7 CFR Part 27

Cotton Classification Under Cotton Futures Legislation; Deferral of Effective Date for Removing Augusta, Ga. From List of Bona Fide Spot Cotton Markets

AGENCY: Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This rule defers until August 1, 1981 the removal of Augusta, Georgia from the list of bona fide spot cotton markets in § 27.93 of the Regulations for Cotton Classification under Cotton Futures Legislation (7 CFR Part 27). The date for the removal of Augusta, currently scheduled for August 1, 1979, is deferred for 2 years to provide additional time to further evaluate the market information needs in the State of Georgia and to develop a responsive program to meet those needs.

EFFECTIVE DATE: August 1, 1979.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Loyd Frazier, Marketing Services Branch, Cotton Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250 (202–447–2147).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On October 25, 1977, the U.S. Department of Agriculture issued a rule to remove Augusta, Georgia from the list of bona fide spot cotton markets effective August 1, 1978. The U.S. Cotton Futures Act (90 Stat. 1841–46; 7 U.S.C. 15b) requires the Secretary of Agriculture to designate bona fide spot markets which may be used to establish settlement differences for futures contracts.

On July 3, 1978, the U.S. Department of Agriculture issued a rule deferring the effective date for removing Augusta from the list of bona fide spot markets until August 1, 1979. The purpose of this deferral was to give the Department additional time to (1) further evaluate and determine the need for price information and market news in Georgia and (2) develop a market information program that will be effective, functional and responsive to the needs that are identified. It has now been determined that an additional 2 years will be needed to complete this evaluation and develop an effective market information program for Georgia.

§ 27.93 [Amended]

Accordingly, § 27.93 of the regulations (7 CFR 27.93) governing cotton classification under cotton futures legislation is amended to defer the removal of Augusta, Ga. from the list of bona fide spot cotton markets until August 1, 1981.

Dated: July 31, 1979.

William T. Manley,

Deputy Administrator, Marketing Program Operations.

BILLING CODE 3410-02-M

7 CFR Part 979

Melons Grown in South Texas; Termination of Handling Regulation

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This terminates § 979.301 Handling Regulation pertaining to melons grown in South Texas. The 1979 season is nearly over and the quantity of melons remaining is insufficient to warrant regulation. Packing, inspection and committee overhead costs would likely exceed the benefits of continuing the regulation.

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 31, 1979.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: William D. Paterson (202) 447–5432.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Marketing Agreement No. 156 and Order No. 979 (44 FR 22038) regulate the handling of melons grown in 19 designated counties of South Texas. It is effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674).

Section 979.301 Handling Regulation (44 FR 28778) became effective May 17, 1979, and would have been terminated on August 31, 1979. However, the South Texas Melon Committee, in a telephone vote held on July 26 voted 7 to 2 to recommend terminating the regulation as soon as possible. The committee concluded that the season is nearly over and the quantity remaining is insufficient to warrant continuing the regulation.

It is hereby found that continuing § 979.301 Handling Regulation for the remainder of the season would no longer tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act and should be terminated. It is further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to provide 60 days for interested persons to file comments, engage in public rulemaking procedure, and that good cause exists for not postponing the effective date of this termination until 30 days after publication in the Federal Register (5 U.S.C. 553) since the regulation is being terminated and regulatory acitivities imposed on handlers will thereupon cease.

Further, in accordance with procedures in Executive Order 12044, the emergency nature of this regulation warrants publication without opportunity for further public comment. The regulation has not been classified significant under USDA criteria for implementing the Executive Order. An Impact Analysis is available from William D. Paterson (202) 447–5432.

Termination of regulation: The provisions of § 979.301 Handling Regulation (44 FR 28778), are hereby terminated.

(Secs. 1–19, 48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 601–674.)

Dated July 31, 1979 to become effective July 31, 1979.

James S. Miller,

Acting Deputy Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service.

DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY

10 CFR Parts 208, 711, 1021

Compliance With the National Environmental Policy Act

AGENCY: Department of Energy.

ACTION: Notice of Final Rulemaking.

SUMMARY: The Department of Energy (DOE) hereby announces the establishment of Part 1021 of Chapter X of Title 10 of the Code of Federal Regulations, providing for the adoption of the Council on Environmental Quality (CEQ) regulations (40 CFR Parts 1500–1508) for implementing the procedural provisions of the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA).

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 30, 1979.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Dr. Robert J. Stern, Acting Director, NEPA Affairs Division, Office of the Assistant Secretary for Environment, Room 4G–064, Forrestal Building, Washington, D.C. 20585, 202–252–4600.

Mr. Stephen H. Greenleigh, Esq., Acting Assistant, General Counsel for Environment, Room 6G–087, Forrestal Building, Washington, D.C. 20585, 202–252–6947.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The CEQ regulations, which were published in the Federal Register on November 29, 1978 (43 FR 55978), effectively replace the NEPA regulations of the predecessor agencies of DOE. Accordingly, DOE will by this rule adopt the CEQ regulations and revoke the NEPA regulations previously promulgated by its two predecessor agencies, the Energy Research and Development Administration (10 CFR Part 711) and the Federal Energy Administration (10 CFR Part 208) as well as the NEPA regulations of other predecessor agencies of DOE to the extent they had applied to functions transferred to DOE pursuant to the DOE Organization Act. Also, this rule supersedes and replaces the proposed NEPA regulations previously published by DOE in the Federal Register on February 21, 1978 (43 FR 7232).

The CEQ regulations, which become binding on Federal agencies as of July 30, 1979, require each Federal agency to adopt implementing procedures to supplement the regulations. DOE published proposed procedures implementing CEQ NEPA regulations in the Federal Register on July 18, 1979 (44 FR 42136), and will operate under these proposed procedures during the time between July 30, 1979, and DOE adoption of final procedures.

Note.—With respect to Executive Order 12044, "Improving Government Regulations", DOE has determined that this final rulemaking is a nonsignificant regulation because it is procedural in nature and is not expected to affect important policy concerns. Therefore, a regulatory analysis has not been prepared.

Issued in Washington, D.C., July 31, 1979.

Ruth C. Clusen,

Assistant Secretary for Environment.

PART 208—COMPLIANCE WITH THE NATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY ACT [REVOKED]

PART 711—GUIDELINES FOR ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEW [REVOKED]

In consideration of the above, the Department of Energy hereby revokes 10 CFR Parts 208 and 711 and adds a new Part 1021 to read as follows:

PART 1021—COMPLIANCE WITH THE NATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY ACT

Sec.

1021.1 Background.
1021.2 Adoption of CEQ Regulations.
1021.3 Revocation of Previous NEPA Regulations.
1021.4 Applicability.

Authority: National Environmental Policy Act, 42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.

§ 1021.1. Background.

(a) The National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.) establishes national policies and goals for the protection of the environment. Section 102(2) of NEPA contains certain procedural requirements directed toward the attainment of such goals. In particular, all Federal agencies are required to give appropriate consideration to the environmental effects of their proposed actions in their decisionmaking and to prepare detailed environmental statements on recommendations or reports on proposals for legislation and other major Federal actions significantly affecting the quality of the human environment.

(b) Executive Order 11991 of May 24, 1977, directed the Council on Environmental Quality (CEQ) to issue regulations to implement the procedural provisions of NEPA. Accordingly, CEQ issued final NEPA regulations (40 CFR Parts 1500–1508) on November 29, 1978.

§ 1021.2. Adoption of CEQ Regulations.

The Department of Energy (DOE) hereby adopts the CEQ regulations for implementing the procedural provisions of NEPA (40 CFR Parts 1500-1508).

§ 1021.3. Revocation of Previous NEPA Regulations.

Federal Aviation Administration

14 CFR Part 39

[Docket No. 79-SO-49; Amdt. No. 39-3524]

Airworthiness Directives: Gulfstream American Corp.; Models AA-5 Series

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment adopts a new Airworthiness Directive (AD) which requires inspection and modification of the aileron system and deactivation of any installed autopilot system on certain Gulfstream American Corporation (GAC) Models AA–5, AA–5A, and AA–5B aircraft. The AD is needed to eliminate aileron oscillations which could possibly result in loss of control of the aircraft.

DATES: Effective August 10, 1979. Compliance required within the next 50 hours time-in-service after the effective date of this AD, unless already accomplished.

ADDRESSES: The applicable GAC Service Bulletin and Service Kit may be obtained from Gulfstream American Corporation, P.O. Box 2206, Savannah, Georgia 31402. A copy of the Service Bulletin and Service Kit are also contained in Room 275, Engineering and Manufacturing Branch, FAA, Southern Region, 3400 Whipple Street, East Point, Georgia.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Curtis Jackson, Aerospace Engineer, Engineering and Manufacturing Branch, FAA, Southern Region, P.O. Box 20636, Atlanta, Georgia 30320, telephone (404) 763-7407.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: There have been numerous reports of aileron oscillation on AA-5 series aircraft which could possibly result in loss of control of the aircraft. Since this condition is likely to exist or develop on other airplanes of the same type design, an Airworthiness Directive is being issued which requires inspection and modification of the aileron system and deactivation of any installed autopilot system on certain GAC Model AA-5 Series aircraft.

Since a situation exists that requires the immediate adoption of this regulation, it is found that notice and public procedure hereon are impracticable and good cause exists for making this amendment effective in less than 30 days.

Adoption of the Amendment

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator, § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR 39.13) is amended by adding the following new Airworthiness Directive (AD):

Gulfstream American Corporation (GAC): (Formerly Grumman American Aviation Corporation): Applies to GAC Model AA-5, serial numbers AA5-0001 and subsequent, Model AA-5A, serial numbers AA5A-0001 through AA5A-0884, Model AA-5B, serial numbers AA5B-0001 through AA5B-1257, airplanes certificated in all categories.

Compliance is required as indicated, unless already accomplished.

To eliminate the possibility of aileron oscillation and possible loss of control, accomplish the following within 50 hours time-in-service after the effective date of this AD:

1. Inspect and modify the aileron system in accordance with GAC Service Kit No. 150 dated July 13, 1979, or later revision approved by the Chief, Engineering and Manufacturing Branch, FAA, Southern Region. GAC Service Bulletin No. 165 also pertains to this subject.

2. An equivalent method of compliance may be used if approved by the Chief, Engineering and Manufacturing Branch, FAA, Southern Region.

3. Any autopilot system installed in the aircraft must be disconnected in a manner which will not permit use or reconnection during flight. Install a placard in full view of the pilot utilizing a minimim of ¼ inch high letters with the wording "AUTOPILOT DEACTIVATED."

4. Make appropriate maintenance record entry.

5. The use of any autopilot system is prohibited until the STC holder provides instructions for reactivation which have been approved by the Chief, Engineering and Manufacturing Branch of the appropriate FAA Regional Office.

This amendment is effective August 10, 1979.

(Secs. 313(a), 601, and 603, Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, and 1423); Sec. 6(c), Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)); 14 CFR 11.89).

Note.—The FAA has determined that this document involves a regulation which is not significant under Executive Order 12044, as implemented by DOT Department of Transportation Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979).

Issued in East Point, Georgia, on July 27, 1979.

Airworthiness Directives: SL Industries (Callair) B-1 Series Airplanes

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment adopts a new airworthiness directive (AD) which requires inspections and repair or replacement as necessary of the rear spar of the wing on SL Industries (Callair) B-1 series airplanes. The AD is prompted by a report of cracks in the wing rear spar which could result in failure of the wing rear spar and cause loss of the airplane.

DATES: Effective date: September 7, 1979. Compliance required within the next fifty (50) hours' time in service after the effective date of this AD, unless already accomplished.

ADDRESSES: The applicable service bulletins may be obtained from: SL Industries, Inc., P.O. Box 32406, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma 73132. A copy of the service bulletin is contained in the Rules Docket, Regional Counsel, Southwest Region, Federal Aviation Administration, P.O. Box 1689, Fort Worth, Texas 76101.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: R. T. Weaver, Airframe Section, Engineering and Manufacturing Branch, ASW-212, Federal Aviation Administration, P.O. Box 1689, Fort Worth, Texas 76101, telephone: 817-624-4911, Extension 516.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: A proposal to amend Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations to include an airworthiness directive requiring visual and dye penetrant inspections, repair or replacement, as necessary, and modification of the rear wing spar on SL Industries (Callair) B-1 series airplanes was published in the Federal Register on March 8, 1979, 44 FR 12687. The proposal was prompted by reported cracks in the rear spar on SL Industries (Callair) Model B-1 series airplanes that could cause total wing failure and loss of the airplane.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of the Amendment. No objections were received. Accordingly, the proposal is adopted without change.

Adoption of the Amendment

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator, § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR 39.13) is amended by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

SL Industries (Callair): Applies to Models B-1 and B-1A Airplanes, all Serial Numbers, certificated in all categories with over 500 hours' time in service. Airworthiness Docket No. 79-ASW-4.

Compliance required within the next 50 hours after the effective date of this AD, unless already accomplished within the last 50 hours' time in service and thereafter at intervals not to exceed 100 hours' time in service from the last inspection.

To prevent failure of the wing rear spar at the wing-fuselage attachment fitting (P/N 160049) due to cracking, accomplish the following:

(a) Inspect both rear wing spars by the following procedures:

(1) Remove the wing-fuselage fairings covering the rear spar attach bolt.

(2) Hoist the wing and jack the landing gear to relieve the load on the rear spar attach bolt and remove the rear spar attach bolt.

(3) Remove the P/N 16049-1 and -2 spar fittings by removal of (6) AN 4 bolts attaching fittings to the spar web.

(4) Visually and with dye penetrant methods, inspect the spar web in the area of the P/N 16049-1 and -2 fittings for cracks. Give particular attention to the upper and lower fasteners in the pattern of (6) fasteners attaching the P/N 16049-1 and -2 fittings to the spar web. Inspect these holes for elongation beyond .254 inch.

(5) Visually inspect the inboard 24 inches of the spar web for corrosion.

(b) Repair any discrepancies found during the inspections of paragraph (a) as follows:

(1) For cracks or elongated fastener holes in the spar web, replace the damaged spar with a new spar.

(2) For corrosion on the spar web, repair as follows:

(i) Remove corrosion in accordance with AC 43.13-1A dated 1972.

(ii) If corrosion is less than 10 percent of spar web thickness locally and reduces the spar web cross-section area by less than 2 percent, treat the corroded spar web area with two coats of zinc chromate primer in accordance with MIL–P–6889 or MIL–P–8585A.

(iii) If corrosion exceeds 10 percent of local spar web thickness or 2 percent of spar web cross-section area, replace the spar or repair with a repair approved by the Chief, Engineering and Manufacturing Branch, FAA, Southwest Region.

(iv) Reinstall the 16049–1 and –2 spar fittings with the fasteners removed as specified in paragraph (a)(3).

(v) Reinstall the wing fairings removed during paragraph (a) inspections.

Note.—(SL Industries Service Bulletin A–25 covers this same subject.)

(c) Modification of the rear spar by installation of the new wing-fuselage attach fittings of S1 Industries Service Bulletin A–25A (or equivalent modifications approved by the Chief, Engineering and Manufacturing Branch, FAA, Southwest Region) will remove the requirement for the 100-hour repetitive inspections.

(d) Aircraft may be flown in accordance with FAR 21.197 to a base where the requirements of this AD can be accomplished.

This amendment becomes effective September 7, 1979.

(Sections 313(a), 601, and 603, Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, and 1423); Sec. 6(c), Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)); 14 CFR 11.89).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The purpose of this amendment to Subpart C of Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Part 71) is to amend the description of Victor Airways V–8, V–16, V–21, V–186, V–197, V–264 South and V–422 due to the renaming of the Ontario, Calif., VORTAC TO Paradise (Airspace Docket No. 79–AWE–4–NR). Subpart C of Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations was republished in the Federal Register on January 2, 1979, (44 FR 307). In order to effect that action before the next aeronautical charting date on October 4, 1979, it is necessary to immediately adopt this rule change. Note.—The FAA has determined that this document involves a regulation which is not significant under Executive Order 12044, as implemented by DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979). Since this regulatory action involves an established body of technical requirements for which frequent and routine amendments are necessary to keep them operationally current and promote safe flight operations, the anticipated impact is so minimal that this action does not warrant preparation of a regulatory evaluation.

[Airspace Docket No. 79-AL-10]

Designation of Federal Airways, Area Low Routes, Controlled Airspace, and Reporting Points; Designation of Control Zone, Lonely DEW Station, Alaska

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment designates a control zone at Lonely DEW Station, Alaska. This amendment is necessary to protect aircraft conducting instrument flight below 1,200 feet above the surface, within 3 miles of Lonely DEW Station airport. This action will require aircraft to obtain an ATC clearance prior to operating within the Lonely DEW Station control zone when weather conditions are below the basic VFR weather minima prescribed in FAR 91.105.

EFFECTIVE DATE: 0901 GMT, October 4, 1979.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Jerry M. Wylie, Operations, Procedures and Airspace Branch, Air Traffic Division, Federal Aviation Administration, P.O. Box 14, 701 C Street, Anchorage, Alaska 99513, telephone (907) 271–5903.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The purpose of this amendment to § 71.171 of Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Part 71) is to designate a control zone at Lonely DEW Station, Alaska, for the protection of aircraft conducting instrument flight below 1,200 feet above the surface, within 3 miles of the Lonely DEW Station airport. The magnitude of air traffic using Lonely is anticipated to increase. The Federal Aviation Administration has determined that a control zone is necessary to provide ATC separation service to instrument flight rule (IFR) and visual flight rule (VFR) aircraft operating in the immediate vicinity of the Lonely airport when weather conditions are less than basic VFR weather minimum; thus enhancing safety of aircraft operations. The principal airport users believe prompt establishment of controlled airspace is needed. Adequate weather observations and communications are now available at the Lonely DEW Station airport to support justification for the designation of a control zone. Therefore, a 3-mile radius control zone is being designated as an interim safety measure while further consideration is being given to establish a 5-mile radius control zone, with an extension and a 700-foot transition area.

Adoption of the Amendment

§ 71.171 [Amended]

Accordingly, in the interest of flight safety, pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator, notice and public procedure hereon are unnecessary and § 71.171 of Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Part 71) as republished (44 FR 353) is amended by designating the Lonely DEW Station, Alaska, control zone as follows:

Lonely DEW Station, Alaska

Within a 3-mile radius of the Lonely DEW Station airport, latitude 70°54'40" N., longitude 153°14'20" W.

(Sec. 307(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1348(a)); Sec. 6(c) of the Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1155(c)); and 14 CFR 11.69.)

Note.—The FAA has determined that this document involves a regulation which is not significant under Executive Order 12044, as implemented by DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 1134, February 26, 1979). Since this regulatory action involves an established body of technical requirements for which frequent and routine amendments are necessary to keep them operationally current and promote safe flight operations, and anticipated impact is so minimal that this action does not warrant preparation of a regulatory evaluation.

[Docket No. 16220; Amdt. No. 91-158]

General Operating and Flight Rules; ATC Transponder Equipment; Correction

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule; correction.

SUMMARY: On March 15, 1979, the FAA published Amendment 91-155 to the Federal Aviation Regulations (44 FR 15654). That amendment, in part, deleted obsolete compliance dates from FAR 91.24 (b)(1)-(b)(4), but inadvertently failed to delete a reference to those dates in § 91.24(b).

This correction deletes the remaining reference in § 91.24(b) to compliance dates. It is editorial in nature, and achieves consistency with the intent of the amendment.

DATES: Effective date—August 6, 1979.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: William E. Broadwater, Airspace and Air Traffic Rules Division (AAT-200), Air Traffic Service, Federal Aviation Administration, 800 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, D.C. 20591; telephone (202) 426-3128.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Amendment 91-155, published March 15, 1979, in the Federal Register, was part of the 1975-1976 Operation Review Program which was initiated by the FAA because of technological advances in aviation and growth in aeronautical activity.

One of the changes made by Amendment 91-155 was to delete from § 91.24 the obsolete dates for complying with the required use of ATC transponder and automatic pressure altitude reporting equipment. These dates were deleted from § 91.24 (b)(1)-(b)(4), but the lead-in paragraph to § 91.24(b), which made reference to these dates was not changed. This amendment, accordingly, corrects § 91.24(b) by deleting the reference to compliance dates which have already been deleted. No substantive change results.

Since this action merely achieves editorial consistency with Amendment 91-155, and is corrective and nonsubstantive in nature, I find that notice and public procedure regarding this action are impractical and unnecessary. Further, since it would not be in the public interest or consistent with sound regulatory practice to delay making this editorial correction to the amendment, good cause exists for making it effective in less than 30 days after publication.

Adoption of Amendment:

Accordingly, § 91.24(b) is amended, effective August 6, 1979 by deleting the following language in the first sentence: "* * * no person may operate an aircraft in controlled airspace after the applicable dates prescribed in subparagraphs (b)(1) through (b)(4) of this paragraph * * " and substituting in its place the following language: " * * no person may operate an aircraft in the controlled airspace prescribed in paragraphs (b)(1) through (b)(4) of this paragraph * * *".

(Secs. 307, 313(a), and 601, Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended (49 U.S.C. 1348, 1354(a) and 1421); sec. 6(c), Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)))

Note.—The Federal Aviation Administration has determined that this document involves a proposed regulation which is not significant under Executive Order 12044, as implemented by DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979).

Amendments to the Final Natural Gas Curtailment Regulation for Implementation of Section 401 of the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978

AGENCY: Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Federal Energy Regulatory Commission has extended the dates for filing petitions for Priorities 1 and 2 treatment of natural gas for certain end-users. The amendment to the Final Regulation postpones, for about 2 weeks, the dates by which essential agricultural users, distribution companies, and pipelines must file requests for special treatment of gas supplies dedicated to certain high-priority uses such as essential agricultural or residential uses. The amendment will make it easier for users and suppliers to protect certain gas supplies from possible curtailment.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: MaryJane Reynolds, Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Office of the General Counsel, Room 8000, 825 N. Capitol St. NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, (202) 275-4283.

Amendments to the Regulation for the Implementation of Section 401 of the Natural Gas Policy Act; Final Rule Before Commissioners: Charles B. Curtis, Chairman; Matthew Holden, Jr., and George R. Hall.

Issued July 20, 1979.

Background

On May 2, 1979, the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission ("Commission") issued a permanent curtailment rule (44 FR 26855, May 8, 1979) which established a system of high-priority [Priority 1] and essential agricultural [Priority 2] use requirements and integrated them into the curtailment plans of interstate pipelines. This new rule requires the reordering of curtailment priorities by November 1, 1979 and applies this treatment to deliveries of natural gas beginning on that date. The new rule requires considerable data gathering and reporting by end-users, distributors and interstate pipelines. Under § 281.211(b) of the new regulations, essential agricultural users which seek Priority 2 treatment for their agricultural requirements of natural gas are required to file a request for Priority 2 treatment with their direct suppliers. Local distribution companies have two weeks to review and forward these requests to their interstate pipeline suppliers (§ 281.211(c)) and, if the pipeline purchases gas from downstream pipelines, it must request reclassification of its Priority 2 entitlements from its supplier, within two weeks of receiving information from its customers (§ 281.211(d)). Similarly, direct sale customers and local distribution companies must report Priority 1 requirements to their direct suppliers. Interstate pipelines must report Priority 1 entitlements to their upstream suppliers. Under § 281.212, the interstate pipelines must then file draft tariff sheets and an index of entitlements with the Data Verification Committee ("DVC") and distribute these documents to customers. The DVC must then review the tariff sheets, index of requirements, and the back-up data therefor. On October 1, 1979, the interstate pipelines must file new tariff sheets which implement the permanent curtailment plan protecting high priority and essential agricultural users.

On June 15, 1979, the Commission extended for 30 days the deadline for filing requests for Priority 1 and 2 treatment. Order 29-A (44 FR 37499, June 27, 1979). Under the amended rule, essential agricultural users had until July 15, 1979, to request Priority 2 treatment.

On July 10, 1979, the High Plains Gas Consumer Group et al. ("HPGC") [1] filed a motion for an extension of time which would postpone for two weeks, until July 31, 1979, the date by which essential agricultural users must file a request for Priority 2 treatment for natural gas to meet their essential agricultural requirements. HPGC alleges that a large number of on-farm users in the Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas areas are unaware of the July 15 deadline for requesting Priority 2 treatment. A significant factor contributing to the alleged lack of information is that this is the season for peak agricultural activity and harvesting, keeping many farmers in the field 16-18 hours on many days.

The Commission recognizes that the permanent curtailment plan which is extended to give a preference to essential agricultural requirements in the curtailment plans of interstate pipelines is a new plan based upon a new statute. It is possible that there is not yet general familiarity with this plan embodied in the permanent curtailment rule, even though it was first proposed in January of this year. (44 FR 3725, January 18, 1979). Public hearings were held throughout the country, including one in Amarillo, Texas, in March and April. Moreover, the permanent rule requiring the filing of data by essential agricultural users was issued by the Commission on May 2, 1979. (44 FR 26855, May 8, 1979).

Nonetheless, the Commission has determined that the two week extension should be granted—to further assure the broadest possible participation in the Priority 2 requests by essential agricultural users. However, the dates for local distribution companies and interstate pipelines to make their own requests for upgrading because of requests made for Priority 2 treatment by essential agricultural users must also be extended by two weeks to August 15 and 31 respectively, since those requests are dependent upon downstream (end-user) requirements. At this time, the Commission has determined that it will not amend the rule to provide an automatic postponement of the date for the filing of the tariff sheets under the permanent curtailment rule beyond the present October 1, 1979, date prescribed in § 281.204. However, this leaves only one month between the pipeline's receipt of data necessary to prepare the Index of Requirements and the filing of the tariff sheets, and significantly shortens the time allowed the Data Verification Committee for consideration of the draft index of requirements. Accordingly, the Commission will allow for the waiver of the October 1, tariff filing for one month, to November 1, 1979 for any pipeline which notifies the Commission, through the Secretary, that the Data Verification Committee needs additional time for review of the draft sheets. Any pipeline electing to postpone implementation of its permanent curtailment plan for one month until December 1, 1979, must keep its interim plan in effect for the month of November. The Commission believes that each pipeline may best evaluate the advantages of postponement of the permanent curtailment plan for one month against the disadvantages of modifying its curtailment plan after the beginning of the winter heating season.

Section-By-Section Analysis

The amendments in this rulemaking advance the filing dates in § 281.211 (a) and (b) by approximately two weeks. Paragraph (a) is changed in clause (i) of subparagraph (1) by extending the filing date from July 15, 1979 to July 31, 1979. Paragraph (a) is changed in clause (i) of subparagraph (2) by extending the filing date from August 15, 1979 to August 31, 1979. Paragraph (b) is changed in clause (i) of subparagraph (1) by extending the filing date for essential agricultural users from July 15, 1979 to July 31, 1979, in subparagraph (2) by extending the filing date for local distribution companies to August 15, 1979, and in subparagraph (3) by extending the date for requesting reclassification of entitlements by interstate pipeline purchasers to August 31, 1979.

Section 281.212 is changed in paragraphs (b) and (c) to provide an additional two weeks until September 14, 1979, for pipelines to serve indices of entitlement and draft tariff sheets.

Section 281.204 is amended to allow that a pipeline may elect to file its proposed tariff sheets on November 1, 1979 with a proposed effective date of December 1, 1979, if the pipeline (by modification of its tariff where appropriate) continues in effect for November 1979 the interim curtailment plan implemented in accordance with Subpart A. The election is executed by written notification of the election to the Secretary of the Commission.

Effective Date

Section 553(d) of the Administrative Procedure Act requires that publication of a rule be made not less than 30 days before its effective date unless inter alia a rule relieves a restriction or the agency finds good cause for more expeditious action. The amendments to § 281.211 and § 281.212 are intended to make it possible for essential agricultural users to exercise their rights to priority treatment of certain gas supplies. In order that the intent of Congress that essential agricultural users be protected from curtailment of natural gas is carried out, the Commission believes that the July 15, 1979, deadline must be extended. The Commission finds good cause to make the amendments to Part 281 effective immediately.

(Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978, Pub. L. 95-621. Department of Energy Organization Act, 42 U.S.C. § 7107 et seq.; E.O. 12009, 42 FR 46267; Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U.S.C. § 551 et seq.)

In consideration of the foregoing, Subpart B, Part 281, Chapter 1, Title 18 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended as set forth below, effective immediately.

By the Commission. Chairman Curtis voted present.

Coast Guard

33 CFR Part 117

[CGD 78–167]

Drawbridge Operation Regulations; Atlantic Intracoastal Waterway, Atlantic Beach, N.C.

AGENCY: Coast Guard, DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: At the request of the North Carolina Department of Transportation, the Coast Guard is amending the regulations for the Atlantic Beach bridge, mile 206.7, Atlantic Intracoastal Waterway by extending the period when bridge openings are restricted. This change is being made because of a significant increase in vehicular traffic during the period under consideration. This action should improve the flow of vehicular traffic while still providing for the reasonable needs of navigation.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This amendment is effective on September 3, 1979.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Frank L. Teuton, Jr., Chief, Drawbridge Regulations Branch (G–WBR/73), Room 7300, Nassif Building, 400 Seventh Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20590 (202–426–0942).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On February 26, 1979, the Coast Guard published a proposed rule (44 FR 10994) concerning this amendment. The Commander, Fifth Coast Guard District, also published these proposals as a Public Notice dated March 5, 1979. Interested persons were given until March 26, 1979, and March 30, 1979, respectively, to submit comments.

DRAFTING INFORMATION: The principal persons involved in drafting this rule are: Frank L. Teuton, Jr., Project Manager, Office of Marine Environment and Systems, and Coleman Sachs, Project Attorney, Office of the Chief Counsel.

Discussion of Comments

There were twelve responses received. Nine had no objection. Three objected to the proposal. One suggested openings every half hour rather than each hour. These objectors essentially stated that wind, tides, weather and shallow water make holding vessels in this area difficult and hazardous. This proposal does not change the hourly opening requirements that have been in effect since 1971 but only moves the restricted period starting date from May 1 back to March 15. As no objections to the existing restrictions have been received, the Coast Guard feels that this change will provide for the reasonable needs of navigation. The objections to the change, while considered, were not sufficient to warrant their adoption.

In consideration of the foregoing, Part 117 of Title 33 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended by revising paragraph (a)(1) of § 117.355 to read as follows:

§ 117.355 Bogue Sound (Atlantic Intracoastal), N.C., North Carolina State Highway Commission Bridge at Atlantic Beach.

(1) From March 15 through June 14, on Saturdays, Sundays, and Federal holidays, from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m., the draw need open only on the hour for the passage of any accumulated vessels.

BILLING CODE 3410-11-M

PENNSYLVANIA AVENUE DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION

36 CFR Part 907

Policy on Environmental Quality and Control; Procedures for Implementing the National Environmental Policy Act; Interim Rule

AGENCY: Pennsylvania Avenue Development Corporation.

ACTION: Interim Rule; Request for Comment.

SUMMARY: The Pennsylvania Avenue Development Corporation ("Corporation") proposes to adopt procedures for implementing the provisions of the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) in accordance with the latest regulations of the Council on Environmental Quality (CEQ), 40 CFR Parts 1500-1508 (43 FR 55978-56007(1978)).

DATES: Effective date: July 30, 1979. Comments or suggestions should be submitted in writing on or before September 5, 1979.

ADDRESS: Send comments to Office of the General Counsel, Pennsylvania Avenue Development Corporation, 425 13th Street, N.W., Suite 1148, Washington, D.C. 20004.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: David W. Briggs, Senior Staff Attorney, (202) 566-1078, Pennsylvania Avenue Development Corporation.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Pennsylvania Avenue Development Corporation ("Corporation") is a wholly-owned government corporation of the United States created by Congress to develop and rejuvenate 21 blocks along the north side of Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. The Corporation has prepared a development plan, The Pennsylvania Avenue Plan—1974 (the Plan), which has been adopted by Congress. Section 102 of the NEPA directs Federal agencies to interpret and administer the policies, regulations, and public laws of the United States in accordance with the environmental policies established in Section 101 of the Act. Section 102(2) contains "action-forcing" provisions to make sure that Federal agencies act according to the letter and spirit of the Act. As part of the process in preparing the Plan, the Corporation, in accordance with the NEPA, conducted extensive environmental reviews culminating in the Final Environmental Impact Statement (September 1974) on the Plan.

The CEQ has now issued new implementing regulations to provide Federal agencies with "efficient, uniform procedures for translating the law (NEPA) into practical action." These regulations provide "uniform standards applicable throughout the Federal government for conducting environmental reviews."

The CEQ regulations require that each agency develop its own procedures for their implementation. The agency procedures are required to supplement the CEQ regulations and to confine themselves to implementing procedures; they should not merely paraphrase the CEQ regulations. The regulations that follow provide for the required Corporation implementing procedures for compliance with the NEPA and the CEQ regulations. They are designed to:

(a) Integrate the NEPA process with other planning and decision making processes of the Corporation at the earliest possible time.

(b) Ensure that decisions of the Corporation are made according to the letter and spirit of the NEPA, as enforced by Section 102(2) of that Act.

(c) Involve the public in the NEPA process in an appropriate, responsible manner.

These procedures cover the Corporation's decision-making process and the substantive consideration of environmental factors, the procedural requirements for environmental documentation at critical stages of the decision making process, and criteria to assist in determining the need for environmental assessments and impact statements. CEQ regulations require that these procedures be effective July 30, 1979.

36 CFR Chapter IX, Subchapter A is amended by adding a new Part 907 "Environmental Quality" to read as follows:

(a) Coordinate the formulation and revision of Corporation policies and procedures on matters pertaining to environmental protection and enhancement.

(b) Establish and maintain working relationships with the Council on Environmental Quality, the Environmental Protection Agency, and other Federal, regional and District of Columbia governmental agencies concerned with environmental matters.

(c) Develop procedures within the Corporation's planning and decision making processes to ensure that environmental factors are properly considered in all proposals and decisions in accordance with this part.

(d) Develop, monitor, and review the Corporation's implementation of standards, procedures, and working relationships for protection and enhancement of environmental quality and compliance with applicable laws and regulations.

(f) Advise the Board of Directors, officers, and employees of the Corporation of technical and management requirements of environmental analysis, of appropriate expertise available, and, with the assistance of the Office of the General Counsel, of relevant legal developments.

(g) Monitor the consideration and documentation of the environmental aspects of the Corporation's planning and decision making processes by appropriate officers and employees of the Corporation.

(h) Ensure that all environmental assessments and, where required, all EIS's are prepared in accordance with the appropriate regulations adopted by the Council on Environmental Quality and the Corporation, and are submitted with all legislative proposals, review proposals before the National Capital Planning Commission on other governmental agencies, and appropriate resolutions of the Board of Directors of the Corporation.

(i) Consolidate and transmit to appropriate parties the Corporation's comments on EIS's and other environmental reports prepared by other agencies.

(j) Acquire information and prepare appropriate reports on environmental matters required of the Corporation.

(k) Coordinate Corporation efforts to make available to other parties information and advice on the Corporation's policies for protecting and enhancing the quality of the environment.

§ 907.6 Major Decision Points.

The possible environmental effects of a proposed action must be considered along with technical, economic, and other factors at the earliest planning stage. At that stage, the responsible Corporation official shall begin the necessary steps to comply with all the requirements of Section 102(2) of the National Environmental Policy Act. Corporation activities related to decision-making can generally be viewed as having four distinct stages: (a) The conceptual/schematic stage; (b) the design development/detailed planning/definition stage; (c) the development/construction/implementation stage; and (d) the operation/occupancy stage. Some activities of the Corporation have fewer, less well defined stages. These activities can still be characterized as having: (1) A general or feasibility study stage; (2) a detailed planning or definition stage; and (3) an implementation stage. Environmental review will be integrated into the decision making process of the Corporation as follows:

(i) Completion of an environmental assessment and the determination as to whether an EIS is required must be made prior to the decision to proceed from the conceptual/schematic stage or the general or feasibility study stage to the design development/detailed planning/delineation stage of a proposed action. For example, this determination would be made concurrent with:

(A) Proposing the development by the staff of an amendment to the Plan;

(B) Proposing a segment or project of the Public Improvements Program within the Development Area for design development;

(C) Staff review of a private development proposal submitted to the Corporation prior to formal submittal to the Board of Directors for its approval of that proposal; or,

(D) Proposing to the Board of Directors that a development prospectus, which solicits development proposals, be approved and issued by the Corporation.

(ii) An EIS should be completed and circulated prior to the decision to proceed from the design development/detailed planning/definition stage to the development/construction/implementation stage of a proposed action. For example, the EIS for a specific action should be completed by, and incorporated with:

(A) Proposing an amendment to the Plan to the Board of Directors for its adoption and approval;

(B) Proposing a segment or project of the Public Improvements Program within the Development Area for development/construction;

(C) Formal submission of a private development proposal to the Board of Directors for its approval; or,

(D) Selection of a developer candidate by the Board of Directors after solicitation of development proposals through a development prospectus.

§ 907.7 Criteria For and Identification of Typical Classes of Corporation Actions.

(a) Whether a proposed decision or action by the Corporation, within the meaning of the CEQ Regulations, requires the preparation of an environmental assessment, an EIS, both, or neither, will depend upon the scope of the action, and the context and the intensity of any environmental effects expected to result. A Corporation action or decision shall require an environmental assessment where the action or decision is not one that normally requires an EIS or is not one that is categorically excluded from the requirement for an environmental assessment, or EIS.

(b) Specific Corporation actions and decisions normally requiring an environmental assessment, but not necessarily an EIS:

(1) Amendments to the Plan which do not consititute a "substantial change" to the Plan.

(2) Property management activities beyond routine maintenance, repair, and upkeep of real property owned by the Corporation.

(3) Regulations promulgated by the Corporation which directly impact on the public or persons residing in the development area including businesses (i.e., relocation, affirmative action). Promulgation of regulations (i.e., development standards and controls) to implement the Plan, but which are not covered by the Final EIS.

(4) Development proposals to the Corporation by private developers which are consistent with the Plan and PADC Controls and Standards prepared by the Corporation.

(5) Activities related to the Public Improvements Program of the Corporation, but for which no previous environmental assessment or environmental assessment and EIS of a program nature has been prepared and which have not been previously approved by the Board of Directors.

(6) Contracts, work authorizations, and master agreements related to and implementing programs, policies, and proposals for which no environmental assessments or for which no environmental assessment and EIS have been previously prepared.

(7) Acceptance of gifts or grants of property, financial benefits, or other aids of any form and from any source.

(8) Street closures, alley closures, rearrangement of public space, and transfers of jurisdiction over public space, whether of a temporary or a permanent nature.

(9) Demolition actions by the Corporation, other public agencies, or private developers prior to any approval of development proposals made by the Board of Directors.

(10) Proposals submitted to the District of Columbia Zoning Commission, The Commission of Fine Arts, and the National Capital Planning Commission.

(11) Acquisition/disposal of personal property by the Corporation not related to any specific decision, plan, or program adopted by the Board of Directors of the Corporation for which an environmental assessment or an environmental assessment and an EIS is required to be prepared.

(c) Corporation actions and decisions expected to have a significant impact upon the quality of the human environment shall require an EIS. For these actions or decisions an environmental assessment shall not be required. Criteria to be used in determining significance are given in § 1508.27 of the CEQ Regulations. Specific Corporation actions and decisions requiring an EIS are as follows:

(1) Amendments to the Plan which constitute a "substantial change" to the Plan.

(2) Supplements to the Plan which cover areas which were specified in the Plan for further study (i.e., Historic Preservation).

(3) Development proposals submitted to the Corporation which are inconsistent with the Plan and development controls and standards prepared by the Corporation.

(4) Acquisition or disposal of real property by the Corporation not related to any specific decision, plan, or program adopted by the Board of Directors of the Corporation for which an assessment or an assessment and an EIS has been prepared.

(5) Legislative proposals made to Congress and the District of Columbia Council.

(6) Any public building or other structure constructed within the development by any executive agency of the United States Government, any agency or department of the District of Columbia Government, or any other public or quasi-public entity.

(7) Any building or structure to be funded and/or constructed by the Corporation or its agents or representatives, even if that activity is consistent with the Plan and the Final EIS.

(d) Corporation actions and decisions categorically excluded from the requirements to prepare either an environmental assessment or an EIS, or both:

(1) Fit the following criteria:

(i) The action or decision is consistent with the Plan or the Act, and the environmental effects have been previously analyzed in the Final EIS, a supplement thereto, or in an environmental assessment or an EIS previously prepared; or

(ii) The total estimated cost directly attributable to the action or decision does not exceed $10,000; or

(iii) The action or decision is related solely to internal administrative operations of the Corporation.

(2) Specific Corporation actions fitting these criteria and thus categorically excluded from the requirements for environmental assessment and an EIS are:

(i) Personnel actions;

(ii) Administrative actions and operations directly related to the operation of the Corporation (i.e., purchase of furnishings, services, and space acquisition for the Corporation offices);

(iii) Property management actions related to routine maintenance, operation, upkeep, etc., of real property owned by PADC;

(iv) Review of permit applications relating to minor development activities in the development area (sign approval, interior renovations, minor exterior changes to facade, etc.);

(v) Promulgation of development controls and standards which implement the Plan as covered by the Final EIS;

(vi) Contracts, work authorizations, procurement actions directly related to and implementing proposals, programs, and master agreements for which an environmental assessment or an environmental assessment and an EIS have been prepared, or which are related to administrative operation of the agency;

(vii) Acquisition/disposal by lease, easement, or sale of real and personal property owned by the Corporation subsequent to and implementing a prior decision of the Board of Directors for which an assessment or an assessment and an EIS were prepared;

(ix) Demolition actions preparatory for development by the Corporation, other public agencies, or private developers subsequent to approval of development proposals made by the Board of Directors.

(e) Even though an action may be categorically excluded from the need for a formal environmental assessment or an EIS, it is not excluded from the requirement for an environmental analysis during the earliest planning stage. If that analysis shows that the action or decision would materially deviate from the criteria for exclusion and it is concluded that there may be significant effects, an environmental assessment must be carried out. Based upon that assessment, a determination must then be made whether or not to prepare an EIS.

(f) Where an environmental assessment has been prepared, a determination must be made as to whether or not to prepare an EIS. That determination shall be made by the appropriate Corporate official after evaluation of the following factors and the intensity to which they may be affected by the decision or action:

(1) Cultural and historical resources of the Washington, D.C. Metropolitan Area, and specifically the Pennsylvania Avenue area and its environs are adversely affected by the proposed decision or action;

(2) The Pennsylvania Avenue National Historic Site, buildings, structures, or spaces listed or eligible for listing on the National Register of Historic Places, or buildings, structures, or spaces listed or eligible for listing on the District of Columbia Inventory of Historic Sites are affected by the proposed decision or action;

(3) Federal, regional or District of Columbia law, ordinance, regulation, or requirement imposed for the protection of the environment would be violated by the proposed decision or action;

(4) Traffic generated by the proposed decision or action would represent a 10 percent increase in the average daily traffic volume on avenues and streets within the development area or its environs;

(5) Air quality in the development area and its environs is substantially affected by the proposed decision or action based upon the Council of Government's recognized standard;

(6) Solid waste disposal related to a project of the Corporation or of a developer who is constructing, reconstructing, or rehabilitating that project, affects solid waste disposal in the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area as far as capacity of a solid waste disposal site and compliance with "Solid Waste Mangement Guidelines" of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and related local and regional controls;

(7) Public utilities have insufficient capacity to provide reliable service to a project within the development area;

(8) A project will be inconsistent with the Zoning Regulations of the District of Columbia as they are applicable to the development area;

(9) A decision or action will not conform with the Comprehensive Plan for the National Capital Area; or

(10) District of Columbia, Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority, and other governmental officials indicate that one or more community services will be inadequate to serve the project or will be affected by the decision.

§ 907.8 Public involvement.

Interested persons may obtain information concerning any pending EIS or any other element of the environmental review process of the Corporation by contacting the Public Information Officer of the Corporation, Suite 1148, 425 13th Street, NW, Washington, D.C. 20004, telephone (202) 566–1218.

§ 907.9 Corporation decision making procedures.

To ensure that at major decision making points all relevant environmental concerns are considered by the decision maker, the following procedures are established.

(a) An environmental document, in addition to being prepared at the earliest point in the decision making process, shall accompany the relevant proposal through the Corporation's decision making process to ensure adequate consideration of environmental factors in the decision-making process.

(b) The decision maker shall consider in its decision making process only those decision alternatives discussed in the relevant environmental documents. Also, where an EIS has been prepared, the decision maker shall consider all alternatives described in the EIS. A written record of the consideration of alternatives during the decision making process shall be maintained.

(c) Any environmental document prepared for a project, proposal, or decision shall be made part of the record of any formal rulemaking by the Corporation, including consideration of amendments to the Plan and preparation of development controls and standards implementing the Plan.

(d) At the time of any decision by the Board of Directors, or, where a delegation occurs, by the Chairman or the Executive Director, a concise public record of the decision shall be prepared by the staff of the Corporation which incorporates the required elements of § 1505.2 of the CEQ Regulations.

§ 907.10 Approval of private proposals for development.

(a) Each submission of a development proposal by a private developer to the Corporation for approval by the Board of Directors shall include an environmental assessment, the nature of which is described in § 1508.9 of the CEQ Regulations. Nothng shall preclude a developer from submitting an environmental assessment to the Corporation prior to submission of the development proposal which it supports.

(b) The Board of Directors may not make any decision on a submitted development proposal until such time as a supporting environmental assessment submitted by the developer has been independently analyzed, reviewed, and evaluated by the staff of the Corporation, and a determination made by the responsible Corporation official as to whether an EIS must be prepared by the Corporation. If that official determines that an EIS is necessary, the EIS must be prepared by the Corporation or by a consultant for the Corporation and be submitted to the Board of Directors for its consideration at the time of its review and decision on the approval of the development proposal submitted by a private developer.

(c) An environmental assessment prepared by a private developer to support a development proposal submitted to the Board of Directors for its approval should contain brief discussions of the following:

(1) Purpose of and need for the proposal.

(2) Statement of the Plan and analysis of the proposal in light of the Plan and development controls and standards.

(3) Alternatives, including the No Action alternative.

(4) Environmental effects of the proposed action and alternative. The most important or significant environmental consequences of the areas listed below should be discussed. Only those areas which are relevant to the proposal should be addressed in as much detail as is necessary to allow an analysis of the alternatives and the proposal. The areas to be considered are the following:

(i) Natural/ecological features (such as floodplains, wetlands, coastal zones, wildlife refuges, and endangered species);

(ii) Air quality;

(iii) Sound levels;

(iv) Water supply, wastewater treatment and storm water runoff;

(v) Energy requirements and conservation;

(vi) Solid waste;

(vii) Transportation;

(viii) Community facilities and services;

(ix) Social and economic;

(x) Historic and aesthetic; and

(xi) Other relevant factors.

(5) Listing of agencies and persons consulted in preparation of the assessment.

(d) Consistent with CEQ Regulations 1501.8 and 1506.10, the responsible Corporation official may set time limits for environmental review appropriate to each development proposal that requires the preparation of an EIS.

(e) The responsible Corporation official shall at the earliest possible time ensure that the Corporation commences its environmental review on a proposed development project and shall provide to a private developer any policies or information deemed appropriate in order to permit effective and timely review by the Corporation of a development proposal once it is submitted to the Board of Directors for approval. The official shall designate, for the benefit of the developer, staff members of the Corporation to advise the developer with regard to information which may be required in order to accomplish the Corporation's environmental review.

§ 907.11 Actions where lead agency designation is necessary.

(a) Consistent with CEQ Regulations, § 1501.5, where a proposed action by the Corporation involves one or more other Federal agencies, or where a group of actions by the Corporation and one or more other Federal agencies are directly related to each other because of their functional interdependence or geographical proximity, the Corporation will seek designation as lead agency for those actions that directly relate to implementation of the Plan and those actions that relate solely to the development area.

(b) For an action which qualifies as one for which the Corporation will seek designation as lead agency, the Corporation will promptly consult with the appropriate Federal agencies such as the National Capital Planning Commission, the Department of the Interior, and the General Services Administration to establish lead agency and cooperating agency designations.

(c) Where appropriate, the Corporation shall seek a memorandum of agreement with each of the agencies named in § 907.10(b) to obtain blank designation as lead agency for broad action categories which require environmental review.

Signed in Washington, D.C., dated: July 30, 1979.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

38 CFR Part 3

Pension, Compensation, and Dependency and Indemnity Compensation; Improved Pension Program

ACTION: Final regulations.

SUMMARY: The Veterans Administration is issuing final regulations to implement the Veterans' and Survivors' Pension Improvement Act of 1978. The new law provides for major reform of the nonservice-connected pension program. Major provisions of the new law assure all veteran pensioners a level of income above the poverty level and provide that pension benefits will never be reduced solely as a result of cost-of-living increases in social security benefits. In addition to implementing the new law, minor changes have been made in various regulations to eliminate gender reference or to indicate that the regulations are applicable to persons of both sexes.

EFFECTIVE DATES: The regulations are effective January 1, 1979, the effective date specified by Pub. L. 95-588, except that monetary rates and income limitations reflect the increased rates payable on June 1, 1979, by reason of the social security cost-of-living increase which is also effective on June 1, 1979.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: T. H. Spindle, Jr. (202-389-3005).

SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION: On pages 12694-12708 of the Federal Register of March 8, 1979, there was published proposed regulations to implement Pub. L. 95-588, the Veterans' and Survivors' Pension Improvement Act of 1978.

Interested persons were given 60 days to submit comments, suggestions or objections to the proposed regulations. Two comments were received.

One commentator believes that § 3.272 is deficient in that it fails to exclude from countable income under the improved pension program income received under the Retired Servicemen's Family Protection Plan (RSFPP). The commentator's position is based on 10 U.S.C. 1441 which exempts RSFPP income from countable income under any law administered by the Veterans Administration.

We do not believe that RSFPP income should be excluded. The improved pension program (Pub. L. 95-588) was enacted after 10 U.S.C. 1441 and, therefore, we believe that only the income exclusions specifically listed in Pub. L. 95-588 should be given effect in § 3.272.

The other commentator feels that the proposed § 3.3(b)(3)(ii) and (4)(ii) are not in conformity with 38 U.S.C. 541 since he believes that the statute does not require that compensation or retired pay be based on wartime service. We have carefully reviewed 38 U.S.C. 541, as amended by Pub. L. 95-588, and find that the requirement that the receipt of compensation or retired pay be based on service during a period of war is clearly stated in the statute.

This commentator says that he disagrees with the regulations governing determination of a child's income and net worth. Since these regulations closely follow the provisions of Pub. L. 95-588, and the intent of Congress in enacting this law, we are unable to change them.

Finally, this commentator said he had difficulty in understanding the amendment to § 3.660(b)(2). There was no substantive change made in this section. The wording was changed to eliminate obsolete section 306 pension terminology. Section 3.660(b)(2) will continue to be applied essentially as it has in the past.

Based on our own review, we have made a number of changes in the proposed regulations. Some of the changes are of a very minor nature and are being made without comment. The major changes are discussed below.

Section 3.23 has been amended to delete the rates for surviving children. This section now contains just the rates for veterans and surviving spouses.

The rates for surviving children have been placed in § 3.24. In addition this section has been amended to state that its provisions apply to children of a deceased veteran not in custody of a surviving spouse who has basic eligibility to receive improved pension. The term "basic eligibility to receive improved pension" is defined in § 3.24. In addition, § 3.24 now states that children in custody of a surviving spouse who has basic eligibility to receive improved pension do not have separate entitlement to pension. This section has also been amended to provide rules for determining the combined rate of pension payable to multiple children in custody of a person legally responsible for support. This will permit use of a consolidated award for all entitled children, an easier and more economical procedure.

Section 3.57(d) has been revised to more clearly define the term "child custody". In addition, a definition of the term "person legally responsible for support" has been added to this section. Section 3.57(d) has been further amended to indicate that a person who has custody of a child at age 18 will be presumed to retain custody for periods after the child's 18th birthday. This latter provision applies only for the purpose of determining whether pension is payable under §§ 3.23 and 3.24.

The rules for rate computation contained in § 3.273 have been simplified. Calendar year computations have been eliminated. The rate of improved pension will be determined on an annual rate of income basis for both initial and running awards.

To accommodate the annual rate of income concept, amendments have been made to § 3.272 to provide that the amount of medical expenses to be excluded must exceed 5 percent of the maximum annual rate or rates of pension for the beneficiary during the year in which the medical expenses were paid.

We have amended § 3.551(c) to provide rules for reduction because of hospitalization when a veteran is transferred from a domiciliary to hospital or nursing home or vice-versa. This section has also been amended to provide that a veteran who has a child for whom no pension is being paid by reason of the size of the child's estate (38 U.S.C. 522(b)) is not subject to reduction for hospitalization or domiciliary care.

In our amendment of § 3.551(d) we unintentionally said that periods of 60 consecutive days of treatment would be considered two calendar months of hospitalization and 90 consecutive days, three calendar months. The final regulation has been changed to substitute the word "total" for "consecutive".

Section 3.656(d) has been amended to make its provisions applicable to the improved pension program. No amendment was made to this section in the proposed regulations.

Section 3.701(a) is amended to provide that the election of improved pension by a surviving spouse controls the claims of all children including those over age 18 and those not in the custody of the surviving spouse provided that the election of improved pension by the surviving spouse shall not prejudice the rights of any children receiving an apportionment on December 31, 1978.

Section 3.713 has been amended to provide that an election of improved pension filed prior to October 1, 1979, may be effective later than January 1, 1979, if to the claimant's advantage.

The Veterans' and Survivors' Pension Improvement Act of 1978, Pub. L. 95–588, provides that whenever there is a cost-of-living increase under section 215(i) of Title II of the Social Security Act, the Veterans Administration shall, effective on the date the cost-of-living increase becomes effective, increase by the same percentage (1) the maximum annual rates of pension authorized by Pub. L. 95–588, (2) the maximum annual income limitations applicable to the pension programs in effect on June 30, 1960, and December 31, 1978, (3) the amount of the exclusion of a veteran's spouse's income in determining a couple's countable income under the provisions of the pension program in effect on December 31, 1978, and (4) the maximum annual income limitations and rate formulae applicable to parents' dependency and indemnity compensation (DIC). The Social Security Administration reported that the cost-of-living increase will be 9.9 percent and the aforementioned rates and income limitations will be increased by that percentage, effective June 1, 1979.

These increases were announced on Tuesday, May 15, 1979 (44 FR 28328). The announcement, however, failed to state that the additional $800 payable to Mexican border or World War I veteran is to be increased to $880 effective June 1, 1979. In addition, the announcement incorrectly stated that the maximum DIC rate for one parent was $179 and the maximum rate for two parents not living together was $126. The correct rates are $180 and $127, respectively.

The rate and income limitations set forth in §§ 3.23, 3.24, 3.25, 3.26 and 3.262(b)(2) are those that are effective June 1, 1979. The omission and errors noted above have been corrected in §§ 3.23 and 3.25.

The final regulations are set forth below.

Approved: July 27, 1979.

By direction of the Administrator.

Rufus H. Wilson,

Deputy Administrator.

(b) Reduction for income. The maximum rates of improved pension in paragraph (a) of this section shall be reduced by the amount of the countable annual income of the veteran or surviving spouse. (38 U.S.C. 521, 541.)

(c) Mexican border period and World War I veterans. The applicable maximum annual rate payable to a Mexican border period or World War I veteran under this section shall be increased by $880. (38 U.S.C. 521(g).)

(d) Definitions of terms used in this section—(1) Dependent. A veteran's spouse or child. A veteran's spouse who resides apart from the veteran and is estranged from the veteran may not be considered the veteran's dependent unless the spouse receives reasonable support contributions from the veteran. (Note that under § 3.60 a veteran and spouse who reside apart are considered to be living together unless they are estranged.) A child of a veteran not in custody of the veteran and to whose support the veteran is not reasonably contributing, may not be considered the veteran's dependent. (38 U.S.C. 521(b).)

(2) In need of aid and attendance. As defined in § 3.351(b).

(3) Housebound. As defined in § 3.351(d)(2), (f). This term also includes a veteran who has a disability or disabilities evaluated as 60 percent or more disabling in addition to a permanent and totally disabling condition. See § 3.351(d)(1).

(4) Veteran's annual income. This term includes the veteran's annual income, the annual income of the veteran's dependent spouse, and the annual income of each child of the veteran (other than a child for whom increased pension is not payable under 38 U.S.C. 522(b)) in the veteran's custody or to whose support the veteran is reasonably contributing (to the extent such child's income is reasonably available to or for the veteran, unless in the judgment of the Veterans Administration to do so would work a hardship on the veteran.) There is a rebuttable presumption that all of such a child's income is reasonably available to or for the veteran. (38 U.S.C. 521 (c), (h).)

(5) Surviving spouse's annual income. This term includes the surviving spouse's annual income and the annual income of each child of the veteran (other than a child for whom increased pension is not payable under 38 U.S.C. 543(a)(2)) in the custody of the surviving spouse to the extent that such child's income is reasonably available to or for the surviving spouse, unless in the judgment of the Veterans Administration to do so would work a hardship on the surviving spouse. There is a rebuttable presumption that all of such a child's income is available to or for the surviving spouse. (38 U.S.C. 541 (c), (h).)

Cross References: Improved pension. See §3.1(w). Child. See § 3.57(d). Definition of "living with". See § 3.60. Exclusions from income. See § 3.272.

§ 3.24 Improved pension rates; surviving children.

(a) General. The provisions of this section apply to children of a deceased veteran not in the custody of a surviving spouse who has basic eligibility to receive improved pension. Children in custody of a surviving spouse who has basic eligibility to receive improved pension do not have separate entitlement. Basic eligibility to receive improved pension means that the surviving spouse is in receipt of improved pension or could become entitled to receive improved pension except for the amount of the surviving spouse's countable annual income or the size of the surviving spouse's estate (See § 3.274(c)). Under § 3.23(d)(5) the countable annual income of a surviving spouse includes the countable annual income of each child of the veteran in custody of the surviving spouse to the extent the child's income is reasonably available to or for the surviving spouse, unless in the judgment of the Veterans Administration to do so would work a hardship on the surviving spouse.

(b) Child with no personal custodian or in the custody of an institution. In cases in which there is no personal custodian, i.e., there is no person who has the legal right to exercise parental control and responsibility for the child's welfare (See §3.57(d)), or the child is in the custody of an institution, pension shall be paid to the child at the annual rate of $660 reduced by the amount of the child's countable annual income.

(c) Child in the custody of person legally responsible for support—(1) Single child. Pension shall be paid to a child in the custody of a person legally responsible for the child's supprt at an annual rate equal to the difference between the rate for a surviving spouse and one child under § 3.23(a)(5)(ii), and the sum of the annual income of such child and the annual income of such person. The amount payable, however, may not exceed the amount by which $660 exceeds the child's countable annual income.

(2) More than one child. Pension shall be paid to children in the custody of a person legally responsible for the children's support at an annual rate equal to the difference between the rate for a surviving spouse and an equivalent number of children (but not including any child who has countable annual income equal to or greater than $660) and the sum of the countable annual income of the person legally responsible for support and the combined countable annual income of the children (but not including the income of any child whose countable annual income is equal to or greater than $660). The combined amount payable, however, may not exceed the amount by which $660 times the number of eligible children exceeds the sum of the children's countable annual income. (38 U.S.C. 542.)

Cross References: Child. See § 3.57(d). Exclusions from income. See § 3.272.

§ 3.25 Parents' dependency and indemnity compensation rates.

Dependency and indemnity compensation (DIC) shall be paid monthly to parents of a deceased veteran in the following amounts. (38 U.S.C. 415)

(a) One parent. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, if there is only one parent the monthly rate of DIC paid to such parent shall be $180 reduced on the basis of the parent's annual income according to the following formula:

For Each $1 Of Annual Income

	Which is more than—	But not more than—
The $180 monthly rate shall be reduced by:
$0.00	0	$800
.03	$800	900
.04	900	1,000
.06	1,000	1,200
.07	1,200	1,500
.08	1,500	4,438

No DIC is payable under this paragraph if annual income exceeds $4,438.

(b) One parent who has remarried. If there is only one parent and the parent has remarried and is living with the parent's spouse, DIC shall be paid under paragraph (a) or under paragraph (d) of this section, whichever shall result in the greater benefit being paid to the veteran's parent. In the case of remarriage, the total combined annual income of the parent and the parent's spouse shall be counted in determining the monthly rate of DIC.

(c) Two parents not living together. The rates in this paragraph apply to (1) two parents who are not living together, or (2) an unremarried parent when both parents are living and the other parent has remarried. The monthly rate of DIC paid to each such parent shall be $127, reduced on the basis of each parent's annual income, according to the following formula:

For Each $1 Of Annual Income Of Each Parent

	Which is more than—	But not more than—
The $127 monthly rate shall be reduced by:
$0.00	0	$800
.02	$800	1,000
.04	1,000	1,100
.05	1,100	1,400
.06	1,400	2,000
.07	2,000	2,700
.08	2,700	4,438

No DIC is payable under this paragraph if annual income exceeds $4,438.

(d) Two parents living together or remarried parents living with spouses. The rates in this paragraph apply to (1) each parent living with another parent; and (2) each remarried parent, when both parents are alive. The monthly rate of DIC paid to such parents will be $120, reduced on the basis of the combined annual income of the two parents living together or the remarried parent or parents and spouse or spouses, as computed under the following formula:

For Each $1 Of Combined Annual Income

	Which is more than—	But not more than—
The $120 monthly rate shall be reduced by:
$0.00	0	$1,000
.02	$1,000	1,700
.03	1,700	2,300
.04	2,300	3,300
.05	3,300	5,968

No DIC is payable under this paragraph if combined annual income exceeds $5,968.

The rates in this paragraph are also applicable in the case of one surviving parent who has remarried, computed on the basis of the combined income of the parent and spouse, if this would be a greater benefit than that specified in paragraph (a) of this section for one parent.

(e) The monthly rate of DIC payable to a parent under this section shall be increased by $94 if such parent is (1) a patient in a nursing home, or (2) helpless or blind, or so nearly helpless or blind as to need or require the regular aid and attendance of another person.

(f) The monthly rate of DIC payable to any parent under this section shall not be less than $5.

§ 3.27 Automatic adjustment of benefit rates.

(a) Improved pension. Whenever there is a cost-of-living increase in benefit amounts payable under section 215(i) of Title II of the Social Security Act, the Veterans Administration shall, effective on the dates such increases become effective, increase by the same percentage each maximum annual rate of pension specified in § 3.23 and § 3.24. (38 U.S.C. 3112(a))

(b) Parents' dependency and indemnity compensation—(1) Maximum annual income limitation and maximum monthly rates. Whenever there is a cost-of-living increase in benefit amounts payable under section 215(i) of Title II of the Social Security Act, the Veterans Administration shall, effective on the dates such increases become effective, increase by the same percentage the maximum monthly rates of dependency and indemnity compensation for parents specified in § 3.25(a), (c) and (d), the monthly rate specified in § 3.25(e), and the annual income limitations prescribed in § 3.25(a), (c) and (d). (38 U.S.C. 3112(b)(1))

(2) Formula adjustment. Whenever there is an increase in the rates and income limitations applicable to parents' dependency and indemnity compensation under paragraph (b)(1) of this section, the Veterans Administration shall, effective on the date of such increase, adjust correspondingly the formulas for determining the rates of parents' dependency and indemnity compensation as specified in § 3.25(a) and (c) for a parent whose countable annual income is more than $800 but not more than the maximum specified therein, and in § 3.25(d) for a parent whose countable annual income is more than $1,000 but not more than the maximum specified therein. (38 U.S.C. 3112(b)(2)(A))

(c) Publishing requirements. Increases in pension rates and parents' dependency and indemnity compensation rates and income limitation made under this section shall be published in the Federal Register. (38 U.S.C. 3112(c)(1))

§ 3.28 Automatic adjustment of section 306 and old-law pension income limitations.

Whenever the maximum rates of pension specified in § 3.23 are increased by reason of the provisions of 38 U.S.C. 3112, the following will be increased by the same percentage effective the same date:

(a) The maximum annual income limitations applicable to continued receipt of section 306 and old-law pension; and

(b) The dollar amount of a veteran's spouse's income specified in § 3.262(b)(2) as excludable in determining the income of a veteran for section 306 pension purposes.

These increases shall be published in the Federal Register at the same time that increases in the rates specified in § 3.23 and § 3.24 are so published. (Section 306, Pub. L. 95–588, 92 Stat. 2497.)

Cross References: Section 306 and old-law pension rates. See § 3.26. Section 306 and old-law pension protection. See § 3.960.

§ 3.29 Rounding.

Where the computation of an increase in improved pension rates under §§ 3.23 and 3.24 would otherwise result in a figure which includes a fraction of a dollar, the benefit rate will be adjusted to the next higher dollar amount. This method of computation will also apply to increases in old-law and section 306 pension annual income limitations under § 3.26, including the income of a spouse which is excluded from a veteran's countable income, and parents' dependency and indemnity compensation benefit rates and annual income limitations under § 3.25. (38 U.S.C. 3112(c)(2)).

(c) Semiannually. Payment shall be made every 6 months on or about June 1, and December 1, if the annual rate payable is at least $20 but less than $40.

(d) Annually. Payment shall be made annually on or about June 1, if the annual rate payable is less than $20.

(b) By adding paragraph (d) as set forth below:

§ 3.57 Child.

(d) Definition of "child custody". The provisions of this paragraph are for the purpose of determining entitlement to improved pension under §§ 3.23 and 3.24.

(1) Custody of a child shall be considered to rest with a veteran, surviving spouse of a veteran or person legally responsible for the child's support if that person has the legal right to exercise parental control and responsibility for the welfare and care of the child. A child of the veteran residing with the veteran, surviving spouse of the veteran who is the child's natural or adoptive parent, or person legally responsible for the child's support shall be presumed to be in the custody of that individual. Where the veteran, surviving spouse, or person legally responsible for the child's support has not been divested of legal custody, but the child is not residing with that individual, the child shall be considered in the custody of the individual for purposes of Veterans Administration benefits.

(2) The term "person legally responsible for the child's support" means a person who is under a legally imposed obligation (e.g., by statute or court order) to provide for the child's support, as well as a natural or adoptive parent who has not been divested of legal custody. If the child's natural or adoptive parent has remarried, the stepparent may also be considered a person legally responsible for the child's support. A child shall be considered in the joint custody of his or her stepparent and natural or adoptive parent so long as the natural or adoptive parent and the stepparent are not estranged and residing apart, and the natural or adoptive parent has not been divested of legal custody. When a child is in such joint custody the combined income of the natural or adoptive parent and the stepparent shall be included as income of the person legally responsible for support under § 3.24(c).

(3) A person having custody of a child prior to the time the child attains age 18 shall be considered to retain custody of the child for periods on and after the child's 18th birthday, unless the person is divested of legal custody. This applies without regard to when a child reaches the age of majority under applicable State law. This also applies without regard to whether the child was entitled to pension prior to age 18, or whether increased pension was payable to a veteran or surviving spouse on behalf of the child prior to the child's 18th birthday. If the child's custodian dies after the child has attained age 18, the child shall be considered to be in custody of a successor custodian provided the successor custodian has the right to exercise parental control and responsibility for the welfare and care of the child. (38 U.S.C. 210(c), 521(c), 541(c).)

For the purposes of determining entitlement to pension under 38 U.S.C. 521, a person shall be considered as living with his or her spouse even though they reside apart unless they are estranged. (38 U.S.C. 521(h)(2)).

11. Immediately preceding § 3.250 and following the centerhead "DEPENDENCY, INCOME AND ESTATE" add "Regulations Applicable to Programs in Effect Prior to January 1, 1979".

12. In § 3.252, paragraph (a) is revised to read as follows:

(a) Annual income limitations; old-law pension. Where the right to old-law pension is payable under section 306(b) of Pub. L. 95–588 (92 Stat. 2497), pension is not payable if the pensioner's annual income exceeds the income limitations prescribed by § 3.26(b).

(2) Veterans. The separate income of the spouse of a disabled veteran who is entitled to pension under laws in effect on June 30, 1960, will not be considered. Where pension is payable under Section 306(a) of Pub. L. 95–588, to a veteran who is living with a spouse there will be included as income of the veteran all income of the spouse in excess of whichever is the greater, $1,413 ($1,285 after December 31, 1978, and prior to June 1, 1979) or the total earned income of the spouse, which is reasonably available to or for the veteran, unless hardship to the veteran would result. The presumption that inclusion of such income is available to the veteran and would not work a hardship on him or her may be rebutted by evidence of unavailability or of expenses beyond the usual family requirements. § 3.271 Computation of income.

(a) General. Payments of any kind from any source shall be counted as income in the year in which received unless specifically excluded under § 3.272.

(b) Salary. Salary means the gross amount of a person's earnings or wages before any deductions are made for such things as taxes, insurance, retirement plans, social security, etc.

(c) Business, farm or professional income. (1) This includes gross income from a business, farm or profession as reduced by the necessary operating expenses such as cost of goods sold, or expenditures for rent, taxes, and upkeep, or costs of repairs or replacements. The value of an increase in stock inventory of a business is not considered income.

(2) Depreciation is not a deductible expense.

(3) A loss sustained in operating a business, profession, farm, or from investments, may not be deducted from income derived from any other source.

(d) Income from property. Income from real or personal property is countable as income of the property's owner. The terms of a recorded deed or other evidence of title shall constitute evidence of ownership. This includes property acquired through purchase, gift, devise, or descent. If property is owned jointly, income of the various owners shall be determined in proportion to shares of ownership of the property. The owner's shares of income held in partnership shall be determined on the basis of the facts found.

(e) Installments. Income shall be determined by the total amount received or anticipated during the calendar year.

(f) Deferred determinations. When an individual is unable to predict with certainty the amount of countable annual income, the annual rate of improved pension shall be reduced by the greatest amount of anticipated countable income until the end of the year, when total income received during the year will be determined and adjustments in pension payable made accordingly.

(g) Compensation (civilian) for injury or death. Compensation paid by the United States Department of Labor, Office of Workers' Compensation Programs, Social Security Administration, or the Railroad Retirement Board, or pursuant to any worker's compensation or employer's liability statute, or damages collected because of personal injury or death, will be considered income as received. However, medical, legal or other expenses incident to the injury or death, or incident to the collection or recovery of the amount of the award or settlement, may be deducted. The criteria in § 3.272(g) apply as to all medical expenditures after the award or settlement. (38 U.S.C. 210(c))

(h) Fractions of dollars. Fractions of dollars will be disregarded in computing annual income.

§ 3.272 Exclusions from income.

(b) Maintenance. The value of maintenance furnished by a relative, friend, or a charitable organization (civic or governmental) will not be considered income. Where the individual is maintained in a rest home or other community institution or facility, public or private, because of impaired health or advanced age, money paid to the home or the individual to cover the cost of maintenance will not be considered income, regardless of whether it is furnished by a relative, friend, or charitable organization. The expense of maintenance is not deductible if it is paid from the individual's income. (38 U.S.C. 210(c), 503(a)(1))

(c) Veterans Administration pension benefits. Payments under chapter 15 of title 38, United States Code. (38 U.S.C. 503(a)(2))

(d) Fire insurance. Proceeds of fire insurance policies. (38 U.S.C. 503(a)(5))

(e) Profit from sale of property. Profit realized from the disposition of real or personal property other than in the course of business, except amounts received in excess of the sales price, for example, interest on deferred sales is included as income. In installment sales, any payments received until the sales price is recovered are not included as income, but any amounts received which exceed the sales price are included, regardless of whether they represent principal or interest. (38 U.S.C. 503(a)(6))

(f) Joint accounts. Amounts in joint accounts in banks and similar institutions acquired by reason of death of the other joint owner. (38 U.S.C. 503(a)(7))

(g) Medical expenses. Within the provisions of the following subparagraphs, there will be excluded from the amount of an individual's annual income any unreimbursed amounts which have been paid within the year for medical expenses regardless of the year the indebtedness was incurred. An estimate based on a clear and reasonable expectation that unusual medical expenditure will be realized may be accepted for the purpose of authorizing prospective payments of benefits subject to necessary adjustment in the award upon receipt of an amended estimate, or after the end of the year upon receipt of an income questionnaire. (38 U.S.C. 503(a)(8))

(1) Veteran's income. Unreimbursed medical expenses will be excluded when all of the following requirements are met:

However if payment is made during the year following that in which the death occurred, the deduction may be taken from the annual rate of income for the year of the last illness or burial if to do so is advantageous to the beneficiary. (38 U.S.C. 210(c))

(1) Veteran's final expenses. (i) Amounts paid by a spouse or child before a veteran's death for expenses of the veteran's last illness will be deducted from the income of the surviving spouse or child.

Unusual transportation expenses are those exceeding the reasonable expenses which would have been incurred by a nondisabled person using an appropriate means of transportation (public transportation, if reasonably available). § 3.273 Rate computation.

(a) Initial award. For the purpose of determining initial entitlement, or for resuming payments on an award which was previously discontinued, the monthly rate of pension payable to a beneficiary shall be computed by reducing the beneficiary's applicable maximum pension rate by the beneficiary's annual rate of countable income on the effective date of entitlement and dividing the remainder by 12.

(b) Running awards.—(1) Change in maximum annual pension rate. Whenever there is a change in a beneficiary's applicable maximum annual pension rate, the monthly rate of pension payable shall be computed by reducing the new applicable maximum annual pension rate by the beneficiary's annual rate of countable income on the effective date of the change in the applicable maximum annual pension rate, and dividing the remainder by 12.

(2) Change in annual rate of income. Whenever there is a change in a beneficiary's annual rate of countable income the monthly rate of pension payable shall be computed by reducing the beneficiary's applicable maximum annual pension rate by the beneficiary's new annual rate of countable income on the effective date of the change in the annual rate of income, and dividing the remainder by 12.

(c) Nonrecurring income. The amount of any nonrecurring countable income (e.g. an inheritance) received by a beneficiary shall be added to the beneficiary's annual rate of income for a 12-month period commencing on the effective date on which the nonrecurring income is countable. (38 U.S.C. 210(c))

§ 3.274 Relationship of net worth to pension entitlement.

(a) Veteran. Pension shall be denied or discontinued when the corpus of the estate of the veteran, and of the veteran's spouse, are such that under all the circumstances, including consideration of the annual income of the veteran, the veteran's spouse, and the veteran's children, it is reasonable that some part of the corpus of such estates be consumed for the veteran's maintenance. (38 U.S.C. 522(a))

(b) Increased pension payable to a veteran for a child. Increased pension payable to a veteran on account of a child shall be denied or discontinued when the corpus of the estate of the child is such that under all the circumstances including consideration of the veteran's and spouse's income and the income of the veteran's child or children, it is reasonable that some part of the corpus of such child's estate be consumed for the child's maintenance. (38 U.S.C. 522(b))

(c) Surviving spouse. Pension payable to a surviving spouse shall be denied or discontinued when the corpus of the estate of the surviving spouse is such that under all the circumstances, including consideration of the surviving spouse's income and the income of any child for whom the surviving spouse is receiving pension, it is reasonable that some part of the corpus of the surviving spouse's estate be consumed for the surviving spouse's maintenance. (38 U.S.C. 543(a)(1))

(d) Increased pension payable to a surviving spouse for a child. Increased pension payable to a surviving spouse on account of a child shall be denied or discontinued when the corpus of the estate of the child is such that under all the circumstances, including consideration of the income of the surviving spouse and child and the income of any other child for whom the surviving spouse is receiving increased pension, it is reasonable that some part of the corpus of the child's estate be consumed for the maintenance of the child. (38 U.S.C. 543(a)(2))

(e) Child. Pension payable to a child shall be denied or discontinued when the corpus of the estate of the child is such that under all the circumstances, including consideration of the income of the child, the income of any person with whom the child is residing who is legally responsible for such child's support, and the corpus of estate of such person, it is reasonable that some part of the corpus of such estates be consumed for the child's maintenance. (38 U.S.C. 543(b))

§ 3.275 Criteria for evaluating net worth.

(a) General. The following rules are for application in determining the corpus of estate or net worth of a veteran, surviving spouse or child under § 3.274.

(b) Definition. The terms "corpus of estate" and "net worth" mean the market value, less mortgages or other encumbrances, of all real and personal property owned by the claimant, except the claimant's dwelling (single family unit), including a reasonable lot area, and personal effects suitable to and consistent with the claimant's reasonable mode of life.

(c) Ownership. See § 3.271(d).

(d) Evaluation. In determining whether some part of the claimant's estate (or combined estates under § 3.274 (a) and (e)) should be consumed for the claimant's maintenance, consideration will be given to the amount of the claimant's income together with the following: whether the property can be readily converted into cash at no substantial sacrifice; life expectancy; number of dependents who meet the definition of "member of the family" (the definition contained in § 3.250(b)(2) is applicable to the improved pension program); potential rate of depletion, including unusual medical expenses under the principles outlined in § 3.272(g) for the claimant and the claimant's dependents.

(e) Educational expenses. There shall be excluded from the corpus of estate or net worth of a child reasonable amounts for actual or prospective educational or vocational expenses. The amount so excluded shall not be such as to provide for education or training beyond age 23. (38 U.S.C. 210(c))

§ 3.276 Certain transfers or waivers disregarded.

(a) Waiver of receipt of income. Potential income, not excludable under § 3.272 and whose receipt has been waived by an individual, shall be included as countable income of that individual for Veterans Administration pension purposes.

(b) Transfer of assets. For pension purposes, a gift of property made by an individual to a relative residing in the same household shall not be recognized as reducing the corpus of the grantor's estate. A sale of property to such a relative shall not be recognized as reducing the corpus of the seller's estate if the purchase price, or other consideration for the sale, is so low as to be tantamount to a gift. A gift of property to someone other than a relative residing in the grantor's household will not be recognized as reducing the corpus of the grantor's estate unless it is clear that the grantor has relinquished all rights of ownership, including the right of control of the property. (38 U.S.C. 210(c))

§ 3.277 Income and net worth reports.

(a) Evidence of entitlement. As a condition of granting or continuing pension, the Veterans Administration may require from any person who is an applicant for or a recipient of pension such information, proofs, and evidence as is necessary to determine the annual income and the value of the corpus of the estate of such person, and of any spouse or child for whom the person is receiving or is to receive increased pension (such child is hereinafter in this section referred to as a "dependent child"), and, in the case of a child applying for or in receipt of pension in his or her own behalf (hereinafter in this section referred to as a "surviving child"), of any person with whom such child is residing who is legally responsible for such child's support.

(b) Required annual report. It is required that every pension applicant or beneficiary file a report each year, showing:

(1) The annual income which such applicant or beneficiary (and any such person's spouse or dependent child) received during the preceding year, the corpus of the estate of such applicant or beneficiary (and of any such person's spouse or dependent child) at the end of such year, and in the case of a surviving child, the income and corpus of the estate of any person with whom such child is residing who is legally responsible for such child's support;

(2) The applicant's or beneficiary's estimate for the then current year of the annual income such applicant or beneficiary (and any such person's spouse or dependent child) expects to receive and of any expected increase in the value of the corpus of the estate of such applicant or beneficiary (and for any such person's spouse or dependent child); and in the case of a surviving child, an estimate for the then current year of the annual income of any person with whom such child is residing who is legally responsible for such child's support, and of any expected increase in the value of the corpus of the estate of such person;

(c) Required revised report. It is required that any pension applicant or beneficiary promptly file a revised report whenever there is a material change in the estimated annual income of such applicant or beneficiary (or of any such person's spouse or dependent child) or a material change in such applicant's or beneficiary's estimate of the value of the corpus of the estate of such applicant or beneficiary (or of any such person's spouse or dependent child), and in the case of a surviving child, a material change in the estimated annual income or value of the corpus of the estate of any person with whom such child is residing who is legally responsible for such child's support; it is also required that any such applicant or beneficiary applying for or in receipt of increased pension on account of a person who is a spouse or child of such applicant or beneficiary promptly notify the Veterans Administration if such person ceases to meet the applicable definition of spouse or child. (38 U.S.C. 506(a))

16. Section 3.351 is revised to read as follows:

§ 3.351 Special monthly dependency and indemnity compensation, death compensation, pension and spouse's compensation ratings.

(a) General. This section sets forth criteria for determining whether:

(1) Increased pension is payable to a veteran by reason of need for aid and attendance or by reason of being housebound. (38 U.S.C. 521(d), (e))

(2) Increased compensation is payable to a veteran by reason of the veteran's spouse being in need of aid and attendance. (38 U.S.C. 315(1)(I))

(3) Increased dependency and indemnity compensation is payable to a surviving spouse or parent by reason of being in need of aid and attendance. (38 U.S.C. 411(c), 415(h))

(6) Increased death compensation is payable to a surviving spouse by reason of being in need of aid and attendance. (38 U.S.C. 322)

(b) Aid and attendance; need. Need for aid and attendance means helplessness or being so nearly helpless as to require the regular aid and attendance of another person. The criteria set forth in paragraph (c) of this section will be applied in determining whether such need exists.

(c) Aid and attendance; criteria. The veteran, spouse, surviving spouse or parent will be considered in need of regular aid and attendance if he or she:

(1) Is blind or so nearly blind as to have corrected visual acuity of 5/200 or less, in both eyes, or concentric contraction of the visual field to 5 degrees or less; or

(2) Is a patient in a nursing home because of mental or physical incapacity; or

(3) Establishes a factual need for aid and attendance under the criteria set forth in § 3.352(a). (38 U.S.C. 502(b))

(d) Housebound, or permanent and total plus 60 percent; disability pension. The rate of pension payable to a veteran who is entitled to pension under 38 U.S.C. 521 and who is not in need of regular aid and attendance shall be as prescribed in 38 U.S.C. 521(e) if, in addition to having a single permanent disability rated 100 percent disabling under the Schedule for Rating Disabilities (not including ratings based upon unemployability under § 4.17 of this chapter) the veteran:

(1) Has additional disability or disabilities independently ratable at 60 percent or more, separate and distinct from the permanent disability rated as 100 percent disabling and involving different anatomical segments or bodily systems, or

(2) Is "permanently housebound" by reason of disability or disabilities. This requirement is met when the veteran is substantially confined to his or her dwelling and the immediate premises or, if institutionalized, to the ward or clinical area, and it is reasonably certain that the disability or disabilities and resultant confinement will continue throughout his or her lifetime. (38 U.S.C. 502(c), 521(e))

(e) Housebound; dependency and indemnity compensation. The monthly rate of dependency and indemnity compensation payable to a surviving spouse who does not qualify for increased dependency and indemnity compensation under 38 U.S.C. 411(c) based on need for regular aid and attendance shall be increased by the amount specified in 38 U.S.C. 411(d) if the surviving spouse is permanently housebound by reason of disability. The "permanently housebound" requirement is met when the surviving spouse is substantially confined to his or her home (ward or clinical areas, if institutionalized) or immediate premises by reason of disability or disabilities which it is reasonably certain will remain throughout the surviving spouse's lifetime. (38 U.S.C. 411(d))

(f) Housebound; improved pension; death. The annual rate of death pension payable to a surviving spouse who does not qualify for an annual rate of death pension payable under § 3.23(a)(6) based on need for aid and attendance shall be as set forth in § 3.23(a)(7) if the surviving spouse is permanently housebound by reason of disability. The "permanently housebound" requirement is met when the surviving spouse is substantially confined to his or her home (ward or clinical areas, if institutionalized) or immediate premises by reason of disability or disabilities which it is reasonably certain will remain throughout the surviving spouse's lifetime. (38 U.S.C. 541(e))

(b) By deleting "widow" and inserting "surviving spouse" in paragraph (g).

(c) By revoking paragraph (h).

(d) By revising paragraph (a)(1)(ii) and (2), (c), and (e) to read as follows:

(a)(1) All or any part of the pension, compensation, or emergency officers' retirement pay payable on account of any veteran may be apportioned.

* * * * *

(ii) If the veteran is not residing with his or her spouse, or if the veteran's children are not residing with the veteran and the veteran is not reasonably discharging his or her responsibility for the spouse's or children's support.

(2) Where any of the children of a deceased veteran are not living with the veteran's surviving spouse, the pension, compensation, or dependency and indemnity compensation otherwise payable to the surviving spouse may be apportioned. (38 U.S.C. 3107)

* * * * *

(c) No apportionment will be made where the veteran, the veteran's spouse (when paid "as wife" or "as husband"), surviving spouse, or fiduciary is providing for dependents. The additional benefits for such dependents will be paid to the veteran, spouse, surviving spouse, or fiduciary.

* * * * *

(e) The amount payable for a child in custody of and residing with the surviving spouse shall be paid to the surviving spouse. Amounts payable to a surviving spouse for a child in the

* * * * *

(h) [Revoked]

18. Section 3.451 is revised (gender changes only) to read as follows:

§ 3.451 Special apportionments.

Without regard to any other provision regarding apportionment where hardship is shown to exist, pension, compensation, emergency officers' retirement pay, or dependency and indemnity compensation may be specially apportioned between the veteran and his or her dependents or the surviving spouse and children on the basis of the facts in the individual case as long as it does not cause undue hardship to the other persons in interest, except as to those cases covered by § 3.458(b) and (c). In determining the basis for special apportionment, consideration will be given such factors as: Amount of Veterans Administration benefits payable; other resources and income of the veteran and those dependents in whose behalf apportionment is claimed; and special needs of the veteran, his or her dependents, and the apportionment claimants. The amount apportioned should generally be consistent with the total number of dependents involved. Ordinarily, apportionment of more than 50 percent of the veteran's benefits would constitute undue hardship on him or her while apportionment of less than 20 percent of his or her benefits would not provide a reasonable amount for any apportionee.

19. In § 3.452, paragraphs (a) and (c) are revised to read as follows:

§ 3.452 Veterans benefits apportionable.

Veterans benefits may be apportioned:

(a) If the veteran is not residing with his or her spouse or his or her children and a claim for apportionment is filed for or on behalf of the spouse or children.

* * * * *

(c)(1) Where an incompetent veteran without a fiduciary is receiving institutional care by the United States or a political subdivision, his or her benefit may be apportioned for a spouse or child, or, except as provided in paragraph (c)(3), for a dependent parent, unless such benefit is paid to a spouse ("as wife" or "as husband") for the use of the veteran and his or her dependents.

(2) Where benefits for an incompetent veteran are discontinued under the provisions of § 3.557(b), because of hospitalization by the U.S. Government or any political subdivision, there may be paid to his or her dependent parent or parents on the basis of need as determined by the Veterans' Services Officer all or any part of the benefit which would otherwise be payable. (38 U.S.C. 3203(b)(2))

(3) Where a married veteran is receiving section 306 or improved pension and the amount payable is reduced under § 3.551(c) because of hospitalization, an apportionment may be paid to the veteran's spouse as provided in § 3.454(b). (38 U.S.C. 3203(a))

* * * * *

20. Section 3.454 is amended as follows:

(a) By deleting "wife, husband" and inserting "spouse" in the first and last sentence of paragraph (a).

§ 3.454 Veterans disability pension.

Apportionment of disability pension will be as follows:

* * * * *

(b) (1) Where the amount of section 306 pension payable to a married veteran under 38 U.S.C. 521(b), as in effect on December 31, 1978, is reduced to $60 monthly under § 3.551(c), an apportionment may be made to such veteran's spouse upon an affirmative showing of hardship. The amount of the apportionment generally will be the difference between $60 and the total amount of pension payable on December 31, 1978. (38 U.S.C. 3203(a))

(2) Where the amount of improved pension payable to a married veteran under 38 U.S.C. 521(b) is reduced to $60 monthly under § 3.551(c), an apportionment may be made to such veteran's spouse upon an affirmative showing of hardship. The amount of the apportionment generally will be the difference between $60 and the rate payable if pension was being paid under 38 U.S.C. 521(c) including the additional amount payable under 38 U.S.C. 521(e) if the veteran is so entitled. (38 U.S.C. 3203(a))

(c) Where section 306 pension for an incompetent veteran is subject both to reduction under § 3.551(c), and to discontinuance under § 3.557(b) because of hospitalization by the U.S. Government or any political subdivision, the rate authorized for a parent or parents will not exceed $60 monthly. (Pub. L. 86-146, 73 Stat. 297; Pub. L. 86-211, 73 Stat. 432; Pub. L. 93-177, 87 Stat. 694; Pub. L. 95-588, 92 Stat. 2497)

(d) Where improved pension for an incompetent veteran is subject both to reduction under § 3.551(c), and to discontinuance under § 3.557(b) because of hospitalization by the U.S. Government or any political subdivision, the rate authorized for a parent or parents will not exceed $60 monthly. 22. Section 3.459 is amended by deleting "widow or widower" and inserting "surviving spouse" in paragraphs (a) and (b).

23. Section 3.460 is amended as follows:

(a) By deleting "wife or husband" and inserting "spouse" in the introductory portion preceding paragraph (a).

(b) Paragraph (b) is revised and paragraph (c) is added so that the revised and added material reads as follows:

§ 3.460 Death pension.

* * * * *

(b) Section 306 and old-law death pension. Appointment of benefits provided under these pension programs will be at rates approved by the Chief Benefits Director except when the facts and circumstances in a case warrant special apportionment under § 3.451. (38 U.S.C. 3107)

(c) Improved death pension. Apportionment of the benefits provided under this program shall be made under the special apportionment provision of § 3.451. (38 U.S.C. 3107)

24. In § 3.501, paragraph (i)(2) is revised to read as follows:

§ 3.501 Veterans.

The effective date of discontinuance of pension or compensation to or for a veteran will be the earliest of the dates stated in this section. Where an award is reduced, the reduced rate will be payable the day following the date of discontinuance of the greater benefit.

(i) Hospitalization. * * *

(2) § 3.551(c). (i) First day of the third calendar month following admission to domiciliary care if veteran without spouse or child or, though married, is receiving pension at the rate for a veteran without dependents. (38 U.S.C. 3203(a))

(ii) First day of the fourth calendar month following admission for hospital or nursing home care if veteran without spouse or child or, though married, is receiving pension at the rate provided for a veteran without dependents. (38 U.S.C. 3203(a))

* * * * *

25. Section 3.551 is amended as follows:

(a) By deleting "wife, husband" and inserting "spouse" in the first sentence of paragraph (f).

(b) By revising paragraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d) to read as follows:

§ 3.551 Reduction because of hospitalization.

(a) General. Pension payable under the section 306, the old-law and the improved pension programs is subject to reduction when a veteran who has neither spouse, child nor dependent parent is hospitalized, unless the veteran is hospitalized, for Hansen's disease. The provisions of this section apply to initial periods of hospitalization and to readmissions following discharge from a prior period of hospitalization. If the veteran is hospitalized for observation and examination, the date treatment began is considered the date of admission. Special rules governing discontinuance of aid and attendance allowance are contained in § 3.552 and for discontinuance of awards for incompetent veterans in § 3.557. Except as otherwise indicated the terms "hospitalized" and "hospitalization" in §§ 3.551 through 3.559 mean:

(1) Hospital treatment in a Veterans Administration hospital or in any hospital at Veterans Administration expense.

(2) Institutional, domiciliary or nursing home care in a Veterans Administration institution or domiciliary or at Veterans Administration expense.

(b) Old-law pension. Old-law pension in excess of $30 monthly for a veteran who has neither spouse, child nor dependent parent shall continue at the full monthly rate until the end of the sixth calendar month following the month of admission for hospitalization. The rate payable will be reduced effective the first of the seventh calendar month to $30 monthly or 50 percent of the amount otherwise payable, whichever is greater. The reduced rate will be effective the first day of the seventh calendar month following admission. Payment of the amount withheld may be made on termination of hospitalization, as provided in § 3.556. (Sec. 306(b), Pub. L. 95–588; 92 Stat. 2497

(c) Section 306 and improved pension. (1) Where any veteran having neither spouse nor child, or any veteran who is married or has a child and is receiving pension as a veteran without dependents, is being furnished domiciliary care by the Veterans Administration, no pension in excess of $60 monthly shall be paid to or for the veteran for any period after the end of the second full calendar month following the month of admission for such care. (38 U.S.C. 3203(a))

(2) Where any veteran having neither spouse nor child, or any veteran who is married or has a child and is receiving pension as a veteran without dependents is being furnished hospital or nursing home care by the Veterans Administration, no pension in excess of $60 monthly shall be paid to or for the veteran for any period after the end of the third full calendar month following the month of admission for such care. (38 U.S.C. 3203(a))

(3) No pension in excess of $60 monthly shall be paid to or for a veteran having neither spouse nor child, or to a veteran who is married or has a child and is receiving pension as a veteran without dependents, for any period after the month in which the veteran is readmitted within 6 months of a period of care of not less than 2 full calendar months. (38 U.S.C. 3203(a))

(4) Where improved pension is being paid to a married veteran at the rate prescribed by 38 U.S.C. 521(b) all or any part of the rate payable under 38 U.S.C. 521(c) may be apportioned for a spouse as provided in § 3.454(b). (38 U.S.C. 3203(a))

(5) Where section 306 pension is being paid to a married veteran at a rate for a veteran without dependents all or any part of the monthly amount of pension withheld in excess of $60 may be apportioned for a spouse as provided in § 3.454(b).

(6) The provisions of paragraphs (c) (1), (2) and (3) of this section are not applicable to any veteran who has a child but is receiving pension as a veteran without a dependent because it is reasonable that some part of the child's estate be consumed for the child's maintenance under 38 U.S.C. 522(b).

(7) For the purposes of paragraphs (c) (1), (2) and (3) of this section, if a veteran is furnished hospital or nursing home care by the Veterans Administration and then is transferred to VA-furnished domiciliary care, the period of hospital or nursing home care shall be considered as domiciliary care. Similarly, if a veteran is furnished domiciliary care by the Veterans Administration and then is transferred to VA-furnished hospital or nursing home care, the period of domiciliary care shall be considered hospital or nursing home care.

(d) Computation of period. For purposes of computing periods of hospitalization in paragraph (c) of this section, authorized absences of 96 hours or less will be included as periods of hospitalization, and those of over 96 hours excluded. Also, for purposes of that paragraph, periods of treatment or care of 60 total days will be considered two calendar months of hospitalization and periods of 90 total days considered three calendar months, exclusive of authorized absences in excess of 96 hours.

* * * * *

26. In § 3.552, paragraphs (e) and (j) are revised to read as follows:

§ 3.552 Adjustment of allowance for aid and attendance.

* * * * *

(e) Where a veteran is in receipt of section 306 pension, the aid and attendance allowance shall be reduced to the housebound rate of $61 monthly (or $76.25 if the veteran was age 78 or older on December 31, 1978). Where a veteran is in receipt of old-law pension, the total amount payable shall be reduced to $100 monthly. Where a veteran is in receipt of improved pension, the applicable aid and attendance rate shall be reduced to the otherwise applicable rate under 38 U.S.C. 521(e). No reduction shall be made, however, for any case involving the disabilities specified in paragraph (a)(2) of this section.

* * * * *

(j) The section 306 pension aid and attendance allowance authorized by § 3.252(f) is subject to reduction for hospitalization under the provisions of this section in the same manner as the regular section 306 pension aid and attendance allowance. The amount payable shall not be reduced to less than the housebound rate of $61 monthly (or $76.25 monthly if the veteran was age 78 or older on December 31, 1978).

§ 3.556 [Amended]

26a. Section 3.556 is amended by deleting the words "an estranged spouse" and inserting the words "a spouse" in the second sentence.

26b. In § 3.656, the introductory portion of paragraph (a) preceding subparagraph (1) and paragraph (d) are revised to read as follows:

§ 3.656 Disappearance of veteran.

(a) When any veteran has disappeared for 90 days or more and his or her whereabouts remain unknown to the members of his or her family and the Veterans Administration, disability compensation which he or she was receiving or entitled to receive may be paid to or for his or her spouse, children and parents, effective the day following the date of last payment to the veteran if a claim is received within 1 year after that date; otherwise from the date of receipt of a claim. The total amount payable will be the lesser of these amounts:

* * * * *

(d) When any veteran has disappeared for 90 days or more and the veteran's whereabouts remain unknown to members of the veteran's family and the Veterans Administration, any improved pension, section 306 or service pension which the veteran was receiving or entitled to receive may be paid to or for the spouse or children. The status of the veteran at the time of disappearance, with respect to permanent and total disability, income and net worth will be presumed to continue unchanged. Payment for the spouse or children will be effective the day following the date of last payment to the veteran if a claim is received within 1 year after that date; otherwise from date of receipt of a claim. The total amount payable will be the lesser of these amounts:

(1) The service death pension rate if the veteran was receiving service pension or the improved death pension rate if the veteran was receiving section 306 or improved pension.

(2) The amount of pension payable to the veteran at the time of disappearance. (38 U.S.C. 507)

§ 3.657 [Amended]

26c. Section 3.657 is amended by deleting the words "Widow (Widower)" and inserting the words "Surviving Spouse" in the headnote; and by deleting the words "widow (widower)" and inserting the words "surviving spouse" wherever they appear in the introductory paragraph preceding paragraph (a), paragraph (a), (a)(1) and (2), (b)(1), (b)(1)(i) and (ii), (b)(2) and (b)(2)(i) and (ii).

27. In § 3.660, paragraphs (a)(1) and (2), (b) (introductory portion preceding subparagraph (1)), (b)(2), (c) and (d) are revised to read as follows:

§ 3.660 Dependency, income and estate.

(a) Reduction or discontinuance—(1) General. A veteran, surviving spouse or child who is receiving pension, or a parent who is receiving compensation or dependency and indemnity compensation must notify the Veterans Administration of any material change or expected change in his or her income or other circumstances which would affect his or her entitlement to receive, or the rate of, the benefit being paid. Such notice must be furnished when the recipient acquires knowledge that he or she will begin to receive additional income or when his or her marital or dependency status changes. In pension claims subject to § 3.252(b) or § 3.274 and in compensation claims subject to § 3.250(a)(2), notice must be furnished of any material increase in corpus of the estate or net worth.

(2) Contingency. Where reduction or discontinuance of a running award of section 306 pension or old-law pension is required because of an increase in income, which increase could not reasonably have been anticipated based on the amount actually received from that source the year before, the reduction or discontinuance shall be made effective the end of the year in which the increase occurred. Where reduction or discontinuance of a running award of improved pension or dependency and indemnity compensation is required because of an increase in income, the reduction or discontinuance shall be made effective the end of the month in which the increase occurred. Where reduction or discontinuance of a running award of any benefit is required because of an increase in net worth or corpus of estate, because dependency of a parent ceased, or because dependency of another person ceased due to marriage, annulment, divorce or death, the award shall be reduced or discontinued effective the last day of the calendar year in which the increase occurred or dependency ceased. (38 U.S.C. 3012(b))

(b) Award or increase; income. Where pension or dependency and indemnity compensation was not paid for a particular year because the claim was disallowed, an award was deferred under §§ 3.260(b) or 3.271(f), payments were discontinued or made at a lower rate based on anticipated or actual income, benefits otherwise payable may be authorized commencing the first of a calendar year as provided in this paragraph. (38 U.S.C. 3010(h).) In all other cases, benefits may not be authorized for any period prior to the date of receipt of a new claim.

* * * * *

(2) Actual income. Where the claimant's actual income did not permit payment, or payment was made at a lower rate, for a given year, pension or dependency and indemnity compensation may be awarded or increased, effective the beginning of the next year, if satisfactory evidence is received within that year.

(c) Increases; change in status. Where there is change in the payee's marital status or status of dependents which would permit payment at a higher rate and the change in status is by reason of the claimant's marriage or birth or adoption of a child, the effective date of the increase will be the date of the event if the required evidence is received within 1 year of the event. Where there is a change in dependency status for any reason other than marriage, or the birth or adoption of a child, which would permit payment at a higher rate, the increased rate will be effective the date of receipt of notice constituting an informal claim if the required evidence is received within 1 year of Veterans Administration request. The rate payable for each period will be determined, as provided in §§ 3.260(f) or 3.273(c). (See § 3.651 as to increase due to termination of payments to another payee. Also see § 3.667 as to increase based on school attendance.)

(d) Corpus of estate; net worth. Where a claim has been finally disallowed or terminated because of the corpus of estate and net worth provisions of §§ 3.263 or 3.274 and entitlement is established on the basis of a reduction in estate or net worth, or a change in circumstances such as health, acquisition of a dependent, or increased rate of depletion of the estate, benefits or increased benefits will not be paid for any period prior to the date of receipt of a new claim.

§ 3.661 [Amended]

28. Section 3.661 is amended by adding "or § 3.271(f)" following "§ 3.260(b)" in paragraph (a)(2).

§ 3.662 [Revoked]

29. Section 3.662 is revoked.

30. Section 3.666 is amended to read as follows:

(a) By deleting "wife, (husband)" and inserting "spouse" in the introductory portion of paragraph (a).

(b) By deleting "widow (widower)" and inserting "surviving spouse" in paragraph (b) (introduction), (b)(1), (b)(2) and in the second sentence of paragraph (c).

(c) By deleting "He (she)" and inserting "The veteran" in paragraph (d) (1) and (2).

(d) By revising paragraph (a)(2) to read as follows:

§ 3.666 Penal institutions.

* * * * *

(a) Disability pension. * * *

(2) If the annual income of the spouse or child is such that death pension would be payable.

* * * * *

31. Section 3.700 is amended as follows:

(a) By deleting "of the 1957 looseleaf edition of the Schedule for Rating Disabilities, 1945" and inserting "of the Schedule for Rating Disabilities" in the fourth sentence of paragraph (a)(3).

(b) By adding paragraph (a)(4) and revising paragraph (b) (1) and (2) so that the added and revised material reads as follows:

§ 3.700 General.

(a) Veterans. * * *

(4) Improved pension. If a veteran is entitled to improved pension on the basis of the veteran's own service and is also entitled to pension under any pension program currently or previously in effect on the basis of any other person's service, the Veterans Administration shall pay the veteran only the greater benefit. (38 U.S.C. 521(i))

(b) Dependents.—(1) Surviving spouse. Subject to the provisions of paragraph (a)(4) of this section, the receipt of pension, compensation, or dependency and indemnity compensation by a surviving spouse because of the death of any veteran, or receipt of pension or compensation because of his or her own service, shall not bar the payment to the surviving spouse of pension, compensation, or dependency and indemnity compensation because of the death or disability of any other veteran; however, other than insurance, concurrent benefits under laws administered by the Veterans Administration may not be authorized to a surviving spouse by reason of the death of more than one veteran to whom the surviving spouse has been married. The surviving spouse may elect to receive benefits based on the death of one such spouse and the election places the right to benefits based on the deaths of other spouses in suspense. The suspension may be lifted at any time by another election based on the death of another spouse. Benefits payable in the elected case will be subject to prior payments for the same period based on the death of the other spouse where, under the provisions of § 3.400(c), there is entitlement in the elected case prior to date of receipt of the election. (38 U.S.C. 3104)

(2) Children. Except as provided in § 3.703 and paragraph (a)(4) of this section, the receipt of pension, compensation, or dependency and indemnity compensation by a child on account of the death of a veteran or the receipt by the child of pension or compensation on account of his or her own service will not bar the payment of pension, compensation, or dependency and indemnity compensation on account of the death or disability of any other veteran.

* * * * *

32. In § 3.701, paragraph (a) is revised to read as follows:

§ 3.701 Elections of pension or compensation.

(a) General. Except as otherwise provided, a person entitled to receive pension or compensation under more than one law or section of a law administered by the Veterans Administration may elect to receive whichever benefit, regardless of whether it is the greater or lesser benefit, even though the election reduces the benefits payable to his or her dependents. Such person may at any time elect or reelect the other benefit. An election by a veteran controls the rights of all dependents in that case. An election by a surviving spouse controls the claims of all children including children over 18 and children not in the custody of the surviving spouse. The election of improved pension by a surviving spouse, however, shall not prejudice the rights of any child receiving an apportionment on December 31, 1978. Termination of a marriage or marital relationship which had been the reason for terminating an award of section 306 or old-law pension does not restore to the surviving spouse the right to receive section 306 or old-law pension. The claimant's entitlement, if otherwise established, is under the current provisions of 38 U.S.C. 541. (38 U.S.C. 210(c))

§ 3.702 [Amended]

33. Section 3.702 is amended by deleting "widow or widower" and inserting "surviving spouse" in the first and second sentence of paragraph (b).

§ 3.708 [Amended]

34. Section 3.708 is amended as follows:

(a) By deleting "widow or widower" and inserting "surviving spouse" in the first sentence of paragraph (a)(3).

(b) By deleting "widow's or widower's" and "widow or widower" and inserting "surviving spouse's" and "surviving spouse" in the last sentences of paragraphs (a)(3) and (b)(1).

35. Section 3.711 is revised to read as follows:

§ 3.711 Improved pension elections.

Except as otherwise provided by this section and § 3.712, a person entitled to receive section 306 or old-law pension on December 31, 1978, may elect to receive improved pension under the provisions of 38 U.S.C. 521, 541, or 542 as in effect on January 1, 1979. An election of improved pension is final when the payee (or the payee's fiduciary) negotiates one check for this benefit. There is no right of reelection. Any veteran eligible to make an election under this section who is married to a veteran who is also eligible to make such an election may not receive improved pension unless the veteran's spouse also elects to receive improved pension. (Section 306(a)(1) of Pub. L. 95–588, 92 Stat. 2497)

36. Sections 3.712 and 3.713 are added to read as follows:

§ 3.712 Improved pension elections; Spanish American War pensioners.

(a) Veterans—(1) General. A veteran of the Spanish-American War who meets the service requirements of 38 U.S.C. 512(a) may elect to receive improved pension under 38 U.S.C. 521. A Spanish-American War veteran who elects to receive improved pension is not entitled to the additional rate authorized by 38 U.S.C. 521(g), however. An election of improved pension is final when the payee (or the payee's fiduciary) negotiates one check for this benefit. There is no right of reelection.

(2) Aid and attendance. A veteran of the Spanish-American War who meets the service requirements of 38 U.S.C. 512(a) and who is receiving or entitled to receive pension based on need for regular aid and attendance shall be paid whichever is the greater: The monthly rate authorized by 38 U.S.C. 512(a) or the monthly rate authorized by 38 U.S.C. 521 as in effect on December 31, 1978, based on the veteran's current income and net worth. Pension under 38 U.S.C. 521, as in effect on December 31, 1978, is not payable if the current size of the veteran's estate is a bar to payment under § 3.252(b) or if the veteran's income exceeds the applicable limitation as in effect on December 31, 1978. Elections are not required for this purpose. The change in rate shall be effective the first day of the month in which the facts warrant such change. (38 U.S.C. 512)

(b) Surviving spouses—(1) General. A surviving spouse of a Spanish-American War veteran eligible for pension under 38 U.S.C. 536 may elect to receive improved pension under 38 U.S.C. 541. An election of improved pension is final when the payee (or the payee's fiduciary) negotiates one benefit check. There is no right of reelection.

(2) Aid and attendance. A surviving spouse of a Spanish-American War veteran who is receiving or entitled to receive pension based on need for regular aid and attendance shall be paid whichever is the greater: The monthly rate authorized by 38 U.S.C. 536 (a) and (b) and 544 or the monthly rate authorized by 38 U.S.C. 541 and 544, as 38 U.S.C. 541 and 544 were in effect on December 31, 1978, based on the surviving spouse's current income and net worth. Pension under 38 U.S.C. 541 and 544, as in effect on December 31, 1978, is not payable if the current size of the surviving spouse's net worth is a bar to payment under § 3.252(b) or if the surviving spouse's income exceeds the applicable limitation as in effect on December 31, 1978. Elections are not required for this purpose. The change in rate shall be effective the first day of the month in which the facts warrant such change. (38 U.S.C. 536)

§ 3.713 Effective dates of improved pension elections.

(a) General. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section an election to receive improved pension shall be effective the date of receipt of the election.

(b) Persons entitled to pension on December 31, 1978. The effective date of an election to receive improved pension filed before October 1, 1979, by a person entitled to receive either old-law pension or section 306 pension on December 31, 1978, shall be January 1, 1979, or if to the beneficiary's advantage, at any date after January 1, 1979, and before October 1, 1979. The amount of improved pension payable from the effective date of the election shall be reduced by the amount of old-law pension or section 306 pension paid to the beneficiary for such period. (Section 306(d) of Pub. L. 95–588, 92 Stat. 2497.)

§§ 3.955 and 3.956 [Revoked]

37. Sections 3.955 and 3.956 are revoked.

38. Sections 3.960, 3.961 and 3.962 are added to read as follows:

§ 3.960 Section 306 and old-law pension protection.

(a) General. Except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, any person eligible to elect improved pension under § 3.711 or 3.712 who is in receipt of section 306 or old-law pension on December 31, 1978, shall in the absence of an election to receive improved pension, continue to receive such pension at the monthly rate payable on December 31, 1978.

(b) Termination. Pension payable under paragraph (a) of this section shall be terminated for any one of the following reasons:

(1) A veteran pensioner ceases to be permanently and totally disabled.

(2) A surviving spouse pensioner ceases to meet the definition of "surviving spouse" in 38 U.S.C. 101(3).

(3) A child pensioner ceases to meet the definition of "child" in 38 U.S.C. 101(4).

(4) A section 306 pensioner's countable annual income, determined under §§ 3.250 to 3.270, exceeds the applicable amount stated in § 3.26(a).

(5) An old-law pensioner's countable annual income determined under §§ 3.250 to 3.270 exceeds the applicable amount stated in § 3.26(b).

(6) A section 306 pensioner has a net worth of such size that it is reasonable that some part of it be consumed for the pensioner's maintenance. Evaluation of net worth shall be made under § 3.263.

(c) Reduction. The pension rate payable under paragraph (a) of this section shall be reduced by the amount of any additional pension payable by reason of a dependent upon the loss of such dependent. A veteran or surviving spouse who no longer has any dependents shall not continue to receive either section 306 pension or old-law pension if countable annual income exceeds the appropriate rate in § 3.26(a)(1) or (2) or (b)(1).

(d) Finality of termination. Termination of section 306 pension or old-law pension for one of the reasons listed in paragraph (b) of this section precludes a person from thereafter establishing entitlement under any other pension program except the improved pension program. (Sec. 306 of Pub. L. 95–588, 92 Stat. 2497)

§ 3.961 Claims pending on December 31, 1978.

A claim for pension filed by a veteran, surviving spouse or child which is pending in the Veterans Administration on December 31, 1978, shall be adjudicated under title 38, United States Code as in effect on December 31, 1978. Any benefits determined to be payable are subject to § 3.960. (Sec. 306(c) of Pub. L. 95–588, 92 Stat. 2497)

§ 3.962 Claims filed after December 31, 1978.

(a) No entitlement prior to January 1, 1979. A claim for pension filed after December 31, 1978, by a veteran who became totally and permanently disabled after December 31, 1978, or by a surviving spouse or child based on the death of a veteran occurring after December 31, 1978, shall be adjudicated under the provisions of title 38, United States Code as in effect on January 1, 1979 or thereafter.

(b) Entitlement prior to January 1, 1979. A claim for pension filed by a veteran after December 31, 1978, and within 1 year after the date on which the veteran became permanently and totally disabled, shall be adjudicated under the provisions of title 38, United States Code as in effect on December 31, 1978, if the veteran became permanently and totally disabled prior to January 1, 1979. A claim for pension filed by a surviving spouse or by a child after December 31, 1978, and within 1 year after the date of death of the veteran through whose relationship claim is made shall be adjudicated under the provisions of title 38, United States Code as in effect on December 31, 1978, if the veteran's death occurred before January 1, 1979. Any benefits determined to be payable to a veteran, surviving spouse or child are subject to § 3.960. (Sec. 306(c) of Pub. L. 95–588, 92 Stat. 2497).

Amendment to Final Rule and Response to Petition for Modification for the Tuna Processing Subcategory of the Canned and Preserved Seafood Processing Point Source Category

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Amendment to Regulations.

SUMMARY: This notice presents EPA's response to a petition for modification of the existing effluent guidelines limitations for the best practicable control technology currently available (BPT) for the Tuna Processing Subcategory of the Canned and Preserved Seafood Processing Point Source Category. In preparing this response, EPA has conducted an analysis of dissolved air flotation treatment performance data. Special consideration has been focused on the removal of five-day biochemical oxygen demand (BOD*5*) and total suspended solids (TSS) by tuna processing facilities without solubles recovery plants. Based on this analysis, the BOD*5* effluent limitations for the Tuna Processing Subcategory are withdrawn. In addition, this notice acknowledges that tuna processing facilities without solubles recovery plants were not considered in the development of the BPT effluent limitations guidelines, and therefore, case-by-case consideration must be given regarding the appropriate permit limitation for such facilities.

EFFECTIVE DATE: August 6, 1979.

Supplementary Information

Background

On December 1, 1975, EPA promulgated regulations providing effluent guidelines limitations for the tuna processing industry based upon the application of the "best practicable control technology currently available" (BPT) as required by section 304 (b) of the Clean Water Act (CWA). These effluent limitations guidelines were not judicially challenged during the 90 day period following promulgation as provided in section 509(b)(1)(E) of the CWA.

On August 6, 1976, Bumble Bee Seafoods, Del Monte Corporation, Neptune Packing Corporation and Star Kist Foods, Inc. submitted a petition to the Administrator of EP A requesting changes in the effluent limitations for tuna processing facilities. This submittal requested that (1) effluent limits for tuna processing plants that discharge into oceans not be based on the use of dissolved air flotation (DAF) control; and (2) current effluent limits for tuna processing plants that do not discharge into oceans be adjusted to less stringent levels for several regulated pollutant parameters including five-day biochemical oxygen demand (BOD*5*), total suspended solids (TSS), and oil and grease (O&G).

To investigate the merits of the petitioners' requests, EPA conducted an extensive investigation of the performance of existing DAF systems, including an extensive sampling effort. In addition, the petitioners submitted for EPA review self-monitoring data for processing facilities both with and without solubles recovery equipment.

After completing the analysis of all available data, EPA representatives met with the petitioners to discuss the results of the analysis. As a consequence of these meetings, EPA received a letter dated May 16, 1979, from petitioners' counsel in which petitioners withdrew all requests except (1) that the BOD*5* requirement for the 1977 effluent limitations based on the application of DAF be adjusted to less stringent levels for all processing facilities; and (2) that discharge permits for those processing facilities without solubles recovery be modified to reflect the inability of existing DAF systems at these facilities to consistently achieve the TSS limitations.

Response to Petition

This response is limited to the petitioners' requests as modified May 16, 1979.

I. Withdrawal of the BOD5 Requirement for the 1977 Effluent Limitations (based on non-optimized DAF treatment). In response to this petition for modification, EPA has compiled considerable data regarding BOD*5* removals by non-optimized DAF systems. Investigations by both EPA and the tuna industry indicate that the total BOD*5* in tuna processing wastewater consists of soluble BOD*5* and insoluble BOD*5*. Non-optimized DAF systems remove most of the insoluble BOD*5* but almost no soluble BOD*5*. Since the ratio of soluble to insoluble BOD*5* is highly variable, the BPT effluent limitation for total BOD*5* cannot be consistently achieved by the existing treatment systems.

This information concerning the varying BOD*5* removal efficiency was not available to EPA at the time of promulgation of the BPT effluent limitations. The 1977 limitations assumed that an average of 40 percent removal rate for BOD*5* could be achieved by DAF technology. The newly available information indicates that this removal is not consistently attainable and that the 1977 effluent limitations for BOD*5* should be withdrawn.

II. Clarification of the TSS Limitations as Applied to Tuna Processing Facilities without Solubles Recovery. In most geographical locations, tuna processing facilities find it economical to recover stickwater (generated by the cooking process). This stickwater, along with press liquor from the fish meal operation, is concentrated by a solubles plant and marketed as a profitable commodity. However, several relatively isolated processing plants (notably, in American Samoa) do not have a profitable market for concentrated solubles and consequently do not operate solubles plants. These facilities currently discharge their stickwater and press liquor as part of the total influent flow to the DAF system.

EPA's original effort in developing the 1977 effluent limitations did not consider those few facilities without soluble plants. The petitioners contend that, because of the additional waste loadings contributed by the stickwater and press liquor, these facilities are unable to consistently meet the TSS requirements of the 1977 effluent limitations. In support of this claim, the petitioners submitted to EPA effluent monitoring data for the period from January 1977 to October 1978 from the Star-Kist facility in American Samoa. The data indicate that the BPT TSS limitations were not consistently attained during this time at this facility. However, both the Star-Kist and VanCamp canneries in American Samoa have recently improved the operation of their DAF systems resulting in better removal efficiencies. Recent monitoring data show that these facilities are presently in compliance with the BPT TSS limitations.

Although the available data indicate that existing tuna facilities without solubles plants are capable of meeting the BPT TSS limitations, these facilities (with their additional waste loadings) were not considered in the development of the effluent limitations. The permit issuing office should consider this fact when writing permits for these facilities. Section 402(a)(1) of the Clean Water Act provides authority to the permit issuing office to require necessary waste control practices on a case-by-case basis for industrial facilities or waste streams not specifically covered by national technology-based standards.

PART 408—CANNED AND PRESERVED SEAFOOD PROCESSING POINT SOURCE CATEGORY

In § 408.142, Effluent limitations guidelines representing the degree of effluent reduction attainable by the application of the best practicable control technology currently available, the table in paragraph (b) is amended by deleting the entry appearing under both "Metric units" and "English units" reading "BOD5" * * * 23 * * * 9.0". The TSS, O&G, and pH limitations remain as originally promulgated.

Effective date: This regulation shall become effective on August 6, 1979.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

PART 53—GRANTS, LOANS AND LOAN GUARANTEES FOR CONSTRUCTION AND MODERNIZATION OF HOSPITALS AND MEDICAL FACILITIES

The statutory authority for appropriations for grants and the awarding of loans and loan guarantees for the construction and modernization of hospitals and medical facilities has expired. Except for certain provisions relating to the Secretary's authority to waive recovery of payments and to the continuing obligations of assisted facilities to provide services to persons unable to pay and to provide a community service, the regulations of Part 53 are obsolete. Accordingly, all provisions of Part 53 are removed from Title 42 of the Code of Federal Regulations except for §§ 53.111-113, 53.135, and 53.154, which remain in effect.

PART 57—GRANTS FOR CONSTRUCTION OF TEACHING FACILITIES, EDUCATIONAL IMPROVEMENT, SCHOLARSHIPS AND STUDENT LOANS

The statutory authorities for appropriations under the Public Health Service Act for the grant programs listed below have expired. Accordingly, the following subparts of Part 57 are removed from Title 42, Code of Federal Regulations:

Subpart A—Grants for Planning of Clinical Education Programs

Subpart R—Loan Guarantees and Interest Subsidies to Assist in Construction of Nurse Training Facilities

Subpart X—Financial Distress Grants to Schools of Nursing

Subpart EE—Grants for Development of New Schools of Medicine Emphasizing Family Medicine

In addition, the regulations of Subpart E—Grants for Construction of Nurse Training Facilities are removed from Title 42 except for § 57.409, which relates to waiver of recovery by the Secretary and which remains in effect.

PART 90—LEAD-BASED PAINT POISONING PREVENTION IN FEDERAL AND FEDERALLY ASSISTED CONSTRUCTION

Authority to conduct the program under Part 90 has been transferred to the Department of Housing and Urban Development (42 U.S.C. 4831(b)). therefore, Part 90 is removed from Title 42, Code of Federal Regulations.

BILLING CODE 1505-01-M

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Bureau of Land Management

43 CFR Part 3422

Coal Management; Federally Owned Coal; Change in Effective Date

AGENCY: Bureau of Land Management, Interior.

ACTION: Change in effective date of provision of final rulemaking.

SUMMARY: This notice revises the effective date of that provision of 43 CFR 3422.1-1 of the final coal management rulemaking (July 19, 1979, 44 FR 42584) that relates to the timing of the request for comments on the fair market value of the tract to be held for coal lease sale.

DATES: Effective on August 6, 1979.

ADDRESS: Any comments or suggestion should be sent to: Director (141), Bureau of Land Management, 18th and C Sts., NW., Washington, D.C. 20240.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Bruce Powers (202) 343-6821; or Walter Rewinski, (202) 343-6821.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: By this notice, the effective date of the provision of 43 CFR 3422.1-1 (July 19, 1979, 44 FR 42623), requiring that the Bureau of Land Management call for comments on the fair market value of a tract offered for lease at least 30 days before publishing the notice of sale will be deferred until September 19, 1979. The clause affected by this deferral reads, "* * * and in any case not less than 30 days prior to the publication of a notice of sale * * *"

This deferral is necessary to prevent delay in the potential short-term (emergency coal lease) sales in response to lease applications that were processed under the modified court order in Natural Resources Defense Council v. Hughes, 454 F. Supp. 148 (D.D.C. 1978), which may be approved and held under the new coal program regulations, including the emergency leasing provisions. Although it was desirable to have the coal management regulations become effective upon publication, it was found that a transition period was required in order to process several pending emergency lease applications in a timely fashion. No public purpose would be served by delaying publication of notices of sale for cases being processed during the transition period provided by this notice.

This deferral of the effective date of this clause in 43 CFR 3422.1–1 does not mean that the Department will not request comments on fair market value for any sale approved during this period. The Department will fully comply with the Federal Coal Leasing Amendments Act (90 Stat. 1083–1092), as it has in all sales held since enactment of that Act, by requesting comments on the fair market value of the potential lease in the notice of sale.

Cecil D. Andrus,

Secretary of the Interior.

BILLING CODE 4310-84-M

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE

Office of Human Development Services

45 CFR Part 1388

University Affiliated Facilities Program

AGENCY: Office of Human Development Services (HDS), HEW.

ACTION: Final rules with 60 day comment period.

SUMMARY: The Rehabilitation Services Administration (RSA) in HDS is amending the regulations for the University Affiliated Facilities Program in order to provide the standards that must be met by those facilities as required by the Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act (Act). The basis for these standards is Part B of the Act. Another purpose of these regulations is to incorporate policy decisions to enhance services to persons with developmental disabilities. Both "developmental disabilities" and "university affiliated facility" are newly defined. The regulations also place the University Affiliated Facilities Program under its own part 1388; they were previously in subpart A of part 1387 of the Chapter XIII of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR).

EFFECTIVE DATE: These regulations are effective August 6, 1979. Written comments will be accepted on or before October 5, 1979, and the regulations will be amended, if necessary.

AVAILABILITY OF COMMENTS: Comments sent in response to this final rule will be available for public inspection in: Room 3070, Mary E. Switzer Building, 330 C Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20201; Monday through Friday of each week, 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., except on Federal holidays.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Marjorie H. Kirkland Senior Program Specialist, Bureau of Developmental Disabilities, Rehabilitation Services Administration, Room 3070, Mary E. Switzer Building 330 C Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20201 (202) 245–0335.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The purpose of promulgating these regulations in Final with a 60 day comment period is to enable the Rehabilitation Services Administration to comply with the provisions of Part B of the Act. Standards for University Affiliated Facilities (UAFs) must be published before UAFs can be refunded. These rules also incorporate policy decisions that are designed to enhance providing services to persons with developmental disabilities.

Another purpose of these regulations is to put the UAF program in a new part of Chapter XIII, Title 45 of the Code of Regulations. The new part is 1388; the previous regulations were published in Subpart A of Part 1387 which now will govern only the special project grants (formerly Subpart B of Part 1387). Regulations for other programs authorized by the Act are published, as before, under Parts 1385, 1386, and 1387 of Chapter XIII of the 45 CFR.

Background Information

The university affiliated facility construction program was first authorized by the Mental Retardation Facilities and Community Mental Health Centers Construction Act of 1963 (Pub. L. 88–164). In 1970, the Developmental Disabilities Services and Facilities Construction Act (Pub. L. 91–517) was passed. It authorized grants for constructing administering and operating university affiliated facilities. The 1975 amendments (the Developmental Disabilities Services and Facilities Construction Act, Pub. L. 94–103) continued the programs of grants for administration and operation of university affiliated facilities, and in addition, authorized studies of the feasibility of establishing satellite centers in areas otherwise not served by university affiliated facilities, and authorized grants for renovation and modernization of university affiliated facilities, and satellite centers. (No appropriation was made for construction after 1969, however).

In 1978, the Act was amended by Pub. L. 95–602, Rehabilitation, Comprehensive Services, and Developmental Disabilities Amendments of 1978. It is now called the Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act.

Summary of These Rules

Reasons for Dispensing with Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM)

The 30–day period prior to making final regulations effective and the NPRM are being waived, and these regulations shall become effective upon publication for several reasons. First, the law requires the promulgation of the standards in regulations within six months of enactment of the law. The law was signed November 6, 1978. Since the present grants to university affiliated facilities expired on June 30, 1979, it is urgent that the standards be published in final form as soon after that date as possible; otherwise an undue hardship will be imposed on grantees.

In addition to the standards, few requirements are being imposed that do not reflect the Act, or standard departmental policies and procedures. We considered the advisability of publishing only the standards, without other regulatory provisions. We had to reject that alternative on the basis that it would place an undue burden on applicants to determine for themselves what other requirements their projects would have to meet besides those imposed by the standards.

While we are reluctant to promulgate final regulations without giving interested persons an opportunity to comments, the standards must be in final form before grants are made, and it is not possible under government-wide rules to combine a final regulation and a proposed one. (Document Drafting Handbook, Federal Register, January 1975). The familiar and non-controversial nature of the regulations, other than the standards, is the third reason.

A fourth reason relates to the small and finite group of agencies directly involved at this time. The appropriation for the current fiscal year, ending September 30, 1979, is such that, under the Act, the only facilities eligible to receive grants are those which received grants under this program in the previous fiscal year. We know that many other persons are also interested in and concerned with the regulations governing this program. We, therefore, encourage comments from all interested persons in order to make revisions to these regulations if necessary or desirable.

The Department is of the opinion that these reasons constitute good cause for waiving both the notice of proposed rule-making procedure and the 30-day period of delay in the effective date of final regulations, because rulemaking would be impracticable and contrary to the public interests.

Major Amendments

New or changed definitions

Several new provisions of the Act modify the university affiliated facilities program. The new definition of a university affiliated facility requires that it engage in three activities: A continuing requirement of interdisciplinary training, a broadened concept of exemplary services, and a newly mandated activity of information dissemination.

The definition of a "satellite center" refocuses its mission. Rather than providing services and training personnel to provide services to persons with developmental disabilities, a satellite center's mission is now to provide services in geographical areas where adequate services are not otherwise available.

A significant change in the university affiliated facilities program, as well as in other developmental disabilities programs, is the revised definition of developmental disability. A discussion of this definition will be included in the preamble to the proposed regulations for Parts 1385, 1386, and 1387, and is not repeated here. The language of the Act (Sec. 102(7)) is repeated to remind interested persons that disabilities attributable to a wider variety of impairments than before are included, and that the emphasis is also more clearly on persons with substantial functional limitations.

In describing the standards to be developed, the Act (Sec. 122(a)) specifies that they shall reflect the special needs of persons who are of various ages. The effect of this new requirement, when combined with the new definition of developmental disability, is to expand the variety of disabling conditions and to enlarge the variety of service needs presented by the persons to be served by university affiliated facilities.

The change in the definition does not have the result of excluding anyone who was properly included before. But it does add some persons who were formerly not eligible. This means that there is much information about the newly defined population which needs to be developed. Because many of these disability groups have not traditionally been served in a planned, coordinated way, their numbers, needs and characteristics are not known and are, therefore, now important concerns of the State developmental disabilities service systems, particularly of the State planning councils. It is crucial therefore, that university affiliated facilities and the councils maintain a continuing and active relationship to enhance their responsiveness to the needs of the population as now defined.

Standards for University Affiliated Facilities

The standards included in these regulations are the basic requirements that a university affilated facility must meet if it is to receive a grant under this program. They relate to (1) the administration and management of the facility; (2) the interdisciplinary training program; (3) the demonstration of exemplary services; and (4) the dissemination of information concerning services and needs for service-related research.

While general standards are being issued now, the development and validation of proposed performance standards for programs as varied as those funded under this authority cannot be properly accomplished in the time allowed. The term "performance standards" is applied to standards and criteria which measure quality and quantity of achievements. The Rehabilitation Services Administration does not now have information adequate to develop those standards. A contract has been modified to assist in accomplishing that purpose, however, and performance standards will be published later, along with criteria and indices for measuring achievements and identifying areas needing special attention.

Minimum Grants and Restrictions on Eligibility

The Act establishes, for the first time, minimum grants for university affiliated facilities and satellite centers, and limits the facilities which can receive funds in fiscal years 1979 through 1981 to university affiliated facilities and satellite centers which received grants under this part in fiscal year 1978 (unless the appropriation exceeds amounts specified for each year).

Other amendments

Supplemental grants are authorized to conduct studies of the feasibility of establishing satellite centers; to assist in meeting the need for trained personnel; to provide service-related training of practitioners; and to conduct applied research.

The Act also requires joint review of university affiliated facility applications by all Federal agencies providing funds for the direct support of the facilities. The regulations do not address this matter, because it relates to internal Federal activities.

General Description of Subparts of Regulations

The regulations in this part have been reorganized and rewritten for clarification and simplicity in accordance with HEW's Operation Common Sense. They are divided into four subparts.

Subpart A—General

Subpart A deals with general requirements that apply to all categories of assistance under Part 1388. The basis and purpose of the requirements in each section are set forth below:

§ 1388.1 Purpose of the university affiliated program.

This section states the purpose of the university affiliated facility program. It is based on the definition of the term "university affiliated facility" stated in the Act (Sec. 102(10)).

§ 1388.2 Definitions.

Definitions needed for an understanding of the university affiliated facility program are included here. (Definitions of terms used only in other parts of the developmental disabilities program are not included. Interested persons are encouraged to refer to the regulations for Parts 1385, 1386, 1387 for more complete information.)

§ 1388.3 Eligible costs.

This section specifies the activities which are eligible for Federal support. It is based on 45 CFR Part 74, Administration of Grants, and on Section 121 of the Act.

§ 1388.4 Grant administration requirements.

This section provides a list of applicable parts of the Code of Federal Regulations, and is included in order to alert grantees and applicants to administrative and legal requirements. A number of parts are applicable only under certain conditions. These are cited in each part.

The list includes those parts most generally applicable to developmental disabilities programs.

§ 1388.7 Payments.

These sections implement various statutory and uniform administrative requirements.

§ 1388.8 Availability of funds.

Section 123 of the Act requires that the first $9 million for fiscal year (FY) 1979, $10 million for FY 1980, and $11 million for FY 1981 be used to support qualified university affiliated facilities and satellite centers which received grants in FY '78.

§ 1388.13 Standards for university affiliated facilities.

The purpose for this section, and its legal basis are described in "Major Amendments" above. In short, the standards constitute the minimum, basic ones the Department believes can be reasonably promulgated at this time, in order to meet the requirements of Sec. 122(a) of the Act. We believe that any facility unable to meet these standards within three years is incapable of carrying out the purpose of the program, and thus should not be funded as a university affiliated facility. Furthermore, as described above, performance standards will be published later. We may also revise the standards included in this section, or add others, as we gain experience.

The Act specifies that grants to qualified university affiliated facilities may not be less than $150,000 (Sec. 122(d)(1)). Additionally, Congress made clear its preference that university affiliated facilities whose grants for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1978 exceeded that amount should not have their grants reduced in order to meet the minimum grant requirement. (See H.R. Report No. 95–1780, 95th Congress, second session, p. 111).

Section 1388.14 implements these provisions and makes allowances for appropriation levels which might not permit both policies to be carried out. The Act does not, however, make provision to establish priorities among competing interests in case the appropriation is less than the amount needed to make a minimum grant to every university affiliated facility that qualifies. If such a situation should occur, the Commissioner will determine and publish the criteria for funding.

Subpart C—Supplemental Grants

A new program of discretionary grants is authorized by Section 121(b), and is implemented by this subpart.

§ 1388.20 Purpose of grants.

Section 121(b) of the Act lists four activities which may be funded under this subpart. Grants may be made for (1) conduct of a study of the feasibility of establishing a satellite center, (2) assessment of the need for trained personnel, (3) provision of service related training to practitioners, and (4) conduct of an applied research program. The purpose of the regulation is to provide to a prospective grantee all information necessary to make a decision about whether to apply for a grant.

§ 1388.21 Eligible applicants.

This section implements Section 121(b) by requiring that only university affiliated facilities being funded under Subpart B (Grants for administration and operation of university affiliated facilities) are eligible for supplemental grants.

Subpart D—Grants for Satellite Centers

Several provisions of the Act regarding satellite centers are implemented in this subpart.

§ 1388.30 Purpose of grants.

§ 1388.31 Specific requirements for applications.

These sections specify the purpose of the grants, who can apply, and what special information must be included in the application, such as a reference to the study which established the feasibility of the center. The requirements are restated from Sec. 121(b) and (c) of the Act. The sections alert grantees to special conditions which apply to these grants.

Section 122(d)(2) of the Act establishes a minimum grant for satellite centers of $75,000. The specification is included to clarify the conditions for grants.

Authority: These regulations are issued under the authority of Sec. 109 of Title I of the Mental Retardation Facilities and Community Mental Health Centers Construction Act of 1963 as amended by the Rehabilitation, Comprehensive Services, and Developmental Disabilities Amendments of 1978. § 1388.11 Eligibility requirements for applicants.

A public or non-profit facility which is associated with, or is an integral part of, a college or university is an eligible applicant if it provides reasonable assurances that—

(3) A timetable for the steps and for achievement of each goal.

§ 1388.13 Standards for university affiliated facilities.

All university affiliated facilities must comply with the following standards within the time period specified in § 1388.11:

Standards

(a) Administration. The university affiliated facility must be administered effectively and economically.

(1) The administration of the university affiliated facility must be designed to provide a program in which all elements can be held accountable for performance prescribed in terms of planned, measurable goals.

(2) The university affiliated facility must base its planning on systematically acquired information in order to provide direction to allocations of staff and resources to meet its goals.

(b) Interdisciplinary training. The university affiliated facility shall conduct an effective interdisciplinary training program for persons concerned with developmental disabilities. The training shall enable students to:

(1) Develop skills for effective participation in interdisciplinary team processes;

(2) Become aware of, and use appropriately, the contributions of other professions in the treatment and care of the developmentally disabled; and

(3) Realize the interdependent nature of various disciplines in serving the developmentally disabled and alter the trainees' practice of their own disciplines accordingly.

(c) Exemplary services. The university affiliated facility shall demonstrate exemplary services relating to the special needs of persons with developmental disabilities who are of various ages.

(1) "Exemplary services" means services that are of high quality and deserving of replication. These services might include direct services such as diagnosis, evaluation, treatment, training, and remediation services, or indirect services such as prevention, public awareness, information and referral, and advocacy.

(2) The purposes of demonstrating exemplary services are: To provide evidence for improvements in services; to utilize more effective approaches to problems; to make traditional approaches more cost effective; and to show how to deliver a specialized service in a generic setting or facility not located in a university setting.

(d) Dissemination of information. The university affiliated facility shall disseminate to practitioners and administrators findings relating to the provision of services to persons with developmental disabilities. It shall also provide researchers with information on the needs for further service-related research. "Dissemination of findings" means the production of publications and training materials, and the holding of seminars and the like, for practitioners and administrators concerned with providing services to persons with developmental disabilities.

(1) The university affiliated facility shall make material available to practitioners, administrators, and researchers. It shall contain any necessary precautionary statements along with any claims that are made.

(2) The university affiliated facility shall develop a plan for the dissemination of information to assure that the material is relevant to practitioners, administrators, and researchers who plan, devise, or deliver services to persons with developmental disabilities.

§ 1388.14 Minimum grants.

(a) The amount of any grant under this subpart may not be less than $150,000 for any fiscal year.

(b) To the extent possible within the appropriation for the fiscal years ending September 30, 1979, 1980, and 1981, grants which exceeded $150,000 in the fiscal year ending September 30, 1978 may not be reduced.

Subpart C—Supplemental Grants

§ 1388.20 Purposes of grants.

Grants may be awarded for one or more of the following activities:

(a) To assess the need for trained personnel to provide assistance to persons with developmental disabilities;

(b) To provide service-related training to practitioners providing services to persons with developmental disabilities;

Personal Attacks and Applicability of the Fairness Doctrine to Section 315 "Uses"

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Federal Communications Commission is amending its regulations relating to the personal attack rule. This rule provides that broadcast licensees must afford reasonable opportunity for response to persons who are personally attacked under circumstances set forth in the rule.

In addition, the adopted amendment exempts from the rule those situations covered by Section 315 of the Communications Act. Section 315 provides that licensees must afford equal opportunities to legally qualified candidates for public office. This amendment brings the personal attack rule into line with the Commission's policy that the fairness doctrine does not include legally qualified candidates using broadcast facilities.

EFFECTIVE DATE: September 7, 1979.

In the matter of amendment of Part 73 of the rules regarding Personal Attacks, and Applicability of the Fairness Doctrine to Section 315 "Uses," BC Docket No. 78-291. See 43 FR 50005, October 26, 1978.

Introduction

1. The Commission has before it a Notice of Proposed Rule Making and Notice of Inquiry[1] regarding, respectively, proposed amendments to Part 73 of the rules regarding personal attacks (47 CFR 73.1920) and the applicability of the Fairness Doctrine to Section 315 "uses."

2. Timely comments on the Notices were filed by nine parties: National Radio Broadcasters Association (NRBA), American Broadcasting Companies, Inc. (ABC); the firm of McKenna, Wilkinson and Kittner on behalf of 11 licensees (McKenna); National Association of Broadcasters (NAB); National Broadcasting Company, Inc. (NBC); Rochester Area Educational Television Association, Inc. (RAETA); Harte-Hanks Southern Communications, Inc. (Harte-Hanks Southern); CBS, Inc.; and Media Access Project (MAP), on behalf of the American Civil Liberties Union, the National Organization for Women and National Media Reform Committee. Reply comments were filed by NBC, ABC and MAP.

3. The Notices were issued in response to a request by NBC for a declaratory ruling that the personal attack rule is not applicable to broadcast "uses" covered by Section 315 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and that the Fairness Doctrine and the equal opportunities requirement of Section 315(a) are mutually exclusive.

4. We indicated in the Notices that since licensees have no control over candidates' appearances because of the no-censorship clause of Section 315, we do not believe it is justifiable to impose Fairness Doctrine obligations on them in connection with Section 315 "uses." We expressed our belief that our precedents in Gloria Sage (WHEN-TV), 62 FCC 2d 135 (1976), Application for Review denied, 63 FCC 2d 148 (1977), and the Supreme Court decision in Farmers Educational and Cooperative Union of America, North Dakota Division v. WDAY, Inc., 360 U.S. 525 (1959) (WDAY) support our policy of considering the Fairness Doctrine and Section 315 as mutually exclusive. We further stated that, on the other hand, in Capital Cities Broadcasting Corp., 13 FCC 2d 869 (1968), the Commission had decided that there should not be "an exemption or waiver in the case of an attack by a candidate on a person not a candidate or associated with a candidate." In deciding not to create such an exemption the Commission concluded that a new exemption would be unnecessary in light of the infrequency of such fact patterns. We also concluded that, "* * * the obligation to notify a person that he has been attacked and to send him a copy of the attack and an offer of an opportunity to reply is not comparable to the possible liability for large sums of money in damages which may result from civil action based on the broadcast of defamatory remarks." Id. at 870.[2] However, in the instant Notices we stated that since the personal attack rule is one aspect of the Fairness Doctrine,[3] and the Fairness Doctrine, in turn, depends upon licensee discretion, applying the personal attack rule to Section 315 "uses" is inconsistent with our policy of regarding the Fairness Doctrine and Section 315 "uses" as mutually exclusive. In the Notices, we proposed a rule amendment exempting Section 315 "uses" from the personal attack requirements. In addition we invited comments on our present policy of exempting Section 315 "uses" from application of the Fairness Doctrine.

5. Present Subparagraph (b) of the personal attack rule states that the requirements that licensees notify persons attacked, etc. are not applicable:

(1) To attacks on foreign groups or foreign public figures;

(2) To personal attacks which are made by legally qualified candidates, their authorized spokesmen, or those associated with them in the campaign on other such candidates, their authorized spokesmen or persons associated with the candidates in the campaign; and

(3) To bona fide newscasts, bona fide news interviews and on-the-spot coverage of a bona fide news event, including commentary or analysis in the foregoing programs.

6. In the instant Notices, we proposed to amend Subparagraph (b) to read as follows:

The provisions of Paragraph (a) of this section shall not be applicable:

(1) To attacks on foreign groups or foreign public figures;

(2) To personal attacks which are made by legally qualified candidates;

(3) To personal attacks made by the authorized spokespersons of legally qualified candidates or those associated with such candidates in the campaign on other such candidates, their authorized spokespersons, or persons associated with the candidates in the campaign; and

(4) To bona fide newscasts, bona fide news interviews and on-the-spot coverage of a bona fide news event (including commentary or analysis contained in the foregoing programs.)

7. Briefly stated, this proceeding raised three questions for comment: (1) Whether the Commission should continue its policy of treating Section 315 "uses" as separate from the Fairness Doctrine; (2) whether the Commission should amend § 73.1920 so as to overrule Capital Cities, supra, and exempt all personal attacks occurring during Section 315 "uses"; and (3) whether, if the Fairness Doctrine were to apply to Section 315 "uses," Cullman [4] should also apply.

[1] 43 FR 45899 (1978). Adopted September 14, 1978; Released September 28, 1978. Comments were due on or before December 15, 1978 and reply comments on or before January 16, 1979.

[2] WDAY, supra, stated, in effect, that licensees were not liable for remarks made during "uses" by legally qualified candidates.

[3] In the 1974 Fairness Report, 48 FCC 2d 1 (1974), we stated that "* * * the personal attack and political editorializing rules are a particularization of what fairness requires in these situations."

[4] Cullman Broadcasting Co., 40 FCC 576 (1963) provides that: "Where the licensee has chosen to broadcast a sponsored program which for the first time presents one side of a controversial issue, has not presented (or does not plan to present) contrasting viewpoints in other programming, and has been unable to obtain paid sponsorship for the appropriate presentation of the opposing viewpoint or viewpoints, he cannot reject a presentation otherwise suitable to the licensee—and thus leave

8. The proposal to amend the personal attack rule to exempt all "uses" and to continue the Commission policy if not applying the Fairness Doctrine to "uses" was supported by 8 of the 9 parties filing comments on it. For the most part, those responding based their support on the argument that the Fairness Doctrine is inapplicable to Section 315 "uses." They stated that, as a corollary of the Fairness Doctrine, the personal attack rule cannot be applied to "uses" if the Fairness Doctrine cannot. We will consider the question of the general applicability of the Fairness Doctrine to Section 315 "uses" first.

Comments

I. Applicability of the Fairness Doctrine to Section 315 "Uses"

A. Statutory Language of the 1959 Amendments to Section 315. 9. Several respondents stated that the wording of the 1959 amendments [5] to Section 315, indicates that Congress intended Section 315 "uses" and the Fairness Doctrine to be mutually exclusive. They quoted the portion of the amendment which states that the 1959 amendments were not to be "construed as relieving broadcasters, in connection with the presentation of newscasts, news interviews, news documentaries and on-the-spot coverage of news events, from the obligation imposed upon them to operate in the public interest and to afford reasonable opportunity for the discussion of conflicting views of public importance." They pointed out that Congress thereby approved imposition of fairness obligations on the exempt programs, but apparently assumed that these fairness obligations do not attach to Section 315 "uses."

B. Legislative History of the 1959 Amendments. 10. NBC, ABC and McKenna asserted that the legislative history of the 1959 Amendment to Section 315 supports continued exemption. NBC cited the comments of Senator Pastore (then Chairman of the Senate Communications Subcommittee and Manager of the Senate's bill to exempt news programming) which were quoted by the Commission in Gloria Sage, 63 FCC 2d at 150. Senator Pastore stated that the "standard of fairness applies to political broadcasts not coming within the coverage of Section 315 * * *." MAP disagreed that this supports our conclusion on Sage and quoted a letter from the Justice Department to Chairman Magnuson of the Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee:

> Inclusion of such language (i.e., language exempting newscasts) in any amendment to Section 315 should not be construed as limiting the station's obligations to present conflicting views on public issues to the particular political situations covered in Section 315 of the Act, or those exempted via this legislation. S. Rep. No. 562, 86th Cong., 1st Sess. 19 (1959).

MAP stated that the Committee quoted the Justice Department's letter with approval in its report on S. 2424. NBC in reply comments asserted that MAP took the quotation out of context, and that the sentences preceding the one quoted by MAP stated:

> This general fairness standard is presently applicable to political broadcasting not coming within the coverage of Section 315 such as speeches by spokesmen for candidates, as contrasted with the candidates themselves. (Emphasis added; citations omitted.) It would automatically be applicable to any additional types of political programming which might be exempted from the coverage of Section 315.

NBC contended that the letter indicates that the Justice Department understood and accepted the fact that Section 315 and the Fairness Doctrine are mutually exclusive.

C. The Public's Right to Be Informed. 11. The Fairness Doctrine presently applies to appearances by candidates on those news programs which are exempt from the equal opportunities provision of Section 315(a).[6] However, under Zapple, supra, the Commission held that when during an election campaign a licensee sells time to supporters or spokespersons of a candidate who urge the candidate's election, discuss the campaign issues, or criticize an opponent, then the licensee must afford comparable time to the spokesperson for an opponent. Known as the quasi-equal opportunities or political party corollary to the Fairness Doctrine, the Zapple Doctrine is based on the equal opportunity requirement of Section 315. There was general agreement among respondents that the public's right to be informed on the issue of "who among all the candidates should be elected" is adequately covered by Section 315 "equal opportunities," the Zapple Doctrine and the present application of the Fairness Doctrine to exempt appearances. However, MAP contended that the Fairness Doctrine should be applied to all other controversial issues of public importance brought up in Section 315 uses. MAP cited Gloria Sage, in which Ellen McCormack, a presidential candidate, obtained low-cost, uncensored time to express her views on abortion. MAP claimed that, like Ellen McCormack, some candidates know they cannot win, but use their candidacy to advocate one issue thus paving the way for future elections. MAP asserted than when a candidate seizes upon one controversial issue, other candidates, knowing that the one-issue candidate will not win and not wishing to damage their own chances for election, may avoid taking any position on the issue. In reply comments, NBC stated that in an election the definition of the issue as "who among all candidates should be elected" does not depend on whether the candidate campaigns on a single issue or multiple issues. NBC also commented that in Gloria Sage the issue of abortion, being a controversial issue of public importance, had already received balanced coverage. ABC and McKenna pointed out that since the Fairness Doctrine applies to news appearances by candidates, campaign issues are adequately covered without applying the Fairness Doctrine to "uses." Furthermore, ABC, NBC and McKenna commented that if an issue is important and controversial, it will normally be afforded treatment by broadcasters apart from appearances by candidates or their supporters not only because the Fairness Doctrine requires coverages of such issues, but also because good news and public affairs coverage would require it.

D. Application of the Cullman Doctrine to Section 315 "Uses." 12.

the public uninformed—on the ground that he cannot obtain paid sponsorship for that presentation." (Emphasis in original.) However, in Nicholas Zapple, 23 FCC 2d 707 (1970), the Commission held that the Cullman Doctrine does not apply to the Zapple "political supporters" policy (a corollary of the Fairness Doctrine which provides "quasi equal opportunities" for candidates' supporters).

[5] The 1959 amendments exempted from equal opportunities obligations, bona fide newscasts, bona fide news interviews, bona fide news documentaries and on-the-spot coverage of bona fide news events.

[6] With respect to a broadcaster's news coverage of election campaigns, the Fairness Doctrine applies in the following ways. If a news program deals specifically with the question of why a particular candidate should or should not be elected, generally the issue presented is who among all the candidates should be elected. Each candidate constitutes a separate "view" on this issue. Since under the Fairness Doctrine licensees need only present significant contrasting views on controversial issues of public importance, the licensees have the discretion, in presenting contrasting views on such issues in their news programming, to select those candidates whom they consider significant. A candidate also may appear on news programs and discuss, in addition to viewpoints on why he or she should be elected, other controversial issues of public importance which may or may not be specifically related to his or her campaign. In these situations the general Fairness Doctrine principles cited above would apply, including the discretion which licensees have in the selection of spokepersons to present contrasting views. See U.S. Labor Party, 57 FCC 2d 1273 (1976); American Independent Party and Eugene McCarthy, 62 FCC 2d 4 (1976.)

Although we received extensive comments on the possible problems which could arise from the application of the Cullman Doctrine to Section 315 "uses" (See Paragraph 7, supra) we find it unnecessary to discuss them in view of our overall decision herein as to the applicability of the Fairness Doctrine to Section 315 "uses."

II. The Application of the Personal Attack Rule to Section 315

A. The Relationship between the Fairness Doctrine and the Personal Attack Rule. 13. NBC declared that, when the Commission adopted the personal attack rule, it stated:

> The addition of (the personal attack rule) to the rules serves to codify what has long been the Commission's interpretation of the personal attack aspect of the Fairness Doctrine. (In the Matter of Amendment of Part 73 of the Rules to Provide Procedures in the Event of a Personal Attack, 8 FCC 2d, 721, 723 (1967).)

In that regard, ABC, Harte-Hanks, RAETA and NBC argued that, although the personal attack rule did not exist at the time of the 1959 amendments to Section 315, as a corollary of the Fairness Doctrine, the personal attack rule cannot apply to Section 315 if the Fairness Doctrine does not.[7] MAP, in reply comments, disagreed, arguing that it is not necessary to "alter regulations for the sake of symmetry."

B. Can Licensees Be Held Responsible under "Capital Cities" in View of the No-Contol No-Censorship Standard Articulated by the Court in WDAY, and the Commission in Sage? 14. All respondents agreed that there is an inconsistency between the Sage and WDAY decisions on one hand and Capital Cities on the other. Most of the respondents stated that the conflict should be resolved by overruling Capital Cities and amending the personal attack rule, thus ending all vestiges of the application of the Fairness Doctrine to Section 315 "uses." MAP, however, asserted that the Commission should resolve the conflict by overruling Sage, which MAP contends was based on the Commission's erroneous interpretation of the legislative history of the 1959 Amendments to Section 315.[8] MAP argued further that the Capital Cities does not conflict with the Court's holding in WDAY because the Court's purpose in holding licensees immune from libel actions rising from Section 315 "uses" was not to protect broadcasters but to guard against the threat of de facto censorship of Section 315 "uses" by broadcasters. Furthermore, MAP contends, the Supreme Court in Gertz v. Welch, 418 U.S. 323 (1974) ruled that a state could not impose liability without a fault standard. Therefore, argued MAP, it would have been unconstitutional to hold a broadcaster liable for Section 315 "uses." MAP pointed out that Fairness Doctrine obligations are not contingent on fault.

15. In opposition to MAP, ABC and NBC urged that the Commission overrule Captial Cities. NBC claimed that in applying the personal attack rule to a "use" in the Capital Cities case, the Commission wrongly distinguished WDAY on the grounds that the burden of the personal attack rule is slight compared with the threat of civil liability and is outweighed by the benefit to the public. To the contrary, stated NBC, a violation of the personal attack rule is punishable by forefitures of up to $20,000 (47 USC 503b). Harte-Hanks asserted that since the Supreme Court in WDAY, established licensee immunity for libelous material broadcast in "uses," it is unfair and anomalous for a station to incur administrative liability in a situation in which the Supreme Court has held it can incur no civil liability.

16. MAP contended that licensee lack of control over Section 315 "uses" is irrelevant to the question of Fairness Doctrine responsibilities since the Commission holds a licensee responsible for other programs, e.g., non-product advertisements, network programming and coverage of critical news events, which it did not produce and over which it has little control. NBC disagreed, stating that broadcasters have the right to prescreen and reject non-uses. NBC claimed that, as a matter of practice, it prescreens all materials to assure compliance with its policies. MAP contended that since the goal of the Fairness Doctrine is that the public be informed, the argument that the broadcasters should not be responsible for what they cannot censor is a logical non-sequitur since their inability to censor incresases the public need to hear the other side of the issue. MAP asserted that once the public has been subjected to a one-sided presentation, only the licensee is able to assure that the public is informed of the other side; and it is the right of the public to be informed which the Fairness Doctrine is designed to insure.

17. NBC stated that Capital Cities erred in its assumption that the present application of the personal attack rule is of value in informing the public of both sides of controversial isues of public importance discussed during "uses." NBC contended that the political "spot" which led to its request for a declaratory ruling is illustrative of the confusion created by the application of the personal attack rule to campaign issues. In that "spot" a political candidate, Andrew Stein, claimed that as an assemblyman he had "fought" Bernard Bergman, a non-candidate, whose "nursing homes treated sick people like animals." NBC felt that Mr. Stein's remarks constituted a personal attack on Mr. Bergman and, in accord with Capital Cities, offered Mr. Bergman an opportunity to respond, but questioned the wisdom of applying the personal attack rules in this situation. NBC stated that since the issue raised in the "spot" was whether the candidate was the man best suited to the office, the natural spokespersons were the candidate's opponents. NBC contends that Mr. Bergman's interest was in vindicating his reputation, which is a private right that he could have pursued in court.

18. Several of those commenting noted that in Capital Cities the Commission stated that personal attacks on non-candidates are rare in Section 315 "uses." Harte remarked that since such attacks are rare, the creation of the proposed exemption would not upset the present balance. ABC contended that the infrequency of personal attacks by candidates on non-candidates is not, in itself, a valid reason for not exempting such attacks from the personal attack rule.

III. Language Change

19. CBS suggested that the language of the proposed amendment be modified to make it clear that attacks made during "uses" by candidates' spokespersons are exempt.

Discussion

20. In the Notices we stated that the non-censorship provision of Section 315 has become the primary basis for distinguishing Section 315 "uses" from those broadcasts to which the Fairness Doctrine is applicable. See Fairness Report, supra; Gloria Sage, supra. A licensee has no control whatsoever over the content of a "use" by a candidate. However, it not only has control over other broadcasts, but is responsible for the content of them. It follows, therefore, that there should be a distinction between broadcasts involving Section 315 "uses" and those to which the Fairness Doctrine is applicable.

21. The Fairness Doctrine is based upon a presumption of licensee discretion in dealing with controversial issues of public importance. The personal attack rule is one aspect of the Fairness Doctrine. Generally, when a personal attack is made on an individual or group during the discussion of a controversial issue of public importance, an adequate opportunity to respond must be offered by the licensee, with three exceptions as set out in § 73.1920 (See Para. 5, supra). In our Report and Order adopting the personal attack rule we stated, "[t]his duty devolves upon the licensee, because other than in the case of a broadcast by political candidates, the licensee is responsible for all material broadcast over his facilities."[9] Thus, when we adopted the personal attack rule we recognized that licensees had no responsibility for the material broadcast during Section 315 "uses."

[7] See Paragraph 9, supra, in which some parties argued that the statutory language of the 1959 amendments to Section 315 indicates that Congress did not intend the Fairness Doctrine to be applied to Section 315 "uses."

[8] See paragraph 10, supra.

22. We see no merit in the assertion that because a licensee does not produce network programming, non-product advertising and critical news events, its lack of control over such programming is comparable to the non-censorship clause mandated by Section 315. As MAP points out, The Commisson has made it clear that a licensee may not delegate responsibility for its Fairness Doctrine Programming and is perfectly free to censor or refuse on the basis of content any programming other than a "use." The mere fact that a licensee has little or no input into the production of programming does not relieve it of its responsibility for the content of what is broadcast. Moreover, the examples cited by MAP on this point are largely concerned with the licensee's role in the production of programming; they do not go to the right and opportunity of the licensee to reject the program prior to broadcast. MAP's comparison of network programming with "uses" is particularly inapposite. Although individual licensees may not delegate responsibility for programming to a network,[10] networks are in a position to comply with the Fairness Doctrine, and frequently complaints regarding network programming are resolved at the network level. The concept that licensees are required to accept unbalanced programming from a network and are then forced to produce their own programming to provide balance is not substantiated by our experience. On the other hand, Section 315(a) prohibits censorship by the Broadcaster of any "use" by a candidate. If a station has agreed to give or sell a candidate time, it may not cancel the program because of its content or require that the program content be changed. In addition, once the broadcaster has permitted a candidate to "use" its facilities, it must allow the candidate's opponent "equal opportunities" if the candidate requests it. Furthermore, under Section 312(a)(7) of the Act, the broadcaster is required to grant "reasonable access" to federal candidates.

23. We see no reason for the Commission to change its belief, stated in Sage and the Fairness Report, that the statutory language and legislative history of the 1959 amendments to Section 315 indicate that Congress intended that Section 315 "uses" and the Fairness Doctrine be mutually exclusive. As to MAP's contention that the Justice Department's letter indicates that Congress intended that the Fairness Doctrine be applied to Section 315 "uses," although the sentence quoted by MAP may seem to support MAP's position, the preceding sentences quoted by NBC clearly indicate that the Justice Department considered Section 315 "uses" and the Fairness Doctrine to be mutually exclusive. Furthermore, suggestions from the executive branch do not control the actions of the legislative branch, and even if the letter totally supported the application of the Fairness Doctrine to Section 315 "uses," it would not, in itself, be sufficient to overcome the statutory language and the other legislative history indicating that Congress intended the Fairness Doctrine to apply where Section 315 "uses" do not.

24. We reach now the question of whether the public's right to be informed on controversial issues of public importance should take precedence over the Commission's policy of not holding licensees responsible for "uses" since they have no control over them. We see little merit in MAP's contention that unless the Fairness Doctrine is applied to "uses" a candidate paving the way for future elections might attempt to use Section 315 to accomplish an unbalanced media blitz on a controversial issue of public importance. This is highly speculative reasoning. First, the time during which such a candidate would demand time is limited. Second, if the issue is such an important one that it would be used in such a manner by a candidate, it is very likely that licensees will be covering such issues in their overall programming. In any event, we have no evidence that there has been any one-sided presentation of a controversial issue of public importance in the manner envisioned by MAP. If such situations become prevalent in the future, we of course will revisit these matters at this time.

25. Regarding the application of the personal attack rule to Section 315 "uses," we are unpersuaded by MAP's assertion that "it is unnecessary to alter regulations to achieve symmetry" between the Fairness Doctrine and the personal attack rule. It is important to remember that the Commission did not adopt the personal attack rule to provide a vehicle for the vindication of individual reputations. This is a private matter to be resolved in the courts. The personal attack rule was adopted to further the purpose of the Fairness Doctrine, which is to assure that the public be informed of contrasting viewpoints on controversial issues of public importance. As noted in paragraph 23, above, we believe that the statutory language of Section 315, read in light of its legislative history, indicates that the Fairness Doctrine does not apply to "uses." Therefore, it would be inappropriate for us to apply the personal attack rule, which is a corollary of the Fairness Doctrine, to "uses."

26. We need not attempt to resolve the potential conflict between Cullman, supra, and Zapple, supra, in relation to their application to Section 315 "uses" since we intend to remove all application of the Fairness Doctrine from Section 315 "uses."

Conclusion

27. After carefully reviewing the comments and reflecting on our own experience, we have decided to continue our policy of regarding the Fairness Doctrine and Section 315 "uses" as mutually exclusive. We have also decided to bring the personal attack rule into conformity with that policy by amending the personal attack rule as set forth below. In accordance with CBS' suggestion, although not adopting its proposed language, we have made a minor change in the language of the proposed new amendment to make clear that the exemption extends also to attacks made by non-candidates during "uses."

28. The specific changes in the rule are as follows: In Paragraph (b) words "be applicable" are changed to the words "apply to broadcast material which falls within one or more of the following categories." In paragraphs (b)(1), (2), (3), and (4), the first word, "to," is deleted. In paragraph (b)(1) "attack" is amended to read "personal attack" thus making

[9] Amendment of Part 73 of the Rules to Provide Procedures in the Event of a Personal Attack or Where a Station Editorializes as to Political Candidates, 28 FCC 2d 721, 723 (1967).

[10] Stations having agreements with networks under which they cannot reject programs cannot be licensed under Commission Rules [Section 73.658(e)].

the wording parallel to the wording in the other paragraphs. In the first sentence of Paragraph (b)(2), the words, "which are made" are deleted and "occurring during uses" substituted to make clear that any personal attack made during a "use" is exempt even if the person being attacked is not a candidate or associated with a candidate. The remainder of former Paragraph (b)(2) becomes new Paragraph (b)(3), adding the words "made during broadcasts not included in (b)(2)" to retain all the exemptions in former Paragraph (b)(2). Thus, as in the previous rule, attacks not made during "uses" are also exempt if they are made by legally qualified candidates, authorized spokespersons of legally qualified candidates or those associated with them in the campaign on other such candidates, their authorized spokespersons or persons associated with the candidates in the campaign. Paragraph (b)(4) remains the same except for the deletion of the word "to."

29. For the reasons set forth above for amending our rules on broadcasts involving personal attacks, we are making similar amendments to our rules on origination cablecasts involving personal attacks, as set forth below.

30. Authority for the adoption of the amendments herein is contained in Section 4(i) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (47 U.S.C. 154 [i]).

31. Accordingly, It is ordered, that effective September 7, 1979, Section 73.1920, as set forth below, is amended. Further, it is ordered, that, effective September 7, 1979, § 76.209 is amended as set forth below.

32. It is further ordered, that this proceeding is terminated.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

49 CFR Parts 1245, 1246

[No. 37025]

Revisions to Preliminary Report of Number of Employees of Class I Railroads, and the Monthly Report of Employees, Service and Compensation, Forms A&B

AGENCY: Interstate Commerce Commission.

ACTION: Notice of Informal Conference.

SUMMARY: The Commission is scheduling an informal conference to discuss changes contained in the final rule concerning railroad wage statistics published March 1, 1979, in the Federal Register.

DATES: Informal conference will take place at 9:30 a.m., August 15, 1979.

ADDRESSES: Informal conference will be held at the Interstate Commerce Commission, 12th Street and Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20423.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Bryan Brown, Jr., Tel. No. (202) 275-7448.

SUPPLMENTARY INFORMATION: The Commission published a final rule which revised two reports concerning railroad employees, the Report of Employees, Service, and Compensation (Forms A&B) and the Preliminary Report of Number of Employees of Class I Railroads (see 44 FR 11551, March 1, 1979). The revised forms were to be used for the reporting period beginning July 1, 1979. The National Railway Executives' Association raised objections to this rule which caused us not to permit the rule to take effect at that time. An informal conference was held at the Commission's office in Washington, D.C. on May 15, 1979. At that time, we entertained suggested revisions to the report forms. Another conference was held July 24, 1979, at which the NREA and the Association of American Railroads presented proposed changes to the forms. We now plan another informal conference at 9:30, August 15, 1979, to discuss the final changes. The conference will be open to anyone who wishes to attend.

Anyone not wishing to participate in the conference but desiring to express their views, may file written comments with the Commission.

Secretary.

Vol. 44, No. 152
Monday, August 6, 1979

This section of the FEDERAL REGISTER contains notices to the public of the proposed issuance of rules and regulations. The purpose of these notices is to give interested persons an opportunity to participate in the rule making prior to the adoption of the final rules.

DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY

Economic Regulatory Administration

[10 CFR Part 212]

[Docket No. ERA-R-79-32]

Retailer Price Rule for Motor Gasoline

AGENCY: Economic Regulatory Administration, Department of Energy.

ACTION: Notice of Public Hearing.

SUMMARY: On July 15, 1979, the Economic Regulatory Administration (ERA) of the Department of Energy (DOE) issued new rules governing the price of motor gasoline sales by retailers. The ERA is convening a public hearing with respect to the portion of the final rule that relates to the governors' authority under the rule to grant increases in the allowable margins for retail dealers. We are convening this hearing in response to comments received thus far, expressing uncertainty and concern about the scope of that provision.

DATES: Requests to speak by August 14, 1979, 4:30 p.m.; hearing date: August 20, 1979, 9:30 a.m.

ADDRESSES: All comments and requests to speak to: Economic Regulatory Administration, Office of Public Hearings Management, Docket No. ERA-R-79-32, Room 2313, 2000 M Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20461. Hearing location: John C. Kluczinski Building, 230 S. Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois 60604.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background.
II. Public Hearing Procedures.

I. Background

On July 15, 1979, the ERA issued new rules governing the price of motor gasoline sales by retailers (44 FR 42451, July 19, 1979). The cumbersome historical pricing system was abolished and the ERA adopted instead a maximum lawful price based on a nationwide fixed cents-per-gallon markup. A similar approach had been advocated by both dealers' associations and state enforcement authorities on the grounds, among others, that it was easy to understand and enforce and that the old system of banked costs was inflationary and unfair to small dealers who lacked the capability of maintaining adequate records.

The 15.4 cents margin set by the rules was calculated to reflect a fair and adequate compensation to the vast majority of retailers. But we recognized that, as with any regulatory device, there would be groups or individuals whose situations are sufficiently different from that of the majority that for them the rule may create economic hardships. (This could be the case, for example, for certain retail dealers operating in areas with unusually high rents or labor costs.) Firms in that position are entitled to file an application for exception with the Office of Hearings and Appeals ("OHA"), which was created for the purpose of giving relief to those unfairly impacted by DOE rules. Indeed, OHA has various mechanisms available to expedite consideration of requests for adjustments to the 15.4 cents margin rule, including treating large categories of retailers on a class exception basis.

Notwithstanding the availability of relief through OHA, we felt that it would be desirable to provide an additional mechanism for relief. Accordingly, we provided in 10 CFR 212.93(a)(3) that a governor or his delegate could grant increases in the allowable margin for those retailers in the state who had unusual costs or who otherwise were entitled to a higher margin. (A petition for a cost-justified increase of 10 cents or less could go into effect 10 days after the governor notifies ERA of his action and it is not disapproved by ERA. Other types of margin increases can also be granted by the governor, but only with the prior approval of ERA.)

This additional means of relief has been widely misunderstood and, as a result, has caused considerable concern among state officials and dealers. We want to make clear that it is not intended to be either the only or the principal means of obtaining relief for retailers. We expect that retailers will continue to turn to OHA for exceptions from the price rule—as from other rules. Our previous experience has been, however, that governors through their state energy offices or otherwise have frequently asked us for exceptions to rules in circumstances where inadvertent or disproportionate hardships from the rule could be more readily discerned and evaluated by state or local than by Federal officials. We believe that it is appropriate, therefore, to build into the rules an additional mechanism for obtaining exception relief. Approval by a governor of margins in excess of 15.4 cents-per-gallon was therefore made available in the new rules where the state has the capability to make the necessary cost justification determinations and where that vehicle appears more appropriate to the governor than direct petition to OHA by retailers. It is intended as being an addition to and not a substitute for the ordinary means of obtaining exception relief—the OHA.

In the final rule, DOE indicated it would accept written comments on the rule until November 16, 1979, in order to allow interested parties to submit additional comment on appropriate changes or amendments to the rules once they are in effect. The DOE has already received many comments with respect to 10 CFR 212.93(a)(3), the portion of the final rules that relates to the governors' authority. In light of the uncertainty and concern about the scope of that provision expressed in comments received thus far, we have decided to convene a public hearing on that part of the rule so as to provide a forum for interested persons to comment in person before an ERA panel. The hearing will be held in Chicago, Illinois on August 20, 1979. We will then promptly consider whether modifications of that portion of the rule are appropriate. In the meantime, OHA will remain the primary avenue for obtaining hardship relief from the regulations.

II. Public Hearing Procedures

1. Procedure to request participation. The time and place for the public hearing are indicated in the "ADDRESSES" and "DATES" sections of this Notice. If necessary to present all testimony, the public hearing will be continued to 9:30 a.m. of the first business day following the hearing date shown above.

You may make a written request for an opportunity to make an oral presentation at the hearing. The request should contain a phone number where you may be contacted through the day before the hearing.

We will notify each person selected to be heard before 4:30 p.m., August 16, 1979. Persons scheduled to speak at the hearing will be required to submit one hundred copies of their statement at the hearing location before 9:30 a.m. on the day of the hearing.

2. Conduct of the hearing. We reserve the right to limit the number of persons to be heard at the hearing, to schedule their respective presentations, and to establish the procedures governing the conduct of the hearing. The length of each presentation may be limited, based on the number of persons requesting to be heard.

An ERA official will be designated to preside at the hearing, which will not be a judicial or evidentiary-type hearing. Questions may be asked only by those officials conducting the hearing. Each person who has made an oral statement will be given the opportunity, if he or she so desires, to make a rebuttal statement. The rebuttal statements will be given in the order in which the initial statements were made and will be subject to time limitations.

You may submit questions to be asked of any person making a statement at the hearing. Questions must be submitted three days before the hearing to the same address indicated above for requests to speak. In addition, at the hearing you may submit questions, in writing, to the presiding officer. He or she will determine whether the question is relevant and whether time limitations permit it to be presented for answer. Any further procedural rules needed for the proper conduct of the hearing will be announced by the presiding officer.

A transcript of the hearing will be made and the entire record of the hearing, including the transcript, will be made available for inspection at the DOE Freedom of Information Office, Room GA-152, Forrestal Building, 1000 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, D.C., between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. You may purchase a copy of the transcript of the hearing from the reporter.

In the event that it becomes necessary for us to cancel the hearing, we will make every effort to publish advance notice in the Federal Register of such cancellation. Moreover, we will notify all persons scheduled to testify at the hearing. However, it is not possible to give actual notice of cancellations or schedule changes to persons not identified to us as participants. Accordingly, persons desiring to attend the hearing are advised to contact us on the last working day preceding the date of the hearing to confirm that it will be held as scheduled.

Issued in Washington, D.C., July 30, 1979.

Administrator, Economic Regulatory Administration.

Minimum Criteria for Required Program Measures for State Energy Conservation Plans; Notice of Inquiry

AGENCY: Department of Energy.

ACTION: Notice of inquiry.

SUMMARY: To be eligible for financial assistance under the State energy conservation plans program, each participating State is required to adopt and implement mandatory, statewide lighting efficiency standards for public buildings, which meet or exceed minimum criteria set forth in the program guidelines. The Department of Energy is considering replacing the minimum criteria for existing, but not new, public buildings. This notice of inquiry is intended to solicit public comment as to whether such a replacement is needed and, if so, what the new minimum criteria should be.

DATE: Written comments must be received by October 5, 1979, 4:30 p.m., e.d.t.

ADDRESSES: Send comments to Margaret Sibley, Office of Conservation and Solar Application, Department of Energy, Mail Stop 2221-C, Docket Number CAS-RM-79-504, 20 Massachusetts Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20585.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Dorothy H. Cronheim, State Energy Conservation Program Division, Department of Energy, Mail Stop 2221-C, 20 Massachusetts Avenue, NW, (Room 4122-C), Washington, DC 20585, 202-376-9494.

Martin Klauber, Office of General Counsel, Department of Energy, Mail Stop 2221-C, 20 Massachusetts Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20585, 202-376-9297.

SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION:

I. Introduction

Department of Energy (DOE), guidelines for the State energy conservation plans program, 10 CFR Part 420, 44 FR 20055 et seq., require participating States, among other things, to adopt and implement mandatory, statewide lighting efficiency standards for existing public buildings above a certain size, as determined by the State, in order to qualify for Federal financial assistance, § 420.7(a). With respect to existing public buildings, the guidelines provide that these standards shall ". . . contain the elements deemed appropriate by the State," § 420.7(a)(4). (With respect to new public buildings, § 420.7(a)(3) requires the States' standards to be no less stringent than § 9 of American Society of Heating, Refrigerating, and Air Conditioning Engineers, Inc., Standard 90-75 (ASHRAE 90-75).)

On January 3, 1979, DOE published an agenda of 16 new regulatory reform initiatives based upon suggestions received from the public, 44 FR 1032 et seq. One of these initiatives, Initiative 13, called for DOE to "provide practical guidance to the States in the development of their respective lighting standards" for existing public buildings. Consistent with Initiative 13, DOE is considering replacing the broad minimum criteria of § 420.7(a)(4) of the program guidelines with specific minimum criteria which might be based upon various standards already in use in some States.

Before moving forward with Initiative 13, however, DOE wishes to receive public comment as to whether such a change in the program guidelines in needed and, if so, what the specific minimum criteria should be. This notice offers three standards for comment. Any specific minimum criteria adopted in the program guidelines might be based upon one or more of these standards or other standards that commenters might suggest and might also incorporate provisions supplemental to any of these standards. Examples of these supplemental provisions are also discussed in this notice.

II. Standards for Consideration

DOE would be particularly interested in comments on the acceptability of one or more of the following standards as the basis for any new minimum criteria for lighting efficiency standards for existing public buildings.

1. EMS-4: Illuminating and Engineering Society of North America (IES) Recommended Procedure for Lighting Energy Management of Existing Buildings (EMS-4), Illuminating Engineering Society of North America, New York, NY, April 1979.

EMS–4 is intended for use in existing buildings and is an adaptation of § 9 of ASHRAE 90–75. Section 9 of ASHRAE 90–75 is entitled "Lighting Power Budget Determination Procedure" and is intended for use in new buildings.

Experience gained with the use of § 9 of ASHRAE 90–75 may make the new EMS–4 procedure for existing buildings more readily acceptable to States and lighting and other design professionals.

2. UPD: IES Lighting Power Budget Determination by Unit Power Density Procedure (UPD), Illuminating Engineering Society of North America, New York, NY, July 1979.

UPD is an approved method of determining lighting power allowances in terms of watts per square foot for rooms of various sizes. This method uses a series of application tables and reference keys for various types of work tasks without requiring detailed mathematical calculations. UPD is applicable to existing buildings, as well as new buildings.

The application tables and reference keys may permit the UPD procedure to be used by building owners and lessees who do not possess formal lighting design backgrounds.

3. MLCS: Massachusetts State Building Code Commission's Lighting Regulations for Existing Buildings, § 2015.0 of Massachusetts State Building Code (3rd Ed. 1979), referred to as Massachusetts Lighting Code Standard (MLCS).

The MLCS establishes maximum power limits for interior and exterior illumination systems for existing buildings and maximum power connected load limits in watts per square foot for six different types of building use. Basing lighting efficiency standards on MLCS could provide non-design professionals, such as building owners or lessees, with a procedure which they can follow to achieve energy efficient lighting.

III. Questions for Public Comment

DOE is particularly interested in obtaining the views of the public, including building owners and lessees, bulding code officials and other interested persons on the questions set forth below. Such comments will be considered by DOE in determining whether to make changes in the minimum criteria for lighting efficiency standards for existing public buildings.

1. Should DOE's current broad criteria for lighting efficiency standards for existing public buildings be amended to reflect one or more of the standards discussed above, or other standards? If so, which standard or standards are preferable and why?

2. Should provisions which might not be contained in any lighting efficiency standard be incorporated into the program's minimum criteria for lighting efficiency standards for existing buildings? Examples of some supplemental provisions, which for the most part have been drawn from existing State energy conservation regulations and building codes and upon which the DOE is most interested in receiving comments, are:

- Making only cost effective changes in lighting provisions mandatory.
- Allowing variances for specified types of economic hardship cases.
- Where unit power densities (watts per square foot) are relevant, varying them so that larger rooms will have lower maximum densities than smaller rooms for the same specified task.

3. Should a grandfather clause be included to accept all State standards or codes existing as of a predetermined date? Should any grandfather clause be permanent or should it expire after an adequately long lead time for grandfathered States to come into compliance with the new minimum criteria?

4. What code enforcement provisions must be assessed by DOE to determine whether State and local governments are enforcing lighting efficiency standards systematically?

5. What are the estimated economic impacts (including energy savings) of implementation of lighting efficiency standards on building owners and lessees, manufacturers and the building trades?

6. What are the estimated costs (including compliance and enforcement costs) of implementation of lighting efficiency standards on State and local governments?

7. What are the estimated health, safety, and productivity impacts of implementation of lighting efficiency standards on building occupants and visitors?

IV. Availability of Standards

[14 CFR Part 39]

[Docket No. 79-WE-19-AD]

Airworthiness Directives; Lockheed Model L-1011-385 Series Airplanes

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) DOT.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rule making.

SUMMARY: This notice proposes to adopt an airworthiness directive (AD) that would require repetitive inspections and eventual modification of the pressurization system outflow valve assemblies on Lockheed L-1011 airplanes by adding reinforcement plates at both ends of each outflow valve gate. The modification will prevent the separation of the adhesive bond between the gate frame, skin, and honeycomb structure and prevent the resultant rapid decompression of the airplane in flight.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before October 3, 1979.

ADDRESSES: Send comments on the proposal to: Department of Transportation, Federal Aviation Administration, Western Region, Attention: Regional Counsel, Airworthiness Rule Docket, P.O. Box 92007, Worldway Postal Center, Los Angeles, California 90009.

ADDRESSES: The applicable service information may be obtained from:

Lockheed—California Company, Burbank, California 91520.

Also, a copy of the service information may be reviewed at, or a copy obtained from:

Rules Docket in Room 916, FAA, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20591, or

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Kyle L. Olsen, Executive Secretary, Airworthiness Directive Review Board, Federal Aviation Administration, Western Region, P.O. Box 92007, World Way Postal Center, Los Angeles, California 90009, telephone (213) 536-6351.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Interested persons are invited to participate in the making of the proposed rule by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Interested persons are also invited to comment on the economic, environmental and energy impact that might result because of adoption of the proposed rule. Communications should identify the regulatory docket number and be submitted in duplicate to the address specified above. All communications received on or before the closing date for comments will be considered by the Administrator before taking action on the proposed rule. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in light of comments received. All comments submitted will be available, both before and after the closing date for comments, in the Rules Docket for examination by interested persons. A report summarizing each FAA-public contact, concerned with the substance of the proposed AD, will be filed in the Rules Docket.

There has been a report that a Model L-1011 airplane during a ferry flight at 39,000 feet altitude experienced a rapid loss of cabin pressurization. Subsequent investigation revealed that separation of the adhesive bond between the forward pressurization outflow valve gate frame, skin, and honeycomb structure had occurred. Since this condition is likely to exist or develop on other airplanes of the same type design, the proposed AD would require repetitive inspections and eventual modification of the pressurization system outflow valve assemblies on Model L-1011-385 series airplanes.

Proposed Amendment

Accordingly, the Federal Aviation Administration proposes to amend § 39.13 of Part 39 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR 39.13) by adding the following new Airworthiness Directive:

Lockheed California—Applies to Model L-1011-385 Series airplanes certificated in all categories.

Compliance is required as indicated unless already accomplished.

To prevent rapid loss of cabin pressurization in flight, accomplish the following: (a) Within 400 hours time in service after the effective date of this AD and thereafter at intervals not to exceed 400 hours time in service until modified in accordance with paragraph (b) of this AD, inspect forward and aft outflow valve gates for delamination in accordance with the instructions contained in Lockheed Service Bulletin No. 093-21-157 dated May 1, 1979, Section 2B ("Full inspection of outflow valves"). Gates found defective must be removed and replaced with a part free from bond joint separation prior to further flight.

(b) Within 1800 hours time in service after the effective date of this AD, modify the outflow valve assemblies in accordance with Hamilton Standard Service Bulletin 21-1141 dated March 28, 1979.

(c) Special flight permits may be issued in accordance with FAR 21.197 and 21.199 to operate airplanes to a base for the accomplishment of inspections required by this AD.

(d) Alternative inspections, modifications or other actions which provide an equivalent level of safety may be used when approved by the Chief, Aircraft Engineering Division, FAA Western Region.

(e) Upon request of operator, an FAA maintenance inspector, subject to prior approval of the Chief, Aircraft Engineering Division, FAA Western Region may adjust the initial and repetitive inspection intervals specified in this AD to permit compliance at an established inspection period of the operator if the request contains substantiating data to justify the increase for that operator.

(Secs. 313(a), 601, and 603, Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended (49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, and 1423); Sec. 6(c) Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)); and 14 CFR 11.85)

Note.—The Federal Aviation Administration has determined that this document is not significant in accordance with the criteria required by Executive Order 12044 and set forth in interim Department of Transportation Guidelines.

Issued in Los Angeles, California on July 25, 1979.

Acting Director, FAA Western Region.

[Airspace Docket No. 79-GL-39]

Proposed Alteration of Transition Area

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Notice of Proposed Rulemaking.

SUMMARY: The nature of this federal action is to designate additional controlled airspace near East St. Louis, Illinois to accommodate a proposed change to Instrument Landing System (ILS) Runway 30 and Non-Directional Beacon (NDB) Runway 30 instrument approach procedure into the Bi-States Airport, East St. Louis, Illinois. The intended effect of this action is to insure segregation of the aircraft using these approach procedures in instrument weather conditions and other aircraft operating under visual weather conditions.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before August 26, 1979.

ADDRESSES: Send comments on the proposal to FAA Office of Regional Counsel, AGL-7, Attention: Rules Docket Clerk, Docket No. 79-GL-39, 2300 East Devon Avenue, Des Plaines, Illinois 60018.

A public docket will be available for examination by interested persons in the Office of the Regional Counsel, Federal Aviation Administration, 2300 East Devon Avenue, Des Plaines, Illinois 60018.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Doyle Hegland, Airspace and Procedures Branch, Air Traffic Division, AGL-530, FAA, Great Lakes Region, 2300 East Devon Avenue, Des Plaines, Illinois 60018, Telephone (312) 694-4500, Extension 456.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The floor of the controlled airspace will be lowered from 1200 feet above the surface to 700 feet for a distance of approximately 9 miles beyond that now depicted. The development of the revised procedure necessitates the FAA to alter the designated airspace to insure that that procedure will be contained within controlled airspace. In addition, aeronautical maps and charts will reflect the area of the instrument procedure which will enable other aircraft to circumnavigate the area in order to comply with applicable visual flight rule requirements.

Comments Invited

Interested persons may participate in the proposed rulemaking by submitting such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in triplicate to Regional Counsel, AGL-7, Great Lakes Region, Rules Docket No. 79-GL-39, Federal Aviation Administration, 2300 East Devon Avenue, Des Plaines, Illinois 60018. All communications received on or before August 26, 1979, will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received. All comments submitted will be available, both before and after the closing date for comments, in the Rules Docket for examination by interested persons.

Availability of NPRM

Any person may obtain a copy of this notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) by submitting a request to the Federal Aviation Administration, Office of Public Affairs, Attention: Public Information Center, APA-430, 800 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20591, or by calling (202) 426-8058. Communications must identify the notice number of this NPRM. Persons interested in being placed on a mailing list for future NPRMs should also request a copy of Advisory Circular No. 11-2 which describes the application procedures.

The Proposal

The FAA is considering an amendment to supart G of Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Part 71) to alter the transition area airspace near East St. Louis, Illinois. Subpart G of Part 71 was published in the Federal Register on January 2, 1979 (44 FR 442).

The Proposed Amendment

Accordingly, the FAA proposes to amend Subsection 71.181 of Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations as follows:

In § 71.181 (44 FR 442) the following transition area is amended to read:

East St. Louis, Ill.

That airspace extending upward from the surface within a 7-mile radius of the Bi-State Parks Airport (latitude 38°34'17.8" N., longitude 90°09'34.3" W.), and within 4.5 miles N of the 116° bearing from the LOM, and 4.5 miles S of the 129° bearing from the airport, extending from the 7-mile radius to 10.5 miles SE of the LOM; excluding that portion which overlies the St. Louis, Missouri transition area and the Belleville, Illinois transition area.

(Section 307(a), Federal Aviation Act of 1958 [49 U.S.C. 1348(a)]; Sec. 6(c), Department of Transportation Act [49 U.S.C. 1655(c)]; Sec. 11.61 of the Federal Aviation Regulations [14 CFR 11.61].)

Note.—The Federal Aviation Administration has determined that this document involves a regulation which is not significant under Executive Order 12044, as implemented by Department of Transportation Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979). A copy of the draft evaluation prepared for this document is contained in the docket. A copy of it may be obtained by writing to the Federal Aviation Administration, Attention: Rules Docket Clerk (AGL-7), Docket No. 79-GL-39, 2300 East Devon Avenue, Des Plaines, Illinois.

Issued in Des Plaines, Illinois, on July 11, 1979.

Alteration of Federal Airways

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: This notice proposes to extend VOR Federal Airways V-269, V-330, V-357 and V-497 via a new air navigation aid to be located near Burns, Oregon, and named Wildhorse. The designation of new airway segments to Wildhorse would reduce the flight planning, communication and coordination time required to use the present off airway routes in and out of southeast Oregon.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before September 5, 1979.

ADDRESSES: Send comments on the proposal in triplicate to:

Director, FAA Northwestern Region, Attention: Chief, Air Traffic Division, Docket No. 79-NW-4, Federal Aviation Administration, FAA Building, Boeing Field, Seattle, Wash. 98108.

The official docket may be examined at the following location:

FAA Office of the Chief Counsel, Rules Docket (AGC-24), Room 916, 800 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, D.C. 20591.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Mr. Everett L. McKisson, Airspace Regulations Branch (AAT-230), Airspace and Air Traffic Rules Division, Air Traffic Service, Federal Aviation Administration, 800 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, D.C. 20591; telephone; (202) 426-3715.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Comments Invited

Interested persons may participate in the proposed rulemaking by submitting such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should identify the airspace docket number and be submitted in triplicate to the Director, Northwest Region, Attention: Chief, Air Traffic Division, Federal Aviation Administration, FAA Building, Boeing Field, Seattle, Wash. 98108. All communications received on or before September 5, 1979 will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received. All comments submitted will be available, both before and after the closing date for comments, in the Rules Docket for examination by interested persons.

Availability of NPRM

Any person may obtain a copy of this Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM) by submitting a request to the Federal Aviation Administration, Office of Public Affairs, Attention: Public Information Center, APA–430, 800 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, D.C. 20591, or by calling (202) 426–8058. Communications must identify the docket number of this NPRM. Persons interested in being placed on a mailing list for future NPRMs should also request a copy of Advisory Circular No. 11–2 which describes the application procedures.

The Proposal

The FAA is considering an amendment to Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Part 71) that would make airway alterations as follows:

1. V–269 would be extended from Salmon, Idaho; via McCall, Idaho; Wildhorse, Oreg.; to Redmond, Oreg.
2. V–330 would be extended to begin at Wildhorse and go via Boise, Idaho, to its present terminal, the ALKAL intersection east of Mountain Home, Idaho.
3. V–357 would be extended to begin at Lakeview, Oreg., and go via Wildhorse to its present terminal at Baker, Oreg.
4. V–497 would be extended to begin at Rome, Oreg., and go via Wildhorse to its present terminal at Kimberly, Oreg.

Designation of these routes as airways will provide air traffic control services in an area of the state of Oregon that does not presently have this service. The time needed for flight planning, communication, and coordination would be reduced.

The Proposed Amendment

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority delegated to me, the Federal Aviation Administration proposes to amend § 71.123 of Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Part 71) as republished (44 FR 307) as follows:

Under V–269 "to Salmon, Idaho." is deleted and "Salmon, Idaho; McCall, Idaho; Wildhorse, Idaho; to Redmond, Oreg." is substituted therefor.

Under V–330 "From" is deleted and "From Wildhorse, Oreg., via Boise, Idaho.," is substituted therefor.

Under V–357 "From Baker, Oreg., via" is deleted and "From Lakeview, Oreg., via Wildhorse, Oreg.; Baker, Oreg.;" is substituted therefor.

Under V–497 "From" is deleted and "From Rome, Oreg. via Wildhorse, Oreg.;" is substituted therefor.

(Secs. 307(a) and 313(a), Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1348(a) and 1354(a)); Sec. 6(c), Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)); and 14 CFR 11.65.)

Note.—The FAA has determined that this document involves a proposed regulation which is not significant under Executive Order 12044, as implemented by DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979). Since this regulatory action involves an established body of technical requirements for which frequent and routine amendments are necessary to keep them operationally current and promote safe flight operations, the anticipated impact is so minimal that this action does not warrent preparation of a regulatory evaluation and a comment period of less than 45 days is appropriate.

Issued in Washington, D.C., on July 30, 1979.

Proposed Restricted Area Designations

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: This notice proposes to designate five restricted areas in the vicinity of Florence, Arizona, for use by the Arizona Army National Guard to contain field artillery firing and tactical operations. The proposed action would provide for safe and efficient use of the navigable airspace by prohibiting unauthorized flight operations within the area during the proposed times of use. A single area would be divided into smaller areas to permit normal use of airspace that is not being used for hazardous operations. The FAA, Albuquerque ARTC Center would be the controlling agency for all of the areas.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before September 5, 1979.

ADDRESSES: Send comments on the proposal in triplicate to:

Director, FAA Western Region, Attention: Chief, Air Traffic Division, Docket No. 79–WE–7, 15000 Aviation Boulevard, P.O. Box 92007, Worldway Postal Center, Los Angeles, Calif. 90009.

The official docket may be examined at the following location:

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Interested persons may participate in the proposed rulemaking by submitting such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should identify the airspace docket number and be submitted in triplicate to the Director, Western Region, Attention: Chief, Air Traffic Division, Federal Aviation Administration, 15000 Aviation Boulevard, P.O. Box 92007, Worldway Postal Center, Los Angeles, Calif. 90009. All communications received on or before September 5, 1979 will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendments. The proposals contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received. All comments submitted will be available, both before and after the closing date for comments, in the Rules Docket for examination by interested persons.

Availability of NPRM

Any person may obtain a copy of this Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM) by submitting a request to the Federal Aviation Administration, Office of Public Affairs, Attention: Public Information Center, APA–430, 800 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, D.C. 20591, or by calling (202) 426–8058. Communications must identify the docket number of this NPRM. Persons interested in being placed on a mailing list for future NPRMs should also request a copy of Advisory Circular No. 11–2 which describes the application procedures.

The Proposal

The FAA is considering an amendment to Subpart B of Part 73 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Part 73) to designate restricted areas identified as R–2310A, B, C, D, and E to provide airspace for Arizona Army National Guard training. R–2310A would extend from the surface to 35,000 feet MSL and include all of the other smaller areas as one. The smaller areas (R–2310B, R–2310C, R–2310D, and R–2310E) would include fewer altitudes and be used individually or collectively according to different training requirements. This would permit public use of airspace not in use by the military. Part 71 would be amended to include the restricted area to provide for joint use of the airspace. The Arizona National Guard is the lead agency for purposes of compliance with the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA). Comments on environmental aspects and land use relating to the proposed restricted areas should be addressed to: Lt. Col. Richard Schmidt, Aviation Support Facility, Arizona National Guard, 5636 East McDowell Road, Phoenix, Arizona 85008; telephone: (602) 272–9776.

The Proposed Amendment

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority delegated to me, the Federal Aviation Administration proposes to amend § 71.151 of Part 71 and § 73.23 of Part 73 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Parts 71 and 73) as republished (44 FR 344, 672) as follows:

Alteration of Jet Routes

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: This notice proposes to extend Jet Route J–73 from Tallahassee, Fla., to Miami, Fla., via Lakeland, Fla., and LaBelle, Fla., and to realign Jet Routes J–86/J–43 from Miami over LaBelle. This action improves air traffic control efficiency by altering the jet route structure to coincide with required departure routings. This eliminates the need to issue additional time consuming clearances to each aircraft that uses the routes.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before September 5, 1979.

ADDRESSES: Send comments on the proposal in triplicate to:

Director, FAA Southern Region, Attention: Chief, Air Traffic Division, Docket No. 79–SO–33, Federal Aviation Administration, P.O. Box 20636, Atlanta, Georgia 30320.

Comments Invited

Interested persons may participate in the proposed rulemaking by submitting such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should identify the airspace docket number and be submitted in triplicate to the Director, Southern Region, Attention: Chief, Air Traffic Division, Federal Aviation Administration, P.O. Box 20636, Atlanta, Georgia 30320. All communications received on or before September 5, 1979, will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. The proposed contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received. All comments submitted will be available, both before and after the closing date for comments, in the Rules Docket for examination by interested persons.

Availability of NPRM

Any person may obtain a copy of this notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) by submitting a request to the Federal Aviation Administration, Office of Public Affairs, Attention: Public Information Center, APA–430, 800 Independence Avenue SW., Washington, D.C. 20591, or by calling (202) 426–8058. Communications must identify the docket number of this NPRM. Persons interested in being placed on a mailing list for future NPRMs should also request a copy of Advisory Circular No. 11–2 which describes the application procedures.

The Proposal

The FAA is considering an amendment to Part 75 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Part 75) that would extend J–73 from Tallahassee, Fla., to Miami, Fla., via Lakeland, Fla., and LaBelle, Fla. Additionally, the segment of J–43 between Saint Petersburg, Fla. and Miami, and the segment of J–86 between Sarasota, Fla., and Miami would be realigned over LaBelle, Fla. The route between Miami and LaBelle is used by air traffic control as a preferred departure routing that currently requires issuance of clearances to each aircraft that uses this route. This procedure is time consuming and adds to controller workload. The action proposed would eliminate the necessity of issuing those clearances and reduces that workload.

The Proposed Amendment

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority delegated to me, the Federal Aviation Administration proposes to amend § 75.100 of Part 75 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Part 75) as republished (44 FR 722) as follows:

1. Under Jet Route No. 43 "via St. Petersburg, Fla.;" is deleted and "via LaBelle, Fla.; St. Petersburg, Fla.;" is substituted therefor.

2. Under Jet Route No. 73 "from Tallahassee, Fla., via" is deleted and "from Miami, Fla., via LaBelle, Fla.; Lakeland, Fla.; Tallahassee, Fla.;" is substituted therefor.

3. Under Jet Route No. 86 "and Miami, Fla., 315° radials;" is deleted and "and LaBelle, Fla., 313° (312°M) radials; LaBelle;" is substituted therefor.

(Secs. 307(a) and 313(a), Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (49 U.S.C. 1348(a) and 1354(a)); Sec. 6(c), Department of Transportation Act (49 U.S.C. 1655(c)); and 14 CFR 11.65.)

Note.—The FAA has determined that this document involves a proposed regulation which is not significant under Executive Order 12044, as implemented by DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979). Since this regulatory action involves an established body of technical requirements for which frequent and routine amendments are necessary to keep them operationally current and promote safe flight operations, the anticipated impact is so minimal that this action does not warrant preparation of a regulatory evaluation and a comment period of less than 45 days is appropriate.

In particular, the GLC asks that Section 91.32(b)(1)(ii) be amended to raise the altitude restriction at which pilots are required to wear oxygen masks, from FL 410 to FL 510. This notice does not propose regulations for adoption or represent an FAA position on the merits of the petition.

Communications must identify the notice number of this document.

Background Information

On January 4, 1979, the GLC submitted a petition for rulemaking, in accordance with Part 11 of the FAR, to amend a section of the FAR Part 91. This petition is published in its entirety as part of this notice.

The FAR section cited in the GLC petition is § 91.32(b)(1)(ii). Section 91.32(b)(1)(ii) sets forth the altitude limitations at which a pilot is required to wear an oxygen mask.

The FAA solicits comments on the GLC petition. In addition to comments on the petition, the FAA asks for comments on the following questions:

1. What reliability should the pressurized cabin structure have to assure that explosive cabin decompression is unlikely to occur?

2. Would the level of safety provided by the current rule be lowered by any measurable amount?

3. Does the operational advantages gained by operating at FL 510 as opposed to FL 410 in a shirt sleeve environment outweigh the safety being provided by the current rule?

4. Any information relevant to this mattter that could assist in an accurate evaluation of all safety aspects involved?

Although this notice sets forth the contents of the GLC petition as received by the FAA without changes, it should be understood that its publication to receive public comment is in accordance with FAA procedures governing the processing of petitions for rulemaking. It does not propose a regulatory rule for adoption, represent an FAA position, or otherwise commit the agency on the merits of the petition. The FAA intends to proceed to consider the petition under the applicable procedures of Part 11 and to reach a conclusion on the merits of the GLC proposal after it has had an opportunity to carefully evaluate it in light of the comments received and other relevant matters presented. If the FAA concludes that it should initiate public rule-making procedures on the GLC petition, the appropriate rule-making action will be proposed by the FAA including its evaluation of the proposals.

The Gates Learjet Corporation Petition

Accordingly, the Federal Aviation Administration publishes verbatim for public comment the following petition for rulemaking of the Gates Learjet Corporation, dated January 4, 1979.

PART 91—GENERAL OPERATING AND FLIGHT RULES

§ 91.32 Supplemental oxygen.

(a) General. No person may operate a civil aircraft of U.S. registry—

(1) At cabin pressure altitudes above 12,500 feet (MSL) up to and including 14,000 feet (MSL), unless the required minimum flight crew is provided with and uses supplemental oxygen for that part of the flight at those altitudes that is of more than 30 minutes duration;

(2) At cabin pressure altitudes above 14,000 feet (MSL), unless the required minimum flight crew is provided with and uses supplemental oxygen during the entire flight time at those altitudes; and

(3) At cabin pressure altitudes above 15,000 feet (MSL), unless each occupant of the aircraft is provided with supplemental oxygen.

(b) Pressurized cabin aircraft.

(1) No person may operate a civil aircraft of U.S. registry with a pressurized cabin—

(i) At flight altitudes above flight level 250, unless at least a 10-minute supply of supplemental oxygen, in addition to any oxygen required to satisfy paragraph (a) of this section, is available for each occupant of the aircraft for use in the event that a descent is necessitated by loss of cabin pressurization; and

(ii) At flight altitudes above flight level 350, unless one pilot at the controls of the airplane is wearing and using an oxygen mask that is secured and sealed, and that either supplies oxygen at all times or automatically supplies oxygen whenever the cabin pressure altitude of the airplane exceeds 14,000 feet (MSL), except that the one pilot need not wear and use an oxygen mask while at or below flight level 410 if there are two pilots at the controls and each pilot has a quick-donning type of oxygen mask that can be placed on the face with one hand from the ready position within five seconds, supplying oxygen and properly secured and sealed.

(2) Notwithstanding subparagraph (1) (ii) of this paragraph, if for any reason at any time it is necessary for one pilot to leave his station at the controls of the aircraft when operating at flight altitudes above flight level 350, the remaining pilot at the controls shall put on and use his oxygen mask until the other pilot has returned to his station.

II. Gates Learjet Corp. Interest and Nature and Extent of Relief Sought

A. The Gates Learjet Corporation interest in this petition is that we be able to operate certain of our airplanes as we intended when we initiated the 51,000 ft. program, i. e., that the cabin be a "shirtsleeve" environment. GLC expended great effort and expense to certify to SST-type rules in order to accomplish this goal, and we want to be able to operate, demonstrate and sell the airplane in the manner in which it is FAA Engineering approved.

B. GLC requests that, for the aircraft listed in Section III, the altitude below which the one pilot need not wear and use an oxygen mask be increased from FL 410 to FL 510. The remainder of the text of FAR 91.32 would remain unchanged. Specifically, GLC requests that the rule, as applied to GLC, read as follows:

§ 91.32 Supplemental oxygen.

(a) General. No person may operate a civil aircraft of U.S. registry—

(1) At cabin pressure altitudes above 12,500 feet (MSL) up to and including 14,000 feet (MSL), unless the required minimam flight crew is provided with and uses supplemental oxygen for that part of the flight at those altitudes that is of more than 30 minutes duration;

(2) At cabin pressure altitudes above 14,000 feet (MSL), unless the required minimum flight crew is provided with and uses supplemental oxygen during the entire flight time at those altitudes; and

(3) At cabin pressure altitudes above 15,000 feet (MSL), unless each occupant of the aircraft is provided with supplemental oxygen.

(b) Pressurized cabin aircraft.

(1) No person may operate a civil aircraft of U.S. registry with a pressurized cabin—

(i) At flight altitudes above flight level 250, unless at least a 10-minute supply of supplemental oxygen, in addition to any oxygen required to satisfy paragraph (a) of this section, is available for each occupant of the aircraft for use in the event that a descent is necessitated by loss of cabin pressurization; and

(ii) At flight altitudes above flight level 350, unless one pilot at the controls of the airplance is wearing and using an oxygen mask that is secured and sealed, and that either supplies oxygen at all times or automatically supplies oxygen whenever the cabin pressure altitude of the airplane exceeds 14,000 feet (MSL), except that the one pilot need not wear and use an oxygen mask while at or below flight level 510 if there are two pilots at the controls and each pilot has a quick-donning type of oxygen mask that can be placed on the face with one hand from the ready position within five seconds, supplying oxygen and properly secured and sealed.

(2) Notwithstanding subparagraph (1) (ii) of this paragraph, if for any reason at any time it is necessary for one pilot to leave his station at the controls of the aircraft when operating at flight altitudes above flight level 350, the remaining pilot at the controls shall put on and use his oxygen mask until the other pilot has returned to his station.

III. Description of Each Aircraft To Be Covered

GLC requests that this exemption be applicable to any of the airplanes listed below when they are owned and/or operated by:

Gates Learjet Corporation, principal place of business: 8220 West Harry Street, Wichita, Kansas 67209.

The Models 24E/F, 25D/F and 28/29* are the models type certificated for operation to a maximum altitude of 51,000 ft. The Models 35A/36A, although limited to 45,000 ft., incorporate the same environmental control system and supplemental oxygen system (including crew pressure-demand masks) as the 51,000 ft. approved models.

Gates Learjet models	Serial numbers
24E/F	24-350 and on.
25D/F	25-230 and on.
35A	35-107, 35-113 and on.
36A	36-032 and on.
28[1]	28-001 and on.
29[1]	29-001 and on.

[1] Pending T.C. date. 28/29 to be included in this exemption if models are Type Certificated before the exemption is granted. If not, they are to be deleted from the exemption and a request will be made later to include them.

IV. Information in Support of the Petition

The Gates Learjet aircraft listed in Section III have been certificated to some of the most stringent rules (with respect to pressure vessel and cabin environmental control system) of any airplane ever certificated. The rules were applied to the Learjet as Special Conditions (see Appendix I) in the 51,000 ft. maximum operating altitude certification program and were developed from the proposed rules which would have been applied to the U.S. SST. The arguments for granting this exemption are based primarily on the design and testing which was accomplished by GLC for the 51,000 ft. certification. Highlights of the design of the environmental control system and the pressure vessel itself, plus a summary of the testing conducted, will be presented in the following paragraphs.

A. Special Airframe Condition 1(c) (see Appendix I) required that, for the ultimate load tested in the static test, the normally prescribed factor of 1.33 be replaced with a factor of 1.67. This resulted in an ultimate pressure test of the fuselage to 25 psi differential, which is more than 2½ times the maximum cabin pressure relief valve setting.

B. In addresing the concern of window or windshield blowout and the resulting explosive decompression, GLC conducted a series of tests during which small firearms of various caliber (9mm, .45, .38) were fired at the windshield and windows under maximum differential pressure. The test demonstrated that even after severe damage such as described above, the windshield and windows would not blow out, and that the holes produced were smaller than the openings used in demonstrating compliance with Special Airframe Condition 1(a).

C. The normal cabin altitude at 51,000 ft. is 8,000 ft. with a cabin differential pressure of 9.4 psid, and the supplemental oxygen masks (pressure demand) do not supply anything except cabin air until the cabin altitude reaches 10,000 ft. The masks are "quick-don" type, i.e., they can be put on with one hand and be functioning within 5 seconds from their suspended position alongside the crew.

D. The Special Conditions required determining the maximum pressure vessel opening resulting from crack propagation for a period encompassing two normal inspections (6,000 hrs.). To accomplish this, there were 37 fail safe cuts up to 6 inches long made in the fuselage, windshield and windows. The test article was then subjected to two series of 6,000 cycles from 0 to 10 psid with one 18.7 psid cycle after each set of 6,000 cycles. After more than 12,000 cycles, the pressure vessel opening was found to have an equivalent area of 1.1 sq. in. Another test required the determination of damage resulting from a wheel and tire burst in the wheel well. Explosive charges were attached to the wheel and tire and were set off while the gear was retracted and the fuselage pressurized. No structural damage was sustained during these tests.

E. The majority of depressurizations that have occurred in the Learjet and other civil aircraft have not been the result of structural failures, but rather of failures of the pressurization air supply system. This is not surprising, since most air supply systems have a considerable amount of plumbing and numerous clamps and fittings which are subjected to extremes of pressure and temperature. In the Learjet system, two independent secondary pressurization air supply paths are provided by automatically diverting engine bleed air directly into the cabin in case of loss of pressurization. This bypasses almost all the normal system ducting and allows continued pressurization, even after component failures in the normal system.

Figure 1 shows this system in the normal pressurization mode with the cabin altitude below 9,500 feet. Engine bleed air is routed through the "3-way" valves, which are in the normal position, to the ram air heat exchanger and then into the cabin distribution ducts.

Figure 2 shows the system in the emergency pressurization mode. When the cabin altitude exceeds 9,500 ft., the pressurization aneroid switches automatically move the "3-way" valves to the emergency position. Engine bleed air is then routed directly from the engine to the cabin, bypassing all of the normal system ducting. The emergency pressurization mode can also be manually selected by the pilot.

F. The pressurization failure warning sytem is designed to provide "progressive" warning. This provides the pilot three levels of warning in the event of a depressurization. In the event of a depressurization, the following sequence would occur:

1. At 8750 feet cabin altitude, an amber CABIN ALT warning light comes on and the pressurization control reverts to manual control.

2. At 9500 feet, both pressurization aneroid switches close, automatically actuating emergency pressurization airflow. No pilot action is required to activate this system.

3. At 10,000 feet, the cabin altitude warning horn will sound. At this point, an emergency descent is required. This gives the pilot a clear indication of when to initiate an emergency descent.

For example, assume that the airplane is cruising at 51,000 ft. and a duct ruptures in the normal pressurization airflow supply system. The cabin altitude will start to rise. At 8750 ft. cabin altitude, the pilot is alerted by the CABIN ALT light, if he has not previously noticed the increasing cabin altitude. At 9500 ft. cabin altitude, both pressurization aneroid switches will close and airflow will come into the cabin through the emergency system, bypassing the failure. At this point, the cabin altitude will stabilize. The pilot can then make a normal descent or remain at altitude at his discretion. Flight tests showed the cabin temperature could be kept to comfortable levels by reducing power and/or using bleed air from only one engine.

G. Flight testing included various depressurization tets at 51,000 ft. These included:

1. Simulated dual pressurization system failure (loss of all bleed air into the cabin).

2. Simulated loss of thrust from both engines.

3. Combination single failure in pressurization system (loss of bleed air from one engine) and loss of a door seal element.

4. Pressure vessel hole, the size of which was determined in Section IV. Paragraph D, above.

5. Pressure vessel hole which yields a peak cabin altitude of 37,000 ft.

All the tests were conducted using the existing AFM emergency descent procedure, which is Thrust Levers—Idle, Autopilot—Disengage, Spoilers—Extend, Landing Gear—Down below .82 Mi or below 266 KIAS, Descent Airspeed is .79 Mi or 266 KIAS. The descent would normally be initiated when the cabin altitude aural warning sounds at a cabin altitude of 10,000 ft. However, the FAA required in tests 2, 4 and 5, above, a 17 second delay between aural warning and initiation of descent. Test 1 and 3 required no delay, but a 17 second delay was demonstrated for Test 1 and the cabin stayed well within the FAA limits.

The 17 second time delay used in these tests provides a 12 second time span for deciding to and initiating the descent after using 5 seconds to put on an oxygen mask. There is really no decision required; the procedure is to descend when the cabin altitude warning sounds.

The test results were all within the FAA criteria for cabin altitude vs. time after failure. Test 5 included opening a 3.5 sq. in. hole which was greater than 3 times the maximum hole size requirement per Section IV, Paragraph D, above.

Time required for an emergency descent from 51,000 ft. to 15,000 ft. is approximately three minutes.

Graphs of the test results are shown in Figures 3, 4, and 5 and 6, attached. The cabin altitude peak of 27,200 ft. in Figure 4 was acceptable to the FAA because, by integration, the time that the cabin altitude was above the limit could be offset by the time it was below the limit.

The following table of Effective Performance Time (EPT) or Time of Useful Consciousness (TUC) is taken from an FAA Physiological Training booklet. It presents average EPT for flying personnel without supplemental oxygen.

15,000 to 18,000 ft.—30 minutes or more.
22,000 ft.—5 to 10 minutes.
25,000 ft.—3 to 5 minutes.
28,000 ft.—2½ to 3 minutes.
30,000 ft.—1 to 2 minutes.
35,000 ft.—30 to 60 seconds.
40,000 ft.—15 to 20 seconds.
45,000 ft.—9 to 15 seconds.

When these data are considered along with the test results shown in Figures 3, 4, 5 and 6, it can be seen that even without supplemental oxygen, the time at the higher cabin altitudes after double failures and 17 second delays does not exceed the EPT, even in the worst case. GLC does not conclude from this that the supplemental oxygen system is unnecessary; the information is presented only for comparison purposes.

V. Comments in Public Interest

Granting this request would be in the public interest for the following reasons:

A. It would encourage operations at altitudes above 41,000 ft. where the operating economy is improved, thereby providing fuel savings. The pressure breathing masks certificated in the Learjet are uncomfortable to wear for long periods of time, so rather than climb and have to comply with the current rule, operators are remaining at FL 410.

B. The rule was written to provide the public with a certain level of safety and was written at a time when flight above FL 410 was not envisioned to be routine. The public's interest has been served by the requirements of the FAA having been included in the Special Conditions for the Learjet 51,000 ft. approval. The Learjet at 51,000 ft. has been required to be safer than any other airplane certificated at lower altitudes.

VI. Safety Enhancement

This exemption would not adversely affect safety for the following reasons:

A. The operators of the Learjets certificated to 45,000 ft. maximum operating altitude, i.e., the airplanes manufactured prior to those included in this request, are required by a limitation in the AFM to have all passengers and crew wear and use the oxygen masks when operating above 41,000 ft. This limitation was prescribed by the FAA EMDO which certificated the 45,000 ft. operation. When the Special Conditions for the 51,000 ft. approval were completed, the same FAA EMDO, from an engineering point of view, prescribed no oxygen mask use limitations for passengers or crew for operations up to the new maximum certificated altitude of 51,000 ft. The approval was commonly called a "shirtsleeve environment". The FAA engineering evaluation concluded that the safety provided by the new environmental control system, the fuselage static and cyclic tests conducted to verify fuselage integrity (even under failure conditions), and the actual in-flight depressurization test results did not warrant a Flight Manual requirement for anyone aboard the airplane to wear an oxygen mask at airplane altitudes up to 51,000 ft. The current 41,000 ft. cutoff point in FAR 91.32 is not valid for aircraft meeting engineering requirements such as the SST White Paper requirements which the Learjet met.

B. There is no additional safety provided by one crewmember wearing a pressure demand mask constantly above 41,000 ft. It was demonstrated in the tests to obtain "quick-don" status for the masks used in the 51,000 ft. Learjets that they can, with one hand, be secured on the face within 5 seconds from their withdrawal from their suspended position alongside either crewmember. In the worst case depressurization test required by the FAA Engineering Office, the cabin altitude rise to 30,000 ft. required 36 seconds. The Time of Useful Consciousness at that altitude is 1 to 2 minutes, according to the FAA Physiological Training Booklet, so there is far more than ample time for a crewmember to secure a "quick-don", 5 second mask to his face. The design and tests of the 51,000 ft. "shirtsleeve environment" Learjet have proven to provide a level of safety at 51,000 ft. which is not afforded at lower altitudes by most other airplanes.

[32 CFR Part 513]

[AR 600-15]

Assistance of Creditor by Department of the Army

AGENCY: Department of the Army, DOD.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: The Army is revising the regulation on the policies for processing claims of delinquent indebtedness against Army members. This revision implements and expands the recent amendments of the DOD Directive 1344.9 that incorporates provision of (a) the Truth-in-Lending Act, and (b) the recently enacted Fair Debt Collection Practices Act, which prohbits debt collection agencies from contacting third parties. The revision conforms with the President's directive and DA Circular 310.9 regarding readability of Army publication.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before September 5, 1979.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Mrs. Mary-Howard Critchell, Telephone: 202-325-8080, or write to Cdr. MILPERCEN, DAPC-EPA-P, 2461 Eisenhower Avenue, Alexandria, VA 22331.

Accordingly, we propose to amend 32 CFR by revising Part 513 to read as follows:

PART 513—ASSISTANCE OF CREDITOR BY THE DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY

Sec.

513.1 Purpose.
513.2 Applicability.
513.3 Policy.
513.4 Banks and credit unions.
513.5 Fair Debt Collection Practices Act.
513.6 Locator service.
513.7 Debt processing procedures.
513.8 Debt complaints returned to creditors without action.
513.9 Exemptions from Full Disclosure and Standards of Fairness.
513.10 Action by commanders.

513.11 Referral to Department of the Army.
513.12 Appendix A—Certificate of Compliance.

Authority: The provisions of this Part 513 issued under sec. 3012, 70A Stat. 157; 10 U.S.C. 3012.

§ 513.1 Purpose.

This Part gives Department of the Army policy and guidance in handling debt claims against Army members. The Army Regulation (AR 600–15) complies with the Department of Defense (DOD) Directive 1344.9 contained in Part 43a, Chapter I of this title.

§ 513.2 Applicability.

(a) This Part applies to all active Army members and to creditors who seek help in processing debt complaints against Army members. Note: A debt collector is not a creditor.

(b) This Part does not apply to—

(1) Soldiers who are retired or separated from active duty unless assigned to the Reserves.

(2) Claims for support of dependents or claims by the Federal, State or local government.

§ 513.3 Policy.

(a) The Army expects soldiers to conduct their private affairs satisfactorily and pay their just debts promptly. It must be a legal debt acknowledged by the soldier in which there is no reasonable dispute as to the facts or the law, or one reduced to judgment which conforms to the Soldier's and Sailors' Relief Act (50 U.S.C. Appendix, Section 501 et seq (1970)] if applicable.

(b) The Army has no legal authority to force soldiers to pay their debts; nor can the Army divert any part of their pay even though payment was decreed by a civil court. Although the Army does not condone irresponsibility, only civil authorities can enforce payment of private debts.

(c) The Army will revoke debt processing privileges for those creditors who do not abide by the rules for processing debt complaints, or who are trying to use the Army as a debt collection agency.

§ 513.4 Banks and credit unions.

Banks and credit unions located on military bases must apply DOD Standards of Fairness, before making loans or credit agreements. Banks and credit unions which do not meet this requirement will be denied help in processing debt complaints. If soldiers are referred to off-base branches of an on-post bank or credit union, the branches must also comply with the Standards of Fairness before making loans or credit agreements.

§ 513.5 Fair Debt Collection Practices Act.

Section 43a.5(e) of this title states that the debt collector must have the prior consent of the debtor to contact the commanding officer. This consent must be in writing and include the debt collector's name.

§ 513.6 Locator service.

(a) Current military address for all active Army personnel may be obtained by writing Commander, US Army Enlisted Records and Evaluation Center (USAEREC), Fort Benjamin Harrison, IN 46249. All requests must include the soldier's full name, rank, social security number, and the date and place of birth, if social security number is not known. A $2 check or money order payable to the Treasurer of the United States must be inclosed with each request.

(b) If a debt collector knows the soldier is represented by a civilian lawyer or a military legal assistance officer, he must first contact one of them. If he does not know or cannot find out the name and address of the lawyer, or does not receive a response, he may then write to the above address. However, debt collectors must not use postcards nor state that the locator service is being sought in order to collect a debt; doing so would violate the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act.

§ 513.7 Debt processing procedures.

In addition to § 43a.6(b) and (c) of this title, creditors must submit a true copy of the signed contract. An additional paragraph has been added to the Certificate of Compliance (appendix A). (See § 513.12.) This insures that the creditor is complying with the relevant State's law regarding contact with an employer, as stated in section 43a.5(d) of this title.

§ 513.8 Debt complaints returned to creditors without action

(a) In addition to the provision in § 43a.5(c) (1) through (3), debt complaints will not be processed if:

(1) A loan or credit has been made without a credit check.

(2) A loan or credit has been made to a soldier who cannot furnish credit references or already has a delinquent debt with the creditor.

(3) The soldier was not given a chance to answer a previous inquiry (45 days for those in the contiguous 48 States and the District of Columbia; 60 days for all others).

(b) The provisions of § 43a.5(c)(1) are explained in greater detail in AR 600–15. Photostatic copies of actual correspondence, or documentary proof that every effort has been made to obtain payment by direct contact with the soldier.

§ 513.9 Exemptions from full disclosure and standards of fairness.

The following debt complaints are exempt from the Full Disclosure and Standards of Fairness. This does not prevent the debtor from questioning service charges and negotiating a fair and reasonable settlement.

(a) Claims from private parties selling personal items (e.g., car, furniture, appliances, etc.) on a one-time basis.

(b) Claims from companies furnishing services in which credit is given only to facilitate the service (e.g., utilities, milk, laundry, and related services).

(c) Claims by endorsers, co-makers, or lenders who intend only to help the soldier in getting credit. These claims, however, may not benefit the above through receipt of interest or otherwise.

(d) Contract for the purchase, sale, or rental of real estate.

(e) Claims in which the total unpaid amount does not exceed $50.

(f) Claims based on a revolving or open-end credit account. The account must show:

(1) The periodic interest rate and the equivalent annual rate.

(2) The balance to which the interest is applied to compute the charge.

(g) Liens on real property (e.g., a house). This does not include improvements or repairs.

§ 513.10 Action by commanders.

(a) Creditors, notified of the requirements of this Part, who refuse or repeatedly fail to comply with them, will be informed by the commander that no action will be taken until they comply with the provisions of this Part. Commanders receiving subsequent inquiries from Headquarters, Department of the Army (HQDA), White House, Congress, or any other source, will inform HQDA that the creditor has been informed that no action can be taken until the creditor provides the necessary data or documentation.

(b) Inquiries from creditors, no matter what the merits of the claim, which clearly show that the creditor is attempting to make unreasonable use of the debt processing privilege, will be referred to HQDA through channels, with a recommendation stating the reasons why the creditors' debt processing privileges should be revoked.

§ 513.11 Referral to Department of the Army.

(a) Creditors who have complied with these terms and are unsuccessful, after reasonable efforts to collect the debt, may request help from Commander, US Army Military Personnel Center. In such cases, the information must be the same as that furnished the unit commander. The request should be sent to Cdr, MILPERCEN, ATTN: DAPC-OPR-P, Alexandria, VA 22332 for commissioned and warrant officers, or ATTN: DAPC-EPA-P, Alexandria, VA 22331 for enlisted members. All requests must include:

(1) The soldier's full name, rank, social security number, and the date and place of birth, if social security number is not known.

(2) The amount and date of the original debt.

(3) The terms of payment.

(4) The balance due.

(5) The required documents, including copies of all correspondence.

(b) Separate letters must be written on each account for prompt and efficient processing.

(c) Inquiries which clearly show that the creditor is not conforming with this Part, or is trying to use the Army as a collection agency, will be informed that the debt processing privilege has been revoked. The Commanding General, MILPERCEN, will inform commanders world-wide by electrical message that the debt processing privilege of a specific creditor has been revoked.

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

Coast Guard

[33 CFR Part 117]

[CGD 79-114]

Drawbridge Operation Regulations; Yazoo River, Miss.

AGENCY: Coast Guard, DOT.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: At the request of Flowers Transportation, Incorporated, the Coast Guard is considering revising the regulations governing the operation of the drawbridges across the Yazoo River from its mouth to Greenville, Mississippi, to require at least four hours notice at all times. This change is being considered because of an increase in commercial navigation. This action will relieve the bridge owners of having a person constantly available to open the draw while still providing for the reasonable needs of navigation.

DATE: Comments must be received on or before September 7, 1979.

ADDRESS: Comments should be submitted to and are available for examination at the office of the Commander (obr), Second Coast Guard District, 1430 Olive Street, St. Louis, Missouri 63103.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Frank L. Teuton, Jr. Chief, Drawbridge Regulations Branch (G-WBR/73), Room 7300, Nassif Building, 400 Seventh Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20590 (202–426–0942).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Interested persons are invited to participate in this proposed rule making by submitting written views, comments, data or arguments. Persons submitting comments should include their name and address, identify the bridge, and give reasons for concurrence with or any recommended change in the proposal.

The Commander, Second Coast Guard District, will forward any comments received with his recommendations to the Chief, Office of Marine Environment and Systems, U.S. Coast Guard Headquarters, Washington, D.C., who will evaluate all communications received and recommend a course of final action to the Commandant on this proposal. The proposed regulations may be changed in the light of comments received.

Drafting Information

The principal persons involved in drafting this proposal are: Frank L. Teuton, Jr., Project Manager, Office of Marine Environment and Systems, and Coleman Sachs, Project Attorney, Office of Chief Counsel.

Discussion of the Proposed Regulations

This regulation change requiring four hours notice is proposed because commercial navigation on the Yazoo has recently increased and is expected to continue to increase. It will provide uniformity for the operation of all drawbridges across the Yazoo River. Presently, some drawbridges are required to open on signal, one on three hours notice and two on four hours notice.

In consideration of the foregoing, it is proposed that Part 117 of Title 33 of the Code of Federal Regulations be amended by:

1. Deleting 33 CFR 117.560(f)(18).

2. Revising 33 CFR 117.560(f)(17) to read as follows:

117.560 Mississippi River and its tributaries and outlets; bridges where constant attendance of draw tenders is not required.

* * * * *

(f) * * *

(17) Yazoo River, Miss. The draws of each drawbridge shall open on signal if at least four hours notice is given. When a vessel has given notice and fails to arrive within the four-hour period specified, the draw tender shall remain on duty for two additional hours and open the draw if the requesting vessel appears. After this time an additional four-hour notice is required.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

[40 CFR Part 81]

[FRL 1241-2]

Air Quality Control Regions, Criteria and Control Techniques; Attainment Status Designation

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Proposed Revocation of final rule.

SUMMARY: The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) today proposes to revoke the non-attainment designation of the Tacoma, Washington area for sulfur dioxide, under Section 107 of the Clean Air Act, because of uncertainty as to whether, or to what extent, the supplementary control system operated by the ASARCO smelter to limit sulfur dioxide emissions is authorized under the Act.

DATE: Comments are due by September 5, 1979.

ADDRESSES: Comments may be sent to Clark L. Gaulding, Chief, Air Programs Branch, Environmental Protection Agency, Region 10 (M/S 629), 1200 Sixth Avenue, Seattle, Washington 98101.

Copies of the supporting documents are available for inspection during normal business hours at the address above and at the following location: Environmental Protection Agency, Public Information Reference Unit, Room 2922, 401 M Street SW., Washington, D.C. 20460.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Clark L. Gaulding, Telephone No. (206) 442-1230, (FTS) 399-1230.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Section 107(d) of the Clean Air Act, as amended in 1977, requires the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to promulgate lists identifying the attainment status of all states with respect to the national ambient air quality standards (NAAQS). EPA promulgated those lists on March 3, 1978 (43 FR 8962) and amended them in part on September 11, 1978 (43 FR 40412).

On March 3, 1978 EPA designated the Tacoma, Washington area non-attainment for sulfur dioxide (SO_2) (43 FR 9043) and confirmed that designation on September 11, 1978 (43 FR 40420). EPA noted that SO_2 concentrations in the Tacoma area were influenced by the use of a supplementary control system (SCS) by the Asarco Smelter, and that because that SCS was unauthorized, the Tacoma area should be classified non-attainment.

In commenting on the designation, ASARCO objected that it was inappropriate to characterize its SCS as unauthorized. First, ASARCO noted that EPA has not yet provided any interpretation of the statutory test for determining whether an SCS is authorized. Second, ASARCO submitted technical support for its position that its SCS is in fact authorized under the Clean Air Act. EPA agrees that under the circumstances presented here, the absence of regulations interpreting the statutory test makes it impossible to determine whether, or to what extent, the ASARCO SCS is authorized. (EPA will shortly propose such regulations.) Moreover, without expressing any view on the merits of ASARCO's argument that is SCS is authorized, EPA views ASARCO's argument as non-frivolous and made in good faith. EPA is therefore proposing to revoke the non-attainment designation for the Tacoma area. Pursuant to Section 107(d)(4) of the Clean Air Act, the legal effect of this revocation will be to make the tacoma area "unclassifiable" as defined by Section 107(d)(1)(D).

Public comments on the proposed revocation of the Tacoma area non-attainment designation for SO_2 are invited for a period of 30 days. Comments should be addressed to Clark L. Gaulding at the address listed above.

Meetings of National Museum Services Board; Notice of Proposed Rulemaking AGENCY: Institute of Museum Services, HEW.

ACTION: Notice of Proposed Rulemaking.

SUMMARY: The Institute of Museum Services proposes regulations governing meetings of the National Museum Services Board under the Government in the Sunshine Act (5 U.S.C. 552b). The regulations include provisions regarding public announcements of Board meetings, standards for closing meetings and requirements applicable when meetings are closed.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before September 5, 1979.

ADDRESSES: Comments should be addressed to Director, Institute of Museum Services, 200 Independence Avenue, S.W., Room 326H, Washington, D.C. 20201.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Structure of Institute of Museum Services

The Museum Services Act establishes an Institute of Museum Services (IMS) consisting of a National Museum Services Board and a Director.

The National Museum Services Board consists of 15 members appointed for fixed terms by the President with the advice and consent of the Senate. The Chairman of the Board is designated by the President from the appointed members. Members are broadly representative of various museums and curatorial, educational and cultural resources of the United States.

In addition to the members appointed by the President, the following serve as members of the Board: The Chairman of the National Endowment for the Arts, the Chairman of the National Endowment for the Humanities, the Secretary of the Smithsonian Institute, the Director of the National Science Foundation, and the Commissioner of Education.

The Board has responsibility for establishing the general policies of the Institute.

The Director of the Institute is appointed by the President with the advice and consent of the Senate. The Director has responsibility for the general administration of the Institute and is authorized, subject to the policy direction of the Board, to make grants to museums under the Act.

The IMS is an agency within the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Applicability of Government in the Sunshine Act

The Government in the Sunshine Act, Pub. L. 94-409 (1976), amended Title 5 of the United State by adding a new section 552b. Section 552b of Title 5 U.S.C. provides in general that Federal agencies headed by collegial bodies must, subject to specified exceptions, hold their meetings open to public observation. The Institute of Museum Services is subject to section 552b. For the convenience of readers and commenters, section 552b is appended in full. This appendix will not be codified in Title 45 CFR.

Section 552b requires that each agency subject to its provisions issue implementing regulations. 5 U.S.C. section 552b(g). The proposed regulations set forth below are designed to fulfill this requirement for the Institute of Museum Services.

These proposed regulations, which will govern meetings of the National Museum Services Board, were considered in substance by the Board at its meeting held on November 17, 1978. Pursuant to direction of the Board, the Administrative Conference of the United States was informally consulted about these proposed regulations.

Summary of Proposed Regulations

The proposed regulations do not repeat or paraphrase all the provisions of section 552b. (These provisions are fully applicable to the meetings of the National Museum Services Board and need not be repeated in regulations in order to be made operational with respect to the Board.) Instead, the proposed regulations are designed to highlight major provisions of section 552b as they affect the public and to provide guidance to the public as to how the Board proposes to operate in accordance with the provisions of section 552b. The proposed regulations would add a new Subpart B to Part 64 of Title 45 CFR, which contains the regulations of the Institute. The new subpart would relate to meetings of the National Museum Services Board.

Provisions of the regulations. General. Section 64.40 of the proposed regulations indicates that the provisions of 5 U.S.C. section 552b apply to meetings of the National Museum Services Board. Proposed § 64.41 of the regulations states the general rule that, unless properly closed, every portion of every meeting of the Board is open to public observation. Section 64.42 states the applicability of the regulations to meetings of committees of the Board. Since certain decisions under the regulations must be taken by record vote of the National Museum Services Board, § 64.43 describes the nature of a record vote. A majority vote of the entire membership of the Board is required to constitute a record vote.

Announcement of meetings. Sections 64.44-64.47 of the proposed regulations relate to announcement of meetings. Section 64.44 requires a meeting to be publicly announced at least one week before the meeting takes place and specifies the matters which the announcement must cover. Paragraphs (b) and (c) of § 64.44 contain exceptions to this requirement.

Sections 64.45 and 64.46 state procedures to be followed when it is necessary to change the time, place or subject matter of a meeting. Under § 64.47 any public announcement required by the regulations must be published in the Federal Register.

Closing meetings. Sections 64.48–64.51 govern the closing of meetings. Section 64.48 provides that the national Museum Services Board may by record vote close a meeting if the Board determines that the meeting falls within one of the exceptions stated in section 552b. Concurrence of the Assistant Secretary for Public Affairs is required before a meeting may be closed.

Exceptions, as set forth in section 52b, are listed in Appendix A to the proposed regulations. Under § 64.48(b), the Board must consider whether the public interest merits keeping a meeting open although an exception applies. Section 64.49 deals with requests to close meetings submitted by persons who believe that their interests may be directly affected by a meeting or a portion of a meeting or a portion of a meeting. Section 64.50 describes the material which must be retained by the Board if it determines to close a meeting or a portion of a meeting. In general a transcript or recording of the meeting must be kept. Where meetings are closed pursuant to exceptions (8), (9)(i), or (10) (as listed in Appendix A), minutes of the meeting are adequate. Section 64.51 deals with the disposition of such recordings, transcripts or minutes and the circumstances under which they may or may not be made available to the public.

Subpart B—Meetings of the National Museum Services Board

General

§ 64.40 Scope.

5 U.S.C. section 552b, added to the United States Code by the Government in the Sunshine Act, Pub. L. 94–409 (1976), provides that Federal agencies headed by collegial bodies must, with certain exceptions, hold their meetings in public. Section 552b applies to meetings of the National Museum Services Board ("NMSB"). The regulations in this document (Subpart B of Part 64, Title 45 CFR) set forth procedures for the conduct of meetings of the NMSB in accordance with section 552b.

§ 64.41 General rule.

Unless properly closed under § 64.48, every portion of every meeting of the NMSB is open to public observation. For the purposes of this document a "meeting" means the deliberations of at least the number of members of the NMSB required to take action on behalf of the NMSB, where these deliberations determine, or result in the joint conduct or disposition of, official IMS business. (A "meeting" does not include deliberations required or permitted by subsections (d) or (e) of section 552b.)

§ 64.42 Application to NMSB committees.

This document applies to committees of the NMSB when they are authorized to make final policy decisions on the NMSB's behalf. This document does not apply to committees or informal working groups of the NMSB which are authorized to make recommendations or reports to the NMSB or to perform technical or ministerial functions on its behalf.

§ 64.43 Record vote.

(a) Certain action of the NMSB with regard to meetings under these regulations may be taken only by "record vote." For purposes of this document, a vote of the NMSB is a "record vote" if (1) it carries by a majority of all those holding office as NMSB members at the time of the vote; (2) no proxies are counted toward the necessary majority; and (3) the individual vote of each member voting is recorded.

(b) Within one day of a record vote to close, or withhold information about, a meeting, or any record vote for this purpose that does not achieve the necessary majority, the NMSB makes available to the public a written record showing the vote of each member.

(c) The NMSB may take a vote with respect to matters governed by this part (without convening) by means of circulation of a written ballot, tally sheet, or other notation procedures.

Announcement of Meetings

§ 64.44 Public announcement of meetings.

(a) Except as stated in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, the NMSB makes a public announcement of each meeting at least one week before the meeting. The announcement covers:

(1) The time, place, and subject matter of the meeting;

(2) What portions of the meeting, if any, are to be closed to the public; and

(3) The name and phone number of the official designated to respond to requests for information on the meeting.

(b) The announcement may be made less than a week before the meeting it announces or after the meeting only if (1) the NMSB by record vote determines that agency business requires the meeting to be called on such short or after-the-fact notice and (2) a public announcement is made at the earliest practicable time.

(c) All or any portion of the announcement of any meeting may be omitted if the NMSB by record vote determines that the announcement would disclose information which should be withheld under the same standards as apply for closing meetings under § 64.48.

§ 64.45 Changes in time or place of meeting.

The time or place of a meeting of the NMSB that has been publicly announced as provided in § 64.44 may subsequently be changed. However, the change must be publicly announced at the earliest practicable time.

§ 64.46 Changes in subject matter of meeting.

The subject matter of any portion of any meeting of the NMSB that has been publicly announced as provided in § 64.44 (or the determination whether any portion of any meeting so publicly announced will be open or closed) may subsequently be changed if (a) the NMSB determines by record vote that agency business so requires and that no earlier announcement if change was possible and (b) the NMSB publicly announces the change and the vote of each member or the change at the earliest practicable time. (Deletion or postponement of agenda items are not subject to the requirements of this section.)

§ 64.47 Publication of announcements.

Promptly following a public announcement required by these regulations, the NMSB submits, for publication in the Federal Register, a notice containing information regarding the announcement as required by section 552b.

Closed Meetings

§ 64.48 Reasons and procedures for closing meetings.

(a) The NMSB may, by record vote in accordance with section 552b, close any portion of a meeting if it determines that the portion falls within one of the exceptions stated in 5 U.S.C. section 552b(c). (These exceptions are listed in Appendix A.)

(b) In making a determination under paragraph (a) of this section, the NMSB considers whether the public interest merits keeping the meeting open although an exception applies. The Assistant Secretary for Public Affairs must review and approve a determination to close a meeting or a portion of a meeting.

(c) The Board addresses requests for the certification required by section 552b to the General Counsel of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

(d) Within one day of a record vote closing a portion of a NMSB meeting, the NMSB makes available a full written explanation of the NMSB's action and a list of all persons it expects to attend the meeting and their affilations.

§ 64.49 Requests to close meetings.

A person who believes his or her interests may be directly affected by a meeting or a portion of a meeting may request the NMSB to close it to the public for the reason cited in paragraphs (5), (6), or (7) of Appendix A. Such requests are handled under procedures established by the NMSB in accordance with section 552b.

§ 64.50 Materials related to closed portions of meetings.

If a portion or portions of any meeting or the NMSB are closed to the public—

(a) The presiding officer of the meeting (usually the Chairman of the NMSB) furnishes a statement setting forth the time and place of the meeting and the persons present (including staff).

(b) Except where the Act authorizes minutes to be kept, the NMSB makes a complete transcript or electronic recording adequate to record fully the proceeedings of each portion of the meeting that is closed to the public.

(c) The NMSB maintains the presiding officer's statement, the General Counsel's certificate, as required by section 552b, and the transcript, recording, or minutes of the meeting for at least two years after the meeting and at least one year after the NMSB completes consideration of any proposal, report, resolution, or similar matter discussed in any closed portion of the meeting.

§ 64.51 Opening of transcript or recording of closed meeting.

(a) Except as stated in paragraph (b) of this section, the NMSB makes available for inspection the transcript, electronic recording or minutes of every portion of every closed meeting on request to any member of the public. The transcript or recording is made available in an easily accessible place. The NMSB furnishes to any member of the public on request copies of the transcript (or of a transcription of the recording) disclosing the identity of each speaker. The NMSB charges for the copies or transcriptions no more than the actual cost of duplication or transcription.

(b) The NMSB withholds the transcripts or recording of the discussion of any agenda item if the Chairman of the NMSB (or a NMSB member designated by the Chairman) determines that the discussion contains information which should be withheld under the same standards which apply for closing meetings under § 64.48. The NMSB releases the transcript or recording so withheld when the Chairman (or the Chairman's designee) determines that the grounds for withholding no longer apply.

Intent To Prepare a Draft Environmental Statement (DES) for the Proposed Lower Platte River Flood Control Project in Nebraska

AGENCY: U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Omaha District.

ACTION: Notice of Intent to Prepare a DES.

SUMMARY: 1. The proposed Federal action is to provide flood protection in the Lower Platte River Basin in Nebraska.

2. Reasonable structural alternatives for flood protection are construction of a ring levee around Valley, Nebraska, or rehabilitation of an existing Platte River levee west of Valley and construction of a "U" levee around Fremont, Nebraska, construction of a 5-mile long tie-back levee just west of Fremont, or construction of a 9-mile long tie-back levee 5 miles west of Fremont. Nonstructural alternatives for flood protection for these communities are flood insurance, flood proofing, and emergency evacuation.

3. To date, public involvement has included meetings and discussions with public entities, local planning agencies, and concerned citizen groups. No significant issues have yet been identified. The project will also comply with the requirements of the Historic Preservation Act, the Endangered Species Act, the Fish and Wildlife Coordination Act, Section 404 of the 1977 Clean Water Act, Executive Order 11988 on flood plains, and Executive Order on wetlands.

4. A scoping meeting for the DES will be held on Wednesday, 8 August 1979, at 9:30 a.m. (CDT) in the City Council Chambers, 725 North Park Street, Fremont, Nebraska. The participation of the public and all interested Government agencies is invited.

5. The Omaha District estimates that the DES will be released for public review in November 1979.

ADDRESS: Questions about the proposed action, DES, or scoping meeting should be directed to Richard Gorton; Chief, Environmental Analysis Branch, Omaha District, CE; 6014 U.S. Post Office and Courthouse; Omaha, Nebraska 68102. Phone: (402) 221–4605.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

1. Purpose and Background of This Notice
2. Coordination With the Private Sector
3. Comment Procedures

1. Purpose and Background of This Notice

The National Energy Extension Service Act ("Act"), 42 U.S.C. 7001 et seq., requires the Department of Energy ("DOE") to:

. . . take such steps as may be necessary to insure that the comprehensive energy extension service ("EES") program is implemented in a manner which minimizes conflict with existing services in the private sector of the economy that are similar to those provided under such program. Sec. 504(d), 42 U.S.C. 7003(d).

The DOE issued a final regulation, 43 FR 45536 (October 2, 1978), to expand the current pilot EES program to include all States. With regard to minimizing conflict with existing services in the private sector, sec. 465.3(d) provides that the Director of EES in DOE shall at least once a year (1) consult with the National EES Advisory Board, and (2) after publishing a notice of inquiry and public meeting in the Federal Register, obtain written and oral comments from the public. Today's notice is issued to solicit written and oral comments to meet the requirement of sec. 465.3(d)(2).

The purpose of the EES program is to provide information and technical assistance regarding practical energy conservation and renewable resource opportunities. The focus is on providing personalized services tailored to the needs of small-scale energy users, which include homeowners, tenants, landlords, small businesses, and local governments. Typical services include energy audits, workshops, "hotlines," practical demonstrations and personal counseling regarding energy use.

The EES program has been implemented on a pilot basis since 1977. For the pilot program, ten States were selected competitively to receive EES grants from DOE. DOE has issued a final regulation to expand the EES program to include all States. National program grants have not yet been awarded. Both the pilot programs and the regulation leave decisions concerning the EES services to be offered and who will receive them to the States, because EES should be responsive to local needs and circumstances.

2. Coordination With the Private Sector

DOE has identified three issues on which comments would be particularly useful:

A. Potential EES Services to Small Businesses. Small businesses are recipients of EES services. DOE would like comments on the kinds of energy problems small businesses face and the types of EES services that would be most useful. Evaluation of the EES pilot program shows that the most successful EES programs directed to small businesses involve energy audits, onsite counseling, and demonstration workshops focused on a specific topic. Examples include a boiler workshop and audit program for small commercial establishments and a program for hospitality businesses. Experience from the pilot program indicates that EES programs directed to small businesses have had a more direct influence on clients' energy conservation decisions than did those programs addressing other types of clients. Should DOE emphasize to the States the usefulness of highly focused energy audit, counseling and demonstration services for small businesses?

B. How EES Can Complement Private Sector Enterprises. The Act's legislative history indicates that, with proper management, EES is intended to complement and stimulate services available privately:

> . . . the EES can provide services to the individual consumer and homeowner, agricultural and rural populations, and commercial and small business operators without impinging on the market for the generally more sophisticated and fee-based services of the private sector groups. In fact, the Committee believes that the generally increased awareness of our population, particularly when coupled with the effective successful actions by individual citizens which EES should produce, will stimulate rather than depress or supplant the market for such private services. (Committee on Science and Technology, H.R. Rep. No. 1348, 94th Cong., 2d Sess., 18 (July 19, 1976)).

DOE has identified four ways in which EES can function in a complementary manner with private sector initiatives and would like comments on these, as well as other suggestions. First, EES complements private sector services by increasing clients' willingness to make investments in energy conservation or renewable resource improvements. Evaluation of the EES pilot program shows that EES clients have both made and planned more energy conservation investments than persons who did not receive an EES service.

Second, EES offers a communication channel through which private sector concerns can make relevant materials known to the States. Each month, DOE sends to the States a package of materials relevant to EES. These include reports, product brochures, manuals, pamphlets, fact sheets and news clippings. The materials are not sent for promotional purposes, but rather to keep the States informed of what is available. Private sector concerns have made numerous items available to EES, many of which have been included in the monthly packages after a review for relevance to EES. DOE encourages private sector concerns to continue sending relevant materials to EES. Private sector organizations may also contact State energy offices directly to make known their products and services relevant to EES. Is this communication channel useful to private sector organizations?

Third, private sector organizations can co-sponsor appropriate EES services with a State. Evaluation of the EES pilot program indicates that co-sponsorship of appropriate services by private sector groups can increase the credibility of the services to their target audience and help insure that the EES services are responsive to actual needs and concerns. An example of co-sponsorship in the pilot program is an energy audit program directed to selected hospitals in a pilot State. This EES program has been co-sponsored by a hospital council in the State and by a health insurance organization. By working together, the EES organization and the two co-sponsors have been able to develop a responsive and expanded energy extension service for the hospitals.

Fourth, private sector organizations can receive subcontracts from a State EES program to offer an EES service directly. An example of this approach in the pilot program is a company which received an EES contract from a pilot State to deliver a service to small businesses. What degree of interest do private sector organizations have in co-sponsoring or directly delivering an EES service?

C. Areas of Potential Conflict. DOE would appreciate comments on areas of potential conflict between EES services and similar services available in the private sector. On the basis of the pilot program experience, it appears to DOE that EES is being implemented in a manner that minimizes conflict with private sector services. DOE would like to ascertain through comments on this notice whether this perception is shared by others.

In addition to issuing this notice, DOE has attempted to incorporate procedures into the EES program to minimize private sector conflict. Section 465.7(c)(5) of the EES regulation requires States to provide opportunity to comment on their EES plans prior to or during development of the plans. Among the groups to be provided opportunity to comment are energy producers and other private enterprises and nonprofit organizations that are involved in active energy outreach activities. States are required in their applications for EES grant funds to list the organizations afforded an opportunity to comment and describe how the comments affected the contents of the State plans.

One reason DOE included this provision in the regulation was to provide a procedure through which States and private sector organizations would resolve potential conflicts, if any, prior to EES program implementation.

3. Comment Procedures

All interested persons are invited to present their views in writing or in person on the items discussed above. These views will be considered fully by DOE in formulating procedures to coordinate EES activities with those of the private sector over the coming year. Both written and oral comments are welcome.

Written Comment Procedures

Interested persons are invited to submit views or data concerning EES coordination with the private sector. These comments should be labeled "EES/Private Sector Coordination, Docket No. CAS–RM–79–505," on the outside of the envelope and on documents submitted to DOE. Fifteen copies should be submitted.

Any information or data considered by the person furnishing it to be confidential must be so identified and submitted in writing, one copy only. DOE reserves the right to determine the confidential status of the information or data and to treat it according to that determination.

Written comments should be submitted by September 14, 1979, to Margaret Sibley, Docket No. CAS–RM–79–505, Office of Conservation and Solar Applications, U.S. Department of Energy, 20 Massachusetts Avenue, N.W., Room 2221C, Washington. D.C. 20585.

Oral Comment Procedures

A public meeting will be held on Tuesday, October 2, 1979, in the Georgetown Room, Washington Hilton Hotel, 1919 Connecticut Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20009. The meeting will begin at 9:00 a.m. Attendees should register between 8:30 and 9:00 a.m. The tentative agenda is as follows:

Anyone may make a written request to make an oral presentation at the meeting. These presentations should not exceed 10 minutes and will be included in the agenda under the appropriate topic. Such requests should be directed by September 14, 1979, to Margaret Sibley, at the address given above. Request should be labeled, both on the document and on the envelope, "EES/Private Sector Coordination, Docket No. CAS–RM–79–505, Request to Speak." The person making the request should briefly describe the topic to be addressed; if appropriate, state how she or he represents a group or organization; and give a telephone number where she or he may be contacted through the day of the meeting. DOE will notify each person selected to appear at the meeting before 4:30 p.m. on September 21, 1979. Each person selected to be heard should bring 25 copies of her or his statement to the meeting.

DOE reserves the right to select the persons to be heard at the meeting, to schedule their respective presentations and to establish the procedures governing the conduct of the meetings. A DOE official will be designated to preside at the meetings. Questions may be asked only during those periods when comments are requested from the floor. Any further procedural rules needed for the proper conduct of the hearings will be announced by the presiding officer.

Bonneville Power Administration

Hot Springs-Bell Proposed 500-kV Transmission Line; Notice of Intent To Revise and Reissue a Draft Supplemental Environmental Impact Statement

Bonneville Power Administration (BPA) hereby gives public notice of its intent to revise and reissue its draft supplemental environmental impact statement (EIS) on the Hot Springs-Bell 500-kV transmission line. As a result of new planning considerations, BPA is starting reconnaissance and environmental studies of the proposal and alternative plans of service.

The proposed Hot Springs-Bell 500-kV transmission line was previously presented in BPA's Fiscal Year 1975 Program Environmental Statement, which was filed as a final with CEQ on March 11, 1975. Subsequently, a supplemental environmental statement presenting four location alternatives was filed on this same project with CEQ on September 16, 1975. Due to substantial delays on the Colstrip project (to which the Hot Springs-Bell transmission line is related), changes in planning, considerations, and potential right-of-way problems, a decision was made to issue a revised draft supplemental EIS.

BPA's revised supplemental EIS will address the proposed 500-kV transmission line from Hot Springs Substation in Montana to the Glenn H. Bell Substation near Spokane, Washington. These facilities are required to integrate Colstrip Generating Units 3 and 4 into the Northwest power transmission grid by May 1984. The Montana Power Company's Colstrip Coal-Fired Generating Plant is located roughly 95 miles southeast of Billings, Montana. In addition to the proposal, the following electrically feasible alternate plans of service will be studied:

A. A 500-kV double circuit line from BPA's existing transmission corridor 10 miles north of Missoula to a new substation on BPA's existing Dworshak-Hot Springs corridor. From there, a single-circuit 500-kV line would be built to either BPA's Bell Substation, or a proposed BPA substation located near Rathdrum, Idaho (Twin Lakes Substation).

B. A 500-kV single-circuit line from BPA's Hot Springs Substation to a proposed BPA substation located near Rathdrum, Idaho.

C. A plan similar to A above which terminates at a new substation near Plains, Montana, rather than at BPA's existing Hot Springs Substation.

In addition to the above alternatives, the alternative of no action will be considered as well as other alternatives which are beyond BPA's jurisdiction.

The studies and EIS will also include any effects of these plans on the integrated facilities of The Washington Water Power Company (WWP). Part of the new planning requirements being considered include service to WWP's Wallace and Pine Creek loads.

Scoping for the revised supplemental EIS on this project will include consultations with: (1) WWP to identify on a one-utility basis feasible electrical plans of service; (2) the U.S. Forest Service, the principal Federal permit-granting authority and cooperating agency; and (3) other involved Federal, State, regional, and local agencies as well as appropriate environmental organizations. While times and places have not yet been established, scoping meetings are also being planned. The specifics of the meetings will be announced separately at a later date.

Previous EIS work as well as locational work will be used to the extent practicable in revising this supplemental EIS. Although the draft EIS will be subject to extensive public and agency review, BPA is now soliciting input to the EIS preparation process so that concerns identified now can be fully considered in the preparation of the draft EIS. Any suggestions or questions regarding the EIS should be directed to John E. Kiley, Environmental Manager, Bonneville Power Administration, U.S. Department of Energy, P.O. Box 3621—SJ, Portland, Oregon 97208; Phone (503) 234–3361, Extension 5137.

Dated at Portland, Oregon, this 26th day of July, 1979.

Sterling Munro,

Administrator.

Petitions were received and filed pursuant to 10 CFR 508 (Exemption for Use of Natural Gas by Existing Powerplants Under the Powerplant and Industrial Fuel Use Act of 1978, April 9, 1979, 44 FR 21230) with ERA for temporary public interest exemptions for the use of natural gas as a primary energy source. Notices of the petitions and the proposed orders granting these temporary exemptions were published in the Federal Register on May 11 and June 1, 1979, (44 FR 27668 and 44 FR 31677). Written comments were requested on the proposed orders. All comments were considered by ERA.

A general comment from Allied Chemical Corporation expressed concern that the chemical industry has experienced production curtailments and plant shutdowns due to inadequate gas supplies for nonsubstitutable feedstock and process needs at the same time that DOE has concluded that excess supplies of natural gas are available. The Allied Chemical Corporation comment did not refer to any specific region nor did it specify impacts resulting from any particular petition or proposed order.

All other comments received were in support of the petitions. For example, the State of Florida Department of Environmental Regulation has stated, "The Department supports the petition and order since the combustion of natural gas would reduce the emission of air pollutants, would reduce consumption of foreign oil and would reduce utility bills for affected consumers."

The State of Wisconsin Public Service Commission's Chairman wrote, "In light of the present gas and oil supply situation, I concur that granting a temporary exemption from the prohibition against the use of natural gas contained in Section 301(a) (2) and (3) as proposed in the draft order is consistent with the public interest."

All comments that referred to specific petitions were supportive of them. However, not all the petitions listed received specific comments.

Comments which identified significant issues relating to individual petitions have been evaluated and are addressed in the individual orders granting those petitions. These temporary exemptions will allow the above-named units to burn an estimated total of 10,505,884 MCF of natural gas annually, notwithstanding the prohibitions of Section 301(a) (2) and (3) of FUA, displacing an estimated 1,803,964 barrels of middle distillate fuel oil.

These temporary exemptions shall become effective sixty days following publication of this notice of issuance of these orders in the Federal Register in accordance with Section 702(a) of FUA. These temporary exemptions shall be in effect for a period of five years, and are subject to termination by ERA, upon six months written notice, if ERA determines such termination to be in the public interest.

All of the above-named powerplants have received Decisions and Orders granting these temporary exemptions by certified mail. In addition, copies of all comments received during the public comment period and the temporary exemptions granted this date will be available for public inspection and copying in the Public Information Office located in Room B–110, 2000 M Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20461.

Any questions regarding these temporary exemptions should be directed to Mr. Charles A. Falcone, Director, Existing Facilities Conversion Division, Office of Fuels Conversion, Economic Regulatory Administration, Department of Energy, Room 3128, 2000 M Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20461, (202) 254–7450.

Issued in Washington, D.C., on July 30, 1979.

Federal Energy Regulatory Commission

[Docket No. CP79–399]

ANB Gas Co.; Application

July 27, 1979.

Take notice that on July 6, 1979, ANB Gas Company, (ANB), P.O. Box 1478, Houston, Texas 77001, filed in Docket No. CP79–399 an application pursuant to Section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing ANB to operate as a "natural-gas company" and to sell up to an average of 450,000 Mcf per day of imported Canadian natural gas to United Gas Pipe Line Company (United) at Ventura, Iowa, all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

ANB has acquired, by assignment, a gas purchase contract dated March 9, 1978, between Northwest Alaskan Pipeline Company (Northwest) and United for the purchase of up to an average of 450,000 Mcf per day of imported Canadian gas. Northwest would purchase this gas from Pan-Alberta Gas Limited (Pan-Alberta) at the international boundary near Monchy, Saskatchewan. Northwest has filed for authorization from the Commission in Docket No. CP79–170 to sell up to 800,000 Mcf per day of imported Canadian gas purchased from Pan-Alberta to United, Northern Natural Gas Company (Northern Natural), and Pahandle Eastern Pipeline Company.

ANB seeks authorization to sell and deliver to United at Ventura, Iowa, the total volume of gas it would acquire from Northwest under the March 9, 1978, gas purchase contract less gas used, lost, and unaccounted-for in transporting such gas to Ventura. ANB would purchase from Northwest on the United States side of the international border up to an average of 450,000 Mcf per day for the first two contract years and thereafter for the term of the contract up to an average of 400,000 Mcf per day and any additional volumes up to 50,000 Mcf per day which Northern Natural elects not to take during any contract year. Northwest would deliver these volumes for ANB's account to Northern Border Pipeline Company (Northern Border) near Monchy, Saskatchewan for transportation and redelivery to ANB at Ventura, Iowa.

For all gas delivered at Ventura, Iowa, ANB would charge United the sum of the cost to ANB related to imported Canadian gas purchased from Northwest near Monchy, Saskatchewan, a proportionate share of Northwest's administrative cost related to the gas purchase contract dated March 9, 1978, and the cost related to transporting the gas to United at Ventura, Iowa.

It is stated that ANB would execute a service agreement with Northern Border for the transportation and redelivery of equivalent volumes, less an allowance for fuel, lost and unaccounted-for gas, to Northern Natural for ANB's account at a proposed point of interconnection between the pipeline systems of Northern Border and Northern Natural near Ventura, Iowa. ANB would sell to United at Ventura, Iowa, the total volume of gas purchased, less fuel, lost and unaccounted-for gas, from Northwest near Monchy, Saskatchewan, and transported by Northern Border through the prebuilt portion of the Alaskan Natural Gas Transportation System.

Northern Natural and United would exchange United's share of such gas at Ventura for gas which Northern Natural would have available from production located in the offshore Gulf Coast area. Northern Natural, in a separate application, is filing for Commission authorization to deliver up to 450,000 Mcf per day of its Gulf Coast volumes to United's system at existing onshore points of interconnection with various interstate pipelines.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before August 22, 1979, file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission by Sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission or its designee on this application if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Acting Secretary.

An-Son Corp.; Petition for Special Relief

July 26, 1979.

Take notice that on June 12, 1979, An-Son Corporation, 3814 N. Santa Fe, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma 73118, filed a petition for special relief in Docket No. 79-40 pursuant to Section 2.76 of the Commission's General Policy and Interpretations.

Petitioner seeks permission to charge 79¢ per Mcf for the sale of gas from its Edna Nine No. 1 well, Laverne-Mocans Field, Beaver County, Oklahoma to Northern Natural Gas Company. Petitioner proposes to install compression facilities, at an initial cost of $1,000 plus an increase of about $1,500 per month in operating expenses due to compression rental, in order to recover the total estimated remaining reserves of 145,000 Mcf of gas and 363 barrels of liquid all from the subject well. Currently the subject gas is being sold at the rate of 49.9¢ per Mcf.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said petition should on or before August 21, 1979, file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426 a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to ask the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any party wishing to become a party to a proceeding, or to participate as a party in any hearing therein, must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

Arapahoe Drilling, Co., Schalk #94-3, Well, JD79-8417; Preliminary Finding Regarding Determination by U.S. Geological Survey, N. Mex.

Issued: July 27, 1979.

On June 12, 1979, the United States Geological Survey at Albuquerque, New Mexico submitted to the Commission a notice of determination which states that the Arapahoe Drilling Company Schalk #94-3 well qualifies for a maximum lawful price for stripper well natural gas under section 108 of the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978 (NGPA) and Commission regulations implementing that section. The Commission published notice of the determination on June 27, 1979.

Section 108(b)(1) of the NGPA provides that in order to qualify as a stripper well, a well must, among other things, produce nonassociated natural gas at a rate which does not exceed an average of 60 Mcf per production day during a 90-day production period. Section 108(b)(3) defines "production day" as (1) any day during which natural gas is produced; and (2) any day during which natural gas is not produced if production during such day is prohibited by a requirement of State law or a conservation practice recognized or approved by the State agency.

The record submitted with the determination for the subject well indicates that such well produced no natural gas during the entire 90-day production period upon which the application was based. Accordingly, the 90-day production period upon which this application is based contains no production days. Since section 108(b) of the NGPA requires that a well produce natural gas at a rate not exceeding an average of 60 Mcf per production day, a well's rate of production cannot be calculated where the 90-day production period contains no production days.

On the basis of the record submitted with this determination, the Commission hereby makes a preliminary finding, pursuant to 18 CFR 275.202(a)(1)(i), that the determination submitted by the U.S. Geological Survey (New Mexico) that the above-listed well qualifies as a section 108 stripper well, is not supported by substantial evidence in the record on which the determination was made.

By direction of the Commission.

Secretary.

Beaver Mesa Exploration Co., Preston #31-18, JD79-8277; Preliminary Finding Regarding Determination by State of Colorado

Issued: July 27, 1979.

On June 12, 1979, the State of Colorado's Oil and Gas Conservation Commission (Colorado), submitted to the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (Commission) a notice of determination concerning a well for which classification as a new onshore production well under section 103 of the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978 is sought. The notice states that the Beaver Mesa Exploration Company Preston #31-18 well qualifies as a new, onshore production well. The Commission published notice of the determination on June 27, 1979.

In order for a well to qualify as a new, onshore production well under section 103, the well must, inter alia, be a new well "the surface drilling of which began on or after February 19, 1977." The notice of determination submitted by Colorado indicates that the Preston #31–18 well was spudded on February 6, 1977. Thus, it appears that the record does not contain substantial evidence to support Colorado's determination that the Preston #31–18 well is a new, onshore production well.

Accordingly, the Commission hereby makes a preliminary finding (pursuant to 18 CFR 275.202(a)(1)(i)) that the determination submitted by Colorado is not supported by substantial evidence in the record on which the determination is based.

By direction of the Commission.

Chaco Plant No. 19R (JD 79–8430), Jerome P. McHugh Well; Preliminary Finding Regarding Determination by U.S. Geological Survey, Albuquerque, N. Mex

Issued: July 27, 1979.

On June 12, 1979, the United States Geological Survey at Albuquerque, New Mexico submitted to the Commission a notice of determination that the Jerome P. McHugh well, Chaco Plant #19R (JD79–8430), met all the requirements of a stripper well under section 108 of the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978 (NGPA) and the Commission regulations implementing this section.

Section 108(b) of the NGPA provides that in order to qualify as a stripper well, a well must, among other things, produce at its maximum efficient rate of flow (MER) during the 90-day production period upon which the application is based. Section 271.804(d) of the Commission's regulations stipulates the methods by which a jurisdictional agency may find that a well produced at its MER during the 90-day production period. These methods are: (1) determination of MER in accordance with recognized conservation practices established by the jurisdictional agency; (2) determination of MER based on a presumption that a well produced at its MER if during the 12-mongh period ending concurrently with the 90-day production period the well produced at a rate not exceeding an average of 60 Mcf per production day; or (3) determination of MER based on flow tests or other substantial evidence which measures the capability of the well to produce natural gas. If none of these methods is appropriate or available, a jurisdictional agency should defer making a determination and designate a 12-month period during which the applicant secures relevant data pursuant to method (2).

The record indicates that no production capability test was reported and production records for only ten months were filed. Accordingly, the determination of eligibility by the U.S. Geological Survey was premature and the U.S. Geoligical Survey should defer making an affirmative determination until the required data has been submitted.

Accordingly, the Commission hereby makes a preliminary finding, pursuant to 18 CFR 275.202(a)(1)(i), that the determination submitted by the U.S. Geological Survey, N.M. that the subject well qualifies as a section 108 stripper well, is not supported by substantial evidence in the record on which the determination was made.

On June 12, 1979, the U.S. Geological Survey in Albuquerque, New Mexico, submitted to the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (Commission) two notices of determination that the Rachel #2 well, (JD79–8382) and the Jicarilla 28–3 #1 well, qualify as stripper wells under section 108 of the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978 (NGPA).

Section 108(b) of the NGPA provides that in order to qualify as a stripper well, a well must, among other things, produce at its maximum efficient rate of flow (MER) during the 90-day production period upon which the application is based. Section 271.804(d) of the Commission's regulations stipulates the methods by which a jurisdictional agency may find that a well produced at its MER during the 90-day production period. These methods are: (1) determination of MER in accordance with recognized conservation practices established by the jurisdictional agency; (2) determination of MER based on a presumption that a well produced at its MER if during the 12-month period ending concurrently with the 90-day production period the well produced at a rate not exceeding an average of 60 Mcf per production day; or (3) determination of MER based on flow tests or other substantial evidence which measures the capability of the well to produce natural gas. If none of these methods is appropriate or available, a jurisdictional agency should defer making a determination and designate a 12-month period during which the applicant secures relevant data pursuant to method (2).

The record indicates that no production capability tests were reported and production records for only 10 months in the case of JD79–8382 and 11 months in the case of JD79–8197 were filed. Accordingly, the determinations of eligibility by the U.S. Geological Survey were premature and the U.S. Geological Survey should defer making affirmative determinations until the required data has been submitted.

Accordingly, Commission hereby makes a preliminary finding, pursuant to 18 CFR 275.202(a)(1)(i), that the notices of determination submitted by the U.S. Geological Survey for the above referenced wells are premature and are not supported by substantial evidence in the record upon which the determination were made.

[Project No. 2232]

Duke Power Co.; Application of Approval of Change in Lands Rights

July 31, 1979.

Take notice that an application for approval of a change in land rights was filed on April 28, 1979 by Duke Power Company (Applicant) (Correspondence to: Mr. John E. Lansche, Assistant General Counsel, Duke Power Company, Box 2218, Charlotte, North Carolina 28242). Applicant proposed to grant an easement to the State of North Carolina for the construction of a highway bridge. The lands that are the subject of the application are in Gaston and Mecklenburg Counties, North Carolina, on the Catawba River (Mountain Island Lake) and are located within the project boundaries of FERC Project No. 2232 (Catawba-Wateree).

The proposed bridge, a part of State Route 16, would accommodate the two lanes of southbound traffic. This bridge would be 1089 feet long, 40 feet wide and would be located approximately 70 feet downstream of the existing State Route 16 bridge. The existing bridge would remain in place and would accommodate northbound traffic. The proposed bridge right of way would be 280 feet wide and include the existing bridge right of way. Construction of the bridge approaches would require a total of approximately 55,000 cubic yards of fill, of which 7300 cubic yards would be placed below the high water mark. The filling would decrease the reservoir surface area by less than 2 acres. The proposed construction required that the Riverbend Access Area, which is outside the project boundary, be relocated. This access area has been moved to the east side of the existing bridge.

Anyone desiring to be heard or to make any protest about this application should file a petition to intervene or a protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, 18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10 (1977). In determining the appropriate action to take, the Commission will consider all protests filed, but a person who merely files a protest does not become a party to the proceeding. To become a party, or to participate in any hearing, a person must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules. Any protest or petition to intervene must be filed on or before September 25, 1979. The Commission's address is: 825 N. Capitol Street, NE., Washington, D.C. 20426. The application is on file with the Commission and is available for public inspection.

Guernsey Petroleum Corp. and Watson 3ME JD79-8801, Watson 4ME JD79-8802; Preliminary Finding Regarding Determination by State of Ohio

Issued: July 27, 1979.

On June 13, 1979, the State of Ohio's Department of Natural Resources, Division of Oil and Gas (Ohio), submitted to the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (Commission) a notice of determination concerning two Guernsey Petroleum Company wells, the Watson 3ME and 4ME wells, JD79-8801 and -8802, respectively. The notice states that the natural gas from the two wells qualifies as high-cost natural gas under section 107(c)(4) of the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978, because the natural gas is produced from Devonian shale. The Commission published notice of the determination on June 3, 1979.

On June 13, 1979, in Docket No RM79-44, the Commission issued a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking in which it set forth a definition for natural gas produced from Devonian shale. However, that definition has not yet become final. Consequently, it is inappropriate at this time to classify any natural gas as being produced from Devonian shale. A final order defining Devonian shale will be issued in high-cost natural gas, Docket No. RM79-44 within 120 days. If these subject wells qualify under this definition, the Commission will not issue a final order reversing these determinations.

Based on the foregoing, the Commission hereby makes a preliminary finding, (pursuant to 18 CFR 275.202(a)(1)(i)) that these two determinations submitted by Ohio should be reversed.

Murphy Oil Corp., Clay Colvin B No. 2-D Well, JD79-8606 and M Hoss SUF, Clay Colvin B No. 2 Well, JD 79-6292; Preliminary Finding and Order Reopening Determination Submitted by State of Louisiana

Issued: July 27, 1979.

On June 13, 1979, the Office of Conservation of the State of Louisiana Dept. of Natural Resources submitted to the Commission a notice of determination that the Clay Colvin B No. 2-D Well (hereinafter, the subject well), met all the requirements of a stripper well under Section 108 of the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978 (NGPA) and Commission regulations implementing that section. The Commission published notice of the determination on June 28, 1979.

Section 108 of the NGPA provides that the rate of natural gas production from a stripper well shall not exceed an average of 60 Mcf per production day. Section 271.804(a) of the Commission's regulations stipulates that for purposes of determining the rate of production from a well for which a stripper well determination is sought, the total volume of natural gas produced from the well shall constitute its daily production, regardless of whether the well is completed in more than one interval.

Our review of the notice of determination for the subject well, together with our review of an earlier determination by the State of Louisiana for the M Hoss SUF, Clay Colvin B No. 2 Well (hereinafter, the earlier well),[1] indicates that these two determinations represent separate applications filed for two producing intervals of the same well. Neither application made reference to a dual completion, and each determination was based on production from only one of the producing intervals of the well. The Commission was able to ascertain that the separate determinations apparently referred to the same well only after receipt of the information contained in the notice of determination for the subject well.

Section 503(d)(1)(B) of the NGPA provides that any final determination which is no longer subject to review by the Commission is binding, unless, inter alia, there was omitted a statement of material fact necessary in order to make the statements made not misleading to the Commission in reviewing such determination. Section 275.205 of our regulations implements this statutory provision. Accordingly, the Commission possesses the authority to reopen a determination under the circumstances described above.

On the basis of review of the data submitted with the notices of determination on these two wells, the Commission finds that:

(1) With respect to the subject well determination, the production records relied on in making the determination are applicable to production from only one of the producing intervals of the well. Accordingly, there is a lack of substantial evidence that the determination was based on the total volume of gas produced from the well.[2]

(2) With respect to the earlier well determination, there was omitted a statement of material fact which was necessary in order to make the determination not misleading to the Commission. Accordingly, there is a basis for the Commission to reopen its consideration of the determination on the well.

The Commission hereby makes a preliminary finding that, pursuant to 18 CFR 275.202(a)(1)(i), the determination submitted by the Office of Conservation of the State of Louisiana Dept. of Natural Resources that the Clay Colvin B No. 2–D well qualifies as a section 108 stripper well is not supported by substantial evidence in the record on which the determination was made. The Commission also orders that, pursuant to 18 CFR 275.205, the determination submitted by the Office of Conservation of the State of Louisiana Dept. of Natural Resources that the M Hoss SUF, Clay Colvin B No. 2 well qualifies as a section 108 stripper well be reopened.

[2] Both determinations were based on 90-day production periods ending December 1, 1978. The production records submitted indicate that if production from the first interval during that period were to be combined with production from the second interval, the well would exceed an average of 60 Mcf per production day during that period. The producer's calculations of average production, which treat voluntarily shut-in days as production days, are erroneous.

By direction of the Commission.

Kenneth F. Plumb,

Secretary.

BILLING CODE 6450-01-M

[Docket No. CP79-403]

Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co.; Application

July 27, 1979.

Take notice that on July 9, 1979, Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company (Panhandle), P.O. Box 1642, Houston, Texas 77001, filed in Docket No. CP79-430 an application pursuant to Section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the delivery of line pack and the recovery by Panhandle of certain acquisition, construction, and transportation costs associated with the delivery of natural gas produced in the Province of Alberta, Canada, undertaken to expedite and assist the successful completion of the Alaskan Natural Gas Transportation System, (ANGTS) all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

On March 9, 1978, Northwest Alaskan Pipeline Company (Northwest Alaskan) entered into a gas purchase agreement with Pan Alberta Gas Ltd. (Pan-Alberta) to purchase up to 800,000 Mcf per day of natural gas produced in the Province of Alberta, Canada, for delivery to eastern and mid-western areas of the lower forty-eight states. It is stated that the Northwest Alaskan-Pan-Alberta agreement is expressly tied to and supportive of the pre-building of part of the southern portion of ANGTS in accordance with its primary objective of expediting and assisting in the construction of the entire Alaska Natural Gas Transportation System and the ultimate transmission of gas produced from the Prudhoe Bay Unit of Alaska to the lower forty-eight mid-western and eastern markets.

Panhandle states that the acquisition of additional gas supplies, including the quantities available from Alberta and, ultimately Alaska, is important to Panhandle and accordingly, it has entered into an agreement dated April 14, 1978, with Northwest Alaskan wherein Northwest Alaskan would sell and Panhandle would purchase, an annual average daily quantity of 150,000 Mcf per day of such Alberta gas. On April 5, 1978, Northwest Alaskan filed an application with the Commission for authority to import such volumes at the international border near Monchy, Saskatchewan; and conditional authorization was issued by the Commission on June 7, 1978 in Docket No. CP78-123, et al. Northwest Alaskan has filed an application to resell such imported gas to Panhandle and other designated purchases in the immediate future, as indicated in Docket Nos. CP79-170 and CP78-123, et al.

The Northern Border Pipeline System (Northern Border) has sought Commission authorization to construct and operate 809 miles of 42-inch pipeline, extending from a point near Monchy, Saskatchewan to a point near Ventura, Iowa, for the primary purpose of expediting the transportation of Alaskan gas to the lower forty-eight markets. It is stated that these facilities would be adequate to permit delivery of the Alberta gas supplies directly to the pipeline system of Northern Natural Gas Company (Northern Natural) and by subsequent transportation arrangements to Panhandle. In order to effectuate this arrangement, Panhandle intends to enter into a service agreement with Northern Border, under which charges for the transportation service rendered by it would be made on a cost of service basis in accordance with its FERC gas tariff. The Northern Border tariff provides that the shipper shall furnish quantities of gas required for purge, fill and line pack on the 809-mile system. Panhandle anticipates that the total volume of line pack gas to be furnished by Panhandle would be 625,300 Mcf. Panhandle estimates the total line pack cost, based on the current border price of $2.30 per Mcf to be $1,438,190.

Additionlly Panhandle has entered into a gas transportation displacement agreement with Northern Natural dated June 26, 1979, for the transportation and redelivery by Northern Natural of Panhandle's Alberta gas supplies. The Alberta gas supplies would be transported via Northern Border to Northern Natural's system at a point near Ventura, Iowa. Northern Natural would receive such volumes of gas from Northern Border and redeliver thermally equivalent volumes to Panhandle at an existing point of interconnection between the pipelines of Panhandle and Northern Natural in Kiowa County, Kansas. As consideration for this service, Northern Natural would charge Panhandle $301,294 per month, subject to reduction at the rate of 6.6 cents per Mcf of deficiency on any day or days that Northern Natural is unable to accept for Panhandle's account the quantity of gas which Panhandle tenders to Northern Natural at Ventura, up to an annual average daily quantity of 150,000 Mcf.

Northern Natural would be responsible for the construction of some minor additional pipeline facilities in order to effect redeliveries to Panhandle. Panhandle would reimburse Northern Natural for the total costs of such facilities, currently estimated to be $334,747. Panhandle would finance such costs from funds on hand; and accordingly, Panhandle seeks authorization herein to recover, through rate base treatment, the aforementioned cost of line pack gas and the amount of reimbursement to Northern Natural. Pursuant to the gas purchase contract with Northwest Alaskan, Panhandle would pay Northwest Alaskan the price for gas exported from Canada that may be established from time to time under Canadian Federal Law, (presently $2.30 per Mcf (1,000 Btu/cu. ft.)), plus an amount to reimburse Northwest Alaskan for its administrative costs specifically associated with this sale. It is stated that the total cost of the Alberta gas to Panhandle would be that price plus the amount of transportation charges payable to Northern Border and Northern Natural. Therefore, Panhandle is also requesting Commission authorization to recover through its jurisdictional rates the total cost of the Alberta gas at the redelivery point from Northern Natural.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before August 22, 1979, file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petitition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission by Sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission or its designee on this application if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

S. D. Warren Co.; Application for Short-Form License (Minor) for a Constructed Project

July 31, 1979.

Take notice that on May 15, 1979, S. D. Warren Company filed an application for license [pursuant to the Federal Power Act, 16 U.S.C. 791(a)–825(r)] for an existing water power project known as the Mallison Falls Project, FERC Project No. 2932, located on the Presumpscot River, a navigable waterway of the United States, near Gorham and South Windham, in Cumberland County, Maine.

Correspondence with the Applicant should be directed to the following persons: Mr. William H. Marra, Vice President, S. D. Warren Company, 225 Franklin Street, Boston, Massachusetts 02101; Mr. John B. Blatz III, Associate Counsel, Scott Paper Company, Scott Plaza One, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19113; and Mr. Bernard A. Foster III, Ms. Nancy J. Hubbard, Ross, Marsh & Foster, 730 15th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20005.

Purpose of the Project—Project energy is used by the Applicant in the operation of its Westbrook paper plant. Applicant states that because of the urban setting, industrial and commercial use of the land at the project, high population density, and the limited availability of open space, recreational opportunities are minimal.

Project Description—The existing project, constructed in the early 1900's, consists of: (1) a 20.5-foot-high, 260-foot-long dam with a crest elevation of 90.62 feet m.s.l.; (2) a headgate structure; (3) a 675-foot-long intake canal; (4) a powerhouse with an installed capacity of 800-kW; and (5) appurtenant facilities. The annual generation for the project averages 5,529,600 kWh which represents about 3% of the Westbrook paper plant's energy requirements. The project is a run-of-the-river operation.

Agency Comments—Federal, State, and local agencies that receive this notice through direct mailing from the Commission are requested to provide comments pursuant to the Federal Power Act, the Fish and Wildlife Coordination Act, the Endangered Species Act, the National Historic Preservation Act, the Historical and Archeological Preservation Act, the National Environmental Policy Act, Pub. L. No. 88–29, and other applicable statutes. No other formal requests for comments will be made.

Comments should be confined to substantive issues relevant to the issuance of a license. A copy of the application may be obtained directly from the applicant. If an agency does not file comments within the time set below, it will be presumed to have no comments.

Protests and Petitions To Intervene—Anyone desiring to be heard or to make any protest about this application should file a petition to intervene or a protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, 18 CFR, § 1.8 or § 1.10 (1978). In determining the appropriate action to take, the Commission will consider all protests filed, but a person who merely files a protest does not become a party to the proceeding. To become a party or to participate in any hearing, a person must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

Any protest, petition to intervene, or agency comments must be filed on or before October 5, 1979. The Commission's address is: 825 North Capitol Street, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20426.

The application is on file with the Commission and is available for public inspection.

[Docket No. GP79-57]

Transcontinental Oil Corp., Three Wells, JD79-9089, 9090, and 9091; Notice of Preliminary Finding by State of Mississippi

Issued: July 27, 1979.

On June 11, 1979, the State of Mississippi Oil and Gas Board (Mississippi) submitted to the Commission notice of three determinations, which respectively state that three wells [1] of the Transcontinental Oil Corporation are producing new natural gas as defined in section 102 of the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978 (NGPA). The Commission published notice of Mississippi's determination on July 12, 1979.

New natural gas under section 102 of the NGPA includes gas produced from new, onshore reservoirs. According to section 102(c)(1)(C), a reservoir qualifies as a new, onshore reservoir if, among other requirements, natural gas was not produced in commercial quantities from the reservoir before April 20, 1977. Under § 274.202(d)(1)(ii) of the Commission's Interim Regulations (18 CFR § 274.202(d)(1)(ii)), an applicant seeking a section 102(c)(1)(C) determination must file sufficient geological information to support a determination that the reservoir is a new onshore reservoir.

Mississippi based its three determinations on findings that the three wells are producing from new, onshore reservoirs. But the records submitted to the Commission by Mississippi with its determinations lack the geological information required to support the findings that the reservoirs involved are new, onshore reservoirs.

Accordingly, the Commission hereby makes a preliminary finding (pursuant to 18 CFR 275.202(a)(1)(i)) that these three determinations submitted by Mississippi are not supported by substantial evidence in the records on which the determinations were made.

By direction of the Commission.

Secretary.

Winter Hawk, Ltd.; Petition for Adjustment

August 1, 1979.

On June 18, 1979, Winter Hawk, Ltd. filed in Docket No. SA79-7 a petition requesting an adjustment, pursuant to section 502(c) of the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978 (NGPA), to the requirements of section 108(b)(1) of the NGPA and Subpart H of Part 271 of the regulations implementing said section. The applicant has filed an application with the State of Colorado Oil and Gas Conservation Commission for a determination that the Zimbelman 1-A well located in Weld County, Colorado, qualifies as a stripper-well under section 108 of the NGPA. Because the subject well has not produced oil or natural gas since May 1978, the applicant is requesting an adjustment from the requirement of section 108(b) of the NGPA and section 271.804(c) of our regulations that applications for stripper-well determinations shall be based on a 90-day production period ending within 120 days prior to the date on which the application is filed. The request is more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

The procedures applicable to the conduct of this adjustment proceeding are found in § 1.41 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, Order No. 24, Docket No. RM79-32, (March 22, 1979).

Any person desiring to participate in this adjustment proceeding shall file a petition to intervene in accordance with the provisions of § 1.41. All petitions to intervene must be filed on or before August 21, 1979.

J. R. Hatton, d.b.a. South Texas Airmotive and City of Alice, Tex.; Application for an Aeronautical Advisory Station To Serve Alice International Airport, Alice, Tex.; Order Adopted: July 23, 1979.

Released: July 27, 1979.

1. J. R. Hatton d.b.a. South Texas Airmotive (hereinafter called Hatton) has filed an application for renewal of Aeronautical Advisory Station WAK6 at Alice International Airport and the City of Alice, Texas has filed an application for a new Aeronautical Advisory Station at Alice International Airport. Since § 87.251(a) of our rules provides that only one aeronautical advisory station may be authorized at an airport, the above-captioned applications are mutually exclusive. Accordingly, it is necessary to designate these applications for comparative hearing in order to determine which, if any, should be granted.

2. We also have before us a Petition to Deny the renewal application of Hatton. This petition had been filed by Alice Aviation, Inc. The petition states the following:

a. Alice Aviation, Inc. and Smith Aircraft Service were not notified by Hatton of his intent to file an application for the renewal of station WAK6 as provided for in § 87.251(c) of our rules; and

b. That Hatton operates station WAK6 approximately 44 hours a week and not the 84 hours a week he has represented to the Commission.

3. With respect to the Petition to Deny filed by Alice Aviation, Inc., we make the following observations:

a. We take note of the fact that it is alleged that Hatton never provided the notification as provided for by § 87.251(c) of our rules. However, it is apparent by the Petition to Deny filed by Alice Aviation that they received some type of notice of Hatton's renewal application. It appears that the intent of the rules has been met. We are, therefore, not designating an issue on this point.

b. Regarding the second item in Alice Aviation's petition, failure to operate as represented will be addressed under a general issue concerning the manner in which Hatton has operated Station WAK6.

c. Further, we will permit Alice Aviation, Inc. to become a party to this proceeding.

4. In view of the foregoing, it is ordered, That pursuant to the provisions of Section 309(e) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and § 0.331 of the Commission's rules, the above-captioned applications are hereby designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent Order on the following comparative issues:

(a) To determine which applicant would provide the public with better aeronautical advisory service based on the following considerations:

(1) Location of the fixed-base operation and proposed radio station in relation to the landing area and traffic patterns;

(2) Hours of operation;

(3) Personnel available to provide advisory service;

(4) Experience of applicant and employees in aviation and aviation communications, including but not limited to operation of stations in the Aviation Services (Part 87) that may be or have been authorized to the applicant;

(5) Ability to provide information pertaining to primary and secondary communications as specified in § 87.257 of the Commission's rules;

(6) Proposed radio system including control and dispatch points; and

(7) The availability of the radio facilities to other fixed-base operators;

(b) To determine the manner in which Hatton has operated Aeronautical Advisory Station WAK6 and whether such operations were in accordance with the rules governing the operation of this class of station.

(c) To determine in light of the evidence adduced on the foregoing issues which of the applications should be granted.

5. It is further ordered, That the burden of proof and the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence is on each applicant with respect to its application except issue (b) where the burdens are on Hatton and issue (c) which is conclusory.

6. It is further ordered, That the Petition to Deny filed by Alice Aviation, Inc. is granted to the extent indicated in this Order and is in all other respects denied.

7. It is further ordered, That to avail themselves of an oportunity to be heard, Hatton, the City of Alice, Texas, and Alice Aviation, Inc. pursuant to § 1.221(c) of the Commission's rules, in person or by attorney, shall within 20 days of the mailing of this Order, file with the Commission, in triplicate, a written appearance stating an intention to appear on the date set for hearing and present evidence on the issues specified in this Order. Failure to file a written appearance within the time specified may result in dismissal of the application with prejudice.

ACTION: Notice Relating to the Issuance of a Policy Statement.

SUMMARY: This notice relates to the question of whether the Federal Labor Relations Authority should issue a policy statement on the effect of certain provisions of the Civil Service Reform Act of 1978 (92 Stat. 1111) on allegedly inconsistent provisions in existing collective bargaining agreements and invites written comments concerning this matter.

DATE: Written comments must be submitted by the close of business on September 4, 1979, to be considered.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Federal Labor Relations Authority was established by Reorganization Plan No. 2 of 1978, effective January 1, 1979 (43 FR 36037). Since January 11, 1979, the Authority has conducted its operations under the Federal Service Labor-Management Relations Statute (92 Stat. 1191).

The Authority has received a request that it issue a major policy determination in accordance with 5 CFR § 2410.3(a) (1978) and sections 7105 and 7135(b) of the Statute (92 Stat. 1196, 1215). Interested persons are invited to express their views in writing as to whether the Authority should issue a policy statement, as more fully explained in the Authority's notice set forth below:

Notice

To Heads of Agencies, Presidents of Labor Organizations and Other Interested Persons

The Authority has received a request from the National Treasury Employees Union (NTEU) that the Authority issue a major policy determination as to the effect of certain provisions of the Civil Service Reform Act of 1978 (92 Stat. 1111), which became effective on January 11, 1979, on allegedly inconsistent provisions of existing collective bargaining agreements. The question before the Authority at this time is whether it should issue a policy statement on this matter. The specific matters at issue, substantially as stated by NTEU, are as follows:

1. Do the provisions of section 7114(a) of the Federal Service Labor-Management Relations Statute (92 Stat. 1202), concerning the rights accorded exclusive representatives of the employees supersede, by operation of law, inconsistent provisions of collective bargaining agreements negotiated prior to January 11, 1979, or do the inconsistent provisions of the agreements take priority over provisions of the Statute, pursuant to section 7135(a) (1) (92 Stat. 1215)?

2. Do the provisions of section 7121(b)(3)(C) of the Statute (92 Stat. 1211), providing binding arbitration for any grievance not satisfactorily settled under the negotiated grievance procedure, supersede, by operation of law, inconsistent provisions of collective bargaining agreements negotiated prior to January 11, 1979, or do the inconsistent provisions of the agreements take priority over the provisions of the Statute, pursuant to section 7135(a)(1)?

3. Do the provisions of section 4302 of the Civil Service Reform Act of 1978 (92 Stat. 1132, 1133), particulary those dealing with the rights of employees to participate in the establishment-of-performance standards, supersede, by the operation of law, inconsistent provisions of the collective bargaining agreements negotiated prior to January 11, 1979, or do the inconsistent provisions of the agreements take priority over the provisions of the Act, pursuant to section 7135(a)(1)?

4. Do the Provisions of section 7116(a)(7) of the Statute (92 Stat. 1204), providing that it shall be an unfair labor practice for an agency to enforce any rule or regulation which is in conflict with any collective bargaining agreement if the agreement was in effect before the date the Rule or Regulation was prescribed, supersede, by operation of law, inconsistent provisions of collective bargaining agreements negotiated prior to January 11, 1979, or do the inconsistent provisions of the agreements take priority over the provisions of the statute, pursuant to section 7135(a)(1)?

Before determining whether issuance of a policy statement on these matters is warranted, in conformity with 5 CFR § 2410.3(a) (1978) and section 7135(b) of the Federal Service Labor-Management Relations Statute (92 Stat. 1215), as well as section 7105 of the Statute (92 Stat. 1196), the Authority solicits your views in writing. To receive consideration, such views must be submitted to the Authority by the close of business on September 4, 1979.

The range of funding for 1979 projects was from approximately $10,000 to $200,000 per year. Most awards were for under $100,000 per year.

While there is no firm limit on the duration of projects, the vast majority of field-initiated projects are for one to three years. In the event that assistance is provided for multiple year projects, grant awards will be made for a budget period of a single year's duration with continuation awards made on a non-competitive basis subject to satisfactory performance as determined under 45 CFR 121h.4(b) and the availability of funds in future fiscal years.

Bureau of Land Management

[Colorado 25948]

Public Hearing for Proposed Federal Coal Offering, Moffat County, Colo.

U.S. Department of the Interior, Bureau of Land Management, Colorado State Office, Denver, Colorado. Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held on August 29, 1979, at 7:00 p.m. in the Craig Municipal Building, Craig, Colorado. The offering for competitive lease sale of certain coal resources in lands hereinafter described has been proposed. The purpose of the hearing is to obtain public comments on the Technical Examination-Environmental Assessment Report and on the following items: (1) the method of mining to be employed to obtain maximum economic recovery of the coal, (2) the impact that mining the coal in the proposed leasehold may have on the area, including impacts on the environment, agriculture, and other economic activities and community or regional services, and (3) method of evaluation of the coal to be offered. Comments will be accepted orally or in writing and will be considered prior to lease offering.

In addition, the public is invited to submit written comments concerning the fair market value of the coal resource to the Bureau of Land Management and the U.S. Geological Survey. Public comments will be utilized in establishing fair market value for the coal resources in the described lands.

Comments should address specific factors related to fair market value including, but not limited to: the quantity and quality of the coal resource, the price that the mined coal would bring in the market place, the cost of producing the coal, the probable timing and rate of production, the interest rate at which anticipated income streams would be discounted, depreciation and other accounting factors, the expected rate of industry return, the value of the surface estate (if private surface), and the mining method or methods which would achieve maximum economic recovery of the coal. Documentation of similar market transactions, including location, terms, and conditions, may also be submitted at this time.

These comments will be considered in the final determination of fair market value as determined in accordance with 30 CFR 211.63 and 43 CFR 3422.1-2. Should any information submitted as comments be considered to be proprietary by the commenter, the information should be labeled as such and stated in the first page of the submission. Comments should be sent to both the Colorado State Director, Bureau of Land Management, 700 Colorado State Bank Building, 1600 Broadway, Denver, Colorado 80202, and to the Regional Conservation Manager, Conservation Division, Geological Survey, Box 25046, Denver Federal Center, Denver, Colorado 80225, to arrive no later than September 10, 1979.

The coal resource to be offered is limited to strippable reserves to be mined from the "Q" coal bed and any overlying coal beds in the following described land located approximately seven miles southwest of Craig, Colorado:

T. 5 N., R. 91 W., 6th P.M.
Sec. 5: Lots 5 and 8.
Containing 85.26 acres.

The estimated total strippable reserves are 376,000 tons. The coal quality is as follows: Btu—9997; Sulfur—0.29% and Ash—7.49%. The "Q" coal bed averages 8–10 feet thick.

Notice of availability: The Technical Examination-Environmental Assessment Report will be available for review in the Craig District Office, Bureau of Land Management, 455 Emerson Street, P.O. Box 248, Craig, Colorado 81625.

A copy of the Technical Examination-Environmental Assessment Report, the case file, and the comments submitted by the public on fair market value, except those portions identified as proprietary by the commenter, will be available for public inspection at the Bureau of Land Management, Room 700, Colorado State Bank Building, 1600 Broadway, Denver, Colorado 80202.

BILLING CODE 4310-84-M

Alabama; Call for Expressions of Leasing Interest in Coal

August 6, 1979.

AGENCY: Bureau of Land Management (BLM), Interior.

ACTION: Call for Expressions of Leasing Interest in Coal.

DATE: Responses to this notice may be received until October 5, 1979.

ADDRESS: Responses should be sent to: Robert Todd, Area Manager, Bureau of Land Management, Tuscaloosa Office, 1315 McFarland Boulevard, East, Tuscaloosa, Alabama 35405.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

David George, Bureau of Land Management, Tuscaloosa Office, (205) 759-5441.

or

Fred Cicala, Bureau of Land Management, Eastern States Office, 350 South Pickett, Alexandria, Virginia, (703) 235-2866.

In 44 FR 33976, published June 13, 1979, an advance notice of intent to call for expressions of interest in coal leasing was published.

This notice is to advise you that the official call for expressions of leasing interest for the area acceptable for further consideration for coal leasing located within the North Central Alabama Land Use Analysis is now in effect. Expressions of interest under this call may be submitted until October 5, 1979, to the Area Manager, Bureau of Land Management, Tuscaloosa Office, 1315 McFarland Boulevard, East, Tuscaloosa, Alabama 35405. Telephone (205) 759-5441.

Maps and other detailed information on the above-mentioned areas found acceptable for further consideration for coal leasing may be obtained from the Tuscaloosa Office at the address given above.

This call for expressions of interest is the first step in activity planning under the new coal management program. It is being made before any tract boundaries are delineated within an area found acceptable for further consideration for coal leasing through the application of the Department of the Interior's final coal unsuitability criteria contained in 43 CFR Part 3461. The results of this call will provide significant information that will be employed in delineating tracts that might be put up for lease sale after they have been through the tract ranking, selection, scheduling and analysis processes that are integral parts of the new coal management program.

An expression of interest is not an application. The major purpose of this call for expressions of interest is to integrate potential lessees' data and needs with the process of delineating the logical mining units which will be considered prior to a lease sale. Examples of the types of concerns that may influence the delineation of tracts as proposed in expressions of interest include: the competitive nature of the tract, access needs, mining efficiency, future coal development potential, resource conservation and State preferences and priorities. BLM hopes to gain sufficient information from this call, as well as from its own site-specific analyses, to identify areas in which data are of sufficient detail to ultimately make a fair market value determination of specific tracts.

These expressions of leasing interest should include the following data where applicable:

1. Quantity needs (total tonnage, average tons per year, and year during which production should commence) for both coal producers and users.

2. Quality needs (types and grades for coal) for both producers and users.

3. Location. a. Tracts desired by mining companies (narrative description with delineation on a surface-minerals management status map, available for purchase from the BLM Tuscaloosa Office).

b. Public and private industry user facilities in region.

c. If no location is indicated, but other specified data are provided, the expression will still be considered. In such cases, the joint BLM/GS delineation team will locate the tract.

4. Type of Mine. a. Surface or underground.

b. Technique of mining (i.e., longwall, room and pillar, dragline, etc.).

5. Proposed Uses of Coal. a. By mining companies.

b. By public and private industries.

6. Where coal is consumed (include extra-regional markets).

7. Transportation Needs (i.e., railroads, pipelines, etc.).

a. Existing facilities.

b. Proposed facilities and development timing.

8. Available Sources of Coal. a. Presently operative.

b. Contingency or other sources.

9. Information Relating to Mineral Ownership. a. Information on surface owner consents previously granted; e.g., a description of the location of the property, whether consents are transferable, etc.

b. Commitments from fee owners of associated non-Federal coal.

Data which are considered proprietary should not be submitted as part of this expression of leasing interest.

An individual, business entity, governmental entity or public body may participate and submit expressions of leasing interest under this call.

Lowell J. Udy,
Director, Bureau of Land Management, Eastern States Office.

National Park Service

Revised Management Policies

AGENCY: National Park Service, Interior.

ACTION: Revision of management policies on Construction, Shoreline Processes, and Limitation of Visitor Use.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: George Gowans, Chief, Office of Management Policy, National Park Service, Washington, D.C. 20240, (202)343–7456.

INTRODUCTION: The National Park Service has revised its policies on Construction, Shoreline Processes, and Limitation of Visitor Use (stated below) to comply with Executive Order 11988, "Floodplain Management," and Executive Order 11990, "Protection of Wetlands." Notice of these proposed revisions and public comments were invited on September 11, 1978 (43 FR 40323–40324), as part of an assessment of proposed changes to various bureau documents and procedures necessary to comply with the two Executive Orders. Comments received from the public review were used to clarify the language of the Construction and Shoreline Processes policies. No comments were made on the Limitation of Visitor Use policy.

Statements of Policy

The Construction policy stated on page III–6 of the Management Policies is revised to read as:

Construction

Construction of park facilities shall be rigidly controlled to preclude undue damage to vegetation, soils, and archeological resources through excessive grading and alteration of contours to fit developments, and to reduce air, water, and noise pollution. The Service will adhere to all applicable Federal, State and local environmental laws, standards and emission of effluent limitations. Facilities and structures shall not be located in areas where natural processes pose a persistent threat to the facilities or structures, or to people using them, except where no practicable alternative exists for the use, enjoyment and management of a park and all safety and hazard probability factors have been considered. Such areas include, but are not limited to, unstable shorelines; unstable geological areas subject to mud slides, landslides, rock slides, or soil creep; active dunes; thermal areas, and 100 year floodplains including coastal areas. Because of potential loss of life, injury or loss of essential or irreplaceable records and objects, structures such as schools, hospitals, and museums should not be located within 500-year floodplains. Because of the fragility and natural resource values of wetlands and floodplains, impact from construction activities shall be avoided, except where no reasonable alternative exists to meet the management objectives of the park.

Where new facilities and structures must be located in such areas, their design and siting shall be based upon scientific, engineering and architectural studies; consideration to protection of human life, natural processes and cultural resources; and consideration to their planned life span. Existing structures or facilities located in such areas and needing rehabilitation, restoration or replacement will be subjected to the same scrutiny as those prescribed for new facilities or structures. In the case of historic structures, this scrutiny will be but one factor in determining their preservation. Before development in floodplains and wetlands is provided, the requirements of Executive Order 11988, "Floodplain Management," and Executive Order 11990, "Protective of Wetlands" must be fulfilled. When Structures or facilities are removed from floodplains and wetlands, the area will be restored and preserved in its natural state.

Where practical, soil and plants that are moved from a site prior to actual construction, should be stockpiled for use in back-filling and the final site grading. Any surplus soils and plants can be used for the restoration of other degraded areas within the park. If additional soil and plants are needed for the construction site, they may be obtained from other sites in the park only when it is determined that use of an in-park source will not significantly affect cultural and natural resources and ecological processes.

The Shoreline Processes policy stated on page IV–22 of the Management Policies is revised to read as:

Shoreline Processes

In natural zones, shoreline processes-erosion, deposition, dune formation, inlet formation, etc. will be allowed to take place naturally, except where control measures, required by law or Service commitment, are necessary to protect life and property in neighboring areas.

In historic zones, control measures, if necessary, will be predicated on thorough studies taking into account the nature and velocity of the shoreline processes, the threat to the cultural resource, the significance of the cultural resources, and alternatives, including costs, for protecting the cultural resource. Such studies must also determine if and how control measure would impair resources and processes in natural zones, in order that management may make an informed decision on the course of action to be followed.

In development zones, management should plan to phase out, systemically relocate, or provide alternative developments to facilities located in hazardous areas that cannot be reasonably protected. New developments will not be placed in areas subject to flood or wave erosion or active shoreline processes unless it can be demonstrated that they are essential to meet the park's purpose, as defined by its establishing act; that no practicable alternative locations are available; and that the development will be reasonably assured of surviving during its planned life span without the need of shoreline control measures. Where no practicable alternatives exists, steps will be taken to minimize safety hazards and harm to property and natural values. Before development in such area is provided, the requirements of Executive Order 11988, "Floodplain Management," and of Executive Order 11900, "Protection of Wetlands," must be fulfilled.

Where erosion control is required by law, or where present developments must be protected to achieve park management objectives, the Service will employ the most natural appearing and effective method feasible.

Most shoreline areas of the National Park System are part of larger physiographic systems, and the processes of these larger systems directly affect the management of those NPS areas contained therein. Therefore, the Service shall seek to obtain the assistance of appropriate Federal, State and local agencies in carrying out the management objectives of NPS shoreline areas.

The Service will cooperate with State and other Federal entities to develop strategies for maintaining existing transportation and utility links on barrier islands in the event of storm damage or inlet formation. Where these links are interrupted by inlet formation, the Service will recommend, within the limits of practicality, reestablishment in a manner that allows the unimpeded operation of inlet formation and closures.

Where navigation channels are established in NPS waters, the Service will work with the responsible agency to see that necessary dredging is carefully controlled and that dredged material is disposed of in such a manner as to have the least adverse impact on the aquatic ecosystem and to optimize the value of spoil deposit as wildlife habitat.

The policy on Limitation of Visitor Use, stated on page VII–1 of the Management Policies is revised to read as:

Limitation of Visitor Use

In order to provide an enjoyable park experience, to meet its mandate to preserve "the scenery and the natural and historic objects and the wildlife" of the parks, and to comply with the intent of the Wilderness Act, the Service will, whenever necessary, regulate the amount and kind, and time and place, of visitor use in the parks.

Such limitation will be made known to the public through publication in the Federal Register and/or by posting, as appropriate. A determination by the superintendent to limit visitor use will be based on considerations of public safety, and resource protection, and where possible will be supported by study and research.

Proposals for park uses shall also be assessed in terms of total costs and public benefits and weighed against the "criteria of effect" established by the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation. They shall be subject to compliance with the Council's "Procedures for the Protection of Historic and Cultural Properties," applicable laws, and Departmental regulations.

Effective Date

These changes in the National Park Service's Management Policies notebook shall become effective on May 1, 1979. Persons interested in receiving new pages for the Management Policies notebook containing all four policies may write the nearest regional office, after September 15, 1979.

OFFICE OF MANAGEMENT AND BUDGET

Privacy Act; New Systems

The purpose of this notice is to give members of the public an opportunity to comment on Federal agency proposals to establish or alter personal data systems subject to the Privacy Act of 1974.

The Act states that "each agency shall provide adequate advance notice to Congress and the Office of Management and Budget of any proposal to establish or alter any system of records in order to permit an evaluation of the probable or potential effect on such proposal on the privacy and other personal or property rights of individuals . . ."

OMB policies implementing this provision require agencies to submit reports on proposed new or altered systems to Congress and OMB 60 days prior to the issuance of any data collection forms or instructions, 60 days before entering any personal information into the new or altered systems, or 60 days prior to the issuance of any requests for proposals for computer and communications systems or services to support such systems—whichever is earlier.

WAIVER REQUESTS:

OMB procedures permit a waiver of the advance notice requirement when the agency can show that the delay caused by the 60 day advance notice would not be in the public interest. It should be noted that a waiver of the 60 day advance notice period does not relieve an agency of the obligation to publish notice describing the system and to allow 30 days for public comment on the proposed routine uses of the personal information to be collected. A waiver of the 60 day advance notice provision was requested by agencies for the following reports received between May 28, 1979, and July 20, 1979. Public inquiries or comments on the proposed new or altered systems should be directed to the designated agency point-of-contact and a copy of any written comments provided to OMB. Agency Forms Under Review

Background

When executive departments and agencies propose public use forms, reporting, or recordkeeping requirements, the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) reviews and acts on those requirements under the Federal Reports Act (44 U.S.C., chapter 35). Departments and agencies use a number of techniques including public hearings to consult with the public on significant reporting requirements before seeking OMB approval. OMB in carrying out its responsibility under the act also considers comments on the forms and recordkeeping requirements that will affect the public.

List of Forms Under Review

Every Monday and Thursday OMB publishes a list of the agency forms received for review since the last list was published. The list has all the entries for one agency together and grouped into new forms, revisions, extensions, or reinstatements. Each entry contains the following information:

The name and telephone number of the agency clearance officer;

The title of the form;

The agency form number, if applicable;

How often the form must be filled out;

Who will be required or asked to report;

An estimate of the number of forms that will be filled out;

An estimate of the total number of hours needed to fill out the form; and

The name and telephone number of the person or office responsible for OMB review.

Reporting or recordkeeping requirements that appear to raise no significant issues are approved promptly. In addition, most repetitive reporting requirements or forms that require one half hour of less to complete and a total of 20,000 hours or less annually will be approved ten business days after this notice is published unless specific issues are raised; such forms are identified in the list by an asterisk (*).

Comments and Questions

Copies of the proposed forms and supporting documents may be obtained from the agency clearance officer whose name and telephone number appear under the agency name. Comments and questions about the items on this list should be directed to the OMB reviewer or office listed at the end of each entry.

If you anticipate commenting on a form but find that time to prepare will prevent you from submitting comments promptly, you should advise the reviewer of your intent as early as possible.

The timing and format of this notice have been changed to make the publication of the notice predictable and to give a clearer explanation of this process to the public. If you have comments and suggestions for further improvements to this notice, please send them to Stanley E. Morris, Deputy Associate Director for Regulatory Policy and Reports Management, Office of Management and Budget, 726 Jackson Place, Northwest, Washington, D.C. 20503.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[Rel. No. 16049; SR-NYSE-79-27; SR-AMEX-79-9]

New York Stock Exchange, Inc., and American Stock Exchange, Inc.; Order Approving Proposed Rules Changes

July 27, 1979.

In the matter of New York Stock Exchange, Inc., 11 Wall Street, New York, New York 10005, and American Stock Exchange, Inc., 86 Trinity Place, New York, New York 10006.

I. Introduction

On June 7, 1979, the New York Stock Exchange, Inc. (the "NYSE") filed with the Commission, pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. 78(s)(b)(1) (the "Act"), and Rule 19b-4 thereunder, a proposed rule change (File No. SR-NYSE-79-27) to amend NYSE Rule 107, which governs Registered Competitive Market Makers ("RCMM's"). The proposed amendment would delete the provision by which such rule would expire on July 31, 1979 (the "sunset provision").[1] On June 13, 1979 the American Stock Exchange, Inc. (the "Amex") also filed a proposed rule change (File No. SR-Amex-79-9) to remove the July 31, 1979 sunset provision from its Rule 114 governing Registered Equity Market Makers ("REMM's").[2]

Subsequent to the filing of these proposed rule changes, both the NYSE and Amex amended their respective filings to extend the sunset dates until April 30, 1980, rather than to make the rules permanent as initially proposed. Thus, the Commission must determine at this time whether to grant a nine-month extension of the effectiveness of NYSE Rule 107 and Amex Rule 114, which rules otherwise would expire on July 31, 1979.

II. Background

In April of 1978, the NYSE and the Amex each filed with the Commission a proposed rule change to establish a category of floor members, known as RCMM's on the NYSE and REMM's on the Amex, who would serve as supplemental market makers in equity securities admitted to dealings on the respective exchanges. Each exchange's proposal contained a sunset provision by which its rules would expire on July 31, 1979, unless extended by subsequent rule amendments approved by the Commission. The purpose of each proposal was to allow members who had functioned principally as floor traders on the respective exchanges, to qualify as market makers under Section 11(a)(1)(A) of the Act, thereby gaining exemption from the proprietary trading restrictions of Section 11(a)(1). Under the proposals, members registering as RCMM's or REMM's would undertake certain responsibilities with respect to particular securities traded on the respective exchanges.[3] Accordingly, a member registered as an RCMM or REMM is subject to call by a floor official, or a floor broker holding an unexecuted customer order, to improve the market in a particular stock.[4] When effecting dealer trades not pursuant to call, RCMM's and REMM's generally must trade in a manner consistent with the maintenance of a fair and orderly market in the subject security.[5]

On May 1, 1978, the Commission issued an order approving both market maker rules proposals.[6] In approving the market maker rules, the Commission stressed the temporary status of the rules, because there was insufficient information at that time to determine whether they imposed obligations sufficient to assure that RCMM's and REMM's would perform a bona fide market making function. Under the terms of the approval order, a decision to extend either rule beyond July 31, 1979, was to be based upon the Commission's consideration of data gathered by its monitoring program, "specific data and statistics" furnished by each exchange, and comments submitted by interested persons. The exchanges' data and statistics were to address whether the supplemental market makers had acted in a manner which was consistent with the statutory definition of a market maker as set forth in Section 3(a)(38) of the Act.

III. Summary of Data and Statistics

A. The NYSE

The NYSE submission includes certain statistics which tend to demonstrate that RCMM's have traded in a manner that is beneficial to the market. The statistics show that between May 1, 1978, and April 27, 1979, 88.5% of the 87,801 RCMM trades were effected pursuant to bids or offers that "bettered" the market (28.6% in price

[1] Notice of the proposed rule change together with the terms of substance of the proposed rule change was given by publication of a Commission Release (Securities Exchange Act Release No. 15908 (June 11, 1979)) and by publication in the Federal Register (44 FR 35069 (June 18, 1979)). The Commission has received no written comments regarding the proposed rule change.

[2] Notice of the proposed rule change, together with the terms of substance of the proposed rule change was given by publication of a Commission Release (Securities Exchange Act Release No. 15925 (June 14, 1979)) and by publication in the Federal Register (44 FR 36128 (June 20, 1979)). The Commission has received no comments regarding the proposed rule change.

[3] An RCMM undertakes those obligations for every security listed on the exchange. On the Amex, an REMM is deemed to be a market maker only in those securities in which he registers as such. A more complete description of the NYSE and Amex proposals and the basis for the Commission's temporary approval of the RCMM and REMM programs is set forth in Securities Exchange Act Release No. 14718 (May 1, 1978); 43 FR 19738 (May 8, 1978).

[4] RCMM's are obligated to respond to a call by either (1) bidding or offering so as to narrow the spread by at least the minimum trading variation or (2) improving depth by at least one unit of trading by making a bid or offer equal to the current bid or offer. REMM's on the Amex are subject to the same general obligation, but are required to equal or better the current bid or offer, as requested, only if that bid or offer was quoted by the Amex specialist for his own account.

[5] See, in particular, NYSE Rule 107(B)(.10)(ii) and Amex Rule 114.02(c).

and 59.9% in size). A breakdown of the remaining 11.5% of RCMM transactions shows that 9.7% were trades in which the RCMM traded with the existing bid or offer, and 1.8% included trades at the opening, block clean-ups, arbitrage and transactions to offset errors. During that period, RCMM's effected a total of 811 transactions pursuant to calls by floor officials or floor brokers holding unexecuted customer's orders. The average size of the transactions effected pursuant to call was 1,005 shares, and they were effected in 257 different stocks. In the aggregate, RCMM's effected an average of 1,886 trades per week, with an average volume of 2,216,800 shares per week.

The Commission has also compiled various data and statistics relating to RCMM trading activity, based on its survey of market makers on the various national securities exchanges,[7] and its inspection of the NYSE. Among other things, those statistics show that approximately 40% of all RCMM transactions are effected indirectly, by a specialists or by another floor member acting as a broker on behalf of an RCMM. During the sample period of October and November, 1978, less than 2% of all RCMM transactions were effected pursuant to the RCMM's affirmative obligation to better the existing market, in depth or price at the request of a floor broker or floor official.[8]

The Commission's staff also observed that there appears to be a wide variance among the RCMM's as to the number of responses they have made to such calls. For example, for the period of May, 1978 through May, 1979, 43% of the 773 calls (332) on the NYSE during this period were answered by only five of the sixty RCMM's; thirteen RCMM's did not respond to any calls during this period and another nineteen RCMM's each responded to fewer than five calls. Finally, the Commission's staff also observed that a significant proportion of RCMM trading appears to occur in stocks which are among the most actively traded on the NYSE.[9] On the other hand, RCMM participation in trading situations identified by the NYSE as volatile appeared to be insignificant.[10]

B. The Amex

Although Amex Rule 114 has been in effect since May 1, 1978, Amex members did not begin to register and trade as REMM's until late November, 1978. Thus, the limited data and statistics which the Commission has been able to compile with respect to the Amex are based upon a period of approximately seven months, during which the number of individuals registered as REMM's and their trading volume has been very limited.

At the present time, only seventeen individuals are registered as REMM's. From November 20, 1978 to June 22, 1979, REMM's traded in response to calls by floor officials and floor brokers a total of eight times. The aggregate number of shares traded pursuant to these calls was 22,000 shares. Although as many as seventeen individuals have been registered as REMM's, no more than eight REMM's actually effected transactions during any given week. Moreover, in their most active week of trading, REMM's accounted for only 94,100 shares, or approximately 0.2% of twice total exchange volume (purchases and sales). These data, and the lack of more comprehensive information, suggest that further time is needed for the Amex and its members to gain experience with the REMM system, and for the Commission to review the additional information it needs to evaluate that system.

IV. Commission Findings

The Commission does not believe that the information available to it at this time or the experience of either the NYSE or the Amex to date is sufficient to support a permanent determination that RCMM's and REMM's, trading pursuant to their respective exchange rules, are performing a bona fide market making function as contemplated by Section 11(a)(1)(A) and as defined in Section 3(a)(38) of the Act. As noted in connection with the data summarized above, it appears that on both exchanges there is a wide disparity in performance among members registered as supplemental market makers.

In addition, most of the data and statistics available to the Commission concerning these supplemental market makers have been compiled on an aggregated basis, with little opportunity for the exchanges or the Commission to focus on the market making role of individuals or upon the role played by these supplemental market makers as a group in particular trading situations.[11] Moreover, on the basis of the Commission staff's inspection of the NYSE's regulatory program for RCMM's, questions have been raised regarding certain practices which the NYSE permits under its Rule 107.[12]

Nothwithstanding these overriding concerns with respect to the exchanges' equity market maker programs, the Commission has not been presented with or identified through its staff's efforts any information which would lead it to conclude at this time that the market makers have used their authority to initiate proprietary transactions on the floors of these exchanges in a manner which jeopardizes the maintenance of fair and orderly markets.[13] The Commission believes that the desire of the NYSE and Amex to continue their development and implementation of programs which seek [7] See letter from Jerimiah J. O'Donohue, Vice President, NYSE, to Andrew M. Klein, Director of Market Regulation (April 12, 1979).

[8] Overall, between May 1, 1978 and April 27, 1979, less than 1% of all RCMM transactions were effected pursuant to calls by floor officials and floor brokers.

[9] For example, during the week ending December 15, 1978, 40.9% of the total number of RCMM transactions were concentrated in ten of the NYSE's most actively traded issues.

[10] During the period of October, 1978 through May, 1979, the NYSE identified 186 instances in which trading exceeded its depth guidelines. RCMM's were called to participate in only two of these situations and participated voluntarily (without being called) in fourteen.

[11] In its order initially approving the limited duration of RCMM and REMM programs, the Commission noted its concern that the presentation of reliable evidence that the supplemental market makers trade in a manner which contributes to the maintenance of fair and orderly markets "will be facilitated by, and may be impossible without, the implementation of audit trail mechanisms on the NYSE and Amex designed to provide a comprehensive and reliable means of monitoring trading and ensuring compliance with applicable requirements." The Commission staff's inspection of the NYSE RCMM program has highlighted this concern it appears that the availability of such an audit trail would greatly simplify the provision of information critical to a thorough analysis of supplemental market maker performance and would also alleviate a number of compliance concerns which the Commission has identified. In the absence of a comprehensive audit trail, the gathering of data to support a permanent approval of RCMM's on the NYSE or REMM's on the Amex may not be possible.

[12] In particular, the Commission questions whether a supplemental market maker is performing a bona fide market making function in circumstances where the market maker relies on another member to execute his transaction (designated as a market maker transaction) and the market maker is not readily available (by having placed himself off-floor or at a remote distance on the floor) for further participation in the stock in which his order was executed by another member. The Commission, concurrently with issuance of this order, has transmitted letters to both the NYSE and Amex which discuss this and other concerns and identify program modifications which the exchanges should make before the Commission gives consideration to any further extension of their respective supplemental market maker rules.

[13] Apart from the inconclusiveness of the data and statistics available concerning both RCMM's and REMM's, the Commission notes that, with respect to the Amex, the lack of data concerning the supplemental market maker program on that exchange was exacerbated by the delay in the programs's initation. An additional nine-month period should provide the Amex and its interested members a greater opportunity to weigh the contributions which its REMM's might make to that market.

to encourage bona fide market making on their respective floors may contribute to the maintenance of fair and orderly markets on those exchanges and may further competition among brokers and dealers. Moreover, the Commission wishes to encourage experimentation designed to promote improvements in the mechanics of exchange trading. The Commission emphasizes, however, that it approval of this extension of NYSE Rule 107 and Amex Rule 114 is for a limited nine-month period and will expire on April 30, 1980. The Commission's consideration of requests for a further extension of these programs, or requests that they be made permanent, will require sustantial evidence showing, consistent with the requirements of the Act, a positive contribution as market markers by RCMM's or REMM's on the respective exchanges.

Accordingly, the Commission finds that the proposed rule changes, insofar as they authorized a temporary extension of NYSE Rule 107 and Amex Rule 114, are consistent with the requirements of the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder applicable to national securities exchanges, and in particular the requirements of Section 6 and 11(a) and the rules and regulations thereunder.

It is therefore ordered, pursuant to Section 19(b)(2) of the Act, that the above-mentioned rules changes be, and they hereby are, approved.

By the Commission.

Shirley E. Hollis,

Assistant Secretary.

National Plan for Navigation; Implementation of Loran-C Radionavigation System on Great Lakes

ACTION: Notice and Request for Public Comment.

SUMMARY: The Coast Guard intends to change the planned repetition rate for the Great Lakes Loran-C Chain, previously announced as 9930. Rate 9930 will cause significant signal degradation when transmitted by stations also transmitting on rate 9960 to serve another Loran-C chain. Rate 9930 has been used on the East Coast for many years and its re-use for the Great Lakes Chain would cause confusion. Comments are invited on the choice of an alternate rate.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before September 4, 1979.

ADDRESSES: Comments should be submitted to Commandant (G–CMC/TP24), U.S. Coast Guard, Washington, DC 20590. Comments will be available for examination at the Marine Safety Council (G–CMC/TP24), Room 2418, 2100 Second St., S.W., Washington, DC 20590.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Cdr. Brent C. Mills, Project Officer, Office of Marine Environment and Systems (G–WAN–2/73), Room 7325, Department of Transportation, Nassif Building, 400 Seventh Street, S.W., Washington, DC 20590, (202) 472–5857.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Interested persons are invited to submit written views, data, and comments on this change which should include the docket number (CGD 79–071) and the name and address of the person submitting the comments. Persons desiring acknowledgment that their comment has been received should enclose a stamped self-addressed postcard or envelope.

Discussion

The Coast Guard has found it necessary to change the planned repetition rate for the Great Lakes Loran-C Chain. The Northeast U.S. Chain operates on rate 9960 and the close proximity of this rate to rate 9930 introduces degradations in signal accuracy. This degradation approaches system synchronization limits and has been observed in the operation of several stations which are currently transmitting on both rate 9930 and rate 9960 during the overlap period of these two rates on the U.S. East Coast. Rate 9930 has been used for over 20 years as the repetition rate for the existing East Coast Chain of the United States and has provided limited coverage of the Eastern Great Lakes. Re-use of this rate only four months after termination of its use on the East Coast will cause some confusion to mariners and other users attempting to use existing editions of Great Lakes charts or Loran tables. The overall effectiveness of the Loran-C Radionavigation System will be enhanced by this change.

On February 11, 1975, the Coast Guard published an amendment to 33 CFR Part 62, in the Federal Register (40 FR 6338). This amendment adopted a new expanded Loran-C rate structure, to allow establishment of additional Loran-C chains. Prior to this, there were only 48 rates possible, only 24 of which are practical for Loran-C, and many of these were technically unusable because some rates interfere with others. The Coast Guard has not used the expanded capability of the new rate structure because receivers manufactured prior to 1975 could not use the new rates without modification. The Great Lakes Chain will provide coverage on Lakes Huron, Michigan, and Superior where there has been no coverage in the past. The Coast Guard recognizes that there may be some users in this area equipped with older receivers that will require modification to allow operation on one of the new rates.

The Coast Guard desires to minimize the impact of this rate change on Loran-C users and the manufacturers and distributors of Loran-C equipment. The rate selected for the Great Lakes Chain will be determined by three factors:

(1) The rate selected should be usable by a majority of older receivers with little or no modification. Receivers in the stock of manufacturers and distributors should be considered as well as those already installed.

(2) The rate selected must be between 8130 and 9810 to minimize proximity interference between the selected rate and rates 7980 and 9960, since the Malone, FL station of the Great Lakes Chain will also operate on 7980 and the Dana, IN and Seneca, NY stations will also operate on 9960.

(3) The rate selected must be compatible with other Loran-C rates in use to minimize cross rate interference. The Coast Guard seeks comment from Loran-C users on the Great Lakes and advice from equipment manufacturers and distributors as to which rates can be accommodated by older receivers with minimum impact. Manufacturers and distributors providing this information may include the number of receivers sold or in inventory in order to allow the most equitable rate selection. Final rate selection will be determined by screening those rates that may be accommodated by older receivers and selecting a rate which will produce the least cross rate interference. The selected rate will be announced in the Federal Register.

[FRA Waiver Petition Docket HS–79–12]

Virginia & Maryland Railroad Co.; Petition for Exemption From the Hours of Service Act

In accordance with 49 CFR Section 211.41 and Section 211.9, notice is hereby given that the Virginia & Maryland Railroad (V & M) has petitioned the Federal Railroad Administration (FRA) for an exemption from the Hours of Service Act (83 Stat. 464, Pub. L. 91–169, 45 U.S.C. 64a(e)). That petition requests that the V & M be granted authority to permit certain employees to continuously remain on duty for in excess of twelve hours.

The Hours of Service Act currently makes it unlawful for a railroad to require or permit specified employees to continuously remain on duty for a period in excess of twelve hours. However, the Hours of Service Act contains a provision that permits a railroad, which employs no more than fifteen employees who are subject to the statute, to seek an exemption from this twelve hour limitation.

The V & M seeks this exemption so that it can permit certain employees to remain continuously on duty for periods not to exceed sixteen hours. The petitioner indicates that granting this exemption is in the public interest and will not adversely affect safety. Additionally, the petitioner asserts that it employs no more than fifteen employees and has demonstrated good cause for granting this exemption.

Interested persons are invited to participate in this proceeding by submitting written views or comments. FRA has not scheduled an opportunity for oral comment since the facts do not appear to warrant it. Communications concerning this proceeding should identify the Docket Number, Docket Number HS–79–12 and must be submitted in triplicate to the Docket Clerk, Office of the Chief Counsel, Federal Railroad Administration, Trans Point Building, 2100 Second Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20590. Communications received before August 31, 1979, will be considered by the FRA before final action is take. comments received after that date will be considered as far as practicable. All comments received will be available for examination both before and after the closing date for comments, during regular business hours in Room 4406, Trans Point Building, 2100 Second Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20590.

[Sixty-Sixth Revised Exemption No. 90]

Exemption Under Provision of Rule 19 of the Mandatory Car Service Rules Ordered in Ex Parte No. 241

To All Railroads:

It appearing, that the railroads named below own numerous 50-ft. plain boxcars; that under present conditions there are substantial surpluses of these cars on their lines; that return of these cars to the owners would result in their being stored idle; that such cars can be used by other carriers for transporting traffic offered for shipments to points remote from the car owners; and that compliance with Car Service Rules 1 and 2 prevents such use of these cars, resulting in unnecessary loss of utilization of such cars.

It is ordered, That pursuant to the authority vested in me by Car Service Rule 19, 50-ft. plain boxcars described in the Official Railway Equipment Register, ICC RER 6410–A, issued by W. J. Trezise, or successive issues thereof, as having mechanical designation "XM," and bearing reporting marks assigned to the railroads named below, shall be exempt from provisions of Car Service Rules 1, 2(a), and 2(b).

[I.C.C. Order No. 46 Under Service Order No. 1344]

Rerouting Traffic

To: All Railroads:

In the opinion of Joel E. Burns, Agent, The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company is unable to transport promptly all traffic offered for movement between Old Town, Ohio, and Gallipolis, Ohio, and therefore is unable to provide service to Gallipolis, Ohio; Kanauga, Ohio; and Cheshire, Ohio, because of track conditions.

It is ordered,

(a) Rerouting traffic. The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company (CO) being unable to transport promptly all traffic offered for movement to and from Gallipolis, Ohio; Kanauga, Ohio; and Cheshire, Ohio, because of track conditions, that line and its connections are authorized to divert or reroute such traffic via any available route to expedite the movement. Traffic necessarily diverted by authority of this order shall be rerouted so as to preserve as nearly as possible the participation and revenues of other carriers provided in the original routing. The billing covering all such cars rerouted shall carry a reference to the order as authority for the rerouting.

(b) Concurrence of receiving roads to be obtained. The railroad rerouting cars in accordance with this order shall receive the concurrence of other railroads to which such traffic is to be diverted or rerouted, before the rerouting or diversion is ordered.

(c) Notification to shippers. Each carrier rerouting cars in accordance with this order, shall notify each shipper at the time each shipment is rerouted or diverted and shall furnish to such shipper the new routing provided for under this order.

(d) Inasmuch as the diversion or rerouting of traffic is deemed to be due to carrier disability, the rates applicable to traffic diverted or rerouted by said Agent shall be the rates which were applicable at the time of shipment on the shipments as originally routed.

(e) In executing the directions of the Commission and of such Agent provided for in this order, the common carriers involved shall proceed even though no contracts, agreements or arrangements now exist between them with reference to the divisions of the rates of transportation applicable to said traffic. Divisions shall be, during the time this order remains in force, those voluntarily agreed upon by and between said carriers; or upon failure of the carriers to so agree, said divisions shall be those hereafter fixed by the Commission in accordance with pertinent authority conferred upon it by the Interstate Commerce Act.

(f) Effective date. This order shall become effective at 8:00 a.m., July 18, 1979.

(g) Expiration date. This order shall remain in effect until otherwise modified or vacated by this Commission.

This order shall be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of all railroads subscribing to the car service and car hire agreement under the terms of that agreement, and upon the American Short Line Railroad Association. A copy of this order shall be filed with the Director, Office of the Federal Register.

Rerouting Traffic

To All Railroads:

In the opinion of Joel E. Burns, Agent, the Soo Line Railroad Company, Algoma Central Railway, and CP Rail, are unable to transport promptly all traffic offered for movement to and from points in Canada and to and from points in the United States via Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, or Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, Canada, because of bridge damage.

It is ordered,

(a) Rerouting traffic. The Soo Line Railroad Company, Algoma Central Railway, and CP Rail, being unable to transport promptly all traffic offered for movement to and from points in Canada and to and from points in the United States, via Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan, or Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, Canada, because of bridge damage, those lines and their connections are authorized to divert or reroute such traffic via any available route to expedite the movement. This rerouting applies only to the movement within the United States. Traffic necessarily diverted by authority of this order shall be rerouted so as to preserve as nearly as possible the participation and revenues of other carriers provided in the original routing. The billing covering all such cars rerouted shall carry a reference to the order as authority for the rerouting.

(b) Concurrence of receiving roads to be obtained. The railroad rerouting cars in accordance with this order shall receive the concurrence of other railroads to which such traffic is to be diverted or rerouted, before the rerouting or diversion is ordered.

(c) Notification to shippers. Each carrier rerouting cars in accordance with this order, shall notify each shipper at the time each shipment is rerouted or diverted and shall furnish to such shipper the new routing provided for under this order.

(d) Inasmuch as the diversion or rerouting of traffic is deemed to be due to carrier disability, the rates applicable to traffic diverted or rerouted by said Agent shall be the rates which were applicable at the time of shipment on the shipments as originally routed.

[No. MC-138882 (Sub-No 86) F]

Wiley Sanders Truck Lines, Inc., Extension—Lumber [1] (Troy, AL); Decision

Decided: July 24, 1979.

Applicant seeks a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing operations substantially as described in the appendix. The evidence has been considered under the modified procedure. The amended application is opposed by motor common carriers Bee Line Transportation, Inc., Hunt Transportation, Inc., International Transport, Inc., Ligon Specialized Hauler, Inc., Melton Truck Lines, Inc., Ray Bethers Trucking, Inc., Sammons Trucking, Sawyer Transport, Inc., Utah Carriers, Inc., Warren Transport, Inc., and Clarence L. Werner, doing business as Werner Enterprises.

The application is supported by Northwest Pine Sales, Inc., a broker of lumber which purchases merchandise from lumber mills and wholesalers and sells it to such customers as other wholesalers, distributors, retailers, or manufacturers. Northwest purchases lumber (shop lumber, moulding grade lumber, and cut stock) at various mills in the proposed origin States and ships it to points in the States of Alabama, Arkansas, Missouri, New Mexico, Texas, and Wisconsin. Northwest names representative origin points (46) and representative destination points (50) from and to which it made shipments in each of the involved States during the first 9 months of 1978. Shipper indicates that its salesmen buy and sell lumber by telephone and that customers may be located at any point in the involved States. Shipper indicates the numbers rail carloads (447) it shipped to points in the proposed destination States in the first 9 months of 1978, and points out that each carload is the equivalent of two or three truckloads. Shipper asserts that adequate transportation is a very important factor in its brokerage business. An increasing amount of motor carrier transportation is required, for sales volumes have been growing substantially, rail service has been deteriorating, and customers are purchasing product in smaller quantities. Prompt pickups and timed deliveries are required or else sales may be lost or additional expenses incurred. Northwest finds that the existing carriers have been unable to supply it equipment on a timely basis. Shipper does not intend to divert traffic from carriers which can serve it in a satisfactory manner. It asserts, however, that existing carriers are already losing traffic they could be transporting if they could produce the trucks to handle the loads offered them. In the event of a grant of authority, shipper proposes to tender applicant at least 10 truckloads a week. This volume would represent traffic which is available owing to increased sales, diversion from rail service, and the inability of existing motor carriers to meet its needs. Shipper fears that a denial of the application will force it to enter private trucking or to engage a contract carrier contrary to its wishes.

Bee Line holds authority to transport lumber from five named counties in Montana to points in Wisconsin. It asserts that it can originate lumber traffic throughout Montana by means of interlining. Protestant operates 75 tractors and 72 flat-bed trailers and maintains its principal terminal at Missoula, MT. Protestant is not now participating in the supporting shipper's traffic but believes it is in a better position than is applicant to offer a responsive service in Montana. Bee Line transported 133 loads, for approximately $150,000, from Montana points to Wisconsin points in 1977 and a similar amount in 1978. It asserts that all of such traffic, which accounts for approximately 4 percent of its gross revenues, would be subject to diversion in the event of a grant of authority. Protestant questions the operational feasibility of applicant's proposal and the financial fitness of applicant.

Hunt, without specifically identifying its authority, asserts that it is authorized to transport lumber from points (a) in California to points in Arkansas, Missouri, Texas, and Wisconsin, and (b) Arizona and Utah to points in Missouri and Wisconsin. Hunt operates 111 tractors and approximately 260 flat-bed trailers and maintains pertinent terminals at West Sacramento, CA, and Golden, Co. Protestant maintains that it is unable to determine whether it has provided transportation for the supporting firm since a broker's name does not appear on shipping documents. Protestant adduces a traffic study, however, showing that, during May, June, and July 1978, it moved 37 shipments of lumber from and to pertinent points for total revenues of approximately $43,000. Hunt indicates that transportation of lumber from Arizona, California, and Utah accounts for 14 to 16 percent of its total gross annual revenues. Protestant does not specify, however, what portion of such revenues is represented by traffic moving to points in States involved here.

International, as most pertinent, holds authority to transport lumber from points in Arizona, California, Montana, and Oregon to points in Wisconsin and a described portion of Missouri and from two named counties and a named point in Utah to points in Wisconsin. International operates a large fleet of equipment including approximately 1,000 tractors and more than 1,000 flat-bed trailers. Protestant currently has more equipment terminating in the proposed origin territory than it is able to reload with return shipments, and believes that a grant of authority would aggravate that situation. International is unable to determine whether it has transported shipments for which Northwest has been the broker, but avows that it is a substantial transporter of lumber within the involved territory. International indicates that, during the first 10 months of 1978, it transported from points in Arizona, California, Montana, and Oregon to points in Missouri and Wisconsin a total of 283 shipments from which it derived revenues of approximately $344,000. Protestant questions the feasibility of applicant's operating proposal.

Ligon is authorized to transport lumber from and to all the points involved here. It operates 754 power units and more than 830 flat-bed trailers and maintains a terminal, among others, at Albuquerque, NM, from which it would arrange the required transportation. During the first 10 months of 1978, Ligon terminated more than 600 flat-bed trailers in the proposed origin States and had to deadhead approximately 40 percent of those units eastward because of a lack of available traffic. It believes it could provide the supporting firm a minimum of 20 flat beds a month to transport its products. Protestant solicits the supporting firm's traffic was tendered one load of lumber moving to Ohio in 1978. Ligon asserts that it now serves 248 lumber shippers in the involved States and during the first 10 months of 1977, transported approximately 280 loads of lumber moving from points in those States. Protestant asserts that it has already been forced to close terminal facilities in California and Oregon because of increased competition and that, as lumber comprises nearly all of its regulated traffic moving from the involved origin States, the grant of the authority sought would put applicant in a position further to impair protestant's operations in the involved area.

Melton holds authority to transport lumber from points in (1) Arizona and California to points in Alabama, Arkansas, Missouri, New Mexico, and Texas, (2) Utah to points in Alabama and Arkansas, (3) Montana and Oregon to points in Arkansas, and (4) Oregon, three named counties in Utah, and points in a specified portion of Montana to points in Texas. Included in Melton's fleet are 617 tractors and 511 flat-bed trailers. Among the numerous terminals it maintains are facilities in Alabama, Arkansas, Missouri, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Texas. Protestant specializes in the transportation of lumber and regularly handles a substantial volume of traffic moving within the scope of this application. It produces an abstract showing that, between May and October 1978, it transported 323 loads of lumber moving each of the origin States except Montana and to each of the destination States except Wisconsin. Protestant derived revenues of approximately $321,000 from such transportation. Protestant points out that it served approximately 50 shippers during the above time period, that none of them supports the application, and that a grant would put applicant in a position to divert the traffic for which it already faces heavy competition.

Ray Bethers holds itself out to transport lumber from points in California, Montana, and Utah to points in New Mexico and Arizona. It indicates, however, that there is a limited conflict between its authority and the sought authority to serve points in New Mexico. Protestant's primary interest is in the transportation of traffic to points in Arizona. Since, as indicated below, the application is amended to exclude Arizona as a destination State, protestant's interest need not be given further consideration.

Sammons, as most pertinent, holds authority to transport lumber from points in (1) California to points in Alabama, Missouri, and Wisconsin, (2) Montana to points in New Mexico and Wisconsin, and (3) Oregon to each of the destination States except Alabama. It operates 339 tractors and 342 flat-bed trailers and maintains terminals at various points in western States including California, Oregon, Utah, and Montana. Sammons considers itself a specialist in the transportation of lumber and asserts that lumber constitutes nearly all of its eastbound traffic. Protestant indicates that, during 1978, it transported 233 truckloads from points in Montana to points in Wisconsin, and 427 truckloads from points in Oregon to points in Missouri, Texas, and Wisconsin. Protestant derived a total of approximately $931,000 from such transportation. Protestant is unable to determine whether it transported any traffic for the supporting firm but it asserts that a grant of authority would put applicant in a position to divert all the traffic it has handled.

Sawyer holds authority to transport lumber from points in (1) California to points in Alabama, Missouri, and Wisconsin, (2) Oregon to points in Missouri, Wisconsin, and Texas, and (3) a named county in Arizona and four named counties in Utah to points in each of the proposed destination States except New Mexico. Included in protestant's fleet are 381 tractors and 267 flat-bed trailers. Among its terminals are a facility in Oregon and two in California.

Sawyer indicates that it is unable to produce any abstract of shipments transported for the supporting firm since the name of a lumber broker will not appear on any of its sales or tonnage reports. Protestant asserts that a greatly reduced quantity of lumber is being produced in the origin territory and that a grant of the authority sought will have a detrimental impact on its ability to serve the public. Protestant also questions applicant's financial fitness to conduct the proposed operation.

Utah Carriers advances its authority to transport lumber from points in (1) Arizona to points in Missouri, New Mexico, and Texas, (2) Utah to points in New Mexico and Texas, and (3) five specified Utah origins to points in Arkansas and Missouri. Additionally, Utah Carriers asserts that it interlines with protestant Melton to provide service from points in Arizona to points in Alabama. Protestant operates 70 tractors and 70 flat-bed trailers and maintains terminals at Clearfield, UT, and Oklahoma City OK. Utah Carriers now provides service of the type proposed within the territory involved and, it asserts, is able to offer the supporting firm equipment in Arizona and Utah on a daily basis. Protestant is unable to determine what transportation it may have provided for Northwest in the past since a broker's name does not appear on its shipping documents Protestant believes that there now exists sufficient transportation service to meet the supporting firm's needs in the States of Arizona and Utah.

Warren holds authority to transport lumber from points in (1) California to points in Alabama and Missouri, (2) Oregon to points in Arkansas, Missouri, Texas, and Wisconsin, (3) Montana to points in Arkansas, (4) a described portion of Montana to points in Texas, and (5) a specified point in Arizona to points in Missouri and Wisconsin. Warren operates 475 tractors and more than 200 flat-bed trailers and, as most pertinent, maintains a terminal at Portland, OR. Warren is unable to determine whether it has provided service for the supporting firm but asserts that it handles a substantial amount of traffic originating in the involved territory. Protestant indicates that, during the first 11 months of 1978, it handled more that 450 shipments of lumber and lumber and lumber mill products which originated at points in California, Oregon and Montana. Protestant derived revenues of more than $500,000 from such transportation. Warren asserts that the amount of lumber and forest products being produced in, and available for transportation from, the origin territory is diminishing.

Werner advances contract carrier authority enabling it to transport lumber for a named Dallas, TX, firm from points in Montana, Oregon, and portions of California to points in Texas and, for a named chemical company, from points in Motana and Oregon to points in Arkansas, Missouri, Texas, and Wisconsin. Protestant operates 126 tractors and 82 flat-bed trailers and has additional equipment on order. Protestant indicates that it has been deadheading substantial amounts of equipment out of the involved origin territory because there is limited eastbound traffic available, especially traffic moving to points in Alabama, Missouri, and Wisconsin. Protestant is unable to determine whether it has provided service for the supporting firm. It indicates, however, that, during August, September, and October 1978, it moved 33 shipments of the involved commodities from points in California, Montana, and Oregon to points in Texas. Protestant derived approximately $39,000 from such transportation.

We believe that authority should be granted to the extent set forth in the appendix. First, we conclude that Northwest, a broker, is a proper supporting witness. It arranges for transportation in the considered area, has a familiarity with the transportation services available in the considered market, and clearly has an interest in obtaining efficient motor carrier service in order properly to conduct its business. Further, contrary to the assertions of several protestants, the supporting firm has adduced sufficient specifics to enable us to frame a grant of authority responsive to its needs.

Except for protestant Ligon, which holds the complete authority sought, and protestants Melton and Sammons, which hold substantial portions of the authority sought, protestants generally hold small portions of the sought authority. Protestant Werner, we note, holds contract carrier authority of little apparent value here. For the most part, protestants have not demonstrated a capability of expeditiously providing equipment when and where it may be required. We recognize that a very large territory is involved here and that, as several protestants assert, applicant itself operates only approximately 100 flat-bed trailers and may experience difficulty in expeditiously providing equipment at points in the involved territory. However, this fact holsters our conclusion that a grant of authority will help insure the availability of responsive motor carrier service to the supporting firm while, at the same time, not materially affecting the existing competitive situation. Further reinforcing our conclusion in this regard are the following facts. Eight protestants have presented evidence regarding the amounts of transportation they have provided in the considered territory over specified periods of time. However, few protestants have specifically related their figures to figures regarding overall transportation they are providing in the area involved. Moreover, we seriously doubt that, upon a grant of authority here, applicant would be able to divert any significant portion the shipments protestants show they and handling.

We will thus grant applicant authority to the extent of the supporting firm's avowed transportation requirements. That is, we will authorize the transportation of shop lumber, moulding grade lumber, and cut stock lumber. Further, as applicant has amended its application and supplied supporting evidence relative to transportation to points in Arkansas rather than Arizona, our grant of authority will reflect that fact. However, since it is possible that parties who have relied upon the notice in the Federal Register of the application as originally published may have an interest in and would be prejudiced by the lack of proper notice of the authority granted, a notice of the authority actually granted will be published, and issuance of a certificate in this proceeding will be withheld for a period of 30 days from the date of publication, during which time any proper party in interest may file an appropriate petition for leave to intervene, setting forth in detail the precise manner in which it has been prejudiced by lack of proper notice.

A final matter requires comment. Several protestants have questioned applicant's financial fitness to conduct its proposed operation. While we note that applicant's present financial condition is far from robust, we note also that, during its last accounting year, applicant realized a net operating income of approximately $315,000 and had an operating ratio of 91.9. We believe that applicant has sufficiently demonstrated its ability to conduct the operations for which authority will be granted here.

We find:

The present and future public convenience and necessity require operation by applicant, performing the service described in the appendix. Applicant is fit, willing, and able properly to perform the granted service and to conform to the requirements of Title 49, Subtitle IV, U.S. Code, and the Commission's regulations. This decision not significantly the quality of the human environment. An appropriate certificate should be granted.

It is ordered:

The application is granted to the extent set forth in the appendix. Operations may begin only following the service of a certificate which will be issued if applicant complies with the following requirements set forth in the Code of Federal Regulations: insurance (49 CFR 1043), designation of process agent (49 CFR 1044), and tariffs (49 CFR 1310).

Compliance with these requirements must be made on or before October 29, 1979, grant of authority shall be void.

By the Commission, Review Board Number 1, Members Carleton, Joyce, and Jones.

Agatha L. Mergenovich.

Secretary.

Authority to conduct the following operations will be issued in an appropriate document. This decision does not constitute authority to operate.

To operate as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, in interstate or foreign commerce, over irregular routes, transporting shop lumber, cut stock lumber, and moulding grade lumber from points in Arizona, California, Montana, Oregon, and Utah to points in Alabama, Arkansas, Missouri, New Mexico, Texas, and Wisconsin.

Condition:

The issuance of a certificate in this proceeding will be withheld for a period of 30 days from the date of publication in the Federal Register of notice of the authority granted.

Petitions for Modification, Interpretation or Reinstatement of Motor Carrier Operating Rights Authority

Notice

The following petitions seek modification or interpretation of existing motor carrier operating rights authority, or reinstatement of terminated motor carrier operating rights authority.

All pleadings and documents must clearly specify the suffix numbers (e.g., M1 F, M2 F) where the docket is so identified in this notice.

The following petitions, filed on or after March 1, 1979, are governed by Special Rule 247 of the Commission's General Rules of Practice (49 CFR 1100.247). These rules provide, among other things, that a petition to intervene either with or without leave must be filed with the Commission within 30 days after the date of publication in the Federal Register with a copy being furnished the applicant. Protests to these applications will be rejected.

A petition for intervention without leave must comply with Rule 247(k) which requires petitioner to demonstrate that if (1) holds operating authority permitting performance of any of the service which the applicant seeks authority to perform, (2) has the necessary equipment and facilities for performing that service, and (3) has performed service within the scope of the application either (a) for those supporting the application, or, (b) where the service is not limited to the facilities of particular shippers, from and to, or between, any of the involved points.

Persons unable to intervene under Rule 247(k) may file a petition for leave to intervene under Rule 247(l). In deciding whether to grant leave to intervene, the Commission considers, among other things, whether petitioner has (a) solicited the traffic or business of those persons supporting the application, or, (b) where the identity of those supporting the application is not included in the published application notice, has solicited traffic or business identical to any part of that sought by applicant within the affected marketplace. Another factor considered is the effects of any decision on petitioner's interests.

Samples of petitions and the text and explanation of the intervention rules can be found at 43 FR 50908, as modified at 43 FR 60277. Petitions not in reasonable compliance with these rules may be rejected. Note that Rule 247(e), where not inconsistent with the intervention rules, still applies. Especially refer to Rule 247(e) for requirements as to supplying a copy of conflicting authority, serving the petition on applicant's representative, and oral hearing requests.

Republications of Grants of Operating Rights Authority Prior to Certification

Notice

The following grants of operating rights authorities are republished by order of the Commission to indicate a broadened grant of authority over that previously noticed in the Federal Register.

An original and one copy of a petition for leave to intervene in the proceeding must be filed with the Commission on or before September 5, 1979. Such pleading shall comply with Special Rule 247(e) of the Commission's General Rules of Practice (49 CFR 1100.247) addressing specifically the issue(s) indicated as the purpose for republication, and including copies of intervenor's conflicting authorities and a concise statement of intervenor's interest in the proceeding setting forth in detail the precise manner in which it has been prejudiced by lack of notice of the authority granted. A copy of the pleading shall be served concurrently upon the carrier's representative, or carrier if no representative is named.

MC 61231 (Sub-128F) (Republication), filed August 10, 1978, previously noticed in the Federal Register issue of October 19, 1978. Applicant: ACE LINES, INC., P.O. Box 1351, Des Moines, IA 50305. Applicant can tack existing regular-route authority with irregular-route authority set forth above at Steubenville, OH, or Weirton, WV, to provide a through service between points in Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, West Virginia, and Maryland; that applicant is fit, willing, and able properly to perform such service and to conform to the requirements of the Interstate Commerce Act and the Commission's rules and regulations. The purpose of this republication is to correct the June 22, 1979 publication which omitted the tacking portion of the authority.

Motor Carrier Operating Rights Applications

Notice

The following applications, filed on or after March 1, 1979, are governed by Special Rule 247 of the Commission's General Rules of Practice (49 CFR 1100.247). These rules provide, among other things, that a petition to intervene either with or without leave must be filed with the Commission within 30 days after the date of publication in the Federal Register with a copy being furnished the applicant. Protests to these applications will be rejected.

A petition for intervention without leave must comply with Rule 247(k) which requires petitioner to demonstrate that it (1) holds operating authority permitting performance of any of the service which the applicant seeks authority to perform, (2) has the necessary equipment and facilities for performing that service, and (3) has performed service within the scope of the application either (a) for those supporting the application, or, (b) where the service is not limited to the facilities of particular shippers, from and to, or between, any of the involved points.

Persons unable to intervene under Rule 247(k) may file a petition for leave to intervene under Rule 247(l). In deciding whether to grant leave to intervene, the Commission considers, among other things, whether petitioner has (a) solicited the traffic or business of those persons supporting the application, or, (b) where the identity of those supporting the application is not included in the published application notice, has solicited traffic or business identical to any part of that sought by applicant within the affected marketplace. Another factor considered is the effects of any decision on petitioner's interests.

Samples of petitions and the text and explanation of the intervention rules can be found at 43 FR 50908, as modified at 43 FR 60277. Petitions not in reasonable compliance with these rules may be rejected. Note that Rule 247(e), where not inconsistent with the intervention rules, still applies. Especially refer to Rule 247(e) for requirements as to supplying a copy of conflicting authority, serving the petition on applicant's representative, and oral hearing requests.

Broker, Water Carrier and Freight Fowarder Operating Rights Applications

Notice

The following applications are governed by Special Rule 247 of the Commission's General Rules of Practice (49 CFR 1100.247). These rules provide, among other things, that a protest to the granting of an application must be filed with the Commission within 30 days after the date of notice of filing of the application is published in the Federal Register. Failure to seasonably file a protest will be construed as a waiver of opposition and participation in the proceeding. A protest under these rules should comply with Section 247(e)(3) of the rules of practice which requires that it set forth specifically the grounds upon which it is made, contain a detailed statement of protestant's interest in the proceeding (including a copy of the specific portions of its authority which protestant believes to be in conflict with that sought in the application, and describing in detail the method—whether by joinder, interline, or other means—by which protestant would use such an authority to provide all or part of the service proposed), and shall specify with particularity the facts, matters, and things relied upon, but shall not include issues of allegations phrased generally, protests not in reasonable compliance with the requirements of the rules may be rejected.

Broker Authority

MC 130584F, filed June 6, 1979. Applicant: COMPUTER ASSISTED LOAD MATCHING, INC., 1616 P St., NW., Washington, DC 20016. Representative: Harry J. Jordon, 1000 16th St., NW., Washington, DC 20036. Authority sought to engage in operations, in interstate or foreign commerce, as a broker, at Washington, DC, in arranging for the transportation, by motor vehicle, of general commodities, between points in the United States (except AK and HI).

Note.—Applicant has concurrently filed with its application a motion to dismiss the application. It argues that the proposed operation does not involve a brokerage operation requiring an ICC license. Applicant's description of its operation and legal argument are set forth below.

Computer Assisted Load Matching, Inc. (CALM) is a computer program designed to match loads and equipment, with or without drivers, to eliminate empty hauling through trip-leasing procedures. The programs is sponsored by the Common Carrier Conference—Irregular Route (Conference) of the American Trucking Association, Inc., in connection with the Equipment Interchange Association (EIA) and ATA Services, Inc. (Services), with EIA responsible for the promotion and administration of the operation and Services for providing the computer hardware and supporting services. The hub of the operations is EIA's headquarters in Washington, D.C.

The CALM program is open to all for-hire motor common carriers subject to regulation by the Interstate Commerce Commission. A carrier desiring to participate in the CALM program must first complete an "Application for Participation," wherein the applicant agrees to (1) pay a one-time $100 fee ($200 for a non-Conference member), plus a one-time fee of $25 for computer terminals in excess of one, to cover the cost of manuals, administrative expenses, and programming costs; (2) pay a monthly on-line charge of $140, which entitles the applicant to 8 hours use of the system per month, with on-line use in excess of 8 hours charged at the rate of $.30 per minute; (3) have available the required computer terminal—it costs about $90; (4) execute and forward to EIA an executed Uniform Trip Leasing Agreement, which governs all trip-leasing operations under the CALM program; and (5) provide evidence that it maintains certain minimum liability and property damage insurance and specified minimum cargo insurance. Participation in CALM can be cancelled by 60 days written notice to EIA.

As an example of how CALM works, a carrier member in Dallas, TX, with an empty truck in Philadelphia, PA, would consult the computer printout of available loads to determine whether there is a shipment in Philadelphia or nearby that needs equipment for movement to the Dallas area. The computer printout is coded by carrier, type of freight, location and transportation requirements of the shipment, and the revenue split. Finding a shipment to meet its needs, the Dallas carrier then calls the carrier posting the Philadelphia shipment and a trip-lease is arranged. The posting carrier bills the shipper and pays the Dallas carrier for its transportation. CALM does not get involved in the revenue-split aspect of this arrangement or any other relationship between the carriers.

The Conference is underwriting the start-up expenses of this program and expects to be reimbursed through the application fees and the difference between the cost of the computer time as leased and sold to CALM members. The expenses of EIA and its staff will also be met by the differences in the computer cost to CALM and the rental fee charged members. It is anticipated that CALM's income will be enough to meet existing expenses and permit a modest amount of revenue build-up to meet future business expansion should the program prove to be successful.

The Calm Operation is not a Service Requiring an ICC Brokerage License

Section 10102 of the Interstate Commerce Act defines a broker, as a person, other than a motor carrier or an employee or agent of a motor carrier, that as a principal or agent sells, offers for sale, negotiates for, or holds itself out by solicitation, advertisement, or otherwise as selling, providing or arranging for transportation by motor carrier for compensation.

CALM is not a person holding itself out by solicitation, advertisement, or otherwise as arranging for transportation by motor carriers for compensation. It is the individual carrier members of CALM that match loads, and they determine, without any influence from CALM, whether the transportation services will actually occur and the compensation to be received by the carriers involved. CALM receives no remuneration from carrier members of the program on the basis of matched loads; the only income to CALM is the initial motor carrier membership fees and the monthly charges for computer time which meet overhead expenses and provide a small margin of income for capital improvements. In substance, CALM is nothing more than a clearing shipments and equipment for its members and is designed to be only marginally profitable.

The Commission has not previously had the occasion to consider an operation such as CALM on a formal basis; but there is precedent in analagous proceeding for finding that CALM is not a brokerage operation requiring an ICC license. Thus, in Practices of Property Brokers, 53 M.C.C. 633 (1951), the Commission determined that the practice of household goods carriers of diverting partial loads to each other in the interest of economy and efficiency of operations and best use of equipment did not constitute brokerage operations requiring an ICC license. If the household goods carriers direct participation in exchanging freight with one another did not constitute brokerage, then clearly CALM, which is divorced from any participation in the actual matching of loads between carriers and receives no compensation for its activities, is not a brokerage operation either.

Another ICC case cited as supporting the grant of this motion is Snodgrass Broker Application, 76 M.C.C. 739 (1958). In Snodgrass the Commission held that where Ms. Snodgrass was to receive nothing from a carrier with whom she arranged to supply transportation to department store shoppers, but was to be paid by the department store on the basis of purchases made by such shoppers introduced to the store by her efforts, Ms. Snodgrass was not engaged in brokerage operations requiring a license.

CALM receives no compensation from the carriers for the matching of loads, and no part of the dues and computer time payments received from CALM members results from its efforts in arranging transportation for individual shipments. In fact, the $140 charged monthly for 8 hours of computer time is payable regardless of whether or not the member succeeds in matching any loads. Absent this compensation factor, CALM cannot be deemed a brokerage operation.

Irregular-Route Motor Common Carriers of Property—Elimination of Gateway Letter Notices

Notice—Date

The following letter-notices of proposals to eliminate gateways for the purpose of reducing highway congestion, alleviating air and noise pollution, minimizing safety hazards, and conserving fuel have been filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission under the Commission's Gateway Elimination Rules (49 CFR 1065), and notice thereof to all interested persons is hereby given as provided in such rules.

An original and two copies of protests against the proposed elimination of any gateway herein described may be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission on or before August 16, 1979. A copy must also be served upon applicant or its representative. Protests against the elimination of a gateway will not operate to stay commencement of the proposed operation.

Successively filed letter-notices of the same carrier under these rules will be numbered consecutively for convenience in identification. Protests, if any, must refer to such letter-notices by number.

The following applicants seek to operate as a common carrier, by motor vehicles, over irregular routes.

Department of Health, Education, and Welfare

Health Resources Administration

List of Health Manpower Shortage Areas Designated Under Section 332 of the Public Health Service Act

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE

Health Resources Administration

List of Health Manpower Shortage Areas Designated Under Section 332 of the Public Health Service Act

1. Purpose

This notice provides a list of health manpower shortage areas designated by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare under the authority of section 332 of the Public Health Service Act.

2. Background

Section 332 of the Public Health Service Act, as amended by Pub. L. 94–484 (the Health Professions Educational Assistance Act of 1976), provides that the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare shall designate health manpower shortage areas based on criteria established by regulation. Health manpower shortage areas are defined in section 332 to include (1) urban and rural geographic areas, (2) population groups, and (3) facilities with shortages of health manpower. Section 332 further requires that the Secretary publish a list of the designated geographic areas, population groups, and facilities. The list of areas is to be reviewed at least annually, and revised as necessary. The Health Resources Administration's Bureau of Health Manpower has been assigned the responsibility for designating these areas.

Public or nonprofit entities in (or with a demonstrated interest in) these areas are eligible to apply for assignment of National Health Service Corps personnel to provide health services in or to the areas. These areas are also eligible service areas for Public Health Service loan repayment and scholarship programs, and entities located in the areas are eligible to apply for (or receive preference for) certain grant programs under the Public Health Service Act.

3. Development of List

Criteria for designating health manpower shortage areas were published by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare as Interim-Final regulations (42 CFR Part 5) in the Federal Register of January 10, 1978. Criteria were defined for each of seven health manpower types (primary medical care, dental, psychiatric, vision care, podiatric, pharmacy, and veterinary manpower). The Bureau of Health Manpower then compared these criteria with available data on counties and small areas throughout the country and developed preliminary listings of areas which tentatively appeared to meet the criteria. These preliminary listings were submitted to the appropriate Health Systems Agencies (HSA's), State Health Planning and Development Agencies (SHPDA's), and Governors for their review and recommendations. In addition, the many requests received for designation of particular areas, population groups, or facilities were also submitted to the appropriate HSA's SHPDA's, and Governors for review and recommendations.

The Bureau of Health Manpower reviewed each designation request, together with any recommendations received on individual requests or on the preliminary listings, and determined whether or not each area involved met the shortage criteria. The results were provided by letter to the requesting agency or individual, with copies to other appropriate agencies and to interested organizations and persons. These letters constituted the official notice of designation as a health manpower shortage area or disapproval of recommendations for such designation.

The list below includes all those areas, population groups, and facilities which had been so designated by the Bureau of Health Manpower as of May 1, 1979. For all except psychiatric manpower shortage areas, this updates lists which appeared in the Federal Registers of July 17, September 28, and December 29, 1978.

In the case of psychiatric manpower shortage area designations, appropriate data listings were not available in January 1978 for review by HSA's, SHPDA's, and Governors. Consequently, a national list of psychiatric shortage areas has not yet been developed. However, a limited number of catchment areas and facilities have been designated by letter in response to specific requests. The list of these areas below represents the first compilation of psychiatric shortage areas designated under the criteria. Preliminary lists of possible psychiatric manpower shortage areas are now being sent to the HSA's, SHPDA's, and Governors for review, and a more complete list of designated psychiatric shortage areas will be published when these reviews are completed.

In the case of veterinary manpower shortage area designations, the list as presented here does not include areas in degree-of-shortage groupings 4 and 5 (i.e., those areas which have shortages of companion animal veterinarians only). We plan to revise the criteria for designation of veterinary manpower shortage to include only those areas with shortages of food animal veterinarians, due to the limited resources available to support services by health professionals in the various types of health manpower shortage areas.

4. Format of List

For each type of manpower, the list of areas is arranged by State. Within each State, the list is first presented by county. In those cases where a portion (or portions) of a county has been designated, the service area(s) involved are listed under the county name. Following the county listing, a list of the service areas is presented showing their component parts in terms of civil divisions or census tracts.

Where population groups or facilities have been designated, these are listed under the county name(s) in which the population resides or the facility is located.

Beside each designated area, the appropriate "degree-of-shortage" group is indicated, corresponding to the criteria for these groupings contained in the Interim-Final regulations. (Group I represents areas with the highest degree of shortage, Group II with the next highest degree of shortage, etc.)

In addition to the specific listings included in this notice, all Indian tribes which meet the definition in section 4(d) of Pub. L. 94–437, the Indian Health Care Improvement Act of 1976, are automatically designated as population groups with primary medical care and dental manpower shortages.

5. Future Updates of List of Designated Areas

The list below consists of those areas which had been designated as of May 1, 1979. Additional areas are being designated continuously, and future updates of the list will be published periodically in the Federal Register. In particular, it should be noted that some additional areas have been designated by letter since May 1, 1979, and the appropriate agencies and persons notified of the designation. Although officially designated, these areas are not included in the list below, because they have not been added to the computerized data base from which this list was generated.

Any designated area listed below is subject to withdrawal from designation if new information is presented to and confirmed by the Bureau of Health Manpower indicating that the situation in the area has changed or that erroneous or incomplete data were used in making the original designation.

For further information on these designations, to request additional designations, or to request withdrawal of any designation, please contact:

Division of Manpower Analysis, Bureau of Health Manpower, Health Resources Administration, Attention: Shortage Area Designation Staff, Center Building, Room 4-41, 3700 East-West Highway, Hyattsville, Maryland 20782.

All requests for designations or withdrawals should be based on the criteria as published in the Interim-Final regulations.

Dated: June 25, 1979.

Henry A. Foley,

Administrator, Health Resources Administration.

Bidding Systems for Outer Continental Shelf Oil and Gas Leasing; Proposed Rulemaking and Public Hearing

DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY

Office of Leasing Policy Development

[10 CFR Parts 375 and 376]

Proposed Rulemaking and Public Hearing—Bidding Systems for Outer Continental Shelf; Oil and Gas Leasing

AGENCY: Department of Energy.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: These proposed regulations would establish three bidding systems for utilization in Outer Continental Shelf (OCS) lease sales of oil and gas. These systems are: (1) cash bonus bid with a fixed royalty; (2) royalty bid with a fixed cash bonus; and (3) cash bonus bid with a sliding scale royalty. These bidding systems have been previously used in OCS lease sales and are three of the seven bidding systems authorized by section 205 of the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act Amendments of 1978. The intended effect of these regulations is to enhance competition for oil and gas leases on the OCS, provide a fair return to the Federal Government for its resources, and develop new oil and gas resources in an efficient and timely manner. This rulemaking is being proposed under the authority of sections 302(b) and 303(c) of the Department of Energy Organization Act.

I. Introduction

Sections 302 and 303 of the Department of Energy Organization Act (DOE Act, Pub. L. 95–91, 91 Stat. 565 (42 U.S.C. 7101 et seq.)) transferred to the Secretary of Energy certain authorities previously held by the Secretary of the Interior under the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act, as amended (OCSLA, Act of August 7, 1953, ch. 345, 67 Stat. 462 (43 U.S.C. 1331, et seq.), as amended by Pub. L. 95–372), the Mineral Lands Leasing Act, the Mineral Leasing Act for Acquired Lands, the Geothermal Steam Act of 1970, and the Energy Policy and Conservation Act. As a result, with respect to Federal leases, the Secretary of Energy is authorized to promulgate regulations that (1) foster competition, (2) implement alternative bidding systems, (3) establish diligence requirements, (4) set rates of production, and (5) specify the procedures, terms, and conditions for the acquisition and disposition of Federal royalty interests taken in kind (42 U.S.C. 7152(b)(1)–(5)). In addition, under section 302(c) of the DOE Act (42 U.S.C. 7152(c)), the Secretary of Energy is granted the authority to establish rates of production for Fedeal leases and, under section 303(c)(1) (42 U.S.C. 7153(c)(1)), reviews and may disapprove any term or condition of a Federal lease that relates to its section 302(b) authority to promulgate regulations.

As required by section 303(b) of the DOE Act (42 U.S.C. 7153(b)), the Secretary of the Interior was consulted during the preparation of these proposed regulations and afforded not less than 30 days to comment formally on them. The Secretary of the Interior provided comments which were considered in redrafting these regulations prior to today's publication.

The principal purpose of these proposed regulations is to establish and describe the bidding systems that may be used in OCS lease sales. These regulations would establish three of the bidding systems authorized by the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act Amendments of 1978 (OCSLAA, Pub. L. 95–372, 92 Stat. 629). These regulations, therefore, implement DOE Act sections 302(b)(2) and 303(c). They are applicable only to sales of oil and gas leases on the OCS.

II. Lease Sale Process

According to a predetermined schedule, DOI periodically offers for sale oil and gas leases for tracts on the OCS. This event is the culmination of a series of DOI actions, including nominations for the inclusion of OCS tracts in a sale, geological/geophysical analysis, preparation and publication of an environmental impact statement (EIS), public hearings, coordination with State officials and members of the public, coordination with Federal agencies, and the publication of a notice of OCS lease sale in the Federal Register. After the bids submitted at the publicly held OCS lease sale are opened and evaluated, leases are awarded to successful bidders on a tract-by-tract basis.

From the bidding systems that would be established by these regulations the system or systems to be utilized by DOI in each OCS lease sale will be chosen. Bidders would submit bids on the basis of the bidding system that is applicable to a particular tract and as specified in the sale notice. The bidding system also states the method by which the successful bidder pays the United States for the lease. For example, in a cash bonus bid system with a fixed royalty and a fixed annual rental, the successful bidder pays the United States a one-time cash bonus, a yearly cash rental, and a royalty paid in money or in kind, based on a percentage in amount or value of production saved, removed or sold.

DOE is also proposing in a separate set of regulations a sequential bidding procedure for use at OCS lease sales that is an alternative to the procedure presently being utilized by DOI in OCS lease sales. The sequential bidding procedure divides a single sale of OCS leases into several bidding periods, instead of the current procedure in which bids for all tracts included in a sale are submitted simultaneously and opened in one session. In the proposed procedure, bids submitted for tracts would be equally divided among the several bidding periods, and there would not be less than 24 hours between bidding periods.

III. The Proposed Regulation

A. Definitions. Definitions of "person" and "gas" are being proposed for inclusion in the general provisions part (Part 375) of DOE's mineral leasing regulations (Subchapter C of Chapter II, Title 10 Code of Federal Regulations). These definitions would be applicable to all DOE mineral leasing regulations.

A general provisions portion (Subpart A of Part 376) for OCS oil and gas leasing is also being proposed by these regulations. For the present, this Subpart would only establish the definitions that are applicable to all Part 376 OCS oil and gas leasing regulations.

Section 376.102 of the proposed regulations would contain relevant definitions applicable only to the Subpart B, bidding systems regulations. These definitions are self explanatory.

B. Bidding Systems. Section 376.110 of the regulation would establish the following three bidding systems:

1. Cash bonus bid with a fixed royalty;
2. Variable royalty bid with a fixed bonus; and
3. Cash bonus bid with a sliding scale royalty.

In the cash bonus bid system (section 376.110(a)(1)), persons competing for a Federal tract submit bids in the form of cash bonuses. The amount of the cash bonus is determined by the person submitting the bid. The person who submits the highest cash bonus bid is usually awarded the lease if he is qualified and if his bid reflects the fair market value of the tract. Both the royalty rate and annual rental are fixed in this bidding system and would be specified in a notice of OCS lease sale published in the Federal Register prior to the lease sale. In the process of determining the fixed elements of a bidding system, i.e. royalty rate and rental, for this and other bidding systems, DOE will provide DOI with its analysis and conclusions regarding royalty rate and rental. In performing its analysis of the fixed elements of a bidding system, DOE may consider the factors listed in § 376.111(b) in relation to the characteristics of each tract to which the bidding system will be applied.

Under the variable royalty bid system § 376.110(a)(2)), persons competing for a Federal tract submit bids in the form of royalty rates, to be paid in money or in kind, based on a percentage of production saved, removed or sold. The amount of the royalty rate bid is determined by the person submitting the bid. The person who submits the bid with the highest percentage royalty rate is usually awarded the lease if he is qualified and his bid reflects the fair market value of the tract.

In the cash bonus bid with a sliding scale royalty system (section 376.110(a)(3)), as in the cash bonus bid system, the variable is the cash bonus, and the winning bidder for a tract is usually the person who submits the highest cash bonus bid. However, in this system, a sliding scale formula or schedule is utilized to adjust the royalty rate according to the amount or value of production saved, removed or sold during a specified production period. Both the royalty rate formula or schedule and a fixed annual rental would be specified in a notice of lease sale published in the Federal Register prior to lease sale. The royalty rate would be calculated by utilizing either a sliding scale formula, which relates the royalty rate established thereby to the value of oil and gas produced during the production period, or a schedule that establishes the royalty rate that will be applied to specified ranges of the value of the oil and gas production during the production period. For the purposes of determining the value of production and computing royalties on leases awarded in accordance with the three bidding systems authorized by these regulations, the DOI regulation at 30 CFR 250.64 is to be utilized. However, with respect to oil, the first sale of which is controlled under the DOE regulations at 10 CFR Part 212, the value shall not exceed the lawful first sale price of such oil; and, with respect to gas, the value shall not exceed the sale price established by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

Only the general characteristics of each bidding system would be established by §§ 376.110(a)(1)-(3). When used in a particular sale, these systems will be tailored to the tracts to which they are applied. This flexibility is necessary because differing tract characteristics vary the economics of exploration, development and production, which are reflected both in the selection of a bidding system and in the design of its components. For example, as water depth increases, the cost of exploration, development and production to the lessee also increases. Therefore, for tracts at greater water depths, it may be appropriate to modify the selected bidding system so that more of this cost is shifted away from the lessee to the Federal Government. This could be accomplished in a cash bonus bid with a fixed royalty system by setting the fixed royalty rate and the fixed rental at lower levels.

In the case of adjacent tracts located on the same structure, it is anticipated that in most cases the same bidding system will be applied to all tracts which potentially could be the subject of a unitization agreement. However, in some cases considerations other than those related to unitization may be controlling and, therefore, different bidding systems may be selected for application to adjacent tracts on the same structure. But even in this latter situation, it is not expected that the formation of unitization agreements will be discouraged or hindered because sharing rules can still be formulated.

While tract-specific geologic and economic considerations are central to selection of an appropriate bidding system, the conference Report to the OCSLAA (H.R. Rep. No. 951474, 95th Cong. 2nd Sess. (1978)) indicates that certain additional important purposes and policies also are to be considered. These eight purposes and policies are restated in § 376.111(b) of the proposed regulations, and another has been added—experimentation with various bidding systems.

Pursuant to the OCSLAA, the regulations (section 376.111(c)(1)) would require that the royalty bid with a fixed cash bonus and the cash bonus bid with a sliding scale royalty bidding systems established in § 376.110(a)(2) and (3) be applied to not less than 20 per centum nor more than 60 per centum of the total area offered in OCS lease sales each year, over a five-year period commencing on September 18, 1978. This requirement may be set aside (section 376.111(c)(2)) if the purposes of the leasing program would be better served, as determined by DOI after consultation with DOE.

In performing its analysis of the application of bidding systems established in § 376.110 to specific tracts that are the subject of a lease sale, DOE will consider the purposes and policies enumerated in § 376.111(b)(1) through an evaluation of the regional and tract-specific factors listed in § 376.111(b)(2) that impact upon those purposes and policies. In its analysis, DOE will employ a procedure that involves the following four steps: 1) selecting the bidding systems that will be utilized in the lease sale; 2) determining the proportion of tracts to which each system will be applied; 3) determining the system to apply to each tract; and 4) adjusting the bidding system selected for a tract to accommodate tract specific characteristics.

IV. Environmental Analysis

After reviewing these proposed regulations pursuant to DOE's responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (Pub. L. 91-190, 83 Stat. 852 (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.), DOE has determined that the proposed action does not constitute a major Federal action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment. Therefore, DOE has determined that no environmental impact statement is required for the proposed regulations.

V. Significance Review

We have determined that this is a significant regulation and that it will have a major impact within the meaning of the DOE procedures implementing Executive Order 12044 on "Improving Government Regulations (DOE Order 2030.1, 44 FR 1032, January 3, 1979). Therefore, a regulatory analysis is required for this proposed regulation.

DOE has determined that the proposed regulation may substantially affect the goals of the National Energy Plan (NEP) and is of major concern to the public, Congress and the President. Although, analysis shows the regulations would not result in any incremental costs in excess of $100 million per year, they are considered to have a major impact because they pertain to OCS oil and gas lease sales, which do have a substantial role in the attainment of NEP goals.

A summary of the regulatory analysis prepared for this regulation is included below. Copies of the complete regulatory analysis are available for public review at the DOE Freedom of Information Office, Room GB-145, Forrestal Building, 1000 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20585. Interested parties are invited to submit written comments on the draft regulatory analysis to the address indicated in the "Addresses" section of this preamble.

VI. Summary of Regulatory Analysis

A. Problem

Prior to the OCSLAA, section 8(a)(1) of the OCSLA authorized the granting of leases on OCS lands to the highest responsible qualified bidder by competitive bidding under regulations promulgated in advance. Further, section 8(a)(1) provided that the bidding be conducted on the basis of a cash bonus with a fixed royalty of not less than 12½ per centum in amount or value of the production saved, removed or sold, or on the basis of royalty with a fixed cash bonus. DOI promulgated procedural regulations regarding OCS lease sales (43 CFR 3302.1) which provided that "[t]racts will be offered for lease by competitive sealed bidding under conditions specified in the notice of lease offer."

The OCSLAA specifically authorizes the use of five bidding systems in addition to the cash bonus and royalty bidding systems. In addition, the OCSLAA requires that bidding systems other than the cash bonus system be utilized for not less than 20 per centum and not more than 60 per centum of the area offered for leasing each year during the five-year period commencing on September 18, 1978.

Nearly a year before the enactment of the OCSLAA, DOE became involved in the OCS lease sale process by virtue of sections 302 and 303 of the DOE Act. As previously described in the "Introduction" section of this preamble, section 302(b)(2) transfers to, and vests in, the Secretary of Energy the authority to promulgate regulations relating to the implementation of alternative bidding systems authorized for the award of Federal leases, and section 303(c)(1) provides for the review and disapproval by the Secretary of Energy of any term or condition of a lease that relates to any matter with respect to which the Secretary has authority to promulgate regulations under section 302(b). Further, section 303(b) provides for consultation between DOE and DOI with regard to those functions transferred by the DOE Act. Therefore, these proposed bidding systems regulations are necessary to fully describe the bidding systems and their components to be utilized in OCS lease sales and to implement DOE's section 302(b)(2) DOE Act authority.

B. Mandate for Government Action

DOE is authorized by section 302(b)(2) of the DOE Act to promulgate regulations under the OCSLA relating to the implementation of alternative bidding systems authorized for the award of Federal leases. Section 8(a)(1) of the OCSLA authorizes the use of a number of alternatives bidding systems.

C. Policy Objectives

The primary impact of the alternative bidding systems that would be established by the proposed regulations relates to (1) providing a fair return to the Federal Government for its resources, (2) increasing competition for Federal leases, and (3) developing new oil and gas resources in an efficient and timely manner. The latter objective is significant when viewed from the perspective of the NEP, which has as a primary goal the stimulation of domestic energy production.

D. Alternative Courses of Action

The regulations establish a regulatory framework contemplated by the OCSLA and the DOE Act. The framework is fundamental to the adjustment and strengthening of the Federal OCS leasing program. The framework includes the option to utilize any of the three bidding systems described in the proposed regulations.

Issuance of these regulations is not expected to have an economic impact of any consequence because the promulgation of these regulations will not result in significant additional administrative costs to industry or government. The procedures for bidding and the requirements for reporting by lessees are unchanged. The Federal Government's cost of administering leases once awarded will not increase. The procedural requirements imposed on the government by these regulations are not substantial and, in any event, are considered the minimum contemplated by the legislation.

There are no viable regulatory alternatives that would satisfy responsibilities contained in the OCSLA and meet Congress' objectives for development of OCS resources through the use of alternative bidding systems. The proposed regulations create a regulatory framework; this framework is fundamental to the development and administration of a Federal OCS leasing program. The framework provides, at this time, options to use any combination of the three bidding systems under conditions stipulated by the OCSLA.

E. The Preferred Alternative

Proposing these regulations is the preferred alternative. This action implements DOE's authorities under section 302(b) of the DOE Act to promulgate regulations relating to the implementation of alternative bidding systems and under section 303(c)(1) to review and approve or disapprove any term or condition which relates to DOE's section 302(b) authority to promulgate regulations. This action also implements the provisions of the OCSLA and the OCSLAA which relate to the implementation of alternative bidding systems.

VI. Public Comment and Public Hearing Procedures

If you wish to ask a question at the hearing, you may submit the question, in writing, to the presiding officer. DOE or, if the question is submitted at hearing, the presiding officer will determine whether the question is relevant, and whether the time limitations permit it to be presented for answer.

Any further procedural rules needed for the proper conduct of the hearing will be announced by the presiding officer.

A transcript of the hearing will be made and the entire record of the hearing, including the transcript, will be retained by the DOE and made available for inspection at the DOE Freedom of Information Office, Room GB–145, Forrestal Building, 1000 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C., 20585, between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. You may purchase a copy of the transcript from the reporter.

For purposes of this Subpart B—

"Maximum royalty rate" means the highest royalty rate payable to the United States.

"Minimum royalty rate" means a rate that may not be less than 12.5 per centum at the beginning of the lease period in amount or value of the production saved, removed or sold, but may be greater than 12.5 per centum.

"OCS lease sale" means the DOI proceeding by which leases for certain OCS tracts are offered for sale and then issued to the person who is the highest qualified responsible bidder.

"Tract" means a portion of the OCS that is offered for lease through an OCS lease sale and is described and identified by an Outer Continental Shelf Official Protraction Diagram.

"Value of production" means the value of all oil and gas production saved, removed or sold from a tract, or, if the tract is unitized, the value of all oil and gas production saved, removed or sold and credited to the tract under a unitization formula, during a production period, which value is determined in accordance with § 376.110(b) of this chapter.

§ 376.110 Bidding systems.

(a) A single bidding system selected from those listed in this paragraph shall be applied to each tract included in an OCS lease sale.

(1) Cash bonus bid with a fixed royalty of not less than 12½ per centum in amount or value of the production saved, removed or sold and a fixed annual rental.

(i) The royalty to be paid by the person awarded the lease shall be a percentage of the amount or value of the production saved, removed or sold. Such royalty shall not be less than 12½ per centum in the amount or value of production and shall be specified in the notice of OCS lease sale published in the Federal Register.

(ii) The amount of cash bonus to be paid is determined by the person submitting the bid. Any deferment and the schedule of payments shall be included in the notice of OCS lease sale published in the Federal Register.

(iii) The annual rental to be paid by the person awarded the lease shall be the amount specified in the notice of OCS lease sale published in the Federal Register.

(2) Variable royalty bid based on per centum in amount or value of the production saved, removed or sold, with a fixed cash bonus and a fixed annual rental.

(i) The royalty rate to be paid by the person awarded the lease shall be the percentage of the amount or value of the production saved, removed or sold that is selected by the person submitting the bid.

(ii) The cash bonus to be paid by the person awarded the lease shall be an amount specified in the notice of OCS lease sale published in the Federal Register.

(iii) The annual rental to be paid by the person awarded the lease shall be the amount specified in the notice of OCS lease sale published in the Federal Register.

(3) Cash bonus bid with diminishing or sliding royalty rate of not less than 12½ per centum at the beginning of the OCS lease period in amount or value of the production saved, removed, or sold, and a fixed annual acreage rental.

(i) (A) The royalty rate to be paid by the person awarded the lease shall be a percentage of the amount or value of the production saved, removed or sold. The royalty rate shall be calculated by utilizing either a sliding scale formula, which relates the royalty rate established thereby to the value of the oil and gas produced during the production period, or a schedule that establishes the royalty rate that will be applied to specified ranges of value of production (e.g., $1,000,000 to $3,000,000 in oil and gas production). The description of the sliding scale formula or schedule shall include the relationship between value of production and royalty rate, and as stipulation of the minimum royalty rate and maximum royalty rate. The sliding scale formula or schedule shall be included in the lease issued to the person who is the successful bidder as one of the lease terms and conditions.

(B) The royalty rate shall not be less than 12½ per centum in the amount or value of production saved, removed or sold and shall be specified in the notice of OCS lease sale published in the Federal Register.

(C) Royalty payment calculation.(1) The royalty rate utilized in the calculation of royalty payments is based on an adjusted value of production, and is established through application of a sliding scale formula or a schedule to the adjusted value of production. (2) The adjusted value of production shall be determined by applying an inflation factor to the actual value of production. (3) The established royalty rate is applied to the actual value of production, which results in the determination of the amount in dollars to be paid to the United States by the person awarded the lease or the amount of royalty oil and gas to be taken in kind by the United States. (4) The production period for purposes of determining value of production shall be stated in the notice of OCS lease sale that is published in the Federal Register. The inflation factor utilized shall be the GNP fixed weighted price index that is published monthly in the Survey of Current Business by the Bureau of Economic Analysis, U.S. Department of Commerce. The procedures for making the inflation adjustment shall be stated in the notice of OCS lease sale published in the Federal Register.

(ii) The amount of cash bonus to be paid is determined by the person submitting the bid. Any deferment and the schedule of payments shall be included in the notice of OCS lease sale published in the Federal Register.

(iii) The annual rental to be paid by the person awarded the lease shall be the amount specified in the notice of OCS lease sale published in the Federal Register.

(b) The value basis for determining the actual value of production and for purposes of computing royalty in accordance with the bidding systems established by paragraph (a) of this section shall be as described in 30 CFR 250.64; provided, however, that with respect to oil, the first sale of which is controlled under 10 CFR Part 212, the value shall not exceed the lawful first sale price of such oil; and provided further, that with respect to gas, the value shall not exceed the sale price established by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

(c) DOE may, by rule, add to or modify the bidding systems listed in paragraph (a) of this section, in accordance with section 501 of the DOE Act.

§ 376.111 Criteria for selection of bidding systems and bidding system components.

(a) In analyzing and making recommendations to DOI regarding the application of one of the bidding systems listed in §§ 376.110(a)(1) through (3) to tracts selected for any OCS lease sale, and in reviewing lease terms and conditions prior to determining whether to exercise its section 303(c)(1) DOE Act disapproval authority, DOE may, in its discretion, consider the following purposes and policies, recognizing that each of the purposes and policies may not be specifically applicable to the selection process for a particular bidding system and tract or may present a conflict that will have to be resolved in the process of bidding system selection, and that the order of listing does not denote a ranking:

(1) Providing fair return to the Federal Government;

(2) Increasing competition;

(3) Assuring competent and safe operations;

(4) Avoiding undue speculation;

(5) Avoiding unnecessary delays in exploration, development, and production;

(6) Discovering and recovering oil and gas;

(7) Developing new oil and gas resources in an efficient and timely manner;

(8) Limiting administrative burdens on Government and industry; and

(9) Providing an opportunity to experiment with various bidding systems to enable the identification of those that are the most appropriate for the satisfaction of the objectives of the United States in OCS lease sales.

(b)(1) In considering the potential disapproval of the application of the bidding system or systems for an OCS lease sale and the components of such system or systems, and in performing the analysis and review referred to in § 376.111(a), DOE may, in its discretion, take into account the following in relation to their impact upon the purposes and policies enumerated in paragraph (a) of this section:

(i) A projection of the number and characteristics of persons who would be interested in and capable of participating in the sale;

(ii) The relationship between economic rent and government revenue;

(iii) The incentives and disincentives for exploration, development and production;

(iv) The project level of total production and expected production profile;

(v) The estimated size and location of potential reservoirs, including the type of resources (oil and/or gas), depth of water, climatic region, proximity to pipelines, proximity to leased and/or developed tracts and leasing history;

(vi) Location of potential reservoirs that overlap boundaries and unitization considerations;

(vii) Risk sharing between lessor and lessee; and

(viii) Administrative burden on the lessor and lessee.

(2) Some of the above factors are tract-specific, whereas others have a regional orientation. In making the evaluation associated with application of the above factors to the process of applying bidding systems to the tracts included in an OCS lease sale, objective and subjective analytical techniques will be employed, including the application of computer simulation models.

(c)(1) The bidding systems listed in §§ 376.110(a)(2) and (3) shall be applied to not less than 20 per centum and not more than 60 per centum of the total area offered for OCS lease sales in each year during the five-year period commencing on September 18, 1978, except as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

(2) After a consideration of the tracts to be included in a proposed OCS lease sale in relation to the purposes and policies stated in paragraph (b)(1) of this section, DOI may determine, after consultation with DOE, that the maximum or minimum limitations stated in paragraph (c)(1) of this section shall not apply.

[Docket No. ERA-R-79-37]

Establishment of Mandatory Production Levels for Middle Distillates

AGENCY: Economic Regulatory Administration, Department of Energy.

ACTION: Notice of Proposed Rulemaking and Public Hearing.

SUMMARY: The Economic Regulatory Administration (ERA) of the Department of Energy (DOE) hereby proposes a special rule which would require that in each of the months August, September and October 1979 each refiner's combined production of Nos. 1 and 2 heating oil and Nos. 1 and 2 diesel fuel be at least equal to its average monthly production of those products in the three months during the period January 1977 through December 1978 in which that refiner's combined production of those products was greatest. In addition, the proposed rule would require that each refiner's combined production of kerosene and kerosene-type aviation turbine fuel (kerojet fuel) in each month covered by the rule at least equal its average monthly production of those products in the three months of 1978 in which its combined production of those products was greatest. The special rule is intended to promote the build-up of adequate stocks of home heating oil for the coming winter, while providing for the continued availability of middle distillate supplies for other services and activities important to the well-being of the nation.

I. Background

The shortage of middle distillates in the nation since the beginning of this year has resulted primarily from three factors. First, in the last quarter of 1978, many refiners maximized motor gasoline production at the expense of middle distillates in order to meet an unexpected demand for gasoline and to build up depleted gasoline inventories. Second, largely as a result of curtailments in exports by Iran and other foreign producers, refinery utilization rates and, therefore, production of petroleum products generally have been lower than normal since the beginning of this year. Third, colder than normal weather conditions created a high demand for home heating oil this past winter.

We have taken a number of actions in response to the continuing shortage of middle distillate supplies this year. In January, we adopted a Special Rule No. 7 establishing a special middle distillate set-aside program to insure adequate supplies of home heating oil for assignment by the States in emergency situations (44 FR 3467, January 17, 1979). After initially extending Special Rule No. 7 on an emergency basis to prevent the interruption of agricultural production activities (44 FR 18640, March 28, 1979), we adopted a new Special Rule No. 10 establishing a permanent middle distillate set-aside program (44 FR 32196, June 5, 1979).

By early May, middle distillates were in such short supply that there was a serious threat to the continuation of agricultural production activities, especially crop planting. Therefore, we adopted a Special Rule No. 9 to insure adequate supplies of diesel fuel for use in agricultural production (44 FR 28606, May 15, 1979). Special Rule No. 9 was expanded for a brief period to include agricultural trucking, crude oil and natural gas production, and surface passenger mass transportation activities (44 FR 31626, June 1, 1979). However, we later determined that it would not be feasible to allocate middle distillates except under the most compelling circumstances. Accordingly, we further amended Special Rule No. 9 to provide for the allocation of middle distillates only for surface passenger mass transportation, since the Department of Agriculture had informed us that this year's planting activities were at least ninety percent complete (44 FR 37188, June 25, 1979).

We believe the measures described above were necessary and justified means of providing for the equitable distribution of scarce middle distillate supplies. We recognize, however, that so long as inadequate supplies exist they will create inconvenience and hardships for some consumers, regardless of any allocation measures we may undertake. Therefore, we have also taken actions both to conserve and to increase the volume of available middle distillate supplies. In this regard, we have established restrictions on thermostat settings for heating, cooling and hot water in commercial, industrial and other non-residential buildings, including government buildings (44 FR 39353, July 5, 1979). In addition, we have adopted a final rule providing during the months May through August 1979 for the issuance of entitlements for middle distillate imports as a means of increasing available supplies (44 FR 31162, May 31, 1979).

Despite our efforts to insure the adequacy of middle distillate supplies to prevent the interruption of important services and activities, supplies have continued to be tight in all regions of the nation. If the supply situation is not improved when the heating season begins, extreme hardships could result, especially among consumers dependent on middle distillates for home heating. Therefore, we have met individually with refiners to discuss supply projections and have urged all refiners to take voluntary action to build up distillate stocks to insure that heating oil supplies will be adequate throughout the winter heating season. Furthermore, we have notified each of the thirty-two largest refiners that we are monitoring their progress in attaining adequate heating oil stocks for the coming winter. Nevertheless, primary stocks remain below inventory levels in recent years and most refiners are not meeting current demand.

If middle distillate stocks are to be adequate to meet anticipated demand during the coming winter, inventory accumulation rates must be accelerated within the next few weeks. Since the adequacy of heating oil supplies is a matter of vital importance affecting the health, safety and welfare of a large segment of our society, we must be prepared to act in the event that refiners do not voluntarily adjust their operations to increase middle distillate production to levels necessary to provide for both the accumulation of adequate heating oil stocks and the continued availability of supplies for other services and activities important to the well-being of our nation. To that end, we are proposing today a special rule which we intend to implement, if necessary, on an emergency basis to require refiners to achieve mandatory production levels for middle distillates.

II. Proposed Special Rule

Under section 14 of the Emergency Petroleum allocation Act of 1973 (EPAA, 15 U.S.C. 751 et seq., Pub. L. 93–159, as amended), we have the authority to require that refiners adjust their refinery yields upon our finding that such action is necessary to assure the production of any refined petroleum product in such proportions as are necessary or appropriate to provide for the attainment, to the maximum extent practicable, of the objectives of section 4(b)(1) of the EPAA. In addition, we also have authority pursuant to section 15 of the EPAA to require adjustments in refiners' inventory levels upon our finding an existing or impending regional or national supply shortage of a refined petroleum product, if those adjustments are necessary or appropriate to attain section 4(b)(1) objectives. For the reasons discussed above, we have determined that it will be necessary and appropriate to exercise our authority under sections 14 and 15 to require increased middle distillate production levels if refiners do not voluntarily take such action within the immediate future. Therefore, we are proposing today a special rule which would require refiners to make adjustments to inventory management practices as well as adjustments to refinery yields necessary to achieve the production levels specified below.

The proposed special rule would require that, in each of the months August, September and October 1979, a refiner's total production of Nos. 1 and 2 heating oil and Nos. 1 and 2 diesel fuel be at least equal to its average monthly production of those products during the three months during the period January 1977 through December 1978 in which that refiner's total combined production of those products was greatest. In addition, the proposed rule would require that a refiner's production of kerosene and kerojet fuel in each month covered by the rule at least equal its average monthly production levels in the three months of 1978 in which its combined production of those products was greatest.

We recognize that such factors as mechanical failure and lack of access to adequate crude oil supplies might make it impossible for some refiners to fully achieve the production levels specified in the proposed special rule. In any such instances, a refiner would be required to notify the ERA's Office of Petroleum Operations at the earliest possible time as to the nature of any problems it might be encountering in meeting its required production levels. Following opportunity for review of this and any additional information we might need to evaluate fully a refiner's situation, we would make any adjustments to such refiner's mandatory production levels that we deemed appropriate. However, we would not permit the use of any relief mechanism to frustrate the objectives of this rulemaking proceeding. Accordingly, we would adjust a refiner's mandatory production level only in an extreme situation and, therefore, an application for adjustment would not provide any insurance that such relief would ultimately be granted.

III. Requests for Specific Comments

As discussed above, it may be necessary to implement today's proposed special rule on an emergency basis prior to August 16, 1979, the scheduled closing date for public comment. However, to the extent practicable under the circumstances, we wish to provide opportunity for public comment to aid us in determining whether any modifications to the proposal might be appropriate. We especially welcome your comments on the following specific issues.

We believe that available supplies of crude oil are sufficient to permit refiners to attain the production levels specified in the proposed special rule. However, we invite your comments regarding crude oil supply availability and as to any other factors which might affect a refiner's ability to achieve the proposed production levels. In this regard, we also welcome comments as to whether the three months of greatest production in 1977 and 1978 provide the appropriate basis for establishing mandatory production levels.

In the event we adopt a final rule in this proceeding, we will require each refiner to report to the ERA its middle distillate production levels for each month in 1977 and in 1978 and for each month covered by the final rule. We request your views and suggestions as to how the collection of this information can be accomplished with the least burden and delay, while insuring that the information thus obtained will be both accurate and sufficiently detailed.

We recognize that a refiner's production levels may include volumes refined pursuant to a processing agreement with another refiner. We request your views and suggestions as to how middle distillate volumes produced pursuant to a processing agreement should be treated in determining a refiner's mandatory production level.

While today's proposed rule would be applicable to all refiners, we request your comments as to whether it would be more appropriate to establish mandatory production levels on a more limited basis. For example, we may determine to require that specified production levels be attained only by the thirty-two largest refiners or only by individual refiners pursuant to orders issued by the ERA. We request your comments as to the appropriate criteria for use in determining those refiners which should be required to meet specified production levels in the event we determine that such requirements should be imposed on less than an industry-wide basis. In addition, we welcome your views as to the circumstances under which relief should be available to refiners under any rule we adopt in this proceeding.

Available data indicate that middle distillate inventories in the West Coast (PAD V) are only slightly below inventory levels in October 1978. In addition, the level of distillate production in PAD V appears to be sufficient to insure the build-up of adequate stocks of middle distillates to meet the needs of that region through the coming winter. Furthermore, it is very difficult to move product between PAD V and the rest of the nation. In view of these considerations, we request your views as to whether it would be appropriate to exclude refiners in PAD V from the coverage of any final rule we may adopt in this proceeding and also to adjust the production requirements of othe refiners to the extent they have refining capacity located in PAD V.

We also request comments on the advisability of redefining a refiner's "reasonable needs" for inventories of crude oil under section 16 of the EPAA, the anti-hoarding provision. Accumulations of crude oil in inventory if a refinery is not being utilized to the maximum, during a period of severe product shortages may be contrary to the objectives of section 4(b)(1) of the EPAA. Utilization of our authority under section 16 could be an additional tool to force production of products in short supply if refiners do not voluntarily increase production. Comments should also voluntarily increase production. Comments should also address how we might redefine refiner's "reasonable needs" for inventory in a product shortage situation.

We are generally requesting comments as to other measures you believe to be necessary or more appropriate in achieving increased middle distillate production levels as a means of promoting both the maintenance of current services and activities and the accumulation of adequate heating oil stocks for this winter. In this regard, we specifically request comments as to whether this objective can be achieved by requiring only that refiners make adjustments to yield percentages and/or inventories, for example, based on the highest yields in any three months in calendar years 1977 and 1978, without specification of mandatory production levels.

IV. Procedural Requirements

A. Section 501 of the DOE Act

Under section 501(e) of the Department of Energy Organization Act (DOE Act, 42 U.S.C. § 7101 et seq., Pub. L. 95–91), we may waive the thirty day comment period requirement of subsection (b) of section 501 upon our finding that strict compliance with this requirement is likely to cause serious harm or injury to the public health, safety or welfare. We believe such a finding can and should be made in this instance. This conclusion is based on our determination that it may be necessary to make today's proposed action effective as early as August 1, 1979 in order to promote the accumulation of adequate middle distillate stocks for home heating purposes this coming winter. However, in accordance with section 501(e) and in order to provide the public with as much opportunity to participate in this proceeding as is practicable under the circumstances, we have scheduled a hearing on August 15, 1979 and will receive written comments on the proposed special rule through August 16, 1979, 4:30 p.m. In the event we adopt a final rule prior to August 16, we will, to the extent practicable, consider any comments received and will provide opportunity for comment on such final rule.

B. Section 404 of the DOE Act

Pursuant to the requirements of Section 404(a) of the DOE Act, we have referred this proposed rule to the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission for a determination whether the proposed rule would significantly affect any matter within the Commission's jurisdiction.

C. Section 7 of the FEA Act

Under section 7(a) of the Federal Energy Administration Act of 1974 (15 U.S.C. § 787 et seq., Pub. L. 93–275 as amended), the requirements of which remain in effect under section 501(a) of the DOE Act, the delegate of the Secretary of Energy shall, before promulgating proposed rules, regulations, or policies affecting the quality of the environment, provide a period of not less than five working days during which the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) may provide written comments concerning the impact of such rules, regulations, or policies on the quality of the environment. Such comments shall be published together with publication of notice of the proposed action.

Prior review by the EPA Administrator may be waived for a period of fourteen days if there is an emergency situation which necessitates that a proposed action be made effective at a date earlier than that which would permit the EPA Administrator the five working days opportunity for prior comment. Notice of any such waiver shall be given to the EPA Administrator and filed with the Federal Register with the publication of notice of proposed or final agency action and shall include an explanation of the reasons for such waiver, together with supporting data and a description of the factual situation in such detail as is determined will apprise the EPA and the public of the reasons for such waiver.

In view of the emergency nature of this proceeding, we believe that the five working days opportunity for prior comment by the EPA Administrator should be waived in order to permit such opportunity for public comment as may be practicable under the circumstances.

D. Executive Order 12044

The sixty-day public comment period and other relevant procedures required for proposed rulemakings pursuant to Executive Order 12044, entitled "Improving Government Regulations" (43 FR 12661, March 23, 1978) and DOE's implementing procedures, DOE Order 2030.1 (44 FR 1032, January 3, 1979), have been waived by the Deputy Secretary of Energy for the reasons previously stated for waiving section 501(b) of the DOE Act.

In consideration of the foregoing, Part 211 of Chapter II of Title 10 of the Code of Federal Regulations is proposed to be amended as set forth below.

Issued in Washington, D.C., July 30, 1979.

David J. Bardin,

Administrator, Economic Regulatory Administration.

The Appendix A to Subpart C of Part 211 is amended by the addition of a Special Rule No. —— to read as follows:

Special Rule No. ——

Each refiner shall adjust crude oil inventories and refinery yields to produce in each calendar month in the period August 1, 1979 through October 31, 1979: (1) a total combined volume of No. 1 heating oil, No. 2 heating oil, No. 1–D diesel fuel, and No. 2–D diesel fuel at least equal to its average monthly production of those products during those three calendar months in the period January 1, 1977 through December 31, 1978 in which its total combined production of those products was greatest; and (2) a total combined volume of kerosene and kerosene-type aviation turbine fuel at least equal to its average monthly production of those products in those three calendar months in calendar year 1978 in which its total combined production of those products was greatest.

Any refiner which, as the result of lack of access to adequate crude oil supplies, mechanical failure, or other reason, cannot or will not be able to produce the volumes of middle distillates required to be produced in any month pursuant to this Special Rule shall inform the ERA's Office of Petroleum Operations at the earliest possible time of such inability and the reasons therefor. Following opportunity to review any information necessary to fully evaluate a refiner's situation, the ERA's Office of Petroleum Operations may make any appropriate adjustments to such refiner's mandatory production levels under this Special Rule.
