FEDERAL REGISTER Published daily, Monday through Friday, (not published on Saturdays, Sundays, or on official holidays), by the Office of the Federal Register, National Archives and Records Service, General Services Administration, Washington, DC 20408, under the Federal Register Act (49 Stat. 500, as amended; 44 U.S.C. Ch. 15) and the regulations of the Administrative Committee of the Federal Register (1 CFR Ch. I). Distribution is made only by the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, DC 20402.

The Federal Register provides a uniform system for making available to the public regulations and legal notices issued by Federal agencies. These include Presidential proclamations and Executive Orders and Federal agency documents having general applicability and legal effect, documents required to be published by act of Congress and other Federal agency documents of public interest. Documents are on file for public inspection in the Office of the Federal Register the day before they are published, unless earlier filing is requested by the issuing agency.

The Federal Register will be furnished by mail to subscribers for $300.00 per year, or $150.00 for 6 months, payable in advance. The charge for individual copies is $1.50 for each issue, or $1.50 for each group of pages as actually bound. Remit check or money order, made payable to the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, DC 20402.

There are no restrictions on the republication of material appearing in the Federal Register.

Questions and requests for specific information may be directed to the telephone numbers listed under INFORMATION AND ASSISTANCE in the READER AIDS section of this issue.

Title 3—

The President

Proclamation 5262 of October 18, 1984

National Head Injury Awareness Month, 1984

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

Head injury is a very serious national health problem. As many as 700,000 Americans are hospitalized every year for head injuries caused by motor vehicle accidents, sporting mishaps, and falls. Of these patients, roughly 100,000 die. Another 50,000—mostly under the age of 30—suffer permanent brain damage that prevents them from returning to schools, jobs, or normal lives.

Each of these grim statistics represents a person whose bright future was suddenly and tragically altered. Added to each victim's suffering is the emotional and financial burden the family must bear. The total cost to the Nation for special care and lost productivity is enormous.

Health care professionals and educators throughout our Nation are helping those with head injuries to live as normally as possible. Through rehabilitation therapy and vocational counseling, many head injury patients are learning to lead productive lives in our society. Such efforts have been promoted by two voluntary health agencies: the National Head Injury Foundation and the Family Survival Project for Brain-Damaged Adults.

Biomedical research is also the source of increased hope. Investigators supported by the National Institute of Neurological and Communicative Disorders and Stroke are acquiring new information about what happens to the brain as a result of head injury. Leads from these studies will help scientists develop effective treatments to limit or prevent brain damage. With the combined support of voluntary health agencies and the Federal government, the tragedy of head injury can be substantially reduced.

To encourage public recognition of and compassion for the complex problems caused by head injury, the Congress, by House Joint Resolution 638, has designated the month of October 1984 as "National Head Injury Awareness Month" and has authorized and requested the President to issue a proclamation in observance of this month.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, RONALD REAGAN, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim the month of October 1984 as National Head Injury Awareness Month. I call upon all government agencies, health organizations, communications media, and people of the United States to observe this month with appropriate ceremonies and activities.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this eighteenth day of October, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and eighty-four, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and ninth.

Proclamation 5263 of October 18, 1984

National Forest Products Week, 1984

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

Aside from an industrious and imaginative people, no single natural resource has contributed more to the economic and social growth of this mighty Nation than its forests. Without forests to provide the renewable raw materials for our Nation, American history would have been written quite differently. Without the amazing power of forests to give birth to our great rivers and hold our soil in place, the United States would be much less productive. Without their great diversity as habitat and food source for wildlife, our rich array of fish, birds, and wildlife could not exist. These benefits from our vast forests have made this an abundant land.

The foresight we have shown in wise protection and use of forests ensures that they will continue to contribute to a bright future. Although a third of the United States—some 737 million acres—is forested, such continued abundance was in doubt at the beginning of this century. Forests were disappearing at an alarming rate, and timber famine was predicted. The forest conservation leadership of such people as President Theodore Roosevelt and the Nation's first trained forester, Gifford Pinchot, reversed that trend, leaving a legacy for which present and future generations can be deeply thankful.

The conservation legacy demonstates that forests can be protected, while also being used for the economic and social benefit of mankind. Wood for our Nation's products is harvested from the vast forests but, like our food crops, new trees must be planted for the next generation. This simple, but critical, principle has proved its enduring worth beyond the dreams of the conservation pioneers. Each year we enjoy an abundance of harvest timber and, as a result, jobs for millions of workers in related industries.

To promote greater awareness and appreciation for the multiple benefits of our forest resources to the United States and world economy, the Congress, by Public Law 86–753 (36 U.S.C. 163), has designated the week beginning on the third Sunday in October as National Forest Products Week.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, RONALD REAGAN, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim the week beginning October 21, 1984, as National Forest Products Week and request that all Americans express their appreciation for the Nation's forests through suitable activities.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this eighteenth day of October, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and eighty-four, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and ninth.

Proclamation 5264 of October 18, 1984

Lupus Awareness Week, 1984

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

Systemic lupus erythematosus (also knowns as lupus or SLE) is an inflammatory disease of connective tissue, which can produce changes in the structure and function of the skin, joints, and internal organs. Most often found in young women, lupus affects more than 500,000 victims. Ninety percent of these victims are women in the prime of life.

In recent years, the outlook for lupus patients has improved due to extensive and vigorous research. Positive results have emerged from studies uncovering several diverse defects of the immune system and from research on genetic and environmental factors influencing the disease. Studies on estrogen metabolism, data systems development and epidemiology have been fruitful. Evaluations of the course and treatment of the disease and its complications, and studies aimed at developing improved treatment, including new drugs and techniques, are all proving useful.

In order for us to take advantage of the knowledge already gained, public awareness of the characteristics and treatment of lupus—and of the need for continuing scientific research—remains essential. The Federal government and private voluntary organizations have developed a strong and enduring partnership committed to lupus research. I am confident that this concerted effort will ultimately uncover the cause and cure for this devastating disease.

In recognition of the need for greater public awareness of lupus, the Congress, by Senate Joint Resolution 239, has designated the week of October 21 through October 27, 1984, as "Lupus Awareness Week" and authorized and requested the President to issue a proclamation in observance of this week.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, RONALD REAGAN, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim the week of October 21 through October 27, 1984, as Lupus Awareness Week, and I call upon the people of the United States to observe this week with appropriate ceremonies and activities.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this eighteenth day of October, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and eighty-four, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and ninth.

Rules and Regulations

Federal Register
Vol. 49, No. 205
Monday, October 22, 1984

This section of the FEDERAL REGISTER contains regulatory documents having general applicability and legal effect, most of which are keyed to and codified in the Code of Federal Regulations, which is published under 50 titles pursuant to 44 U.S.C. 1510.
The Code of Federal Regulations is sold by the Superintendent of Documents. Prices of new books are listed in the first FEDERAL REGISTER issue of each week.

DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY

10 CFR Part 1035

Rules for Fact-Finding Conferences in Debarment and Suspension Cases

AGENCY: Department of Energy.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This document establishes procedures for fact-finding conferences held pursuant to § 1035.8(d)(4) of the Department of Energy (DOE) Debarment and Suspension Rules (the DOE Rules), 10 CFR Part 1035, February 3, 1984, 49 FR 4314.

These procedural rules are issued pursuant to paragraph (d)(4) of § 1035.8, which provides that the General Counsel of the DOE will establish procedures for the conduct of fact-finding conferences. Fact-finding conferences under the DOE Rules permit a respondent to dispute material facts and to make arguments related to a suspension or proposed debarment and to provide the Director, Procurement and Assistant Management Directorate, with proposed findings of fact.

As required by § 1035.8(d), these procedural rules have been drafted so as to be as informal as practicable, consistent with the principles of fundamental fairness, prompt decisionmaking, and with the evidentiary standards for suspension and debarment. Although they are not substantively regulatory, these procedures are issued as Appendix A to 10 CFR Part 1035 for the convenience of both the Department and respondents who request fact-finding conferences.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Carol A. Cowgill, Office of the Assistant General Counsel for Procurement and Financial Incentives (GC–43), Department of Energy, 1000 Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, D.C. 20585 (202) 252–6902.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Background

On February 3, 1984, the DOE published final rules setting forth policies and procedures applicable to the debarment and suspension of organizations and individuals from participating in DOE procurement and nonprocurement transactions, 10 CFR Part 1035. The Rules were effective 30 days later, on March 5, 1984. Among other things, the DOE Rules provide, at § 1035.8(d), that a respondent in a suspension or debarment action may request a fact-finding conference in order to dispute material facts and to make arguments related to the suspension or proposed debarment, and to provide the DOE Director, Procurement and Assistant Management Directorate (the Director) with proposed findings of fact based, as applicable, on adequate evidence or on a preponderance of the evidence. If the Director determines that material facts are in dispute, he or she will appoint a three-member fact-finding panel, which will, in turn, convene a conference to determine the material facts that are in question. The ultimate decision in a suspension or debarment case is made by the Director, based as appropriate on the report of the fact-finding panel.

II. Nature and Content of the Procedural Rules

Section 1035.8(d)(4) provides that fact-finding conferences "shall be conducted in accordance with applicable procedural rules adopted by the General Counsel or designee." * The Appendix to the DOE Rules, set forth below, establishes those procedural rules. As required by that section, the procedural rules have been drafted to be as informal as practicable, consistent with the principles of fundamental fairness, prompt decisionmaking, and with the evidentiary standards for suspension and debarment (see § 1035.8(d)(4)). While the procedural rules are specific in their requirements, they may be interpreted and applied by the fact-finding panel as necessary to assure fairness and expeditious decisionmaking in suspension and debarment cases; further, the panel may establish specific procedures as necessary for conferences on a case-by-case basis, if thoses procedures are consistent with the DOE Rules and the procedural rules (see section 2, Guidelines, of the Preface to the procedural rules).

These procedures are rules of practice and procedure only and do not impose additional substantive obligation or burden upon respondents in suspension and debarment actions. The substantive standards, e.g., the standard of evidence, that are cited in the procedural rules were taken from the DOE Rules. Other provisions of the procedural rules provide detail as to time and place of conferences, number of copies and formats of documents to be filed, how fact-finding panel members are selected, etc. The rights of respondents are not affected by these procedures.

III. Promulgation

Pursuant to section 501(c) of the Department of Energy Organization Act (DOE Act), Pub. L. 95–91, it has been determined that no substantial issue of fact or law exists and that this action will not have a substantial impact on the Nation's economy or large numbers of individuals or businesses. This is because, first, as described above, the procedural rules are nonsubstantive in nature, and second, they will not affect the general public, but only those individuals and organizations that are the subject of suspension and debarment actions. Accordingly, the Department of Energy is not bound by the prior notice and hearing requirements of section 501 (b), (c), and (d) of the DOE Act and may promulgate these procedural rules in accordance with the rulemaking procedure outlined in 5 U.S.C. 553.

These procedural rules are being published in final form, without proposed rulemaking, because they are "rules of agency organization, procedure, or practice" within the meaning of 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(A).

The procedural rules are made effective upon publication because, as described above, they are not substantive rules within the meaning of 5 U.S.C. 553(d).

* The General Counsel has designated the Acting Assistant General Counsel for Procurement and Financial Incentives to prepare and issue these procedural rules.

IV. Review Under the Regulatory Flexibility Act

The DOE Rules on Debarment and Suspension were reviewed under the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 (Pub. L. 96–354), and DOE certified upon publication of the DOE Rules that they would not have a significant impact on a substantial number of small entities. No final regulatory flexibility analysis was therefore prepared. Because these procedural rules are not substantive in nature, and their coverage is narrower than that of the DOE Rules, no regulatory flexibility analysis has been prepared for these procedural rules.

V. Review Under the National Environmental Policy Act

DOE has concluded that promulgation of these procedural rules would not represent a major Federal action having significant impact on the human environment under the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.); the Council on Environmental Quality Regulations (40 CFR Parts 1500–1508), and the DOE guidelines (45 FR 20694, March 28, 1980), and, therefore, do not require an environmental impact statement pursuant to NEPA.

Preface

1. Scope

These rules are issued pursuant to the Department of Energy rules governing debarment and suspension (the DOE Rules), 10 CFR Part 1035, Debarment and Suspension, 48 FR 4314 (February 3, 1984), specifically § 1035.8(d)(4). As required by that section, these rules establish procedures for the conduct of fact-finding conferences held pursuant to 10 CFR 1035.8.

2. General Guidelines

(a) These rules for fact-finding conferences are intended to be as informal as practicable, consistent with the principles of fundamental fairness, prompt decisionmaking, and with the evidentiary standards for suspension and debarment.

(b) These rules may be interpreted and applied by the fact-finding panel as necessary to assure fairness and expeditious decisionmaking in suspension and debarment cases. The panel may establish specific procedures as necessary for conferences on a case-by-case basis, provided, however, that such procedures are consistent with the DOE Rules and these rules.

(c) With the exception of Rule 7(d), each specified time is a maximum and need not be fully used if the parties or the fact-finding panel can meet the stated requirements or carry out required actions within a shorter time period.

3. Definitions

(a) The following terms have the same meaning for purposes of these rules as they have in the DOE Rules: Adequate evidence, debarment, Director, DOE, notice, preponderance of the evidence, respondent, and suspension (all defined in § 1035.4 of the DOE Rules); and fact-finding panel and timely (defined in § 1035.8(a) of the DOE Rules).

(b) In addition, the following terms and their meanings are used in these rules:

(1) Director's counsel: The General Counsel of the DOE or designee, designated by the Director to represent him or her at the fact-finding conference.

(2) DOE Rules: The DOE regulation at 10 CFR Part 1035, Suspension and Debarment, 48 FR 4314 (Feb. 3, 1984). References to "§ 1035. " refer to sections of the DOE Rules.

(3) In camera: A meeting of the fact-finding panel, held for the inspection of evidence or the examination of witnesses, from which the respondent and his or her counsel, and the public, are excluded.

(4) FERC: The Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

(5) General Counsel: The General Counsel of the DOE or designee.

(6) The parties: The respondent and his or her attorney, if one was retained, and the Director's counsel.

(7) Relevant evidence: Evidence having any tendency to make the existence of any fact that is of consequence to the determination of the action more probable or less probable than it would be without the evidence.

(8) Dispute as to a material fact: A disagreement between the Director and the respondent as to the accuracy of an assertion in a suspension or a proposed debarment which, if resolved in the respondent's favor, would affect the action taken by the Director.

Rule 1. Request for Fact-Finding Conferernce

(a) To whom addressed. A request for a fact-finding conference pursuant to § 1035.8 of the DOE Rules should be addressed to the Director, Procurement and Assistance Management Directorate, MA–4, U.S. Department of Energy, 1000 Independence Ave., SW., Washington, D.C. 20585.

(b) Timing. A request for a fact-finding conference must be submitted—

(1) No later than 30 days after the date of a notice of suspension or proposed debarment issued under § 1035.6 of the DOE Rules, on or before any later date that may be specified in the notice; or

(2) If a meeting was held pursuant to § 1035.8(c), within two weeks of receipt of the notice provided under § 1035.8(c)(3), identifying the participants, summarizing the meeting and describing the documents submitted and the Director's intended action.

(c) Content. A request for a fact-finding conference shall, in addition to the request itself—

(1) Identify the notice of suspension or proposed debarment;

(2) Identify any disputed material facts and specify the evidence that puts those facts into dispute;

(3) Describe any information and argument in opposition to the suspension or proposed debarment upon which the respondent intends to rely;

(4) Describe any mitigating factors the Director is asked to consider and the effect those factors should have on the Director's final decision; and

(5) Be signed by the respondent personally, in the case of an individual; or by an officer of a corporation or a member of a partnership or joint venture; or by the respondent's attorney.

Rule 2. Director's Determination

The Director will review the respondent's written request and, if a meeting was held pursuant to § 1035.8(c) of the DOE Rules, any account or notes the Director made of that meeting. The Director may request that additional information be provided, either in writing or at a meeting held in accordance with § 1035.8(c). Based on this review, the Director will determine whether material facts are in dispute.

(a) If the Director determines that the respondent has not established that material facts are in dispute, the Director will so notify the respondent in the manner prescribed by § 1035.8(c)(3). The notification will include a statement describing the action the Director has taken or proposes to take.

(b) If the Director determines that material facts are in dispute, he or she will—

(1) Prepare a Notice of Determination that identifies the respondent(s), the material facts determined to be in dispute, and the case number assigned by the Director; and

(2) Appoint and refer the case to a fact-finding panel as described in Rule 3. The entire case or any aspect of it may be referred to a panel for fact-finding.

Rule 3. Fact-Finding Panel; Appointment

The fact-finding panel will be composed of three members appointed by the Director as set forth below. No one may be appointed to the panel who has been involved in any transaction from which the suspension or proposed debarment arose, or who has participated in the decision to impose a suspension or propose a debarment. Upon appointment, the panel members will select a chairperson from among themselves.

(a) Procurement member. This member will be an office director within the Procurement and Assistance Management Directorate.

(b) Legal member. This member will be a senior attorney of the DOE, nominated by the General Counsel. He or she shall be an attorney of the FERC is the suspension or proposed debarment arose from transaction(s) with the FERC.

(c) Program or other office member. This member will be a Senior Executive Service official of a program or other office of the DOE. He or she shall be an official of the FERC is the suspension or proposed debarment arose from transaction(s) with the FERC.

Rule 4. Fact-Finding Panel; Referral

The Director's referral to the fact-finding panel will include the following:

(a) A copy of the notice of suspension or proposed debarment;

(b) The respondent's written response;

(c) If a meeting was held pursuant to § 1035.8(c), a copy of the notice provided to the respondent under § 1035.8(c)(3); and

(d) A copy of the Director's Notice of Determination as described in Rule 2(b)(1).

Rule 5. Fact-Finding Conference; Notice to the Parties

The chairperson of the panel shall promptly notify the respondent in writing that the Director has appointed the fact-finding panel and that a fact-finding conference will be held. This notice will include the following:

(a) The names, titles, and addresses of the panel members, including identification of the chairperson, whose address will be used for all filings by the parties.

(b) The name, title, address, and telephone number of the Director's counsel;

(c) A copy of the Director's Notice of Determination as described in Rule 2(b)(1);

(d) An invitation to propose a date, time, and place for the fact-finding conference;

(e) A statement that any request for discovery to be made pursuant to Rule 10 should be made at the time the conference is scheduled; and

(f) A copy of these rules.

Rule 6. Fact-Finding Conference; Representation

(a) Director's counsel. The Director's counsel may be an attorney who has been involved in the transaction(s) from which the suspension or proposed debarment arose, including participation in the decision to impose a suspension or propose debarment. The Director's counsel shall file a written appearance with the fact-finding panel and shall serve a copy on the respondent or the respondent's attorney, in the manner prescribed by Rule 8.

(b) Respondent. At the conference, an individual respondent may appear in person, a corporation may be represented by one of its officers, and a partnership or joint venture may be represented by one of its members; or any of these may be represented by an attorney at law duly licensed in any State, commonwealth, territory, the District of Columbia, or in a foreign country. An attorney representing a respondent shall file a written appearance with the fact-finding panel and serve a copy on the Director's counsel, in the manner prescribed by Rule 8.

Rule 7. Fact-Finding Conference; Date, Time, and Place

The fact-finding conference will be scheduled for a date, time and place agreed upon by the panel, the respondent or respondent's counsel, and the Director's counsel; in the event of a disagreement, the fact-finding panel will have final discretion as to scheduling a conference.

(a) The place will ordinarily be the Washington, D.C., area.

(b) Any request for discovery pursuant to Rule 10 should be made at the time that the fact-finding conference is scheduled. If discovery is permitted, the conference date will be adjusted accordingly.

(c) The panel may reschedule, postpone, extend, or reopen a conference, at its own initiative or at the written request of respondent or respondent's counsel or the Director's counsel, for good cause shown and after consultation with the parties.

(d) The panel will notify the parties in writing at least 15 days in advance of the date, time, and place of the first fact-finding conference session. Changes in scheduling may be made orally, either in person or by telephone, but must be promptly confirmed in writing.

Rule 8. Fact-Finding Panel; Filing and Service of Papers

(a) Documents filed with the panel shall be typed on plain, white, 8½" x 11" paper. If more than one (1) page in length, documents shall be double spaced.

(b) Each document filed with the panel shall begin with a caption identifying the respondent(s) and the case number assigned by the Director, and briefly describing the nature of the document.

(c) An original and three copies of each document shall be filed with the panel to the attention of the chairperson, at the chairperson's address as stated in the notice provided under Rule 5(a).

(d) Except for documents that may not be disclosed to the respondent pursuant to § 1035.7 of the DOE Rules, each document filed with the panel shall be served on the other party or parties and shall be accompanied by a statement, signed by the originating party, of when, how, and to whom a copy was served.

(e) Documents may be served or filed either by hand delivery, by commercial delivery service, or by mail.

Rule 9. Preliminary Administrative Record

At least 10 days before the fact-finding conference date, the Director shall file with the fact-finding panel, serve on the respondent or respondent's counsel, and provide to the Director's counsel a copy of the administrative record as of the date of transmittal. The copy served on the respondent shall not include any documents which, as provided in § 1035.7 of the DOE Rules, may not be disclosed to the respondent; the copy filed with the fact-finding panel shall identify which documents must be sealed and viewed by the fact-finding panel only in camera, as provided in § 1035.7 of the DOE Rules.

Rule 10. Discovery

(a) General. Because the respondent will be provided with a notice, pursuant to §1035.6 of the DOE rules, of the reasons for the suspension or proposed debarment and the causes relied upon by the Director, and a copy of the administrative record, and in the interest of keeping the procedures as informal as possible, discovery will generally not be permitted.

(b) Exceptions. Depositions or interrogatories will be permitted, in the sole discretion of the fact-finding panel—

(1) Upon a showing satisfactory to the fact-finding panel that the person from whom a deposition or interrogatory is sought will not be available in person for the fact-finding conference; or

(2) Upon a written showing by either party that discovery is absolutely essential to presentation of the case and would produce information or evidence that is relevant, is not otherwise available, and that, if admitted, could change the outcome of the case.

(c) Discovery, if permitted, will be subject to the terms and conditions set by the fact-finding panel.

Rule 11. Preconference Memoranda

Five days before the fact-finding conference, the Director's counsel and the respondent or his or her counsel shall file with the fact-finding panel and serve on each other memoranda outlining the evidence they will present, identifying any witnesses they will call at the fact-finding conference, and summarizing the testimony each witness will present. No request for discovery will be granted after the date pre-conference memoranda are due. Requests for discovery based on changed circumstances shall be treated as requests for reconsideration under § 1035.11(c) of the DOE Rules and Rule 24.

Rule 12. Fact-Finding Conference

(a) Purpose. The purposes of a fact-finding conference are to—

(1) Provide the respondent an opportunity to dispute material facts within scope of the Director's referral, and to make arguments related to a suspension or proposed debarment; and

(2) Provide the Director with proposed findings of fact based on adequate evidence in the case of a suspension, and on a preponderance of the evidence in the case of a proposed debarment.

(b) Scope. The factual issues considered at the fact-finding conference shall be limited to those identified in the Director's referral and any amendments thereto filed by the Director. The panel may consider questions of law only to the extent necessary to resolve the questions of fact that were referred to it.

13. Unexcused Absence of Parties

The unexcused absence of either party or its representative at the time and place set for the fact-finding conference will not be occasion for delay. If either party is absent without excuse, the fact-finding panel will proceed to review the case on the basis of the administrative record and the written submission(s) under Rule 11.

Rule 14. Requirement for Presence of a Quorum of the Fact-Finding Panel

(a) A quorum consisting of two of the three members of the fact-finding panel must be present at the fact-finding conference if a transcript is being made pursuant to §1035.8 (d)(7) and Rule 15(e).

(b) If no transcript is being made, all three members must be present.

(c) If the requisite number of members is not present the chairperson of the panel shall reschedule the conference, giving due consideration to the nature of the case and the views of the parties.

Rule 15. Fact-Finding Conference; Nature and Standards of Evidence

(a) Nature. The fact-finding conference shall be as informal as is reasonable and appropriate under the circumstances.

(b) Admissibility of evidence. (1) The parties may offer such relevant evidence, within the scope of the Director's referral, as they consider appropriate, reliable, and probative. Admission of evidence will be in the sound discretion of the fact-finding panel, and, as provided in § 1035.8(d)(6), only evidence that is relevant to the issues referred to the panel and that is reliable and probative shall be admissible.

(2) The fact-finding panel may require a party to answer questions, admit or deny facts, or produce evidence in addition to that offered by the parties, before, during, or after the conference, until the record is closed.

(c) Stipulated testimony, affidavits, depositions, and answers to interrogatories. The parties may stipulate the testimony that would be given by a witness if the witness were present. Affidavits and, if discovery were permitted pursuant to Rule 10(b), depositions and answers to interrogatories, may be used to supplement the testimony presented at the conference; provided, however, that affidavits, depositions, and answers to interrogatories shall not be considered unless received into evidence.

(d) In camera evidence. Evidence that is to be withheld from the respondent pursuant to § 1035.7 of the DOE Rules may be presented by the Director's counsel at any point in the fact-finding conference. When the Director's counsel wishes to present such evidence, he or she will inform the panel, who will direct that everyone except the panel, the Director's counsel, and the transcriber, if any, leave the conference room while the evidence is presented. Evidence presented in camera will be included in the record, but, as provided in paragraph (e) of this Rule, will not be made available to the respondent.

(e) Transcript. The fact-finding panel shall make a transcribed record of the fact-finding conference, unless the Director and the respondent agree to waive the requirement for a transcript as provided for in § 1035.8(d)(7). The transcript will be made available at cost to the respondent after the conference; provided, however, that any in camera testimony or evidence will be excised from the transcript and not provided to the respondent.

Rule 16. Fact-Finding Conference; Examination of Witnesses

(a) Witnesses at the fact-finding conference will not be examined under oath or affirmation, but will be advised by the fact-finding panel that their statements are made subject to 18 U.S.C. 287 and 1001 and any other provision of law imposing penalties for knowingly making false representations in any matter within the jurisdiction of any department or agency of the United States.

(b) Both direct and cross-examination of witnesses by the parties will be permitted. Members of the fact-finding panel may question each witness during or after their direct or cross examination.

Rule 17. Fact-Finding Conference; Voluntary Cooperation

Each party is expected—

(a) To cooperate and make available witnesses and evidence under its control as requested by the other party or by the fact-finding panel; and

(b) To secure voluntary production of desired books, papers, documents, or other tangible things in the custody of third parties (unless the third party is a law enforcement official) whenever possible. Failure by either party to cooperate, and the effect of that failure on the panel's ability to carry out its work, will be noted by the fact-finding panel in its report to the Director.

Rule 18. Copies of Papers

When books, records, papers, or documents have been received in evidence, a true copy of the whole or the relevant part may be substituted, either at the conference or at the conclusion of the conference. Parties may stipulate to the authenticity of original documents and to copies, and to the truth of matters stated therein.

Rule 19. Post-Conference Briefs

Twenty days after the conference, the parties shall file with the fact-finding panel and serve on each other post-conference briefs stating their respective positions on the factual and legal merits of the case and setting forth purposed findings of fact. The length of post-conference briefs will be determined by the fact-finding panel, giving due consideration to the nature and scope of the evidence and arguments in the fact-finding conference record. The conference shall be closed at the deadline for post-conference briefs.

Rule 20. Settling the Record

(a) The record on which the fact-finding panel will base its report to the Director will consist of the administrative record as provided to the respondent pursuant to Rule 9; the preconference memoranda filed with the fact-finding panel pursuant to Rule 11; the documents, papers, and exhibits admitted in evidence; the transcript of the conference; and the post-conference briefs submitted pursuant to Rule 16.

(b) The fact-finding panel shall exercise sound discretion in determining the weight to be attached to any evidence of record.

(c) Generally, no additional evidence will be admitted after the conference record has been closed. A request for the submission and consideration of additional evidence will be treated as a request for reconsideration under § 1035.11(c) of the DOE Rules and Rule 24. Accordingly, such a request must be submitted to the Director.

Rule 21. Ex Parte Communications

No member of the panel shall receive, nor shall the Director or any party or person directly or indirectly involved in the fact-finding conference submit to the panel any off-the-record evidence, explanation, analysis, or advice, whether written or oral, regarding any matter at issue. This prohibition does not apply to consultation among panel members, to communications concerning the panel's administrative functions or procedures, or to the panel's receipt and consideration of in camera evidence received pursuant to Rule 15(d). Panel members shall make a written report for the record of any attempted or completed ex parte communication. A copy of the report shall be transmitted immediately to the parties and to the Director.

Rule 22. Fact-Finding Panel's Report to the Director

(a) Within 30 days after the conference record is closed, the fact-finding panel shall transmit to the respondent, by notice, to the Director's counsel, and to the Director a written report setting forth proposed findings of fact. The report shall include the following:

(1) A caption identifying the respondent(s) and the case number;

(2) A procedural history of the case, including—

(i) The date and basis of the Director's initial suspension or proposed debarment of the respondent;

(ii) A summary of the respondent's written response;

(iii) A summary of the meeting, if one was held pursuant to § 1035.8(c) of the DOE rules; and

(iv) A summary of the respondent's request for a fact-finding conference.

(3) Identification of the parties and their counsel;

(4) The material facts determined by the Director to have been in dispute;

(5) The versions of the disputed material facts asserted by the respondent and by the Director's counsel;

(6) The names and addresses of each party's witnesses;

(7) A description of the testimony, exhibits, and other evidence admitted by the panel;

(8) A description of any in camera evidence presented pursuant to § 1035.7 and Rules 9 and 15(d); this portion of the report shall be excised from the copy provided to the respondent;

(9) Any legal arguments made by the parties;

(10) A discussion of any legal issues that were addressed by the panel in the course of its fact-finding;

(11) The fact-finding panel's proposed findings of fact; and

(12) The signature of each member of the fact-finding panel who agrees with the report's findings.

(b) Any member of the panel may write and submit to the Director and the parties a separate report either dissenting from the majority report or concurring but expressing differing views. Separate reports shall be signed by their authors or proponents.

Rule 23. Parties' Review of the Report; Exceptions

(a) The parties shall have 20 days from receipt of the fact-finding panel's report to submit to the Director written exceptions to the panel's report, including any separate reports. Each party shall serve a copy of its exceptions, if any, on the other.

(b) Exceptions shall be filed with the Director in the form and manner specified by Rule 8 (a), (c), and (d).

(c) The basis for any exceptions shall be set forth specifically, and proposed alternative language shall be provided. The parties may take exception to any aspect of either the panel's majority report or any separate report, or to the panel's exclusion of evidence at the fact-finding conference.

Rule 24. Request for Reconsideration

As provided in § 1035.11(c) of the DOE Rules, the respondent may submit to the Director at any time a request for reconsideration of the scope, duration, or effects of a suspension or debarment because of new information or changed circumstances. The Director will review the request and make a determination as provided in § 1035.11(c).

(a) If the conference has not been closed, the Director will transmit the determination to the panel, which will alter the scope and schedule of the conference accordingly.

(b) If a request is submitted after the conference record has been closed but before the Director's final decision, the Director will transmit the determination to the panel, with instructions to the panel to reopen the conference or revise its report as appropriate.

(c) Requests for discovery made after the filing of preconference memoranda and requests for the introduction of additional evidence after the conference record has closed shall be made and will be addressed under this Rule 24.

FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK BOARD

12 CFR Parts 543, 544, 552, 562, and 571

[No. 84-571]

Policies Relating to Insurance of Accounts of de Novo Institutions; Applications Processing

October 15, 1984.

AGENCY: Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Federal Home Loan Bank Board ("Board"), as the operating head of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation ("FSLIC"), has codified and updated certain policies regarding proposed boards of directors, management and controlling persons for de novo insured institutions. First de novo applicants will be expected to have a majority of their directors be representative of the state in which the institution will be located. Second, no more than one third of the directors may be in closely related businesses. Third, stockholders who own 10% or more of the stock, or who, through other arrangements, would maintain actual control, will be evaluated as if they were management. Fourth, directors will be required to execute an oath regarding their fiduciary duties. Fifth, no more than 50% of the stock of proposed directors, officers or 10% stockholders may be pledged as collateral to purchase stock of the de novo institution held by such persons. Sixth, any individual or group of individuals acting in concert who will hold 25% or more of the stock of the de novo institution must personally undertake to ensure that the net worth of the institution is maintained at the required regulatory level for a period of at least five years. Seventh, plans for avoidance of conflicts of interest or usurpation of corporate opportunity will have to be submitted as part of the business plan for certain applicants. Eighth, the Board, after consultation with state regulatory authorities, may defer action on some applicants if the appropriate examination capacity is deemed to be inadequate. Exceptions to the above rules have also been included for certain supervisory cases and for interim de novo institutions. The policies apply to all de novo applications currently on file at the Board or at the Federal Home Loan Banks.

The Board is also revising its regulations at 12 CFR Parts 543, 544, 552 and 562 to reduce the number of certain application forms required for filing.

EFFECTIVE DATE: August 2, 1984.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: By Board Resolution No. 84–399, dated August 2, 1984 (49 FR 33137), the Board, as operating head of the FSLIC, proposed to update, revise and codify a number of its policies pertaining to the approval of FSLIC insurance for newly chartered ("de novo") federal and state thrift institutions. These proposed policy changes were prompted by a number of significant changes in the thrift industry.

Because of the recent increase in insurance-of-accounts applications, the Board has seen a growing number of applications which raise concerns regarding the proposed board of directors, management and/or controlling persons of new institutions. The frequency with which these concerns have been raised demonstrated that several questions needed to be resolved and appropriate policies established.

In November 1983, by Board Resolution No. 83–653 (48 FR 54320, December 2, 1983) the Board adopted a statement of policy, 12 CFR 571.6 imposing certain requirements on applicants for insurance of accounts for de novo institutions. That policy addressed captialization requirements, net worth requirements and the necessity for a three-year business plan for a de novo institution. The eight policies enumerated below have been added to § 571.6 and apply to all pending de novo applications.

The questions that have been raised most often deal with whether the proposed institution will serve the public interest in providing housing-related financing, whether existing conflict-of-interest and corporate-opportunity rules can be complied with, and whether or not there will be excessive risk to the FSLIC notwithstanding adoption of the current policies. It appeared that many applications may have been submitted as the result of excessive promotional activity by professionals and other advisors encouraging the continued operation of activities as real estate developers, brokers, syndicators, mortgage brokers and others in the guise of an insured institution, to take advantage of the lower cost of financing afforded by FSLIC insurance. The Board found it necessary, therefore, to propose to establish policies which would ensure that thrift insitutions whose accounts are insured by the FSLIC will fulfill their primary housing finance mission, and that FSLIC insurance will not be used as a means to compete in other businesses with a government-subsidized cost of money. In addition, the Board believes that at least some organizers may intend to obtain financing for their capital investment based upon future business generated by the institution in favor of the borrower. In the Board's view this represents a conflict of interest and misuse of the function of an FSLIC-insured institution.

On August 2, 1984, the Board issued the proposed regulation to amend its policies and requirements which included the following eight proposals: First, de novo applicants would have been expected to have a majority of their directors be representative of the state in which the institution would be located. Second, the boards of directors of de novo institutions would have to be composed of individuals with varied business and professional experience. Third, stockholders who will own 10% or more of the stock, or maintained actual control, would be evaluated as if they were management. Fourth, directors would be required to execute an oath regarding their fiduciary duties. Fifth, no more than 50% of the stock of proposed directors, officers or 10% stockholders could be pledged as collateral to purchase the stock of the de novo institution held by such persons. Sixth, any individual or group of individuals acting in concert who would hold 25% or more of the stock of the de novo institution would have to agree personally to maintain the net worth of the institution at the required regulatory level. Seventh, plans for avoidance of conflicts of interest or usurpation of corporate opportunity would have to be submitted as part of the business plan for certain applicants. Eighth, the Board could determine to defer action on some applications if the appropriate examination capacity at the state or federal level was deemed to be inadequate. As proposed, exceptions to the above rules would be available for certain supervisory cases.

The Board received 38 comment letters addressing the proposal. The majority of comments come from institutions in various stages of the applications process or law firms representing such institutions. Four trade associations and a state commissioner were included among the commenters. Most letters addressed specific aspects of the proposal and will be discussed in connection with those topics. Of those offering observations, five letters were generally favorable, seven supported some of the provisions and suggested changes in other provisions, and the remainder of the comments opposed the proposals in varying degrees. A discussion of the comments is provided below. After consideration of the commenters' views and other available information, the Board has determined to adopt the policies substantially as proposed.

General Comments

While a number of the commenters suggested adoption of the proposed policies, several felt the provisions did not go far enough and should be made retroactive or applied to all insured institutions. One commenter suggested that the Board's object appeared to be curtailment of the chartering process, and asked the Board to reaffirm its commitment to chartering de novo institutions. Another argued that the proposal raised significant antitrust problems and would act as a restraint on competition. Another commenter suggested that state supervisors adequately assessed state-chartered institutions and there was no need for the Board to further regulate them. One commenter said the Board was changing the rules in the middle of the game, another that the rules unfairly discriminated against de novo institutions. Several commenters felt that the rules were duplicative of state rules already in effect or of other Board rules on the covered subjects.

The Board welcomes this opportunity to make clear to the public that its intention in promulgating these policies and the policies promulgated last December is not to curtail the chartering process, restrain trade, or duplicate state responsibilities or state regulations. The Board's object is to ensure the long-term safety and soundness of the thrift industry, by taking steps to provide that newly insured state or federally chartered institutions are strongly capitalized, run by committed management and are not operated in a manner likely to increase the risk to the FSLIC or the public. The Board has considered the effects the proposal would have on competition and determined that competition is not being restrained as insurance-of-accounts applications continue to be processed and approved. Further, although some of the policies cover topics already subject to state and federal regulations, the Board intended to address each area in order to reinstate, in some cases, policies in place until 1982, in other instances clarify requirements and procedures, and in others, establish new policies. The Board believes, therefore, that the policies would not be duplicative. As for the assertion that de novo institutions have been unfairly targeted, the Board intends to avoid supervisory problems that have been discovered in some de novo institutions. Moreover, by its very nature, the regulatory process applies different rules to different applicants as it evolves over time. All applicants who have not yet received Board approval for insurance of accounts will be subject to these rule changes. However, the Board has considered the need for the proposed policies against the expectations such applicants may have regarding the regulatory requirements that would be applicable to them and has determined that, on balance, the policies should be implemented as soon as possible in order to strengthen the capital of the industry, require sufficient commitment of management and ensure the soundness of institutions the accounts of which are insured by the FSLIC.

Specific Comments

1. Out-of-State Directors

The Board proposed that a majority of the directors be representative of the state in which the institution is located. The Board would consider a director to be representative of the state if such director either resides, works or maintains a place of business in the state. For purposes of this policy, the institution's state generally would be considered to be the state where the proposed institution's home office is to be located. In addition, to accommodate interstate markets, if the institution is to be located in a Metropolitan Statistical Area (MSA), Primary Metropolitan Statistical Area (PMSA) or Consolidated Metropolitan Statistical Area (CMSA) which incorporates portions of more than one state, the state generally would be considered to be the applicable MSA, PMSA, or CMSA and the state where the institution's home office will be located. Such a condition relative to the majority of the directors would apply unless a change in control took place, at which time the condition would be reconsidered.

In April of 1982, the Board revised its policies relating to insurance of accounts to eliminate a longstanding requirement that proposed organizers and directors of de novo institutions be representative of the community to be served by the institution. The former policy was intended to ensure a strong commitment to the local community by the proposed management of a newly insured institution. The policy was eliminated in 1982 as part of a broad set of policy changes adopted by the Board to deregulate restrictions on the organization and ownership of de novo institutions.

While the Board realizes that many aspects of the thrift business are no longer locally oriented in nature, the Board strongly believes that some knowledge of the institution's local market and community is important, and helps to foster the institution's commitment to furnishing housing finance. Therefore, the Board believes that at least a majority of the board of directors should be representative of the state in which the institution is located. This representation also will help to ensure the viability of the institution since the board of directors will have knowledge of the needs of the institution's market.

Of the nine comments responding to this proposed policy, the only strong objection came from one commenter who expressed the view that adherence to the policy would limit a new institution's ability to raise capital. The Board has considered this concern, but believes that an institution's ability to raise capital will not be affected by this provision of the policy statement, since there are no local residency restrictions on organizers, sfockholders or depositors. Consequently, the Board is adopting this provision as proposed.

2. Composition of Directorate

The Board proposed that, for de novo institutions insured by the FSLIC, the board of directors must consist of individuals with varied business and professional experience. The background of each proposed director must reflect a history of responsibility and personal integrity, and must show a level of competence and experience sufficient to demonstrate that the individual has the ability to establish policy direction for the affairs of the institution in a safe and sound manner.

The Board currently has no established policy regarding the composition of the board of directors of a de novo institution. The only restrictions which currently apply to the composition of the directorate of a new institution are those that exist for all insured institutions: the Management Interlock Regulations (12 CFR Part 563f of the Insurance Regulations), and 12 CFR 563.33 (the Conflict-of-Interest Regulations) of the Insurance Regulations.

The Board has received an increasing number of insurance applications raising the question of whether the composition of the proposed directorate will best serve the interests of the institution. In some cases, for example, the proposed board of directors is composed primarily of individuals with the same professional and business background. In cases where the directorate will be composed largely of individuals in a closely related field (e.g., all directors are in the real estate development business), potential conflict-of-interest issues have been raised. These cases also have caused concern that boards of directors would not have the diversification and depth of business experience necessary to successfully set policy for the institution's management.

Nineteen commenters addressed the Board's proposal to require a diversified board of directors; however, there was no strong objection to the proposal. Most commenters were concerned because of the ambiguous nature of the requirement. It was suggested that if this aspect of the regulation is adopted, more definitive guidance be provided regarding the constitution of a diversified board.

The Board agrees that further guidance is needed in this section of the policy statement, and therefore has modified it to provide that: First, the board of directors of a de novo institution must include individuals with varied business and professional skills and experience. Second, not more than one-third of the directors of a de novo institution may be in closely related businesses, except in the case where the de novo institution is wholly-owned by a holding company. In such a case, however, the Board recommends that the board of directors include individuals with varied business and professional skills and experience. The background of each proposed director must reflect a history of responsibility and personal integrity, and must show a level of competence and experience sufficient to demonstrate that such individual has the ability to direct the affairs of the institution in a safe and sound manner. Factors that may indicate that an individual lacks such qualities include, but are not limited to, criminal, civil or administrative judgments, agreements, undertakings or consents against the individual or companies controlled by him, involvement in receivership, conservatorship or bankruptcy proceedings, or denial or withdrawal in contemplation of denial of an application or organize or acquire control of a thrift institution or bank.

3. Evaluation of Major Stockholders as Management

In connection with an application for insurance of accounts, the organizers, proposed directors and proposed officers of a de novo institution are currently required to submit a Biographical and Financial Report. The Biographical and Financial Report is the primary source of information used by the Board to evaluate the character and qualifications of the proposed management of a de novo institution.

The Board proposed to require evaluation of any individual who will own 10 percent or more, or maintain actual control, of a de novo institution's stock, as proposed management of the institution, which would necessitate the submission of a Biographical and Financial Report.

Only five comments were received relative to this section of the proposed policy. The commenters felt that it is appropriate for the Board to require stockholders owning 10 percent or more of the stock to submit a Biographical and Financial Report. However, two commenters questioned the Board's legal authority to deny insurance based on the composition of an association's stockholders.

Prior to 1982, the Board's policies on stock ownership of de novo institutions essentially precluded control of a new institution's stock by an individual or a group of individuals by requiring broad distribution of the stock. Since changing this policy, the Board has received insurance applications in which it is proposed that the institution's stock will be controlled by one or a few individuals who will not hold management positions with the institution. The Board is under a statutory responsibility to ascertain, inter alia, whether an applicant's management is unsafe or is inconsistent with economical home financing or with the Congressional purposes in providing deposit insurance to qualified thrift institutions. Since major stockholders often exert significant influence over an institution's management and policies, and by definition under the Board's current regulations are deemed to be "controlling persons" of an insured institution (see 12 CFR 562.28), the Board believes that it is entirely consistent with, and in fact effectuates, the Board's statutory responsibilities to provide that major stockholders be included in the Board's evaluation of the proposed management of a de novo insurance applicant. In order to prevent evasions of this requirement, the policy applies to direct and indirect stock ownership and where 10 percent or more of an institution's stock is held by a group of individuals acting in concert. Where the composition of a de novo institution's stockholders is not known at the time of the Board's decision to grant insurance of accounts, approval of insurance will be conditioned upon any ten-percent stockholder submitting the required Biographical and Financial Report to the Supervisory Agent and the Supervisory Agent determining that the stockholder's character and qualifications are satisfactory.

4. Director's Fiduciary Responsibility Statement

To ensure that all proposed directors are aware of their fiduciary duties and responsibilities to de novo associations, the Board proposed that each prospective director execute a statement affirming his or her understanding of and intent to responsibly perform the duties of a director.

Eight commenters addressed this proposed "director's oath". The majority of the commenters did not object to the concept of an oath but expressed some uncertainty as to implementation, as the text of the oath was not available.

The Director's Oath affirms and recognizes a director's fiduciary duties. It is similar to the oath required of proposed directors of National Bank charters and may be obtained from any of the Federal Home Loan Banks. In recent failures of de novo institutions, some directors attempted to defend certain actions and omissions on the grounds that they were not aware of their duties. The Board wishes to avoid such uncertainty in the future. The oath is a vehicle for the Board to be assured that de novo institution directors understand their fiduciary duties and responsibilities and are willing to execute the duties in a responsible manner. Therefore, this section of the policy statement will be adopted as proposed.

5. Pledging Stock as Collateral

While the Board believes that stockholders should be permitted to use borrowed money to purchase stock in de novo institutions, in order to ensure that proposed management and major stockholders (any individual or individuals acting in concert who own 10 percent or more of the stock) will have a bona fide financial commitment to the institution, the Board proposed a policy under which such individuals would be prohibited for a period of three years from using more than 50 percent of their stock in such institution to secure the financing for the stock purchase. The Board believes such a policy would be preferable to limiting the use of borrowed money to purchase stock, since it would not interfere with an individual's decision to use cash or borrow funds for the stock purchase, but rather would ensure that the individual commits other personal resources (as collateral) to the investment. This policy also will deter possible conflicts of interests with outside lenders who finance stock purchases and later establish correspondent relationships with the insured institution.

Prior to April 1982, the Board had a general policy discouraging stockholders from borrowing money to purchase stock in a new institution and prohibiting them from using such stock as collateral. This policy was changed in connection with an effort to simplify insurance requirements and was based on the Board's view at that time that the Board should not interfere in a stockholder's decision on how to finance the stock purchase.

In several recent insurance applications, the organizers have proposed to wholly finance the purchase of their stock with loans obtained using their stock in the institution as collateral. Since this practice allows minimal investment of an organizer's personal resources in the institution, the Board became concerned that the proposed management would not have sufficient financial commitment to the success of the institution.

Seven commenters responded to this aspect of the proposal. Most were opposed, arguing that margins for borrowing against stock should be determined by the institution making the loan, not the Board. There was also objection that the Board was not taking into account the seriousness of the impact on a borrower who defaults on a stock loan, such as loss of credit standing and reputation in the community. It was argued that such factors would be of paramount concern to a stockholder and would obviate the necessity for this provision.

The Board agrees that the consequences of a loan default would be serious for any borrower; however, allowing proposed directors, management, and major stockholders (who for purposes of this section are viewed as potential management) to finance over 50 percent of their investment by pledging the stock as collateral would invite a similarly de minimis commitment to the institution. The Board believes that serious and substantial commitment of resources and time is of great importance to the success of de novo institutions and has adopted the policy essentially as proposed.

6. Net-Worth Maintenance Obligation

To ensure the safety and soundness of de novo institutions, the Board proposed that an individual, group of individuals acting in concert, or controlling shareholders for a company which does not have substantial independent economic substance (e.g., a thinly capitalized or shell holding company), that will hold 25 percent or more of the stock of a de novo association, must personally agree to maintain the association's net worth at the regulatorily required level. The extent of the net-worth maintenance responsibility would be keyed to the percentage of stock owned. The Board believes this proposed policy is necessary to ensure financial commitment to the proposed association by controlling shareholders in order to protect the interest of the FSLIC.

As part of the proposal, the Board stated that, at the time of the initial application for insurance, the Board would consider the financial condition of any individual (or group of individuals acting in concert) who propose to own 25 percent or more of the stock, and might not approve the proposed stock acquisition if such individuals had not adequately demonstrated an ability to provide for maintenance of regulatory net worth.

Prior to 1982, the Board's policy guidelines on insurance of accounts for de novo institutions restricted individuals from owning more than 10 percent of a new association's total stock, and limited a single family or business interest to ownership of 25 percent of the association's stock. The guidelines further prohibited individuals with maximum holdings (i.e., individuals with 10 percent stock and families and businesses with 25 percent of the stock in the aggregate) from constituting a majority interest. These restrictions applied only to the initial capitalization of the association and were no longer enforced once the association was in operation.

In April of 1982, the Board revised its policies on insurance of accounts to eliminate longstanding restrictions on the ownership of stock in a de novo association by individuals, families and businesses. Since that policy change, the Board has become concerned about the increasing number of highly leveraged plans put forth by individuals proposing to organize and maintain sole control of de novo institutions. Since many of these individuals do not have a significant investment of personal assets in the institution, the Board is concerned that management will not have a strong commitment to the long-term viability of the institution. However, the policy would not preclude single ownership of de novo institutions by individuals or businesses that have adequate financial resources to make a bona fide financial commitment to the long-term viability of the proposed institution by undertaking the net-worth maintenance obligation.

Twenty-four commenters opposed this proposed provision. Fourteen said that if the Board were to adopt this provision, there should be specified time and monetary limits on the networth maintenance obligation. In addition, several commenters asked that the Board define the term "acting in concert". Three stressed that a personal net-worth maintenance agreement would interfere with family, business, or personal estate planning due to the open-ended nature of the commitment. One commenter suggested that initial capitalization and the seven-percent net-worth requirement should be enough to prove commitment by large shareholders. Several commenters asked the Board to describe the process which would be used to enforce a personal net-worth maintenance obligation. Five commenters suggested that the requirement would discourage capital investment into the industry, and several were concerned that stock prices for any block of stock to which the obligation is attached would be depressed. One commenter opined that the proposal violated fundamental principles of corporate law, another said it may violate the Administrative Procedures Act, and another claimed that it was anti-competitive and that the Board lacked the statutory authority to enact such a requirement. Several commenters suggested the language "after accounting for all losses" was vague and should be clarified. Several said that it was unreasonable for the FSLIC to ask investors to insure against universal economic disaster.

The Board agrees that some sections of the proposed policy need clarification and that several terms should be defined. Therefore, the Board has eliminated the language "after accounting for all losses" and substituted language referencing the regulatory net-worth standard. The final policy also has added definitions of "acting in concert" and "controlling shareholders". The Board has further provided that after five years, individuals may apply for release from the net-worth maintenance obligation, which may be granted if the Principal Supervisory Agent finds that the institution is meeting its net-worth requirement and that there is no basis for supervisory concern. While the Board agrees that the existence of the obligation may render the transferability of a controlling block of stock of a person in control somewhat more difficult to achieve, the Board is also aware that sophisticated investors who buy control of corporations do so after considering all the consequences of such an acquisition. For example, any company which purchases 25 percent of an insured institution, and thereby becomes a savings and loan holding company, is cognizant that it may be subject to restrictions as to net-worth maintenance, and that it will be subject to restrictions as to net-worth maintenance, and that it will be subject to regulations governing, inter alia, the declaration of dividends, inter-company transactions, etc. The Board knows of no reason that individuals or a group of individuals acting in concert who will control an insured institution should not be subject to similar restrictions. Retention of the net-worth maintenance requirement is further warranted by the Board's belief that financial commitment to the insured institution by controlling shareholders is essential to the safe and sound operation of insured institutions and the concomitant stabilization of the risk to the FSLIC. Where the composition of the de novo institution's stockholders is not known at the time of the Board's decision to grant insurance of accounts, approval of insurance may be conditioned upon any 25-percent stockholder executing a net-worth maintenance agreement. The Board also notes in this respect that such a 25-percent stockholder would be required to file a Notice under the Change in Savings and Loan Control Act or Savings and Loan Holding Company Act and that the Board will be able to verify, in connection with such filings, that the required net-worth maintenance agreement has been executed.

The Board does not believe that persons who decide to make large investments in de novo institutions do so with the expectation of imminent economic disaster or that their stock will become worthless. Rather, they believe in the viability and potential profitability of the investment. The Board is asking only that those persons who will have the power to control de novo institutions by virtue of their investments, to bear the risk of that investment for a limited time period. Consequently, the final regulation will contain this provision as modified by the Board's response to the commenters' concerns.

In addition, the Board has determined to exclude interim de novo institutions chartered for the purpose of facilitating mergers or holding company reorganizations from the requirements of this section.

The elements of the net-worth maintenance agreement have been approved by the Board. Copies will soon be available from the Supervisory Agents at the Federal Home Loan Banks. The language of the agreement indicates to affected individuals how such agreement will be implemented and describes with specificity the extent of their liability. In general, the agreement provides that the individual may be required, upon direction of the Supervisory Agent, to infuse additional capital into the institution to compensate for a deficiency in net worth below the applicable regulatory net-worth requirement. The individual's obligation will be keyed to his percentage of stock ownership, as set forth in the policy statement. In the event the individual fails to provide the required capital infusion, the Board would have a number of remedies including seeking to obtain possession of the individual's stock, or merging or consolidating the institution with another.

7. Usurpation of Corporate Opportunity

The Board proposed an amendment to § 571.6(b), pertaining to the submission of de novo institution business plans, to provide for inclusion of a plan for avoidance of conflicts of interest and usurpation of corporate opportunity.

A significant increase has occurred in the number of applications for de novo institutions in which the institution will be owned or controlled by individuals in businesses closely related to the savings and loan business (i.e., real estate developers, mortgage brokers, insurance underwriters). The Board is concerned that directors with occupations closely related to the savings and loan business may not have adequately determined how they will comply with the Board's corporate-opportunity and conflict-of-interest regulations, 12 CFR 571.9, 563.40–563.45.

Six comments were received regarding this proposal. Five of the six commenters argued that this provision was superflous since the director's oath should adequately address the Board's concern in this area. One commenter favored this amendment to the business plan, believing this is an appropriate means to control risk.

In recognizing that the director's oath and amendments to the business plan requiring a plan for avoidance of conflicts of interest and usurpation of corporate opportunity represents a decree of overlap, the Board nonetheless believes such requirements are necessary. In recent failures of de novo institutions, the directors attempted to defend certain actions and omissions on the grounds that they were not aware of certain of their duties. Accordingly, the Board wishes to emphasize this area of corporate responsibility and ensure that no director of a de novo institution will be uncertain about his or her responsibilities and has, therefore, adopted the requirement as proposed.

8. Examination and Supervision Capacity

Because of economic conditions and vast changes in operations of insured institutions, the Board's examination and supervision staff has been operating under substantially increased workloads. The Board is concerned that its ability and that of state regulatory authorities, to adequately supervise insured institutions could be diminished with the granting of insurance of accounts to large numbers of de novo institutions in various regions of the country. Thus, the Board proposed to ensure that sufficient resources are available to effectively examine insured institutions.

Thirteen commenters addressed this provision with the majority in opposition on the grounds that each state should have autonomy to determine its ability to effectively examine these institutions. In addition, a number of commenters were concerned that the Board would unilaterally decide that a particular state did not have sufficient examination staff and, therefore, refuse to process applications for insurance of accounts.

It was not the Board's intent to unilaterally or arbitarily discontinue the insurance application process. The purpose of the proposed policy was to disclose to potential applicants that if, after consultation with state regulatory authorities, it was determined that granting additional charters would unduly burden the examination and supervision capability of the Board and appropriate state examining authority, a working understanding between the Board and the state regulator would be sought regarding the orderly processing and examining of institutions, as has been done in the case of California.

The Board clearly recognizes the significant time, energy and financial resources expended by any organizing group in its pursuit of a charter and insurance, but its statutory mandate requires that it must look to the broader picture of the safety and soundness of the entire industry when considering these applications.

Therefore, the Board has determined to adopt this policy substantially as proposed, with a textual modification to clarify the Board's intent to work with the state authorities to detemine examination capabilities.

Applications Processing

In conjunction with this revision of its policies relating to obtaining insurance of accounts for de novo institutions, the Board is taking this opportunity to make technical amendments to its applications processing regulations to reduce the number of copies which must accompany an original submission from three to two. The Board has therefore made conforming amendments to §§ 543.2, 544.2, and 552.4 of the Federal Regulations and § 562.3 of the Insurance Regulations.

Final Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

Pursuant to section 3 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), the Board is providing the following final regulatory flexibility analysis.

1. Reasons, objectives, and legal basis underlying the rules. These factors are discussed elsewhere in the supplementary information.

2. Small entities to which the rules will apply. The policies on boards of directors and management would apply only to de novo savings and loan associations and savings banks that are federally chartered ("federal associations") or are insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation ("FSLIC"). They do not apply to existing institutions whose accounts are insured by the FSLIC.

3. Impact of the rules on small institutions. The policies will not have an adverse impact on small institutions. The changes will strengthen the boards of directors and management of de novo institutions and thus are expected to have a beneficial impact on large and small institutions alike.

4. Overlapping or conflicting federal rules. There are no known federal rules that may duplicate, overlap, or conflict with these policies.

5. Alternatives to the proposed rules. The policies are intended to raise the level of competence and commitment of de novo institution boards of directors and management and increase public confidence toward the regulated industry, and there are no alternative approaches that would have the intended result with a lesser impact on small entities.

List of Subjects in 12 CFR Parts 543, 544, 552, 562 and 571

Savings and loan associations.

The Board finds that observance of the 30-day delay of the effective date as prescribed in 12 U.S.C. 553(d) and 12 CFR 508.14 is unnecessary because the amendments in part constitute interpretative rules and statements of Board policy, and the issues presented regarding the safety and soundness of the Insurance Fund and the activities of persons contemplating the formation of institutions require prompt action in the public interest; and further, because of the Board's stated intention in the proposed regulation to use the proposal date as the date of effectiveness should final amendments be adopted substantially as proposed, in order to, as expeditiously as possible, begin strengthening the boards of directors and management of de novo institutions. Consistent with this intention, the Board is further advising the public that currently pending applications which have not received final approval prior to the final adoption of these policies will be reviewed subject to the provisions of the final policies.

Finally, the Board finds that the public notice and comment procedures of 5 U.S.C. 503(b) and 12 CFR 508.13 are unnecessary with regard to the reduction of the number of applications to be filed because it will reduce paperwork requirements and relieve restrictions on all applicants for all types of applications.

Accordingly, the Board hereby amends Parts 543, 544 and 552, Subchapter C, and Parts 562 and 571, Subchapter D, Chapter V of Title 12, Code of Federal Regulations, as set forth below.

SUBCHAPTER C—FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN SYSTEM

PART 543—INCORPORATION, ORGANIZATION, AND CONVERSION OF FEDERAL MUTUAL ASSOCIATIONS

§ 543.2 [Amended]

1. Amend § 543.2(b)(5) by removing the word "four" where it appears in that paragraph and inserting the word "three" in lieu thereof.

PART 544—CHARTER AND BYLAWS

§ 544.2 [Amended]

2. Amend § 544.2(a) by removing the word "three" where it appears in that paragraph and inserting the word "two" in lieu thereof.

PART 552—STOCK ASSOCIATIONS

§ 552.4 [Amended]

3. Amend § 552.4(a) by removing the word "three" where it appears in that paragraph and inserting the word "two" in lieu thereof.

SUBCHAPTER D—FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN INSURANCE CORPORATION

PART 562—APPLICATION FOR INSURANCE OF ACCOUNTS

§ 562.3 [Amended]

4. Amend § 562.3 by removing the word "four" where it appears in that paragraph and inserting the word "three" in lieu thereof.

PART 571—STATEMENTS OF POLICY

5. Amend §571.6 by redesignating paragraphs (c), (d) and (e) thereof as paragraphs (g), (h), and (i), respectively, and adding new paragraphs (c), (d), (e), and (f) thereto, and adding before the period in newly designated paragraph (g), the following phrase: ", or in connection with applications for insurance of accounts for interim de novo institutions chartered for the purpose of facilitating mergers or holding company reorganizations."; as follows:

§ 571.6 Policy considerations regarding "de novo" applications for insurance of accounts.

(c) Composition of the board of directors. (1) A majority of a de novo institution's board of directors must be representative of the state in which the institution is located. The Corporation generally will consider a director to be representative of the state if such director resides, works or maintains a place of business in the state in which the institution is located. If the institution is located in a Metropolitan Statistical Area (MSA), Primary Metropolitan Statistical Area (PMSA) or Consolidated Metropolitan Statistical Area (CMSA) which incorporates portions of more than one state, a director will be considered representative of the institution's state if he or she resides, works or maintains a place of business in the MSA, PMSA or CMSA in which the institution is located.

(2) The de novo institution's board of directors must be diversified and composed of individuals with varied business and professional experience. In addition, except in the case of a de novo institution that is wholly-owned by a holding company, no more than one-third of a board of directors may be in closely related businesses. The background of each director must reflect a history of responsibility and personal integrity, and must show a level of competence and experience sufficient to demonstrate that such individual has the ability to direct the policies of the institution in a safe and sound manner.

(d) Policies pertaining to management officials. (1) Proposed stockholders of ten percent or more of the stock of a de novo institution will be considered as management officials of the institution for the purpose of the Corporation's evaluation of the character and qualifications of the management of the institution. In connection with the Corporation's consideration of an institution's insurance-of-accounts application and subsequent to insurance of the institution's accounts by the Corporation, any individual or group of individuals acting in concert, who owns or proposes to acquire, directly or indirectly, ten percent or more of the stock of an institution subject to this policy, shall submit a Biographical and Financial Report to the Supervisory Agent.

(2) Each new director of a de novo institution shall sign an "Oath of Director for FSLIC-insured Institutions". The original of the document, executed, shall be submitted to the Supervisory Agent.

(3) Any individual who is an (i) existing or proposed director, (ii) existing or proposed officer, or (iii) proposes to own, directly or indirectly, or acting in concert with any other individual, ten percent or more of the de novo institution's stock, may not pledge more than 50 percent of his or her stock for a period of three years following insurance of accounts to secure borrowed funds to finance his or her total stock purchase.

(4)(i) All controlling shareholders shall personally agree to maintain the institution's net worth at the required regulatory level for a minimum of five years after the granting of insurance of accounts. In determining whether to approve a proposed stock acquisition, the Corporation will consider the financial position of any proposed controlling shareholder and his or her ability to fulfill the net-worth maintenance agreement. Controlling shareholders shall execute an agreement with the Corporation that, in the event the institution fails to meet its net-worth requirement, they will pay to the institution an amount calculated as follows:

(a) If the controlling shareholder holds less than 80 percent of the total stock: The required payment will equal the percent of the institution's total stock held by the controlling shareholder multiplied by the total net-worth deficiency of the institution.

(b) If the controlling shareholding holds 80 percent or more of the total stock: The required payment will equal 100 percent of the institution's total net-worth deficiency.

(ii) At the end of the fifth year after granting insurance of accounts, a controlling shareholder may apply to the Principal Supervisory Agent for a release from this obligation. Applicants may be released from the net-worth maintenance requirement if the Principal Supervisory Agent determines that the institution is meeting its net-worth requirement and that there is no basis for supervisory concern.

(iii) Upon disposition of the stock of an institution by a controlling shareholder who has executed a net-worth maintenance agreement pursuant to this section such that the shareholder no longer meets the definition of a controlling shareholder, the Corporation or its delegate will release the obligation upon a showing that:

(a) The institution's net worth meets its required regulatory level, or,

(b) In the case where a person or persons propose to acquire 25 percent or more of the stock, such person or persons have assumed the obligation under the net-worth maintenance agreement and has demonstrated the financial capacity to perform such obligation.

(iv)(a) For purposes of this section the term "acting in concert" shall have the meaning set forth at § 563b.3(i)(8) of this subchapter: Provided, that organizers and members of the board of directors will not be deemed to be acting in concert, solely due to their joint activity in forming and/or managing a de novo institution; however, other factors, such as agreements between the parties with respect to profits, losses or expenses, or which affect the disposition of their ownership interests, will be deemed to evidence that the parties are acting in concert.

(b) For purposes of this section, the term "controlling shareholder" shall mean any individual who will control, or any group of individuals acting in concert to control, or controlling persons for a company which does not have substantial independent economic substance that will control, directly or indirectly, 25 percent or more of the stock of a de novo institution.

(e) In connection with an application for insurance of accounts of a de novo institution, the applicant shall include a plan for avoidance of conflicts of interest and usurpation of corporate opportunity in the business plan required pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section. The plan shall:

(1) Identify specific areas where conflicts of interest and abuse of corporate opportunity may occur within the framework of the institution's current management structure;

(2) Describe specific policies and actions that the institution will institute to avoid potential conflicts of interest and corporate-opportunity abuses; and

(3) Establish specific procedures for dealing with directors and management officials who violate the institution's policies in these areas.

(f) If the Corporation determines, after consultation with state regulatory authorities were appropriate, that applications for insurance of accounts would unduly burden the examination and supervision capability of the Board or of a state examining authority, the Corporation may defer action on some applications until such time as the Corporation, after consultation with state regulatory authorities where appropriate, determines that there will be adequate staff to examine and supervise the de novo Institution at both the state and Federal levels.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

Social Security Administration

20 CFR Part 404

Federal Old Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance Benefits; Deductions, Reductions, and Nonpayments of Benefits

AGENCY: Social Administration, HHS.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This regulation reflects two statutory changes in the rules on reducing the Social Security spouse's or surviving spouse's benefits of a person who is eligible for a Government pension based on employment not covered under Social Security. The first change is a new exception which provides that the wife's, husband's, widow's, widower's, mother's, or father's benefits of a spouse ("spouse's benefits") will not be reduced if he or she was eligible for Government pension before July 1983 and was receiving at least one-half support from the insured worker at a specified time. If a spouse meets this exception, his or her benefits after November 1982 will not be reduced because of eligibility for a Government pension. This new exception is a provision of Pub. L. 97–455 which was enacted January 12, 1983. Any spouse who meets the first exception (i.e., who was eligible for a government pension at any time after November 1977 and before December 1982 and who met the requirement for Social Security benefits as they existed in January 1977) is not affected by this new exception.

The second change is provision of Pub. L. 98–21, enacted April 20, 1983, that Social Security spouse's benefits will be reduced, where applicable, by only two-thirds (instead of all) the amount of the Government pension received by the spouse. This provision is effective for persons who become eligible for a Government pension after June 1983.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This regulation is effective October 22, 1984, but the statutory changes which the regulation reflects were effective earlier.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Jack Schanberger, Room 3–B–4 Operations Building, 6401 Security Boulevard, Baltimore, Maryland 21235, (301) 594–6785.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Section 7 of Pub. L. 97–455 provides a second exception to the requirement that we must reduce Social Security spouse's benefit by the amount of a pension the spouse is receiving based on noncovered employment for a Federal, State, or local government agency. The reduction provision and an exception were included as section 334 of Pub. L. 95–216 (the "Social Security Amendments of 1977").

The exception in the 1977 Amendments requires that the spouse be eligible for the government pension anytime during the period December 1977 through November 1982 and meet the Social Security entitlement requirements that were in effect in January 1977. Under those January 1977 requirements, a man had to meet a one-half support test and a woman claiming benefits as a divorced spouse must have been married to the insured worker for a least 20 years (instead of the current 10 years requirement).

The new exception likewise requires that a spouse meet only two tests in order to avoid the benefit reduction. The first test is that the spouse must be eligible for a pension before July 1983 based on noncovered employment for a Federal, State, or local government.

The second test is the one-half support test which has to be met by a male applicant for spouse's benefits prior to the 1977 Amendments. Under that test, the male spouse had to have been receiving one-half support from his wife when she began a period of disability, became entitled to disability or retirement benefits, or died. Only at one of those times would it have been reasonable to expect him to claim that he was dependent on his wife when she stopped working, and therefore that he should be entitled to benefits based on her past work.

This one-half support test was in effect for only men before it was deleted by the 1977 Amendments as a result of a 1977 Supreme Court decision (Califano v. Goldfarb, 430 U.S. 199, 97 S. Ct. 1021).

Divorced women who did not meet the 20-year duration-of-marriage requirement under the 1977 Amendments are excepted from the benefit reduction under the new exception, beginning as early as December 1982, if they meet the one-half support test.

Medicare coverage of Federal employees pursuant to section 278 of the Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982 (Pub. L. 97–248) does not constitute Social Security covered employment for purposes of the pension offset provisions and exceptions. We are clarifying this in § 404.408a(a).

Pub. L. 98–21 further amended the pension offset provision of the 1977 Amendments by providing that Social Security spouse's benefits will be reduced by only two-thirds (instead of all) of the amount of a governmental pension received by the spouse if the spouse becomes eligible for the pension after June 1983.

A notice of Proposed Rulemaking explaining this change in the law was published in the Federal Register (49 FR 7403) on February 29, 1984. A 60-day comment period was provided. We received two comments from persons who are displeased with the pension offset provision in the law rather than with this regulation. These comments are beyond the scope of this regulation which merely implements the law as enacted.

In addition to the statutory changes explained above, we are making an editorial change in § 404.408(c)(3)(ii).

Regulatory Procedures

Executive Order 12291—This final regulation has been reviewed under E.O. 12291 and does not meet any of the criteria for a major regulation. We estimate that the additional exception provided by Pub. L. 97–455 will cost the Social Security trust funds $4 million in FY 1984, $11 million in FY 1985, $15 million in FY 1986, and $22 million in FY 1987. We estimate that the revised offset amount provided by Pub. L. 98–21 will cost the trust funds $1 million in FY 1984, $2 million in FY 1985, $3 million in FY 1986, and $6 million in FY 1987. Therefore, a regulatory impact analysis is not required.

Paperwork Reduction Act—Although this final regulation does not contain a new reporting requirement, we expect to ask approximately 30,000 additional individuals to furnish information regarding one-half support. The information will be collected by using a revised version of the form SSA–3885, Government Pension Questionnaire (OMB No. 0960–0160). Form SSA–3885 has been approved by OMB for use under section 3507, Pub. L. 96–511, the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980.

Regulatory Flexibility Act—We certify that this final regulation will not, if promulgated, have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities because it affects only benefit amounts payable to individuals. Therefore, a regulatory flexibility analysis as provided in Pub. L. 96–354, the Regulatory Flexibility Act, is not required.

PART 404—[AMENDED]

Subpart E of Part 404 of Chapter III of Title 20 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended as follows:

1. The authority citations for Subpart E is amended to read as follows:

Authority: Secs. 202, 205, 207, and 1102 of the Social Security Act; 49 Stat. 623, 53 Stat. 1368, as amended, 79 Stat. 379, as amended, 79 Stat. 379, as amended, 49 Stat. 647, as amended; sec. 5 of Reorganization Plan No. 1 of 1953, 67 Stat. 18; 42 U.S.C. 402, 405, 427, 1302, unless otherwise noted.

§ 404.408 [Amended]

2. Section 404.408 is amended by removing the heading "(a) In General." from paragraph (c)(3)(ii).

3. Section 404.408a is amended in paragraph (a) by revising the first and last sentence and adding a new sentence after the first sentence, by redesignating paragraphs (b)(1) as (b)(2) and (b)(2) as (b)(1), by adding a new paragraph (b)(3), by adding a new paragraph (c), and by redesignating the materials now in paragraph (c) as (d)(3) and adding new paragraphs (d)(1), (d)(2), and (d)(4) to read as follows:

§ 404.408a Reduction where spouse is receiving a Government pension.

(a) When reduction is required. Unless you meet one of the exceptions in paragraph (b) of this section, your monthly Social Security benefits as a wife, husband, widow, widower, mother, or father will be reduced each month you are receiving a monthly pension from a Federal, State, or local government agency (Government pension) for which you were employed in work not covered by Social Security on the last day of such employment. Your monthly Social Security benefit as a spouse will always be reduced because of your Government pension even if you afterwards return to work for a government agency and that work is covered by Social Security. For purposes of this section, Federal Government employees are not considered to be covered by Social Security if they are covered for Medicare but are not otherwise covered by Social Security. If the government pension is not paid monthly or is paid in a lump-sum, we will determine how much the pension would be if it were paid monthly and then reduce the monthly Social Security benefit accordingly. The number of years covered by a lump-sum payment, and thus the period when the Social Security benefit will be reduced, will generally be clear from the pension plan. If one of the alternatives to a lump-sum payment is a life annuity, and the amount of the monthly benefit for the life annuity can be determined, the reduction will be based on that monthly benefit amount. Where the period or the equivalent monthly pension benefit is not clear it may be necessary for us to determine the reduction period on an individual basis.

(b) Exceptions. The reduction does not apply:

(1) If you are receiving a Government pension based on employment for an interstate instrumentality.

(2) If you received or are eligible to receive a Government pension for one or more months in the period December 1977 through November 1982 and you meet the requirements for Social Security benefits that were applied in January 1977, even though you don't claim benefits, and you don't actually meet the requirements for receiving benefits until a later month. The January 1977 requirements are, for a man, a one-half support test (see paragraph (c) of this section), and, for a woman claiming benefits as a divorced spouse, marriage for at least 20 years to the insured worker. You are considered eligible for a Government pension for any month in which you meet all the requirements for payment except that you are working or have not applied.

(3) If you were receiving or were eligible (as defined in paragraph (b)(2) of this section) to receive a Government pension for one or more months before July 1983, and you meet the dependency test of one-half support that was applied to claimants for husband's and widower's benefits in 1977, even though you don't claim benefits, and you don't actually meet the requirements for receiving benefits until a later month. If you meet the exception in this paragraph but you do not meet the exception in paragraph (b)(2), December 1982 is the earliest month for which the reduction will not affect your benefits.

(c) The one-half support test. For a man to meet the January 1977 requirement as provided in the exception in paragraph (b)(2) and for a man or a woman to meet the exception in paragraph (b)(3) of this section, he or she must meet a one-half support test. One-half support is defined in § 404.366 of this part. One-half support must be met at one of the following times:

(1) If the insured person had a period of disability which did not end before he or she became entitled to old-age or disability insurance benefits, or died, you must have been receiving at least one-half support from the insured either—

(A) At the beginning of his or her period of disability;

(B) At the time he or she became entitled to old-age or disability insurance benefits; or

(C) If deceased, at the time of his or her death.

(2) If the insured did not have a period of disability at the time of his or her entitlement of death, you must have been receiving at least one-half support from the insured either—

(A) At the time he or she became entitled to old-age insurance benefits; or

(B) If deceased, at the time of his or her death.

(d) Amount and priority of reduction. (1) If you became eligible for a Government pension after June 1983, we will reduce (to zero, if necessary) your monthly Social Security benefits as a spouse by two-thirds the amount of your monthly pension. If the reduction is not a multiple of 10 cents. We will round it to the next higher multiple of 10 cents.

(2) If you became eligible for a Government pension before July 1983 and do not meet one of the exceptions in paragraph (b) of this section, we will reduce (to zero, if necessary) your monthly Social Security benefits as a spouse by the full amount of your pension.

(3) Your benefit as a spouse will be reduced, if necessary, for age and for simultaneous entitlement to other Social Security benefits before it is reduced because you are receiving a Government pension. In addition, this reduction follows the order of priority as stated in § 404.402(b).

(4) If the monthly benefit payable to you after the required reduction(s) is not a multiple of $1.00, we will reduce it to the next lower multiple of $1.00 as required by § 404.304(f).

Report and Order (Proceeding Terminated)

In the Matter of Amendment of Part 90 of the Rules to Make Ten Frequencies in the 72–76 MHz Band Available to the Forest Products Radio Service for Low Power Mobile Operations; PR Docket No. 83–1346, RM–4539, FCC 84–4630.

Adopted: September 28, 1984.
Released: October 4, 1984.

By the Commission.

A. Background

1. On December 14, 1983, the Commission adopted a Notice of Proposed Rule Making (NPRM) which proposed to amend Part 90 of the Rules and Regulations to make ten frequencies in the 72–76 MHz band available to the Forest Products Radio Service (FPRS) for low power mobile operations.[1]

2. The NPRM was issued in response to a Petition for Rule Making filed by Forest Industries Telecommunications (FIT).[2] FIT claimed that the use of radio in forestry operations has increased about 8–9% annually, and that crowding and congestion has occurred in major logging operation areas. FIT stated that congestion will increase unless frequency relief is provided. After a search and analysis of available frequency bands, FIT concluded that the 72–76 MHz band was the most suitable from an operational and equipment standpoint, and requested that ten frequencies be made available, on a shared basis, for low power mobile operations in the confines of a logging site, plant, factory, or lumber mill.

3. In the NPRM, we indicated that there appeared to be merit in allowing Forest Products Radio Service eligibles to utilize the ten frequencies requested for low power operations, and proposed to allow the frequencies to be shared under identical rules with the Manufacturers, Special Industrial, and Railroad Radio Services that are currently sharing those frequencies.

B. Summary of Comments

4. Comments and replies on the NPRM were received from five parties.[3] FIT's comments supported the NPRM. MRFAC again suggested that geographical limits on Forest Products Radio Service use of the frequencies be imposed.[4] Phonic Ear, a manufacturer and marketer of audiotry assistance devices for the hearing impaired utilizing frequencies in the 72–76 MHz band, suggested that the Commission should, as an overall policy matter, discourage future increases in the density of use of the 72–76 MHz band. It agreed with MRFAC's concept of geographical limitations but proposed modified limitations to "exclude FIT members from using frequencies within urbanized areas of the United States of 200,000 or more population (rather than outside of SMSA's), and outside the 13 states in which FIT has suggested there might be a need for the use of those frequencies."[5] The NAB neither supported nor opposed the proposed rules but stated that it was concerned that reliance on Section 90.257(b) of the Rules may not provide adequate protection to reception of television broadcast signals.[6] NAB requested that the Commission examine the record to determine the extent of any reported interference to television reception by low power mobile radio users in the Special Industrial, Manufacturers, and Railroad Radio Services.

5. Fairfield took no position on the merits of the proposal, but apprised the Commission of a petition for rule making it had submitted in a separate proceeding, also looking towards access to the 72–76 MHz band.[7] Fairfield

[2] Petition for Rule Making, RM–4539, filed June 9, 1983.

[3] Comments were received from the Manufacturers Radio Frequency Advisory Committee (MRFAC); Forest Industries Telecommunications (FIT); Phonic Ear, Inc. (Phonic Ear); National Association of Broadcasters (NAB); and Fairfield Industries, Inc. (Fairfield). Reply comments were received from FIT.

[4] In its comments on FIT's petition, MRFAC asked that sharing by Forest Products Radio Service users be limited to 13 states in which the heaviest FPRS use is concentrated and that FIT members be excluded from using frequencies within the boundaries of the 225 largest standard metropolitan statistical areas within those 13 states.

[5] Comments of Phonic Ear, Inc. paragraph 4.

[6] The 72–76 MHz band is subject to the conditions that no interference is caused to reception of signals of TV channels 4 and 5.

[7] Petition for Rule Making, RM 4764, placed on Public Notice February 15, 1984. The petition requests that low power (1 watt or less) seismic telemetry equipment type accepted with a frequency tolerance acceptale to mobile stations (±0.005%) be allowed for operational fixed use (where the tolerance is ±0.0005%).

requested that while the Commission is considering the FIT proposal with respect to low powered equipment in the 72–76 MHz band, it also consider Fairfield's proposal relating to the same sort of equipment in the same frequency band.

C. Discussion

6. We have considered the comments submitted by MRFAC asking that geographic limitations on the FPRS use of the frequencies be imposed. MRFAC stated that problems created by interference on Manufacturers Radio Service (MRS) frequencies are different and potentially more serious than the interference problems encountered by other types of users. We feel that such limitations are restrictive and would unduly complicate the rules for sharing the frequencies. The great bulk of forest products activity is carried out in the geographical areas that the proposed limitations would cover, and use of the frequencies elsewhere can be controlled by proper coordination procedures. The expected separation of forest products operations from other users of these frequencies and the very low transmitter power to be used should produce a low probability of interference among users. We are not aware of any existing interference MRS users are experiencing from sharing these frequencies with Special Industrial or Railroad Service users and consequently shall not impose any additional restrictions for the Forest Products Radio Service use of the frequencies. For the same reasons we are also rejecting the somewhat less restrictive geographical limitations suggested by Phonic Ear.[8]

7. With respect to the NAB concern that § 90.257(b) of the Rules may not provide adequate protection to reception of signals of TV Channels 4 and 5, as requested by NAB, we examined the record of reported interference to television reception by low powered mobile units licensed in the Manufacturers, Special Industrial, and Railroad Radio Services. The record indicates that there has been only one reported case of interference to television reception from a fixed station. This case was subsequently resolved. There are no documented cases involving interference to TV channels 4 and 5 from mobile users in the 72–76 MHz band. Thus, this does not present any difficulty to our proposal. We have decided to treat Fairfield's request separately because it raises separate issues not relevant to this proceeding.

8. After considering all comments, we conclude that the rules proposed in the NPRM would best provide the needed frequency relief for low power mobile operations in the Forest Products Radio Service without adversely affecting present licensees. We therefore are adopting our proposals to amend Part 90 to make ten frequencies in the 72–76 MHz band available, on a shared basis, to the Forest Products Radio Service for low powered mobile operations along with the Special Industrial Radio Service, the Manufacturers Radio Service, and the Railroad Radio Service. We will continue to require interservice coordination on these frequencies. The rules will also continue to prohibit interference to reception of signals of TV channels 4 and 5 in this band.

9. As stated in the Notice, the Commission certifies that Section 603 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 does not apply to the rule changes in this Report and Order because they will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. The Secretary shall cause a copy of this Report and Order, including the above certification, to be published in the Federal Register, and to be sent to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy of the Small Business Administration in accordance with section 605(b) of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. No. 96–354, 94 Stat. 1164, U.S.C. 601 et. seq. (1981).

10. Accordingly, it is ordered, that pursuant to sections 4(i) and 303(r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, Part 90 of the Commission's Rules is amended, effective November 1, 1984, as set forth in the attached Appendix. It is further ordered that this proceeding is terminated.

PART 2—[AMENDED]

Parts 2 and 90 of the Commission's Rules and Regulations are amended as follows:

1. In § 2.106, footnote NG49 to the Table of Frequency Allocations is revised to read:

§ 2.106 Table of frequency allocations.

* * * * *

NG49 The following frequencies may be authorized for mobile operations in the Manufacturers Radio Service subject to the condition that no interference is caused to the reception of television stations operating on channels 4 and 5 and that their use is limited to a manufacturing facility:

Erratum

Released: October 18, 1984.

1. In the above captioned Order released September 18, 1984, and published in the Federal Register on September 27, 1984 at 49 FR 38130, item 7 of the Appendix incorrectly and inadvertently revised § 73.1735 to read as follows:

7. 47 CFR 73.1735 is revised to read as follows:

§ 73.1735 Pre-sunrise service authorization (PSRA) and Post-Sunset service authorization (PSSA).

Licensees of certain classes of AM stations are eligible to request pre-sunrise service authorization and post-sunset service authorization pursuant to the requirements of § 73.99.

It is corrected, as shown here, to restate the rule as it was adopted in the Report and Order in BC Docket 82–538, Hours of Operation of Daytime-Only AM Broadcast Stations. 48 FR 42944, September 20, 1983:

§ 73.1735 AM station operation pre-sunrise and post-sunset.

Certain classes of AM stations are eligible to operate pre-sunrise and/or post-sunset for specified periods with facilities other than those specified on their basic instruments of authorization. Such pre-sunrise and post-sunset operation is authorized pursuant to the provisions of § 73.99 of the Rules.

Allowing Radiotelegraph Officers To Perform Maintenance and Repair Duties While Keeping the Mandatory Watch on 500 kHz AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This order allows radiotelegraph officers during their watch to perform maintenance and repair duties at locations away from the station's main transmitter provided they keep a listening watch using headphones, loudspeaker, or a remote receiver. This action was recommended by the Department of Transportation's Maritime Administration and was supported by all the parties that filed comments. This rule allows the master to enhance the radiotelegraph officer's value as a member of the ship's crew.

EFFECTIVE DATE: November 20, 1984.

Report and Order (Proceeding Terminated)

In the Matter of Amendment of Part 83 of the Commission's rules to allow radiotelegraph officers to perform maintenance and repair duties while keeping the mandatory watch on 500 kHz. (PR DOCKET NO. 84–139 RM–4575).

Adopted: September 28, 1984.
Released: October 11, 1984.

By the Commission.

1. This Report and Order amends the rules to allow merchant ship radio officers to service electronic equipment while keeping an uninterrupted watch on 500 kHz.

2. The existing rules require radiotelegraph-equipped vessels to keep watch on the international distress frequency, 500 kHz, during the ship's hours of service. The radiotelegraph officer may interrupt this watch to transmit or receive messages from other stations, or to perform urgent repairs of navigational or safety-related equipment.

3. The U.S. Department of Transportation's Maritime Administration (MARAD) requested that the rules be modified to allow the radio officer to perform maintenance and repair duties at the request of the master at locations away from the station's main transmitter, provided a listening watch is kept on 500 kHz. The watch would be maintained by headphones, loudspeakers remote receivers, or other suitable means. However, the officer would have to maintain the "silence period" watch (twice each hour for three-minute periods)[1] from the radiotelegraph room. In a Notice of Proposed Rule Making, adopted February 7, 1984, the Commission proposed to amend the rules in accordance with MARAD's request.[2]

4. Comments were filed by the following parties:

—David B. Popkin, Englewood, N.J. (Popkin)
—The American Institute of Merchant Shipping (AIMS)
—Council of American-Flag Ship Operators (CASO)
—Radio Officers Union District 3 of the National Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association, AFL–CIO (ROU)

Reply comments were filed by the following parties:

—American Radio Association, Communications and Electronics Membership of the International Organization of Masters, Mates and Pilots, ILA, AFL–CIO (ARA)
—ROU and ARA, jointly

5. All of the comments favored amending the rules as proposed and stated that the watch on 500 kHz would in no way be impaired. Some raised issues which are outside the scope of this proceeding, such as AIMS' comments regarding PR Docket 84–141 (future amendments to the Safety of Life at Sea Convention). The only germane change specifically requested was raised in Popkin's comments. He suggested that the auto alarm be placed into operation each time the radiotelegraph officer leaves the radio room. Popkin's recommendation is a prudent measure which radiotelegraph officers may wish to follow. However, we are not convinced it should be a requirement. We are not changing the key elements of the watch in this proceeding. We are providing an opportunity to improve the radio officer's productivity without diminishing the effectiveness of the watch. The international Radio Regulations do not require the use of an auto alarm during the watch. Use of headphones, loudspeakers, remote receivers or other similar equipment is technically reliable and will not infringe on safety. For these reasons, we are not requiring use of the auto alarm during the watch situation described in the new rule.

6. Popkin's comments do however raise concerns over how the new rule might be interpreted. In the Notice, we proposed that headphones, speakers or portable receivers could be used to maintain the watch. The term "portable receiver" was intended to mean a receiver connected to the ship's main installation, but carried to the location where work would normally be performed. Likewise, headphones and loudspeakers would be connected to the same site. However, Popkin interprets "portable receiver" to mean a self-contained unit, with its own antenna, which would not have "the same sensitivity and selectivity as either the main or reserve receiver." To remove such ambiguities, we are rephrasing § 83.204(e) to specify that the equipment used must be connected to the ship's main installation.

7. Pursuant to Section 605 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 (Pub. L. 96–354), we certify that the new rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. This rule enhances the radiotelegraph officer's productivity aboard ship by allowing that person to assume duties which could not previously be carried out during the eight-hour watch. Wiring and loudspeakers, headphones, or remote receivers will be necessary to take advantage of the new rule; however, no vessels will be required to make the investment or to operate in this fashion, although many are already equipped to do so. There are approximately 800 radiotelegraph-fitted vessels of U.S. registry. The operation of a single such vessel typically runs into the millions of dollars per year.

8. Accordingly, it is ordered, that under the authority contained in Sections 4(i) and 303 (c) and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. 154(i) and 303 (c) and (r), the Commission's rules ARE AMENDED as set forth in the attached Appendix, effective November 20, 1984.

9. It is further ordered, that a copy of this Report and Order shall be sent to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy of the Small Business Administration.

10. It is further ordered, that this proceeding is terminated.

Part 83 of Chapter I of Title 47 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended as follows:

PART 83—STATIONS ON SHIPBOARD IN THE MARITIME SERVICES

Section 83.204 is amended by adding new paragraph (e), to read as follows:

§ 83.204 Provisions governing radiotelegraph watch.

* * * * *

(e) When authorized by the master, the radio officer may perform maintenance or repair of communications, navigation or other electronic equipment inside or outside of the radiotelegraph room, provided that the listening watch on 500 kHz can be maintained by headphones, loudspeakers, remote receivers or other suitable means. Any listening watch device used must be electrically connected to the ship's main installation. The watch on 500 kHz must be maintained in the radiotelegraph room during the silence periods.

[1] In order to increase the safety of life at sea, the international Radio Regulations (See Nos. 3038–3246) require that all stations in the maritime mobile service utilizing frequencies beween 425 and 535 kHz maintain a watch on 500 kHz for three minutes twice each hour beginning at 15 minutes and 45 minutes past the hour. During these "silence periods" transmissions must cease on frequencies between 485–515 kHz.

Light Truck Average Fuel Economy Standards Model Years 1985–86

AGENCY: National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), DOT.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This notice amends the light truck average fuel economy standard for model year 1985 and establishes a new standard for model year 1986. These standards are required to be established at the maximum feasible level, under section 502(b) of the Motor Vehicle Information and Cost Savings Act. It is anticipated that there will not be any loss of potential fuel savings associated with the revised 1985 standards. The 1986 light truck fleet will consume 510 million gallons less than that which would have occurred if fuel economy levels remained at those now projected for 1985. Light truck fuel economy standards for model year 1987, proposed at the same time as the model year 1986 standards, will be issued at a later date.

DATES: The amendments made by this rule to the Code of Federal Regulations are effective November 21, 1984. The standards are applicable to the 1985 and 1986 model years.

ADDRESS: Petitions for reconsideration should be submitted to: Administrator, National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, 400 Seventh Street, SW., Washington, D.C. 20590.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Mr. William Boehly, Office of Market Incentives, National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, 400 Seventh St., SW., Washington, D.C. 20590 (202–426–1740).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

On March 8, 1984, NHTSA published a notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) on the establishment of light truck average fuel economy standards for model years 1986 and 1987. See 49 FR 8637. The issuance of the 1986 standard 18 months before model year 1986 is required by section 502(b) of the Motor Vehicle Information and Cost Savings Act, 15 U.S.C. 2002(b). That provision requires the Secretary of Transportation to set light truck standards at the "maximum feasible average fuel economy level" for each model year after 1978. In determining the "maximum feasible" level, the Secretary is directed to consider four factors: technological feasibility, economic practicability, the need of the nation to conserve energy, and the effects of other Federal motor vehicle standard on fuel economy. See 15 U.S.C. 2002(e).

The agency's March NPRM proposed ranges of possible standards for all types of light trucks, with the 1986 composite standard to be set within the range of 20.0 to 21.5 mpg and the 1987 composite standard to be set within the range of 20.0 to 22.5 mpg. Ranges of standards were also proposed for two-wheel drive and four-wheel drive light trucks. These separate standards were proposed as optional means of compliance, consistent with the agency's practice in previous proceedings, and are intended to account for the fact that different manufacturers' fleets contain significantly different proportions of four-wheel drive trucks, which tend to have lower fuel economy.

Due to a continuing shift in consumer demand for light trucks, the agency anticipated that downward revisions to the standards would be necessary. The demand shifts, which are due primarily to the recent trend of stable and diminishing gasoline prices, are manifested in higher levels of sales of larger light trucks and larger displacement engines than were previously anticipated by either the manufacturers or the agency.

The market trends toward larger light trucks and larger displacement engines led Ford Motor Company to petition the agency on November 21, 1983, to reduce the existing 1984 and 1985 light truck standards. Ford also argued that changes in light duty truck emissions standards and related procedures had led to a loss in fuel economy for those years. Ford requested that NHTSA reduce the 1984 composite light truck fuel economy standard from 20.0 to 19.0 mpg and the 1985 composite standard from 21.0 to 19.5 mpg, with corresponding changes to the optional two and four-wheel drive standards. On May 30, 1984, in 49 FR 22516, the agency proposed to grant Ford's request for the 1985 model year. However, the agency also proposed at that time to deny Ford's request for the 1984 model year, based on the agency's conclusion that the petition had not been timely filed for that model year. In its comments on this notice, Ford indicated that it would not pursue the issue of the 1984 standards since it had succeeded in assuring compliance with the standards for that year.

Summary of Decision

Based on the agency's analysis of sales data for the 1984 model year and the manufacturers' most recent projections for future sales, market trends toward large vehicles and engines have continued and are likely to continue through at least 1986. Projected fuel economy levels for 1985 domestic light truck fleets have declined on the order of 1.5 mpg since establishment of the standard, due almost entirely to mix shifts in vehicle size and engine displacement. These market trends are expected to continue through at least the 1986 model year. Our analysis leads us to establish composite average fuel economy standards of 19.5 mpg for light trucks manufactured in the 1985 model year and 20.0 mpg for 1986 model year light trucks. Equivalent standards for two-wheel drive and four wheel drive light trucks are also established. A decision has not yet been reached with respect to the proposed 1987 model year standards. The agency has concentrated its efforts on analyzing issues relating to the 1985–86 standards, which must be issued at this time. There is a considerable period of time before the agency is required to issue 1987 model year standards. The agency needs additional time to complete its analysis of issues relating to such standards. Some of these issues, particularly those relating to market trends, are characterized by uncertainty and complexity.

Basis for the Final Standards

a. 1985 Standards

The basis for the agency's original 1985 standards is summarized at 45 FR 81593, December 11, 1980.

The fuel economy gains projected by the agency in that notice were due primarily to the introduction of new compact pickup, utility, and van models and progressively higher sales levels for these models. The new models were projected to employ smaller, more efficient engines and other fuel economy-improving technology. However, in its May 30, 1984 notice, the agency indicated that a number of its projections had not been borne out in terms of current consumer preferences in the marketplace. In particular, the agency's May 30 notice stated that market demand for light truck performance as reflected in engine mix and axle ratio usage, did not materialize as anticipated when the agency initially established the 1985 standards. These and certain other less significant effects produced a 1.5 mpg loss in Ford's 1985 light truck average fuel economy. The original 1985 standards were based primarily upon Ford's maximum fuel economy capability, since that company had the lowest projected fuel economy, accounted for a substantial share of light truck sales, and faced serious risk of economic harm if standards were set at levels above its capability to achieve with a product mix reflecting market demand. As the agency has consistently stated in the past, the agency has a responsibility to set standards at a level that can be achieved by manufacturers having a substantial share of light truck sales.

The agency has refined its analysis of Ford's 1985 fuel economy capability for purposes of this final rule, and has performed analyses of the capability of Chrysler and General Motors as well. Other light truck manufacturers have significantly higher average fuel economy capabilities than the three large domestic manufacturers and account for a minority share of light truck sales. These other fleets have not been analyzed for this proceeding, since it is clear that because of their small size they would not influence ultimate standards levels. The agency has concluded that there has been a market-related 1.5 mpg loss in Ford's model year 1985 fuel economy capability.

Increases in demand for larger displacement engines compared to levels anticipated at the time 1985 standards were originally established caused 0.9 mpg of the drop in Ford's model year 1985 capability. Increases in average vehicle weight principally resulting from higher than anticipated demand for larger vehicles produced a 0.5 mpg drop, while a drop in demand for diesel engines caused a further 0.1 mpg loss. Several minor effects combined to produce an additional 0.2 mpg loss, but were more than offset by a 0.4 mpg fuel economy gain due to the use of fuel injection in certain light truck engines.

A 0.2 mpg loss in fuel economy was experienced by Ford coincident with the imposition of more stringent emissions regulations. Although the agency has concluded that a 0.2 mpg fuel economy loss will occur for Ford in 1985, EPA has advised the agency that, in their opinion, this loss is due to efforts to improve engine performance through engine calibration and is not an inherent effect of the emissions standards. However, NHTSA has treated this effect as equivalent to the engine mix change effects described above since it appears to result from market demand for increased vehicle performance at a time of stable gasoline prices.

A decline in General Motors 1985 fuel economy is also projected by the agency to a level of 20.0 mpg. The magnitude of this reduction is similar to that experienced by Ford, and is also due to market demand factors. The major factors causing the decline in GM's 1985 fuel economy were found to be an increase in average vehicle weight and engine displacement due to higher than anticipated demand for larger vehicles and engines, a decline in demand for diesel engines, reduced demand for manual transmissions, and increased demand for vehicles with four-wheel drive capability.

Chrysler's 1985 fuel economy is estimated to be 20.3 mpg. The other domestic and foreign manufacturers were not assessed in detail in this analysis, for the reasons noted above.

b. 1986 Standards

Based primarily on technology, the agency anticipates that Ford can achieve a fuel economy gain of 0.9 mpg over the 1985 standard of 19.5 mpg. This fuel economy gain is due predominantly to the introduction of engines using more efficient lean burn/fast burn technologies (0.5 mpg) and also to the elimination of the engine calibration/emissions effect described above (0.2 mpg) and gradual growth in demand for new small vans (0.2 mpg). However, the agency believes these gains will be somewhat offset by continued market shifts, as discussed below. The emissions standards effects are also discussed below.

The agency also projects that GM can achieve fuel economy gains of the same magnitude through engine efficiency improvements as projected for Ford (0.5 mpg). Through a variety of other minor improvements, the agency projects that GM can achieve an additional 0.1 mpg improvement. Taken together, these improvements will enable GM to achieve a composite average fuel economy of 20.6 mpg in 1986.

Chrysler is capable of achieving the highest 1986 fuel economy levels of the "Big 3" domestic manufacturers, 21.5 mpg. This gain primarily results from the introduction of fuel efficient engine technology and the introduction of certain new light weight truck models.

For each of the two model years covered by this rule, the agency concluded that fuel economy improvements beyond those previously discussed are not feasible.

c. Economic Practicability

Economic factors have been of significance in the agency's standard-setting analysis, particularly the potential costs incurred by manufacturers should standards necessitate the sale of a "non-free market" model mix. As noted in the discussion of fleet technology above, virtually the entire fuel economy difference between the original 1985 standard and the lower standards promulgated herein reflects a change in anticipated market demand for larger light trucks and engines, resulting from lower than anticipated gasoline prices. The mix of vehicles and engines projected in this notice for the 1985–86 model years is an estimate of free market demand for light trucks under current market conditions.

It is possible that higher levels of fuel economy could be achieved by domestic manufacturers should they restrict their product offerings. For example, sales of particular larger light truck models and larger displacement engines could be limited or eliminated entirely. In its petition to reduce the 1984–85 light truck standards, Ford submitted an analysis of the potential effects of restricting product offerings in this manner. This analysis showed that to achieve a 1.5 mpg average fuel economy benefit, sales reductions of 100,000 to 180,000 units at Ford could occur, with resulting employment losses of 12,000 to 23,000 positions at Ford, its dealers and suppliers. To the extent that these sales restrictions merely shifted purchasers of larger trucks to other manufacturers, no net fuel economy benefit would be achieved. No commenter in the proceeding directly took issue with the Ford analysis. The agency believes this analysis to be a reasonable projection of the impacts of restricting the availability of larger trucks and engines in the current market. Impacts of this magnitude would go beyond the realm of "economic practicability" as contemplated in the Act, particularly in view of the uncertain energy benefits.

The agency has analyzed the economic impacts associated with the manufacturers' efforts to improve the fuel economy of individual light truck models in the 1985–86 time period. This analysis is set forth in a Regulatory Impact Analysis, copies of which are available in the agency's Docket Section. The agency projects an average retail price increase of $35 to result from these improvements. This price increase would be offset by operating cost savings of $176 for the average 1986 light truck, due to reduced lifetime gasoline consumption. Overall, the agency projects the domestic manufacturers' automotive operations to remain highly profitable over the 1985–86 period, based on current market trends.

d. Effects of Other Federal Standards on Fuel Economy

Three new light truck exhaust emission requirements were cited by several commenters as having possible adverse impacts on fuel economy. The first requirement is a change in stringency in hydrocarbon and carbon monoxide emission standards, which took effect in the 1984 model year. The second requirement extends the useful life period for which manufacturers must certify compliance with emissions standards beginning with the 1985 model year. The third requirement is an anticipated increase in stringency of light duty truck emission standards for oxides of nitrogen.

The agency has concluded that none of these regulatory changes will impact 1985–86 light truck fuel economy levels. With regard to 1984 emissions standards changes and the extended useful life regulation, the agency concurs in a technical analysis provided by the Environmental Protection Agency which indicates that there is no causal link between these regulations and any loss in fuel economy experienced by the manufacturers. A Department of Transportation assessment of the 1984–85 emissions regulations supported the EPA conclusions. In the case of the possible change in the emission standards for oxides of nitrogen, EPA has yet to issue proposed standards. Given the need for EPA to conduct a rulemaking proceeding and provide adequate lead-time, NHTSA concludes that it is unlikely that any change in stringency of that standard would occur by 1986. If this judgment turns out to be incorrect, the agency will reassess the impact of such a change on light truck fuel economy.

General Motors argued that future light truck diesel particulate emission standards could effectively ban diesel engines in such vehicles, reducing fuel economy levels accordingly. EPA has indicated that these standards can be met with available technology. However for certain vehicles EPA concedes that the standards may require the use of particulate traps which could produce a fuel economy penalty of approximately 2 percent per affected vehicle. NHTSA is accepting the EPA analysis. Should the anticipated fuel economy penalty occur, the impact on the domestic manufacturers' average fuel economy levels would be much less than 0.1 mpg, and would therefore not impact fuel economy standards levels.

American Motors argued that changes in EPA test procedures will result in a fuel economy loss. American Motors did not provide an analysis of the quantitative impact of the proposed rule on American Motors' average fuel economy levels, and none of the other manufacturers argued for the existence of such an impact. In its comments, American Motors noted that the potential impact of the change in EPA procedures could be offset through testing additional vehicles, but pointed out that each testing might be too expensive for a smaller manufacturer. Should American Motors experience a fuel economy loss, its average fuel economy levels will still be high enough to easily comply with the standards promulgated herein. Therefore, the agency is not making a specific adjustment in the standards to account for this potential effect.

e. Need of the Nation To Conserve Energy

The United States imported fifteen percent of its oil needs at a cost of $1.1 billion in 1955. By 1977, the import share peaked at 46.4 percent at a cost of $42 billion. While the import share of total petroleum demand has been steadily declining since 1977 to a 1983 level of 28 percent, the cost continued to rise to a 1981 peak level of $75.8 billion. In 1983, the percentage of imported petroleum was the lowest it had been during the prior decade, and the cost was lower than in 1979. During most of this period price controls on petroleum were in effect, sending the wrong economic signals to consumers. It is during such a period that fuel economy standards are most effective.

The rapid transition from apparent worldwide surplus in 1978 to shortage in 1979, to surplus again today points out the instability of the world oil market. The U.S. is now dependent for about one third of its oil supplies on the actions and decisions of a few foreign governments. Although the concern over dependence on imported petroleum has lessened in the past few years, it is necessary to continue conservation efforts due to the uncertainty, especially in regard to the Middle East, of the future availability of petroleum.

f. Determining the Maximum Feasible Average Fuel Economy Level

In determining the level at which standards are to be set, the agency must take industrywide considerations into account. The Conference Report on Title V of the Motor Vehicle Information and Cost Savings Act provides in this regard as follows:

> * * * a determination of maximum feasible average fuel economy should not be keyed to the single manufacturer which might have the most difficulty achieving a given level of average fuel economy. Rather, the Secretary must weigh the benefits to the nation of a higher average fuel economy standard against the difficulties of individual automobile manufacturers. Such difficulties, however, should be given appropriate weight in setting the standard in light of the small number of domestic automobile manufacturers that currently exist, and the possible implications for the national economy and for reduced competition association (sic) with a severe strain on any manufacturer. However, it should also be noted that provision has been made for granting relief from penalties under Section 508(b) in situations where competition will suffer significantly if penalties are imposed. Senate report 94–516, 94th Cong. 1st Sess. (1975), at 154.5.

As in the proposals, NHTSA's analysis concludes for both years that Ford is the "least capable" manufacturer in regard to improving the average fuel efficiency of its light trucks. For the 1985 model year, the agency projects that Ford can achieve 19.5 mpg, while GM could achieve 20.0 mpg and Chrysler 20.3 mpg. Production of 1985 model year vehicles has begun, so there is little that the manufacturers can do at this point to change their 1985 average fuel economy through use of additional technology. Setting the 1985 standards significantly above Ford's level would not likely increase that company's fuel economy performance through greater use of technology, but might require drastic product restriction actions which would adversely affect employment at Ford. Such actions by Ford might also result in the shifting of sales of larger light trucks with larger engines to other manufacturers, thereby achieving no net fuel economy improvement for the industry as a whole. On the other hand, setting standards below the level attainable by GM and Chrysler would not likely cause those companies to reduce their fuel economy performance, since the agency's projected levels for those companies is based on the product mixes they plan to sell. Further, GM indicated in its comments that setting standards at a level below its planned levels would not cause GM to revise its plans. Therefore, the agency concludes that the risks associated with setting standards above Ford's maximum feasible level and possibly forcing that company to adopt severe product restrictions outweigh the potential benefits from setting standards at a higher level.

For the 1986 model year, the agency projects the maximum fuel economy Ford could achieve in 20.4 mpg, GM 20.6 mpg, and Chrysler 21.5 mpg. Data provided by Ford indicated that Ford's 1986 fuel economy could be as low as 19.6 mpg if consumers maintain a strong demand for larger vehicles. The agency also found that GM faces a number of technological risks involving certain engine efficiency improvements for 1986. If these technological actions became infeasible, NHTSA estimates the company's 1986 fuel economy would decline to 20.0 mpg.

There are additional factors to be considered selecting the 1986 standards. Major technological changes cannot be made in manufacturers' product plans for that year. New programs cannot be developed to compensate for market shifts or technological problems. Furthermore, as noted in the NPRM manufacturers' projections (and NHTSA's analyses) of their fuel economy improvement capabilities have declined over the past 1½ years due to market changes. For all the above reasons, the agency has decided to set the 1986 composite standard at 20.0 mpg. The agency believes the risks of reduced sales and employment resulting from attempts to achieve a higher level for MY 1986 outweigh the potential fuel savings.

The agency has decided to continue setting 4 x 2 and 4 x 4 standards for each year as an alternative to the composite standard. Separate 4 x 2/4 x 4 standards allow manufacturers greater flexibility in planning their fuel economy improvements and do not discriminate against firms with truck fleets heavily weighted toward four-wheel drive or two-wheel drive models.

The final standards are:

Model year	Composite standard mpg	4 x 2 standard mpg	4 x 4 standard mpg
1985	19.5	19.7	18.9
1986	20.0	20.5	19.5

Other Comments on the NPRM

In its March 1984 NPRM, the agency raised the possibility of changing the structure and scope of the current standards in several ways, including establishing a number of additional standards for subclasses of the light truck fleet and limiting the scope of the standards with regard to vehicles in the 6001–8500 pound gross vehicle weight range. Those commenters taking a position on the merits of this issue generally argued in favor of retaining the present structure of standards, at least for this rulemaking, citing the additional complexity resulting from multiple standards. Ford pointed out that addressing the issue at this time could delay the rulemaking, which is subject to stringent time constraints. Therefore, the agency is making no changes in this area at the current time.

GM and Ford argued that the agency should revise the manner in which it evaluates the economic practicability of standards. Both companies argued that cost/benefit considerations should play a greater role in the agency's standard-setting, and Ford suggested a variety of additional factors the agency should consider. However, in this proceeding, none of the additional criteria suggested by Ford would affect the level at which the standards are set in this rule. Furthermore, the agency has always considered cost/benefit analysis results in setting fuel economy standards; indeed, the most stringent economic criterion for this rule has been the one the agency has traditionally relied upon: the risk of any substantial adverse economic impacts on the industry or the national economy. The standards are being set at the levels discussed above to avoid the risk of significant adverse employment impacts which could result if the manufacturers (and Ford in particular) restricted product offerings to comply with overly stringent standards.

A coalition of public interest organizations opposed the agency's proposed 1986 standard level, arguing that it was based on an assumption of the continuation of the current favorable energy supply and cost situation. The coalition recommended a standard of 22.5 mpg for model year 1986. No technical or economic analysis was provided to support the feasibility of a standard at this level. The agency agrees that the need of the nation to conserve energy remains strong and that the nation still faces the risk of energy problems in the future. However, section 502 of the Act requires the agency to set standards at the maximum feasible average fuel economy level, considering not just energy conservation needs but also technical and economic factors. As discussed above, the agency believes that requiring compliance with more stringent standards than provided herein would create a risk of serious adverse economic repercussions such as losses in employment in the automobile and related industries, without necessarily producing the contemplated fuel economy gains.

In its NPRM concerning the MY 1984–1985 standards, the agency concluded that Ford's petition to amend the 1984 light truck standards was not timely filed due to legal time constraints for amending standards. The agency presented its tentative conclusion that amendments reducing the stringency of standards for a particular model year may be made up until the beginning of the model year but not after that time. Several vehicle manufacturers disagreed with this conclusion. Ford, GM and Volkswagen argued that amendments reducing the stringency of standards may be made at any time, including during a model year. Chrysler, on the other hand, argued that amendments reducing the stringency of standards must be made 18 months prior to the beginning of a model year. As discussed below, the agency has decided that its tentative conclusion was correct. The following paragraphs provided a complete discussion of this issue both for purposes of this rulemaking and to provide future guidance to manufacturers as to the correct timing of petitions.

A model year is presumed to begin in the autumn of the preceding calendar year (see Center for Auto Safety v. NHTSA, 710 F.2d 842 (D.C. Cir. 1983)). Ford's petition to reduce the existing 1984 and 1985 light truck standards was filed on November 21, 1983, and amended on January 20, 1984. Since model year 1984 began in the fall of 1983, it is clear that the 1984 light truck standards could not have been amended in response to the Ford petition prior to the start of that model year.

Section 502(b) of the Motor Vehicle Information and Cost Savings Act (15 U.S.C. 2002(b)) requires that the Secretary of Transportation "shall, by rule, prescribe average fuel economy standards" for light trucks for each model year beginning with 1979. These standards must be prescribed at least "18 months prior to the beginning of" the model year to which they apply. Id.

Section 502(f)(1) of the Act provides that the "Secretary may, by rule, from time to time, amend" any light truck fuel economy standard "so long as such standard, as amended, meets the requirements" of section 502(b). Section 502(f)(2) provides that any amendment which makes standards more stringent must be promulgated "at least 18 months prior to the beginning of the model year to which such amendment will apply."

The Conference Report on the Energy Policy and Conservation Act (the statute which added the fuel economy provisions to the Motor Vehicle Information and Cost Savings Act) contains the following discussion:

> Average fuel economy standards prescribed by the ST (Secretary of Transportation) for passenger automobiles in model years after 1980, for non-passenger automobiles, and for passenger automobiles manufactured by manufacturers of fewer than 10,000 passenger automobiles may be amended from time to time as long as each such amendment satisfies the 18 month rule—i.e., any amendment which has the effect of making an average fuel economy standard more stringent must be promulgated at least 18 months prior to the beginning of the model year to which such amendment will apply. An amendment which has the effect of making an average fuel economy standard less stringent can be promulgated at any time prior to the beginning of the model year in question. See Sen. Rep. 94–516, 94th Cong., 1st Sess. (1975) at 157. [Emphasis added.]

As noted above, Ford, General Motors and Volkswagen argued that there is no time limitation on amendments reducing the stringency of standards and that such amendments may be made in mid-model year. GM read section 502(f)(1) and section 502(f)(2) to together imply that Congress concluded that it was not necessary or appropriate to set time limits on standards reduction rulemaking. GM argued that the statutory structure is unambiguous, citing Sands, Sutherland Statutory Construction Section 46.01 (Fourth Ed. 1973), for the plain meaning rule of statutory construction. Ford stated that the purpose of the leadtime provisions included in the Act is to protect manufacturers from not being given sufficient time to plan and implement compliance with a more stringent standard and that the provisions should not be construed to operate to manufacturers' detriment. Ford stated that as a general rule of statutory construction, a distinction must be made between utilizing legislative history for purposes of illuminating Congressional intent with respect to express statutory language and using such history to write into the law that which is not otherwise there. Ford also argued that the language of the Conference Report was intended to emphasize the fact that, in contrast to the situation in which more stringent standards are established, there is no leadtime requirement with respect to less stringent standards.

Chrysler, however, argued that amendments reducing the stringency of standards must be made at least 18 months prior to the beginning of the model year and that, therefore, Ford's petition was too late with respect to both the 1984 and 1985 model years. Chrysler argued that section 502(b) calls for 18 months leadtime for any standards being prescribed and that changes in standards come within that requirement. Chrysler contended that this specific language of the law takes precedence over the Conference Report. Chrysler stated that the 18 month requirement of section 502(f)(2) is also applicable since granting Ford's request would in effect make the standards more stringent for Chrysler.

As suggested by the two very different views advanced by the commenters, the timing requirements applicable to amendments which make standards less stringent are not clear on the face of the statute. The language in section 502(f)(1) authorizing amendments "from time to time" could be interpreted to permit amendments at any time. Alternatively, the language in that paragraph requiring that amendments to standards must comply with requirements applicable to their original enactment could be interpreted to impose the 18 month rule, one of the requirements of section 502(b), on amendments to reduce standards.

Where a statutory provision is ambiguous on its face, rules of statutory construction dictate that the legislative history of the provision must be considered. See Sutherland, "Statutory Construction," 4th Ed., section 48.01. An Act's Conference Report has been considered the "most persuasive evidence of congressional intent" in this regard. Demby v. Schweiker, 671 F.2d 507, 510 (D.C. Cir. 1981).

The agency believes the language of the Conference Report is clear on this point. As indicated above, the Conference Report includes a statement that "(a)n amendment which has the effect of making an average fuel economy standard less stringent can be promulgated at any time prior to the beginning of the model year in question." While the discussion in the Conference Report does not expressly prohibit amendments after the start of a model year, the quoted sentence certainly implies that result. If no limit on the timing of relaxatory amendments had been intended, the sentence would have been ended after the words "* * * promulgated at any time * * *." The agency believes that Congress intended to provide certainty and finality for all parties concerned with regard to the levels of standards, to permit planning by the manufacturers and the agency through cutting off amendments once a model year has begun.

Ford has argued that a failure to permit amendments to fuel economy standards after the start of a model year places manufacturers in a difficult position, since unanticipated sales trends during the model year might impair its ability to comply. However, the agency is also concerned that amendments made after production has begun have some characteristics of ex post facto law.

On this point, the agency notes that, as quoted above, sections 502(b) and 502(f)(1) require that fuel economy standards and amendments to such standards be prescribed "by rule". The term "rule" ordinarily refers to prospective agency action. The Administrative Procedure Act's definition of rule incorporates the concept of "agency statement of general or particular applicability and future effect." See 5 U.S.C. 551(4) (emphasis added). Since an average fuel economy standard regulates overall production over an entire model year, a change to such a standard during the model year would represent, in part, retrospective agency action, with retroactive effect. On the issue of retroactive rules, Kenneth Culp Davis states that "* * * agencies have no powers except those conferred and courts are reluctant to imply power to issue retroactive rules * * *." Davis, Administrative Law Treatise, 2d ed., section 7.23. The agency does not believe that a court would imply such authority in this instance, particularly given the statement in the legislative history implying that Congress intended the opposite result.

The agency believes that Congress intended standards to be established before production begins, to encourage the achievement of particular fuel economy levels rather than simply ratifying past conduct. As noted above, Chrysler expressed similar concerns in its comments, noting that late changes in standards levels could adversely affect manufacturers who planned to meet the original levels. Therefore, the agency must reaffirm its previous position that petitions to amend fuel economy standards must be submitted in time to permit necessary rulemaking to be completed prior to the start of the model year.

With respect to Chrysler's suggested construction of section 502(f)(2), the agency sees no basis in the Act or its legislative history for construing "more stringent" amendments to mean anything other than its common meaning, i.e., numerically higher. Adopting Chrysler's proposed construction would mean that all amendments make standards "more stringent" regardless of the direction of the change, since any particular standards level will impact manufacturers unequally. In that case, the "more stringent" language of the Act would be rendered meaningless, a result to be avoided under normal rules of statutory construction. The agency rejects this argument.

The agency recognizes the general concern raised by Chrysler that standards reductions may adversely affect manufacturers which made good faith efforts to achieve the initially established standards level. However, the agency must consider the feasibility of its standards for the industry as a whole, as noted above. With regard to the 1985 standards, it appears that none of the domestic manufacturers, including Chrysler, will be able to meet the original standards. Therefore, the agency concludes that reducing the 1985 standards is necessary.

Ford has also requested that the agency specify the precise date by which petitions to amend fuel economy standards must be filed. As noted above, the single court to address the issue has stated only that a given model year begins in the fall of the preceding calendar year. (e.g., fall 1984 is the beginning of the 1985 model year). In its final rule establishing fuel economy reporting requirements, the agency took the position that, in the absence of any single "annual production period," the model year would be deemed to coincide with the calendar year, e.g., the 1985 model year would begin January 1, 1985. See 19 U.S.C. 2001(12) and 42 FR 62374 (December 12, 1977). Since any amendments to standards must be promulgated prior to the start of the model year, petitions must be filed in time to permit the agency to complete a rulemaking proceeding on the petition prior to the start of the model year. The time necessary for such a proceeding will vary greatly depending on the complexity and controversiality of the issues involved. A proceeding would involve agency analysis of the petition, preparation and publication of the necessary supporting documentation, a minimum public comment period, analysis of comments, and preparation and publication of the documentation necessary to accompany the final decision. The various uncertainties affecting the duration of a proceeding make it impossible for the agency to specify a precise date after which petitions will not be accepted. However, it is clear that the Ford petition, which was filed in November of the preceding calendar year, was not timely. As a general matter, petitions regarding a particular model year's standards should be submitted no later than the early part of the preceding calendar year, and preferably before that time.

In accordance with section 502(j) of the Act, the agency has submitted this rule to the Department of Energy for review. The Department of Energy indicated that it had no comment on the rule.

Impact Analyses

I. Executive Order 12291

The agency considered the economic implications of the fuel economy standards established by this rule and determined that the rule is major within the meaning of the Executive Order 12291, and significant within the meaning of the Department's regulatory procedures. The agency's detailed analysis of the economic effects is set forth in its regulatory impact analysis. The contents of that analysis are generally described above.

II. Environmental Impacts

The agency has analyzed the potential environmental impacts of these light truck fuel economy standards in accordance with the requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act, 42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq. Copies of that analysis are available from the Docket Section. The agency's analysis quantifies the potential environmental impacts which could result from the establishment of these standards. The told impact on the environment is not expected to be large. The largest impact of the standards on the environment would be with regard to energy consumption.

III. Impacts on Small Businesses

Pursuant to the Regulatory Flexibility Act, the agency has considered the impact this rulemaking action will have on small entities. I certify that this action will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. Therefore, a regulatory flexibility analysis is not required for this action. No light truck manufacturer would be classified as a "small business" under the Regulatory Flexibility Act. In the case of small organizations and governmental units which purchase light trucks, those entities purchasing a 1986 truck might achieve a gain in fuel savings resulting from the 1986 standard. Those choosing a 1985 truck should face no loss in fuel savings resulting from the reduction in the 1985 standard since, as discussed above, it is anticipated that there will not be any loss of potential fuel savings associated with the revised standard.

Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service

9 CFR Part 93

[Docket No. 81-054]

Importation of Certain Animal Embryos

AGENCY: Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, USDA.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: This document proposes to establish regulations governing the importation into the United States of certain embryos of cattle, sheep, goats, other ruminants, swine, horses, and asses. It appears that the proposed regulations would provide a mechanism to allow the importation of such embryos without presenting a significant risk of introducing infectious animal diseases.

DATE: Written comments must be received on or before December 21, 1984.

ADDRESSES: Written comments should be submitted to Thomas O. Gessel, Director, Regulatory Coordination Staff, APHIS, USDA, Room 728, Federal Building, 6505 Belcrest Road, Hyattsville, MD 20782. Written comments received may be inspected at Room 728 of the Federal Building Between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, except holidays.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Dr. D. E. Herrick, Senior Staff Veterinarian, Import-Export Animals and Products Staff, VS, APHIS, USDA, Room 838, Federal Building, 6505 Belcrest Road, Hyattsville, MD 20782, 301-436-8530.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

This document proposes to establish regulations in a new 9 CFR Part 93 concerning the importation of certain embryos of cattle, sheep, goats, other ruminants, swine, horses, and asses.

Technological developments with respect to such animals allow the collection and preservation of embryos from donor dams. These embryos can then be reimplanted in the wombs of recipient dams for carrying until birth, leaving the donor animals free to be reinseminated. It is common to have five or more transferable embryos per collection from a donor dam, and this embryo collection process can be repeated several times a year. Accordingly, through embryo transfer a selected donor dam can increase many-fold the number of offspring that would otherwise be produced naturally. Further, an industry has developed with the capability of transporting such embryos outside of the womb in a manner generally similar to that used for transporting animal semen.

The proposed rule defines an "embryo" as:

> The initial stage of an animal's development after collection from the natural mother, while it is capable of being transferred to a recipient dam, but not including an embryo that has been transferred to a recipient dam.

The regulations in 9 CFR Part 92, among other things set forth requirements concerning the importation of cattle, sheep, goats, other ruminants, swine, horses, and asses, and are designed to allow the importation of these animals only under conditions determined to be adequate to protect against the introduction into the United States of infectious animal diseases. However, regulations have not previously been established specifically concerning the importation of such embryos of cattle, sheep, goats, other ruminants, swine, horses, and asses. Such embryos of these animals are referred to below as "embryos" (or "embryo" if in the singular).

Based on research it has been determined that embryos are capable of transmitting animal diseases from the donor sire and donor dam to other animals. There are no procedures available for testing embryos to determine their disease status. In order to protect against the introduction of infectious animal diseases from imported embryos, regulations to allow the importation of embryos must relate to the disease status of the donor sire and donor dam. Any disease present in the donor sire or donor dam would not necessarily be transmitted to an embryo. However, if a disease should be transmitted from the donor sire or donor dam to an embryo, such disease would be present in the donor sire at the time of collection of the semen or in the donor dam at the time of collection of the embryo. An embryo could also carry infectious animal diseases if the embryo became contaminated with disease organisms during or after collection.

Therefore, this document proposes to allow the importation of embryos only if certain determinations are made concerning the disease status of the donor sire at the time of collection of the semen and the donor dam at the time of collection of the embryo, and only if adequate measures are taken to prevent contamination of the embryo.

Definitions

In addition to other definitions explained in this document, proposed § 93.1 contains definitions of the terms "Animal," "Department," "Deputy Administrator," "Enter (entered, entry) into the United States," "Import (imported, importation) into the United States," "Inspector," "Person," "United States," and "Veterinary Services."

Prohibition

Proposed § 93.2 provides that an embryo shall not be imported or entered into the United States unless in accordance with the provisions of the proposed regulations.

General Conditions

Proposed § 93.3 provides that:

> An embryo shall not be imported into the United States unless:
> (a) The embryo is exported to the United States from the country in which it was conceived;
> (b) The embryo was conceived as a result of artificial insemination with semen collected from a donor sire at an approved artificial insemination center;
> (c) The donor dam conceived the embryo after being inseminated in an approved embryo transfer unit with semen collected at an approved artificial insemination center;
> (d) At the time of collection of the semen used to conceive the embryo, the donor sire met all requirements the donor site would have to meet under Part 92 of this chapter for a health certificate required as a condition of importation into the United States;
> (e) At the time of collection of the embryo from the donor dam, the donor dam met all requirements the donor dam would have to meet under Part 92 of this chapter for a health certificate required as a condition of importation into the United States;

(f) There is no basis for denying and import permit for the donor sire or donor dam under § 92.4(a)(2) or (3) of this chapter; and

(g) The embryo is collected and maintained under conditions determined by the Deputy Administrator to be adequate to protect against contamination of the embryo with infectious animal disease organisms.

It appears that an embryo should not be allowed to be imported into the United States if there is a basis for denying an import permit for the donor sire or donor dam under 9 CFR 92.4(a)(2) or (3). It is provided, in relevant part, in 9 CFR 92.4(a)(2) and (3) that:

(2) An application for permit to import will be denied for domestic ruminants or swine * * * from any country where it has been declared, under section 306 of the Act of June 17, 1930, that foot-and-mouth disease or rinderpest has been determined to exist. * * *

(3) An application for permit to import ruminants, swine, horses from countries listed in § 92.2(i)(1) of the regulations * * * may also be denied because of: Communicable disease conditions in the area or country of origin * * *; deficiencies in the regulatory programs for the control or eradication of animal diseases and the unavailability of veterinary services in the * * * [country of origin]; the importer's failure to provide satisfactory evidence concerning the origin, history, and health status of the animals * * *; the lack of satisfactory information necessary to determine that the importation will not be likely to transmit any communicable disease to livestock or poultry of the United States; or an other circumstances which the Deputy Administrator believes require such denial to prevent the dissemination of any communicable disease of livestock or poultry into the United States.

It appears that an embryo from a donor sire or donor dam ineligible for an import permit under these provisions would present an unacceptable risk of causing the introduction of infectious animal diseases into the United States.

The provisions of 9 CFR Part 92 provide that an animal must be accompanied at the time of importation into the United States by a health certificate from the government of the country of origin. The determinations for issuance of such a health certificate are required to be based on specified factors concerning the disease status of the animal offered for entry and the disease status of other animals in the country of origin, and include examinations and tests. The health certificate provisions in proposed § 93.3 for the donor sire and donor dam set forth above would provide a means for determining with a high degree of accuracy the animal disease status of the donor sire at the time of collection of the semen and the donor dam at the time of collection of the embryo.

In addition, it appears that the proposed provisions set forth above concerning an "approved artificial insemination center" and an "approved embryo transfer unit" would provide added protection against the presence of animal diseases in either the donor sire at the time of collection of the semen or the donor dam at the time of collection of the embryo. The proposed regulations define an "approved artificial insemination center" as:

A facility approved or licensed by the government of the country in which the facility is located to collect and process semen under the general supervision of such government.

The proposed regulations further define an "approved embryo transfer unit" as:

A facility approved or licensed by the government of the country in which the facility is located to artificially inseminate donor dams and to collect and process embryos for export under the general supervision of such government.

These facilities use isolation, testing, and security measures to help ensure the disease-free status of donor sires and donor dams. Such facilities must also meet the legal requirements concerning disease prevention of the countries in which they are located.

Further, it appears that an embryo should be allowed to be exported to the United States only from the country in which it was conceived. This proposed requirement corresponds with the provisions of proposed § 93.5 which require an embryo to be accompanied by a health certificate which states how the provisions of proposed § 92.3 were met and which is issued or endorsed by a full-time salaried veterinarian of the national animal health service of the country of origin. It appears that allowing an embryo to be exported to the United States only from the country in which it was conceived would help ensure the accuracy of information on the certificate since the certificate would be issued or endorsed by a full-time salaried veterinarian of the national government bearing the responsibility for its accuracy.

The proposed contamination provisions to be necessary to protect against the possibility of the introduction into the United States of infectious animal diseases as a result of contamination of the embryo with animal disease organisms. Approval of these conditions would have to be made on a case-by-case basis since adequate methods for preventing contamination must be made based on the particular facts in each case.

It appears that embryos imported into the United States in compliance with the provisions set forth above in proposed § 93.3 would not present a significant risk of introducing infectious animal diseases into the United States.

Import Permit

Proposed § 93.4 provides that:

(a) An embryo shall not be imported into the United States unless accompanied by an import permit issued by Veterinary Services and unless imported into the United States within 14 days after the proposed date or arrival stated in the import permit.

(b) An application for an import permit must be submitted to Import-Export Animals and Products Staff, Veterinary Services, APHIS, USDA, Federal Building, 6505 Belcrest Road, Hyattsville, MD 20782. An application form for an import permit may be obtained from this staff.

(c) The completed application shall include the following information:

(1) The name and address of the person intending to export an embryo from the country of origin,

(2) The name and address of the person intending to import an embryo,

((3) The species, breed, and number of embryos to be imported,

(4) The purpose of the importation,

(5) The country in which the embryo is conceived,

(6) The port of embarkation,

(7) The mode of transportation,

(8) The route of travel,

(9) The port of entry in the United States,

(10) The proposed date of arrival in the United States,

(11) The name and address of the person to whom the embryo will be delivered in the United States, and

(12) The measures to be taken to ensure that the embryo is collected and maintained under conditions adequate to protect against contamination of the embryo with infectious animal disease organisms.

(d) After receipt and review of the application by Veterinary Services, an import permit indicating the applicable conditions under this part for importation into the United States shall be issued for the importation of embryos described in the application if such embryos appear to be eligible to be imported. Even though an import permit has been issued for the importation of an embryo, the embryo may be imported only if all applicable requirements of this part are met.

It appears that an import permit is necessary to ensure that the requirements for an importation of embryos would be understood and met by the importer. Further, providing that the importation must be within 14 days after proposed date of arrival stated in the permit would help Veterinary Services determine projected workloads at ports of entry and still allow for reasonable delays during shipment.

The application would be submitted to the Import-Export Animals and Products Staff since this staff would be responsible for determining whether embryos would be eligible for an import permit.

The information required for completion of an application appears to be necessary to determine whether embryos would be eligible for an import permit, to respond to an applicant, to help identify the embryos at the port of entry, and to allow Veterinary Services to contact appropriate persons if any questions arise concerning the importation. Further, it appears that information concerning the purpose of the importation would be helpful for apprising the Department of any new uses for embryos that might require consideration of changes in the regulations.

Health Certificate

Proposed § 93.5 provides that:

An embryo shall not be imported into the United States unless accompanied by a health certificate issued or endorsed by a full-time salaried veterinarian of the national animal health service of the country of origin certifying:

(a) The dates, places, types, and results of all examinations and tests performed on the donor sire and donor dam as a condition for importation of the embryo, and the names and addresses of persons or laboratories conducting the examinations or tests, and a statement that any other requirements established by § 93.3 have been complied with,

(b) The name and address of the consignor and consignee.

(c) The name and address of the approved artificial insemination center where the semen for the embryo was collected,

(d) The name and address of the approved embryo transfer unit where the donor dam was inseminated and the embryo was collected, and

(e) The measures taken to ensure that the embryo was collected and maintained under conditions adequate to protect against contamination of the embryo with infectious animal disease organisms.

It appears that these health certificate provisions are necessary to help Veterinary Services personnel at the port of entry determine if the embryos offered for entry into the United States meet the provisions of proposed § 93.3 discussed above.

Ports of Entry

Proposed § 93.6 provides that an embryo shall not be imported into the United States unless at a port of entry listed in § 92.3. These ports of entry have inspectors on duty who would be able to take the necessary actions concerning the importation of embryos.

Declaration Upon Arrival

Proposed § 93.7 provides that:

Upon arrival of an embryo at a port of entry, the importer or the importer's agent shall notify Veterinary Services of the arrival by giving an inspector a document stating:

(a) The port of entry,

(b) The date of arrival,

(c) Import permit number,

(d) Carrier, and identification of the means of conveyance,

(e) The name and address of the importer,

(f) The name and address of the broker,

(g) The country of origin of the embryo,

(h) The number, species, and purpose of importation of the embryo, and

(i) The name and address of the person to whom the embryo will be delivered.

It appears that compliance with these provisions would be adequate to notify Veterinary Services of the arrival of embryos at a port of entry. Also, the declaration would provide sufficient information so that if questions arose concerning the importation, Veterinary Services would be able to contact persons in the United States who should have information relative to the importation.

Inspection

Proposed § 93.8 provides that any embryo offered for entry into the United States and documents accompanying the embryo shall be subject to inspection by an inspector at the time the embryo is offered for entry in order to determine whether the embryo is eligible for entry. It appears that these provisions are necessary to help ensure that only embryos eligible for entry into the United States are allowed to enter the United States.

Proposed § 93.8 also provides that the import permit and the health certificate shall be given to the inspector.

Embryos Refused Entry

Proposed § 93.9 provides that:

Any embryo refused entry into the United States for noncompliance with the requirements of this part shall be removed from the United States within a time period specified by the Deputy Administrator or abandoned by the importer for destruction, and pending such action shall be subject to such safeguards as the inspector determines necessary to prevent the possible introduction into the United States of infectious animal diseases. If such embryo is not removed from the United States within such time period, or abandoned for destruction, it may be seized, destroyed, or otherwise disposed of as the inspector determines necessary to prevent the possible introduction into the United States of infectious animal diseases.

These provisions appear to be necessary as precautionary measures against the introduction into the United States of infectious animal diseases.

Other Importations

Proposed § 93.10 provides that:

Notwithstanding other provisions in this part, the Deputy Administrator may in specific cases allow the importation and entry into the United States of embryos other than as provided for in this part under such conditions as the Deputy Administrator may prescribe to prevent the introduction into the United States of infectious animal diseases.

This appears to be necessary to allow the importation and entry of embryos in unforeseen circumstances when the Deputy Administrator determines that such action can be taken without a significant risk of introducing infectious animal diseases into the United States.

Currently, 9 CFR Part 93 contains provisions captioned "Rule of Practice Governing Proceedings Under Certain Acts". If the proposal to establish a new part captioned "Importation of Certain Animal Embryos" is adopted, the current provisions in 9 CFR Part 93 will be moved to another place in the Code of Federal Regulations.

Paperwork Reduction Act

In accordance with section 3507 of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980 (44 U.S.C. 3507), the information collection provisions that are included in this rule have been submitted for approval to the Office of Management and Budget (OMB). Written comments concerning any information collection provisions should be submitted to the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, OMB, Attention: Desk Officer for APHIS, Washington, D.C. 20503. A duplicate copy of such documents should be submitted to Thomas O. Gessel, Director, Regulatory Coordination Staff, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Room 728, Federal Building, 6505 Belcrest Road, Hyattsville, MD 20782.

Executive Order 12291 and Regulatory Flexibility Act

This action has been reviewed in conformance with Executive Order 12291 and has been determined to be not a "major rule." The Department has determined that this action would not have an effect on the economy of $100 million or more; would not cause a major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State or local government agencies, or geographic regions; and would not have any significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

It is anticipated that if the proposed regulations were adopted almost all of the embryos imported would be embryos from cattle. Further, it is anticipated that the embryos from cattle would represent less than one percent of the total number of embryos, calves, and older cattle imported into the United States.

Therefore, the Administrator of the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service has determined that this action would not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

List of Subjects in 9 CFR Part 93

Animal diseases, animal embryos, imports, livestock and livestock products, transportation.

Accordingly, it is proposed to establish a new 9 CFR Part 93 to read as follows (if the proposal is adopted the current provisions in 9 CFR Part 93 would be moved to another place in the CFR):

§ 93.1 Definitions.

The following terms, when used in this part, shall be construed as defined. Those terms used in the singular form in this part shall be construed as the plural form and vice versa, as the case may demand.

Animal. Any cattle, sheep, goats, other ruminants, swine, horses, or asses.

Approved Artificial Insemination Center. A facility approved or licensed by the government of the country in which the facility is located to collect and process semen under the general supervision of such government.

Approved Embryo Transfer Unit. A facility approved or licensed by the government of the country in which the facility is located to artificially inseminate donor dams and to collect and process embryos for export under the general supervision of such government.

Department. The United States Department of Agriculture.

Deputy Administrator. The Deputy Administrator, Veterinary services, or any official in the Veterinary Services unit of the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service of the Department to whom authority has been delegated or may hereafter be delegated to act in the deputy Administrator's stead.

Embryo. The initial state of an animal's development after collection from the natural mother, while it is capable of being transferred to a recipient dam, but not including an embryo that has been transferred to a recipient dam.

Enter (entered, entry) into the United States. To introduce into the commerce of the United States after release from governmental detention at the port of entry.

Import (imported, importation) into the United States. To bring into the territorial limits of the United States.

Inspector. An employee of Veterinary Services who is authorized to perform the function involved.

Person. Any individual, corporation, company, association, firm, partnership, society, joint stock company, or any other legal entity.

United States. All of the several States of the United States, the District of Columbia, Guam, the Northern Mariana Islands, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands of the United States and all other territories and possessions of the United States.

Veterinary Services. The Veterinary Services unit of the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service of the Department.

§ 93.2 Prohibition.

An embryo shall not be imported or entered into the United States unless in accordance with the provisions of this part.

§ 93.3 General conditions.

An embryo shall not be imported into the United States unless:

(a) The embryo is exported to the United States from the country in which it was conceived;

(b) The embryo was conceived as a result of artificial insemination with semen collected from a donor sire at an approved artificial insemination center;

(c) The donor dam conceived the embryo after being inseminated in an approved embryo transfer unit with semen collected at an approved artificial insemination center;

(d) At the time of collection of the semen used to conceive the embryo, the donor sire met all requirements the donor sire would have to meet under Part 92 of this chapter for a health certificate required as a condition of importation into the United States;

(e) At the time of collection of the embryo from the donor dam, the donor dam met all requirements the donor dam would have to meet under Part 92 of this chapter for a health certificate required as a condition of importation into the United States;

(f) There is no basis for denying an import permit for the donor sire or donor dam under § 92.4(a)(2) or (3) of this chapter; and

(g) The embryo is collected and maintained under conditions determined by the Deputy Administrator to be adequate to protect against contamination of the embryo with infectious animal disease organisms.

§ 93.4 Import permit.

(a) An embryo shall not be imported into the United States unless accompanied by an import permit issued by Veterinary Services and unless imported into the United States within 14 days after the proposed date of arrival stated in the import permit.

(b) An application for an import permit must be submitted to Import-Export Animals and Products Staff, Veterinary Services, APHIS, USDA, Federal Building, 6505 Belcrest Road, Hyattsville, MD 20782. An application form for an import permit may be obtained from this staff.

(c) The completed application shall include the following information:

(1) The name and address of the person intending to export an embryo from the country of origin,

(2) The name and address of the person intending to import an embryo,

(3) The species, breed, and number of embryos to be imported,

(4) The purpose of the importation,

(5) The country in which the embryo is conceived,

(6) The port of embarkation,

(7) The mode of transportation,

(8) The route of travel,

(9) The port of entry in the United States,

(10) The proposed date of arrival in the United States,

(11) The name and address of the person to whom the embryo will be delivered in the United States, and

(12) The measures to be taken to ensure that the embryo is collected and maintained under conditions adequate to protect against contamination of the embryo with infectious animal disease organisms.

(d) After receipt and review of the application by Veterinary Services, an import permit indicating the applicable conditions under this part for importation into the United States shall be issued for the importation of embryos described in the application if such embryos appear to be eligible to be imported. Even though an import permit has been issued for the importation of an embryo, the embryo may be imported only if all applicable requirements of this part are met.

§ 93.5 Health certificate.

An embryo shall not be imported into the United States unless accompanied by a health certificate issued or endorsed by a full-time salaried veterinarian of the national animal health service of the country of origin certifying:

(a) The dates, places, types, and results of all examinations and tests performed on the donor sire and donor dam as a condition for importation of the embryo, and the names and addresses of persons or laboratories conducting the examinations or tests, and a statement that any other requirements established by § 93.3 have been complied with,

(b) The name and address of the consignor and consignee,

(c) The name and address of the approved artificial insemination center where the semen for the embryo was collected,

(d) The name and address of the approved embryo transfer unit where the donor dam was inseminated and the embryo was collected, and

(e) The measures taken to ensure that the embryo was collected and maintained under conditions adequate to protect against contamination of the embryo with infectious animal disease organisms.

§ 93.6 Port of entry.

An embryo shall not be imported into the United States unless at a port of entry listed in § 92.3 of this chapter.

§ 93.7 Declaration upon arrival.

Upon arrival of an embryo at a port of entry, the importer or the importer's agent shall notify Veterinary Services of the arrival by giving an inspector a document stating:

(a) The port of entry,

(b) The date of arrival,

(c) Import permit number,

(d) Carrier, and identification of the means of conveyance,

(e) The name and address of the importer,

(f) The name and address of the broker,

(g) The country of origin of the embryo,

(h) The number, species, and purpose of importation of the embryo, and

(i) The name and address of the person to whom the embryo will be delivered.

§ 93.8 Inspection.

Any embryo offered for entry into the United States and documents accompanying the embryo shall be subject to inspection by an inspector at the time the embryo is offered for entry in order to determine whether the embryo is eligible for entry. The import permit and the health certificate shall be given to the inspector.

§ 93.9 Embryos refused entry.

Any embryo refused entry into the United States for noncompliance with the requirements of this part shall be removed from the United States within a time period specified by the Deputy Administrator or abandoned by the importer for destruction, and pending such action shall be subject to such safeguards as the inspector determines necessary to prevent the possible introduction into the United States of infectious animal diseases. If such embryo is not removed from the United States within such time period, or abandoned for destruction, it may be seized, destroyed, or otherwise disposed of as the inspector determines necessary to prevent the possible introduction into the United States of infectious animal diseases.

§ 93.10 Other importations.

Notwithstanding other provisions in this part, the Deputy Administrator may in specific cases allow the importation and entry into the United States of embryos other than as provided for in this part under such conditions as the Deputy Administrator may prescribe to prevent the introduction into the United States of infectious animal diseases.

Done at Washington, D.C., this 18th day of October 1984.

K.R. Hook,

Acting Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Office of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement

30 CFR Part 917

Public Comment and Opportunity for Public Hearing on the Modification to the Kentucky Permanent Regulatory Program AGENCY: Office of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement (OSM), Interior.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: OSM is announcing procedures for the public comment period and for a public hearing on the substantive adequacy of certain program amendments submitted by the State of Kentucky as a modification to the Kentucky permanent regulatory program (hereinafter referred to as the Kentucky program) under the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977 (SMCRA). These amendments are submitted as further modifications to the Kentucky program. The amendments pertain to existing policies that Kentucky has incorporated by reference into its regulations. These policies pertain to underground coal mines, water quality monitoring, incremental bonding, permanent water impoundments, roads, steep slope variances, reclamation deferments, coal processing operations and crushing and loading facilities, overlapping permits, transitioning permits, and withdrawal and maintenance of mining permit applications.

This notice sets forth the times and locations that the Kentucky program and the proposed amendment are available for public inspection, the comment period during which interested persons may submit written comments on the proposed program elements, and the procedures that will be followed regarding the public hearing.

DATES: Written comments not received on or before November 21, 1984, will not necessarily be considered.

If requested, a public hearing on the proposed modifications will be held on November 16, 1984, beginning at 10:00 a.m. at the location shown below under "ADDRESSES."

ADDRESSES: Written comments should be mailed or hand delivered to: W. H. Tipton, Director, Lexington Field Office, Office of Surface Mining, 340 Legion Drive, Suite 28, Lexington, Kentucky 40504.

If a public hearing is held its location will be at: the Harley Hotel, 2143 North Broadway, Lexington, Kentucky 40505.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: W. H. Tipton, Director, Lexington Field Office, 340 Legion Drive, Suite 28, Lexington, Kentucky 40504; Telephone: (606) 233-7327.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Public Comment Procedures

Availability of Copies

Copies of the Kentucky program, the proposed modifications to the program, a listing of any scheduled public meetings and all written comments received in response to this notice will be available for review at the OSM Offices and the Office of the State regulatory authority listed below, Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., excluding holidays.

Lexington Field Office, Office of Surface Mining, 340 Legion Drive, Suite 28, Lexington, Kentucky 40504.

Office of Surface Mining, Reclamation and Enforcement, Room 5124, 1100 L Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20240.

Bureau of Surface Mining, Reclamation and Enforcement, Capitol Plaza Tower, Third, Floor, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

Written Comments

Written comments should be specific, pertain only to the issues proposed in this rulemaking, and include explanations in the support of the commenter's recommendations. Comments received after the time indicated under "DATES" or at locations other than Lexington, Kentucky, will not necessarily be considered and included in the Administrative Record for the final rulemaking.

Public Hearing

Persons wishing to comment at the public hearing should contact the person listed under "FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT" by the close of business ten working days before the date of the hearing. If not one requests to comment at the public hearing, the hearing will not be held.

If only one person requests to comment, a public meeting, rather than a public hearing, may be held and the results of the meeting included in the Administrative Record.

Submission of written statements at the time of the hearing is requested and will greatly assist the transcriber.

Submissions of written statements in advance of the hearing will allow OSM officials to prepare appropriate questions.

The public hearing will continue on the specified date until all persons scheduled to comment have been heard. Persons in the audience who have not been scheduled to comment and wish to do so will be heard following those scheduled. The hearing will end after all persons scheduled to comment and persons present in the audiences who wish to comment have been heard.

Public Meeting

Persons wishing to meet with OSM representatives to discuss the proposed amendment may request a meeting at the OSM office listed in ADDRESSES by contacting the person listed under "FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT."

All such meetings are open to the public and if possible, notices of meetings will be posted in advance in the Administrative Record. A written summary of each public meeting will be made a part of the Administrative Record.

II. Background on the Kentucky State Program

On December 30, 1981, Kentucky resubmitted its proposed regulatory program to OSM. On April 13, 1982, following a review of the proposed program as outlined in 30 CFR Part 732, the Secretary approved the program subject to the correction of 12 minor deficiencies. The approval was effective upon publication of the notice of conditional approval in the May 18, 1982 Federal Register (47 FR 21404-21435).

Information pertinent to the general background, revisions, modifications, and amendments to the proposed permanent program submission, as well as the Secretary's findings, the disposition of comments and a detailed explanation of the conditions of approval of the Kentucky program can be found in the May 18, 1982 Federal Register notice.

III. Submission of Program Amendments

By a letter dated June 6, 1984, Kentucky advised OSM of certain revisions to the Kentucky regulatory program. These modifications consist of changes to Kentucky's regulations through the incorporation of existing policies. Kentucky explained in its letter that these incorporations do not substantively change the content of the regulatory program but since these policies are now regulations, OSM may need to process them as a program amendment.

OSM reviewed the policies and the regulations and determined pursuant to 30 CFR 732.17 that the modifications are required to be processed as a program amendment since certain material is being incorporated into Kentucky's approved program regulations.

Therefore, the Director is seeking public comment on the adequacy of the proposed program amendments. Comments should specifically address the issues of whether the proposed amendments are in accordance with SMCRA and no less effective than its implementing regulations.

IV. Additional Determinations

1. Compliance With the National Environmental Policy Act

The Secretary has determined that, pursuant to section 702(d) of SMCRA, 30 U.S.C. 1292(d), no environmental impact statement need be prepared on this rulemaking.

2. Executive Order No. 12291 and the Regulatory Flexibility Act

On August 28, 1981, the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) granted OSM an exemption from section 3, 4, 7, and 8 of Executive Order 12291 for actions directly related to approval or conditional approval of State regulatory programs. Therefore, this action is exempt from preparation of a Regulatory Impact Analysis and regulatory review by OMB.

The Department of the Interior has determined that this rule would not have a significant economic effect on a substantial number of small entities under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.). This rule would not impose any new requirements; rather, it would ensure that existing requirements established by SMCRA and the Federal rules would be met by the State.

3. Paperwork Reduction Act

This rule does not contain information collection requirements which require approval by the Office of Management and Budget under 44 U.S.C. 3507.

Coast Guard

33 CFR Part 117

[CGD3 83–058]

Drawbridge Operation Regulations; Shrewsbury River, NJ

AGENCY: Coast Guard, DOT.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: At the request of Monmouth County, NJ, the Coast Guard is considering a change to the regulations governing the Route 520 drawbridge over the Shrewsbury River between Rumson and Sea Bright. This proposed change would permit the bridge to begin scheduled openings at 9 a.m. instead of 11 a.m. on weekends and holidays from May 15 through September 30. This proposal is being made because frequent openings for vessels are contributing to traffic congestion between 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. This action should accommodate the needs of vehicular traffic and should still provide for the reasonable needs of navigation.

DATE: Comments must be received on or before December 6, 1984.

ADDRESSES: Comments should be mailed to Commander (oan-br), Third Coast Guard District, Bldg. 135A, Governors Island, NY 10004. The comments and other materials referenced in this notice will be available for inspection and copying at this address. Normal office hours are between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, except holidays. Comments may also be hand-delivered to this address.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: William C. Heming, Bridge Administrator, Third Coast Guard District (212) 668–7994.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Interested persons are invited to participate in this proposed rulemaking by submitting written views, comments, data, or arguments. Pesons submitting comments should include their name and address, identify the bridge, and give reasons for concurrence with or for any recommended change in the proposal. Persons desiring acknowledgment that their comments have been received should enclose a stamped, self-addressed postcard or envelope.

The Commander, Third Coast Guard District will evaluate all communications received and will determine a final course of action on this proposal. The proposed regulations may be changed in light of comments received.

On April 24, 1984, the Coast Guard published a final rule (49 FR 17450) that reorganized Coast Guard regulations for drawbridges (Part 117 of Title 33, Code of Federal Regulations) to consolidate common requirements and to organize bridge regulations into a more usable format. This proposed rule follows the revised numbering and format. Reference to "South Branch" under the heading Shrewsbury River is being eliminated because the Shrewsbury River as presently named has no North and South Branch. The former North Branch was renamed the Navesink River, thereby negating the need for any distinction.

Drafting Information

The drafters of this notice are Ernest J. Feemster, project manager, and Mary Ann Arisman, project attorney.

Discussion of Proposed Regulations

The Route 520 bridge presently has regulations permitting the draw to open only on the hour and half hour on weekends and holidays from may 15 through September 30 between 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Since there are considerable bridge openings and heavy vehicular traffic earlier in the morning, Monmouth County requested that schedules openings begin at 9 a.m. instead of 11 a.m. Bridge opening logs for 1978–83 show an average of 2.34 openings per hour from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. on weekends and holidays from May 15 through September 30. This indicates that if scheduled openings are implemented, openings can be reduced by 36% on weekends and holidays between 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. The Coast Guard, therefore is proposing that scheduled openings begin at 9 a.m. This is expected to better accommodate vehicular traffic while still providing for navigational requirements.

Temporary regulations were issued on July 2, 1982 by Public Notice 3–471 allowing the draw to open only on the hour and half hour on all days between July 1 and August 31, 1982. These temporary regulations were implemented to evaluate Monmouth County's request for permanent regulations. However, the results of these temporary regulations were inconclusive since the bridge owner did not provide the Coast Guard with requested vehicular traffic data and other information necessary to fully evaluate the temporary regulations. Additionally, only two responses were received; one for, and one against the temporary regulations.

Monmouth County requested, as a part of this rulemaking that scheduled openings (on hour and half hour) be extended throughout the week from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. from May 15 to September 30. However, the Coast Guard has determined that weekday scheduled openings are not justified because opening logs indicate that there normally are no more than two openings per hour during the requested period. Therefore, this aspect of the request is not being proposed in this rulemaking.

Vehicular traffic on Route 520 is extremely heavy on weekends and holidays during the boating season because this roadway provides access to Route 36, a two-lane highway along the barrier beach. During the boating season, frequent bridge opening during periods of peak vehicular traffic interrupt the orderly flow of traffic and contribute to traffic congestion. These proposed regulations are expected to reduce bridge openings on weekends and holidays from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m during the boating season, thereby resulting in reduced vehicular traffic congestion.

Economic Assessment and Certification

These proposed regulations are considered to be non-major under Executive Order 12291 on Federal Regulation, and nonsignificant under the Department of Transportation regulatory policies and procedures (44 FR 11034; February 16, 1979).

The economic impact of this proposal is expected to be so minimal that a full regulatory evaluation is unnecessary. Vessels presently receive openings on the hour and half hour during most of the day on weekends and holidays during the boating season. Extending this period by two hours (from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m.) is not expected to significantly impact vessels using the waterway since conditions during these hours are identical to those existing during most of the day. Most of the vessels using this waterway are recreational with only occasional commercial traffic. No business, organization, entity or person has been identified as being adversely impacted by this action. Since the economic impact of this proposal is expected to be minimal, the Coast Guard certifies that, if adopted, it will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

Proposed Regulations

In consideration of the foregoing, the Coast Guard proposes to amend Part 117 of Title 33, Code of Federal Regulations by removing reference to "South Branch" in the heading for § 117.755 and by revising § 117.755(b) to read as follows:

PART 117—DRAWBRIDGE OPERATION REGULATIONS

§ 117.755 Shrewsbury River.

* * * * *

(b) The draw of the Monmouth County highway bridge, mile 4.0 at Sea Bright, shall open on signal; except that, from May 15 through September 30 on Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., the draw need be opened only on the hour and half hour. The draw need not be opened at any time for a sailboat, unless it is under auxiliary power or is towed by a powered vessel. The owners of the bridge shall provide and keep in good legible condition two board gages painted white with black figures not less than eight inches high to indicate the vertical clearance under the closed draw at all stages of the tide. The gages shall be so placed on the bridge that they are plainly visible to operators of vessels approaching the bridge from either up or downstream.

Standard and Optional Forms Management Program

AGENCY: Office of Information Resources Management, GSA

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: This notice invites written comments on a proposal to revise Subpart 101–11.8 of the Federal Property Management Regulations to reflect the transfer of the Standard and Optional Forms Management Program from the National Archives and Records Service to the Office of Information Resources Management, and to comply with provisions of Title 5 CFR 1320 that replaced Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A–40. The regulation has been reorganized to clarify agency and GSA responsibilities and procedures for the development, management, clearance, and approval of new, revised, and exception Standard and Optional forms. The Standard and Optional Forms Management Program provides for centralized management of Government-wide standardized forms and ensures that such forms are based on sound forms management principles of analysis, design, and printing economy.

DATE: Comments must be received on or before November 21, 1984.

ADDRESS: Comments should be submitted to the General Services Administration, KMPP, Washington, D.C. 20405.

Alaska Native Selections; Extension of Comment Period

AGENCY: Bureau of Land Management, Interior.

ACTION: Notice of extension of comment period on proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: A proposed rulemaking amending the regulations in 43 CFR Part 2650—Alaska Native Selections was published in the Federal Register on August 7, 1984 (49 FR 31475). The amendment would change the procedures used for excluding meanderable water bodies from acreage charged against the entitlement of Alaska Native Corporations and would add provisions for Native villages that are underselected. The proposed rulemaking provided a 60-day comment period. In response to a request for an extension of that comment period, and in view of the complexity of the issues raised in the proposed rulemaking, a 45-day extension of the comment period is hereby granted.

DATE: The comment period is extended to November 23, 1984. Comments not received or postmarked by that date may not be considered in the decision-making process on a final rulemaking.

ADDRESS: Comments should be sent to: Director (140), Bureau of Land Management, 1800 C Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20240.

Endangered and Threatened Wildlife and Plants; Public Hearing and Extension of Comment Period on Proposed Threatened Status for Ribes Echinellum (Miccosukee Gooseberry)

AGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.

ACTION: Proposed rule; notice of public hearing, and extension of comment period.

SUMMARY: The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service gives notice that a public hearing will be held on the proposal to list Ribes echinellum (Miccosukee gooseberry), a plant known from one site in Florida and one site in South Carolina, as a threatened species. This hearing will allow comments on this proposal to be submitted from all interested parties.

DATES: The public hearing will be held from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. on November 8, 1984, in Monticello, Florida. The comment period on this proposal is extended until November 19, 1984.

ADDRESSES: The public hearing will be held at the Jefferson County Courthouse, Courthouse Circle, U.S. 19 and 90 intersection, Monticello Florida. Comments should be sent to the Regional Director, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, 75 Spring Street, S.W., Atlanta, Georgia 30303. Comments and materials received will be available for public inspection during normal business hours, by appointment, at the above address.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For information on the public hearing contact Mr. David Wesley, Endangered Species Field Supervisor, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, 2747 Art Museum Drive, Jacksonville, Florida 32207 (904/791–2580; FTS 946–2580).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

Ribes echinellum (Miccosukee gooseberry) is a shrub reaching one meter in height. It is known only from one site in Jefferson County, Florida, and one site in McCormick County, South Carolina. The species is threatened by potential recreational activities, development, and logging. Ribes echinellum was proposed as a threatened species, with no critical habitat, in the Federal Register of August 31, 1984 (49 FR 34535).

Section 4(b)(5)(E) of the Endangered Species Act of 1973, as amended, requires that a public hearing be held, if requested, within 45 days of the publication of a proposed rule. On September 18, 1984, the Service received a request from Mr. Chris Anderson, an attorney representing Mr. Dan Glass of Monticello, Florida, for a public hearing on the proposal to list Ribes echinellum as a threatened species. The Service has scheduled this hearing for November 8, 1984, from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., at the Jefferson County Courthouse, Courthouse Circle, U.S. 19 and 90 intersection, Monticello, Florida. Those parties wishing to make statements for the record should have available a copy of their statements to be presented to the Service at the start of the hearing. Oral statements may be limited in length, if the number of parties present at the hearing necessitates such a limitation. There are, however, no limits to the length of written comments or materials presented at the hearing or mailed to the Service.

The comment period on the proposal originally closed on October 30, 1984. In order to accommodate the hearing, the Service extends the comment period until November 19, 1984. Written comments should be submitted to the Service office in the ADDRESSES section.

Office of the Secretary

[Docket No. 84-359]

Citrus Canker; Declaration of Extraordinary Emergency Because of Citrus Canker

A serious infestation of citrus canker exists in parts of Florida. Citrus Canker is a devastating bacterial disease which rapidly and aggressively infects citrus and which can be spread easily causing catastrophic damage to entire citrus growing areas. An outbreak of citrus canker has not occurred in the United States since 1945.

Citrus canker constitutes a severe threat to citrus in the United States, and thereby seriously burdens interstate and foreign commerce. Therefore, it is determined that an extraordinary emergency exists because of this outbreak of citrus canker in Florida.

The measures being taken by the State of Florida to control and eradicate citrus canker have been reviewed and the Governor of Florida has been consulted. Based on such review and consultation, it is determined that measures being taken by the State of Florida to control and eradicate the outbreak of citrus canker are inadequate because Florida is unable to take all of the measures necessary to obtain and maintain the cooperation of the owners of citrus and citrus products necessary to effectively and efficiently control and eradicate citrus canker.

This declaration of extraordinary emergency authorizes the Secretary to: (1) Seize, quarantine, treat, apply other remedial measures to, destroy, or otherwise dispose of, in such manner as the Secretary deems appropriate, any product or article of any character whatsoever, or means of conveyance which the Secretary has reason to believe is infested or infected by, or contains citrus canker; (2) quarantine, treat, or apply other remedial measures to, in such manner as the Secretary deems appropriate, any premises, including articles on such premises, which the Secretary has reason to believe are infested or infected by citrus canker.

Further, in accordance with the provisions of the Act of September 25, 1981, 95 Stat. 953 (7 U.S.C. 147b), I authorize the transfer and use of such sums as may be necessary from appropriations or other funds available to the agencies or corporation of the Department of Agriculture for the conduct of a program to detect and identify citrus canker infested areas, to control and prevent the dissemination of citrus canker to noninfested areas in the United States, and to eradicate citrus canker wherever it may be found.

Effective date: This declaration of emergency shall become effective October 17, 1984.

John R. Block,

Secretary of Agriculture.

BILLING CODE 3510-08-M

COMMITTEE FOR THE IMPLEMENTATION OF TEXTILE AGREEMENTS

Adjusting the Import Limits for Certain Cotton and Man-Made Fiber Textiles and Textile Products From Thailand

October 17, 1984.

The Chairman of the Committee for the Implementation of Textile Agreements (CITA), under the authority contained in E.O. 11651 of March 3, 1972, as amended, has issued the directive published below to the Commissioner of Customs to be effective on October 23, 1984. For further information contact Jane Corwin, International Trade Specialist (202) 377-4212.

Background

The Bilateral Cotton, Wool and Man-Made Fiber Textile Agreement of July 27 and August 8, 1983 between the Governments of the United States and Thailand provides, among other things, for designated percentage increases in certain categories (swing), for the carryover of shortfalls in certain categories from the previous agreement year (carryover), and for the borrowing of yardage from the succeeding year's level with the amount used being deducted from the level in the succeeding year (carryforward). At the request of the Government of Thailand, increases for swing, carryover and carryforward are being applied, variously, to the restraint limits previously established for cotton and man-made fiber textiles and textile products in Categories 313, 315, 314, 319, 320, 604 and 613, produced or manufactured in Thailand and exported during the agreement year which began on January 1, 1984. (See 48 FR 55309). The adjusted limits for Categories 319, 320 and 613 include deductions to account for swing applied to the other categories. This results in the case of Category 613 in an overall reduction in the restraint limit from 16,178,250 square yards to 16,126,310 square yards.

A description of the textile categories in terms of T.S.U.S.A. numbers was published in the Federal Register on December 13, 1982 (47 FR 55709), as amended on April 7, 1983 (48 FR 15175), May 3, 1983 (48 FR 19924), December 14, 1983 (48 FR 55607), December 30, 1983 (48 FR 57584), April 4, 1984 (49 FR 13397), June 28, 1984 (49 FR 26622), and July 16, 1984 (49 FR 28754).

Ronald I. Levin,

Acting Chairman, Committee for the Implementation of Textile Agreements.

October 17, 1984.

Committee for the Implementation of Textile Agreements

Commissioner of Customs,
Department of the Treasury,
Washington, D.C. 20229

Dear Mr. Commissioner: This directive further amends, but does not cancel, the directive of December 7, 1983 which prohibited entry into the United States of certain cotton, wool and man-made fiber textile products, produced or manufactured in Thailand and exported during 1984.

Effective on October 24, 1984, the directive of December 7, 1983 is hereby further amended to include adjusted restraint limits for the following categories, as indicated: [1]

Category	Adjusted 12-mo restraint limit [1]
313	13,198,480 square yards.
314	9,671,300 square yards.
315	19,342,600 square yards.
319	4,737,140 square yards.
320	10,787,620 square yards.
604	875,560 pounds of which not more than 461,057 pounds shall in TSUSA. Number 310.5049.
613	16,126,310 square yards.

[1] The restraint limits have not been adjusted to reflect any imports exported after December 31, 1983

The Committee for the Implementation of Textile Agreements has determined that these actions falls within the foreign affairs exception to the rulemaking provisions of 5 U.S.C. 553.

[1] According to the terms of the bilateral agreement of July 27 and August 8, 1983, under certain specified conditions any non-apparel specific limit or sublimit may be exceeded by not more than 7 percent, provided that the amount of the increase is compensated for by an equal square yard equivalent decrease in another specific limit in the same group; (2) specific levels of restraint may be increased for carryover and carryforward up to 11 percent of applicable category limit; and (3) administrative arrangements or adjustments may be made to resolve problems arising in the implementation of the agreement.

Sincerely,

Walter C. Lenahan,

Chairman, Committee for the Implementation of Textile Agreements.

Request for Public Comment on Bilateral Textile Consultations With the Government of Japan To Review Trade in Category 634 (Men's and Boys' Other Coats of Man-Made Fibers)

October 17, 1984.

On September 28, 1984 the Government of the United States requested consultations with the Government of Japan with respect to Category 634. This request was made on the basis of the bilateral agreement of August 17, 1979, as amended and extended, between the Governments of the United States and Japan relating to trade in cotton, wool and man-made fiber textiles and textile products.

The purpose of this notice is to advise the public that, until a different solution is reached in consultations, as a result of this request the Government of Japan should limit exports in Category 634, produced or manufactured in Japan and exported to the United States during the twelve-month period which began on January 1, 1984 and extends through December 31, 1984 to a level of 71,606 dozen. The U.S. Government reserves the right to control imports at this level.

A summary market disruption statement concerning this category follows this notice.

Anyone wishing to comment or provide data or information regarding the treatment of this categogy under the Bilateral Cotton, Wool and Man-Made Fiber Textile Agreement with the Government of Japan, or on any other aspect thereof, or to comment on domestic production or availability of textile products included in this category, is invited to submit such comments or information in ten copies to Mr. Walter C. Lenahan, Chairman, Committee for the Implementation of Textile Agreements, International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230. Because the exact timing of the consultations is not yet certain, comments should be submitted promptly. Comments or information submitted in response to this notice will be available for public inspection in the Office of Textiles and Apparel, Room 3100, U.S. Department of Commerce, 14th and Constitution Avenue, NW., Washington, D.C., and may be obtained upon written request.

Further comment may be invited regarding particular comments or information received from the public which the Committee for the Implementation of Textile Agreements considers appropriate for further consideration.

The solicitation of comments regarding any aspect of the agreement or the implementation thereof is not a waiver in any respect of the exemption contained in 5 U.S.C. 553(a)(1) relating to matters which constitute "a foreign affiars function of the United States."

Ronald I. Levin,

Acting Chairman, Committee for the Implementation of Textile Agreements.

Japan—Market Statement

Category 634—Men's and Boy's Man-Made Fiber Other Coats

September 1984.

U.S. imports of Category 634 from Japan nearly doubled to 65,377 dozen in the year ending August 1984. On the average, these imports more than doubled each year since 1981 when they totaled 11,308 dozen compared with 54,231 dozen in 1983. This is a sharp and substantial increase in imports which creates a real threat of market disruption.

Domestic production declined 14 percent during 1981–83 while imports increased 28 percent. In 1983, U.S. production was 5,121,000 dozen compared with 5,962,000 dozen in 1981. Imports rose from 2,449,000 dozen in 1981 to 3,123,000 dozen in 1983. As imports increased market share, the import to production ratio rose from 41.1 percent in the former year to 61.0 percent in the latter. Imports continued to increase significantly into 1984 with January–August 1984 Category 634 imports, at 2,392,000 dozen, 17 percent higher than the first eight months of 1983.

COPYRIGHT ROYALTY TRIBUNAL

[CRT Docket No. 83-2]

Order Directing Partial Distribution of 1982 Jukebox Royalty Fees

The Copyright Royalty Tribunal on August 31, 1984 published its final determination distributing 1982 Jukebox royalty fees (49 FR 34555). Subsequently A.C.E.M.L.A., Latin American Music and Latin American Music, Inc. has filed an appeal to the decision.

The Tribunal's order of December 13, 1983 (48 FR 55497) provided for substantial distribution of the 1982 royalties to those claimants who had reached a voluntary agreement. On January 19, 1984, 90% of the Tribunal's final award was distributed to the Italian Book Corporation, and 90% of the remainder of the royalty fund was distributed to the designated common agent of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers (ASCAP), Broadcast Music, Inc. (BMI) and SESAC.

Section 809 of the Copyright Act provides for the distribution of royalty fees that are not subject to an appeal, and where royalties would not be affected by an appeal under any circumstances, the Tribunal considers that it has the responsibility under Section 809 to distribute them. The Tribunal has resolved to retain 5% of the royalty fund to accommodate the practical consequences of any adjustments resulting from judicial review.

It is therefore ordered that, after withholding 5% of the royalty fund in reserve, effective November 22, 1984 the final $150 of the Italian Book Corporation award be distributed, and that the remainder of the royalty fund be distributed to the designated common agent of ASCAP, BMI & SESAC. It should be noted that the distribution of the total award to the Italian Book Corporation is made without precedent or prejudicial effect and solely for the purpose of administrative ease.

Dated: October 15, 1984.

Acting Chairman.

DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY

Floodplain Statement of Findings for 1984 Remedial Action To Be Taken at an Athletic Field in Wayne Township, Wayne, NJ

AGENCY: Department of Energy.

ACTION: Floodplain Statement of Findings for 1984 Remedial Action to be Taken at an Athletic Field in Wayne Township, New Jersey.

SUMMARY: The Formerly Utilized Sites Remedial Action Program (FUSRAP), Department of Energy (DOE), has prepared a floodplain assessment for proposed remedial action in calendar year 1984 at an athletic field in Wayne Township, pursuant to 10 CFR 1022.18, Compliance with Floodplains/Wetlands Environmental Review Requirements. The proposed action at the athletic field will take place within the Pompton River 100-year floodplain. Following publication of a notice of floodplain involvement (49 FR 30007; July 25, 1984), DOE prepared a floodplain assessment. No comments were received on the Federal Register notice. Alternatives to the proposed actions were identified, environmental impacts evaluated, and mitigative measures identified. Based on the assessment, DOE has determined that there are no practicable alternatives to the proposed action in the floodplain and that it has been designed to minimize potential harm to and within the floodplain.

Background

The athletic field in Wayne Township is currently contaminated as a result of processing, storage, and shipping of radioactive materials at the Wayne Interim-Storage Site (formerly the W.R. Grace Co. site) located in the northeast corner of New Jersey. The athletic field is located about 800 m (0.5 mi) WSW of the Wayne Site entrance (Figure 1). Decontamination and restoration are required to reduce the amount of residual radioactivity to levels below DOE residual contamination guidelines.

Contaminated material will be removed from a small area (537 m^2 [642 yd^2]) to a depth of 0.15 m (0.5 ft) within the athletic field and will be transported to the Wayne site for interim storage. The alternatives to the proposed action are (1) no action or (2) delay of action. These alternatives are not acceptable because they would result in continued potential health risk, continued potential for dispersion of the contaminated material by wind and flooding, continued closure of the athletic field to official activities due to the contamination, and continued public concern about health effects and property values.

Impacts resulting from the proposed action of excavation and transportation will be very minimal because of the small size and short duration of remedial activities. The habitat to be affected is not unique nor critical to the area, and any impacts will be of insufficient magnitude to cause localized extinction of any species.

Mitigative measures to reduce the risk of adverse environmental consequences include: Seeding and mulching (or sodding) of disturbed areas as soon as practicable after excavation; control of dust levels; and use of watertight, covered truck to avoid spillage.

As a result of its review of the alternatives and its evaluation of the environmental impacts, DOE has determined that there is no practicable alternative to the proposed action in the 100-year floodplain and that the action has been designed to minimize harm to and within the floodplain. All actions will be in conformity with local ordinances.

A copy of the floodplain assessment is available from: Arthur J. Whitman, Division of Remdial Action Projects, NE-24, U.S. Department of Energy, Washington, DC 20545, (301) 353-5439.

Issued in Washington, DC, on 5, October 1984.

James W. Vaughan, Jr.,

Acting Assistant Secretary for Nuclear Energy.

Floodplain Assessment

B.1— Project Purpose and Description

As part of its Formerly Utilized Sites Remedial Action Program (FUSRAP), the U.S. Department of Energy, Oak Ridge Operations, proposes to decontaminate properties in and around the vicinity of the Wayne, New Jersey, Interim-Storage Site (Figure 1).

The Wayne site (formerly known as the W.R. Grace and Company) is located in the northeast corner of New Jersey in the western portion of Wayne Township, Passaic Country, about 1.9 km (1.2 mi) east of Pompton Plains and about 2.9 km (1.8 mi) north of the town of Wayne. The Wayne site and several vicinity properties are contaminated as a result of processing, storage, and shipping of radioactive materials. Some of the vicinity properties are proposed for decontamination during the 1984 construction season. The removed contaminated soil will be placed in interim storage at the Wayne site.

One of the properties to be decontaminated in 1984 is the athletic field (also known as the ball field or soccer field) located between the Pompton River and Sheffield Brook (Figure 1). The athletic field is part of the Wayne Township park system. It is within the 100-year floodplain of the Pompton River (Wayne Munic. Counc. 1977). During recent spring rains, the athletic field was covered with about 3 m (10 ft) of water.

The proposed activity is to excavate about 0.15 m (0.5 ft) of contaminated soil from a 15 m x 35 m (50 ft x 115 ft) area within the athletic field, load it onto trucks, and transport the contaminated soil to the Wayne site for interim storage. Immediately after excavation is complete, the excavated area will be backfilled with clean soil and reseeded. A total of 84 m^3 (110 yd^3) is to be excavated. Remedial activities should be completed within one week.

B.2—Floodplain Effects

The athletic field contains plant species common to landscaped lawns such as fescue and blue grass; forested land borders the area between the athletic field and the Pompton River. The area to be excavated is periodically mowed. The fauna is limited due to a lack of suitable habitat. Commonly encountered species are those that have adapted to suburban/urban encroachment. Animals that may inhabit or frequent the proposed excavation area include birds (house sparrow, red-winged blackbird, starling, common crow, and robin), mammals (Norway rat, raccoon, opossum, house mouse, meadow vole, white-footed mouse, deer mouse, eastern mole, eastern cottontail rabbit, striped skunk, eastern gray squirrel, and shorttail shrew), and reptiles (eastern garter snake and American toad). No threatened or endangered species are known to occur on the athletic field.

Impacts associated with the proposed excavation and backfilling activities on the floodplain will be minimal. Remedial activities will be completed within one week, the small volume of soil to be removed will require approximately 12 truckloads, and the excavated area will be backfilled and reseeded. The impacts of noise and exhaust fumes upon the local flora and fauna will be less from the remedial action than from vehicles bringing people to ball games or other recreational activities. The action will be scheduled to coincide with a propitious weather forecast. The habitat to be affected is not unique or critical.

B.3—Alternatives

Possible alternatives to the proposed action are (1) delay action or (2) take no action. These alternatives are not acceptable because they would result in continued potential health risk, continued potential for dispersion of the contaminated material by wind and flooding, continued closure of the athletic field to official activities due to the contamination, and continued adverse social impacts such as concern about health effects and property values. Thus it is prudent to proceed with the proposed action during the 1984 construction season.

B.4—Mitigation

Proper construction and maintenance procedures will be used to minimize potential impacts, and mitigative measures will be implemented to further reduce the risk of adverse environmental consequences. Mitigative measures include:

- Seeding and mulching (or sodding) of disturbed areas as soon as practicable after excavation is completed.
- Control of dust levels (e.g., by water sprays).
- Use of watertight, covered trucks.
- Decontamination of all trucks, as necessary, before entering public highways.

GCO Minerals Co.; Action Taken on Consent Order

AGENCY: Economic Regulatory Administration, Energy.

ACTION: Notice of action taken on Consent Order.

SUMMARY: The Economic Regulatory Administration (ERA) of the Department of Energy (DOE) announces that it has adopted a Consent Order with GCO Minerals Company (GCO) as a final order of DOE.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 22, 1984.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: James O. Neet, Jr., Chief Counsel, Dallas Field Office, Economic Regulatory Administration, Department of Energy, Suite 200E, 1341 W. Mockingbird Lane, Dallas, Texas 75247, or call (214) 767–7401.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On August 16, 1984, the ERA published a notice in the Federal Register that it had executed a Consent Order with GCO on June 7, 1984, which would not become effective sooner than 30 days after publication of that notice. Pursuant to 10 CFR 205.199J(c), interested persons were invited to submit comments concerning the terms and conditions of the proposed Consent Order.

Comments were received from two entities representing a total of 9 states. None of the comments objected to the Consent Order. All of the comments focused on the proposed distribution of funds (if any) remaining after payment to identifiable injured parties. All the comments advocated that any remaining finds be distributed on a pro-rata basis to various states to finance energy related projects.

The proposed Consent Order stated that DOE will deposit the sum of $1,800,000.00 received from GCO into a suitable account for later distribution by DOE. The ultimate distribution of these funds will depend upon several factors, including the type of alleged violations underlying the Consent Order and the ability of the ERA to identify GCO customers which may be entitled to a refund of these funds. ERA has not yet determined an appropriate distribution for the refunded amount. Accordingly, as the Consent Order provides, the monies will be placed in a DOE interest bearing escrow account until an appropriate distribution is determined.

Having considered all comments submitted, DOE has determined that the proposed Consent Order with GCO should be made final without modification. The Consent Order was adopted as a final order on (date of publication of this notice).

Issued in Dallas, Texas on the 20th day of September 1984.

Texas International Co., Action Taken on Consent Order

AGENCY: Economic Regulatory Administration, Energy.

ACTION: Notice of Action Taken on Consent Order.

SUMMARY: The Economic Regulatory Administration (ERA) of the Department of Energy (DOE) announces that it has adopted a Consent Order with Texas International Co. (TIC) and Texas International Petroleum Corporation (TIPCO) as a final order of DOE.

EFFECTIVE DATE: September 14, 1984.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Sandra K. Webb, Director, Houston Office, Economic Regulatory Administration, U.S. Department of Energy, One Allen Center, Suite 610, 500 Dallas St., Houston, Texas 77002, (713) 229–3715.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On August 6, 1984, the ERA published a notice in the Federal Register that it had executed a Consent Order with TIC and TIPCO on July 3, 1984, which would not become effective sooner than 30 days after publication of that notice. Pursuant to 10 CFR 205.199J(c) interested persons were invited to submit comments concerning the terms and conditions of the proposed Consent Order.

The Consent Order resolves the potential civil liability of TIC and TIPCO arising out of the Federal Petroleum Price and Allocation Regulations in connection with certain transactions involving first sales of crude oil during the period September 1973 through December 31, 1975. The Consent Order requires TIC and TIPCO to remit the sum of $1,456,374.33 plus installment interest in five installments.

Comments were received from three states. All of the comments focused on the distribution of the funds and none of the comments objected to the Consent Order. All of the comments advocated that the Consent Order proceeds, after payment to identifiable injured customers, should be distributed on a pro-rata basis to the states.

Because the comments addressed only the disposition of the funds, the ERA has made the proposed Consent Order final without modification. The ultimate disposition of the funds will depend on several factors, such as the type of alleged violations underlying the Consent Order and the ability of the ERA to identify the persons who ultimately bore the burden of alleged violations. The suggestions of the commenters regarding the distribution of funds will be considered in determining the appropriate ultimate disposition. The proposed Consent Order, therefore, was made final and effective on September 14, 1984.

Issued in Houston, Texas on the 14th day of September 1984.

CP National Corp.; Order Accepting Rate for Filing Subject to Refund or Adjustment, Granting Intervention, Providing Additional Opportunity for Comment, Deferring Further Procedures, and Terminating Docket

Issued: October 15, 1984.

Before Commissioners: Raymond J. O'Connor, Chairman; Georgiana Sheldon, A. G. Sousa, Oliver G. Richard III and Charles G. Stalon.

On August 20, 1984, CP National Corporation (CPN) filed a Revised Appendix 1 to Exhibit C of its Residential Purchase and Sale Agreement with the Bonneville Power Administration (BPA),[1] together with BPA's report on the proposed Average System Cost (ASC) rate, pursuant to the Pacific Northwest Electric Power Planning and Conservation Act [2] and the Commission's implementing regulations.

Notice of CPN's filing was published in the Federal Register, with comments due on or before September 11, 1984. The DSIs filed a timely motion to intervene, stating that they have a direct and substantial interest in the outcome of CPN's rate determination. The DSIs indicate that there are a number of issues which they wish to raise with regard to the filing and attach to their motion a copy of their comments to BPA on the CPN filing. However, the DSIs fail to specify the details of their objections to the BPA-adjusted ASC rate in their pleading. The DSIs request an opportunity to comment on any issues raised in this filing by other parties and seek to reserve the right to request a hearing or an oral argument later in this proceeding.

BPA filed a notice of intervention one day out of time. BPA does not identify any specific issues which it wishes to comment upon but indicates that it will respond to any comments raised by other parties. BPA also states that it may later request oral argument.

[1] See Attachment for rate schedule designation.

[2] 16 U.S.C. 839.

Discussion

Under Rule 214(c)(1) of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR § 385.214), the unopposed intervention of the DSIs serves to make them a party to this proceeding. We shall also grant BPA's late-filed intervention, in light of BPA's apparent interest and because the minimal delay in filing will not prejudice or unduly burden any other participant to this proceeding.[3]

Although the DSIs make reference to certain aspects of CPN's filing in their pleading, they have not specified the relief sought or the basis for that relief. We recognize that the DSIs and other intervenors have filed similar pleadings in a number of prior dockets involving ASC filings. A limited pleading was adequate under the intrim ASC rule, since its primary function was to establish intervenor status and to protect rights pending development of final procedures. However, since the issuance of a final ASC rule in Order No. 337,[4] the Commission has had to focus on specific outstanding issues not resolved by the rule.

We stated in our recent order in Pacific Power & Light Company [5] that, if ASC filings are to be processed expeditiously and the Commission is to retain any flexibility in determining what procedural or substantive course is warranted in a given case, there is every reason to require that such specification of positions be forthcoming from the outset. We indicated that, in future ASC cases, we would expect a clear identification of the contested issues in the initial pleadings. However, inasmuch as the DSIs (and CPN) were not informed of this approach before they tendered their filings, we shall provide these parties with a further opportunity to present their cases before we determine how to proceed in this docket. In the meantime, we shall accept CPN's submittal for filing and defer any decision as to further procedures. As provided in the ASC rule (18 CFR 35.31(c)), the revised ASC rate shall remain subject to refund or other adjustment pending final Commission action.

[3] We also note that, although not reiterated in its intervention, as technically required under Rule 214(a)(1), BPA's position is effectively reflected in its report on and adjustments to CPN's rate proposal.

The Commission Orders

(A) BPA's intervention is hereby granted, subject to the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure.

(B) CPN's revised ASC rate is hereby accepted for filing, to become effective as of April 1, 1984, subject to refund or other adjustment.

(C) The DSIs and CPN shall have fifteen (15) days from the date of this order in which to supplement their pleadings or objections to (1) identify all issues which they wish to contest, (2) explain the basis for any proposed adjustment, and (3) demonstrate associated revenue calculations. All parties shall thereafter have fifteen (15) days in which to respond to the initial comments of any other party.

(D) Pending receipt and review of the information set forth in Paragraph (C) above, further action in this docket is hereby deferred.

(E) Docket No. ER84-610-000 is hereby terminated. Upon receipt of the supplemental pleadings described above, a new subdocket number will be assigned.

(F) The Secretary shall promptly publish this order in the Federal Register.

By the Commission.

Florida Power & Light Co.; Filing

October 12, 1984.

The filing Company submits the following:

Take notice that on October 3, 1984, Florida Power & Light Company (FP&L) tendered for filing a document entitled Amendment Number Ten to Agreement to provide Specified Transmission service between FP&L and the City of Vero Beach, Florida (Rate Schedule FERC No. 58).

FP&L states that under Amendment Number Ten, FP&L will transmit power and energy for City of Vero Beach, Florida as is required in the implementation of its interchange agreement with City of Starke, Florida.

FP&L requests a waiver of the Commission's regulations be granted and that the proposed Amendment be made effective immediately.

Copies of this filing were served upon Vero Beach.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a motion to intervene or protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with Rules 211 and 214 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.211, 385.214). All such motions or protests should be filed on or before October 30, 1984. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a motion to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

October 15, 1984.

Take notice that each of the applicants listed herein has filed an application pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act and § 157.40 of the Regulations thereunder for a "small producer" certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the sale for resale and delivery of natural gas in interstate commerce, all as more fully set forth in the applications which are on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make protest with reference to said applications should on or before October 29, 1984, file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, petitions to intervene or protests in accordance with requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.211, 214). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Persons wishing to become parties to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file petitions to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicants to appear or be represented at the hearing.

[Docket No. ER84-604-000]

Southwestern Public Service Co.; Order Accepting for Filing and Suspending Rates, Denying Motions To Reject, Ordering Summary Disposition in Part, Noting Interventions, and Establishing Hearing and Price Squeeze Procedures

Issued: October 15, 1984.

Before Commissioners: Raymond J. O'Connor, Chairman; Georgiana Sheldon, A.G. Sousa, Oliver G. Richard III and Charles G. Stalon.

On August 16, 1984, Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS) submitted for filing a proposed two-step increase in its rates to 19 full requirements and five partial requirements wholesale customers.[1] The proposed Phase I rates would increase revenues by about $8.3 million (5.2%) for the 12-month test period ending August 31, 1985. The Phase II rates would further increase revenues by approximately $4.1 million (2.1%), representing a total increase of about $12.4 million (6.65%). Approximately 34.9% of the Phase I and 43.1% of the proposed Phase II increases reflect the inclusion in rate base of construction work in progress (CWIP) other than CWIP asociated with pollution control and fuel conversion facilities. SPS requests that the Phase I and Phase II rates become effective on October 16, 1984, and October 17,1984, respectively. In the event that the Phase I rates are suspended for five months, SPS requests that they be deemed withdrawn. The company also tendered for filing a proposed changed in its rate for non-firm service to the City of Brownfield, Texas, whereby a split-savings rate would be substituted for the current incremental cost plus adder rate. SPS states that this change is intended to make Brownfield's rate consistent with the company's other non-firm rates on file with the Commission. SPS requests that the proposed rates for Brownfield become effective on October 16, 1984.

Notice of the filing was published in the Federal Register, with comments due on or before September 15, 1984. Texas-New Mexico Power Company (TNP) filed a timely motion to intervene. TNP states that it purchases power from SPS for resale but raises no substantive issues. On September 17, 1984, the Cities of Lubbock, Brownfield, Floydada, and Tulia, Texas (Municipals); Brownfield; and the full requirements cooperative customers of SPS (Cooperatives) [2] also filed timely motions to intervene.[3]

[1] This notice does not provide for consolidation for hearing of the several matters covered herein.

[3] Because the established comment date fell on a Saturday, the comment period ran until the close of business on the following Monday, September 17, 1984, pursuant to Rule 2007 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure.

The Municipals assert that SPS has failed to submit required supporting workpapers and request that the filing be rejected or found deficient on that basis. In the alternative, the Municipals request that the proposed rates be suspended for five months. In support of their request for a maximum suspension, the Municipals cite the following issues: (1) Rate of return on common equity; (2) Accumulated Deferred Investment Tax Credits (ADITC); (3) tax adjustment related to prior tax flow-through; (4) cash working capital allowance; (5) State income tax composite rate; (6) depreciation rates; and (7) the company's operating reserves.

In addition to adopting the Municipal's stated grounds for requesting a hearing and five month suspension, Brownfield asserts that treatment of investment tax credits in a manner consistent with Opinion No. 162 [4] would justify a reduction in SPS's partial requirements rates, rather than an increase. With regard to the proposed change in its non-firm tariff, Brownfield contends that SPS has failed to supply sufficient supporting data and requests that that portion of the filing be rejected or deemed deficient. Alternatively, Brownfield requests a five month suspension of the revised non-firm rate provision.[5]

In their motion to intervene, the Cooperatives request that the filing be rejected, citing the company's inclusion of ADITC as a separate component of its capital structure as well as numerous filing deficiencies. In the event that the Commission does not reject the filing, the Cooperatives request summary disposition of the company's inclusion of ADITC in the equity component of its capital structure and a five month suspension.[6] The Cooperatives also request that price squeeze procedures be established and that their price squeeze allegations be considered in determining a suspension period for the proposed rates.

On October 2, 1984, SPS filed a response to the pleadings of TNP, the Municipals, Brownfield, and the Cooperatives. While not opposing the motions to intervene, the company protests Brownfield's representation by two separate counsel in this proceeding, resulting from the City's intervention on its own behalf and as one of the group of Municipals.[7] SPS also asserts that neither rejection of its filing nor a five month suspension of the proposed Phase I rates is warranted and opposes the Cooperatives' CWIP-related protest. Finally, the company requests summary disposition with respect to:(1) Its proposed method of demand allocation; and (2) the Cooperatives' price squeeze allegations. The Cooperatives opposed these motions for summary disposition in a response filed on October 5, 1984.

Discussion

Pursuant to Rule 214(c)(1) of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.214), the timely motions to intervene of TNP, the Municipals, Brownfield, and the Cooperatives serve to make them parties to this proceeding.

The intervenors cite a number of alleged omissions in SPS's filing in support of their requests for rejection or issuance of a deficiency letter. We agree that the filing is not as complete as it should have been. If the Commission is to accomplish its missions as expeditiously as possible, we must have fuller adherence to our filing regulations. Nonetheless, having evaluated SPS's submittal, we believe that it minimally satisfies our threshold filing requirements and is not patently deficient. Therefore, we shall deny the requests for rejection.

We find that summary disposition is warranted with respect to SPS's inclusion of ADITC in its capitalization. Consistent with well-established Commission precedent,[8] we shall direct SPS to exclude the ADITC balance from its capital structure. Further, given the associated revenue impact, we shall require the company to refile its cost of service and rates to reflect this determination. It appears that summary disposition might also be warranted with regard to SPS's proposed method of demand allocation, although we are not prepared to reach that question on the basis of the pleadings before us. As SPS points out, the Commission rejected a 12-CP allocation method in favor of a 3-CP method for SPS in Opinion No. 162, 22 FERC ¶ 61,341 (1983). Barring a persuasive showing that circumstances may have changed in such a way as to warrant a different conclusion, there would be no reason to relitigate this issue. In their October 5 pleading, the Cooperatives have alleged changed circumstances only in very general terms. However, we believe that they should be provided with an opportunity to elaborate on their position, particularly in view of the short turn-around time in which their response was necessarily filed. Therefore, we shall deny SPS's motion for summary disposition without prejudice to its renewal before the presiding administrative law judge designated in this case.

Our review of SPS's submittal and the pleadings indicates that the filing has not been shown to be just and reasonable and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory or preferential, or otherwise unlawful. Accordingly, we shall accept SPS's submittal for filing, as modified by summary disposition, and we shall suspend it as ordered below.

In West Texas Utilities Company, 18 FERC ¶ 61,189 (1982), we explained that rate filings would ordinarily be suspended for one day where preliminary review indicates that the proposed rates may be unjust and unreasonable but may not produce substantially excessive revenues. Our preliminary review of SPS's filing suggests that the Phase I rates may not yield substantially excessive revenues but that the Phase II rates, after summary disposition, may be substantially excessive.[9] Therefore, we shall suspend the Phase I rates for one day, to become effective, as revised, on October 17, 1984, subject to refund, and the Phase II rates for five months, to become effective, as revised on March 17, 1985, subject to refund. In light of Brownfield's objection to SPS's proposed revision to the nonfirm tariff, we shall also suspend that portion of the submittal for a nominal period, to [4] 22 FERC ¶ 61,341, reh'g. denied, 23 FERC ¶ 61,406 (1983), app. pending, Southwestern Pub. Serv. Co. v. FERC, No. 83-1759 (10th Cir. filed Dec. 7, 1983).

[5] In support of its request for a maximum suspension of the tariff change, Brownfield estimates its impact on the city's non-firm rates, but identifies no particular challenge to the split-savings rate. Rather, Brownfield contends that it will require the five month suspension period to fully evaluate the impact of the proposed tariff revision and to begin to implement any measures to minimize that impact. Brownfield filed an affidavit in further support of these contentions on September 18, 1984.

[6] With regard to their request for a maximum suspension, the Cooperatives raise numerous cost of service issues, including: (1) Treatment of ADITC; (2) rate of return on equity; (3) depreciation; (4) rate case expense; (5) allocation of distribution plant; (6) revenue credits; (7) working capital allowance, including cash working capital; (8) demand cost allocation; and (9) CWIP allowance. The Cooperatives also allege that SPS has failed to state its proposed accounting procedures regarding treatment of the CWIP claimed, as required by § 35.26(g) of the Commission's regulations.

[7] We shall leave to the discretion of the presiding administrative law judge the question of whether such dual representation would pose any problem of prejudice or delay.

[8] E.g., Central Power & Light Company, 15 FERC ¶ 61,191 (1981); Public Service Company of New Mexico, 14 FERC ¶ 61,194 (1981); Public Service Company of Oklahoma, 5 FERC ¶ 61,032 (1978).

[9] The Commission has noted, on a number of occasions, that, in the absence of extraordinary circumstances, unproved price squeeze allegations should not be considered in determining an appropriate suspension period. We are not persuaded that the Cooperatives have demonstrated such extraordinary circumstances in this case.

become effective on October 17, 1984, subject to refund.[10]

Finally, with respect to the Cooperatives' allegation as to price squeeze, we shall institute phased price squeeze procedures as set forth in Arkansas Power and Light Company, 8 FERC ¶ 61,131 (1979).[11]

The Commission Orders

(A) The intervenors' motions to reject are hereby denied.

(B) Summary disposition is hereby directed, as noted in the body of this order, with respect to SPS's inclusion of ADITC in its capitalization. Within thirty (30) days of the date of this order, SPS shall file revised cost statements and rates reflecting this determination. SPS's motion for summary disposition with respect to the demand allocation issue raised by the Cooperatives is denied without prejudice, as discussed in the body of this order. The company's motion for summary disposition of the Cooperatives' price squeeze allegations is hereby denied.

(C) SPS' submittal is hereby accepted for filing, as modified by summary disposition. The amended Phase I rates and the proposed change in rate for non-firm service to Brownfield are suspended for one day, to become effective, subject to refund, on October 17, 1984; the revised Phase II rates are suspended for five months, to become effective, subject to refund, on March 17, 1985.

(D) Pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission by section 402(a) of the Department of Energy Organization Act and by the Federal Power Act, particularly sections 205 and 206 thereof, and pursuant to the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure and the regulations under the Federal Power Act (18 CFR, Chapter I), a public hearing shall be held concerning the justness and reasonableness of SPS's submittal.

(E) The Commission staff shall serve top sheets in this proceeding within ten (10) days of the date of this order.

(F) A presiding administrative law judge, to be designated by the Chief Administrative Law Judge, shall convene a conference in this proceeding to be held within approximately fifteen (15) days after service of top sheets in a hearing room of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, N.E., Washington, D.C. 20426. The presiding judge is authorized to establish procedural dates and to rule on all motions (except motions to dismiss) as provided in the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure.

(G) The Commission hereby orders initiation of price squeeze procedures and further orders that this proceeding be phased so that the price squeeze procedures begin after issuance of a Commission opinion establishing the rate which, but for consideration of price squeeze, would be just and reasonable. The presiding judge may order a change in this schedule for good cause shown. The price squeeze portion of this case shall be governed by the procedures set forth in § 2.17 of the Commission's regulations as they may be modified prior to the initiation of the price squeeze phase of this proceeding.

(H) The Secretary shall promptly publish this order in the Federal Register.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

[10] However, we note that Brownfield has made no specific allegation as to why, or indeed if, the proposed split-savings rate is unreasonable, excessive, or in any way not justified; we further note that such a rate is an industry standard for energy purchases of an economic nature and that this rate is identical to SPS's rates for non-firm service to other customers. Nonetheless, in view of our decision to convene a hearing in this docket, in any event, to review other elements of SPS's filing, we shall afford Brownfield an opportunity to present a case on the non-firm rate.

[11] We shall deny the company's motion for summary disposition of this issue. Contrary to SPS's contentions, the intervenors were not required to establish a prima facie case at this early stage of the case in order to trigger institution of phased price squeeze procedures.

[Docket No. TC84-16-001]

Tennessee Gas Pipeline Co., a Division of Tenneco Inc.; Tariff Sheet Filings

October 16, 1984.

Take notice that on October 11, 1984, Tennessee Gas Pipeline Company, a Division of Tenneco Inc. (Tennessee), Tenneco Building, P.O. Box 2511, Houston, Texas 77001, filed in Docket No. TC84-16-001 the following revised tariff sheets to its FERC Gas Tariff to be effective November 1, 1984:

Original Volume No. 1

Substitute Original Sheet No. 21A
First Revised Sheet Nos. 46, 47, 48, 49, 52 and 53
Second Revised Sheet No. 50
Fourth Revised Sheet No. 131

Tennessee states that the purpose of this filing is to include Fourth Revised Sheet No. 131 which was inadvertently omitted from its September 14, 1984, filing in Docket No. TC84-16-000 and to renumber the pages for various other tariff sheets. Tennessee, on September 14, 1984, in Docket No. TC84-16-000, filed pursuant to § 281.204(b)(2) of the Commission's Regulations, various tariff sheets to update its index of entitlements to reflect changes in priority 2 entitlements (Essential Agricultural Uses).

Tennessee states that the tariff sheets herein do not reflect any substantive changes to the tariff sheets previously filed and requests that the tariff sheets be permitted to become effective November 1, 1984, as proposed.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said tariff sheet filing should on or before October 29, 1984, file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a motion to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.214 or 385.211). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a motion to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

Texas Gas Transmission Corp.; Proposed Changes in FPC Gas Tariff

October 15, 1984.

Take notice that Texas Gas Transmission Corporation (Texas Gas), on October 10, 1984 tendered for filing Revised Substitute Forty-Seventh Revised Sheet No. 7 to its FPC Gas Tariff, Third Revised Volume No. 1. This sheet is being issued to reflect reduced rates pursuant to the Commission Order issued September 18, 1984, in Docket No. CP83-485.

Copies of the filing were served upon the company's jurisdictional customers and interested state commissions.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, NE, Washington, DC 20426, in accordance with Rules 211 and 214 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 385.211 and (385.214). All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before October 22, 1984. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

Energy Information Administration

Publication of Alternative Fuel Price Ceilings and Incremental Price Threshold for High Cost Natural Gas

The Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978 (NGPA) (Pub. L. 95-621) signed into law on November 9, 1978, mandated a new framework for the regulation of most facets of the natural gas industry. In general, under Title II of the NGPA, interstate natural gas pipeline companies are required to pass through certain portions of their acquisition costs for natural gas to industrial users in the form of a surcharge. The statute requires that the ultimate costs of gas to the industrial facility should not exceed the cost of the fuel oil which the facility could use as an alternative.

Pursuant to Title II of the NGPA, section 204(e), the Energy Information Administration (EIA) herewith publishes for the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) computed natural gas ceiling prices and the high cost gas incremental pricing threshold which are to be effective November 1, 1984. These prices are based on the prices of alternative fuels.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Leroy Brown, Jr., Energy Information Administration, 1000 Independence Avenue, SW., Room BE-034, Washington, D.C. 20585, Telephone: (202) 252-6077.

Section I.

As required by FERC Order No. 50, computed prices are shown for the 48 contiguous States. The District of Columbia's ceiling is included with the ceiling for the State of Maryland. FERC, by an Interim Rule issued on March 2, 1981, in Docket No. RM79-21, revised the methodology for calculating the monthly alternative fuel price ceilings for State regions. Under the revised methodology, the applicable alternative fuel price ceiling published for each of the contiguous States shall be the lower of the alternative fuel price ceiling for the State or the alternative fuel price ceiling for the multistate region in which the State is located.

The price ceiling is expressed in dollars per million British Thermal Units (BTU's). The method used to determine the price ceilings is described in Section III.

[1] Region based price as required by FERC Interim Rule, issued on March 2, 1981, in Docket No. RM-79-21.
[2] Region based price computed as the weighted average price of Regions E, F, G, and H.

Section II. Incremental Pricing Threshold for High Cost Natural Gas

The EIA has determined that the volume-weighted average price for No. 2 distillate fuel oil landed in the greater New York City Metropolitan area during August 1984 was $31.40 per barrel. In order to establish the incremental pricing threshold for high cost natural gas, as identified in the NGPA, Title II, Section 203(a)(7), this price was multiplied by 1.3 and converted to its equivalent in millions of BTU's by dividing by 5.8. Therefore, the incremental pricing threshold for high cost natural gas, effective November 1, 1984, is $7.04 per million BTU's.

Section III. Method Used To Compute Price Ceilings

The FERC, by Order No. 50, issued on September 29, 1979, in Docket No. RM79-21, established the basis for determining the price ceilings required by the NGPA. FERC also, by Order No. 167, issued in Docket No. RM81-27 on July 24, 1981, made permanent the rule that established that only the price paid for No. 6 high sulfur content residual fuel oil would be used to determine the price ceilings. In addition, the FERC, by Order No. 181, issued on October 6, 1981, in Docket No. RM81-28, established that price ceilings should be published for only the 48 contiguous States on a permanent basis.

A. Data Collected

The following data were required from all companies identified by the EIA as sellers of No. 6 high sulfur content (greater than 1 percent sulfur content by weight) residual fuel oil: for each selling price, the number of gallons sold to large industrial users in the months of June 1984, July 1984, and August 1984.[1] All reports of volume sold and price were identified by the State into which the oil was sold.

B. Method Used to Determine Alternative Price Ceilings

(1) Calculation of Volume-Weighted Average Price. The prices which will become effective November 1, 1984, (shown in Section I) are based on the reported price of No. 6 high sulfur content residual fuel oil, for each of the 48 contiguous States, for each of the 3 months, June 1984, July 1984, and August 1984. Reported prices for sales in June 1984 were adjusted by the percent change in the nationwide volume-weighted average price from June 1984 to August 1984. Prices for July 1984 were similarly adjusted by the percent change in the nationwide volume-weighted average price from July 1984 to August 1984. The volume-weighted 3-month average of the adjusted June 1984 and July 1984, and the reported August 1984 prices were then computed for each State.

(2) Adjustment for Price Variation. States were grouped into the regions identified by the FERC (see Section III.C.). Using the adjusted prices and associated volumes reported in a region during the 3-month period, the volume-weighted standand deviation of prices was calculated for each region. The volume-weighted 3-month average price (as calculated in Section III.B. (1) above) for each State was adjusted downward by two times this standard deviation for the region to form the adjusted weighted average price for the State.

(3) Calculation of Ceiling Price. The lowest selling price within the State was determined for each month of the 3-month period (after adjusting up or down by the percent change in oil prices at the national level as discussed in Section III.B(1) above). The products of the adjusted low price for each month times the State's total reported sales volume for each month were summed over the 3-month period for each State and divided by the State's total sales volume during the 3 months to determine the State's average low price. The adjusted weighted average price (as calculated in Section III.B.(2)) was compared to this average low price, and the higher of the values was selected as the base for determining the alternative fuel price ceiling for each State. For those States which had no reported sales during one or more months of the 3-month period, the appropriate regional volume-weighted alternative fuel price was computed and used in combination with the available State data to calculate the State alternative fuel price ceiling base. The State's alternative fuel price ceiling base was compared to the alternative fuel price ceiling base for the multistate region in which the State is located and the lower of these two prices was selected as the final alternative fuel price ceiling base for the State. The appropriate lag adjustment factor (as discussed in Section III.B.4) was then applied to the alternative fuel price ceiling base. The alternative fuel price (expressed in dollars per gallon) was multiplied by 42 and divided by 6.3 to estimate the alternative fuel price ceiling for the State (expressed in dollars per million BTU's).

There were insufficient sales reported in Region G for the months of June 1984, July 1984, and August 1984. The alternative fuel price ceilings for the States in Region G were determined by calculating the volume-weighted average price ceilings for Region E, Region F, Region G, and Region H.

(4) Lag Adjustment. The EIA has implemented a procedure to partially compensate for the two-month lag between the end of the month for which data are collected and the beginning of the month for which ceiling prices become effective. It was determined the

[1] Large Industrial User—A person/firm which purchases No. 6 fuel oil in quantities of 4,000 gallons or greater for consumption in a business, including the space heating of the business premises. Electric utilities, governmental bodies (Federal, State, or Local), and the military are excluded.

Platt's Oilgram Price Report Publication provides timely information relative to the subject. The prices found in Platt's Oilgram Price Report publication are given for each trading day in the form of high and low prices for No. 6 residual oil in 20 cities throughout the United States. The low posted prices for No. 6 residual oil in these cities were used to calculate a national and a regional lag adjustment factor. The national lag adjustment factor was obtained by calculating a weighted average price for No. 6 high sulfur residual fule oil for the ten trading days ending October 15, 1984, and dividing that price by the corresponding weighted average price computed from prices published by Platt's for the month of August 1984. A regional lag adjustment factor was similarly calculated for four regions. These are: one for FERC Regions A and B combined; one for FERC Region C; one for FERC Regions D, E, and G combined; and one for FERC Regions F and H combined. The lower of the national or regional lag factor was then applied to the alternative fuel price ceiling for each State in a given regional as calculated in Section III.B.(3).

Listing of States by Region

States were grouped by the FERC to form eight distinct regions as follows:

Region A	Region B
Connecticut	Delaware
Maine	Maryland
Massachusetts	New Jersey
New Hampshire	New York
Rhode Island	Pennsylvania
Vermont
Region C	Region D
Alabama	Illinois
Florida	Indiana
Georgia	Kentucky
Mississippi	Michigan
North Carolina	Ohio
South Carolina	West Virginia
Tennessee	Wisconsin
Virginia
Region E	Region F
Iowa	Arkansas
Kansas	Louisina
Missouri	New Mexico
Minnesota	Oklahoma
Nebraska	Texas
North Dakota
South Dakota
Region G	Region H
Colorado	Arizona
Idaho	California
Montana	Nevada
Utah	Oregon
Wyoming	Washington

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

[OPTS-59170A; TS-FRL 2698-6]

Certain Chemicals; Approval of Test Marketing Exemption

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: This notice announces EPA's approval of an application for a test marketing exemption (TME) under section 5(h)(6) of the Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA), TME-84-81. The test marketing conditions are described below.

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 12, 1984.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Anna Coutlakis, Premanufacture Notice Management Branch, Chemical Control Division (TS-794), Office of Toxic Substances, Environmental Protection Agency, Rm. E-611B, 401 M St. SW., Washington, DC 20460, (202-382-2252).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Section 5(h)(1) of TSCA authorizes EPA to exempt persons from premanufacture notification (PMN) requirements and permit them to manufacture or import new chemical substances for test marketing purposes if the Agency finds that the manufacture, processing, distribution in commerce, use, and disposal of the substances for test marketing purposes will not present any unreasonable risk of injury to health or the environment. EPA may impose restrictions on test marketing activities, and may modify or revoke a test marketing exemption upon receipt of new information which casts significant doubt on its finding that the test marketing activity will not present any unreasonable risk of injury.

EPA hereby approves TME-84-81. EPA has determined that test marketing of the new chemical substance described below, under the conditions set out in the TME application, and for the time periods and restrictions (if any) specified below, will not present any unreasonable risk of injury to health or the environment. Numbers and identities of customers, production volume, number of workers exposed to the new chemical, and the levels and durations of exposure must not exceed those specified in the application. All other conditions and restrictions described in the application and in this notice must be met.

The following additional restrictions apply: A bill of lading accompanying each shipment must state that use of the substance is restricted to that approved in the TME. In addition, the submitter shall maintain the following records until five years after the date they are created, and shall make them available for inspection or copying in accordance with section 11 of TSCA:

1. The applicant must maintain records of the quantity of the TME substance produced and must make these records available to EPA upon request.

2. The applicant must maintain daily records of the number of workers exposed, the level of exposure, and the duration of exposure.

3. The applicant must maintain records of the date(s) of shipment(s) to each customer and the quantities supplied in each shipment, and must make these records available to EPA upon request.

4. The applicant must maintain copies of the bill of lading that accompanies each shipment of the TME substance.

TME 84-81

Date of Receipt: August 30, 1984.

Notice of Receipt: September 7, 1984 (49 FR 35414).

Applicant: Confidential.

Chemical: (G) Tris aryl phosphite.

Use: (G) Additive for oils, lubricants, fuels, and/or plastics.

Production Volume: Confidential.

Number and Identity of Customers: Confidential.

Worker Exposure: Manufacturing and processing-dermal and inhalation, up to 8 hours/day, up to 6 months.

Test Marketing Period: 6 months.

Commencing on: October 12, 1984.

Risk Assessment: EPA has identified concerns for health and ecotoxicity based on analogy to substances of similar structure. However, human and environmental exposures are not expected to be significant under the test marketing conditions. Worker exposure during manufacturing and processing of the test market substance is expected to be low and of short duration. Workers are required to wear protective equipment including gloves and respirators, as specified in the test market application and the Material Safety Data Sheet. No significant environmental releases of the substance are anticipated. The test marketing substance will not pose any unreasonable risk of injury to health or the environment.

Public Comments. None.

The Agency reserves the right to rescind approval or modify the conditions and restirctions of an exemption should any new information come to its attention which casts significant doubt on its finding that the test marketing activities will not present any unreasonable risk of injury to health or the environment.

Dated: October 12, 1984.

Illini Community Bancorp, Inc., et al.; Formations of; Acquisitions by; and Mergers of Bank Holding Companies

The companies listed in this notice have applied for the Board's approval under section 3 of the Bank Holding Company Act (12 U.S.C. 1842) and § 225.14 of the Board's Regulation Y (12 CFR 225.14) to become a bank holding company or to acquire a bank or bank holding company. The factors that are considered in acting on the applications are set forth in section 3(c) of the Act (12 U.S.C. 1842(c)).

Each application is available for immediate inspection at the Federal Reserve Bank indicated. Once the application has been accepted for processing, it will also be available for inspection at the offices of the Board of Governors. Interested persons may express their views in writing to the Reserve Bank or to the offices of the Board of Governors. Any comment on an application that requests a hearing must include a statement of why a written presentation would not suffice in lieu of a hearing, identifying specifically any questions of fact that are in dispute and summarizing the evidence that would be presented at a hearing.

Unless otherwise noted, comments regarding each of these applications must be received not later than November 13, 1984.

A. Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago (Franklin D. Dreyer, Vice President) 230 South LaSalle Street, Chicago, Illinois 60690:

1. Illini Community Bancorp, Inc., Springfield, Illinois; to acquire 100 percent of the voting shares of Sagamon Banc Shares, Inc., Springfield, Illinois, thereby indirectly acquiring First State Bank of Danvers, Danvers, Illinois.

Marine Corporation, et al.; Applications To Engage de Novo in Permissible Nonbanking Activities

The companies listed in this notice have filed an application under § 225.23(a)(1) of the Board's Regulation Y (12 CFR 225.23(a)(1)) for the Board's approval under section 4(c)(8) of the Bank Holding Company Act (12 U.S.C. 1843(c)(8)) and § 225.21(a) of Regulation Y (12 CFR 225.21(a)) to commence or to engage de novo, either directly or through a subsidiary, in a nonbanking activity that is listed in § 225.25 of Regulation Y as closely related to banking and permissible for bank holding companies. Unless otherwise noted, such activities will be conducted throughout the United States.

Each application is available for immediate inspection at the Federal Reserve Bank indicated. Once the application has been accepted for processing, it will also be available for inspection at the offices of the Board of Governors. Interested persons may express their views in writing on the question whether consummation of the proposal can "reasonably be expected to produce benefits to the public, such as greater convenience, increased competition, or gains in efficiency, that outweigh possible adverse effects, such as undue concentration of resources, decreased or unfair competition, conflicts of interests, or unsound banking practices." Any request for a hearing on this question must be accompanied by a statement of the reasons a written presentation would not suffice in lieu of a hearing, identifying specifically any questions of fact that are in dispute, summarizing the evidence that would be presented at a hearing, and indicating how the party commenting would be aggrieved by approval of the proposal.

Unless otherwise noted, comments regarding the applications must be received at the Reserve Bank indicated or the offices of the Board of Governors not later than November 8, 1984.

A. Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago (Franklin D. Dreyer, Vice President) 230 South LaSalle Street, Chicago, Illinois 60690:

1. Marine Corporation, Springfield, Illinois; to engage de novo through its subsidiary, Marine Investment Management Company, Springfield, Illinois, in providing portfolio management advice to individuals and commercial customers. This activity would be performed in the State of Illinois.

2. River Valley Bancorporation, Inc., Rothschild, Wisconsin; to engage de novo in acquiring loans or other extensions of credit for its own account or for the account of others, limited strictly to the acquisition from Nicklaus Enterprises, Inc. of eight loans and extensions of credit secured by security interests. These activities would be performed in Adams and Waushara Counties in Wisconsin.

GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION

SES Performance Review Boards for Small Client Agencies Serviced by GSA; Names of Members

Section 4314(c) (1) through (5) of title 5, U.S.C., requires each agency to establish, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Office of Personnel Management, one or more Performance Review Boards. The board shall review and evaluate the initial appraisal by the supervisor of a senior executive's performance, along with any recommendations to the appointing authority relative to the performance of the senior executive.

As provided under section 601 of the Economy Act of 1932, as amended, 31 U.S.C. 686, the General Services Administration through its External Services Staff, Personnel Division, provides various personnel management services to a number of diverse Presidential commissions, committees, and other small agencies and boards through reimbursable administrative support agreements. This notice is processed on behalf of these client agencies, and it amends our original notices in the Federal Register dated March 17, 1980, May 20, 1980, September 23, 1981, September 20, 1982, and August 12, 1983. Because of their small size, a Performance Review Board register has been established composed of members of the various agencies. From this register of names, the head of each client agency will appoint executives to a specific board to serve the particular client agency.

The members whose names appear on the Performance Review Board register to serve client agencies are:

John T. Rhett, Federal Inspector, Office of the Federal Inspector for the Alaska Natural Gas Transportation System
J. Richard Berman, Director, Audit and Cost Analysis, Office of the Federal Inspector for the Alaska Natural Gas Transportation System
Peter L. Cook, Deputy Federal Inspector for Washington, Office of the Federal Inspector for the Alaska Natural Gas Transportation System
Richard A. Ericson, Jr., Executive Director, Japan-United States Friendship Commission
Stephen L. Babcock, Executive Director, Administrative Conference of the United States
Richard K. Berg, General Counsel, Administrative Conference of the United States
Jeffrey S. Lubbers, Research Director, Administrative Conference of the United States
Ralph A. Watkins, Jr., Commissioner (Chairman), Navajo and Hopi Indian Relocation Commission
Sandra L. Massetto, Commissioner, Navajo and Hopi Indian Relocation Commission
Hawley Atkinson, Commissioner, Navajo and Hopi Indian Relocation Commission
Walter R. Roberts, Executive Director, Board for International Broadcasting
James Critchlow, Foreign Information Officer, Board for International Broadcasting
Arthur D. Levin, Financial Manager, Board for International Broadcasting
Anatole Shub, Foreign Information Officer, Board for International Broadcasting
Rosemary M. Collyer, Chairman, Federal Mine Safety and Health Review Commission
James A. Lastowka, General Counsel, Federal Mine Safety and Health Review Commission

Public Health Service

Assessment of Medical Technology; Mycotic Toenails

The Public Health Service (PHS), through the Office of Health Technology Assessment (OHTA), announces that it is coordinating an assessment of what is known of the safety, clinical effectiveness, appropriateness, and use of debridement and other treatment of mycotic toenails. Specifically, we are interested in the medical indications for (1) Debridement and/or other active treatment of mycotic toenails (as opposed to routine hygienic care), (2) the appropriate treatment regimen, including frequency of followup visits for such care. For the purposes of this announcement, debridement and other treatment of mycotic toenails are defined as medically reasonable and necessary diagnostic and therapeutic measures excluding such routine foot care as the trimming of nails and other routine hygienic attention.

The PHS assessment consists of a synthesis of information obtained from appropriate organizations in the private sector and from PHS agencies and others in the Federal Government. PHS assessments are based on the most current knowledge concerning the safety and clinical effectiveness of a technology. Based on this assessment, a PHS recommendation will be formulated to assist the Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA) in establishing Medicare coverage policy. Any person or group wishing to provide OHTA with information relevant to this assessment should do so in writing no later than December 15, 1984, or within 90 days from the date of publication of this notice.

The information being sought is a review and assessment of past, current, and planned research related to this technology, a bibliography of published, controlled clinical trials and other well-designed clinical studies. Information related to the characterization of the patient population most likely to benefit, the clinical acceptability, and the effectiveness of this technology is also being sought.

Written material should be submitted to: National Center for Health Services Research, Office of Health Technology Assessment, Park Building, Room 3–10, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Maryland 20857.

Dated: October 15, 1984.

AGENCY: Office of Human Development Services, Department of Health and Human Services.

ACTION: Notification of Allocation of Title XX—Social Services Block Grant Allotments for Fiscal Year 1986.

SUMMARY: This issuance sets forth the individual allotments to States for Fiscal Year 1986 pursuant to Title XX of the Social Security Act, as amended (Act). The allotments to the States published herein are based upon the authorization set forth in Section 2003 of the Act and are contingent upon Congressional appropriations actions for the fiscal year. If Congress enacts and the President approves an amount different from the authorization, the allotments will be adjusted proportionately.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: HDS Regional Administrators.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Section 2003 of the Act authorizes $2.7 billion for Fiscal Year 1986 and provides that it be allocated as follows:

(1) Puerto Rico, Guam, the Virgin Islands, and the Northern Mariana Islands each receive an amount which bears the same ratio to $2.7 billion as its allocation for Fiscal Year 1981 bore to $2.9 billion.

(2) The remainder of the $2.7 billion is allotted to each State in the same proportion as that State's population is to the population of all States, based upon the most recent data available from the Department of Commerce.

For Fiscal Year 1986, the allotments are based upon the Bureau of Census population statistics contained in its publication "Current Population Reports" (Series P–25, No. 951, issued May 1984), which is the most recent satisfactory data available from the Department of Commerce at this time as to the population of each State and of all States.

EFFECTIVE DATE: The allotments shall be effective October 1, 1985.

Council's Land Use Advisors Committee: Public Invitation

The Federal and State Cochairmen of the Alaska Land Use Council are soliciting nominations for appointment or reappointment to the Council's Land Use Advisors Committee.

The Land Use Advisors Committee is mandated by section 1201(m)(1) of the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act. The Committee plays a key role in the public participation program established by the Alaska Land Use Council. Among other responsibilities, the committee makes recommendations concerning the Council's annual work program and actions of the Federal agencies as they implement the Alaska Lands legislation.

The Alaska Lands Act requires that the Land Use Advisors Committee be representative of a balance between the State and national interests concerned with the use of federally-owned public lands and resources in Alaska and the several geographic regions of the State. Members of the Committee serve without compensation but are reimbursed for necessary approved travel.

If you are interested in serving on the Land Use Advisors Committee send a letter of interest along with a resume to: Alaska Land Use Council, Governor Bill Sheffield, State Cochairman, Vernon R. Wiggins, Federal Cochairman, P.O. Box 100120, Anchorage, Alaska 99510-0120.

The deadline for filing your letter of interest is December 1, 1984. For further information, you may write to the above address or call (907) 272-3422.

Dated: October 17, 1984.

Bureau of Land Management

[INT DEIS 84-55]

Availability of Draft Jarbidge Resource Management Plan and Environmental Impact Statement; Proposed Wilderness Suitability Recommendations and Associated Public Hearings; Proposed Area of Critical Environmental Concern (ACEC) Designation

SUMMARY: Pursuant to section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 and 43 CFR Part 1600, the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) has prepared a draft Resource Management Plan (RMP) and associated Environmental Impact Statement (EIS), known as the Jarbidge RMP/EIS, covering some 1,690,473 acres of public land in southcentral Idaho. Included in the draft plan are suitability recommendations for three wilderness study areas and recommendations concerning four tracts being considered for Area of Critical Environmental Concern (ACEC) designation. This notice therefore is also issued pursuant to section 3(d)1 A and B of the Wilderness Act of 1964 and § 1610.7-2(b) of the BLM Planning Regulations.

The Boise District invites members of the public, other Federal agencies, State and local governments, and Indian tribes to review and submit comments on the draft Jarbidge RMP/EIS. All comments received during the comment period will be considered in preparation of the Proposed RMP/Final EIS.

Dates and Addresses: The public comment period will continue to January 4, 1985. Written comments may be submitted any time during the comment period to the Boise District.

Three public hearings have been scheduled to receive testimony on the wilderness suitability recommendations in the draft RMP/EIS. These hearings are required for the wilderness recommendations, but testimony on other resource recommendations and the adequacy of the draft RMP/EIS is encouraged. Those wishing to testify at a hearing should contact the Boise District to pre-register. Participants may also register to testify, at the registration desk at the hearings. The hearings will be held as follows: November 28, 1984 (two sessions) at 2:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m., Boise Public Library Auditorium, 715 S. Capitol Blvd., Boise, Idaho; and November 29, 1984 at 7:00 p.m., Holiday Inn, Blue Lakes Room, 1350 Blue Lakes Blvd. North, Twin Falls, Idaho.

The public is also invited to two open meetings to discuss the draft document. The meetings will be held as follows: November 14, 1984 from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m., County Planning and Zoning Bldg., Conference Room, 634 Addison, Twin Falls, Idaho; and November 16, 1984 from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m., BLM Boise District Office, 3948 Development Avenue, Boise Idaho.

Written comments and requests for public hearing pre-registration should be sent to the Bureau of Land Management, Boise District, 3948 Development Avenue, Boise, Idaho 83705. Copies of the Jarbidge RMP/EIS may be obtained from the Boise District.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Ted Milesnick, Team Leader, Bureau of Land Management, 3948 Development Avenue, Boise, Idaho 83705. Telephone (208) 334-1582.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Jarbidge RMP/EIS analyzes four alternative plans, and one sub-alternative for managing natural resources in the Jarbidge Planning Area over the next 15 to 20 years. One alternative has been identified as BLM's Preferred Alternative.

The alternative plans presented in the Jarbidge RMP/EIS are designed to resolve the planning issues identified earlier through public involvement. The general topics covered by the planning issues are retention or disposal of public lands; wilderness designation; livestock grazing, fire management; soil, water, air; wildlife habitat management; energy and minerals; recreation; and special designations. The alternative plans include different resource use levels and constraints to address the planning issues. One alternative is a "No Action" alternative, designed to represent a continuation of present resource use levels or systems.

The Jarbidge RMP/EIS includes suitability recommendations for three wilderness study areas (WSAs) covering a total of 208,833 acres of public land. The WSAs are located in Owyhee and Elmore counties, Idaho. The alternatives cover the range from all WSAs recommended nonsuitable for designation to all WSAs recommended suitable for designation. The Preferred Alternative proposes to recommend to the Secretary of the Interior that 94,199 acres of public land are suitable for wilderness designation and 114,071 acres are nonsuitable for wilderness designation.

The Jarbidge RMP considers four tracts for designation as areas of critical environmental concern (ACEC). The alternatives cover the range from all potential ACECs proposed for designation to none of the potential ACECs proposed for designation. Following the preparation of the Proposed Jarbidge RMP/Final EIS, approval of the RMP will constitute formal designation of any ACEC included in the proposed plan.

The Hagerman Paleontological Area, containing 4,394 acres of public land, would be designated an ACEC under the preferred alternative. If designated an ACEC, BLM would regulate surface disturbing activities to protect the paleontological resources in the area. Agricultural trespass would be prevented and the area would be withdrawn from all types of land disposals. Measures would be initiated to curtail or prevent water and wind erosion.

The 815-acre Sand Point Paleontologic, Geologic, and Cultural Resource Area would be designated an ACEC under the preferred alternative. If designated an ACEC, BLM would regulate surface disturbing activities to protect the paleontologic, geologic and cultural resources in the area. Agricultural trespass would be prevented and lands would be withdrawn from locatable mineral entry and all types of land disposals. Measures would be initiated to curtail or prevent water and wind erosion.

The Bruneau-Jarbidge River Area, containing 84,111 acres of public land, would be designated an ACEC under the preferred alternative to protect bighorn sheep habitat and cultural, scenic and natural values. If designated an ACEC, BLM would establish the management priority of the canyons for bighorn sheep and other wildlife. Livestock water would not be developed within one mile of bighorn habitat. New road construction would be limited and motorized vehicles would be restricted to designated roads and trails. No surface occupancy would be allowed for oil and gas or geothermal exploration or development and the area would be recommended for withdrawal from the 1872 mining laws. Activities or developments that would impair scenic quality would not be allowed.

The Salmon Falls Creek Area (2,947 acres) would not be designated an ACEC under the preferred alternative but is recommended to be managed as an Outstanding Natural Area. Under another alternative, it is recommended for ACEC designation. Under Outstanding Natural Area management, or if designated an ACEC, BLM would close the area to livestock grazing and vehicular use. Utility and hydro development would not be allowed.

District Manager.

Fish and Wildlife Service

Availability of a Draft Environmental Assessment; Fakahatchee Strand: A Florida Panther Habitat Preservation Proposal

AGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: This notice advises the public that the Draft Environmental Assessment (DEA) "Fakahatchee Strand: A Florida Panther Habitat Preservation Proposal" will be available for public review by October 26, 1984. The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (FWS) proposes to preserve up to 100,000 acres of habitat in Collier County, Florida, that is critical to the needs and recovery of the Florida panther.

Six alternative levels of preservation ranging from "No Action" to complete "Fee Title Acquisition by the FWS" were considered to prevent habitat disruption and water quality degradation in the study area. The Proposed Action (Alternative 6) relies on a "team approach" using the varied resources of the U.S. Department of the Interior and the State of Florida to achieve the resource protection objectives set by the FWS. The primary methods of preservation will be fee title and easement acquisition; however, management agreements, land exchanges, leases, and other means are also proposed to be used by the key participating agencies.

DATES: Written comments must be received no later than November 26, 1984, to be considered.

ADDRESS: Comments should be addressed to: Regional Director, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, 75 Spring Street, SW., Atlanta, Georgia 30303.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Kenneth M. Butts, Chief, Branch of Planning, Division of Realty, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, 75 Spring St., SW., Atlanta, Georgia 30303; Commercial (404) 221-3543 or FTS 242-3543.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The FWS prepared the DEA proposing to preserve up to 100,000 acres of habitat in Collier County, Florida, that is critical to the needs and recovery of the Florida panther. Wendell D. Metzen, Wildlife Management Biologist, Jacksonville, Florida, and Jeffery M. Donahoe, Fish and Wildlife Biologist, Atlanta, Georgia, are the primary authors of this document.

The Proposed Action (Alternative 6) calls for the following: (1) The FWS would acquire, in fee title, up to 30,000 acres in the northern portions of Fakahatchee Strand; (2) the FWS would encourage the State of Florida to acquire fee title to about 15,000 acres for addition to its Fakahatchee Strand State Preserve; (3) the FWS would encourage the National Park Service to acquire fee title to about 12,000 acres for addition to its Big Cypress National Preserve; (4) the State of Florida and the FWS would cooperate in identifying and implementing protection strategies for the remaining unprotected acres west of the Fakahatchee Strand State Preserve; and (5) the FWS and the State of Florida would cooperatively manage all acquired and protected lands in the Fakahatchee Strand area as a refuge for the Florida panther.

This action is designed to preserve habitat that has been identified as critically important for the survival and recovery of the Florida panther—one of the most endangered mammals in the Nation with only 20 to 30 individuals inhabiting the Big Cypress-Everglades region. The three population centers within the known range of the panther include the Fakahatchee Strand, the Big Cypress National Preserve, and the Everglades National Park. The latter two populations are relatively secure, while large portions of the habitat used by the Fakahatchee Strand population are threatened by developments and other land uses.

This action will result in perpetual preservation of the most important remaining panther habitat that is not in public ownership. Additionally, preservation of the study area will allow the existing ecological, biological, and hydrological values to be maintained and will enhance public use values.

The other major alternatives that were considered are:

Alternative 1, No Action—The FWS would not take any additional action under this alternative, other than to rely on existing Federal, State, and local regulatory authorities to conserve the resource values of the Fakahatchee Strand.

Alternative 2, Strengthen Enforcement of Regulatory Authorities—The FWS would take the following actions under this alternative: (1) conduct necessary ecological studies to support and document FWS positions in regulatory proceedings; (2) develop a broad statement of FWS concerns and interests for presentation to other agencies; (3) draft a memorandum of understanding with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, the State, and the county to ensure that the FWS is notified of all potentially harmful project proposals.

Alternative 3, Fee Title Acquisition by the Fish and Wildlife Service—The FWS would acquire fee title to the 100,000-acre study area for inclusion in the National Wildlife Refuge System.

Alternative 4, Acquisition of Conservation Easements by the Fish and Wildlife Service—The FWS would acquire conservation easements on lands in the study area.

Alternative 5, Acquisition/ Management by Others—The FWS would rely on other agencies and organizations to protect and manage the Fakahatchee Strand area.

Other Government agencies and several members of the general public contributed to the planning, preparation, and evaluation of this DEA.

Dated: October 12, 1984.

James W. Pulliam, Jr.,

Regional Director, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Drug Enforcement Administration

Importation of Controlled Substances; Application

Pursuant to section 1008 of the Controlled Substances Import and Export Act (21 U.S.C. 958(h)), the Attorney General shall, prior to issuing a registration under this Section to a bulk manufacturer of a controlled substance in Schedule I or II, and prior to issuing a regulation under section 1002(a) authorizing the importation of such substance, provide manufacturers holding registrations for the bulk manufacture of the substance an opportunity for a hearing.

Therefore, in accordance with § 1311.42 of Title 21, Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), notice is hereby given that on June 15, 1984, Arenol Chemical Corporation, 40–33 23rd Street, Long Island City, New York 11101, made application to the Drug Enforcement Administration to be registered as an importer of Phenylacetone (8501), a basic class of controlled substance in Schedule II.

As to the basic class of controlled substance listed above for which application for registration has been made, any other applicant therefor, and any existing bulk manufacturer registered therefor, may file written comments on or objections to the issuance of such registration and may, at the same time, file a written request for a hearing on such application in accordance with 21 CFR 1301.54 in such form as prescribed by 21 CFR 1316.47.

Any such comments, objections or requests for a hearing may be addressed to the Deputy Assistant Administrator, Drug Enforcement Administration, United States Department of Justice, 1405 I Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20537, Attention: DEA Federal Register Representative (Room 1112), and must be filed no later than November 21, 1984.

This procedure is to be conducted simultaneously with and independent of the procedures described in 21 CFR 1311.42 (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f). As noted in a previous notice at 40 FR 43745–46 (September 23, 1975), all applicants for registration to import a basic class of any controlled substance in Schedule I or II are and will continue to be required to demonstrate to the Deputy Assistant Administrator of the Drug Enforcement Administration that the requirements for such registration pursuant to 21 U.S.C. 958(a), 21 U.S.C. 823(a), and 21 CFR 1311.42 (a), (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f) are satisfied.

LEGAL SERVICES CORPORATION

One-Time Grant Awards; Announcement

AGENCY: Legal Services Corporation.

ACTION: Annoucement of One-Time Grant Awards.

SUMMARY: On September 30, 1984, the Legal Services Corporation (LSC) awarded several grants pursuant to authority conferred by section 1006(a)(1) and/or section 1006(a)(3) of the Legal Services Corporation Act of 1974, as amended. Heretofore, LSC had not made it normal practice to give public notice of grants whose purpose was not primarily the provision of legal assistance to eligible clients. Upon review, the Corporation has decided that past practices are not an adequate guide for determining what grants must be noticed under section 1007(f). Therefore, LSC is hereby giving public notice of the following grants:

1. Constitutional Law Center in Cumberland, Virginia—$337,000.00

2. National Legal Center for the Medically Dependent and Disabled, Inc. In Indianapolis, Indiana—$337,000.00
3. Urban Legal Foundation in Oakland, California—$400,000.00
4. Vermont Legal Aid, Inc. in Burlington, Vermont—$6,900.00
5. National Center on Women and Family Law in New York, New York—$5,000.00
6. Legal Services of Eastern Michigan in Flint, Michigan—$6,800.00
7. Upper Peninsula Legal Services in Sault Ste Marie, Michigan—$5,000.00
8. Land of Lincoln Legal Assistance Foundation, Inc. in Alton, Illinois—$16,560.00
9. South Central Connecticut Legal Services Corporation in New Haven, Connecticut—$2,972.00
10. Neighborhood Legal Services, Inc. in Buffalo, New York—$2,845.00
11. Legal Services of the Virgin Islands in Christiansted, Virgin Islands—$3,450.00
12. Migrant Legal Action Program, Inc. in Washington, D.C.—$10,000.00

35. Oregon Legal Services Corporation in Portland, Oregon—$3,633.00

Each grant was awarded on a one-time, non-recurring basis for a one year period pursuant to authority conferred by sections 1006(a)(1) and/or 1006(a)(3) of the Legal Services Corporation Act of 1974, as amended. This public announcement is issued pursuant to section 1007(f) of this Act, and LSC will receive comments for thirty (30) days from the date of publication of this notice.

DATE: All comments must be received by the Office of Field Services of the Legal Services Corporation within thirty (30) calendar days of publication of this notice.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Gene M. Potack, Director, Office of Field Services, Legal Services Corporation, 733 Fifteenth Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20005, (202) 272–4080.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The purpose of the first three grants is to expand the resources currently available to legal services entities engaged in the provision of civil legal assistance to the poor. The work performed by the three centers will enhance existing sources of information and assistance without duplicating any efforts currently funded by the Corporation. The Constitutional Law Center will provide direct delivery, technical assistance, training and publications on legal issues concerning the protection of the constitutional rights of the poor. The National Center for the Medically Dependent and Disabled will provide direct delivery, technical assistance, training and publications on legal issues concerning the treatment of the critically or terminally ill handicapped and medically dependent poor persons. The Urban Legal Foundation will provide training and technical assistance for the development of model programs to increase the private bar's role in representation of poor persons, with special emphasis on the private bar's role in compensated programs. The other grants listed in the summary are for training materials development and training delivery projects. The training materials development grants will result in the production of several manuals and handbooks on the following subjects: trial advocacy; child custody disputes; disability issues; Indian education rights; and federal litigation. The training delivery grants encompass the full range of legal services practice.

Donald P. Bogard,

President.

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

Advisory Panel for Developmental Neuroscience; Meeting

In accordance with the Federal Advisory Committee Act, as amended, Pub. L. 92–463, the National Science Foundation announces the following meeting:

Name: Advisory Panel for Developmental Neuroscience.

Date and time: November 7, 8, and 9, 1984; 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. each day.

Place: Room 1224, National Science Foundation, 1800 G St., N.W., Washington, DC 20550.

Type of meeting: Closed.

Contact person: Dr. Jean Lauder, Program Director, Developmental Neuroscience, Room 320 National Science Foundation, Washington, DC 20550, telephone (202) 357–7042.

Purpose of meeting: To provide advice and recommendations concerning support for research in developmental neuroscience.

Agenda: To review and evaluate research proposals as part of the selection process for awards.

Reason for closing: The proposals being reviewed include information of a proprietary or confidential nature, including technical information, financial data, such as salaries, and personal information concerning individuals associated with the proposals. These matters are within exemptions (4) and (6) of 5 U.S.C. 552b(c), Government in the Sunshine Act.

Authority to close meeting: This determination was made by the Committee Management Officer pursuant to provisions of section 10(d) of Pub. L. 92–463. The Committee Management Officer was delegated the authority to make such determinations by the Director, NSF, July 6, 1979.

Dated: October 17, 1984.

Advisory Panel For Molecular and Cellular Neurobiology; Meeting

In accordance with the Federal Advisory Committee Act, as amended, Pub. L. 92-463, the National Science Foundation announces the following meeting:

Name: Advisory Panel for Molecular and Cellular Neurobiology Program.

Date and time: November 7, 8, and 9, 1984: 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. each day.

Place: Room 523 National Science Foundation, 1800 G St., N.W., Washington, DC.

Type of meeting: Open 11/8—1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. Closed—remainder of scheduled time.

Contact person: Dr. Joel S. Colton Program Director, Molecular and Cellular Neurobiology Program, Room 320, National Science Foundation, Washington, D.C. 20550, Telephone (202) 357-7471.

Summary minutes: May be obtained from the Contact Person at the above stated address.

Purpose of meeting: To provide advice and recommendations concerning support for research in the Molecular and Cellular Neurobiolgoy Program.

Agenda: OPEN—General discussion of the current status and future plans of the Molecular and Cellular Neurobiology Program. CLOSED—To review and evaluate research proposals as part of the selection process for awards.

Reason for closing: The proposals being reviewed include information of a proprietary or confidential nature, including technical information; financial data, such as salaries; and personal information concerning individuals associated with the proposals. These matters are within exemptions (4) and (6) of 5 U.S.C. 552b(c), Government in the Sunshine Act.

Authority to close meeting: This determination was made by the Committee Management Officer pursuant to provisions of Section 10(d) of Pub. L. 92-463. The Committee Management Officer was delegated by the authority to make such determinations by the Director, NSF, on July 6, 1979.

Dated: October 17, 1984.

NATIONAL TRANSPORTATION SAFETY BOARD

Availability; Federal Railroad Administration, et al.; Recommendation Responses

Responses From

Railroad—Federal Railroad Administration: May 14: R-84-10: Will act to implement the recommendation to require that maintenance-of-way cars meet the Railroad Freight Car Safety Standards or, in the alternative, impose operating restrictions on maintenance-of-way cars being moved in revenue freight trains to compensate for the actual mechanical condition of the cars. Jun. 6: R-84-15; Has initiated additional excess flow valve inspections, and has requested the Union Tank Car Company and the Association of American Railroads to address the issue. Has been working with the AAR Tank Car Committee. Will require that the valves be secured if necessary.

National Railroad Passenger Corporation (Amtrak): Jun. 8: R-84-20: Does not use any chrome-vanadium alloy rails on Amtrak owned and maintained system.

Association of American Railroads: May 21: R-84-20: Does not have standards governing the installation and maintenance of rail. Understands that the American Railway Engineering Association will make any changes needed to be made as a result of an analysis of the November 12, 1983, Amtrak derailment near Woodlawn, Texas. Jun. 28: R-84-11 and -12: Has suggested that its members implement practices, if they have not already done so, to prevent accidents such as the one occurring on the Burlington Northern track near Crystal City, Missouri, on July 18, 1983, involving a maintenance-of-way car moving in a revenue freight train. Jul. 11: R-84-32: Has informed its members of the recommendation to develop and implement rules that will require engine crews to communicate to the rear crews the aspects by all wayside signals governing the progress of the train, irrespective of the signal indication.

American Railway Engineering Association: May 22: R-84-20: Changes in the Manual for Railway Engineering will be made if an analysis of the circumstances of the Amtrak derailment near Woodlawn, Texas, on November 13, 1983, indicates such a need. FRA is currently conducting tests on the rail.

Chemical Manufacturers Association: Jun. 11: R-84-16: Highlighted the subject of improperly positioned excess flow valves on certain rail tank cars in the April 1, 1984 CHEMTREC/Distribution Newsletter.

State of Alabama: Jul. 31: R-82-113 through -115: Stop signs have been installed at the railroad/highway grade crossing, and the stop bar has been painted. Plans to install cantilevered signals and bell.

State of California, Public Utilities Commission: Undated: R-83-45: Railroad corporations must file with the commission copies of their operating rules. Commission staff frequently boards and rides trains, both passenger and freight trains, to monitor crew performance. Staff often accompanies carrier officials when they are conducting efficiency tests for rule compliance.

State of Illinois, Illinois Commerce Commission: Aug. 1: R-83-44 and -45: Commission has no contracts with railroads and/or commuter railroad authorities. Has general jurisdiction regarding safety matters, but has no operating practices inspectors to perform inspections.

State of Louisiana, Department of Public Safety: Jul. 10: R-83-91: The State Police hazardous materials unit has an ongoing hazardous materials training program directed toward emergency response personnel from police, fire, emergency Response Training Program soon directed toward local emergency response personnel.

State of Maryland: Aug. 2: R-83-42 and -43: The State Railroad Administration of the Maryland Department of Transportation reviewed with the contract operator, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, their controls to assure that impaired workers are not involved in the operation of commuter rail trains and notified the B&O that the carrier is expected to increase its efforts to have responsible managment personnel determine employees' fitness for work. The SRA has requested the Division of Labor and Industry, Maryland Department of Licensing and Regulation, to increase its inspections of railroad operating practices on State-supported commuter trains.

State of Massachusetts: Aug. 6: R-83-44 and -45: the existing operating agreement between the State and the Boston and Maine Railroad requires the operator to comply with all Federal and State rules and regulations. Will pursue the issue of adequate supervisory checks on operating personnel.

State of New Hampshire: Aug. 10: R–83–44 and –45: There are no commuter railroads operating in New Hampshire.

State of New Jersey: Aug. 3: R–83–44 and –45: NJ TRANSIT has a "spot check" system of monitoring employees' sobriety and fitness for duty.

State of New York: Jun. 19: R–83–44 and –45: The legislation creating the State Public Transportation Safety Board mandates that every transit operator in the State submit a safety plan to the Board detailing operating procedures, safety and maintenance practices, training programs, and other specifics pertinent to safe transit operation.

State of Pennsylvania: Jun. 5: R–83–44 and –45: The Pennsylvania Public Utilities Commission has advised all presidents of railroads under the Commission's jurisdiction to strictly enforce all prohibitions concerning the use of drugs and alcohol by railroad employees. Does not, through any of its contracts, require railroad and commuter railroad authorities to perform supervisory checks at points where commuter train crews report to duty.

The Alton & Southern Railway Company: Jul. 31: R–83–60 and –61: Checks crews going on duty and takes positive action when rule violations occur.

The Belt Railway Company of Chicago: Jul. 16: R–83–60 and –61: Instructed its assistant superintendents, trainmasters, and assistant trainmasters to intensify the company's present procedure of making observations of trainmen and enginemen at crew starting points and of dispatchers, switchtenders, and levermen at their locations to determine that all operating department employees coming on duty at any hour of the day are phsyically fit and capable of complying with all pertinent operating rules.

Burlington Northern Railroad: Jun. 25: R–83–101: Believes that any railroad which may establish train operating procedures requiring the use of the radio to exchange information between trains on, entering, or departing main track routes would be jeopardizing the safety of their operation.

Chessie System Railroad: Jun. 4: R–84–20: Does not have any high-strength chrome or other alloy rails in service. Has reviewed its procedures for field cutting, sawing, and welding rails.

Chicago and Northwestern Transportation Company: Jul. 16: R–83–60 and –61: Stresses in conductor training the importance of duties to monitor the performance of other employees and to take positive action when rule violations occur. Has a procedure to randomly check all crews reporting for duty at certain terminals where employees report for duty. Has an efficiency test for supervisors to observe crews during their tour of duty to ensure they are perfoming their duties in compliance with operating and safety rules.

Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad Company: Jul. 16: R–83–60 and –61: Association of American Railroads' letter of September 12, 1983, contains the company's response to recommendation concerning procedures at crew change points to determine that operating department employees reporting are fit and capable of complying with all pertinent operating rules.

Conrail: May 24: R–84–20: Has 9.0 track miles of high-strength alloy rail (chrome-molybdenum) in service at various curve locations, which has been tested annually for internal defects. Procedures for installation and maintenance of rail prohibits torch cutting of rail, or torch cutting of bolt holes in any track, except yard and industrial tracks. Jun. 13: R–82–108: Is installing high-security switch padlocks on main track switches.

The Detroit and Mackinac Railway Company: Jul. 31: R–83–60 and –61: Has experienced little problem with Rule G, but will endeavor to implement as much of the recommendations as possible.

Florida East Coast Railway Company: Jul. 23: R–83–60 and –61: At outlaying points where supervisors might not be available when each and every crew member reports for duty, supervisors are required at some time during the tour of duty of each employee to make it a point to check each crew and handle each employee in keeping with the procedures required at crew terminals.

Green Bay & Western Railroad Company: Aug. 3: R–83–60 and –61: Has procedures for operating officers to frequently inspect crews reporting for duty, with no set patterns of inspection, but including all crews and all members of those crews. Training classes explain the responsibility of all members of crews and their particular responsibility to monitor the performance of other employees and to take positive action when rule violations occur.

Illinois Central Gulf: Jul. 17: R–83–60 and –61: Supports the principle of the proposal to provide closer supervision of operating employees as they report for duty and while performing service. Rules and safety classes provide the opportuntiy to further emphasize the responsibilities and duties of conductors to monitor the performance of other employees.

Indian Harbor Belt Railroad Company: May 2: R–84–20: Is covered by Consolidated Rail Corporation's maintenance specifications. Does not have any passenger operations. Jul 13: R–83–60 and –61: Requires that every supervisory officer make frequent checks of employees going on duty at all hours, as well as of employees on duty, to insure that they are physically fit to comply with operating rules. Will stress the responsibility of each employee for monitoring the conditions and performance of other employees.

Kansas City Terminal Railway Company: Aug. 2: R–83–60 and–61: Has supervisory forces on hand when crews go on duty and crews are under surveillance during their tours of duty. Employees have been instructed and made aware of their responsibilities about compliance of rules and especially yard foremen in regard to their monitoring the performance of members of the crew under their jurisdiction.

Metropolitan Dade County, Florida, Transportation Administration: May 18: R–84–21: Main line switch in manual block sections of the normal route are clamped with signals bagged, in accordance with the approved Operating Plan, section 1.0, page 10, dated May 11, 1984. R–84–22: Manual block (absolute) operating is emphasized in the training of all operating personnel. R–84–23: System Safety and Assurance Directorate in conjunction with rail operations supervisors provide monitoring of all operations personnel to ensure compliance with the MDTA Operations Rules and Procedures Manual. R–84–24: A dedicated communications channel is reserved for train operations. Standardized terminology is used for instructions issued for train operations. R–84–25: Interim Operating Rules required all trains operating under conditions where the ATC is inoperative and where they are entering the same block to operate at speeds not exceeding 15 mph, prepared to stop short of improperly lined switch, train, obstruction, or track defect. R–84–26: A special order requires the use of blocking devices on control consoles which govern the signal aspects and movement of switch behind trains when the manual block system is in effect. R–84–27: Has instituted action to comply with recommendation to limit the duty time of rail attendants (train operators), train controllers, and train dispatchers. R–84–28: Is reviewing recommendation to improve the contrast of numbers and background of speed signs and locate signs so that glare from the sun does not impair their legibility. R–84–29: All emergency procedures requiring response by local fire and police departments were developed by the Fire/Life Safety Technical Committee, MDTA, fire/rescue jurisdiction, and MDC Transit Police and tested by the conduct of emergency scenarios during November 1983. R–84–30: Emergency procedures establish a positive method for informing all emergency personnel that third rail power is off.

Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad Company: Jul. 6: R–83–96: Is replacing track shunt circuit protection systems with series break-type circuits on the trackage on which passenger trains are operated. R–83–97: Has issued specific instructions for the installation of series break-type circuits and certain other functions. R–83–98: Classes reviewing maintenance procedures and proper functioning of signalling equipment have been conducted for all superviors. R–83–99: Monthly reviews, or instructions, of company rules and Federal regulations are conducted with signal maintainers. R–83–100: Officers and supervisors ascertain if employees whose duties require current train lineups have such lineups while on duty by requiring employees to present lineups on request. Jul. 10: R–83–60 and –61: Operating supervisors and officers have been admonished to observe employees reporting for duty whenever possible and to increase contact with operating employees during their tour of duty.

Missouri Pacific Railroad Co.: Aug. 21: R–83–57: Opposes the establishment of a rule requiring enginecrews to communicate fixed signal aspects to the conductor because such action would congest radio frequencies. The rule would do very little, if anything, to improve the train operation environment, and could have a detrimental effect by placing an additional requirement on the enginecrew that could detract from reaction time. R–83–58 and –59: Forward information concerning supervisory procedures at crew-change terminals to insure that all operating department employees coming on duty at any hour of the day are physically fit and capable of complying with all pertinent operating rules, and forwarded information concerning the training of all operating employees in their responsibilities and duties to monitor the performance of other employees.

Norfolk Southern: Jun. 15: R–81–37: Requests the Safety Board to reevaluate its position in classifying as "unacceptable" the railroad's response to the recommendation concerning modification of existing signals so that an "advance approach" aspect will be displayed for eastbound trains on both tracks at Mohegan when an "approach" aspect is displayed on either track at the west end Farm. R–81–38: While the large number of crews undertaking train assignments at major terminals make it impractical to arrange for a supervisor to check each train crewmember reporting at these terminals, a spot check procedure is maintained at crew change terminals, on line of road, and at other locations.

New York City Transit Authority: Jun. 25: R–82–22 and –23: Forwarded a copy of the text of the radio broadcasts that were made to inform the public of the hazards in riding or crossing between cars. The current Transit Authority approach to the crossing-between-car problem relies almost entirely on public acceptance and places very little emphasis on enforcement capability. Statistics for passenger injuries and fatalities related to the end doors indicate that the public awareness program has been effective.

The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Company: May 11: R–84–20: Has fully heat-treated and chrome-moly rails but does not have any chrome-vanadium rails. Has reissued instructions in regard to rail installation and maintenance, and will inspect all main track rails for internal defects twice a year rather than once a year.

Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad Company: May 10: R–84–20: Does not have in service any high-strength alloy rails. May 10: R–83–60 and –61: Amtrak station personnel have contact with every passenger train crew at both Richmond and Washington. RF&P transportation department supervisors make frequent checks of the passenger train crews at Richmond and during station stops at local points on the RF&P. Freight train crews in Alexandria and Richmond must have contact with RF&P supervisory personnel. Crews reporting in Fredericksburg are supervised by the conductor of the yard crew and are spot-checked by RF&P supervisors frequently.

Seaboard System Railroad: Jul. 10: R–84–33: Requiring enginecrews to communicate to the rear crews the aspects displayed by all wayside signals governing the progress of the train, irrespective of the signal indication, could create a safety hazard by impeding more important communications. Feels that present rule requiring that the signal indication be communicated between members of the crew on the engine is adequate. Newly revised Operating Rules contain numerous requirements as to communication between head-end and rear-end crews. R–84–34: Is intensifying its Rule G efficiency checks. Jul. 24: R–83–46: With respect to specific handling of incorrect commodity descriptions shown on waybills for cars billed at Orangeburg, South Carolina, the regional supervisor followed up with local agency forces to insure that Repetitive Waybill Coding (RWC) profiles indicating the correct description are used. R–83–47: Is converting its train consisting system so that emergency response guidance information on hazard graphs for empty tank cars last containing hazardous materials can be generated. Instructions have been issued to field personnel to provide conductors of outbound trains with a copy of the AAR's Bureau of Explosives Commodity Specific Response and Environmental Containment Information printout for tank cars in trains that may contain residual amounts of hazardous material. R–83–48: Now incorporated in each Division Timetable are Special Instructions which include specific directions to the conductor about the handling of waybill and other hazardous materials information pertinent to the train consist. Each train crewmembers be conversant with and obey the rules and Special Instructions. R–83–49: In addition to the Operating Rules and Special Instructions with which affected employees must be knowledgeable, Seaboard has an Efficiency Testing and Observation program whereby supervisory personnel are required to monitor the activities of each train crewmember to insure proper compliance with Operating Rules and Special Instructions. R–83–50: Road Foreman of Engines are constantly evaluating the performances of engineers, and when deficiencies are noted, the engineer is required to attend retraining classes. R–83–51: Use of the four train dynamics analyzer units and the review of each engineer's performance by the Road Foreman of Engines will better focus on particular problem areas. Agrees that as a general rule engineers having known deficiencies should be required to demonstrate their proficiency in the problem area before being allowed to return to service. Jul. 27: R–83–60: Is intensifying its Rule G efficiency checks. R–83–61: Will increase its emphasis on operating rules relating to the employee's responsibilities, both personally and as they relate to the other members of the crew, in its annual operating rules classes to assure that all of our operating employees understand that they have a personal responsibility to monitor the performance of their fellow employees to prevent rules violations and accidents.

Southern Pacific Transportation Company: May 17: R–84–20: Does not use chrome-vanadium alloy rail, and prohibits cutting rails for main track use by oxyacetylene torches. Jul. 19: R–83–60 and –61: Supervisory personnel cannot monitor all employees at all times and at all locations, and we continue to believe that a proven detection device such as the Intoxilyzer, when used on a random spot-check basis, is the only effective means to reduce alcohol abuse among employees and as a reminder to our employees of their need to comply with Rule G.

The Texas Mexican Railway Company: Aug. 14: R–83–60 and –61: Maintains supervisory personnel on duty at its on and off duty points for operating personnel on a 24-hour basis. Holds rules classes for operating personnel on a regular basis twice a year, where employees responsibilities under the operating rules are emphasized.

Union Pacific Railroad Company: Jul. 19: R–83–60 and –61: Operating Red Block was initiated by the operating unions on the Union Pacific Railroad, which enlists the support of employees in preventing on-the-job alcohol and drug use. Is educating its officers, supervisors, employees, and employee representatives on the impairment aspects of alcohol and drug use, and training them in the important procedure of detecting offenders, confronting them, and referring them into treatment programs.

Union Railroad Company: Aug. 9: R–83–60 and –61: Is currently observing at least 75 percent of crews reporting for duty for compliance with Rule G.

Vermont Railroad: July. 19: R–84–11 and –12: Maintenance of Way cars are given a detailed inspection on a yearly basis prior to the work season, and are given a safety inspection each time they are operated in any train. Jul. 19: R–83–60 and –61: Does not have other than terminal crew changes except in rare instances. Yard crews start duty during normal working hours and are subject to supervisory scrutiny throughout the entire work day. All crews are periodically spot-checked by supervisory personnel.

Note.—Single copies of these response letters are available on written request to: Public Inquiries Section, National Transportation Safety Board, Washington, D.C. 20594. Please include respondent's name, date of letter, and recommendation number(s) in your request. The photocopies will be billed at a cost of 14 cents per page ($1 minimum charge).

NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION

Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards; Proposed Meetings

In order to provide advance information regarding proposed public meetings of the ACRS Subcommittees and meetings of the full Committee, the following preliminary schedule is published to reflect the current situation, taking into account additional meetings which have been scheduled and meetings which have been postponed or cancelled since the last list of proposed meetings published September 18, 1984 (49 FR 36580). Those meetings which are definitely scheduled have had, or will have, an individual notice published in the Federal Register approximately 15 days (or more) prior to the meeting. It is expected that the sessions of the full Committee meeting designated by an asterisk (*) will be open in whole or in part to the public. ACRS full Committee meetings begin at 8:30 a.m. and Subcommittee meetings usually begin at 8:30 a.m. The time when items listed on the agenda will be discussed during full Committee meetings and when Subcommittee meetings will start will be published prior to each meeting. Information as to whether a meeting has been firmly scheduled, cancelled, or rescheduled, or whether changes have been made in the agenda for the November 1984 ACRS full Committee meeting can be obtained by a prepaid telephone call to the Office of the Executive Director of the Committee (telephone 202/634–3267, ATTN: Barbara Jo White) between 8:15 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Eastern Time.

ACRS Subcommittee Meetings

Metal Components, November 8 and 9, 1984, Washington, DC. The Subcommittee will review a draft report on pipe break, discuss degraded bolting, and review the materials and metallurgy RES program and budget.

Combined Reactor Operations/ Reliability and Probabilistic Assessment, November 14, 1984, Washington, DC. The Subcommittees will discuss current status of the work related to steam generator overfill, systems interaction, and piping and use of combustible gas in vital areas.

San Onofre Unit 1, November 26, 1984, Washington, DC. The Subcommittee will discuss the NRC Staff's technical basis for restart of San Onofre Unit 1.

Combined Advanced Reactors and Gas Cooled Reactors, November 27, 1984, Washington, DC. The Subcommittee will discuss the redirected DOE programs for LMFBR and HTGR development.

Hope Creek Generating Station Unit 1, November 27 and 28, 1984 (tentative), Salem County, NJ/Philadelphia, PA. The Subcommittee will discuss certain design changes and modifications for the Hope Creek Generating Station.

Decay Heat Removal Systems, November 28, 1984, Washington, DC. The Subcommittee will continue the review of the NRC Staff effort to resolve USI A–45, "Shutdown Decay Heat Removal Requirements."

Air Systems, November 29, 1984, Washington, DC. The Subcommittee will review the report to the NRC Working Group on Control Room Habitability.

Emergency Core Cooling Systems, November 29 and 30, 1984, Washington, DC. The Subcommittee will review: (1) RES thermal-hydraulic research programs for ACRS Report to Congress, (2) Yankee Atomic Electric's request for an exemption to Appendix K to 10 CFR 50.46, (3) analysis work performed by NRR as part of the ATWS resolution effort, (4) Westinghouse Owners Group SG Tube Rupture Program, and (5) status of USI A–43 resolution effort and development of associated Regulatory Guide 1.82.

Combined Reactor Radiological Effects and Waste Management, November 30 and December 1, 1984, Washington, DC. The Subcommittee will reivew research programs in the areas of: chemical engineering (process control), occupational radiation protection, high- and low-level waste management, emergency planning, health effects, and meteorology and hydrology in order to formulate recommendations for the ACRS Report to the Congress on the NRC Safety Research Program for FY 1986 and 1987.

Combined GESSAR II/Reliability and Probabilistic Assessment, December 4 and 5, 1984, Los Angeles, CA. This will be the second in a series of meetings to review the General Electric Standard Safety Analysis Report to extend the Final Design Approval so that it will be applicable to future plants. The meeting will focus on the GESSAR II treatment of severe accidents and the Probabilistic Risk Assessment performed in connection with the GESSAR II design. External events will be considered.

Maintenance Practices and Procedures, December 11, 1984 (tentative), Washington, DC. The Subcommittee will review the revised NRC maintenance program plan.

Safety Philosophy, Technology, and Criteria, December 12, 1984 (tentative), Washington, DC. The Subcommittee will discuss the NRC Staff's draft report on the use of the proposed safety goals over the trial two-year period.

Waste Management, December 19 and 20, 1984, Washington, DC. The Subcommittee will review with NRC Staff (Waste Management) two aspects of the Nuclear Waste Policy Act: (1) Definition of High-Level Waste, and (2) Site Characterization.

Human Factors, Date to be determined (prior to the December ACRS meeting), Washington, DC. The Subcommittee will review the status of Human Factors Research in preparation for the next Committee report to the Congress on reactor safety research. Also planned is further discussion of the results produced from the NRR Human Factors Program Plan.

Westinghouse Water Reactors, Date to be determined (December, tentative), Washington, DC. The Subcommittee will begin its review of the Westinghouse Advanced Pressurized Water Reactor for Preliminary Design Approval.

Seismic Design of Piping, Date to be determined (December), Washington, DC. The Subcommittee will review draft reports issued by the NRC Piping Review Committee on Dynamic Loads and Load Combinations and Seismic Design requirements of piping.

Braidwood Station, Date to be determined (December/January), Washington, DC. The Subcommittee will continue to review the Commonwealth Edison Company's application for an operating license for Braidwood.

Nine Mile Point Unit 2, Date (December/January) and location to be determined. The Subcommittee will begin review of the Niagara Mohawk Power Corporation's application for an operating license for Nine Mile Point.

Quality and Quality Assurance in Design and Construction, Date to be determined (prior to January ACRS meeting), Washington, DC. The Subcommittee will review Regulatory Guide 1.28, "Quality Assurance Program Requirements (Design and Construction)." It is also possible that the QA Program Plan will be available for ACRS review, if desired by the Subcommittee.

Combined Extreme External Phenomena, Structural Engineering, and Seismic Design of Piping. Date to be determined (January/February), Los Angeles, CA. The Subcommittee will discuss the status of the NRC Staff seismic design margins programs.

Safeguards and Security, February 6, 1985, Washington, DC. The Subcommittee will review design features for protection against sabotage at commercial nuclear power reactors, to explore the potential consequences of successful sabotage at nonpower reactors, and to hear how the NRC Staff reviews and evaluates licensees' security plans.

Electrical Systems, Date to be determined, Washington, DC. The Subcommittee will discuss Westinghouse Advanced Pressurized Water Reactor Integrated Control and Protection System.

Palo Verde Nuclear Generating Station, Date to be determined, Maricopa County, AZ. The Subcommittee will review the final reports for various construction deficiencies and the results of the preoperational testing as requested in ACRS letter dated December 15, 1981.

Electrical Systems, Date to be determined, Washington, DC. The Subcommittee will discuss the recent plant experience with the loss of AC power.

ACRS Full Committee Meeting

November 1–3, 1984: Items are tentatively scheduled.

*A. Emergency Planning—Review proposed NRC rule (10 CFR 50.47 and Appendix E) regarding consideration of earthquakes on emergency planning.

*B. Limerick Nuclear Power Station—Discuss proposed full power operating license for this facility.

*C. Consideration of Severe Nuclear Power Plant Accidents—Discuss proposed ACRS comments regarding questions related to the frequency and severity of nuclear power plant accidents with severe core damage.

*D. IE Activities—Briefing by Director, IE regarding activities of the NRC Office of Inspection and Enforcement.

*E. Primary System Water Chemistry in BWR Plants—Briefing regarding changes in the primary system water chemistry in boiling water reactors.

*F. Reports of ACRS Subcommittees—The members will hear and discuss reports of ACRS Subcommittee activities regarding assigned areas of responsibility including activities related to provisions for decay head removal from nuclear power plants.

*G. Future Agenda—The members will discuss anticipated ACRS Subcommittee activities and items proposed for consideration by the full Committee.

December 13–15, 1984—Agenda to be announced.

January 10–12, 1985—Agenda to be announced.

Dated: October 17, 1984.

[Docket No. 50-247]

Consolidated Edison Company of New York, Inc.; Environmental Assessment and Finding of No Significant Impact

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) is considering issuance of an extension in accordance with § 50.49(g) of 10 CFR Part 50 to Consolidated Edison Company of New York, (the licensee), for the Indian Point Nuclear Generating Plant, Unit No. 2, located in Westchester County, New York.

Environmental Assessment

Identification of Proposed Action: The extension would allow completion of final qualification of the containment high radiation monitor by March 1985.

The extension is responsive to the licensee's application for extension dated July 6, 1984.

The Need for the Proposed Action: The proposed extension is needed because initial environmental qualification testing uncovered component deficiencies and additional time, therefore, is required for monitor redesign and retest.

Environmental Impacts of the Proposed Action: The proposed extension will necessitate reliance on other containment radiation monitors until the subject monitor is qualified. Consequently, the probability of radiological releases has not been increased and, given that there are radiological releases, they will be no greater than that previously determined nor does the proposed extension otherwise affect radiological plant effluents. Therefore, the Commission concludes that there are no significant radiological environmental impacts associated with this proposed extension.

With regard to potential nonradiological impacts, the proposed extension involves features located entirely within the restricted area as defined in 10 CFR Part 20. It does not affect nonradiological plant effluents and has no other environmental impact. Therefore, the Commission concludes that there are no significant nonradiological environmental impacts associated with the proposed extension.

Alternative Use of Resources: This action involves no use of resources not previously considered in the Final Environmental Statement (construction permit and operating license) for the Indian Point Nuclear Generating Plant, Unit No. 2.

Agencies and Persons Consulted: The NRC staff reviewed the licensee's request and did not consult other agencies or persons.

Finding of No Significant Inpact

The Commission has determined not to prepare an environmental impact statement for the proposed extension.

Based upon the foregoing environmental assessment, we conclude that the proposed acton will not have a significant effect on the quality of the human environment.

For further details with respect to this action, see the application for extension dated July 6, 1984, which is available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street, N.W., Washinton, D.C., and at the Local Public Document Room, White Plains Public Library, 100 Martine Avenue, White Plains, New York 10601.

Dated at Bethesda, Maryland, this 11th day of October 1984.

For the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

Director, Division of Licensing, Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation.

BILLING CODE 7590-01-M

[Dockets Nos. 50-277 and 50-278]

Philadelphia Electric Co., et al.; (Peach Bottom Atomic Power Station, Units Nos. 2 and 3); Exemption

I

The Philadelphia Electric Company (the licensee) and three other co-owners hold Facility Operating Licenses Nos. DPR-44 and DPR-56, which authorize operation of the Peach Bottom Atomic Power Station, Units 2 and 3 (the facilities) at steady-state power levels not in excess of 3293 megawatts thermal for each unit. These facilities are boiling water reactors located at the licensee's site in York County, Pennsylvania. These licenses provide, among other things, that they are subject to all rules, regulations and Orders of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) now or hereafter in effect.

II

10 CFR 50.54(q) requires a licensee authorized to operate a nuclear power reactor to follow and maintain in effect emergency plans which meet the standards of 10 CFR Part 50.47(b) and the requirements of Appendix E to 10 CFR Part 50. Section IV.F.3 of Appendix E requires each licensee of a nuclear power facility to conduct a biennial emergency preparedness exercise and to include participation by appropriate State and local government agencies, for State and local governments which have fully participated in a joint exercise since October 1, 1982. Previously, Section IV.F.1 required annual exercises.

By letter dated March 20, 1984, the licensee requested an exemption from the annual requirement and permission to conduct the exercise during October 1984. The licensee requested a change in the scheduled date of the exercise as a result of a consensus reached among the participants at a Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) Region III meeting with utilities, State and local governments on January 10, 1984. A small-scale emergency preparedness exercise was conducted on June 28, 1983 which involved limited local participation. An exemption from the requirements for State and local government participation in the 1983 exercise was granted in November 1983. The last full-scale exercise was conducted in June 1982. The period involved exceeds the two-year period provided by the Commission's revised rule for States and local government which participated in exercises since October 1982. Thus, the proposed exercise date of October 1984 would require exemption from the requirement of Appendix E to 10 CFR Part 50.

The licensee stated that conducting the exercise during October would permit testing of expected revisions to the Maryland offsite plans based on recently reviewed FEMA comments, testing of significant revisions to municipal plans in Pennsylvania, and testing of revisions to Lancaster and York Counties' plans based upon their recent Three Mile Island Nuclear Station exercise (November 1983). Furthermore, an extension to October would permit the licensee to test an alternate proposed emergency operations facility location that would not be ready for a June exercise. In addition, the exercise would be performed during a different season (Fall as opposed to Spring).

FEMA Region III evaluation of the 1982 and 1983 Peach Bottom exercises indicated that no significant deficiencies were noted. The NRC staff has reviewed the 1982 full-scale and 1983 small-scale exercises and the FEMA Evaluation Reports of those exercises including the State responses to the FEMA reports. Additionally, the NRC staff reviewed the FEMA Evaluation Report of the November 16, 1983 Three Mile Island (TMI) exercise where several deficiencies were identified which caused a finding that offsite preparedness was not adequate. FEMA stated, however, that the proposed corrective actions related to the Category A deficiencies in offsite preparedness in Lancaster County should be acceptable and should form the basis for an acceptable finding. FEMA further stated that the ability of Lancaster County to respond to an accident at TMI will be evaluated during the October 17, 1984 Peach Bottom exercise.

Based on the FEMA determination that no significant deficiencies were identified during the last two Peach Bottom exercises, and the results of the FEMA evaluation of the State's proposed corrective actions for Lancaster County resulting from the 1983 TMI exercise, the NRC staff concludes that granting the schedular exemption request will not adversely affect the overall state of emergency preparedness at the Peach Bottom Atomic Power Station.

We conclude, therefore, that the licensee's request for a schedular exemption from the requirements of 10 CFR Part 50, Appendix E, Section IV.F.3 should be granted.

III

Accordingly, the Commission has determined that, pursuant to 10 CFR 50.12(a), the exemption requested by the licensee's letter of March 20, 1984, is authorized by law and will not endanger life or property or the common defense and security and is otherwise in the public interest. The Commission hereby grants to the licensee an exemption from the schedular requirements of 10 CFR Part 50, Appendix E, Section IV.F.3, to allow the licensee's current exercise to be conducted no later than October 31, 1984.

Pursuant to 10 CFR 50.32, the Commission has determined that the issuance of the exemption will have no signficant impact on the environment (49 FR 38998).

For further details with respect to this action, see the licensee's request dated March 20, 1984, which is available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room 1717 H Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., and at the Government Publications Section, State Library of Pennsylvania, Education Building, Commonwealth and Walnut Streets, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

This Exemption is effective upon issuance.

Dated at Bethesda, Maryland this 3rd day of October, 1984.

Director, Division of Licensing, Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation.

BILLING CODE 7590-01-M

[Docket No. 50-206]

Southern California Edison Co.; Consideration of Issuance of Amendment to Provisional Operating License and Proposed No Significant Hazards Consideration Determination and Opportunity for Hearing

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) is considering issuance of an amendment to Provisional Operating License No. DPR-13, issued to Southern California Edison Company (the licensee), for operation of the San Onofre Nuclear Generating Station, Unit 1 located in San Diego County, California.

The amendment would add a license condition to revise the implementation schedule for the post-accident sampling system (PASS) (TMI item II.B.3) in accordance with the licensee's application for amendment dated September 20, 1984, as supported by letter dated August 14, 1984.

The PASS is being installed to provide capability to obtain and analyze reactor coolant and containment atmosphere samples during and following an accident in which there is core degradation. This information would be used to assess the severity of core damage. Installation of such a sampling system is a new requirement described in NUREG-TMI Action Plan.

By letter dated March 14, 1983, the NRC issued an order confirming licensee commitments on certain TMI action plan items. The date established for the PASS was prior to startup from the outage that began February 27, 1982 for most of the system except that the undiluted sample facility and the oxygen analyzer were to be completed by the end of the following refueling outage (Cycle IX). The proposed license condition would specify that the PASS be implemented by July 1, 1986 or by the end of the Cycle IX outage, whichever is earlier. The licensee also proposes to pursue an earlier completion schedule. Until the PASS is implemented, the licensee shall maintain the compensatory measures described in the August 14, 1984 submittal.

By January 7, 1985, the undiluted grab sample facility including necessary procedures will be completed such that a sample of reactor coolant could be obtained for analysis even if the core were serverely damaged. This completion date is considerably earlier than that established by the confirmatory order for this feature. A core damage assessment procedure using the alternate methods, described in the August 14, 1984 letter, including the undiluted sample, will be provided prior to return to service.

As discussed in the August 14, 1984 letter, tha actual hardware modifications for PASS should be complete by Spring 1985, to be followed by system startup testing and training. Thus, if the preoperational problems that occurred during installation of similar PASS systems for San Onofre Unit 2 and 3 do not occur. The PASS should be fully operational by the end of 1985. As a contingency based on past experience, a schedule with a longer deadline is proposed, although, the licensee proposes to pursue an earlier completion.

Before issuance of the proposed license amendment, the Commission will have made findings required by the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act) and the Commission's regulations.

The Commission has made a proposed determination that the amendment request involves no significant hazards consideration. Under the Commission's regulations in 10 CFR 50.92, this means that operation of the facility in accordance with the proposed amendment would not (1) involve a significant increase in the probability or consequences of an accident previously evaluated; or (2) create the possibility of a new or different kind of accident from any accident previously evaluated; or (3) involve a significant reduction in a margin of safety.

First Standard

The function of the PASS is to provide information on plant conditions following accidents resulting in core degradation. Core damage assessment methods using alternate equipment such as containment hydrogen and radiation monitors recently installed to meet other TMI Action Plan requirements, and improved operator training, also a TMI Action Plan requirement, will provide reasonable assurance that plant status, including the extent of core damage, is properly assessed. As noted above, by January 1985, the capability to draw reactor coolant samples for analysis will be provided. This feature will be provided much sooner than was originally established in the order.

The requested change in implementation schedule, therefore, will not significantly affect the probability or consequences of any accident previously evaluated since adequate information of core conditions will be available for plant operators.

Second Standard

The requested action establishes an implementation schedule and interim measures until completion of a new system which would only be used for monitoring purposes after an accident resulting in possible core damage has already occurred. The alternate methods to be used until the PASS is implemented do not require any actions not already envisioned as part of the system design since these are the measures that would be used if some element of the PASS were out of service after the system is installed. The undiluted grab sample is part of the PASS as approved by the staff and use of the other instrumentation does not require any new kind of plant operations. Therefore, the requested action does not create the possibility of a new or different kind of accident from any previously evaluated.

Third Standard

The PASS will be implemented in stages over the next plant cycle. Some features will be complete on an earlier schedule than originally established. Alternate methods of accomplishing the PASS function are provided for the interim until the system is fully implemented. Although the detailed results of the grab sample will not be available as quickly as will be possible with the on-line features of PASS, the alternate methods will provide a timely estimation of relative degree of core damage such that appropriate operator actions can be taken. Therefore, the request to revise the implementation schedule for the PASS does not result in a significant reduction in a margin of safety.

The Commission is seeking public comments of this proposed determination. Any comments received within 30 days after the date of publication of this notice will be considered in making any final determination. The Commission will not normally make a final determination unless it receives a request for a hearing.

Comments should be addressed to the Secretary of the Commission, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission,

Washington, D.C. 20555. Attn: Docketing and Service Branch.

By November 21, 1984, the licensee may file a request for a hearing with respect to issuance of the amendment to the subject facility operating license and any person whose interest may be affected by this proceeding and who wishes to participate as a party in the proceeding must file a written petition for leave to intervene. Request for a hearing and petitions for leave to intervene shall be filed in accordance with the Commission's "Rules of Practice for Domestic Licensing Proceedings" in 10 CFR Part 2. If a request for a hearing or petition for leave to intervene is filed by the above date, the Commission or an Atomic Safety and Licensing Board, designated by the Commission or by the Chairman of the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board Panel, will rule on the request and/or petition and the Secretary or the designated Atomic Safety and Licensing Board will issue a notice of hearing or an appropriate order.

As required by 10 CFR 2.714, a petition for leave to intervene shall set forth with particularity the interest of the petitioner in the proceeding, and how that interest may be affected by the results of the proceeding. The petition should specifically explain the reasons why intervention should be permitted with particular reference to the following factors: (1) The nature of the petitioner's right under the Act to be made a party to the proceeding; (2) the nature and extent of the petitioner's property, financial, or other interest in the proceeding; and (3) the possible effect of any order which may be entered in the proceeding on the petitioner's interest. The petition should also identify the specific aspect(s) of the subject matter of the proceeding as to which petitioner wishes to intervene. Any person who has filed a petition for leave to intervene or who has been admitted as a party may amend the petition without requesting leave of the Board up to fifteen (15) days prior to the first prehearing conference scheduled in the proceeding, but such an amended petition must satisfy the specificity requirements described above.

Not later than fifteen (15) days prior to the first prehearing conference scheduled in the proceeding, a petitioner shall file a supplement to the petition to intervene which must include a list of the contentions which are sought to be litigated in the matter, and the bases for each contention set forth with reasonable specificity. Contentions shall be limited to matters within the scope of the amendment under consideration. A petitioner who fails to file such a supplement which satisfies these requirements with respect to at least one contention will not be permitted to participate as a party.

Those permitted to intervene become parties to the proceeding, subject to any limitations in the order granting leave to intervene, and have the opportunity to participate fully in the conduct of the hearing, including the opportunity to present evidence and cross-examine witnesses.

If a hearing is requested, the Commission will make a final determination on the issue of no significant hazards consideration. The final determination will serve to decide when the hearing is held.

If the final determination is that the amendment request involves no significant hazards consideration, the Commission may issue the amendment and make it effective, notwithstanding the request for a hearing. Any hearing held would take place after issuance of the amendment.

If the final determination is that the amendment involves a significant hazards consideration, any hearing held would take place before the issuance of any amendment.

Normally, the Commission will not issue the amendment until the expiration of the 30-day notice period. However, should circumstances change during the notice period such that failure to act in a timely way would result, for example, in derating or shutdown of the facility, the Commission may issue the license amendment before the expiration of the 30-day notice period, provided that its final determination is that the amendment involves no significant hazards consideration. The final determination will consider all public and State comments received. Should the Commission take this action, it will publish a notice of issuance and provide for opportunity for a hearing after issuance. The Commission expects that the need to take this action will occur very infrequently.

A request for a hearing or a petition for leave to intervene must be filed with the Secretary of the Commission, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attn: Docketing and Service Branch, or may be delivered to the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street, NW., Washington, D.C., by the above date. Where petitions are filed during the last ten (10) days of the notice period, it is requested that the petitioner promptly so inform the Commission by a toll-free telephone call to Western Union at (800) 325-6000 (in Missouri (800) 342-6700). The Western Union operator should be given Datagram Identification Number 3737 and the following message addressed to W. A. Paulson: petitioner's name and telephone number; date petition was mailed; plant name; and publication date and page number of this Federal Register notice. A copy of the petition should also be sent to the Executive Legal Director, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, and to Charles R. Kocher, Assistant General Counsel, James Beoletto, Esquire; Southern California Edison Company, Post Office Box 800, Rosemead, California 91770, attorney for the licensee.

Nontimely filings of petitions for leave to intervene, amended petitions, supplemental petitions and/or requests for hearing will not be entertained absent a determination by the Commission, the presiding officer or the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board designated to rule on the petition and/or request, that the petitioner has made a substantial showing of good cause for the granting of a late petition and/or request. That determination will be based upon a balancing of the factors specified in 10 CFR 2.714(a)(1) (i)–(v) and 2.714(d).

For further details with respect to this action, see the application for amendment dated September 20, 1984 which is available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street, NW., Washington, D.C., and at the San Clemente Branch Library, 242 Avenida Del Mar, San Clemente, California 92672.

Dated at Bethesda, Maryland, this 16th day of October 1984.

[Docket Nos. 50-327 and 50-328]

Tennessee Valley Authority; Granting of Relief From Certain Requirements of ASME Code Section XI Inservice (Testing) Requirements

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) has granted relief from certain requirements of the ASME Code, Section XI, "Rules and Inservice Inspection of Nuclear Power Plant Components" to the Tennessee Valley Authority (the licensee). The relief related to the hydrostatic tests for the Sequoyah Nuclear Plant, Units 1 and 2 (the facilities) located in Hamilton County, Tennessee. The ASME Code requirements are incorporated by reference into the Commission's rules and regulations in 10 CFR Part 50. The relief is effective as of its date of issuance.

The relief relates to certain inservice examination requirements, pursuant to the Commission's regulations in 10 CFR 50.55a[g][6][i]. The licensee has decided to delete certain feedwater drain valves and cap the 1½" lines. The proposed relief is needed because performing the hydrostatic test after the capping of the lines is impractical to perform. The licensee will perform an in-service leak check of the welds at operating pressure during startup from the outage in which the replacement is made. The regularly scheduled system hydrostatic pressure test will be performed in 1989–1990.

The request for relief complies with the standards and requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), and the Commission's rules and regulations. The Commission has made appropriate findings as required by the Act and the Commission's rules and regulations in 10 CFR Chapter 1.

Pursuant to 10 CFR 51.32, the Commission has determined that granting this relief will have no significant impact on the environment (49 FR 39253).

For further details with respect to this action, see (1) the licensee's letters dated July 30, and September 18, 1984, (2) the Commission's letter to the licensee dated Octoer 15, 1984, and, (3) the Commission's related Safety Evaluation Report. All of these items are available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20555 and at the Chattanooga-Hamilton County Bicentennial Library, 1001 Broad Street, Chattanooga, Tennessee 37402. A copy of items (2) and (3) may be obtained upon request addressed to the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Director, Division of Licensing.

[Release No. 21401; File No. SR-DTC-84-8]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Filing and Immediate Effectiveness of Proposed Rule Change by the Depository Trust Co.

October 16, 1984.

On September 27, 1984, the Depository Trust Company ("DTC") filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission a proposed rule change pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Act"), 15 U.S.C. 78s(b)(1) and Rule 19(b)(4) thereunder. The proposed rule change establishes the Federal Reserve Bank of New York ("FRBNY") as a FAST transfer agent for certain securities issued by international organizations and U.S. Government agencies, without requiring the FRBNY to maintain certain minimum insurance coverage. The Commission is publishing this Notice to solicit comment on the proposed rule change.

Under the Fast Automated Securities Transfer Program ("FAST"), DTC leaves securities with transfer agents in the form of balance certificates registered in DTC's nominee name. The balance certificates are adjusted daily to reflect DTC withdrawal and deposit activity. Responsibilities of transfer agents under this program are set forth in balance certificate agreements that FAST transfer agents must enter into with DTC. The balance certificate agreement DTC uses for banks and other types of FAST transfer agents generally requires that the transfer agent maintain an insurance policy in the form of a Bankers' Blanket Bond, or similar insurance coverage, in an amount sufficient to cover the loss of any securities received from DTC or held by the transfer agent on behalf of DTC.

DTC has entered into a balance certificate agreement with the FRBNY even though the FRBNY does not maintain a Bankers' Blanket Bond or similar insurance coverage. DTC states in its filing that it has entered into this agreement because the FRBNY has demonstrated, to DTC's satisfaction, financial responsibility for its transfer agent functions. DTC further states its belief that because the FRBNY has demonstrated its financial soundness and operational capabilities to DTC's satisfaction, designating the FRBNY as a FAST transfer agent is consistent with DTC's obligation under the Act to safeguard securities in its custody or control.

The foregoing change has become effective, pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A) of the Act and subparagraph (e) of Securities Exchange Act Rule 19b-4. At any time within 60 days of the filing of such proposed rule change, the Commission may summarily abrogate such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views and arguments concerning the submission within 21 days after the date of publication in the Federal Register. Persons making written comments should file six copies with the Secretary of the Commission, Securities and Exchange Commission, 450 Fifth Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20549. Reference should be made to File No. SR-DTC-84-8.

Copies of the submission, all subsequent amendments, all written statements with respect to the proposed rule change which are filed with the Commission, and all written communications relating to the proposed rule change between the Commission and any person, other than those which may be withheld from the public in accordance with the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 522, will be available for inspection and copying at the Commission's Public Reference Room, 450 Fifth Street, NW., Washington, D.C. Copies of the filing and of any subsequent amendments will also be available at the principal office of the above-mentioned self-regulatory organization.

For the Commission, by the Division of Market Regulation pursuant to delegated authority.

Acting Secretary.

[Release No. 21400; File No. SR-OCC-84-16]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Notice of Filing and Immediate Effectiveness of Proposed Rule Change of the Options Clearing Corp.

October 16, 1984.

On September 25, 1984, pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Act"), 15 U.S.C. 78s(b)(1), the Options Clearing Corporation ("OCC") filed with the Commission a proposed rule change that establishes fees for use of its Delivery-Versus-Payment ("DVP") System for settlement of certain exercised and assigned foreign currency option contracts.[1] Under the proposal, OCC will charge clearing members using the DVP System a fee of $87.50 per million of the aggregate U.S. Dollar settlement obligations for foreign currency option exercises settled in the DVP System. This fee passes on to clearing members an identical fee charged OCC by OCC's correspondent bank.

OCC states in its filing that the $87.50 per million fee is intended to compensate OCC's correspondent bank for its assumption of credit risks associated with DVP settlements.[2] OCC also states that the fee is reasonable and equitably allocated among OCC clearing members using the DVP System.

The rule change has become effective pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A) of the Act and Rule 19b-4(e). The Commission may summarily abrogate the rule change at any time within 60 days of its filing if it appears to the Commission that abrogation is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

Written comments may be submitted within 21 days after this notice is published in the Federal Register. Please refer to File No. SR-OCC-84-16 and file six copies of comments with the Secretary of the Commission, Securities and Exchange Commission, 450 Fifth Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20549. Material on the rule change, other than material that may be withheld from the public under 5 U.S.C. 552, is available at the Commission's Public Reference Room and at the principal office of OCC.

For the Commission, by the Division of Market Regulation pursuant to delegated authority.

Allegheny Power System, Inc.; Proposal for Authorization to Create and Finance New Subsidiaries to Participate in Cogeneration Projects

October 17, 1984.

Allegheny Power System, Inc. ("Allegheny") a registered holding company, 320 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10022, has proposed a transaction with this Commission subject to sections 6, 7, 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13 of the Public Utility Holding Act of 1935 ("Act") and Rules 43, 50, 86, 87, 90 and 91 promulgated thereunder.

Allegheny proposes to acquire all of the capital stock of one or more new subsidiary corporations ("Newcos") whose activities will be limited to investing in and servicing qualifying cogeneration and small power production facilities ("Facilities") as defined by the Public Utility Regulatory Policies Act of 1978 ("PURPA") and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commisison ("FERC"). The state of organization of each Newco will be limited to states in which System operating companies transact their retail utility business or in which the Facilities are located.

The proposed Facilities may be located both insider and outside the service areas of the System operating companies, however, regardless of where the Facilities are located, they will be subject to electric energy purchase arrangements with System operating companies pursuant to § 292.303 (a) and (d) of the PURPA regulations. The capacity and energy represented by System participation in the Facilities will be incorporated in the integrated electrical operation and planning of the System.

Allegheny states that present System projections show a need for additional generating capacity in late 1992. Participation by System operating companies in the Facilities prior to that date, according to Allegheny, should have the effect of permitting deferral of such new capacity beyond 1992 depending upon the size and in-service dates of the Facilities.

Investments in the Facilities by the Newcos will be considered on a case-by-case basis and may take many different forms, including the purchase of shares, participation in partnerships and joint ventures, the making of loans, and entry into other contractual obligations. Any such investment by a Newco will not exceed 50% equity in a Facility, and such investments (excluding non-recourse liabilities) in the aggregate will not exceed $100 million. Allegheny requests the authority to fund these investments, subject to the above limitations, without further Commission authorization from time-to-time on or before December 31, 1986. Such flexible authority, Allegheny urges, is necessary to expedite the prompt negotiation of arrangements in respect to the various Facilities, each of which is typically the subject of complex financing and where time is of the essence.

Newcos will conduct their operations with a limited permanent staff and will, therefore, be furnished a variety of management, technical, financial, and legal services by Allegheny Power Service Corporation ("APSC"). From time to time, employees of other Allegheny subsidiaries who offer needed expertise not otherwise available from APSC may be temporarily assigned to Newco pursuant to a proposed form of agreement governing the provision of such personnel or other services. To the extent services are required of APSC or other subsidiaries they will account for, allocate and charge their costs or providing services or personnel to the Newcos on a full cost reimbursement basis in accordance with Rules 90 and 91 under the Act, utilizing a cost accumulation system, on a project-by-project basis, in accordance with the Uniform System of Accounts for Mutual and Subsidiary Service Companies. The Newcos will maintain systems of accounts based upon the Uniform System of Accounts prescribed for Public Utilities, modified where appropriate, as set forth in 18 CFR Part 101.

The proposal and any amendments thereto are available for public inspection through the Commission's Office of Public Reference. Interested persons wishing to comment or request a hearing should submit their views in writing by November 9, 1984, to the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549, and serve a copy on the applicant at the address specified above. Proof of service (by affidavit or, in case of an attorney at law, by certificate) should be filed with the request. Any request for a hearing shall identify specially the issues of fact or law that are disputed. A person who so requests will be notified of any hearing, if ordered, and will receive a copy of any notice or order issued in this matter. After said date, the proposal, as filed or as it may be amended, may be authorized.

For the Commission, by the Office of Public Utility Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.

Shirley E. Hollis,

Acting Secretary.

[Release No. 21403; File No. SR-NYSE-84-33]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Filing of Proposed Rule Change by the New York Stock Exchange

October 17, 1984.

On October 10, 1984, the New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE") filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission a proposed rule change pursuant to section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Act"), 15 U.S.C. 78s(b)(1) and Rule 19b-4 thereunder. The proposed rule change would permit NYSE listed companies to act as both transfer agent and registar for their securities. The NYSE has requested accelerated approval of the proposed rule change pursuant to section 19(b)(2) of the Act. The Commission is publishing this Notice to solicit comment on the proposed rule change. Because the Commission expects to act promptly in this matter following the close of the comment period, persons interested in commenting on this proposed rule change are urged to do so promptly.

The proposed rule change would modify NYSE's rules to permit listed companies to act as transfer agents and/or registrars for their own securities. Alternatively, listed companies would be permitted to designate other qualified organizations to act as transfer agents and/or registrars for their securities. However, listed companies that choose to act as both transfer agents and registrars for their securities must agree to separate those functions, establish sufficient internal accounting controls, and subject those controls to an annual review by independent auditors. NYSE rules currently require all listed companies to engage the services of a registrar that must be a bank or trust company not affiliated with the issuer. As a result, listed companies that act as transfer agents for their own securities must retain an independent registrar.

The NYSE states in its filing that the proposed rule change should result in significant operational efficiencies and cost savings for listed companies. In particular, the NYSE notes that eliminating the independent registrar requirement should promote economical and efficient transfer of securities, eliminate issuer and transfer agent expenditures for separate registrar facilities and reduce securities certificates handling problems that occur during the transfer and registrar process. In addition, the NYSE states that changes in auditing standards and improved security transfer controls signficantly lessen the risk of securities overissuances. As a result, the NYSE believes it is no longer appropriate to deprive listed companies of the potential savings and efficiencies the proposed rule change offers.

To assist the Commission in determining whether to approve the proposed rule change or to institute disapproval proceedings, you are invited to submit written data, views and arguments concerning the submission within 21 days after the date of publication in the Federal Register. If you decide to comment on this filing, please file six copies of your views in writing with the Secretary of the Commission, Securities and Exchange Commission, 450 5th Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20549. Reference should be made to File No. SR–NYSE–84–33.

Copies of the submission, all subsequent amendments, all written statements with respect to the proposed rule change which are filed with the Commission, and all other written communications relating to the proposed rule change between the Commission and any person, other than those which may be withheld from the public in accordance with the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552, will be available for inspection and copying at the Commission's Public Reference Room, 450 5th Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20549. Copies of the filing and of any subsequent amendments also will be available for inspection and copying at the principal office of PSDTX.

For the Commission, by the Division of Market Regulation pursuant to delegated authority.

Acting Secretary.

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Proposed Rule Change By Philadelphia Stock Exchange, Inc.; Relating to Time Period for Assessment of Late Charges

Pursuant to section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. 78s(b)(1), notice is hereby given that on September 21, 1984, Philadelphia Stock Exchange, Inc. filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission the proposed rule change as described in Items I, II and III below, which Items have been prepared by the self-regulatory organization. The Commission is publishing this notice to solicit comments on the proposed rule change from interested persons.

I. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Terms of Substance of the Proposed Rule Change

The Philadelphia Stock Exchange, Inc. ("PHLX") or ("Exchange") hereby proposes to amend Rule 50 on late charges. (Brackets indicate deleted language; italics indicate added language.)

Rule 50. There shall be imposed upon any member or member organization using the facilities or services of the Exchange, or enjoying any of the privileges therein, a later charge until payment is received of dues, fees, fines, or others imposed by the Exchange and not paid within [(30)] (40) days after notice thereof has been mailed. The amount of such late charge shall be fixed from time to time by the Board of Governors. If any member or member organization shall fail to pay such dues, fees, fines or other charges, including late charges, within ninety (90) days after notice thereof has been mailed, the Controller shall so notify the Board of Governors which shall take such action as it may deem appropriate.

Supplementary Material—no change.

II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the self-regulatory organization included statements concerning the purpose of and basis for the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. The self-regulatory organization has prepared summaries, set forth in sections (A), (B), and (C) below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for the Proposed Rule Change

The purpose of the proposed rule change is to extend the period of time prior to which a late charge may be assessed by the Exchange for a member's delinquency in paying various fees for use of facilities and services. The extended time period is intended to be responsive to certain members who have informed the Exchange that their internal processing of bills takes slightly longer than 30 days.

The proposed rule change is consistent with section 6(b)(5) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Act") in that it will facilitate transactions in securities.

B. Self-Regulatory Organizations Statement on Burden on Competition

The Exchange does not believe the proposed rule change will impose any burden on competiton.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received from Members, Participants, or Others

Comments on the proposed rule change were neither solicited nor received.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

The foregoing rule change has become effective pursuant to section 19(b)(3) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and subparagraph (e) of Securities Exchange Act Rule 19b–4. At any time within 60 days of the filing of such proposed rule change, the Commission may summarily abrogate such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

IV. Solicitation of Comments

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views and arguments concerning the foregoing. Persons making written submissions should file six copies thereof with the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 450 Fifth Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20549. Copies of the submission, all subsequent amendments, all written statements with respect to the proposed rule change that are filed with the Commission, and all written communications relating to the proposed rule change between the Commission and any person, other than those that may be withheld from the public in accordance with the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552, will be available for inspection and copying in the Commission's Public Reference Section, 450 Fifth Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20549. Copies of such filing will also be available for inspection and copying at the principal office of the above-mentioned self-regulatory organization. All submissions should refer to the file number in the caption above and should be submitted by November 12, 1984.

For the Commission by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.

Dated: October 15, 1984.

SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Action Subject to Intergovernmental Review

AGENCY: Small Business Administration.

ACTION: Notice of Action Subject to Intergovernmental Review Under Executive Order 12372.

SUMMARY: This notice provides for public awareness of SBA's intention to refund 3 of our 35 Small Business Development Centers (SBDC's) for fiscal year 1985. It should be noted that fiscal year 1985 funding is contingent upon legislative reauthorization of the SBDC program. It also provides a description of the SBDC program by setting forth a condensed version of the program announcement which has been furnished to each of the SBDC's to be refunded. This publication is being made to provide State single points of contact, designated pursuant to Executive Order 12372, and other interested State and local entities, the opportunity to comment on the proposed refunding in accord with the Executive Order and SBA's regulations found at 13 CFR Part 135.

DATE: Comments will be received for a period of 120 days from the date of publication of this notice.

ADDRESS: Comments should be addressed to Mrs. Johnnie L. Albertson, Deputy Associate Administrator for SBDC Programs, U.S. Small Business Administration, 1441 L Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20416.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Same as above.

Notice of Action Subject to Intergovernmental Review

SBA is bound by the provisions of Executive Order 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." SBA has promulgated regulations spelling out its obligations under that Executive Order. See 13 CFR Part 135, effective September 30, 1983.

In accord with these regulations, specifically § 135.4, SBA is publishing this notice to provide public awareness of the pending application of presently existent Small Business Development Centers (SBDC's) for refunding. Also, published herewith is an annotated program announcement describing the SBDC program in detail.

This notice is being published five months in advance of the date of refunding of these existent SBDC's. Relevant information identifying these SBDC's and providing their mailing address is provided below. In addition to this publication, a copy of this notice is being simultaneously furnished to each affected State single point of contact which has been established under the Executive Order.

State single points of contact and other interested State and local entities are expected to advise the relevant SBDC of their comments regarding the proposed refunding in writing as soon as possible. Copies of such written comments should also be furnished to Mrs. Johnnie L. Albertson, Deputy Associate Administrator for SBDC Programs, U.S. Small Business Administration, 1441 L Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20416. Comments will be accepted by the relevant SBDC's and SBA for a period of four months (120 days) from the date of publication of this notice. The relevant SBDC's will make every effort to accommodate these comments during the 120 day period. If the comments cannot be accommodated by the relevant SBDC, SBA will, prior to refunding the SBDC, either attain accommodation of any comments or furnish an explanation of why accommodation cannot be attained to the commentor prior to refunding the SBDC.

Description of the SBDC Program

The Small Business Development Center Program is a major management assistance delivery program of the U.S. Small Business Administration. SBDC's are authorized under section 21 of the Small Business act (15 U.S.C. 648). SBDC's operate pursuant to the provisions of section 21, a Notice of Award (Cooperative Agreement) issued by SBA, and a Program Announcement. The Program represents a partnership between SBA and the State-endorsed organization receiving Federal assistance for its operation. SBDC's operate on the basis of a State plan which provides small business assistance throughout the State. As a condition to any financial award made to an applicant, an additional amount equal to the amount of assistance provided by SBA must be provided to the SBDC from sources other than the Federal Government.

Purpose and Scope

The SBDC Program has been designed to meet the specialized and complex management and technical assistance needs of the small business community. SBDC's focus on providing indepth quality assistance to small businesses in all areas which promote growth, expansion, innovation, increased productivity and management improvement. SBDC's act in an advocacy role to promote local small business interests. SBDC's concentrate on developing the unique resources of the university system, the private sector, and State and local governments to provide services to the small business community which are not available elsewhere. SBDC's coordinate with other SBA programs of management assistance and utilize the expertise of these affiliated resources to expand services and avoid duplication of effort.

Program Objectives

The overall objective of the SBDC Program is to leverage Federal dollars and resources with those of the State academic community and private sector to:

(a) Strengthen the small business community;

(b) Contribute to the economic growth of the communities served;

(c) Make assistance available to more small businesses than is now possible with present Federal resources; and

(d) Create a broader based delivery system to the small business community.

SBDC Program Organization

SBDC's are organized to provide maximum services to the local business community. The lead SBDC receives financial assistance from the SBA to operate a statewide SBDC Program. In states where more than one organization receives SBA financial assistance to operate an SBDC, each lead SBDC is responsible for Program operations throughout a specific regional area to be served by the SBDC. The lead SBDC is responsible for establising a network of SBDC subcenters to offer service coverage to the small business community. The SBDC network is managed and directed by a single full-time Director. SBDC's must ensure that at least 80 percent of Federal funds provided are used to provide services to small businesses. To the extent possible, SBDC's provide services by enlisting volunteer and other low cost resources on a statewide basis.

SBDC Services

The specific types of services to be offered are developed in coordination with the SBA district office which has jurisdiction over a given SBDC. SBDC's emphasize the provision of indepth, high-quality assistance to small business owners or prospective small business owners in complex areas that require specialized expertise. These areas may include, but are not limited to: management, marketing, financing, accounting, strategic planning, regulation and taxation, capital formation, procurement assistance, human resource management, production, operations, economic and business data analysis, engineering, technology transfer, innovation and research, new product development, product analysis, plant layout and design, agribusiness, computer application, business law information and referral (any legal services beyond basic legal information and referral require the endorsement of the State Bar Association), exporting, office automation, site selection, or any other areas of assistance required to promote small business growth, expansion, and productivity within the State.

The degree to which SBDC resources are directed towards specific areas of assistance is determined by local community needs, SBA priorities and SBDC Program objectives and agreed upon by the SBA district office and the SBDC.

The SBDC must offer quality training to improve the skills and knowledge of existing and prospective small business owners. As a general guideline, SBDC's should emphasize the provision of training in specialized areas other than basic small business management subjects. SBDC's should also emphasize training designed to reach particular audiences such as members of SBA priority and special emphasis groups.

SBDC Program Requirements

The SBDC is responsible to the SBA for ensuring that all programmatic and financial requirements imposed upon them by statute or agreement are met. The SBDC must assure that quality assistance and training in management and technical areas is provided to the State small business community through the State SBDC network. As a condition of this agreement, the SBDC must perform but not be limited to the following activities.

(a) The SBDC ensures that services are provided as close as possible to small business population centers. This is accomplished through the establishment of SBDC subcenters.

(b) The SBDC ensures that lists of local and regional private consultants are maintained at the lead SBDC and each SBDC subcenter. The SBDC utilizes and provides compensation to qualified small business vendors such as private management consultants, private consulting engineers, and private testing laboratories.

(c) The SBDC is responsible for the development and expansion of resources within the State, particularly the development of new resources to assist small business that are not presently associated with the SBA district office.

(d) The SBDC ensures that working relationships and open communications exist within the financial and investment communities, and with legal associations, private consultants, as well as small business groups and associations to help address the needs of the small business community.

(e) The SBDC ensures that assistance is provided to SBA special emphasis groups throughout the SBDC network. This assistance shall be provided to veterans, women, exporters, the handicapped, and minorities as well as any other groups designated a priority by SBA. Services provided to special emphasis groups shall be performed as part of the Cooperative Agreement.

Avance Understandings

(a) Lead SBDC's shall operate on a 40-hour week basis, or during normal State business hours, with National holidays or State holidays as applicable excluded.

(b) SBDC subcenters shall be operated on a full-time basis. The lead SBDC shall ensure that staffing is adequate to meet the needs of the small business community.

(c) All counseling assistance offered through the Small Business Development Center network shall be provided at no cost to the client.

Action Subject to Intergovernmental Review

AGENCY: Small Business Administration.

ACTION: Notice of Action Subject to Intergovernmental Review Under Executive Order 12372.

SUMMARY: This notice provides for public awareness of SBA's intention to refund one of our 35 Small Business Development Centers (SBDC's) for fiscal year 1985. It also provides a description of the SBDC program by setting forth a condensed version of the program announcement which has been furnished to the SBDC to be refunded. This publication is being made to provide the State single point of contact, designated pursuant to Executive Order 12372, and other interested State and local entities, the opportunity to comment on the proposed refunding in accord with the Executive Order and SBA's regulations found at 13 CFR Part 135.

DATE: Comments will be received for a period of 120 days from the date of publication of this notice.

ADDRESS: Comments should be addressed to Mrs. Johnnie L. Albertson, Deputy Associate Administrator for SBDC Programs, U.S. Small Business Administration, 1441 L Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20416.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Same as above.

Notice of Action Subject to Intergovernmental Review

SBA is bound by the provisions of Executive Order 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." SBA has promulgated regulations spelling out its obligations under that Executive Order. See 13 CFR Part 135, effective September 30, 1983.

In accord with these regulations, specifically § 135.4, SBA is publishing this notice to provide public awareness of the pending application of presently existent Small Business Development Centers (SBDC's) for refunding. Also, published herewith is an annotated program announcement describing the SBDC program in detail.

This notice is being published six months in advance of the date of refunding of this existent SBDC. Relevant information identifying this SBDC and providing its mailing address is provided below. In addition to this publication, a copy of this notice is being simultaneously furnished to the affected State single point of contact which has been established under the Executive Order.

The State single point of contact and other interested State and local entities are expected to advise the relevant SBDC of their comments regarding the proposed refunding in writing as soon as possible. Copies of such written comments should also be furnished to Mrs. Johnnie L. Albertson, Deputy Associate Administrator for SBDC Programs, U.S. Small Business Administration, 1441 L Street, NW., Washington, D.C. 20416. Comments will be accepted by the relevant SBDC and SBA for a period of four months (120 days) from the date of publication of this notice. The relevant SBDC will make every effort to accommodate these comments during the 120 day period. If the comments cannot be accommodated by the relevant SBDC, SBA will, prior to refunding the SBDC, either attain accommodation of any comments or furnish an explanation of why accommodation cannot be attained to the commentor prior to refunding the SBDC.

Description of the SBDC Program

The Small Business Development Center Program is a major management assistance delivery program of the U.S. Small Business Administration. SBDC's are authorized under section 21 of the Small Business Act (15 U.S.C. 648). SBDC's operate pursuant to the provisions of section 21, a Notice of Award (Cooperative Agreement) issued by SBA, and a Program Announcement. The Program represents a partnership between SBA and the State-endorsed organization receiving Federal assistance for its operation. SBDC's operate on the basis of a State plan which provides small business assistance throughout the State. As a condition to any financial award made to an applicant, an additional amount equal to the amount of assistance provided by SBA must be provided to the SBDC from sources other than the Federal Government.

Purpose and Scope

The SBDC Program has been designed to meet the specialized and complex management and technical assistance needs of the small business community. SBDC's focus on providing indepth quality assistance to small businesses in all areas which promote growth, expansion, innovation, increased productivity and management improvement. SBDC's act in an advocacy role to promote local small business interests. SBDC's concentrate on developing the unique resources of the university system, the private sector, and State and local governments to provide services to the small business community which are not available elsewhere. SBDC's coordinate with other SBA programs of management assistance and utilize the expertise of these affiliated resources to expand services and avoid duplication of effort.

Program Objectives

The overall objective of the SBDC Program is to leverage Federal dollars and resources with those of the State academic community and private sector to:

(a) Strengthen the small business community;

(b) Contribute to the economic growth of the communities served;

(c) Make assistance available to more small businesses than is now possible with present Federal resources; and

(d) Create a broader based delivery system to the small business community.

SBDC Program Organization

SBDC's are organized to provide maximum services to the local small business community. The lead SBDC receives financial assistance from the SBA to operate a statewide SBDC Program. In states where more than one organization receives SBA financial assistance to operate an SBDC, each lead SBDC is responsible for Program operations throughout a specific regional area to be served by the SBDC. The lead SBDC is responsible for establishing a network of SBDC subcenters to offer service coverage to the small business community. The SBDC network is managed and directed by a single full-time Director. SBDC's must ensure that a least 80 percent of Federal funds provided are used to provide services to small businesses. To the exent possible, SBDC's provide services by enlisting volunteer and other low cost resources on a statewide basis.

SBDC Services

The specific types of services to be offered are developed in coordination with the SBA district office which has jurisdiction over a given SBDC. SBDC's emphasize the provision of indepth, high-quality assistance to small business owners or prospective small business owners in complex areas that require specialized expertise. These areas may include, but are not limited to: management, marketing, financing, accounting, strategic planning, regulation and taxation, capital formation, procurement assistance, human resource management, production, operations, economic and business data analysis, engineering, technology transfer, innovation and research, new product development, product analysis, plant layout and design, agri-business, computer application, business law information, and referral (any legal services beyond basic legal information and referral require the endorsement of the State Bar Association,) exporting, office automation, site selection, or any other areas of assistance required to promote small business growth, expansion, and productivity within the State.

The degree to which SBDC resources are directed towards specific areas of assistance is determined by local community needs, SBA priorities and SBDC Program objectives and agreed upon by the SBA district office and the SBDC.

The SBDC must offer quality training to improve the skills and knowledge of existing and prospective small business owners. As a general guideline, SBDC's should emphasize the provision of training in specialized areas other than basic small business management subjects. SBDC's should also emphasize training designed to reach particular audiences such as members of SBA priority and special emphasis groups.

SBDC Program Requirements

The SBDC is responsible to the SBA for ensuring that all programmatic and financial requirements imposed upon them by statute or agreement are met. The SBDC must assure that quality assistance and training in management and technical areas is provided to the State small business community through the State SBDC network. As a condition of this agreement, the SBDC must perform but not be limited to the following activities.

(a) The SBDC ensures that services are provided as close as possible to small business population centers. This is accomplished through the establishment of SBDC subcenters.

(b) The SBDC ensures that lists of local and regional private consultants are maintained at the lead SBDC and each SBDC subcenter. The SBDC utilizes and provides compensation to qualified small business vendors such as private management consultants, private consulting engineers, and private testing laboratories.

(c) The SBDC is responsible for the development and expansion of resources within the State, particularly the development of new resources to assist small business that are not presently associated with the SBA district office.

(d) The SBDC ensures that working relationships and open communications exist within the financial and investment communities, and with legal associations, private consultants, as well as small business groups and associations to help address the needs of the small business community.

(e) The SBDC ensures that assistance is provided to SBA special emphasis groups thoughout the SBDC network. This assistance shall be provided to veterans, women, exporters, the handicapped, and minorities as well as any other groups designated a priority by SBA. Services provided to special emphasis groups shall be performed as part of the Cooperative Agreement.

Advance Understandings

(a) Lead SBDC's shall operate on a 40-hour week basis, or during normal State business hours, with National holidays or State holidays as applicable excluded.

(b) SBDC subcenters shall be operated on a full-time basis. The lead SBDC shall ensure that staffing is adequate to meet the needs of the small business community.

(c) All counseling assistance offered through the Small Business Development Center nerwork shall be provided at no cost to the client.

Urban Mass Transportation Administration

[Docket No. 83–D]

Private Enterprise Participation in the Urban Mass Transportation Program

AGENCY: Urban Mass Transportation Administration, DOT.

ACTION: Notice of policy.

SUMMARY: In response to President Reagan's call for a greater private sector role in addressing community needs, the Urban Mass Transportation Administration (UMTA) announces its policy regarding private enterprise participation in the development of plans and programs to be funded under the Urban Mass Transportation Act of 1964, as amended ("the UMT Act"), and under the provisions authorizing use of Federal-Aid Highway Funds for public mass transit projects. The policy provides interim guidance to grantees and private sector providers on specified private enterprise provisions of the UMT Act. It is UMTA's intention to promulgate a regulation to implement these provisions in the near future. This statement addresses two provisions of the UMT Act that concern private enterprise participation, Sections 8(e) and 3(e), for the purpose of identifying: (1) The factors UMTA will consider in deciding whether local planning processes meet the requirements of Section 8(e); and (2) the procedures UMTA will employ in the event the Secretary of Transportation must make the findings required by Section 3(e) of the Act. UMTA does not intend to dictate specific ways to address the factors set forth in this policy statement. Similarly, failure to address any one of these elements may not necessarily undermine the validity of a grantee's planning process or disqualify grantees from receiving Federal assistance. However, UMTA's evaluation of an applicant's efforts to maximize private enterprise participation, as required by the Act, will be based largely upon the factors which UMTA has identified in this statement as effective measures for ensuring that the capabilities of private providers are fairly considered. If experience demonstrates that private providers are unfairly excluded from the plans and programs funded under the UMT Act, notwithstanding this policy statement, then more direct Federal measures than those contained herein may be necessary. Comments by all interested parties are invited on this statement.

DATE: This policy will become effective October 22, 1984. However, UMTA is interested in receiving comments on this policy. Comments must be received on or before December 21, 1984.

ADDRESS: Comments on this policy should be submitted to UMTA Docket Number 83–D, Urban Mass Transportation Administration, Room 9228, 400 Seventh Street, SW., Washington, D.C. 20590. All written communications received on or before the comment period closes will be considered in determining whether adjustments to this policy may be warranted.

All comments and suggestions received will be available for examination at the above address between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. Receipt of comments will be acknowledged by UMTA if a self-addressed, stamped postcard is included with each comment.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Kenneth E. Bolton, Office of Policy, Room 9300, Telephone [202] 426–4060; or Gerald Musarra, Office of the Chief Counsel, Room 9228, Telephone [202] 426–1936, UMTA, 400 Seventh Street, SW., Washington, D.C. 20590.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Private transportation providers have frequently voiced their concern that, in spite of statutory requirements, public decisionmakers do not fully or fairly consider the capacity of private enterprise to provide mass transportation services. The private providers, their representative organizations and the General Accounting Office have all urged UMTA to articulate the agency's view on meaningful compliance with the private enterprise provisions of the UMT Act. In 1982, Congress amended the UMT Act to include a new section 9: Block Grants. Section 9(f) directs recipients of grants under section 9 to employ a process whereby private transportation providers are consulted and their views fully considered in developing the program of projects to be funded under section 9. It is UMTA's view that the process of consultation and consideration called for in section 9(f) is related closely to the underlying policy objective of section 8(e), that of maximizing private sector involvement in the planning activities conducted pursuant to section 8.

Although only section 9 recipients are required to adhere to the procedures of section 9(f) (UMTA C 9030.1, "Section 9 Formula Grant Application Instructions," June 27, 1983), this policy seeks to encourage reliance on an approach based on section 9(f) as a means of achieving compliance with the requirements of section 8(e). Grantees are by no means precluded from developing alternatives of their own in order to achieve such compliance.

To the extent that this policy statement imposes paperwork burdens, it is subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980 (44 U.S.C. 3507). UMTA intends to submit this policy statement under the Paperwork Reduction Act to OMB for approval. Comments on the paperwork impacts of the policy and possible ways to reduce them are requested.

Issued: October 16, 1984.

Ralph L. Stanley,

Administrator.

Urban Mass Transportation Administration, Private Enterprise Participation in Federally Assisted Programs

1. Purpose

This policy statement has been developed to provide guidance in achieving compliance with the requirements of section 8(e) and section 3(e) (1) and (2) of the UMT Act. It is also UMTA's intention through this policy statement to promote greater reliance on the private sector in the provision of mass transportation services both as an independent private sector activity and through competitive contractual arrangements with public bodies.

2. Scope

This policy identifies the principal factors UMTA will take into account in determining whether local proposals for Federal assistance under sections 3 and 9 of the Urban Mass Transportation Act of 1964, as amended ("the UMT Act"), (49 U.S.C. 1601 et. seq.) and 23 U.S.C. 103(e)(4) and 142 meet the statutory requirements of sections 3(e) (1) and (2) and 8(e) of the Act.

3. Background

Three provisions in the UMT Act address either the role of private enterprise generally or private transportation providers specifically in UMTA's assistance programs. These provisions are: section 8, which focuses on the conduct of the local planning process; section 3(e), which provides safeguards to existing mass transportation companies from unwarranted acquisition or competition resulting from a grant of assistance; and section 9(f), which sets out the manner for developing the program of projects to be funded under the Formula Grant Program (section 9). More specifically, section 8(c) of the UMT Act requires the Secretary to find that a program of projects, to be eligible for assistance, has been based on a planning process conducted in conformance with the objectives set out in section 8. One such objective, identified in section 8(e), directs UMTA grantees to encourage the maximum feasible participation of private enterprise in the plans and programs funded under the Act. Further, when UMTA has been requested to provide assistance which will have an impact on an existing mass transportation company, as specified in section 3(e) of the Act, the Secretary is required, prior to approving such assistance, to find: (1) That the project or program is essential to the local program of projects, and (2) that the local program provides for the maximum feasible participation of private mass transportation companies. Finally, as a precondition to the receipt of funding under section 9, recipients must develop a program of projects in accordance with the procedures set out in section 9(f). Section 9(f) clearly envisions a participatory approach to program development, commencing with notice to the public and followed by a consultative process involving interested parties and, in particular, private transportation providers. Once a detailed proposed program has been developed, recipients must allow a reasonable time for comments by affected citizens, private providers and local officials. At some point after the proposed program has been developed, the recipient must also provide an opportunity for a public hearing. The final program of projects submitted to UMTA must reflect the consideration that was accorded to the comments and views, especially those of private providers, garnered during the program development process. The final program, modified as appropriate by this consideration, must be made available to the public.

Beginning in FY 1984, grants under section 9 will constitute the largest portion of UMTA's assistance program, with the result that most grantees will be charged with responsibilities under both sections 8(e) and 9(f). Recognizing this, UMTA has relied upon section 9(f) as a congressionally formulated model for guidance on section 8(e). The policy strives to achieve a streamlined process for developing the plans and programs to be funded under the Act and to eliminate the possibility that grantees would be burdened with duplicative procedural requirements. Additionally, early reliance on the section 9 model should narrow the range of issues to be addressed in the course of developing a final program of projects under section 9, and thereby make for expeditious grant delivery.

4. Policy

The joint UMTA/FHWA planning regulation (48 FR 30332, June 30, 1983) requires that the local planning process be consistent with sections 8(e) and 3(e) concerning the involvement of private transportation providers.

This policy is intended as amplification of UMTA's view that private sector participation is most meaningful when initiated early in the planning process. When developing federally assisted mass transportation plans and programs, UMTA grantees should give timely and fair consideration to the comments and proposals of interested private enterprise entities in order to achieve maximum feasible private participation.

As a general matter, UMTA recognizes that local decisionmakers should be afforded maximum flexibility in developing plans and programs to meet local transportation service requirements. At the same time, UMTA is obligated to ensure that local decisionmakers fully and fairly consider the private sector's capacity to provide needed transportation services.

In determining whether the local planning process conforms to the private enterprise requirements of the UMT Act, UMTA will consider a number of factors derived from the procedure set out in section 9(f). UMTA's determination of compliance will be made as part of the Secretary's finding under section 8(c) that the Transportation Improvement Program (TIP) is based on a planning process being carried on in conformance with the objectives of section 8, and, when appropriate, pursuant to the requirements of section 3(e). Specifically, UMTA will consider the factors set forth below:

I. Consultation With Private Providers in the Local Planning Process

A. Notifications. It is UMTA policy that local entities, as part of their transportation planning process, provide reasonable notice to private transportation providers and possible new business entrants regarding proposed services and opportunities for private transportation providers in order that they may present their views concerning the development of local plans and programs. To the extent possible, it is also desirable to make known in advance the criteria which will be taken into account in making public/private service decisions.

B. Early Consultation. It is UMTA policy that a fair appraisal of private sector views and capabilities be assured by affording private providers an early opportunity to participate in the development of projects that involve new or restructured mass transit services. Private providers should be given opportunity to present their views concerning the development of local transportation plans and programs and to offer their own service proposals for consideration.

II. Consideration of Private Enterprise

A. Development of the Transportation Program. It is UMTA policy that private providers be afforded an opportunity to participate in and have their views be considered in the development of the annual (biennial) element of the TIP before MPO endorsement.

B. Provision of Service by Private Operators Without Public Involvement. It is UMTA policy that when new service needs are developed, or services are significantly restructured, consideration should be given to whether private carriers could provide such service in a manner which is consistent with local objectives and without public subsidy. Moreover, existing transit services should be periodically reviewed to determine if they can be provided more efficiently by the private sector. Public officials should examine possible adjustments in local regulation or existing service requirements in order to permit private carriers to perform service without subsidy in the free market.

C. Opportunities for Private Carriers to Provide Assisted Services. It is UMTA policy that where it is determined that public assistance is required, consideration should be given to the capability of private providers to provide such new of substantially restructured mass transportation services.

UMTA does not consider it acceptable for localities to foreclose opportunities for private enterprise by simply pointing to local barriers to their involvement in federally assisted local transportation programs. In general, a simple reference in the public record to public agency labor agreements or a local policy that calls for direct operation of all mass transportation providers, would not satisfy the private enterprise requirements of the Act.

D. True Comparison of Costs. When comparing the service proposals made by public and private entities, all the fully allocated costs of public and non-profit agencies should be counted. Subsidies provided to public carriers, including operating subsidies, capital grants and the use of public facilities should be reflected in the cost comparisons.

III. Section 3(e)—Documentation

Section 3(e) of the Act affords safeguards to existing private mass transportation companies when proposed projects compete with or supplement the services they provide or when a federally assisted acquisition of a private mass transportation company, equipment or facilities is to occur. In these situations, section 3(e) requires the Secretary to find that the project in question is essential to the program of projects, and that the program provides for the maximum feasible participation of private mass transportation companies. Should it be necessary for these findings to be made, UMTA will request, and the grantee should provide, the necessary documentation upon which the section 3(e) findings will be based. Public records are expected to be in place that document the participatory nature of the local planning process, and the rationale used in making public/private service decisions.

IV. Compliance

Pursuant to the UMTA/FHWA joint planning regulations, the State and the MPO, at the time the annual or biennial element of the Transportation Improvement Program (TIP) is submitted to UMTA, will certify that the planning process is being carried on in conformance with all the requirements of section 8, including section 8(e).

UMTA, is considering conducting periodic Federal planning management reviews to ensure that all the planning requirements of section 8 are being met by recipients of Federal funds. In addition, compliance with the private enterprise provisions of the Act will be monitored as part of the annual audits and triennial reviews by section 9 of the Act.

V. Complaints

Since the underlying spirit of the UMT Act is to afford communities maximum flexibility in local decisionmaking, it is appropriate that questions dealing with the fairness of local procedures and decisions be addressed at the local level. Accordingly, a discrete local mechanism, preferably independent, should be devised for resolving disputes in a manner which assures fairness to all parties.

UMTA will entertain complaints from private enterprise organizations only upon procedural grounds that the local planning and programming process has not established procedures for the maximum feasible participation of private transportation providers consistent with section 8(e) and the spirit of this policy; or that local procedures were not followed; or that the local process does not provide for fair resolution of disputes. Accordingly, UMTA will not review disputes concerning the substance of local decisions regarding service or the appropriate service provider. Nor will UMTA entertain procedural protests prior to a disposition of complaints at the local level.

BILLING CODE 4910-57-M

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Office of the Secretary

[Dept. Circ. Public Debt Series—No. 30-84]

Treasury Notes of September 30, 1988, Series N-1988

October 15, 1984.

1. Invitation for Tenders

1.1. The Secretary of the Treasury, under the authority of Chapter 31 of Title 31, United States Code, invites tenders for approximately $6,000,000,000 of United States securities, designated Treasury Notes of September 30, 1988, Series N-1988 (CUSIP No. 912827 RH 7). The securities will be sold at auction, with bidding on the basis of yield. Payment will be required at the price equivalent of the bid yield of each accepted tender. The interest rate on the securities and the price equivalent of each accepted bid will be determined in the manner described below. Additional amounts of these securities may be issued to Government accounts and Federal Reserve Banks for their own account in exchange for maturing Treasury securities. Additional amounts of the new securities may also be issued at the average price to Federal Reserve Banks, as agents for foreign and international monetary authorities.

2. Description of Securities

2.1. The securities will be dated October 31, 1984, and will bear interest from that date, payable on a semiannual basis on March 31, 1985, and each subsequent 6 months on September 30 and March 31 until the principal becomes payable. They will mature September 30, 1988, and will not be subject to call for redemption prior to maturity. In the event an interest payment date or the maturity date is a Saturday, Sunday, or other nonbusiness day, the interest or principal is payable on the next-succeeding business day.

2.2. The securities are subject to all taxes imposed under the Internal Revenue Code of 1954. The securities are exempt from all taxation now or hereafter imposed on the obligation or interest thereof by any State, any possession of the United States, or any local taxing authority, except as provided in 31 U.S.C. 3124.

2.3. The securities will be acceptable to secure deposits of public monies. They will not be acceptable in payment of taxes.

2.4. Securities registered as to principal and interest will be issued in denominations of $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $100,000, and $1,000,000. Book-entry securities will be available to eligible bidders in multiples of those amounts. Interchanges of securities of different denominations and of registered and book-entry securities, and the transfer of registered securities will be permitted. Bearer securities will not be available, and the interchange of registered or book-entry securities for bearer securities will not be permitted.

2.5. After December 8, 1984, the Treasury may issue, through the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, as fiscal agent of the United States, additional amounts of the securities offered in this circular in exchange for equal par amounts of the Foreign-Targeted Treasury Notes of September 30, 1988, Series P–1988 (CUSIP No. 912827 RJ 3). Such exchanges must be conducted in accordance with Section 10 of Department Circular, Public Debt Series 31–84 dated October 10, 1984.

2.6. The Department of the Treasury's general regulations governing United States securities apply to the securities offered in this circular. These general regulations include those currently in effect, as well as those that may be issued at a later date.

3. Sale Procedures

3.1. Tenders will be received at Federal Reserve Banks and Branches and at the Bureau of the Public Debt, Washington, DC 20239, prior to 1:00 p.m., Eastern Daylight Saving time, Wednesday, October 24, 1984. Noncompetitive tenders as defined below will be considered timely if postmarked no later than Tuesday, October 23, 1984, and received no later than Wednesday, October 31, 1984.

3.2. The face amount of securities bid for must be stated on each tender. The minimum bid is $1,000, and larger bids must be in multiples of that amount. Competitive tenders must also show the yield desired, expressed in terms of an annual yield with two decimals, e.g., 7.10%. Common fractions may not be used. Noncompetitive tenders must show the term "noncompetitive" on the tender form in lieu of a specified yield.

3.3. A single bidder, as defined in Treasury's single bidder guidelines, shall not submit noncompetitive tenders totaling more than $1,000,000. A noncompetitive bidder may not have entered into an agreement, nor make an agreement to purchase or sell or otherwise dispose of any noncompetitive awards of this issue being auctioned prior to the designated closing time for receipt of tenders.

3.4. Commercial banks, which for this purpose are defined as banks accepting demand deposits, and primary dealers, which for this purpose are defined as dealers who make primary markets in Government securities and report daily to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York their positions in and borrowing on such securities, may submit tenders for account of customers if the names of the customers and the amount for each customer are furnished. Others are permitted to submit tenders only for their own account.

3.5. Tenders will be received without deposit for their own account from commercial banks and other banking institutions; primary dealers, as defined above; Federally-insured savings and loan associations; States, and their political subdivisions or instrumentalities; public pension and retirement and other public funds; international organizations in which the United States holds membership; foreign central banks and foreign states; Federal Reserve Banks; and Government accounts. Tenders from others must be accompanied by full payment for the amount of securities applied for (in the form of cash, maturing Treasury securities, or readily collectible checks), or by a payment guarantee of 5 percent of the face amount applied for, from a commercial bank or a primary dealer.

3.6. Immediately after the closing hour, tenders will be opened, followed by a public announcement of the amount and yield range of accepted bids. Subject to the reservations expressed in Section 4, noncompetitive tenders will be accepted in full, and then competitive tenders will be accepted, starting with those at the lowest yields, through successively higher yields to the extent required to attain the amount offered. Tenders at the highest accepted yield will be prorated if necessary. After the determination is made as to which tenders are accepted, an interest rate will be established, on the basis of a ⅛ of one percent increment, which results in an equivalent average accepted price close to 100.000 and a lowest accepted price above the original issue discount limit of 99.250. That rate of interest will be paid on all of the securities. Based on such interest rate, the price on each competitive tender allotted will be determined and each successful competitive bidder will be required to pay the price equivalent to the yield bid. Those submitting noncompetitive tenders will pay the price equivalent to the weighted average yield of accepted competitive tenders. Price calculations will be carried to three decimal places on the basis of price per hundred, e.g., 99.923, and the determinations of the Secretary of the Treasury shall be final. If the amount of noncompetitive tenders received would absorb all or most of the offering, competitive tenders will be accepted in an amount sufficient to provide a fair determination of the yield. Tenders received from Government accounts and Federal Reserve Banks will be accepted at the price equivalent to the weighted average yield of accepted competitive tenders.

3.7. Competitive bidders will be advised of the acceptance or rejection of their tenders. Those submitting noncompetitive tenders will be notified only if the tender is not accepted in full, or when the price is over par.

4. Reservations

4.1. The Secretary of the Treasury expressly reserves the right to accept or reject any or all tenders in whole or in part, to allot more or less than the amount of securities specified in Section 1, and to make different percentage allotments to various classes of applicants when the Secretary considers it in the public interest. The Secretary's action under this Section is final.

5. Payment and Delivery

5.1. Settlement for allotted securities must be made at the Federal Reserve Bank or Branch or at the Bureau of the Public Debt, wherever the tender was submitted. Settlement on securities allotted to institutional investors and to others whose tenders are accompanied by a payment guarantee as provided in Section 3.5. must be made or completed on or before Wednesday, October 31, 1984. Payment in full must accompany tenders submitted by all other investors.

Payment must be in cash; in other funds immediately available to the Treasury; in Treasury bills, notes, or bonds (with all coupons detached) maturing on or before the settlement date but which are not overdue as defined in the general regulations governing United States securities; or by check drawn to the order of the institution to which the tender was submitted, which must be received from institutional investors no later than Monday, October 29, 1984. In addition, Treasury Tax and Loan Note Option Depositaries may make payment for allotted securities for their own accounts and for account of customers by credit to their Treasury Tax and Loan Note Accounts on or before Wednesday, October 31, 1984. When payment has been submitted with the tender and the purchase price of allotted securities is over par, settlement for the premium must be completed timely, as specified in the preceding sentence. When payment has been submitted with the tender and the purchase price is under par, the discount will be remitted to the bidder. Payment will not be considered complete where registered securities are requested if the appropriate identifying number as required on tax returns and other documents submitted to the Internal Revenue Service (an individual's social security number or an employer identification number) is not furnished. When payment is made in securities, a cash adjustment will be made to or required of the bidder for any difference between the face amount of securities presented and the amount payable on the securities allotted.

5.2. In every case where full payment has not been completed on time, an amount of up to 5 percent of the face amount of securities allotted, shall, at the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury, be forfeited to the United States.

5.3. Registered securities tendered in payment for allotted securities are not required to be assigned if the new securities are to be registered in the same names and forms as appear in the registrations or assignments of the securities surrendered. When the new securities are to be registered in names and forms different from those in the inscriptions or assignments of the securities presented, the assignment should be to "The Secretary of the Treasury for (securities offered by this circular) in the name of (name and taxpayer identifying number)." Specific instructions for the issuance and delivery of the new securities, signed by the owner or authorized representative, must accompany the securities presented. Securities tendered in payment should be surrendered to the Federal Reserve Bank or Branch or to the Bureau of the Public Debt, Washington, DC 20239. The securities must be delivered at the expense and risk of the holder.

5.4. Delivery of securities in registered form will be made after the requested form of registration has been validated, the registered interest account has been established, and the securities have been inscribed.

6. General Provisions

6.1. As fiscal agents of the United States, Federal Reserve Banks are authorized and requested to receive tenders, to make allotments as directed by the Secretary of the Treasury, to issue such notices as may be necessary, and to receive payment for and make delivery of securities on full-paid allotments.

6.2. The Secretary of the Treasury may at any time issue supplemental or amendatory rules and regulations governing the offering. Public announcement of such changes will be promptly provided.

John A. Kilcoyne,

Acting Fiscal Assistant Secretary.

Section 1. Invitation for Tenders

1.1. Introduction. The Secretary of the Treasury, pursuant to the authority granted him by Chapter 31 of Title 31, United States Code, invites tenders for up to $1,000,000,000 of United States securities designated Foreign-Targeted Treasury Notes of September 30, 1988, Series P-1988 (CUSIP No. 912827 RJ 3) (collectively the "Notes", individually a "Note"). The Notes will be auctioned in the United States on October 24, 1984, by competitive bidding only. Payment must be made as set forth below in United States dollars. The stated interest rate on the Notes and the price equivalent of each accepted bid will be determined in the manner described in section 6.7.

1.2. Targeted Nature of the Notes. Treasury will sell the Notes only to Bidders as defined in section 2.1. Bidders must acquire the Notes only for themselves or on behalf of, or for sale or other transfer to, United States Aliens as defined in section 2.18 or foreign branches of United States Financial Institutions. In addition, any transfers by Bidders after December 8, 1984, to Qualified Holders as defined in section 2.14 that are United States Persons must be consistent with the tax certification described in section 11.2.

1.3. Transfer Restrictions. Before December 9, 1984, the Notes may not be sold or transferred to a United States Person as defined in section 2.19, other than a foreign branch of a United States Financial Institution. Each Bidder for the Notes must certify on the tender form for the Notes that it will not sell, contract to sell, or otherwise transfer the Notes to a United States Person, other than a foreign branch of a United States Financial Institution, before December 9, 1984. Each Bidder further agrees that, if it sells, contracts to sell, or otherwise transfers the Notes before December 9, 1984, it will confirm to such purchaser or transferee in writing that (i) there is a restriction on sale or other transfer to United States Persons other than foreign branches of United States Financial Institutions and (ii) that such confirmation is required to be given to any subsequent purchaser or transferee that acquires the Notes before December 9, 1984. The transfer restriction of this section 1.3 is in addition to the tax certification of a Bidder described in section 11.2. As described in section 11.2, the Bidder must certify that, as of the date of issuance, Notes acquired by the Bidder will not be owned by a United States Person, other than a foreign branch of a United States Financial Institution, and that the Notes are not being acquired on behalf of such a person, or for offer to resell or for resale to such a person. This tax certification requirement is independent of the transfer restriction of this section 1.3.

1.4. Tax Treatment. The Notes are subject to United States federal income tax as provided in the Internal Revenue Code as defined in section 2.8. Interest on the Notes paid to a United States Alien is not subject to United States federal income tax if the conditions of sections 871(h) or 881(c) of the Internal Revenue Code and the regulations related thereto are satisfied. The discussion in section 11 is only a summary of the currently applicable tax requirements. The tax consequences of holding the Notes derive solely from the Internal Revenue Code and regulations now or hereafter promulgated thereunder.

Section 2. Definitions

The following terms, whenever used and capitalized in this offering circular, shall have the meanings set forth below.

2.1. Bidder. (i) A United States Alien, other than an individual, or (ii) a foreign branch of a United States Financial Institution.

2.2. Definitive Notes. Notes (as defined in section 1.1) evidenced by a certificate that is inscribed with the name of the Registered Owner.

2.3. Domestic Notes. Companion securities sold at auction on October 24, 1984, and designated Treasury Notes of September 30, 1988, Series N–1988 (CUSIP No. 912827 RH 7).

2.4. Exchange Adjustment. As defined in section 10.3.

2.5. Financial Institution. A securities clearing organization, a bank, or other financial institution that holds customers' securities in the ordinary course of its trade or business, within the meaning of section 871(h)(4)(B) of the Internal Revenue Code.

2.6. FRB NY. The Federal Reserve Bank of New York, located at 33 Liberty Street, New York, New York.

2.7. Holding Institution. A Financial Institution that has a book-entry account with FRB NY.

2.8. Internal Revenue Code. The United States Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended from time to time (Title 26 of the United States Code).

2.9. International Account. A Holding Institution's book-entry account with FRB NY for which records are maintained by FRB NY that specifically identify either a foreign Financial Institution or a foreign branch of a United States Financial Institution. A United States branch of a foreign Financial Institution may not establish an International Account. A United States subsidiary of a foreign Financial Institution may establish an International Account in accordance with the requirements of the first sentence of this section 2.9.

2.10. Note or Notes. As defined in section 1.1.

2.11. Payment Guarantee. A guarantee of payment to Treasury for an amount equal to 5 percent of the par amount of Notes for which a tender is submitted by or on behalf of a Bidder.

2.12. Paying Institution. A Financial Institution that has a reserve, clearing, or other dollar account with FRB NY and that has been designated on the tender form to pay for Notes.

2.13. Primary Dealer. A dealer that makes primary markets in United States Government securities and reports its positions in and borrowings on such securities daily to FRB NY.

2.14. Qualified Holder. Before December 9, 1984, a United States Alien or a foreign branch of a United States Financial Institution and after December 8, 1984, a United States Alien or a United States Person.

2.15 Registered Owner. The Financial Institution specifically identified on the records of FRB NY maintained for an International Account, or, for Notes held in book-entry form in a book-entry account other than an International Account, the Holding Institution, or, if a Note is held in definitive form, the person whose name is inscribed on a Definitive Note and recorded on the books of FRB NY.

2.16. Secretary. The Secretary of the United States Department of the Treasury, the legal successor of the Secretary, and delegates of the Secretary or such legal successor.

2.17. Treasury. The United States Department of the Treasury.

2.18. United States Alien. A corporation, partnership, individual, or fiduciary that for United States federal income tax purposes, as to the United States (including its territories, possessions, all areas subject to its jurisdiction and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico), is a foreign corporation, a nonresident alien individual, a nonresident alien fiduciary of a foreign estate or trust, or a foreign partnership one or more of the members of which is, for United States federal income tax purposes, a foreign corporation, a nonresident alien individual, or a nonresident alien fiduciary of a foreign estate or trust.

2.19. United States Person. A citizen, national, or resident of the United States; a corporation, partnership, or other entity created or organized in or under the laws of the United States or any political subdivision thereof; or an estate or trust that is subject to United States federal income tax regardless of the source of its income.

2.20. United States-Related Person. A United States Person, a controlled foreign corporation within the meaning of section 957(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, or a foreign corporation 50 percent or more of whose gross income from all sources for the three-year period ending with the close of the taxable year preceding the subject payment was effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States.

2.21. Withholding Agent. The United States Person that would be required to deduct and withhold United States federal income tax from interest on the Notes under sections 1441(a) or 1442(a) of the Internal Revenue Code if such interest were not portfolio interest within the meaning of sections 871(h) and 881(c) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Section 3. Fiscal Agent as Registrar

3.1. Fiscal Agent as Registrar. FRB NY is designated to act on behalf of Treasury as the exclusive fiscal agent and, as such, registrar for this issue. FRB NY is authorized to receive tender forms and payment, issue the Notes, maintain and service securities accounts, pay principal and interest, conduct exchange and conversion transaction, redeem the Notes at maturity and otherwise act as necessary in its capacity as fiscal agent.

Section 4. Description of the Notes

4.1. The Notes. The Notes will be issued as direct obligations of the United States of America. The Notes will be issued in book-entry form on October 31, 1984, and will bear interest in accordance with the accrual formula for Notes paying annual interest set forth at Attachment D, payable on an annual basis on September 30, 1985, and on September 30 of each subsequent year through the maturity date. The Notes will mature on September 30, 1988, and are not subject to call or redemption prior to maturity. After December 8, 1984, the Notes may be converted to Definitive Notes as described in Section 9. Interest and principal on the Notes will be paid in United States dollars in accordance with the procedures set forth in sections 8.5 and 9.3. After December 8, 1984, the Notes will be acceptable to secure deposits of public monies of the United States.

4.2. Transfer and Exchange. Ownership of the Notes is transferable as provided in sections 8 and 9. The Notes may be exchanged for Domestic Notes as provided in section 10. If the applicable requirements of section 11 have been complied with, after December 8, 1984, the Notes may be acquired and owned by a United States Person and Domestic Notes acquired in exchange for the Notes may be acquired and owned by either a United States Alien or a United States Person.

4.3. No Gross-up. There will be no future increase in payments to offset any changes in tax requirements affecting these Notes.

4.4. Denominations. Definitive Notes will be issued in denominations of $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $100,000, and $1,000,000. Notes in book-entry form will be issued in multiples of those amounts.

4.5. Governing Regulations. Treasury's general regulations governing United States securities (Part 306 of Title 31 of the Code of Federal Regulations) apply to the Notes offered in this offering circular, except as otherwise provided herein.

Section 5. Domestic Notes

5.1. Domestic Auction. On October 24, 1984, Treasury also will auction Domestic Notes that will be issued on the same day as the Notes and will have the same maturity date and stated interest rate as the Notes. After December 8, 1984, the Notes may be exchanged for Domestic Notes in accordance with the procedures set forth in Section 10.

Section 6. Bidding and Sale Procedures

6.1. Bidders. Tender forms may be submitted only by or on behalf of Bidders. Individuals may not be Bidders. A syndicate must be comprised only of Bidders to be considered a Bidder. Tender forms may be submitted by an agent of a Bidder if the identity of the Bidder is disclosed.

6.2. Tender Submission. Bids must be submitted on the prescribed tender form and must be received at FRB NY, First Floor, before 1:00 p.m. New York time, Wednesday, October 24, 1984. Persons submitting tender forms will receive time-stamped receipts. Beginning at 1:00 p.m. New York time on October 24, 1984, bids are irrevocable. A sample tender form is set forth at Attachment A. Tender forms may be obtained at FRB NY and at Treasury offices in Washington, D.C. beginning Tuesday, October 9, 1984.

6.3. Payment Instructions. Bidders are required to make arrangements to pay for the Notes before submitting a bid. Each Bidder must designate a Paying Institution on the tender form. Except as set forth below, each Paying Institution must advise FRB NY no later than 12:00 noon New York time on October 23, 1984, that it has agreed to serve as a Paying Institution for a named Bidder. That advice must be given in the form set forth at Attachment B to this offering circular. The Attachment B notice is not required if (i) the Bidder and its designated Paying Institution are the same legal entity or (ii) the Paying Institution is submitting the tender form as agent for a Bidder, and if the signature of the authorized signer of the Paying Institution on the tender form is on file with FRB NY as an authorized signature of the Paying Institution. The Paying Institution may withdraw or modify its agreement to serve as Paying Institution by notifying FRB NY in accordance with Attachment B. The withdrawal of a Paying Institution after a bid has been accepted does not relieve the Bidder of its obligation to pay for the Notes in funds available to Treasury at FRB NY no later than 9:00 a.m. New York time on October 31, 1984.

6.4. Payment Guarantees. A Payment Guarantee is required unless (i) the Bidder and its designated Paying Institution are the same legal entity or (ii) the Bidder is a foreign branch (not a subsidiary) of a Primary Dealer. A Payment Guarantee may be provided by a Paying Institution or by a Primary Dealer. If the Payment Guarantee is provided by a Paying Institution or a Primary Dealer that is signing the tender form, it must be provided on the tender form. If the Payment Guarantee is provided by a Paying Institution that is not signing the tender form, it must be provided in a letter in the form of Attachment C. If the Payment Guarantee is provided by a Primary Dealer that is not signing the tender form, it must be submitted in a letter in the form of Attachment C. Payment Guarantees in the form of Attachment C must be received by FRB NY no later than 12:00 noon New York time on October 23, 1984. In addition to any other remedies available to the Secretary, the amount of this Payment Guarantee is subject to forfeiture in the Secretary's sole discretion if full payment for the Notes is not made in funds available to Treasury at FRB NY no later than 9:00 a.m. New York time on October 31, 1984.

6.5. Minimum Bid. The par amount of the bid must be stated on each tender form. Multiple bids by a single Bidder are permitted. Each bid, however, must be submitted on a separate tender form. All bids must be in multiples of $1,000,000 and the aggregate amount bid at the lowest yield by each Bidder must be at least $50,000,000. A bid must show the annual yield for which it is submitted to two decimals, e.g., 7.10%, based on an annual interest payment. Fractions may not be used.

6.6. Maximum Awards. A Bidder, whether bidding individually or as a member of one or more syndicates, will not be awarded Notes with a par value in excess of $350,000,000. A syndicate will not be awarded Notes in excess of $500,000,000. If a Bidder submits one or more bids with a total par value in excess of such maximum awards, the excess (starting at the highest yield bid) will be disregarded for purposes of the prorated calculations referred to in section 6.8. A syndicate must disclose: (i) the identity of any syndicate member that is submitting one or more other bids (either individually or as a member of another syndicate) if that member's total bids exceed $350,000,000, and (ii) the amount of Notes included in the syndicate bid for such disclosed syndicate member. Apart from such disclosures, the identity of syndicate members other than the head of the syndicate need not be disclosed.

6.7. Interest Rate and Price of Notes. The stated interest rate established in the auction of the Domestic Notes also will be applied to the Notes. That rate of interest, payable on an annual basis, will be paid on all of the Notes. Based on such interest rate, the price for each accepted yield (on an annual payment basis) will be determined and each successful Bidder will be required to pay the price equivalent to the yield bid. Price calculations will be based on a 360-day year using the formula set forth at Attachment D for Treasury notes paying annual interest. Price calculations will be carried to three decimal places on the basis of price per hundred, e.g., 99.923. The determinations of the Secretary shall be final.

6.8. Announcement of Auction Results. On October 24, 1984, a public announcement of the amount and yield range of accepted bids for the Notes will be made by 5:00 p.m. New York time or as soon thereafter as possible. Bids for the Notes at yields equal to or greater than the highest accepted yield (adjusted to an annual payment basis) in the auction of the Domestic Notes will not be accepted. Subject to the limitations and reservations set forth in this Section 6, bids will be accepted starting with those at the lowest yield through successively higher yields until the total par amount of Notes offered has been awarded. Bids at the highest accepted yield will be prorated on a percentage basis, if necessary, taking into account the maximum award limitations of section 6.6. For example, assume that in a $1 billion offering, bids totaling $900 million have been accepted and that only three Bidders have submitted bids totaling $250 million at the next yield above those already accepted. Each of the three Bidders would then receive 40% ($1,000,000,000 divided by $250,000,000) of the amount of its bid at that yield.

6.9. Notification to Bidders. FRB NY will mail to each successful Bidder notification that its bid has been accepted. The notification will contain the confirmation described in section 11.3, Copies of the written notification also will be available for pickup by each successful Bidder and by its Paying Institution (and its Holding Institution, if different) at FRB NY, First Floor, by 12:00 noon New York time on October 25, 1984.

6.10. Reservations. It is the intent of the Secretary to issue $1,000,000,000 of the Notes. The Secretary expressly reserves the right to accept or reject any or all of the bids in whole in part. If acceptable bids of less than $500,000,000 are submitted, no bids will be accepted. The Secretary's action under this section 6.10 in final.

Section 7. Payment for Notes

7.1. Payment. Payment for the Notes will be made on October 31, 1984, by FRB NY debiting the account of each successful Bidder's Paying Institution.

Section 8. Book-Entry Notes

8.1*Notes Held in Book-Entry Form.* On the books of FRB NY, notes may be held only by a Holding Institution. Before December 9, 1984, Notes may be held only in a Holding Institution's International Account. After December 8, 1984, Notes may be held in any book-entry account of a Holding Institution. Holding Notes in an account other than an International Account may affect the certifications required for tax purposes. See section 11. A Holding Institution that has more than one available book entry account with FRB NY may have more than one International Account. Each Bidder must identify on its tender form a Holding Institution with an International Account.

8.2. Transfer of Book-Entry Notes. Before December 9, 1984, FRB NY will transfer the Notes only between International Accounts. After December 8, 1984, the Notes may be transferred between any book-entry accounts of any Holding Institutions.

8.3. Book-Entry System. Book-entry records at FRB NY will reflect the aggregate holdings of Notes of each Holding Institution by account. The Holding Institution, and each subsequent holder in the chain to the ultimate beneficial owner, will have the responsibility of establishing and maintaining accounts for its customers. FRB NY will be responsible only for maintaining the book-entry accounts in its system, effecting transfers on its books, and ensuring that payments are made to the Holding Institution identified in its book-entry system. With respect to the Notes. FRB NY will act only upon instructions of the Holding Institution holding the Notes.

8.4. FRB NY as Fiscal Agent. FRB NY acts as fiscal agent of Treasury. All other holders in the chain between FRB NY and the ultimate beneficial owner act as agents of the beneficial owner or as agent of intermediary Financial Institutions and not as agents of Treasury.

8.5. Payment of Interest and Principal. Interest on Notes in book-entry form will be paid on the interest payment date, and Notes will be redeemed at par on the maturity date. Funds for interest or redemption payments will be credited to the Holding Institution. In the event an interest payment date or the maturity date is a Saturday, Sunday, or other day on which Treasury in Washington, D.C. or FRB NY is not open for business, the interest or principal is payable (without additional interest) on the next day that both the Treasury in Washington, D.C. and FRB NY are open for business.

Section 9. Definitive Notes

9.1. Definitive Notes. After December 8, 1984, book-entry Notes held at FRB NY may be converted to Definitive Notes. Each Definitive Note will contain on its face the following legend: "This obligation has been sold at original issuance in accordance with procedures reasonably designed to ensure that it will be sold only to a person that is not a United States person, other than a foreign branch of a United States financial institution, pursuant to sections 871(h) and 881(c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended."

9.2. Requests for Conversion to Definitive Notes. The request for conversion of book entry-Notes to Definitive Notes may be made to FRB NY only by a Holding Institution and must provide the name and address of the Registered Owner. The Registered Owner of a Definitive Note may be the beneficial owner or someone holding the Note on behalf of a beneficial owner. Upon receipt of the appropriate certification as described in section 11, FRM NY will deliver the Definitive Note either over the counter or via registered mail in accordance with the instructions provided by the Holding Institution submitting the request for a Definitive Note.

9.3. Payment of Interest and Principal. Interest and maturity payments will be made by check payable to the Registered Owner or by credit to the reserve account of a Financial Institution that is the Registered Owner, if the Financial Institution maintains such an account with FRB NY. Interest and maturity payments will be mailed or credited on the date such payments are due. In the event an interest payment date or the maturity date is a Saturday, Sunday, or other day on which Treasury in Washington, D.C. or FRB NY is not open for business, the interest or principal is payable (without additional interest) on the next day that both the Treasury in Washington, D.C. and FRB NY are open for business. Definitive Notes will be redeemed by FRB NY at par upon presentment by the Registered Owner or by a Holding Institution on behalf of the Registered Owner on or after the maturity date. Notes will not accrue interest after the maturity date.

9.4. Conversion to Book-Entry Form. A Registered Owner may convert a Definitive Note to book-entry form by submitting the Definitive Note to FRB NY through a Holding Institution. The signature of the Registered Owner must be guaranteed by the Holding Institution or certified by: (1) a United States diplomatic or consular representative; (2) a manager, assistant manager or other officer of a foreign branch of a bank or trust company incorporated in the United States, its territories or possessions, or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico; or (3) a notary public or other officer authorized to administer oaths, provided that the official position and authority of any such officer is certified by a United States diplomatic or consular representative under seal of office.

9.5. Transfer of Ownership. Ownership of Definitive Notes may be transferred by assignment. In order to reflect the change of ownership on the books of FRB NY, assigned Definitive Notes must be submitted for reregistration to FRB NY, together with the name and address of the new Registered Owner. The signatures of all assignors must be guaranteed by an institution eligible to serve as a Paying institution or certified by an individual who may certify signatures for purposes of section 9.4 above.

9.6. Closed-Book Periods. Transactions involving Definitive Notes will not be accepted by FRB NY during closed-book periods. Such transactions include conversions between book-entry and Definitive Notes and changes in the registration of Definitive Notes. Books for Definitive Notes will be closed for one calendar month prior to and ending on an interest payment date and the maturity date. The Definitive Note books will be reopened on the next day that FRB NY is open for business following an interest payment date. No conversions or changes in registration will be allowed after the maturity date. During periods when the books for Definitive Notes are open, conversions and changes in registration of Definitive Notes generally will be processed by FRB NY within one week of receipt.

9.7. No Fees Imposed. FRB NY will not impose any fee for the issuance, transfer, exchange or redemption of Definitive Notes.

Section 10. Exchange for Domestic Notes

10.1. Exchange Provision. After December 8, 1984, Notes issued under this offering circular may be exchanged for Domestic Notes. Definitive Notes or Notes in book-entry form may be exchanged at FRB NY for an equal par amount of Domestic Notes in either book-entry or definitive form. Exchanges of Domestic Notes for Notes will not be permitted.

10.2. Taxation. Upon exchange for Domestic Notes, the holder of such Domestic Notes will be required to comply with the tax requirements (including certification requirements) applicable to Domestic Notes. See also section 11.

10.3. Adjustment Upon Exchange. At the time of the exchange of Notes for Domestic Notes, an adjustment will be made for the difference between the present value of the Notes based on the formula in Attachment D for Treasury notes paying annual interest and the present value of the Notes based on the formula in Attachment D for Treasury notes paying semiannual interest. This net adjustment consists of the Exchange Adjustment and accrued interest, if applicable. As used in this offering circular, "Exchange Adjustment" means the difference in the present values of the Notes resulting from applying the formulas in Attachment D, after adjusting for the difference in accrued interest. In determing present values, the future payments of interest and principal will be discounted by using the weighted average yield of the Notes at the time of auction in applying the annual formula and by using the semiannual equivalent of that yield in applying the semiannual formula. Calculation of the present values will be made using the formulas shown in Attachment D hereto. In the event the present value of the Notes based on semiannual interest payments exceeds the present value of the Notes based on annual interest payments, the holder must pay to Treasury an amount equal to the excess before the exchange will be processed. In the event the present value of the Notes based on the annual interest payments exceeds the present value of the Notes based on the semiannual interest payments, the holder will receive on the exchange an amount equal to the excess. The net adjustment will not reflect or take into account any market-based factor.

10.4. Closed-Book Periods. Exchange transactions involving Notes or Domestic Notes in definitive form will not be accepted during closed-book periods that will be in effect during the period of one calendar month prior to and ending on an interest payment date and the maturity date. Exchange transactions involving only Notes and Domestic Notes in book-entry form may not be accepted on the last day on which FRB NY is open for business preceding an interest payment date and the maturity date. The registration books for Notes and Domestic Notes in definitive form will be reopened on the first day following an interest payment date on which FRB NY is open for business. Except for the closed-book periods, exchange transactions involving only book-entry securities normally will be processed within one day; all other exchange transactions normally will be processed within one week of receipt by FRB NY. No exchanges will be allowed after the maturity date of the Notes.

Section 11. United States Taxation

11.1. Taxation of Interest and Principal to United States Aliens. Payments of interest and principal on the Notes to a United States Alien will not be subject to withholding of United States federal income tax if the Withholding Agent receives an effective certificate under sections 11.4, 11.5, 11.6, or 11.7, and the other requirements described in the applicable section are satisfied. Failure to satisfy the requirements described in this Section 11.1 may result in imposition of a withholding tax.

11.2. Certification at Initial Issuance. A Bidder will be required to provide a written certification on the tender form that, as of the date of issuance, none of the Notes acquired by the Bidder will be beneficially owned by a United States Person, other than a foreign branch of a United States Financial Institution, or is being acquired on behalf of such a person, or for offer to resell or for resale to such a person. This certification is in addition to and not limited by the transfer restriction in section 1.3. A certification made by a clearing organization must be based on such statements provided to the clearing organization by its member organizations. (Alternatively, a member organization of a clearing organization may provide the written certification directly to FRB NY.)

11.3. Confirmations. FRB NY will include a confirmation in the notification described in section 6.9 that it is understood that the purchaser represents that it is not a United States Person or that if it is a United States Person it is a foreign branch of a United States Financial Institution. If the sale is to a dealer, the confirmation will state that the dealer is required to send a similar confirmation to its purchaser. Financial Institutions buying on behalf of or for resale to others are considered to be dealers and will be required to send confirmations to their customers.

11.4. Interest Certification: Financial Institutions. A Withholding Agent may make a payment of interest on a Note at an address outside the United States to a Registered Owner that is a Financial Institution without withholding United States federal income tax if (i) the Withholding Agent does not have actual knowledge that the beneficial owner of the Note is a United States Person (other than a foreign branch of a United States Financial Institution), (ii) the Note was sold in accordance with the procedures described in sections 11.2 and 11.3, and (iii) the Financial Institution provides a certificate to the Withholding Agent in writing that states that the beneficial owner of the Note is not a United States Person (other than a foreign branch of a United States Financial Institution). No particular form is required for the certificate. If the Financial Institution does not hold Notes for a beneficial owner that is a United States Person (other than a foreign branch of a United States Financial Institution), a single certificate may be provided with respect to all of the Notes held by the Financial Institution. If a Financial Institution that is a Registered Owner transfers a Note and ceases to be the Registered Owner of such Note, then, except as described in section 11.10, the Financial Institution will not be required to provide a certificate under this section 11.4 with respect to such Note (unless the Financial Institution subsequently becomes the Registered Owner of the Note). Interest will be considered paid to a Registered Owner outside the United States if the Note is either recorded in a Holding Institution's International Account and interest is credited for that account or interest on a Definitive Note is delivered to the holder outside the United States.

11.5. Interest Certification: Clearing Organizations. A certificate described in section 11.4 may be provided by a Financial Institution acting in its capacity as a clearing organization only if the clearing organization has received such a certificate from the member organization to which the interest is paid and the member organization is a Financial Institution.

11.6. Interest Certification For Beneficial Owners that are United States Persons. A Withholding Agent may make a payment of interest on a Note to a Registered Owner that is a Financial Institution at an address outside the United States without withholding United States federal income tax if the Withholding Agent recieves an effective statement, as described below, from the Financial Institution (relating to beneficial ownership by certain United States Persons), and, if the Financial Institution is not a United States-Related Person, the Withholding Agent makes the information returns described in section 11.9. If the Financial Institution is a United States-Related Person, the statement must be signed under the penalties of perjury by an authorized representative of the Financial Institution and must state that the institution has received from the beneficial owner a certificate, as described below, and that the institution will make such information returns and otherwise comply with information reporting required under the Internal Revenue Code. If the Financial Institution is not a United States-Related Person, the statement must be signed under penalties of perjury by an authorized representative of the Financial Institution and must state (i) that the institution has received from the beneficial owner a certificate, as described below, or (ii) that it has received from another Financial Institution a similar statement that it, or another Financial Institution acting on behalf of the beneficial owner, has received a certificate, as described below, from the beneficial owner. In the case of multiple Financial Institutions between the beneficial owner and the person otherwise required to withhold, this statement must be given by each Financial Institution to the one above it in the chain. The certificate from the beneficial owner must (i) be signed by the beneficial owner under penalties of perjury, (ii) provide the name and address of the beneficial owner, (iii) provide the United States taxpayer identification number and state that it is the beneficial owner's correct number, and (iv) state that the beneficial owner is not subject to backup withholding due to notified payee underreporting. This certificate may be provided on Internal Revenue Form W–9 or a substitute form that is substantially similar to a Form W–9. No particular form is required for the statement provided by the Financial Institutions. However, the statement must provide the name and address of the beneficial owner, and a copy of the Form W–9 or substitute form must be attached.

11.7. Interest Certification In Other Cases. A Withholding Agent may make a payment of interest on a Note to a Registered Owner without withholding United States federal income tax if (i) the Withholding Agent does not have actual knowledge that the beneficial owner of the Note is a United States Person (other than a foreign branch of a United States Financial Institution), and if (ii) the Withholding Agent receives a certificate from the Registered Owner that (A) is signed by the beneficial owner under penalties of perjury, (B) certifies that such owner is not a Untied States Person, or in the case of an individual, that he is neither a citizen nor a resident of the United States, and (C) provides the name and address of the beneficial owner. The statement may be made, at the option of the Withholding Agent, on Internal Revenue Service Form W–8 or on a substitute form that is substantially similar to a Form W–8. A Withholding Agent also may make a payment of interest to a Untied States Alien Registered Owner without withholding United States federal income tax if an appropriate statement is provided to the Withholding Agent by a Financial Institution. In such case the statement must describe the obligation, be signed under penalties of perjury by an authorized representative of the Financial Institution and state (i) that the Financial Institution has received from the beneficial owner a Form W–8 or substitute form, or (ii) that it has received from another Financial Institution a similar statement that it, or another Financial Institution acting on behalf of the beneficial owner, has received the Form W–8 or substitute form from the beneficial owner. In section 11.7 the case of multiple Financial Institutions between the beneficial owner and the Withholding Agent, this certificate must be given by each Financial Institution to the one above it in the chain. No particular form is required for the statement provided by the Financial Institutions. However, the statement must provide the name and address of the beneficial owner, and a copy of the Form W–8 or a substitute form provided by the beneficial owner must be attached. The certification procedures of this section 11.7 may be used in lieu of the procedures in section 11.4 with respect to a payment of interest outside the United States on a Note registered in the name of a Financial Institution.

11.8. Prospective Determination. Any determination by the Secretary with respect to certification requirements pursuant to section 871(h)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code will be published and will be effective only with respect to payment of interest made more than one month after the publication of such a determination.

11.9. Certain Information Reporting. A Withholding Agent that receives a statement described in section 11.6 from a Financial Institution that is not a United States-Related Person must make an information return on Internal Revenue Service Form 1099 of the payment with respect to which the statement (and accompanying certificate) is required for the calendar year in which the payment is made. The return should be completed as though the payment were made to the beneficial owner of the income. A Withholding Agent that receives a certificate described in section 11.7 must make an information return on Internal Revenue Service Form 1042S of the payment with respect to which the certificate is required for the calendar year in which the payment is made. The certificate received with respect to the payment shall be attached to the Form 1042S required to be filed with respect to the payment.

11.10. Timing of Certificates at Interest Payments. The certificates or statements described in sections 11.4 through 11.7 are required to be received by the Withholding Agent within the 90-day period prior to the interest payment date. However, if a certificate is received less than 30 days before that date, the Withholding Agent, in its discretion, may withhold tax. If the information provided on a certificate described in section 11.4 or 11.5 changes within the 90-day period prior to the interest payment date, the person providing the statement must inform the Withholding Agent (or clearing organization) within 30 days of such change. For example, if during the 90-day period, but subsequent to furnishing a certificate, beneficial ownership of a Note is transferred to a United States Person, the person furnishing the certificate described in section 11.4 or 11.5 is required to amend its certificate within 30 days of the transfer to inform the Withholding Agent that the obligation is being held by a United States Person. Except as provided in this section 11.10, a certificate described in section 11.4 or 11.5 does not have to be amended if Notes are transferred from one Financial Institution to another Financial Institution. If the information on a certificate described in section 11.6 or 11.7 changes, the beneficial owner must notify the Withholding Agent, or a Financial Institution acting on behalf of the beneficial owner, within 30 days. The Financial Institution must promptly inform the Withholding Agent (or a Financial Institution holding an interest in the Note on its behalf) of such notice if the Financial Institution has been informed by the beneficial owner or if it has actual knowledge of such changes.

11.11. Retention of Certificates. The Withholding Agent is required to retain the written certifications for a period of four years after the close of the calendar year in which they were, respectively, obtained.

11.12. Information Reporting and Backup Withholding. Neither information reporting under sections 6041 or 6049 of the Internal Revenue Code nor backup withholding will apply to interest paid on a Note to a United States Alien if (i) the conditions of section 11.1 are satisfied, (ii) the payor of the interest does not have actual knowledge that the payee is a United States Person, and (iii) if the payor is a United States-Related Person acting as a custodian, nominee or other agency of the payee, the payor has documentary evidence in its records that the payee is not a United States citizen or resident. Neither information reporting under section 6045 of the Internal Revenue Code nor backup withholding will apply to payments of principal made outside the United States on a Note to a United States Alien (i) if the payor of the principal is not a United States-Related Person; or (ii) if the payor is a United States-Related Person acting as a custodian, nominee or other agent of the payee, the payor does not have actual knowledge that the payee is a United States Person (other than a foreign branch of a United States Financial Institution) and has documentary evidence in its records that the payee is not such a person. Principal will be considered paid to a Registered Owner outside the United States if either the Note is recorded in a Holding Institution's International Account and principal is credited for that account, or principal on a Definitive Note is delivered to the holder outside the United States.

11.13. Original Issue Discount. The Secretary shall determine whether the Notes will be considered issued with original issue discount within the meaning of section 1273(a)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code. In the event the Notes are issued with original issue discount, that fact and the amount of the discount will be announced in an Internal Revenue Service publication. See also section 11.15. A United States Alien described in section 11.2 that is a holder of a Note will not be subject to United States federal income tax and no withholding of United States federal income tax will be required as a consequence of the Note having original issue discount if the conditions of section 11.1 are satisfied with respect to stated interest on the Note. A holder of a Note that is a United States Person generally will be required to include in income the portion of the original issue discount allocable to each day during the year on which the Note is held. Any such income will increase such holder's tax basis for the Note, and any gain or loss on a sale of the Note, determined by comparing the amount realized in such sale with the holder's basis, as so adjusted, generally will be capital gain or loss.

11.14. Taxation of Gains to United States Aliens. A holder of a Note that is a United States Alien will not be subject to the United States federal income tax and no withholding of United States federal income tax will be required with respect to any gain realized on the sale, redemption or exchange of the Note provided such gain is not effectively connected with a United States trade or business, and further provided that: (i) if such United States Alien is a nonresident alien individual, such individual is not present in the United States for a total of 183 days or more during the taxable year in which such gain is realized, is not subject to tax under section 877 of the Internal Revenue Code as an expatriate of the United States and is not treated as a resident of the United States for the taxable year in which the gain is recognized under sections 6013(g) or 6013(h) of the Internal Revenue Code; or (ii) if such United States Alien holder is a foreign corporation, such foreign corporation will not have a past or present status as a personal holding company with respect to the United States or as a corporation which accumulates earnings to avoid United States federal income tax.

11.15. Exchange for Domestic Notes. A holder of a Note will not recognize gain or loss on the exchange of a Note for a Domestic Note under the procedures in section 10. Upon the exchange, a holder will be considered to have received interest accrued on the Note up to the time of the exchange and to have paid to Treasury the Exchange Adjustment amount. (Actual payments will be only of the net amount. See section 10.3.) The amount of the Exchange Adjustment will be considered an increase in the original issue price (which will reduce original issue discount, if any, with respect to the Note).

11.16. Federal Estate Taxation of United States Aliens. Any Note held by an individual who at the time of his death is not a citizen of or domiciled in the United States will not be included in the decedent's gross estate for purposes of United States federal estate tax at the time of such individual's death if interest paid on the Note to the individual at the time of his death would not have been subject to withholding of United States federal income tax because the conditions described in section 11.1 are satisifed but without regard to whether a certificate or statement described in section 11 has been received by the Withholding Agent since the last interest payment.

11.17. State and Local Taxation. The Notes are exempt from all taxation now or hereafter imposed on the obligation or interest thereof by any State, any possession of the United States or any local taxing authority, except for: (i) a non-discriminatory franchise or other nonproperty tax instead of a franchise tax imposed on a corporation, or (ii) an estate or inheritance tax. See section 3124 of Title 31 of the United States Code.

Section 12. Sanctions

12.1. Sanctions. In the Secretary's sole discretion, any person found to be in violation of any requirement or provision set forth in this offering circular may be excluded from bidding for or purchasing some or all future issues of Treasury foreign-targeted securities and may be subject to such other sanctions as determined by the Secretary.

Section 13. General Provisions

13.1. Applicable Law. The law governing all matters relating to the terms and conditions of the Notes is the federal law of the United States.

13.2. Modifications. The Secretary may supplement or amend provisions of this offering circular governing the offering if such supplements or amendments do not adversely affect existing rights of holders of the Notes. Public announcement of such future changes will be promptly provided.

13.3. Monthly Information. The Secretary will publish the total amount of Notes outstanding in the Monthly Statement of the Public Debt.

13.4. Listing. The Notes will be listed on the New York Stock Exchange as of October 31, 1984.

13.5. Eligibility for Clearance. The Notes will be eligible for clearance on Euro-Clear and CEDEL.

13.6. Headings. The headings of sections and subsections in this offering circular are inserted for convenience of reference only and shall not be deemed to be part of this offering circular.

13.7. Attachments Incorporated. Attachments A through D and any terms and conditions set forth therein are incorporated as part of this offering circular.

13.8. Waiver. The Secretary reserves the right, in his discretion, to waive any provision or provisions of this offering circular.

13.9. Sale in the United States. The Notes are offered for sale only in the United States. Resale or reoffering of the Notes outside the United States is authorized only when such resale or reoffering complies with the securities laws and other applicable laws of jurisdictions in which such resale or reoffering occurs. Bidders and their agents are responsible for ensuring compliance with the laws of such jurisdictions.

Carole Jones Dineen,

Fiscal Assistant Secretary.

Formulas for Calculating the Present Value (Price Plus Accrued Interest) of Treasury Notes Paying Semiannual Interest [1]

A. Calculation during an initial "short" interest period:

$$(P+A)=\frac{(r''/s)(C/2)+(C/2)a_{\overline{n}|}+100v^n}{(1+i/2)^f}$$ and $A=[(r''-r)/s]\,(C/2)$

B. Calculation where the next payment is for a "full" semiannual interest period:

$$(P+A)=\frac{C/2+(C/2)a_{\overline{n}|}+100v^n}{(1+i/2)^f}$$

and $A=[(s-r)/s]\,(C/2)$

where:

P = Price in decimals.

A = Accrued interest from original issue date or last interest payment date to valuation date.

r = Exact number of days from valuation date to next interest payment date.

r'' = Exact number of days from the original issue date to the first interest payment date.

f = r'/180 where r' is days from valuation date to next interest payment date calculated on a 360 days per year basis from and including the day following the valuation date up to and including the next interest payment date. A full month will be counted as thirty days and a date occurring on the thirty-first calendar day of a month shall be the same as the first calendar day of the following month.

s = Exact number of days in current semiannual period.

i = Interest rate, based on semiannual interest payments (expressed in decimals).

C = Regular annual coupon, payable semiannually.

n = Number of full semiannual periods from valuation date to maturity.

$v^n=1/(1+i/2)^n$ = present value of 1 due at the end of n periods.

$a_{\overline{n}|}=(1-v^n)/(i/2)=v+v^2+v^3+\ldots+v^n$ = present value of 1 per period for n periods.

Case B: Where the next payment is for a "full" annual period.

$$(P+A)=\frac{C+(C)a_{\overline{n}|}+100v^n}{(1+i)^f}$$

and $A=(r''-r)/360$

where:

P = Price in decimals.

A = Accrued interest from original issue date or last interest payment date to valuation date.

r = Days from valuation date to next interest payment date calculated on a 360 days per year basis from and including the day following the valuation date up to and including the next interest payment date. A full month will be counted as thirty days and a date occurring on the thirty-first calendar day of a month shall be the same as the first calendar day of the following month.

r^* = Days from the original issue date of the security to the next interest payment date of the security calculated using the same conventions used in calculating r.

i = Interest rate, based in annual interest payments (expressed in decimals).

C = Regular annual coupon, payable annually.

n = Number of full annual periods from valuation date to maturity.

$v^n = 1/(1+i)^n$ = present value of 1 due at the end of n periods.

$a_{\overline{n}|} = (a - v^n)/i = v + v^{2+} \cdot \cdot \cdot \cdot + v^n$ = present value of 1 per period for n periods.

UNITED STATES INFORMATION AGENCY

Artistic Ambassador Advisory Committee; Meeting

The Artistic Ambassador Advisory Committee will be holding its second session on November 14 and 15, 1984.

Committee members will be observing and judging the performance of 15 candidates from the field of classical piano, and selecting up to five finalists to perform overseas under the sponsorship of the United States Information Agency. Successful candidates will live with host families overseas and be involved with local musical communities.

Time: November 14—8:30 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. (lunch break) and 1:30 p.m. to 6:20 p.m.. November 15—8:30 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. (lunch break) and 1:30 p.m. to 5:20 p.m.

Place: Coolidge Auditorium, Library of Congress, 10 First Street S.E., Washington, D.C. 20540.

Agenda: Eight candidates will perform the first day and seven on the second day. Each candidate will be given one hour, and there will be a 5 minute break after each performance.

Seating: Seating of the public will be limited to the first 500 people, the capacity of the auditorium.

Final selection of candidates will be decided by the judges during discussions following the final day's performances. This session will be closed to the public in accordance with 5 U.S.C. 552b(c)(9)(B). Public disclosure of discussions would inhibit candid deliberations and advice and therefore is likely to frustrate the implementation of future Agency actions.

For further information contact Ms. Leslie M. Sorg on (202) 485–7338.

Dated: October 16, 1984.

Charles Z. Wick,

Director.

Determination To Close Advisory Committee of November 15, 1984

Based on the information provided to the United States Information Agency by the Artistic Ambassador Advisory Committee, I hereby determine that the discussions following the final day's performances on November 15, 1984, may be closed to the public.

The Committee has requested that this part of its November 15 public meeting be closed, because the committee members will be engaged in making final selections of candidates for overseas tours as Artistic Ambassadors. Public participation in these discussions would inhibit frank appraisals and candid deliberations which are necessary in order to assure the unanimous selection of the best candidates for these assignments. Premature disclosure of this information is likely to frustrate significantly the implementation of proposed Agency action because of the difficulty in obtaining candid advice and the future participation of contestants (5 U.S.C. 552(c)(9)(B)).

Charles Z. Wick,

Director.

Introduction to the Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations

REGULATORY INFORMATION SERVICE CENTER

Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations

AGENCY: Regulatory Information Service Center.

ACTION: Introduction to the Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations.

SUMMARY: Executive Order 12291 (Federal Regulation) and the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 USC 605) require that agencies publish semiannual regulatory agendas describing regulatory actions they are developing. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Bulletin 84-16 (June 22, 1984) requires that each agency agenda include, at a minimum, specific types of information for each entry, and that all agendas be published together in a uniform format as a Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations.

The following Parts in this issue of the Federal Register are the agency agendas, which together comprise the October 1984 edition of the semiannual Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations.

ADDRESS: Regulatory Information Service Center, Room 5216, New Executive Office Building, 726 Jackson Place, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20503.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For further information about specific regulatory projects, please refer to the Agency Contact listed for each entry. To provide comment on or to obtain further information about the Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations, contact:

Mark G. Schoenberg, Executive Director, Regulatory Information Service Center, Room 5216, New Executive Office Building, 726 Jackson Place, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20503, (202) 395-6993.

About the Unified Agenda

The Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations is compiled by the Regulatory Information Service Center for the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, Office of Management and Budget. The Center provides information about federal regulatory activity to the President and his Executive Office, the Congress, agency managers, and the public. The Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs is responsible for overseeing the Federal Government's regulatory, paperwork, and information-management activities and implementing President Reagan's Executive Order 12291 (Federal Regulation).

This edition of the Unified Agenda includes all 52 federal departments, agencies, and commissions that publish regulatory agendas. Agencies of the United States Congress are not included. The Unified Agenda provides uniform reporting of data on regulatory activities under development throughout the Federal Government.

The Unified Agenda is produced through a computer system designed by the Center with the advice and assistance of the Government Printing Office. The system was designed to save agencies time and money by automating the preparation and printing of their agendas in a uniform format and to make the Agenda easier to use. In the future, the system may provide computer-generated indices and appendices of the information in the Agenda. For now, the Center provides for those agencies that request it a computer-produced Table of Contents that appears after the preamble of the agency's agenda and includes Agenda Sequence Numbers. These numbers also appear before the title of the regulation in the agenda. The Tables of Contents help readers locate quickly those entries that may be of most interest to them.

All agendas contain uniform data elements--regulation title, agency contact, small business effects, CFR citation, legal authority, abstract, and timetable. Agencies also include any additional information they consider important. If any of the data elements is not included, the agency either did not report the information or may provide an explanation in its preamble. For further information, please contact the individual agency.

The Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations is published in April and October of each year. We welcome comments on this edition and suggestions for improving future ones.

DATED: October 1, 1984.

Mark G. Schoenberg,

Executive Director.

How to Use the Unified Agenda

Each agency agenda appears as a separate Part in this edition of the Federal Register. The Parts are organized alphabetically in three groups: cabinet departments, other executive agencies, and independent agencies. Departments are divided into agencies, which may in turn be divided into subagencies.

Each agency begins its agenda with a preamble providing information specific to its agenda. Each agency was asked to list its rules in three groups:

1. Current and Projected Rulemakings--regulations the agency is currently developing or plans to develop during the next 12 months;

2. Existing Regulations Under Review--existing regulations the agency is reviewing to determine whether to propose modifications through rulemaking; and

3. Completed Actions--actions or reviews the agency completed or withdrew since publishing its last agenda. This section also includes items that were begun and completed between issues of the Unified Agenda.

An agency may use a subheading to identify regulations that it has grouped according to a particular topic. When these subheadings are used, they appear above the title of the first regulation in the group.

A dot (●) preceding an entry indicates that the entry appears in its present section of the agenda for the first time.

A number preceding an entry indicates that the agency chose to provide a Table of Contents at the beginning of its agenda. The numbers in the Table of Contents correspond to the numbers preceding the entries. These Agenda Sequence Numbers should help readers easily locate items of most interest to them.

The regulatory activities included in the agency agendas are those currently planned for the next 12 months. The agendas do not include regulations excluded from review under EO 12291 such as military regulations and regulations related to internal agency management.

OMB Bulletin 84-16 states that entries describing regulations under development and review should contain, at a minimum, the following information:

- Title of the Regulation.
- Priority -- the priority status of the entry. Priority entries include:
  a. Any regulations designated for priority development or review by the agency;
  b. All regulations designated as "major" under section 1(b) of Executive Order 12291; and
  c. All regulations that were designated for review by the Presidential Task Force on Regulatory Relief.

Each entry for a priority action indicates which of the above criteria were used in determining its priority status. The priority heading appears only if the agency has designated the entry as a priority action.

Under EO 12291, a major rule is any regulation that is likely to result in:

  a. An annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more;
  b. A major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, state, or local government agencies, or geographic regions; or
  c. Significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

- Legal Authority -- the section(s) of the United States Code (USC) or Public Law (PL) or the Executive Order that authorize(s) the regulatory action (agencies may provide common name references to laws in addition to USC or PL references).
- CFR Citation -th affected by the action.
- Abstract -- a description of the problem the regulation will address; to the extent available, the alternatives that the agency is considering to address the problem; and the potential costs and benefits of the action.
- Timetable -- the dates and citations (if available) for all past stages and at least the next future stage of rulemaking. If a date appears in this section as 00/00/00, it means the date of the action is presently undetermined. Similarly, 10/00/84 means the agency can predict the month and year the action will take place, but not the date it will occur.
- Effects on Small Businesses and Other Small Entities -- indicates whether the rule is expected to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of "small entities" as defined by the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 USC 601(6)).
- Agency Contact -- the name, title, address, and phone number of a person in the agency who is knowledgeable about the regulation.

Some agencies have provided other optional information at their discretion.

Data Limitations

Agencies prepared entries for this edition of the Unified Agenda to give the public notice of their plans to review, propose, and issue regulations. They have tried to predict their activities over the next 12 months as accurately as possible, but dates and schedules are subject to change. Agencies may withdraw some of the regulations now under development, and they may issue or propose other regulations not included in their agendas. Agency actions in the rulemaking process may occur before or after the dates they have listed. The Agenda does not create a legal obligation on agencies to adhere to schedules within it or to confine their regulatory activities to those regulations that appear in it. The information in this edition is accurate as of August 27, 1984, in the judgment of the submitting agencies, except as otherwise noted in individual agency preambles.

List of Abbreviations

The following abbreviations appear throughout this edition of the Agenda:

ANPRM -- An Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking is a preliminary notice that an agency is considering a regulatory action. The agency issues an ANPRM before it develops a detailed proposed rule, describing the general area that may be subject to regulation and asking for public comment on the issues and options being discussed. An ANPRM is issued only when an agency believes it needs to gather more information before proceeding to a formal regulatory proposal.

CFR -- The Code of Federal Regulations is an annual codification of the general and permanent regulations published in the Federal Register by the departments and agencies of the Federal Government. The Code is divided into 50 titles and each title covers a broad area of federal regulatory law. The CFR is keyed to and kept up-to-date by the daily issues of the Federal Register.

EO -- An Executive Order is a directive from the President to an executive agency, issued under Constitutional or statutory authority. Executive Orders are published in the Federal Register and in Title 3 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

FR -- The Federal Register is a daily Federal Government publication that provides a uniform system for publishing Presidential documents, all proposed and final regulations, notices of meetings, and other official documents required by statute to be published.

FY -- The federal fiscal year runs from October 1 to September 30.

NPRM -- A Notice of Proposed Rulemaking is the document an agency issues and publishes in the Federal Register that describes and solicits public comments on a proposed regulatory action. Under the Administrative Procedure Act, an NPRM must include, at a minimum:

- A statement of the time, place, and nature of the public rulemaking proceeding;
- A reference to the legal authority under which the rule is proposed; and
- Either the terms or substance of the proposed rule or a description of the subjects and issues involved.

PL -- A Public Law is a law passed by Congress and signed by the President or enacted over his veto. It has general applicability, as opposed to a private law that applies only to those persons or entities specifically designated. Public laws are numbered in sequence throughout the two-year life of each Congress; for example, PL 97-17 would be the seventeenth public law of the 97th Congress.

RFA -- A Regulatory Flexibility Analysis (RFA) describes the impact of a proposed rule on small entities, as required by the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 USC 601). An RFA describes why the agency is considering the action; the objectives of and legal basis for the proposed rule; an estimate of the number of small entities that could be affected and the compliance requirements they would have to fulfill; any other duplicative, overlapping, or conflicting federal rules; and alternatives to the proposed action. When required, an initial RFA accompanies an NPRM and a final RFA accompanies a final rule.

RIA -- A Regulatory Impact Analysis is required by EO 12291 for all major rules and other regulations designated by the Office of Management and Budget. An RIA is prepared to determine whether a proposed regulatory action meets the requirements of Section 2 of EO 12291, namely that it:

- Be based on adequate information concerning the need for and consequences of the action;
- Not be undertaken unless the potential benefits outweigh the potential costs to society;
- Maximize net benefits to society;
- Entail the least net cost to society of the alternatives considered; and
- Take into account the condition of particular affected industries, the national economy, and contemplated future regulatory actions.

RIN -- The Regulatory Information Service Center assigns a Regulation Identifier Number to identify each regulatory action listed in the Agenda.

USC -- The United States Code is a consolidation and codification of all general and permanent laws of the United States. The USC is divided into 50 titles and each title covers a broad area of federal law.

Semiannual Regulatory Agenda: Fall 1984

AGENCY: Office of the Secretary, USDA.

ACTION: Semiannual regulatory agenda.

SUMMARY: This Agenda provides summary descriptions of major and non-major regulations being developed in agencies of the U.S. Department of Agriculture in conformance with Executive Order 12291, Federal Regulation. The agenda also describes regulations affecting small entities as required by section 602 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354.

USDA has attempted to list all regulations and regulatory reviews pending at the time of publication except for minor and routine or repetitive actions, but some may have been inadvertently missed. There is no legal significance to the omission of an item from this listing. Also, the dates shown for the steps of each action are estimated and are not commitments to act on or by the date shown.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For further information on any specific entry shown in this agenda, please contact the person listed for that action.

Requests for copies of the Agenda should include a self-addressed, stamped envelope and be directed to: Regulatory Agenda, OBPA, Office of the Secretary, Room 147-E, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, (202) 382-1270.

13. PRICE SUPPORT LOAN PROGRAM FOR 1983 THROUGH 1985 CROPS SUGAR BEETS AND SUGARCANE

Priority: Major

Legal Authority: 7 USC 1446(h) Ag Act of 1949, Sec 201(h), as amended

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 1435

Abstract: To support domestically grown sugarcane and sugar beets as required by the Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended, through nonrecourse loans. This rule implements the loan program for the 1983 through 1985 crops of sugar beets and sugarcane. The minimum level of support for raw cane sugar is 17.5 for the 1983 crop. The level of price support for the 1983 crop of refined beet sugar is established at such level which is determined to be fair and reasonable in relation to the level of loans for raw cane sugar. Loan rates for the 1984 and 1985 crops will be set forth in subsequent notices published in the Federal Register on or before October 1 of the applicable crop year. (ASCS 83-010)

32. 1984-85 MILK PRICE SUPPORT PROGRAM - NOTICE OF PRICE SUPPORT LEVEL (EFFECTIVE 4/1/85)

Priority: Major

Legal Authority: 7 USC 1446(d) The Ag Act of 1949, Sec 201(d), as amended

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 1430

Abstract: The Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended by the Dairy and Tobacco Adjustment Act of 1983, requires that the price support for milk shall be carried out through purchase of milk or milk products. The level of support specified through September 30, 1985, is $12.60 per cwt. except that, on April 1, 1985, if the Secretary estimates that, for the 12-month period beginning on such date, the net price support purchase of milk or the products of milk would be in excess of 6 billion pounds milk equivalent, the Secretary may reduce the price support rate in effect on such date in the amount of 50 cents per cwt. 33. 1984 SUGAR BEET AND SUGARCANE LOAN RATES

Priority: Major

Legal Authority: 7 USC 1446(h) Ag Act of 1949, Sec 201(h), as amended

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 1435

Abstract: The object of this action is to determine and announce the price support loan rates for the 1984 crop of sugar beets and sugarcane. The determination of these loan rates is required by the Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended. Establishment of the loan rate for raw cane sugar at 17.75 cents per pound or above is being considered. The loan rate for refined beet sugar is to be established at such level which is determined to be fair and reasonable in relation to the loan rate established for raw cane sugar. (ASCS 84-005)

Legal Authority: 7 USC 1358 Ag Adjustment Act of 1938, Sec 359, as amended

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 1446.52(n)

Abstract: The objective of this action is to determine whether to revise the definition of "eligible country" as defined in Sec 1446.52(n). The definition presently excludes Canada and Mexico as countries eligible for export of peanut products made from contract additional peanuts. Review of marketing and export activity over the past several years along with any comments will be the basis for determining whether a change in the definition to make Canada and Mexico eligible for export of such products should be proposed. 45. ● 1985 SUGAR BEET AND SUGARCANE LOAN RATES

Priority: Major

Legal Authority: 7 USC 1446(h) Agricultural Act of 1949, Sec 201(h)

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 1435.110 et seq

Abstract: The objective of this action is to determine and announce the price support loan rates for the 1985 crops of sugar beets and sugarcane. The determination of these loan rates is required by the Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended. Establishment of the price for raw sugar at 18.00 cents per pound or above is being considered. Establishing raw cane sugar above 18.00 cents per pound could cost consumers and cause the Commodity Credit Corporation to receive sugar by forfeiture. The loan rate for refined beet sugar is to be established at such level which is determined to be fair and reasonable in relation to the loan rate established for raw cane sugar. (ASCS 84-040)

CFR Citation: 9 CFR 50

Abstract: Amend 9 CFR 50 to authorize the payment of indemnity to owners of certain bison destroyed because of tuberculosis.

The tuberculosis regulations applying to cattle would be amended to apply to bison herds in South Dakota found in June 1984 to be foci of tuberculosis infection and to other herds which have received bison from the infected bison herds in South Dakota. The amendments made by this action are designed to address the immediate concern of preventing the spread of tuberculosis from the foci of infection. The Department is also working with State and industry officials to determine what cooperative efforts should be taken concerning tuberculosis in bison. (APHIS 84-043)

77. FOOD DISTRIBUTION PROGRAM ON INDIAN RESERVATIONS

Legal Authority: 7 USC 2013

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 253

Abstract: The rule reorganizes existing regulatory provisions for clarity and ease of reference. This rule describes the terms and conditions under which (1) USDA-donated foods (available under 7 CFR 250) may be distributed to households on or near Indian reservations; (2) the program may be administered by capable Indian tribal organizations; and (3) funds may be obtained from USDA for the costs incurred in administering the program. The rule also provides for the concurrent operation of the Food Distribution Program and the Food Stamp Program on Indian reservations when such concurrent operation is requested by an Indian tribal organization. 98. REWRITE OF NATIONAL SCHOOL LUNCH PROGRAM REGULATIONS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1751 et seq

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 210

Abstract: This rule will propose to revise the regulations covering the National School Lunch Program and the Commodity School Program. Since January 20, 1970, Part 210 has been amended with over 50 final rules and a number of interim rules. This proposal is intended to be nonsubstantive in nature. Emphasis is placed on resolving ambiguities and inconsistencies; eliminating unnecessary, duplicative and obsolete provisions; and clarifying both language and style so that Part 210 is more easily understood. ACTIONS THAT STARTED AND ENDED BETWEEN ISSUES OF THE UNIFIED AGENDA

110. ● PART 245-DETERMINING ELIGIBILITY FOR FREE AND REDUCED PRICE MEALS

Priority: Agency Determination

Abstract: This proposed regulation will amend the verification requirements of the National School Lunch and School Breakfast Programs to respond to the comments received on the interim rule on verification and to the results of the pilot study on verification. This proposal is intended to improve verification procedures, better protect the integrity of Federal funds, and provide increased flexibility to local School Food Authorities.

Superseded by 84-508 now entitled as above. (Previously entitled Verification of Eligibility in Schools.) (FNS 84-520)

135. ● COUNTRY OF ORIGIN ADJUSTMENT FOR CONDENSED MILK FROM DENMARK

Legal Authority: Pres Proc 4708 12/11/79

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 6

Abstract: Presidential Proclamation 4708 issued December 11, 1979 amended Part 3 of the Appendix to the Tariff Schedules of the United States to permit the Secretary of Agriculture to make country of origin adjustments for unlicensed quotas that will not be filled by the country of origin listed opposite the quota. This notice implements such an adjustment for condensed milk from Denmark.

136. SALE OF LANDS PURSUANT TO SECTION 10 OF THE ACT APPROVED MARCH 1, 1911

Legal Authority: 16 USC 519

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 281

Abstract: The objective is to rescind Part 281. The regulations have not been used in 20 years. Use of exchange authority rather than sale is the preferred manner of disposing of lands chiefly valuable for agriculture. (FS 84-007)

137. SALE OF NATIONAL FOREST TOWNSITES TO GOVERNMENT ENTITIES

Legal Authority: 16 USC 478a

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 254, Subpart B

Abstract: The objective is to expedite processing of sales of certain National Forest System lands to governmental entities pursuant to the National Forest Townsite Act of July 31, 1958, as amended. Amendments will clarify existing procedures, provide for prior designation of applicable townsites by the Secretary of Agriculture, expedite processing of applications at the Regional level, and reduce regulatory impacts of the application process on nonfederal governmental entities. 156. ● TECHNICAL AMENDMENT CLARIFYING LEVELS OF APPEAL ON PROCEDURAL MATTERS IN APPEALS OF DECISIONS CONCERNING THE NATIONAL FOREST SYSTEM

Legal Authority: 16 USC 551

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 211.18

Abstract: A review of 36 CFR 211.18 leads to the conclusion that there are opportunities to misinterpret the levels of appeal on procedural matters in appealing decisions of Forest Officers. As clearly stated in the Supplementary Information sections when the final rule was published, the intent was to provide only one level of appeal on procedural matters, if available. Appeal of decisions on procedural matters cannot exceed the level available for the initial substantive decision. However, the language of the rule itself was not precise. Therefore, a technical amendment was required. (FS 84-010)

166. ● 7 CFR PART 1747, LIEN ACCOMMODATIONS

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 7 USC 901 to 950(b)

CFR Citation: 7 CFR 1747

Abstract: The proposed rule states REA policy on sharing the Government's security through accommodation of its lien. The proposed rule will enable telephone borrowers to obtain financing for projects not eligible for loans under the Rural Electrification Act of 1936, as amended.

The objectives of this proposed action are to: (1) set forth the REA telephone programs policy on lien accommodations; (2) enable telephone borrowers with sufficient net worth positions to attract outside capital for: telecommunications projects; and other projects designed to aid rural development. Semiannual Agenda of Regulations AGENCY: Department of Commerce.

ACTION: October 1984 Regulatory Agenda.

SUMMARY: In compliance with Executive Order (EO) 12291, entitled "Federal Regulation," and the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354), the Department of Commerce (DOC) in April and October of each year publishes in the Federal Register an agenda of the regulations that the Department expects to propose or to issue over the next 12 months. In addition, the agenda lists all existing regulations currently under review for possible revision or repeal and all such reviews scheduled to begin over the next 12 months. Finally, the agenda lists all rulemakings and reviews of existing regulations completed since publication of the last agenda. The purpose of the agenda is to provide information to the public on all regulations currently under review, being proposed, or issued by the Department. The agenda is intended to facilitate comments and views by interested members of the public.

DOC's October 1984 regulatory agenda includes all regulatory activities that are expected to be conducted during the period October 1, 1984 through September 30, 1985. Regulatory developments occurring after August 27, 1984 for agenda items will be reported in the next agenda.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Specific: For additional information about a specific regulatory action listed in the agenda, contact the individual identified as the contact person.

General: Comments or inquiries of a general nature about the agenda should be directed to H. Stephen Halloway, Associate General Counsel for Legislation and Regulation, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230, Telephone: (202) 377-1328.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On February 17, 1981, President Reagan signed Executive Order 12291. The EO requires all executive agencies to publish semiannually an agenda of those regulations that are under consideration. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Bulletin No. 84-16, issued June 22, 1984 establishes guidelines and procedures for the preparation and publication of the October 1984 Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations for all Federal departments and agencies. EO 12291 and the OMB Bulletin require that each agenda report the following information on all regulatory activities being conducted or planned to be conducted by the agency during the twelve month period succeeding publication: the title of the regulation; the name, title, address and phone number of an agency person who is knowledgeable about the regulation; whether the regulation has or is expected to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities; the section(s) of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) which affects or will be affected by the action; the section of the United States Code (USC), Public Law (PL), or Executive Order (EO) that authorizes the action; an abstract describing the problem the regulation addresses, alternatives to the regulation being considered, and potential costs and benefits of the action; and a timetable of dates and, if available, Federal Register citations for past and future stages of the action.

The Regulatory Flexibility Act requires agencies to prepare a regulatory flexibility analysis (RFA) where there is a positive finding that a rule will have a significant impact on a substantial number of small entities. EO 12291 requires agencies to prepare a regulatory impact analysis (RIA) for any regulation considered to be a "major rule" as defined in the EO.

The OMB Bulletin also requires that regulations designated for priority development or review by the agency head or the President's Task Force on Regulatory Relief, and regulations which are "major rules" within the meaning of the EO be designated in the agenda as "priority." The Department also designates all rules required to be reviewed, revised or issued by a court order; those rules or revisions whose issuance is needed to protect the public or the environment; and those revisions whose issuance furthers the regulatory reform and relief goals of the Administration as "priority." The OMB Bulletin also requires that all regulations issued or withdrawn, and all reviews completed since publication of the preceding agenda, be listed with the following information: the title of the regulation; the name and phone number of the agency contact person; the Federal Register citation of the final action, if available; and the final action taken including the reason therefore.

Explanation of Information Contained in the Agenda

Within the Department, the Office of the Secretary and various operating units may issue regulations. Operating units such as the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), the International Trade Administration (ITA), National Bureau of Standards (NBS) and the Patent and Trademark Office (PTO) issue the greatest share of the Department's regulations, while other operating units such as the United States Travel and Tourism Administration currently have no regulations in effect.

A large number of the regulations presented in the agenda deal with fishery management programs of NOAA's National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS). To avoid repetition of programs and definitions, as well as to provide some understanding of the technical and institutional elements of the NMFS programs, a section on "Explanation of Information Contained in NMFS Regulatory Entries" is provided below.

Explanation of Information Contained in NMFS Regulatory Entries

The Magnuson Fishery Conservation and Management Act of 1976 (16 USC 1801 et seq.) (Act) requires that a preliminary fishery management plan (PMP) be prepared for all fisheries within a fishery conservation zone (FCZ) fished in by foreign fishing nations. The FCZ refers to those waters from the outer edge of the United States territorial sea to a distance of 200 miles. Fishery management plans (FMPs) are to be prepared if those fisheries require conservation and management measures. Although PMPs apply only to foreign fishing, the FMPs regulate both foreign and domestic fishing. When promulgated, the FMPs supersede the PMPs. Under the Act, eight Regional Fishery Management Councils (Councils) prepare FMPs for fisheries within their respective areas. In the development of such plans and their implementing regulations, the Councils are required by law to conduct public hearings on the draft plans and to consider the use of alternative means of regulating.

The Council process for developing FMPs makes it difficult for NMFS to determine the significance of some regulatory actions under consideration at the time the semiannual regulatory agenda is published. Frequently NMFS does not have specific plan objectives or alternatives for management since the Councils may not have approved or submitted plans to the Secretary of Commerce for review, adoption, and implementation.

Another large number of regulatory actions reported in the agenda are proposed or final Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS), issued by the National Bureau of Standards under Pub. L. 89-306. FIPS consist of standards and guidelines to improve Federal Government use and management of computers and information technology. The standards, while often of great use to industry and the public, apply only to the Federal Government. In developing the standards and guidelines, and in providing technical guidance and coordination to Federal agencies, NBS works closely with private industry standard-setting organizations.

The DOC regulatory agenda follows.

Malcolm Baldrige,

Secretary of Commerce.

1. AGE DISCRIMINATION ACT OF 1975: IMPLEMENTATION

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: PL 94-1135 Age Discrimination Act of 1975

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 8a

Abstract: These proposed regulations would set forth policies and procedures of the Department of Commerce to ensure that there is no discrimination on the basis of age in non-Federal Government programs or activities receiving financial assistance from the Department. The Department's regulations can not be issued until such time as the Department of Health and Human Services issues guidance to the Federal agencies on reporting requirements.

4. COMMERCE ACQUISITION REGULATION

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 41 USC 251; EO 12352

CFR Citation: 48 CFR 1 to 53

Abstract: The General Services Administration and the Department of Defense have jointly issued the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) which established uniform policies and procedures for the acquisition of supplies and services by all executive agencies. The FAR replaced the Federal Procurement Regulations (FPR) and the Defense Acquisition Regulation (DAR) and is intended to be a simplified, more understandable and unified version of the FPR and the DAR. The FAR was published September 19, 1983 and is effective April 1, 1984. Executive agencies are expected to implement the FAR by April 1, 1984. Even though agencies are advised to control and limit issuance of supplemental implementing regulations and not repeat, paraphrase or restate FAR material, substantial agency regulations are still anticipated to supplement the FAR which consists of about 2000 pages. The extent of specific FAR parts requiring supplemental agency regulations cannot be readily determined at this time. However, periodic updates are anticipated to implement statutory and regulatory requirements.

13. ADMINISTRATIVE OFFSETS FOR DEBTS OWED THE DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

Legal Authority: PL 97-365, Sec 10

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 2A, (New)

Abstract: The proposed regulation will cover Department procedures for withholding money due individuals and businesses indebted to the Federal Government. Administrative offsets will be used by the Department when debtors have failed to make timely and adequate payments to satisfy such debts. Prior to collecting claims through administrative offset, debtors will be provided under the regulations with a notification of the amount and nature of the claim and the Department's intention to collect the claim through administrative offset, and explanation of the debtor's rights, an opportunity for the debtor to inspect and copy the agency's records relating to the claim, an opportunity for review of the claim by the agency if contested by the debtor, and an opportunity to enter into a written agreement with the agency for repayment of the amount due. These procedures will ensure the effective use of administrative offsets when appropriate, thereby increasing collections of amounts due the Federal Government. The result will be better cash management and a slight reduction in the need of the Federal Government to borrow funds in the capital market.

Priority: Major, Task Force

Legal Authority: 50 USC App. 2401 et seq Export Admin. Act of 1979; EO 12002; EO 12214

Abstract: The existing regulations provide procedures for the administrative programs required to carry out the Department's responsibilities for regulating exports of U.S. goods and technology for purposes of national security, foreign policy, and short supply. Review of these regulations to remove artificial barriers to small business exports was initiated by the President's Task Force on Regulatory Relief. Revisions to the regulations will be proposed to improve organization, indexing, simplify language, eliminate unnecessary administrative requirements and obsolete provisions, reduce documentation requirements, review certain policy issues, and lessen the compliance burden. Economic impacts will be reviewed and addressed. A more readable and understandable set of regulations with reduced administrative and documentation requirements will result from these revisions. This should considerably aid small business in making exports.

15. GENERAL REGULATIONS GOVERNING FOREIGN TRADE ZONES IN THE UNITED STATES, WITH RULES OF PROCEDURES

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 19 USC 81a et seq Foreign-Trade Zones Act of 1934

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 400

Abstract: Revision of the regulation is needed to administer the Foreign-Trade Zones Act of 1934, as amended, to provide for the establishment, operation, and maintenance of foreign-trade zones in ports of entry of the United States. At the time the ANPRM was published the emphasis was on changing the rules to provide improved guidance to the public on procedures and criteria followed in making decisions concerning special-purpose subzones and operations detrimental to the public interest. Since that time, it has been decided to propose revisions to the entire 15 CFR 400 in order to update the language and conform it to current CFR format.

Additional Information: These rules apply to approximately 100 zones and subzones throughout the United States. Of the 1500 companies using these zones, 900 do so on a full time basis. This level of activity is not sufficient to classify these rules as major under Executive Order 12291. Accordingly, no RIA is required or will be prepared. No RFA is required or will be prepared.

The ITC and GAO completed studies of the foreign-trade zones program in March 1984 at the request of the House Ways and Means Committee. The foreign-trade zones staff has postponed preparation of a set of final proposed rules pending comments from the Committee on the results of the study.

Priority: Major

Legal Authority: 19 USC 1303; 19 USC 1671 et seq

Abstract: Certain unfair trade practices by foreign governments that could be penalized as dumping or subsidization are either not subject to such remedies under the current law or regulations, subject to challenge if penalized, or escape detection by petitioners and the Department. While certain constraints are imposed by the statutes, the relevant Codes, and the effects on U.S. exporters, all possibilities will be examined with a goal of achieving the maximum benefit for U.S. trading interests and amendments to the regulations will be proposed to take care of as much of the problem as possible through the regulatory process.

18. GUIDELINES FOR THE ISSUANCE OF EXPORT TRADE CERTIFICATES OF REVIEW

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 15 USC 4017

Abstract: Section 307 of PL 97-290 (15 USC 4017) authorizes the Secretary of Commerce to issue, with the concurrence of the Attorney General, guidelines for the issuance of certificates of review setting forth the standards and analytical approach which will be applied in determining whether to certify an applicant's proposed export trade, export trade activities and methods of operation. A person to whom a certificate of review is issued is protected from the trebling of damages for any injury resulting from and criminal liability for, conduct specified in the certificate.

19. REGULATIONS FOR ISSUANCE OF EXPORT TRADE CERTIFICATES OF REVIEW

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 15 USC 4011 et seq

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 325

Abstract: The regulations set forth the procedures by which a person can obtain an export trade certificate of review. Title III of PL 97-290 (15 USC 4011-4021) authorizes the Secretary of Commerce to issue, with the concurrence of the Attorney General, such certificates. A person to whom a certificate of review is issued is protected from the trebling of damages for any injury resulting from, and criminal liability for, export trade, export trade activities and methods of operation specified in the certificate.

Priority: Task Force

Legal Authority: 50 USC App. 2401 et seq Export Administration Act of 1979; EO 12002; EO 12214

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 371

Abstract: Part 371 of the Export Administration Regulations, General Licenses, will be revised to reduce required documentation and otherwise simplify the regulatory language governing the validated licensing program. The regulations governing general licenses will be revised to place related subjects together, reduce footnotes, improve readability and help the public locate information.

Priority: Task Force

Legal Authority: 50 USC App. 2401 et seq Export Administration Act of 1979; EO 12002; EO 12214

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 379

Abstract: Existing Part 379 "Technical Data" of the Export Administration Regulations is being revised to put it in a simpler style and to include more specific definitions of various types of technical data: publicly available data, scientific and educational data, critical data, etc. When these revisions are published exporters should be able to determine more easily if and how their particular technical data is controlled. The revised regulation will be easier to read and use, and should result in fewer export license applications returned to exporters for lack of proper information, speedier license approvals, and less paperwork for Office of Export Administration.

Priority: Task Force

Legal Authority: 50 USC App. 2401 et seq Export Administration Act of 1979; EO 12002; EO 12214

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 370

Abstract: Part 370 of the Export Administration Regulations, Export Licensing General Policy, is being revised to simplify its style and organization. This revision will consolidate much general information presently scattered throughout various parts of the regulations. An expanded Glossary of Terms will be included as a supplement to this Part, with concise definitions of many terms exporters feel are ambiguous. A simpler style and more logical organization of this regulation will provide the public with a clearer introduction to the Office of Export Administration and its export control program.

23. EFFECT OF IMPORTED ARTICLES ON THE NATIONAL SECURITY

Legal Authority: 19 USC 1862 Trade Expansion Act of 1962, as amended; 5 USC App. Reorganization Plan No. 3 of 1979; EO 12188

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 359

Abstract: Section 359.10(a) of the existing regulation requires that a report of an investigation be organized into several sections containing classified and unclassified information. Paragraph (c) of that section requires that the report (excluding confidential material) be published in the Federal Register. Paragraph (a) will be amended to delete the report organization requirement and paragraph (b) will be amended to permit publication of either the full report or a summary thereof. It is impractical, time consuming, and not cost effective to organize the report, and publish the full report, as now required by the regulation. Section 359.10(c) will also be amended to provide that a copy of the report will be available to the public from the Publications Distribution Office of the Department rather than at ITA's Freedom of Information Records Inspection Facility.

Legal Authority: 50 USC 1702 PL 95-223, as amended, Sec 203; 50 USC 1704 PL 95-223, as amended, Sec 206; EO 12470 March 30, 1984 (49 FR 13099, April 3, 1984); 42 USC 6212 PL 94-163, as amended, Sec 103; EO 11912 April 13, 1976 (49 FR 15825, as amended); 10 USC 7430 as amended by PL 94-258, Sec 201(10)

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 377

Abstract: Linear Alpha Olefins are currently subject to validated export licensing requirements under a basket category which applies to naphthas (Group N of Supplement No 2 to 377 of the Export Administration Regulations). The Department is considering removing licensing requirements for LAOs and similar commodities because they do not have a likely energy end-use. During the comment period, all respondents favored the removal of licensing requirements on the grounds that current requirements are burdensome, that LAOs are not naphthas, that they do not have a likely energy end use, and that they are not in short supply. Accordingly, the Department is in the process of considering the most appropriate course of action with regard to possible decontrol of this and smaller commodities.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 50 USC App. 2061 et seq Defense Production Act of 1950; EO 10480

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 350

Abstract: Procedures for implementing the priorities and allocations authorities relating to contracts and orders needed to maximize domestic energy supplies were first proposed in August 1977 as a separate part to the CFR (42 FR 43038). These provisions are included in the new Defense Priorities and Allocations System regulation (15 CFR 350), published in the Federal Register as a final rule on July 30, 1984 (49 FR 30412).

27. DEFENSE PRIORITIES AND ALLOCATIONS SYSTEM (DPAS)

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 50 USC App. 2061 et seq Defense Production Act of 1950; EO 10480

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 330 to 332; 15 CFR 340 to 343; 15 CFR 350 to 354

Abstract: To implement those priorities and allocation authorities of Title I of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, that are assigned to the Office of Industrial Resource Administration, a new regulatory system was proposed (46 FR 29662) that: 1) consolidates the existing regulations and eliminates duplication; 2) is clearly written, organized and presented; and 3) provides for an efficient and effective priorities and allocations system designed to meet likely future challenges and demands. Public comments received were overwhelmingly in favor of the proposed regulations. The benefit of these regulations will be a regulatory system that will be easy to understand and use, without any increase in cost or burden to the public. Accordingly, the DPAS was published as a final rule on July 30, 1984 (49 FR 30412).

Legal Authority: 19 USC 1202; PL 89-805; PL 97-446

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 303

Abstract: The regulations governing watch assembly activity in the insular possessions will be amended in two states to conform them to PL 97-446, signed into law on 01/12/83. The first stage covered under another agenda entry proposed annual rules to meet deadlines for allocating calendar year 1983 watch quotas. This agenda entry covers the second stage where amendments to the entire 15 CFR 303 are being proposed in order to update the language and conform it to other changes made by PL 97-446.

Legal Authority: 15 USC 1512; EO 11625; 3 CFR 616 to 20 (1971-75); EO 12432; 3 CFR 198 to 99 (1983)

Abstract: To be eligible to receive MBDA assistance, an applicant must qualify as a socially or economically disadvantaged individual, business enterprise, or group. The purpose of this proposed rule is to provide guidance to groups, not enumerated in E.O. 11625 and not previously designated by the Secretary of Commerce as eligible for assistance, who believe they are entitled to MBDA funded programs. Upon adequate showing to the Secretary of Commerce by representatives of a group that the group is as a whole, socially or economically disadvantaged the Secretary will designate the group as such and individuals of the group will be eligible for MBDA assistance.

Abstract: This standard will provide for reliable connections between users on a computer network. It is one of a family of computer network protocol standards which will make possible computer-to-computer communication of Federal ADP systems. It will enable Federal Government agencies to select equipment based on cost and performance considerations and to interconnect equipment of different manufacturers.

51. REEF FISH RESOURCES OF THE GULF OF MEXICO FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN: IMPLEMENTING REGULATIONS

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conservation & Mgmt. Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 641

Abstract: Biological data indicate a substantial decline in reef fish stocks in the Gulf of Mexico. Overfishing contributes to this decline in many nearshore areas by recreational & commercial users. In addition, there is expanding competition between recreational & commercial users for limited resource. Objectives are: rebuild declining reef fish stocks; establish fishery reporting system; increase reef fish habitats in approp. areas; provide protection for juveniles while protecting existing & new habitats; and minimize conflicts between user groups. Benefits from implementation of the plan over a 5-year period could reach discounted maximum of $8 million for commercial fishermen & $23.2 million for recreational fishermen. Annual costs for development & implementation of plan over a 5-year period are estimated at $393,315. The adopted measures would minimize burden on public & address the problems in the fishery in a cost-effective manner. The regulations will require some small entities to relocate their fishery areas. Net benefits will occur to the fishery because of the rebuilding of the resources.

52. SPINY LOBSTER FISHERY IN PUERTO RICO & THE VIRGIN ISLANDS FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN: IMPLEMENTING REGULATIONS

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conservation & Mgmt. Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 645

Abstract: A fishery management plan (FMP) and implementing regulations are needed to manage the spiny lobster resources of the Caribbean. Management measures will protect long-term yields, prevent depletion of the stocks, increase yields from the fishery, and acquire information necessary to better manage the fishery. The primary objective is to achieve optimum yields from a presently healthy fishery stock without encountering the problems of economic or biologic overfishing that have been known to occur in some other fisheries. The FMP imposes a minimum size limit which will cause an estimated loss in income during the first year of $228 per fisherman, and $117 per fisherman in the second year. Size limits in subsequent years are expected to improve landings in the third and subsequent years, resulting in $118 per fisherman increase in income. The prohibition of taking lobsters in certain areas may have minor supply and income effects on commercial and recreational harvesters which may be offset by aesthetic benefits to divers and research benefits to scientists. Additional reporting burdens will be placed on some fishermen.

53. KING CRAB (BERING SEA/ALEUTIAN ISLANDS) FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN: IMPLEMENTING REGULATIONS

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conservation & Mgmt. Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 676

Abstract: This fishery management plan (FMP) and implementing regulations seek to ensure effective conservation and management of King Crab stocks in the Bering Sea and Aleutian Islands area while providing continued active participation of the State of Alaska in management of these fisheries. Non-resident Alaskan fishermen will have more effective input to fishery management. There is a need for enforcement of sex and minimum size limits to prevent overharvesting the King Crab optimum yield, and to prevent harvesting of females and under-sized crab. The regulation allows protection of smaller vessels that compete with larger vessels in their ability to move between fishing areas. Regulatory measures also seek to ensure equitable representation of all components of the harvesting sector. Alternative measures under the FMP could have a significant impact on small entities. This is a framework FMP for which formal Secretarial review began on July 16, 1984.

54. CIVIL PROCEDURES

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 15 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conservation & Mgmt. Act; 16 USC 773 et seq Northern Pacific Halibut Act of 1982

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 904

Abstract: The existing regulations (15 CFR 904) provide uniform procedures for enforcement and civil proceedings under the various fishery and marine resource statutes administered by NOAA. The regulations are being revised to consolidate all aspects of NOAA's civil process which can be uniformly treated. The revised regulations will provide uniform permit processing procedures and sanction procedures; means of addressing the respondent's ability to pay in civil penalty proceedings; procedures for issuance and appeal of written warnings, summary forfeitures, and for selling seized perishable fish. The revisions will clarify for the public the procedures which NOAA follows in carrying out its enforcement responsibilities. The amendments thus are beneficial rather than burdensome to the public. These procedural regulations will not increase costs to the public or local governments. Nor will they have a significant adverse effect on competition, employment or industry. The alternative of not further consolidating the procedures was considered and rejected. There is no alternative to making the updating and housekeeping portions of the amendments.

57. GENERAL AND RECREATIONAL FOREIGN FISHING

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conservation & Mgmt. Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 611.1 to 611.98

Abstract: The regulations will be amended to permit certain foreign fishing vessels to engage in recreational fishing within the Fishery Conservation Zone (FCZ) and in State waters without a foreign fishing permit, as provided by P.L. 97-453 amending the Magnuson Fishery Conservation and Management Act. The Secretary of Commerce and the Governor of a coastal State may impose reasonable fees and conditions and restrictions on such recreational fishing. The amendments will: (1) Specify the vessel types and activities which qualify for fishing without a permit, (2) require no fees for special conditions for vessels which qualify, and (3) provide the mechanism for a Governor to propose either fees or conditions and restrictions upon such fishing in the FCZ adjacent to his State. Revised regulations should cover all foreign fishing, be easier to understand and simplify enforcement.

Will be incorporated into Subparts A&B of the Foreign Fishing Regs.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1856 Sec 306, Magnuson Fishery Conservation & Mgmt. Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 619

Abstract: The regulations interpret certain statutory terms applicable to, and establish procedures governing, formal adjudicatory hearings to be held before the Secretary of Commerce can apply Federal fishery regulations to certain waters within State boundaries. Section 306(b) of the Magnuson Fishery Conservation and Management Act authorizes the Secretary of Commerce to regulate a fishery within State boundaries in certain circumstances. Before the Secretary is authorized to do so, he must make certain findings after providing an opportunity for a formal adjudicatory hearing. The regulations apprise affected parties of the procedures to be followed at such a hearing and also of the types of information to be scrutinized that is relevant to the findings to be made.

Additional Information: The Department of the Interior, as lead agency in the development of the regulations, has prepared a draft environmental assessment. A determination will be made at the time of the final rule as to whether this is a major Federal action within the meaning of Section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. It has been determined that the regulations will not constitute a major rule under EO 12291 and will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities under the terms of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

60. U.S. STANDARDS FOR GRADES OF FISH STEAKS

Legal Authority: 7 USC 1621 to 1630 Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 262A

Abstract: The interim rule would establish a voluntary standards system to classify fish steaks by quality into four categories - U.S. Grade A, B, C, and Substandard. The objective is to facilitate trade in fish steaks classified by quality thereby benefiting the consumer and the industry. The standards would be used in a voluntary program of fishery products inspection and certification by NMFS. The total value of the industry product in 1981 was $19 million. Industry has expressed a high level of interest in and support for the voluntary standards. The timetable for this action is very tentative. Further research will be needed before the rule is published.

61. PROCESSED FISHERY PRODUCTS, PROCESSED PRODUCTS THEREOF & CERTAIN OTHER PROCESSED FOOD PRODUCTS: U.S. STANDARDS FOR GRADES OF FROZEN FISH BLOCKS & PRODUCTS MADE THEREFROM ETC

Legal Authority: 7 USC 1621 to 1630 Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946

Abstract: The revised rule will expand the coverage of established voluntary standards for grades of fishery products to include new products made from fish blocks. The standards will take into account new technology and equipment. These standards will be used in a voluntary program of fishery products inspection and certification by the NMFS. Industry has shown a high level of interest and support for the revisions. The timetable for this action is very tentative. Further research will be needed before the rule is published.

62. U.S. GENERAL STANDARDS FOR GRADES OF SHRIMP

Legal Authority: 7 USC 1621 to 1630 Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 265A

Abstract: The final rule will establish general quality grading standards for all non-breaded forms of fresh or frozen shrimp. These grading standards will provide for the systematic differentiation of the quality of shrimp into four categories -- U.S. Grades A, B, C and Substandard. The proposed standards will be applied to all commercial species of fresh or frozen shrimp in raw or cooked states in all non-breaded market forms. The adoption of grading standards is expected to facilitate trade in shrimp of all commercial species, as consumers will be able to select shrimp on the basis of identified quality. Industry has shown great interest in and support for the standards. Timetable for next action is very tentative. Public comments received indicate a need for further research before the rule is published.

64. SUPPLEMENTAL OBSERVER PROGRAM

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1821(i) The Magnuson Fishery Conser. and Management Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 611.8

Abstract: PL 97-453 requires the Secretary of Commerce to establish a supplementary U.S. observer program if full observer coverage of foreign fishing vessels cannot be achieved using Federal or contract employees that rely on Congressional appropriations as the source of funding. Under such circumstances, foreign fishing vessel owners would pay observer fees directly to supplementary U.S. observers or their agents. The Secretary of Commerce must certify observers and procedures for monitoring performance. No cost will be incurred by the U.S. to implement or operate this program as costs are charged to foreign fishermen. No alternative is envisioned because of the law's specificity.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conservation & Mgmt. Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 671

Abstract: This regulatory amendment would modify crab pot storage in the Eastern Bering Sea and Gulf of Alaska. Changes are needed to establish new shallow water areas to store domestic Tanner crab pots during closed seasons around the Pribilof Islands, and to prevent preemption of productive fishing grounds for other species.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 7 USC 1621 to 1630 Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 267, (New)

Abstract: This proposed standard will establish a voluntary standards system to identify various products made from North American Freshwater Catfish and to grade these products A, B, C and Substandard. The objective of the standard is to facilitate trade in these products thereby benefiting the consumer. The standard will be used by NMFS in the voluntary program of fishery products inspection and certification. Industry has expressed strong support for these voluntary standards.

67. AMENDMENT NO. 3 TO THE HIGH SEAS SALMON FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN: IMPLEMENTING REGULATIONS

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conservation & Mgmt Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 674

Abstract: Amendment No. 3 and implementing regulations to the High Seas Salmon Fishery Management Plan (FMP) may be needed to prevent depletion of the stocks by overfishing if naturally spawning stocks of southeast Alaska and Pacific Northwest chinook salmon are depressed. Reducing the optimum yield (OY) could contribute to resolution of the problem; alternatively reducing the harvest level within the current OY range may be adequate to address the problem. Adjustment of fishing season dates may also be appropriate. Adjustment of OY levels or the fishing season would impact over 3,000 commercial salmon trollers. Adverse impacts could include lower catch/revenues or increase competition for available catch. It is unknown at this time whether a 1985 amendment will be necessary.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1361 et seq Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 228.20 to 228.29, (New)

Abstract: Based on request from the Air Force, the NMFS will propose regulations which would allow a small number of marine mammals to be incidentally taken as a result of sonic booms from space shuttle launches from Vandenberg Air Force Base, California. Section 101 (a)(5) of the Marine Mammal Protection Act provides for allowing the taking of small numbers of marine mammals incidental to specified activities provided that certain findings can be made and regulations are established which set forth permissible methods of taking, and requirements for monitoring and reporting.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1531 et seq Endangered Species Act of 1973

Abstract: Regulations will be proposed which would list the Gulf of California harbor porpoise (Phocoena sinus) as an endangered species under the Endangered Species Act of 1973. An endangered species is a species which is determined to be in danger of extinction through all or a significant portion of its range. If listed as an endangered species, P. sinus would be protected under the provisions of the Endangered Species Act.

70. AMENDMENT TO THE FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN (FMP) FOR ATLANTIC SEA SCALLOPS TO ENSURE BETTER CONSERVATION OF THE SCALLOP RESOURCES

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conser & Management Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 650

Abstract: New England Fishery Management Council will prepare an amendment to the FMP for Atlantic Sea Scallops. With the current low scallop abundance and poor recruitment prospects, the present FMP does not appear to be providing the degree of resource protection anticipated by the Council. If the resource is to be conserved for the benefit of the industry and public, revised management measures are needed to ensure that incoming recruitment to the fishery, when and if it occurs, be better protected. The proposed measure will be a minimum individual meat size, rather than the present average minimum meat count. The valuable Atlantic sea scallop resource is capable of yielding 100 million dollars annually, and requires additional protection.

72. FINAL RULE IMPLEMENTING THE ATLANTIC DEMERSAL FINFISH FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conser & Management Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 651

Abstract: The New England Fishery Management Council is developing a comprehensive, long-term, groundfish plan to cover all of the important groundfish species caught in the New England trawl fishery. This plan, termed the Atlantic Demersal Finfish Fishery Management Plan (ADF plan), is intended to replace the present "Interim Fishery Management Plan for Atlantic Groundfish" which has regulated fishing for cod, haddock, and yellowtail flounder since 1982. The ADF plan will take into account the fact that many different groundfish species are taken together in the same trawl, and that the mix of species changes on a trip and seasonal basis. The Council has adopted a set of management policies and is considering alternative management measures and impacts. The conservation focus is on maintenance of a minimum stock abundance size which reasonably protects against recruitment factors; emphasis is on minimum regulatory intervention or restrictions on fishing options.

73. ● REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE TAKING AND IMPORTING OF MARINE MAMMALS; DEFINITION OF COMMERCIAL FISHING OPERATION

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1361 et seq Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 216.3

Abstract: It is proposed to modify the definition of "commercial fishing operation" to include commercial passenger fishing vessels (party boats) under that definition. This modification would allow party boat owners and operators to apply for general permits and certificates of inclusion which allow the incidental taking of marine mammals during fishing operations. Under the Marine Mammal Protection Act, no marine mammals may be taken in the course of fishing operations unless permits and certificates have been obtained and until now, party boats were excluded from obtaining permits and certificates. Therefore, they were unable to protect the catch and gear of their paid passengers from depredations. Modification of definition should improve fishing conditions and result in increased revenue. Potential total costs to applicants are estimated at $450. Cost per applicant is estimated at $2.50.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1361 et seq Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 216.24

Abstract: The 1984 amendments to the Marine Mammal Protection Act among other things: (1) extend indefinitely the general permit issued to the American Tunaboat Association to take marine mammals during commercial purse seine fishing operations; (2) establish quotas for two species of porpoise for which quotas have not been issued; (3) removed these two species from the accidental take enforcement policy; and, (4) placed additional importation requirements on nations purse seining for yellowfin tuna in the eastern tropical Pacific. These regulations codify the Congressional action. Since the actions are congressionally mandated and the Administration has no decision-making discretion, there are no alternatives to consider. No additional costs to the tuna industry are anticipated.

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 652

Abstract: Amends the regulations governing the harvest of Atlantic surf clams to provide a means of adjusting the minimum size within a range of 5.5 - 4.75 inches. The Regional Director, after consultation with the Mid-Atlantic Council and opportunity for public comment, must adjust the size limit as necessary so that discards on average would not exceed 30 percent of the total catches.

81. ● COASTAL MIGRATORY PELAGIC RESOURCES OF THE GULF OF MEXICO AND SOUTH ATLANTIC: IMPLEMENTING REGULATIONS

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conser & Management Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 642

Abstract: Amendment 1 to the plan would revise the implementing regulation to modify management of king mackerel. The resource is divided into Gulf and South Atlantic Migratory Groups. For each group an annual total allowable catch is determined that is allocated among recreational and commercial fishermen. A portion of the commercial quota is allocated to the purse seine fishery. Annual permits are required for vessels fishing the Gulf group. When a commercial quota is attained, commercial fishing must cease for that group. Recreational quotas will be controlled by a bag limit on charter and private boats of 3 fish per person per trip. No more that 1 king mackerel more that 50 inches (fork length) per person, per trip, may be retained in the Gulf of Mexico by recreational or commercial fishermen.

83. ● OCEAN SALMON FISHERIES OFF THE COASTS OF WASHINGTON, OREGON AND CALIFORNIA - MANAGEMENT PLAN: IMPLEMENTING REGULATIONS FOR A FRAMEWORK AMENDMENT TO THE PLAN

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conser & Management Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 661

Abstract: These regulations implement the fishery management plan (FMP) for commercial and recreational salmon fisheries off the coasts of Washington, Oregon, and California. This plan was developed by the Pacific Fishery Management Council. It was first implemented in 1977 and has undergone annual amendments since then. These regs. establish fishing areas, fishing seasons, allowable fishing gear, allowable harvest, & for adjusting the regs. during the year. The intended effect is to protect the salmon from being overharvested, to allocate allowable harvest equitably among the various groups of fishermen to allow adequate numbers of salmon to reach internal water fisheries, & to achieve spawning escapement goals. The FMP & its implementing regs. undergo continuous review & will be modified when conditions warrant changes. These annual adjustments to the management measures will be implemented by publishing revised regs. for the fishery (opening & closing dates, fishing seasons, quotas, bag limits, & similar restrictions) by May 1. Changes outside scope of the framework amendment will be made by the normal regulatory process.

Additional Information: Linked with 0648-AB04. The fishery management plan (FMP) & its implementing regs. have undergone & will continue to undergo continuous review. They will be changed whenever conditions warrant a change. The Council has prepared a "framework" amendment of the plan which if approved & implemented, will allow the annual fishery management measures to be implemented without amending the plan or regs. An RIA is not required, but the impacts of these regs. are analyzed in environmental impact statements and regulatory impact reviews.

89. FEDERAL CONSISTENCY WITH APPROVED COASTAL ZONE MANAGEMENT PROGRAMS: DEFINITION OF THE TERM: "DIRECTLY AFFECTING" IN SECTION 307(C)(1) OF THE COASTAL ZONE MANAGEMENT ACT

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1456 Coastal Zone Management Act of 1972

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 930

Abstract: On January 11, 1984, the U.S. Supreme Court issued its decision in Secretary of the Interior et al. v. California et al. No. 82-1326. The Court held that the sale of Outer Continental Shelf (OCS) oil and gas leases is not an activity "directly affecting" the coastal zone within the meaning of Section 307(c)(1) of the Coastal Zone Management Act of 1972, as amended (CZMA), and, therefore, that a consistency determination is not required under that section before such sales may be made. Section 307 (c)(1) requires that Federal agencies conducting or supporting activities "directly affecting the coastal zone" must conduct or support those activities in a manner which is consistent to the maximum extent practicable with federally-approved state coastal zone management programs. NOAA will engage in rulemaking to revise certain CZMA regulations as a result of the Supreme Court decision. NOAA intends to remove those references which identify OCS lease sales as activities covered by the Section 307(c)(1) requirements, to solicit comments on whether to define the term "directly affect" and to solicit comments on other CZMA regulations which may need revision.

90. PROPOSED REGULATIONS FOR THE PROPOSED FAGATELE BAY NATIONAL MARINE SANCTUARY

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1431 to 1434

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 940

Abstract: The American Samoa Government does not currently possess the legal authorities necessary for managing site-specific marine resources such as the Fagatele Bay National Marine Sanctuary. Regulations will be proposed for the Fagatele Bay National Marine Sanctuary to fulfill a need evidenced by uncontrolled harvesting of reef fisheries and the loss of habitat via destructive fishing methods. Long-term benefits include resource protection and restoration of habitat; public education and development of an environmental ethic; and ecological succession studies. This project will serve as a prototype for other resource protection initiatives by the American Samoa Government.

91. DEEP SEABED MINING REGULATIONS FOR COMMERCIAL RECOVERY

Priority: Major

Legal Authority: 30 USC 1401 et seq Deep Seabed Hard Mineral Resources Act

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 971

Abstract: Under 15 CFR 970, prospective deep seabed miners may apply to NOAA for the exploration license needed to explore the deep seabed for manganese nodules. Under the new regulations, prospective miners will be able to apply to NOAA for a permit to commercially recover and process nodules to obtain strategic metals (nickel, copper, cobalt, manganese). These permits would provide security of tenure for applicants with respect to other U.S. citizens and other nations' permittees in accordance with applicable international agreements. Fees for securing and maintaining a permit will be based on the Government's processing costs. These fees would be an inconsequential portion of the cost of a commercial recovery operation. The cost of a commercial recovery operation is expected to exceed one billion dollars. Alternatives to the regulation would require amending the Deep Seabed Hard Mineral Resources Act, which would be considered in the context of the U.S. law of the sea policy.

92. LICENSING OF OCEAN THERMAL ENERGY CONVERSION FACILITIES AND PLANTSHIPS

Priority: Major

Legal Authority: 42 USC 9101 et seq Ocean Thermal Energy Conversion Act

CFR Citation: 15 CFR 981 et seq

Abstract: These regulations (15 CFR 981) established a stable legal system and a streamlined licensing process to facilitate commercial development of ocean thermal energy conversion (OTEC) facilities and plantships. These regulations are being reviewed to determine if they should be revised. The details of the simplified licensing system for ownership, construction, location, and operation of OTEC facilities and plantships which are associated with the United States or U.S. Citizens, are being examined to gauge the effect on the developing OTEC industry. Section 117 of the Ocean Thermal Energy Conversion Act of 1980 requires NOAA to review these regulations periodically, at intervals of not more than every three years, and to revise them as necessary based on that review.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 Magnuson Fishery Conservation & Management Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 638

Abstract: Regulation is needed to control the potential harvest of coral in the Gulf of Mexico and the South Atlantic Ocean. Although the present harvest is at a very low level, rapid increases in effort could lead to extensive destruction of the corals. The objective is to develop more and better data and to optimize benefits generated from the coral resource while conserving the coral and coral reefs. Certain types of gear will be prohibited and fishing will be restricted in certain areas, with a consequent adverse economic impact on small entities. Benefits will accrue through the conservation of the coral and coral reefs which are important habitats sustaining spiny lobsters, snappers, groupers and other fishes.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conser & Mgt Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 628

Abstract: A regulation was proposed to control the level of expansion of the commercial Bluefish Fishery of the Northwestern Atlantic Ocean so that the bluefish resource would not be reduced below the level necessary for the recreational fishery. Alternatives considered were: (1) no action, (2) postpone regulation until affected States develop a management system for State waters, (3) impose a 14 inch size limit, (4) restrict catches for recreational and commercial fishermen, (5) allow recreational fishermen unrestricted catches and restrict commercial landings, and (6) restrict use of certain commercial gears subject to specific waivers. On 9/7/84, the Department disapproved the Fishery Management Plan which this rule was to implement and consequently, the NPRM will be withdrawn.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conser & Mgt Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 662

Abstract: Based on a review of biological, ecological, social and economic aspects of this anchovy fishery, an amendment to the existing regulations will be proposed to establish a revised optimum yield (OY) formula, whereby US OY would be calculated each year based on an annual estimate of stock abundance. The new formula would reflect a new, more cost-effective "egg-production method" of estimating stock abundance and a lower estimated productivity of the anchovy stock. Several regulations governing harvest, allocation, fishing areas, and seasons, etc. as well as foreign and joint venture fishery management could be affected.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conser & Mgt Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 675

Abstract: An amendment to the existing fishery management plan and regulations, was proposed to create a fishery development zone (FDZ) north of Unimak Pass in the Bering Sea for exclusive use by domestic fishermen. All foreign fishing would be excluded from the FDZ. Foreign processing of fish delivered by U.S. fishermen (joint venture) would continue to be allowed. Disapproved by NMFS on Dec. 8, 1983 and North Pacific Fishery Management Council notified. Council may reconsider an amendment for revision and resubmission.

108. BERING CHUKCHI SEA HERRING FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conser & Management Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 676

Abstract: The primary intent of the FMP is to promote full development of the subsistence and inshore commercial fisheries by controlling offshore herring harvest. The FMP also allows utilization of the herring resource by offshore fisheries in the event that full utilization does not occur inshore. Achievement of these goals requires a flexible management system which can respond quickly to a wide range of circumstances.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conser & Management Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 663

Abstract: The fishery management plan (FMP) for the Pacific Coast Groundfish Fisheries was implemented on Sept. 30, 1980. The plan governs foreign & domestic fishing for all groundfish species but Pacific halibut in the ocean off the coasts of WA, OR, and CA. It establishes fishing areas, fishing seasons, allowable harvests and allocations of that harvest among the various fishermen, allowable fisheries gear reporting requirements, and provisions for modifying the annual management measures during the year. The intended effect is to provide for the best use of the groundfish. Amendment 1 will change a few of the details in the existing regulations.

110. GROUNDFISH OF THE GULF OF ALASKA FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN: IMPLEMENTING REGULATIONS

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conser & Management Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 672

Abstract: The Fishery Management Plan (FMP) for Groundfish of the Gulf of AK, which was developed by the North Pacific Fishery Management Council, was implemented on Dec. 1, 1978. Since then, the plan has been amended 11 times; the latest amendment becoming effect. 10-16-83. This plan governs the domestic & foreign fisheries for all groundfish but Pacific halibut in the Gulf of AK between Dixon entrance (132 degrees 40'W) & the E. Aleutian Islands (170 degrees W). The regulations establish fishing areas, fishing seasons, levels of harvest, restrictions on fishing gear, reporting requirements, & other management measures. The levels of harvest are set at the start of each year & may be adjusted during the year. As new information on the fish stocks and industry becomes available, the Council may amend the plan so that it manages the fisheries better. The plan and regulations undergo continuous review.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conser & Management Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 661

Abstract: These emergency regulations implement the 1984 management measures for commercial & recreational salmon fisheries off the coasts of WA, OR, and CA. This plan was developed by the Pacific Fishery Management Council. It was first implemented in 1977 and has undergone annual amendments since then. These regs. establish fishing areas, fishing seasons, allowable fishing gear, allowable harvest, & for adjusting the regs. during the year. The intended effect is to protect the salmon from being overharvested, to allocate allowable harvest equitably among the various groups of fishermen to allow adequate numbers of salmon to reach internal water fisheries, & to achieve spawning escapement goals. The FMP & its implementing regs. undergo continuous review & will be modified when conditions warrant changes.

112. AMENDMENT TO FISHERY MANAGEMENT PLAN FOR AMERICAN LOBSTER TO PROHIBIT POSSESSION OF V-NOTCHED LOBSTERS IN A LOBSTER V-NOTCH CONSERVATION AREA OF THE FCZ

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conservation & Mgmt Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 649

Abstract: The New England Fishery Management Council will propose an amendment to the American Lobster Fishery Management plan (FMP) which would prohibit possession of V-notched lobsters in part of the fishery conservation zone (FCZ) in Gulf of ME. The inclusion of this measure does not represent endorsement of V-notching per se (V-notching involves notching the tail of berried female lobsters & returning them to sea). The possession prohibition is intended as a conservation measure which protects berried female lobsters that are proven "brood stock" that will, if not harvested, continue to contribute to future spawning and ultimate recruitment in the fishery. In the event of an expanding offshore fishery, the measure will buffer the exploitation of mature female lobsters. The Council's proposal is expected to be easily enforceable and costs of implementation are to be minimal.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1801 et seq Magnuson Fishery Conser & Management Act

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 672

Abstract: This amendment adjusts the management of the pollock resource by combining the Western and Central Regulatory Areas of the Gulf of Alaska for managing the pollock for fisheries and increasing the optimum yield of pollock for the combined area from 200,000 metric tons (mt) to 400,000 mt. This action is necessary to allow management of pollock in the western and central Areas as a single stock. This action is intended to allow both the harvest of the increased surplus production of the pollock resource and the distribution of fishing effort according to pollock availability.

We intend to clarify these areas to allow potential grantees to understand more easily the requirements and facilitate their application. The proposed changes to Rules and Regulations will allow for more uniformity and clarity in administering the program. Areas included are: 1. Applicant eligibility for planning grants and making project eligibility language more consistent with the law and NTIA practices. 2.What constitutes a complete application and distinguishes it from an application that is deficient. 3.What does filing a timely application mean and how it is to be delivered in a timely manner. 4.How to amend an application. 5.How to reactivate a deferred application. 6.How to request special consideration. 7.Expanded discussions on control and use of equipment, eligible equipment items, and non-eligible equipment items. 8.Expanded discussions on the close-out and monitoring procedures for a project.

Legal Authority: 35 USC 6; 35 USC 23; 35 USC 41; 35 USC 135

CFR Citation: 37 CFR 1.1; 37 CFR 1.4; 37 CFR 1.5; 37 CFR 1.8; 37 CFR 1.9; 37 CFR 1.11; 37 CFR 1.14; 37 CFR 1.17; 37 CFR 1.36; 37 CFR 1.48; 37 CFR 1.55; 37 CFR 1.59; 37 CFR 1.68; 37 CFR 1.103; 37 CFR 1.122; ...

Abstract: Amendments to PTO's rules of practice in patent cases have been proposed to simplify procedures for conducting interference proceedings, reduce the expense to the parties and normally conclude proceedings within 2 years. Other amendments are also proposed which depend upon enactment of pending legislation to allow ex parte as well as interference issues to be decided in a single proceeding.

Improving Government Regulations; Semiannual Agenda of Regulations for the Period of March 1, 1984 to September 1, 1984

AGENCY: Department of Defense.

ACTION: Publication of the consolidated semiannual agenda of DoD regulatory documents.

SUMMARY: The Department of Defense is publishing this consolidated semiannual agenda of regulatory documents for public information and comments under E.O. 12291, "Federal Regulation." This agenda incorporates the objectives and criteria, when applicable, of the regulatory reform program under E.O. 12291, and other regulatory reform programs. It contains DoD issuances initiated by DoD Components that may have economic and environmental impact on state, local, public or private interests under the criteria of E.O. 12291. Although most DoD issuances listed in the agenda are of negligible public impact, their nature may be of public interest and are therefore published to provide notice of rulemaking and an opportunity for public participation in the internal DoD rulemaking process.

This agenda updates the report published in April 19, 1984 and covers the period from March 1, 1984 to September 1, 1984. The next agenda is scheduled to be published in April of 1985. In addition to this agenda, DoD Components also publish rulemaking notices pertaining to their specific statutory administration requirements as required.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For information concerning the overall DoD regulatory improvement program and for general semiannual agenda information, contact Mr. Terry D. Judd, telephone 202-697-1142 or write to Directorate for Organizational and Management Planning, OASD(C), Washington, D.C. 20301.

For questions of a legal nature concerning the agenda and its statutory requirements or obligations, contact Ms. Kathleen Buck, legal counsel, Office of the General Counsel, Washington, D.C. 20301, or call 202-697-2714.

For specific agenda items, contact the appropriate individual indicated in each DoD Component report.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This consolidated agenda is composed of the regulatory status reports from the Office of the Secretary of Defense and the Departments of the Army, Navy, and Air Force. Included also in this agenda is the regulatory report from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, whose civil works functions fall under the reporting requirements of E.O. 12291. Their agenda will reflect these requirements, with follow-on reporting actions taken, as necessary.

DoD issuances range from DoD Directives (reflecting departmental policy) to implementing instructions and regulations (largely internal and used to implement Directives). The OSD agenda section contains the primary Directives under which DoD Components promulgate their implementing regulations.

To ease identification and to clarify the differences between the variety of issuances reported, they are identified by their DoD internal numbering system, which denotes Component level of authority and type of issuance in addition to the required CFR number.

In addition, this agenda, although published under the reporting requirements of E.O. 12291, will continue to be the DoD single source reporting vehicle which will identify issuances that are currently applicable under the various regulatory reform programs in progress. Therefore, when applicable, DoD Components will identify those rules which come under the criteria of the:

a. Regulatory Flexibility Act.

b. Paperwork Reduction Act.

c. GATT International Trade Agreement.

These DoD issuances which are directly applicable under these statutes, will be identified in the agenda and their action status indicated. Generally, the reports contained in this agenda will contain three sections: (1) Current and projected rulemaking; (2) review of existing regulations; and (3) completed actions.

Although not a regulatory agency, the Department of Defense will continue to participate in regulatory initiatives designed to reduce economic costs and unnecessary environmental burdens upon the public. Comments and recommendations are invited on the rules reported and should be addressed to the DoD Component representatives identified in each section.

Although sensitive to the needs of the public and regulatory reform, DoD reserves the right to exercise the exemptions and flexibility permitted in its rulemaking process in order to proceed with its overall defense-oriented mission.

Note: The publishing of this agenda does not waive the applicability of the military affairs exemption in title 5, section 553 and section 1 of E.O. 12291.

September 1, 1984.

Arthur H. Ehlers,

Director for Organizational and Management Planning.

AGENCY: Office of the Secretary, DoD.

ACTION: OSD Semiannual Agenda of Regulatory Documents Developed or Proposed for the period March 1, 1984, through September 1, 1984.

SUMMARY: The regulatory material listed below is in 3 parts: (1) Current and projected rulemaking; (2) review of existing regulations; and (3) completed actions.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: The contact officials' names and telephone numbers appear after each agenda item. For other information on the agenda, contact Mrs. Patricia H. Means, Directives Division, Correspondence and Directives Directorate, OSD/WHS, telephone 202-697-4111.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

E.O. 12291. None of the regulatory documents listed below is a "major rule" and no major rules are presently under development.

Regulatory Flexibility Act, section 610. OSD has screened its existing regulatory documents and has concluded that none of its regulatory documents causes significant impact on a substantial number of small entities.

Paperwork Reduction Act, Pub. L. 96-511. None of the DoD regulatory documents listed in the agenda require information collection reports affecting the public sector under the criteria of Pub. L. 96-511.

GATT Agreement

None of the DoD regulatory documents listed in this agenda impact upon foreign trade under the GATT Agreement.

The OSD agenda follows.

Legal Authority: 10 USC 4307 to 4313

Abstract: The rules and regulations for National Matches and other excellence-in-competition (EIC) matches have been revised. It gives responsibilities for the National Matches, eligibility criteria, and categories for the competitors, and the program for the National Trophy Matches. This regulation has been revised to change the staff organization of the National Matches, show new eligibility requirements and programs for the National Trophy Matches, include women as a category in the matches, and introduce new awards. The regulation applies to the Active Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps Reserve, and all other personnel competing in the National Matches, and civilians in other EIC matches.

AGENCY: Department of the Air Force.

ACTION: Semiannual agenda of regulatory information for the period March 1, 1984 - September 1, 1984 under review or development by the Department of the Air Force.

SUMMARY: The regulations listed on the agenda are existing or proposed regulations under internal review for revision or development and only apply to those regulations affecting the public. The Department of the Air Force has no "major rules" under development or review as defined by Executive Order 12291. Also, it has determined that the relevant provisions of the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 (Pub. L. 96-354) do not apply to these rules and that these rules do not contain reporting or recordkeeping requirements under the criteria of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980 (Pub. L. 96-511). These rules do not have an impact on international trade and therefore the provisions of the GATT Agreement do not apply.

Semiannual Regulatory Agenda

Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations

AGENCY: Department of Education.

ACTION: Publication of the Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations.

SUMMARY: The Secretary of Education publishes a Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations as required by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Bulletin No. 84-16 issued under the authority of section 6(b) of Executive Order 12291 (Federal Regulations). The purpose of the agenda is to encourage more effective public participation in the regulatory process by giving the public early information about pending regulatory activities.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Questions or comments related to specific regulations listed in this agenda should be directed to the contact person listed for that set of regulations. Questions or comments on the overall agenda should be directed to A. Neal Shedd, Director, Division of Regulations Management, Office of the General Counsel, Department of Education, Room 2129 FOB-6, 400 Maryland Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20202. Telephone: (202) 245-7091.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Executive Order 12291, dated February 17, 1981, and the Regulatory Flexibility Act, Pub. L. 96-354, enacted September 19, 1980, require the Department of Education to publish, in October and April of each year, (1) an agenda of regulations that the Department expects to issue, and (2) currently effective regulations that are under review. The agenda includes both notices of proposed rulemaking (NPRMs) currently being drafted and pending final regulations.

Under the authority of Executive Order 12291, the Director of OMB has issued OMB Bulletin No. 84-16, dated June 22, 1984, prescribing the content and structure of the Unified Agenda of Federal Regulations. The unified agenda will be issued semiannually and will cover the succeeding 12 months from the date of publication.

For each set of regulations listed, the agenda provides the title of the document, the type of document, a citation of any rulemaking or other action taken since publication of the most recent agenda, and planned dates of future rulemaking. In addition, the agenda provides the following information:

- An abstract, which includes a description of the problem to be addressed, any principal alternatives being considered, and potential costs and benefits of the action.
- An indication of whether the planned action is likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities as defined by the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 USC 601(6)).
- A reference to where a reader can find the current regulations in the Code of Federal Regulations.
- A citation of legal authority.
- The name, address, and telephone number of the contact person at the Department from whom a reader can obtain additional information regarding the planned action.
- An indication if the action is priority and the criteria used in determining the priority status.

If the "Abstract" section of an entry refers readers to the preamble, it means that amendments to those particular regulations would be designed (1) to effect regulatory relief, including reducing paperwork and compliance burdens, improving cost effectiveness and, to the extent possible, vesting greater discretion in State and local agencies, and (2) if necessary, to clarify and simplify requirements governing that program.

This publication in the Federal Register does not impose any binding obligation on the Department with regard to any specific item on the agenda. Regulatory action in addition to the items listed is not precluded. Dates of future regulatory action are subject to revision in subsequent agendas.

DATED: August 28, 1984.

T. H. Bell,

Secretary of Education.

Regulatory Agenda

AGENCY: Department of Energy.

ACTION: October 1984 Regulatory Agenda.

SUMMARY: In furtherance of this Administration's commitment to make government more responsive to the citizens of the United States and to assist in fulfilling the President's mandate to lessen regulatory burdens, the Department of Energy (DOE) is publishing an agenda of regulatory activities that DOE expects to take in the next year or has completed since April 1984. This Agenda provides the Administration with an effective tool for monitoring and controlling the promulgation of regulations. It includes (1) all rules expected to be issued as proposed or final rules before October 1985, (2) all rules being reviewed within the Department to determine whether to propose modifications through rulemaking, and (3) all rules for which regulatory action has been completed since the April 1984 Regulatory Agenda. In addition, the Agenda identifies each rule that DOE expects to propose or promulgate which is "likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities," and thus also serves as the Department's regulatory flexibility agenda. The Agenda does not include routine regulations and those that relate to internal agency management.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Executive Order 12291 (46 FR 13193, February 19, 1981) requires each Federal agency to publish, in April and October of each year, an agenda of proposed regulations that the agency has issued or expects to issue, and currently effective rules that are under agency review. Under the Executive Order, OMB sets forth standards and procedures for the preparation of these agendas.

There are important reasons for preparing this Agenda. It is vital in this Administration's efforts to reduce the burdens of existing and future regulations, to increase agency accountability for regulatory actions, to provide for presidential oversight of the regulatory process, to minimize duplication and conflict of regulations, and to insure well-reasoned regulations. This Administration has made considerable progress in these efforts. The Department of Energy has and will continue to work vigorously to achieve even greater success in the future. A recent example of the seriousness with which the Department regards this effort was its commitment to reduce the paperwork burden imposed by the DOE Acquisition Regulations (DEAR), 48 CFR Ch. 9, and other procurement regulations by not less than 10% in fiscal year 1984, with special attention given to the burden placed on small business. The Department has reached this goal and is looking to more significant reductions in fiscal year 1985. In addition, the Energy Information Administration reports that it reduced the burden of its collections on the public by 52,000 hours, or approximately 4%, in fiscal year 1984.

Executive Order 12291 also provides that the regulatory agenda may be incorporated with the "regulatory flexibility agenda" required under the Regulatory Flexibility Act (Pub. L. 96-354, 5 U.S.C. 602). The regulatory flexibility agenda must contain: (1) A brief description of the subject area and a summary of the nature of any rule which the agency expects to propose or promulgate which is "likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities"; (2) the objectives and legal basis for the issuance of the rule, and an approximate schedule for completing action on any rule for which the agency has issued a general notice of proposed rulemaking; and (3) the name and telephone number of an agency official knowledgeable concerning each such rule.

Appended to this Notice is DOE's October 1984 Regulatory Agenda, reflecting the status of rules listed as of August 15, 1984. Incorporated in this Agenda is the regulatory flexibility agenda required under 5 U.S.C. 602.

The October 1984 Regulatory Agenda has been prepared in accordance with OMB Bulletin 84-16. Within each major DOE organizational unit, regulatory activities have been divided among the following three categories: (1) Current and projected rulemakings (that is, rulemakings for which a Federal Register notice already has been issued or is expected to be issued prior to October 1985); (2) reviews of existing regulations (that is, pending reviews within the agency to determine whether to modify an existing regulation through a rulemaking); and (3) completed actions (that is, regulatory activities for which the agency has completed its action prior to the publication of the current Agenda). Within the past three and a half years DOE has completed two comprehensive reviews of its regulations. (46 FR 20506, April 3, 1981 and 46 FR 18574, April 30, 1982). Therefore DOE is not conducting many reviews of existing regulations at this time.

Priority regulations include all regulations designated for priority development or review by an agency head, all regulations that are "major rules" under section 2(b) of Executive Order 12291, and all regulations designated for review by the former Presidential Task Force on Regulatory Relief. Priority regulations are identified and the reason they are deemed to be priority regulations is stated.

Each item will contain the following information: (1) DOE office or administration (that is, the DOE organizational unit responsible for the regulation); (2) RIN number (that is, the Regulation Identifier Number assigned by OMB/OIRA); (3) title; (4) priority status (that is, if the regulation is a priority regulation); (5) agency contact (that is, the name, title, address and telephone number of a person who is knowledgeable about the regulation); (6) existing regulation (that is, if the regulation under review is an existing regulation); (7) effects on small businesses and other entities (that is, whether the action is likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of "small entities" as defined by the Regulatory Flexibility Act); (8) CFR citation (that is, the section of the Code of Federal Regulations that will be affected); (9) legal authority (that is, a citation to the section of the United States Code (U.S.C.), Public Law (P.L.) or the Executive Order (E.O.) that authorizes the regulatory action); (10) abstract (that is, a description of the problem the regulation will address, the alternatives being considered for addressing the problem, and the potential costs and benefits of the action); and (11) timetable (that is, the dates and citations, if applicable, for all past stages of the rulemaking that are not final and the next stage of the rulemaking). In addition, each item regarding completed actions (that is, regulations completed or withdrawn and reviews completed since the preceding Agenda) states why the regulation is no longer under development and the date and citation, if appropriate.

Beginning with this Agenda, slight changes have been adopted which will affect the organization of information on the Department's regulatory activities. All items carried forward from the April 1984 Agenda, however, remain under their prior headings.

The information heading "Environmental Protection, Safety, and Emergency Preparedness" will no longer be used. It will be replaced by the heading "Policy, Safety, and Environment." Emergency preparedness information will now be reported under the general heading "Departmental and Others." Policy matters formerly were included under this general heading.

These changes result from a reorganization of certain offices within the Department, announced by the Secretary on January 19, 1984. The reorganization primarily involved the transfer of all functions under the Assistant Secretary for Environmental Protection, Safety, and Emergency Preparedness to other organizational units in the Department and the creation of a new Assistant Secretary position for Policy, Safety, and Environment.

On August 16, 1984 a draft of this Agenda was transmitted to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy of the Small Business Administration for comment, if any, to fulfill the requirement of 5 U.S.C. 602(b).

DOE's next Agenda will be published in April 1985.

Issued in Washington, D.C., on August 21, 1984.

William H. Mellor III,

Acting General Counsel.

1. ENERGY EFFICIENCY STANDARDS FOR FOUR TYPES OF CONSUMER PRODUCTS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 6295

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 430.32

Abstract: Congress directed DOE to prescribe energy efficiency standards for certain specific consumer products unless DOE determines, by rule, that the establishment of such standard will not result in significant conservation of energy or is not technologically feasible or economically justified. This rule deals with four of these products: dishwashers, clothes washers, television sets, and humidifiers and dehumidifiers. The analysis will include all allowable alternatives including various efficiency levels for these consumer products as well as the alternative of no efficiency standard for these consumer products.

2. ENERGY EFFICIENCY STANDARDS FOR THREE TYPES OF CONSUMER PRODUCTS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 6295

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 430.32

Abstract: Congress directed DOE to prescribe energy efficiency standards for certain specific consumer products unless DOE determines, by rule, that the establishment of such standard will not result in significant conservation of energy or is not technologically feasible or economically justified. This rule deals with heat pumps, heat pump water heaters and home heating equipment (not including furnaces). The analysis will include all allowable alternatives including various efficiency levels as well as the alternative of no efficiency standard.

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 436

Abstract: The National Energy Conservation Policy Act requires DOE to promulgate regulations that establish a methodology for estimating and comparing the life cycle costs of Federal buildings and for determining life cycle cost effectiveness. The Energy Security Act requires that the regulations provide for the use of marginal costs in the life cycle cost analysis. DOE is preparing a NPRM to comply with this requirement.

5. ENERGY EFFICIENCY TEST PROCEDURES FOR WATER HEATERS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 6293

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 430.22

Abstract: Final test procedures for 13 types of appliances were established during 1978. The test procedures form the basis of manufacturers' representations on the Federal Trade Commission's EnergyGuide label. The purpose of the rulemaking is to establish test procedures for heat pump water heaters and to eliminate the need for the test procedure waiver granted to A. O. Smith for its water heater with a thermal compensatory dip tube.

6. COMMERCIAL AND APARTMENT CONSERVATION SERVICE (CACS) STANDBY PROGRAM REGULATIONS

Priority: Major

Legal Authority: 42 USC 8284

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 458.701 to 458.715

Abstract: On October 26, 1983, DOE issued a final rule in compliance with Title VII of the National Energy Conservation Policy Act, as amended, establishing the Commercial and Apartment Conservation Service (CACS) Program. The CACS Program is an energy audit program for commercial and apartment buildings to be carried out by public utilities in accordance with Plans developed by States. NECPA requires DOE to administer the Program in States that choose not to submit Plans. DOE will administer the program in the manner set forth in the CACS Standby Program Regulations. Insufficient data exists to reliably estimate potential program costs and benefits.

7. ● INSTITUTIONAL CONSERVATION PROGRAMS -- AMENDMENTS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 6371 to 6372i Title III of the EPCA, as amended; 42 USC 7101 to 7352 Department of Energy Organization Act

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 455.1 to 455.102

Abstract: The Department makes grants to schools, hospitals, and local government and public care institutions for conducting detailed energy audits and to schools and hospitals for installing energy conservation materials and equipment. The amendments would take advantage of experience obtained in administering the program by making adjustment to such matters as the length of the payback for eligible materials and equipment and the contents of energy audits. The amendments would improve the efficiency of the program.

9. ● TWENTY-SIX STATE PETITIONS REGARDING FEDERAL PREEMPTION OF STATE ENERGY EFFICIENCY STANDARDS FOR APPLIANCES

Legal Authority: 42 USC 6297 (b)(3)

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 430.33

Abstract: This is a rulemaking responding to 26 State petitions that the Department promulgate rules exempting various of the States' appliance energy efficiency standards from federal preemption, regarding seven types of major household appliances. The appliances are: refrigerators and refrigerator-freezers, freezers, water heaters, room air conditioners, central air conditioners, furnaces, and kitchen ranges and ovens. The only alternatives open to the Department are to deny or to grant part or all of the State petitions.

10. PROCEDURES FOR PRELIMINARY ENERGY AUDITS AND GUIDELINES FOR BUILDINGS PLANS

Legal Authority: PL 94-163; PL 95-619; EO 11912; EO 12003

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 435

Abstract: The regulations in Subpart B are needed to provide the procedures for conducting and reporting on preliminary energy audits of Federal buildings, as required by Title V, Part 3, of the National Energy Conservation Policy Act (NECPA) and section 10 of EO 11912, as amended. The regulations in Subpart C are needed to provide guidelines for the formulation and updating of Buildings Plans by Federal agencies to achieve goals for reduction of Federal building energy use, pursuant to section 10 of EO 11912, as amended, section 381 of the Energy Policy and Conservation Act, as amended, and NECPA. 12. FEDERAL STANDBY COMMERCIAL AND APARTMENT CONSERVATION SERVICE (CACS) PLAN

Legal Authority: 42 USC 6295

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 430.32

Abstract: Title VII of the National Energy Conservation Policy Act, as amended, requires large gas and electric utilities to offer audit and information services to small commercial and large multi-family customers. Each state has the option to implement plan for the operation of the program by its covered utilities. The statute requires DOE to implement a Federal Plan for States or nonregulated utilities which do not submit their own Plan or for States and non-regulated utilities which do not adequately implement their Plan. Alternative levels of flexibility will be examined. Insufficient data currently exists to reliably estimate potential program costs or benefits.

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: PL 94-187 Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended; PL 93-438 Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended

CFR Citation: 10 CFR Not yet determined

Abstract: The regulation addresses the federal certification requirements for radioactive material shipment packagings used by the Dept. of Energy in conducting its RAD materials shipping operations in commerce. There is no known potential negative cost impact. However substantial benefits can accrue by assuring that potential RAD matl's package and cask suppliers are familiarized with the stringent minimal safety requirements for structural integrity thermal resistance, radiation shielding, radiological safety, nuclear criticality safety, and quality assurance. This regulation parallels and encompasses the applicable requirements of other federal regulations, i.e., 10 CFR part 71, and 49 CFR 173, et seq.

20. PROPOSED GENERAL GUIDELINES FOR RECOMMENDATION OF SITES FOR NUCLEAR WASTE REPOSITORIES

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 42 USC 10101

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 960

Abstract: In accordance with the requirements of the Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1982 (Pub. L. 97-425), the Department of Energy is proposing general guidelines for the recommendation of sites for repositories for disposal of high-level radioactive waste and spent nuclear fuel in geologic formations. These guidelines established the performance requirements for a geologic repository system, specify how the Department will implement its site-selection program, and define the technical qualifications that candidate sites must meet in the various steps of the site selection process mandated by the Act. After considering comments, the Department will issue these guidelines in final form as a new Part 960 to Title 10 of the Code of Federal Regulations.

21. LOAN GUARANTEE FOR DEVELOPMENT OF UNDERGROUND COAL MINES AND CONSTRUCTION OF COAL PREPARATION PLANTS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 6211

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 300, (Revision)

Abstract: The Coal Loan Guarantee Program is designed to encourage and assist relatively small coal producers to increase the nation's coal production from low-sulfur underground coal mines; to enhance competition within the coal industry; to encourage new market entry by small coal producers who, historically, have been unable to obtain adequate long-term financing; and to encourage the construction of coal preparation plants designed to reduce the sulfur content of coal. Potential costs of the program are a default reserve fund of $2.5 million. Potential benefits include the construction of several coal preparation plants.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 10222 Sec 302 of the Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1982

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 961.11

Abstract: A standard contract has been established at 10 CFR Part 961, to be used by DOE in furnishing disposal services to the owners and generators of spent nuclear fuel and/or high-level radioactive waste. This regulation would amend Article VIII of the contract. The alternatives being considered relate to such matters as the fees charged for reinserted fuel, fuel size, and the contract amendment ratification process. The DOE is determining the specifics of potential costs and benefits to the government and users of disposal services.

Abstract: The regulation would implement a program of special research grants to facilitate the use of grants by the DOE Office of Energy Research in support of basic and applied research and related activities. It would supplement DOE's Financial Assistance Rules by providing specific procedures for the program. The regulation will not impose additional burdens, but will provide a comprehensive procedural mechanism for funding research through grants.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 10101

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 960

Abstract: In accordance with the requirements of the Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1982 (Pub. L. 97-425), if the Department decides to build a test and evaluation facility, the Department will propose general guidelines for the recommendation of sites for a test and evaluation facility. Under these guidelines the Secretary shall specify factors that qualify or disqualify a site for development as a test and evaluation facility, including factors pertaining to the location of valuable natural resources, hydrogeophysics, seismic activity, and atomic energy defense activities, proximity to water supplies, proximity to populations, the effect upon the rights of users of water, and proximity to components of the National Park System, the National Wildlife Refuge System, the National Wild and Scenic Rivers System, the National Wilderness Preservation System, or National Forest Lands.

Priority: Major

Legal Authority: 42 USC 7151; 42 USC 7172; 15 USC 3391 to 3393

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 598

Abstract: The proposed rule establishes natural gas curtailment priorities applicable to deliveries by interstate pipelines during periods when not enough gas is available to supply all customers. The proposed rule implements the rulemaking requirements of Title IV of the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978 by establishing curtailment priorities for high priority uses and for essential agricultural and essential industrial feedstock and process uses.

26. ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES WITH RESPECT TO THE IMPORT AND EXPORT OF NATURAL GAS

Legal Authority: 15 USC 717 et seq; 42 USC 7151; 42 USC 7172

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 205; 10 CFR 590

Abstract: ERA is currently following the FERC procedural rules on an interim basis in natural gas import and export proceedings. The proposal would establish administrative procedures that generally would be informal, would provide more flexibility for tailoring the procedures to the needs of a particular case, and would reflect ERA's organization structure and legislative mandate. Evidentiary hearings would be reserved for situations where necessary to resolve disputes of material issues of fact. The proposal would also eliminate the FERC requirement that the ultimate decisionmaker or an Administrative Law Judge presides at hearings. The proposed rule would ease the regulatory burden on applicants and interested parties by simplifying the procedures and reducing the amount of information and number of documents required for an import or export application.

32. SECURITY POLICIES AND PRACTICES RELATING TO LABOR-MANAGEMENT RELATIONS

Legal Authority: PL 95-91

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 706

Abstract: DOE proposes to amend 10 CFR Part 706. This part previously was published as an Energy Research and Development Administration (ERDA) regulation and was revised to reflect its status as a DOE regulation. Section 301 of the Department of Energy Organization Act transferred to and vested in the Secretary of Energy all the functions previously vested in ERDA. To reflect better its present character as a DOE regulation, DOE is proposing to amend Part 706 in several sections to reflect current application of Part 706. For example, a definition of installation will be included in order to specify which DOE contractors are covered by Part 706. In addition, other changes are being made in the interest of brevity, consistency and clarity.

38. AMENDMENTS TO DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY CONDUCT OF EMPLOYEES

Legal Authority: 18 USC 201 to 209; 42 USC 7211 to 7218; EO 11222

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 1010

Abstract: The regulations need to be revised to reflect the provisions and requirements of the Ethics in Government Act. In addition, it is anticipated that certain sections of the regulations will be clarified and/or revised to reflect current Office of General Counsel policy and interpretations.

39. PATENT WAIVER REGULATION

Legal Authority: 42 USC 2182; 42 USC 5908

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 784; 41 CFR 9-9.109-6

Abstract: The regulation provides procedures and standards for obtaining a waiver of the Government's rights in inventions made under DOE research and development contracts with entities that are not small businesses or nonprofit institutions, and terms and conditions of such waivers. Currently, DOE waiver policy is provided in DOE Procurement Regulations (41 CFR 9-9.109-6). The proposed regulation places DOE patent waiver policy in a separate regulation, and also provides updates, revisions and clarifications to waiver policy as contained in 41 CFR 9-9.109-6.

40. PATENT LICENSING REGULATIONS

Legal Authority: 35 USC 208

CFR Citation: 10 CFR 781

Abstract: The regulation prescribes procedures, standards, terms, and conditions for obtaining a license to practice a DOE-owned invention, either exclusively or non-exclusively. Current government-wide regulations exist (41 CFR 101-4). The proposed revision would bring DOE patent licensing regulations into harmony with revised statutory authority and the government-wide regulations.

Unified Agenda of Regulations

AGENCY: Department of Health and Human Services.

ACTION: Publication of unified agenda of regulations.

SUMMARY: The President's February 17, 1981, Executive Order (12291) and the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 require the Department to publish an agenda of significant regulations being developed and an indication of those regulatory actions that are being analyzed for their effect on small businesses. The Department published its last agenda on April 19, 1984.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: For further inquiries or comments related to specific regulations listed in the agenda, the public is encouraged to contact the appropriate responsible individual. Questions or comments on the overall agenda should be sent to: John J. Phelan, Associate Executive Secretary/Regulations, Office of the Secretary, Department of Health and Human Services, 200 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20201, Telephone: (202) 245-3475.

DATED: August 24, 1984.

Margaret M. Heckler,

Secretary, Department of Health and Human Services.

2. LETTER OF CREDIT SANCTIONS

Legal Authority: 5 USC 301

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 76, (Proposed)

Abstract: The proposed regulations would establish a procedure by which the Department may impose sanctions on a recipient holding a letter of credit under any program administered by the Department of Health and Human Services should the recipient violate the terms of the letter of credit.

3. PUBLIC INFORMATION REGULATION

Legal Authority: 5 USC 552

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 5

Abstract: This will be the first complete update since August 1974 of the Department's Public Information Regulation implementing the Freedom of Information Act. It will facilitate public access to information by making necessary revisions, clarifying, and promulgating at one time all the subparts of the regulation. It will also help Departmental personnel processing FOIA requests by providing them with an integrated regulation that is compatible with current procedures for processing FOIA requests and assessing search and copy fees that reflect the increased cost of such services. The only alternative to this complete update is to continue to operate with a regulation that in the past has been revised on a piecemeal basis.

5. ADMINISTRATION OF GRANTS TO STATES OTHER THAN BLOCK GRANTS OR OPEN-ENDED GRANTS

Priority: Task Force

Legal Authority: 5 USC 301

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 74; 45 CFR 98

Abstract: Will reduce and simplify grants administration requirements imposed on States. Except for grants to State universities and hospitals, will apply to almost all HHS close-end categorical grants to States, discretionary (project) grants as well as mandatory (formula) grants. Issues will probably be which of the proposed changes do not go far enough in relieving States of burdens and restrictions and which go too far. No significant impact expected on Federal budget but should reduce administrative costs of States (no estimate available or feasible). This is one of the regulatory relief efforts announced and directed by the Presidential Task Force on Regulatory Relief.

6. PRIVACY ACT REGULATION

Legal Authority: 5 USC 552a

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 5b

Abstract: This will be the first complete update since 1975 of the Department's Privacy Act Regulation implementing the Privacy Act of 1974. It will facilitate individuals' access to information and records that the Department maintains about them in more than 400 designated Privacy Act Systems of Records, clarifying and promulgating at one time all the subparts of the regulation. It will also help Departmental personnel processing Privacy Act requests by providing them with an integrated regulation that is compatible with current procedures for processing such requests. Legal Authority: 5 USC 501

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 74, Appendix E; 45 CFR 78

Abstract: This action will revise the Department's current cost principles for research and development activities under grants and contracts with hospitals to make them clearer, more specific, and compatible with cost principles issued by OMB for educational institutions and nonprofit organizations. The revision will also broaden the coverage of the principles to include all grants, contracts and other agreements with hospitals (except the Medicare & Medicaid programs).

Legal Authority: PL 97-365; 31 USC 3711; 31 USC 2716 to 3718; 5 USC 5514; 5 USC 552a

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 30, (Revision)

Abstract: The proposed rule amends the Department's regulation for collecting debts. Principally, the amendments implement the Debt Collection Act of 1982 (P.L. 97-365), which amended the Federal Claims Collection Act of 1966 (31 U.S.C. 3711, 3716-3718) to authorize, among other things, the charging of interest, penalties and administrative costs, and the use of administrative offset, private collection agencies and credit reporting agencies by the Government. The amendments also implement government-wide regulations issued by the Department of Justice and GAO (49 F.R. 8889) and OPM (49 F.R. 27470).

16. ● GRANTS TO STATES FOR PUBLIC ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 201.66,(Revision)

Abstract: The proposed rule amends 45 CFR 201.66 by removing paragraph (b)(8). Section 201.66 governs States' repayment by installments of debts to the Department arising from audit disallowances under Titles I, IV-A, X, XIV, XVI (AABD) or XIX of the Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 201 et seq). Paragraph (b)(8) provides that States will not be charged interest on those repayments unless mandated by court order. Paragraph (b)(8) is being removed to conform to the Department's interest policy set forth in the proposed amendments to 45 CFR Part 30, the Claims Collection Regulation. The provision is inconsistent with the Department's policy of charging interest on outstanding debts.

20. OLD-AGE, SURVIVORS, AND DISABILITY INSURANCE, BLACK LUNG, AND SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME PROGRAMS; WAIVER OF ADJUSTMENT OR RECOVERY OF OVERPAYMENTS

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 30 USC 923; 42 USC 404; 42 USC 405; 42 USC 427; 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1383(b)

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404, Subpart F; 20 CFR 410, Subpart E; 20 CFR 416, Subpart E

Abstract: The proposed regulation would: (1) establish a time limit for requesting waiver of recovery of an overpayment of benefits; (2) standardize among the three programs the definition of "without fault" (a criterion for waiver of recovery); (3) identify a resource base for all three programs, recovery from which will be considered to "defeat the purpose" (another criterion for waiver) of the program; (4) limit the amount of miscellaneous living expenses considered in determining whether recovery will "defeat the purpose" of the program; and (5) provide that recovery will be considered "against equity and good conscience" only if the individual relinquished a valuable right or changed his or her position for the worse because of the incorrect payment or because of a notice that the payment would be made. The regulation would be expected to result in program savings and negligible administrative cost.

21. SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME PROGRAM; ELIGIBILITY, MANDATORY APPLICATION FOR EARNED INCOME TAX CREDITS

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1381a; 42 USC 1382; 42 USC 1382c; 42 USC 1383

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 416, Subpart B

Abstract: Existing regulations provide that individuals are not eligible for SSI benefits if they do not apply for other benefits when notified to do so by SSA. These benefits include payments based on past employment and military service. These proposed rules amend the regulations by adding to these benefits which must be applied for amounts payable as earned income tax credits (EITC's) under the provisions of sections 43 and 3507 of the Internal Revenue Code. These payments became countable as earned income for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) purposes with the enactment of Pub. L. 96-222 (section 101(a)(2)(B)). It is estimated that these regulations will have no significant program or administrative costs or savings.

Legal Authority: PL 97-248, Sec 186; 42 USC 1382g(c); PL 97-377, Sec 147; PL 98-21, Sec 402

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 416, Subpart T

Abstract: These rules reflect changes in the law which enable States effective for the 12-month period ending 6/82, to switch from the "maintaining of total expenditures" method of compliance with mandatory pass through provisions to the "maintaining of payment levels" method without first having to pass through to all current SSI recipients all the Federal cost-of-living benefit increases which have occurred since 12/76. States can meet the pass through requirements by maintaining the payment levels in effect in December of the latest preceding total expenditures period. The concept of "State Supplementary payment level" is changed to a concept of combined supplementary and SSI payment levels applicable to months after 3/83. Also, a State is permitted to reduce its 3/83 State Supplementary payment levels by an amount up to the difference between the amount of the 7/83 general increase in the Federal benefits in 7/83. Also reflected in the rules is a special method of compliance for States meeting the passalong requirements by the total annual expenditures test for the period 7/1/80 through 6/30/81. The total expenditures for that period need only equal or exceed the total (cont)

Legal Authority: 42 USC 405; 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1383

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404, Subpart P; 20 CFR 416, Subpart I

Abstract: This proposed regulation describes revised procedures for processing certain cases where a person's benefits are being stopped because he or she has been found to be not now disabled or blind, as defined in the law. The proposed regulation amends the rules describing when a person's disability will be determined to have ended and, therefore, when cash disability benefits will be stopped (and, for a disabled worker, when a period of disability ends). These changes will result in a moderate increase in program costs.

25. OLD-AGE, SURVIVORS, AND DISABILITY INSURANCE PROGRAM; COVERAGE OF EMPLOYEES OF STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENTS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 418; 42 USC 1302; PL 98-21, Sec 103; PL 98-21, Sec 342

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404, Subpart M

Abstract: This proposed regulation reflects policies and procedures concerning agreements between States and the Secretary for Social Security coverage of State and local employees, payment of Social Security contributions, filing of wage reports by States, charging interest for late payments, etc. The current rules need to be organized into a logical sequence and to be updated to reflect many policies which SSA has followed for many years. In preparing this regulation, we reviewed all policies to assess their impact on the trust funds and to reduce recordkeeping burdens. We also added the provisions of sections 103 and 342 of Pub. L. 98-21. Sec. 103 prohibits termination of existing coverage under the States' agreements. Sec. 342 changes payment of Social Security contributions from once a month to twice a month. Other than these two statutory changes, which leave no room for administrative discretion, this proposed regulation primarily reflects current policies, so that any program and administrative costs or savings resulting from the regulation will be minimal.

Legal Authority: PL 97-35, Sec 2207; 42 USC 405; 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1306

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 401; 20 CFR 422, Subpart E

Abstract: The substantive changes in these rules conform current rules on who can deny or release a record to those published in final by HHS on May 12, 1982 at 47 FR 20309. They conform the SSA Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) fee schedule to that published by HHS in a final regulation on 9/22/82 at 47 FR 41751. They also announce a fee schedule under which we will charge the full cost of providing certain records as allowed by section 2207 of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981. The HHS FOIA fee schedule and our proposed fee schedule to charge full cost of providing certain records will result in savings to the Social Security trust funds by permitting SSA to charge more than currently allowed for providing records and record related services.

27. GENERAL ADMINISTRATION-PUBLIC ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS; AFDC; FEDERAL FINANCIAL PARTICIPATION IN THE COST OF A STATEWIDE MECHANIZED CLAIMS PROCESSING SYSTEM

Legal Authority: 42 USC 602(a); 42 USC 603(a)(3); 42 USC 613; PL 96-265, Sec 406

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 205.35; 45 CFR 205.36; 45 CFR 205.37; 45 CFR 205.38

Abstract: The regulation will make available, at State option, 90 percent matching funds for the planning, design, development, and installation of a statewide claims processing and information retrieval system for the AFDC program. The 90 percent matching includes the purchase or rental of computer equipment and software used for the operation of this system. The regulation will result in short-run administrative costs, but is expected to result in greater long-run program savings through increased accuracy of processing. The regulation also provides for the disallowance of incentive funds that exceed the normal administrative FFP rate (50 percent) back to the beginning date of development should SSA suspend approval of an approved APD or should a State voluntarily withdraw its approved APD.

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 416, Subpart K

Abstract: This regulation provides that deeming of parental income and resources to an eligible child ends when a child reaches age 18 unless a savings clause applies to children between 18 and 21, and that a sponsor's income and resources are deemed to an alien for a period of three years after admission for aliens who first apply for SSI benefits after September 30, 1980.

The regulation eliminates different treatment of children aged 18 to 21 depending on status as students, and assumes that sponsors will support aliens and sets more rigid rules for the sponsor to alien deeming than apply to other deeming categories.

Abstract: This regulation will implement statutory provisions for retrospective monthly accounting and spell out how they affect various regulations that deal with eligibility for and the amount of SSI benefits. This regulation will implement a significant change from quarterly to monthly determinations of eligibility and benefit amount. Although in the first year (1982) of implementation of retrospective monthly accounting there will be an administrative cost, it will be followed by an administrative saving thereafter. Some significant program costs are projected in 1982 through 1984 and neither cost nor savings in 1985.

Abstract: These rules should promote final resolution of cases at the hearing stage and help to reserve appeals council review for cases of a genuinely appellate nature. These rules specify that if a person files an application for benefits before the first month he or she meets all requirements for entitlement, we will allow the claim only if he or she meets all requirements before a hearing decision is issued (if a hearing is held) or if no hearing is held, before a final determination is made. These rules will generate program savings and administrative costs and savings.

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 232.21; 45 CFR 233.20; 45 CFR 302.32

Abstract: This regulation will require that eligibility be based on the current month's reported support payments, and each month's supplemental payment be based on the largest part of the amount collected in the current month that would not cause ineligibility. It will provide uniform and equitable redeterminations of eligibility and payment amounts. This regulation will result in minimal costs.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 405; 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1383

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404, Subpart P

Abstract: The regulation revises the medical evaluation criteria used in making Social Security and SSI disability determinations. The changes reflect advances in medical treatment of some conditions and in the methods of evaluating others. Since no significant change in disability allowance and denial rates is expected to result from these changes in the regulations, there will be little, if any, impact on costs (both program and administrative). Other proposed regulations are being processed regarding the evaluation criteria used in determining mental disorders.

Abstract: This regulation will affect a number of provisions of the AFDC program. It will result in savings to State and Federal governments and will ease the paperwork burden of the States. The changes may include provisions on restricted payments, hearings, redeterminations, issuances of replacement checks and others that will result in a "least costly" approach to the administration of AFDC. This regulation will result in dollar savings and the relief of administrative burdens that we expect to accrue.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 405; 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1383

Abstract: PL 97-455 provides an additional seven months for application of the exception to the requirement of law that Social Security benefits of a spouse be reduced by the amount of the spouse's pension which is based on the spouse's employment by a Government entity. For the exception to apply, the spouse must be eligible for a Government pension before July 1983 and must have been receiving one-half support from the insured worker on whose record he/she is entitled to Social Security spouse's benefits. PL 98-21 reduced the amount of the offset to two-thirds of the spouse's pension. The cost will be less than 100 million dollars for FY 1983-1987.

Priority: Agency Determination

Abstract: Sections 4 and 5 of Pub. L. 97-455 require SSA to make face-to-face evidentiary hearings available at the first stage of appeal, known as reconsideration, in cases in which an initial determination is made that an individual receiving title II disability benefits is not now disabled. Regulations are necessary to implement this statutory requirement, which will make the reconsideration stage more meaningful. Although not specifically required by the statute, the proposed regulations will include SSI disability and blindness cessation cases in the new reconsideration process. The availability of an evidentiary hearing at the reconsideration stage in disability and blindness termination cases should enable reconsiderations to be based on more complete information, enable more appeals to be resolved at that level, and thus reduce the workload at the administrative law judge hearing level and in the Appeals Council.

40. AID TO FAMILIES WITH DEPENDENT CHILDREN PROGRAM; QUALITY CONTROL REQUIREMENTS (TEFRA)

Legal Authority: 42 USC 603; 42 USC 1302; PL 97-248, Sec 156

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 205.40; 45 CFR 205.42; 45 CFR 205.43; 45 CFR 205.44

Abstract: These proposed rules amend the regulations on the quality control (QC) system in the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) and the adult assistance programs under titles I, IV-A, X, XIV, and XVI (AABD) of the Social Security Act to implement TEFRA. The QC system is the Federal government's and the States' major management tool for measuring the accuracy of AFDC and adult assistance payments. The rule will provide that the quality control sample must be completed within 95 days of the sample month. The rule will also establish requirements for a minimum active case sample size that must be received by quality control, and make other changes to conform more closely with the Food and Nutrition Service. Other TEFRA requirements are also included.

41. OASDI, BLACK LUNG, AND SSI PROGRAMS; REOPENING AND REVISING DETERMINATIONS AND DECISIONS--EXPEDITED APPEALS PROCESS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 405; 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1383; 30 USC 923; 30 USC 936

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404, Subpart J; 20 CFR 410, Subpart F; 20 CFR 416, Subpart N; 20 CFR 422, Subpart C

Abstract: The proposed regulations explain that five unrelated changes are being made on when a determination or decision affecting someone's rights under programs administered by the Social Security Administration may be reopened and revised. The programs are Old-Age, Survivors, and Disability Insurance; Black Lung Benefits (Part B); and Supplemental Security Income for the Aged, Blind, and Disabled. Two of the changes are to take account of legislative changes. The other three add longstanding policies to the regulations. In addition, the time limit for appealing a determination or decision on benefit rights to a Federal district court pursuant to the "expedited appeals process" is being made the same as the other time limits for other appeals of determinations or decisions. Each of the proposed changes and all of them together will result in negligible program or administrative cost or saving.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 405; 42 USC 1302

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404, Subpart H

Abstract: The proposed regulations explain that the claimant at all times bears the burden of proving the insured person's death and clarifies that SSA will not presume a missing insured person is dead if there are known circumstances that could reasonably explain the absence, even without direct evidence that such circumstances actually were the reason for the absence. The proposed changes will result in negligible program or administrative costs or savings.

43. OLD-AGE, SURVIVORS, AND DISABILITY INSURANCE PROGRAM; WAGE COVERAGE UNDER SOCIAL SECURITY

Legal Authority: 42 USC 405; 42 USC 1302; PL 98-21, Sec 327; PL 96-342, Sec 1002(a); PL 97-306, Sec 408; PL 96-499, Sec 1141

Abstract: This regulation consists of amendments to 5 rules on wage coverage under Social Security. These amendments are: (1) The value of the meals and lodging furnished for the convenience of the employer must be excluded from the employee's gross income; (2) With only limited exceptions, an employer may no longer exclude from an employee's wages, his or her payment of the employee's FICA tax; (3) Payments by an employer to an employee after the calendar year of the employee's entitlement to disability insurance benefits are not wages if paid in a period the employee did not work; (4) The scope of the entitlement to the deemed wages provided to internees of the camps for Japanese-Americans during World War II period is being broadened; (5) The scope of the entitlement to the deemed wages provided to members of the uniformed services is being narrowed. Only two regulations will have a cost impact. Amendment (1) above will reduce the Social Security benefits paid the affected employees but not by $100 million in any year. Amendment (2) will increase taxes paid by employers and employees but these increases are required by the statutory provisions and not the regulation.

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404.1049; 20 CFR 404.1051A

Abstract: These regulations provide that sick pay, including payments under the State's temporary disability law, paid in the 6 months after the month in which the employee stopped working is treated as wages whether paid directly by the employer or third party. Sick pay is not treated as wages to the extent payments are attributable to employee contributions. These regulations will directly impact on State and local governments whose employees have Social Security coverage. The cost to those entities should be minimal, i.e., $10 million - $14 million range each year for the next 5 fiscal years.

45. SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME PROGRAM; REOPENING AND REVISING SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME DETERMINATIONS AND DECISIONS WITHIN FOUR YEARS OF THE NOTICE OF THE INITIAL DETERMINATION

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1383; 42 USC 1383b

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 416.1488

Abstract: The proposed rules provide for the reopening and revising of Supplemental Security Income determinations within four years of the notice of the initial determination if we discover an error affecting a claimant's eligibility or benefit amount during this period through the use of information exchange and data gathering involving either our records or our records and those of other Federal or State agencies. This rule is being proposed because the two-year period in which we may reopen and revise a determination based on new and material evidence we acquire through data and exchange is often too short and often expires before the determination to correct errors revealed by the data can be made. The budgetary impact has not yet been determined.

Legal Authority: PL 98-21, Sec 132; PL 98-21, Sec 301

Abstract: This proposed regulation provides that a divorced spouse of a worker who is eligible for old-age benefits can receive wife's or husband's benefits if the divorced spouse is otherwise eligible for them and the parties have been divorced for at least 2 years, even if the worker has not applied for benefits or if the worker's current earnings are too high to permit payment of the worker's old-age benefits. Abstract: These proposed regulations reflect section 310 of Pub. L. 96-265 which became effective June 9, 1980. That law provides permanent authority for the payment of certain travel expenses to (1) individuals who attend medical examinations requested by the Social Security Administration (SSA) in connection with disability determinations, (2) parties, their representatives, and all reasonably necessary witnesses who attend disability termination hearings in connection with disability claims, and (3) parties, their representatives, and all reasonably necessary witnesses who attend hearings held before an administrative law judge. We have been paying travel expenses based on internal procedure without regulation. These regulations will not cause any appreciable change in expenditures.

48. OLD-AGE, SURVIVORS, AND DISABILITY INSURANCE AND SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME PROGRAMS; NEW BENEFIT COMPUTATIONS FOR COST-OF-LIVING ADJUSTMENT, FOR DELAYED RETIREMENT CREDIT, AND FOR ETC

Legal Authority: 42 USC 402(w); 42 USC 403(a),(b); 42 USC 415(i); 42 USC 1382(f)

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404, Subpart C; 20 CFR 404, Subpart D; 20 CFR 404, Subpart E; 20 CFR 416, Subpart D

Abstract: This proposed regulation will state that beginning with 1983, the annual cost-of-living adjustment will be effective in December and paid in January rather than being effective in June and paid in July. This revised schedule affects both OASDI and SSI. Additionally, the adjustment will be based on the lower of wages or price increases when the OASDI trust fund ratio of assets to estimated outgo falls below a given percentage. This proposed regulation will also explain that the combined family maximum, where there is entitlement on two workers' records, will be increased only on the basis of cost-of-living adjustments. Finally, this regulation will explain the gradual increases in the delayed retirement credit. Shifting the cost-of-living adjustment will reduce program expenditures by $39.4 billion for 1983-89. The other provisions on this regulation package will have negligible program costs.

51. OLD-AGE, SURVIVORS, AND DISABILITY INSURANCE PROGRAM; ELIMINATION OF WINDFALL BENEFITS FOR PERSONS RECEIVING PENSIONS FROM NONCOVERED EMPLOYMENT

Legal Authority: PL 98-21, Sec 113

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404, Subpart C

Abstract: The provision of section 113 of Pub. L. 98-21 (the Social Security Amendments of 1983) eliminates the windfall that occurs when the heavy weighting in the benefit formula that is intended for workers with low wages goes instead to workers who spent many years in noncovered employment and worked only a few years in covered employment. This will be accomplished by modifying the benefit computation formula to consider a worker's pension from noncovered employment. This provision will decrease program costs by $0.1 billion for 1983-89.

Section 403 of Pub. L. 98-21, which these regulations would implement, provides that an aged, blind, or disabled resident of a public emergency shelter for the homeless may be eligible for benefits for as many as three months in any 12-month period throughout which he or she is a resident of such a shelter. Program costs will be approximately $2 million for fiscal year 1983.

Abstract: Provides for disregard at State option, of the income of any dependent child derived from a program carried out under the JTPA for purposes of determining eligibility or benefit amount under AFDC. Provides also that these same amounts will be disregarded in determining whether the family's gross income exceeds 150 percent of the State's need standard. A State may disregard all or a portion of monthly unearned income for any length of time specified by the State. All such disregards will be applied before applying the $30 and one-third income disregard. This regulation does not have an annual effect on the economy of more than $100 million.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1382b(b); 42 USC 1383(d)

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 416, Subpart L

Abstract: Current regulations for the Supplemental Security Income program provide that if total resources (liquid and nonliquid) exceed certain limits, an individual may receive conditional SSI payments while disposing of the excess resources. This proposed regulation will eliminate the limit on total resources but retain the limit on liquid resources so that individuals who have little or no income but who own expensive, hard to dispose of nonliquid resources, may receive conditional payments. Legal Authority: 42 USC 405; 42 USC 1302; PL 98-21, Sec 340

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404.460(b)

Abstract: These regulations implement Sec. 340 of Pub. L. 98-21--The Social Security Amendments of 1983--which provides a U.S. residence requirement that the dependent or survivor beneficiary must now meet if he or she is an alien outside the U.S. These provisions do not apply to the alien who is an old-age beneficiary who is residing outside the U.S. The dependent or survivor beneficiary, however, who is an alien outside the U.S. will not be paid benefits effective January 1, 1985 unless he or she satisfies these new residence requirements. These provisions will effect negligible budget savings, i.e., $50 million for the period 1983-89.

Abstract: These final rules will explain: (1) that in many situations remarriage will no longer affect a widow(er)'s entitlement to benefits on the earnings record of a deceased insured worker; (2) that benefit amounts for a widow(er) will be larger because the worker's earnings will be indexed based on the surviving spouse's eligibility rather than on the worker's year of death; (3) that benefits to a widow(er) who becomes entitled before age 60 (based on disability) will no longer be further reduced for months before age 60; (4) that, as an exception to limited retroactivity, a widow(er) age 60 or 61 may choose to have benefits begin effective with the month of death even though he or she did not apply until the next month. Abstract: These rules were developed as a result of a decision of the U.S.D.C. for the District of Colorado in the case of Pulido et al. v. Heckler. The rules would revise (1) 20 CFR 404.938 and 20 CFR 416.1438 to provide that a notice of hearing will be provided to a claimant at least 20 days prior to the date of a hearing; (2) 20 CFR 404.936 and 20 CFR 416.1436 to set forth standards to be applied and factors to be considered by an ALJ in determining whether there is good cause for changing the time or place of a hearing at a claimant's request; and (3) 20 CFR 404.957 and 20 CFR 416.1457 to permit the ALJ to dismiss a request for hearing without further contact with a claimant or his or her representative when the claimant and the representative fail to appear at the hearing and the ALJ has not found good cause for changing the time or place of the hearing.

61. SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME PROGRAM; PRESUMPTIVE DISABILITY AND PRESUMPTIVE BLINDNESS; CATEGORIES OF IMPAIRMENTS; CHRONIC RENAL DISEASE

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1383

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 416.934

Abstract: Section 1631(a)(B) of the Social Security Act provides for the payment of benefits to persons applying for supplemental security income benefits on the basis of disability or blindness before making a formal determination when available information indicates a high probability that disability exists. These presumptive disability and blindness decisions may be made at the Social Security district offices in a limited number of impairment categories. We are proposing to add Chronic Renal Disease to these categories in view of the predictability that the disease will result in a finding of disability. Budgetary impact is expected to be negligible.

62. OLD-AGE, SURVIVORS, AND DISABILITY INSURANCE PROGRAMS; DETERMINING DISABILITY AND BLINDNESS; APPENDIX 1 PART B; MEDICAL CRITERIA FOR EVALUATION OF CHILDREN

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1383

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404, Subpart P

Abstract: We are proposing revisions in the medical criteria in the Listing of Impairments, used in determining disability in children on medical considerations alone without regard to vocational factors, such as age, education, and work experience. The medical criteria in this appendix describes a level of impairment severity which is considered sufficient to find a person disabled or blind. These medical criteria must be periodically updated to reflect medical advances in diagnosis and treatment and recent changes in methods used to evaluate the severity of particular impairments. We are proposing revisions in the medical criteria for 9 of 14 body system listings in Part B of Appendix 1. The revisions are of a technical-medical nature. Budgetary impact is expected to be negligible.

63. AID TO FAMILIES WITH DEPENDENT CHILDREN; REDUCTION OF FEDERAL FUNDS FOR UNREPORTED CHILD SUPPORT COLLECTIONS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 603

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 201.5

Abstract: This final rule makes a technical amendment to 45 CFR 201.5 based on section 407 of Public Law 96-265, the Social Security Disability Amendments of 1980. The rule requires the Department of Health and Human Services to reduce a State's title IV-A grant award for failure to include appropriate child support collections on its statement of expenditures.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 405; 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1383(a)

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404, Subpart U; 20 CFR 416, Subpart F

Abstract: These proposed rules would revise 20 CFR 404.2040 and 20 CFR 416.640, which stipulate the use of benefit payments by a representative payee, explaining that retroactive title II and title XVI benefits received by a representative payee who is a member of an Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) assistance unit, on behalf of a child in the same unit, may be considered available to meet the needs of that AFDC assistance unit. If the representative payee is not a member of the assistance unit, title II and title XVI benefits would be counted as available income for AFDC purposes only to the extent that the payee provides these funds to the AFDC household for the beneficiary's maintenance. Potential costs and benefits are not available at this time. We are also proposing direct payment to a beneficiary under age 18 if the beneficiary is within 7 months of attaining age 18 and is initially filing an application for benefits. This proposed revision represents a policy change and is an extension of the 4-month period in our current regulations.

Abstract: The regulations are being amended to provide rules where resources are excluded because they are property essential to an individual's self-support. These changes, which do not appear in existing regulations, include value limits for property essential to self-support and describe conditions under which an individual's property will be taken into consideration when income-producing activities are associated with the home. Certain rules involving the automobile and the home are included with these regulations since they relate to the self-support rules. We estimate no additional costs.

Legal Authority: PL 98-369 The Deficit Reduction Act of 1984

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 416.1124(c)(7)

Abstract: Prior to 5/1/84, the Alaska Longevity Bonus (ALB) of $250 per month was excluded from income for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) purposes for all aged SSI recipients. The exclusion applied if the recipient was age 65 or older and resided in Alaska for at least 25 years. The Alaska legislature recently enacted a modification to the ALB law which reduces the length of residency requirement to only one year. In their conference report of 6/22/84 both houses agreed to continue the SSI income disregard only for those individuals who first become an eligible individual or spouse and satisfy the 25 year residency requirement on or before September 30, 1985.

87. ● SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME PROGRAM; RESOURCES GENERAL, TRUSTS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1382b

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 416.1201, (Revision)

Abstract: Under the present definition of resources, unless a beneficiary of a trust both owns and has the right, authority, or power to liquidate or convert trust assets to his own use, those assets are not a countable resource of the beneficiary. This is true even though a trustee, in his discretion, has the legal authority to use trust funds for the support and maintenance of a beneficiary. We are proposing to revise the rules with regard to trust ownership.

88. ● SUPPLEMENTAL SECURITY INCOME PROGRAM; TERMINATION OF FEDERAL FISCAL LIABILITY

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1383

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 416, Subpart T

Abstract: These regulations would remove 20 CFR Sec. 416.2086. This section contains our policies on: determining the error rate used to calculate the Federal fiscal liability (FFL) amount for States with which we have agreements for us to administer both their mandatory and the optional State Supplementary payment programs under the Supplementary Security Income (SSI) program; calculating the FFL amount; making the FFL payments; and exclusions and adjustments to the FFL amount. Our new policy would preclude determinations and payment of FFL for any Federal fiscal year beginning on or after October 1, 1984. We expect this change to save $5 million in administrative costs in fiscal year 1985 and $26.1 million in FFL and administrative costs in each fiscal year after 1985.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1383

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404.1519ff, (New)

Abstract: Section 404.1519 will present common-sense approaches to the assigning of probative value to various kinds of medical and nonmedical evidence in the determination of disability. The regulation will provide a ranking of evidence in terms of that which is the most persuasive to that which is the least. The regulation will also contrast different types of evidence and offer approaches to weighing the relative value of each in terms of disabling impairment.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1383

CFR Citation: 20 CFR 404.1500ff

Abstract: Disability regulations 404.1615(C) and 416.1015(C) state that disability determinations are to be made by a medical consultant and a disability examiner. 105. FEES FOR SERVICES TO NON-AFDC FAMILIES

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 654(6); PL 97-248, Sec 171; 42 USC 655(a); PL 97-35, Sec 2333; The Child Support Enforcement Amendments of 1984

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 302.33; 45 CFR 304.50

Abstract: States must charge an application fee not to exceed $25 for non-AFDC IV-D services. States have an option as to whether or not to recover costs in excess of the application fee. Costs may be recovered either from the absent parent or from the custodial parent. If a State elects to collect from the custodial parent (by deducting the costs from the amount of support which is collected), the State must have in effect a procedure for informing all individuals authorized to establish support obligations that it plans to recover costs from collections. The effective date is August 13, 1981 for the recovery of costs provisions and October 1, 1985 for the mandatory application fee provision.

Abstract: These final regulations make Federal funding available at the 90 percent rate for the costs of developing, implementing and enhancing computerized child support enforcement systems (CSES) that meet the requirements in the regulations; they also specify criteria OCSE uses in determining whether to approve an initial and annually updated advance planning document (APD) so that the system will receive 90 percent FFP; they specify that OCSE must review approved CSESs funded at 90 percent FFP on a continuous basis; they specify the conditions under which OCSE will suspend approval of an APD for systems funded at 90 percent FFP; and they make explicit the conditions under which FFP is available at the 70 percent rate for CSESs.

108. PROCEDURES FOR CASE ASSESSMENT AND PRIORITIZATION

Legal Authority: 42 USC 652(a)(1); 42 USC 1302

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 303.10

Abstract: This regulation permits State child support enforcement agencies to implement case assessment and prioritization procedures to achieve greater program efficiency. Limited program resources and other operating constraints have compelled IV-D agencies to use prioritization procedures. Although many States have implemented such procedures, they are concerned that current Federal regulations require IV-D agencies to locate absent parents, establish paternity and establish and enforce support obligations for all cases, on a first come, first served basis. The regulation alleviates States' concerns and allows States to focus available resources on cases which have high probability for success.

Abstract: Currently, medical support enforcement activities are pursued through optional cooperative agreements between the State IV-D agency and the State Medicaid agency.

This regulation requires all State IV-D agencies to attempt to obtain minimal medical support information during the normal processing of child support cases. This will result in increased use of available third party resources in the form of private medical insurance and in medical cost savings to State and Federal governments. State IV-D agencies are also required to petition to include medical support in new or modified orders for support, if employment-related medical insurance is available to the absent parent.

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 305

Abstract: These proposed regulations revise the audit regulations by adding audit criteria based on statutory State plan requirements, performance indicators for evaluating State IV-D programs, and new audit criteria related to the performance indicators. Since 1977, OCSE has conducted an annual process-oriented audit of each State's Child Support Enforcement program that reviews the establishment and use of procedures to carry out specific child support activities. However, since State IV-D programs have been in operation for 8 years and in many instances have reached a degree in maturity where it is no longer necessary to focus primarily on process-oriented functions, we believe that the OCSE audit should evaluate the States via both established functions and performance indicators and related criteria. This change will better enable the Federal government to measure program efficiency and results. Also included in this proposed rule are changes mandated by the Child Support Enforcement Amendments of 1984 which replace current annual audits with requirements for audits at least once every three years; replace current penalty provisions for non-compliance (5 percent of Federal AFDC funds)

CFR Citation: 45 CFR 301.1; 45 CFR 302; 45 CFR 303; 45 CFR 304; 45 CFR 305; 45 CFR 307

Abstract: The proposed rules implement the Child Support Enforcement Amendments of 1984, which require all States to enact laws requiring the use of certain procedures in their Child Support Enforcement programs. Such procedures include income or wage withholding, expedited processes for establishing and enforcing support obligations, State income tax refund offsets, liens against property, extended paternity statute of limitations, imposition of security, bond or guarantee and providing information to consumer reporting agencies. States must also notify AFDC recipients of child support collections made during the year; establish guidelines for child support award amounts; publicize the availability of support enforcement services; and charge a mandatory application fee not to exceed $25.00 for non-AFDC support services. States may charge absent parents late payment fees of between 3 percent and 6 percent of arrearages and may provide tracking and monitoring of support payments at the request of either parent. The statute also reduces Federal funding to States for administrative costs, revises the system for payment of incentives to States on (cont)

Additional Information: SMALL BUSINESSES CONT: Given the size of the appropriation anticipated, the number of grants for demonstration projects that can be funded is not expected to result in this regulation's having a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities as defined by the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

117. CONFIDENTIALITY OF ALCOHOL AND DRUG ABUSE PATIENT RECORDS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 290ee-3; 42 USC 290dd-3

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 2

Abstract: Federal law requires that certain alcohol and drug abuse patient records be kept confidential. A comprehensive rewrite of implementing regulations proposed in the NPRM simplifies and substantially shortens existing rules and proposes major substantive changes including: (1) Limiting applicability to specialized alcohol and drug abuse programs, (2) Requiring notice to patients of Federal confidentiality requirements, (3) Including a sample consent form, (4) Eliminating the impediment to a patient's access to her/his own records, (5) Eliminating most sections restricting disclosures based on patient consent, (6) Eliminating the prohibition on the entry of a court order authorizing disclosure of subjective information regarding a patient.

Additional Information: The location of the confidentiality provisions for alcohol and drug abuse patient records has been transferred from one public law to another and has been changed in the United States Code. P.L. 98-24, the Alcohol and Drug Abuse Amendments of 1983, consolidates alcohol, drug abuse, and mental health authorities in Title V of the Public Health Service Act. Section 408 of the Drug Abuse Prevention, Treatment and Rehabilitation Act (21 U.S.C. 1175) is transferred to section 527 of the Public Health Service Act and is now codified at 42 U.S.C. 290ee-3. Section 333 of the Comprehensive Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism Prevention, Treatment and Rehabilitation Act of 1970 (42 U.S.C. 4582) is transferred to section 523 of the Public Health Service Act and is now codified at 42 U.S.C. 290dd-3.

118. FOREIGN QUARANTINE

Legal Authority: 42 USC 264 to 272 Public Health Service Act

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 71

Abstract: Most of the existing regulations under Part 71 were developed during the 1950's to implement the introduction, transmission, or spread of communicable disease from foreign countries into the United States. The amendment will update existing regulations to reflect current concepts of disease surveillance, investigation, and control which have been implemented by CDC since 1967. These changes result in a large savings to the government, the maritime and airline industries, and the traveling public without adverse impact on the public health.

Legal Authority: 8 USC 1522(b) Section 412(b)(5) Immigration and Nationality Act; PL 96-212 Refugee Act of 1980; PL 97-363 Refugee Assistance Amendments of 1982

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 51e

Abstract: Regulations are required by Department policy for this project grant program administered by the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) under an intra-agency agreement with the Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR). The project grants are awarded to State and local health agencies to assist them in providing initial health assessments to arriving refugees. These health assessments specifically address conditions of public health concerns, like tuberculosis, and also identify personal health problems that could impair the effective resettlement of the refugee. CDC has established the program requirements, guidelines, and standards for evaluation.

121. ABBREVIATED NEW DRUG APPLICATIONS FOR POST-1962 DRUGS

Priority: Agency Determination, Major

Legal Authority: 21 USC 321(p) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 352 Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 355 Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 371(a) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 314

Abstract: This proposed rule would permit applicants to file abbreviated new drug applications (ANDA's) for products identical to approved post-1962 drugs and to omit certain reports that are required in full NDA's to show safety and effectiveness of the product. It would apply only to certain drug products specified by FDA. If adopted, the proposed rule would reduce duplicative human testing of drugs and also reduce the cost to the manufacturer of getting the affected drugs on the market.

Will be withdrawn due to enactment of the Drug Price Competition and Patent Term Restoration Act of 1984.

Additional Information: SMALL BUSINESSES CONT: The proposed rule would have a significant favorable effect on small business firms that market generic drugs, because the proposed rule would reduce existing regulatory barriers to competition in the pharmaceutical market. Details on the effects on small businesses will be included as part of an initial regulatory impact analysis, to be made available when the proposed rule is published.

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 52; 21 CFR 71; 21 CFR 170; 21 CFR 171; 21 CFR 180; 21 CFR 310; 21 CFR 312; 21 CFR 314; 21 CFR 320; 21 CFR 330; 21 CFR 430; 21 CFR 431; 21 CFR 510; 21 CFR 511; 21 CFR 514; ...

Abstract: This proposed rule would clarify or revise certain existing requirements concerning obligations of persons who sponsor clinical investigations involving a drug or medical device and extend those requirements to cover other products regulated by FDA. The rule is intended to provide greater protection of the rights and safety of subjects involved in clinical investigations and to help assure the quality and integrity of the data filed with FDA under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and the Public Health Service Act.

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 201.314

Abstract: The Food and Drug Administration is considering proposing to require certain over-the-counter (OTC) and prescription salicylate-containing drug products for human use to bear a warning against the use of the products for the treatment of flu or chickenpox in children or adolescents under 16 years of age, because salicylates may be associated with the development of Reye syndrome in this age group.The Department of Health and Human Services is currently sponsoring a study to determine what further regulatory measures are warranted.

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 182; 21 CFR 184

Abstract: These two proposed rules would affirm the GRAS (generally recognized as safe) status of sucrose and corn sugar, corn syrup, and invert sugar. This action is the result of a re-evaluation of the safety of these food ingredients as part of FDA's review of the safety of all GRAS ingredients.

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 165; 21 CFR 181

Abstract: This proposed rule would announce the agency's tentative conclusion that a prior sanction exists for the use of caffeine in soft drinks. A companion proposal would propose the revocation of the food standard for soda water which requires that soda water designated by any name that includes the word "cola" or "pepper" contain caffeine.

127. POLICY FOR REGULATING CARCINOGENIC CHEMICALS IN FOOD AND COLOR ADDITIVES

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 21 USC 321 Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 348 Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 371(a) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 376 Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act

CFR Citation: 21 CFR Chapter 1

Abstract: This proposed rule would establish a new policy for assessing the safety of food and color additives containing minute levels of carcinogenic substances. The proposal would clarify the definition of an "additive" to apply the Delaney Clause only when the additive as a whole has been shown to cause cancer, and would use risk assessment procedures as one of the tools for determining the safety of an additive under the general safety clause of section 409 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

128. INFANT FORMULA; LABELING REQUIREMENTS

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 21 USC 321(n) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 321(aa) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 343(a) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 343(j) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 350a Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 371(a) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 371(e) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 105; 21 CFR 107

Abstract: This proposed rule would revise labeling requirements for infant formula to require the label declaration of nutrients under the Infant Formula Act of 1980, expiration dating, and directions for preparation and use, including a pictogram and a symbol to indicate the need for dilution. This proposal would provide necessary information for health care professionals and assist consumers, including those who cannot read English, in the appropriate preparation and use of infant formula to assure the health and well being of formula-fed infants.

Additional Information: SMALL BUSINESSES CONT: The agency estimates that this proposed rule would impose a one-time cost of approximately $50,000 total for the industry (5 firms). Because sales of infant formula in the U.S. are estimated to exceed $500 million annually, the cost of this proposed rule would not have a perceptible effect.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 21 USC 360c Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 371(a) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 868

Abstract: FDA plans to issue a proposed rule to classify into one of three regulatory classes those detached cigarette filters that FDA has concluded are medical devices based on evidence showing that manufacturers or vendors intend the articles to cure, mitigate, treat, or prevent disease or to affect the structure or function of the body within the meaning of section 201(h) of the act. The classification would be dependent upon the regulatory controls needed to assure the safety and effectiveness of the device. The proposal is a follow-up to FDA's November 25, 1980 decision granting, in part, a request to regulate certain detached cigarette filters as medical devices and denying requests to regulate as devices cigarettes and attached cigarette filters, generally.

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 50

Abstract: This proposed rule would establish conditions under which biomedical research on prisoners would be accepted in satisfaction of FDA's regulatory requirements. In the Federal Register of July 7, 1981 (46 FR 35085), FDA stayed indefinitely the effective date of the original rule, pending final action on its proposal. FDA's original rule, published May 30, 1980 (45 FR 36386), had been challenged in court by several prisoners and a drug manufacturer because the rule would have virtually banned research on prisoners. Under the new proposal published December 18, 1981, FDA would accept, in addition to the categories of research listed in the original rule, the results of biomedical research on prisoners if the sponsor of the proposed research establishes that the conditions set forth by the National Commission for the Protection of Human Subjects of Biomedical and Behavioral Research had been met.

Abstract: This proposed rule would revise extensively the NDA rules to improve the efficiency of FDA's operations and to update and clarify its internal policies in reviewing and expediting applications for new drugs. These revisions are believed necessary to improve the efficiency of the drug review process. The result would be greater assurance that safe and effective new drugs are approved as promptly as possible. The undertaking reflects FDA's commitment to refine and improve the entire IND/NDA process. The IND/NDA rules were scheduled for retrospective review announced by FDA in its July 2, 1982 notice (47 FR 29004) establishing priorities for reviewing the agency's existing rules under the Regulatory Flexibility Act and Executive Order 12291. CFR Citation: 21 CFR 202

Abstract: This proposed rule would establish a procedure whereby firms may conduct research on direct-to-consumer advertising of prescription drugs. To conduct this research, exemptions from certain requirements in the existing regulations would be granted. In February 1983, firms were requested to honor a voluntary moratorium on direct-to-consumer advertising. Because certain firms are anxious to initiate such advertising, action by the agency is necessary. The proposed procedures are intended to obtain pertinent information that will permit an assessment of the potential effects of consumer advertising on the public health.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 263f Public Health Service Act

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 1020.30; 21 CFR 1020.31; 21 CFR 1020.32

Abstract: These rules establish certification and reporting requirements for manufacturers and assemblers of diagnostic x-ray system components, radiographic equipment, and fluoroscopic equipment. The rules also identify specific standards for such items as radiation leakage, amount of material between patient and image reception, and measuring compliance. The review of the rules is intended to identify any undue burden they may impose and whether they need to be revised to respond effectively to the dynamic technological environment.

Legal Authority: 21 USC 356 Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 USC 371 Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act

CFR Citation: 21 CFR 429

Abstract: FDA's rules providing for the certification of insulin prescribe (1) standards of identity and of strength, quality, and purity; (2) tests and methods of assay to determine compliance with such standards; (3) effective periods for certificates and other conditions under which they shall cease to be effective as to certified batches; (4) administration and procedure; and (5) fees necessary to provide, equip, and maintain an adequate certification service. These rules are being reviewed to determine whether they impose any undue burden and to identify any necessary revisions as a result of technological changes in the development of insulin products.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 216; 42 USC 300r; 42 USC 300s; 42 USC 300s-6

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 124, Subpart F

Abstract: The existing regulations at 42 CFR Part 124, Subpart F establish specific requirements that recipients of Federal assistance under Title VI or Title XVI of the PHS Act made assurances that they will make available in the facility constructed, modernized or converted with that assistance, a reasonable volume of services to persons unable to pay for services. The proposed regulation would provide increased flexibility to obligated facilities and reduce administrative burden while assuring access to intended beneficiaries.

Priority: Agency Determination, Task Force

Legal Authority: 42 USC 216 Public Health Service Act; 42 USC 300k-1 to 300n-1

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 143, Subpart D; 42 CFR 123, Subpart E

Abstract: The Certificate of Need (CON) Program is a State-run program requiring health care providers to submit certain proposed large capital expenditures for review by the State Health Planning and Development Agency which determines whether the expenditures are needed. If the proposed expenditures are found to be unneeded, the provider faces penalties--which vary from State to State--if the project proceeds. The proposed rules would raise minimum thresholds for planned projects to be reviewed. Also, States could exempt from review certain projects intended solely for medical research. States also may modify the requirements for a health maintenance organization (HMO) or combination of such organizations to qualify for an exemption. The proposed rules also would give State agencies greater discretion in determining the types of projects to be reviewed, the procedures to be followed, and the criteria to be considered in reviewing applications.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1320a-1 Social Security Act; 42 USC 216 Public Health Service Act; 42 USC 300k-1 to 300n-1 Public Health Service Act

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 100, Subpart A

Abstract: This NPRM sets forth provisions under which the Secretary may deny Federal reimbursement under Title XVIII (Medicare) and Title XIX (Medicaid), for expenses related to capital expenditures (1) which the Designated Planning Agency (DPA) has found to be inconsistent with established standards, criteria or plans developed under the Public Health Service (PHS) Act; or (2) for which the DPA was not provided notice as required. The NPRM includes changes made in response to comments received on the NPRM published in the Federal Register on March 19, 1976; changes necessary to conform to the amendments to Title XV of the PHS Act enacted by the Health Planning and Resources Development Amendments of 1979 (P.L. 96-79), the Health Programs Extension Act of 1981 (P.L. 97-35); and changes necessary to conform to the amendments to Section 1122 of the Social Security Act enacted by the Social Security Amendments of 1983 (P.L. 98-21). Also, many States have discontinued their agreements with the Department to perform reviews under the Section 1122 program because the requirements of Section 1122 are inconsistent with the Department's requirements for acceptable certificate of (cont)

Legal Authority: 42 USC 216; 42 USC 296m

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 57, Subpart AA

Abstract: This final regulation governs a grant program to provide traineeships for nurse practitioner training to registered nurses. The rule deletes the requirement that trainees must be residents of health manpower shortage areas and provides instead that applicants from such areas be given special considerations; the rule modifies practice commitment requirements and includes conditions for waiver or suspension of repayments. No funding for future traineeships is anticipated. The rule is needed to administer existing traineeships and to monitor compliance and repayment/waivers.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: PL 97-35 Consumer Patient Rad Health and Safety Act of 1981; 42 USC 10004

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 75

Abstract: The Department is proposing rulemaking to establish standards for both the accreditation of educational programs and the certification of radiologic personnel. Standards have been developed after consultation with relevant professional and State officials for accreditation of educational institutions and certification of radiologic personnel. The categories of personnel to be affected by the initial standards are: radiographers, dental hygienists, dental assistants, radiation therapy technologists, and nuclear medicine technologists. The standards are mandatory for agencies of the Federal Government. Standards are voluntary for States.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 216; 42 USC 297a to 297h

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 57, Subpart D

Abstract: This final rule would amend existing regulations governing the Nursing Student Loan (NSL) program set forth in Subpart D of 42 CFR Part 57. This rule: (1) reflects technical amendments made to sections 835-841 of the Public Health Service Act since the existing regulations were published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on May 9, 1974; (2) simplifies the existing regulations so that they are written in clear, concise language; and (3) would strengthen the regulations regarding recordkeeping and collection procedures and establish performance standards against which a nursing school's delinquency rate would be measured.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 701 to 709

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 51a; 42 CFR 51d; 42 CFR 51f

Abstract: The Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981 (Pub. L. 97-35) revised Title V of the Social Security Act to establish the Maternal and Child Health Service Block Grant. In the block grant there is a Federal Set-Aside Program which provides for the retention of 10 to 15 percent of the appropriation in each fiscal year for continuation of certain categorical programs (special projects of regional and national significance, maternal and child health research and training, genetic disease testing, counseling and information and hemophilia diagnostic and treatment centers). A Final Rule, published on June 25, 1982, made regulations for the previous programs applicable to the set-aside authority until regulations specifically designed for the set-aside could be developed.

193. PROGRAM GRANTS FOR MIGRANT HEALTH SERVICES

Legal Authority: 42 USC 216 Public Health Service Act; 42 USC 254b Public Health Service Act

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 56

Abstract: A notice of proposed rulemaking (NPRM) was published in the Federal Register on December 19, 1980 to revise the existing regulations to incorporate provisions of Pub. L. 95-626, the Health Services Amendments of 1979. Because of administrative changes and new policy direction, a new NPRM will be developed to place greater emphasis on and to facilitate State participation in this program. The new NPRM would also simplify the regulation and incorporate the provisions of Pub. L. 95-626. These regulations will simplify application requirements for States, give certain priorities to awards to States, and will offer alternatives for States to meet requirements which have tended to be barriers to States.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 216, as amended; 42 USC 300e to 300e-17, as amended

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 110

Abstract: The regulations at 42 CFR Part 110, Subparts A,B,C,H, & I would be amended to provide needed regulatory guidance concerning certain provisions in the Health Maintenance Organization Amendments of 1981. These rules govern the organization and operation of health maintenance organizations (HMOs). These rules specifically establish requirements for certain employers and States to offer to their employees the option of membership in qualified HMOs; and establish requirements for continued compliance of Federally qualified HMOs. Changes would include regulatory interpretations of community rating by class, the definition of primary care outside of the HMO's service area, and the protection of HMO members from liability of payment of any fees which are the legal obligation of the HMO. In addition, the regulations would be amended to delete burdensome or unnecessary regulatory provisions.

196. PROJECT GRANTS AND LOANS FOR HOME HEALTH SERVICES AND TRAINING

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 255

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 51e

Abstract: Title III of the Public Health Service Act was amended by section 6 of the Orphan Drug Act of 1983 (P.L. 97-414). The effect of the amendment authorizes a new program of grants and loans to support home health services. Specifically, it authorizes grants to nonprofit agencies and loans to proprietary agencies to establish and operate home health programs. It also authorizes grants and contracts for training paraprofessionals to provide home health services, with special consideration given to trainees 50 years of age or older. The amendment requires five separate reports to Congress and requires the Secretary to develop and carry out demonstration projects regarding patients at risk of institutionalization and alternative reimbursement methodologies. The program is expected to impact in cost savings through better methods of identifying patients at risk and decreasing the length and frequency of hospital stays.

197. PRIMARY CARE BLOCK GRANT PROGRAM

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 216; 42 USC 300Y to 300Y11

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 51; 45 CFR 74; 45 CFR 96

Abstract: Section 1932 of the Public Health Service Act was amended by section 8 of the Orphan Drug Act of 1983 (P.L. 97-414). The effect of the amendment requires the Secretary to promulgate separate regulations for the Primary Care Block Grant taking into consideration the distinctive features of the program such as: the program consists principally of community health centers; the States have the option of assuming responsibility for the program; the States have to make a substantial financial contribution; if a State opts for the block, it agrees to continue to provide a statutory range of services; new centers could only be established in medically underserved areas; and procedural safeguards protecting existing centers.

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 4; 42 CFR 59a; 42 CFR 63; 42 CFR 64

Abstract: All of the regulations are being substantially clarified and reduced in size by eliminating out of date or otherwise available information. The regulations at 42 CFR Part 4 pertain to the access of facilities and library collections. Those at 42 CFR Part 59a deal with NLM extramural programs. Part 59a is being amended to remove the requirement that photocopies of biomedical material be provided without charge to users. The regulations at 42 CFR Part 63 deal with both NIH and NLM traineeships. Part 63 is proposed to be deleted because NIH no longer has general traineeship authority and the sole remaining NLM program is unfunded. The regulations at 42 CFR Part 634 govern the training grants of NIH and NLM.

225. TREATMENT OF COST OF UNCOMPENSATED SERVICES FURNISHED IN FULFILLMENT OF A HILL-BURTON FREE CARE OBLIGATION

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1395 et seq

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 405.420

Abstract: This regulation clarifies Medicare policy regarding reimbursement for services provided as free care under a Hill-Burton obligation.

Legal Authority: PL 96-499, Sec 930(e); 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1395hh; PL 98-369, Sec 2336

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 405.1633; 42 CFR 405.1634; 42 CFR 405.1717

Abstract: These rules confirm interim final rules published on October 26, 1982 (47 FR 47388) with changes that make it possible for certain additional physicians to certify need for home health services and to establish and review a plan of treatment for those services. The changes are responsive to public comments and also serve to implement section 2336 of Pub. L. 98-369. The rules also make clarifying changes with respect to timing and procedures for certification for home health services and outpatient physical therapy and speech pathology services.

233. MEDICAID ELIGIBILITY

Legal Authority: PL 97-248, Sec 137(b); PL 98-369, Sec 2373

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 435; 42 CFR 436

Abstract: This regulation would implement changes with respect to Medicaid eligibility groups and coverage criteria made by the Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982 (TEFRA) and the Deficit Reduction Act of 1984 (PL 98-369). Most of these changes affect the provisions of September 30, 1981 regulations concerning Medicaid eligibility for the medically needy, published as a result of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1981. The regulations would also respond to public comments received on the September 30 regulations. Because of changes required by TEFRA and in order to respond to comments, an NPRM will be published rather than a final regulation.

Abstract: This regulation would authorize the Secretary and State Medicaid agencies to impose an alternative to terminating long-term care facilities found to be out of compliance with the Medicare conditions of participation or the Medicaid conditions of participation or standards. This regulation would also include changes that would implement provisions of P.L. 98-369 relating to flexible sanctions for End Stage Renal Disease (ESRD) facilities that are not in compliance with the Medicare program requirements.

Abstract: This regulation provides States with flexibility in establishing their programs so as to maximize operational efficiency and promote cost-avoidance procedures. It is intended to promote program management efficiency and reduce program costs by increasing TPL recoveries. This regulation also conforms the Medicaid regulations to statutory changes that require Medicaid applicants to assign to the State their rights to third party payments as a condition of eligibility.

237. MENTAL RETARDATION—DEFINITION OF "PERSONS WITH RELATED CONDITIONS"

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302; 42 USC 1396d

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 435.1009

Abstract: This regulation would amend Medicaid regulations on intermediate care facility services for the mentally retarded persons with related conditions by revising the current definition of "persons with related conditions". This definition is presently tied to the definition of developmental disability in the Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act (DDABRA). This regulation establishes a Medicaid definition of conditions related to mental retardation that would meet the specific needs of the Medicaid program and would be independent of the definition of developmental disability in the DDABRA.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302

Abstract: This regulation would preclude the availability of Federal matching funds in expenditures for all services to an individual who is an inmate in a public institution or to an individual under age 65 who is a patient in an institution for mental diseases or tuberculosis from the date of admission to the date of discharge. We would continue to provide matching funds in expenditures for services for individuals under age 22 who are receiving inpatient psychiatric services.

241. CLAIMS PROCESSING ASSESSMENT SYSTEM

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1396a(a)(4); 42 USC 1396b(r)(4)

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 431.800

Abstract: This regulation would revise claims processing requirements for Medicaid Quality Control (MQC) systems. It would propose that current claims processing elements of the MQC system would become part of the Medicaid Management Information System (MMIS) and be added as a condition for annual MMIS approval and reapproval. These changes are intended to increase State flexibility in reporting requirements and reduce the burden on States under the current MQC system.

Abstract: This regulation would eliminate the penalty under Medicaid which reduces Federal funds for a State's Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program for any quarter during which a State fails to meet certain requirements, which States must incorporate into their State plan. In addition it would modify current Medicaid EPSDT regulations with a view toward reducing Federal requirements, strengthening some aspects of current regulations, and providing maximum flexibility to States in the administration of the EPSDT program while maintaining quality child health care.

248. PERFORMANCE CRITERIA AND STATISTICAL STANDARDS FOR EVALUATING INTERMEDIARY PERFORMANCE DURING FISCAL YEAR 1984

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1395h

CFR Citation: Not applicable

Abstract: This notice would update the performance criteria and statistical standards to be used for evaluating the performance of fiscal intermediaries in the administration of the Medicare program for fiscal year 1984. The results of the evaluations would be considered whenever HCFA enters into, renews, or terminates an intermediary agreement; assigns or reassigns providers of services to an intermediary; or designates regional or national intermediaries.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1395f(b); 42 USC 1395l(a); PL 98-369, Sec 2308; PL 98-369, Sec 2321

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 405.455

Abstract: This regulation would eliminate application of the lower of cost or charges aggregation method for determining payment for services furnished under Part A or Part B of Medicare effective with cost reporting periods beginning on or after October 1, 1984. It would also eliminate the provision that allows for the accumulation and carry-forward of unreimbursed costs. In addition, this regulation would propose to implement sections 2308 (the aggregation method elimination) and 2321 (payment for durable medical equipment provided by home health agencies under the lower of cost or charges principle) of P.L. 98-369.

260. REISSUANCE OF THE WAGE INDEX IN THE 1981 SCHEDULE OF LIMITS ON HOSPITAL PER DIEM INPATIENT GENERAL ROUTINE OPERATING COSTS

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1395x(v) (1)

Abstract: This notice affirms the use of the wage index that was used to calculate the 1981 schedule of limits on hospital per diem inpatient general routine operating costs which was issued on June 30, 1981 (46 FR 33637) and September 30, 1981 (46 FR 48010). The 1981 wage index was reissued for public comment on February 17, 1984 (49 FR 6175). This schedule is being reissued as the result of the April 29, 1983 decision of the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia. The District Court declared the 1981 schedule for hospital cost limits invalid for failure to comply with the Administrative Procedure Act insofar as the schedule incorporated or was formulated by using a wage index that was calculated by excluding Federal government hospital wage data. This notice continues the exclusion of Federal government hospital wage data in the calculation of the wage index.

PL 97-248, the Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982, authorized time limited Medicare Part A coverage for hospice services. The law specifies that a hospice must routinely provide the following "core services" directly: nursing care, medical social services, physician's services, and counseling services . This regulation would permit the Secretary to waive the nursing care "core services" requirement for hospices which are located in rural areas, which were in operation on or before January 1, 1983, and which have demonstrated a good faith effort to hire their own nurses.

275. ● INDIRECT PAYMENT OF SUPPLEMENTARY MEDICAL INSURANCE

Legal Authority: PL 98-369, Sec 2339

CFR Citation: Not yet determined

Abstract: This proposed regulation would implement provisions of Pub.L. 98-369 that allow payment for services furnished under Part B of Medicare to be made to a health benefits plan. Under previous law, such payment could be made only to a beneficiary or to an entity providing services.

Legal Authority: PL 98-369, Sec 2338; 42 USC 1395p; 42 USC 1395r

CFR Citation: Not yet determined

Abstract: This regulation would implement provisions of PL 98-369 relating to enrollment and premium penalty with respect to the Working Aged. This regulation would waive Part B enrollment penalty for workers and their spouses aged 65 through 69 who elect private coverage under the provision of TEFRA and would establish special enrollment periods for such workers.

278. ● TREATMENT OF SOCIAL SECURITY COST OF LIVING INCREASES FOR INDIVIDUALS WHO LOSE SSI ELIGIBILITY

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1302

CFR Citation: 42 CFR 435.135

Abstract: This proposal revises Medicaid rules to provide that a State, in determining categorically needy financial eligibility for an individual who would still be eligible for benefits under SSI but for receipt of a section 215(i) cost of living increase after April 1977, must treat that individual as if he or she were still receiving SSI benefits. Section 215(i) cost of living increases are made to persons who receive monthly Social Security cash benefits. (This regulation is being developed pursuant to a court order and may be withdrawn if the Department wins on Appeal.)

280. ● MEDICARE/MEDICAID REVALUATION OF ASSETS

Legal Authority: PL 98-369, Sec 2314; 42 USC 1395x

CFR Citation: Not yet determined

Abstract: This regulation would implement section 2314 of Pub.L. 98-369. The amendment would limit the increase in capital-related cost reimbursement to a new owner that would result from the reevaluation of hospital assets acquired in fiscal year 1985 and thereafter. The capital-related cost of the new owner would be based on the lesser of (a) historical cost (the cost to the original owner), or (b) the purchase price of the asset.

Department of Housing and Urban Development

Semiannual Regulatory Agenda

HUD

DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT

24 CFR Subtitles A and B

[Docket No. N-84-1438]

Semiannual Agenda of Regulations

AGENCY: Department of Housing and Urban Development.

ACTION: Semiannual agenda, under Executive Order 12291 and the Regulatory Flexibility Act, of regulations expected to be issued and under review.

SUMMARY: In accordance with section 5 of Executive Order 12291, "Federal Regulation," the Department is publishing its Agenda of proposed regulations already issued or expected to be issued, and of currently effective rules that are under review. Also, under section 602 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, the Department has prepared a regulatory flexibility agenda of regulations expected to be proposed or promulgated which are likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. As permitted by Executive Order 12291 and the Regulatory Flexibility Act, the two agendas are combined for publication.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Grady J. Norris, Assistant General Counsel for Regulations, Department of Housing and Urban Development, Room 10278, 451 7th Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20410, (202) 755-7055. (This is not a toll-free number.)

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Executive Order 12291, "Federal Regulation," issued on February 17, 1981 (46 FR 13193), requires each agency to publish semiannually an agenda of regulations that the agency has issued or expects to issue of currently effective regulations that are under agency review.

The Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601-612, requires each agency to publish semiannually a regulatory flexibility agenda of rules expected to be proposed or promulgated which are likely to have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of "small entities," meaning small businesses, small organizations, or small governmental jurisdictions.

Executive Order 12291 and section 605 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act each permit incorporation of the agenda it requires with any other prescribed agenda. Accordingly, the agenda set out below combines the information required by the Executive Order and by the Regulatory Flexibility Act. In addition, the Agenda contains certain information not required by either the Executive Order or by the Act which the Department considers useful, both better to inform the public and to enhance the Department's own inventory control over its body of regulations.

For purposes of Executive Order 12291, "regulation" or "rule" is defined as "an agency statement of general applicability and future effect designed to implement, interpret, or prescribe law or policy or describing the procedure or practice requirements of an agency," subject to certain exceptions. The Agenda published below concentrates upon regulatory material contained, or expected to be contained, in the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) (or incorporated therein by reference) following publication in the Federal Register. As appropriate, however, issuances in the nature of general statements of policy may be published in the Federal Register but not for codification in the CFR.

Heretofore, the Department has used this agenda to satisfy the requirements imposed on the Department by section 7(o) of the Department of Housing and Urban Development Act, 42 U.S.C. 3535(o). These requirements include, among other things, transmittal of a semiannual agenda of all rules or regulations which are under development or review by the Department to the congressional committees having jurisdictional oversight (the Senate Committee on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs and the House Committee on Banking, Finance and Urban Affairs). However, because of the scheduled October adjournment of Congress, the Department has decided to submit a semiannual agenda to the congressional committees early in 1985 when Congress resumes.

The agenda items are divided first by program office. Within each program office, the agenda items are divided into three groups: (i) Current and projected rulemakings, (ii) reviews of existing regulations, and (iii) completed or withdrawn regulations and completed reviews. Within each grouping, rules are listed in chronological order by the Part number of the CFR affected. Where a rule affects multiple parts of the CFR, the rule is listed by the first affected Part number. Rules which are designated "priority" include all regulations designated for priority development or review by the Department, all regulations that are "major rules" under section 1(b) of Executive Order 12291, and all regulations designated for review by the Presidential Task Force on Regulatory Relief.

Under Executive Order 12291, a "major rule" means "any regulation that is likely to result in: 1) An annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more; 2) a major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State, or local government agencies, or geographic regions; or 3) significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets."

Items listed in this Agenda are from the following Offices within the Department: Office of the Secretary; Office of Housing; Office of Public and Indian Housing; Office of Community Planning and Development; Office of Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity; Office of Administration; and Office of the Inspector General.

DATED: August 27, 1984.

John J. Knapp,

General Counsel.

2. ● PROCEDURE FOR FLOODPLAIN MANAGEMENT AND THE PROTECTION OF WETLANDS. IMPLEMENTATION OF EXECUTIVE ORDERS 11988 AND 11990 (S-7-84; FR-865)

Priority: Agency Determination, Task Force

Legal Authority: EO 11988; EO 11990; EO 12127; PL 91-190

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 55, (New)

Abstract: This regulation sets forth the policy, procedure and responsibilities of the Department of Housing and Urban Development to implement and enforce Executive Order 11988, Floodplain Management, and Executive Order 11990, the Protection of Wetlands. This regulation replaces a general statement of Departmental policy (44 FR 47623; August 14, 1979) implementing these Executive Orders pending the adoption of final procedures.

3. IMPLEMENTATION OF THE EQUAL ACCESS TO JUSTICE ACT IN ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEEDINGS (S-3-82; FR-1547)

Priority: Task Force

Legal Authority: 5 USC 504 Equal Access to Justice Act

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 14

Abstract: The Equal Access to Justice Act provides that in certain Federal agency adversary adjudications pending between October 1, 1981 and September 30, 1984, the agency that conducts the proceeding shall award attorney fees and other expenses to qualified parties who prevail against the agency, unless (1) the position of the agency as a party to the proceeding was substantially justified; (2) special circumstances make an award unjust; or (3) the prevailing party engaged in conduct which unduly and unreasonably protracted the final resolution of the matter in controversy. The rule will establish procedures for the submission and consideration of applications for award. In light of the limited number of proceedings to which the rule will be applicable, the potential costs of the rule are expected to be minimal.

Abstract: This rule implements increased changes for late payments made to the government by debtors. Regulatory changes include the imposition of interest at a minimum Annual rate of interest on the outstanding debt which is equal to the average investment rate of the Treasury tax and loan accounts as determined by the Secretary of the Treasury; assessment of penalty charges of up to six percent for payments over 90 days late; and charges for the administrative costs of processing the late payment. The Department must issue a demand letter to the debtor which indicates when the payment is due and the date used to calculate the interest and penalty charges.

7. PROTECTION OF HUMAN SUBJECTS IN RESEARCH (S-6-83; FR-1807)

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: Executive Order to be issued

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 46

Abstract: In response to a Presidential Commission, an Interagency Task Force on the Protection of Human Subjects in Research has proposed that all Federal agencies adopt a common policy and uniform regulations for the protection of human subjects in research. An Executive Order is expected to be issued shortly to implement this proposal and to set the Government-wide policy.

HUD has agreed to adopt the policy and to issue a regulation based on a model previously promulgated by the Department of Health and Human Services on this subject, and as embodied in the planned Executive Order.

Timetable:

Action	Date	FR Cite
Final Action	00/00/00

Small Entity: Undetermined

Additional Information: Compliance costs for HUD's adoption of the model regulation will be minimal, because almost all research conducted by HUD falls within categories exempted from the requirements of the model regulation. The infrequent projects that may not be exempt (perhaps one every two years) have in the past been proposed by organizations already subject to the Department of Health and Human Services regulation, and thus would not have any incremental compliance costs for the organization, other than the actual project requirements.

Costs would be slight.

Affected Sectors: Profit and Non-profit Research Organizations.

Levels of Government Affected: only HUD itself.

The Executive Order will be published for public comment and then promulgated with changes, if any, resulting from the public comment. Once the order is promulgated, agencies adopting the policy verbatim may move directly to the publishing of a final rule without a public comment process. HUD expects to follow this procedure.

8. ● ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEW PROCEDURES - RENTAL REHABILITATION AND HOUSING DEVELOPMENT GRANT PROGRAM (S-6-84; FR-1965)

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1437o(i)(1) and (2); 42 USC 5304(f)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 58

Abstract: Implements Section 17(i) of the Housing and Urban-Rural Recovery Act of 1983 which makes the award and use of resources under the Housing Development Grant and Rental Rehabilitation Programs subject to the statutory provisions governing environmental review that apply to the Community Development Grant Programs. The rule also implements Section 17(i) by creating a special procedure for considering program effects on property that is included, or eligible to be included, on the National Register of Historic Places.

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1723a Federal Natl Mortgage Association Charter Act; 42 USC 3535(d) Department of HUD Act

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 81.41(b); 24 CFR 81.45(b)

Abstract: This rule would 1) amend the definition of "FNMA security" at 24 CFR 81.41(b) to delete the exclusionary parenthetical and 2) repeal the provision in 24 CFR 81.45(b) which allows FNMA debentures in book-entry form only.

10. ALLOCATION AND USE OF ASSISTED HOUSING AUTHORITY (S-7-84; FR-1896)

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1439

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 791

Abstract: The rule revises HUD's regulations for the allocation of housing assistance funds to conform with statutory changes made by the Housing and Urban-Rural Recovery Act of 1983. It contains a more explicit description of the allocation formula; specifies that the formula is applicable only to funds the first time they are available for reservation; deletes specific requirements on allocating funds in accordance with approved Housing Assistance Plans; and modifies the requirements for local consultation in the allocation process.

Abstract: Would develop regulations consistent with the Lead-Based Paint Poisoning Prevention Act. Alternatives to address the problem are being developed at this time. The potential cost is estimated to exceed $100 million per year. This action would benefit children susceptible to lead-based paint poisoning and would avoid cost of medical treatment and reduce the occurrence of mental retardation traced to lead-base paint.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 3535(d) Department of HUD Act; 12 USC 1715(b) National Housing Act

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 200.929

Abstract: UM 78 originally outlined the requirements and conditions for HUD field office acceptance of a number of plastic piping materials for use in domestic water service, (from water main to house), and included references covering polybutylene piping (PB). UM 78 identified national standard references for plastic piping which is normally used in residential construction for domestic cold water service. Legal Authority: 12 USC 1701 et seq National Housing Act

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 200.925; 24 CFR 200.926

Abstract: Would insure financing of properties with manufactured homes under Title II of the National Housing Act, as a means to broaden affordable home ownership opportunities. To qualify for such financing, the manufactured homes, foundations and sites must meet prescribed standards to insure adequate security for HUD-insured mortgages. By such action homeowners can expect reduced housing cost without sacrificing housing quality or durability.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 3535(d) Dept of HUD Act

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 200

Abstract: Would amend the present minimum property standards (MPS) by adopting a new MPS for Care-Type housing. This new MPS would replace the present MPS for Care-Type housing 4920.1. It would delete marketability and livability items from the present Care-Type MPS 4920.1 to the same extent they were deleted from the MPS for one and two family dwellings 4900.1 and as proposed for the multifamily MPS 4910.1 and would adopt by reference nationally recognized Model Building Codes or other State and local codes to provide health and safety protection.

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1702 National Housing Act; 42 USC 3535(d) Department of HUD Act

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 200

Abstract: This rule would 1) establish general eligibility procedures and processing for all HUD mortgage insurance applications 2) describe ineligible applications that will be rejected, and 3) provide for the review and re-evaluation of rejected applicants upon their written request. The rule would clarify that the burden of proof of eligibility is on the applicant. Applicants for mortgage insurance with records of previous poor performance, defaults, or foreclosures will be rejected as ineligible unless they can satisfy HUD that the poor performance, default or foreclosure was beyond their control.

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 203.32; 24 CFR 213.520; 24 CFR 234.55

Abstract: Would reverse current prohibitior against the use of insured mortgages on properties with secondary mortgages or liens. These amendments also provide for the recapture of funds placed into escrow accounts to reduce the mortgagor's monthly payments to principal and interest in the early years of the mortgage. No alternatives are being considered. No potential costs have been identified. Potential benefits include greater homeownership opportunities for homebuyers, allowing sellers to recapture funds used to buy down interest rates and increased use of buy down which would allow more families to qualify for mortgages.

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1709 National Housing Act

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 203.43c; 24 CFR 203.437

Abstract: Would relax some restrictions which have unnecessarily inhibited activity under the program. The rule would delete the requirement that corporations waive the right of first refusal and it would eliminate the limitation of the mortgage term on an individual share to the term remaining on the blanket mortgage. The 1983 statute extends the availability of mortgage insurance in existing conventionally financed cooperatives provided construction has been completed one year. The statute removed the requirement that the cooperative have an insured blanket mortgage.

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1715b National Housing Act; 42 USC 3535(d) Department of HUD Act

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 203.42(a)

Abstract: This proposed rule would remove 24 CFR 203.42(a). The current rule prohibits the insuring of a mortgage on property on which there is a dwelling to be rented by a mortgagor, if the property is part of, or contiguous to, a subdivision or group of similar properties and if the mortgagor has a financial interest in eight or more of the contiguous properties. This rulemaking would eliminate this rental property mortgage restriction, thereby enabling investors to more freely apply for FHA mortgage insurance to purchase one-to-four family rental units.

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 42 USC 3535(d)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 203

Abstract: Under the new Single Family Claims System, the mortgagee is not required to provide documentation to support the fiscal data reported or entered on the new claim form. Instead, the mortgagee will be randomly audited; at which time is mortgagee is expected to produce all the supporting receipts, payment ledger records, etc.

We plan to change the regulations to specify the retention period and file contents for records supporting single family claim payments and mortgage reviews.

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 42 USC 3535(d)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 203

Abstract: The new single family process provides for "random audits" of mortgagees' records which file S/F claims with HUD for insurance benefits. During the audit, the mortgagee will be required to provide specific supporting documentation. When the mortgagee cannot produce the required documentation, HUD will penalize the mortgagee for the amount not supported plus the current interest rate on that unsupported amount from the date of payment.

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1170 National Housing Act

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 207; 24 CFR 255

Abstract: This rule would correct the recent revision to the Section 223(F) regulation (published 5/25/83) which provided exceptions in determining whether a property exceeds the rehabilitation threshold making it ineligible for Section 223(F) insurance. The purchase price of such items as ranges and refrigerators will now be included in determining whether a property is eligible since the basic limits were substantially raised in the 5/25/83 rule and those exceptions are no longer necessary. The same changes would be made for Section 223(F) Coinsurance.

Abstract: HUD will propose to strengthen the commitment of profit motivated and limited dividend multifamily mortgagors by limiting their mortgages to 85 percent of value or replacement cost, except in cases where the mortgagors agree either to accept limited personal liability for loan repayment or to establish an up-front, rent-up escrow. More specifically, a profit-motivated or limited distribution mortgagor would not be permitted to receive a mortgage in excess of 85 percent of value or replacement cost, unless it were to agree to either:

1. Provide an escrow, in the form of cash or letter of credit, of an amount equal to three percent of the mortgage. The escrow funds would have to remain available for project use until the project achieved sustaining occupancy and showed a positive cash flow, at which time one half of the escrow balance would be released; the remainder of the escrow funds would be released 120 days later, assuming that the positive cash flow condition had been maintained; or

2. Assume personal liability for repayment of a percentage of the mortgage amount, determined in accordance with sliding scale.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: PL 98-181

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 207; 24 CFR 220; 24 CFR 221

Abstract: This proposed rule would implement a recent statutory amendment granting the Secretary discretion to regulate rents, among other things, in unsubsidized multifamily projects with mortgages insured pursuant to section 207 of the National Housing Act after 11/30/83. Before this amendment, the statute mandated that the Secretary regulate rents in those projects. The rule also adds an alternative method of determining rents in projects insured before 11/30/83 under sections 207, 220 and 221.

80. COOPERATIVE HOUSING MORTGAGE INSURANCE SUBORDINATED SECRETARY-HELD MORTGAGES (H-33-83; FR-1756)

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1715b; 12 USC 1715e

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 213

Abstract: The proposed rule will permit unsubsidized multifamily rental housing projects with Secretary-held mortgages to be converted to cooperatives by subordinating the Secretary-held mortgage to a new first mortgage. The proposal would benefit tenants by giving them the opportunity for cooperative homeownership at a lower cost. The government would benefit by sharing half of the equity appreciation received by the project owner in selling the project to a Cooperative.

Abstract: Will provide greater freedom of choice for families in selecting living arrangements and will allow those families who choose this option to obtain the social benefits of shared housing such as security, companionship and sharing of household tasks and expenses. Will also implement 1983 statute to assure cost- effective shared housing for elderly families that meet habitability standards. Will incorporate regulatory changes to modify occupancy policies governing placement of single-person households in efficiency and one-bedroom units to encourage better utilization of available units.

88. CONDOMINIUM PROJECTS - MUTUAL MORTGAGE INSURANCE AND INSURED LOANS (H-5-82; FR-1388)

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1709 National Housing Act; 12 USC 1715 National Housing Act

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 234.26

Abstract: Provides for HUD/FHA mortgage insurance of condominium units in projects that have been approved for loan guaranty by the Administrator of Veterans Affairs. The rule also eliminates the requirement that a conventionally financed project be committed to a plan of condominium ownership at least twelve months prior to the time individual units are eligible for HUD/FHA mortgage insurance, although it is still required that at least 70 percent of the units be sold and the title conveyed with respect to conventionally financed projects. These changes are needed to facilitate homeowner purchases of condominium properties. The 1983 statute deletes mandate to accept VA approved condominiums, eliminates authority to accept units in condominiums converted less than 12 months with some exceptions, and requires 80% of insured mortgages to be owner-occupied.

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1715z-7; 12 USC 1715n; 42 USC 3535(d)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 242

Abstract: Hospitals have been eligible for mortgage insurance under Section 242 of the National Housing Act since 1968. If appropriate regulations are published, hospitals previously insured under Section 242 could refinance their mortgages up to the original amount of the mortgage provided there was no increase in the debt service. This provision would be of particular assistance to hospitals which were insured at a high interest rate and could reduce their debt service by refinancing at a lower rate.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1715z-16 National Housing Act; 42 USC 3535(d) Department of HUD Act

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 401, (To be moved to 245); 24 CFR 245

Abstract: Amendment would add requirements providing an opportunity for tenants in certain types of multifamily housing projects to comment on requests by a project owner for HUD approval of any of the following owner action: (1) conversion from project-paid utilities to tenant-paid utilities; (2) conversion of residential units to commercial space, cooperative housing or condominiums; (3) a partial release of mortgage security; and (4) major capital additions to a project. The requirements for tenant participation in project rent increases, as provided in existing 24 CFR 401, would be continued with certain changes and with exemptions for rent utility costs. The amendments implement section 202(b)(1) of the Housing and Community Development Amendments of 1978, as amended in 1981.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 12 USC 1715z-15

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 245

Abstract: Would implement Section 250(a) of the National Housing Act to provide tenant participation in requests for HUD approval to prepay a mortgage. The rule would also implement Section 250(b) and (c) to provide a priority for additional assistance under Section 8 of the United States Housing Act of 1937 and Section 201 of the Housing and Community Development Amendment of 1978 to tenants and applications to become tenants of a project. This assistance would be provided with respect to Section 236, rent supplement and Section 202 projects where the owner has the right to prepay the mortgage without HUD approval. Such assistance would be provided if funds are available and if HUD determines that the assistance is necessary to prevent prepayment of the mortgage.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 3535(d) Department of HUD Act

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 450

Abstract: Clarifies the Department's intent that evictions of tenants from certain subsidized and HUD-held projects be effected solely by judicial action. This rule requires the landlord to advise the tenant in a termination notice, that the tenant is entitled to a court proceeding at which he or she may present a defense to the eviction. The landlord is prohibited from resorting to "self-help" evictions or any non-judicial process even where such actions are authorized by state or local law. This rule is procedural only and does not alter in any way the grounds for which the landlord may terminate a tenancy.

Legal Authority: PL 98-181

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 850

Abstract: Implements the Housing Development Grant Program established by Section 301 of the Housing and Urban-Rural Recovery Act of 1983. Under this Program, the Secretary is authorized to make grants to cities and urban counties and to States acting on behalf of units of general local government to support new construction or substantial rehabilitation of residential rental housing. At least 20 percent of the units in a project assisted under this Program must be leased to, or made available for occupancy by, lower income families for a period of 20 years. The rent for these units cannot exceed 30 percent of the adjusted income of a family or 50 percent of area median income. Assisted projects must be located within eligible areas, special purpose areas or neighborhood preservation areas.

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1437 US Housing Act of 1937

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 882.300 to 882.316

Abstract: To establish policies and procedures for securing contract administrators to implement the Section 8 Existing Housing Program in municipalities, counties or similar localities where there is no Public Housing Agency, public body or governmental entity able and willing to administer the program directly.

109. TARGETING OF SECTION 8 CERTIFICATES OF FAMILY PARTICIPATION (H-22-83; FR-1736)

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1347f U.S. Housing Act of 1937

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 882

Abstract: Would amend 24 CFR Part 882 to eliminate restrictions on targeting Section 8 Certificates of Family Participation under certain circumstances. The amendment would permit HUD to provide Section 8 Certificates of Family Participation to families who may otherwise lose their assistance because (1) HUD was outbid at a foreclosure sale, and (2) an owner decides not to renew a Housing Assistance Payments Contract. The Amendment would also clarify HUD's authority to provide Section 8 Certificates of Family Participation to eligible tenants residing in projects being sold by HUD.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 5401 et seq Natl Mfctrd Hous Cnstn & Sfty Stds Act 1974

Abstract: As a result of conducting numerous research projects, the need to improve indoor air quality, technology, changes in energy prices, the need to clarify portions of the standards, etc., it is necessary for the Department to revise the existing construction and safety standards. In addition, the Presidential Task Force on Regulatory Relief included the Standards among a list of 30 federal regulations to be reconsidered under Executive Order 12291. As a result of the standard revisions, the safety and durability of manufactured homes will be improved. As part of this revision, changes have been made in the regulations with a de-regulatory purpose.

Abstract: The rule will implement statutory amendments established by Section 461 of the Housing and Urban Rural Recovery Act of 1983 (Pub.L.98-181). The amendments address a problem identified as "controlled business" and the manner in which Section 8 of the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act (12 USC 2607), the kickback prohibition of RESPA is to be applied to such arrangements. No alternatives are being considered because of the statutory mandate. The potential costs cannot be accurately projected but are believed to be incidental.

Abstract: This is a request for responses to develop and maintain voluntary consensus standards for residential manufactured homes. In an effort to adhere to OMB Circular A-119, "Federal Participation in the Development and Use of Voluntary Standards", the Department is interested in working with voluntary standards bodies in developing and adopting voluntary standards for use as the Federal Manufactured Home Construction and Safety Standards. The request for response would identify those private organizations qualified and interested in developing and maintaining standards which can meet the intent of the Act. Responses to ANPRM are now being considered.

178. ● SECTION 8 HOUSING ASSISTANCE PAYMENTS PROGRAM-SPECIAL ALLOTMENT (H-68-84; FR-1984)

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1437c; 42 USC 1437f; 42 USC 3535(d)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 886

Abstract: This rule removes 24 CFR Part 886 because all sales governed by the support have closed and because all remaining sales of HUD-owned projects requiring substantial rehabilitation will be governed by 24 CFR 886 Subpart C.

179. UNIFORM RELOCATION ASSISTANCE AND REAL PROPERTY ACQUISITION (CPD-15-83)

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 42 USC 4601 et seq

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 42; 24 CFR 43

Abstract: Would revise HUD rules to conform to government-wide Uniform Act regulations developed by the Uniform Act Interagency Regulatory Review Working Group formed by OMB. The rule would establish Uniform policies and procedures for all Federal agencies responsible for implementing the Uniform Act. (DOT at the request of OMB published the proposed government-wide rule which will issue a final rule that HUD will use for promulgating its rule.)

180. DEPARTMENTAL POLICIES, RESPONSIBILITIES, AND PROCEDURES FOR PROTECTION AND ENHANCEMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY (CPD-29-78; FR-1054)

Priority: Task Force

Legal Authority: 42 USC 4321 The National Environmental Policy Act of 1969; PL 95-557 Housing & Community Development Act of 1979

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 50

Abstract: This interim rule will replace an interim rule published on November 27, 1979 (44 FR 67906). The rule provides policies and procedures for HUD consideration of environmental factors in decision-making under HUD programs (except the Community Development Block Grant Program). The rule implements the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) and several specific environmental laws and authorities. The rule changes a number of elements of the November 1979 interim rule to reduce the regulatory burden and procedural details. It revises thresholds for environmental impact statements (EIS) to single threshold of 2500 dwelling units; increases reliance on environmental assessments for determining when an EIS is required; provides a basis for HUD acceptance of environmental reviews prepared by the Veterans Administration; clarifies activities that are "categorically excluded" from NEPA; and contains other elements in compliance with regulations of the Council on Environmental Quality. Review completed.

181. ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEW PROCEDURES FOR THE CDBG PROGRAM (CPD-21-81; FR-1027)

Priority: Agency Determination, Task Force

Legal Authority: 42 USC 5301 et seq Housing & Community Development Act of 1974; PL 97-35 Housing & Community Development Amendments of 1981; 42 USC 4321 et seq National Environmental Policy Act of 1969; 42 USC 1437

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 58

Abstract: The final rule provides policies and procedures by which assisted communities and participating states discharge Federal environmental review responsibilities. The final rule also streamlines and reduces the environmental requirements. Such actions include: (1) an expanded listing of block grant activities and projects exempt or categorically excluded from the NEPA requirements; (2) the definitive list of related statutes and authorities that must be observed by grant recipients for the release of block grant funds as required by the HUD legislation; and (3) the further provisions needed to conform with and implement innovative measures of the HUD Amendments of 1981 such as the new state-administered block grant program for small cities and the assumption of the environmental oversight responsibilities by such states.

182. SECTION 312 REHABILITATION LOAN PROGRAM (CPD-9-84)

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1452b Housing Act of 1964

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 510

Abstract: This regulation would replace the interest rates now in effect in the Section 312 program with a two tiered system - 3% for low income homeowners and a floating rate geared to Treasury securities for all others. This regulation would also implement for the first time an application fee for processing loan applications to cover administrative costs of the program. It would also provide for the imposition of an annual risk charge to be added to the interest rate to compensate for losses in the program.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1452(b) Housing Act of 1964; 42 USC 3535(d)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 510

Abstract: The regulation will set forth a complete program for the administration of the Section 312 Rehabilitation Loan Program. 185. ● PERFORMANCE ADJUSTMENTS TO FORMULA ALLOCATIONS-RENTAL REHABILITATION PROGRAM (CPD-14-84)

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: PL 98-181

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 511.32

Abstract: This rule sets forth the performance adjustment standards for the new Rental Rehabilitation Program. Beginning with Fiscal Year 1986, the Secretary of Hud may adjust the allocation for a city, urban county, consortia, or State administering a rental rehabilitation program by up to 15 percent above or below the amount of its annual allocation based on an annual review of performance in carrying out the performance adjustment standards established in this rule.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 5301 et seq Housing & Community Development Act of 1974; 42 USC 3535(d) Department of HUD Act

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 570

Abstract: The revisions will implement the statutory changes made by the 1983 Amendments. Specifically, this includes definitions of low and moderate income benefit, 51% test for benefit to low and moderate income persons, added local citizens participation requirements and coverage of program income. This rule will also address the public comments received on the interim rule published August 16, 1982.

188. LUMP SUM DRAWDOWN OF CDBG FUNDS FOR PROPERTY REHABILITATION FINANCING (CPD-39-81; FR-1572)

Legal Authority: 42 USC 5301c Housing & Community Development Act of 1974

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 570.513

Abstract: Rule will preclude new lump sum drawdown agreements that only provide minimal interest earnings (e.g. lump sum deposits where the sole benefit gained from the private sector lender is interest earned at passbook savings rate). Also, advance HUD review of agreements will be eliminated in accordance with the 1981 Act. The proposed policy to prescribe payment of higher interest rates plus an additional benefit (e.g. provision of administrative services) will: (a) improve quality of new agreements and benefits received by recipients; and (b) reduce the number of agreements in jurisdictions where private lenders are unwilling to provide adequate benefits. In addition, substantial disbursements from the lump sum funds must begin within 180 days after deposit, in accordance with the Housing and Urban-Rural Recovery Act of 1983.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 5301 et seq

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 570, Subpart G

Abstract: The proposed regulations will correct a number of inaccuracies of a technical nature. These include Davis-Bacon Act Relationship to Indian tribes, and various corrections to eligibility matters including use of new census data. The alternative was a set of technical amendments which the Office of General Counsel advised against. The cost of this regulation should be negligible while the benefits are significant in terms of providing corrections and updated information of a technical nature to applicants and recipients.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 5310; 42 USC 3535(d)

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 570.513

Abstract: The proposed rule would revise regulations relating to the characterization of rehabilitation loans made with private funds (24 CFR 570.513(d)). The revision would characterize such loans or other block grant assistance (or program income derived therefrom) which are used to subsidize or guarantee the payment of such loans as "activities assisted in part" with Federal funds. The effect of this change will be to remove the applicability of Davis-Bacon labor requirements to such loans. This, in turn, will eliminate the necessity for case-by-case waivers from Davis-Bacon requirements under Section 110 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974.

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 5301

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 570.450; 24 CFR 570.459; 24 CFR 570.460

Abstract: Revised the Urban Development Action Grant funding cycle from a quarterly cycle to a four-month cycle. This change applies to funding cycles both for large cities and urban counties and for small cities. This change provides applicants more time to prepare their applications and should decrease the percentage of applications that are held over for consideration in subsequent funding rounds.

Legal Authority: 42 USC 3535(d) Department of HUD Act

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 3

Abstract: Subpart C delegates authority from the Secretary to the Comptroller and then to certain Divisions. This subpart is almost entirely obsolete. The alternatives being considered are to eliminate Subpart C entirely or to update all the obsolete references. Neither one will have any significant costs; each will require a minimal amount of staff time and Federal Register publication costs. The benefits of both alternatives are to eliminate a potentially confusing delegation of authority.

259. PUBLIC HOUSING PROGRAM - COMPREHENSIVE IMPROVEMENT ASSISTANCE PROGRAM (P-58-84)

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 42 USC 1437 U.S. Housing Act of 1937

CFR Citation: 24 CFR 968

Abstract: Amends existing regulation to state standard for project viability, as requirement for eligibility for modernization under Comprehensive Improvement Assistance Program.

Regulation will require determination of long-term viability based on criteria related to the statutory criteria for demolition of public housing under Section 18 of the U.S. Housing Act of 1937. No other basic approach appears justified and consideration of alternatives is being limited to application of the statutory criteria. Benefits are a clear standard to facilitate program administration and provide a strong method for deciding when it is worthwhile to modernize a project. This will avoid waste of modernization funds for projects which are not viable for long-term operation as public housing.

Semiannual Agenda of Rules Scheduled for Review or Development

AGENCY: Department of the Interior.

ACTION: Semiannual agenda of rules scheduled for review or development.

SUMMARY: This notice provides the semiannual agenda of rules scheduled for review or development between October 1984 and April 1985. A semiannual agenda is required by the Regulatory Flexibility Act and Executive Order 12291.

ADDRESS: Unless otherwise indicated, all Agency Contacts are located at the Department of the Interior, 18th and C Streets, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20240.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: All comments and inquiries with regard to these rules should be directed to the appropriate Agency Contact. General comments or inquiries relating to the agenda should be directed to the Division of Directives and Regulatory Management, Office of Information Resources Management, Department of the Interior, at the address above or on 202-343-6191.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: With this publication the Department satisfies the requirement of Executive Order 12291 that the Department publish in April and October of each year an agenda of rules that have been issued or are expected to be issued, and currently effective rules that are scheduled for review. Simultaneously the Department meets the requirement of the Regulatory Flexibility Act that an agenda be published in April and October of each year identifying rules which will have significant economic effects on a substantial number of small entities; those rules which will have such effects are specifically identified in the agenda. This incorporation of agendas is expressly allowed by Executive Order 12291.

DATED: August 24, 1984.

Richard R. Hite,

Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

Abstract: The Indian Land Consolidation Act (Act) was enacted on January 12, 1983, and changes existing law regarding the descent of Indian trust and restricted lands. The Act provides that certain undivided fractional interests in such lands can now be acquired by the tribe instead of descending by intestacy or devise. Existing regulations governing the probate of Indian lands by Indian Probate Judges must therefore be amended to conform with the Act.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO PUBLIC LAND HEARINGS AND APPEALS

Legal Authority: 43 USC 1601 to 1628

CFR Citation: 43 CFR 4, Subpart E

Abstract: This rule amends regulations governing hearings and appeals to implement Secretarial Order No. 3078, dated April 29, 1982, abolishing the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board and consolidating the functions of that Board under the jurisdiction of the Interior Board of Land Appeals effective June 30, 1982. The effect of these amendments is to ensure that uniform procedures apply to all appeals governed by this Subpart and to eliminate duplicative regulations. To implement this internal organization change, the jurisdictional statement for the former Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board in Subpart A (43 CFR 4.1) is removed and that for the Interior Board of Land Appeals, also in 43 CFR 4.1, is revised. Regulations in 43 CFR Part 4, Subpart J, formerly applicable to appeals to the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board, are revoked and Subpart J is reserved. References to the Alaska Native Claims Appeal Board and Subpart J in 43 CFR Part 2560 are being changed to Interior Board of Land Appeals and Subpart E.

GENERAL; OFFICE OF HEARINGS AND APPEALS: SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO SURFACE COAL MINING HEARINGS AND APPEALS

Legal Authority: 30 USC 1275; 5 USC 301

CFR Citation: 43 CFR 4, Subpart A; 43 CFR 4, Subpart L

Abstract: Rulemaking has been initiated to implement Secretarial Order No. 3092, dated April 26, 1983, which abolished the Board of Surface Mining and Reclamation Appeals and transferred its functions to the Board of Land Appeals. For this purpose, the jurisdictional statement for the Board of Land Appeals in 43 CFR 4.1(a)(3) will be amended to add a description of this Board's new functions. Correspondingly, the provisions of 43 CFR 4.1(a)(4) will be removed. Also, references to the Board of Land Appeals will be substituted for the references to the Board of Surface Mining and Reclamation Appeals in 43 CFR Part 4, Subpart L (43 CFR 4.1100(c); 4.1107(c); 4.1282(a)). No substantive changes in the existing procedures in Subpart L are to be effected by the rulemaking.

PETITIONS FOR AWARD OF COSTS AND EXPENSES UNDER SEC 525(E) OF THE SURFACE MINING CONTROL AND RECLAMATION ACT OF 1977

Legal Authority: 30 USC 1201 et seq

CFR Citation: 43 CFR 4.1290; 43 CFR 4.1294

Abstract: The proposed rulemaking revises rules governing petitions for the award of costs and expenses under section 525(e) of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977 to conform with the Supreme Court's decision in Ruckelshaus v. Sierra Club, 463 U.S., 103 S. Ct. 3275 (1983), holding that, absent some degree of success on the merits by a claimant, it is not appropriate for a court to award attorneys' fees. This rulemaking will give the public more effective notice than would individual administrative decisions interpreting existing rules in a manner consistent with the Ruckelshaus decision.

GENERAL PROVISIONS: DEFINITIONS

Legal Authority: 16 USC 704; 16 USC 712

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 10, Subpart B

Abstract: The list of migratory birds found at 50 CFR 10.13 would be amended by adding formerly unprotected species which are covered by the convention concluded with the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics for conservation of migratory birds and their environment. Also, the laughing gull, which was inadvertently omitted when the list was last revised, would be restored. Several species of birds belonging to groups protected under conventions concluded with Canada and Mexico have recently been found in the United States and would also be added to the list. The Mexican duck, which is no longer found in the United States, would be deleted from the list; Mexican-like ducks which are found in the Southwestern United States would continue to be protected as hybrids of the mallard, a migratory bird.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 3376(a)(2)

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 14

Abstract: The Service would amend the requirements for marking and labeling containers or packages containing fish or wildlife in a joint rulemaking with the Department of Commerce. The Lacey Act Amendments of 1981 make it unlawful to import, export, or transport in interstate commerce any containers or packages containing fish or wildlife that are not marked or labeled in accordance with regulations jointly issued by the Secretaries of the Interior and of Commerce. Such regulations will be in accordance with existing commercial practices.

ENDANGERED AND THREATENED WILDLIFE AND PLANTS

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1531 to 1543

Abstract: 50 CFR 17.21(g), Captive-bred Wildlife, provides regulatory relief for activities that enhance the propagation or survival of living, captive-bred, exotic species listed as endangered and born in the U.S. There is also a provision by which certain specifically situated native species may be eligible. The Service recognizes that a number of native species that do not presently qualify for the benefits of this regulation are specifically situated such that their continued survival would be enhanced by being qualified; therefore, the Service will propose to establish criteria by which species are to be so qualified.

ENDANGERED SPECIES ACT RULES

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1531 et seq

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 17; 50 CFR 424

Abstract: The Endangered Species Act Amendments of 1982 made changes in the procedures that must be followed in promulgating rules under the Endangered Species Act. The Amendments also set up a procedure to designate certain populations of listed species as "experimental." Changes must be made in 50 CFR Parts 17 and 424 to accommodate the Amendments. Part 17 would be amended to allow certain populations of species otherwise listed as Endangered or Threatened to be designated experimental populations; for such populations to be designated as essential or nonessential; and for appropriate protective measures to be applied to such populations. Part 424 would be amended to alter the procedures followed in determining whether species are Endangered or Threatened and in designating and revising Critical Habitat. Changes would be made in the treatment of petitions from the public, mandatory time limits for various actions, standards under which determinations are made, and other procedural matters.

Abstract: At the request of State, Federal and private parties, the special rule on the American alligator, found in 50 CFR 17.42(a), will be reviewed in order to determine whether to revise or revoke certain prohibitions and procedures. Areas to be considered during the review include: present prohibitions on export of meat and parts other than hides; need for serially numbering each tag applied to hides; need for a Federal permit to kill alligators legally held under State Alligator Farmer permits; and use of data collected from reports required of permittees.

MARINE MAMMALS

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1382(a)

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 18

Abstract: The Service will propose rules that would require the marking, tagging, or otherwise identifying of raw parts of certain lawfully taken marine mammals, including those taken by Alaska Natives for purposes of subsistence or the creation and selling of authentic native articles of handicrafts and clothing. Except for scientific research purposes, the rules would also prohibit exportation of raw parts of these marine mammals from Alaska and the sale of such parts, other than those that are edible, to persons other than resident Alaska Natives. These rules are necessary for management purposes. Proposed rule is postponed pending the outcome of the final rule that provides for the transfer of marine mammal management authority to the State of Alaska (05/18/83; 48 FR 22446).

MIGRATORY BIRD HUNTING

Priority: Major

Legal Authority: 16 USC 703 to 711

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 20

Abstract: The Service will publish a series of major documents establishing migratory bird hunting regulations for the 1984-85 season. The documents consist of proposed frameworks providing outside limits for dates and hours of shooting, as well as bag and possession limits; final frameworks for hunting seasons from which States may select regulations; and final rules approving such State selections.

Additional Information: SMALL BUSINESSES CONT: Small entities likely to be affected by these rules include some sporting goods stores, hardware stores, motels and hotels, restaurants, clothing stores, boat and marine equipment stores, marinas, gasoline stations, private hunting clubs, land owners' leasing hunting rights, and mail order houses selling hunting equipment and supplies. Originally scheduled: April 1984. E.O. 12291: These rules are major because of the economic values associated with migratory game bird hunting; however, the need to obtain and consider the latest population data for these migratory birds requires that the regulatory schedule be shortened. The regulatory impact analysis, as required by E.O. 12291, and the small entity flexibility analysis, as required by 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq., have been combined into one analysis as provided for by both authorities. Copies of the combined analysis will be available from the Agency Contact upon publication of the Notice of Intent in March 1984.

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1531 to 1543

CFR Citation: 50 CFR 17

Abstract: While listed specimens found dead may be salvaged without permit for scientific purposes by qualified parties, the area of consideration for revision of this Part requires the issuance of permits for the import or export of such specimens or their parts such as blood, tissue, sperm, etc. The Service wishes to review these restrictions to determine whether or not they are in the best interest of the enhancement of the survival of listed species. Affected parties of the scientific community have commented on the seeming counterproductive effect of the restrictions of these regulations. The Service has therefore agreed to review pertinent parts in order to determine the need, if any, to revise the regulations.

Abstract: A revision of definitions, procedures and terms relative to issuance criteria found in Parts 10 through 23 of Title 50 in order to clarify, define, consolidate, and lend consistency insofar as practical, and placement of issuance criteria for all affected Parts (10 through 23) in Part 13 for the convenience of affected parties. Affected State, Federal and private parties as well as the Service have noted the need for clearly defined and consistent issuance criteria, consolidated insofar as practical, "in one place." IDENTIFICATION OF INTEGRAL VISTAS ASSOCIATED WITH FEDERAL CLASS I AREAS

Priority: Major

Legal Authority: 42 USC 7491; 16 USC 1, et seq National Park Service Organic Act

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 16, (New)

Abstract: This rule will provide guidelines for identification of integral vistas and a list of integral vistas associated with 44 of the 48 National Park Service mandatory class I areas where visibility is an important value. The alternatives under consideration include (a) no action and (b) proposal of revised list of integral vistas. Upon completion, the RIA will discuss costs and benefits of the rule. Cost-benefit analysis is difficult, however, and speculative at best, since the rule merely identifies the integral vistas, but commits the decision on whether and how much to protect any particular vista to the permitting authority (usually the state, otherwise GPA). In other words, once an integral vista is properly and timely identified, the permitting authority must balance its protection against costs of compliance, the time necessary for compliance, the energy and nonair quality environmental impacts of compliance, and the remaining useful life of any existing source, subject to such requirements.

PRESERVATION OF AMERICAN ANTIQUITIES: DEFINITION OF AN OBJECT OF ANTIQUITY

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 16 USC 431 to 433

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 76

Abstract: This rule will implement the provisions of the American Antiquities Act of June 8, 1906, and is in response to a Federal court ruling on the vagueness of the term "object of antiquity" and failure of the Federal government to inform the public in lay terms. This rule will be redesignated from 43 CFR Part 3. Proposed rule (43 CFR Part 3) was published April 10, 1978 (43 FR 14975). A second proposed rule will be published after 36 CFR Part 69 is published as a final rule.

PROCEDURES FOR APPROVED STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT HISTORIC PRESERVATION PROGRAMS

Legal Authority: 16 USC 470 et seq

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 61

Abstract: Extensive revision of this rule is anticipated because the National Historic Preservation Act Amendments of 1980 require the Secretary of the Interior to promulgate or revise regulations for State historic preservation programs. The Secretary is also required to develop a procedure for certifying local governments as eligible to carry out the purposes of the Act. Such certification will allow local governments to receive a portion of their State's annual Historic Preservation Fund grant via transfer from the State.

Legal Authority: Tax Reform Act of 1976, as amended; Revenue Act of 1978; Tax Treatment Extension Act of 1980; Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981

CFR Citation: 36 CFR 67

Abstract: This rule will be revised to incorporate new requirements of Pub. L. 96-541 in order to provide for the donation of historic easements, and to initiate a processing fee for certification of rehabilitation work. Review of historic certification applications by States will now be at the discretion of the States. The introductory material in the regulation will also be revised to explain changes in tax treatments resulting from the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981. (Pub. L. 97-34). Final rule (36 CFR Part 1208) was published December 19, 1980 (45 FR 83488). Due to Pub. L. 96-541 becoming law in December 1980 and Pub. L. 97-34 becoming law in January 1982, rule will again be revised.

● APPEALS FROM ADMINISTRATIVE ACTIONS

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 5 USC 301; 25 USC 2; 25 USC 9

CFR Citation: 25 CFR 2

Abstract: The present administrative appeal regulations are ambiguous and misleading. It is difficult to tell what issues may be appealed and to whom the appeal should be sent. Most deadlines are uncertain. Those that are certain are often unrealistic. It is also unclear when a final decision will be rendered by the Interior Board of Indian Appeals and when it will be rendered by the Assistant Secretary for Indian Affairs. Alternatives will be developed by reviewing the existing appeal regulations of other agencies. Consideration will be given to specifying which types of appeals go to the Assistant Secretary and which to the Board. The alternative of providing for the Assistant Secretary to make a case-by-case decision whether or not to refer the matter to the Board will also be considered. The primary benefit should be reduced frustration for both appellants and the BIA officials who handle the appeals. The greatest cost may be that both appellants and BIA officials may have to comply with more specified procedures and meet more deadlines in order for the system to work.

SOCIAL WELFARE

Legal Authority: 25 USC 13

CFR Citation: 25 CFR 20

Abstract: Public Law 97-394 requires the Bureau of Indian Affairs to impose a rateable reduction on general assistance (GA) grant payments to eligible Indian clientele. When implemented, the rateable reduction will vary among states in that it will be identical in amount to the reductions established by the states in the administration of their respective Aid to Families with Dependent Children programs. In the past, the Bureau has made GA grant payments at the full need levels established by the states. The effect of applying a rateable reduction will be reduced program costs.

CFR Citation: 25 CFR 87

Abstract: The regulations govern the preparation of proposed plans for the use or distribution of all judgement funds awarded to Indian tribes and groups by the Indian Claims Commission, the United States Court of Claims or the United State Claims Court, excepting any tribe or group whose trust relationship with the Federal Government has been terminated and for which there exists legislation authorizing the disposition of its judgment funds; and of all funds deriving from judgments entered prior to the date of the Act for which there has been no enabling legislation. The regulations are being revised to eliminate gender-specific terminology.

incorporate the provisions of the Act of January 12, 1983 and for clarification. The revisions will make the regulations current to existing laws and should enable parties affected to more easily understand the regulations. The proposed revisions are a result of a review of the rules completed on July 16, 1984.

LICENSED INDIAN TRADERS

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 25 USC 2; 25 USC 9; 5 USC 301

CFR Citation: 25 CFR 140

Abstract: On April 25, 1980, the Bureau published a proposed rule that would have amended the regulations governing Indian traders on most Indian reservations. That proposal would have restricted application of the regulations to businesses located in isolated communities where there is an absence of competition. Most comments received were strongly opposed to the proposal and supportive of diligent enforcement of the trader regulations on all Indian reservations. In response to those comments, the Bureau has proposed to modernize the trading regulations by adopting as its regulations the consumer protection statutes of the state where the business is located. This Part has been redesignated from 25 CFR Part 251. This part is also scheduled for review.

LICENSED INDIAN TRADERS

Legal Authority: PL 96-277; EO 12328

CFR Citation: 25 CFR 140

Abstract: Public Law 96-277 changed the procedure under which employees of the Federal government may enter into trading with Indians. Previously, the law allowed for trades between Federal employees and Indians only in certain cases which could be approved, for ample cause, on an individual basis by the Secretary of the Interior. Public Law 96-277 and E.O. 12328 provide that trading by employees of the Bureau of Indian Affairs and the Indian Health Service may enter into trading with Indians on a case-by-case basis when requested in accordance with regulations published by the Secretary of the Interior.

● OFF-RESERVATION TREATY FISHING - FRASER RIVER CONVENTION; SOCKEYE AND PINK SALMON FISHERY

Legal Authority: 5 USC 301; 25 USC 2; 25 USC 9

CFR Citation: 25 CFR 249

Abstract: This rule is an annual amendment covering the treaty Indian fishery in waters subject to the Fraser River Convention. Regulations provided by the rule assure fulfillment of obligations to treaty tribes and to Canada. The alternative of no regulation would leave the treaty Indian fishery unregulated, and was not considered. The rule is beneficial in that it will allow for the implementation of treaty guaranteed rights in a manner consistent with U.S. obligations to Canada. The rule will not result in a major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries,

Federal, State, or local government agencies, or geographic regions.

CONTRACTS UNDER INDIAN SELF-DETERMINATION AND EDUCATION ASSISTANCE ACT

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 25 USC 450; 41 USC 501

CFR Citation: 25 CFR 271

Abstract: A proposed rule, published in 47 FR 40326 on September 13, 1982, changed regulations to provide assistance to tribes from contracts to grants or cooperative agreement and for other purposes. The public comments to the proposed rule were overwhelmingly unfavorable. Consequently, the Bureau intends to publish a reproposed rule to (1) strengthen administrative controls over contracts, (2) eliminate obsolete and unnecessary requirements, and (3) to clarify or simplify the regulatory provisions.

EDUCATION CONTRACTS UNDER JOHNSON-O'MALLEY ACT

Priority: Agency Determination

Legal Authority: 25 USC 455 to 457

CFR Citation: 25 CFR 273

Abstract: A proposed rule was published in 47 FR 40340 on September 13, 1982 to provide consistency with 25 CFR Part 271. That is, to provide assistance to tribes by grant or cooperative agreement rather than by contract. The public comments were unfavorable to the proposed revision, consequently the Bureau intends to publish a reproposed rule to (1) strengthen administrative controls over contracts, (2) clarify the relationship between tribes and Indian education committees, and (3) to otherwise organize the subparts for easier use.

CFR Citation: 25 CFR 170

Abstract: With the Surface Transportation Assistance Act of 1982, Indian reservation road construction is funded from the Highway Trust Fund with authorizations for Fiscal Years 1983, 1984, 1985 and 1986. Other provisions include a requirement for proper maintenance of roads, applications of the "Buy Indian" and Indian Self Determination Acts, and joint program management by the Secretaries of Interior and Transportation. These changes in the law make changes in regulations imperative. The no-action alternative would leave program managers with outdated guidelines. Cost of the action will be minimal and it imposes no burden on the public. Benefits will be a better ordered road construction and maintenance program on Indian reservations, greater management efficiency, and clarity of procedures for federal managers, legislators and tribal officials. AIR QUALITY

Legal Authority: 43 USC 1334

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 250.57

Abstract: This rule will be amended to establish an exemption from air quality review for Outer Continental Shelf exploration activities located more than 20 miles from shore and more than 50 miles from shore for development and production activities. OIL AND GAS AND SULPHUR OPERATIONS ON THE OUTER CONTINENTAL SHELF (OCS); GEOLOGICAL AND GEOPHYSICAL (G&G) EXPLORATIONS OF THE OCS; OCS OIL AND GAS INFORMATION PROGRAM

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 250, (Revision); 30 CFR 251.13, (Revision); 30 CFR 251.14, (Revision); 30 CFR 252.3, (Revision)

Abstract: The rules at 30 CFR 250 will be revised by consolidating regulations, OCS Orders, Notices to Lessees, and related offshore operating requirements into a unified body of regulations; eliminating burdensome and counterproductive requirements; adding performance standards; and simplifying and streamlining these rules to the maximum extent practicable (provisions at 30 CFR 251.13, 251.14, and 30 CFR 252.3, which mirror provisions at 30 CFR 250, are also being revised). Other alternatives considered were not revising the regulations and revising only those regulations identified by industry. Potential savings and benefits are undetermined at this time but are expected to be more than the other available alternatives.

● NONDISCRIMINATION IN OUTER CONTINENTAL SHELF CONTRACTING

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 14 USC 1863

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 250

Abstract: The proposed rule would prohibit unlawful discrimination in contracting activities conducted in support of oil and gas exploration, development, and production on the Outer Continental Shelf (OCS). The rules would also provide a process whereby persons who believed they had been denied a contract because of unlawful discrimination would have a forum. Violators would be subject to the same penalties that are available for other OCS rule violations. These proposed rules would implement the purposes of section 604 of the OCS Lands Act Amendments of 1978. Alternatives considered span from the issuance of a policy statement and no rules to a proposal of extensive affirmative action rules similar to those rescinded in the past. Very few complaints are expected to arise as there has been no evidence of discrimination to date. Therefore, the costs are expected to be minimal.

● SUSPENSION OF OPERATIONS AND LEASE CANCELLATION

Legal Authority: 43 USC 1334

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 250.12

Abstract: Amends the regulations to require the granting of an automatic suspension of operations to permit time to carry out the activities described in an approved development and production plan for a Gulf of Mexico lease in water depths of 400 to 900 meters. Alternatives considered include maintaining the current policy of discretionary suspensions and granting longer primary terms in deeper water. The amendment is expected to cut costs and increase Federal revenues by eliminating some of the uncertainties of operating in deeper water.

ABANDONED MINE RECLAMATION FUND: FEE COLLECTION AND COAL PRODUCTION REPORTING

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 30 USC 1201 et seq

CFR Citation: 30 CFR 870

Abstract: 30 CFR 870.15(b) will be revised to incorporate new requirements for additional information needed to check production figures against other sources as prescribed in forms OSM-1 and OSM-1(a). The rule also will add a definition of "operator" to 30 CFR 870.5, which will clarify the responsibility for fee payment and avoid costly and time-consuming investigations and litigation in determining the liable party. In addition, a new 30 CFR 870.13(e) will be proposed, which will contain a method of computing fees where no records have been kept. 30 CFR 870.15 will be revised to add the requirement of a 6-year statute of limitation (already in Federal debt collection law) on overdue fees to give operators fair and sufficient notice of their extent of liability for interest on overdue fees. A new requirement will be added to 30 CFR 870.17 to give the Office of Surface Mining authority to audit all tipples, including non-producers.

FEDERAL OIL SHALE MANAGEMENT

Priority: Major

Legal Authority: 30 USC 181 et seq; 43 USC 1701 et seq

CFR Citation: 43 CFR 3900

Abstract: This major rule will establish procedures for conducting a competitive leasing program, including procedures for issuing competitive oil shale leases, leasing multimineral deposits, issuing exploration licenses, and managing oil shale leases. Oil shale is a resource that has significant potential to increase the domestic energy supply and to reduce the Nation's dependence on foreign sources of energy. The rule is needed to establish procedures that will allow orderly development of this resource. Annual Federal costs of administering the oil shale leasing program described in the rule are estimated to be $3.5 million to $4.0 million. Total production from Federal leases is expected to range from 120,000 barrels per day to 400,000 barrels per day by the year 2000. The annual production costs associated with Federal oil shale leases are estimated to range from $1.2 billion to $3.1 billion. The shift in balance of payments resulting from the Federal program is estimated to be $5.5 billion to $7.0 billion in 1990. The rule, therefore, has been determined to be major because it is anticipated to have greater than a $100 million annual impact on the economy. Copies of the (cont)

WILD FREE-ROAMING HORSE AND BURRO PROTECTION: MANAGEMENT AND CONTROL

Legal Authority: 16 USC 1331 to 1340; 43 USC 1701 et seq

CFR Citation: 43 CFR 4700

Abstract: This part will be revised in order to reorganize the regulations into a logical, consistent format and to remove needless self-regulation more appropriate for the Bureau Manual. In addition, related rules will be consolidated (aircraft and motor vehicles - 4730 and 4740; removal of horses and burros - 4720, 4740 and 4750), and rules which have no foundation in the law will be eliminated (problem animals - (4740.3(c); fencing of private land - 4750.3)). Procedures for adoption and title transfer will be clarified, and burdensome requirements for veterinarian certifications will be eased by canceling the requirement or allowing certification from any qualified official (4740.4-2 and 4740.5). The costs to those who choose to participate in the adoption program should be lessened by these revisions.

LEASING OF MINERALS OTHER THAN OIL AND GAS: GENERAL; SURFACE EXPLORATION

Legal Authority: 30 USC 181 et seq

CFR Citation: 43 CFR 3500; 43 CFR 23

Abstract: As a result of review, 43 CFR Part 3500 is being revised to change definitions of terms, to change rentals, and to alter requirements for preference right lease applicants, as well as to simplify and clarify provisions. 43 CFR Part 23 is removed, because its provisions duplicate the provisions of the National Environmental Policy Act.

● RULES AND REGULATIONS PURSUANT TO THE WATER RESOURCES ACT OF 1984

Priority: Undetermined

Legal Authority: 42 USC 10303 Water Resources Research Act of 1984

CFR Citation: 18 CFR 501, (Revision); 18 CFR 502, (Revision); 18 CFR 503, (Revision); 18 CFR 504, (Revision); 18 CFR 505, (Revision); 18 CFR 506, (Revision); 18 CFR 507, (Revision); 18 CFR 508, (Revision); 30 CFR 401

Abstract: The purpose of this action is to establish procedures that will enable the Secretary of the Interior to meet his responsibilities in administering the program of state water research institutes reauthorized by the Water Resources Research Act of 1984. The rules and regulations presently governing the grant program were promulgated in 1964 and are not responsive to the new legislation. The new rules and regulations will primarily address matters of: administrative responsibility within the Department; state designation of the universities hosting the institutes; cost-sharing requirements and the evaluation process called for by the Act; and application and reporting procedures. The action will provide clear and consistent administrative direction to both the granting agency and the grantees. The revised rule will be redesignated as 30 CFR 401.

Regulatory Agenda

AGENCY: Office of Legal Policy, Department of Justice.

ACTION: Regulatory Agenda.

SUMMARY: The Department of Justice is publishing its October 1984 regulatory agenda pursuant to Executive Order No. 12291, "Federal Regulation," 3 CFR 127 (1981 Compilation), the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C.A. 601-612 (West 1984), and Office of Management and Budget Bulletin No. 84-16, June 22, 1984.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Janis A. Sposato, Administrative Counsel, Justice Management Division, Department of Justice, Room 1220, 10th and Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20530 (202-633-3452).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Department has identified 20 current and projected rulemakings for inclusion in the agenda. Three of these regulations have had final actions and for one no further action is planned. Also, the Department had one existing regulation under review. However, that review has been completed.

DATED: August 31, 1984.
