III. Cancellation Order

Pursuant to section 6(f)(1)(A) of FIFRA, EPA is approving the requested cancellations. Accordingly, EPA orders that the registrations identified in Table 1, are hereby canceled. Any distribution, sale, or use of existing stocks of the products identified in the table above in a manner inconsistent with the terms of this Order or the Existing Stock Provisions in Unit IV. of this Federal Register Notice will be considered a violation of section 12(a)(2)(K) of FIFRA and/or section 12(a)(1)(A) of FIFRA.

IV. Existing Stocks Provisions

For purposes of this Order, the term ''existing stocks'' is defined, pursuant to EPA's existing stocks policy June 26, 1991 (56 FR 29362) (FRL–3846–4), as those stocks of a registered pesticide product which are currently in the United States and which have been packaged, labeled, and released for shipment prior to the effective date of cancellation.

A. Distribution or Sale by the Registrant

Cancellation orders generally permit a registrant to sell or distribute existing stocks for 1 year after the date the cancellation request was received. However, the registrants have stated that they no longer manufacture or distribute end use products that contain benomyl. Therefore, the distribution or sale of existing stocks by registrants will not be lawful under FIFRA after January 15, 2002 except for the purposes of returns and relabeling, shipping such stocks for export consistent with the requirements of section 17 of FIFRA, or for proper disposal.

B. Distribution and Sale by Other Persons

Sale or distribution by any person of existing stocks of any products identified in the table above will not be lawful under FIFRA after December 31, 2002.

V. Notification of Intent to Revoke Tolerances

This Notice also serves as an advance notification that the Agency intends to revoke the related tolerances for the canceled registrations listed in this Notice unless there is a request from the public to support the tolerances for import purposes. EPA believes that production of technical benomyl ended in April 2001, and use of any remaining existing stocks of these products will likely end in 2003 given that the sale and distribution of benomyl products will end on December 31, 2002. EPA will determine how long treated food containing residues of benomyl could remain in the channels of trade assuming that the last treatment occurred on December 31, 2003, and will set the expiration date accordingly.

It is EPA's general practice to propose revocation of tolerances for residues of pesticide active ingredients for which FIFRA registrations no longer exist, to protect the food supply of the U.S. and to discourage the misuse of pesticides within the United States. In many cases the cancellation of a food use in the U.S. indicates that there are insufficient domestic residue data or other information to support the continuation of the tolerance and an uncertain amount of relevant data concerning residues on imported food. In the absence of relevant data, EPA is unable to make a safety finding regarding the treated food entering the U.S. Upon request, EPA will provide interested parties with its import tolerance policy and data requirements, explaining how an interested party should go about seeking to retain a tolerance for import purposes.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

[FRL–7128–8]

Workshop Report on the Application of 2,3,7,8-TCDD Toxicity Equivalence Factors to Fish and Wildlife

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Notice of availability of a final report.

SUMMARY: The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) Risk Assessment Forum (RAF) announces the availability of a final report, Workshop Report on the Application of 2,3,7,8-TCDD Toxicity Equivalence Factors to Fish and Wildlife (EPA/630/R–01/002, August 2001). It is the report of a January 20–22, 1998, workshop sponsored by EPA and the U.S. Department of the Interior (DOI). The Eastern Research Group, Inc. (ERG), an EPA contractor, organized, convened, and conducted the workshop on EPA's behalf. Workshop participants concluded that the toxicity equivalence methodology is appropriate for evaluating risks to fish, birds, and mammals from mixtures of dioxins, furans, and PCBs.

ADDRESSES: The document will be made available electronically through the Risk Assessment Forum's Web site (www.epa.gov/ncea/raf/rafpub.htm). A limited number of paper copies will be available from the EPA's National Service Center for Environmental Publications (NSCEP), PO Box 42419, Cincinnati, OH 45242; telephone: 1–800–490–9198 or 513–489–8190; facsimile: 513–489–8695. Please provide your name and mailing address and the title and EPA number of the requested publication.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Scott Schwenk, Risk Assessment Forum Staff (8601D), U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, 1200 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Washington DC 20460; telephone: 202–564–6667; facsimile: 202–565–0062; e-mail: schwenk.scott@epa.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: In January 1998, a planning committee of EPA and the U.S. Department of the Interior (DOI) sponsored a workshop on the application of 2,3,7,8–TCDD toxicity equivalence factors (TEFs) to fish and wildlife. TEFs are tools for estimating the combined risks from exposure to complex mixtures of polychlorinated dioxins (PCDDs), furans (PCDFs), and biphenyls (PCBs). The primary objective of the workshop was to identify, document, and compare uncertainties in TEF development and their impact in ecological risk assessments. The 20 invited workshop participants, seven of whom were from other countries, came from academia, industry, public interest groups, and government. In addition, eight EPA and four DOI planning committee members participated. Major conclusions included:

—The toxicity equivalence methodology is technically appropriate for evaluating risks to fish, birds, and mammals.

—The toxicity equivalence methodology reduces uncertainties and is less likely to underestimate risks than are methods based on a single compound (e.g., 2,3,7,8–TCDD) or a class of compounds (e.g., total PCBs).

—The uncertainties associated with using relative potencies (RePs) or TEFs are not thought to be larger than other uncertainties within the risk assessment process, but they should be better quantified.

The planning committee concluded that the results of the workshop support the use of the toxicity equivalence methodology in ecological risk assessment. The committee also suggested the development of additional tools and data to improve the methodology's implementation.

The final workshop report consists of (1) an overview and set of conclusions prepared by EPA and DOI and (2) a complete set of workshop materials, including case studies discussed at the workshop, workshop proceedings, pre-meeting comments from the invited experts, and written observer comments.
