

concludes that the proposed action is the preferred alternative.

Agencies and Persons Consulted

NRC provided a draft of this Environmental Assessment to the Virginia Radioactive Materials Program for review on February 25, 2008. The State agreed with the conclusions of the EA, and otherwise provided no comments.

The NRC staff has determined that the proposed action is of a procedural nature, and will not affect listed species or critical habitat. Therefore, no further consultation is required under Section 7 of the Endangered Species Act. The NRC staff has also determined that the proposed action is not the type of activity that has the potential to cause effects on historic properties. Therefore, no further consultation is required under Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act.

III. Finding of No Significant Impact

The NRC staff has prepared this EA in support of the proposed action. On the basis of this EA, the NRC finds that there are no significant environmental impacts from the proposed action, and that preparation of an environmental impact statement is not warranted. Accordingly, the NRC has determined that a Finding of No Significant Impact is appropriate.

Change in Rates of General Applicability for Competitive Products: Decision of the Governors of the Postal Service AGENCY: Postal Service.

ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: This notice sets forth changes in rates of general applicability for competitive products.

DATES: Effective Date: May 12, 2008.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Daniel J. Foucheaux, Jr., 202-268-2989.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On March 3, 2008, pursuant to their authority under 39 U.S.C. 3632, the Governors of the Postal Service established prices and classification changes for competitive products. The Governors' Decision and the record of proceedings in connection with such decision are reprinted below in accordance with § 3632(b)(2). Implementing regulations will be published separately in the Federal Register.

Stanley F. Mires,
Chief Counsel, Legislative.

Decision of the Governors of the United States Postal Service on Changes in Rates and Classes of General Applicability for Competitive Products (Governors' Decision No. 08-3)

March 4, 2008.

Statement of Explanation and Justification

Pursuant to our authority under section 3632 of title 39, as amended by the Postal Accountability and Enhancement Act of 2006 ("PAEA"), we establish new prices of general applicability for the Postal Service's competitive products, and such changes in classifications as are necessary to define the new prices. The prices and classification changes are shown in Attachment A and are described in detail in the analysis provided by management in Attachment B. We have reviewed that analysis and have evaluated the new prices and classification changes in accordance with 39 U.S.C. 3632-3633 and 39 CFR 3015.2. We approve the changes set forth in Attachment A, finding that they are appropriate, and are consistent with the regulatory criteria. In particular, we note that the price changes are expected to result in an increase of contribution for each competitive product.

For Express Mail service, the overall increase is approximately 3.1 percent. A number of substantive changes are made to the Express Mail price categories. First, the current unzoned retail price structure is replaced with prices that are zoned to reflect the practice in the marketplace and to align prices better with costs. Second, lower prices are available for customers who use alternate postage payment systems that capture more detailed customer information, such as the online service, Click-N-Ship, or corporate accounts. Even lower prices will be available to customers who use corporate accounts and whose average daily volumes exceed a minimum threshold. These changes will improve Express Mail's competitive position, especially with regard to small and medium-sized businesses.

For Priority Mail service, the overall price increase is 4 percent. The average Priority Mail retail price increases by about 6 percent. Customers who use electronic postage and meet other requirements are provided reduced prices. On average, these prices are 3.5 percent lower than retail prices; however, the size of the reduction varies for each specific price point, based on competitive considerations. This should increase volume and revenue from small-volume commercial shippers.

For Parcel Select service, the overall average price increase is 5.7 percent. Prices increase more for Destination BMC entry than for Destination Delivery Unit entry in order to further encourage customers to bring packages to the DDU. Incentives are provided, in the form of declining block prices, for shippers with greater than $5 million annual Parcel Select revenue who increase their volume from the previous twelve month period. To further encourage growth, qualifying shippers whose annual Parcel Select volume grows more than 10 percent will receive rebates ranging from 2 to 14 percent of DDU postage based on their annual postage revenues.

For Parcel Return Service, prices have an overall increase of 2 percent to encourage growth. Prices are realigned between the return delivery unit (RDU) and return BMC categories, such that RBMC has an approximately 9 percent increase and RDU prices are decreased 21 percent.

For Global Express Guaranteed service, the overall price increase is 5.2 percent. Price increases vary by country group and weight increment. An online price remains available. The relatively modest price increases and continued availability of the lower online price should allow this service to remain competitive.

For Express Mail International service, prices will increase on average by 6 percent. Price increases vary by country group and weight increment. Customers using Click-N-Ship or other online applications continue to receive a lower price. In addition, two new incentives are provided for commercial mailers. First, customers receive a reduced price if they pay postage by PERMIT imprint and use authorized software to prepare their mail. This software allows mailers to create online Customs forms, print labels, and track packages. Second, customers also receive a lower price if they use this authorized software to prepare their mail and pay their postage through an Express Mail Corporate Account; this incentive is tiered, depending on volume or postage minimums. The new incentives are expected to result in little or no shift of retail mail volume to the lower prices; rather, they are expected to be used by new customers, or customers who previously had a customized agreement with the Postal Service.

For Priority Mail International service, price increases, on the whole, are 6.1 percent. Different increases apply depending on the weight and country group. Prices are set to fit logically between Express Mail International and First-Class Mail International. The incentive to pay postage online is maintained and a new incentive is added for commercial customers who pay postage by PERMIT imprint and use authorized software to prepare their mail. As with Express Mail International, retail mail volume is not expected to shift to the new lower prices.

For International Direct Sacks—M-Bags (Airmail M-Bags), prices rise around 5.9 percent. The country group structure for this product is expanded to nine country groups to match the Express Mail International, Priority Mail International and planned First-Class Mail International country group structures, providing convenience and ease of use for customers.

For International Priority Airmail (IPA), published prices generally increase by 12.5 percent. For International Surface Airlift (ISAL), prices for ISC Drop Shipment will increase 21.3 percent. In addition, published prices for ISAL Direct Shipment are eliminated and, in the future, will only be available through customized agreements.

Finally, prices for the following International Ancillary Services used with competitive international mail services will increase: International Certificate of Mailing, International Registered Mail, International Return Receipt, International Restricted Delivery and certain International Insurance prices (Priority Mail International Insurance and Global Express Guaranteed Insurance).

As shown in Attachment B, these changes satisfy the statutory requirements. They should not result in the subsidization of competitive products by market dominant products (39 U.S.C. 3633(a)(1)). Each competitive product should cover its attributable costs (39 U.S.C. 3633(a)(2)). They should allow competitive products as a whole to comply with 39 U.S.C. 3633(a)(3), which, as implemented by 39 CFR 3015.7(c), requires competitive products to contribute a minimum of 5.5 percent to the Postal Service's total institutional costs.

Order

The changes in prices and classes set forth herein shall be effective at 12:01 A.M. on May 12, 2008. We direct the Secretary to have this decision published in the Federal Register in accordance with 39 U.S.C. 3632(b)(2). We also direct management to file with the Postal Regulatory Commission appropriate notice of these changes.

By The Governors:

Alan C. Kessler,
Chairman.

ATTACHMENT A to Governors' Decision 08-32105 Express Mail

Any matter eligible for mailing may, at the option of the mailer, be mailed by Express Mail service. Express Mail service is available from designated retail postal facilities to other designated facilities for delivery to the recipient, or, optionally, pickup by the recipient. Drop-off, pick-up, and delivery times are specified by the Postal Service for particular locations and days of the week. Delivery is either overnight, on the second day, or on the second delivery day (the next delivery day following the second day), as specified by the Postal Service for particular locations and days of the week.

Express Mail pieces are sealed against postal inspection and shall not be opened except as authorized by law. Insurance, up to an amount specified in the Domestic Mail Manual, is included in Express Mail postage. Additional insurance (Express Mail Insurance) is available for an additional charge, depending on the value and nature of the item sent by Express Mail service. Express Mail service provides a high speed, high reliability service. Claims for refunds of postage must be filed within the period of time and under terms and conditions specified in the Domestic Mail Manual.

ATTACHMENT B to Governors' Decision 08-3ANALYSIS OF COMPETITIVE PRODUCTS' PRICE AND CLASSIFICATION CHANGES*I. Express Mail

Overall, the Express Mail price changes represent a relatively modest 3.1 percent increase. This balances the need to increase profitability while positioning Express Mail service for growth. The changes in the Express Mail pricing structure will bring pricing into line with industry standard, make prices in high-volume zones more competitive, provide an incentive for customers to switch to postage payment systems that provide customer information, and better align prices with costs. Specifically, the Express Mail pricing structure will be zoned, and will provide online and volume incentives.

A. Zoning and Commercial Pricing1. Zoned prices

The current unzoned retail price structure will be replaced with zoned prices.¹ Zoning Express Mail prices is consistent with the standard industry practice for expedited products, and aligns the pricing structure with customer expectations. In addition, it reflects the higher costs of transporting mail longer distances. Zoning prices is expected to put Express Mail service in a much stronger competitive position. The price applicable to a flat-rate envelope will increase, but will apply regardless of zone.

Price increases are concentrated in Zones 5 through 8 (mail transported more than 600 miles). Because transportation costs are increasing, the price increases will affect heavier pieces more than lighter ones. Currently, a customer who sends a one-pound package from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh pays $19.50, and would pay the same price if that same package were instead mailed to San Francisco. With the new zoned prices, those packages would cost $19.00 (Zone 3) and $23.40 (Zone 8), respectively.

Any decline in volume or revenue for long-distance shipments (because some customers may have used Express Mail service to take advantage of cost differentials between the Postal Service and other carriers) should be more than offset by increased competitiveness for Express Mail service transported shorter distances.

2. Online and volume incentives

A 3 percent price reduction will be provided to customers purchasing Express Mail service through authorized online services such as Click-N-Ship, and for customers using an Express Mail Corporate Account. The incentive both rewards current customers, and encourages customers to switch to systems that provide more detailed customer information. Customers who use an authorized corporate account and whose Express Mail volume exceeds a minimum threshold will receive a larger price reduction, depending on their average daily volume. For a mailer using Click-N-Ship, the Postal Service would charge $18.43 to ship a one-pound package from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh, and $22.70 to ship it to San Francisco. For the large retailer sending more than 20 shipments per day on average, postage could be as little as $17.10 per piece for the first package and $21.06 per piece for the second. (See Table 1.)

The volume incentives will be paid in the form of quarterly rebates and are expected to reduce postage from customers who currently send Express Mail pieces by about $5 million, and to reduce the average price increase by about 0.5 percent. However, this new structure puts Express Mail service in a much stronger position in the marketplace, especially with regard to small-to-medium-size businesses, and should compensate for and exceed any revenue loss from these incentives.

3. Financial Impact

For the remainder of FY 2008, this new pricing structure is expected to generate $35 million in revenue, resulting in increased contribution in Fiscal Year 2008.²

Table 1: Express Mail Price Change Examples

1 pound package	Price		Change
	Current	New	Price	Percent
Philadelphia to Pittsburgh (zone 3)
Retail	$19.50	$19.00	-$0.50	- 2.6 %
On-line (Click-N-Ship)	$19.50	$18.43	-$1.07	- 5.5 %
Large volume customer (>20 per day)	$19.50	$17.10	-$2.40	- 12.3 %
Philadelphia to San Francisco (zone 8)
Retail	$19.50	$23.40	+$3.90	+ 20.0 %
On-line (Click-N-Ship)	$19.50	$22.70	+$3.20	+ 16.4 %
Large volume customer (>20 per day)	$19.50	$21.06	+$1.56	+ 8.0%

II. Priority Mail

The overall price increase for Priority Mail service will be 4 percent. The average Priority Mail retail price will increase by about 6 percent. Lower commercial prices will also be available. There will be no major structural changes to the retail prices. The 6 percent increase is designed to improve contribution, and to allow the Postal Service to introduce lower prices for the use of electronic postage. In addition, the price for the Regular Flat-Rate Box increases by 9.5 percent, to $9.80, in order to reflect increased costs.

A. Lower Commercial Prices

Customers who purchase Priority Mail service using electronic postage and meet other requirements will be eligible for lower prices. On average, these prices will be 3.5 percent lower than retail prices; however, the size of the reduction will vary for each specific price point, based on competitive factors. This should result in an increase in volume and revenue from small-volume commercial shippers who use software to select the carrier with the lowest price.

² All discussions throughout this Analysis concerning increases in revenue or contribution assume no rapid deterioration in prevailing economic conditions.

Customers using these postage payment methods tender a significant amount of all Priority Mail volume. Because the new incentive will offset, in part, the increase in retail Priority Mail prices, these customers will see an average price increase of 2.2 percent.

B. Financial impact

For Fiscal Year 2008, these price changes are expected to increase total contribution by at least $59 million.

III. Parcel Select

The overall average price increase for Parcel Select service is 5.7 percent. The average increase for DDU is 5.2 percent and DBMC prices are increasing by about 6.6 percent. The higher price increase for DBMC parcels is designed to increase DBMC margins and further encourage customers to bring packages to the DDU.

A. Volume Incentives for DDU Parcels

Incentives will be available, in the form of declining block prices, for shippers with greater than $5 million annual Parcel Select postage, and whose volume increases from the previous twelve month period. Shippers with greater than $5 million of annual postage and whose volume increases from the previous twelve month period will receive incentives ranging from 0.25 percent to 1.5 percent for their qualified DDU volume,³ depending on the amount of their annual postage.

Additionally, to encourage growth, incentives will be offered to incremental DDU volume for qualifying shippers when their annual Parcel Select volume grows more than 10 percent. There are three growth tiers:

- * minimum of 10 percent up to 20 percent,
- * between 20 and 30 percent,
- * greater than 30 percent.

Customers who qualify for these incentives will receive rebates ranging from 2-14 percent of DDU postage based on their annual postage revenues. See Table 2 below.

Table 2: Parcel Select

Annual Parcel Select postage	$5MM	$25MM	$50MM	$100MM	$300MM	$500MM
Incentive	0.25%	0.50%	0.75%	1.00%	1.25%	1.50%
Parcel Select annual growth rate	Rebate of DDU postage
>10 %	2%	4%	6%	8%	10%	10%
>20 %	4%	6%	8%	10%	12%	12%
>30 %	6%	8%	10%	12%	14%	14%

³ Some ZIP Codes where packages are delivered on dedicated routes would be excluded.

B. Financial Impact

Accounting for the effect of declining block price incentives, the overall price increase for Parcel Select service will be 5.7 percent. The baseline revenue will see modest adjustments. It is anticipated that the DDU declining block price incentives will result in rebates of less than $2 million. The growth incentive rebates only affect new business entered at the DDU. Introduction of these incentives should increase total contribution by $16 million in Fiscal Year 2009.

IV. Parcel Return Service

Parcel Return Service prices will have an overall price increase of 2 percent to encourage growth.

A. Reflect Value in RDU Prices

Currently, the price for retrieving parcels from the return delivery unit (RDU) is too high, especially as compared to the Parcel Select DDU rates. In this price change, the average RDU price is reduced by 21 percent. In addition, the current price structure, which has a single RDU price ($2.20) regardless of the weight of the piece being returned, is replaced by weight-based RDU prices, to reflect the additional value for handling heavier-weight items.

B. Improve Contribution from RBMC

RBMC prices will increase about 9 percent on average. This should improve the profitability of this service.

C. Financial Impact

The RDU price reductions are expected to encourage significant migration of RBMC volumes to RDU. If there are no new customers, these changes are expected to improve overall contribution from the product, even if gross revenue declines. Adding new users of PRS will produce a revenue increase.

V. International Mail

In May 2007, the Postal Service completed a major restructuring of its international services. The Postal Service streamlined its international mail offerings and more closely aligned each international service with its domestic counterpart, in order to improve ease of use and enhance their value to customers. Because of both the restructuring of services and the price increases that took place in May 2007, only a limited number of structural changes to international published prices and services are contemplated.

A. Global Express Guaranteed (GXG)

Published GXG prices will increase 5.2 percent, resulting in an approximately $170,000 contribution increase in Fiscal Year 2008. Price increases vary by country group and weight increments. An incentive of 10 percent for online purchase will continue to be offered. Table 3 illustrates the price change for Pacific Rim countries. The total increase for this country group is 6.0 percent.

Table 3: Global Express Guaranteed (Pacific Rim: Japan, Hong Kong, China)

	Price		Change
	Current	New	Price per piece	Percent
½ Pound	$37.00	$38.95	$1.95	5.3%
5 Pounds	$77.00	$82.00	$5.00	6.5%

B. Express Mail International (EMI)

Prices for EMI will increase by 6.0 percent, resulting in a contribution increase of $3.8 million in Fiscal Year 2008. Price increases vary by country group and weight increments. Prices for the EMI Flat-Rate Envelope also are increasing. Table 4 illustrates the price change for Pacific Rim countries. The total increase for this country group is 6.4 percent.

Table 4: Express Mail International (Pacific Rim: Japan, Hong Kong, China)

	Price		Change
	Current	New	Price per piece	Percent
½ Pound/Flat-Rate Envelope	$25.00	$25.95	$0.95	3.8%
5 Pounds	$44.00	$45.50	$1.50	3.4%

EMI customers using Click-N-Ship or other authorized online applications will continue to get an 8 percent incentive. In addition, two new incentive programs will be offered. The first will provide commercial mailers with an 8 percent price reduction for payment of postage by PERMIT imprint and use of authorized software to prepare their mail. For commercial mailers who use this authorized software and also pay postage through an Express Mail Corporate Account, price reductions of 8, 10, or 12 percent will be available, depending on the customer's volume or postage commitment.

The authorized software allows customers to create online Customs forms, print labels, and track packages door-to-door. The process is easy for customers and helps simplify the Customs clearance process, shortening delivery times. Furthermore, these incentives allow the Postal Service to avoid retail transactions that can increase customer wait time, and encourage small and medium-sized businesses to use the Postal Service's more efficient commercial services.

Few, if any, existing customers are expected to shift their volumes from retail prices to the lower incentive prices. Previously, EMI commercial incentives were available to customers under customized agreements. The previous volumes sent by these commercial customers never paid the retail price, but rather were mailed at the lower incentive prices offered under the agreements. Furthermore, any decrease in revenue resulting from a volume shift from the full retail prices to the lower incentive prices will be covered by the overall EMI price increase, and by the growth from new commercial customers taking advantage of the incentives.

C. Priority Mail International (PMI)

Prices for PMI are set to be profitable and to fit logically with other international services by being lower than EMI and higher than First-Class Mail International (FCMI). PMI prices will increase by 6.1 percent, with an expected Fiscal Year 2008 contribution increase of $6.7 million. Price increases vary by country group and weight increments. Prices for the PMI Flat-Rate Envelope and Regular Flat-Rate Box also will increase. Table 5 illustrates the price change for Pacific Rim countries. The total increase for this country group is 6.2 percent.

Table 5: Priority Mail International (Pacific Rim: Japan, Hong Kong, China)

	Price		Change
	Current	New	Price per piece	Percent
½ Pound/Flat-Rate Envelope	$11.00	$11.95	$0.95	8.6%
5 Pound	$38.00	$40.50	$2.50	6.6%
Small Flat-Rate Box	$37.00	$38.95	$1.95	5.3%

Priority Mail International customers using Click-N-Ship or other authorized online applications will continue to get an incentive of 5 percent. A new 5 percent incentive will be provided to commercial customers for payment of postage by PERMIT imprint and use of authorized software to prepare their mail. The general PMI price increase should offset any revenue reduction from the incentive, even if volumes shift from the full retail prices to the lower incentive prices.

As with EMI, few, if any, volumes will shift from retail prices. Previously, PMI incentives were only available to mailers who entered into certain types of customized agreements with the Postal Service. These mailers were commercial mailers, not individual retail customers. The volumes sent by these commercial customers never paid the retail price, but rather were mailed at the lower prices offered under the agreements. The general availability of the 5 percent PMI incentive may attract commercial customers who may not have been aware that customized agreements for PMI incentives were available from the Postal Service.

D. International Direct Sacks – M-Bags

The International Direct Sack – M-Bag (Airmail M-Bag) prices will increase 5.9 percent on average, resulting in increased contribution in Fiscal Year 2008. In addition, the country group structure will change to match EMI, PMI, and the planned FCMI country group structures by expanding to 9 country groups. Price increases vary by country group and weight increments. The total increase for the Western Europe country group is 5.3 percent and is illustrated in Table 6.

Table 6: International Direct Sacks – M-Bags (Western Europe)

	Price		Change
	Current	New	Price per pound	Percent
Per Pound	$2.85	$3.00	$0.15	5.3%

E. International Priority Airmail (IPA)/International Surface Air Lift (ISAL)

Costs for IPA and ISAL continue to rise and prices must increase to maintain an appropriate level of profitability. A published price schedule and incentives based on volume offered through customized agreements will continue to be available.

Published prices for IPA will increase by 12.5 percent, resulting in a contribution increase in Fiscal Year 2008. Table 7 shows examples of prices for IPA sent to country group 1, Canada, and country group 3, Western Europe.

Table 7: International Priority Airmail (IPA) - Country Groups 1 and 3

	Canada			Western Europe
	Current Price	New Price	Percent Change	Current Price	New Price	Percent Change
Per-Piece	$0.33	$0.40	21.2%	$0.32	$0.40	25.0%
Full-Service per pound	$4.55	$5.44	19.6%	$7.50	$7.50	0%
Drop-Ship Per Pound	$3.55	$4.44	25.1%	$6.50	$6.50	0%

ISAL published prices for ISC Drop Shipment will increase 21.3 percent, resulting in an increase in contribution for Fiscal Year 2008. Published prices for Direct Shipment are eliminated and, in the future, will only be available through customized agreements. The price increases for country group 1, Canada, and country group 3, Western Europe are shown in Table 8.

Table 8: International Surface Air Lift (ISAL) - Country Groups 1 and 3

	Canada			Western Europe
	Current Price	New Price	Percent Change	Current Price	New Price	Percent Change
Per-Piece	$0.32	$0.41	28.0%	$0.30	$0.43	41.8%
Full-Service Per Pound	$3.20	$3.61	12.8%	$4.00	$4.45	11.0%
Drop-Ship Per Pound	$2.20	$2.61	18.6%	$3.00	$3.45	14.9%

F. International Ancillary Services

Prices for International Ancillary Services used with competitive international mail services will increase. International Certificate of Mailing, International Registered Mail, International Return Receipt, International Restricted Delivery and certain International Insurance prices (Priority Mail International Insurance and Global Express Guaranteed Insurance) will increase.

VI. Summary

Based on the estimated increases in contribution for each product, in light of anticipated costs and volumes, the price changes will enable each competitive product to cover its attributable costs (39 U.S.C. § 3633(a)(2) and will result in competitive products as a whole complying with 39 U.S.C. § 3633(a)(3), which, as implemented by 39 C.F.R. § 3015.7 (c), requires competitive products to contribute a minimum of 5.5 percent to the Postal Service's total institutional costs. Accordingly, no issue of subsidization of competitive products by market dominant products arises (39 U.S.C. § 3633(a)(1)).
