Privacy Act Systems of Records

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission (FCC).

ACTION: Notice; update of the FCC's Privacy Act systems of records.

SUMMARY: Pursuant to the provisions of the Privacy Act of 1974, as amended, 5 U.S.C. 552a(e)(4) and OMB Circular A-130, the FCC has conducted required reviews of its systems of records and is publishing this notice regarding its proposal to introduce ten new systems of records, delete four old systems of records, and revise twenty-four systems of records.

DATES: Any interested person may submit written comments concerning the systems of records on or before May 5, 2006. The Office of Management and Budget (OMB), which has oversight responsibility under the Privacy Act to review the systems of records, may submit comments on or before May 15, 2006. The proposed systems of records will be effective on May 15, 2006 unless the FCC receives comments that require a contrary determination. The Commission will publish a document in the Federal Register notifying the public if any changes are necessary.

ADDRESSES: Address comments to Les Smith, Office of Managing Director, Room 1-A804, Federal Communications Commission, 445 12th Street, SW., Washington, DC 20554, or via the Internet at Leslie.Smith@fcc.gov. FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Les Smith, Office of Managing Director, Room 1-A804, Federal Communications Commission (FCC), 445 12th Street, SW., Washington, DC 20554, (202) 418-0217, or via the Internet at Leslie.Smith@fcc.gov.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: In accordance with the Privacy Act of 1974, the FCC has conducted a review of its Privacy Act systems of records and has determined that it needs to introduce ten new systems of records, to delete four systems of records that are out-of-date, and to revise 24 systems of records. The Commission previously published one or more of the FCC's systems of records at various times. These publications may be viewed at the FCC's Privacy Act Web page: <http://www.fcc.gov/omd/privacyact/records-systems.html>. With this notice, the Commission is publishing the complete text of all of its systems notices but two to provide a current, easily accessible compilation. Information about the reasons for these proposed changes is noted below:

NEW—ten new systems of records are proposed to cover information that the FCC has begun to collect and maintain since the FCC last published its inventory of systems of records. The proposed new systems of records are: FCC/CGB-2: Comment Filing System; FCC/EB-3: Investigations and Hearings; FCC/EB-4: Crisis Management Contacts; FCC/OCBO-1: Small Business Contacts List; FCC/OET-2: Equipment Authorization Records and Files; FCC/OMD-11: Continuity of Operations Plan (COOP); FCC/OMD-12: Integrated Library System (ILS) Records; FCC/OMD-13: Data Quality Comments; FCC/OMD-22: Equipment Loan Records; and FCC/OWD-1: Reasonable Accommodation Requests.

REVISED—the other twenty-four systems of records are in need of revision. There are five types of revisions: (1) Generalized edits to make all of the FCC's systems of records easier to read and understand through consistent style, formatting, and manner of presentation; (2) improved compliance with 5 U.S.C. 552a(e)(1) by listing only statutes and Executive Orders in the "Authorities" section of each system of records; (3) renumbered and/or renamed systems of records to enhance consistency and ease of understanding; (4) elaboration of the FCC's routine uses by including even occasional routine uses; and (5) additions or deletions to the substantive core of the system of records.

In terms of which of these revision types apply:

(a) All 24 systems of records (FCC/EB-1; FCC/OET-1; FCC/OGC-3, 5, and 6; FCC/OIG-1 and 2; FCC/OMD-2, 3, 6, 7, 9, and 14 through 21; and FCC/WTB-1, 5, 6, and 7) were impacted by the general editorial and consistency revisions described by revision types 1 and 2 above;

(b) Thirteen of the 24 systems of records were renumbered or renamed (type 3 revisions). Eight of 12 were renumbered (FCC/OMD-14 through 21) due to the elimination of the FCC/Central numbering scheme. Five systems of records (FCC/OGC-3 and 5; FCC/OMD-2 and 6; and FCC/WTB-6) were renamed to bring greater clarity to the content of the system of records;

(c) Sixteen of the 24 systems of records were revised to include additional occasional routine uses. The systems of records that underwent this type 4 revision were FCC/EB-1; FCC/OET-1; FCC/OGC-3, 5, and 6; FCC/OIG-1 and 2; FCC/OMD-2, 3, 6, 7, 9, 15, 17, 19, and 21; and FCC/WTB-1;

(d) Eleven of the 24 systems of records received substantive, core changes to either provide information missing in previous versions of the system of records (FCC/EB-1 and FCC/OMD-3), revise the list of places at which the information is maintained (FCC/OMD-3 and 7), revise the types of information covered by the system of records (FCC/OMD-6 and 20), or to revise the purposes of the system of records (FCC/OMD-7, 9, 15, 17, and 18).

DELETED—four systems of records are proposed for deletion for the following reasons:

FCC/Central-5: Drug-Free Federal Workplace Program (duplicates OPM/GOVT-10);

FCC/EB-2: State and Operational Areas Emergency Commissions Committee Membership (duplicative of FCC/OMD-3);

FCC/OGC-2: Attorney Misconduct Files (no longer maintained); and FCC/OMD-8: Revenue Accounting Management Information System ("RAMIS") (information from this system of records was combined with the revised FCC/OMD-6).

The FCC has created a set of standardized routine uses that updates and eliminates the variations in language that had characterized the routine uses that were used previously in the systems of records. These routines uses are as follows:

- Adjudication and Litigation—where by careful review, the agency determines that the records are both relevant and necessary to litigation and the use of such records is deemed by the agency to be for a purpose that is compatible with the purpose for which the agency collected the records, these records may be used by a court or adjudicative body in a proceeding when: (a) The agency or any component thereof; or (b) any employee of the agency in his or her official capacity; or (c) any employee of the agency in his or her individual capacity where the agency has agreed to represent the employee; or (d) the United States Government is a party to litigation or has an interest in such litigation;

- Committee communication and reporting—a record in this system may be used to distribute information to members of each committee for purposes of conducting meetings and general committee business or to prepare reports on the membership and work of the committee;

- Compliance with Welfare Reform requirements—Names, Social Security Numbers, home addresses, dates of birth, dates of hire, quarterly earnings, employer identifying information, and state of hire of employees may be disclosed to the Office of Child Support Enforcement, Administration for Children and Families, Department of Health and Human Services for the purposes of locating individuals to establish paternity, establishing and modifying orders of child support, identifying sources of income, and for other child support enforcement actions as required by the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act;

- Congressional Inquiries—when requested by a Congressional office in response to an inquiry by an individual made to the Congressional office for their own records;

- Emergency response—A record on an individual in this system of records may be disclosed to emergency medical personnel, e.g., doctors, nurses, and/or paramedics, or to law enforcement officials in case of a medical or other emergency involving the FCC employee without the subsequent notification to the individual identified in 5 U.S.C. 552a (b)(8);

- Employment, Clearances, Licensing, Contract, Grant, or other Benefits Decisions by the agency—disclosure may be made to a Federal, State, local, or foreign agency maintaining civil, criminal, or other relevant enforcement records, or other pertinent records, or to another public authority or professional organization, if necessary to obtain information relevant to an investigation concerning the retention of an employee or other personnel action (other than hiring), the retention of a security clearance, the letting of a contract, or the issuance or retention of a grant or other benefit;

- Employment, Clearances, Licensing, Contract, Grant, or other Benefits Decisions by other than the agency—disclosure may be made to a Federal, State, local, foreign, tribal, or other public authority of the fact that this system of records contains information relevant to the retention of an employee, the retention of a security clearance, the letting of a contract, or the issuance or retention of a license, grant, or other benefit. The other agency or licensing organization may then make a request supported by the written consent of the individual for the entire records if it so chooses. No disclosure will be made unless the information has been determined to be sufficiently reliable to support a referral to another office within the agency or to another

Federal agency for criminal, civil, administrative, personnel or regulatory action;

- Enforcement—when a record in this system involves an informal complaint filed against telecommunications providers, the complaint may be forwarded to the defendant provider for a response, pursuant to Section 208 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended and other applicable rules. When an order or other Commission-issued document that includes consideration of informal complaints filed against telecommunications providers is entered by the FCC to implement or to enforce the Communications Act, pertinent rule, regulation, or order of the FCC, the complainant's name may be made public in that order or document. Where a complainant in filing his or her complaint explicitly requests that the FCC withhold his or her name from public disclosure, such a request will be granted and the complainant's name will not be disclosed in the Commission-issued order or document.

- Financial obligations under the Debt Collection Acts—a record from this system may be disclosed to other Federal agencies for the purpose of collecting and reporting on delinquent debts as authorized by the Debt Collection Act of 1982 or the Debt Collection Improvement Act of 1996. A record from this system may be disclosed to any Federal, state, or local agency to conduct an authorized computer matching program in compliance with the Privacy Act of 1974, as amended, to identify and locate individuals who are delinquent in their repayment of certain debts owed to the U.S. Government. A record from this system may be used to prepare information on items considered income for taxation purposes to be disclosed to Federal, state, and local governments;

- Financial Obligations as required by the National Finance Center et al.—when the National Finance Center (the FCC's designated payroll office), the Department of the Treasury Debt Management Services, and/or a current employer to effect a salary, IRS tax refund, or administrative offset to satisfy an indebtedness; and to Federal agencies to identify and locate former employees for the purposes of collecting such indebtedness, including through administrative, salary, or tax refund offsets. Identifying and locating former employees, and the subsequent referral to such agencies for offset purposes, may be accomplished through authorized computer matching programs. Disclosures will be made only when all procedural steps established by the Debt Collection Act of 1982 and the Debt Collection Improvement Act of 1996 or the Computer Matching and Privacy Protection Act of 1988 as appropriate, have been taken;

- First Responders—a record from this system of records may be disclosed to law enforcement officials, Department of Homeland Security (DHS), Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), Department of Defense (DOD), National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA), White House Communications Agency, other federal agencies, and state and local emergency response officials, e.g., fire, safety, and rescue personnel, etc., and medical personnel, e.g., doctors, nurses, and paramedics, etc., in case of an emergency situation at FCC facilities without the subsequent notification to the individual identified in 5 U.S.C. 552a(b)(8);

- Government-wide Program Management and Oversight—when requested by the National Archives and Records Administration for the purpose of records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906; when the U.S. Department of Justice is contacted in order to obtain that department's advice regarding disclosure obligations under the Freedom of Information Act; or when the Office of Management and Budget is contacted in order to obtain that office's advice regarding obligations under the Privacy Act.

- Labor Relations—A record from this system may be disclosed to officials of labor organizations recognized under 5 U.S.C. Chapter 71 upon receipt of a formal request and in accord with the conditions of 5 U.S.C. 7114 when relevant and necessary to their duties of exclusive representation concerning personnel policies, practices, and matters affecting working conditions.

- Law enforcement and Investigation—where there is an indication of a violation or potential violation of a statute, regulation, rule, or order, records from this system may be shared with appropriate Federal, State, or local authorities either for purposes of obtaining additional information relevant to a FCC decision or for referring the record for investigation, enforcement, or prosecution by another agency;

- Program partner—when information is disclosed to the Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority (WMATA) in connection employees participating in their SmarTrip program (<http://www.wmata.com/riding/smartrip.cfm>); and The FCC is unable to craft standardized language for the Public Access routine uses, which are employed in several systems of records. This is because the diversity of circumstances for Public Access disclosures in CGB-2, EB-1, OET-1, OET-2, OGC-5, OGC-6, OMD-3, OMD-6, OMD-9, OMD-13, OMD-17, OMD-19, WTB-1, WTB-6, and WTB-7, vary too greatly.

More detailed information on the proposed new and revised systems of records may be viewed in the complete text below.

The FCC also notes that it will provide two further updates to its systems of records in the future. First, prior to the full implementation of Homeland Security Presidential Directive-12 (HSPD-12) in October 2006, the Commission will publish the revised and renamed FCC/Central-10, Access Control System, to address the changes related to the implementation of HSPD-12 requirements to carry out the plan for a government-wide set of identification and badging protocols for all Federal employees, contractors, and visitors. Second, the Commission will publish a revised and renamed FCC/CIB-1, Informal Complaints and Inquiries, when the upgrades to this system of records are completed.

PURPOSE(S):

In order to comply with the requirements of various statutes and regulations, the FCC offers multiple avenues through which the public can be involved in its decision-making process and can inform the FCC of concerns regarding compliance with FCC rules and requirements. Collecting and maintaining these types of information allows the FCC to be fully informed in decision-making, implementation, and enforcement endeavors. ROUTINE USES OF RECORDS MAINTAINED IN THE SYSTEM, INCLUDING CATEGORIES OF USERS AND THE PURPOSES OF SUCH USES:

Additionally, information about individuals in this system of records may routinely be disclosed under the following conditions:

1. Public Access—under the rules of the Commission, public comments on rulemakings are routinely available to the public—unless confidentiality is requested (47 CFR 0.459)—via either the Commission's electronic comment filing system (ECFS) at <http://www.fcc.gov/cgb/ecfs/> or the public Reference Information Center (RIC) at <http://www.fcc.gov/cgb/ric.html>;

2. Enforcement—when a record in this system involves an informal complaint filed against telecommunications providers, the complaint may be forwarded to the defendant provider for a response, pursuant to Section 208 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and other applicable rules. When an order or other Commission-issued document that includes consideration of informal complaints filed against telecommunications providers is entered by the FCC to implement or to enforce the Communications Act, pertinent rule, regulation, or order of the FCC, the complainant's name may be made public in that order or document. Where a complainant in filing his or her complaint explicitly requests that the FCC withhold his or her name from public disclosure, such a request will be granted and the complainant's name will not be disclosed in the Commission-issued order or document;

3. Adjudication and Litigation—where by careful review, the agency determines that the records are both relevant and necessary to litigation and the use of such records is deemed by the agency to be for a purpose that is compatible with the purpose for which the agency collected the records, these records may be used by a court or adjudicative body in a proceeding when: (a) The agency or any component thereof; or (b) any employee of the agency in his or her official capacity; or (c) any employee of the agency in his or her individual capacity where the agency has agreed to represent the employee; or (d) the United States Government is a party to litigation or has an interest in such litigation;

4. Law enforcement and Investigation—where there is an indication of a violation or potential violation of a statute, regulation, rule, or order, records from this system may be shared with appropriate Federal, State, or local authorities either for purposes of obtaining additional information relevant to an FCC decision or for referring the record for investigation, enforcement, or prosecution by another agency;

5. Congressional Inquiries—when requested by a Congressional office in response to an inquiry by an individual made to the Congressional office for their own records; and

6. Government-wide Program Management and Oversight—when requested by the National Archives and Records Administration for the purpose of records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906; when the U.S. Department of Justice is contacted in order to obtain that department's advice regarding disclosure obligations under the Freedom of Information Act; or when the Office of Management and Budget is contacted in order to obtain that office's advice regarding obligations under the Privacy Act.

In each of these cases, the FCC will determine whether disclosure of the records is compatible with the purpose for which the records were collected.

POLICIES AND PRACTICES FOR STORING, RETRIEVING, ACCESSING, RETAINING, AND DISPOSING OF RECORDS IN THE SYSTEM:

STORAGE:

Information includes paper records that are stored in file folders in security containers, and electronic records that are maintained in a stand-alone computer database.

RETRIEVABILITY:

Records are retrieved by an individual's name and Social Security Number.

SAFEGUARDS:

Paper records are maintained in file folders and stored in approved security containers, within a secure, access-controlled area. Access is limited to approved security office and administrative personnel. The electronic records are maintained in a stand-alone computer database, which is secured through controlled access and passwords restricted to security and administrative personnel on a "need to know" basis. The computers are located in a room with a simplex lock and intrusive alarm systems. The computer databases are maintained on a computer that is not connected to the FCC computer network. RETENTION AND DISPOSAL:

Both paper and electronic records are retained during employment or while an individual is actively involved in Federal programs. As appropriate, records are returned to investigating agencies after employment terminates; otherwise, the records are retained for five years from the date that the employee leaves the Commission. Investigative files and the computer database, which show the completion of an investigation, are retained for 15 years, except for investigations involving potential actionable issue(s), which will be maintained for 25 years plus the current year from the date of the most recent investigative activity. Paper records are destroyed by shredding. Electronic records are destroyed by electronic erasure. Individuals interested in further information about retention and disposal may request a copy of the disposition instructions from the FCC Privacy Act Officer.

SYSTEM MANAGER(S) AND ADDRESS:

ROUTINE USES OF RECORDS MAINTAINED IN THE SYSTEM, INCLUDING CATEGORIES OF USERS AND THE PURPOSES OF SUCH USES:

Information about individuals in this system of records may routinely be disclosed under the following conditions:

1. Financial obligations as required by the National Finance Center et al.—when the National Finance Center (the FCC's designated payroll office), the Department of the Treasury Debt Management Services, and/or a current employer to effect a salary, IRS tax refund, or administrative offset to satisfy an indebtedness incurred for unofficial telephone and cellular calls; and to Federal agencies to identify and locate former employees for the purposes of collecting such indebtedness, including through administrative, salary, or tax refund offsets. Identifying and locating former employees, and the subsequent referral to such agencies for offset purposes, may be accomplished through authorized computer matching programs. Disclosures will be made only when all procedural steps established by the Debt Collection Act of 1982 and the Debt Collection Improvement Act of 1996 or the Computer Matching and Privacy Protection Act of 1988 as appropriate, have been taken;

2. Adjudication and Litigation—where by careful review, the agency determines that the records are both relevant and necessary to litigation and the use of such records is deemed by the agency to be for a purpose that is compatible with the purpose for which the agency collected the records, these records may be used by a court or adjudicative body in a proceeding when: (a) The agency or any component thereof; or (b) any employee of the agency in his or her official capacity; or (c) any employee of the agency in his or her individual capacity where the agency has agreed to represent the employee; or (d) the United States Government is a party to litigation or has an interest in such litigation;

3. Law Enforcement and Investigation—where there is an indication of a violation or potential violation of a statute, regulation, rule, or order, records from this system may be shared with appropriate Federal, State, or local authorities either for purposes of obtaining additional information relevant to a FCC decision or for referring the record for investigation, enforcement, or prosecution by another agency;

4. Congressional Inquiries—when requested by a Congressional office in response to an inquiry by an individual made to the Congressional office for their own records;

POLICIES AND PRACTICES FOR STORING, RETRIEVING, ACCESSING, RETAINING, AND DISPOSING OF RECORDS IN THE SYSTEM:STORAGE:

Records are maintained in electronic databases, in paper files, and on CD-ROM. The electronic databases are password protected and updated daily.

RETRIEVABILITY:

Telephone call records are retrieved by organizational unit, the employee name, name of recipient of telephone call, and the telephone number.

SAFEGUARDS:

FCC/OMD-19SYSTEM NAME:

Denial of Federal Benefits (Drug Debarment List).

SECURITY CLASSIFICATION:

None.

SYSTEM LOCATION:

Financial Operations Center, Associate Managing Director—Financial Operations (AMD-FO), Office of Managing Director (OMD), Federal Communications Commission (FCC), 445 12th Street, SW., Room 1-A663, Washington, DC 20554.

CATEGORIES OF INDIVIDUALS COVERED BY THE SYSTEM:

Individuals convicted of offenses concerning the distribution or possession of controlled substances, who have been denied all Federal benefits or Federal Communications Commission (FCC) benefits as part of their sentence pursuant to Section 5301 of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988, and who have also filed applications for any FCC professional or commercial license.

CATEGORIES OF RECORDS IN THE SYSTEM:

The records within this system come from a database of individuals who have been denied all Federal benefits pursuant to Section 5301 of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988. This database is provided to the FCC by the Department of Justice (DOJ). These records include:

1. DOJ identification number (ID) for the person denied Federal benefits;
2. Name of individual;
3. Individual Taxpayer Identification Number (ITIN); and
4. Starting and ending date of the denial of Federal benefits.

All other data elements in the database are immediately discarded by the FCC.

When there is a preliminary match of name and ITIN from the database with the name of an application on file with the FCC, the FCC will then obtain from DOJ additional data elements, e.g., address, zip code, and, if required by the FCC application, date of birth, in order to determine if there is an actual match.

If manual comparison of the application information with the information obtained from DOJ confirms an actual match, the FCC will prepare a confirmation report to be attached to the application. The confirmation report will reflect the identifying information obtained from the DOJ debarment entry, but it will not include the DOJ ID number for that debarment entry.

Upon such a match, the FCC will initiate correspondence with the applicant, which will also be associated with the application. The confirmation report and any correspondence with the applicant will be among the records found in this system.

AUTHORITY FOR MAINTENANCE OF THE SYSTEM:

Section 5301 of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988 (P.L. 100-690), as amended by section 1002(d) of the Crime Control Act of 1990 (P.L. 101-647), and 47 U.S.C. 154(i) and 154(j).

PURPOSE(S):

Information is used for the exchange of information between DOJ and the FCC in connection with the implementation of section 5301 of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988. This exchange of information permits the FCC to perform the General Services Administration (GSA) Debarment List check as provided for in the Office of National Drug Control Policy plan for implementation of section 5301 through use of information generated by DOJ. The automated records obtained from DOJ is only used by the FCC to make an initial determination of whether an individual applicant is subject to a denial of all Federal benefits or FCC benefits imposed under section 5301 of the Anti-Drug Abuse Act of 1988.

ROUTINE USES OF RECORDS MAINTAINED IN THE SYSTEM, INCLUDING CATEGORIES OF USERS AND THE PURPOSES OF SUCH USES:

Information about individuals in this system of records may routinely be disclosed under the following conditions:

1. Public Access—any report resulting from a confirmed match between a FCC applicant and an individual on the DOJ Drug Disbarment List (not including the DOJ ID Number) and any correspondence with the applicant regarding this match will be associated with the applicant's application and thus, will be made routinely available (with redactions for date of birth and Social Security Number) for public inspection as part of the FCC application file;

2. Adjudication and Litigation—where by careful review, the agency determines that the records are both relevant and necessary to litigation and the use of such records is deemed by the agency to be for a purpose that is compatible with the purpose for which the agency collected the records, these records may be used by a court or adjudicative body in a proceeding when: (a) The agency or any component thereof; or (b) any employee of the agency in his or her official capacity; or (c) any employee of the agency in his or her individual capacity where the agency has agreed to represent the employee; or (d) the United States Government is a party to litigation or has an interest in such litigation;

3. Law enforcement and Investigation—where there is an indication of a violation or potential violation of a statute, regulation, rule, or order, records from this system may be shared with appropriate Federal, State, or local authorities either for purposes of obtaining additional information relevant to a FCC decision or for referring the record for investigation, enforcement, or prosecution by another agency;

4. Congressional Inquiries—when requested by a Congressional office in response to an inquiry by an individual made to the Congressional office for their own records; and

5. Government-wide Program Management and Oversight—when requested by the National Archives and Records Administration for the purpose of records management inspections conducted under authority of 44 U.S.C. 2904 and 2906; when the U.S. Department of Justice is contacted in order to obtain that department's advice regarding disclosure obligations under the Freedom of Information Act; or when the Office of Management and Budget is contacted in order to obtain that office's advice regarding obligations under the Privacy Act.

In each of these cases, the FCC will determine whether disclosure of the records is compatible with the purpose for which the records were collected.

DISCLOSURE TO CONSUMER REPORTING AGENCIES:

None.

POLICIES AND PRACTICES FOR STORING, RETRIEVING, ACCESSING, RETAINING, AND DISPOSING OF RECORDS IN THE SYSTEM:STORAGE:

Records are maintained electronically on a computer database, and a paper copy of each record is stored in file folders.

RETRIEVABILITY:

Records are retrieved by supplying the following information: Name of applicant, ITIN, address (in some instances) and zip code, date of birth (in some instances), and FCC fee control number for the application.

SAFEGUARDS:

The data are provided to the FCC by the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) and will be protected from tampering, unauthorized disclosure, and will follow these procedures:

1. The database will be processed to extract the information to be used in the automated system, and the data elements not being used in the automated system will be electronically erased.

2. The remaining data will be maintained at the main FCC building with a low risk of unauthorized access.

3. Access points are photo-monitored by security personnel; all employees are required to display photo ID badges; and all visitors must register and wear a visitor's badge.

4. Access to the computer system on which the extracted database is stored requires use of a unique user ID with personal identifier.

5. The extracted database is stored in a separate file in that system, and a separate password is required for entry to that file.

6. The password is available to a limited number of persons based strictly on a "need to know" basis.

7. The reports of any automated matches containing the DOJ ID number will be made available only to the appropriate FCC officials.

RETENTION AND DISPOSAL:

The match reports are retained by the FCC for only as long as it is necessary to obtain the debarment entry information and corresponding application for manual confirmation of the match. Thereafter, the match reports will be shredded.

However, periodically, a match report will be randomly retained for a period of an additional 90 to 120 days to provide a quality check of the verification process. Where the verification process establishes that a match does not indicate that the applicant has been denied Federal benefits under section 5301, the debarment entry information used in that determination will be retained by the FCC for 30 days after the application has cleared the debarment check. However, as noted above, debarment entry information relating to match reports that are retained for quality control purposes will be retained until that quality check is completed.

Where a match is confirmed by the manual verification process, the debarment entry information will be retained for a period of at least 90 days after the date of the letter referred to above. If the individual applicant contests the determination that a section 5301 denial of Federal benefits bars a grant of the application, the debarment entry information will be retained until such time as the FCC's action on the application is no longer subject to review in any court.

Individuals may request a copy of the disposition instructions from the FCC Privacy Act Officer.

ROUTINE USES OF RECORDS MAINTAINED IN THE SYSTEM, INCLUDING CATEGORIES OF USERS AND THE PURPOSES OF SUCH USES:

Information about individuals in this system of records may routinely be disclosed under the following conditions:
