Federal Crop Insurance Corporation

7 CFR Parts 422, 430, 434, 436, and 443

[Doc. No. 0047A]

Crop Insurance Regulations—Various

AGENCY: Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, USDA.

ACTION: Interim rule.

SUMMARY: The Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC) hereby amends the Potato, Sugar Beet, Tobacco (Dollar Plan), Tobacco (Guaranteed Plan), and Hybrid Seed Crop Insurance Regulations (7 CFR Parts 422, 430, 434, 436, and 443), effective for the 1985 calendar year only, by extending the date for filing contract changes specified in the policies for insuring such crops. The intended effect of this rule is to provide additional time in which to file changes made in the Actuarial Tables for such crops. The authority for the promulgation of this rule is contained in the Federal Crop Insurance Act, as amended.

DATES: Effective date: December 31, 1985.

Comment date: Written comments, data, and opinions on this interim rule must be submitted not later than February 18, 1986, to be sure of consideration.

ADDRESS: Written comments on this interim rule should be sent to the Office of the Manager, Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, Room 4096, South Building, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, DC 20250.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Peter F. Cole, Secretary, Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, DC 20250, telephone (202) 447-3325.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This action has been reviewed under USDA procedures established by Departmental Regulation No. 1512-1 (December 15, 1983). This action does not constitute a review as to the need, currency, clarity, and effectiveness of these regulations under those procedures.

Merritt W. Sprague, Manager, FCIC, (1) has determined that this action is not a major rule as defined by Executive Order 12291 because it will not result in: (a) An annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more; (b) major increases in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, federal, State, or local governments, or a geographical region; or (c) significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or the ability of U.S.-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets; and (2) certifies that this action will not increase the federal paperwork burden for individuals, small businesses, and other persons.

This action is exempt from the provisions of the Regulatory Flexibility Act; therefore, no Regulatory Flexibility Analysis was prepared.

This program is listed in the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance under No. 10.450.

This program is not subject to the provisions of Executive Order 12372 which requires intergovernmental consultation with State and local officials. See the Notice related to 7 CFR Part 3015, Subpart V, published at 48 FR 29115, June 24, 1983.

This action is not expected to have any significant impact on the quality of the human environment, health, and safety. Therefore, neither an Environmental Assessment nor an Environmental Impact Statement is needed.

Section 16 of the policy for each of the crops affected provides that any changes in the contract must be placed on file in the service office by a certain date. The contract consists of the application, the policy, and the actuarial table. Due to the workload involved in making changes on the Actuarial Table for each crop insured in each county where such insurance is offered requires that in the countries where changes in the contract must be on file by December 31, 1985, the date must be extended to February 15, 1986.

FCIC is currently reviewing the actuarial tables for the regulations referred to herein to determine whether the adequacy of current actuarial structures and rate levels offered under each crop insurance policy are consistent with sound actuarial principles and if not to make adjustments where necessary. This is an annual review conducted on all crops. The amount of work involved is such that these reviews will not be completed prior to the date for filing such actuarial data in the service offices for the crops and counties involved unless the filing date is extended.

Merritt W. Sprague, Manager, FCIC, has determined that an emergency situation exists which warrants publication of this rule without providing for a period for public comment before such publication. Without this review, the statutory mandate that the program be actuarially sound could not be met. The workload involved in these actuarial changes will not permit filing of these actuarial tables by the present contract change date of December 31. There is not sufficient time to provide for public comment and implement these changes prior to December 31. It has been determined that the date by which such changes are required to be placed on file in the service office shall be extended from December 31, 1985, until February 15, 1986, and made effective for the 1985 calendar year only for Potatoes, Sugar Beets, Tobacco (Dollar Plan), Tobacco (Guaranteed Plan), and Hybrid Seed.

The changes in the actuarial tables for the crops affected by this rule may be beneficial in some instances and detrimental in others. All policyholders should be aware of the changes in the actuarial table affecting their individual crop insurance contract and of the additional time provided for FCIC to file such changes.

FCIC is soliciting public comment on this rule for 60 days after publication in the Federal Register. This rule will be scheduled for review in order that any amendment made necessary by public comment may be published in the Federal Register as quickly as possible.

Any comments received pursuant to this rule will be available for public inspection in the Office of the Manager, Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, Room 4096, South Building, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, DC, 20250, during regular business hours, Monday through Friday.

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION

Federal Aviation Administration

14 CFR Part 71

[Airspace Docket No. 85–AWP–31]

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Correction to final rule.

SUMMARY: On October 31, 1985, (50 FR 45401), the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) amended the transition area at Alturas, California. This amendment was necessary to provide controlled airspace for aircraft executing Standard Instrument Approach Procedures (SIAP) at Alturas Municipal Airport. In the description of the airspace amendment, the words "along the west edge of V–165" were inadvertently included. This action will correctly describe the transition area.

EFFECTIVE DATE: 0901 G.M.T., March 13, 1986.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Bill Reidy, Airspace Branch, Air Traffic Division, Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), 15000 Aviation Boulevard, Lawndale, California 90261; telephone (213) 297–1186.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

History

On August 16, 1985, the FAA proposed to amend Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Part 71) that will alter the transition area at Alturas, California, (50 FR 33055). Interested parties were invited to participate in this rulemaking proceeding by submitting written comments on the proposal to the FAA. No comments objecting to the proposal were received. This amendment is the same as that proposed in the notice. The proposed amendment to the SIAP to Alturas, California, requires controlled airspace commencing at 700 feet for the procedure turn area. Without this additional controlled airspace, the minimum descent altitude would be raised. This amendment will enhance airport usage and safety. Section 71.181 of Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations was republished in Handbook 7400.6A dated January 2, 1985.

The Rule

This amendment to Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations lowers the controlled airspace to contain the proposed amendment to the SIAP at Alturas, California. This additional airspace is required to contain the procedure turn within controlled airspace.

The FAA has determined that this proposed regulation only involves an established body of technical regulations for which frequent and routine amendments are necessary to keep them operationally current. It, therefore—(1) is not a "major rule" under Executive Order 12291; (2) is not a "significant rule" under DOT Regulatory Policies and Procedures (44 FR 11034; February 26, 1979); and (3) does not warrant preparation of a regulatory evaluation as the anticipated impact is so minimal. Since this is a routine matter that will only affect air traffic procedures and air navigation, it is certified that this rule, when promulgated, will not have a significant impact on a substantial number of small entities under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act.

Adoption of the Amendment

Accordingly, ursuant to the authority delegated to me, the Federal Aviation Administration amends Part 71 of the Federal Aviation Regulations (14 CFR Part 71) as follows:

1. The authority citation for Part 71 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 49 U.S.C. 1348(a), 1354(a), 1510; Executive Order 10854; 49 U.S.C. 106(g) (Revised Pub. L. 97-449, January 12, 1983); 14 CFR 11.69.

2. Section 71.181 is amended as follows:

ATF F 2617 (5210.11)—Prepayment Tax Return—Manufacturer of Tobacco Products.

ATF F 2137 (5230.1)—Monthly Tax Return—Manufacturer of Cigarette Papers and Tubes.

These 8 forms may not be used for the payment of tax liabilities incurred after December 31, 1985.

Regulatory Changes

Implementation of Form 5000.24, Excise Tax Return, requires many regulatory changes. Every regulation in Title 27 of the Code of Federal Regulations containing an obsolete form number has to be amended. In addition, some sections of regulations are being revised to clarify the fact that Form 5000.24 is to be used as both a prepayment and a deferred payment or semimonthly return. Instructions for preparing tax return forms are being deleted from regulations in those cases where the same or similar instructions appear on Form 5000.24.

Unlike many of the forms that it replaces, Form 5000.24 will not require the taxpayer to show quantities of taxable commodities removed subject to tax during the period covered by the tax return. Therefore, all regulations requiring the taxpayer to include such information on his tax returns are being revised to delete this reporting requirement.

Regulations in 27 CFR Part 270 and 27 CFR Part 285 are also being revised to delete transitional rules applicable only to taxable removals made before January 1, 1983.

Administrative Procedures Act

As authorized by section 553 of Title 5 of the United States Code, the regulatory changes in this final rule are being made without prior notice. Public participation in these changes is deemed unnecessary because the changes are minor, liberalizing, and non-controversial in nature. This decision merely consolidates 8 different tax return forms into one and deletes requirements that were applicable only before January 1, 1983. For these reasons, ATF has determined that it is impractical and unnecessary to issue this rule with notice and public procedure under 5 U.S.C. 553(b) or subject to the effective date limitation of 5 U.S.C. 553(d).

Executive Order 12291

It has been determined that this final rule is not classified as a "major rule" within the meaning of Executive Order 12291, 46 FR 13193 (1981), because it will not have an annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more; it will not result in a major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State or local government agencies, or geographic regions; and it will not have significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The provisions of the Regulatory Flexibility Act relating to an initial and final regulatory flexibility analysis (5 U.S.C. 604) are not applicable to this final rule because the agency was not required to publish a general notice of proposed rulemaking under 5 U.S.C. 553 or any other law.

Paperwork Reduction Act

The requirement to collect information imposed by this final rule has been approved by the Office of Management and Budget under Sec. 3507 of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, Pub.

L. 96-511, 44 U.S.C. Chapter 35 (control number 1512-0467).

BILLING CODE 4810–31–M

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Office of the Secretary

29 CFR Part 14

Security Regulations

AGENCY: Office of the Secretary, Labor.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: In compliance with Executive Order No. 12356 of April 2, 1982, (47 FR 14874) entitled National Security Information, the Department of Labor publishes its policy concerning declassification of agency information, its guidelines for systematic declassification review and its guidelines for dissemination of such information to persons outside the executive branch, including historical researchers and former Presidential appointees.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This document is effective January 16, 1986.

ADDRESS: The Department of Labor Manual Series (DLMS), referred to in the Supplementary Information, are available for inspection at the Directorate of Management Policy and Systems, Department of Labor, Room N1313, 200 Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20210, (202) 523-6421.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: William J. McLaughlin, Director , Office of Emergency Preparedness Planning, Room S1524, 200 Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20210, (202) 523-6963.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Section 5-3b of Executive Order No. 12356 of April 2, 1982, (47 FR 14874) provides as follows:

> Any unclassified regulation that establishes agency information security policy shall be published in the Federal Register to the extent that these regulations affect members of the public.

In order to comply with this requirement, the Department of Labor has herein excerpted from its Dept. of Labor Manual Series (DLMS-2 Administration, Chapter 300—Security Regulations) the policies and procedures concerning agency information security and its guidelines for systematic declassification review. These excerpts also include internal guidelines for dissemination of such information to persons outside the executive branch, including historical researchers and former Presidential appointees. The complete Dept. of Labor Manual Series (DLMS-2 Administration, Chapter 300—Security Regulations) are not published herein because they contain internal procedures which are public but which are not of a nature warranting publication in the Federal Register due to the fact that they effectuate the policy set forth in the attached document. However, the complete DLMS-2 Administration Series, Chapter 300—Security Regulations is available for public inspection and copying. Interested persons should make inquiries to the Contact Office shown or write to the indicated address.

The Department of Labor has had no authority to classify documents since December 1, 1978. Accordingly, this part applies only to documents classified by the Department of Labor before that date. This procedure does not apply to information in the Department's possession which was classified by other agencies.

Publication in Final

The Department has determined that this rule need not be published as a proposed rule, as generally required by the Administrative Procedure Act (APA, 5 U.S.C. 553). This is because section 553(a)(1) of Title 5 of the U.S.C. (5 U.S.C. 553(a)(1)) exempts military affairs functions from public participation in the rulemaking process. This rule concerns matters of national security information and is thus related to military affairs.

In addition to the aforesaid determination, there is a second basis for publishing this rule in final form. The Department finds that good cause exists for waiving notice and comment because such action is unnecessary. This is because the rule implements requirements for publication which are mandated by Executive Order 12356 and leave the agency no discretion. See 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(B).

Executive Order 12291

The rule establishes agency information security policy and does not have a significant economic impact upon the economy. Therefore, this rule is not classified as a "major rule" under Executive Order 12291 on Federal Regulations, because it is not likely to result in (1) an annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more; (2) a major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State, or local government agencies, or geographic regions, (3) significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign based enterprises in domestic or export markers. Accordingly, no regulatory impact analysis is required.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

Because no notice of proposed rulemaking is required for this rule under section 553(b) of the APA, the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601) pertaining to regulatory flexibility analysis do not apply to this rule. See 5 U.S.C. 601(2).

Paperwork Reduction Act

This final rule is not subject to section 3404(h) of the Paperwork Reduction Act (44 U.S.C. 3501) since it does not contain a collection of information requirement.

List of Subjects in 29 CFR Part 14

Security measures, Classified information, Archives and records.

Accordingly, Part 14 of Subtitle A of Title 29 of the Code of Federal Regulations is revised to read as follows:

PART 14—SECURITY REGULATIONS

Subpart A—Introduction to Security Regulations

Subpart B—Review of Classified Information

Subpart C—Transmission of Classified Information

Authority: Executive Order No. 12356 of April 2, 1982 (47 FR 14874).

Subpart A—Introduction to Security Regulations

§ 14.1 Purpose.

These regulations implement Executive Order 12356, entitled National Security Information, dated April 2, 1982, and directives issued pursuant to that Order through the National Security Council and the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended.

§ 14.2 Policy.

The interests of the United States and its citizens are best served when information regarding the affairs of Government is readily available to the public. Provisions for such an informed citizenry are reflected in the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552) and in the current public information policies of the executive branch.

(a) Safeguarding national security information. Some official information within the Federal Government is directly concerned with matters of national defense and the conduct of foreign relations. This information must, therefore, be subject to security constraints, and limited in term of its distribution.

(b) Exemption from public disclosure. Official information of a sensitive nature, hereinafter referred to as national security information, is expressly exempted from compulsory public disclosure by Section 552(b)(1) of Title 5 U.S.C. Persons wrongfully disclosing such information are subject to prosecution under United States criminal laws.

(c) Scope. To ensure that national security information is protected, but only to the extent and for such a period as is necessary, these regulations:

(1) Identify information to be protected.

(2) Prescribe procedures on classification, declassification, downgrading, and safeguarding of information.

(3) Establish a monitoring system to ensure the effectiveness of the Department of Labor (DOL) security program and regulations.

(d) Limitation. The need to safeguard national security information in no way implies an indiscriminate license to withhold information from the public. It is important that the citizens of the United States have access, consistent with national security, to information concerning the policies and programs of their Government.

§ 14.3 DOL Classification Review Committee.

A DOL Classification Review Committee is hereby established.

(a) Composition of committee. The members of this Committee are:

Chairperson—Director, Directorate or Administrative Service and Safety and Health Programs, OASAM

Member—Security Officer, Bureau of Labor Statistics
Member—Security Officer, Occupational Safety and Health Administration
Member—Director, Office of Management, Office of the Solicitor
Member—Assistant Inspector General for Investigations.

(b) Responsibilities. The Committee is responsible for:

(1) Acting on all suggestions and complaints arising with respect to the DOL's information security program.

(2) Reviewing all requests for records under the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. 552, when a proposed denial is based on classification under Executive Order 1356 to determine if such classification is current.

(3) Recommending to the Secretary of Labor appropriate administrative actions to correct abuses or violations of any provision of Executive Order 12356 or directives thereunder. Recommended administrative actions may include notification by warning letter, formal reprimand, and, to the extent permitted by law, suspension without pay and removal. Upon receipt of any such recommendation, the Secretary shall immediately advise the Committee of the action taken.

§ 14.4 Definitions.

The following definitions apply under these regulations:

(a) Primary organization unit—refers to an agency headed by an official reporting to the Secretary or Under Secretary.

(b) Classify—to assign information to one of the classification categories after determining that the information requires protection in the interest of national security.

(c) Courier—an individual designated by appropriate authority to protect classified and administratively controlled information in transit.

(d) Custodian—the person who has custody or is responsible for the custody of classified information.

(e) Declassify—the authorized removal of an assigned classification.

(f) Document—any recorded information regardless of its physical form or characteristics, including (but not limited to):

(1) Written material—(whether handwritten, printed or typed).

(2) Painted, drawn, or engraved material.

(3) Sound or voice recordings.

(4) Printed photographs and exposed or printed films (either still or motion picture).

(5) Reproductions of the foregoing, by whatever process.

(g) Downgrade—to assign lower classfication than that previously assigned.

(h) Derivative classification—a determination that information is in substance the same as information that is currently classified. It is to incorporate, paraphrase, restate or generate in new form information that is already classified (usually by another Federal agency).

(i) Information Security Oversight Office (ISOO)—an office located in the General Services Administration (GSA) that monitors the implementation of E.O. 12356.

(j) Marking—the physical act of indicating the assigned security classification on national security information.

(k) Material—any document, product, or substance on or in which information is recorded or embodied.

(o) Record material—all books, papers, maps, photographs, or other documentary materials, regardless of physical form or characteristics, made or received by the U.S. Government in connection with the transaction of public business; this includes material preserved by an agency or its legitimate successor as evidence of its organization, functions, policies, decisions, procedures, or other activities, or because of the informational data contained herein.

(p) True reading—the paraphrased literal text.

(q) Upgraded—to assign a higher classification than that previously assigned.

Subpart B—Review of Classified Information

§ 14.10 Mandatory Review for Declassification.

(a) Scope of review. The mandatory review procedures apply to information originally classified by the DOL when it had such authority, i.e., before December 1, 1978. Requests may come from members of the public or a government employee or agency. The procedures do not apply to information originated by other agencies and merely held in possession of the DOL. Requests for disclosure submitted under provisions of the Freedom of Information Act are to be processed in accordance with provisions of that Act.

(b) Where requests should be directed. Requests for mandatory review for declassification should be directed to the Department of Labor, Office of the Assistant Secretary for Administration and Management (OASAM), Washington, DC 20210. Requests should be in writing and should reasonably describe the classified information to allow identification. Whenever a request does not reasonably describe the information sought, the requestor will be notified that unless additional information is provided or the scope of the request is narrowed, no further action will be undertaken.

(c) Processing. The OASAM will assign the request for information to the appropriate DOL office for declassification consideration. A decision will be made within 60 days as to whether the requested information may be declassified and, if so, made available to the requestor. If the information may not be released in whole or in part, the requestor will be given a brief statement as to the reasons for denial, and a notice of the right to appeal the determination to the DOL Classification Review Committee, Office of the Assistant Secretary for Administration and Management, Washington, DC 20210. The requestor is to be told that such an appeal must be filed with the DOL within 60 days.

(d) Appeals procedure. The DOL Classification Review Committee will review and act within 30 days on all applications and appeals for the declassification of information. The Committee is authorized to overrule on behalf of the Secretary, Agency determinations in whole or in part, when it decides that continued protection is not required. It will notify the requestor of the declassification and provide the information. If the Committee determines that continued classification is required, it will promply notify the requestor and provide the reasons for the determination.

(e) Burden of proof. In evaluating requests for declassification the DOL Classification Review Committee will require the DOL office having jurisdiction over the document to prove that continued classification is warranted.

(f) Fees. If the request requires a service for which fair and equitable fees may be charged pursuant to Title 5 of the Independent Office Appropriation Act, 31 U.S.C. 483a (1976), the requestor will be notified and charged.

Subpart C—Transmission of Classified Information

§ 14.20 Dissemination to individuals and firms outside the executive branch.

Request for classified information received from sources outside the executive branch of the Federal Government, provided the information has been originated by the DOL, will be honored in accordance with the following guidelines:

(a) Top Secret Information. All requests for Top Secret information by an individual or firm outside the executive branch must be referred promptly to the OASAM for consideration on an individual basis.

(b) Secret and Confidential Information. Subject to the restrictions below, Secret or Confidential information may be furnished to an individual or firm outside the executive branch if the action furthers the official program of the organization unit in which the information originated. The official furnishing such information must ensure that the individuals to whom the information is to be furnished have the appropriate DOL clearance, or at least clearance for the same or higher classification for another Federal department, or outside agency whose security clearances are acceptable to the DOL. The official must also ensure that the person to whom the classified information is being furnished possess the proper facilities for safeguarding such information. No Secret or Confidential information may be furnished to an individual or firm outside the executive branch without written concurrence from the primary organizational unit head or the Security Officer of that unit.

(c) Unauthorized knowledge of classified information. Upon receipt of a request for classified information which raised a suspicion that an individual or organization outside the executive branch has unauthorized knowledge of the existence of Confidential, Secret, or Top Secret information, a report providing all available details must be immediately submitted to the DOL Document Security Officer for appropriate action and disposition.

(d) Requests from outside the United States. All requests from outside the United States for Top Secret, Secret or Confidential information, except those received from foreign offices of the primary organizational unit or from U.S. embassies or similar missions, will be referred to the Deputy Under Secretary for International Affairs.

(e) Access by historical researchers. Individuals outside the executive branch engaged in historical research may be authorized access to classified information over which the DOL has jurisdiction provided:

(1) The research and need for access conform to the requirements of Section 4-3 of Executive Order 12356.

(2) The information requested is reasonably accessible and can be located and compiled with a reasonable amount of effort.

(3) The researcher agrees to safeguard the information in a manner consistent with E.O. 12356 and directives thereunder.

(4) The researcher agrees to a review of the notes and manuscript to determine that no classified information is contained therein.

Authorization for access is valid for the period required but no longer than two years from the date of issuance unless it is renewed under the conditions and regulations governing its original authorization.

(f) Access by former presidential appointees. Individuals who have previously occupied policymaking positions to which they were appointed by the President may be authorized access to classified information which they originated, reviewed, signed, or received while in public office. Upon request, information identified by such individuals will be reviewed for declassification in accordance with the provisions of these regulations.

§ 14.21 Release of classified information to foreign governments.

National security information will be released to foreign governments in accordance with the criteria and procedures stated in the President's Directive entitled "Basic Policy Governing the Release of Classified Defense Information to Foreign Governments" dated September 25, 1985. All requests for the release of such information will be referred to the Deputy Under Secretary for International Affairs.

§ 14.22 Availability of classified information to persons not employed by the Department of Labor.

(a) Approval for access. Access to classified information in the possession or custody of the primary organizational units of the Department by individuals who are not employees of the executive branch shall be approved in advance by the DOL Document Security Officer.

(b) Access to Top Secret Material. Access to Top Secret Information within the primary organizational units of the DOL by employees of other Federal agencies must be approved in advance by the Top Secret Control Officer of the primary organizational unit.

(c) Access to Secret and Confidential Information. Secret and Confidential information may be made available to properly cleared employees of other Federal departments or outside agencies if authorized by the primary organizational units having custody of the information.

Signed at Washington, DC on this December 10, 1985.

Assistant Secretary for Administration and Management.

Acquisition Regulation Concerning Noncompetitive Contracting Authorities

AGENCY: Agency for International Development, IDCA.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The AID Acquisition Regulation (AIDAR) is being amended to finalize an interim rule (AIDAR Notice 85–11, published in the October 8, 1985 Federal Register). This action re-establishes three AID-specific noncompetitive contracting authorities and a related publicizing exception previously authorized under Section 7–3.107–50 of the AID Procurement Regulation (41 CFR 703.107–50).

EFFECTIVE DATE: October 8, 1985.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: GC/CCM, Kenneth Fries, telephone (202) 632–1170.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On October 8, 1985, AIDAR Notice 85–11 was published in the Federal Register (50 FR 40976) as an interim rule and request for comment. The AIDAR Notice amended the AIDAR to re-establish three AID-specific noncompetitive contracting authorities and a related publicizing exception. It provided that full and open competition need not be obtained when it has been determined that it would impair foreign assistance objectives. This authority may be used:

—For award under Sec. 636(a)(3) of the Foreign Assistance Act of a contract for personal services abroad.

—For award of a contract of $100,000 or less by an overseas contracting activity.

—For awards where an Assistant Administrator has determined that use of full and open competition would impair foreign assistance objectives and would be inconsistent with fulfillment of the foreign assistance program, or for awards for countries, regions, projects or programs where the Administrator has made such determinations and findings.

The rule was approved by the Office of Federal Procurement Policy and the Office of Management and Budget as required by OMB Bulletin 85–7.

The Small Business Administration has, under section 8(g)(3) of the Small Business Act, found that the synopsizing exception in the Notice will not be detrimental to small business interests.

Only 2 comments were received regarding AIDAR Notice 85–11. One agreed with the rule as proposed. The other took exception to the finding of AID and the Small Business Administration that the rule would not significantly affect small businesses, but offered no explanation or argument. We therefore have determined to reaffirm the finding underlying the rule.

As required by the Regulatory Flexibility Act, it is hereby certified that AIDAR Notice 85–11 (Final) will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

3. Respondent admits all the jurisdictional facts set forth in the Commission's complaint in the proceeding.

4. Respondent waives:

(a) Any further procedural steps;

(b) The requirement that the Commission's decision contain a statement of findings of fact and conclusions of law;

6. This agreement is for settlement purposes only and does not constitute an admission by respondent that the law has been violated as alleged in the complaint issued by the Commission.

7. This agreement contemplates that, if it is accepted by the Commission, and if such acceptance is not subsequently withdrawn by the Commission pursuant to the provisions of § 3.25(f) of the Commission's Rules, the Commission may, without further notice to respondent, (1) issue its decision containing the following order to cease and desist in disposition of the proceeding, and (2) make information public in respect thereto. Analysis of Proposed Consent Order To Aid Public Comment

The Federal Trade Commission has accepted an agreement to a proposed consent order from Ashland Oil, Inc. ("Ashland").

The proposed consent order has been placed on the public record for sixty (60) days for reception of comments by interestetd persons. Comments received during this period will become part of the public record. After sixty (60) days, the Commission will again review the agreement and the comments received and will decide whether it should withdraw from the agreement or make final the agreement's proposed order.

The complaint, which was issued May 8, 1984, challenges, as violations of Section 7 of the Clayton Act, 15 U.S.C. 18, and Section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act, 15 U.S.C. 45, the proposed acquisition by Bass Brothers Enterprises, Inc. ("Bass Brothers") and Sid Richardson Carbon & Gasoline Co. ("Sid Richardson") of Ashland's United States carbon black industry assets. The complaint alleges that both Sid Richardson and Ashland are substantial competitors in the United States carbon black market, that the United States carbon black market is highly concentrated, and that barriers to entry into the production and distribution of carbon black are substantial. The complaint alleges that the effects of the proposed acquisition would be to eliminate substantial actual competition between Sid Richardson and Ashland, and eliminate Ashland as a substantial competitor in the carbon black market; to substantially increase concentration in an already highly concentrated market and encourage additional mergers or acquisitions in that market, thus increasing the likelihood of collusion; to tend to reduce the desgree of price competition and to reduce the volume of production below competitive levels; and to tend to reduce the actual competition among other companies engaged in the production and distribution of carbon black. The complaint charges that the proposed acquisition constitutes a violation of Section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act, and if consummated, would constitute a violation of Section 7 of the Clayton Act.

The proposed order requires Ashland for a period of four years to notify the Director of the Comission's Bureau of Competition in advance of any proposed sale or divestiture of one or more of Ashland's three U.S. carbon black plants to a competitior in the U.S. carbon black industry. In this order, "carbon black" includes both rubber carbon black and "industrial," non-rubber carbon black. No prior notice is required if only one plant is being transferred to a competitor who has less than 15 percent of U.S. production capacity, or if the transaction must be reported under the statutory premerger notification program. Ashland is required to report to the Commission within 30 days any carbon black plant sale for which prior notice is not required.

The order provides that, upon application by Ashland, the order may be terminated if the Commission dismisses the still-pending complaint against Bass Brothers and Sid Richardson, Docket No. 9178.

The agreement is for purposes of settlement only; it does not constitute an admission by Ashland that the law has been violated as alleged in the Complaint.

The purpose of this analysis is to facilitate public comments on the proposed order, and it is not intended to constitute an official interpretation of the agreement and proposed order or to modify in any way their terms.

Emily H. Rock,

Secretary.

Food and Drug Administration

21 CFR Part 201

[Docket No. 85N-0553]

Proposed Labeling for Oral Aspirin-Containing Drug Products

AGENCY: Food and Drug Administration.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is proposing to require the labeling of oral over-the-counter (OTC) aspirin and aspirin-containing drug products for human use to bear a warning that such products should not be used to treat chicken pox or flu symptoms in children and teenagers before consulting a doctor about Reye syndrome, a rare but serious illness. FDA is preparing this rule in order to bring uniformity and consistency to the marketplace and to aid in increasing the public awareness about this disease.

DATES: Comments by January 15, 1986. These labeling requirements are proposed to become effective for products initially introduced or initially delivered for introduction into interstate commerce 90 days after the date of publication of any final rule based on this proposal, or May 30, 1986, whichever is later. Further, FDA is proposing that this rule, if promulgated, would expire in 2 years following the effective date unless extended by the agency after publication for notice and comment in the Federal Register.

ADDRESS: Written comments to the Dockets Management Branch (HFA-305), Food and Drug Administration, Rm. 4-62, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20857.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Christopher Smith, Office of the Commissioner (HF-9), Food and Drug Administration, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20857, 301-443-5133.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This proposed rule would require that the labeling of oral aspirin and aspirin-containing OTC drug products for human use bear a warning that such products should not be used to treat chicken pox or flu symptoms in children and teenagers before consulting a doctor about Reye syndrome, a rare but serious illness. This rule is being proposed in order to bring uniformity and consistency to the marketplace and to aid in increasing the public awareness about this disease.

I. Background

A. Reye Syndrome

First described by the pathologist Douglas Reye of Australia in 1963, Reye syndrome is classically described as occurring in a child or teenager during the course of or while recovering from a mild respiratory tract infection, flu, chicken pox, or other viral illness. Flu and chicken pox are the mostly commonly associated viral illnesses. The disease is characterized by severe vomiting and irritability or lethargy, which may progress to delirium and coma. The illness is described clinically as having an acute onset in which the initial symptom is usually vomiting, which may be profuse and persistent, and which is often accompanied by a change in mental status. Although the cause of Reye syndrome is unknown, some scientific studies, as described below, have looked at the possible association between the use of aspirin and the onset of the disease.

B. Early Scientific Studies

The Public Health Service (PHS) first initiated nationwide surveillance for Reye syndrome in December 1973. In 1976, the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) and State health departments intensified this surveillance and four CDC-supported case-control studies were conducted by the Arizona, Ohio, and Michigan State Health Departments. These studies, however, raised as many questions as they answered and generated considerable controversy in the medical community over the conclusion to be drawn from the available information.

In the Federal Register of December 28, 1982 (47 FR 57886), FDA published an advance notice of proposed rulemaking, which discussed in great detail the disease, the State studies, the findings of a FDA working group review, and a Reye syndrome workshop cosponsored by FDA, CDC, and the National Institutes of Health (NIH). FDA concluded, in the advance notice, that the State studies did not establish a conclusive link between aspirin use and Reye syndrome and that further research was needed to provide definitive data, but, in the interim, the public and the health care community should be educated about the possibility of an asociation between aspirin use and Reye syndrome raised by the State studies. FDA initiated, in the fall of 1982, an educational program aimed at achieving this result. These educational efforts have been renewed in each successive fall since then.

C. The Public Health Service Study

Because FDA determined that additional reserch was needed to study the possible relationship between aspirin use and Reye syndrome, in 1982 and 1983, PHS developed a plan for further research into the possible association between Reye syndrome and various exposure factors, including the use of aspirin. A main study was planned and is now being conducted under the direction of the PHS Reye Syndrome Task Force. The main study was preceded by a pilot phase (methodology study) to determine the study feasibility and to establish the appropriate methodology for the full-scale main investigation.

The methodology study phase was completed in late 1984, and the data were reviewed shortly thereafter by the Institute of Medicine (IOM) of the National Academy of Sciences. HHS is committed to making these data, except for the identification of persons involved and other safeguards, available to specified scientists for further scientific review and analysis. Final discussions are underway regarding the procedures by which these data would be made available.

In the methodology study full report, 90 percent of the identifiable Reye syndrome cases had a history of aspirin use during an antecedent respiratory illness or an episode of chicken pox, compared to 46 percent of the controls who had used aspirin but did not develop Reye syndrome. Moreover, a majority of Reye syndrome cases (73 percent) were patients between the ages of 10 and 18. The methodology study, although not conclusive, reported an association between the use of aspirin and the onset of Reye syndrome in children and teenagers. The study results also highlighted the vulnerability of teenagers to this disease. As noted above, the main study is now underway. The data generated will be reviewed, critiqued, and monitored by IOM as the study progresses.

D. Educational Activities

In January 1985, based on the data from the methodology study, FDA expanded its public education program. Agency efforts included newspaper columns, radio public service announcements (PSA's), and newspaper advertisements. Based on findings in the methodology study, FDA placed specific emphasis in its 1985 educational campaign on teenagers. These educational activities are continuing into the 1985–1986 flu season.

Separately, but in concert with FDA's educational campaign, the aspirin industry developed and implemented its own educational program, beginning in January 1985. The industry's educational efforts consisted of television and radio PSA's, store posters, and revised product labeling.

The American Pharmaceutical Association also distributed Reye syndrome warning posters to its membership. Retail establishments headed by Giant Foods, Safeway, Walgreen, Thrift, Osco, People's Drug Stores, and others initiated similar efforts.

The voluntary nature of the aspirin industry's efforts led to considerable diversity in the specific message being conveyed to consumers, particularly through product labeling. For example, the eight companies making up the Aspirin Foundation of America (Bristol-Meyers Co. (Bufferin; Excedrin); Borroughs Wellcome Co. (Empirin); E.R. Squibb & Sons (Trigesic); Glenbrook Laboratories (Bayer Aspirin); L.T. York Co. (York Aspirin); Miles Laboratories, Inc. (Alka-Seltzer, Alka-Seltzer Plus); Proctor & Gamble Co. (Norwich Aspirin), and Whitehall Laboratories (Anacin)) all agreed to place the following warning on their aspirin labels: "Consult a physician before giving this medicine to children, including teenagers, with chicken pox or flu." In addition, the references to flu as an indication for use on the labels of children's aspirin products were deleted.

In contrast, Plough, Inc. (St. Joseph's Aspirin), which is not a member of the Aspirin Foundation, developed its own voluntary precautionary labeling program. Its program includes labeling revisions for rall its aspirin-containing products to bear the following statement: "WARNING: Reye syndrome is a rare but serious disease which can follow flu or chicken pox in children and teenagers. While the cause of Reye syndrome is unknown, some reports claim aspirin may increase the risk of developing this disease. Consult a doctor before use in children or teenagers with flu or chicken pox." In addition, Plough, Inc., has included the following statement in its patient package insert: "The symptoms of Reye syndrome can include persistent vomiting; sleepiness and lethargy; violent headaches; unusual behavior, including disorientation, combativeness, and delerium. If any of these symptoms occur, especially following chicken pox or flu, call your doctor immediately, even if your child has not taken any medication. REYE SYNDROME IS SERIOUS, SO EARLY DETECTION AND TREATMENT ARE VITAL."

Other companies used additional variations. For example, Publix Super Markets, Eckard Drug Co., and LKS Products use the following statement: "REYE SYNDROME WARNING: Children and teenagers who exhibit signs of chicken pox or flu should consult a physician before using aspirin-containing products."

Giant Foods Inc. has also used its own statement. It says: "REYE SYNDROME WARNING: Consult a doctor before giving this product to children 19 years and under with chicken pox or flu."

Still another example is the approach taken by William H. Rorer Inc., which has elected to use the following statement: "Reye's symdrome Warning: Do not use in children, including teenagers, with chicken pox or flu."

Finally, in the case of Menley and James Laboratories, that firm has elected to use two different statements on its products. In one case, the statement reads: "If under medical care, or with a history of ulcers, or for children, including teenagers, with chicken pox or flu, consult a physician before taking this product." In the other case, the statement reads: "Individuals being treated for depression, high blood pressure, asthma, heart disease, diabetes, thyroid disease, glaucoma, or an enlarged prostate or children, including teenagers, with chicken pox, or flu, should use only as directed by a physician."

In each case, the manufacturer has chosen where the warning statement appears. In some, it is in the "Warning" section of the labels. Others have placed the statement in different labeling sections or on the package side panel, back panel, or end flap. Some firms have simply flagged the label to "See New Label Directions."

On February 28, 1985, the "Emergency Reye Syndrome Act" (S. 538 and H.R. 1381) was introduced in Congress. On October 29, 1984, H.R. 3640 was introduced to amend H.R. 1381. These bills were introduced to amend the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act to require prominent warnings concerning the use by children and teenagers of drugs containing aspirin or another salicylate. S. 538 and H.R. 1381 would require the following labeling: "WARNING: This product should not be given to individuals under the age of 21 years who have chicken pox, influenza, or flu symptoms. This product contains aspirin or another salicylate which has been strongly associated with the development of Reye syndrome, a serious and often fatal childhood disease."

In addition, in January 1985, S. 26 was introduced into the Illinois Senate to amend that State's Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act to require the labeling of OTC aspirin-containing drug products with a warning statement about the possible association between use of the products and Reye syndrome. Although the bill did not pass, Resolution S. 54 did pass in March 1985 urging the United States Senate and House of Representatives to require labeling on OTC aspirin-containing products with a warning statement concerning Reye syndrome.

More recently, in a letter to the Secretary of Health and Human Services dated September 25, 1985, the American Academy of Pediatrics also expressed its concerns regarding the adequacy of such labeling. The Academy said that many of these warnings were not specific enough because they do not mention the possible link with Reye syndrome, and that in most instances the warnings do not stand out prominently enough on product labels. In its letter, the Academy suggested a warning of its own to be used. It stated: "WARNING: Reye syndrome is a rare but serious illness which can follow influenza or chicken pox in children and teenagers. While the cause of Reye syndrome is unknown, studies indicate that aspirin may increase the risk of developing this illness. Consult a doctor before use in children and teenagers with symptoms of influenza or chicken pox." The Acdemy's concern about the labeling language and its location was reiterated in a second letter to the Secretary on November 14, 1985.

II. Regulatory Evaluation

FDA recognizes that the available data do not establish a definitive cause-and-effect relationship between aspirin-containing products and Reye syndrome. However, the agency has concluded that the studies suggest a possible association between aspirin use and Reye syndrome, prompting a major public education campaign as discussed in the advance notice of proposed rulemaking and in this document. In addition, as also discussed above, in January 1985, the aspirin industry, in response to a request by the Secretary, began an education program of its own, including various types of product labeling as presented above.

The Secretary believes that the voluntary program has made real and substantial progress and has done much more in a relatively brief period of time to inform and caution the general public about Reye syndrome and the possible association of the disease with aspirin use than the most ambitious mandatory program alone could have done in the same time frame. The Secretary also believes that this unprecedented voluntary program has proven itself to be, even in hindsight, the most appropriate response to the possible association between aspirin and Reye syndrome based on the scientific information available from the pilot study. In fact, cases of Reye syndrome have decreased from 422 in the 1980–1981 flu season, before FDA's educational program began, to 171 cases reported during last year's flu season, a 60 percent decline.

The relabeling component of this voluntary program has also been positive. For example, all aspirin and aspirin-containing products shipped since August 31, 1985, by the Aspirin Foundation manufacturers and Plough, Inc., which together represent approximately 75 percent of the U.S. aspirin market, contained a new warning statement. Moreover, these relabled products have worked their way through the pipeline onto retail shelves in increasing quantity with each successive month.

Despite these positive aspects, the diversity of the label messages used is likely to be somewhat confusing. As noted above, the label statements being used now, while similar, differ in several respects. Some do not mention Reye syndrome specifically. The mere multiplicity of warning statements also may cause consumer confusion. Finally the location of the statement on the label varies from product to product. FDA believes it is in the best interest of the consumer, industry, and the marketplace to have uniformity in presentation and clarity of message.

Although the previously mentioned eight Aspirin Foundation companies and Plough, Inc., represent some 75 percent of the aspirin market, FDA is unable to ascertain with certainty whether all aspirin-containing products in the marketplace are being relabeled. Thus, to increase consumer awareness, avoid public confusion, and achieve uniformity in the marketplace, FDA is proposing to require the following statement: "WARNING: Children and teenagers should not use this medicine for chicken pox or flu symptoms before a doctor is consulted about Reye syndrome, a rare but serious illness." Further, FDA is proposing that this warning shall precede any additional warnings that may appear on the product labeling in order to assure the prominence of the message.

III. Labeling Provisions

The agency has concluded that a regulation is necessary to achieve consistency and uniformity with respect to the labeling of oral aspirin-containing products and Reye syndrome. The proposed rule would amend § 201.314 Labeling of drug preparations containing salicylates (21 CFR 201.314) by adding a new paragraph (h), which would specify the proposed required OTC warning statement. The warning statement would appear in the labeling, as required by the proposed rule, of all aspirin-containing OTC drugs for human use that are administered orally. The aspirin may be present either as a single ingredient or in combination with one or more other ingredients. Aspirin-containing products that are not included would be those that are administered topically, rectally, vaginally, by aerosol, or those used as a mouthwash, toothpaste, or flavoring. This proposal does not apply to prescription drug products because, by definition, physicians are to be consulted prior to their use.

The warning statement that would be required by the proposed rule would be: "WARNING: Children and teenagers should not use this medicine for chicken pox or flu symptoms before a doctor is consulted about Reye syndrome, a rare but serious illness."

The proposed rule would require that all OTC drug products subject to the rule prominently bear the required warning statement on the immediate container labeling, such as the outside container or wrapper label, and on all other labeling accompanying the product. If the labeling contains other warnings, the warning statement proposed in this document would be required to appear as the first warning under the hearing "Warning".

In addition to this warning statement, the proposal would amend § 201.314 to require that the labeling for OTC aspirin-containing drug products subject to this proposed rule packaged solely for use by children (pediatric products) would not be permitted to recommend the product for use in flu or chicken pox.

IV. Compliance

It is proposed that these labeling requirements shall become effective for all products initially introduced into interstate commerce 90 days after publication of any final rule based on this proposal, or May 30, 1986, whichever is later. Any aspirin-containing OTC drug product for human use that is covered by this proposed rule that is initially introduced or initially delivered for introduction into interstate commerce on or after the effective date would be required to contain the labeling required by this proposed rule or be subject to regulatory action.

In addition, FDA is proposing that this regulation, if made final, would expire 2 years following the effective date, unless the agency acts to extend it through proposed rulemaking with notice and public comment. This 2-year period should allow completion of the main study now underway that is looking at the association between these products and Reye syndrome.

V. Legal Authority

This proposed rule would provide that oral OTC drugs which contain aspirin would be misbranded under section 502(a) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (the act) (21 U.S.C. 352(a)), if the drugs are not labeled with a warning as required by the regulation and are initially introduced or initially delivered for introduction into interstate commerce after the effective date of the regulation.

Section 701(a) of the act (21 U.S.C. 371(a)) provides authority for promulgating substantive rules for the efficient enforcement of the act. See National Ass'n of Pharmaceutical Manufacturers v. FDA, 637 F.2d 877, 879 (2d Cir. 1981). The courts have upheld FDA's authority to promulgate regulations requiring label warnings. See, Cosmetic, Toiletry and Fragrance Ass'n v. Schmidt, 409 F. Supp. 57 64 (D.D.C. 1976), Aff'd without opinion, No. 75–1715 (D.C. Cir., August 19, 1977).

In proposing this regulation, FDA is aware that the voluntary labeling program undertaken by the aspirin industry together with FDA has been successful and has resulted in the labeling of many of the drugs which would be covered by this proposed regulation. However, FDA is of the view that the public interest would best be served by ensuring that the same warning is used on all products covered by this regulation and that it appear in the same place on all packaging. In addition, there may be a small number of products containing aspirin which have not been relabeled to include a warning as part of the voluntary labeling program. By promulgating this regulation, FDA eliminates the potential for consumers being confused and misled by variant forms of label statements about the important subject of aspirin and Reye syndrome (21 U.S.C. 352)).

FDA has a well-established policy of promoting uniformity in the area of labeling. For example, in requiring a warning directed to pregnant and nursing women on all OTC drugs intended for systemic absorption, FDA addressed the need to have the same language appear in the same manner on all labels. (See 47 FR 54753; December 3, 1982.) This preference for uniformity is also recognized by the judiciary in its construction of the Supremacy Clause of the United States Constitution. One of the four factors used to determine if Federal preemption of State regulation in a particular area exists is whether "the nature of the subject matter regulated * * * is one which demands 'exclusive Federal regulation in order to achieve uniformity vital to national interests.' " Cosmetic, Toiletry and Fragrance Ass'n v. State of Minnesota, 440 F. Supp. 1216, 1220 (D. Minn. 1977), aff'd per curiam, 575 F.2d 1256 (ith Cir. 1978), quoting, Northern States Power Co. v. State of Minnesota, 447 F.2d 1143, 1146–1147 (8th Cir. 1971), aff'd 405 U.S. 1035 (1972).

VI. Economic Impact

FDA has examined the regulatory impact and regulatory flexibility implications of the proposed rule in accordance with Executive Order 12291 and the Regulatory Flexibility Act. The proposal would impose direct one-time costs associated with changing product labels, but that cost is estimated to total less than $3 million.

VII. Environmental Impact

The agency has determined under 21 CFR 25.24(a)(11) (April 26, 1985; 50 FR 16636) that this action is of a type that does not individually or cumulatively have a significant effect on the human environment. Therefore, neither an environmental assessment nor an environmental impact statement is required.

VII. Comments

Interested persons may, on or before January 16, 1986, submit to the Dockets Management Branch (address above) written comments regarding this proposal. FDA is proposing this rule with a 30-day comment period in order to allow the agency to publish a final rule within the time for products subject to the rule to be properly labeled prior to the 1986–1987 flu season. Accordingly, good cause exists for a comment period of less than 60 days. Two copies of any comments are to be submitted, except that individuals may submit one copy. Comments are to be identified with the docket number found in brackets in the heading of this document. Received comments may be seen in the office above between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Discussion of Requests

The FHWA proposes to act on the requests for change to the MUTCD as noted below:

General Provisions (PART 1)

(1) Request I-4(chng.)—Manual Changes, Interpretations and Authority to Experiment (Section 1A–6). In FHWA Docket 83–18 (48 FR 30145, June 30, 1983) the FHWA invited comments on the adoption of new procedures concerning MUTCD amendments, interpretations, and experimentations.

The FHWA proposes to modify section 1A–6 of the MUTCD to incorporate these procedures.

These procedures are more detailed, and are designed to improve the timeliness and completeness of amendments, interpretations, and experimentations without imposing additional costs on the FHWA or other highway agencies.

Signs (Part II)

(2) Request II–106(Chng.)—Use of No Parking Symbol Sign (R8–3a) in Rural Areas. When no parking zones are established in rural areas it is often desirable to place signs at frequent intervals (100–150 feet) so that a driver attempting to park will see one or more no parking signs at close range.

The FHWA does not support the request from the Michigan Department of Transportation to amend section 2B–33 of the MUTCD to establish the 12 X 12 inch R8–3a Sign as the minimum size no parking symbol sign for use in rural areas. The FHWA believes that the 12 X 12 inch sign does not have adequate target value.

(3) Request II–107(Chug.)—Standards for, and Applications of, Lane-Use control Signs at Intersections. In 1983 the City of Aurora, Colorado Requested an interpretation relative to the longitudinal and lateral placement of lane-use control signs at intersections. Their Planning and Traffic Engineer, Mr. Nathan Ficklin P.E. stated that he was aware of the installation of lane-use control signs adjacent to signal heads on the far side of the intersection (across the intersection from the turn lane), and R3–5 and R3–6 signs which are designed for placement over the controlled lane which were being post mounted. He cited lack of uniformity, operational and safety problems, driver confusion, and potential liability as reasons for asking for an interpretation.

On March 14, 1983 the FHWA issued the following interpretation:

"II–82(Intr.)—Positioning of Overhead Lane-Use Control Signs. Lane-Use Control signs are not designed for, nor are they intended for use adjacent to a signal face. Such use could lead to unnecessary motorist confusion. When the MUTCD refers to overhead positioning of Lane-Use Control signs it means directly above and normally at the begnning of the lane to which it applies, not across the intersection.

Lane-Use Control signs shall be used whenever it is desired to require vehicles in certain lanes to turn, or to permit turns from an adjacent lane, except where turning bays, designed so as to not entrap through traffic, are provided and only the auxiliary lane is permitted to turn."

Serious concerns have been voiced because of this interpretation. It is contended that these signs are, in fact, intersection signs and, if this interpretation stands, a valuable tool will be lost to traffic engineers. Many signs presently in use within intersections will ipso facto become non-conforming. Because of these concerns it is proposed to change the MUTCD to allow the use of these signs within an intersection as well as over the approach lane to the intersection.

The above interpretation was published as an Official Ruling and included in Revision 3 of the MUTCD. Subsequently the National Committee on Uniform Traffic Control Devices (NCUTCD) received the interpretation and has suggested that the following changes that relate to the application of lane-use control signs rather than their placement should also be made to the MUTCD to clarify its language:

"1. Section 2B–17—

a. Delete the first sentence.

b. Second sentence—delete "these", insert "Lane-Use control Signs".

2. Section 2B–18—

a. Delete first paragraph and insert new first paragraph: "Lane-Use control signs shall be used to require drivers in certain lanes to turn, or to permit turns from a lane where such turns otherwise would be illegal unless:

(a) Turning bays, designed to not entrap through traffic, have been provided by physical construction or pavement markings and b) only the drivers using such turning bay are permitted to turn."

b. Delete the last sentence, second paragraph."

The FHWA proposes to revise sections 2B–17 and 2B–18 in accordance with the NCUTCD recommendations with the exception that the first paragraph of 2b–18 would read:

"Lane-Use control signs shall be used to require drivers in certain lanes to turn, or to permit turns from a lane where such turns otherwise would be illegal. Lane-Use control signs are not required where:

(a) turning bays, designed not to entrap through traffic, have been provided by physical construction or pavement markings, and (b) only the drivers using such turning bays are permitted to turn."

This proposed amendment will impose no additional cost on State and local highway agencies.

(4) Request II–109(Chng.)—Cloverleaf with Collector-Distributor Roadway. Section 2F–27 of the MUTCD states that exists from the collector distributor road shall not be numbered. Some States have numbered these exits with no apparent safety problems. Therefore, the FHWA proposes to amend section 2F–27 to change the "shall" to a "may" condition that would allow the highway agencies to determine whether or not to use exit numbers

This proposed change will impose no additional costs.

(5) Request II–110(Chng.)—Tourist Oriented Directional Signs (TODS). The FHWA proposes to add a new section 2I to the MUTCD to incorporated standards for tourist oriented directional signs. The proposed signs would provide business identification and directional information for businesses, services, and activities of interest to tourists. The signs could be installed by highway agencies within the right-of-way of highways other than freeways and expressways.

The Highway Beautification Act of 1965 provided for the control and removal of certain outdoor advertising signs (billboards) adjacent to highways on the Federal-aid Primary Highway System including Interstate highways. Additional, a number of States have adopted equally or more stringent billboard controls applicable to these and other highways. As a consequence, a traditional system for providing motorists with the business identification and directional information for goods and services in the interest of the traveling public (that is, billboards) was severely restricted. In order to relieve this restriction on useful information, many States developed information centers, usually rest areas.

where information about a great variety of goods and services may be displayed by the business facilities. However, since the construction of rest areas is often economically limited to high traffic volume highways, such as Interstate highways and other freeways, the need for business directional information on many highways has not yet been satisfactorily resolved.

The primary purpose of many motor vehicle trips is to reach business enterprises, such as sporting and recreational areas, developed natural phenomena and historical sites, cultural activities, etc. that have been established in unique rural areas specifically to serve these and similar interests of the public. Other businesses, such as gift and craft shops, guided tours, sporting events and facilities, entertainment facilities, etc., are also important destinations during recreational and business travel. Essential services such as gas, food and lodging serve the immediate needs of all motorists. These businesses, when located in rural areas and not visible to directly accessible from freeway interchanges, can become difficult for motorists to find. Equally important, many of these businesses derive their principle income from travelers and have a serious need to make their location and services known.

Current MUTCD standards regarding motorist information systems provide that motorists, while traveling on Interstate highways and most other freeways, may be given convenient excess to business directional information for an extensive variety of goods and services at information centers, and may be given direct access, through LOGO signs at interchanges, to business directional information for essential gas, food, lodging, and camping services. The FHWA believes that the business directional information needs of freeway users is or can be adequately served within the system presently allowed by the MUTCD and 23 U.S.C. 131(i). However, once motorists leave a freeway, sources of business directional information are greatly reduced.

Recognizing that detailed maps to locations for goods and services are not always readily available or easily interpreted by all motorists, and that direction finding from maps is often difficult for the solitary motorist, the FHWA is proposing a system of business directional signs for tourist oriented businesses for application in rural areas on highways other than freeways.

The use of this system of signs would be entirely voluntary on the part of the State highway agencies. The proposed signs would be rectangular in shape and limited to a size sufficient to accommodate two lines of text providing the business identification and directional information. The use of logograms and standard highway symbols would be permitted. Other physical details of the signs would be standardized to a degree appropriate for highway use. The number of signs that could be installed on the approach to an intersection would be limited and spacing requirements for the signs would be provided. States that elect to use these tourist oriented directional signs (TODS) would be expected to adopt criteria for use, including criteria to determine which specific types of businesses would be eligible for signing. The States would also be urged to provide a means for displaying (in mini-information centers for example) the directional information for eligible businesses excluded from the TODS to the limitations on the number of signs that may be displayed.

The FHWA has been seriously concerned for many years with the business direction needs of motorists in rural areas and has sponsored five experimental projects on the subject. The reports of the projects evaluated to date show that experimental TODS have generally met the goals of the signing with minimal impact on either the environment or safety. These evaluation reports and the experimental signing form the basis of the FHWA TODS proposal. Over 3,000 experimental TODSs have been installed in five States. The majority of these signs have been installed for more than 2 years. Many have been in place for more than 8 years. Additionally, after extensive study, an FHWA task force recommended [1] the development of national standards, for business directional signs for travel related facilities and attractions for use on highways other than freeways. This task force study was made pursuant to section 122(b) of the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1976 (23 U.S.C. 131(q)(1)). This section, in effect, called for a study of directional information about facilities providing goods and services in the interest of the traveling public.

In view of the foregoing, the FHWA believes that motorists in rural areas, on highways other than freeways, have a need for additional business directional information. The FHWA further believes that this information can be best provided by the use of highway signs. Therefore, the FHWA is proposing to amend the MUTCD to authorize the voluntary installation of tourist oriented business directional signs. The FHWA is soliciting comments on both the concept of signing for this purpose and on the details provided for the proposed signs. Commenters are asked to specifically address the following questions:

1. What types of business, service, and activity should be considered or eligible for signing with Tourist Oriented Directional Signs?

2. Should businesses producing or offering certain products be prohibited from eligibility for Tourist Oriented Directional Signs? An example might be those businesses whose principal product is producing promoting, or selling alcoholic beverages which appears contradictory to State and National concerns about alcohol and driving.

3. Should businesses, services, and activities be open to the general public a minimum number of hours a day, and a minimum number of days per week, to qualify for Tourist Oriented Directional Signs?

4. Should Specific Services Information (LOGO) Signing [2] and Tourist Oriented Directional Signs be allowed to be installed at the same intersection? If yes, what is the number of sign panels, and the number of businesses, services, and activities allowed on each panel on a specific intersection approach?

Marking (Part III)

(6) Request III–30 (Chng.)—Wrong Way and Lane Use Pavement Marking Arrows. The NCUTCD requests that several revisions be made to sections 2E and 3B to improve the design and placement of the pavement marking arrows and to better detail the role of arrows in wrong way and lane use control.

The FHWA supports the recommendations of the NCUTCD. The proposed amendments will not place any new mandates on highway agencies but will improve the uniformity and effectiveness of pavement marking arrows at no additional cost.

(7) Request III–38 (Chng.)—Warrants for No-Passing Zones at Curves. The North Carolina Department of Transportation through the NCUTCD requests that section 3B–5 be amended so that the speed portion of the warrant will be based on the off-peak 85 percentile or the posted speed limit, whichever is higher. The request further recommends that the table in section 3B–5 be expanded to include speeds (and corresponding minimum passing sight distances) in 5 MPH increments, with rounding recommended to the next higher 5 MPH increment.

The FHWA proposes to amend the MUTCD as recommended. This proposed amendment imposes no additional mandates on highway agencies and in some cases should reduce the number of speed studies required.

(8) Request III–39 (Chng.)—Delineator Placement and Spacing. The FHWA proposes to amend section 3D–5 by changing the "shall" to a "may" condition in the first paragraph.

This proposed change will allow the use of engineering judgment when placing roadside delineators without imposing any additional costs.

Signals (Part IV)

(9) Request IV–52 (Chng.)—Median Width Criteria for Pedestrian Signals. The FHWA proposes that the references in Sections 4D–7 and 4C–5 relative to median width be replaced with the words "Sufficient for pedestrian to wait."

The City and County of San Francisco pointed out the inconsistency relative to median width between Sections 4D–7 and 4C–5. Section 4D–7 requires a median of six feet in width, before the two directions of a roadway may be considered separately for timing purposes. The Traffic Signal Warrant 3, Minimum Pedestrian Volume, contained in section 4C–5, on the other hand, provides differing vehicular volume criteria when the median width provides differing vehicluar volume criteria when the median width is four feet or more in width.

The City and County requested that the inconsistency be resolved be revising the median width reference (for timing purposes) in Section 4D–7 to 4 feet (from the present 6 feet).

The NCUTCD reviewed the request and agreed with the need for consistency. However, they recommended that in each instance engineering judgment relative to site specific conditions, be used to determine whether a given median was sufficient enough to serve as a pedestrian refuge.

The proposed amendment increase the latitude to shorten the pedestrain clearance interval when there is a 4 foot median but will impose no additional cost.

(10) Request IV–58 (Chng.)—A Required Yellow Arrow Clearance Interval and Left Turn Signal Displays. The FHWA proposes to require a yellow arrow indication for a clearance display following a Green Arrow, by eliminating the optional use of the circular yellow indication for this purpose; allow the use of a flashing arrow indication; and provide design requirement for Left Turn displays. These proposed changes will require modifications to MUTCD sections 4B–5, 4B–6 and 4B–12, and 4B–18. The City of Milwaukee, Wisconsin and the State of California pointed out that presently, the MUTCD in section 4B–15, 5th paragraph requires that "a clearance interval shall be provided between the termination of a Green Arrow indication and the showing of a green indication to any conflicting traffic movement." Paragraph 4B–6.5(c) presently provides that this clearance indication may be via a steady YELLOW ARROW indication, or optionally a CIRCULAR YELLOW indication in signal faces used exclusively to control a single directional movement. This proposal would eliminate the optional CIRCULAR YELLOW indication. The purpose is to provide increased uniformity in left turn displays.

By requiring the use of the Yellow Arrow, a change will be required in the MUTCD to allow the use of flashing arrows under certain conditions and to define their meaning. The change will allow the user to flash either a red or yellow arrow depending on the specific circumstance, engineering judgment would be exercised.

The MUTCD has a number of requirements that pertain to left-turn signals. However, these are fragments and therefore not well understood. As a result, left turn signals are not always installed in accordance with these uniform standards and there have been several requests for interpretations and changes. The NCUTCD, therefore, in reviewing IV–58 (Change) also developed recommendations for section 4B–12 and 4B–18 that would clarify the intent of the MUTCD relative to left turn signals.

Section 4B–18 pertains to the flashing operation of traffic control signals. The NCUTCD recommended that the following modifications be made in order to provide clarification relative to the requirements of flashing operation and to provide for flashing arrows.

1. The word "automatic" will be deleted from the first sentence of the 4th paragraph.

2. The 5th paragraph which pertains to the change from flashing to stop-and-go operation will be deleted entirely.

3. The word "automatic" will be deleted from the 1st sentence of the 6th paragraph.

4. A new paragraph 7 will be added to explain the design requirements for flashing arrows.

The NCUTCD reviewed this request and agreed with the need for modification and recommended additional changes.

The proposed amendment will cause some financial impact where existing 8" circular yellows will have to be replaced with 12" yellow arrows but reduce the likelihood of distraction to through traffic. An implementation period of 10 years will be provided to mitigate the increased costs.

(11) Request IV–66 (Chang.)—Warrants for Traffic Signal Installation. The NCUTCD recommended that section 4C–2 of the MUTCD be modified to make it clear that the satisfaction of a warrant is not, in itself a mandate for a signal. There is also a need for an engineering study, considering factors, other than those outlined in the warrant, to indicate whether installation of a signal will improve safety and/or operations.

The proposed change will impose no additional cost.

(12) Request IV–67 (Chang.)—Accident Experience Warrant. The NCUTCD recommended a change in section 4C–8 to delete "property damage to an apparent extent of $100 or more" and to add "reportable property damage."

The FHWA is proposing the wording "or property damage apparently exceeding the applicable requirements for a reportable accident."

Various agencies now have different criteria for reporting property damage accidents. In those jurisdictions where an accident report must not be filed when damage exceeds $250, for example, there is no information available on the total number of accidents having an apparent damage of $100 or more. Therefore, it is proposed to change the wording in Warrant 6 so that it is compatible with a variety of reporting levels. The FHWA proposes to adopt this NCUTCD request (with some editorial changes) and to amend the MUTCD accordingly.

This proposed change will increase the usefulness of the Accident Experience Warrant but imposes no additional cost.

(13) Request IV–68 (Chang.)—Effect of Right Turn on Red on Volume Warrant. The FHWA proposes to modify section 4C–2 of the MUTCD to allow consideration of Right Turn Movements on the Volume Warrants.

The NCUTCD recommended that the MUTCD be modified to inform the user as to how to apply the warrants when there is heavy right turning movements.

This proposed amendment will increase the usefulness of the volume warrants but will impose no additional cost.

Traffic Control for Street and Highway Construction and Maintenance Operations (Part VI).

(14) Request VI-33 (Chang.)—Location of Reflective Collars With Respect to Top of Cones. The NCUTCD requests that Section 6C-3 be revised to provide an unobstructed minimum 3 inch hand hold at the top of cones.

The FHWA supports this request as it would improve the handling characteristics of cones, keep reflective collars cleaner, and provide a larger area of reflective material at no cost to highway agencies. A 3 year implementation period is proposed to offset the impact on contractors and collar suppliers.

(15) Request VI-34 (Chng.)—Size and Location of Additional Reflective Bands on Cones. The NCUTCD requests that Section 6C-3 be amended to provide an additional 4 inch band of reflective material to be placed 2 inches below the present standard 6 inch band on 28 inch cones. Their request is based on the recommendation in National Cooperative Highway Research Program (NCHRP) Report 236, "Evaluation of Traffic Controls for Highway Work Zones",[3] for a minimum of 150 square inches of reflective material on 28 inch cones. The NCUTCD recommended configuration will provide a total area of 165 square inches of reflective material.

The FHWA supports this recommendation to improve the visibility of 28 inch cones at a negligible cost to highway agencies. A 3 year implementation period is proposed to offset the impact on highway agencies, contractors and suppliers.

(16) Request VI-35 (Chng.)—ROAD (STREET) CLOSED Sign. There are many situations where the ROAD (STREET) CLOSED Sign is quite redundant and serves little, if any, purpose. Examples include, a well-marked and signed detour or a properly barricaded, closed city street. The FHWA proposes to amend Section 6B-8 by changing the "shall" to a "may" condition to provide more flexibility in determining where to use this sign.

This proposed change will impose no additional costs on highway agencies.

(17) Request VI-36 (Chng.)—Length of Construction Sign. The Length of Construction Sign has merit when used as intended, to inform the motorists of where the actual construction activity is and the length of that activity. However, too often the signs are erected at the termini at the time the project starts and remain there until the project is complete, even though the type of construction has minimal impact on the motorists or the site of actual construction activity shifts frequently within the termini.

The FHWA proposes to amend section 6B-36 to a "may" condition. This will allow highway agencies to use the sign only where needed to give motorists specific guidance information.

The proposed change will impose no additional costs on highway agencies.

Traffic Control Systems for Railroad-Highway Grade Crossings (Part VIII)

(18) Request VIII-18 (Chng.)—Delete Traffic Signal Preemption Drawing, Figure 8-8. The NCUTCD requests that section 8C-6 be modified by deleting Figure 8-8. The figure does not represent a standard application, is technical in nature, and the subject of preemption is more appropriately and thoroughly discussed in the Traffic Control Devices Handbook (TCDH).[4]

The FHWA supports the NCUTCD request. The proposed deletion will impose no additional cost on highway agencies.

Traffic Control for Bicycle Facilities (Part IX)

(19) Request IX-4 (Chng.)—U.S. Bicycle Route Marker (M1-9). The American Association of Highway and Transportation Officials through the NCUTCD requests that section 9B-20 and the M1-9 sign be amended by switching the location of symbol and route number and reducing the size of the numbers in the route number. These changes will emphasize the bicycle route aspect of the sign rather than the bicycle route number. Reducing the size of the numbers should eliminate confusion by motorists who may mistake the bicycle route number for a highway route number and still be large enough to satisfactorily fill the bicyclist's needs.

The FHWA proposes to amend section 9B-20 as recommended. To offset the minimal added costs associated with this, a 3 year implementation period is proposed.

This notice of proposed amendments to the MUTCD is issued under the authority of 23 U.S.C. 109(d), 315, and 402(a), and the delegation of authority in 49 CFR 1.48(b).

The FHWA has determined that this document contains neither a major rule under Executive Order 12291 nor a significant proposal under the regulatory policies and procedures of the Department of Transportation. For the reasons stated herein under the criteria of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, it is certified that this action will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. Due to the preliminary nature of this inquiry, a regulatory evaluation has not been prepared at this time. The expected impact of the changes requested is so minimal that a full regulatory evaluation does not appear to be warranted. The need to further evaluate economic consequences will be reviewed on the basis of the comments submitted in response to this notice.

[Notice No. 575]

Distilled Spirits Plants—Mixtures of Distilled Spirits and Wine

AGENCY: Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, Treasury.

ACTION: Proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: This notice proposes the amendment of the definition of "Spirits or distilled spirits" as contained in T.D. ATF-198, 50 FR 8456 (1985) to exclude those mixtures of wine and spirits which are removed and sold as wine. The amended definition would conform the regulation to 26 U.S.C. 5362(b)(2) which prohibits wines from being removed from the bonded premises of a distilled spirits plant for consumption or sale as wine.

DATE: Written comments must be received by January 16, 1986.

ADDRESSES: Send written comments to: Chief, Distilled Spirits and Tobacco Branch, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, P.O. Box 385, Washington, DC 20044-0385.

Copies of written comments received in response to this notice will be available during normal business hours at: ATF Reading Room, Office of Public Affairs and Disclosure, Room 4405, Federal Building, 12th and Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, DC.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

1. Regulatory Analysis

Prior to the Distilled Spirits Tax Revision Act of 1979, (Pub. L. No. 96-39, Stat. 273 (1979)) taxpaid wine could be received on the bottling/rectifying premises of a distilled spirits plant (DSP) for bottling or rectifying as a wine or wine product or for use in the manufacture of a distilled spirits product. If the DSP proprietor used the wine for a wine or wine product, he may have become liable for additional wine taxes for (1) the increase in volume of the wine, (2) an increase in the taxable grade of the wine, or (3) the manufacture of a wine product.

With the all-in-bond concept, enacted in the Distilled Spirits Tax Revision Act of 1979, the bottling and rectifying operations of a DSP were required to be conducted on the bonded premises of a DSP. However, the Congress made it clear that a wine transferred to the bonded premises of a DSP could only be used in the production of a distilled spirits product and that a wine product was to be produced only on bonded wine cellar premises. Accordingly, the Congress amended 26 U.S.C. 5362(b) to provide that wine could be transferred from a bonded wine cellar to the bonded premises of a DSP, but "Any wine transferred to the bonded premises of a distilled spirits plant . . . may not be removed from such bonded premises for consumption or sale as wine."

Congressional intent was stated in the Senate Report (S. Rept. No. 96-249, on H.R. No. 4537, 96th Cong., 1st Sess. 226 (1979)) as follows: "such wine (which has been transferred to the bonded premises of a DSP) must be used solely in the manufacture of a distilled spirits product . . . All other operations involving the rectification or bottling of wines formerly done on the premises of a distilled spirits plant will be required to be conducted on the premises of a bonded wine cellar or taxpaid wine bottling house."

In promulgating the final rule for 27 CFR Part 19, the Bureau took the position that mixtures of distilled spirits and wine which contain more than 50 percent wine on a proof gallon basis and which are bottled at 48° proof or less were excepted from the requirements relating to liquor bottles, labels and strip stamps; however, such mixtures were subject to the formula requirements in 27 CFR Part 5 and the labeling, advertising and standards of fill regulations as wine under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act, 27 CFR Part 4. The effect of this position was to tax such mixtures as distilled spirits, and required such products to be labeled as wines. Presently, the Bureau has become aware that such a position produces a serious adverse effect on the excise tax revenues derived from such mixtures. This is so because such mixtures, when taxed as a distilled spirits product, on a proof gallon basis, may be taxed at a rate as little as 7 cents a gallon, whereas a like product would be taxed at 17 cents or $2.40 a gallon if produced at a winery. This result may occur because the product may be increased in volume by dilution of proof or even carbonated on a DSP premises without increasing its tax liability.

The Bureau believes that the law and legislative history make it clear that Congress never intended such a result. Therefore, the Bureau has determined that such products are clearly wines and section 5362(b) precludes the removal of such products as a wine from a distilled spirits plant.

Accordingly, this proposal would change the definition of "Spirits or distilled spirits" to make it clear that mixtures of distilled spirits and wine which contain more than 50 percent wine on a proof gallon basis and which are bottled at 48° proof or less would not be a distilled spirits product for tax purposes. Such products would be wines and §§ 19.36 and 19.381 would be amended to prohibit the removal of such wines from the bonded premises of a distilled spirits plant for consumption or sale as wine.

Regulatory Flexibility Act

The provisions of the Regulatory Flexibility Act relating to an initial and final regulatory flexibility analysis (5 U.S.C. 603, 604) are not applicable to this proposal because the notice of proposed rulemaking, if promulgated as a final rule, will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. The proposal will not impose, or otherwise cause, a significant increase in reporting, recordkeeping, or other compliance burdens on a substantial number of small entities. The proposal is not expected to have significant secondary or incidental effects on a substantial number of small entities.

Accordingly, it is hereby certified under the provisions of section 3 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 605(b)) that this notice of proposed rulemaking, if promulgated as a final rule, will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

Executive Order 12291

In compliance with Executive Order 12291, ATF has determined that this proposal is not a "major rule" since it will not result in:

(a) An annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more;

(b) A major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, state, or local government agencies, or geographic regions; or

(c) A significant adverse effect on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, or on the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

Paperwork Reduction Act

The provisions of the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980, Pub. L. 96-511, 44 U.S.C. Chapter 35, and its implementing regulations, 5 CFR Part 1320, do not apply to this notice because no requirement to collect information is proposed.

Public Participation—Written Comments

ATF requests comments concerning this proposed rule from all interested persons. Comments received before the closing date will be carefully considered. Comments received after the closing date and too late for consideration will be treated as possible suggestions for future ATF action.

ATF will not recognize any material or comments as confidential. Comments may be disclosed to the public. DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

[AAG/A Order No. 23–85]

Privacy Act; Exemption of Records Systems

AGENCY: Department of Justice.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: The Department of Justice, Criminal Division, proposes to exempt certain portions of a new system of records entitled "Office of Special Investigations Displaced Persons Listings, JUSTICE/CRM–027" from subsection (d) of the Privacy Act pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(2). The exemption is required because access to these records could inform the subject of the identity of witnesses and informants. Thus, the release of such information could present a serious impediment to effective law enforcement by endangering the physical safety of witnesses or informants; by leading to the improper influencing of witnesses, the destruction of evidence, or the fabrication of testimony; or by otherwise preventing the successful completion of an investigation.

DATES: All comments must be received by January 16, 1986.

ADDRESS: Address any comments to J. Michael Clark, Acting Assistant Director, General Services Staff, Justice Management Division, Department of Justice, Room 9002, 601 D Street, NW., Washington, DC 20530.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: J. Michael Clark, 272–6474.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: A description of the new system is published in the Notice Section of today's Federal Register. This order relates to individuals rather than small business entities. Nevertheless, pursuant to the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601–612, it is hereby stated that the order will not have "a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities."

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Attorney General by 5 U.S.C. 552a and delegated to me by Attorney General Order No. 793–78, 28 CFR 16.91 is amended to add paragraphs (s) and (t) as set forth below.

Dated: October 2, 1985.

W. Lawrence Wallace,

Assistant Attorney General for Administration.

PART 16—[AMENDED]

1. The authority for Part 16 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 28 U.S.C. 509, 510; 5 U.S.C. 301, 552, 552a; 31 U.S.C. 483a unless otherwise noted.

2. It is proposed to amend 28 CFR 16.91 by adding paragraphs (s) and (t).

§ 16.91 Exemption of Criminal Division Systems—Limited Access, as indicated.

(s) The following system of records is exempted from 5 U.S.C. 552a(d).

(1) Office of Special Investigations Displaced Persons Listings (JUSTICE/CRM–027)

This exemption applies to the extent that the records in this system are subject to exemption pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(2).

(t) Exemption from subsection (d) is justified for the following reasons:

(1) Access to records contained in this system could inform the subject of the identity of witnesses or informants. The release of such information could present a serious impediment to effective law enforcement by endangering the physical safety of witnesses of informants; by leading to the improper influencing or witnesses, the destruction of evidence, or the fabrication of testimony; or by otherwise preventing the successful completion of an investigation.

[AAG/A Order No. 25–85]

Privacy Act; Exemption of Records Systems

AGENCY: Department of Justice.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: The United States Marshals Service (USMS), Department of Justice, proposes to exempt four systems of records from certain provisions of the Privacy Act.

Specifically, the USMS proposes to exempt the Threat Analysis Information System (JUSTICE/USM–009) from subsections (c) (3) and (4), (d), (e) (1), (2) and (3), (e)(4) (G) and (H), (e)(5), (e)(8), (f) and (g) of the Privacy Act pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a (j)(2). These exemptions are necessary because adherence to these provisions of the Act would present a serious impediment to security measures necessary for the fulfillment of law enforcement and the protection of participants in the judicial process, including but not limited to judges, witnesses, U.S. Attorneys, etc. For example, persons who have directly threatened or pose a violent threat to USMS protecteees could learn that countermeasures to specific threat situations are being developed and implemented. The exceptions will preclude such knowledge and thereby deny threat sources the opportunity to circumvent law enforcement and security efforts.

The USMS also proposes to exempt from subsections (c)(3) and (d) of the Privacy Act a system entitled "Judicial Facility Security Index System (JUSTICE/USM–010)" pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(5). This exemption is necessary to protect the identity of confidential sources.

Finally, the USMS also proposes to exempt from subsections (c) (3) and (4), (d), (e) (1), (2) and (3), (e)(4) (G) and (H), (e)(5), (e)(8), (f) and (g) of the Privacy Act a system entitled "U.S. Marshals Service Freedom of Information/Privacy Act (FOIA/PA) Files (JUSTICE/USM–012)" and from subsections (c) (3) and (4), (d), (e) (2), and (3), (e)(4) (G) and (H), (e)(8), (f), and (g) of the Privacy Act a system entitled "U.S. Marshals Service Administrative Proceedings, Claims and Civil Litigation Files (JUSTICE/USM–013)". The exemptions are needed to protect the integrity of civil litigation, criminal investigatory information, the privacy of third parties and the identity of confidential sources.

DATE: Submit comments by January 16, 1986.

ADDRESS: Address comments to J. Michael Clark, Acting Assistant Director, General Services Staff, Justice Management Division, Room 9002, Department of Justice, 601 D Street, NW., Washington, DC 20530.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: J. Michael Clark, (202) 272–6474.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: All of the above-named systems are being published in full text in the Notice Section of today's Federal Register.

This Order relates to individuals rather than small business entities. Nevertheless, pursuant to the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601–612, it is hereby stated that the order will not have "a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities."

List of Subjects in 28 CFR Part 16

Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Freedom of Information, Privacy, Sunshine Act.

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Attorney General by U.S.C. 552a and delegated to me by Attorney General order 793–78, it is proposed that 28 CFR 16.101 be amended as set forth below.

Dated: November 12, 1985.

W. Lawrence Wallace,

Assistant Attorney General for Administration.

PART 16—[AMENDED]

1. The authority for Part 16 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 28 U.S.C. 509, 510; 5 U.S.C. 301, 552, 552a; 31 U.S.C. 483a unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 16.101 is amended by redesignating existing paragraph (g) as paragraph (o), by revising the last sentence of newly redesignated paragraph (o), and by adding new paragraphs (g) through (n).

§ 16.101 Exemption of U.S. Marshals Service Systems—Limited access, as indicated.

* * * * *

(g) The following system of records is exempt from 5 U.S.C. 552a (c)(3) and (4), (d), (e)(1), (2) and (3), (e)(4)(G) and (H), (e)(5), (e)(8), (f) and (g):

(1) U.S. Marshals Service Threat Analysis Information System (JUSTICE/USM–009).

These exemptions apply only to the extent that information in this system is subject to exemption pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(j)(2).

(h) Exemptions from the particular subsections are justified for the following reasons:

(1) From subsection (c)(3) because to release the disclosure accounting would permit a person to determine whether he or she has been identified as a specific threat to USMS protectees and to determine the need for countermeasures to USMS protective activities and thereby present a serious impediment to law enforcement.

(2) From subsection (c)(4) because it is inapplicable since an exemption is being claimed for subsection (d).

(3) From subsection (d) because to permit access to records would inform a person of the nature and scope of information obtained as to his or her threat-related activities and of the identity of confidential sources, and afford the person sufficient information to develop countermeasures to thwart protective arrangements and endanger lives of USMS protectees, informants, etc. To permit amendment of the records would interfere with ongoing criminal law enforcement and impose an impossible administrative burden requiring criminal investigations to be continuously reinvestigated.

(4) From subsections (e)(1) and (5) because the collection of investigatory used to access the existence, extent and likelihood of a threat situation necessarily includes material from which it is impossible to identify and segregate information which may not be important to the conduct of a thorough assessment. It is often impossible to determine in advance if all information collected is accurate, relevant, timely and complete but, in the interests of developing effective protective measures, it is necessary that the U.S. Marshals Service retain this information in order to establish patterns of activity to aid in accurately assessing threat situations. The restrictions of subsections (e)(1) and (5) would impede the protective responsibilities of the Service and could result in death or serious injury to Marshals Service protectees.

(5) From subsection (e)(2) because to collect information from the subject individual would serve notice that he or she is identified as a specific threat to USMS protectees and would enable the subject individual to develop countermeasures to protective activities and thereby present a serious impediment to law enforcement.

(6) From subsection (e)(3) because to inform individuals as required by this subsection would enable the subject individual to develop countermeasures to USMS protective arrangements or identify confidential sources and thereby present a serious impediment to law enforcement.

(7) From subsections (e)(4)(G) and (H) because they are inapplicable since an exemption is being claimed for subsections (d) and (f) of the Act.

(8) From subsection (e)(8) because to serve notice would give persons sufficient warning to develop countermeasures to protective arrangements and thereby present a serious impediment to law enforcement through compromise of protective procedures, etc.

(9) From subsection (f) because this system of records is exempt from the provisions of subsection (d).

(10) From subsection (g) because it is inapplicable since an exemption is being claimed for subsections (d) and (f).

(i) The following system of records is exempt from 5 U.S.C. 552a(c)(3) and (d):

(1) Judicial Facility Securjty Index System (JUSTICE/USM–010).

These exemptions apply only to the extent that information in this system is exempt pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(5).

(j) Exemptions from the particular subsections are justified for the following reasons:

(1) From subsection (c)(3) only to the extent that release of the disclosure accounting would reveal the identity of a confidential source.

(2) From subsection (d) only to the extent that access to information would reveal the identity of a confidential source.

(k) The following system of records is exempt from 5 U.S.C. 552a (c)(3) and (4), (d), (e)(1), (2) and (3), (e)(4)(G) and (H), (e)(5), (e)(8), (f) and (g):

(1) U.S. Marshals Service Freedom of Information/Privacy Act (FOIA/PA) Files (JUSTICE/USM–012).

These exemptions apply only to the extent that information in this system is subject to exemption pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a (j)(2), (k)(2) and (k)(5).

(l) Because this system contains Department of Justice civil and criminal law enforcement, investigatory records, exemptions from the particular subsections are justified for the following reasons:

(1) From subsection (c)(3) because to release the disclosure accounting would permit the subject of an investigation to obtain valuable information concerning the existence and nature of the investigation and present a serious impediment to law enforcement.

(2) From subsection (c)(4) because that portion of this system which consists of investigatory records compiled for law enforcement purposes is being exempted from the provisions of subsection (d), rendering this provision not applicable.

(3) From subsection (d) because to permit access to investigatory records would reveal the identity of confidential sources and impede ongoing investigative or law enforcement activities by the premature disclosure of information related to those efforts. To permit amendment of the records would interfere with ongoing criminal law enforcement and impose an impossible administative burden by requiring criminal investigations to be continuously reinvestigated.

(4) From subsections (e)(1) and (5) because it is often impossible to determine in advance if investigatory records contained in this system are accurate, relevant, timely and complete but, in the interests of effective law enforcement, it is necessary to retain this information to aid in establishing patterns of activity and provide leads in criminal investigations.

(5) From subsection (e)(2) because to collect information from the subject individual would serve notice that he or she is the subject of criminal investigative or law enforcement activity and thereby present a serious impediment to law enforcement.

(6) From subsection (e)(3) because to inform individuals as required by this subsection would enable the subject individual to identify confidential sources, reveal the existence of an investigation, and compromise law enforcement efforts.

(7) From subsection (e)(4)(G) and (H) because they are inapplicable since an exemption is being claimed for subsections (d) and (f) for investigatory records contained in this system.

(8) From subsection (e)(8) because to serve notice would give persons sufficient warning to evade law enforcement efforts.

(9) From subsection (f) because investigatory records contained in this system are exempt from the provisions of subsection (d).

(10) From subsection (g) because it is inapplicable since an exemption is being claimed for subsections (d) and (f).

(m) The following system of records is exempt from 5 U.S.C. 552a (c)(3) and (4), (d), (e)(2) and (3), (e)(4)(G) and (H), (e)(8), (f) and (g):

(1) U.S. Marshals Service Administrative Proceedings, Claims and Civil Litigation Files (JUSTICE/USM–013)

These exemptions apply only to the extent that information in this system is subject to exemption pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a (j)(2) or (k)(5).

(n) Exemptions from the particular subsections are justified for the following reasons:

(1) From subsection (c)(3) because to release the disclosure accounting for disclosures pursuant to the routine uses published for this system would permit the subject of a criminal or civil case or matter under investigation, or a case or matter in litigation, or under regulatory or administrative review or action, to obtain valuable information concerning the nature of that investigation, case or matter, and present a serious impediment to law enforcement or civil legal activities, or reveal a confidential source.

(2) From subsection (c)(4) because the exemption claimed for subsection (d) will make this section inapplicable.

(3) From subsection (d) because to permit access to records contained in this system woud provide information concerning litigation strategy, or case development, and/or reveal the nature of the criminal or civil case or matter under investigation or administrative review, or in litigation, and present a serious impediment to law enforcement or civil legal activities, or reveal a confidential source.

(4) From subsection (e)(2) because effective legal representation, defense, or claim adjudication necessitates collecting information from all individuals having knowledge of the criminal or civil case or matter. To collect information primarily from the subject individual would present a serious impediment to law enforcement or civil legal activities.

(5) From subsection (e)(3) because to inform the individuals as required by this subsection would permit the subject of a criminal or civil matter under investigation or administrative review to compromise that investigation or administrative review and thereby impede law enforcement efforts or civil legal activities.

(6) From subsections (e)(4)(G) and (H) because these provisions are inapplicable since this system is exempt from subsection (d) and (f) of the Act.

(7) From subsection (e)(8) because to serve notice would give persons sufficient warning to compromise a criminal or civil investigation or administrative review and thereby impede law enforcement or civil legal activities.

(8) From subsection (f) because this system of records is exempt from the provisions of subsection (d).

(9) From subsection (g) because it is inapplicable since an exemption is claimed for subsections (d) and (f).

(o) * * * The decisions to release information from these systems will be made on a case-by-case basis.

[AAG/A Order No. 27-85]

Privacy Act; Exemption of Records Systems

SUMMARY: The United States Marshals Service (USMS), Department of Justice, proposes to exempt a system of records entitled "Warrant Information System, JUSTICE/USM-007" from subsections (e)(1) and (e)(5) of the Privacy Act. These exemptions are necessary because the relevancy, necessity, accuracy, timeliness and completeness provisions of subsections (e)(1) and (e)(5) would present a serious impediment to law enforcement in that it is impossible to determine in advance what information collected in the course of a criminal investigation will be important or crucial to the apprehension of Federal fugitives or to the law enforcement activities of other agencies. These exemptions will permit the USMS to retain seemingly irrelevant, untimely or inaccurate information which, with the passage of time, would gain new significance in the criminal investigation. In addition, because a new paragraph has been added to exempt the system from the additional subsections (e)(1) and (e)(5), the USMS is also republishing existing paragraphs which reflect existing exemptions from other subsections. The existing paragraphs are being republished only to accomplish paragraph redesignation and clarity in Title 28, Part 16, of the Code of Federal Regulations. Their republication has no effect on the public because such republication does not effect any new exemptions.

DATE: Submit any comments by January 16, 1986.

ADDRESS: Address all comments to J. Michael Clark, Acting Assistant Director, General Services Staff, Justice Management Division, United States Department of Justice, Room 9002, 601 D Street NW., Washington, DC 20530.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: A description of the Warrant Information System is published in the Notice Section of today's Federal Register.

This order relates to individuals rather than small business entities. Nevertheless, pursuant to the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 601-612, it is hereby stated that the order will not have "a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities."

Administrative practice and procedure, Courts, Freedom of information, Privacy, Sunshine Acts.

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Attorney General by 5 U.S.C. 552a and delegated to me by Attorney General Order No. 793-78, it is proposed that CFR 16.101 be amended as set forth below.

Dated: November 14, 1985.

W. Lawrence Wallace,

Assistant Attorney General for Administration.

PART 16—[AMENDED]

1. The authority for Part 16 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 28 U.S.C. 509, 510; 5 U.S.C. 301, 552, 552a; 31 U.S.C. 483a unless otherwise noted.

2. Section 16.101 is amended by revising the introductory text of paragraph (a); by redesignating paragraphs (b)(4) through (b)(9) as paragraphs (b)(5) through (b)(10); by adding a new paragraph (b)(4); and by revising paragraphs (d)(5) through (7) and (d)(9) and paragraphs (f)(4) through (f)(9).

§ 16.101 Exemption of U.S. Marshals Service Systems—Limited Access, as indicated.

(a) The following system of records is exempt from 5 U.S.C. 552(a) (c)(3) and (4), (d), (e)(1), (2) and (3), (e)(4)(G) and (H), (e)(5), (e)(8), (f) and (g):

* * * * *

(b) * * *

(4) From subsections (e)(1) and (e)(5) because the requirements of these subsections would present a serious impediment to law enforcement in that it is impossible to determine in advance what information collected during an investigation will be important or crucial to the apprehension of Federal fugitives. In the interest of effective law enforcement, it is appropriate in a thorough investigation to retain seemingly irrelevant, untimely, or inaccurate information which, with the passage of time, would aid in establishing patterns of activity and provide investigative leads toward fugitive apprehension and assist in law enforcement activities of other agencies.

* * * * *

(5) From subsection (e)(3) for the reason stated in (b)(6) of this section.

(6) From subsections (e)(4)(G) and (H) for the reason stated in (b)(7) of this section.

* * * * *

(9) From subsection (g) for the reason stated in (b)(10) of this section.

* * * * *

(f) * * *

(4) From subsection (e)(2) because the requirement that information be collected to the greatest extent practical from the subject individual would present a serious impediment to law enforcement because the subject of the investigation or prosecution would be placed on notice as to the existence of the investigation and would therefore be able to compromise the investigation and avoid detection or apprehension.

(5) From subsection (e)(3) for the reason stated in (b)(6) of this section.

(6) From subsections (e)(4)(G) and (H) for the reason stated in paragraph (b)(7) of this section.

(7) From subsection (e)(8) because the individual notice requirement of this subsection would present a serious impediment to law enforcement in that the subject of the investigation would be alerted as to the existence of the investigation and therefore be able to compromise the investigation and avoid detection, subpoena, etc.

(6) From subsection (f) because procedures for notice to an individual pursuant to subsection (f)(1) as to the existence of records dealing with investigations of criminal or civil law violations would enable the individual to compromise the investigation and evade detection or apprehension. Since an exemption is being claimed for subsection (d) of the Act, the rules required pursuant to subsections (f)(2) through (f)(5) are not applicable to this system.

(9) From subsection (g) for the reason stated in (b)(10) of this section.

NATIONAL LABOR RELATIONS BOARD

29 CFR Part 102

Procedural Rules; Proposed Revision of Rule

AGENCY: National Labor Relations Board.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: The schedule of fees charged by the National Labor Relations Board for document search conducted in response to requests for documents made pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act has not been changed since initially established in February 1975. These proposed revisions serve only to change the rule to reflect the direct personnel cost of document searches under current salary levels.

DATE: Comments by January 16, 1986.

ADDRESS: Send or deliver written comments to: John C. Truesdale, Executive Secretary, 1717 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Room 701, Washington, DC 20570, Telephone: (202) 254-9430.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: John C. Truesdale, Executive Secretary, 1717 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Room 701, Washington, DC 20570, Telephone: (202) 254-9430.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Pursuant to its authority under section 6 of the National Labor Relations Act, as amended (49 Stat. 452; 29 U.S.C. 156), and in accordance with the requirements of section 552(a)(4)(A) of the Freedom of Information Act, the National Labor Relations Board hereby gives notice of its intent to promulgate a revision to its rule establishing a uniform schedule of fees to provide for recovery of the direct costs of record search and duplication incurred in responding to requests for Agency records, made pursuant to section 552(a)(2) and (3) of this Freedom of Information Act, as amended (5 U.S.C. 552(a)(2) and (3)).

The present fee schedule as set forth in § 102.117(c)(2)(iv)(a) of the Board's rules was established in 1975 after rulemaking proceedings (40 FR 2591-2592, January 14, 1975; 40 FR 7290-7291, February 19, 1975) and provides for charges of $1.10 for each one-quarter hour or portion thereof of clerical time and $2.85 for each one-quarter hour or portion thereof of professional time. As stated in the rulemaking notice (40 FR 2582) the charges were based upon the cost to the Agency at that time of salary and personnel benefits for clerical employees at the GS-5 salary level and professional employees at the GS-13 salary level. Current experience is that these grade levels continue to represent the average level at which this work is being performed. The 1985 cost to the Agency of salary and personnel benefits for employees at those grade levels, computed on the basis of 225 days (1,800 hours) on-duty time per year, will be $10.15 per hour for clerical employees at Grade 5, Step 5, and $26.51 per hour for a professional employee at Grade 13, Step 5. It is therefore proposed that the schedule of fees be revised to provide for a charge of $2.50 for each one-quarter hour or portion thereof of clerical time and a charge of $6.60 for each one-quarter hour or portion thereof of professional time. The other elements of the schedule of fees, including the 10-cent-per-page charge for duplication of records, will remain unchanged.

List of Subjects in 29 CFR Part 102

Administrative practice and procedure, Freedom of information.

Accordingly, it is proposed to amend 29 CFR Part 102 as follows:

PART 102—RULES AND REGULATIONS, SERIES 8, AS AMENDED

1. The authority citation for 29 CFR Part 102 is revised to read as follows:

2. Section 102.117 is amended by revising paragraph (c)(2)(iv)(a) to read as follows: The introductory text of (c)(2)(iv) is shown for the convenience of the reader and remains unchanged.

List of Subjects in 36 CFR Part 1254

Archives and records.

For the reasons set forth in the preamble, NARA proposes to amend Part 1254 as follows:

PART 1254—[AMENDED]

1. The authority citation for Part 1254 continues to read as follows:

Authority: 44 U.S.C. 2101–2118.

2. Section 1254.26 is added to read as follows:

§ 1254.26 Additional rules for use of certain research rooms in the National Archives Building and the Washington National Records Center.

(a) The following procedures shall be observed for use of all archival research rooms in the National Archives Building and in the Washington National Records Center except the Microfilm Research Room and the Motion Pictures Research Room in the National Archives Building. These procedures are in addition to the procedures specified elsewhere in this Part.

(b) All researchers entering the National Archives Building shall complete the Equipment Log at the guard's desk in the lobby in order to bring personal typewriters, tape recorders, cameras, etc., into the building. The log will evidence personal ownership and will be checked by the guard when such equipment is removed from the building.

(c) Researchers shall present a valid researcher identification card to the guard or research room staff on entering the room. All researchers are required to sign each day the Daily Registration Book at the entrance to the research room. Researchers will also record the time they leave the research room at the end of the visit for that day. Researchers are not required to sign in or out when leaving the area temporarily.

(d) Researchers may not bring into the research rooms overcoats, raincoats, hats, personal copying equipment including personal paper to paper copiers, briefcases, purses, notebooks, notepaper, note cards, folders or other containers. These items may be stored on a daily basis at no cost in lockers available in the hallway adjacent to the various research rooms. The following exceptions may be granted:

(1) Small handbags and purses for the storage of currency, credit cards, drivers licenses and other identification cards, etc. may be brought into research rooms, but are subject to inspection when the researcher enters or leaves the room. The guard or research room attendant shall judge whether the handbag or purse may be considered small for purposes of this section;

(2) Notes, references, lists of records to be consulted, and other reference materials may be admitted if the Chief of the branch administering the research room determines they are essential to a researcher's work requirements. Materials approved for admission will be stamped to indicate that they are the researcher's property and will be presented to the guard or attendant when the researcher enters the research room;

(3) Typewriters, personal computers, tape recorders, and hand-held cameras may be admitted by the Reference Service Branch Chief (NNIR) or the Military Field Branch Chief (NNMF) provided that they are inspected, approved, and tagged prior to admittance; and

(4) Notepaper and notecards provided by the National Archives and electrostatic copies made on copying machines in NARA research rooms which are marked with the statement "Reproduced from the Records of the National Archives" may be brought back into the research room on subsequent visits but must be presented on entry to the guard or research room attendent.

(e) NARA will furnish specially marked lined and unlined notepaper and 5x8 notecards, without charge, to researchers for use in the research rooms. Unused note paper and notecards should be returned to the research room attendent at the end of the day.

(f) The personal property of all researchers, including notes, electrostatic copies, typerwriter cases, tape recorders, cameras, etc., will be inspected before removal from the research room. Guards and research room attendants may request that a responsible member of the research room staff examine such personal items prior to their removal from the research room.

3. Section 1254.71 is added to read as follows:

§ 1254.71 Use of the self-service high-volume copier in the National Archives Building.

(a) Researchers who wish to make copies of 100 or more pages may use the self-service copier in Room 7W1 of the National Archives Building. To make use of this copier, researchers should follow the procedures outline in paragraphs (b) through (f) of this section.

(b) Researchers should inform a research room attendant of their desire to use the copier and should identify the boxes containing the documents to be copied. Individual documents to be copied should be tabbed in accordance with the procedures governing the tabbing of documents and returned to their container. Generally, requests to use the copier in 7W1 should be made half a day before a researcher wishes to begin copying.

(c) The attendent will examine the records to determine if they can be copied on the 7W1 self-service copier. If the records are suitable for copying on the high-volume copier, the attendant will ensure that the containers are brought to Room 7W1 and will inform researchers when they will be available there.

(d) The self-service copier in Room 7W1 may be used between 9 a.m. and 12 noon and between 1 p.m. and 5 a.m., Monday through Friday. The continuous use by individual researchers of this copier may be limited to 2 hours if other researchers wish to use the machine.

(e) Researchers must purchase a prepaid debit card from the Cashier's Office (Room G–1) between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, to cover the cost of the copies they wish to make. Researchers with deposit accounts may deduct the cost of debit cards from such accounts. These cards, which are available in denominations of $20 and $100, will, when inserted in the copier, enable the user to make a preassigned number of copies; as copies are made, the total value left on the card is reduced until it reaches zero. The fee for self-service copies is found in § 1258.12 of this Chapter.

(f) On completing their copying, researchers shall give their debit card to the copy room attendant, who will verify any remaining value. If the value of the card has not been reduced to zero, the attendant will issue a credit slip for the unused portion. Researchers may obtain a refund for that amount from the Cashiers' Office between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. Researchers with deposit accounts may apply the amount of the refund to such accounts. All cards will be retained by the copy room attendant.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

40 CFR Part 81

[A-S-FRL-2940-2]

Designation of Areas for Air Quality Planning Purposes; Attainment Status Designations, Minnesota

AGENCY: U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA).

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: This notice proposes to change the attainment status designation for Air Quality Control Region 131 (comprised of the seven Counties of Anoka, Carver, Dakota, Hennepin, Ramsey, Scott and Washington) in Minnesota relative to the carbon monoxide (CO) National Ambient Air Quality Standard. The current CO air quality status for all of AQCR 131 is nonattainment of the primary standard. In this notice, USEPA is proposing to retain a primary nonattainment area of approximately 15 square miles within the City of St. Paul and to redesignate the remainder of AQCR 131 to attainment. The purpose of this notice is to discuss the results of USEPA's review of the State's supporting data and to solicit comments on these data and USEPA's proposed action.

DATE: Comments on this revision and on the proposed USEPA action must be received by January 16, 1986.

ADDRESSES: Copies of the redesignation request, technical support documents and the supporting air quality data are available at the following addresses:

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Region V, Air and Radiation Branch (5AR-26), 230 S. Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois 60604

Minnesota Pollution Control Board, Division of Air Quality, 1935 West County Road B-2, Roseville, Minnesota 55113

Comments on this proposed rule should be addressed to: (Please submit an original and three copies, if possible.) SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Under section 107(d) of the Clean Air Act (Act) the Administrator of USEPA has promulgated the National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS) attainment status for each area of every State. See 43 FR 8962 (March 3, 1978) and 43 FR 45993 (October 5, 1978). These area designations may be revised whenever the data warrant.

The primary NAAQS for carbon monoxide (CO), which is set forth at 40 CFR 50.8, is violated if, more than once in a year, CO concentrations exceed either: (1) The maximum allowable 8-hour concentration of 10 milligrams per cublic meter of air (mg/m^3), or (2) the maximum allowable 1-hour concentration of 40 mg/m^3.

USEPA's criteria for supportable redesignation requests, as they pertain to CO, are discussed in the following USEPA memoranda:

1. June 12, 1979, from Richard G. Rhoads, to Directors of Air and Hazardous Materials Divisions, Regions I-X, Subject: Section 107 Redesignation Criteria.

2. April 21, 1983, from Sheldon Meyers, to Directors of Air Management Divisions, Subject: Section 107 Designation Policy Summary.

3. December 23, 1983, from G.T. Helms, to Chiefs of Air Programs Branchs, Region I-X, Subject: Section 107 Questions and Answers.

The USEPA's policy relevant to CO redesignations is summarized as follows:

1. Generally, eight quarters of ambient air quality data showing no violations of the NAAQS are required to support a redesignation to attainment.

2. All available data relative to the attainment status of an area must be reviewed. These data must include the most recent eigth consecutive quarters of quality assured, representative air quality data, plus evidence of an implemented control strategy that USEPA has fully approved. Available modeling data must also be considered.

3. An attainment designation can be supported using the most recent four quarters of exceedance-free ambient data if an acceptable state-of-the-art modeling analysis is providd showing that actual, enforceable emission reductions are responsible for the observed air quality improvement.

On March 3, 1978, (43 FR 9005), USEPA designated Air Quality Control Region (AQCR) 131 (comprised of seven Counties of Anoka, Carver, Dakota, Hennepin, Ramsey, Scott, and Washington) as nonattainment for carbon monoxide (CO). On June 18, 1984, the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency (MPCA) requested that AQCR 131 be redesignated to attainment, except for the St. Paul, Snelling and University street corridors up to one block from the intersection of these Avenues. Specifically, the MPCA proposed nonattainment area is defined as follows:

Along Snelling Avenue, the nonattainment area would end at Sherburne Avenue on the north and approximately 200 feet south of the Snelling and University intersection. Along University Avenue, the nonattainment area would end at Asbury Street on the east and Roy Street on the west.

To support their request, the MPCA submitted air quality monitoring and modeling data for the Minneapolis/St. Paul area (Ramsey and Hennepin Counties). No CO data were submitted for the remaining five rural counties because no data are available. Air quality monitoring data were submitted for three monitoring sites in the Minneapolis area, and for five sites in the St. Paul area for the period of 1981-1983. Specifically, for the University and Snelling intersection, a special monitoring sudy as conducted for the period of April and May of 1983. In addition, because of USEPA's previously expressed concerns over the possible existence of isolated, non-monitored CO hotspots (localized areas with CO standard violations), the Minnesota Department of Transportation (MnDOT) conducted modeling for the University and Snelling intersection and three nearby interesections along University and Snelling Avenues. As an explanation of the reason for air quality improvement in AQCR 131, the State discussed the implementation of transportation control measures. On November 7, 1984, in response to USEPA's request, the State submitted traffic distribution and land use maps for the St. Paul area.

USEPA's Evaluation of Technical Support Data

Monitoring

The monitoring data submitted for the period of 1981-1983 for the nine monitoring sites in Minneapolis/ St. Paul area showed no violations of the CO NAAQS for the most recent eight quartes of data, except at the two University Avenue sites, 1549 and 1569, in St. Paul. The requested nonattainment area includes the area around sites 1549 and 1569. The special monitoring study was conducted to determine whether the hotspot nature of the CO problem at the University and Snelling intersection was just limited to that intersection. The study demonstrated the hotspot nature of the CO problem in the vicinity of the intersection.

Modeling

The State submitted modeling performed by the MnDOT for the University and Snelling intersection and three nearby intersections along University and Snelling Avenues. For the modeling to be technically acceptable, it must conform with USEPA's guidelines which do not allow the calibration of modeling data. Calibration is a forced adjustment of modeled results to match monitored results. For the University and Snelling intersection, MnDOT calibrated the modeling data by forcing the modeling results to match the monitored worse-case concentrations taken from the University and Snelling monitors. For the University and Snelling modeling data to be acceptable uncalibrated use of the model should have been performed. For the other three intersections, MnDOT calibrated the modeling results against the University and Snelling concentration distributions. Thus, MnDOT has assumed that the pattern of CO distribution at all the intersections are identical. This is technically incorrect because a wide variation in concentration distribution patterns may be expected due to intersecion-specific factors such as: traffic control characteristics; intersection/traffic lane geometry; and traffic distribution by lane. For the modeling to be acceptable for these three non-monitored intersections, an intersection-specific analysis should have been performed. In addition to the above concerns, USEPA believes that, for the requested redesignation to be acceptable, modeling must be performed for all of the intersections that might be impacted by high average daily traffic.

Status of Five Rural Counties

As stated above, all the monitoring and modeling analyses have been limited to Hennepin and Ramsey Counties. No CO data were submitted for the remaining five rural counties in AQCR 131 (Anoka, Carver, Dakota, Scott, and Washington) because no data are available. It should be recognized that the original designation of these rural counties as nonattainment for CO in 1978 was based on a conservative assumption by the State and was not based on either monitoring or modeling data specific to these rural counties. USEPA believes it is acceptable to redesignate these five counties to attainment because: (1) The urban population is concentrated in Hennepin and Ramsey Counties. (It is assumed that the highest CO concentrations should be found in these urban counties.); and (2) the worst-case monitors in Hennepin and Ramsey Counties, with the exception of those near Snelling and University Avenues, show no violations of the CO NAAQS.

Evidence of Air Quality Improvement

SIP Status

USEPA approved a CO SIP for AQCR 131 on June 16, 1980 (45 FR 40579) including a State demonstration that implementation of the transportation control measures (TCMs) in the 1979 SIP would result in attainment of the CO NAAQS by December 31, 1982. It is clear from data submitted by the State and USEPA's analysis of MPCA's redesignation request that MPCA has implemented all the committed TCM's except for 1) transit performance funding, to be implemented in the future following the activation of a new Regional Transit Authority, and 2) community-oriented transit demonstration projects. The analysis shows that the probable air quality impacts of not implementing these TCM's is negligible. Even though the majority of the USEPA's approved SIP measures have been implemented, and those not implemented are negligible, portions of AQCR 131 still have not attained the CO NAAQS. This conclusion is based on recent CO monitoring data at the University and Snelling Avenues. As a result of the recent violations monitored at this location, USEPA formally notified the State on February 24, 1984, pursuant to section 110(a)(2)(H) of the CAA, that the current SIP was deficient in the City of St. Paul (Ramsey County) and that it must be revised. On May 20, 1985, the State submitted a revised CO SIP for portions of the City of St. Paul to USEPA for review and approval.

USEPA believes that the CO SIP approved in 1980 is adequate to attain and maintain the CO NAAQS for AQCR 131 with the exception of portions of the City of St. Paul in Ramsey County that it is proposing to maintain as nonattainment in this notice. Therefore, approval of the redesignation of AQCR 131, with the exception of portions of the City of St. Paul, is consistent with USEPA's redesignation policy. The remaining area, however, is subject to further SIP revision and should remain designated nonattainment until USEPA has finally approved the necessary SIP revisions and until the monitoring and other data indicate that the area has attained the CO NAAQS.

Conclusion

USEPA has reviewed all the supporting data and believes the State did not provide sufficient information to justify the State's proposal that the University and Snelling intersection area is the sole hotspot in the area. USEPA believes that a larger area, centered on University and Snelling Avenue, has the potential for air quality violations. To determine the extent of the area where CO hotspots might occur, USEPA reviewed a traffic level map for St. Paul and a land use map for the entire Minneapolis/St. Paul urban area provided by the MPCA. It was assumed that most CO hotspots would occur along arterial streets, rather than freeways, because the lower arterial speeds would result in higher emissions. All of the arterial/arterial intersections with traffic levels equaling or exceeding 30,000 ADT (a traffic level cutpoint which USEPA has estimated has the potential to produce local CO hotspots, based on the CO levels and traffic levels at the University and Snelling intersection) are clustered along University and Snelling Avenues. Along University Avenue, these potential hotspot intersections were found from Eustis on the west to Rice on the east. Along Snelling Avenue, the potential hotspots were found from Larpenteur on the north to Randolph on the south. This analysis implies that the mobile source impacts along these portions of traffic corridors should be given further consideration and that the "reduced" CO nonattainment area should include these corridors. Because the nonattainment area should include all major sources contributing to CO levels, it should be large enough to include any roadways expected to experience traffic changes in the future as a result of transportation control measures. Therefore, USEPA believes the primary nonattainment area should be retained in the following area:

> A two mile wide corridor centered on Snelling Avenue extending from Randolph Avenue on the south to Larpenteur Avenue on the north for a length of approximately five miles intersecting with a second two mile wide corridor centered on University Avenue extending from Eustis Avene on the west to Rice Street on the east for a length of approximately five miles.

The remainder of AQCR 131 can be redesignated to attainment.

It should be noted that the size of the corridors has been selected to insure that future analyses properly consider traffic control impacts on roadways intersecting either Snelling Avenue or University Avenue. The traffic data that are available imply that a significany potential exists for nonattainment problems in this area. USEPA recognizes that a portion of the above area may not actually be in nonattainment of the CO NAAQS. Further redesignation of this revised non-attainment area would be acceptable if an acceptable modeling analysis is conducted showing that the CO nonattainment problem is limited to more restricted hotspots.

USEPA notes that its final rulemaking action redesignating portions of AQCR 131 from primary nonattainment to attainment for CO will make the CO section 110(a)(2)(I) growth restrictions no longer applicable in these areas.

All interested persons are invited to submit written comments on the proposed redesignation. Written comments received by the date specified above will be considered in determining whether USEPA will approve the redesignation. After review of all comments submitted, the Administrator of USEPA will publish in the Federal Register the Agency's final action on the redesignation.

Under 5 U.S.C. 605(b), the Administrator has certified that redesignations do not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities (See 46 FR 8709).

The Office of Management and Budget has exempted this rule from the requirements of section 3 of Executive Order 12291.

[Docket No. 85–22]

Agreements by Ocean Common Carriers and Other Persons Subject to the Shipping Act of 1984

AGENCY: Federal Maritime Commission.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: This proposes to amend the Commission's agreement rules to provide that agreements subject to the Shipping Act of 1984 shall affect only future or prospective activities between or among the parties and may not relate to or affect past activities or events. This should remove any confusion as to the activities which are the proper subject of agreements submitted under the 1984 Act.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Shipping Act of 1984 (the Act or 1984 Act) (46 U.S.C. app. 1701 et seq.) requires that certain agreements among ocean common carriers and among marine terminal operators to engage in specified activities be filed with the Federal Maritime Commission (Commission) (46 U.S.C. app. 1704). Once these agreements become effective, activities undertaken pursuant to them are exempt from the antitrust laws of the United States (46 U.S.C. app. 1706(a) (1) and (2)). In addition, a person is prohibited from operating under an agreement required to be filed under the Act that has not become effective (46 U.S.C. app. 1709(a)(2)).

Following enactment of the 1984 Act, the Commission has received an increasing number of agreements which, in one form or another, contain provisions affecting activities or events which occurred prior to their effective dates. These provisions are particularly pervasive in the area of marine terminal agreements. Under such arrangements, ocean common carriers, which have generally been using port facilities pursuant to the terms of public tariffs or a previously effective agreement, agree with the port for future use of the facilities. These latter agreements often attempt to take into account the use which occurred prior to the effective date of the agreement, e.g. in tonnage formulas or by applying a new and lower rate to the previous usage. There appears to be some confusion in the ocean shipping industry over the appropriateness of such provisions. The Commission is therefore initiating this rulemaking proceeding to clarify the matter.[1]

Under section 15 of the Shipping Act, 1916 (1919 Act) (46 U.S.C. app. 801 et seq.), it was unlawful, before approval, to carry out in whole or in part, directly or indirectly, any subject agreement (46 U.S.C. app. 814). Pursuant to this mandate, the Commission concluded that it:

> . . . may not approve an agreement in such a way as to render lawful that which the statute explicitly declares unlawful, and therefore the Commission may not approve an agreement so as to validate conduct under the agreement prior to its approval.

Mediterrannean Pools Investigation, 9 F.M.C. 264, 301 (1966). See also, Carnation Co. v. Pacific Westbound Conference, 383 U.S. 213, 222 (1966); Pacific Coast European Conference v. FMC, 439 F.2d 514, 520 (D.C. Cir. 1970); River Plate & Brazil Conference v. Pressed Steel Car Co., 227 F.2d 60 (2d Cir. 1955).

The principle enunciated in Mediterranean Pools was used to condemn clauses in several terminal lease agreements which would have made the terms of such agreements effective from the date the assignee commenced the use of the facilities,

[1] The Commission has received an informal request from the Virginia Port Authority and Virginia International Terminals, Inc. to institute a rulemaking in this area. In addition, the Port of Portland has also expressed a need for addressing retroactivity provisions in agreements.

even if prior to the Commission's approval of the arrangement. See Agreements Nos. T–2108 and T–2108–A, 12 F.M.C. 110 (1968); Agreement No. T–2138 12 F.M.C. 126 (1968). In the latter case, the Commission further noted that even though the assignee's use of the terminal facilities prior to Commission approval was pursuant to the Port's published tariff, the crediting of payments for such use to a minimum/maximum provision of the preferential use agreement after it was approved constituted giving effect to the provisions of an unapproved agreement. Agreement No. T–2138, 12 F.M.C. at 132. See also, Pouch Terminal Inc., 20 F.M.C. 753 (1978). In a later case, the Commission determined that a terminal lease agreement's rental formula could not be applied to cargo handled prior to the date of the Commission's approval of the agreement. Virginia Port Authority Petition for Declaratory Order, Docket No. 81–44, 21 S.R.R. 199 (November 6, 1981), aff'd sub nom., Portsmouth Terminals, Inc. v. Federal Maritime Commission, 694 F.2d 281 (D.C. Cir. 1982) (table).

An exception to the above line of cases is the Commission's decision in Agreement No. T–3938, Between the City of Los Angeles and American President Lines, Ltd., unpublished Order served August 24, 1982. In that case, American President Lines (APL) was using the Port of Los Angeles' facilities under a pre-existing agreement, but entered into a new agreement which contained a provision stating that the compensation terms of the new agreement would replace those then in effect as of the date the parties entered into the agreement and not the date the Commission subsequently approved the agreement. The Commission at first required that the provision be deleted. However, following APL's petition for reconsideration,[2] the Commission concluded that the provision was not the type of retroactivity condemned by Mediterranean Pools and its progeny. The Commission noted that, while the particular provision would result in adjustments to compensation already paid under another agreement, those adjustments would not occur until Commission approval, and therefore could be considered prospective payments merely based on past events.

Passage of the 1984 Act has now given the Commission the opportunity to reassess it position vis-a-vis provisions which affect activities which occurred prior to the effective date of an agreement. Though, as indicated above, these provisions generally appear in marine terminal agreements, they can potentially be included in any agreement filed with the Commission.

The 1984 Act provisions relating to agreements appear to indicate that the only agreements subject to the Commission's jurisdiction are those which deal with prospective activities, and not those which somehow affect prior events or activities. For example, section 4 states the the Act applies only to agreements "to" engage in certain specified activities (46 U.S.C. app. 1703). This implies that these arrangements will have a prospective impact. In addition, section 10(a) prohibits anyone from operating under an agreement that has not become effective (46 U.S.C. app. 1709(a)). Moreover, the antitrust exemption provided under the Act applies only to agreements on file with the Commission and in effect when the activity took place (46 U.S.C. app. 1706). These provisions support the proposition that Congress intended that the only activities which can be affected by an agreement under the 1984 Act are those of a future or prospective nature. The proposed rule reflects this position.

It should be further noted that one of the primary arguments for including retroactive-type provisions in an agreement under the 1916 Act was the length of time involved in approving an agreement. The parties to agreements asserted that they wanted to put their arrangements into effect once they agreed upon them and not be subject to the vagaries of the section 15 agreement approval process, with the attendant delays. Whatever the merits of this position, it is less compelling under the 1984 Act. Now, agreements generally become effective 45 days after they are filed and, in certain circumstances, can become effective in as little as 14 days after Federal Register notice of filing is published.[3] Parties to terminal lease arrangements and other subject activities can thus effectuate their business relationships expeditiously. There should be no need, therefore, to attempt to affect prior events. If the parties to these arrangements somehow desire to reward prior use of facilities, be it either pursuant to a public tariff or a previously approved or effective agreement, it appears that they can accomplish their objectives by varying the rates and charges to be assessed under their new agreement and not by affecting in any way the prior usage.

The Commission has determined that this rule is not a "major rule" as defined in Executive Order 12291, 46 FR 12193, February 27, 1981, because it will not result in:

(1) An annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more;

(2) A major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State or local government agencies; or geographic regions; or

(3) Significant adverse effect on competition, employment, investment productivity, innovations, or on the ability of United States-based enterprised to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export Markets.

The Federal Maritime Commission certifies pursuant to section 605(b) of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601, et seq.) that this rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities, including businesses, small organizational units or small governmental jurisdictions. The primary economic impact of these rules would be on marine terminal operators and ocean common carriers, both of which generaly are not small entities.

Second Notice of Proposed Rule Making

In the matter of Establishment of a spectrum utilization policy for the fixed and mobile services' use of certain bands between 947 MHz and 40 GHz; Gen. Docket No. 82-334; FCC 85-599.

Adopted: November 12, 1985.
Released: November 27, 1985.

By the Commission:

Introduction

1. In this Second Notice of Proposed Rule Making (2nd NPRM) we address the issues of relaxing eligibility restrictions and adjusting channel plans for the following bands: 1850–1990 MHz (1.8 GHz), 1990–2110 MHz (2 GHz), 6425–6525 MHz (6.4 GHz), 6525–6875 MHz (6.5 GHz) and 6875–7125 MHz (7 GHz). These issues were raised for all bands but the 6.4 GHz band in the first Notice of Proposed Rule Making (1st NPRM) in this proceeding.[1] However, due to the Commission's desire to afford immediate and adequate remedies to existing licensees who may be displaced from 12.2–12.7 GHz (12.2 GHz) by the direct broadcasting-satellite (DBS) service, we did not treat more general issues in either the First Report and Order (1st R&O)[2] or the Second Report and Order (2nd R&O) in this docket.[3]

2. The 1st NPRM also addressed several other technical issues such as frequency coordination procedures, channel loading standards, minimum path length requirements, and congestion measurements. In adopting the 1st R&O, the Commission stated that a number of issues raised in the 1st NPRM would be addressed in a later phase of the proceeding. We believe that some of these issues have been affected by changed circumstances. Additionally, we have further analyzed the use of microwave bands and have determined that some of our proposals warrant minor modification. The following paragraphs discuss our original proposals for bands between 1.8 and 7 GHz and comments to them and present revised proposals for comment. While this 2nd NPRM deals primarily with the issue of expanding access to the bands, it also takes up the issue of minimum path length requirements and protection to satellites in the geostationary orbit. Remaining technical issues and other bands may be the subject of further notices.

1.8 GHz and 6.5 GHz Private Bands

3. The 1.8 and 6.5 GHz bands are used by private entities, as provided for by Part 94 of the Commission's Rules, primarily for long-haul voice and data transmission. Access to these bands is currently given by § 94.5 to those parties who can establish eligibility under Parts 81, 87 or 90 of the Commission's Rules, except that those whose sole basis for eligibility is established under § 90.75(a)(1), i.e., those who conduct commercial activities in the Business Radio Service, are prohibited from using the bands.[4] The channeling plans for these bands currently provide for 5 and 10 MHz channels.

4. In the 1st NPRM the Commission proposed to take the following action with regard to the 1.8 and 6.5 GHz bands.

(1) Permit access to the bands by all entities except common carriers.

(2) Revise the existing 5 MHz channeling plan at 6,525–6,875 MHz.

(3) Create five new 1 MHz channel pairs from the band segments 6,525–6,530 MHz and 6,870–6,875 MHz.

(4) Create six new 20 MHz channel pairs at 6,525–6,875 MHz by combining 10 MHz channel pairs together.

(5) Impose minimum path length requirements of the bands.

(6) Prohibit the transmission of video signals at 6,525–6,875 MHz.

5. The comments generally supported the proposal to create five 1 MHz channel pairs from the guard band segments 6525–6530 and 6870–6875 MHz. American Petroleum Institute (API) and Association of American Railroads (ARR) were opposed to the proposal to re-pair the 5 MHz channels in the 6.5 GHz band because of potential coordination problems. The API, et al., also stated that there is no need for a 20 MHz channeling plan at 6.5 GHz. With regard to the proposal to permit commercial Business Radio Service licensees access to these bands, parties such as the Utilities Telecommunications Council (UTC), API and ARR expressed concerns about increased interference and accommodation of future needs of the currently authorized users. These

[1] The 1st NPRM, adopted January 13, 1983, 48 FR 6730, proposed changes in the Commission's Rules to accommodate private fixed users who might be displaced from the 12.2–12.7 GHz (12.2 GHz) band by the re-allocation of that spectrum to the broadcasting-satellite service [see, Report and Order in Gen. Doc. 80-603, 47 FR 31555 (July 21, 1982)] and to provide spectrum for growth by private, broadcast and cablecast entities in certain fixed and mobile bands between 1.85 GHz and 31.3 GHz. A list of commenters is contained in Appendix A.

[2] The 1st R&O, 48 FR 50722, provided access in the 6525–6875 MHz and 12.7–13.15 GHz bands for the reaccommodation of existing 12.2 GHz private fixed microwave users who may need to vacate that band in order to permit the implementation of the broadcasting-satellite service and also completed the allocation of the17.7–19.7 GHz band (18 GHz) for private, common carrier, broadcast auxiliary and cable operations [see Second Report and Order in Gen. Doc. 79-188, 48 FR 50322 (1983)].

[3] The 2nd R&O, 50 FR 7336 (February 22, 1985) established new rules governing the use of the 31.0–31.3 GHz band.

[4] See § 94.61(b) (Note 15).

commenters stated that there is a need to preserve high reliability of communications and argued that the bands are or will become congested by current eligibles, and thus the current eligibility restrictions should remain unchanged. On the other hand, some entities, including business users such as May Department Stores and microwave equipment manufacturers apparently speaking on behalf of business radio users, stated that they need to access the bands to handle their communications requirements.

6. In the 1st R&O the Commission stated that licensees with authorizations prior to September 9, 1983, in the 12.2 GHz band would have certain special rights to access other bands, including the 6.5 GHz band, even if they would not normally not have eligibility to use the band. The 1st R&O, however, did not address the question of what spectrum would be used to satisfy new communications requirements generated by parties who would normally use the 12.2 GHz band and who are not eligible for spectrum below 12.2 GHz. In recent years, the Commission has been receiving an increasing number of waiver requests to access the 6.5 GHz band from business service eligibles and from entities who have bandwidth requirements greater than 10 MHz. However, none of the waiver requests so far received have been from licensees of displaced 12.2 GHz links. This indicates that there is a need to provide additional spectrum for new users. We believe that this need should be accommodated by rule rather than by continued use of waivers.

7. Based on review of the comments filed in this proceeding and the waiver requests, it appears that much of the demand for private microwave spectrum below 12.2 GHz could be satisfied by removing the present eligibility restriction on Business Radio entities. The Commission has conducted an analysis of the current usage in the 1.8 and 6.5 GHz bands and several other microwave bands. This analysis indicates that these two bands are capable of accommodating growth in certain geographical areas. In some areas, high performance antennas and additional links would be required to avoid path blockage, but it would appear that substantial additional use can be accommodated by relaxing the current restrictions. Therefore, we are proposing to expand access to the 1.8 and 6.5 GHz bands to permit business use. Similarly, we are proposing to allow entrepreneurs to use the 1.8 and 6.5 GHz bands as well. In PR Doc. 83-426, we concluded that licensing entrepreneurs to use the 1.8 and 6.5 GHz bands to offer private carrier service to Part 94 eligibles generally would effectively negate the prohibition against use of these bands by Business Radio Service eligibles.[5] Therefore, we extended the prohibition to entrepreneurs. In light of our intent to eliminate that restriction and allow access by Business Radio Service eligibles into those bands, we now see no reason to continue to restrict entrepreneurs from using that spectrum to offer a private carrier service to other Part 94 eligibles.[6] We recognize the concerns raised by UTC, API, AAR and some others regarding the importance of communications in the industrial services and the possibilities for congestion raised by their growth. However, without specific and detailed information as to the extent of congestion that might result from our proposed action, we cannont forgo the public benefits to be obtained. Our proposal would enable business eligibles, who are now restricted to use spectrum at GHz and higher, to make better use of the radio spectrum and would extend the economic efficiencies afforded by licensing of entrepreneurs. We request comments on whether access for business users and entrepreneurs should be delayed until September 1988, to permit continued priority for displaced 12.2 GHz users.

8. Basically, these entities need only the capability of transmitting FDM-FM and digital-FM traffic for voice and data, which the existing technical standards will accommodate. We anticipate that with newer technologies, such as new modulation and multiplexing techniques, the 5 and 10 MHz wide channels presently authorized for the bands would be sufficient for a majority of commercial applications.[7]

9. According to the Commission's license data base, the bulk of the 20 MHz channel usage at 6.5 and 12.2 GHz supports the distribution of high quality video educational programs, medical diagnostic activities, corporate communications (video conferencing) and similar types of video transmissions. One example of video distribution is state-wide educational television systems feeding Instruction-Fixed Television Service (ITFS) facilities.[8] These systems typically transmit FM-video signals requiring bandwidths of 18 to 20 MHz. Another type of video use which has been supported at 12.2 GHz is surveillance. This use requires lower signal quality than program distribution and employs 12 MHz double sideband AM transmission as well as 20 MHz FM transmission. Most of these video systems currently use the 12.2 GHz band, though several are using 6.5 GHz frequencies under waiver, or because they were in existence at 6.5 GHz prior to the allocation of the 12.2 GHz band for fixed use in the 1970's.

10. We anticipate that allowing video transmissions in the 6.5 GHz band, by rule, would have a significant adverse impact on the use of the band for the other kinds of services using the band. We are also concerned that accommodating these wideband video requirements could adversely affect the 12.2 GHz reaccommodation process. Our proposals in the 1st NPRM included consideration of other bands (i.e., the 2 GHz, 7 GHz, and, by comment to the 1st NPRM, the 6.4 GHz bands) to handle video requirements.[9] Our revised proposals would accommodate video operations in the 2, 6.4 and 7 GHz bands as discussed below.

11. As indicated above, we are presenting revised proposals for comment. Therefore, with respect to the 1.8 and 6.5 GHz bands we request comments on proposals to amend the Commission's Rules to:

(1) Permit all Part 94 eligibles, including entrepreneurs, to access the bands, thus eliminating the business radio service access prohibition.

(2) Create five 1 MHz channel pairs from the guardband segments 6.525–6.530 MHz and 6.870–6.875 MHz, while retaining the existing 5 and 10 MHz channeling plans.

(3) Impose a minimum path length requirement as discussed below.

2 GHz and 7 GHz Television Auxiliary Bands

12. These bands are currently used by television broadcast entities, as provided for by Part 74 of the Commission's Rules, to support the [5] First Report and Order in PR Doc. 83-426 [FCC 85-53], released April 1, 1985, 50 FR 13338 [April 4, 1985].

[6] In the Further Notice of Proposed Rule Making in PR Doc. 83-426 [FCC 85-454, adopted August 7, 1985, 50 FR 37879 [September 18, 1985]], we proposed to permit operational-fixed service licensees to lease capacity on their private microwave system for the transmission of common carrier communications by non-dominant common carriers.

[7] According to the Commission's licensing data base, only a few private systems operating at 6.5 GHz employ parallel 10 MHz channels, thus indicating that a 10 MHz wide channel is generally sufficient for most non-video needs.

[8] ITFS facilities operate in the 2500—2690 MHz band and are licensed in accordance with the provisions of Subpart I of Part 74 of the Rules.

[9] The 1st R&O provided spectrum at 18 GHz that can be used to support both FM-video (20 MHz channels) and AM-video (6 MHz channels) requirements.

transmission of frequency modulated video signals between studios and broadcast transmitters sites (STL's), between facilities in different cities (intercity relay) and between remote locations and broadcast studios (television pick-up, ENG).

13. In the 1st NPRM we proposed to take the following action with regard to the 2 and 7 GHz bands:

(1) Permit equal access to the bands by private, cable and broadcast entities (common carriers would also have access but only to provide service to cable and broadcast entities).

(2) Pair the existing 25 MHz channels at 7 GHz, which would also be available on an unpaired basis.

(3) Revise the channeling plan at 2 GHz, to provide three 20 MHz channel pairs, which would also be available on an unpaired basis.

(4) Impose antenna standards which would parallel those imposed on the private 1.8 and 6.5 GHz bands.

(5) Permit only frequency modulated video in the bands.

(6) Impose a minimum path length requirement.

14. The broadcast industry was opposed to opening up the bands to non-broadcast entities and felt that the bands should be used on a primary basis to support electronic news gathering (ENG) operations. NAB was opposed to the implementation of minimum path lengths, particularly for mobile/portable operations, and the imposition of antenna standards for mobile operations. It also stated that because of the nature of news gathering operations, coordination with other types of entities would be very difficult, if not impossible.

15. On the other hand, the cable industry supported the concept of permitting like users to utilize the same frequencies.[10] NCTA stated that cable operators need access to these bands to provide ENG and other remote pickup/mobile operations and that cablecasters proposed usage would be no different than the usage currently being made by broadcasters. NCTA was not opposed to the minimum path concept for fixed operations but stated that it should not be imposed on mobile operations. M/A-COM, Inc., an equipment manufacturer, also supported the concept of expanding access to the bands because it feels that inter-service sharing would result in more flexibility in designing communications systems, increased ability to satisfy user needs that cannot now be met, lower equipment and operating costs, and more efficient use of the microwave spectrum.

16. We have conducted utilization analyses of the 2 and 7 GHz bands. Our study shows that about 4,700 links have been authorized in the 7 GHz band to broadcasters, of which 75% of these links support fixed operations (i.e., STL and intercity relay's) and 25% support mobile operations (i.e., ENG). In both cases the traffic is high quality video with accompanying audio employing 25 MHz channels. Our analyses show that about 5070 links (assignments) have been authorized in the 2 GHz band to broadcasters, of which 77% of these links support mobile operations and 23% support fixed operations. In both cases the traffic is high quality video with accompanying audio. The band is channelized for six 17 MHz channels and one 18 MHz channel. The authorized links support normal day-to-day activities such as point-to-point transmission of continuous program material and routine mobile unit coverage of live program materials. However, at random times and random locations, a news event may occur which attracts a large number of mobile units. Given the unpredicatability of these events and the desirability to provide a high quality broadcast signal to the public, it is essential that there be sufficient capacity in the band and that users coordinate use of the band to prevent harmful interference. According to the broadcast industry commenters, most broadcasters prefer to use the 2 GHz band for mobile operations. This is because of ideal propagation characteristics, which include permitting bouncing signals off buildings. Usually it is only in the major television markets that extensive mobile use is made of the 7 GHz band, apparently because there is not sufficient capacity at 2 GHz. Further, it is primarily in rural areas that extensive fixed use is made of the 2 GHz band.

17. In some cases it is not the operator of a broadcast station or cable system who produces program material, rather is a network. For example, there are sports and news networks which provide programming services. These networks also need access to spectrum for mobile services for the delivery in realtime of program material. In the same view, cable system operators that elect to produce their own program material have similar needs. Currently, broadcast networks are eligible for licensing in these bands. We believe such provisions should also extend to cable networks and cable system operators. Therefore, we proposed to extend access to the 1,990–2,110 and 6,876–7,175 MHz bands to cable network entities and cable system operators for mobile remote pickup (ENG) use only.[11] The technical provisions of Part 74, Subpart F would apply to these licensees.[12] Other production entities could apply for operation in the 6,425–6,525 MHz band.

18. Currently, the 2 and 7 GHz bands are allocated on a primary basis to both the fixed and mobile services. This dual allocations has resulted in some complications in carrying out coordination and operations within these bands. Coordination between fixed links is generally static since once a link is installed little change takes place. Coordination involving mobile operations, on the other hand, is dynamic, for as mobile links move about, coordination must be effected again with all fixed and mobile operations. Broadcasters have set up local coordinating committees composed of licensees in the area which act as clearing houses for spectrum requirements on a real time basis using either dedicated wire-lines or radio communications. The close cooperation of licensees in scheduling the shared use of spectrum has worked well in major markets such as Los Angeles and Washington, DC. Considering the circumstances, we will address the coordination of these bands in a separate furture Mass Media docket.

19. One way to reduce coordination complications may be to eliminate mixed co-equal allocations; i.e., have either the fixed service primary or the mobile service primary, but not both. As noted above, 75% of the links authorized in the 7 GHz band are fixed. Likewise, a majority of the assignments in the 2 GHz band are mobile and the band appears better suited propagationally for mobile operations. Therefore, it may prove beneficial to reallocate the 7 GHz band to fixed primary, mobile secondary and to reallocate the 2 GHz band to mobile primary, fixed secondary. We request

[10] On January 7, 1983, Westinghouse filed a Petition for Rule Making seeking modification of Part 78 to permit, among other things, access by cable operators to the 1990–2110 MHz and 6875 MHz bands to provide ENG operations. Action on the allocations issue was deferred to Gen. Doc. 82-334. See MM Doc. 84-888, Amendment of Part 78 of the Commission's Rules concerning licensing procedures and reporting requirements in the Cable Television Relay Service, i.e., NPRM, 49 FR 38160 (September 27, 1984) and R&O, 50 FR 23417 (June 4, 1985).

[11] In Docket MM 85-126, we have already proposed to allow cable networks entry to aural broadcast remote pickup spectrum. Notice of Proposed Rule Making, FCC 85-215, 50 FR 1955 (May 9, 1985).

[12] We have proposed to modify the channeling plans that broadcasters use for the 2 and 7 GHz bands by dividing the bands into segments. See Notice of Proposed Rule Making, FCC 85-64, 50 8172 (February 28, 1985). If we adopt the proposals herein, the channeling arrangement adopted in that proceeding will apply to the new eligibles.

comments on the merits of such an approach.[13]

20. In summary, with respect to the 2 and 7 GHz bands, we are proposing to amend the Commission's Rules to:

(1) Permit cable system operators and network entities to access the bands for transmission of video signals. Use of this spectrum for direct delivery of video programming to the general public or multi-channel cable distribution would not be permitted.[14]

(2) Apply the technical provisions of Parts 74 to the newly eligible entities.

(3) Impose a minimum path length requirement for fixed operations as discussed below.

6.4 GHz Video Band

21. A number of broadcast commenters to the 1st NPRM stated that expanded access to the 2 and 7 GHz bands for video transmissions by non-broadcasters could not be accommodated due to existing congestion in many of the top metropolitan areas. Further, they stated that the additional spectrum should be allocated to support their own growth requirements. Harris and M/A-COM, two equipment manufacturers, and several other commenters to the 1st NPRM suggested that access to the 6.4 GHz band should be expanded to support the mobile/portable requirements of broadcasters, cablecasters and others. In particular, M/A-COM suggested that the band should be channelized into 20 MHz bandwidth channels to support FM/video transmission.

22. The 6.4 GHz band is currently allocated to the mobile service. Common carriers have access on a primary basis to provide service to broadcasters for mobile television pickup, as provided for by Subpart J of Part 21, Local Television Transmisison Service (see § 21.801 et seq.).[15] Broadcasters also have access to the band, but on a secondary basis, to provide mobile television pickup, as provided for by Subpart F of Part 74, Television Broadcast Auxiliary Stations (see § 74.602 [Note 3]).[16] In comparison to the number of mobile licenses in other bands, there are relatively few licenses in the 6.4 GHz band. It appears that it can support an increased number of authorized users without impairing service. Because of the need to find additional specturm to support mobile video operations, we are proposing to modify eligiblity criteria to permit access on a co-equal basis by common carriers, broadcasters, private users, cable system operators and network entities.[17]

23. Part 21 does not impose a channeling plan on the 6.4 GHz band; it does, however, limit the maximum channel bandwidth to 30 MHz, see § 21.804. Part 74 does impose a channeling plan; it consists of four 25 MHz channels centered on 6,437.5, 6,462.5, 6,487.5 and 6,512.5 MHz, see § 74.602. As indicated above, broadcaster use of this band is secondary to common carrier usage. Channelization of the 6.4 GHz band into 20 MHz channels, as suggested by M/A-COM, would provide five channels. However, if future growth of mobile video operations is to be accommodated, more than five channels may be needed.

24. In a recent paper, one manufacturer indicated that it has developed a 12.7 GHz radio employing AM-video emission (C3F/F3E) which may provide signal qualify as good as FM-video. This new radio uses a narrower bandwidth for the transmisison—7 MHz for the video signal and 1 MHz for the audio signal. Other manufacturers are also working toward using narrow bandwidth AM emission for video transmission.[18] Thus, it appears that narrow band video systems may prove practical for this band in the near future.

25. Therefore, we are proposing an additional plan of six 8 MHz channel pairs, which will support AM-video (C3F/F3E). This form of emission, transmitted over a 8 MHz channel may not now provide the signal quality that many desire; however, we are faced with a shortage of spectrum and use of this emission form appears worthy of pursuit. The proposed six 8 MHz channel pairs would occupy only 96 MHz of the 100 MHz allocated; therefore, we could also create two 1 MHz channel pairs which could be used to support aural braodcast needs. As an alternative to this approach, we request comments on the concept of dividing the band into 1 MHz segments, as discussed above for the 2 and 7 GHz bands, and permitting the stacking of any number of these segments to arrive at a channel width appropriate for the specific application.

26. We are proposing the additional channeling plan in order to accommodate new video transmission requirements and relieve congestion in the top television market areas. Our proposal would permit the transmission of both AM-video (C3F/F3E) and FM-video (F3F) signals in this band. However, in revising and expanding the scope of Bulletin No. 10D, "Interference Criteria for Microwave Systems in the Private Microwave Services," The Electronic Industries Association (EIA) has found that the mixing of these two forms of emission within the same band may not provide for effective use of the spectrum. Therefore, we are seeking comments on whether or not emissions in this band should be restricted to AM-video (C3F/F3E) to conserve spectrum. If so, what would be a reasonable grandfathering provision for FM-video equipments now using the band.

27. In order to provide for coordination in the 6.4 GHz band under the proposed eligibility criteria, we would apply the procedure already in effect for the band. This is set forth in § 21.100 of the Commission's Rules, dealing with common carriers. However, we request comments and suggestions for alternatives to the procedure in light of the foreseen operations. We also request comments on whether a secondary allocation to the fixed service would be useful and appropriate for this band and how coordination could be carried out with such an allocation.

28. In summary, with respect to the 6.4 GHz band, we are proposing to amend the Commission's Rules to:

[13] We expect that over time, existing mobile operations would migrate to the 2 and 6.4 GHz bands while existing fixed operations would migrate to the 7 GHz band. Comments should be consider appropriate transition procedures.

[14] Spectrum for multi-channel distribution is available in the 12.7—13.15 and 18.14—18.58 GHz bands.

[15] Currently, seventy licenses have been granted to fifty-six carriers, permitting service anywhere within a company's franchise telephone service area or, where no state franchise service area is designated, anywhere in the continental U.S. Common carriers primarily use the band to provide occasional, temporary television service to broadcasters to relay news and sporting events or special programming on a short haul basis for periods up to six months. However, because the Part 21 rules do require notification to the Commission when service is implemented, actual usage of the 6.4 GHz band by the carriers is not known.

[16] Currently nine licenses have been granted to three broadcast entities.

[17] On July 25, 1985, the Commission adopted a Report and Order in Doc. 84-689 [FCC 85-388, released September 13, 1985, 50 FR 39101 (September 27, 1985)], which re-allocated the band segment 2483.5-2500.0 MHz to the radiodetermination-satellite service. As a result, new fixed and mobile operations which would have used this spectrum will now have to find other spectrum to satisfy their requirements.

(1) Permit all Part 21, 74, 78 and 94 eligibles to access the 6.4 GHz band for transmission of video signals only. Use of this spectrum for direct delivery of video programming to the general public or for multi-channel cable distribution would not be permitted.

(2) Provide an 8 MHz channeling plan for all users in addition to the 25 MHz channeling plan existing in Part 74.

(3) Require frequency coordination of proposed links and amendments to existing links as currently required by § 21.100.

Minimum Path Lengths

29. In the 1st NPRM, the Commission proposed to impose minimum path length requirements on the microwave bands in order to discourage the use of lower microwave bands for short-haul communications paths. With some exceptions, the commenters to the 1st NPRM generally supported the concept of imposing minimum path length requirements on fixed links in bands below 17.7 GHz. However, they were concerned about the practicality of the scheme proposed, whereby the country would be broken into twenty-one zones for purposes of calculating appropriate path length by frequency band. As an alternative to the scheme proposed in the 1st NPRM, the EIA suggested that a more simple scheme should be employed, taking into account low power (<1 watt) and high power (>1 watt) systems. EIA suggests the following minimum distances.

Frequency band (gigahertz)	Minimum path length (kilometer)
	Transmitter power
	High power (>1 W)	Low power (<1 W)
1,850 to 2,110	17	5
6,525 to 7,125	17	5
17,700 to 19,700	0	0

30. The Commission's Rules already contain path length criteria for some bands. In the Second Report and Order in Doc. 18920,[19] the Commission imposed minimum path length requirements on common carrier usage of bands below 17.7 GHz. These minimum path length requirements are set forth in § 21.710 and repeated in the table below.

Frequency band (gigahertz)	Minimum path length (kilometer)
2,110 to 2,130	5
2,160 to 2,180	5

[19] FCC 74-657, 39 FR 25490 (11 July 1974)

Frequency band (gigahertz)	Minimum path length (kilometer)
3,700 to 4,200	17
5,925 to 6,425	17
10,700 to 11,700	5

31. We have calculated the distribution of average and median path lengths for existing fixed links for several bands. Additionally, calculations were made to determine the percentage of links which were less than either 17 km for operations under 10.7 GHz or 5 km for operations between 10.7 GHz and 17.7 GHz. The results of these calculations are tabulated below:

Frequency band (megahertz)	Path length		Number of fixed links	Percent of links < = min dis		Type of entity (rule part)
	Average (kilometer)	Medium (kilometer)		(kilometer)	(percent)
1,850 to 1,990	30.7	29.4	7,436	17	27.0	94
1,990 to 2,110	40.3	37.0	307	17	15.3	74
2,110 to 2,130	30.3	26.0	1,395	17	24.5	21
2,130 to 2,150	23.4	19.0	4,162	17	45.7	94
3,700 to 4,200	41.6	41.3	43,930	17	2.8	21
5,925 to 6,425	38.8	37.8	31,572	17	5.7	21
6,425 to 6,525	n/a	n/a	n/a	n/a	a/a	21,74
6,525 to 6,875	32.7	32.2	12,280	17	21.7	94
6,875 to 7,125	30.3	25.5	977	17	31.5	74
10,700 to 11,700	22.5	19.1	11,517	5	5.4	21
12,200 to 12,700	14.4	9.8	2,257	5	32.9	94
12,700 to 13,150	17.1	14.7	70,887	5	3.8	74/78/94
13,150 to 13,250	19.2	16.5	576	5	9.9	21/74/94
17,700 to 19,700	4.0	3.1	462	5	n/a	all
212,00 to 23,600	1.4	0.7	1,198	5	n/a	21 and 94

The Table shows that common carriers (Part 21) have a low percentage of links that do not meet the minimum path distance, since they are placing shorter paths in the higher bands.

32. Our analysis does not indicate that any significant advantage would be gained by having a minimum path length scheme which is dependent on transmitter power, as proposed by EIA. Since it is our goal to encourage the use of the less-used, higher frequency bands, e.g., 18 and 22 GHz where equipment is now readily available, for short path lengths, we propose to adopt the following minimum path length values. These values would be applicable to all fixed links applied for following the adoption of a Report and Order in this proceeding. However, in order not to be unnecessarily restrictive in uncongested areas, we would license links not in accordance with the criteria so long as their operation would not preclude additional links operating in accordance with the criteria.[20] Further, minor modifications to grandfathered systems not in accordance with the criteria would be allowed as well.

[20] This would be similar to the approach taken with antenna standards in these bands. We normally permit the use of less efficient, Category B, antennas in areas not subject to frequency congestion but may require the use of a high performance, Category A, antenna where interference can be resolved by its use.

Frequency band (megahertz)	Minimum path length (kilometer)
Below 1,850	n/a
1,850 to 2,110	11
6,425 to 7,125	17
12,200 to 13,250	5

As an exception, these minimums would not apply to reaccommodation of the existing 12.2 GHz links; however, we encourage these users to consider higher frequencies for short-hop requirements.

33. For long-haul networks with multiple links where some links are less than 17 km, some additional costs may be incurred because the shorter links would have to use 18 GHz or higher equipment. Several commenters pointed out that mixing frequency bands in a single network is not preferable. However, mixing of 1.8, 2.1, 6.5 and 12.2 GHz band frequencies in the same system is already a fairly common practice, and we believe that such mixing using 18 GHz or higher frequency equipment would not be unduly burdensome.

Protection of Geostationary Orbit

34. With the United States ratification of the Final Acts of the 1979 World Administrative Radio Conference (1979 WARC) on September 6, 1983, the Commission is obliged to adhere to their provisions. One of these provisions, Article 27 of the international Radio Regulations, imposes antenna pointing restriction and power limitations on terrestrial stations operating in co-equally shared bands with the fixed-satellite service (Earth-to-space). These restrictions are necessary to protect the geostationary orbit from harmful interference caused by terrestrial services. In this 2nd NPRM we are taking the opportunity to propose appropriate amendments of the Commission's Rules govering the use of spectrum between 6.425 and 7.075 MHz.[21] This spectrum is currently shared both domestically and internationally on a primary basis by space and terrestrial radio services and, therefore, it is appropriate to impose the Article 27 limitations on terrestrial services. The proposed changes would impose antenna pointing restrictions and power limitations on EIRP as well as transmitter power delivered to the antenna.

Conclusion

35. In this 2nd NPRM, we are proposing to relax eligibility restrictions on access to microwave spectrum between about 2 and 7 GHz in order to satisfy unmet communications requirements. Specifically, the Commission is proposing (1) to permit business service licensees and entrepreneurs access to the 1.8 and 6.5 GHz private bands, (2) to permit cablecasters and network entities access to the 2 and 7 GHz broadcast auxiliary bands and (3) to permit broadcasters, cablecasters, program producers and other video users access to the 6.4 GHz common carrier/broadcast auxiliary band. Our analyses indicate that there is sufficient spectrum to accommodate these expanded uses of the spectrum and we believe that it is in the public interest that they should be permitted. We are also proposing to impose minimum path length criteria on fixed links in order to promote the use of high frequencies for short paths and low frequencies for long paths. Finally, in order to protect satellites on the geostationary orbit from receiving harmful interference, we are proposing to implement in our domestic rules the provisions already adopted internationally for the bands of interest. Comments on these proposals or suggestions for alternatives to these proposals are invited.

[21] We are also proposing a minor amendment to § 94.77 to reflect changes made previously in the allocations for the bands 12.5–12.7 GHz and 12.7–12.75 GHz.

Initial Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

36. Pursuant to the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980, the Commission finds as follows:

37. Reason for Action: To relax eligibility restrictions on bands between 2 and 7 GHz in order to expand access to the bands; and to impose minimum path length requirements on fixed operations.

38. Objective: The Commission is advancing this proposal to accommodate continued growth in the fixed and mobile services use of spectrum above 1 GHz.

39. Legal Basis: The proposal action is authorized under section 4(i), 303(f), 303(g), 303(r), and 331(a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, which authorize the Commission to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary to improve the efficiency of spectrum use.

40. Description, Potential Impact and Number of Small Entities Affected: The dropping of eligibility barriers will result in increased opportunities for radio users and manufacturers some of which are small business. Additionally, it is ordered that the Secretary shall serve a copy of this notice on the Small Business Administration.

41. Reporting, Record Keeping and Other Compliance Requirements: No new requirements are proposed.

42. Federal Rules Which Overlap, Duplicate or Conflict with this Rule: To our knowledge, there are no other Federal Rules that overlap, duplicate or conflict with those contained in the notice.

43. Significant Alternatives: None.

Initial Paperwork Reduction Analysis

44. The proposal contained herein has been analyzed with respect to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980 and found to contain no new or modified form, information collection and/or record keeping, labeling, disclosure, or record retention requirements; and will not increase or decrease burden hours imposed on the public.

Administrative

45. For purpose of this non-restricted rule making proceeding, members of the public are advised that ex parte contacts are permitted from the time the Commission adopts a notice of proposed rule making until the time a public notice is issued stating that substantive disposition of the matter is to be considered at a forthcoming meeting or until a final order disposing of the matter is adopted by the Commission, whichever is earlier. In general, an ex party presentation is any written or oral communication (other than formal written comments/pleadings and formal oral arguments) between a person outside the Commission and a Commissioner or member of the Commission's staff which addresses the merits of the proceeding. Any person who submits a written ex parte presentation must serve a copy of the presentation of the Commission's Secretary for inclusion in the public file. Any person who makes an oral ex parte presentation addressing matters not fully covered in any previously-filed written comments for the proceeding must prepare a written summary of that presentation; on the day of oral presentation, that written summary must be served on the Commission's Secretary for inclusion in the public file, with a copy to the Commission official receiving the oral presentation. Each ex parte presentation described above must also state by docket number the proceeding to which it relates. See generally, § 1.231 of the Commission's Rules, 47 CFR 1.231.

46. Interested persons may file comments on this proposal on or before January 21, 1986, and reply comments on or before February 17, 1986. All relevant and timely comments filed in accordance with §§ 1.415 and 1.419 of our rules and regulations (47 CFR 1.1415 and 1.419) will be considered by the Commission before final action is taken in this proceeding. In reaching its decision, the Commission may take into consideration information and ideas no contained in comments, provided that such information is placed in the public file, and provided that the Commission's reliance on such information is noted in its final decision.

47. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.419 of the Rules and Regulations, 47 CFR § 1.419, formal participations shall file an original and five copies of their comments. Participants wishing each Commissioner to have a personal copy of their comments should file an original and eleven copies. Members of the general public who wish to express their interest by partiicpating informally may do so by submitting one copy of their comments without regard to form (as long as the docket number is clearly stated in the heading). All documents will be available for public inspection during regular business hours in the Commission's Public Reference Room at its headquarters in Washington, DC.

48. For further information concerning this rule making, contact Donald Draper Campbell, 202–653–8113.

Federal Communications Commission.

William J. Tricarico,

Secretary.

[1] The power delivered to the antenna is limited to −3 dBW.

[2] In the band 2,150–2,162 MHz up to 100 watts may be authorized pursuant to § 21.904.

[3] Transmitter rated power output is limited to a maximum of 25 watts of frequencies in the bands 454.6625–455.0000 MHz and 459.6625–460.0000 MHz.

[4] The EIRP of stations in the 10,600–10,680 MHz band must not exceed +40 dBW.

* * * * *

3. Section 21.108 is amended by revising paragraph (e) as follows:

§ 21.108 Directional antennas.

(e) These limitations are necessary to minimize the probability of harmful interference to reception in the bands 5,925–6,525 MHz on board geostationary space stations in the fixed-satellite service (Part 25).

(1) 5,925 to 6,525 MHz. No directional transmitting antenna utilized by a station operating in these bands shall be aimed within 2 degrees of the geostationary-satellite orbit, taking into account atmospheric refraction. However, exception may be made in unusual circumstances upon a showing that there is no reasonable alternative to the transmission path proposed. If there is no evidence that such exception would cause possible harmful interference to an authorized satellite system, said transmission path may be authorized on waiver basis where the maximum value of the equivalent isotropically radiated power (EIRP) does not exceed: (1) +47 dBW for any antenna beam directed within 0.5 degrees of the stationary satellite orbit or (2) +47 to +55 dBW, on a linear decibel scale (8 dB per degree) for any antenna beam directed between 0.5 degrees and 1.5 degrees of the stationary orbit.

(2) Methods for calculating the azimuths to be avoided may be found in: CCIR Report No. 393 (Green Books), New Delhi, 1970; in "Radio-Relay Antenna Pointing for controlled Interference With Geostationary-Satellites" by C. W. Lundgren and A. S. May, Bell System Technical Journal, Vol. 48, No. 10, pp. 3387–3422, December 1969; and in "Geostationary Orbit Avoidance Computer Program" by Richard G. Gould, Common Carrier Bureau Report CC–7201, FCC, Washington, DC, 1972. This latter report is available through the National Technical Information Service, U.S. Department of Commerce, Springfield, VA. 22151, in printed form (PB–211 500) or source card deck (PB–211 501).

§ 74.637 Emissions and emission limitations.

* * * * *

(f) The maximum bandwidth which will be authorized per frequency assignment is set out in the table which follows. Regardless of the maximum authorized bandwidth specified for each frequency band, the Commission reserves the right to issue a license for less than the maximum bandwidth if it appears that less bandwidth would be sufficient to support an applicant's intended communications.

PART 74—[AMENDED]

9. Part 74 is amended by adding a new § 74.643 as follows:

§ 74.643 Interference to geostationary-satellites.

These limitations are necessary to minimize the probability of harmful interference to reception in the bands 6,425–6,525 MHz, 6,875–7,075 MHz and 12.7–12.75 GHz on board geostationary space stations in the fixed-satellite service (Part 25).

(a) 6.425 to 6,525 and 6,875 to 7,075 MHz. No directional transmitting antenna utilized by a station operating in these bands shall be aimed within 2 degrees of the geostationary-satellite orbit, taking into account atmospheric refraction. However, exception may be made in unusual circumstances upon a showing that there is no reasonable alternative to the transmission path proposed. If there is no evidence that such exception would cause possible harmful interference to an authorized satellite system, said transmission path may be authorized on waiver basis where the maximum value of the equivalent isotropically radiated power (EIRP) does not exceed: (1) +47 dBW for any antenna beam directed within 0.5 degrees of the stationary satellite orbit or (2) +47 to +55 dBW, on a linear decible scale (8 dB per degree) for any antenna beam directed between 0.5 degrees and 1.5 degrees of the stationary orbit.

(b) 12.7 to 12.75 GHz. No directional transmitting antenna utilized by a station operating in this band shall be aimed within 1.5 degrees of the geostationary-satellite orbit, taking into account atmospheric refraction. However, exception may be made in unusual circumstances upon a showing that there is no reasonble alternative to the transmission path proposed. If there is no evidence that such exception would cause possible harmful interference to an authorized satellite system, said transmission path may be authorized on waiver basis where the maximum value of the equivalent isotropically radiated power (EIRP) does not exceed +45 dBW for any antenna beam directed within 1.5 degrees of the stationary satellite orbit.

(c) Methods for calculating the azimuths to be avoided may be found in: CCIR Report No. 393 (Green Books), New Delhi, 1970; in "Radio-Relay Antenna Pointing for Controlled Interference With Geostationary-Satellites" by C. W. Lundgren and A. S. May, Bell System Technical Journal, Vol. 48, No. 10, pp. 3387–3422, December 1969; and in "Geostationary Orbit Avoidance Computer Program" by Richard G. Gould, Common Carrier Bureau Report CC–7201, FCC, Washington, DC, 1972. This latter report is available through the National Technical Information Service, U.S. Department of Commerce, Springfield, VA 22151, in printed form (PB–211 500) or source card deck (PB–211 501).

10. Part 74 is amended by adding a new § 74.644 as follows:

§ 74.644 Minimum path lengths for fixed operations.

The distance between end points of a fixed link must equal or exceed the value set forth in the table below, except that in areas not subject to congestion shorter paths lengths may be operated. Note, however, that the Commission may require compliance with the values set forth in the table where interference problems can be resolved by application of the criteria.

Frequency range (MHz)	Minimum path length (km)
1,850 to 7,125	17

§ 74.661 Frequency tolerance.

(a) Stations in this service shall maintain the carrier frequency of each authorized transmitter to within the following percentage of the assigned frequency.

Frequency band (MHz)	Frequency tolerance
	Fixed (percent)	Mobile (percent)
1,990 to 2,110	[1] 0.005	0.005

12,700 to 13,250	[1] 0.005	0.005
17,700 to 18,820	0.003
18,920 to 19,700	0.003

8. Section 94.77 is revised to read as follows:

§ 94.77 Interference to geostationary-satellites.

These limitations are necessary to minimize the probability of harmful interference to reception in the bands 2,655–2,690 MHz, 6,425–6,875 MHz, and 12,700–12,750 MHz on board geostationary-space stations in the fixed-satellite service (Part 25). Stations authorized prior to July 1, 1976 in the band 2,655–2,690 MHz, which exceed the power levels in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section are permitted to operate indefinitely, provided that the operation of such stations does not result in harmful interference to reception in these bands on board geostationary space stations.

(a) 2,655 to 2,690 MHz and 6,425 to 6,875 MHz. No directional transmitting antenna utilized by a station operating in these bands shall be aimed within 2 degrees of the geostationary-satellite orbit, taking into account atmospheric refraction. However, exception may be made in unusual circumstances upon a showing that there is no reasonable alternative to the transmission path proposed. If there is no evidence that such exception would cause possible harmful interference to an authorized satellite system, said transmission path may be authorized on waiver basis where the maximum value of the equivalent isotropically radiated power (EIRP) does not exceed: (1) +47 dBW for any antenna beam directed within 0.5 degrees of the stationary satellite orbit or (2) +47 to +55 dBW on a linear decibel scale (8 dB per degree) for any antenna beam directed between 0.5 degrees and 1.5 degrees of the stationary orbit.

(b) 12,700 to 12,750 MHz. No directional transmitting antenna utilized by a station operating in this band shall be aimed within 1.5 degrees of the geostationary-satellite orbit, taking into account atmospheric refraction. However, exception may be made in unusual circumstances upon a showing that there is no reasonable alternative to the transmission path proposed. If there is no evidence that such exception would cause possible harmful interference to an authorized satellite system, said transmission path may be authorized on wavier basis where the maximum value of the equivalent isotropically radiated power (EIRP) does not exceed +45 dBW for any antenna beam directed within 1.5 degrees of the stationary satellite orbit.

Proposed Rule Making

In the matter of Amendment of § 73.202(b), Table of Allotments, FM Broadcast Stations. (Shingle Springs, California); MM Docket No. 85-4375 RM-4972.

Adopted: November 25, 1985.
Released: December 11, 1985.
By the Chief, Policy and Rules Division.

1. The Commission herein considers a petition for rule making filed by Eric R. Hilding ("petitioner") seeking the allotment of Channel 271A to Shingle Springs, California, as that community's first local FM service. Petitioner failed to specifically state that he will apply for the channel, if allotted. He should do so in his comments to this Notice of Proposed Rule Making.

2. A staff engineering study indicates that channel 271A can be allotted to Shingle Springs, California, in conformity with the minimum distance separation requirements of § 73.207 of the Commission's Rules.

3. In consideration of the above, we believe that it is appropriate to seek comments on the proposal to amend the FM Table of Allotments, § 73.202(b) of the Commission's Rules, with respect to Shingle Springs, California, as follows:

City	Channel No.
	Present	Proposed
Shingle Springs, CA		271A

4. The Commission's authority to institute rule making proceedings, showings required, cut-off procedures, and filing requirements are contained in the attached Appendix and are incorporated by reference herein.

NOTE: A showing of continuing interest is required by paragraph 2 of the Appendix before a channel will be allotted.

5. Interested parties may file comments on or before February 3, 1986, and reply comments on or before February 18, 1986, and are advised to read the Appendix for the proper procedures. Additionally, a copy of such comments should be seved on the petitioners, or their counsel or consultant, as follows: Eric R. Hilding, P.O. Box 1300, Freedom, California 95019-1300.

6. The Commission has determined that the relevant provisions of the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980 do not apply to rule making proceedings to amend the FM Table of Allotments, § 73.202(b) of the Commission's Rules. See, Certification that Sections 603 and 604 of the Regulatory Flexibility Act Do Not Apply to Rule Making to Amend §§ 73.202(b), 73.504 and 73.606(b) of the Commission's Rules, 46 FR 11549, published February 9, 1981.

7. For further information concerning this proceeding, contact Nancy V. Joyner, Mass Media Bureau, (202) 634-6530. However, members of the public should note that from the time a Notice of Proposed Rule Making is issued until the matter is no longer subject to Commission consideration or court review, all ex parte contacts are prohibited in Commission proceedings, such as this one, which involve channel allotments. An ex parte contact is a message (spoken or written) concerning the merits of a pending rule making, other than comments officially filed at the Commission, or oral presentation required by the Commission. Any comment which not been served on the petitoner constitutes an ex parte presentation and shall not be considered in the proceeding. Any reply comment which has not been served on the person(s) who filed the comment, to which the reply is directed, constitutes an ex parte presentation and shall not be considered in the proceeding.

Appendix

1. Pursuant to authority found in sections 4(i), 5(d)(1), 303 (g) and (r), and 307(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and §§ 0.61, 0.204(b) and 0.283 of the Commission's Rules, it is proposed to amend the FM Table of Allotments, § 73.202(b) of the Commission's Rules and Regulations, as set forth in the Notice of Proposed Rule Making to which this Appendix is attached.

2. Showings Required. Comments are invited on the proposal(s) discussed in the Notice of Proposed Rule Making to which this Appendix is attached. Proponent(s) will be expected to answer whatever questions are presented in initial comments. The proponent of a proposed allotment is also expected to file comments even if it only resubmits or incorporates by reference its former pleadings. It should also restate its present intention to apply for the channel if it is allotted and, if authorized, to build a station promptly. Failure to file may lead to denial of the request.

3. Cut-off Procedures. The following procedures will govern the consideration of filings in this proceeding.

(a) Counterproposals advanced in this proceeding itself will be considered, if advanced in initial comments, so that parties may comment on them in reply comments. They will not be considered if advanced in reply comments. (See § 1.420(d) of the Commission's Rules.)

(b) With respect to petitions for rule making which conflict with the proposal(s) in this Notice, they will be considered as comments in the proceeding, and Public Notice to this effect will be given as long as they are filed before the date for filing initial comments herein. If they are filed later than that, they will not be considered in connection with the decision in this docket.

(c) The filing of a counterproposal may lead the Commission to allot a different channel than was requested for any of the communities involved.

4. Comments and Reply Comments; Service. Pursuant to applicable procedures set out in §§ 1.415 and 1.420 of the Commission's Rules and Regulations, interested parties may file comments and reply comments on or before the dates set forth in the Notice of Proposed Rule Making to which this Appendix is attached. All submissions by parties to this proceeding or persons acting on behalf of such parties must be made in written comments, reply comments, or other appropriate pleadings. Comments shall be served on the petitioner by the person filing the comments. Reply comments shall be served on the person(s) who filed comments to which the reply is directed. Such comments and reply comments shall be accompanied by a certificate of service. (See § 1.420(a), (b) and (c) of the Commission's Rules.)

5. Number of Copies. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.420 of the Commission's Rules and Regulations, an original and four copies of all comments, reply comments, pleadings, briefs, or other documents shall be furnished the Commission.

6. Public Inspection of Filings. All filings made in this proceeding will be available for examination by interested parties during regular business hours in the Commission's Public Reference Room at its headquarters, 1919 M Street, NW., Washington, DC

Proposed Rule Making

In the matter of Amendment of § 73.202(b), Table of Allotments, FM Broadcast Stations. (Ponte Vedra, Florida); MM Docket No. 85-376 RM-4988.

Adopted: November 25, 1985.

Released: December 11, 1986.

By the Chief, Policy and Rules Division:

1. A petition for rule making was filed by Emision de Radio Balmaseda, Inc. ("petitioner"), requesting the allotment of Channel 293A to Ponte Vedra, Florida, as that community's first FM service. Petitioner states that if the channel is allotted, it will apply for authority to build and operate a station.

2. Channel 293A can be allotted to Ponte Vedra in compliance with the minimum distance separation requirements. In view of the fact that the proposed allotment could provide a first FM broadcast service to Ponte Vedra, the Commission proposes to amend the FM Table of Allotments, § 73.202(b) of the Rules, as follows:

City	Channel No.
	Present	Proposed
Ponte Vedra, FL		293A

3. The Commission's authority to institute rule making proceedings, showings required, cut-off procedures, and filing requirements are contained in the attached Appendix and are incorporated by reference herein. NOTE: A showing of continuing interest is required by paragraph 2 of the Appendix before a channel will be allotted.

4. Interested parties may file comments on or before February 3, 1986, and reply comments on or before February 18, 1986, and are advised to read the Appendix for the proper procedures. Additionally, a copy of such comments should be served on the petitioners, or their counsel or consultant, as follows: Gary Smithwick, Esq., Keith and Smithwick, 1320 Westgate Drive, Winston-Salem, North Carolina 27103.

[Docket No. 51299-5199]

Atlantic Surf Clam and Ocean Quahog Fisheries

AGENCY: National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS), NOAA, Commerce.

ACTION: Notice of proposed 1986 fishing quotas and request for comments.

SUMMARY: NOAA issues a notice of proposed quotas for the surf clam and ocean quahog fisheries for 1986 and requests public comment. These quotas have been selected from a range defined as the optimum yield for each fishery. The intended effect of this action is to establish allowable harvests of surf clams and ocean quahogs from the fishery conservation zone in 1986.

DATE: Comments will be accepted until January 16, 1986.

ADDRESS: Comments on the proposed 1986 fishing quotas should be sent to Bruce Nicholls, National Marine Fisheries Service, State Fish Pier, Gloucester, Massachusetts, 01930. A copy of the information used to justify the quotas is available for public inspection at this address; copies may be requested in writing.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Bruce Nicholls (Plan Coordinator), 617–281–3600, extension 272.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Fishery Management Plan for the Atlantic Surf Clam and Ocean Quahog Fisheries (FMP) directs the Secretary of Commerce (Secretary), in consultation with the Mid-Atlantic Fishery Management Council, to specify quotas for surf clams and ocean quahogs on an annual basis from within ranges which have been identified as optimum yield for each fishery.

In establishing the quotas, the Regional Director has considered stock assessments, catch records, and other relevant information concerning exploitable biomass and spawning biomass, fishing mortality rates, stock recruitment, projected effort and catches, and areas likely to be reopened to fishing.

The total surf clam harvest for the Mid-Atlantic Area, as of November 1, 1985, was 2.1 million bushels, out of the quota of 2.65 million. As of July 1985, landings from the Georges Bank Area were 299,600 bushels from a quota of 300,000 bushels; this Area closd in late July. Landings from the Nantucket Shoals Area reached 125,000 bushels on November 1, 1985, from a quota of 200,000 bushels. Harvest of ocean quahogs reached 4.2 million bushels on November 1, 1985, from the quota of 4.4 million bushels.

Analyses of stock assessments, catch records, and all other relevant information indicate stable productivity in the surf clam and ocean quahog fisheries. Overall, adequate resources currently exist to maintain current harvest levels in the surf clam fishery and increase harvest levels in the quahog fishery. The proposed increase in the ocean quahog quota will have negligible impact on the stability of the resource, which has exhibited no sign of fluctuation due to fishing pressure, based on stock assessments conducted from 1965–1972.

The following quotas are proposed for the surf clam and ocean quahog fisheries for 1986:

Fishery areas	1986 quota (in bushels)
Mid-Atlantic surf clam	2,650,000
Georges Bank surf clam	300,000
Nantucket Shoals surf clam	200,000
Ocean quahog	6,000,000

Comments on the proposed quotas will be accepted for 30 days. Comments will be considered by the Secretary, who will determine appropriate final annual quotas for each fishery and publish those quotas in the Federal Register.

Other Matters

This action is taken under authority of 50 CFR 652.21 and is taken in compliance with Executive Order 12291. The action is covered by the certification for Amendment 3 to the Fishery Management Plan for Atlantic Surf Clam and Ocean Quahog Fisheries, and under the Regulatory Flexibility Act, that the authorizing regulations do not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

Burley Tobacco; 1986 National Marketing Quota and 1986 Price Support Level for Burley Tobacco

AGENCY: Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) and Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC), United States Department of Agriculture (USDA).

ACTION: Notice of Proposed Revised Determinations and extension of comment period.

SUMMARY: A notice of proposed determinations concerning marketing quotas for the 1986 crop of burley tobacco was published in the Federal Register on November 18, 1985 (50 FR 47415). On November 15, 1985 Pub. L. 99–157 was approved which includes a provision to reduce the level of price support for the 1985 crop of burley tobacco to 148.8 cents per pound. This change in the level of price support resulted in a change in certain calculations with respect to the size of the 1986 burley tobacco marketing quota. Accordingly, it has been determined that the proposed determinations published at 50 FR 47416 should be revised to reflect the change in the level of support for the 1985 crop of burley tobacco which was made by Pub. L. 99–157. In addition, because these revisions may alter the views of individuals responding to the notice, the comment period has been extended from December 31, 1985 to January 10, 1986.

DATE: Comments must be received on or before January 10, 1986 in order to be assured of consideration.

ADDRESS: Send comments to the Director, Commodity Analysis Division, ASCS, U.S. Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, DC 20013, (202) 447–3391.

The Preliminary Regulatory Impact Analysis describing the proposed burley marketing quota set forth in this notice and the impact of implementing it is available on request from Robert L. Tarczy.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This notice has been reviewed in conformity with Executive Order 12291 and Departmental Regulation 1512–1 and has been classified as "not major." This action has been classified "not major" since implementation of these proposed determinations will not result in: (1) An annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more; (2) a major increase in costs or prices for consumers, individual industries, Federal, State or local governments, or geographical region; or (3) significant adverse effects on competition, employment, investment, productivity, innovation, the environment or the ability of United States-based enterprises to compete with foreign-based enterprises in domestic or export markets.

The title and number of the Federal Assistance Program to which this notice applies are: Title—Commodity Loan and Purchases; Number—10.051, as set forth in the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance.

It has been determined that the Regulatory Flexibility Act is not applicable to this notice since neither the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) is required by 5 U.S.C. 553 or any provision of law to publish a notice of proposed rulemaking with respect to the subject matter of this notice.

This program/activity is not subject to the provisions of Executive Order 12372 which requires intergovernmental consultation with State and local officials. See the Notice related to 7 CFR Part 3015, Subpart V, published at 48 FR 29115 (June 24, 1983).

Marketing Quotas

The Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended (hereinafter referred to as the "Act"), requires that the Secretary of Agriculture proclaim by February 1, 1986, marketing quotas for the 1986–87, 1987–88 and 1988–89 marketing years and determine and announce the amount of the national marketing quota for the 1986–87 marketing year for burley tobacco. Since the 1985–86 marketing year is the last year of the three consecutive years for which marketing quotas previously proclaimed will be in effect for burley tobacco, a referendum of farmers engaged in the 1985 production of burley tobacco for the 1985 marketing year will be conducted within 30 days after proclamation of such national marketing quota to determine whether they favor or oppose marketing quotas for the three year period.

Section 319(c) of the Act provides that the national marketing quota for burley tobacco for a marketing year is the amount of that kind of tobacco produced in the United States which the Secretary estimates will be used domestically and will be exported during the marketing year, adjusted upward or downward in such amount as the Secretary, in his discretion, determines is desirable for the purpose of maintaining an adequate supply or for effecting an orderly reduction of supplies to the reserve supply level. The maximum downward adjustment is 10 percent of estimated domestic use and exports.

Section 301(b)(14)(B) of the Act defines "reserve supply level" as the normal supply, plus 5 percent thereof, to insure a supply adequate to meet domestic consumption and export needs in years of drought, flood, or other adverse conditions, as well as in years of plenty. The phrase "normal supply" is defined in section 301(b)(10)(B) of the Act as a normal year's domestic consumption and exports, plus 175 percent of a normal year's domestic consumption and 65 percent of a normal year's exports as an allowance for a normal year's carryover. A "normal year's domestic consumption" is defined in section 301(b)(11)(B) of the Act as the yearly average quantity of burley tobacco produced in the United States that was consumed in the United States during the ten marketing years immediately preceding the marketing year in which such consumption is determined (1985–86), adjusted for current trends in such consumption.

A "normal year's exports" is defined in section 301(b)(12) of the Act as the yearly average quantity produced in the United States that was exported from the United States during the ten marketing years immediately proceeding the marketing year in which such exports are determined (1985–86), adjusted for current trends in such exports.

The reserve supply level for the 1985–86 marketing year was determined to be 1,542 million pounds. This was based on a normal year's domestic consumption of 450 million pounds and a normal year's exports of 140 million pounds (50 FR 21478). The proposed reserve supply level for the 1986–87 marketing year is 1,493 million pounds. This is based on a normal year's domestic consumption of 430 million pounds and a normal year's exports of 145 million pounds.

Section 301(b)(16)(B) of the Act defines "total supply" as the carryover at the beginning of the marketing year (October 1) plus the estimated production in the United States during the calendar year in which the marketing year begins. The total supply for the 1985–86 marketing year is 2,022 million pounds based on carryover of 1,462 million pounds and estimated marketings of 560 million pounds.

The amount of burley tobacco produced and utilized domestically during the 1984–85 marketing year was 402 million pounds, and the amount exported was 154 million pounds, farm sales weight basis. The national marketing quota for burley tobacco for the 1985–86 marketing year is 525 million pounds (50 FR 21478). For the 1986–87 marketing year, utilization in the United States is estimated to be approximately 410 million pounds and exports are estimated to be approximately 173 million pounds. Despite the total supply for the 1985–86 marketing year being 529 million pounds more than the proposed reserve supply level for the 1986–87 marketing year, and downward adjustment shall not exceed 10 percent of such estimated utilization and exports. Accordingly, it is proposed that the national marketing quota be 525 million pounds for the 1986–87 marketing year, the same as for the 1985–86 marketing year.

For each marketing year for which marketing quotas are in effect in accordance with section 319(c) of the Act, the Secretary is authorized to establish a reserve (hereinafter referred to as the "national reserve") from the national marketing quota in an amount not in excess of 1 percent of the national marketing quota to be available for making corrections and adjusting inequities in farm marketing quotas and for establishing marketing quotas for new farms (i.e., farms for which farm marketing quotas have not been otherwise established). A reserve of 465,000 pounds was established for the 1985–86 marketing year (50 FR 21478). It is proposed that a national reserve be established for the 1986–87 marketing year.

Section 319(e) of the Act provides, in part, that each farm marketing quota shall be determined by multiplying the previous year's farm marketing quota by a national factor obtained by dividing the national marketing quota determined under section 319(c) (less the national reserve) by the sum of the farm marketing quotas for the immediately preceding year for all farms for which burley tobacco marketing quotas will be determined for such succeeding marketing year. However, such national factor shall not be less than 90 percent. The national factor for the 1985–86 marketing year was .90 (50 FR 21478).

Section 319(h) of the Act provides that, effective with the marketing year beginning October 1, 1976, no marketing quota, other than a new farm marketing quota, shall be established for a farm on which no burley tobacco was planted or considered planted in any of the five years immediately preceding the year for which farm marketing quotas are being established.

Price Support

Price support is required to be made available for each crop of a kind of tobacco for which quotas are in effect or for which marketing quotas have not been disapproved by producers at a level which is determined in accordance with a formula prescribed in Section 106 of the Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended (the "1949 Act"). With respect to the 1986 crop of burley tobacco, the level of support is determined in accordance with sections 106 (b), (d) and (f) of the 1949 Act.

Section 106(f)(4) of the 1949 Act provides that the level of support for the 1986 crop of burley tobacco, if marketing quots are in effect or are not disapproved by producers, shall be the level in cents per pound at which the 1985 crop of burley tobacco was supported, plus or minus, respectively, the amount by which (A) the support level for the 1986 crop, as determined under section 106(b) of the 1949 Act, is greater or less than (B) the support level for the 1985 crop, as determined under section 106(b) of the 1949 Act, as that difference may be adjusted by the Secretary under section 106(d) of the 1949 Act if the support level under clause (A) is greater than the support level under clause (B). Accordingly, under section 106(f)(4) of the 1949 Act, if marketing quotas are in effect or are not disapproved by producers, the support level for the 1986 crop of burley tobacco will be the 1985 level, adjusted by the difference between (plus or minus) the 1986 "basic support level" and the 1985 "basic support level".

Section 106(b) of the 1949 Act provides that, if marketing quotas are in effect or are not disapproved by producers, that the "basic support level" for any year is determined by multiplying the support level for the 1959 crop of burley tobacco (57.2 cents per pound) by the ratio of the average of the index of prices paid by farmers including wage rates, interest and taxes (referred to as the "parity index") for the three previous calendar years to the average index of such prices paid by farmers, including wage rates, interest and taxes for the 1959 calendar year (298). For the 1986-crop year, the average parity indexes for the three previous years are: 1983—1104; 1984—1127; and 1985—1125 (estimated based on 9-month's data). The preliminary average of the parity indexes for these years is 1119 and the ratio of the 1983–85 index to the 1959 index is 3.76. Accordingly, the preliminary "basic support level" for the 1986 burley tobacco is estimated to be 215.1 cents per pound. For the 1985-crop year, the average parity indexes used to calculate the 1985 "basic support level" were: 1982—1078; 1983—1105; and 1984—1127. the ratio of the 1982–84 index to the 1959 index equaled 3.70. Thus, the "basic support level" for the 1985 crop of burley tobacco equalled 211.6 cents per pound. The difference between the "basic support levels" for the 1985 and 1986 crops of burley tobacco is estimated to be 3.5 cents per pound.

Section 106(d) of the 1949 Act provides that the Secretary may reduce the level of support which would otherwise be established for any grade of tobacco of a crop for which marketing quotas are in effect or are not disapproved by producers which the Secretrary determines will likely be in excess supply. In addition, the weighted average of the level of support for all eligible grades of such tobacco must, after such reduction reflect not less than 65 percent of the increase in the support level for such kind of tobacco which would otherwise be established under section 106 of the Act if the support level is higher than the support level for the preceding crop. Before any such reduction is made, the Secretary must consult with the associations handling price support loans and consideration must be given to the supply and anticipated demand of such tobacco, including the effect of such reduction on other kinds of quota tobacco. In determining whether the supply of any grade of any kind of tobacco of a crop will be excessive, the Secretary shall take into consideration the domestic supply, including domestic inventories, the amount of such tobacco pledged as security for price support loans, and anticipated domestic and export demand, based on the maturity, uniformity and stalk position of such tobacco.

As previously mentioned, supplies of virtually all grades of burley tobacco are excessive (i.e., 529 million pounds above the reserve supply level), with most of the excess supply consisting of tobacco pledged as collateral for price support loans.

Accordingly, if marketing quotas are in effect or are not disapproved by producers, it is proposed that the 1986 support level for burley tobacco be 151.1 cents per pound. This is an increase of 2.3 cents per pound from the 1985 support level of 148.8 cents per pound, or 65 percent of the increase, i.e., 3.5 cents per pound, that otherwise would be established.

Proposed Determinations

Accordingly, comments are requested on the following proposed revised determinations with respect to burley tobacco for the 1986–87 marketing year:

1. A national marketing quota of 525 million pounds.
2. A reserve supply level in the amount of 1,493 million pounds.
3. A national reserve within the range of 500,000 to 5,00,000 pounds.
4. If marketing quotas are in effect or are not disapproved by producers, a price support level limited to 65 percent of the increase that would have been established otherwise in accordance with section 106 of the 1949 Act, which is currently estimated to be 151.1 cents per pound.

Comments are not requested with respect to the national factor for the 1986–87 marketing year since the national factor is determined as the result of a mathematical computation in accordance with the formula prescribed in section 319(e) of the Act and does not involve administrative decision making.

All written submissions will be made available for public inspection from 8:15 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Monday through Friday, in Room 3741-South Building, 14th and Independence Avenue, SW., Washington, DC.

Signed at Washington, DC, on December 11, 1985.

Everett Rank,

Administrator, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, Executive Vice President, Commodity Credit Corporation.

Annual Survey of Manufacturers

The annual survey of manufactures collects industry statistics such as total value of shipments, employment, payroll, work hours, capital expenditures, cost of materials consumed, gross book value of assets, retirements, and depreciation of fixed assets, rental payments, supplemental labor costs, and so forth. This survey while conducted on a sample basis, covers all manufacturing industries, including data on plants under construction but not yet in operation.

Annual Survey of Research and Development

A survey of research and development (R&D) activities is conducted. The major data obtained in this survey include total R&D expenditures by source of funds, the number of scientists and engineers employeed, the amounts spent for pollution abatement and energy R&D, and, for comparative purposes, the total net sales and receipts and the total employment of the company.

Annual Survey of Shipments to Federal Government Agencies

A survey of shipments to the Federal Government is conducted to provide information on the effect of Federal procurement on selected industries by Federal Government agencies.

Annual Survey of Pollution Abatement Costs and Expenditures

The annual survey of pollution abatement expenditures is designed to collect from manufacturers the total expenditures by industry and geographic area to abate pollutant emissions. The survey covers current operating costs and capital expenditures to abate air and water pollution and solid waste. This survey also will obtain the costs recovered from abatement activities and quantities of pollutants abated.

Annual Survey of Plant Capacity

The annual survey of plant capacity obtains information such as the amount of time a plant is in operation; operating rates as related to preferred levels and practical capacity; the value of production and other statistics for actual, preferred, and practical capacity operating levels; and the reasons for operating at less than capacity.

The report forms will be furnished to firms included in these surveys. Copies of survey forms are available on request to the Director, Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233.

Annual Wholesale Trade; Determination

In accordance with Title 13, United States Code, sections 182, 224, and 225, and due Notice of Consideration having been published November 4, 1985 (50 FR 45849), I have determined that the Census Bureau needs to collect data covering year-end inventories and annual purchases and sales to provide a sound statistical basis for the formation of policy by various governmental agencies. These data also apply to a variety of public and business needs. This annual survey is a continuation of similar wholesale trade sector surveys conducted each year since 1978. It provides, on a comparable classification basis, annual sales for 1985, year-end inventories for 1984 and 1985, and purchases for 1985. These data are not available publicly on a timely basis from nongovernmental or other governmental sources.

The Census Bureau will require selected firms operating merchant wholesale establishments in the United States (with sales size determining the probability of selection) to report in the 1985 Annual Wholesale Trade Survey. The sample will provide, with measurable reliability, statistics on the subjects specified above.

We will furnish report forms to the firms covered by this survey and will require their submission within 20 days after receipt. We will provide copies of the forms upon written request to the Director, Bureau of the Census, Washington, DC 20233.

I have directed, therefore, that an annual survey be conducted for the purpose of collecting these data.

Dated: December 12, 1985.

BILLING CODE 3510-07-M

Foreign-Trade Zones Board

Foreign-Trade Zone 92; Harrison County, Mississippi; Application for Subzone Moss Point Marine Shipyard, Escatawpa

An application has been submitted to the Foreign-Trade Zones Board (the Board) by the Greater Gulfport/Biloxi Foreign-Trade Zone, Inc., grantee of Foreign-Trade Zone 92, requesting special-purpose subzone status for the shipyard of Moss Point Marine, Inc., (MPM) in Escatawpa, Mississippi, within the Pascagoula Customs port of entry. The application was submitted pursuant to the provisions of the Foreign-Trade Zones Act, as amended (19 USC 81a-81u), and the regulations of the Board (15 CFR Part 400). It was formally filed on December 4, 1985.

The shipyard is located on the east bank of the Pascagoula River 5 miles north of Pascagoula. The 51-acre shipyard employs 200 persons and is used primarily for the construction of large fishing vessels and supply vessels for the offshore oil and gas industry.

About 10 percent of the value of the vessels involves foreign components such as engines, generators, deck machinery and fittings, gears, anchors, chain, windows, doors, life boats and davits, and air conditioning equipment.

Zone procedures will help MPM to reduce costs on current orders and to compete internationally on bids for new products. The benefits are related to the fact that most of the components are subject to significant duties, and that the finished products, as ocean going vessels, are duty free.

In accordance with the Board's regulations, an examiners committee has been appointed to investigate the application and report to the Board. The committee consists of: John J. Da Ponte, Jr. (Chairman), Director, Foreign-Trade Zones Staff, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, DC 20230; Douglas D. Angle, District Engineer, U.S. Customs Service, South Cental Region, 250 N. Water St., Mobile, AL 36652; and Colonel Carroll H. Dunn, District Engineer, U.S. Army Engineer District Mobile, P.O. Box 2288, Mobile, AL 36628.

Comments concerning the proposed subzone are invited in writing from interested parties. They should be addressed to the Board's Executive Secretary at the address below and postmarked on or before January 31, 1986.

A copy of the application is available for public inspection at each of the following locations:

Port Director's Office, U.S. Customs Service, Pascagoula-Moss Point Bank Building, Room 402, Pascagoula, MS 39567

International Trade Administration

[A-475-503]

Initiation of Antidumping Duty Investigation; Welded Steel Wire Fabric of Concrete Reinforcement from Italy

AGENCY: Import Administration, International Trade Administration, Commerce.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: On the basis of a petition filed in proper form with the U.S. Department of Commerce, we are initiating an antidumping duty investigation to determine whether imports of welded steel wire fabric for concrete reinforcement (wire fabric) from Italy are being, or are likely to be, sold in the United States at less than fair value. We are notifying the U.S. International Trade Commission (ITC) of this action so that it may determine whether imports of the subject merchandise materially injure, or threaten material injury to, a U.S. industry. The ITC will make its preliminary determination on or before January 6, 1986. If this investigation proceeds normally, we will make our preliminary determination on or before April 29, 1986.

EFFECTIVE DATE: December 17, 1985.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Raymond Busen, Office of Investigations, Import Administration, International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 14th Street and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20230; telephone: (202) 377-3464.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

The Petition

On November 20, 1985, we received a petition in proper form filed by the Wire Reinforcement institute, Inc., on behald of the U.S. industry producting wire fabric. In compliance with the filing requirements of § 353.36 of the Commerce Regulations (19 CFR 353.36), the petition alleges that imports of wire fabric from Italy are being, or are likely to be, sold in the United States at less than fair value within the meaning of section 731 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (the Act), and that these imports materially injure, or threaten material injury to, a U.S. industry.

Initiation of Investigation

Under section 732(c) of the Act, we must determine, within 20 days after a petition is filed, whether the petition sets forth the allegations necessary for initiation of an antidumping duty investigation, and whether it contains information reasonably available to the petitioner supporting the allegations. We examined the petition on wire fabric from Italy and found that it meets the requirements of section 732(b) of the Act. Therefore, we are initiating an antidumping duty investigation to determine whether wire fabric (as detiled in the "Scope of Investigation" section of this notice) from Italy is being, or is likely or be, sold in the United States at less than fair value. If our investigation proceeds normally, we will make our preliminary determination on or before April 29, 1986.

Scope of Investigation

For purposes of this investigation, the term "Welded Steel Wire Fabric for Concrete Reinforcement" is defined as material composed of cold-drawn steel wires, whether or not deformed, fabicated into sheets (or so-called mesh) by the process of electric welding. The finished product consists essentially of a series of longitudinal and transverse wires arranged at substantially right angles to each other and welded together at all points of intersection, as described in ASTM Specifictions A–185 and A–497. Wire fabric is currently classifiable under item 642.8010 of the Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated (TSUSA).

United States Price and Foreign Market Value

The petitioner based United States price on prices quoted "direct discharge, duties and discharge paid" to industry sources and various U.S. customers for the summer of 1985.

The petitioner based foreign market value on information concerning U.S. domestic producer costs adjusted for differences in Italy in accordance with § 353.36(a)(7) of the Commerce Department's Regulations. The petitioner priced low carbon industrial quality wire rod in Italy and then made adjustments for converting the wire rod to welded wire fabric. Such adjustments included costs for labor, power and other utility costs associated with producing wire fabric. The Petitioner then added general and administrative expenses to arrive at a foreign market value.

Based on the comparison of the adjusted netback U.S. price and foreign market value, petitioner alleged a dumping margin of 34 percent.

Notification of ITC

Section 732(d) of the Act requires us to notify the ITC of this action and to provide it with the information we used to arrive at this determination. We will notify the ITC and make available to it all nonprivileged and nonconfidential information. We will also allow the ITC access to all privileged and confidential information in our files, provided it confirms in writing that it will not disclose such information either publicly or under an administrative protective order without the written consent of the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Import Administration.

Preliminary Determination by ITC

The ITC will determine by January 6, 1986, whether there is a reasonable indication that imports of wire fabric from Italy materially injure, or threaten material injury, to a U.S. industry. If its determination is negative the investigation will terminate; otherwise, it will proceed according to statutory procedures.

Dated: December 10, 1985.

Gilbert B. Kaplan,

Deputy Assistant Secretary for Import Administration.

[A-201-503]

Initiation of Antidumping Duty Investigation; Welded Steel Wire Fabric for Concrete Reinforcement from Mexico

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: On the basis of a petition filed in proper form with the U.S. Department of Commerce, we are initiating an antidumping duty investigation to determine whether imports of welded steel wire fabric for concrete reinforcement (wire fabric) from Mexico are being, or are likely to be, sold in the United States at less than fair value. We are notifying the U.S. International Trade Commission (ITC) of this action so that it may determine whether imports of the subject merchandise materially injure, or threaten material injury to, a U.S. industry. The ITC will make its preliminary determination on or before January 6, 1986. If this investigation proceeds normally, we will make our preliminary determination on or before April 29, 1986.

EFFECTIVE DATE: December 17, 1985.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Raymond Busen or Patrick O'Mara, Office of Investigations, Import Administration, International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 14th Street and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, DC 20230; telephone: (202) 377–3464 or (202) 377–3798.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

The Petition

On November 20, 1985, we received a petition in proper form filed by the Wire Reinforcement Institute, Inc., on behalf of the U.S. industry producing wire fabric. In compliance with the filing requirements of § 353.36 of the Commerce Regulations (19 CFR 353.36), the petition alleges that imports of wire fabric from Mexico are being, or are likely to be, sold in the United States at less than fair value within the meaning of section 731 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (the Act), and that these imports materially injure, or threaten material injury to, a U.S. industry.

Initiation of Investigation

Under section 732(c) of the Act, we must determine, within 20 days after a petition is filed, whether the petition sets forth the allegations necessary for initiation of an antidumping duty investigation, and whether it contains information reasonably available to the petitioner supporting the allegations. We examined the petition on wire fabric from Mexico and found that it meets the requirements of section 732(b) of the Act. Therefore, we are initiating an antidumping duty investigation to determine whether wire fabric (as detailed in the "Scope of Investigation" section of this notice) from Mexico is being, or is likely to be, sold in the United States at less than fair value. If our investigation proceeds normally, we will make our preliminary determination on or before April 29, 1986.

Scope of Investigation

For purposes of this investigation, the term "Welded Steel Wire Fabric for Concrete Reinforcement" is defined as Bilateral Cotton, Wool and Man-Made Fiber Textile Agreement of July 27 and August 8, 1983, as amended, between the Governments of the United States and Thailand. No agreement was reached on a mutually satisfactory level for this category during consultations material composed of cold-drawn steel wires, wether or not deformed, fabricated into sheets (or so-called mesh) by the process of electric welding. The finished product consists essentially of a series of longitudinal and transverse wires arranged at substantially right angles to each other and welded together at all points of intersection, as described in ASTM Specifications A–185 and A–497. Wire fabric is currently classifiable under item 642.8010 of the Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated (TSUSA).

United States Price and Foreign Market Value

The petitioner based United States price on price quotes for 1985 to industry sources from purchases of imported wire fabric.

The petitioner based foreign market value on an affidavit of the General Sales Manager of a domestic manufacturer as to the home market price, to the best of his information and belief, and upon a cost analysis in accordance with § 353.36(a)(7) of the Department's Regulations. The petitioner used price information on low carbon industrial quality wire rod in Mexico and made adjustments for labor, conversion costs, and general and administrative expenses.

Based on the comparision of United States price and the estimated foreign market value, petitioner alleged a dumping margin of 56 percent.

Notification of ITC

Section 732(d) of the Act requires us to notify the ITC of this action and to provide it with the information we used to arrive at this determination. We will notify the ITC and make available to it all nonprivileged and nonconfidential information. We will also allow the ITC access to all privileged and confidential information in our files provided it confirms in writing that it will not disclose such information either publicly or under an administrative protective order without the written consent of the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Import Administration.

Preliminary Determination by ITC

The ITC will determine by January 6, 1986, whether there is a reasonable indication that imports of wire fabric from Mexico materially injure, or threaten material injury, to a U.S. industry. If its determination is negative the investigation will terminate; otherwise, it will proceed according to the statutory procedures.

Dated: December 10, 1985.

Gilber B. Kaplan,

Deputy Assistant Secretary for Import Administration.

Intent To Prepare Environmental Impact Statement; Clarement Channel, NJ

Summary

1. Description of Proposed Action. Deepen and maintain all or a portion of the 2 mile long access channel from its current 27 feet MLW to a depth of up to 45 feet MLW. Improvements will follow the same alignment as the presently existing channel, with a width of 300 feet, except for a possible widening of the entrance to the main ship channel, to facilitate safe navigation into and out of that channel (the main entrance channel into and out of the Port, currently maintained at a depth of 45 feet MLW).

2. Reasonable Alternatives.

(a) Channel depths of 30-45 feet MLW.

(b) Entrance width of up to 1500 feet, tapering down to existing channel width (300 feet) within the first 1000 feet of the channel length.

(c) Disposal of dredged material.

(1) Ocean disposal.

(2) Disposal into subaqueous borrow pits.

(3) Disposal within containment islands.

(4) Upland disposal.

(5) Used to create wetlands.

(d) No action.

3. Scoping Process.

(a) Public Involvement. Public Notice dated December 22, 1982 (No. 11355) announced the start of a feasibility study for improvements to Clarement channel, and requested public input. A second Public Notice (to be issued concurrent with this notice) will announce the preparation of a draft EIS, and the availability of a draft environmental report that provides an initial analysis of project impacts. The public will be asked to comment further on the proposed project and environmental analysis, and to provide additional data or concerns that they feel should be included in the EIS.

(b) Significant Issues Requiring In-depth Analysis.

(1) Impacts of the construction on short- and long-term water quality.

(2) Impacts of the construction of fish and wildlife resources and habitat within the project area.

(3) Disposal impacts on water quality and fish and wildlife resources at the disposal site.

(4) Suitability of disposal options.

(c) Assignments.

Agencies having jurisdiction under the law will be asked to serve as cooperating agencies in the preparation of the EIS.

(d) Environmental review and consultation.

(1) U.S. fish and Wildlife Service have been asked to review project impacts, and have determined there will be no significant impacts to special or high value fish and wildlife resources; no mitigation for loss of habitat is required (August 21, 1985).

(2) New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection have reviewed project impacts and concur with FWS recommendations and findings.

(3) New Jersey Historic Preservation Officer has reviewed the project and determined that there will be no negative impacts or cultural or archaeological resources.

(4) Above agencies, as well as interested agencies and the public will be advised of the draft environmental analysis prepared by the Corps, and given an opportunity to review and comment on its findings.

(5) National Marine Fisheries Service has been formally requested to evaluate the Corp's finding of no impact to threatened or endangered species, or their habitat (section 7 coordination under Endangered Species Act)

(6) The New Jersey Office of Coastal Resources have been formally asked to concur with the Corp's finding of project compliance with coastal zone management policy in the area.

(7) Agencies and the public will be informed of the availability of the DEIS and FEIS, and asked to comment on its findings.

4. Scoping meeting will not be held.

5. Estimate date of statement availability is July 1986.

Dynamic Random Access Memory Semiconductors of 256 Kilobits and Above From Japan; Initiation of Antidumping Duty Investigation

AGENCY: International Trade Administration/Import Administration, Commerce.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: On the basis of information developed by the U.S. Department of Commerce, the Department is initiating an antidumping duty investigation to determine whether Japanese dynamic random access memory semiconductors having a memory capacity of 256 kolobits and above are being, or are likely to be, sold in the United States at less than fair value. We are notifying the U.S. International Trade Commission of this action so that it may determine whether imports of this product are materially injuring, or threatening to materially injure, a U.S. industry, or are materially retarding establishment of a U.S. industry. The ITC will make its preliminary determination on or before January 31, 1986. If this investigation proceeds normally, we will make our preliminary determination on or before May 27, 1986.

EFFECTIVE DATE: December 17, 1985.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: William L. Matthews, Office of Compliance, Import Administration, International Trade Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce, 14th & Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20230; (202) 377-3601.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Initiation

On the basis of information available to the Department of Commerce ("the Department"), we are initiating an antidumping duty investigation, under section 732(a) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended ("the Act"), to determine whether Japanese dynamic random access memory semiconductors (DRAMs) having a memory capacity of 256 kilobits and above are being, or are likely to be, sold in the United States at less than fair value.

We have evidence indicating that the United States price of this merchandise is less than the foreign market value of such or similar merchandise. We also have evidence that these imports may be having an injurious effect upon the U.S. industry. That information indicates growing import penetration and declining import prices. These imports may be causing depressed conditions in the U.S. industry such as suppressed prices and profits.

If this investigation proceeds normally, we will make our preliminary determination on or before May 27, 1986. As part of that investigation, we will examine the likelihood of sales below the cost of production.

United States Price and Foreign Market Value

We based our estimate of the United States price upon bid and price quotes obtained from U.S. industry sources.

We examined Japanese bids, price quotes and cost data obtained from industry and public sources and calculated that sales were made at prices below the cost of production. We therefore estimated foreign market value based on constructed value, adding the statutory minimum for profit.

Based on our comparisons we have estimated that a dumping margin of 33 percent may exist for exports during the period from June through October 1985.

Scope of Investigation

The merchandise covered by this investigation are Japanese DRAMs having a memory capacity of 256 kilobits and above, of both the N-channel and the complementary metal oxide semiconductor type, whether in the form of processed wafers, unmounted die, mounted die, or assembled devices. Finished DRAMs of 256 kilobits and above are currently classifiable under items 687.7443 and 687.7444 of the Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated. Unassembled DRAMs, including processed wafers and mounted and unmounted die, are currently classifiable under item 687.7405 of the Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated.

Processed wafers and die produced in Japan and assembled into finished DRAMs in another country prior to importation into the U.S. from the other country are tentatively included in the scope of the investigation. In the course of this proceeding we will determine whether to continue to include these indirect imports in the scope of this investigation. We invite comments from those not involved in the proceeding, as well as from parties to this proceeding, on this issue. We request that such comments be submitted prior to February 17, 1986.

Notification of ITC

Section 732(d) of the Act requires us to notify the International Trade Commission ("ITC") of this action and to provide it with the information we used in reaching our decision to initiate. The Department will also allow the ITC access to all privileged and proprietary information in our files, provided it conforms that it will not disclose such information either publicly or under an administrative protective order without the consent of the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Import Administration.

Preliminary Determination of ITC

The ITC will determine by January 31, 1986, whether there is a reasonable indication that imports of Japanese DRAMs of 256 kilobits and above are materially injuring, or threatening to materially injure, a United States industry, or are materially retarding establishment of a U.S. industry. If its determination is negative, the investigation will terminate; otherwise, it will proceed according to the statutory procedures.

Dated: December 6, 1985.

Deputy Assistant Secretary for Import Administration.

[Docket No. 84P–0253]

Canned Tuna Deviating From Identity Standard; Amendment and Extension of Temporary Marketing Permit

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is amending the temporary permit to market test canned tuna in vegetable oil and canned tuna in water that contain a blend of sodium tripolyphosphate and sodium hexametaphosphate. FDA is also extending the expiration date of the permit. The amendment changes the name of the permit holder, and the extension allows the permit holder to continue experimental market testing of the product while the agency takes action on the permit holder's petition to amend the standard for canned tuna.

DATE: The new expiration date of the permit will be either the effective date of a final rule for any proposal to amend the standard of identity for canned tuna that may result form the petition or 30 days after termination of such proposal.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Johnnie G. Nichols, Center for Food Safety and Applied Nutrition (HFF–215), Food and Drug Administration, 200 C St. SW., Washington, DC 20204, 202–485–0101.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: A temporary permit was issued under the provisions of 21 CFR 130.17 to Ralston Purina Co., St. Louis, MO 63164, to market test canned tuna in vegetable oil and canned tuna in water that contain a blend of sodium tripolyphosphate and sodium hexametaphosphate in an amount not to exceed 0.5 percent, by weight, of the finished food, to reduce loss of natural fluids and protein during cooking, to prevent oxidation changes during product cool-down, and to facilitate separation of loin meat. The permit was issued in order to facilitate market testing of foods that deviate from the requirements of the standards of identity promulgated under section 401 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 U.S.C. 341). Notice of issuance of the temporary permit to Ralston Purina Co. was published in the Federal Register of July 16, 1984 (49 FR 28769). The expiration date of the permit is January 11, 1986.

Since the permit was issued, the Seafood Division of Ralston Purina Co. has become a wholly owned subsidiary, Van Camp Seafood Co., Inc. Ralston Purina Co. has requested that the temporary permit be amended to change the name of the permit holder. Accordingly, FDA is amending the temporary permit to indicate that the Van Camp Seafood Co., Inc., is the permit holder that company name will be declared as the manufacturer on the test product label.

Ralston Purina Co. also requested that the temporary permit be extended so the market test period can continue while agency action on a petition to amend the canned tuna standard proceeds. Ralston Purina Co. submitted the petition at the same time the application for extension was submitted. FDA finds that it is in the interest of consumers to issue the extension. FDA is inviting interested persons to participate in the market test under the conditions that apply to Van Camp Seafood Co., Inc. (formerly Ralston Purina Co.), including the labeling requirements and the amounts of test product to be distributed, except that the designated area of distribution shall not apply.

Any interested person who wishes to participate in the market test must notify, in writing, the Deputy Director, Division of Food Technology (HFF-211), Food and Drug Administration, 200 C St. SW., Washington, DC 20204. The notification must include the amount of test product to be distributed, the areas of distribution, and labeling that will be used for the test product.

Therefore, FDA is amending the temporary permit by changing the name of the permit holder and, under the provisions of § 130.17(i) (21 CFR 130.17(i)), FDA is extending the expiration date of the permit in order that the permit expires either on the effective date of a final rule for any proposal to amend the standard of identity for canned tuna that may result from the petition or 30 days after termination of such proposal. All other conditions and terms of this permit remain the same.

Public Health Service Implementation Plans for Attaining the Objectives for the Nation; Nutrition Goals; Announcement of Study; Notice of Closed Meeting

AGENCY: Food and Drug Administration.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) is announcing that the Life Sciences Research Office of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology (FASEB) (1) has undertaken a study of the scientific community's views on the progress that the Public Health Service (PHS) has made in implementing its plans for attaining its nutrition goals for 1990 of promoting health and preventing disease; and (2) is providing notice of a closed meeting of the ad hoc Review Panel on Nutrition Goals.

DATE: The closed meeting of the ad hoc Review Panel on Nutrition Goals will be held on Thursday, January 9, 1986, at 9 a.m.

ADDRESS: The closed meeting will be held at FASEB, 9650 Rockville Pike, Bethesda, MD 20814.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Kenneth D. Fisher, Life Sciences Research Office, Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology, 9650 Rockville Pike, Bethesda, MD 20814, 301-530-7030.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: FDA is announcing that FASEB, under its contract with FDA (No. 223-83-2020), has undertaken a study of the scientific community's views on the progress that PHS has made in implementing its plans for attaining its nutrition goals for 1990 of promoting health and preventing disease. In response to a request from FDA, the Scientific Steering Group that FASEB established under the contract recommended that the Life Sciences Research Office appoint an ad hoc panel to study this matter. As a result, the Life Sciences Research Office has established the ad hoc Review Panel on Nutrition Goals (ad hoc Review Panel).

In a publication that it issued in 1983, "Promoting Health, Preventing Disease: Public Health Service (PHS) Implementation Plans for Attaining the Objectives for the Nation," PHS listed its 15 major nutrition goals. These goals included reducing the prevalence of those diseases that could be affected by nutrition (e.g., hypertension, iron deficiency anemia, elevated cholesterol, and obesity); increasing consumer knowledge about nutrition and its impact on health (e.g., knowledge about the relationships between components of foods and disease/syndrome states and about the balance that must be achieved between food intake and exercise to effect a loss in body weight); and improving the quality of information on nutrition available to the public (e.g., in physicians' offices, cafeterias, and schools). Each nutrition goal was presented in the form of a 10-year plan, with an end-point designed to permit measurement of success or failure.

The Office of the Assistant Secretary for Health (OASH) designated FDA's Center for Food Safety and Applied Nutrition (CFSAN) to monitor PHS activities that are intended to achieve these goals.

The year 1985 marks the mid-point in the 10-year plan for achievement of these goals. CFSAN has been asked to report to OASH on the status of PHS's efforts to achieve these goals.

The purpose of FASEB's study is to provide an objective assessment of PHS's efforts. The report of the ad hoc Review Panel will provide CFSAN with a synopsis of opinions from the knowledgeable scientific community on the actual status of these efforts and on the effects that these efforts have had (as measured by such indices as morbidity/mortality/birth records, hospital records, and surveys on health and nutrition). The ad hoc Review Panel will also report on whether existing nutrition goals should be modified to make their attainment more reasonable or realistic.

The ad hoc Review Panel is composed of members of the Scientific Steering Group and other experts in the matters that are being studied, which are outlined above. A list of the members of the Panel may be obtained by writing to the contact person (address above). As announced in the Federal Register of October 11, 1985 (50 FR 41597), the ad hoc Review Panel conducted an open meeting on October 31 and November 1, 1985, and closed meetings following the conclusion of the open meeting on November 1 and on November 14 and 15, 1985. Voluminous comments, views, data, and information were received. Consequently, the ad hoc Review Panel was unable to complete its analysis and found it necessary to schedule a final meeting. This meeting is being announced as required by 21 CFR 14.15(b)(1).

Dated: December 6, 1985.

Persons nominated for membership on the committees described above must have adequately diversified research and/or clinical experience appropriate to the work of the committee in such fields as allergenic products, anesthesiology, surgery, infectious diseases, rheumatology, cardiology, dermatology, endocrinology, obstetrics and gynecology, gastroenterology, oncology, neurology, psychiatry, nuclear medicine, internal medicine, epidemiology, statistics, hematology, immunology, blood banking, virology, bacteriology, allergy, pediatrics, microbiology, and biochemistry, or other appropriate areas of expertise.

The term of office is ordinarily 4 years.

Criteria for Consumer-Nominated Members

FDA currently attempts to place on each of the committees described above one voting member who is nominated by consumer organizations. These members are recommended by a consortium of 12 consumer organizations which has the responsibility for screening, interviewing, and recommending consumer-nominated candidates with appropriate scientific credentials. Candidates are sought who are aware of the consumer impact of committee issues, but also possess enough technical background to understand and contribute to the committee's work. This would involve, for example, an understanding of research design, benefit/risk, and the legal requirements for safety and efficacy of the products under review, and considerations regarding individual products. The agency notes, however, that for some advisory committees, it may require such nominees to meet the same technical qualifications and specialized training required of other expert members of the committee. The term of office for these members is 4 years. Nominations for all committees listed above are invited for consideration for membership as openings become available.

Nomination Procedure

Any interested person may nominate one or more qualified persons for membership on one or more of the advisory committees. Nominations shall specify the committee for which the nominee is recommended. Nominations shall state that the nominee is aware of the nominations, is willing to serve as a member of the advisory committee, and appears to have no conflict of interest that would preclude committee membership. Potential candidates will be asked by FDA to provide detailed information concerning such matters as financial holdings, consultancies, and research grants or contracts in order to permit evaluation of possible sources of conflict of interest.

This notice is issued under the Federal Advisory Committee Act (Pub. L. 92–463, 86 Stat. 770–776 (5 U.S.C. App. I) and 21 CFR Part 14, relating to advisory committees.

Assistant Secretary for Territorial and International Affairs

The Office for Territorial and International Affairs has the responsibility to promote the economic, social, and political development of the territories, leading toward a goal of self-government and to further international peace and security by conducting territorial affairs in close coordination with the defense and foreign policies of the United States.

The degree to which the Office conducts activities to futher these objectives in a specific territory depends on the status of the territorial government, its relationship to the Secretary of the Interior, and the extent of development already achieved within the territory.

The Office serves as the principal representative to the Office of the Secretary on all territorial matters; makes the needs of the territories known to other Federal agencies and serves as a channel of communication with the territorial governments; studies the economic, social, and political problems of the territories and proposes policies, programs, legislation, and other actions for their solution; advises the Secretary on proposed legislation and other important matters affecting the territories; provides budgetary and certain other administrative services to the Governors of the territories and the High Commissioner of the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands; and coordinates all international activities of the bureaus and employees of the Department. Bureaus

United States Fish and Wildlife Service

[For the United States Fish and Wildlife Service statement of organization, see Code of Federal Regulations, Title 50, Subchapter A, Part 2]

The United States Fish and Wildlife Service's national responsibility in the service of fish, wildlife, and people reaches back over 110 years to the establishment in 1871 of a predecessor agency, the Bureau of Fisheries. First created as an independent agency, the Bureau of Fisheries was later placed in the Department of Commerce. A second predecessor agency, the Bureau of Biological Survey, was established in 1885 in the Department of Agriculture.

The two Bureaus and their functions were transferred in 1939 to the Department of the Interior. They were consolidated into one agency and redesignated the Fish and Wildlife Service in 1940 by Reorganization Plan III (54 Stat. 1232).

Further reorganization came in 1956 when the Fish and Wildlife Act (70 Stat. 1119) created the United States Fish and Wildlife Service and provided for it to replace and succeed the former Fish and Wildlife Service. The Act established two Bureaus within the new Service: the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries and the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

In 1970, under Reorganization Plans 3 and 4, the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries was transferred to the Department of Commerce. The Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, which remained in Interior, was renamed by an act of Congress in April 1974 (88 Stat.

92) as the United States Fish and Wildlife Service.

The Service is composed of a headquarters office in Washington, DC, 7 regional offices in the lower 48 States and Alaska, and a variety of field units and installations. These include 428 National Wildlife Refuges and 149 Waterfowl Production Areas comprising more than 90 million acres; 13 major fish and wildlife laboratories and centers; 49 cooperative research units at universities across the country; 83 National Fish Hatcheries; and a nationwide network of wildlife law enforcement agents.

The mission of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, which is responsible for migratory birds, endangered species, certain marine mammals, inland sport fisheries, and specific fishery and wildlife research activities, is to conserve, protect, and enhance fish and wildlife and their habitats for the continuing benefit of the American people. Within this framework, the Service assists in the development of an environmental stewardship ethic for our society based on ecological principles, scientific knowledge of wildlife, and a sense of moral responsibility; works with the States to improve the conservation and management of the Nation's fish and wildlife resources; and administers a national program providing opportunities to the American public to understand, appreciate, and wisely use these resources.

In the area of resource management, the Service provides leadership for the protection and improvement of land and water environments (habitat preservation), which directly benefits the living natural resources, and adds quality to human life. Activities include biological monitoring through scientific research; surveillance of pesticides, heavy metals, and thermal pollution; studies of fish and wildlife populations; ecological studies; environmental impact assessment, including hydroelectric dams, nuclear power sites, stream channelization, dredge and fill permits; associated research; and environmental impact statement review.

The Service is responsible for improving and maintaining fish and wildlife resources by proper management of migratory birds and other wildlife and by control of population imbalances. It also assists in fulfilling the public demand for recreational fishing while maintaining the Nation's fisheries at a level and in a condition that will ensure their continued survival. Specific wildlife and fishery resources programs include:

Migratory birds—wildlife refuge management for production, migration, and wintering; game law enforcement; research, including bird banding and harvest and survival rate studies; breeding, migrating, and wintering surveys; and disease studies;

Mammals and nonmigratory birds—refuge management of resident species (primarily big game); law enforcement; research on disease and population distribution, including marine mammals and species transplants; and technical assistance;

Animal damage control—operational measures through cooperative programs to control predator, rodent, and bird depredations on crops and livstock; research on nonlethal control methods and predator-prey relationships;

Cooperative fish and wildlife research units—located at universities to conduct research and supervise graduate student research, complementing the Service's wildlife and fishery research programs;

Coastal anadromous fish—hatchery production, stocking, and research on nutrition, disease, and habitat requirements in 16 of the 24 coastal States;

Great Lakes fisheries—hatchery production of lake trout; fishery management in cooperation with Canada and the States, and research; and

Other inland fisheries—hatchery production and stocking of Indian lands; technical assistance; and research on genetics, disease, nutrition, and taxonomy.

The Service provides national and international leadership in the area of endangered fish and wildlife from the standpoint of both restoration as well as preventive measures involving threatened species. This program includes development of species lists, recovery plans, conduct of status surveys, coordination of efforts nationally and internationally; research on propagation methods, distribution, genetics, and behavior; operation of wildlife refuges; law enforcement; foreign importation enforcement; and consultation with foreign countries.

Environmental education and public information programs include local conservation education talks; preparation of news releases, leaflets, and brochures; operation of environmental study areas on Service lands for use by school groups and teachers; operation of visitor centers, self-guided nature trails, observation towers, display ponds, and providing recreational activities, such as hunting, fishing, and wildlife photography.

The Service's Federal aid programs apportion funds to the States and territories for projects designed to conserve, develop, and enhance the Nation's fish and wildlife resources.

National Park Service

The National Park Service was established in the Department of the Interior on August 25, 1916 (39 Stat. 535; 16 U.S.C. 1).

The National Park Service administers for the American people an extensive system of national parks, monuments, historic sites, and recreation areas. The objectives of the National Park Service are to administer the properties under its jurisdiction for the enjoyment and education of our citizens to protect the natural environment of the areas, and to assist States, local governments, and citizen groups in the development of park areas, the protection of the natural environment, and the preservation of historic properties.

The National Park Service has a Service Center in Denver that provides planning, architectual, engineering, and other professional services; and a Center for production of interpretive exhibits, audiovisual materials, and publications in Harpers Ferry, WV.

There are more than 330 units in the National Park System, including national parks and monuments of noteworthy natural and scientific value; scenic parkways, riverways, seashores, lakeshores, recreation areas, and reservoirs; and historic sites associated with important movements, events, and personalities of the American past.

Activities—The National Park Service develops and implements park management plans and staffs the areas under its administration. It relates the natural values and historical significance of these areas to the public through talks, tours, films, exhibits, publications, and other interpretive media. It operates campgrounds and other visitor facilities and provides—usually through concessions—lodging, food, and transportation services in many areas.

The National Park Service also administers the following programs: The State portion of the Land and Water Conservation Fund, the Nationwide Outdoor Recreation Plan and State comprehensive outdoor recreation planning, the Urban Park and Recreation Program, park and recreation technical services, planning for the National Wild and Scenic Rivers System, and the National Trails System, natural area programs, the National Register of Historic Places, national historic landmarks, historic preservation, technical preservation services, Historic American Buildings Survey, Historic American Engineering Record, and interagency archeological services.

Bureau of Mines

The Bureau of Mines was established July 1, 1910, in the Department of the Interior by the Organic Act of May 16, 1910 (36 Stat. 369; 30 U.S.C. 1, 3, 5–7), as amended. The 1910 act has been supplemented by several statutes, including those authorizing production and sale of helium, and research on environmental problems associated with minerals.

The Bureau of Mines is primarily a research and factfinding agency. Its goal is to help ensure that the Nation has adequate supplies of nonfuel minerals for security and other needs. Research is conducted to provide the technology for the extraction, processing, use, and recycling of the Nation's nonfuel mineral resources at a reasonable cost without harm to the environment or the workers involved. Typical areas of research are investigations of ways to use domestic low-grade ores as alternative sources of strategic and critical minerals that must currently be imported, mine health and safety, recycling of solid wastes, and abatement of pollution and land damage caused by mineral extraction and processing operations.

The Bureau also collects, compiles, analyzes, and publishes statistical and economic information on all phases of nonfuel mineral resource development, including exploration, production, shipments, demand, stocks, prices, imports, and exports. Special studies are frequently made on subjects of particular national interest, such as the effects of potential economic, technologic, or legal developments on resource availability. The effects of policy alternatives on mineral supply and demand are also analyzed.

Geological Survey

National Center, 12201 Sunrise Valley Drive, Reston, VA 22092.

The Geological Survey was established by the act of March 3, 1879 (20 Stat. 394; 43 U.S.C. 31), which provided for "the classification of the public lands and the examination of the geological structure, mineral resources, and products of the national domain." The act of September 5, 1962 (76 Stat. 427; 43 U.S.C. 31(b)), expanded this authorization to include such examinations outside the national domain. Topographic mapping and chemical and physical research were recognized as an essential part of the investigations and studies authorized by the act of March 3, 1879, and specific provision was made for them by Congress in the act of October 2, 1888 (25 Stat. 505, 526).

Provision was made in 1894 for gaging the streams and determining the water supply of the United States (28 Stat. 398). Authorizations for publication, sale, and distribution of material prepared by the Geological Survey are contained in several statutes (43 U.S.C. 41–45; 44 U.S.C. 260–262).

The Geological Survey's primary responsibilities are: identifying the Nation's land, water, energy, and mineral resources; classifying federally owned lands for minerals and energy resources and water power potential; investigating natural hazards such as earthquakes, volcanoes, and landslides; and conducting the National Mapping Program. To attain these objectives, the Geological Survey prepares maps, collects and interprets data on mineral and water resources, performs fundamental and applied research in the sciences and techniques involved, and publishes and disseminates the results of its investigations in thousands of new maps and reports each year.

Office of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement

The Office of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement was established in the Department of the Interior by the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977 (91 Stat. 4450).

The primary goals of the Office is to assist the States in developing a nationwide program that protects society and the environment from the adverse effects of coal mining, while ensuring that coal surface mining can be done without permanent damage to land and water resources. The Office's main objectives not that most coal-mining States have assumed prime responsibility for regulating coal mining and reclamation activities within their borders, are to oversee mining and reclamation in the States with primary responsibility, to assist the States in meeting the objectives of the act, and to regulate mining and reclamation activities in these States choosing not to assume primary responsibility.

Headquartes for the Office is located in Washington, DC. In addition, there are 13 field offices, 8 area offices, and 2 technical service centers. The field offices interact with the States and other Federal agencies, assisting the States in implementing their regulatory and reclamation program, and monitoring their performance. The technical centers are designed to give technical assistance to State regulatory authorities; to provide technical expertise on such matters as unsuitability petitions, environmental impact statements, and mine plan review on Federal lands.

Activities—Major activities of the Office of Surface Mining are carried out through the Office of the Director, assisted by a Deputy Director and four Assistant Directors. The headquarters office promulgates national policy for the conduct of the surface mining control and reclamation program provided for in the act; reviews and approves amendments to previously approved State programs; and provides overall direction to the field offices and technical centers.

The Assistant Director has the following responsibilities in the areas of technical standards and research:

–Formulates policy requirements for permits, reclamation plans, and performance standards;
—Provides guidance for technical standards, special field services, environmental considerations, research, training, and technology transfer for State and Federal regulatory and abandoned mine land programs; and,
—Provides leadership and general direction to the technical service centers and the Technical Standards, Environmental and Economic Analysis, and Engineering Analysis Divisions.

In the areas of program operations and inspection, the Assistant Director:

—Formulates policy, standards, regulations, and procedures, and provides guidance for the development and conduct of State programs, Federal programs in lieu of State programs, Federal lands programs and Indian lands programs, including cooperative agreements with States for the Federal lands programs;

—Provides policy, procedures, and guidance for the review and evaluation of State programs, cooperative agreements, and abandoned mine lands programs and for the conduct of each;
—Provides policy, procedures, and guidance for the designation of lands unsuitable for mining, for the small operator assistance program, and for inspection and enforcement programs;
—Provides leadership and direction to State liaison offices and the State Program Assistance, Regulation and Inspection, Abandoned Mine Land, and Reclamation Divisions.

In the areas of management and budget, the Assistant Director:

—Formulates policy and provide guidance for budget determination and execution, personnel, administrative services, information and records management, and planning systems;
—Provides leadership and policy direction for the same activities in the field;
—Provides headquarters administrative support activities;
—Develops and presents programs and budget requests to the Department, OMB, and Congress; and —Provides leadership and direction to the Personnel and Management Services Divisions.

In the areas of finance and accounting, the Assistant Director:

—Administers all financial systems, including civil penalties and abandoned mine lands;
—Audits State grants and abandoned mine land functions; and —Provides policy and direction for grants administration, assessments, financial management, and collection of fines and fees.

Bureau of Indian Affairs

The Bureau of Indian Affairs was created as part of the War Department in 1824 and transferred to the Department of the Interior at the time of its establishment in 1849. The Snyder Act of 1921 (42 Stat. 208; 25 U.S.C. 13) provided substantive law for appropriations covering the conduct of activities by the Bureau of Indian Affairs. The scope and character of the authorizations contained in this act were broadened by the Indian Reorganization Act of 1934 (48 Stat. 984; 25 U.S.C. 461 et seq.), the Indian Self-Determination and Education Assistance Act of 1975 (88 Stat. 2203; 25 U.S.C. 450), and title XI of the Education Amendments of 1978 (92 Stat. 2313; 20 U.S.C. 2701 note).

The principal objectives of the Bureau are to actively encourage and train Indian and Alaska Native people to manage their own affairs under the trust relationship to the Federal Government; to facilitate, when maximum involvement of Indian and Alaska Native people, full development of their human and natural resource potential; to mobilize all public and private aids to the advancement of Indian and Alaska Native people for use by them; and to utilize the skill and capabilities of Indian and Alaska Native people in the direction and management of programs for their benefit.

Functions—In carrying out these objectives, the Bureau works with Indian and Alaska Native people, other Federal agencies, State and local governments, and other interested groups in the development and implementation of effective programs for their advancement.

The Bureau seeks for them adequate educational opportunities in public education systems, assists them in the creation and management of educational systems for their own benefit, or provides from Federal resources the educational systems needed; actively promotes the improvement of their social welfare by working with them to obtain and provide needed social and community development programs and services; works with them in the development and implementation of programs for their economic advancement and for full utilization of their natural resources consistent with the principles of resource conservation.

The Bureau also acts as trustee for their lands and moneys held in trust by the United States, assisting them to realize maximum benefits from such resources.

Minerals Management Service

The Minerals Management Service (MMS) was established on January 19, 1982, by Secretarial Order 3071, under the authority provided by section 2 of Reorganization Plan No. 3 of 1950 (64 Stat. 1262). All Outer Continental Shelf (OCS) leasing responsibilities of the Department of the Interior were consolidated within MMS on May 10, 1982, by amendment 1 to Secretarial Order 3071. Amendment 2, dated May 26, 1982, set forth the basic organizational structure for MMS and provided for the transfer of administrative functions.

Secretarial Order 3087, dated December 3, 1982, and amendment 1, dated February 7, 1983, provided for the transfer of royalty and mineral revenue management functions, including collection and distribution, to the Minerals Management Service and transferred all onshore minerals management functions on Federal and Indian lands to the Bureau of Land Management.

MMS assesses the nature, extent, recoverability, and value of leasable minerals on the Outer Continental Shelf. It ensures the orderly and timely inventory and development, as well as the efficient recovery, of mineral resources; encourages utilization of the best available and safest technology; provides for fair, full, and accurate returns to the Federal Treasury for produced commodities; and safeguards against fraud, waste, and abuse.

Offshore Minerals Management—MMS is responsible for resource evaluation and classification, environmental review, leasing activities (including public liaison and planning functions), lease management, and inspection and enforcement programs for Outer Continental Shelf lands.

Five-year oil and gas leasing programs are developed for leasing on OCS in consultation with the Congress, the 23 coastal States, local governments, environmental groups, industry, and the public.

MMS conducts extensive environmental studies and consultations with State officials prior to issuing leases. Once leases have been issued, MMS inspectors conduct frequent inspections of offshore operations and MMS environmental studies personnel collect more data to ensure the marine environments are kept free of pollutants.

Royalty Management—MMS is responsible for the collection of all royalty payments, rentals, bonus payments, fines, penalties, assessments, and other revenues due the Federal Government and Indian lessors as monies or royalties-in-kind from the extraction of mineral resources from Federal and Indian lands onshore and from the leasing and extraction of mineral resources on the Outer Continental Shelf.

The revenues generated by minerals leasing are one of the largest nontax sources of income to the Federal Government. As specified by law, these revenues are distributed to the States, to the general fund of the Treasury, and to Indian tribes and allottees.

The basic organization of MMS consists of a headquarters in Washington, DC, with program components located in Reston and Herndon, VA; an Accounting Center in Lakewood, CO; four OCS regional offices; and three administrative service centers.

For further information, contact the Office of Minerals Management Information, Room 1440, MS 612, Eighteenth and C Streets NW., Washington, DC 20240. Phone, 202–343–3983.

Bureau of Land Management

The Bureau of Land Management (BLM) was established July 16, 1946, by the consolidation of the General Land Office (created in 1812) and the Grazing Service (formed in 1934). This was done in accordance with the provisions of sections 402 and 403 of Presidential Reorganization Plan 3 of 1946 (5 U.S.C. app.).

The Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (90 Stat. 2743) enacted into law on October 21, 1976, repealed and replaced many obsolete or overlapping statutes. It provides a basic mission statement for BLM and establishes policy guidelines and criteria for the management of public lands and resources administered by the Bureau.

The Bureau's basic organization consists of a headquarters in Washington, DC, a Service Center in Denver, CO, and a Fire Center in Boise, ID, that have bureauwide support responsibilities; and a field organization of State, district, and resource area offices. The Bureau also utilizes a system of advisory councils to assist in the development of management plans and policies.

The Bureau is responsible for the total management of 284 million acres of public lands. These lands are located primarily in the Far West and Alaska, however, scattered parcels are located in other States. In addition to minerals management responsibilities on the public lands, BLM also is responsible for subsurface resource management of an additional 370 million acres where mineral rights have been reserved to the Federal Government.

Resources managed by the Bureau include timber, hard minerals, oil and gas, geothermal energy, wildlife habitat, endangered plant and animal species, rangeland vegetation, recreation and cultural values, wild and scenic rivers designated conservation and wilderness areas, and open space. Bureau programs provide for the protection (including fire suppression), orderly development, and use of the public lands and resources under principles of multiple use and sustained yield. Land use plans are developed with public involvement to provide orderly use and development while maintaining and enhancing the quality of the environment. The Bureau also manages watersheds to protect soil and enhance water quality; develops recreational opportunities on public lands; administers programs to protect and manage wild horses and burros; and, under certain conditions, makes land available through sale to individuals, organizations, local governments, and other Federal agencies when such transfer is in the public interest. Lands may be leased to State and local government agencies and to nonprofit organizations for certain purposes.

The Bureau oversees and manages the development of energy and mineral leases and ensures compliance with applicable regulations governing the extraction of these resources.

The Bureau has responsibility to issue rights-of-way, in certain instances, for crossing Federal lands under other agencies' jurisdiction. It also has general enforcement authority.

The Bureau is responsible for the survey of Federal lands and establishes and maintains public land records and records of mining claims. It administers a program of payments is lieu of taxes based on the amount of federally owned lands in counties and other units of local government.

Bureau of Reclamation

The Reclamation Act of 1902 (43 U.S.C. 371 et seq.) authorized the Secretary of the Interior to locate, construct, operate, and maintain works for the storage, diversion, and development of waters for the reclamation of arid and semiarid lands in the Western States. To perform these functions, the Secretary in July 1902 established a Reclamation Service in the Geological Survey. In March 1907 the Reclamation Service was separated from the Survey, and in June 1923 the name was changed to Bureau of Reclamation. The name was changed to the Water and Power Resources Service on November 6, 1979, by Secretarial Order No. 3042. The name was changed back to Bureau of Reclamation on May 18, 1981, by Secretarial Order No. 3064.

The basic objectives of the reclamation program are authorized by the act of 1902 and subsequent amendatory and supplemental acts to assist the States, local governments, and other Federal agencies to stabilize and stimulate local and regional economies, enhance and protect the environment, and improve the quality of life through development of water, other renewable resources, and related land resources throughout the 17 contiguous Western States.

Reclamation projects serve multiple purposes, including: municipal and industrial water supply, hydroelectric power generation, irrigation water service, water quality improvement, wind power and solar power research, fish and wildlife enhancement, outdoor recreation, flood control, navigation, river regulation and control, and related activities authorized by Congress. Through contracts with project beneficiaries, the Bureau arranges for repayment to the Government of reimbursable project construction, operation, and maintenance costs. About 85 percent of all direct project costs are reimbursable. Interest is paid on costs allocated to power and to municipal and industrial water service.

Major reclamation functions include: investigation and development of plans for the regulation, conservation, and utilization of water and related resources, including basin-wide water resource studies and development of new sources of fresh water supplies, power capacity, and energy; design and construction of authorized projects for which funds have been appropriated by the Congress; repair and rehabilitation of existing projects; operation and maintenance of Bureau-constructed facilities that are not transferred to local organizations; review of operation and maintenance of Bureau-built facilities that have been transferred to local organizations; administration of the Small Reclamation Projects Act of 1956, and of loans for construction or rehabilitation of irrigation systems; and negotiation, execution, and administration of repayment contracts, and water-user operation and maintenance contracts.

The Bureau of Reclamation has responsibility for the operation and maintenance of 53 hydroelectric powerplants and the construction of new hydroelectric facilities on its projects, as authorized by the Congress.

In cooperation with other agencies, the Bureau prepares and/or reviews environmental statements for proposed Federal water resource projects and renders technical assistance to foreign countries in water resource development and utilization.

Pleasant Valley Water District, San Luis Unit Central Valley Project, CA; Scoping Meeting and Intent to Prepare a Joint Draft Environmental Impact Statement/Environmental Impact Report (EIS-EIR)

Pursuant to section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) of 1969 (as amended) and section 21002 of the California Environmental Quality Act, the Bureau of Reclamation, Department of the Interior, and the Pleasant Valley Water District (district) intend to prepare a joint EIS-EIR. The EIS-EIR will address the impacts of delivering water to, and the construction and operation of, the Pleasant Valley Water Distribution System.

Other environmental review and consultation requirements will be met concurrently with the NEPA process. These include applicable requirements of the Clean Water Act, the Fish and Wildlife Coordination Act, the National Historic Preservation Act, the Endangered Species Act, and Executive Orders 11988 and 11990 regarding floodplains and wetlands.

The purpose of the proposed plan is to deliver 40,000 acre-feet of Central Valley Project water on an interim basis for an undetermined period, with appropriate shortages in critical water years, to agricultural users in the district near Coalinga, California. It is anticipated that water will be wheeled from the Delta by the California Department of Water Resources to the O'Neill Forebay and possibly as far as the Coalinga Canal turnout from the San Luis Canal. Final transportation to the point of delivery to the district will be through facilities of the United States. The plan will consist of pumping facilities along the existing Coalinga Canal (Pleasant Valley Canal) and a distribution system to deliver water to existing developed lands which have been irrigated by ground water for the past 70 years. No new lands will be developed as a result of this project.

Alternatives currently under consideration for the proposed distribution system include:

(1) Pumping facilities and a pipeline network distribution system with turnouts for individual farms.

(2) Pumping facilities and discharge pipelines with concrete-lined canals and pipeline lateral turnouts for individual farms.

(3) Pumping facilities and discharge pipelines with unlined canals and reservoirs. Farmers would install their own conveyance facilities to their farms.

(4) No action.

A public scoping meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. on December 19, 1985, in the Everett Hall, West Hills Community College, 300 West Cherry Lane, Coalinga, California. The purpose of the hearing is to solicit information from all interested organizations and individuals relating to alternatives to the proposed plan, the scope of the EIS-EIR, and significant issues related to the proposed action. Written comments from those unable to attend and from those wishing to supplement their oral presentation at the meeting should be submitted by January 10, 1986, to the Bureau of Reclamation at the address provided below.

The Bureau of Reclamation contact person for this environmental statement is Rick Breitenbach, Bureau of Reclamation, 2800 Cottage Way, Sacramento, California 95825, telephone (916) 978–5130.

Yukon Flats National Wildlife Refuge Comprehensive Conservation Plan/ Environmental Impact Statement and Wilderness Review

AGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service.

ACTION: Notice of Availability; supplement to the draft plan.

SUMMARY: The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has prepared, for public review, a supplement to the draft Comprehensive Conservation Plan, Environmental Impact Statement (CCP/EIS), and Wilderness Review for the Yukon Flats National Wildlife Refugee, Alaska, pursuant to section 304(g)(1) of the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act of 1980 (ANILCA) and section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. The supplement to the draft CCP/EIS focuses on the impacts of allowing geologic and geophysical activities (including seismic) throughout the refuge under all five alternatives analyzed in the plan and on the impacts of leasing in areas of the refuge under intensive and moderate management under two alternatives. This supplement was required in order to incorporate the Fish and Wildlife Service's policy on oil and gas exploration and leasing on Alaska refuges under section 1008 of the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act into the draft CCP/EIS for the Yukon Flats National Wildlife Refuge. The draft CCP/EIS, as initially released in September 1985, allowed seismic activities in only two alternatives and oil and gas leasing in only one alternative.

DATES: Public hearings on the Draft CCP/EIS and supplement for the Yukon Flats Refuge will be held at the North Star Borough Library, 1215 Cowles Street, Fairbanks, Alaska, on January 7, 1986, at 7:30 p.m. and at the Pioneer School House, 3rd and Eagle, Anchorage, Alaska, on January 9, 1986, at 7:00 p.m.

Remarks on the draft CCP/EIS and supplement must be submitted on or before February 10, 1986, to receive consideration by the Regional Director in preparing the final CCP/EIS.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: William Knauer, Wildlife Resources, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, 1011 East Tudor Road, Anchorage, Alaska 99503; telephone (907) 786–3399.

A supplement to the draft CCP/EIS has been prepared for general distribution. Copies of the supplement will be sent to all persons, organizations, and agencies which participated in either scoping, the alternative workshop, and/or the public review process. Copies of the supplement will be sent to all agencies and persons who have already requested copies. Those wishing to review the supplement and the draft CCP/EIS may obtain copies by contacting Mr. Knauer.

Copies of the supplement and the draft CCP-EIS are available for public review at the above location; at the Yukon Flats National Wildlife Refuge Office, Federal Building, 101–12th Avenue, Fairbanks, Alaska, and at the following locations:

U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Division of Refuge Management, Interior Building, 18th and C Streets, NW, Washington, DC 20240

U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Wildlife Resources, Lloyd 500 Building, Suite 1692, 500 NE Multnomah Street, Portland, OR 97232

U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Wildlife Resources, 500 Gold Avenue SW, Room 1306, Albuquerque, NM 87103

U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Wilflife Resources, Federal Building, Fort Snelling, Twin Cities, NM 55111

U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Wildlife Resources, Richard B. Russell Federal Building, 75 Spring Street, Atlanta, GA 30303

U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Wildlife Resources, One Gateway Center, Suite 700, Newton Corner, MA 02158

U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Wildlife Resources, 134 Union Boulevard, Lakewood, CO 80225

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The supplement includes those changes required by the restatement of the Fish and Wildlife Service policy on oil and gas exploration and leasing on Alaska refuges. The supplement contains only those sections of the draft CCP/EIS where changes were necessary to reflect the oil and gas policy.

The draft CCP/EIS allowed ground-disturbing geologic and geophysical activities (including seismic) only on areas of the refuge under intensive and moderate management. Under the Service's policy on oil and gas exploration, geological and geophysical activities (including seismic) may be allowed throughout the refuge if compatible with refuge purposes. Seismic activities would only be allowed following completion of the final CCP and Record of Decision (ROD). Ground-disturbing activities would not be allowed in Congressionally designated wilderness unless conducted by an Interior Department agency (or by someone under contract to an Interior agency) with appropriate stipulations to ensure compatibility with wilderness management objectives.

Section 1008 of the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act directs the Secretary of the Interior to establish and oil and gas leasing program on Federal lands. Such a program shall not be undertaken on those units of the National Wildlife Refuge System where, after having considered the national interest in producing oil and gas from such lands, it is determined that the exploration for and development of oil or gas would be incompatible with the purposes for which the refuge was established.

In the draft CCP/EIS, oil and gas leasing was allowed only on areas of the refuge under intensive management. Under the Service's policy on oil and gas leasing, leasing may be allowed on areas of the refuge under intensive and moderate management if compatible with refuge purposes. On areas of the refuge under minimal management in all the alternative leasing will automatically be considered incompatible with refuge purposes, while leasing may be allowed in other minimal management areas only if it is determined to be in the national interest. Leasing will not be permitted in Congressionally designated wilderness areas. No leasing program will be initiated prior to the final CCP and issuance of the ROD. If a national interest determination has not been incorporated into the final CCP and ROD, any formal leasing program will be delayed until this has been considered. If adequate information on oil and gas potential on the refuge is lacking, the national interest determination may be delayed until the Bureau of Land Management can assess potential.

Following the public comment period on the draft plan and supplement for the Yukon Flats Refuge, an initial compatibility determination on leasing on the Yukon Flats Refuge will be made. This determination will be based on resource values of the refuge and the subsistence use areas identified in the plan together with public comments. If leasing is determined to be incompatible, Alternatives B and C will be revised to reflect the fact that oil and gas leasing would not be allowed. If leasing is determined to be compatible, either Alternative B or C would be selected as the preferred alternative.

If leasing is determined to be incompatible with refuge purposes, the Final CCP/EIS would note that should leasing be determined to be in the national interest at a later date, the plan would require revision to reflect this change.

Dated: December 6, 1985.

Robert E. Gilmore,

Regional Director.

Certain Apparatus for Installing Electrical Lines and Components Therefor; Decision to Deny Complainant's Petition for Reconsideration of Commission Determination; Reformation of Cease and Desist Orders AGENCY: U.S. International Trade Commission.

ACTION: Denial of complainant Scoggins Manufacturing Inc.'s (SMI) petition for reconsideration of the Commission's determination, and, on Commission's own motion, reformation of cease and desist orders issued to Emergency Products Corp. SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Background

This investigation is being instituted as a result of an affirmative final determination by the Department of Commerce that imports of certain heavy-walled rectangular welded carbon steel pipes and tubes from Canada are being sold in the United States at less than fair value within the meaning of section 731 of the act (19 U.S.C. 1673). The investigtion was requested in a petition filed on March 25, 1985, by counsel on behalf of Bull Moose Tube Co., St. Louis, Mo; Copperweld Tubing Group, Pittsburgh, PA; Kaiser Steel Corp., Los Angeles, CA; Maruichi American Corp., Santa Fe

[3] Commissioner Lodwick determines that an industry rather than industries, is the subject of material injury.

Springs, CA; UNR–Leavitt, Chicago, IL; and Welded Tube Co. of America, Chicago, IL. In respone to that petition the Commission conducted a preliminary antidumping investigation and, on the basis of information developed during the course of that investigation, determined that there was a reasonable indication that an industry in the United States was materially injured by reason of imports of the subject merchandise (50 FR 20302, May 15, 1985).

Pursuant to the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a), the Department of Justice, Criminal Division, proposes to establish a new system of records entitled "Office of Special Investigations Displaced Persons Listings, Justice/CRM-027." The purpose of the system is to ascertain if individuals who submitted entry visa applications to the United States under the Displaced Persons Acts (in force from 1948 to 1952) made fraudulent statements to gain such entry. In the Proposed Rules Section of today's Federal Register, the Criminal Division also proposes to exempt portions of the system from subsection (d) of the Privacy Act pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 552a(k)(2). The exemption is needed to protect the information received from confidential sources, and to preserve the identity of such confidential sources and of other individuals who might serve as witnesses against an individual, or who might otherwise be of investigative interest to the Criminal Division.

5 U.S.C. 552a(e)(4) and (11) provide that the public be provided a 30-day period in which to comment on the routine uses of a new system; the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), which has oversight responsibility under the Act, requires that it be given a 60-day period in which to review the system. However, the Department has requested a waiver of the 60-day requirement.

The amended system notice is reprinted below. The USMS has revised the system notice to add new routine uses which will permit access by public and private organizations and individuals, and by State, local, and foreign law enforcement agencies, to the extent necessary to gain information and cooperation in USMS fugitive investigations and apprehension efforts, and to assist other law enforcement agencies in their authorized law enforcement activities. Finally, in addition to making changes to clarify and better describe the system, it has revised the notice to reflect the proposed exemption from additional subsections of the Act, i.e., subsections (e)(1) and (3)(5). (A proposed rule to exempt the system from these additional subsections appears in today's Federal Register.) All changes have been italicized for public convenience.

[AAG/A Order No. 28-85]

Privacy Act of 1974; Modified Systems of Records

Pursuant to the provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a), the Department of Justice, Civil Rights Division (CRT), proposes to modify all CRT Systems of records.

Specifically, CRT will add a routine use that will permit the disclosure of records in the ordinary course of litigation. The systems are identified as follows:

"Central Civil Rights Division Index File and Associated Records, JUSTICE/CRT-001;" "Files of Applications for the Position of Attorney with the Civil Rights Division, JUSTICE/CRT-002;" "Civil Rights Case Load Evaluation System—Time Reporting System, JUSTICE/CRT-003;" "Registry of Names of Interested Persons Desiring Notification of Submissions under Section 5 of the Voting Rights Act, JUSTICE/CRT-004;" "Files on Employment Civil Rights Matters Referred by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, JUSTICE/CRT-007;" "Civil Rights Division Travel Reports, JUSTICE/CRT-009;" and "Freedom of Information; Privacy Act Records, JUSTICE/CRT-010."

The Department of Justice last published these systems on August 21, 1985 (50 FR 33863).

Title 5 U.S.C. 552a(e) (4) and (11) provide that the public be given a 30-day period in which to comment on new routine uses. Please address any comments to J. Michael Clark, Acting Assistant Director, General Services Staff, Justice Management Division, Department of Justice, Room 9002, 601 D Street, NW, Washington, D.C., 20530. Comments must be received by January 16, 1986.

Since the new routine use is compatible with the purposes for which the systems are maintained, no report to the Office of Management and Budget and the Congress is required.

Dated: November 14, 1985.

Assistant Attorney General for Administration.

[Docket No. 50–312]

Sacramento Municipal Utility District; Environmental Assessment and Finding of No Significant Impact

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) is considering issuance of an exemption from a requirement of 10 CFR 50.44(c)(3)(iii) to the Sacramento Municipal Utility District (the licensee), for the Rancho Seco Nuclear Generating Station, located in Sacramento County, California.

Environmental Assessment

Identification of Proposed Action: The exemption would permit the licensee not to install a reactor vessel head vent as required by 10 CFR 50.44(c)(3)(iii).

The exemption is responsive to the licensee's application for exemption dated April 12, 1985.

The Need for the Proposed Action: The licensee has performed tests using the Once-Through Integral System (OTIS) facility. The purpose of these tests was to determine if reactor core cooldown can be maintained in the absence of a vessel head vent to release noncondensible gases from the vessel during an accident. Based on results of the OTIS tests, the licensee concluded that a reactor vessel head vent is not needed since other high point vents can be used to release gases.

Furthermore, the licensee has committed to implement appropriate emergency procedures to assure reactor core cooling in the absence of a vessel head vent.

Environmental Impacts of the Proposed Action: The proposed exemption, as supported by the licensee's test results and commitment, will provide assurance of reactor core cooling that is equivalent to that required by 10 CFR 50.44(c)(3)(iii) such that there is no increase in the risk of accidents at this facility. The probability of accidents will not be increased and the post-accident radiological releases will not be greater than previously determined, nor will the proposed exemption otherwise affect radiological plant effluents. Therefore, the Commission concludes that there are no significant radiological environmental impacts associated with this proposed exemption.

With regard to potential nonradiological impacts, the proposed exemption involves features located entirely within the restricted area as defined in 10 CFR Part 20. It does not affect nonradiological plant effluents and has no other enivronmental impact. Therefore, the Commission concludes that there are no significant nonradiological environmental impacts associated with the proposed exemption.

Alternative Use of Resources: This action involves no use of resources not previously considered in the Final Environmental Statement (construction permit and operating license) for the Rancho Seco Nuclear Generating Station.

Agencies and Persons Consulted: The Commission's staff reviewed the licensee's request and did not consult other agencies or persons.

Finding of No Significant Impact

The Commission has determined not to prepare an environmental impact statement for the proposed exemption.

Based upon the foregoing environmental assessment, the Commission concludes that the proposed action will not have a significant effect on the quality of the human environment.

For further details with respect to this action, see the application for the exemption dated April 12, 1985, which is available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street, NW., Washington, DC, and at the Sacramento City-County Library, 828 J Street, Sacramento, California.

Dated at Bethesda, Maryland, this 11th day of December, 1985.

For the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

ML Venture Partners I, L.P., et al.; Application for an Order

December 10, 1985.

Notice is hereby given that ML Venture Partners I, L.P. ("Partnership"), Merrill Lynch Venture Capital, Inc. ("Management Company"), the Management Company for the Partnership, 717 Fifth Avenue, New York, NY 10020, and Merrill Lynch KECALP L.P. 1984 ("KECALP"), 165 Broadway, One Liberty Plaza, New York, NY 10080, filed an application on August 20, 1985, and amendments thereto on November 5 and November 25, 1985, for an order of the Commission: (1) Pursuant to section 6(c) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 ("Act"), exempting the concurrent investment by the Partership and KECALP in preferred stocks issued by Itran Corp. ("Itran") and Califorinia Devices, Inc. ("CDI") from the provisions of section 57(a)(4) of the Act, and Rule 17d-1 thereunder; and (2) pursuant to section 17(b) and 57(c) of the Act, exempting from the provisions of section 17(a)(1) and 57(a)(1) of the Act, the proposed sale of preferred stocks of CDI by the Management Company to KECALP and the Partnership. All interested persons are referred to the application on file with the Commission for a statement of the representations contained therein, which are summarized below, and to the Act for the text of the applicable statutory provisions.

The Partnership was formed as a limited partnership under Delaware law in 1982; it has elected to be treated under the Act as a business development company, and has as its investment objective long-term captial appreciation through venture capital investments. The Partnership has five general partners, four of which are natural persons, a majority of whom are not "interested persons" of the Partnership within the meaning of section 2(a)(19) of the Act (referred to hereinafter as "Individual General Partners"). The Partnership's managing partner is Merrill Lynch Venture Capital Co., L.P. ("Managing General Partner"), and the general partner of the Managing General Partner is the Management Company. The Management Company is an indirect subsidiary of Merrill Lynch & Co., Inc. ("ML&Co."), a holding company which, through its subisdiaries, provides investment, financing, real estate, insurance and related services. On June 30, 1985, the Partnership had net assets of approximately $65 million.

Applicants further state the KECALP, an employees' securities company as defined in section 2(a)(13) of the Act, is a limited partnership, registered under the Act as a closed-end, non-diversified management company, having as its investment objective long-term capital appreciation together with the tax advantages resulting from certain investments. Limited partnership interests in KECALP were sold in an aggregate principal amount of $3,747,000 in a registered public offering which closed in May, 1984, exclusively to those employees of ML&Co. and its subsidiaries having annual compensation in 1983 of at least $75,000, and to non-employee directors of ML&Co. One of the limited partners of KECALP is an officer and a director of the Managing General Partner. Such individuals' capital contribution to KECALP constituted less than one percent of the aggregate capital contributions to KECALP by its limited partners. KECALP operates in accordance with the terms of an exemptive order issued pursuant to section 6(b) of the Act on April 8, 1982 (Investment Company Act Release No. 12363) ("KECALP Exemptive Order") (for a further description of KECALP and its operations, see Investment Company Act Release No. 12290, March 11, 1982).

Itran, a Delaware corporation with its principal office located in Manchester, New Hampshire, is engaged in the design, manufacture and sale of industrial vision systems for high-volume manufacturing companies in the automotive industry, as well as other industries. Pursuant to a Stock Purchase Agreement dated as of August 6, 1985 ("Itran Agreement"), Itran agreed to sell an aggregate of 55,000 shares of its 1985 Preferred Stock and 1986 Preferred Stock to seventeen investors at a purchase price of $100 per share, for an aggregate price of $5,500,000. The closing for the sale of the 1985 Preferred Stock occurred on August 6, 1985, at which time Itran sold 33,000 shares of such stock for an aggregate price of $3,300,000. The closing for the 1986 Preferred Stock placement is scheduled to occur on July 31, 1986; at that time the purchasers wil have the right to purchase 40 percent of their total subscription, subject to the right to increase their investments proportionately to the extent one or more purchasers of the 1985 Preferred Stock elect not to purchase 1986 Preferred Stock.

The Partnership acquired 3,600 shares of 1985 Preferred Stock of Itran pursuant to the Itran Agreement on August 6, 1985. The purchase price was $100 per share, for an aggregate purchase price of $360,000. Such shares, if converted into Itran common stock, would represent approximately 3.62% of the shares of Itran common stock on a fully-diluted basis. Its investment in Itran would thus represent less than 1% of the Partnership's net assets.

Likewise, pursuant to the Itran Agreement, KECALP has conditionally agreed to purchase 1,200 shares of 1985 Preferred Stock at $100 per share, and has the right to purchase 800 shares of 1986 Preferred Stock at the same price. The investment of $120,000 in the 1985 Preferred Stock will represent less than four percent of KECALP's initial assets. If KECALP determines to purchase 1986 Preferred Stock from Itran, its total investment of $200,000 would represent less than six percent of KECALP's initial assets.

To resolve concerns as to the requirements of the Act in light of aforesaid transaction, Applicants decided to apply for the exemptive relief specified hereinabove. The Itran Agreement provides the KECALP is not required to make payment to Itran for the 120,000 shares of the 1985 Preferred Stock KECALP intends to acquire unless the Partnership and KECALP receive the orders requested herein. The Itran Agreement further provides that if such orders have not been issued by the Commission before December 31, 1985, KECALP's obligation under the Itran Agreement will terminate.

Because of the delay in payment to Itran, however, Itran required that KECALP pay interest on such amount to Itran at a rate equal to the 90-day Treasury bill yield as of August 6, 1985, until KECALP makes payment to Itran for the shares of 1985 Preferred Stock it has agreed to purchase. The terms of KECALP's purchase are the same as those of the Partnership's purchase in all other respects, it is stated.

Applicants state that the investment opportunity in Itran preferred shares was initially brought to the attention of the Partnership in September, 1984. The Individual General Partners reviewed the prospective investment by the Partnership and KECALP in Itran at a meeting on July 23, 1985. Among the factors considered by the Individual General Partners, it is stated, was the fact that the terms of the Partnership's purchase of the Itran shares would be no less favorable than the terms on which KECALP is to participate, and the fact that the Partnership would not be disadvantaged in any manner by the participation of KECALP in the proposed transaction. It is stated, in addition, that KECALP Inc. ("KECALP General Partner"), a wholly-owned subsidiary of ML&Co., likewise reviewed the Itran investment, and that the investment committee for the KECALP General Partner decided, at meetings held on June 7, 1985 and August 12, 1985, that the Itran participation would be consistent with KECALP's investment objective of seeking long-term capital appreciation.

CID, A California corporation with its principal office located in San Jose, California, is engaged in the business of designing and producing a specific integrated circuit design technology. Pursuant to a Series 1 Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement ("CDI Agreement"), dated as of August 7, 1985, CDI agreed to sell 56 million shares of Series 1 Preferred Stock ("CDI Shares") to 25 investors for an aggregate purchase price of $13.5 million. The Partnership determined to purchase 4 million CDE Shares for an aggregate purchase price of $1 million, and KECALP determined to purchase 600,000 shares for an aggregate purchase price of $150,000. Applicants state, however, that such investments could not be made concurrently by the Partnership and KECALP without a Commission exemptive order. Therefore, it was agreed that the Management Company would purchase the aggregate of 4.6 million shares on behalf of the Partnership and KECALP, and sell such shares to the Partnership and KECALP at a price arrived at according to the formula described herein below, following issuance of the Commission order herein requested.

The purchase price to be paid by KECALP and the Partnership to the Management Company for the CDI Shares they respectively propose to acquire will be the lesser of (i) the value of the investment on the date the CDI Shares are acquired by the Partnership and KECALP (as determined by the Independent General Partners of the Partnership and the board of directors of the KECALP General Partner), or (ii) the cost to the Management Company of purchasing and holding the CDI Shares. If the latter formulation (i.e., clause (ii)) should be applicable, such cost will be the original purchase price of $.25 per share paid for the CDI shares on August 7, 1985, plus carrying costs relating to such investment. Applicants note that the purchase price of the CDI Shares is $0.21 per share for certain purchasers—none of whom are affiliated with ML&Co.—who were authorized to purchase CDI Shares at that price pursuant to certain prior lending agreements with CDI.

Applicants state that the Managing General Partner and the KECALP General Partner investment committee have reviewed the proposed investment in CDI Shares in detail. In evaluating the terms of the transaction, the Managing General Partner and the KECALP General Partner Investment committee considered the fact that the proposed purchase price to be paid by the Partnership and KECALP will include carrying costs to be incurred by an affiliated person (i.e., the Management Company), in the event that the value of the investments at the the date of acquisition by the Partnership and KECALP, respectively, should exceed the sum of the purchase price plus the carrying costs incurred by the Management Company. It is stated that both KECALP and the Partnership believe that it is entirely appropriate for them to reimburse the Management Company for its carrying costs in a situation in which the Management Company purchases securities, as, in effect, their nominee, and as an accommodation to KECALP and the Partnership, which would have purchased the securities on August 7, 1985, if they had not believed it necessary to obtain the exemptive relief applied for herein. Applicants submit that to deny reimbursement for said carrying costs would result in a further and unwarranted loss to the Management Company and provide a disincentive to act on behalf of KECALP and the Partnership in the future.

Applicants represent, in addition, that the proposed investment in CDI Shares would not otherwise be available for purchase by KECALP and the Partnership. It is further stated that the KECALP General Partner investment committee and the Managing General Partner have approved the proposed investments after review of a considerable number of possible investments for KECALP and the Partnership. The Partnership and KECALP thus submit that their respective investment programs would be prejudiced if they were not permitted to acquire the proposed participations in CDI Shares.

It is further stated that the board of directors of the KECALP General Partner believe that KECALP's proposed investment in CDI Shares is consistent with the rationale underlying the establishement of KECALP as an "employees' securities company." It has been contemplated since the inception of KECALP. Applicants state, that ML&Co. and its affiliates would be involved in structuring, identifying and investing in many of KECALP's portfolio investments. Similarly, it is asserted that the proposed purchase of CDI Shares is consistent with the Partnership's investment objectives and the types of transactions in which the Partnership was expected to prticipate. That is, it was contemplated that the Partnership would be a co-investor in portfolio companies with affiliates of the Partnership's management, and this expectation has been noted in the Partnership's prospectus.

Notice is further given that any interested person wishing to request a hearing on the application may, not later than December 30, 1985, at 5:30 p.m., do so by submitting a written request setting forth the nature of his/her interest, the reasons for the request, and the specific issues of fact or law that are disputed, to the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, DC 20549. A copy of the request should be served personally or by mail upon Applicant at the address stated above. Proof of service (by affidavit or, in the case of an attorney-at-law, by certificate) shall be filed with the request. After said date, an order disposing of the application will be issued unless the Commission orders a hearing upon request or upon its own motion.

For the Commission, by the Division of Investment Management, pursuant to delegated authority.

Shirley E. Hollis,

Assistant Secretary.

Electronic Filing, Processing and Information Dissemination System

AGENCY: Securities and Exchange Commission.

ACTION: Solicitation of comment on certain issues raised at the November 25, 1985, Pre-release Meeting.

SUMMARY: The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) requests comments on five issues pertaining to its anticipated Request for Proposals (RFP) for an electronic filing, processing and information dissemination system. The five issues are: (1) 132 Character workstations; (2) filer phase-in schedule; (3) dissemination to state securities regulators; (4) ownership of software and other intellectual property; and (5) proposed dissemination pricing and regulation approach.

Each of these issues has been raised in previous Commission announcements and the public has commented. This is intended to provide interested persons an opportunity to offer further comment.

DATE: Comments must be received on or before January 10, 1986.

ADDRESS: Persons submitting comments should file three copies with John Wheeler, Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, DC 20549. All comments should refer to File S7-48-85 and will be available for public inspection and copying at the Commission's Public Reference Room.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: David Copenhafer (202) 272-3794, Edgar Project Manager, Securities and Exchange Commission, 450 Fifth Street, NW., Washington, DC 20549.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On July 1, 1985 the Commission published a Pre-Solicitation Document (PSD) describing the technical and contractual Requirements for its planned Edgar Operational System. Accompanying the PSD was an Executive Summary highlighting the objectives of the system and identifying significant issues related to the development, operation and funding of the Edgar system. Public comment on these specific issues and on any other aspect of the procurement were invited, either in writing or at a public meeting held on July 23, 1985.

In response to the PSD, the Commission received 18 letters of comment. Based upon these and other comments, Commission staff has extensively reviewed all aspects of the system and anticipates making significant changes in the RFP reflecting the public comment. Accordingly, on November 20, 1985, a notice was published in the Federal Register (50 FR 47886) describing revised major requirements of the system and announcing that a public meeting would be held with the staff on November 25, 1985 to discuss these changes.

Over eighty people attended this public meeting. A number of comments were made. Several persons requested additional information and the opportunity to provide additional written comments. As a result, the staff indicated that a second notice would be issued expanding on the subjects discussed at this meeting.

1. 132 Character Workstations

The SEC has been informed by several potential bidders that it would be necessary to custom-manufacture the workstations specified in the pre-release document. Commentators indicated that while 132 character monitors and terminals do exist, there were no known pieces of equipment which featured 132 character display in combination with the functionality contained in a personal computer (PC). They stated that without purchasing customized equipment, the SEC would not be able to obtain the functions contained in its existing PC-based pilot workstations.

Reviewers are asked to comment on this apparent technical limitation and on the incremental cost increase to the SEC internal system of any proposed solution. Assume an SEC internal system of 450 workstations in making a cost assessment.

2. Filer Phase-In

The Pre-Solicitation Document proposed that entities whose filings are processed by the Division of Corporation Finance would be phased-in over a one year, seven month period. This schedule reflected industry groups and the Assistant Director groups in the Division of Corporation Finance responsible for processing the filing of these industry groups. A similar approach was described for entities whose filings are processed by the Division of Investment Management.

The proposed revised phase-in schedule for the Division of Corporation Finance, shown below, spans two years and three months. Subject to certain numerical constraints and Commission rulemaking, the schedule offers bidders the opportunity to specify the order in which they perfer be brought into the electronic filing system. The proposed phase-in schedule for the Division of Investment Management spans one year and nine months.

The question was raised whether the SEC would extend the term of the contract to reflect the change in the phase-in schedule on the assumption that revenues would be reduced since the database would not reach maturity as quickly as it would under the old schedule. The staff's position is that the contract will not be extended. The rationale for not extending the contract period (seven years with two options of two years each) is that the extension in the duration of the phase-in period is less than one year, and the contractor will have the opportunity to request that registrants whose filings are of greater commercial value due to greater public interest be brought on at earlier dates than contemplated under the previous approach. For example, the contractor could request that larger companies be brough in first.

The proposed phase-in schedules for the Division of Investment Management and the Division of Corporation Finance are presented for review. Comment is sought on the potential impact both of these schedules would have upon a successful bidder. Although the specific dates may change, depending upon the RFP issue date, contract award date and operational system implementation date; the number of companies included in each phase and the lengths of the between phases will be constant.

[1] Form S-18s filed in the Headquarters office will follow the electronic filing schedule set forth above.

d. Forms 3, 4 and 144.

The SEC receives in excess of 150,000 Forms 3, 4 and 144 annually. These are one-page two-sided forms noting purchases or sales of stock by specified individuals or entities. The forms may be submitted by individuals, partnerships or corporations. Any decision to include these documents in the electronic system pursuant to this contract will be made in conjunction with the contractor.

3. Dissemination to State Securities Regulations

Each year more than 6,000 securities registration filings made with the SEC are also filed with most States securities regulations (States). The SEC seeks to aid both the State and the individual filers by enabling filers to make a single filing that fulfills requirements of the SEC and any State identified by the filer.

Toward that end, under Edgar, these filings will be made electronically with the SEC and forwarded to a central facility operated by an agent selected by the States. In addition, other Edgar filings may be made available to the States through this same mechanism.

The central facility, to be located in the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area, will be set up by the SEC contractor and will consist of a central processing unit capable of processing daily non-peak filings into a data base, sufficient storage capability to maintain an average week of filing data, and a remote job entry telecommunication link to the Edgar dissemination system. The interface to the Edgar dissemination system is at the regulated Level I service for dissemination (see item 5 in this release). In order to assist and encourage the implementation of one-step filing, the estimated $2.5 million cost of the United States agencies dissemination node is included in the SEC internal processing system. The SEC will retain ownership of the node hardware, software and data.

Although the contractor will be responsible for the initial development of the dissemination node, the state agent will be solely responsible for providing the facility and operation of the node. The SEC will have no direct responsibility for or direct interaction with the state filing system or with individual states. The Edgar contractor will be responsible for procurement of the equipment and software described above, and delivery to the central facility. Subsequently, the state agent will be responsible for housing, operation, training of state agent staff, maintenance of the hardware and software, and providing communications and filings to the individual states.

The contractor will not be required to provide this capability until the SEC determines that a sufficient number of states have agreed to the arrangement with the state agent. If, after two years from the contract award date, a sufficient number of states have not entered into an agreement for the state system, the SEC may either relieve the contractor from this obligation or seek the best efforts of other parties in developing the system.

Comment is sought on this proposal.

4. Ownership of Software and Other Intellectual Property

The RFP will provide that: (1) Intellectual property developed with federal funds is owned by the SEC, and (2) intellectual property developed at the contractor's expense is owned by the contractor. Since the federal government will finance the cost of constructing and operating the SEC internal system, the extent to which the successful bidder may copyright or otherwise restrict the intellectual property it develops under the operational Edgar contract is significantly restricted from the PSD.

The SEC will, however, retain a non-exclusive, permanent, transferable, royalty-free interest in such contractor-owned property that relates to the receipt and regulated dissemination system for the sole purpose of being able to continue to operate the entire operational system at the expiration of the contract or in the event that the contractor is replaced.

Comment is sought on this proposal.

5. Proposed Dissemination Pricing and Regulation Approach

A critical objective of the operational Edgar system is to achieve the widest possible distribution of SEC filings, at a fair and reasonable price, that permits the SEC contractor to recover its costs and earn a reasonable rate of return on investment. This is best accomplished by a structure that entails limited Commission involvement in product definition and price regulation and maximum reliance upon free market competition. Thus, the Edgar contractor will be required to provide a limited level of mandatory service within a regulated environment. These services are designed to ensure that any commercial vendor of information has adequate and timely access to SEC information at a fair and reasonable price. The resulting direct and open competition among providers, including the Edgar contractor, will eliminate the need for further Commission involvement in identifying all desirable products or services and determining prices for each of them. The two required services are described below.

Level I Service—Annual subscription service to all SEC filings provided through batch transmittal on a daily basis via landline, broadcast or any other recorded media, as specified by the contractor in its proposal. As part of this service, subscribers will be permitted to lease, at their expense, dedicated communications lines to the Edgar dissemination system that will provide real time notification of filings upon receipt and enable the subscriber to access and download filings upon command.

This service is modified from the service identified in the PSD to reflect comments that real-time simultaneous downloading of the entire database is neither cost-effective nor desirable. According to commentators, overnight delivery is expected to be satisfactory for all but a very small percentage of filings, which Level I subscribers may obtain on a real-time basis via the interactive communications line which may be provided with this service. It is expected that this service will satisfy the needs of commercial information vendors.

AS discussed above, Level I service will be provided to the agent for state securities agencies for access and distribution to the states. This service will be provided without charge provided usage is restricted to official state purposes.

Level II Service—Annual subscription service to certain SEC-specified subsets of the entire database. Transmission would be as specified in Level I service, but it would not include the option of a real-time leased line connection. This service reflects the comments that certain specialized information vendors require timely access to segments of the database but do not need or have the capability to purchase, receive or store the entire database.

The contractor will not be required to offer accompying real-time demand access with this service. There are three reasons for not mandating this aspect of service. First, it does not appear that subscribers to this level of service, probably providers of periodic analytic or specialized services, routinely require real-time access. Second, to provide this service with no upper limit on the number of users, the Edgar contractor might have to maintain an extremely large communications system that would not be cost-effective. Finally, it is expected that Level II subscribers interested in demand access will be able to obtain this service from Level I subscribers in the open market or from the Edgar contractor, if offered through its unregulated services.

The Edgar contractor will be required to provide both Level I and Level II service in a standardized print image format that corresponds with the document as filed. The Contractor will be permitted to offer standardized communications interfaces that minimize its processing demands, consistent with Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS PUB).

The following are the Level III Subscription Services that must be provided:

a. Periodic Filings—NYSE Companies
b. Periodic Filings—AMEX Companies
c. Periodic Filings—OTC Companies.
d. Registration Statements and Prospectuses.
e. Tender Offers and Acquisitions Filings
f. Annual Report—All Filings
g. Form 8-K Current Reports—All Filings
h. Investment Company Periodic Reports"

Optional Services—As Levels I and II are mandatory minimum service levels designed to ensure competition, the contractor will be permitted to offer any and all other services in an unregulated environment, as discussed below. Because of the existence of alternative providers through Level I, the Contractor will be subject to direct competition on any other services and purchasers will be able to choose among providers.

For example, potentially heavy users of SEC information, such as law firms or securities analysts that are not interested in maintaining an internal system for storage and access, could contract with any Level I subscriber on the contractor itself for demand access, specifically tailored to their usage or needs. Similary, the occasional or low volume user, such as an individual investor, could obtain service through a commercial "gateway" vendor or via an analytic service in which the Edgar derived data is a component of a broader or enhanced service. In this manner, the public will be able to obtain the broadest array of services at competitive prices.

Cost Recovery and Regulation Approach—As indicated above, the contractor will be entitled to recover the costs of developing and operating the receipt and dissemination system as well as a reasonable rate of return on investment and operation. This will be accomplished by periodic Commission oversight of contractor dissemination activities and regulation of revenue generated from the sale of regulated services. Commission oversight will focus primarily on aggregate revenue and the rate of return on regulated services. Prices for specific products or types of regulated services will be reviewed only to assure the prices are not predatory nor anticompetitive.

Offerors, in their bid proposals, will be required to specify the development and annual operating costs to be recovered as well as specifying and proposing their rate of return. These figures will be utilized in evaluating and selecting the contractor. Subsequently, prior to implementation of service, the contractor will propose prices for Level I and Level II services designed to ensure revenue commensurate with their cost structure and approved rate of return. These initial prices will be subject to Commission review to ensure that they are not anticompetitive nor predatory.

The contractor will be permitted to coduct unregulated activities provided that: (1) Such activities are conducted by a separate entity with complete and separate accounting records and (2) entity is charged the Level 1 annual subscription fee. In addition, the contractor will be permitted to use shared facilities for both regulated and unregulated activities provided that the costs of such facilities are allocated on a reasonable basis which assures that the unregulated activities are not subsidized by a disproportionate level of expenses being borne by the regulated activities. An annual review of regulated operations will be condicted by the Commission based upon an independent audit of operations, conducted under the direction of the Commission. This audit will review all aspects of regulated services. It also will review unregulated activities to the extent necessasry to ensure that costs are properly allocated.

While, as noted, the Commission will review the prices of specific regulated services only to assure that they are not predatory or anticompetitive, the Commission's Office of General Counsel has expressed the view that present law does not authorize an Edgar fee structure in which the contractor would impose a royalty or usage-based fee on subscribers who resell Edgar information.

Finally, the Commission will require the Edgar contractor to provide free access to the public through workstations available in the Commission's public references rooms. In addition, the Commission will ensure that all Commission filings are available for public access in both paper and microfiche form, as is currently the case.

Comment is sought on this proposal.

By the Commission.

[Release No. 34-22702; File No. SR-NYSE-85-37, etc.]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Filing and Order Approving on an Accelerated Basis; Proposed Rule Change of New York Stock Exchange, Inc., Extending "Next-Day" Settlement Pilot Program; and Requesting Permanent Approval

Pursuant to section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. 78s(b)(1), notice is hereby given that on October 17, 1985, and November 13, 1985, the New York Stock Exchange, Inc. ("NYSE") filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission File Nos. SR-NYSE-85-37 and 85-41, respectively. The Commission is publishing this notice to describe the proposals and to solicit comments on them. The Commission also is approving on an accelerated basis File No. SR-NYSE-85-41 for the reasons discussed below.

Introduction and Description

On April 23, 1985, the Commission approved a NYSE rule change (File No. SR-NYSE-85-4) that established a six-month pilot program (to end on October 30, 1985) to test the feasibility of providing to its members alternate settlement periods.[1] That rule change amended NYSE Rule 64, for the duration of the pilot, to enable members to settle trades on a "next-day" basis, i.e., "for delivery on the first business day following the day of the contract." [2] The pilot program expired on October 30, 1985.[3]

On October 17, 1985, the NYSE filed File No. SR-NYSE-85-37, in which it requested that the Commission permanently approve on an accelerated basis the "next-day" settlement program, to be effective at the end of the pilot program (i.e., on October 30th, 13 days later). That proposed rule change also included a "catch-all" provision to enable NYSE to implement other settlement periods (i.e., on the second, third or fourth business day after trade date ["T+2, T+3 or T+4"]) should NYSE members show sufficient interest in those other settlement periods. In that regard, the NYSE requested authority to begin, at any time, a six-month pilot to test these additional settlement time frames.[4] At the request of the Division of Market Regulation staff, the NYSE subsequently submitted File No. SR-NYSE-85-41 on November 13, 1985, asking for an extension of the pilot program until the Commission acts on File No. SR-NYSE-85-37, the proposal to incorporate permanently into NYSE Rule 64 the "next day" settlement program. Division staff requested that the pilot be extended for two reasons. First, the Commission needed more time to perform responsibly its section 19(b) rule proposal review. Second, an extension of the pilot would ensure that NYSE members using the "next-day" settlement feature could continue without interruption.

Rationale for the Proposal

For the following reasons, the NYSE believes that File No. SR-NYSE-85-37 is consistent with the Act and, in particular, section 6(b)(5). More specifically, the NYSE believes that the proposal fosters co-operation and coordination with persons engaged in settling and facilitating transactions in securities and perfects the mechanism of a free and open market.

When the pilot program was initially considered by the Commission, the NYSE stated that several members asked it to consider providing an opportunity to settle trades on a "next-day" basis. These members stated that next-day settlement would help them to meet customer investment objectives. Moreover, the NYSE represented that several other national securities exchanges already permitted next-day settlement and that some institutional investors have used that next-day settlement option to further their sophisticated trading strategies. Because "next day" NYSE trades would settle outside National Securities Clearing Corporation's efficent, automated "street-side" comparison, clearance and settlement facilities, the NYSE promised to monitor closely what effect, if any increased "non-regular-way" trading might have on NYSE member trade settlement operations during the pilot.

NYSE Pilot Program Experience

In File No. SR-NYSE-85-37, the NYSE represented that from April 30 to September 30, 1985, 837 next-day trades were effected on the Exchange, representing 8.5 million shares (about 10,000 shares per trade). During this same period, 1003 next-day trades were effected on other exchanges, totalling 16.9 million shares (about 17,000 shares per trade). The NYSE stated further that approximately 70% of these "next-day" trades on the NYSE (i.e., about 586) were for less than 5,000 shares. Moreover, the Exchange indicated that it has monitored closely whether next-day settlement has affected the quality or operation of its regular-way auction market or the clearance and settlement operations of its member firms. The Exchange noted that it has not discovered any problems.

Request for Comments

Within 35 days of the date of publication of this notice in the Federal Register or within such longer period (i) as the Commission may designate up to 90 days of such date if it finds such longer period to be appropriate and publishes its reasons for so finding; or (ii) as to which the self-regulatory organization consents, the Commission will by order approve File No. SR-NYSE-85-37 or institute proceedings to determine whether it should be disapproved. Interested persons can submit written data, views and arguments concerning File Nos. SR-NYSE-85-37 and SR-NYSE-85-41. Please send six copies of your written comments to the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 450 Fifth Street, NW., Washington, DC 20549.

Copies of the filings, all subsequent amendments, all written statements with respect to the proposed rule change that are filed with the Commission and all written communications relating to the proposed rule change that are filed with the Commission and any person, other than those may be withheld from the public in accordance with the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552, are available for inspection and copying in the Commission's Public Reference Section, 450 Fifth Street, NW., Washington, DC. Copies of the filings also are available for inspection and coping at the NYSE. All written comments should refer to the file number in the caption above and should be submitted by [insert date 21 days from date of publication].

Conclusion

Because the Commission needs more time to perform its review of File No. SR-NYSE-85-37 but desires an uninterrupted pilot program, the Commission is approving on an accelerated basis File No. SR-NYSE-85-41. Thus, the NYSE will be able to [2] Prior to the pilot program, NYSE rule 64 provided three types of settlement periods: (1) "cash" (same day) settlement, (2) "regular-way" settlement (on the fifth business day after execution and (3) "seller's option" settlement (in six business days to sixty days after a transaction).

[3] Because the NYSE pilot technically lapsed on October 30, 1985, Division staff granted NYSE a temporary oral "no-action" position to continue the pilot program pending today's accelerated approval of the pilot extension.

The Exchange also represented that it will file with the Commission under section 19(b) any rule proposals that permanently codify these or any other additional settlement time frames.

It is Therefore Ordered, pursuant to section 19(b)(2) of the Act, that the proposed rule change (File No. SR–NYSE–85–41) to extend NYSE's next-day settlement period pilot program until the Commission acts on File No. SR–NYSE–85–37 be, and hereby is, approved.

For the Commission by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Pacific Clearing Corp. and Pacific Securities Depository Trust Co.; Order Approving Proposed Rule Changes

Pursuant to section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, 15 U.S.C. 78s(b)(1), the Pacific Clearing Corporation ("PCC") and the Pacific Securities Depository Trust Company ("PSDTC") filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission proposed rule changes that would provide settlement and distribution services in connection with certain underwritings of PSDTC-eligible securities. The Commission requested public comment on the proposals in Securities Exchange Act Release Nos. 22400 and 22401 (September 11, 1985), 50 FR 37939 (September 18, 1985). No comments were received. The Commission is approving the proposed rule changes.

A. Description of the Proposals

The proposed rule changes implement a program that provides settlement and distribution services in connection with certain underwritings of PSDTC-eligible securities.[1] Under the proposals, a PSDTC participant acting as a managing underwriter may request PCC and PSDTC to act as its agent in connection with a specific underwriting program by submitting a letter of authorization [2] at least two weeks before the expected settlement date.[3] In the authorization letter, the managing underwriter can request PCC/PSDTC to provide pick-up services, distribution services only, or distribution services and money settlement services. The managing underwriter will instruct the issuer's transfer agent or trustee bank to issue the securities in appropriate denominations registered in PSDTC's nominee name. The specific instruction forms, money settlement schedules and distribution information must be delivered to PSDTC by the managing underwriter at least forty-eight hours before the closing of the underwriting.

1. Pick-Up Services

If requested by the managing underwriter, PCC will pick up the securities certificates from the transfer agent or trustee bank on the day before settlement of the underwriting. Authorized PCC staff and one or more members of the underwriter will count, verify and package the securities at the office of the transfer agent or trustee bank and deliver them to PCC's clearing area, where they will be retained for safekeeping in custody account pending the closing of the underwriting. When notified that the underwriting has closed, PCC will release the certificates to PSDTC personnel for immediate deposit at PSDTC for the credit of the managing underwriter. PSDTC will process book-entry movements and physical withdrawals in accordance with instructions previoulsly received from the managing underwriter.[4] If the managing underwriter so instructs, PSDTC will credit a portion of those securities to the underwriter's account at PCC to permit delivers (free or against payment) to non-PCC/PSDTC members through PCC's Securities Collection Division ("SCD") in accordance with PCC's SCD procedures. In accordance with those instructions, PCC's SCD will make arrangements for the delivery of securities to PCC's branch offices or other registered securities depositories for physical withdrawals and draft deliveries. At the end of the day on which the underwriter closes, all securities remaining in PCC or PSDTC's possession at any PCC branch will be valued and forwarded to PSDTC's vault in San Francisco for safekeeping.

2. Distribution Services

When the managing underwriter requests that PCC/PSDTC provide distribution services only, the underwriter will deliver the securities to PCC's clearing window on settlement day (closing day), and the position will be credited to the managing underwriter's PCC or PSDTC account, in accordance with the managing underwriter's instructions. Thereafter, movements and releases of the securities will be processed in accordance with PCC/PSDTC procedures. Nevertheless, PCC/PSDTC will not make any deliveries until the trustee bank or transfer agent advises PCC/PSDTC that payment has been received by the managing underwriter.

3. Money Settlement and Distribution Services

Under the proposals, PCC/PSDTC will provide money settlement and distribution services for the managing underwriter if the managing underwriter requests these services at least two weeks before the closing. Under this proposed service, PSDTC would accept payments from selling group members for the managing underwriter's account. Based on instructions from the managing underwriter, PSDTC will accept payments from selling group members until 9:00 a.m. on closing day and advise the managing underwriter which selling group members failed to make payments in accordance with the managing underwriter's instructions to PSDTC. PCC and PSDTC would effect no deliveries or movements until authorized by the managing underwriter and, in accordance with the managing underwriter's instructions, would effect deliveries (free or against payment) through PSDTC and PCC facilities.

In the event money settlement and distribution services are to be completed for DTC participants through the depository interface, PCC/PSDTC will ship securities certificates, registered in DTC's nominee name, to its New York City office one day before settlement. On settlement day, PCC/PSDTC's New York office, upon notification that the underwriting has closed, will deposit these securities in its DTC account. DTC, upon receipt of payment from its participants, then will deliver the securities by book-entry movement. Under no circumstances will DTC make these book-entry transfers prior to receipt of payment.

B. PCC/PSDTC's Rationale

PCC and PSDTC state in their filings that the proposed rule changes are consistent with the Act in general and

[1] The underwriting program applies both to municipal securities and corporate securities that are PSDTC eligible.

[2] The signed authorization letter will be retained at the PCC office through which the underwriting will be completed. In addition to its principal office in San Francisco, PCC maintains offices in Los Angeles, Denver, New York, Portland and Seattle.

[3] The participant also should forward any additional information it has about the underwriting at that time.

[4] Non-PSDTC participants may effect settlement directly with the underwriter or through a correspondent that is a PSDTC participant.

section 17A in particular because the underwriting program is intended to facilitate securities underwritings by expediting the issuance and distribution of securities. PCC and PSDTC also emphasize that the underwriting program reduces the necessity for physical deliveries and encourages the use of book-entry transfers of securities. Finally, PCC and PSDTC state that their proposed rule changes are consistent with section 17A(b)3)(F) of the Act in that the underwriting program promotes the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of securities transactions, assures the safeguarding of securities and funds, and, in general, protects investors and the public interest.

C. Discussion

For the reasons stated below, the Commission believes that the proposed rule changes are consistent with section 17A of the Act and therefore is approving the proposals. The Commission believes that the proposals should further the development of the National Clearance and Settlement System ("National System") because they promote the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of securities transactions and the safeguarding of securities and funds.

The PCC/PSDTC underwriting program promotes the prompt and accurate clearance and settlement of securities transactions in several ways. First, the PCC/PSDTC program results in reduced distribution of physical securities certifications. Instead of each member of a selling syndicate receiving securities certificates from the issuer's transfer agent or bank trustee, the managing underwriter instructs the transfer agent or bank trustee to issue certificates in PCC/PSDTC's nominee name and authorizes the release of securities to PSDTC.[5] Pre-entered book-entry deliveries are immediately effected from the account of the underwriter to the accounts of the syndicate members. Almost simultaneously, book-entry deliveries versus payment are made to all subsequent purchasers based on delivery instructions which syndicate members submitted in advance. As a result, the Commission believes that issuers, whether corporations or municipalities, should achieve cost savings in that fewer securities certificates need be printed and the inefficiencies associated with the handling of physical certificates are reduced. More specifically, aggregate cost savings to issuers, underwriters and dealers that result from using depository services to distribute securities in primary underswriting could exceed $10,000 per issue.[6]

Second, when closing is completed, new issues immediately become eligible for the full range of depository services. Such services include custody, deposit, withdrawals, book-entry deliveries, pledges, and interest and redemption payments. The Commission believes that immobilization of securities in depositories, because of the efficiencies and cost-savings it promotes, is consistent with the goals of Section 17A of the Act.

Third, the proposed rule changes provide for optional money settlement services, whereby selling group members make payment to PSDTC which in turn transmits settlement proceeds to the underwriter. Centralized money settlement is efficient in that it allows PSDTC to notify the underwriter early on settlement day of firms that haven't made timely payment and to resolve problems prior to settlement.

The Commission also believes that the proposals adequately safeguard funds and securities. Under the proposals, the potential for certificate loss or theft is reduced since fewer certificates are issued. In addition, when the physical certificates issued require handling, PCC/PSDTC employs adequate measures to safeguard those certificates. For example, when PCC/PSDTC provides pick-up services at the request of a managing underwriter, personnel from both the lead underwriter and PCC/PSDTC count and package the securities. Those securities then are transported immediately to and safekept at PCC/PSDTC until settlement the following day. The Commission also notes that PCC/PSDTC, as agent for the managing underwriter, acts only on specific instructions from the underwriter. In this regard, PCC/PSDTC will effect delivery of securities only upon notification from the underwriter that payment has been made.

It is therefore ordered, under section 19(b)(2) of the Act, that the proposed rule change be, and it hereby is, approved.

Part II

Federal Reserve System

12 CFR Part 204

Reserve Requirements of Depository Institutions; Final Rule

FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

12 CFR Part 204

[Reg. D; Docket No. R-0563]

Reserve Requirements of Depository Institutions; Reserve Requirements on Money Market Deposit Accounts Held by Hawaiian Nonmember Depository Institutions AGENCY: Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: On January 2, 1986, Hawaiian nonmember depository institutions begin an eight year phase-in of federal reserve requirements on deposit accounts, pursuant to § 204.4(f) of the Board's Regulation D (12 CFR Part 204). Section 204.4(f) also provides that Money Market Deposit Accounts (MMDAs) at those institutions are not subject to the phase-in provisions and are subject to full reserves commencing with the reserve maintenance period beginning January 2, 1986. After March 31, 1986, the authority of the Depository Institutions Deregulation Committee (DIDC) terminates (12 U.S.C. 3509), and as a result, the authority for MMDAs which were created by regulation by the DIDC (12 CFR 1204.122) also terminates. At that time MMDA-type deposits will become subject to the eight year reserve requirement phase-in applicable to other deposits held by nonmember Hawaiian depository institutions.

The effect of the current Regulation D is to make MMDAs at nonmember Hawaiian depository institutions subject to full reserve requirements on accounts held at these institutions for computation periods beginning December 3, 1985 through March 31, 1986 and then to be subject to the eight year phase-in of reserve requirements after that date. In order to avoid this result, the Board, exercising its power under section 11(c) of the Federal Reserve Act, waives the full reserve requirement and amends its regulations to subject MMDAs in nonmember Hawaiian institutions to the same phase-in requirements as are generally applicable to deposits in those institutions. Thus, MMDAs in these institutions will be subject to the eight year phase-in of reserves commencing with the reserve maintenance period beginning January 2, 1986.

EFFECTIVE DATE: December 31, 1985. Comments must be received by December 20, 1985.

ADDRESS: Interested parties are invited to submit written data, views, or arguments concerning the proposal to William W. Wiles, Secretary, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, 20th Street and Constitution Avenue, NW., Washington, DC 20551, or such comments may be delivered to Room B-2223 between 8:45 a.m. and 5:15 p.m. on business days. Comments may be inspected in Room B-1122 between 8:45 a.m. and 5:15 p.m. on business days except as provided in § 261.6(a) of the Board's Rules Regarding Availability of Information (12 CFR 261.6(a)).

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: John Harry Jorgenson, Senior Attorney (202/452-3778) or Patrick J. McDivitt, Attorney (202/452-3818), Legal Division, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, DC 20551.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Section 19(b)(8)(E) of the Federal Reserve Act, 12 U.S.C. 461(b)(8)(E), provides for the phase-in of reserve requirements for nonmember depository institutions in Hawaii, and § 204.4(f) of Regulation D implements these statutory requirements. This phase-in commences with the reserve maintenance period beginning January 2, 1986, and continues for eight years.

In implementing the statute, the Board specifically exempted MMDAs in nonmember Hawaiian depository institutions from the phase-in provisions. Thus, commencing January 2, 1986, under the existing regulation, MMDA accounts held in these institutions from December 3, 1985 forward would be subject to full reserve maintenance requirements.

MMDAs were created by the DIDC by regulation in 1982, 12 CFR 1204.122, and the Board amended its Regulation D to provide that MMDAs would be subject to full reserve requirements. However, it extended its regulatory delay of the maintenance of reserve requirements of nonmember Hawaiian depository institutions to MMDAs held by these institutions until January 2, 1986, at which time full reserve maintenance would be required.

The DIDC, and as a result, its regulations, terminate on March 31, 1986, 12 U.S.C. 3059. At that time, MMDAs in Hawaii will become subject to the phase-in provisions for deposits held by nonmembers depository institutions located in Hawaii. Consequently, under the current regulation, MMDAs at nonmember depository institutions in Hawaii, after being subject to full reserves for only a few months, would be subject to reserves at the lower phase-in rate.

Because of the burden to the depository institutions of complying for this brief period, the Board has decided, in the interest of cost savings and convenience, and for other good cause, to relieve this restriction by deleting the requirement in the last sentence of section 204.4(f) of Regulation D that nonmember depository institutions located in Hawaii maintain full reserves on MMDAs after January 1, 1986. The Board will require the phase-in of reserves on MMDAs in these institutions on the same schedule generally applied to their other deposits. The resulting reduction in aggregate reserve balances relative to what would have been maintained over this period is very small and will have no effect on the implementation of monetary policy. Pursuant to section 11(c) of the Federal Reserve Act, 12 U.S.C. 248(c), and section 19(a) of that Act, 12 U.S.C. 461(a), the Board is suspending the maintenance of full reserve requirements on these accounts for the reasons stated above in order to effectuate the purposes of section 19 and delegates to its Secretary the authority to renew the suspension for periods of fifteen days through the maintenance period beginning April 24, 1986—the maintenance period for MMDA accounts held at these institutions through March 31, 1986, when the MMDA expires.

Administrative Issues

The Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) requires the Board to consider the impact of his amendment on small entities. In this regard, it is the Board's view that the amendment would not impose any additional reporting or recordkeeping requirements. The purpose of this amendment is to reduce a burden, and there are no Federal rules which duplicate, overlap or conflict with the amendment. Suggested alternatives will be considered when comments are reviewed. The amendment will apply only to nonmember depository institutions in Hawaii. It is anticipated that the amendment could have a small beneficial impact on the ability of small depository institutions to attract deposits.

The Board, for good cause shown above, finds that this action is in the public interest because the action relieves a burden currently imposed on the affected institutions. The Board also finds that the delayed effective date of this action provides adequate time for any interested party to comment.

Banks, banking, Currency, Federal Reserve System, Penalties and reporting requirements.

Effective December 31, 1985, pursuant to the Board's authority under section 19 of the Federal Reserve Act, 12 U.S.C. 461 et seq., 12 CFR Part 204.4 is amended by revising paragraph (f) of § 204.4 by removing the last sentence.

By order of the Board of Governors, December 13, 1985.

William W. Wiles,

Secretary of the Board.

The Federal Register

Regulations appear as agency documents which are published daily in the Federal Register and codified annually in the Code of Federal Regulations

The Federal Register, published daily, is the official publication for notifying the public of proposed and final regulations. It is the tool for you to use to participate in the rulemaking process by commenting on the proposed regulations. And it keeps you up to date on the Federal regulations currently in effect.

Mailed monthly as part of a Federal Register subscription are: the LSA (List of CFR Sections Affected) which leads users of the Code of Federal Regulations to amendatory actions published in the daily Federal Register; and the cumulative Federal Register Index.

The Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) comprising approximately 185 volumes contains the annual codification of the final regulations printed in the Federal Register. Each of the 50 titles is updated annually.
