underwriting, public sale, or distribution at wholesale or retail or through syndicate participation of stocks * * * or other securities: * * *".

(h) Section 2(b) defines the term "affiliate" to include "any corporation, business trust, association or other similar organization (1) Of which a member bank, directly or indirectly, owns or controls either a majority of the voting shares or more than 50 per centum of the number of shares voted for the election of its directors, trustees, or other persons exercising similar functions at the preceding election, or controls in any manner the election of a majority of its directors, trustees, or other persons exercising similar functions; * * *".

(i) The Board has previously taken the position, in an interpretation involving the term "affiliate" under the Banking Act of 1933, that it would not require a member bank to obtain and publish a report of a corporation the majority of the stock of which is held by the member bank as executor or trustee, provided that the member bank holds such stock subject to control by a court or by a beneficiary or other principal and that the member bank may not lawfully exercise control of such stock independently of any order or direction of a court, beneficiary or other principal. 1933 Federal Reserve Bulletin 651. The rationale of that interpretation—which was reaffirmed by the Board in 1957—would appear to be equally applicable to the facts in the present case. In the circumstances, and on the basis of the Board's understanding that the bank will not vote any of Fund's shares or control in any manner the election of any of its directors, trustees, or other persons exercising similar functions, the Board has concluded that the situation in question would not fall within the purpose or coverage of section 20 of the Banking Act of 1933 and, therefore, would not involve a violation of the statute.

Dated at Washington, D.C., the third day of July 1968.

By order of the Board of Governors.

Assistant Secretary.

[Reg. Q]

PART 217—PAYMENT OF INTEREST ON DEPOSITS

Computation of Interest

§ 217.145 Payment of interest on basis that 360 days equals 1 year.

(a) The question has arisen whether a member bank may pay interest on 1-year deposits on the basis that 360 days entitles a depositor to a full year's interest and add interest at the maximum permissible rate on the type of deposit in question for the remaining days (5 or 6) of the calendar year. Under such a practice, the depositor would, in effect, receive 370 days of interest on the deposit in one year.

(b) The Board of Governors considers that practices of this type violate Regulation Q. Such regulation does not authorize a bank to use "grace periods" in computing interest on time deposits at the maximum permissible rate. In other words, the terms of Regulation Q are not designed to permit a bank to pay interest at the maximum rate for more days than funds are on deposit.

(c) Nevertheless, the Board of Governors has concluded that no useful purpose would be served by preventing banks from computing interest, as a matter of mathematical simplicity, on the basis that 30 days equals 1 month or one-twelfth of a year, 90 days equals 3 months or one-quarter of a year, 180 days equals 6 months or one-half of a year, or even that 360 days equals 1 year. Although it is recognized that a bank which computes interest on such a basis will be paying interest at an effective annual rate of interest slightly in excess of the applicable maximum simple interest rate compounded continuously for the number of days the funds are on deposit, the Board will disregard this insignificant violation of its regulation.

(d) However, a bank that does compute interest on the basis of 360 days equals 1 year, or the like, may not add any interest computed on a daily basis. The mathematical simplicity argument supporting disregard of the violation that arises from the 360-days-equals-1-year basis falls with respect to such a bank.

(e) The Board also considers that it would be inappropriate for a bank to advertise an effective annual rate of interest on deposits in excess of the rate that results from computing interest at the maximum permissible simple interest rate on the type of deposit involved, compounded continuously for a full year. This means, for example, that a member bank may not advertise an effective annual rate of interest in excess of 5.13 percent on a 5 percent multiple maturity time deposit.

Subpart—Cotton Board Rules and Regulations

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

On May 15, 1968, a notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (33 F.R. 7157) regarding proposed amendments of the Subpart—Cotton Board Rules and Regulations (7 CFR 1205.500–1205.540; 32 F.R. 7068).

Interested persons were given 15 days to submit written data, views, or arguments regarding the proposed amendments. Comments were received from five sources. Copies of all comments were made available to the Cotton Board. The Cotton Board requested approval of the proposed amendments without change.

After consideration of the data, views, and arguments which were filed, the Cotton Board's request for approval, and all other relevant matters, the regulations are hereby amended as hereinafter set forth:

1. In § 1205.520, the first sentence of paragraph (b) is amended by adding the words "by such producer" at the end of the first sentence and as amended reads as follows:

§ 1205.520 Procedure for obtaining refund.

(b) Submission of refund application to Cotton Board. Any producer requesting a refund shall mail an application on the prescribed form to the Cotton Board within 90 days from the date the assessment was paid on the cotton by such producer. * * *

* * * * *

2. Section 1205.530 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1205.530 Gin reports and reporting schedule.

(a) Gin reports. Each year each cotton gin in the United States shall submit reports to the Cotton Board on forms or certificates made available or approved by the Cotton Board as follows:

(1) End-of-season report. Except as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, each gin shall report to the Cotton Board an alphabetical listing of producer names, their addresses, and the number of bales ginned for each such producer during its ginning season.

(2) Certificate in lieu of end-of-season report. If a gin is the collecting handler on every bale ginned at such gin and collecting handler reports and remittances of assessments have been made in accordance with § 1205.513, a certification to that effect may be made to the Cotton Board in lieu of an end-of-season report.

(b) Reporting schedule. The schedule for submitting gin reports is as follows:

(1) Each gin that completes ginning operations prior to January 16 shall make a report to the Cotton Board within 10 days after completion of ginning.

(2) Each gin that operates on or after January 16 will make a report to the Cotton Board not later than January 25 covering bales ginned through January 15.

(3) Each gin that operates after January 15 shall make a supplemental report to the Cotton Board within 10 days after the close of ginning operations covering bales ginned after January 15.

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective 30 days following the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Title 14—AERONAUTICS AND SPACE

Chapter I—Federal Aviation Administration, Department of Transportation

[Airworthiness Docket No. 68-WE-21-AD; Amdt. 39-618]

PART 39—AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

Beech Model D55, 56TC and E95 Airplanes

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (14 CFR 11.81), an airworthiness directive (AD) was adopted on May 29, 1968, and made effective by telegram immediately to all known owners of Beech Model D55, 56TC and E95 airplanes equipped with Beechcraft pneumatic de-icer system and Beechcraft Model B5 Autopilot (manufactured as Brittain Model B-5P). The AD requires that the Beechcraft Model B5 autopilot must not be operated simultaneously with the Beechcraft pneumatic de-icer system.

Telegraphic issuance of this directive was necessitated because of an unsafe condition wherein the simultaneous operation of the Model B5 Autopilot and the pneumatic de-icer system might cause the airplane to exceed the structural limits.

Since it was found that immediate corrective action was required, notice and public procedure thereon were impracticable and contrary to the public interest and good cause existed for making the airworthiness directive effective immediately as to all known owners of Beech Model D55, 56TC, and E95 airplanes. This condition still exists and the airworthiness directive is hereby published in the FEDERAL REGISTER as an amendment to § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations to make it effective as to all persons.

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (14 CFR 11.81), § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

BEECH. Applies to Model D55, 56TC and E95 airplanes equipped with Beechcraft pneumatic de-icer system and Beechcraft Model B5 Autopilot (manufactured as Brittain Model B-5P).

Compliance required as indicated.

An unsafe condition exists wherein the simultaneous operation of the Model B5 Autopilot and the pneumatic de-icer system might cause the airplane to exceed the structural limits. Since a potential unsafe condition exists, the following operating limitations are prescribed for all affected aircraft:

A. Aircraft must not be operated with Beechcraft Model B5 Autopilot and Beechcraft pneumatic de-icer system operating simultaneously.

B. Within the next 10 hours time in service after receipt of the telegram a placard must be installed in clear view of the pilot near the autopilot controller stating as follows: "Autopilot must be turned OFF whenever the de-icer system is ON."

C. Placard is to remain installed in aircraft until such time as Brittain Industries, Inc., Service Bulletin No. 68-1, Revision A, or a satisfactory equivalent modification approved by the Chief, Aircraft Engineering Division, FAA, Western Region, has been accomplished and incorporated into the autopilot system.

This amendment becomes effective on July 10, 1968, for all persons except those to whom it was made effective immediately by telegram dated May 29, 1968.

PART 39—AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

Boeing Model 727 Series Airplanes

There has been a recent malfunction of the main landing gear downlock actuating system on a Boeing Model 727 airplane which caused the main landing gear on one side of the airplane to be jammed by the gear door in the partially retracted position. That malfunction resulted from the rotation of a bellcrank on a torque tube. There is adequate reason to conclude that such a deficiency may exist in the torque tube assembly on other Model 727 airplanes. Accordingly, it is necessary to require inspection or rework to minimize the probability of recurrence of the malfunction.

Since a situation exists that requires immediate adoption of this regulation, it is found that notice and public procedure hereon are impracticable and good cause exists for making this amendment effective in less than 30 days.

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (14 CFR 11.81), § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended by adding the following new Airworthiness Directive:

BOEING. Applies to all Model 727 Series Airplanes.

a. Unless already accomplished, within the next 250 hours time in service after the effective date of this AD, install in each main landing gear downlock actuating system, a torque tube assembly, Boeing P/N 65-26921 in which the brazed joint at each end has been inspected and found to be acceptable in the manner described in Boeing Alert Service Bulletin No. 32-160 dated July 1, 1968, or later FAA-approved revision, or which has been modified to incorporate special structural fasteners in the locations and in the manner described in that Bulletin or in another manner approved by the Chief, Aircraft Engineering Division, FAA Western Region.

b. Prior to return to service following the replacement of any torque tube assembly, Boeing P/N 65-26921, inspect the replacement assembly of the same part number in the manner described in Boeing Alert Service Bulletin No. 32-160 dated July 1, 1968, or later FAA-approved revision, unless the assembly has been modified to install structural fasteners in the manner prescribed in a, above, or unless there is conclusive evidence that the assembly has been inspected in the manner described in Boeing Service Bulletin No. 32-160 dated July 1, 1968, or later FAA-approved revision, and found to be satisfactory.

NOTE: Conclusive evidence may consist of markings or other identification placed on the assembly by the airplane manufacturer or airplane operator, when it is known that such marking or identification verifies compliance with the prescribed inspection and acceptance requirement.

c. Airplanes inspected and found to have downlock torque tube assemblies with unacceptable brazed joints may be flown in accordance with FAR 21.97 and with landing gear extended and locked to a base where replacement or modification of the torque tube assembly can be accomplished.

This amendment becomes effective July 11, 1968.

PART 71—DESIGNATION OF FEDERAL AIRWAYS, CONTROLLED AIRSPACE, AND REPORTING POINTS

Alteration of Federal Airway

On March 30, 1968, a notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (33 F.R. 5223) stating that the Federal Aviation Administration was considering an amendment to Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations that would extend VOR Federal airway No. 287 from North Bend, Oreg., 1,200 feet AGL to Medford, Oreg.

Interested persons were offered an opportunity to participate in the proposed rule making through the submission of comments. Due consideration was given to all comments received.

The Department of the Navy objected in principle to the proposed airway.

The Departments of the Navy and the Air Force both expressed concern about the increased designation of small segments of controlled airspace for en route operations with the resultant reduction of "elsewhere area" airspace available to the military and other users who have a requirement for various types of flying activity incompatible with airway route structure and procedures.

The Department of the Air Force was of the opinion that if there were supporting factors for designation of the airway sufficient to outweigh the obvious disadvantages, the adverse impact of the reduction in "elsewhere area" could be partially offset by revoking the segment of the Medford transition area extending from Medford to Rouge River Intersection.

All other comments received were favorable.

The proposed airway would make it possible to provide air traffic service to aircraft operating between Medford and North Bend during IFR weather conditions. It is the policy of the agency to provide such service where possible.

There is no known national defense activity nor known use of this airspace by other operators. Contrary to the opinions expressed by the Departments of the Navy and the Air Force, the agency believes that it would be in the public interest to provide the measure of safety attendant to air traffic services to IFR operations along this route.

Consideration was given to revocation of the segment of the Medford transition area between Medford and Rouge River Intersection. However, this controlled airspace is used for a standard instrument departure procedure from Medford and its revocation would require cancellation of the procedure with the resultant derogation to air traffic service.

In consideration of the foregoing, Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended effective 0901 G.m.t., September 19, 1968, as hereinafter set forth.

Section 71.123 (33 F.R. 2009) is amended as follows: In V-287 "From North Bend, Oreg.," is deleted and "From Medford, Oreg., 12 AGL North Bend, Oreg.;" is substituted therefor.

PART 71—DESIGNATION OF FEDERAL AIRWAYS, CONTROLLED AIRSPACE, AND REPORTING POINTS

Alteration of Transition Area

On page 6939 of the FEDERAL REGISTER for May 8, 1968, the Federal Aviation Administration published a proposed regulation which would alter the Jamestown, N.Y., transition area.

Interested parties were given 30 days after publication in which to submit written data or views. No objections to the proposed regulations have been received.

In reviewing the proposed regulation, it was determined that there is still a need for the extension predicated on a 060° bearing from the airport. It will therefore be retained, but described by reference to the Jamestown, N.Y., RBN. In addition, the description will be rewritten.

The amendment to the proposed regulation is clarifying in nature and therefore notice and public procedure herein are unnecessary and may be made effective in less than 30 days.

In view of the foregoing, the proposed regulations are hereby adopted effective 0901 G.m.t., August 22, 1968, as follows:

Amend § 71.181 of Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations by deleting the description of the Jamestown, N.Y., transition area and insert in lieu thereof:

JAMESTOWN, N.Y.

That airspace extending upward from 700 feet above the surface within a 7-mile radius of the center of Jamestown Municipal Airport, Jamestown, N.Y. (42°09'10" N., 79°-15'30" W.); within 2 miles each side of the Jamestown VOR 071° and 251° radials, extending from the 7-mile radius area to 8 miles northeast of the VOR; and within 2 miles each side of a 053° bearing from the Jamestown, N.Y., RBN (42°11'02" N., 79°-11'15" W.) extending from the 7-mile radius area to 8 miles northeast of the RBN; within 2 miles each side of the Jamestown, N.Y., ILS localizer northeast course extending from the 7-mile radius area to 8 miles northeast of the ILS OM.

Alteration of Control Zone and Transition Area

On page 6937 of the FEDERAL REGISTER for May 8, 1968, the Federal Aviation Administration published a proposed regulation which would alter the Covington, Ky., control zone and Cincinnati, Ohio, 700-foot floor transition area.

Interested parties were given 30 days after publication in which to submit written data or views. No objections to the proposed regulations have been received.

In view of the foregoing, the proposed regulations are hereby adopted effective 0901 G.m.t., August 22, 1968.

PART 71—DESIGNATION OF FEDERAL AIRWAYS, CONTROLLED AIRSPACE, AND REPORTING POINTS

Alteration of Control Zone and Transition Area

The purpose of this amendment to Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is to alter controlled airspace in the Roswell, N. Mex., terminal area.

On May 16, 1968, a notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (33 F.R. 7259) stating the Federal Aviation Administration proposed to alter the Roswell, N. Mex., control zone and transition area.

Interested persons were provided an opportunity to participate in the rule making through submission of comments. All comments received were favorable.

A review of the proposed extensions to the Roswell, N. Mex., transition area has indicated that utilization of the Wink, Tex., VOR 322° radial (311° magnetic) would be more accurate than the 321° radial (310° magnetic) as was proposed in the notice. The airspace description is being altered accordingly by substituting the Wink, Tex., VORTAC 322° radial for the 321° radial as was initially proposed. As this correction or refinement is considered minor in nature and imposes no additional burden on the public, notice and public procedure are deemed unnecessary.

In consideration of the foregoing Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended, effective 0901 e.s.t., August 22, 1968, as hereinafter set forth.

In § 71.171 (33 F.R. 2120) (33 F.R. 2628), the Roswell, N. Mex., control zone is amended as follows:

ROSWELL, N. MEX.

That airspace within a 6-mile radius of the Roswell Industrial Air Center Airport (lat. 33°17'59" N., long. 104°31'48" W.); within 2 miles each side of the extended centerline of runway 3 extending from the 6-mile radius zone to the LOM; and within 2 miles each side of the extended centerline of runway 21 extending from the 6-mile radius zone to 6 miles southwest of the lift-off end of runway 21. This control zone is effective during the dates and times published in the Airman's Information Manual.

In § 71.181 (33 F.R. 2248) the Roswell, N. Mex., transition area is amended as follows:

ROSWELL, N. MEX.

That airspace extending upward from 700 feet above the surface bounded by a line beginning at lat. 33°35'25" N., long. 104°46'40" W., thence to lat. 33°37'00" N., long. 104°20'00" W., to lat. 33°29'15" N., long. 104°10'05" W., to lat. 33°24'30" N., long. 104°07'00" W., to lat. 33°07'00" N., long. 104°12'00" W., to lat. 33°06'25" N., long. 104°32'30" W., to lat. 33°12'40" N., long. 104°43'25" W., to lat. 33°30'35" N., long. 104°49'55" W., thence to the point of beginning; and that airspace extending upward from 1,200 feet above the surface bounded by a line beginning at lat. 32°50'40" N., long. 105°15'00" W., thence to lat. 32°58'00" N., long. 105°09'00" W., to lat. 33°41'30" N., long. 105°09'00" W., thence clockwise via the arc of a 45-mile radius circle centered at lat. 33°17'59" N., long. 104°31'48" W., to lat. 32°43'35" N., long. 104°54'55" W., to lat. 32°40'38" N., long. 104°58'25" W., thence to the point of beginning; within 5 miles each side of the Roswell VORTAC 319° radial and the Albuquerque, N. Mex., VORTAC 128° radial extending from the 45-mile radius area to 93.5 miles northwest of the Roswell VORTAC, including that airspace within lines diverging at 4.5° from the Albuquerque VORTAC 128° radial extended to intersect with the bisector of the angle formed by the Albuquerque VORTAC 128° radial and the Roswell VORTAC 319° radial and extending from those points of intersection to the Roswell VORTAC, excluding that portion within the Corona, N. Mex., and Albuquerque, N. Mex,. transition areas; within 5 miles each side of the Roswell VORTAC 051° radial extending from the 45-mile radius area to 93.5 miles northeast of the VORTAC including that airspace within lines diverging at 4.5° each side of the 051° radial from the VORTAC but excluding that portion within the Clovis, N. Mex., transition area; within 5 miles each side of the Roswell VORTAC 141° radial and of the Wink, Tex. 322° radial extending from the 45-mile radius area to 93.5 miles southeast of the Roswell VORTAC; within 5 miles each side of the Roswell VORTAC 215° radial extending from the 45-mile radius area to 93.5 miles southwest of the VORTAC, including that airspace within lines diverging at 4.5° each side of the 215° radial from the VORTAC but excluding that portion within the El Paso, Tex., transition area.

PART 71—DESIGNATION OF FEDERAL AIRWAYS, CONTROLLED AIRSPACE, AND REPORTING POINTS

Designation of Federal Airway Segment

The purpose of this amendment to Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is to designate VOR Federal airway No. 431 segment from Keene, N.H., direct to Gardner, Mass., VOR Federal airway No. 431 is presently designated from Boston, Mass., to Gardner, Mass., and from Keene, N.H., via Glens Falls, N.Y., to the Gateway, N.Y., intersection. Action is being taken herein to designate V-431 segment as a common airway segment with V-151 between Gardner and Keene, thereby facilitating flight planning and route continuity of air traffic operating between Glens Falls and Boston.

Since this action is editorial in nature and does not require the designation of additional airspace and imposes no additional burden on any person, notice and public procedure hereon are unnecessary. However, since it is necessary that sufficient time be allowed to permit appropriate changes to be made on aeronautical charts, this amendment will become effective more than 30 days after publication.

In consideration of the foregoing, Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations is amended effective 0901 G.m.t., September 19, 1968, as hereinafter set forth.

In § 71.123 (33 F.R. 2009) V-431 is amended by deleting "12 AGL Gardner. From" and substituting "12 AGL Gardner; 12 AGL" therefor.

Title 21—FOOD AND DRUGS

Chapter I—Food and Drug Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare

SUBCHAPTER B—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

PART 120—TOLERANCES AND EXEMPTIONS FROM TOLERANCES FOR PESTICIDE CHEMICALS IN OR ON RAW AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES

Malathion

A petition (PP 8F0713) was filed with the Food and Drug Administration by the American Cyanamid Co., Post Office Box 400, Princeton, N.J. 08540, proposing the establishment of tolerances for residues of the insecticide malathion in or on the raw agricultural commodities grain sorghum and sorghum forage at 8 parts per million.

The Secretary of Agriculture has certified that this pesticide chemical is useful for the purposes for which the tolerances are being established.

Based on consideration given the data submitted in the petition, and other relevant material, the Commissioner of Food and Drugs concludes that the tolerances established by this order will protect the public health. Therefore, by virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare by the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sec. 408(d)(2), 68 Stat. 512; 21 U.S.C. 346a(d)(2)) and delegated to the Commissioner (21 CFR 2.120), § 120.111 is amended to establish the subject tolerances by revising the third paragraph to read as follows:

§ 120.111 Malathion; tolerances for residues.

From preharvest application: 8 parts per million in or on apples, apricots, asparagus, avocados, barley, beans, beets (including tops), blackberries, blueberries, boysenberries, broccoli, brussels sprouts, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery, cherries, collards, corn forage, cranberries, cucumbers, currants, dandelions, dates, dewberries, eggplants, endive (escarole), figs, garlic, gooseberries, grapefruit, grapes, guavas, horseradish, kale, kohlrabi, kumquats, leeks, lemons, lettuce, limes, loganberries, mangoes, melons, mushrooms, mustard greens, nectarines, oats, onions (including green onions), oranges, parsley, parsnips, passion fruit, peaches, pears, peas, peavines, peavine hay, pecans, peppermint, peppers, pineapples, plums, potatoes, prunes, pumpkins, quinces, radishes, raspberries, rice, rutabagas, rye, salsify (including tops), shallots, sorghum grain and sorghum forage, spearmint, spinach, squash (both summer and winter squash), strawberries, Swiss chard, tangelos, tangerines, tomatoes, turnips (including tops), walnuts, watercress, wheat.

* * * * *

Any person who will be adversely affected by the foregoing order may at any time within 30 days from the date of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER file with the Hearing Clerk, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Room 5440, 330 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20201, written objections thereto, preferably in quintuplicate. Objections shall show wherein the person filing will be adversely affected by the order and specify with particularity the provisions of the order deemed objectionable and the grounds for the objections. If a hearing is requested, the objections must state the issues for the hearing. A hearing will be granted if the objections are supported by grounds legally sufficient to justify the relief sought. Objections may be accompanied by a memorandum or brief in support thereof.

Effective date. This order shall become effective on the date of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

SUBCHAPTER D—HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES

PART 191—HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES: DEFINITIONS AND PROCEDURAL AND INTERPRETATIVE REGULATIONS

Foam Novelty; Exemption From Classification as Banned Hazardous Substance

The Commissioner of Food and Drugs has received a request, submitted pursuant to section 2(q)(1)(B)(i) of the Federal Hazardous Substances Act and § 191.62(c) of the regulations thereunder, to exempt the article described below from classification as a "banned hazardous substance," as defined by section 2(q)(1)(A) of the act, because the article's functional purpose requires inclusion of a hazardous substance, it bears labeling giving adequate directions and warnings for safe use, and it is intended for use by children who have attained sufficient maturity, and may reasonably be expected, to read and heed such directions and warnings.

The Commissioner has determined on the basis of the facts submitted, and other relevant information, that the requested exemption is consistent with the purpose of the act. Therefore, pursuant to the provisions of the act (sec. 2(q)(1)(B)(i), 74 Stat. 374, 80 Stat. 1304; 15 U.S.C. 1261) and under the authority delegated to the Commissioner by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare (21 CFR 2.120), § 191.65(a) is amended by adding thereto a new subparagraph, as follows:

§ 191.65 Exemptions from classification as banned hazardous substances.

(7) Games containing, as the sole hazardous component, a self-pressurized container of soap solution or similar foam-generating mixture provided that the foam-generating component has no hazards other than being in a self-pressurized container.

* * * * *

Notice and public procedure and delayed effective date are unnecessary prerequisities to the promulgation of this order, and I so find, since the Federal Hazardous Substances Act contemplates such exemptions under certain conditions.

Effective date. This order shall be effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

PART 4—LABOR STANDARDS FOR FEDERAL SERVICE CONTRACTS

On September 27, 1966, a revision of 29 CFR Part 4 was proposed with the subject matter of the present Part 4 included is Subpart A entitled "Service Contract Labor Standards Provisions and Procedures," and a new Subpart B entitled "Equivalents of Determined Fringe Benefits" (31 F.R. 12646). On July 8, 1967, a new Subpart C entitled "Application of the McNamara-O'Hara Service Contract Act" was proposed to be added. Comments of interested persons were invited on the new Subpart C, and additional time was given to comment on proposed Subparts A and B (32 F.R. 10132).

After consideration of all the comments received, it has been decided to adopt some of the suggested changes in Subparts A and B. In order to eliminate any conflict between § 4.4 and S.F. 98, the proposed § 4.4(a)(1) through § 4.4(a)(8) are eliminated. In their place, language is substituted making reference to S.F. 98. Another suggestion which is adopted was made by several respondents, that the requirement of intra-agency reports contained in the proposed paragraph § 4.4(b) be eliminated, as unduly burdensome. In response to several requests, the term "interested parties" is defined in § 4.6(b).

Several other changes, while not in response to specific suggestions, are made to clarify Part 4 and provide more precision in implementing the McNamara-O'Hara Service Contract Act of 1965. For example, proposed § 4.6(b)(5) is changed to conform it to an amendment to § 4.6 adopted on December 27, 1967 (32 F.R. 21037). Also, a new paragraph (n) is added to § 4.6 to incorporate a tolerance for apprentices, student-learners and handicapped workers, adopted as § 4.10 on February 28, 1967 (32 F.R. 3689), and to provide that tips may be treated under the Service Contract Act in the same manner as they are treated under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938. To permit compliance checks in cases where wages and fringe benefits are conformed for classes of service employees who are not included in a wage determination, paragraph (g)(5) is added to § 4.6 to require records concerning the conformed wages and fringe benefits. A new clause is added to §§ 4.6 and 4.7 to inform the parties that contracts which are subject to the Act are also subject to the interpretations expressed in Subpart C. Reference is also made to rules of practice for administrative proceedings enforcing labor standards in Federal service contracts. And, in Subpart B, the 2,000-hour standard year used for the determination of cash equivalents is changed to 2,080 in order to conform this standard with that followed for other statutes administered by the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions.

Comments regarding the interpretation of the Act as set forth in proposed Subpart C have also been given careful consideration. While it has been decided that no basic changes are required in the proposal, the section on contract modification (§ 4.143) is changed to accord with contract practices as revealed by further review, and § 4.167 is changed to conform its treatment of tips with that under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and the change in § 4.6(n)(2). Section 4.117 is changed to reflect that rates issued under section 22 of the Interstate Commerce Act will be given the same effect as published tariff rates within the exemption provided by section 7(3) of the McNamara-O'Hara Service Contract Act of 1965. Other minor changes are also made.

Effective 30 days after this document is published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, the table of contents, and Subpart A are revised to read as set forth below, and the proposed Subpart B and Subpart C are hereby adopted as proposed, subject to the changes set forth below.

1. In § 4.52 of Subpart B, the word "law" in the seventh line is changed to "statute".

2. In § 4.53(c) of Subpart B, the figure "$1.50" is changed to "$1.60" in each of the two places where it appears, and the figure "7½" is changed to "8".

3. In § 4.53(e) of Subpart B, the figure "2,000" is changed to "2,080" in each of the two places where it appears; the figure "$1.50" is changed to "$1.60" in each of the two places where it appears; the figure "$72" is changed to "$76.80"; and the figure "$.036" is changed to "$.0369."

4. In § 4.55 of Subpart B, the reference "section 7(d)" is changed to "section 7(e)" in each of the two places where it appears, and the reference "(29 U.S.C. 207(d))" is changed to "(29 U.S.C. 207(e))."

5. In Subpart C, the table of contents immediately following the subpart heading and the authority box are deleted.

6. In § 4.101 of Subpart C, the reference "§ 4.103" on the third line is changed to "§ 4.104."

7. In § 4.104 of Subpart C, paragraph symbol "(a)" for the first paragraph, and the paragraph symbols and texts of paragraphs (b), (c), (d) and (e) are deleted.

8. In § 4.112(b) of Subpart C, the reference "§ 4.6(c)(8) is changed to "§ 4.6(m)(8)", and "CFR" on the ninth line is changed to "§".

9. In § 4.113(a)(2) of Subpart C, the last sentence is changed to read as follows: "Also, any contract for professional services which is performed essentially by professional employees, with the use of service employees being only a minor factor in the performance of the contract, is not covered by the act. While the incidental employment of service employees will not render a contract for professional services subject to the act, a contract which requires the use of service employees to a substantial extent would be covered even though there is some use of professional employees in performance of the contract."

10. In § 4.117 of Subpart C, the fifth sentence is deleted, and the reference "§ 4.6(c)(9)" is changed to "§ 4.6(m)(9)".

11. In § 4.123 of Subpart C, the order of the 10th and 11th lines of paragraph (b) is reversed; the paragraph symbol "o" for the last paragraph is changed to "c"; and the reference "29 CFR 2.6" in said paragraph is changed to "29 CFR Part 70".

12. In § 4.143 of Subpart C, the phrase "by agreement of the parties" in the second and in the third sentences is deleted; the phrase "by the parties" in the fourth and in the fifth sentences is deleted; and the last two sentences are changed to read as follows: "However, contract modifications or amendments (other than contract extensions) that are unrelated to the labor requirements of a contract will not be deemed to create a new contract for purposes of the Act. In addition, only significant changes related to labor requirements will be considered as creating new contracts. This limitation on the application of the Act has been found to be a reasonable one, and necessary and proper in the public interest and to avoid serious impairment of the conduct of Government business in accordance with the provisions of section 4(b) of the Act. Also, a contract will be deemed entered into when the term of an existing contract is extended, pursuant to an option clause or otherwise, so that the contractor furnishes services over an extended period of time, rather than being granted extra time to fulfill his original commitment."

13. In § 4.144 of Subpart C, the phrases "by mutual consent" in the first sentence and "by mutual agreement" in the last sentence are deleted.

14. In § 4.153 of Subpart C, the reference "§ 4.6(b)(1)" at the end of the last sentence is changed to "§ 4.6(b)".

15. In § 4.160(a) of Subpart C, the phrase "which applies to every employer providing any contract services under a contract entered into on or after February 1, 1967 (H. Rept. No. 2004 89th Cong., 2d sess., p. 20) with the United States, or any subcontract thereunder." is deleted.

16. In § 4.164(c) of Subpart C, the reference "(See § 4.6(b)(1))" is changed to "See § 4.6(b))."

17. In § 4.167 of Subpart C, the last three sentences are changed to read as follows: "For purposes of this Act, tips may be included in wages in accordance with the regulations under the Fair Labor Standards Act, contained in Part 531. The general rule under that Act is that the amount paid a tipped employee by his employer is deemed to be increased on account of tips by an amount determined by the employer, not in excess of 50 percent of the minimum wage applicable under section 6 of that Act. Thus, the tip credit taken by an employer subject to the Service Contract Act may not exceed 80 cents per hour."

18. In § 4.173 of Subpart C, the following is added at the end: "Even where a contractor can segregate Government from non-Government work, it is necessary that he comply with the requirements of section 6(e) of the Fair Labor Standards Act discussed in § 4.160."

19. In § 4.183 of Subpart C, the reference "§ 4.6(b)(4)" is changed to "§ 4.6(e)".

20. In § 4.184 of Subpart C, the reference "§ 4.6(b)(4)" is changed to "§ 4.6(e)".

21. In § 4.185 of Subpart C, the phrase "in the performance of contracts" in the first sentence is deleted and the reference "§ 4.6(b)(6)" in the same sentence is changed to "§ 4.6(g)".

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 5th day of July 1968.

WILLARD WIRTZ,
Secretary of Labor.

Subpart A—Service Contract Labor Standards Provisions and Procedures

AUTHORITY: The provisions of this Part 4 issued under secs. 2(a) and 4, 79 Stat. 1034, 1035; 41 U.S.C. 351, 353, and under 5 U.S.C. 301.

Subpart A—Service Contract Labor Standards Provisions and Procedures

§ 4.1 Purpose and scope.

This part and Part 1516 of this title, which provides safety and health standards, contain the Department of Labor's rules relating to the administration of the McNamara-O'Hara Service Contract Act of 1965, referred to hereinafter as the Act. Rules of practice for administrative proceedings enforcing labor standards in Federal service contracts are contained in Part 6 of this chapter.

§ 4.2 Payment of minimum wage specified in section 6(a)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 under all service contracts.

Section 2(b)(1) of the Service Contract Act of 1965 provides in effect that, regardless of contract amount, no contractor or subcontractor performing work under any Federal contract the principal purpose of which is to furnish services through the use of service employees shall pay any of his employees engaged in such work less than the minimum wage specified in section 6(a)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended ($1.60 per hour).

§ 4.3 Register of wage determinations and fringe benefits.

The Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions will determine the minimum monetary wages and specify the fringe benefits to be furnished the various classes of service employees for the several localities in which they are to be employed under contracts subject to such determinations under the Act. These determinations and specifications will be issued as an orderly series constituting a register of such minimum wages and fringe benefits. Such a register will be available for public inspection during business hours at the national, regional, and district offices of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions of the U.S. Department of Labor. Provisions may also be made, when practicable, for maintaining such a register at other locations where the needs of procurement agencies for the information contained therein may be better served by such action.

§ 4.4 Notice of intention to make a service contract.

(a) Not less than 30 days prior to any invitation for bids or the commencement of negotiations for any contract exceeding $2,500 which may be subject to the Act, the contracting agency shall file with the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions of the Department of Labor its notice of intention to make a service contract on Standard Form 98, Notice of Intention to Make a Service Contract, completed in accordance with the instructions on the reverse thereof. Copies of Standard Form 98 are available from the General Services Administration.

(b) If exceptional circumstances prevent the filing of the notice of intention required by this section on or before a date 30 days prior to any invitation for bids or the commencement of negotiations, the notice shall be submitted to the Administrator as soon as practicable with a detailed explanation of the special circumstances which prevented timely submission.

§ 4.5 Contract minimum wage determinations and fringe benefit specifications.

Any contract agreed upon in excess of $2,500 shall contain the minimum wages and fringe benefits specified in any applicable currently effective determination including any expressed in any document referred to in paragraph (a) or (b) of this section.

(a) Any communication from the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions of the Department of Labor responsive to the notice required by § 4.4; or

(b) Any revision of the register of wages and fringe benefits prior to the award of the contract or contracts, but revisions received by the Federal agency later than 10 days before the opening of bids, in the case of contracts entered into pursuant to competitive bidding procedures, shall not be effective except where the Federal agency finds that there is a reasonable time to notify bidders of the revision. To avoid serious impairment of the conduct of Government business, it is hereby found necessary and proper to provide exemption (1) from the determined wage and fringe benefits section of the Act (2(a) (1) and (2)), but not the minimum wage specified under section 6(a)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended (2(b) of this Act), of all contracts for which no such wage or fringe benefit has been determined for any class of service employees to be employed thereunder and (2) from the fringe benefits section (2(a)(2)) of all contracts and of all classes of service employees employed thereunder if no such benefits have been determined for any such class of service employees. Accordingly, such exemptions are hereby provided. These exemptions do not extend to undetermined wages or fringe benefits in contracts for which one or more, but not all, classes of service employees are the subject of an applicable wage determination. See § 4.6(b).

§ 4.6 Labor standards clauses for Federal service contracts exceeding $2,500.

The clauses set forth in the following paragraphs shall be included in every contract (and any bid specification therefor) entered into by the United States or the District of Columbia, in excess of $2,500, the principal purpose of which is to furnish services through the use of service employees:

(a) Service Contract Act of 1965: This contract, to the extent that it is of the character to which the Service Contract Act of 1965 (79 Stat. 1034, 41 U.S.C. 351) applies, is subject to the following provisions and to all other applicable provisions of the Act and the regulations of the Secretary of Labor thereunder (this Part 4).

(b) Each service employee employed in the performance of this contract by the contractor or any subcontractor shall be paid not less than the minimum monetary wage and shall be furnished fringe benefits in accordance with the wages and fringe benefits determined by the Secretary of Labor or his authorized representative, as specified in any attachment to this contract. If there is such an attachment, any class of service employees which is not listed therein, but which is to be employed under this contract, shall be classified by the contractor so as to provide a reasonable relationship between such classifications and those listed in the attachment, and shall be paid such monetary wages and furnished such fringe benefits as are determined by agreement of the interested parties, who shall be deemed to be the contracting agency, the contractor, and the employees who will perform on the contract or their representatives. If the interested parties do not agree on a classification or reclassification which is, in fact, conformable, the contracting officer shall submit the question, together with his recommendation, to the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions of the Department of Labor or his authorized representative for final determination. Failure to pay such employees the compensation agreed upon by the interested parties or finally determined by the Administrator or his authorized representative shall be a violation of this contract. No employee engaged in performing work on this contract shall in any event be paid less than the minimum wage specified under section 6(a)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended ($1.60 per hour).

(c) The contractor or subcontractor may discharge the obligation to furnish fringe benefits specified in the attachment or determined conformably thereto by furnishing any equivalent combinations of fringe benefits, or by making equivalent or differential payments in cash, pursuant to applicable rules of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions of the Department of Labor. (Subpart B of this part.)

(d) In the absence of a minimum wage attachment for this contract, neither the contractor nor any subcontractor under this contract shall pay any of his employees performing work under the contract (regardless of whether they are service employees) less than the minimum wage specified by section 6(a)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 ($1.60 per hour). However, in cases where section 6(e)(2) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 is applicable, the rates specified therein will apply. Nothing in this provision shall relieve the contractor or any subcontractor of any other obligation under law or contract for the payment of a higher wage to any employee.

(e) The contractor and any subcontractor under this contract shall notify each service employee commencing work on this contract of the minimum monetary wage and any fringe benefits required to be paid pursuant to this contract, or shall post a notice of such wages and benefits in a prominent and accessible place at the worksite, using such poster as may be provided by the Department of Labor.

(f) The contractor or subcontractor shall not permit any part of the services called for by this contract to be performed in buildings or surroundings or under working conditions provided by or under the control or supervision of the contractor or subcontractor which are unsanitary or hazardous or dangerous to the health or safety of service employees engaged to furnish these services. Except insofar as a noncompliance can be justified as provided in § 1516.1(c) of this title, this will require compliance with the applicable standards, specifications, and codes developed and published by the U.S. Department of Labor, any other agency of the United States, and any nationally recognized professional organization such as, without limitation, the following:

National Bureau of Standards, U.S. Department of Commerce.
Public Health Service, U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.
Bureau of Mines, U.S. Department of the Interior.
United States of America Standards Institute (American Standards Association).
National Fire Protection Association.
American Society of Mechanical Engineers.
American Society for Testing and Materials.
American Conference of Governmental Industrial Hygienists.

Information as to the latest standards, specifications and codes applicable to the contract is available at the office of the Director of the Bureau of Labor Standards, U.S. Department of Labor, Railway Labor Building, 400 First Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20212, or at any of the regional offices of the Bureau of Labor Standards as follows:

1. North Atlantic Region, 341 Ninth Avenue, Room 920, New York, N.Y. 10001 (Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New York, Rhode Island, Vermont, New Jersey, and Puerto Rico).

2. Middle Atlantic Region, 1110–B Federal Building, Charles Center, 31 Hopkins Plaza, Baltimore, Md. 21201 (Delaware, District of Columbia, Maryland, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and West Virginia).

3. South Atlantic Region, 1371 Peachtree Street NE., Suite 723, Atlanta, Ga. 30309 (Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina, and Tennessee).

4. Great Lake Region, 848 Federal Office Building, 219 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, Ill. 60604 (Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio, and Wisconsin).

5. Mid-Western Region, 2100 Federal Office Building, 911 Walnut Street, Kansas City, Mo. 64106 (Colorado, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Utah, and Wyoming).

7. Pacific Region, 10353 Federal Building, 450 Golden Gate Avenue, Box 36017, San Francisco, Calif. 94102 (Alaska, Arizona, California, Hawaii, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, and Guam).

(g) The contractor and each subcontractor performing work subject to the Act shall make and maintain for 3 years from the completion of the work records containing the information specified below for each employee subject to the Act and shall make them available for inspection and transcription by authorized representatives of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions of the U.S. Department of Labor.

(1) His name and address.

(2) His work classification or classifications, rate or rates of monetary wages and fringe benefits provided, rate or rates of fringe benefit payments in lieu thereof, and total daily and weekly compensation.

(3) His daily and weekly hours so worked.

(4) Any deductions, rebates, or refunds from his total daily or weekly compensation.

(5) A list of monetary wages and fringe benefits for those classes of service employees not included in the minimum wage attachment to this contract, but for which such wage rates or fringe benefits have been determined by the interested parties or by the Administrator or his authorized representative pursuant to the labor standards clause in paragraph (b) of this section. A copy of the report required by the clause in paragraph (k) of this section shall be deemed to be such a list.

(h) The contracting officer shall withhold or cause to be withheld from the Government Prime Contractor under this or any other Government contract with the prime contractor such sums as he, or an appropriate officer of the Labor Department, decides may be necessary to pay underpaid employees. Additionally, any failure to comply with the requirements of these clauses relating to the Service Contract Act of 1965 may be grounds for termination of the right to proceed with the contract work. In such event, the Government may enter into other contracts or arrangements for completion of the work, charging the contractor in default with any additional cost.

(i) The contractor agrees to insert these clauses relating to the Service Contract Act of 1965 in all subcontracts. The term "contractor" as used in these clauses in any subcontract, shall be deemed to refer to the subcontractor, except in the term "Government Prime Contractor."

(j) As used in these clauses relating to the Service Contract Act of 1965, the term "service employee" means guards, watchmen, and any person engaged in a recognized trade or craft, or other skilled mechanical craft, or in unskilled, semiskilled, or skilled manual labor occupations; and any other employee including a foreman or supervisor in a position having trade, craft, or laboring experience as the paramount requirement; and shall include all such persons regardless of any contractual relationship that may be alleged to exist between a contractor or subcontractor and such persons.

(k) If there is a wage determination attachment to this contract and one or more classes of service employees which are not listed thereon are to be employed under the contract, the contractor shall report to the contracting officer the monetary wages to be paid and the fringe benefits to be provided each such class of service employee. Such report shall be made promptly as soon as such compensation has been determined as provided in the clause in paragraph (b) of this section.

(l) All interpretations of the Service Contract Act of 1965 expressed in Subpart C of this part, are hereby incorporated by reference in this contract.

(m) These clauses relating to the Service Contract Act of 1965 shall not apply to the following:

(1) Any contract of the United States or District of Columbia for construction, alteration and/or repair, including painting and decorating of public buildings or public works;

(2) Any work required to be done in accordance with the provisions of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act (49 Stat. 2036);

(3) Any contract for the carriage of freight or personnel by vessel, airplane, bus, truck, express, railway line, or oil or gas pipeline where published tariff rates are in effect, or where such carriage is subject to rates covered by section 22 of the Interstate Commerce Act;

(4) Any contract for the furnishing of services by radio, telephone, telegraph, or cable companies, subject to the Communications Act of 1934;

(5) Any contract for public utility services, including electric light and power, water, steam, and gas;

(6) Any employment contract providing for direct services to a Federal agency by an individual or individuals;

(7) Any contract with the Post Office Department, the principal purpose of which is the operation of postal contract stations.

(8) Any services to be furnished outside the United States. For geographic purposes, the "United States" is defined in section 8(d) of the Service Contract Act to include any State of the United States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Outer Continental Shelf Lands as defined in the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act, American Samoa, Guam, Wake Island, Eniwetok Atoll, Kwajalein Atoll, Johnston Island. It does not include any other territory under the jurisdiction of the United States or any United States base or possession within a foreign country.

(9) Any of the following contracts exempted from all provisions of the Service Contract Act of 1965, pursuant to section 4(b) of the Act, which exemptions the Secretary of Labor hereby finds necessary and proper in the public interest or to avoid serious impairment of the conduct of Government business: Contracts entered into by the United States with common carriers for the carriage of mail by rail, air (except air star routes), bus, and ocean vessel, where such carriage is performed on regularly scheduled runs of the trains, airplanes, buses, and vessels over regularly established routes and accounts for an insubstantial portion of the revenue therefrom.

(n) Notwithstanding any of the clauses in paragraphs (b) through (l) of this section, relating to the Service Contract Act of 1965, the following employees may be employed in accordance with the following variations, tolerances, and exemptions, which the Secretary of Labor hereby finds pursuant to section 4(b) of the Act to be necessary and proper in the public interest or to avoid serious impairment of the conduct of Government business:

(1) (i) Apprentices, student-learners, and workers whose earning capacity is impaired by age, physical, or mental deficiency or injury may be employed at wages lower than the minimum wages otherwise required by section 2(a)(1) or 2(b)(1) of the Service Contract Act of 1965, without diminishing any fringe benefits or cash payments in lieu thereof required under section 2(a)(2) of that Act, in accordance with the procedures prescribed for the employment of apprentices, student-learners, handicapped persons, and handicapped clients of sheltered workshops under section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, in the regulations issued by the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions of the Department of Labor (Parts 520, 521, 524, and 525 of this title).

(ii) The Administrator will issue certificates under the Service Contract Act of 1965 for the employment of apprentices, student-learners, handicapped persons, or handicapped clients of sheltered workshops not subject to the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, or subject to different minimum rates of pay under the two acts, authorizing appropriate rates of minimum wages (but without changing requirements concerning fringe benefits or supplementary cash payments in lieu thereof), applying procedures prescribed by the applicable regulations issued under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 (Parts 520, 521, 524, and 525 of this title).

(iii) The Administrator will also withdraw, annul, or cancel such certificates in accordance with the regulations in Parts 525 and 528 of Title 29 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

(2) An employee engaged in an occupation in which he customarily and regularly receives more than $20 a month in tips may have the amount of his tips credited by his employer against the minimum wage required by section 2(a)(1) or section 2(b)(1) of the Act, in accordance with the regulations in Part 531 of this title: Provided, however, That the amount of such credit may not exceed 80 cents per hour.

§ 4.7 Labor standards clause for Federal service contracts not exceeding $2,500.

Every contract with the Federal Government which is not in excess of $2,500 but has as its principal purpose the furnishing of services through the use of service employees shall contain the following clause:

Service Contract Act of 1965. Except to the extent that an exemption, variation or tolerance would apply pursuant to 29 CFR 4.6 if this were a contract in excess of $2,500, the contractor and any subcontractor hereunder shall pay all of his employees engaged in performing work on the contract not less than the minimum wage specified under section 6(a)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended ($1.60 per hour). However, in cases where section 6(e)(2) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 is applicable, the rates specified therein will apply.

All regulations and interpretations of the Service Contract Act of 1965 expressed in 29 CFR Part 4 are hereby incorporated by reference in this contract.

§ 4.8 Notice of award.

Whenever an agency of the United States or the District of Columbia shall award a contract in excess of $2,500 subject to the Act, it shall furnish the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, on the form used pursuant to 41 CFR 50–201.1201, the information required by such form.

Subpart B—Equivalents of Determined Fringe Benefits

§ 4.51 Discharging fringe benefit obligations by equivalent methods.

Section 2(a)(2) of the Act, which provides for fringe benefits that are separate from and additional to the monetary compensation required under section 2(a)(1), permits an employer to discharge his obligation to provide the specified fringe benefits by furnishing any equivalent combinations of "bona fide" fringe benefits or by making equivalent or differential payments in cash. However, credit for such payments is limited to the employer's fringe benefit obligations under section 2(a)(2), since the Act does not authorize any part of the monetary wage required by section 2(a)(1) and specified in the wage determination and the contract, to be offset by the fringe benefit payments or equivalents which are furnished or paid pursuant to section 2(a)(2).

§ 4.52 Equivalent fringe benefits.

Under this Act, fringe benefit obligations may be discharged by furnishing, in lieu of those fringe benefits determined by the Secretary and specified in the contract, other bona fide fringe benefits which the contractor or subcontractor is not required by statute to provide, or any combination of such bona fide fringe benefits: Provided, That they are "equivalent" in terms of monetary cost to the employer. Thus, if an applicable determination specifies that 10 cents per hour is to be paid into a pension fund, this fringe benefit obligation will be deemed to be met if instead, hospitalization benefits costing not less than 10 cents per hour are provided. The same obligation will be met if hospitalization benefits costing 5 cents an hour and holiday pay equal to 5 cents an hour in cash are provided. No benefit required to be furnished the employee by any other law, such as workmen's compensation, may be credited toward satisfying the fringe benefit requirements of the Act.

§ 4.53 Cash equivalents.

(a) Fringe benefit obligations may be discharged by paying, in addition to the monetary wage required, a cash amount per hour in lieu of the specified fringe benefits provided such amount is equivalent to the cost of the fringe benefits required. If, for example, an employee's monetary rate under an applicable determination is $1.90 an hour, and the fringe benefits to be furnished are hospitalization benefits costing 10 cents an hour and retirement benefits costing 10 cents an hour, the fringe benefit obligation is discharged if instead of furnishing the required fringe benefits the employer pays the employee, in cash, 20 cents per hour as the cash equivalent of the fringe benefits in addition to the $1.90 per hour required under the applicable wage determination.

(b) The hourly cash equivalent of those fringe benefits which are not listed in the applicable determination in terms of hourly cash amount may be obtained by mathematical computation through the use of pertinent factors such as the monetary wages paid the employee and the hours of work attributable to the period, if any, by which fringe benefits are measured in the determination. If the employee's regular rate of pay is greater than the minimum monetary wage specified in the wage determination and the contract, the former should be used for this computation, and if the fringe benefit determination does not specify any daily or weekly hours of work by which benefits should be measured, a standard 8-hour day and 40-hour week will be considered applicable. The application of these rules in typical situations is illustrated in paragraphs (c), (d), and (e) of this section.

(c) Where fringe benefits are stated as a percentage of the monetary rate, the hourly cash equivalent is determined by multiplying the stated percentage by the employee's regular or basic rate of pay. For example, if the determination calls for a 5 percent pension fund payment, and the employee is paid a monetary rate of $1.60 an hour, or if he earns $1.60 an hour on a piece-work basis in a particular workweek, the cash equivalent of that payment would be 8 cents an hour.

(d) If the determination lists a particular fringe benefit in such terms as $25 a year, or as $2 a week, the hourly cash equivalent is determined by dividing the amount stated in the determination by the number of working hours to which the amount is attributable. For example, if a determination lists a fringe benefit as "pension—$2 a week," and does not specify weekly hours, the hourly cash equivalent is 5 cents per hour, i.e., $2 divided by 40, the number of standard working hours in a week.

(e) In determining the hourly cash equivalent of those fringe benefits which are not listed in a determination in terms of hourly cash amount, but are stated, for example, as "six paid holidays per year" or "1-week paid vacation," the employee's hourly monetary rate of pay is multipled by the number of hours making up the paid holidays or vacation. Unless the hours contemplated in the fringe benefit are specified in the determination, a standard 8-hour day and 40-hour week will be considered applicable. The total annual cost so determined will be divided by 2,080, the typical number of nonovertime hours in a year of work, to arrive at the hourly cash equivalent. To illustrate, if a particular determination lists as a fringe benefit "six paid holidays per year," and the employee's hourly rate of pay is $1.60, the $1.60 is multiplied by 48 (6 days of 8 hours each) and the result, $76.80, is then divided by 2,080 to arrive at the hourly cash equivalent, $.0369 an hour. Similarly, where a determination requires 1-week's paid vacation during the year, a computation of this kind for a short term employee who does not receive the vacation with pay would be necessary to determine the cash equivalent payment to which he is entitled for the proportionate part of the vacation earned during his period of employment.

§ 4.54 Combination of equivalent fringe benefits and cash payments.

Fringe benefit obligations may be discharged by furnishing any combination of cash or fringe benefits as illustrated in §§ 4.52 and 4.53, in amounts the total of which is equivalent, under the rules there stated, to the determined fringe benefits specified in the contract.

§ 4.55 Effect of equivalents in computing overtime pay.

The Act (section 6) excludes from the regular or basic hourly rate of an employee, for purposes of determining the overtime pay to which he is entitled under any other Federal law, those fringe benefit payments computed under the Act which are excluded from the regular rate under the Fair Labor Standards Act by provisions of section 7(e) of that Act (29 U.S.C. 207(e)). Fringe benefit payments which qualify for such exclusion are described in Subpart C of Part 778 of this title. When such fringe benefits have been determined by the Secretary to be prevailing for service employees in the locality and are specified in the contract to be furnished to service employees engaged in its performance, the right to compute overtime pay in accordance with the above rule is not lost to a contractor or subcontractor because he discharges his obligation under this Act to furnish such fringe benefits through alternative equivalents as provided in this Subpart B. If he furnishes equivalent benefits or makes cash payments, or both, to such an employee as authorized herein, the amounts thereof, to the extent that they operate to discharge the employer's obligation to furnish such specified fringe benefits, may be excluded pursuant to this Act from the employee's regular or basic rate of pay in computing any overtime pay due the employee under any other Federal law. It is not necessary to consider in such a case whether such amounts would themselves be excludable under section 7(e) of the Fair Labor Standards Act. No such exclusion can operate, however, to reduce an employee's regular or basic rate of pay below the monetary wage rate specified as his minimum wage rate under section 2(a)(1) or 2(b) of this Act or under other law or by employment contract. The application of the rules set out in the regulations in this part will be considered and illustrated in the rulings and interpretations on application of this Act.

Subpart C—Application of the McNamara-O'Hara Service Contract Act

INTRODUCTORY

§ 4.101 Official rulings and interpretations in this subpart.

The purpose of this subpart is to provide, pursuant to the authority cited in § 4.104 official rulings and interpretations with respect to the application of the McNamara-O'Hara Service Contract Act for the guidance of the agencies of the United States and the District of Columbia which may enter into and administer contracts subject to its provisions, the persons desiring to enter into such contracts with these agencies, and the contractors, subcontractors, and employees who perform work under such contracts. This subpart supersedes all prior rulings and interpretations issued under the Act to the extent, if any, that they may be inconsistent with rules herein stated. Principles governing the application of the Act as set forth in this subpart are clarified or amplified in particular instances by illustrations and examples based on specific fact situations. Since such illustrations and examples cannot and are not intended to be exhaustive, no inference should be drawn from the fact that a subject or illustration is omitted. If doubt arises, inquiries with respect to matters other than safety and health standards should be directed to the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, U.S. Department of Labor, Washington, D.C. 20210, or to any Regional or District Office of the Divisions. Safety and health inquiries should be addressed to the Director, Bureau of Labor Standards, U.S. Department of Labor, Washington, D.C. 20210, or to any Regional Office of the Bureau. A full description of the facts and any relevant documents should be submitted if an official ruling is desired.

§ 4.102 The Act.

The McNamara-O'Hara Service Contract Act of 1965 (Public Law 89-286, 79 Stat. 1034, 41 U.S.C. 351 et seq.), hereinafter referred to as the Act, was approved by the President on October 22, 1965 (1 Weekly Compilation of Presidential Documents 428). It establishes standards for minimum compensation and safety and health protection of employees performing work for contractors and subcontractors on service contracts entered into with the Federal Government and the District of Columbia. It applies to contracts entered into pursuant to negotiations concluded or invitations for bids issued on or after January 20, 1966.

§ 4.103 What the Act provides, generally.

The provisions of the Act apply to contracts, whether negotiated or advertised, the principal purpose of which is to furnish services in the United States through the use of service employees. Under its provisions, every contract subject to the Act (and any bid specification therefor) entered into by the United States or the District of Columbia in excess of $2,500 must contain stipulations requiring (a) that specified minimum monetary wages and fringe benefits determined by the Secretary of Labor (based on wage rates and fringe benefits prevailing in the locality) be paid to service employees employed by the contractor or any subcontractor in performing the services contracted for; (b) that working conditions of such employees which are under the control of the contractor or subcontractor meet safety and health standards; and (c) that notice be given to such employees of the compensation due them under the minimum wage and fringe benefits provisions of the contract. The Act does not permit the monetary wage rates specified in such a contract to be less than the minimum wage specified under section 6(a)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act, as amended (29 U.S.C. 206(a)(1)). In addition, it is a violation of the Act for any contractor or subcontractor under a Federal contract subject to the Act, regardless of the amount of the contract, to pay any of his employees engaged in performing work on the contract less than such Fair Labor Standards Act minimum wage (or, in the case of certain linen supply contractors, the alternative minimum wage provided under sec. 6(e)(2) of such Act). Contracts of $2,500 or less are not, however, required to contain the stipulations described above. These provisions of the Service Contract Act are implemented by the regulations contained in Subparts A and B of this Part 4, and are discussed in more detail in subsequent sections of this subpart.

§ 4.104 Administration of the Act.

As provided by section 4 of the Act and under provisions of sections 4 and 5 of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act (49 Stat. 2036, 41 U.S.C. 38, 39) which are made expressly applicable for the purpose, the Secretary of Labor is authorized and directed to administer and enforce the provisions of the McNamara-O'Hara Service Contract Act, to make rules and regulations, issue orders, make decisions, and take other appropriate action under the Act, including the provision of reasonable limitations and the making of such rules and regulations allowing reasonable variations, tolerances, and exemptions to and from provisions of the Act as he may find necessary and proper in the public interest or to avoid serious impairment of the conduct of Government business.

AGENCIES WHOSE CONTRACTS MAY BE COVERED

§ 4.107 Federal contracts.

(a) Section 2(a) of the Act covers contracts (and any bid specification therefor) "entered into by the United States" and section 2(b) applies to contracts entered into "with the Federal Government." Within the meaning of these provisions, contracts entered into by the United States and contracts with the Federal Government include generally all contracts to which any agency or instrumentality of the U.S. Government becomes a party pursuant to authority derived from the Constitution and laws of the United States. The Act does not authorize any distinction in this respect between such agencies and instrumentalities on the basis of their inclusion in or independence from the executive, legislative, or judicial branches of the Government, the fact that they may be corporate in form, or the fact that payment for the contract services is not made from appropriated funds. Thus, contracts of wholly owned Government corporations, and those of nonappropriated fund instrumentalities under the jurisdiction of the Armed Forces, are included among those subject to the general coverage of the Act. Contracts with the Federal Government and contracts entered into "by the United States" within the meaning of the Act do not, however, include contracts for services entered into on their own behalf by agencies or instrumentalities of other Governments within the United States such as those of the several States and their political subdivisions, or of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, or American Samoa.

(b) Where a Federal agency exercises its contracting authority to procure services for the Government or Government personnel, the method of procurement utilized by the contracting agency is not controlling in determining coverage of the contract as one entered into by the United States. Such contracts may be entered into by the United States either through a direct award by a Federal agency or through the exercise by another agency (whether governmental or private) of authority granted to it to procure services for or on behalf of a Federal agency. Thus, sometimes authority to enter into service contracts of the character described in the Act for and on behalf of the Government and on a cost-reimbursable basis may be delegated, for the convenience of the contracting agency, to a prime contractor with the Government under the terms of a contract having a principal purpose other than the furnishing of services through the use of service employees (as, for example, a contract to operate or manage a Federal installation or facility or a Federal program). The contracts entered into by such a prime contractor with secondary contractors for and on behalf of the Federal agency pursuant to such delegated authority, which have such services as their principal purpose, are deemed to be contracts entered into by the United States and contracts with the Federal Government within the meaning of the Act. However, service contracts entered into by Federal contractors or State or local public bodies with purveyors of services are not deemed to be entered into by the United States merely because such services are paid for with funds of the contractor or public body which have been received from the Federal Government as payment for contract work or as a grant under a Federal program. For example, a contract entered into by a municipal housing authority for tree trimming, tree removal, and landscaping for an urban renewal project financed by Federal funds is not a contract entered into by the United States and is not covered by the Service Contract Act.

§ 4.108 District of Columbia contracts.

Section 2(a) of the Act covers contracts (and any bid specification therefor) in excess of $2,500 which are "entered into by the * * * District of Columbia." The contracts of all agencies and instrumentalities which procure contract services for or on behalf of the District or under the authority of the District Government are contracts entered into by the District of Columbia within the meaning of this provision. Such contracts are also considered contracts "entered into with the Federal Government" within the meaning of section 2(b) of the Act. The legislative history indicates no intent to distinguish District of Columbia contracts from the other contracts made subject to the Act, and traditionally, under other statutes, District Government contracts have been made subject to the same labor standards provisions as contracts of other agencies and instrumentalities of the United States.

COVERED CONTRACTS GENERALLY

§ 4.110 What contracts are covered.

The Act covers service contracts of the Federal agencies described in §§ 4.107–4.108. Except as otherwise specifically provided (see §§ 4.115 et seq.), all such contracts, the principal purpose of which is to furnish services in the United States through the use of service employees, are subject to its terms. This is true of contracts entered into by such agencies with States or their political subdivisions, as well as such contracts entered into with private employers; however, contracts between a Federal or District of Columbia agency and another such agency are not within the purview of the Act. It makes no difference in the coverage of a contract whether the contract services are procured through negotiation or through advertising for bids. Also, the mere fact that an agreement is not reduced to writing does not mean that the contract is not within the coverage of the Act. The amount of the contract is not determinative of the Act's coverage, although the requirements are different for contracts in excess of $2,500 and for contracts of a lesser amount. The Act is applicable to the contract if the principal purpose of the contract is to furnish services, if such services are to be furnished in the United States, and if service employees will be used in providing such services. These elements of coverage will be discussed separately in the following sections.

§ 4.111 Contracts "to furnish services".

(a) "Principal purpose" as criterion. Under its terms, the Act applies to a "contract (and any bid specification therefor) * * * the principal purpose of which is to furnish services * * *" If the principal purpose is to provide something other than services of the character contemplated by the Act and any such services which may be performed are only incidental to the performance of a contract for another purpose, the Act does not apply. However, as will be seen by examining the illustrative examples of covered contracts in §§ 4.130 et seq., no hard and fast rule can be laid down as to the precise meaning of the term "principal purpose." Whether the principal purpose of a particular contract is the furnishing of services through the use of service employees is largely a question to be determined on the basis of all the facts in each particular case. Even where tangible items of substantial value are important elements of the subject matter of the contract, the facts may show that they are of secondary import to the furnishing of services in the particular case.

(b) Determining whether a contract is for "services", generally. Except indirectly through the definition of "service employee" the Act does not define, or limit, the types of "services" which may be contracted for under a contract "the principal purpose of which is to furnish services". As stated in the congressional committee reports on the legislation, the types of service contracts covered by its provisions are varied. Among the examples cited are contracts for laundry and dry cleaning, for transportation of the mail, for custodial, janitorial, or guard service, for packing and crating, for food service, and for miscellaneous housekeeping services. Covered contracts for services would also include those for other types of services which may be performed through the use of the various classes of service employees included in the definition in section 8(b) of the Act (see § 4.113). Examples of some such contracts are set forth in §§ 4.130 et seq. In determining questions of contract coverage, due regard must be given to the apparent legislative intent to include generally as contracts for "services" those contracts which have as their principal purpose the procurement of something other than the construction activity described in the Davis-Bacon Act or the materials, supplies, articles, and equipment described in the Walsh-Healey Act. The Committee reports in both House and Senate, and statements made on the floor of the House, took note of the labor standards protections afforded by these two Acts to employees engaged in the performance of construction and supply contracts and observed: "The service contract is now the only remaining category of Federal contracts to which no labor standards protections apply" (H. Rept. 948, p. 1; see also S. Rept. 798, p. 1; daily Congressional Record Sept. 20, 1965, p. 23497). A similar understanding of contracts principally for "services" as embracing contracts other than those for construction or supplies is reflected in the statement of President Johnson upon signing the Act (1 Weekly Compilation of Presidential Documents, p. 428).

§ 4.112 Contracts to furnish services "in the United States."

(a) The Act covers contract services furnished "in the United States". The geographical area included in the "United States" is defined in section 8(d) as "any State of the United States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Outer Continental Shelf lands as defined in the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act, American Samoa, Guam, Wake Islands, Eniwetok Atoll, Kwajalein Atoll, Johnston Island." The definition expressly excludes any other territory under the jurisdiction of the United States (e.g. the Canal Zone) and any United States base or possession within a foreign country. Services to be performed exclusively on a vessel operating in international waters outside the geographic areas named in section 8(d) would not be services furnished "in the United States" within the meaning of the Act.

(b) A service contract to be performed in its entirety outside the geographic limits of the United States as thus defined is not covered and is not subject to the labor standards of the Act. See § 4.6(m)(8). However, if a service contract is to be performed in part within and in part without these geographic limits, the stipulations required by § 4.6 or § 4.7, as appropriate, must be included in the invitation for bids or negotiation documents and in the contract, and the labor standards must be observed with respect to that part of the contract services that is performed within these geographic limits. In such a case the requirements of the Act and of the contract clauses will not be applicable to the services furnished outside the United States.

§ 4.113 Contracts to furnish services "through the use of service employees".

(a) Use of "service employees" in contract performance. (1) As indicated in § 4.110, the Act covers service contracts in which "service employees" will be used in performing the services which it is the purpose of the contract to procure. A service contract otherwise subject to the Act ordinarily will meet this condition if any of the services which it is the principal purpose of the contract to obtain will be furnished through the use of any service employee or employees. Even where it is contemplated that the services (of the kind performed by service employees) will be performed individually by the contractor himself, the contract cannot be considered outside the reach of the Act unless it is known in advance that the contractor will in no event use any service employee during the term of the contract in furnishing the services called for. If the contracting officer knows when advertising for bids or concluding negotiations that no such employee will be used by the contractor in any event in providing the contract services, the Act will not be deemed applicable to the contract and the contract clauses required by § 4.6 or § 4.7 may be omitted. However, in all other cases such clauses must be included in the contract documents, for application in the event service employees are used in furnishing the services. The fact that the required services will be performed by municipal employees or employees of a State would not remove the contract from the purview of the Act, as this Act does not contain any exemption for contracts performed by such employees. Also, where the services the Government wants under the contract are principally of a type that will require the use of service employees as defined in section 8(b) of the Act, including supervisory personnel in positions "having trade, craft, or laboring experience as the paramount requirement", the contract is not taken out of the purview of the Act by the fact that the manner in which the services of such employees are performed will be subject to the continuing overall supervision of professional personnel to whose services the Act would not be considered to apply.

(2) The coverage of the Act does not extend, however, to contracts which have as their principal purpose the procurement of a type of service in the furnishing of which no service employees will be used. A contract for medical services is an example of such a contract. So are other contracts under which the desired services called for by the Government are to be performed by bona fide executive, administrative, or professional personnel as defined in Part 541 of this title (see paragraph (b) of this section). Also, any contract for professional services which is performed essentially by professional employees, with the use of service employees being only a minor factor in the performance of the contract, is not covered by the Act. While the incidental employment of service employees will not render a contract for professional services subject to the Act, a contract which requires the use of service employees to a substantial extent would be covered even though there is some use of professional employees in performance of the contract.

(b) "Service employees" defined. In determining whether or not any of the contract services will be performed by service employees, the definition of "service employee" in section 8(b) of the Act is controlling. It provides:

> The term "service employee" means guards, watchmen, and any person engaged in a recognized trade or craft, or other skilled mechanical craft, or in unskilled, semiskilled, or skilled manual labor occupations; and any other employee including a foreman or supervisor in a position having trade, craft, or laboring experience as the paramount requirement; and shall include all such persons regardless of any contractual relationship that may be alleged to exist between a contractor or subcontractor and such persons.

It will be noted that the definition expressly includes certain supervisory employees. However, it is not deemed to include those employees who are employed in a bona fide executive, administrative, or professional capacity as defined in Part 541 of this title. The breadth of the definition is indicated by the fact that much of its language is identical with that in the Classification Act Amendments of 1954 (5 U.S.C. 1082(7)) defining the so-called "blue collar workers" or "wage board employees" in the Federal service. The legislative history indicates that such employees are the "counterpart" in Federal service of the contractors' employees to whom the Act was intended to extend. (H. Rept. No. 948, 89th Cong. 1st sess. p. 2.) The definition therefore includes as service employees those classes of employees described in some detail in the Handbook of Blue Collar Occupational Families and Series issued by the Civil Service Commission (the latest being October 1961). Some of the specific types of service employees who may be employed on service contracts are noted in subsequent sections which discuss the application of the Act to employees.

§ 4.114 Subcontracts.

(a) Requirements applicable to subcontractors. The Act's provisions apply to the performance not only of the contracts entered into with the United States or the District of Columbia which they cover but also to the performance of any subcontract thereunder. The Act and the regulations (§§ 4.6–4.7) require the Government prime contractor to agree that the required labor standards will be observed by his subcontractors as well as by himself, that the prescribed contract clauses relating thereto will be inserted in all subcontracts, and that appropriate sanctions provided under the Act may be invoked against him in the event of any failure to comply. Subcontractors responsible for violation of the contract stipulations are also liable for underpayments of wages which the stipulations require to be paid and are subject to the enforcement provisions of the Act. The payment by subcontractors to their employees, performing work on covered contracts with the Federal Government, of less than the minimum wage specified under section 6(a)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act (29 U.S.C. 206(a)(1)) is expressly prohibited, except as otherwise provided in the case of certain linen supply subcontractors under section 6(e)(2) of such Act.

(b) "Contractor" as including "subcontractor." Except where otherwise noted or where the term "Government prime contractor" is used, the term "contractor" as used in this Part 4 shall be deemed to include a subcontractor. The term "contractor" as used in the contract clauses required by Subpart A in any subcontract under a covered contract shall be deemed to refer to the subcontractor, or, if in a subcontract entered into by such a subcontractor, shall be deemed to refer to the lower level subcontractor.

Specific Exclusions

§ 4.115 Exemptions and exceptions generally.

The Act, in section 7, specifically excludes from its coverage certain contracts and work which might otherwise come within its terms as procurements the principal purpose of which is to furnish services through the use of service employees. In addition, as noted in § 4.104 provision is made in section 4 of the Act for administrative action by the Secretary of Labor providing reasonable limitations and allowing reasonable variations, tolerances, and exemptions to and from provisions of the Act in accordance with standards set forth in the section. These provisions of the Act apply as explained in the following discussion. The limitations stated in this subpart in defining the scope of the statutory exemptions are reasonable limitations that have been found necessary and proper in the public interest in accordance with the provisions of section (4)b of the Act.

§ 4.116 Contracts for construction activity.

(a) General scope of exemption. The Act, in paragraph (1) of section 7, exempts from its provisions "any contract of the United States or District of Columbia for construction, alteration and/or repair, including painting and decorating of public buildings or public works." This language corresponds to the language used in the Davis-Bacon Act to describe its coverage (40 U.S.C. 270a). The legislative history of the McNamara-O'Hara Service Contract Act indicates that the purpose of the provision is to avoid overlapping coverage of the two acts by excluding from the application of the McNamara-O'Hara Act those contracts (and any bid specification therefor) to which the Davis-Bacon Act is applicable and in the performance of which the labor standards of that Act are intended to govern the compensation payable to the employees of contractors and subcontractors on the work. (See H. Rept. 798, pp. 2, 5, and H. Rept. 948, pp. 1, 5, also Hearing, Special Subcommittee on Labor, House Committee on Education and Labor, p. 9 (89th Cong., 1st sess.).) The intent of section 7(1) is simply to exclude from the provisions of the Act those construction contracts which involve the employment of persons whose wage rates and fringe benefits are determinable under the Davis-Bacon Act.

(b) Contracts not within exemption. (1) Section 7(1) does not exempt contracts which, for purposes of the Davis-Bacon Act, are not considered to be of the character described by the corresponding language in that Act, and to which the provisions of such Act are therefore not applied. Such contracts are accordingly subject to the McNamara-O'Hara Act where their principal purpose is to furnish services in the United States through the use of service employees. For example, a contract for clearing timber or brush from land or for the demolition or dismantling of buildings or other structures located thereon may be a contract for construction activity subject to the Davis-Bacon Act where it appears that the clearing of the site is to be followed by the construction of a public building or public work at the same location. If, however, no further construction activity at the site is contemplated the Davis-Bacon Act may be considered inapplicable to such clearing, demolition, or dismantling work. In such event, the exemption in section 7(1) of the McNamara-O'Hara Act has no application and the contract will be subject to the Act in accordance with its general coverage provisions.

(2) Also, where the principal purpose of a contract is to furnish services in the United States through the use of service employees whose wage rates and fringe benefits are not determinable under the Davis-Bacon Act, the fact that the contract may, by a literal reading of section

7(1), be considered to come within its exemptive language does not justify an application of the exemption where this would result in no wage determinations for these employees under either Act. This is found to be a reasonable limitation on the exemption, consistent with the rule of narrow construction of exemptions from remedial statutes and with the legislative history of this Act, which is necessary and proper in the public interest, in accordance with the provisions of section 4(b) of the Act.

(3) It should be noted also that contracts in the amount of $2,000 or less and contracts to be performed in geographic areas outside the boundaries of the 50 States and the District of Columbia are not subject to the Davis-Bacon Act. Such a contract is within the general coverage provisions of the McNamara-O'Hara Act, however, if it is to be performed within the "United States" as defined in such Act and if its principal purpose is to furnish services through the use of service employees. If the contract meets these tests, it will not be deemed exempt under section 7(1) of the Act even though it calls for construction activity, since there is no suggestion in the legislative history that the Congress intended this exclusion to apply to contracts not subject to the Davis-Bacon Act or to leave employees performing such contracts outside the protection of either Act. This is found to be a reasonable limitation of the exemption which is necessary and proper in the public interest in accordance with the provisions of section 4(b) of the Act.

(c) Partially exempt contracts. Instances may arise in which, for the convenience of the Government, instead of awarding separate contracts for construction work subject to the Davis-Bacon Act and for services of a different type to be performed by service employees, the contracting officer may include separate specifications for each type of work in a single contract calling for the performance of both types of work. For example, a contracting agency may invite bids for the installation of a plumbing system in a public building and for the maintenance of the system for one year, under separate bid specifications. In such a case, the exemption provided by section 7(1) will be deemed applicable only to that portion of the contract which calls for construction activity subject to the Davis-Bacon Act. The contract documents are required to contain the clauses prescribed by § 4.6 for application to the contract obligation to furnish services through the use of service employees, and the provisions of the McNamara-O'Hara Act will apply to that portion of the contract. This is a reasonable limitation of the application of the exemption found to be necessary and proper in the public interest in accordance with the provisions of section 4(b) of the Act.

§ 4.117 Contracts for carriage subject to published tariff rates.

The Act, in paragraph (3) of section 7, exempts from its provisions "any contract for the carriage of freight or personnel by vessel, airplane, bus, truck, express, railway line or oil or gas pipeline where published tariff rates are in effect". In order for this exemption to be applicable, the contract must be for such carriage by a common carrier described by the terms used. It does not, for example, apply to contracts for taxicab or ambulance service, because taxicab and ambulance companies are not among the common carriers specified by the statute. Also, a contract for transportation service does not come within this exemption unless the service contracted for is actually governed by published tariff rates in effect pursuant to State or Federal law for such carriage. The contracts excluded from the reach of the Act by this exemption are typically those where there is on file with the Interstate Commerce Commission or an appropriate State or local regulatory body a tariff rate applicable to the transportation involved, and the transportation contract between the Government and the carrier is evidenced by a bill of lading citing the published tariff rate. It should be noted further that only such contracts for the carriage of "freight or personnel" are exempt. This exemption thus does not exclude any contracts for the transportation of mail from the application of the Act, because the term "freight" does not include the mail. (For an administrative exemption of certain contracts with common carriers for carriage of mail, see § 4.6(m)(g).

§ 4.118 Contracts for services of communications companies.

The Act, in paragraph (4) of section 7, exempts from its provisions "any contract for the furnishing of services by radio, telephone, telegraph, or cable companies, subject to the Communications Act of 1934." This exemption is applicable to contracts with such companies for communication services regulated under the Communications Act. It does not exempt from the Act any contracts with such companies to furnish any other kinds of services through the use of service employees.

§ 4.119 Contracts for public utility services.

The Act, in paragraph (5) of section 7, exempts from its provisions "any contract for public utility services, including electric light and power, water, steam, and gas." This exemption is applicable to contracts for such services with companies whose rates therefor are regulated under State, local, or Federal law governing operations of public utility enterprises. Contracts entered into with public utility companies to furnish services through the use of service employees, other than those subject to such rate regulation, are not exempt from the Act. Among the contracts included in the exemption would be those between Federal electric power marketing agencies and investor-owned electric utilities, Rural Electrification Administration cooperatives, municipalities and State agencies engaged in the transmission and sale of electric power and energy. (See H. Rept. No. 948, 89th Cong., 1st sess., p. 4.)

§ 4.120 Contracts for operation of postal contract stations.

The Act, in paragraph (7) of section 7, exempts from its provisions "any contract with the Post Office Department, the principal purpose of which is the operation of postal contract stations." The exemption is limited to postal service contracts having the operation of such stations as their principal purpose. A provision of the legislation which would also have exempted contracts with the Post Office Department having as their principal purpose the transportation, handling, or delivery of the mails was eliminated from the bill during its consideration by the House Committee on Education and Labor (H. Rept. 948, p. 1, 89th Cong., 1st sess.).

§ 4.121 Contracts for individual services.

The Act, in paragraph (6) of section 7, exempts from its provisions "any employment contract providing for direct services to a Federal agency by an individual or individuals." This exemption, which applies only to an "employment contract" for "direct services," makes it clear that the Act's application to Federal contracts for services is intended to be limited to service contracts entered into with independent contractors. If a contract to furnish services (to be performed by a service employee as defined in the Act) provides that they will be furnished directly to the Federal agency by the individual under conditions or circumstances which will make him an employee of the agency in providing the contract service, the exemption applies and the contract will not be subject to the Act's provisions. The exemption does not exclude from the Act any contract for services of the kind performed by service employees which is entered into with an independent contractor whose individual services will be used in performing the contract, but as noted earlier in § 4.113, such a contract would be outside the general coverage of the Act if only the contractor's individual services would be furnished and no service employee would in any event be used in its performance.

§ 4.122 Work subject to requirements of Walsh-Healey Act.

The Act, in paragraph (2) of section 7, exempts from its provisions "any work required to be done in accordance with the provisions of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act (49 Stat. 2036)." It will be noted that this like the similar provision in the Contract Work Hours Standards Act (40 U.S.C. 329(b)), is an exemption for "work" rather than for "contracts" subject to the Walsh-Healey Act. The purpose of the exemption was to eliminate possible overlapping of the differing labor standards of the two Acts, which otherwise might be applied to employees performing work on a contract covered by the McNamara-O'Hara Act if such contract and their work under it should also be deemed to be covered by the Walsh-Healey Act. The Walsh-Healey Act applies to contracts in excess of $10,000 for the manufacture or furnishing of materials, supplies, articles or equipment. There is no overlap of coverage, therefore, in the case of contracts in amounts not in excess of $10,000. Nor is there an overlap if the principal purpose of the contract is the manufacture or furnishing of such materials etc., rather than the furnishing of services of the character referred to in the McNamara-O'Hara Act, for such a contract is not within the general coverage of the latter Act. In such cases the exemption in section 7(2) is not pertinent. It is pertinent, however, in the case of contracts exceeding $10,000 which are covered by the McNamara-O'Hara Act, because they have as their principal purpose the furnishing of services through the use of service employees, and are also covered by the Walsh-Healey Act, because it applies to contracts in the required amount, irrespective of their principal purpose, if the furnishing of materials, supplies, articles, or equipment in a substantial amount is called for by the contract or is a significant or independent purpose of the contract. Under such contracts, the "work required to be done in accordance with the provisions of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act," which is exempted by section 7(2), includes only the work of those employees who are "engaged in or connected with the manufacture, fabrication, assembling, handling, supervision, or shipment of materials, supplies, articles, or equipment required under the contract" (41 CFR 50–201.102). Service employees engaged in such work on a contract covered by both Acts are thus exempt under section 7(2) from the provisions of the McNamara-O'Hara Act and subject only to the provisions of the Walsh-Healey Act, while other employees such as guards, watchmen, and employees performing only general office or clerical work are not covered by the Walsh-Healey Act or within this exemption, and are covered by the provisions of the McNamara-O'Hara Act when performing work on a contract subject to its terms.

§ 4.123 Administrative limitations, variations, tolerances, and exemptions.

(a) Authority of the Secretary. The Act, in section 4(b) authorizes the Secretary to "provide such reasonable limitations" and to "make such rules and regulations allowing reasonable variations, tolerances, and exemptions to and from any or all provisions of this Act as he may find necessary and proper in the public interest or to avoid serious impairment of the conduct of Government business." This authority is similar to that vested in the Secretary under section 6 of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act (41 U.S.C. 40) and under section 105 of the Contract Work Hours Standards Act (40 U.S.C. 331).

(b) Administrative action under section 4(b) of the Act. The authority conferred on the Secretary by section 4(b) of the Act will be exercised with due regard to the remedial purpose of the statute to protect prevailing labor standards and to avoid the undercutting of such standards which could result from the award of Government work to contractors who will not observe such standards, and whose saving in labor cost therefrom enables them to offer a lower price to the Government than can be offered by the fair employers who maintain the prevailing standards. Administrative action consistent with this statutory purpose may be taken under section 4(b) with or without a request therefor, when found necessary and proper in accordance with the statutory standards. No formal procedures have been prescribed for requesting such action. However, a request for exemption from the Act's provisions will be granted only upon a strong and affirmative showing that it is necessary and proper in the public interest or to avoid serious impairment of Government business. If the request for administrative action under section 4(b) is not made by the headquarters office of the contracting agency to which the contract services are to be provided, the views of such office on the matter should be obtained and submitted with the request or the contracting officer may forward such a request through channels to the agency headquarters for submission with the latter's views to the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, Department of Labor.

(c) Documentation of official action under section 4(b). All papers and documents made a part of the official record of administrative action pursuant to section 4(b) of the Act are available for public inspection in accordance with the regulations in 29 CFR Part 70. Limitations, variations, tolerances and exemptions of general applicability and legal effect promulgated pursuant to such authority are published in the FEDERAL REGISTER and made a part of the rules incorporated in this Part 4. For convenience in use of the rules they are set forth in the sections of this part covering the subject matter to which they relate, rather than as a separate listing. (See, for example, the exemption provided in § 4.5(b) and the limitations set forth in §§ 4.115 et seq.) Any rules that are promulgated under section 4(b) of the Act relating to subject matter not dealt with elsewhere in this Part 4 will be set forth immediately following this paragraph.

PARTICULAR APPLICATIONS OF CONTRACT COVERAGE PRINCIPLES

§ 4.130 Types of covered service contracts illustrated.

The types of contracts, the principal purpose of which is to furnish services through the use of service employees, are too numerous and varied to permit an exhaustive listing. The following list is illustrative, however, of the types of services called for by such contracts that have been found to come within the coverage of the Act.

(a) Aerial spraying.
(b) Aerial reconnaissance for fire detection.
(c) Ambulance service.
(d) Cafeteria and food service.
(e) Chemical testing and analysis.
(f) Clothing alteration and repair.
(g) Custodial and janitorial services.
(h) Electronic equipment maintenance and operation.
(i) Flight training.
(j) Forest fire fighting.
(k) Geological field surveys.
(l) Grounds maintenance.
(m) Guard or watchman service.
(n) Landscaping (other than part of construction).
(o) Laundry and dry cleaning.
(p) Linen supply service.
(q) Lodging and meals.
(r) Mail hauling.
(s) Maintenance and repair of motor equipment.
(t) Maintenance and repair of office equipment.
(u) Miscellaneous housekeeping.
(v) Motor Pool operation.
(w) Packing and crating.
(x) Parking services.
(y) Snow removal.
(z) Stenographic reporting.
(aa) Support services at military installations.
(bb) Taxicab services.
(cc) Tire and tube repairs.
(dd) Transporting property or personnel (except as explained in § 4.117).
(ee) Trash and garbage removal.
(ff) Warehousing or storage.
(gg) Drafting and illustrating.
(hh) Mortuary services.

§ 4.131 Furnishing services involving more than use of labor.

(a) If the principal purpose of a contract is to furnish services in the performance of which service employees will be used, the Act will apply to the contract, in the absence of an exemption, even though the use of nonlabor items may be an important element in the furnishing of the services called for by its terms. The Act is concerned with protecting the labor standards of workers engaged in performing such contracts, and is applicable if the statutory coverage test is met, regardless of the proportion of the labor cost to the total cost of furnishing the contract services, the form in which the contract is drafted, or the necessity of providing tangible nonlabor items in performing the contract obligations. A procurement that requires tangible items to be supplied as a part of the service furnished is covered by the Act so long as the facts show that the contract is chiefly for services, and that the furnishing of tangible items is of secondary importance.

(b) Some examples of covered contracts illustrating these principles may be helpful. One such example is a contract for the maintenance and repair of typewriters. Such a contract may require the contractor to furnish typewriter parts, as the need arises, in performing the contract services. Since this does not change the principal purpose of the contract, which is to furnish the maintenance and repair services through the use of service employees, the contract remains subject to the Act.

The same is true of contracts for maintenance or repair of motor vehicles or other equipment. (As noted in § 4.122, if such contracts exceed $10,000 in amount, the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act may also apply to them, in which event the employees performing work required to be done in accordance with its provisions would be exempt from the application of the Service Contract Act.)

(c) Another example of the application of the above principle is a contract for the recurrent supply to a Government agency of freshly laundered items on a rental basis. It is plain from the legislative history that such a contract is typical of those intended to be covered by the Act. Although tangible items owned by the contractor are provided on a rental basis for the use of the Government, the service furnished by the contractor in making them available for such use when and where they are needed, through the use of service employees who launder and deliver them, is the principal purpose of the contract. Similarly, a contract in the form of rental of equipment with operators for the plowing and reseeding of a park area is a service contract. The Act applies to it because its principal purpose is the service of plowing and reseeding, which will be performed by service employees, although as a necessary incident the contractor is required to furnish equipment. For like reasons the contracts for aerial spraying and aerial reconnaissance listed in § 4.130 are covered, even though the use of airplanes, an expensive item of equipment, is essential in performing such services. Contracts under which the contractor agrees to provide the Government with vehicles or equipment on a rental basis with drivers or operators are similarly deemed contracts to furnish services, in the performance of which service employees will be used. (Such contracts are not considered contracts for furnishing equipment within the meaning of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act.)

§ 4.132 Services and other items to be furnished under single contract.

If the principal purpose of a contract specification is to furnish services through the use of service employees within the meaning of the Act, the contract to furnish such services is not removed from the Act's coverage merely because, as a matter of convenience in procurement, it is combined in a single contract document with specifications for the procurement of different or unrelated items. For example, a contracting agency may invite bids for supplying a quantity of new typewriters and for the maintenance and repair of the typewriters already in use, under separate bid specifications. The principal purpose of the latter, but not the former, would be the furnishing of services through the use of service employees. A typewriter company might be the successful bidder on both items and the specifications for each might be included in a single contract for the convenience of the parties. In such a case, the contract obligation to furnish the maintenance and repair services would be subject to the provisions of the Act. The "principal purpose" test would be applicable to the specification for such services rather than to the combined contract. The Act would not apply in such case to the contract obligation to furnish new typewriters, although its performance would be subject to the provisions of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act if the amount was in excess of $10,000.

§ 4.133 Government as beneficiary of contract services.

(a) In general. The Act does not say to whom the services under a covered contract must be furnished; so far as its language is concerned, it is enough if the contract is "entered into" by and with the Government and if its principal purpose is "to furnish services in the United States through the use of service employees." The legislative history indicates an intention to cover at least contracts for services of direct benefit to the Government, its property, or its civilian or military personnel for whose needs it is necessary or desirable for the Government to make provision for such services. Such contracts as those for furnishing food service and laundry and dry cleaning service for personnel at military installations, for example, were specifically referred to. Where the principal purpose of the Government contract is to provide these or other services to the Government or its personnel through the use of service employees, the contract is within the general coverage of the Act regardless of the source of the funds from which the contractor is paid for the service and irrespective of whether he performs the work in his own establishment, on a Government installation, or elsewhere. The fact that the contract permits him to provide the services directly to individual personnel as a concessionaire, rather than through the contracting agency, does not require a different conclusion.

(b) Special situations. It is not considered that the Act was intended to cover every contract, however, which is entered into with the Government by a contractor to furnish services, no matter how indirect or remote a benefit the Government may derive therefrom. If, for example, a contract with the Government grants the contractor the privilege of operating as a concessionaire in a Government park for the purpose of furnishing services to the public generally rather than to the Government or to personnel engaged in its business, the contract is not considered subject to the Act. Since the statute itself provides no clear line of demarcation, questions of contract coverage where doubt arises because of remoteness of benefit to the Government from the services to be furnished should be referred to the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions for resolution.

§ 4.134 Contracts outside the Act's coverage.

(a) Contracts entered into by agencies other than those of the Federal Government or the District of Columbia as described in §§ 4.107–4.108 of this subpart are not within the purview of the Act. Thus, the Act does not cover service contracts entered into with any agencies of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, or Guam acting in behalf of their respective local governments. Similarly, it does not cover service contracts entered into by agencies of States or local public bodies, not acting as agents or for or on behalf of the United States or the District of Columbia, even though Federal financial assistance may be provided for such contracts under Federal law of the terms and conditions specified in Federal law may govern the award and operation of the contract.

(b) Further, as already noted in §§ 4.111–4.113, the Act does not apply to Government contracts which do not have as their principal purpose the furnishing of services, or which call for no services to be furnished within the United States or through the use of service employees as those terms are defined in the Act. Clearly outside the Act's coverage for these reasons are such contracts as those for the purchase of tangible products which the Government needs (e.g. fuel, vehicles, office equipment, and supplies), for the logistic support of an air base in a foreign country, or for the services of a lawyer to examine the title to land. Similarly, where the Government contracts for a lease of building space for Government occupancy and as an incidental part of the lease agreement the building owner agrees to furnish janitorial and other building services through the use of service employees, the leasing of the space rather than the furnishing of the building services is the principal purpose of the contract, and the Act does not apply. Another type of contract which is outside the coverage of the Act because it is not for the principal purpose of furnishing services may be illustrated by a contract for the rental of parking space under which the Government agency is simply given a lease or license to use the contractor's real property. Such a contract is to be distinguished from contracts for the live storage of vehicles which are delivered into the possession or custody of the contractor, who will provide the required services including the parking or retrieval of the vehicles.

(c) There are a number of types of contracts which, while outside the Act's coverage in the usual case, may be subject to its provisions under the conditions and circumstances of a particular procurement, because these may be such as to require a different view of the principal purpose of the contract. Thus, the ordinary contract for the recapping of tires would have as its principal purpose the manufacture and furnishing of rebuilt tires for the Government rather than the furnishing of services through the use of service employees, and thus would be outside the Act's coverage. Similarly, contracts calling for printing, reproduction, and duplicating ordinarily would appear to have as their principal purpose the furnishing in quantity of printed, reproduced, or duplicated written materials rather than the furnishing of the reproduction services through the use of service employees. However, in a particular case, the terms, conditions, and circumstances of the procurement would be such that the facts would show its purpose to be chiefly the obtaining of services (e.g. repair services, typesetting, photostating, editing, etc.), and where such services would require the use of service employees the contract would be subject to the Act unless excluded therefrom for some other reason.

(d) A further category of contracts outside the coverage of the Act includes those service contracts which would otherwise be covered but to which the Act does not apply because they were entered into pursuant to negotiations concluded or invitations for bids issued before January 20, 1966 (see § 4.102) and have remained in effect without change since that date.

DETERMINING AMOUNT OF CONTRACT

§ 4.140 Significance of contract amount.

As set forth in § 4.103 and in the requirements of §§ 4.6–4.7, the obligations of a contractor with respect to labor standards differ in the case of a covered and nonexempt contract, depending on whether the contract is or is not in excess of $2,500. Rules for resolving questions that may arise as to whether a contract is or is not in excess of this figure are set forth in the following sections.

§ 4.141 General criteria for measuring amount.

(a) In general, the contract amount is measured by the consideration agreed to be paid, whether in money or other valuable consideration, in return for the obligations assumed under the contract. Thus, even though a contractor, such as a wrecker entering into a contract with the Government to raze a building on a site which will remain vacant, may not be entitled to receive any money from the Government for such work under his contract or may even agree to pay the Government in return for the right to dispose of the salvaged materials, the contract will be deemed one in excess of $2,500 if the value of the property obtained by the contractor, less anything he might pay the Government, is in excess of such amount.

(b) All bids from the same person on the same invitation for bids will constitute a single offer, and the total award to such person will determine the amount involved for purposes of the Act. Where the procurement is made without formal advertising, in arriving at the aggregate amount involved, there must be included all property and services which would properly be grouped together in a single transaction and which would be included in a single advertisement for bids if the procurement were being effected by formal advertising. However, where an invitation is for services in an amount in excess of $2,500 and bidders are permitted to bid on a portion of the services not amounting to more than $2,500, the amounts of the contracts awarded separately to individual and unrelated bidders will be measured by the portions of the services covered by their respective contracts.

(c) Where a contract is issued in an amount in excess of $2,500 this amount will govern for purposes of application of the Act even though penalty deductions, deductions for prompt payment, and similar deductions may reduce the amount actually expended by the Government to $2,500 or less.

§ 4.142 Contracts in an indefinite amount.

(a) Every contract subject to this Act (and any bid specification therefor) which is indefinite in amount and is not otherwise exempt from the requirements of section 2(a) of the Act and § 4.6 is required to contain the clauses prescribed in § 4.6 for contracts in excess of $2,500, unless the contracting officer has definite knowledge in advance that the contract will not exceed $2,500 in any event.

(b) Where contracts or agreements between a Government agency and prospective purveyors of services are negotiated, which provide terms and conditions under which services will be furnished through the use of service employees in response to individual purchase orders or calls, if any, which may be issued by the agency during the life of the agreement, these agreements would ordinarily constitute contracts within the intendment of the Act under principles judicially established in United Biscuit Co. v. Wirtz, 17 WH Cases 146 (C.A.D.C.), a case arising under the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act. Such a contract, which may be in the nature of a bilateral option contract and not obligate the Government to order any services or the contractor to furnish any, nevertheless governs any procurement of services that may be made through purchase orders or calls issued under its terms. Since the amount of the contract is indefinite, it is subject to the rule stated in paragraph (a) of this section. The amount of the contract is not determined by the amount of any individual call or purchase order.

CHANGES IN CONTRACT COVERAGE

§ 4.143 Effects of changes or extensions of contracts, generally.

Sometimes an existing service contract is modified, amended, or extended in such a manner or at such a time that, if originally entered into in its changed form at such time, the application of provisions of the Act to it would be different at such time from the application of the Act's provisions to the original contract at the time it was entered into. One example is a contract to which the Act did not originally apply because invitations for bids thereon were issued prior to January 20, 1966, which is subsequently extended. Another example is a contract which, when originally executed, was exempted from the provisions of section 2(a) of the Act and § 4.6 requiring specification in the contract of predetermined monetary wage rates and fringe benefits, because no wage determination had been made prior to the invitation for bids; and then, at a later time, contract amendments relative to the scope of the work are incorporated after prevailing wage and fringe benefit determinations have been made for classes of service employees in the locality which will be engaged in the contract work. The general rule with respect to such contracts is, that whenever changes are made in the terms of the contract, the provisions of the Act and the regulations thereunder will apply to the changed contract in the same manner and to the same extent as they would to a wholly new contract in the same terms if such a contract were entered into at the time of the change. Under this rule, the contract in the first example would become subject to the Act and regulations when the changes were effected in it, although it was not originally covered. Similarly, the specified monetary wages and fringe benefits would have to be incorporated in the amended contract in the second example, although not required in the contract originally entered into. However, contract modifications or amendments (other than contract extensions) that are unrelated to the labor requirements of a contract will not be deemed to create a new contract for purposes of the Act. In addition, only significant changes related to labor requirements will be considered as creating new contracts. This limitation on the application of the Act has been found to be a reasonable one, and necessary and proper in the public interest and to avoid serious impairment of the conduct of Government business in accordance with the provisions of section 4(b) of the Act. Also, a contract will be deemed entered into when the term of an existing contract is extended, pursuant to an option clause or otherwise, so that the contractor furnishes services over an extended period of time, rather than being granted extra time to fulfill his original commitment.

§ 4.144 Contract modifications affecting amount.

Pursuant to the rule set forth in § 4.143, where a contract which was originally issued in an amount not in excess of $2,500 is later modified so that its amount may exceed that figure, all the provisions of section 2(a) of the Act, and the regulations thereunder are applicable from the date of modification to the date of contract completion. In the event of such modification the contracting officer will immediately insert the required contract clauses into the contract and notify the Department of Labor of such action. In the event that a contract for services subject to the Act in excess of $2,500 is modified so that it cannot exceed $2,500, compliance with the provisions of section 2(a) of the Act and the contract clauses required thereunder ceases to be an obligation of the contractor when such modification becomes effective.

§ 4.145 Extended term contracts.

Sometimes service contracts are entered into for a term of years; however, their continuation in effect is subject to the appropriation by Congress of funds for each new fiscal year. In such event, for purposes of this Act, a contract shall be deemed entered into at the beginning of each new fiscal year during which the terms of the original contract are made effective by an appropriation for the purpose. In other cases a service contract, entered into for a specified term by a Government agency, may contain a provision such as an option clause under which the agency may unilaterally extend the contract for a period of the same length or other stipulated period. If a new appropriation is required to finance such extension, the rule just stated will apply. In any event, however, since the exercise of the option results in the rendition of services for a new or different period not included in the term for which the contractor is obligated to furnish services or for which the Government is obligated to pay under the original contract in the absence of such action to extend it, the contract for the additional period is within the intendment of the Act in the same position as a wholly new contract with respect to application of the Act's provisions and the regulations thereunder.

PERIOD OF COVERAGE

§ 4.146 Contract obligations after award, generally.

A contractor's obligation to observe the provisions of the Act arises on the date he is informed that he has received the award of the contract, not necessarily the date of formal execution. However, he is required to comply with the provisions of the Act and regulations thereunder only while his employees are performing on the contract, provided his records make clear the period of such performance.

EMPLOYEES COVERED BY THE ACT

§ 4.150 Employee coverage generally.

The Act, in section 2(b), makes it clear that its provisions apply generally to all employees engaged in performing work on a covered contract entered into by the contractor with the Federal Government, regardless of whether they are his employees or those of any subcontractor under such contract. All employees who, on or after the date of award, are engaged in working on or in connection with the contract, either in performing the specific services called for by its terms or in performing other duties necessary to the performance of the contract, are thus subject to the Act unless a specific exemption (see §§ 4.115 et seq.) is applicable. All such employees must be paid wages at a rate not less than the minimum wage specified under section 6(a)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act (29 U.S.C. 206(a)(1)), as amended, unless the special exception provided in section 6(e)(2) of such Act for certain linen supply contract services is applicable (see § 4.160). Payment of a higher minimum monetary wage and the furnishing of fringe benefits may be required under the contract, pursuant to the provisions of section 2(a)(1), (2), of the Act.

§ 4.151 Employees covered by provisions of section 2(a).

The provisions of section 2(a) of the Act prescribe labor standards requirements applicable, except as otherwise specifically provided, to every contract in excess of $2,500 which is entered into by the United States or the District of Columbia for the principal purpose of furnishing services in the United States through the use of service employees. These provisions apply to all service employees engaged in the performance of such a contract or any subcontract thereunder. The Act, in section 8(b) defines the term "service employee". The general scope of the definition is considered in § 4.113(b) of this subpart.

§ 4.152 Employees subject to prevailing compensation provisions of section 2(a)(1) and (2).

Under section 2(a)(1) and (2) of the Act minimum monetary wages and fringe benefits to be paid or furnished the various classes of service employees performing such contract work are determined by the Secretary of Labor or his authorized representative in accordance with prevailing rates and fringe benefits for such employees in the locality and are required to be specified in such contracts and subcontracts thereunder. All service employees of the classes who actually perform the specific services called for by the contract (e.g. janitors performing on a contract for office cleaning; stenographers performing on a contract for stenographic reporting) are covered by the provisions specifying such minimum monetary wages and fringe benefits for such classes of service employees.

§ 4.153 Inapplicability of prevailing compensation provisions to some employees.

There may be employees, used by a contractor or subcontractor in performing a service contract in excess of $2,500 which is subject to the Act, whose services, although necessary to the performance of the contract, are not subject to minimum monetary wage or fringe benefit provisions contained in the contract pursuant to section 2(a). This may occur either because such employees do not come within the classes of service employees, directly engaged in performing the specified contract services, which are included in the Secretary's determinations of monetary wages and fringe benefits and for which such compensation is specified in the contract (an example might be a laundry contractor's billing clerk performing billing work with respect to the items laundered); or because the contract itself is exempted from the predetermined wage and fringe benefit requirements of section 2(a) (under the provisions of § 4.5) as a contract calling for services of classes of service employees with respect to whom there is no currently applicable wage or fringe benefit determination for the locality. In all such situations the employees, who are engaged in performing work on the contract but for whom no monetary minimum wage or fringe benefits are specified by its provisions, are nevertheless subject to the minimum wage provision of section 2(b) (see § 4.150) requiring payment of not less than the minimum wage specified under section 6(a)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act to all employees working on a covered contract, unless specifically exempt. The same is true in situations where minimum monetary wages and fringe benefits have not been specified in the contract for a particular class or classes of service employees because the wage and fringe benefit determinations applicable to the locality have been made only for other classes of service employees who will perform the contract work, and not for these. However, although wages lower than the specified Fair Labor Standards Act minimum may not be paid to such employees in classes omitted from those for which monetary wages or fringe benefits were predetermined and specified in the contract, the employer will be required to pay any higher monetary wages together with fringe benefits which may be specified for them pursuant to agreement of the interested parties as provided in § 4.6(b).

§ 4.154 Employees covered by sections 2(a)(3) and (4).

The safety and health standards of section 2(a)(3) (see § 4.186) and the notice requirements of section 2(a)(4) of the Act (see § 4.183) are applicable, in the absence of a specific exemption, to every service employee engaged by a contractor or subcontractor to furnish services under a contract subject to section 2(a) of the Act.

§ 4.155 Employee coverage does not depend on form of employment contract.

The Act, in section 8(b), makes it plain that the coverage of service employees depends on whether their work for the contractor or subcontractor on a covered contract is that of a service employee as defined in section 8(b) and not on any contractual relationship that may be alleged to exist between the contractor or subcontractor and such persons.

§ 4.156 Employees in bona fide executive, administrative, or professional capacity.

As stated in § 4.113(b), the service employees covered by the Act are not deemed to include employees employed in a bona fide executive, administrative, or professional capacity as defined in 29 CFR Part 541. This has been found to be a reasonable limitation on coverage which is necessary and proper in the public interest (Act, sec. 4(b)). Employees within the definition of service employee who are employed in a professional, administrative, or supervisory capacity are not excluded from coverage, however, even though they are highly paid, if they fail to meet the tests set forth in 29 CFR Part 541. Thus, such employees as laboratory technicians, draftsmen, and air ambulance pilots, though they require a high level of skill to perform their duties and may meet the salary requirements of the regulations in Part 541 of this title, are ordinarily covered by the Act's provisions because they do not typically meet the other requirements of those regulations.

COMPENSATION STANDARDS

§ 4.159 General minimum wage.

The Act, in section 2(b)(1), provides generally that no contractor or subcontractor under any Federal contract subject to the Act shall pay any of his employees engaged in performing work on such a contract less than the minimum wage specified under section 6(a)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act. Section 2(a)(1) provides that the minimum monetary wage specified in any such contract exceeding $2,500 shall in no case be lower than this Fair Labor Standards Act minimum wage. Section 2(b)(1) is a statutory provision which applies to the contractor or subcontractor without regard to whether it is incorporated in the contract; however, §§ 4.6–4.7 provide for inclusion of its requirements in covered contracts and subcontracts. Because the statutory requirement specifies no fixed monetary wage rate and refers only to the minimum wage specified under section 6(a)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act, and because its application does not depend on provisions of the contract, any increase in such Fair Labor Standards Act minimum wage during the life of the contract is, on its effective date, also effective to increase the minimum wage payable under section 2(b)(1) to employees engaged in performing work on the contract. The minimum wage under section 6(a)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act was increased from $1.25 to $1.40 an hour effective February 1, 1967; such minimum wage effective February 1, 1968, is $1.60 an hour. As explained in § 4.160(c), in certain establishments providing linen supply services under Government contracts entered into on or after February 1, 1967, section 6(e)(2) of the Fair Labor Standards Act has the effect of modifying the requirement of section 2(b) of the Service Contract Act, as discussed above.

§ 4.160 Effect of section 6(e) of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

(a) General. Contractors and subcontractors performing work on contracts subject to the Service Contract Act are, in general, required not only to comply, in paying wages for such work, with the general minimum wage standard provided in section 6(a)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act as explained in § 4.159, above, but also to pay those of their employees who are not performing work on or in connection with such contracts in accordance with the compensation requirements of section 6(e) of the Fair Labor Standards Act. In the case of employers providing linen supply services to the United States under such contracts, section 6(e) of such Act also has the effect of modifying the general minimum wage requirement discussed in § 4.159 for their employees engaged in work on such contracts in certain establishments providing such linen supply services. (See par. (c) of this section.)

(b) Section 6(e)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act. Section 6(e)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act applies to "every employer providing any contract services (other than linen supply services) under a contract with the United States or any subcontract thereunder." It provides that every such employer "shall pay to each of his employees whose rate of pay is not governed by the Service Contract Act of 1965", or to whom section 6(a)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act is not otherwise applicable, wages at rates not less than the rates provided for in section 6(b) of such Act. The only exemptions permitted from this requirement are those provided in section 13(a)(1) of such Act for employees employed in a bona fide executive, administrative, professional, or outside sales capacity as defined and delimited in 29 CFR Part 541, and in section 13(f) of such Act for employees employed in workplaces in territory not described in that subsection. The minimum wage rates under section 6(b) of such Act, to which section 6(e) refers, are: $1 an hour, beginning February 1, 1967; $1.15 an hour, beginning February 1, 1968; $1.30 an hour, beginning February 1, 1969; $1.45 an hour, beginning February 1, 1970; and $1.60 an hour on and after February 1, 1971.

(c) Section 6(e)(2) of the Fair Labor Standards Act. (1) Section 6(e)(2) of the Fair Labor Standards Act which is effective as to contracts entered into on or after February 1, 1967, is limited in its application to "every employer in an establishment providing linen supply services to the United States under a contract with the United States or any subcontract thereunder." It provides that every such employer "shall pay to each of his employees in such establishment wages at rates not less than those prescribed in" section 6(b) of such Act, "except that if more than 50 per centum of the gross annual dollar volume of sales made or business done by such establishment is derived from providing such linen supply services under any such contracts or subcontracts, such employer shall pay to each of his employees in such establishment wages at rates not less than those prescribed in" section 6(a)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

(2) Where this latter exception is applicable, the effect of section 6(e)(2) is to require all employees in an establishment providing linen supply services under Government contract and not just those performing work on such contracts, to be paid not less than the Fair Labor Standards Act section 6(a)(1) rate of wages which, as explained in § 4.159, is the general minimum wage floor for contract work under section 2(b) of the Service Contract Act.

(3) However, where 50 percent or less of an establishment's gross annual dollar volume of sales made or business done is derived from linen supply services under Government contract, the effect of section 6(e)(2) is to modify the general minimum wage requirement of section 2(b)(1) of the Service Contract Act so as to permit the payment to employees engaged in performing such contracts of wages at a rate not less than the rate applicable under section 6(b) of the Fair Labor Standards Act, in lieu of the rate applicable under section 6(a)(1) of such Act. (For the minimum rates provided under section 6(b), see par. (b) of this section.) If higher minimum wage rates or fringe benefits are determined and specified in the contract under the provisions of section 2(a) of the Service Contract Act for such contract workers, the contractor or subcontractor must provide such compensation to the employees to whom such wage rates or fringe benefits apply, notwithstanding the provisions of section 6(e)(2) of the Fair Labor Standards Act. Section 6(e)(2) of such Act provides an alternative rate only in lieu of the minimum wage floor prescribed in section 2(b)(1) of the Service Contract Act, and does not supersede the provisions of section 2(a). With respect to employees in any establishment providing linen supply services under Government contract and not deriving more than 50 percent of its gross annual dollar volume from such contract services, section 6(e)(2) does, however, require that a minimum wage not less than that prescribed in section 6(b) of the Fair Labor Standards Act be paid to each employee, whether or not subject to the provisions of the Service Contract Act, who is employed in such establishment and for whom no higher monetary wage rate is prescribed under the provisions of section 2(a)(1) of the Service Contract Act.

(4) Like section 6(e)(1), section 6(e)(2) of the Fair Labor Standards Act limits the exemptions from its provisions under such Act to the executive, administrative, professional, outside sales, and geographic exemptions mentioned in paragraph (b) of this section.

(d) "Linen supply services" under section 6(e). (1) As noted in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, the provisions of section 6(e)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act apply to Government contractors and subcontractors providing contract services "other than linen supply services", whereas the provisions of section 6(e)(2) are applicable only to employers in establishments "providing linen supply services to the United States under a contract with the United States or any subcontract thereunder." Section 6(e)(2) thus does not apply in establishments providing only laundry or cleaning, and not linen supply, services under Government contracts or subcontracts, as in the case of contracts for family laundering, or commercial laundering and dry cleaning. Also the legislative history makes it clear that the exception for linen supply services is to be "construed narrowly so as not to place other laundering and cleaning establishments at a competitive disadvantage in bidding for U.S. contracts." (Daily Congressional Record, Sept. 7, 1966, p. 21032.) The stated intent is to include "standard linen supply services, such as for sheets, pillowcases, tablecloths, and so on." Other items recognized as standard linen supply items are dresses, uniforms, bibs, aprons, and other wearing apparel of the type used by barbers, doctors, waitresses, waiters, nurses, food workers, beauticians, retail sales personnel, etc. It is made plain by the legislative history of the provision, however, that it is not intended to include, in the "linen supply services" to which section 6(e)(2) refers, any contract services which involve supplying the Government with cleaned and laundered items of types not normally provided by linen supply services, such as work uniforms worn by mechanics and production workers in heavy industry, machine shops, garages, service stations, and the like, where the garments are likely to be heavily soiled or greasy by the nature of their use. Other examples of contracts which are not for linen supply services within the meaning of the provision are those for diaper service and those providing services for industrial wiping towels, safety equipment salvage, dust control—including treated dust tool covers and cloths, treated dust mops and treated mats or rugs—and other industrial laundering services.

(2) In order for a contract to qualify as a linen supply contract, the linen supply items furnished to the Government must be furnished on a rental basis by the contractor. If the contractor is not furnishing the linen supply items to the Government on a rental basis, he would not be considered as furnishing linen supply services but merely to be furnishing a laundering service to the Government. As such, he would be subject to the provisions of section 6(e)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act rather than section 6(e)(2).

§ 4.161 Minimum monetary wages under contracts exceeding $2,500.

The standards established pursuant to the Act for minimum monetary wages to be paid by contractors and subcontractors under service contracts in excess of $2,500 to service employees engaged in performance of the contract or subcontracts are required to be specified in the contract and in all subcontracts (see § 4.6). Section 2(a)(1) requires that every such contract (and any bid specification therefor) which is subject to the Act shall contain a "provision specifying the minimum monetary wages to be paid the various classes of service employees in the performance of the contract or any subcontract thereunder, as determined by the Secretary or his authorized representative, in accordance with prevailing rates for such employees in the locality, which in no case shall be lower than" the minimum wage specified under section 6(a)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended. If some or all of the determined wages in a contract fall below the level of the Fair Labor Standards Act minimum by reason of a change in that rate by amendment of the law, these rates become obsolete and the employer is obligated under section 2(b)(1) of the Service Contract Act, to pay the new minimum wage rate established by the amendment as of the date it becomes effective. A change in the Fair Labor Standards Act minimum by operation of law would also have the same effect on advertised specifications or negotiations for covered service contracts, i.e., it would make ineffective and would supplant any lower rate or rates included in such specifications or negotiations whether or not determined. However, unless affected by such a change in the Fair Labor Standards Act minimum wage or by contract changes necessitating the insertion of new wage provisions (see §§ 4.143–4.145), the minimum monetary wage rate specified in the contract for each of the classes of service employees for which wage determinations have been made under section 2(a)(1) will continue to apply throughout the period of contract performance. No change in the obligation of the contractor or subcontractor with respect to minimum monetary wages will result from the mere fact that higher or lower wage rates may be determined to be prevailing for such employees in the locality after the award and before completion of the contract. Such wage determinations are effective for contracts not yet awarded, as provided in § 4.5(b).

§ 4.162 Fringe benefits under contracts exceeding $2,500.

(a) Section 2(a)(2) of the Act requires that every covered contract in excess of $2,500 shall contain "a provision specifying the fringe benefits to be furnished the various classes of service employees, engaged in the performance of the contract or any subcontract thereunder, as determined by the Secretary or his authorized representative to be prevailing for such employees in the locality. Such fringe benefits shall include medical or hospital care, pensions on retirement or death, compensation for injuries or illness resulting from occupational activity, or insurance to provide any of the foregoing, unemployment benefits, life insurance, disability and sickness insurance, accident insurance, vacation and holiday pay, costs of apprenticeship or other similar programs and other bona fide fringe benefits not otherwise required by Federal, State, or local law to be provided by the contractor or subcontractor."

(b) Under this provision, the fringe benefits, if any, which the contractor or subcontractor is required to furnish his service employees engaged in the performance of the contract are specified in the contract documents (see § 4.6). How he may satisfy this obligation is dealt with in §§ 4.170–4.171 and in Subpart B of this part. A change in the fringe benefits required by the contract provision will not result from the mere fact that other or additional fringe benefits are determined to be prevailing for such employees in the locality at a time subsequent to the award but before completion of the contract. Such fringe benefit determinations are effective for contracts not yet awarded (see § 4.5(b)), or in the event that changes in an existing contract requiring their insertion for prospective application have occurred (see §§ 4.143–4.145).

§ 4.163 Locality basis of wage and fringe benefit determinations.

Under section 2(a) of the Act, the Secretary or his authorized representative is given the authority to determine what minimum monetary wages and fringe benefits are prevailing for various classes of service employees "in the locality." The term "locality" has reference to geographic space. However, it has an elastic and variable meaning and, if the statutory purposes are to be achieved, must be viewed in the light of the existing wage structures which are pertinent to the employment by potential contractors of particular classes of service employees on the kinds of service contracts which must be considered, which are extremely varied. It is, accordingly, not possible to devise any precise single formula which would define the exact geographic limits of a "locality" that would be relevant or appropriate for the determination of prevailing wage rates and prevailing fringe benefits in all situations under the Act. The locality within which a wage or fringe benefit determination is applicable is, therefore, defined in each such determination upon the basis of all the facts and circumstances pertaining to that determination. Each such determination applies only to contracts for the locality which it includes.

§ 4.164 Making the determinations and informing contractors.

(a) Information considered. The minimum monetary wages and the fringe benefits set forth in determinations of the Secretary are based on information as to wage rates and fringe benefits in effect at the time the determination was made. The Department considers all pertinent information regarding prevailing wage rates and fringe benefits in the locality for the classes of service employees for which determinations are made.

Such information may be derived from area surveys made by the Bureau of Labor Statistics or other Department personnel, from Government contracting officers, and from other available sources including employees and their representatives and employers and their associations. The determinations may be based on the wage rates and fringe benefits contained in union agreements where such have been determined to prevail in a locality for a specified occupational group.

(b) Provision for consideration of currently prevailing wage rates and fringe benefits. (1) Determinations will be reviewed periodically and where prevailing wage rates or fringe benefits have changed, such changes will be reflected in new determinations. In a locality where it is determined that the wage rate which prevails for a particular class of service employees is the rate specified in a collective bargaining agreement or agreements applicable in that locality, and such agreement or agreements specify increases in such rates to be effective on specific dates, the prior determinations would be modified to reflect such changes when they become effective, and the revised determinations would apply to contracts entered into after the modification.

(2) The regulations, in § 4.4, provide for the filing with the Administrator by the awarding agency, prior to any invitation for bids or the commencement of negotiations for contracts exceeding $2,500, of a notice of intention to make a service contract which is subject to the Act. Upon receipt of the notice the Administrator may make a determination of minimum monetary wages and fringe benefits for the classes of service employees who will perform on the contract or may revise a determination which is currently in effect.

(c) Informing contractors of applicable determinations. Contractors and subcontractors on contracts subject to the Act are apprised of the Secretary's determinations applicable at the time of the award by specification in the contract of the determined wage rates and fringe benefits. (See § 4.6(b)). A determination of prevailing wages or fringe benefits made after the date of the contract award for classes of employees that will be used in performing the contract does not apply to the performance of the previously awarded contract. Prospective contractors are advised, in the invitations for bids or negotiation papers issued by the contracting agency, of the minimum monetary wages and fringe benefits required under the most recent applicable determinations of the Secretary for service employees who will perform the contract work. These requirements are, of course, the same for all bidders and none will be placed at a competitive disadvantage.

Compliance With Compensation Standards

§ 4.165 Wage payments and fringe benefits—in general.

(a) (1) Monetary wages specified under the Act shall be paid to the employees to whom they are due, promptly following the end of the pay period in which they are earned. No deduction, rebate, or refund is permitted, except as hereinafter stated. The same rules apply to cash payments authorized to be paid with the statutory monetary wages as equivalents of determined fringe benefits (see Subpart B of this part).

(2) The Act makes no distinction, with respect to its compensation provisions, between temporary, part-time, and full-time employees, and the wage and fringe benefit determinations apply, in the absence of an express limitation, equally to all such service employees engaged in work subject to the Act's provisions.

(b) The Act does not prescribe the length of the pay period. However, for purposes of administration of the Act, and to conform with practices required under other statutes that may be applicable to the employment, wages and hours worked must be calculated on the basis of a fixed and regularly recurring workweek of seven consecutive 24-hour workday periods, and the records must be kept on this basis. It is appropriate to use this workweek for the pay period. A biweekly, semimonthly, or monthly pay period may, however, be used if agreed upon by the employer and his employees. A pay period longer than 1 month is not recognized as appropriate for service employees and wage payments at greater intervals will not be considered as constituting proper payments in compliance with the Act.

(c) The prevailing rate established by a wage determination under the Act is a minimum rate. A contractor is not precluded from paying wage rates in excess of those determined to be prevailing in the particular locality. Nor does the Act affect or require the changing of any provisions of union contracts specifying higher monetary wages or fringe benefits than those contained in an applicable determination. However, if a determination for a class of service employees contains a wage or fringe benefit provision which is higher than that specified in an existing union agreement, the determination's provision will prevail for any work performed on a contract subject to the determination.

§ 4.166 Wage payments—unit of payment.

The standard by which monetary wage payments are measured under the Act is the wage rate per hour. An hourly wage rate is not, however, the only unit for payment of wages that may be used for employees subject to the Act. Employees may be paid on a daily, weekly, or other time basis, or by piece or task rates, so long as the measure of work and compensation used, when translated or reduced by computation to an hourly basis, will provide a rate per hour that will fulfill the statutory requirement. Whatever system of payment is used, however, must ensure that each hour of work in performance of the contract is compensated at not less than the required minimum rate. Failure to pay for certain hours at the required rate cannot be transformed into compliance with the Act by reallocating portions of payments made for other hours which are in excess of the specified minimum.

§ 4.167 Wage payments—medium of payment.

The wage payment requirements under the Act for monetary wages specified under its provisions will be satisfied by the timely payment, finally and unconditionally or "free and clear", of such wages to the employee either in cash or negotiable instrument payable at par. Scrip, tokens, credit cards, "dope checks", coupons, and similar devices which permit the employer to retain and prevent the employee from acquiring control of money due for the work until some time after the pay day for the period in which it was earned, are not proper mediums of payment under the Act. If, as is permissible, they are used as a convenient device for measuring earnings or allowable deductions during a single pay period, the employee cannot be charged with the loss or destruction of any of them and the employer may not, because the employee has not actually redeemed them, credit himself with any which remain outstanding on the pay day, in determining whether he has met the requirements of the Act. The employer may not include the cost of fringe benefits or equivalents furnished as required under section 2(a)(2) of the Act, as a credit toward the monetary wages he is required to pay under section 2(a)(1) or 2(b) of the Act (see § 4.51). However, the employer may include, as a part of the applicable minimum wage which he is required to pay under the Act, the reasonable cost or fair value, as determined by the Administrator, of furnishing an employee with "board, lodging, or other facilities" as defined in Part 531 of this title, in situations where such facilities are customarily furnished to employees and the employees' acceptance of them is voluntary and uncoerced. The determination of reasonable cost or fair value will be in accordance with the Administrator's regulations under the Fair Labor Standards Act, contained in such Part 531 of this title. While employment on contracts subject to the Act would not ordinarily involve situations in which service employees would receive tips from third persons, the treatment of tips for wage purposes in the situations where this may occur should be understood. For purposes of this Act, tips may be included in wages in accordance with the regulations under the Fair Labor Standards Act, contained in Part 531. The general rule under that Act is that the amount paid a tipped employee by his employer is deemed to be increased on account of tips by an amount determined by the employer, not in excess of 50 percent of the minimum wage applicable under section 6 of that Act. Thus, the tip credit taken by an employer subject to the Service Contract Act may not exceed 80 cents per hour.

§ 4.168 Wage payments—deductions from wages paid.

The wage requirements of the Act will not be met where unauthorized deductions, rebates, or refunds reduce the wage payment made to the employee below the minimum amounts required under the provisions of the Act and the regulations thereunder, or where the employee fails to receive such amounts free and clear because he "kicks back" directly or indirectly to the employer or to another person for the employer's benefit the whole or part of the wage delivered to him. Authorized deductions are limited to those required by law, such as taxes payable by employees required to be withheld by the employer and amounts due employees which the employer is required by court order to pay to another; deductions allowable for the reasonable cost or fair value of board, lodging, and facilities furnished as set forth in § 4.167; and deductions of amounts which are authorized to be paid to third persons for the employee's account and benefit pursuant to his voluntary assignment or order or a collective bargaining agreement with bona fide representatives of employees which is applicable to the employer. Deductions for amounts paid to third persons on the employee's account which are not so authorized or are contrary to law or from which the employer or any affiliate derives any profit or benefit directly or indirectly, may not be made if they cut into the wage required to be paid under the Act. The principles applied in determining the permissibility of deductions for payments made to third persons are explained in more detail in §§ 531.38–531.40 of this title.

§ 4.169 Wage payments—work subject to different rates.

If an employee during a workweek works in different capacities in the performance of the contract and two or more rates of compensation under section 2 of the Act are applicable to the classes of work which he performs, he must be paid the highest of such rates for all hours worked in the workweek unless it appears from the employer's records or other affirmative proof which of such hours were included in the periods spent in each class of work. The rule is the same where such an employee is employed for a portion of the workweek in work not subject to the Act, for which compensation at a lower rate would be proper if the employer by his records or other affirmative proof, segregated the worktime thus spent.

§ 4.170 Furnishing fringe benefits or equivalents.

(a) General. Fringe benefits specified under the Act shall be furnished, in addition to the specified monetary wages, by the contractor or subcontractor to employees engaged in performance of the contract, as provided in the determination of the Secretary or his authorized representative and prescribed in the contract documents, or, in the event that this is not possible or practicable, the obligation to furnish such benefits "may be discharged by furnishing any equivalent combinations of fringe benefits or by making equivalent or differential payments in cash under rules and regulations established by the Secretary." (Act, section 2(a)(2).) The governing rules and regulations for furnishing such equivalents are set forth in Subpart B of this part. The various fringe benefits listed in the Act are illustrative of those which may be found to be prevailing for service employees in a particular locality. The benefits which an employer will actually be required to furnish employees performing on a specific contract will be specified in the contract documents. When an employer has not made any provisions for fringe benefits, he cannot offset an amount of monetary wages paid in excess of the wages required under the determination, in order to satisfy his fringe benefit obligations under the Act. Also, the furnishing to the employee of items the cost or value of which is creditable toward the monetary wages specified under the Act, such as board, lodging, and other facilities in the situations described in § 4.167, may not be used to offset any fringe benefits specified in the contract.

(b) Meeting the requirements, in general. A contractor may dispose of certain of his fringe benefit obligations, such as pension, retirement, or health insurance benefits, which may be required by an applicable determination, by irrevocably paying the required contributions for fringe benefits to a trustee or third person pursuant to an existing bona fide fund, plan, or program. Where such a plan or fund does not exist, a contractor must discharge his obligation relating to fringe benefits by furnishing either an equivalent combination of bona fide fringe benefits or by making equivalent payments in cash to the employee, as authorized by the regulations in Subpart B of this part. When a contractor or subcontractor substitutes fringe benefits not specified in the contract for fringe benefits which are so specified, the substituted fringe benefits, like those for which the contract provisions are prescribed, must be "bona fide fringe benefits." No benefit required by Federal, State, or local law is a "bona fide" fringe benefit for purposes of the Act. No contribution toward fringe benefits made by the employees themselves, or fringe benefits provided from monies withheld from the employees' wages, or benefits statutorily required of the contractor or subcontractor (such as unemployment compensation, workmen's compensation, or social security) may be included in satisfying any fringe benefit requirement under the Act. Also, the furnishing of facilities which are primarily for the benefit or convenience of the employer or the cost of which is properly a business expense of the employer is not the furnishing of a "bona fide fringe benefit." This would be true of such items, for example, as tools and other materials and services incidental to the employer's performance of the contract and the carrying on of his business, and the cost of uniforms and of their laundering where the nature of the work he has contracted to perform requires the employee to wear a uniform.

§ 4.171 Meeting requirements for particular fringe benefits.

(a) Determinations specifying amount of fringe benefit. Where a fringe benefit determination specifies the amount of the employer's contribution to provide the benefit, the amount specified is the actual amount that must be provided by the employer for the employee. Thus, if prevailing fringe benefits for insurance or retirement are determined in a stated amount, and the employer provides such benefits through contributions in a lesser amount, he will be required to furnish the employee with the difference between the amount stated in the determination and the actual cost of the benefits which he provides. Unless otherwise specified in the particular wage determination, every employee performing on a covered contract must be furnished the fringe benefits required by that determination for all hours spent working on that contract. Where a fringe benefit determination has been made requiring employer contributions for a specified fringe benefit in a stated amount per hour, a contractor employing his regular employees part of the time on contract work and part of the time on other work may credit against the hourly amount required for the hours spent on the contract work the proportionate part of a weekly, monthly, or other amount contributed by him for such fringe benefits or equivalent benefits for such employees. If, for example, the determination requires health and welfare benefits in the amount of 10 cents an hour and the employer provides hospitalization insurance for such employees at a cost of $3.50 a week, the employer may credit 8.75 cents an hour toward his fringe benefit obligation to an employee who, in a particular workweek, works 35 hours on the contract work and 5 hours on other work. He cannot, however, allocate the entire $3.50 to the 35 hours spent on contract work and take credit for 10 cents per hour in that manner.

(b) Determinations not specifying monetary amount of fringe benefit. (1) Where a fringe benefit determination provides for a stated number of paid holidays per year, and the contractor does not give the applicable time off for holidays occurring during the period of contract performance to temporary or casual employees, he would be required to pay such employees an equivalent amount in cash or in the form of other fringe benefits proportionate to their period of employment. The amount of such additional payment could be reduced to an hourly basis through the application of an equitable formula, as provided in § 4.53(e).

(2) Some questions have been raised about the application of provisions appearing in some fringe benefit determinations which call for "1 week paid vacation after 1 year of service with a contractor or successor." To determine when an employee meets the "after 1 year of service" test, an employer must take two factors into consideration: (i) the total length of time an employee has been in the employer's service, including both the time he has been performing on regular commercial work and the time he has been performing on the Government contract itself, and (ii) the total length of time an employee has been employed either by the present contractor or predecessor contractors in the performance of similar work on the same base. If an employee has a year of service under either the first or second consideration, he is eligible for 1 week's vacation with pay. For example, if a contractor has an employee who has worked for him for 2 years on regular commercial work and only for 6 months on a Government service contract, that employee would be eligible for the vacation since his total service with the employer adds up to more than 1 year. Similarly, if a contractor has an employee who worked for 2 years under a janitorial service contract on a particular base for two different predecessor contractors, and only 8 months with the present employer, that employee would also be considered as meeting the "after 1 year of service" test and would thus be eligible for the specified vacation. Work performed before, as well as after, a pertinent wage determination is issued must be counted in determining an employee's length of service.

(3) Where, however, a fringe benefit determination requires 1 week's paid vacation per year after 1 year's service with an employer, no employee, temporary or permanent, with less than 1 year's service with the contractor, whether or not he was working on the contract, would qualify for this benefit.

§ 4.172 Computation of hours worked.

Since employees subject to the Act are entitled to the minimum compensation specified under its provisions for each hour worked in performance of a covered contract, a computation of their hours worked in each workweek when such work under the contract is performed is essential. Determinations of hours worked will be made in accordance with the principles applied under the Fair Labor Standards Act as set forth in Part 785 of this title. In general, the hours worked by an employee include all periods in which he is suffered or permitted to work whether or not he is required to do so, and all time during which he is required to be on duty or to be on the employer's premises or to be at a prescribed workplace. The hours worked which are subject to the compensation provisions of the Act are those in which the employee is engaged in performing work on contracts subject to the Act; however, unless such hours are adequately segregated, as indicated in § 4.173, compensation in accordance with the Act will be required for all his hours of work in any workweek in which he performs any work in connection with the contract, because it will be presumed in the absence of affirmative proof to the contrary that such work continued throughout the workweek.

§ 4.173 Identification of contract work.

Contractors and subcontractors under contracts subject to the Act are required to comply with its compensation requirements throughout the period of performance on the contract and to do so with respect to all employees who in any workweek are engaged in performing work on such contracts. If such a contractor during any workweek is not exclusively engaged in performing such contracts, or if while so engaged he has employees who spend a portion but not all of their worktime in the workweek in performing work on such contracts, it is necessary for him to identify accurately in his records, or by other means, those periods in each such workweek when he and each such employee performed work on such contracts. In cases where contractors are not exclusively engaged in Government contract work, and there are adequate records segregating the periods in which work was performed on contracts subject to the Act from periods in which other work was performed, the compensation specified under the Act need not be paid for hours spent on noncontract work. However, in the absence of records adequately segregating noncovered work from the work performed on or in connection with the contract, all employees working in the establishment or department where such covered work is performed shall be presumed to have worked on or in connection with the contract during the period of its performance, unless affirmative proof establishing the contrary is presented. Similarly, in the absence of such records, an employee performing any work on or in connection with the contract in a workweek shall be presumed to have continued to perform such work throughout the workweek, unless affirmative proof establishing the contrary is presented. Even where a contractor can segregate Government from non-Government work, it is necessary that he comply with the requirements of section 6(e) of the FLSA discussed in § 4.160.

OVERTIME PAY OF COVERED EMPLOYEES

§ 4.180 Overtime pay—in general.

The Act does not provide for compensation of covered employees at premium rates for overtime hours of work. Section 6 recognizes however, that other Federal laws may require such compensation to be paid to employees working on or in connection with contracts subject to the Act (see § 4.181) and prescribes, for purposes of such laws, the manner in which fringe benefits furnished pursuant to the Act shall be treated in computing such overtime compensation, as follows: "In determining any overtime pay to which such service employees are entitled under any Federal law, the regular or basic hourly rate of such an employee shall not include any fringe benefit payments computed hereunder which are excluded from the regular rate under the Fair Labor Standards Act by provisions of section 7(e) thereof." Fringe benefit payments which qualify for such exclusion are described in Part 778, Subpart C of this title. The interpretations there set forth will be applied in determining the overtime pay to which covered service employees are entitled under other Federal statutes. The effect of section 6 of the Act in situations where equivalent fringe benefits or cash payments are provided in lieu of the specified fringe benefits (see § 4.170) is stated in § 4.55 of Subpart B of this part, and illustrated in § 4.182.

§ 4.181 Overtime pay provisions of other Acts.

(a) Fair Labor Standards Act. Although provision has not been made for insertion in Government contracts of stipulations requiring compliance with the Fair Labor Standards Act, contractors and subcontractors performing contracts subject to the McNamara-O'Hara Service Contract Act may be required to compensate their employees working on or in connection with such contracts for overtime work pursuant to the overtime pay standards of the Fair Labor Standards Act. This is true with respect to employees engaged in interstate or foreign commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce (including occupations and processes closely related and directly essential to such production) and employees employed in enterprises which are so engaged, subject to the definitions and exceptions provided in such Act. Such employees, except as otherwise specifically provided in such Act, must receive overtime compensation at a rate of not less than 1½ times their regular rate of pay for all hours worked in excess of the applicable standard in a workweek. See Part 778 of this title. However, the Fair Labor Standards Act provides no overtime pay requirements for employees, not within such interstate commerce coverage of the Act, who are subject to its minimum wage provisions only by virtue of the provisions of section 6(e), as explained in § 4.160.

(b) Contract Work Hours Standards Act. (1) The Contract Work Hours Standards Act (40 U.S.C. 327–332) applies generally to Government contracts, including service contracts in excess of $2,500, which may require or involve the employment of laborers and mechanics. Guards, watchmen, and many other classes of service employees are laborers or mechanics within the meaning of such Act. However, employees rendering only professional services, seamen, and as a general rule those whose work is only clerical or supervisory or nonmanual in nature, are not deemed laborers or mechanics for purposes of the Act. The wages of every laborer or mechanic for his performance of work on such contracts must include compensation at a rate not less than 1½ times his basic rate of pay for all hours worked in any workweek in excess of 40 or in excess of eight on any calendar days therein, whichever is the greater number of overtime hours. Exemptions are provided for transportation and communications contracts, contracts for the purchase of supplies ordinarily available in the open market, and work required to be done in accordance with the provisions of the Walsh-Healey Act.

(2) Regulations concerning this Act are contained in Part 5, and § 5.14(c) of this subtitle permits overtime pay to be computed in the same manner as under the Fair Labor Standards Act, subject of course to the differences in computations required by reason of the daily overtime provision of the Contract Work Hours Standards Act, which has no counterpart in the Fair Labor Standards Act.

(3) Although the application of the Contract Work Hours Standards Act does not depend on inclusion of its requirements in provisions physically made part of the contract, the regulations of the Secretary require such provisions to be set forth in contract clauses. (See § 5.5(c) of this subtitle.)

(c) Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act. As pointed out in § 4.122, while some Government contracts may be subject both to the McNamara-O'Hara Service Contract Act and to the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act, the employees performing work on the contract which is subject to the latter Act are, when so engaged, exempt from the provisions of the former. They are, however, subject to the overtime provisions of the Walsh-Healey Act if, in any workweek, any of the work performed for the employer is subject to such Act and if, in such workweek, the total hours worked by the employee for the employer (whether wholly or only partly on such work) exceed 40 hours in the workweek or 8 hours in any day therein. In any such workweek the Walsh-Healey Act requires payment of overtime compensation at a rate not less than 1½ times the employee's basic rate for such weekly or daily overtime hours, whichever are greater in number. The overtime pay provisions of the Walsh-Healey Act are discussed in greater detail in the Rulings and Interpretations issued under such Act, copies of which are available from any office of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, U.S. Department of Labor.

§ 4.182 Overtime pay of service employees entitled to fringe benefits.

Reference is made in § 4.180 to the rules prescribed by section 6 of the Act and Subpart B of this part which permit exclusion of certain fringe benefits and equivalents provided pursuant to section 2(a)(2) of the Act from the regular or basic rate of pay when computing overtime compensation of a service employee under the provisions of any other Federal law. As provided in § 4.55 of Subpart B, not only those fringe benefits excludable under section 6 as benefits determined and specified under section 2(a)(2), but also equivalent fringe benefits and cash payments authorized under Subpart B to be furnished in lieu of the specified benefits may be excluded from the regular or basic rate of such an employee. The application of this rule may be illustrated by the following examples:

(a) The A company pays a service employee $3.50 an hour in cash under a wage determination which requires a monetary rate of not less than $3 and a fringe benefit contribution of 50 cents which would qualify for exclusion from the regular rate under section 7(e) of the Fair Labor Standards Act. The contractor pays the 50 cents in cash because he made no contributions for fringe benefits specified in the determination and the contract. Overtime compensation in this case would be computed on a regular or basic rate of $3 an hour.

(b) The B Company has for some time been paying $3.25 an hour to a service employee as his basic cash wage plus 25 cents an hour as a contribution to a welfare and pension plan, which contribution qualifies for exclusion from the regular rate under the Fair Labor Standards Act. For performance of work under a contract subject to the Act a monetary rate of $3 and a fringe benefit contribution of 50 cents (also qualifying for such exclusion) are specified because found to be prevailing for such employees in the locality. The contractor may credit his 25-cent welfare and pension contribution toward the discharge of his fringe benefit obligation under the contract and make an additional contribution of 25 cents for the specified or equivalent fringe benefits or pay the employee an additional 25 cents in cash, as authorized in Subpart B of this part. These contributions or equivalent payments may be excluded from the employee's regular rate, which remains $3.25, the rate agreed upon as the basic cash wage.

(c) The C company has been paying $3 an hour as its basic cash wage on which the firm has been computing overtime compensation. For performance of work on a contract subject to the Act the same rate of monetary wages and a fringe benefit contribution of 50 cents an hour (qualifying for exclusion from the regular rate under the Fair Labor Standards Act) are specified in accordance with a determination that these are the monetary wages and fringe benefits prevailing for such employees in the locality. The contractor is required to continue to pay at least $3 an hour in monetary wages and at least this amount must be included in the employee's regular or basic rate for overtime purposes under applicable Federal law. His fringe benefit obligation under the contract would be discharged if 50 cents of the contributions for fringe benefits were for the fringe benefits specified in the contract or equivalent benefits as defined in Subpart B of this part. He may exclude such fringe benefit contributions from the regular or basic rate of pay of the service employee in computing overtime pay due. Exclusion of the remainder of the fringe benefit contributions from the regular rate under the Fair Labor Standards Act would depend on whether they are contributions excludable under section 7(e) of that Act.

NOTICE TO EMPLOYEES

§ 4.183 Employees must be notified of compensation required.

The Act, in section 2(a)(4), and the regulations thereunder in § 4.6(e), require all contracts subject to the Act which are in excess of $2,500 to contain a clause requiring the contractor or subcontractor to notify each employee commencing work on a contract to which the Act applies of the compensation required to be paid such employee under section 2(a)(1) and the fringe benefits required to be furnished under section 2(a)(2). A notice form provided by the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions is to be used for this purpose. It may be delivered to the employee or posted as stated in § 4.184.

§ 4.184 Posting of notice.

Posting of the notice provided by the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions shall be in a prominent and accessible place at the worksite, as required by § 4.6(e). The display of the notice in a place where it may be seen by employees performing on the contract will satisfy the requirement that it be in a "prominent and accessible place". Should display be necessary at more than one site, in order to assure that it is seen by such employees, additional copies of the poster may be obtained without cost from the Divisions. The contractor or subcontractor is required to attach to the poster a listing of all minimum monetary wages and fringe benefits, as specified in the contract, to be paid or furnished to the classes of service employees performing on the contract.

RECORDS

§ 4.185 Recordkeeping requirements.

The records which a contractor or subcontractor is required to keep concerning employment of employees subject to the Act are specified in § 4.6(g) of Subpart A of this part. They are required to be maintained for 3 years from the completion of the work, and must be made available for inspection and transcription by authorized representatives of the Administrator. Such records must be kept for each service employee performing work under the contract, for each workweek during the performance of the contract. If the required records are not separately kept for the service employees performing on the contract, it will be presumed, in the absence of affirmative proof to the contrary, that all service employees in the department or establishment where the contract was performed were engaged in covered work during the period of performance. (See § 4.173.)

SAFETY AND HEALTH PROVISIONS

§ 4.186 Contract requirements for safety and health of workers.

The Act, in section 2(a)(3), requires every service contract in excess of $2,500 subject to its provisions to contain a stipulation that "no part of the services covered by this Act will be performed in buildings or surroundings or under working conditions provided by or under the control or supervision of the contractor or any subcontractor which are unsanitary or hazardous or dangerous to the health or safety of a service employee engaged to furnish the services". Regulations under this provision are set forth in Part 1516 of this title.

ENFORCEMENT

§ 4.187 Recovery of underpayments.

(a) The Act, in section 3(a) provides that any violation of any of the contract stipulations required by section 2(a)(1) or (2) or of section 2(b) of this Act shall render the party responsible therefor liable for a sum equal to the amount of any deductions, rebates, refunds, or underpayments of compensation due to any employee engaged in the performance of such contract. So much of the accrued payment due on the contract or any other contract between the same contractor and the Federal Government may be withheld as is necessary to pay such employees. Such withheld sums shall be held in a deposit fund. On order of the Secretary, any compensation which the head of the Federal agency or the Secretary has found to be due pursuant to this Act shall be paid directly to the underpaid employees from any accrued payments withheld under this Act.

(b) The Act, in section 5(b), provides that, if the accrued payments withheld under the terms of the contract are insufficient to reimburse all service employees with respect to whom there has been a failure to pay the compensation required pursuant to this Act, the United States may bring action against the contractor, subcontractor, or any sureties in any court of competent jurisdiction to recover the remaining amount of underpayments. Any sums thus recovered by the United States shall be held in the deposit fund and shall be paid, on the order of the Secretary, directly to the underpaid employee or employees. Any sum not paid to an employee because of inability to do so within 3 years shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States as miscellaneous receipts.

§ 4.188 Ineligibility for further contracts when violations occur.

Section 5 of the Act directs the Comptroller General to distribute a list to all agencies of the Government giving the names of persons or firms that the Federal agencies or the Secretary have found violated this Act. Unless the Secretary otherwise recommends, no contract of the United States shall be awarded to the persons or firms appearing on this list or to any firm, corporation, partnership, or association in which such persons or firms have a substantial interest until 3 years have elapsed from the date of publication of the list containing the name of such persons or firms. This prohibition against the award of a contract to an ineligible contractor applies to him in the capacity of either a prime contractor or a subcontractor.

§ 4.189 Administrative proceedings relating to enforcement of labor standards.

The Secretary is authorized, pursuant to the provisions of section 4(a) of the Act, to hold hearings and make such decisions based upon findings of fact as are deemed to be necessary to enforce the provisions of the Act. The Secretary's findings of fact after notice and hearing are declared to be conclusive upon all agencies of the United States and, if supported by a preponderance of the evidence, conclusive in any court of the United States. Rules of practice for administrative proceedings under this authority are set forth in Part 6 of this subtitle.

§ 4.190 Contract cancellation.

As provided in section 3 of the Act, when a violation is found of any contract stipulation, the contract is subject upon written notice to cancellation by the contracting agency. Whereupon, the United States may enter into other contracts or arrangements for the completion of the original contract, charging any additional cost to the original contractor.

§ 4.191 Complaints and compliance assistance.

(a) Any employer, employee, labor or trade organization, or other interested person or organization may report to any office of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions (or to any office of the Bureau of Labor Standards, in instances involving the safety and health provisions), a violation, or apparent violation of the act, or of any of the rules or regulations prescribed thereunder. Such offices are also available to assist or provide information to contractors or subcontractors desiring to ensure that their practices are in compliance with the Act. Information furnished is treated confidentially.

(b) A report of breach or violation relating solely to safety and health requirements may be in writing and addressed to the Regional Director of a Bureau of Labor Standards' Regional Office, U.S. Department of Labor or to the Director of the Bureau of Labor Standards, U.S. Department of Labor, Washington, D.C. 20210.

(c) Any other report of breach or violation may be in writing and addressed to the Regional Director of a Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions' Regional Office, U.S. Department of Labor, or to the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, U.S. Department of Labor, 14th Street and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. 20210.

(d) In the event that a Regional Director of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions is notified of a breach or violation which also involves safety and health standards, such Director shall notify the appropriate Regional Director of the Bureau of Labor Standards who shall with respect to the safety and health violation take action commensurate with his responsibilities pertaining to safety and health standards.

(e) The report should contain the following:

(1) The full name and address of the person or organization reporting the breach or violations.

(2) The full name and address of the person against whom the report is made.

(3) A clear and concise statement of the facts constituting the alleged breach or violation of any of the provisions of the McNamara-O'Hara Service Contract Act, or of any of the rules or regulations prescribed thereunder.

Title 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter X—Oil Import Administration, Department of the Interior

[Oil Import Reg. 1 (Rev. 5), Amdt. 9]

OI REG. 1—OIL IMPORT REGULATION

Allocation of Imports; Crude Oil and Unfinished Oils

This amendment adds to Oil Import Regulation 1 a new section 25, the purpose of which is, in furtherance of the national security and the fiscal policies of the Government, to encourage the construction of new refineries and new petrochemical plants in the United States and the reactivation of such facilities. The new section 25 will provide for the making of allocations of imports with respect to the projected inputs of a new or reactivated facility in order that an operator of the facility may at the outset of its operations be in a more equitable position with respect to other operators holding allocations. Because the benefits of the new section should be available to new or reactivated facilities that recently have come on stream, the section is applicable to facilities that may have come on stream since January 1, 1967, the beginning of the last allocation period. The new section 25 is issued after careful consideration of comments received following the notice of proposed rulemaking published by the Administrator, Oil Import Administration, in the FEDERAL REGISTER for April 10, 1968 (33 F.R. 5585). Some 51 comments on the proposal were received and, while there were some objections to the proposal in its entirety, most of the comments were favorable. The proposal has been revised after further study in the light of the comments received.

Sections 10 and 11 are amended to provide allocations to refiners in Districts I–IV and District V for the last 184 days of the allocation period January 1 through December 31, 1968.

Because allocations of imports should be made immediately, it is impracticable either to give notice of proposed rulemaking with respect to the amendments made to sections 10 and 11 or to delay the effective date of this Amendment. Accordingly, this Amendment 9 shall become effective immediately.

Allocations under sections 10 and 11—allocations crude oil and unfinished oils—refiners—Districts I–IV and V, respectively, will be made immediately with respect to applications which are on file with the Administrator for allocations under these sections.

Allocations under section 9—allocations crude oil and unfinished oils—petrochemical plants—Districts I–IV, District V, will be made within a period of 2 to 3 weeks from the date of this amendment, such period being required to verify all new applications received for allocations under section 9.

Allocations under new section 25 will be made following July 12, 1968, the date by which applications must be received. Allocations to refiners will be made subject to the amount of oil available for such allocations following the making of allocations under sections 10 and 11. In the event that insufficient oil is available to make full allocations to any person under section 25, the balance will be made up in the next succeeding allocation period. Allocations to new petrochemical plants made under section 25 will be made at the same time that allocations are made under section 9.

Sections 10 and 11 of Oil Import Regulation 1 (Revision 5) are amended to read as set forth below, and a new section 25, reading as follows, is added to the regulation:

Sec. 10 Allocations—crude and unfinished oils—refiners—Districts I–IV.

(a) For the allocation period January 1, 1968, through December 31, 1968, approximately 2,000 b/d of imports of crude oil and unfinished oils into Districts I–IV are made available to the Oil Import Appeals Board. The Administrator shall make, to eligible persons having refinery capacity in these districts, allocations of such imports for the last 184 days of the allocation period as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section.

(b) Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, each eligible applicant shall receive an allocation based on refinery inputs for the year ending September 30, 1967, and computed according to the following schedule:

Average b/d input		Percent of input		Number of days
0–10,000 10–30,000 30–100,000 100,000 plus	(X)	18.8 10.1 6.6 2.7	(X)	184

(c) (1) Except as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, if an eligible applicant imported crude oil pursuant to an allocation under the Voluntary Oil Import Program and if an allocation computed under paragraph (b) of this section would be less than 45 percent of the applicant's last allocation of imports of crude oil under that program expressed in average barrels daily and multiplied by 184, the applicant shall receive an allocation under this section equal to 45 percent of his last allocation of imports of crude oil under that program expressed in average barrels daily and multiplied by 184.

(2) If an applicant imported crude oil pursuant to an allocation under the Voluntary Oil Import Program which reflected imports of crude oil that would now be exempt from restrictions pursuant to clause (4) of paragraph (a) of section 1 of Proclamation 3279, as amended, and if an allocation computed under paragraph (b) of this section would be less than 33.25 percent of the applicant's last allocation of imports of crude oil under that program expressed in average barrels daily and multiplied by 184, the applicant shall receive an allocation under this section equal to 33.25 percent of his last allocation of imports of crude oil under that program expressed in average barrels daily and multiplied by 184. Provided, however, That if the allocation computed on this basis will result in a reduced historical allocation which is smaller than an allocation for this period would be if computed (for the purposes of comparison only) on the basis of a total of inputs to the applicant's refinery which includes inputs of crude oil and unfinished oils imported pursuant to clause (4) of paragraph (a) of section 1 of Proclamation 3279, as amended, the applicant shall nevertheless receive an allocation under this section equal to 37.75 percent of his last allocation of imports of crude oil under the Voluntary Oil Import Program expressed in average barrels daily and multiplied by 184.

(d) No allocation made pursuant to this section shall entitle a person to a license which will allow the importation of unfinished oils in excess of 15 percent of the allocation.

(e) No allocation made pursuant to this section may be sold, assigned, or otherwise transferred.

Sec. 11 Allocations—crude and unfinished oils—refiners—District V.

(a) For the allocation period January 1, 1968, through December 31, 1968, approximately 500 b/d of imports of crude oil and unfinished oils into District V are made available to the Oil Import Appeals Board. The Administrator shall make to eligible persons having refinery capacity in this district allocations of such imports for the last 184 days of the allocation period as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section.

(b) Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, each eligible applicant shall receive an allocation based on refinery inputs for the year ending September 30, 1967, and computed according to the following schedule:

Average b/d input		Percent of input		Number of days
0–10,000 10–30,000 30–100,000 100,000 plus	(×)	44.3 10.7 5.0 2.2	(×)	184

(c) (1) Except as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, if an eligible applicant imported crude oil pursuant to an allocation under the Voluntary Oil Import Program and if an allocation computed under paragraph (b) of this section would be less than 28.5 percent of the applicant's last allocation of imports of crude oil under that program expressed in average barrels daily and multiplied by 184, the applicant shall receive an allocation under this section equal to 28.5 percent of his last allocation of imports of crude oil under that program expressed in average barrels daily and multiplied by 184.

(2) If an applicant imported crude oil pursuant to an allocation under the Voluntary Oil Import Program which reflected imports of crude oil that would now be exempt from restrictions pursuant to clause (4) of paragraph (a) of section 1 of Proclamation 3279, as amended, and if an allocation computed under paragraph (b) of this section would be less than 22 percent of the applicant's last allocation of imports of crude oil under that program expressed in average barrels daily and multiplied by 184, the applicant shall, nevertheless, receive an allocation under this section equal to 22 percent of his allocation of imports of crude oil under that program expressed in average barrels daily and multiplied by 184. Provided, however, That if the allocation computed on this basis will result in a reduced historical allocation which is smaller than an allocation for this period would be if computed (for the purposes of comparison only) on the basis of a total of inputs to the applicant's refinery which includes inputs of crude oil and unfinished oils imported pursuant to clause (4) of paragraph (a) of section 1 of Proclamation 3279, as amended, the applicant shall nevertheless receive an allocation under this section equal to 34 percent of his last allocation of imports of crude oil under the Voluntary Oil Import Program expressed in average barrels daily and multiplied by 184.

(d) No allocation made pursuant to this section shall entitle a person to a license which will allow the importation of unfinished oils in excess of 25 percent of the allocation.

(e) No allocation made pursuant to this section may be sold, assigned, or otherwise transferred.

Sec. 25 Allocations of crude and unfinished oils—Districts I–IV, District V—new or reactivated refinery capacity and petrochemical plants—based upon estimated inputs.

(a) (1) The Administrator may make allocations of imports of crude oil and unfinished oils with respect to new or reactivated refinery capacity and petrochemical plants as provided in this section.

(2) Except as provided in paragraph (j) a person seeking such an allocation must file an application with the Administrator no later than 60 days prior to the beginning of an allocation period. The application shall disclose in detail such information as the Administrator may require, including:

(i) The nature of the facility,

(ii) The location of the facility,

(iii) The products and the quantity of each product to be produced,

(iv) The capital outlay involved,

(v) The expected average barrels per day of qualified feedstocks inputs to such facility,

(vi) The identification of the feedstocks, and the source thereof,

(vii) The date that the facility went on stream or is scheduled to go on stream, and

(viii) Whether this facility will replace an existing facility which is to be or has been shut down.

(b) (1) Subject to the limitations set forth in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, if the new or reactivated refinery capacity is scheduled to come on stream during the allocation period for which the allocation is requested and if the applicant has no other refinery capacity, the allocation shall be computed according to the schedule in paragraph (b) of section 10 or 11 (as the case may be) on the basis of the quantity of inputs (divided by 365) which it is estimated will be made to such capacity during that allocation period. An applicant who receives an allocation for a particular allocation period pursuant to this subparagraph (1) may be eligible for an allocation pursuant to subparagraph (2) of this paragraph for the next succeeding allocation period.

(2) (i) Subject to the limitations set forth in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, if the new or reactivated refinery capacity has come on stream during the allocation period immediately preceding the allocation period for which the allocation is requested and if the applicant has no other refinery capacity, the allocation shall be computed according to the schedule in paragraph (b) of section 10 or 11 (as the case may be) on the basis of the sum (divided by 365) of (i) the refinery inputs actually made to the new or reactivated refinery capacity during months of the allocation period immediately preceding the allocation period for which the allocation is requested and (ii) the inputs which it is estimated will be made to such capacity during the number of months which, when combined with the months in clause (i), will constitute a period of 12 months.

(ii) An applicant to whom an allocation is made under this subparagraph (2) shall not receive an allocation under section 9, or paragraph (b) of section 10 or 11.

(3) The maximum quantity of estimated inputs which an applicant may claim for the purposes of an allocation based entirely on estimated inputs pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this section shall be (i) 11 million barrels with respect to all new or reactivated refinery capacity in Districts I–IV, (ii) 11 million barrels with respect to such capacity in District V, (iii) 4 million barrels with respect to all new or reactivated petrochemical plants in Districts I–IV, and (iv) 4 million barrels with respect to such plants in District V. The maximum quantity of estimated inputs which an applicant may claim for the purposes of an allocation based on a combination of actual and estimated inputs pursuant to subparagraph (2) of this paragraph shall be the particular maximum quantity specified in the first sentence of this subparagraph (3) multiplied by the number of months of estimated inputs divided by 12.

(4) If the applicant has other refinery capacity, inputs estimated as provided in subparagraph (1) or (2) of this paragraph shall be added to the inputs of the applicant's other capacity for the purpose of computing an allocation under section 10 or 11.

(c) Allocations with respect to new or reactivated petrochemical plants shall be computed under section 9 of the regulations on the basis of estimated petrochemical plant inputs or a combination of actual and estimated inputs as provided for with respect to refinery capacity in paragraph (b) of this section 25.

(d) (1) If an allocation based in whole or in part on estimated inputs is made to an applicant pursuant to this section, the actual inputs submitted by the applicant as a basis for allocations in succeeding allocation periods will be adjusted upward or downward to compensate for the difference between the estimated inputs and the actual inputs made during the period for which inputs were estimated.

(2) If the estimated inputs upon which an allocation is based exceed the actual inputs made by more than 5 percent of the estimated inputs, in addition to the adjustment downward provided by subparagraph (1) of this paragraph the applicant shall be penalized for the overestimate as provided in this subparagraph (2). As a penalty, the actual inputs submitted by the applicant as a basis for allocations for succeeding allocation periods shall be further reduced by the number of barrels by which the estimated inputs exceeded the actual inputs by more than 5 percent of the estimated inputs. However, to the extent that an applicant demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Administrator that all or a part of the excess of estimated inputs over actual inputs was attributable to acts of God, fires or explosions, the Administrator may reduce the number of barrels of excess for which the penalty will be imposed. This subparagraph (2) shall not apply if an applicant made no use of the allocation based on estimated inputs.

(e) The Administrator shall make an allocation pursuant to this section only if he is satisfied that the applicant's new or reactivated refinery capacity or petrochemical plant constitutes a bona fide business venture. The Administrator shall not issue a license under an allocation made pursuant to this section until the new or reactivated refinery capacity or petrochemical plant has been on stream for not less than 60 days and until an on-the-spot evaluation of the new or reactivated refinery capacity or petrochemical plant has been conducted by authorized representatives of the Oil Import Administration and a determination has been made that the facility has the actual operational capacity which the applicant has certified in his application. Licenses issued under allocations made pursuant to this section shall expire on the last day of the allocation period.

(f) If an allocation made under this section 25 has been made on the basis of the reactivation of particular refinery capacity or of a particular petrochemical plant, no further allocations shall be made under this section on the basis of a change in the status—that is, closure and reactivation—of the particular refinery capacity or petrochemical plant.

(g) New facilities which are constructed in Districts I–IV or District V for the purpose of replacing existing operating facilities in the respective districts which have been shut down or which are scheduled to be shut down will be evaluated on an individual basis, but in no event will the combined actual inputs to the facility which is to be replaced and estimated inputs to the new facility form the basis for computing an allocation under this section or section 9, 10, or 11.

(h) No allocations made under this section may be sold, assigned, or otherwise transferred.

(i) (1) As used in this section 25, "new refinery capacity" or "new petrochemical plants" includes expansion of existing facilities by the addition of equipment, such as stills, towers, pumps, tanks, pipelines, and chemical conversion units if and only if the addition when installed independently of existing equipment would constitute refinery capacity or a petrochemical plant as defined in section 22. Additions which merely increase the throughput of existing equipment do not constitute new refinery capacity or petrochemical plants for the purpose of obtaining an allocation under this section. Transfers of equipment by an applicant from one of its plants or refineries to another of its plants or refineries do not constitute new refinery capacity or petrochemical plants for the purpose of obtaining an allocation under this section.

(2) As used in this section 25, "reactivated refinery capacity" and "reactivated petrochemical plants" means the restoration to operation of refinery capacity or a petrochemical plant which had been shut down for a period of not less than 12 months.

(j) (1) Subject to the limitations set forth in subparagraph (3) of paragraph (b), the Administrator may make allocations of imports of crude oil and unfinished oils with respect to new or reactivated refinery capacity and petrochemical plants for the last 184 days of this allocation period, as provided in this paragraph (j). Applications for allocations of imports of crude oil and unfinished oil under this paragraph (j) must be filed not later than July 12, 1968.

(2) (i) If new or reactivated refinery capacity has come on stream since January 1, 1967, or is scheduled to come on stream at any time during the current allocation period and if the applicant has no other refinery capacity, the allocation shall be computed according to the schedule in paragraph (b) of section 10 or of section 11 as amended by this Amendment 9 on the basis of the quantity of inputs (divided by 184) which it is estimated will be made to such capacity during the last 184 days of the allocation period.

(ii) An applicant eligible for an allocation under this subparagraph (2) may be eligible for an allocation under section 9, 10, or 11; in such instance, the Administrator shall compute allocations under section 25 and under section 9, 10, or 11 and make available to the applicant the larger of the two allocations.

(3) If the applicant has other refinery capacity, the allocation shall be computed under section 10 or 11 (as the case may be) on the basis of inputs to the other capacity plus actual inputs made to the new or reactivated refinery capacity during the period specified in those sections and an allocation shall be computed on the basis of inputs to the other capacity during the period specified in those sections plus estimated inputs to the new or reactivated refinery capacity for the last 184 days, as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, and the larger allocation shall be made to the applicant.

(4) Allocations with respect to a petrochemical plant shall be computed under section 9 of the regulations in the same manner as provided with respect to refinery capacity under this paragraph (j).

Proposed Rule Making

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE

[21 CFR Part 45]

MARGARINE

Identity Standards; Liquid, Dried, and Condensed Forms of Sweet Cream Buttermilk as Optional Ingredients

Notice is given that a petition has been filed by the National Association of Margarine Manufacturers, 545 Munsey Building, Washington, D.C. 20004, proposing that the standard of identity for margarine (21 CFR 45.1) be amended to list sweet cream buttermilk and its dried and condensed forms as optional ingredients for margarine. Grounds set forth in support of the proposal are that the use of sweet cream buttermilk and its dried and condensed forms would enhance the flavor of margarine and could be substituted for higher priced dairy products in margarine.

Accordingly, it is proposed that § 45.1 (a) (2) and (b) (2) (i) be revised to read as follows:

§ 45.1 Oleomargarine, margarine; identity; label statement of optional ingredients.

(a) * * *

(2) One of the articles designated in subdivisions (i), (ii), (iii), (iv), (v), (vi), (vii), (viii), or (ix) of this subparagraph is intimately mixed with the fat ingredient or ingredients. The ingredients named in subdivisions (i), (ii), (iii), (iv), (v), (vi), and (vii) of this subparagraph are pasteurized and then may be subjected to the action of harmless bacterial starters. The term "milk" as used in this subparagraph means cow's milk.

(i) Cream.

(ii) Milk.

(iii) Skim milk.

(iv) Liquid sweet cream buttermilk.

(v) Any combination of dry or condensed sweet cream buttermilk and water with a total solids content of not less than 8.5 percent.

(vi) Any combination of nonfat dry milk and water, in which the weight of the nonfat dry milk is not less than 10 percent of the weight of the water.

(vii) Any mixture of two or more of the articles named in subdivisions (i), (ii), (iii), (iv), (v), and (vi) of this subparagraph.

(viii) In case only of the fat ingredient designated in subparagraph (1) (ii) of this paragraph, any combination of finely ground soybeans and water, in which the weight of the finely ground soybeans is not less than 10 percent of the weight of the water. The finely ground soybeans are subjected to a heat treatment before or after mixing with the water. The soybeans may or may not be dehulled.

(ix) Water in lieu of any of the foregoing articles of this subparagraph.

Congealing is effected, either with or without contact with water, and the congealed mixture may be worked.

* * * * *

(b) * * *

(2) * * *

(i) The optional ingredients butter, salt, water, cream, milk, skim milk, sweet cream buttermilk, dried sweet cream buttermilk and water, condensed sweet cream buttermilk and water, nonfat dry milk and water, ground soybeans and water, lecithin, mono- or diglycerides, sodium sulfo-acetate derivatives of mono- or diglycerides shall each be declared by those terms.

* * * * *

Due to a cross-reference, adoption of the proposed amendment to the standard for margarine (§ 45.1) would have the effect of providing for optional use sweet cream buttermilk and its dried and condensed forms in liquid margarine (§ 45.2).

Pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (secs. 401, 701, 52 Stat. 1046, 1055, as amended 70 Stat. 919, 72 Stat. 948; 21 U.S.C. 341, 371) and in accordance with the authority delegated to the Commissioner of Food and Drugs (21 CFR 2.120) interested persons are invited to submit their views in writing (preferably in quintuplicate) regarding this proposal within 60 days following the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Such views and comments should be addressed to the Hearing Clerk, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Room 5440, 330 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20201, and may be accompanied by a memorandum or brief in support thereof.

FOOD ADDITIVES

Proposed Revocations Regarding Amprolium, Oxytetracycline, Zoalene

Based upon petitions filed by Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc., 235 East 42d Street, New York, N.Y. 10017, and an evaluation of the information available at the time, the food additive regulations (21 CFR Part 121, Subpart C) were amended by an order published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of August 14, 1963 (28 F.R. 8310), to provide for the safe use of oxytetracycline alone and in specified combinations with amprolium and zoalene. Upon reconsideration, the Commissioner of Food and Drugs concludes that the data fail to provide adequate information to show that the combination drugs of oxytetracycline and amprolium and oxytetracycline and zoalene are efficacious under the conditions specified in the published amendments. Accordingly, the corresponding new-drug applications cannot be approved and the food additive regulations should be amended as proposed below to revoke those portions providing for use of such combinations.

Therefore, pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (sec. 409(d), 72 Stat. 1787; 21 U.S.C. 348(d)) and under authority delegated to him (21 CFR 2.120), the Commissioner proposes that Subpart C of Part 121 be amended:

1. In § 121.207 Zoalene, paragraph (c), by deleting from the table items 1c, 2.7g, and 3.4g.

2. In § 121.210 Amprolium, paragraph (c), by deleting from table 1 items 1.1h, 2.9l, 3.3l, and 4.3l.

3. In § 121.251 Oxytetracycline, paragraph (d), by deleting from table 1 all subitems a and b under items 1 through 12.

All interested persons are invited to submit their views in writing, preferably in quintuplicate, regarding this proposal within 30 days following the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Such views and comments should be addressed to the Hearing Clerk, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Room 5440, 330 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20201, and may be accompanied by a memorandum or brief in support thereof.

[Docket No. 68-EA-70]

AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

Hartzell Propellers

The Federal Aviation Administration is considering amending § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations so as to require inspection and maintenance of certain Hartzell Propellers.

There have been reports of cracks in the shank of the Hartzell 8433 blades. The blade is retained in the propeller hub by a circumferential groove at the base of the blade and a retention shoulder about three-fourths inch above the groove. No cracks have been found in the upper retention shoulder which could lead to loss of a complete blade. However, if these cracks in the lower groove progress to the point where the retention shoulder loads become excessive, then cracking in the shoulder area could occur. The propellers which have cracked in the lower blade groove are over 5 years old with total time estimated in excess of 2,500 hours. The cracks have been discovered by normal inspection procedures while the propeller has been undergoing overhaul.

Interested persons are invited to participate in the making of the proposed rule by submitting written data and views. Communications should identify the docket number and be submitted in duplicate to the Office of Regional Counsel, FAA, Federal Building, John F. Kennedy International Airport, Jamaica, N.Y. 11430.

All communications received within 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be considered before taking action upon the proposed rule. The proposals contained in this Notice may be changed in light of comments received. All comments will be available in the Office of Regional Counsel for examination by interested parties.

In consideration of the foregoing, it is proposed to add a new airworthiness directive as follows:

Amend § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations by adding a new airworthiness directive for Hartzell Propellers described as follows:

HARTZELL: Applies to Models HC-A2XF, BHC-A2XF, HC-A2XK, HC-A2XL, HC-A3XK and HC-A3VK with 8433 or V8433 blades installed on but not limited to Aero Commander 500 series, Cessna 180 series, Cessna 210 series, Cessna 310 series, and Piper PA-23-250 airplanes.

To detect blade shank cracks and prevent possible blade failure, accomplish the following:

(a) Propellers with 2,000 hours or more time in service inspect in accordance with paragraph (c) within the next 100 hours time in service after the effective date of this AD. If no cracks are found, shot peen propeller blade shank area in accordance with Hartzell Bulletin No. 93. Shot peened blades are to be reinspected in accordance with paragraph (c) every 1,000 hours time in service from the last inspection. For propellers which have been inspected within the last 1,000 hours time in service compliance with this paragraph is not necessary until 1,000 hours time in service from the last inspection.

(b) Propellers with less than 2,000 hours time in service, inspect in accordance with paragraph (c) within 2,100 hours total time in service. If no cracks are found, shot peen blade shank area in accordance with Hartzell Bulletin No. 93. Shot peened blades are to be reinspected in accordance with paragraph (c) every 1,000 hours time in service from the last inspection.

(c) Remove propeller from aircraft and remove blades from hub. Inspect blade shank area for cracks by the penetrant method. Replace before further flight any cracked blade with a new blade or blade which has been inspected in accordance with this AD and found satisfactory, and shot peened in accordance with Hartzell Bulletin No. 93.

CERTIFICATION ACTIONS

Reconsideration

The Federal Aviation Administration is considering amending Part 67 of the Federal Aviation Regulations to provide for an extension of the period during which an FAA official may, on his own initiative, reverse a medical certificate issued by an aviation medical examiner, to 60 days after the FAA receives additional information or the results of medical testing that the FAA requests within 60 days after the original date of issue.

Interested persons are invited to participate in the making of the proposed rule by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should identify the regulatory docket or notice number and be submitted in duplicate to: Federal Aviation Administration, Office of the General Counsel, Attention: Rules Docket GC-24, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20590. All communications received on or before August 9, 1968, will be considered by the Administrator before taking action on the proposed rule. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received. All comments submitted will be available, both before and after the closing date for comments, in the Rules Docket for examination by interested persons.

Section 67.25(b), as amended by Amendment 67-5, effective July 16, 1966, contains a self-imposed 60-day time limitation upon exercise by FAA officials of reconsideration authority under section 314(b) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 to reverse the issue of a medical certificate by an aviation medical examiner. However, although reconsideration may indicate that the correction of an error made by an aviation medical examiner appears essential, the full exercise of the reconsideration authority within the prescribed time may be effectively defeated by the failure (or delay) of the airman in responding to requests for needed additional testing or medical information. This allows the operation of aircraft by airmen whose physical qualifications have not been fully determined and it becomes necessary to invoke section 609 of the Federal Aviation Act to effectively reverse the aviation medical examiner and prevent the airman from further exercising the privileges of his airman certificate. It is considered necessary to correct this situation by providing, in substance, that the time during which additional medical information or the results of additional medical testing is awaited, is not figured as part of the 60-day time limit, if the request therefore was made within 60 days after the certificate was issued.

In consideration of the foregoing, it is proposed to amend the third sentence of § 67.25(b) of the Federal Aviation Regulations to read as follows:

§ 67.25 Delegation of authority.

* * * * *

(b) * * * Unless an FAA official named in this paragraph wholly or partly, and on his own initiative, reverses a certificate issued by an aviation medical examiner within 60 days after the date of issue (or, if within that period the FAA requests additional medical information or medical testing from the certificate holder, within 60 days after the FAA receives that information or the results of that testing), the certificate is considered to be affirmed as issued.

* * * * *

This amendment is proposed under the authority of sections 303(d), 313(a), 601, and 602 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1344, 1354, 1421, 1422).

It is proposed to withdraw approval on the grounds that there is a lack of substantial evidence that rutin, quercetin, hesperidin, or any bioflavonoid has the effect which the drugs purport or are represented to have under the conditions of use prescribed, recommended, or suggested in the labeling thereof, or that such articles alone, or as added components with other drugs, are effective for use in man for any condition.

In accordance with the provisions of section 505 of the act (21 U.S.C. 355) and the regulations promulgated thereunder (21 CFR Part 130), the Commissioner will give each applicant and any interested person who would be adversely affected by an order withdrawing such approval an opportunity for a hearing at which time such persons may produce evidence and arguments to show why approval of any new-drug application listed herein should not be withdrawn. Promulgation of the proposed order will cause any drug for human use containing any rutin, quercetin, hesperidin, or bioflavonoid to be a new drug for which an approved new-drug application is not in effect. Any such drug then on the market would be subject to regulatory proceedings.

Within 30 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, such persons are required to file with the Hearing Clerk, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Office of the General Counsel, Food and Drug Division, Room 5440, 330 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20201, a written appearance electing whether:

1. To avail themselves of the opportunity for a hearing; or

2. Not to avail themselves of the opportunity for a hearing.

If such persons elect not to avail themselves of the opportunity for a hearing, the Commissioner without further notice will enter a final order withdrawing the approval of the new-drug application. Failure of such persons to file such a written appearance of election within 30 days following the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be construed as an election by such persons not to avail themselves of the opportunity for a hearing.

The hearing contemplated by this notice will be open to the public except that any portion of the hearing that concerns a method or process that the Commissioner finds is entitled to protection as a trade secret will not be open to the public, unless the respondent specifies otherwise in his appearance.

If such persons elect to avail themselves of the opportunity for a hearing by filing a timely written appearance of election, a hearing examiner will be named by the Commissioner and he shall issue a written notice of the time and place for the hearing.

This notice is issued under the authority contained in the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act. (sec. 505, 52 Stat. 1052, as amended; 21 U.S.C. 355) and delegated to the Commissioner (21 CFR 2.120).

Dated: June 28, 1968.

Commissioner of Food and Drugs.

RHODE ISLAND AND PROVIDENCE PLANTATIONS ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION

Notice of Proposed Issuance of Facility License Amendment

The Atomic Energy Commission ("the Commission") is considering the issuance of Amendment No. 1, in the form set forth below, of Facility License No. R-95. The license authorizes the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations Atomic Energy Commission (hereinafter "RIPPAEC") to possess and operate its pool-type nuclear reactor, known as the Rhode Island Nuclear Science Center Reactor, located at Fort Kearney in Narragansett, R.I., at power levels up to 1 megawatt (thermal). The proposed amendment would authorize RIPPAEC to operate the reactor at increased power levels up to 2 megawatts (thermal) and would also republish the license in its entirety mainly for the purpose of incorporating required changes in the record keeping and reporting requirements sections of the license.

Prior to the issuance of the amendment, the facility will be inspected by representatives of the Commission to determine that the modifications described in the application and authorized pursuant to § 50.59 of the Commission's regulations, 10 CFR Part 50, have been completed.

Within fifteen (15) days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER the applicant may file a request for a hearing, and any person whose interest may be affected by the issuance of this license amendment may file a petition for leave to intervene. Requests for a hearing and petitions to intervene shall be filed in accordance with the Commission's rules of practice, 10 CFR Part 2. If a request for a hearing or a petition for leave to intervene is filed within the time prescribed in this notice, the Commission will issue a notice of hearing or an appropriate order.

For further details with respect to this license amendment, see (1) the licensee's application for license amendment dated July 21, 1967, and supplements thereto, (2) a related Safety Evaluation prepared by the Division of Reactor Licensing, and (3) related changes to the Technical Specifications, all of which are available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room at 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C. Copies of item (2) may be obtained at the Commission's Public Document Room, or upon request addressed to the Atomic Energy Commission, Washington, D.C. 20545, Attention: Director, Division of Reactor Licensing.

Dated at Bethesda, Md., this 28th day of June 1968.

For the Atomic Energy Commission.

DONALD J. SKOVHOLT,
Assistant Director for Reactor Operations, Division of Reactor Licensing.

PROPOSED AMENDED FACILITY LICENSE

[License No. R-95, Amdt. 1]

The Atomic Energy Commission ("the Commission") has found that:

A. The application for license, as amended, complies with the requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (hereinafter "the Act"), and the Commission's regulations set forth in Title 10, Chapter I, CFR;

B. The reactor has been constructed in conformity with Construction Permit No. CPRR-73 and will operate in conformity with the application, as amended, and in conformity with the Act and the rules and regulations of the Commission;

C. There is reasonable assurance that the activities authorized by the license, as amended, can be conducted at the designated location without endangering the health and safety of the public;

D. The Rhode Island and Providence Plantations Atomic Energy Commission is technically and financially qualified to engage in the proposed activities in accordance with the Commission's regulations;

E. The Rhode Island and Providence Plantations Atomic Energy Commission is a nonprofit educational institution and will use the reactor for the conduct of educational activities and is therefore exempt from the financial protection requirement of subsection 170a of the Act. The Rhode Island and Providence Plantations Atomic Energy Commission has executed an indemnity agreement pursuant to 10 CFR Part 140; and

F. The issuance of this license, as amended, for the possession and operation of the reactor and the receipt, possession and use of special nuclear and byproduct materials in the manner proposed in the application, as amended, will not be inimical to the common defense and security or to the health and safety of the public.

Facility License No. R-95 is hereby amended in its entirety to read as follows:

1. This license applies to the pool-type nuclear reactor, known as the Rhode Island Nuclear Science Center Reactor (herein referred to as "the reactor"), which is owned by

Rhode Island and Providence Plantations Atomic Energy Commission and located at Fort Kearney in Narragansett, R.I., and described in the application dated December 21, 1961, and amendments thereto, including the application for license amendment dated July 21, 1967, and supplements thereto dated September 22, 1967, October 9, 1967, December 14, 1967, February 7, 1968, and June 21, 1968 (herein referred to as "the application") and authorized for construction by Construction Permit No. CPRR-73.

2. Subject to the conditions and requirements incorporated herein, the Commission hereby licenses the Rhode Island and Providence Plantations Atomic Energy Commission (hereinafter "the license"):

A. Pursuant to Section 104c of the Act and Title 10, CFR, Chapter I, Part 50, "Licensing of Production and Utilization Facilities", to possess, use and operate the reactor as a utilization facility at the designated location at Fort Kearney in Narragansett, R.I., in accordance with the procedures and limitations described in the application and this license;

B. (1) The licensee shall inform the Commission of any incident or condition relating to the operation of the reactor which prevented or could have prevented a nuclear system from performing its safety function as described in the Technical Specifications. For each such occurrence, the licensee shall promptly notify, by telephone or telegraph, the Director of the appropriate Atomic Energy Commission Regional Compliance Office listed in Appendix D of 10 CFR Part 20 and shall submit within ten (10) days a report in writing to the Director, Division of Reactor Licensing (hereinafter, "Director, DRL") with a copy to the Regional Compliance Office.

(2) The licensee shall report to the Director, DRL, in writing within thirty (30) days of its occurrence, any substantial variance disclosed by operation of the reactor from performance specifications contained in the Safety Analysis Report or the Technical Specifications.

(3) The licensee shall report to the Director, DRL, in writing within thirty (30) days of its occurrence, any significant change in the transient or accident analysis, as described in the Safety Analysis Report.

Notice of Decision on Application for Duty-Free Entry of Scientific Article

The following is a decision on an application for duty-free entry of a scientific article pursuant to section 6(c) of the Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Materials Importation Act of 1966 (Public Law 89-651; 89 Stat. 897) and the regulations issued thereunder (32 F.R. 2433 et seq.).

A copy of the record pertaining to this decision is available for public review during ordinary business hours of the Department of Commerce, at the Office of Scientific and Technical Equipment, Department of Commerce, Room 5123, Washington, D.C. 20230.

Docket No. 68-00502-33-46040. Applicant: Colorado State University, Fort Collins, Colo. 80521. Article: Electron microscope, Model HS-8. Manufacturer: Hitachi, Ltd., Japan. Intended use of article: The article will be used for a morphological and histo-cyto-chemical study of the mammalian lens. Comments: No comments have been received with respect to this application. Decision. Application approved. No instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article, for the purposes for which such article is intended to be used, is being manufactured in the United States. Reasons: The foreign article provides accelerating voltages of 25 and 50 kilovolts. The 25-kilovolt accelerating voltage affords optimum contrast for unstained ultrathin specimens. For the purposes for which the foreign article is intended to be used, the high contrast available with the lower accelerating voltage is pertinent. The only known comparable domestic instrument is the Model EMU-4 electron microscope manufactured by the Radio Corporation of America (RCA). The RCA Model EMU-4 provides accelerating voltages of 50 and 100 kilovolts. Consequently, the domestic instrument cannot furnish the necessary contrast to accomplish the purposes for which the foreign article is intended to be used. We therefore find that the RCA Model EMU-4 is not of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article for the purposes for which such article is intended to be used.

The Department of Commerce knows of no other instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article, for the purposes for which such article is intended to be used, which is being manufactured in the United States.

EDWARD G. SMITH,
Acting Director, Office of Scientific and Technical Equipment, Business and Defense Services Administration.

NEW YORK STATE DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

Notice of Decision on Application for Duty-Free Entry of Scientific Article

The following is a decision on an application for duty-free entry of a scientific article pursuant to section 6(c) of the Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Materials Importation Act of 1966 (Public Law 89-651; 80 Stat. 897) and the regulations issued thereunder (32 F.R. 2433 et seq.).

A copy of the record pertaining to this decision is available for public review during ordinary business hours of the Department of Commerce, at the Office of Scientific and Technical Equipment, Department of Commerce, Room 5123, Washington, D.C. 20230.

Docket No. 68-00508-33-46040. Applicant: New York State Department of Health, Division of Laboratories and Research, New Scotland Avenue, Albany, N.Y. 12201. Article: Electron microscope, Model Elmiskop IA. Manufacturer: Siemens A.G., West Germany. Intended use of article: The article will be used for research in the following areas: (a) Rubella virus group; (b) California eucephalitis virus group; (c) Kidney infections by some pathogenic fungi such as Candida Albicans. Comments: No comments have been received with respect to this application. Decision: Application approved. No instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article, for the purposes for which such article is intended to be used, is being manufactured in the United States. Reasons: (1) The foreign article provides a resolution of 5 Angstroms. The only known domestic electron microscope is the Model EMU-4 manufactured by the Radio Corporation of America (RCA), which provides a resolution of 8 Angstroms. (The lower the numerical rating in terms of Angstrom units, the better the resolving capabilities.) For the purposes for which the foreign article is intended to be used, the additional resolving capabilities of the foreign article are pertinent. (2) The foreign article provides accelerating voltages of 40, 60, 80, and 100 kilovolts, whereas the RCA Model EMU-4 provides only 50 and 100 kilovolt accelerating voltages. It has been experimentally demonstrated that the lower accelerating voltage of the foreign article furnishes better contrast for unstained specimens and that the voltages intermediate between 50 and 100 kilovolts afford optimum contrast for negatively stained specimens. For the purposes for which the foreign article is intended to be used, the lower and intermediate accelerating voltages of the foreign article are pertinent.

For the foregoing reasons, we find that the RCA Model EMU-4 is not of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article, for the purposes for which such article is intended to be used.

The Department of Commerce knows of no other instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article, for the purposes for which such article is intended to be used, which is being manufactured in the United States.

Docket No. 68–00514–33–46040. Applicant: Sacramento State College, 6000 J Street, Sacramento, Calif. 95819. Article: Electron microscope, Model EM 9A. Manufacturer: Carl Zeiss, West Germany. Intended use of article: The article will be used by students in various upper division and graduate courses and in master's degree research problems. Comments: No comments have been received with respect to this application. Decision: Application approved. No instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article, for the purposes for which such article is intended to be used, is being manufactured in the United States. Reasons: The applicant requires a small, compact and relatively simple electron microscope, for teaching students in an introductory course in the use of electron microscopes. The only known domestic electron microscope, the Model EMU–4 manufactured by the Radio Corporation of America (RCA), is a relatively complex instrument which is designed for research. The foreign article provides a magnification range which is low enough to overlap considerably with the magnification range of optical microscopes. In addition, the foreign article provides three viewing windows, whereas the RCA Model EMU–4 provides only one. The additional viewing windows permit the instructor and students to simultaneously view and discuss the image of the specimen under the microscope. The characteristics of the foreign article, which are not possessed by the RCA Model EMU–4, are pertinent to the purposes for which such article is intended to be used.

The Department of Commerce knows of no other instrument or apparatus of equivalent scientific value to the foreign article, for the purposes for which such article is intended to be used, which is being manufactured in the United States.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[Docket No. 19955; Order 68-7-19]

ROSS AVIATION, INC.

Order To Show Cause Regarding Establishment of Service Mail Rate

JULY 2, 1968.

Issued under delegated authority.

The Postmaster General filed a notice of intent June 13, 1968, pursuant to 14 CFR Part 298, petitioning the Board to establish for the above-captioned air taxi operator, a final service mail rate of 34.9 cents per great circle aircraft mile for the transportation of mail by aircraft between Cheyenne, Wheatland, and Newcastle, Wyo.

No protest or objection has been filed against the services proposed in the notice of intent, and the time for filing such objections has now expired. The Postmaster General states that the proposed rate is acceptable to the Department and the carrier, and represents a fair and reasonable rate of compensation for the services which the carrier will perform. In addition, the Postmaster General believes these services will meet postal needs in the market. He states the air taxi plans to initiate mail service with Piper Aztec Model P.A. 23 aircraft equipped for all-weather operation.

Since no mail rate is presently in effect for this carrier in this market, it is in the public interest to fix and determine the fair and reasonable rate of compensation to be paid to it by the Postmaster General for the transportation of mail by aircraft, the facilities used and useful therefor, and the services connected therewith, between the aforesaid points. Upon consideration of the notice of intent and other matters officially noticed, it is proposed to issue an order[1] to include the following findings and conclusions:

1. The fair and reasonable final service mail rate to be paid to Ross Aviation, Inc., pursuant to section 406 of the Act for the transportation of mail by aircraft, the facilities used and useful therefor, and the services connected therewith, between Cheyenne, Wheatland, and Newcastle, Wyo., shall be 34.9 cents per great circle aircraft mile; and

2. The final service mail rate here fixed and determined is to be paid in its entirety by the Postmaster General.

Accordingly, pursuant to the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, and particularly sections 204(a) and 406 thereof, and regulations promulgated in 14 CFR Part 302, 14 CFR Part 298, and 14 CFR 385.14(f);

It is ordered, That:

1. Ross Aviation, Inc., the Postmaster General, and all other interested persons are directed to show cause why the Board should not adopt the foregoing proposed findings and conclusions and fix, determine, and publish, for the transportation of mail by aircraft, the facilities used and useful therefor, and the services connected therewith as specified above, the final rate specified above, as the fair and reasonable rate of compensation to be paid to Ross Aviation, Inc.;

2. Further procedures herein shall be in accordance with 14 CFR Part 302, and if there is any objection to the rate or to the other findings and conclusions proposed herein, notice thereof shall be filed within 10 days, and if notice is filed, written answer and supporting documents shall be filed within 30 days after service of this order;

3. If notice of objection is not filed within 10 days after service of this order, or if notice is filed and if answer is not filed within 30 days after service of this order, all persons shall be deemed to have waived the right to a hearing and all other procedural steps short of a final decision by the Board, and the Board may enter an order incorporating the findings and conclusions proposed herein and fix and determine the final rate specified herein;

4. If answer is filed presenting issues for hearing, the issues involved in determining the fair and reasonable final rate shall be limited to those specifically raised by the answer, except insofar as other issues are raised in accordance with Rule 307 of the rules of practice (14 CFR 302.307); and

5. This order shall be served upon Ross Aviation, Inc., and the Postmaster General.

This order will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

[SEAL] MABEL MCCART,
Acting Secretary.

[F.R. Doc. 68-8153; Filed, July 9, 1968; 8:48 a.m.]

[1] As this order to show cause does not constitute a final action and merely affords interested persons an opportunity to be heard on the matters herein proposed, it is not regarded as subject to the review provisions of Part 385 (14 CFR Part 385). The provisions of that part dealing with petitions for Board review will be applicable to any final action which may be taken by the staff in this matter under authority delegated in § 385.14(g).

SUN AIRLINE CORP.

Order To Show Cause Regarding Establishment of Service Mail Rate

JULY 2, 1968.

Issued under delegated authority.

The Postmaster General filed a notice of intent June 7, 1968, pursuant to 14 CFR Part 298, petitioning the Board to establish for the above-captioned air taxi operator, a final service mail rate of 29 cents per great circle aircraft mile for the transportation of mail by aircraft between Nashville, Tenn., Birmingham, Ala., Montgomery, Ala., and Mobile, Ala.

No protest or objection has been filed against the services proposed in the notice of intent, and the time for filing such objections has now expired. The Postmaster General states that the proposed rate is acceptable to the Department and the carrier, and represents a fair and reasonable rate of compensation for the services which the carrier will perform. In addition, the Postmaster General believes these services will meet postal needs in the market. He states the air taxi plans to initiate mail service with twin-engine Beech, Model Super E aircraft equipped for all-weather operation.

Since no mail rate is presently in effect for this carrier in this market, it is in the public interest to fix and determine the fair and reasonable rate of compensation to be paid to it by the Postmaster General for the transportation of mail by aircraft, the facilities used and useful therefor, and the services connected therewith, between the aforesaid points. Upon consideration of the notice of intent and other matters officially noticed, it is proposed to issue an order[1] to include the following findings and conclusions:

1. The fair and reasonable final service mail rate to be paid to Sun Airline Corp. pursuant to section 406 of the Act for the transportation of mail by aircraft, the facilities used and useful therefor, and the services connected therewith, between Nashville, Tenn., Birmingham, Ala., Montgomery, Ala., and Mobile, Ala., shall be 29 cents per great circle aircraft mile; and

2. The final service mail rate here fixed and determined is to be paid in its entirety by the Postmaster General.

Accordingly, pursuant to the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, and particularly sections 204(a) and 406 thereof, and regulations promulgated in 14 CFR Part 302, 14 CFR Part 298, and 14 CFR 385.14 (f);

It is ordered, That:

1. Sun Airline Corp., the Postmaster General, Delta Air Lines, Inc., Eastern Air Lines, Inc., Southern Airways, Inc., United Air Lines, Inc., and all other interested persons are directed to show cause why the Board should not adopt the foregoing proposed findings and conclusions and fix, determine, and publish, for the transportation of mail by aircraft, the facilities used and useful therefor, and the services connected therewith as specified above, the final rate specified above, as the fair and reasonable rate of compensation to be paid to Sun Airline Corp.;

2. Further procedures herein shall be in accordance with 14 CFR Part 302, and if there is any objection to the rate or to the other findings and conclusions proposed herein, notice thereof shall be filed within 10 days, and if notice is filed, written answer and supporting documents shall be filed within 30 days after service of this order;

3. If notice of objection is not filed within 10 days after service of this order, or if notice is filed and if answer is not filed within 30 days after service of this order, all persons shall be deemed to have waived the right to a hearing and all other procedural steps short of a final decision by the Board, and the Board may enter an order incorporating the findings and conclusions proposed herein and fix and determine the final rate specified herein;

4. If answer is filed presenting issues for hearing, the issues involved in determining the fair and reasonable final rate shall be limited to those specifically raised by the answer; except insofar as other issues are raised in accordance with Rule 307 of the rules of practice (14 CFR 302.307); and

5. This order shall be served upon Sun Airline Corp., the Postmaster General; Delta Air Lines, Inc., Eastern Air Lines, Inc., Southern Airways, Inc., and United Air Lines, Inc.

This order will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

[Docket No. 68-27]

PORT OF OAKLAND ET AL.

First Supplemental Order, Expansion of Investigation

In the matter of Agreement No. T-2138 and T-2138-1 between the Port of Oakland and Japan Line, Ltd., Kawasaki Kisen Kaisha, Ltd., Mitsui O.S.K. Lines, Ltd., and Yamashita-Shinnihon Steamship Co., Ltd.

Docket No. 68-27 was instituted by the Commission on May 31, 1968 (33 F.R. 8365), to determine whether Agreement No. T-2138 should be approved, modified or disapproved pursuant to section 15, Shipping Act, 1916.

On June 13, 1968, the Port of Oakland filed with the Commission First Supplemental Agreement dated June 10, 1968, which has been designated Federal Maritime Commission Agreement No. T-2138-1. Now therefore, it is ordered, That, pursuant to sections 15 and 22 of the Shipping Act, 1916, the Commission, upon its own motion, expand the investigation in Docket No. 68-27 to determine whether Agreement No. T-2138, as amended by First Supplemental Agreement No. T-2138-1, should be approved, modified, or disapproved pursuant to section 15 of the said Act;

It is further ordered, That notice of this order and notice of hearing be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER and copy of such order and notice of hearing be served upon respondents and petitioners;

It is further ordered, That persons other than respondents, petitioners, and Hearing Counsel who desire to become parties in this proceeding and to participate therein shall file a petition to intervene pursuant to Rule 5(1) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (46 CFR 502.72).

[Docket No. RP68-20]

MICHIGAN WISCONSIN PIPE LINE CO.

Order Providing for Hearing, Suspending Proposed Revised Tariff Sheets, and Providing Hearing Procedures

JUNE 28, 1968.

Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Co. (Michigan Wisconsin) on May 31, 1968, tendered for filing proposed changes in its presently effective FPC Gas Tariff, Second Revised Volume No. 1.[1] The proposed changes would increase the company's jurisdictional rates, resulting in an annual revenue increase of approximately $20,517,152 based on the estimated billing demand units and sales volumes for the year commencing September 1, 1968. The increased rates are proposed to become effective on July 1, 1968.

[1] Proposed revised tariff sheets: First Revised Sheet Nos. 9E and 9F; Second Revised Sheet Nos. 8, 9B, 9C, 14A, and 14D; Third Revised Sheet No. 12; Fifth Revised Sheet No. 5; Sixth Revised Sheet No. 13; Eighth Revised Sheet Nos. 7, 10, and 11; Tenth Revised Sheet No. 6. Michigan Wisconsin's existing rates became effective as of March 1, 1967, by order of the Commission issued April 13, 1967 in Docket No. RP64-38.

In setting forth its reasons for the filing, Michigan Wisconsin states that the proposed gas sales rates are designed to recover its increased overall cost of service, and cites specifically the increases in (1) the cost of purchased gas, (2) the costs for labor, supplies, and other operating expenses, (3) local, State, and Federal taxes (including a possible 10 percent Federal surtax subject to elimination and refund if such surtax does not materialize), and (4) the costs of capital (requiring a minimum rate of return of 7.5 percent).

A review of the filing indicates that certain issues are raised therein which require development in an evidentiary proceeding. These issues include, but are not necessarily restricted to, the adjustments to purchased gas costs, other operating expenses, sales volumes and revenues, depreciation reserves and rate base; the classification of certain costs; the possible surcharge upon and computation of the Federal Income Tax allowance; rate design; and the need for a 7.5 percent rate of return. The proposed increased rates and charges have not been shown to be justified and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

We contemplate that among the issues mentioned above and others, some may be susceptible of hearing and decision within the 5-month suspension period. In order that the collection and refunding of any possible excess charges may be avoided, we will prescribe a procedure under which such issues may be tried in an initial phase of the hearing.

Following publication of the Commission's notice of Michigan Wisconsin's rate increase filing, 26 notices of, and petitions for, intervention were filed. Notices of intervention were filed by the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin, the Michigan Public Service Commission, and the Iowa State Commerce Commission. Petitions for intervention were filed by (1) American Gas Company of Wisconsin, Inc., (2) Wisconsin Natural Gas Co., (3) Wisconsin Michigan Power Co., (4) Wisconsin Fuel and Light Co., (5) Wisconsin Power and Light Co., (6) Paris-Henry County Public Utility District of Henry County, Tenn., (7) Iowa Southern Utilities Co., (8) Wisconsin Gas Co., (9) Michigan Gas and Electric Co., (10) Lincoln Natural Gas Co., Inc., (11) Iowa Electric Light and Power Co., (12) North Central Public Service Co., (13) Wisconsin Public Service Corp., (14) Madison Gas and Electric Co., (15) City Gas Co., Antigo, Wis., (16) Michigan Gas Utilities Co., (17) Illinois Power Co., (18) Chevron Chemical Co., (19) Sinclair Petrochemicals, Inc., (20) Northern Indiana Public Service Co., (21) Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., (22) Keokuk Gas Service Co., and (23) County of Wayne, Mich.

The Commission finds:

(1) It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the rates and charges contained in Michigan Wisconsin's FPC Gas Tariff, as proposed to be amended herein, and that the proposed tariff sheets listed above be suspended, and the use thereof be deferred as herein provided.

(2) It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the disposition of this proceeding be expedited in accordance with the procedures set forth below.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), a public hearing shall be held commencing July 30, 1968 at 10 a.m., e.d.t., in a hearing room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20426, concerning the lawfulness of the rates, charges, classifications, and services contained in Michigan Wisconsin's FPC Gas Tariff, as proposed to be amended herein.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, Michigan Wisconsin's proposed revised tariff sheets listed above are hereby suspended and the use thereof is deferred until December 1, 1968, and until such further time as they are made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) At the hearing on July 30, 1968, Michigan Wisconsin's prepared testimony (Statement P) filed and served on June 17, 1968, together with its entire rate filing as submitted and served on May 31, 1968, shall be admitted to the record as Michigan Wisconsin's complete case-in-chief as provided in the Commission's regulations, § 154.63(e)(1), and Order No. 254, 28 FPC 495, 496, subject to appropriate motions, if any, by parties to the proceeding.

(D) Following admission of Michigan Wisconsin's complete case-in-chief, the parties shall present their views and the Presiding Examiner, in the exercise of his discretion, shall determine whether there shall be an initial phase and, if so, which issues shall be heard therein. If he determines that there shall be an initial phase hearing, he shall fix dates for service of Staff's and Interveners' evidence and Michigan Wisconsin's rebuttal evidence on such issues; fix dates for witnesses to appear for adoption of their testimony and to stand cross-examination thereon; and proceed with such hearing as expeditiously as feasible. The Presiding Examiner shall thereafter fix dates for service of testimony and cross-examination on all issues not being heard in the initial phase hearing.

(E) Presiding Examiner Arthur H. Fribourg, or any other designated by the Chief Examiner for that purpose (see Delegation of Authority, 18 CFR 3.5(d)), shall preside at the hearing in this proceeding; shall prescribe relevant procedural matters not herein provided; and shall control this proceeding in accordance with the policies expressed in § 2.59 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

[Docket No. G-17960 etc.; Opinion 499-A]

TURNBULL & ZOCH DRILLING CO. ET AL.

Opinion and Order Confirming Order Requiring Refunds, Denying Motions for Stay, and Severing Docket

JULY 1, 1968.

On July 25, 1966, the Commission issued Opinion No. 499 (36 F.P.C. 164) and its accompanying order in this proceeding, requiring refunds by natural gas producers in 32 dockets of part of the amounts collected by them in excess of the initial rates later determined to be proper.[1] These excess amounts were collected while operating under temporary certificates without express refund conditions. Because a balancing of the equities indicated that refunds in full should not be ordered, no refund was required of certain excess amounts collected but later disbursed in production tax payments which cannot be recouped or in royalty payments. Timely applications for rehearing were filed by Shell Oil Co., George H. Coates, Livingston Oil Co., V. F. Neuhaus, Austral Oil Co., Inc., Jonnell Gas, Inc., American Petrofina Co. of Texas, Appell Petroleum Corp. et al., Bright & Schiff, H. J. Mosser, Blanco Oil Co. (Operator) et al., and Killam & Hurd. The last four named also applied for stay of the ordering paragraphs of Opinion No. 499. Bright & Schiff also moved that the Commission establish a procedure whereby producers who are dissatisfied with Opinion and Order No. 499 and who now desire to abandon their service may do so.

On September 2, 1966, the Commission granted rehearing for the purpose of joint consideration of all applications. Upon this reconsideration we have considered upon the merits the application of Tenneco Oil Co. While this was filed too late to be a timely application for rehearing, we have treated it as a motion for reconsideration.

On June 17, 1968, Turnbull & Zoch Drilling Co. (Operator) et al. (one of the respondents in this proceeding) filed an offer of settlement covering not only Docket No. G-17960 in this proceeding but also Docket No. RI62-543, which is not involved here. In the settlement offer formal abandonment of service was also sought.

[1] The initial rates applicable in this proceeding were fixed in Opinion No. 478, 34 FPC 1001, rehearing denied 34 FPC 1367, affirmed 378 F 2d. 510 (CA 5, 1967), cert. den. —— U. S. ——, May 20, 1968.

The Supreme Court of the United States has now upheld the Commission's requirement of refunds of amounts in excess of an in-line price collected under a temporary certificate containing no express refund condition. FPC v. Sunray DX Oil Company, —— U.S. ——, May 6, 1968. The general arguments presented by the applications for rehearing or reconsideration to the effect that the Commission may not or should not take such action need no further discussion in view of this decision.

Bright & Schiff. Bright & Schiff contends that it was not given a hearing or fair opportunity to be heard. It states that, while the Commission permitted the filing of briefs and statements of fact, Bright & Schiff was never advised and never understood that the Commission would make a final determination as to refunds on the basis of such briefs and statements.

No other producer has made this complaint. If Bright & Schiff did not understand at the time it presented its brief and statement of facts that the Commission might made a final determination based thereon, it was certainly aware of this at the time of its application for rehearing. It has included no new facts in this application that would alter that determination.

The motion of Bright & Schiff that the Commission establish a procedure whereby producers dissatisfied with Opinion and Order No. 499 may abandon service is denied. Existing procedure may be followed by any producer who wishes to abandon service. Mere dissatisfaction with a Commission decision is not ground for abandonment of service.

Livingston Oil Co. Livingston is a successor of Crescent Oil & Gas Corp., now liquidated and dissolved. Livingston protests that it should not be required to make refunds with respect to amounts collected by Crescent, but only with respect to amounts by Livingston itself after it succeeded to Crescent's interest. Livingston further points out that the Commission sent a letter to Crescent, at the time of the transfer of Crescent's interest to Livingston was approved, stating that Crescent would be responsible for any refunds during the period of its ownership. It also sent a letter to Livingston stating that, while Livingston might be responsible for refunds of amounts collected in excess of the in-line price during the period of deliveries under the temporary certificate without express refund condition, it would be responsible for such refunds only from the date it succeeded to Crescent's interest. We think Livingston should not be required to make refunds for the period prior to taking over from Crescent and this order will so provide.

Jonnell Gas, Inc. (Operator et al.). In Opinion No. 499 we stated that if Jonnell were financially unable to make the required refunds immediately, it should be allowed to make payments over a period of time. We see no benefit to the consumer or to the economy in forcing liquidation or bankruptcy on a small producer. On the other hand, we see no reason to cancel an obligation in order to allow dividends to be paid to stockholders or even to allow them to recover their original investment. One who invests in a small producer operation must accept the risk of loss if that operation is not successful. Accordingly, we adhere to the terms of our original order permitting Jonnell to arrange to make payments over a period of time. The Commission Staff will be available for consultation as to what these payments may be, although the matter will be determined ultimately by the Commission. We expect that a schedule of payments will be worked out that will permit Jonnell to continue in operation while gradually reducing its refund obligation.

Interest on retained refunds. Ordering Paragraph (G) accompanying Opinion No. 499 provided for interest at the rate of 5¾ percent on refunds retained by certificate holders. The Commission has customarily provided that interest on such amounts should be paid at the prime rate. In the nearly two years that has elapsed since Opinion No. 499 was issued on July 25, 1966, the prime rate has risen to 6½ percent. We believe that our prior order should be amended to reflect this change. The rate of interest to be paid should be the prime rate at or near the time the certificate holder makes his decision either to retain or not to retain the funds. Paragraph (G) of the order accompanying Opinion No. 499 will be amended accordingly.

Turnbull & Zoch. The settlement offer made by Turnbull & Zoch Drilling Co. (Operator) et al. is not yet ripe for consideration since the time for others to respond to the offer has not yet run. The offer includes matters not within the scope of this proceeding. It will be necessary to consider the offer as a whole, once there has been sufficient time for responses to it. Under these circumstances, in order not to delay further a decision with respect to the many other dockets in this proceeding, we will sever Docket No. G–17960 for later consideration as part of our consideration of the settlement offer. The other provisions of the accompanying order shall not apply to Docket No. G–17960.

The Commission finds:

The assignments and grounds for rehearing or reconsideration set forth in the applications for rehearing and reconsideration filed in this proceeding present no facts or legal principles which would warrant any change in or modification of Commission Opinion No. 499 except as specified below.

The Commission orders:

(A) Livingston Oil Co. shall not be required to make refunds of amounts received by its predecessor in interest, but only of amounts received by it.

(B) Except as provided in Ordering Paragraphs (A) and (E) hereof the applications for rehearing or reconsideration filed in this proceeding are in all respects denied.

(C) Paragraph (G) of the order accompanying Opinion No. 499 is hereby amended by substituting "6½ percent" for "5¾ percent" in the second sentence of said paragraph.

(D) The motion of Bright & Schiff that the Commission establish additional abandonment procedure is denied.

(E) Docket No. G–17960 is severed from this proceeding and none of the other provisions of this order shall apply to said docket.

By the Commission.

MASSACHUSETTS INVESTORS TRUST

Notice of Filing an Application

JULY 3, 1968.

Notice is hereby given that Massachusetts Investors Trust ("Applicant"), 200 Berkeley Street, Boston, Massachusetts 02216, a common law trust existing under the laws of Massachusetts and registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, 15 U.S.C. section 80a-1 et seq. ("Act"), as an open-end diversified management investment company, has filed an application pursuant to section 6(c) of the Act for an order of the Commission exempting from the provisions of section 22(d) of the Act a transaction in which Applicant's redeemable securities will be issued at a price other than the current public offering price in exchange for substantially all the assets of Cobasco Corp. ("Cobasco"). All interested persons are referred to the application on file with the Commission for a statement of Applicant's representations which are summarized below.

Cobasco, an Ohio corporation, is a personal holding company all of whose common stock is owned of record and beneficially by less than 100 persons and is exempt from registration under the Act by reason of the provisions of section 3(c)(1) thereof.

Pursuant to an agreement between Applicant and Cobasco, assets owned by Cobasco with a value of $1,678,243 on June 10, 1968, will be transferred to Applicant in exchange for shares of Applicant's stock. The number of Applicant's shares to be issued to Cobasco is to be determined by dividing the aggregate market value of the assets of Cobasco (subject to certain adjustments set forth in the application) to be transferred to Applicant by Applicant's net asset value per share (as defined in the agreement, similarly adjusted), both to be determined as of the last business day preceding the closing of the transfer of assets, as provided in the agreement. If the sale of assets transaction described in the agreement had taken place on June 10, 1968, when the net asset value per share of Applicant's stock was $17.52, Cobasco would have received 95,790 shares of Applicant's stock. When received by Cobasco, the shares of Applicant are to be distributed to the Cobasco shareholders on the liquidation of Cobasco. Applicant presently intends to sell a portion of the assets received from Cobasco.

Applicant represents that there is no connection between Applicant and Cobasco and that no officer or shareholder of Cobasco is affiliated with Applicant. Applicant represents that its management considers the proposed acquisition of substantially all of the assets of Cobasco in exchange solely for Applicant's shares to be at a fair price, arrived at by arms-length bargaining.

Section 22(d) of the Act provides that registered open-end investment companies may sell their shares only at the current public offering price as described in the prospectus. Section 6(c) permits the Commission, upon application, to exempt a transaction from the provisions of section 22(d) if it finds that such an exemption is necessary or appropriate in the public interest and consistent with the protection of investors and the purposes fairly intended by the policy and provisions of the Act.

Applicant submits that the granting of the application is appropriate in the public interest and consistent with the protection of investors and the purposes fairly intended by the policy and provisions of the Act and that the proposed acquisition will be beneficial to the shareholders of Applicant for the reasons that:

(1) Those expenses of Applicant which do not rise proportionately with an increase in portfolio size will be spread over a larger number of shares and therefore will amount to a smaller amount per share to the benefit of existing shareholders;

(2) The proposed acquisition will enable Applicant to acquire for its own portfolio at one time substantial additions to its existing portfolio securities without affecting the market in said securities; and

(3) The transfer of securities pursuant to the proposed acquisition will cause Applicant less expense than the purchase of such securities in the open market for the reason that said transfer will not be subject to brokers' commissions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than July 19, 1968, at 5:30 p.m., submit to the Commission in writing a request for a hearing on the matter accompanied by a statement as to the nature of his interest, the reason for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission shall order a hearing thereon. Any such communication should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549. A copy of such request shall be served personally or by mail (airmail if the person being served is located more than 500 miles from the point of mailing) upon Applicant at the address stated above. Proof of such service by affidavit (or in case of an attorney at law by certificate) shall be filed contemporaneously with the request. At any time after said date, as provided by Rule 0-5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the Act, an order disposing of the application herein may be issued by the Commission upon the basis of the information stated in said application, unless an order for hearing upon said application shall be issued upon request or upon the Commission's own motion. Persons who request a hearing, or advice as to whether a hearing is ordered, will receive notice of further developments in the matter including the date of the hearing (if ordered) and any postponements thereof.

For the Commission (pursuant to delegated authority).

Secretary.

MOTOR CARRIER APPLICATIONS AND CERTAIN OTHER PROCEEDINGS

JULY 5, 1968.

The following publications are governed by Special Rule 1.247 of the Commission's rules of practice, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER issue of April 20, 1966, which became effective May 20, 1966.

The publications hereinafter set forth reflect the scope of the applications as filed by applicant, and may include descriptions, restrictions, or limitations which are not in a form acceptable to the Commission. Authority which ultimately may be granted as a result of the applications here noticed will not necessarily reflect the phraseology set forth in the application as filed, but also will eliminate any restrictions which are not acceptable to the Commission.

APPLICATIONS ASSIGNED FOR ORAL HEARING

MOTOR CARRIERS OF PROPERTY

No. MC 52657 (Sub-No. 655) (Republication) filed August 25, 1967, published FEDERAL REGISTER issue of September 14, 1967, and republished this issue. Applicant: ARCO AUTO CARRIERS, INC., 2140 West 79th Street, Chicago, Ill. 60620. Applicant's representative: A. J. Bieberstein, 121 West Doty Street, Madison, Wis. 53703. In the above-entitled proceeding, the examiner recommended the granting to applicant a certificate of public convenience and necessity, authorizing operation in interstate or foreign commerce as a common carrier by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, of (a) bodies, hoists (including power gates and lift gates), and steel containers; (b) trailers, trailer chassis (except those designed to be drawn by passenger automobiles) in initial truckaway service; and (c) materials, supplies, and parts used in the manufacture, assembly, and servicing of the commodities described above, when moving in mixed loads with any of such commodities, from Durant, Okla., to Galion and Lima, Ohio, and Kansas City and St. Louis, Mo. A decision and order of the Commission, Review Board Number 3, dated June 20, 1968, and served July 1, 1968, as modified, finds that the present and future public convenience and necessity require operation by applicant, in interstate or foreign commerce, as a common carrier by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, of (1) bodies, hoists, and steel containers, (2) trailers and trailer chassis (except those designed to be drawn by passenger automobiles), in initial movements, in truckaway service, and (3) materials, supplies, and parts used in the manufacture, assembly, and servicing of the commodities described in (1) and (2) above, when moving in mixed loads with such commodities, from Durant, Okla., to Galion and Lima, Ohio, and Kansas City and St. Louis, Mo.; that applicant is fit, willing, and able properly to perform such service and to conform to the requirements of the Interstate Commerce Act and the Commission's rules and regulations thereunder. Because it is possible that other parties, who have relied upon the notice of the application as published, may have an interest in and would be prejudiced by the lack of proper notice of the authority described in the findings in this order, a notice of the authority actually granted will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER and issuance of a certificate in this proceeding will be withheld for a period of 30 days from the date of such publication, during which period any proper party in interest may file an appropriate petition to reopen or for other appropriate relief setting forth in detail the precise manner in which it has been so prejudiced.

No. MC-107496 (Sub-No. 587) (Republication) filed September 20, 1967, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER issue of October 5, 1967, and republished this issue. Applicant: RUAN TRANSPORT CORPORATION, Keosauqua Way at Third, Post Office Box 855, Des Moines, Iowa 50304. Applicant's representative: H. L. Fabritz (same address as applicant). By application filed September 20, 1967, applicant seeks a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing operation, in interstate or foreign commerce, as a common carrier by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, of petroleum and petroleum products (1) from the Williams Brothers Pipe Line Co. terminal at or near St. Cloud, Minn., and points within 10 miles thereof, to points in Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wisconsin, and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan; and (2) from the Williams Brothers Pipe Line Co. terminal at or near Spencer and Spirit Lake, Iowa, and points within 15 miles thereof, to points in Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Wisconsin. A report and order of the Commission, Operating Rights Board, served June 25, 1968, finds that the present and future public convenience and necessity require operation by applicant, in interstate or foreign commerce, as a common carrier by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, of petroleum and petroleum products, (1) from the terminal of the Williams Brothers Pipe Line Co. at or near St. Cloud, Minn., to points in Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wisconsin, and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, and (2) from the terminal of the Williams Brothers Pipe Line Co. at or near Spencer and Spirit Lake, Iowa, and from the terminal of Kaneb Pipe Line Co. at or near Milford, Iowa, to points in Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Wisconsin; that applicant is fit, willing, and able properly to perform such service and to conform to the requirements of the Interstate Commerce Act and the Commission's rules and regulations thereunder. Because it is possible that other persons, who have relied upon the notice of the application as published may have an interest in and would be prejudiced by the lack of proper notice of the authority described in the findings in this order, a notice of the authority actually granted will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER and issuance of a certificate in this proceeding will be withheld for a period of 30 days from the date of such publication, during which period any proper party in interest may file a petition to reopen or for other appropriate relief setting forth in detail the precise manner in which it has been so prejudiced.

No. MC-121629 (Republication), filed May 31, 1968, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER as State Docket No. T66-4 issue of March 9, 1966, and republished this issue. Applicant: R. E. COOPER, doing business as HOMER TRANSFER COMPANY, Box 182, Homer, Alaska 99603. Applicant's representative: A. Robert Hahn, Jr., 606 Fourth Avenue, Anchorage, Alaska. That applicant, in accordance with the requirements of section 206(a)(6) of the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended October 15, 1962, and the Commission's rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, has made timely application for a certificate of registration as evidence of the right to conduct operations, in interstate or foreign commerce, within limits which do not exceed the scope of the intrastate operations for which applicant holds a State certificate as a common carrier by motor vehicle, solely within a single State, as referred to below; that said application was not filed within the 30-day time limit specified in Rule 1.245(d)(1) of the Commission's rules of practice, but that for good cause shown, as provided in Rule 1.245(d)(4) of said rules of practice, said 30-day time limit was waived and the application was accepted for filing. Applicant has been issued a State certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the motor carrier operations in intrastate commerce described below, and that no one opposed in the State Commission application proceeding the authority sought for corresponding operations in interstate or foreign commerce, that the certificate issued by the State Commission satisfies the provisions of section 206(a)(6) of the Act, and that applicant has otherwise met the requirements for a Certificate of Registration contained in section 206(a)(6) of the Act.

An order of the Commission, Operating Rights Board, dated June 10, 1968, served June 12, 1968, calls for publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER of the State Authority sought which is somewhat more limited than that authorized by the State Commission, and that because it is possible that interested parties, who have relied upon the notice of the application as published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, may have an interest in and would be prejudiced by the lack of proper notice of the authority described herein, a notice of the authority granted by this order will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER and issuance of a certificate of registration in this proceeding will be withheld for a period of 30 days from the date of such publication, during which period any proper party in interest may file an appropriate pleading with this Commission. Description of the transportation service authorized to be conducted solely within the State of Alaska, in intrastate commerce, as a common carrier by motor vehicle, pursuant to Permit No. 241, dated January 31, 1968, issued by the Alaska Transportation Commission: General commodities (except classes A and B explosives and commodities in bulk, in tank trucks), water, in bulk, in tank trucks, between all points and places on the Kenai Peninsula: (A) South of the Kasilof River within a 65-mile radius of Homer, Alaska, including Homer. (B) Points and places on the Kenai Peninsula
