SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[Release No. 34-66561; File No. SR-NYSEAmex-2012-16]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; NYSE Amex LLC; Notice of Filing and Immediate Effectiveness of Proposed Rule Change Implementing Changes to the Per Contract Execution Costs for Certain Participants

March 9, 2012.

Pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Act"),¹ and Rule 19b-4 thereunder,² notice is hereby given that on February 29, 2012, NYSE Amex LLC (the "Exchange" or "NYSE Amex") filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") the proposed rule change as described in Items I, II, and III below, which Items have been prepared by the self-regulatory organization. The Commission is publishing this notice to solicit comments on the proposed rule change from interested persons.

I. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Terms of Substance of the Proposed Rule Change

The Exchange proposes to amend the NYSE Amex Options Fee Schedule ("Fee Schedule") to increase the per contract execution costs for certain participants. The text of the proposed rule change is available at the Exchange, the Commission's Public Reference Room, and www.nyse.com.

⁹ 17 CFR 200.30-3(a)(12).

² 17 CFR 240.19b-4.

II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the self-regulatory organization included statements concerning the purpose of, and basis for, the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of those statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. The Exchange has prepared summaries, set forth in sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant parts of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

The Exchange proposes to amend the Fee Schedule to increase the per contract execution costs for certain participants. The Exchange believes the proposed fees will better reflect the costs associated with supporting a larger number of option classes, option series, and overall transaction volumes that have grown over time.

First, the Exchange proposes an increase of $.03 per contract applicable to all NYSE Amex Options Market Maker participants. In conjunction with this increase, NYSE Amex Options Market Maker participants will have the ability to earn back the lower existing rate by executing as a NYSE Amex Options Market Maker 50,000 contracts or more on average each day in a month, excluding either Strategy Executions or QCC trades. The existing monthly fee cap applicable to NYSE Amex Options Market Makers will continue to apply.³

NYSE Amex Options Specialists and eSpecialists currently pay $.10 per contract in transaction fees. Under the proposal, the charge applicable to NYSE Amex Options Specialist and eSpecialists would increase to $.13 per contract. If, however, a NYSE Amex Options participant executes on average at least 50,000 contracts each day in a month as a Market Maker, then the rate per contract applicable to those NYSE Amex Options Specialist or eSpecialist transactions would be reduced to $.10 per contract for that month.

NYSE Amex Options Market Makers that trade with directed order flow currently pay $.15 per contract in transaction fees. Under the proposal the charge applicable to NYSE Amex Options Market Makers trading with directed order flow would increase to $.18 per contract. If, however, a NYSE Amex Options participant executes on average at least 50,000 contracts each day in a month as a Market Maker, then the rate per contract applicable to those transactions in which a NYSE Amex Options Market Maker traded with directed order flow would be reduced to $.15 per contract for that month.

NYSE Amex Options Market Makers who trade with non-directed order flow currently pay $.17 per contract in transaction fees. Under the proposal the charge applicable to NYSE Amex Options Market Makers trading with non-directed order flow would increase to $.20 per contract. If, however, a NYSE Amex Options participant executes on average at least 50,000 contracts each day in a month as a Market Maker, then the rate per contract applicable to those transactions in which a NYSE Amex Options Market Maker traded with non-directed order flow would be reduced to $.17 per contract for that month.

For purposes of calculating the 50,000 contract average daily volume ("ADV")⁴ threshold, the Exchange will aggregate all of a NYSE Amex Options participant's Market Maker activity. For example, a NYSE Amex Options participant in one month trades 30,000 contracts ADV as a NYSE Amex Options Specialist, 20,000 contracts ADV as a NYSE Amex Options eSpecialist, 15,000 contracts as a NYSE Amex Options Market Maker trading with directed order flow, and 15,000 contracts ADV trading as a NYSE Amex Options Market Maker trading with non-directed order flow. This NYSE Amex Options participant will be credited with 80,000 contracts ADV attributable to NYSE Amex Options Market Maker activity and as such will be eligible for the reduced rate for those transactions that month. Additionally, in the calculation of the 50,000 contract or more ADV threshold, the Exchange will exclude both Strategy Trades and QCC trades.

Professional Customers presently pay a fee of $.20 per contract for electronically executed transactions. Under the proposal, the charge applicable to electronically executed transactions on behalf of a Professional Customer will increase to $.23 per contract. The rate for manually executed or open outcry transactions for Professional Customers will remain unchanged at $.25 per contract.

Non-NYSE Amex Options Market Makers presently pay a fee of $.40 per contract for electronically executed transactions. Under the proposal the charge applicable to electronically executed transactions on behalf of a Non-NYSE Amex Options Market Maker will increase to $.43 per contract. The rate for manually executed or open outcry transactions for Non-NYSE Amex Options Market Makers will remain unchanged at $.25 per contract.

In addition, for purposes of consistency and clarity, in footnote five of the NYSE Amex Options Fee Schedule the Exchange is amending "e-Specialist" to "eSpecialist," consistent with its use elsewhere in the Fee Schedule.

The proposed changes will be operative on March 1, 2012.

2. Statutory Basis

The Exchange believes that the proposed rule change is consistent with the provisions of Section 6(b)⁵ of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Act"), in general, and Section 6(b)(4)⁶ of the Act, in particular, in that it is designed to provide for the equitable allocation of reasonable dues, fees, and other charges among its members and other persons using its facilities.

The Exchange believes that the proposed change to increase the fee for NYSE Amex Specialists, eSpecialists, Market Makers who trade with directed and non-directed order flow, Professional Customers and Non-NYSE Amex Options Market Makers transacting on the Exchange is reasonable, given the growth in volumes over the past two years. The Exchange notes that ADV on the Exchange has increased from 1,653,156 contracts in January 2010 to 2,267,022 contracts ADV in January 2012, or an increase of over 37%. The proposed per contract increases range from a 7.5% increase for Non-NYSE Amex Options Market Makers to a 30% increase for Specialists and eSpecialists. The growth in trading volumes, option classes and messaging traffic has compelled the Exchange to continually invest in software, hardware and personnel, the cost of which can reasonably be expected to be borne by participants on the Exchange that consume the majority of those resources as evidenced by the volume of messages for quotes, orders and trades. For these reasons the Exchange believes it is reasonable to increase the per contract rate for NYSE Amex Specialists, eSpecialists, Market Makers that trade with directed and non-directed order flow, Professional Customers, and Non-NYSE Amex Options Market Makers.

The Exchange believes that the proposed change to increase the fee for NYSE Amex Specialists, eSpecialists, Market Makers who trade with directed and non-directed order flow, Professional Customers and Non-NYSE Amex Options Market Makers is equitable and not unfairly discriminatory since the fees as noted are generally tied to an overall increase in activity on the Exchange. This heightened activity results in greater costs to the Exchange, which in turn is being passed back through to those participants who utilize the resources of the Exchange. The Exchange notes, for example, that Customers are prohibited from engaging in activity that can be construed as market making, and as such Customers do not use quotes to trade nor do they enter more than 390 orders per day on average, unlike the participants subject to the proposed fee change, resulting in less capacity usage than the participants subject to the proposed fee change.⁷ For these reasons, the Exchange believes that the proposed $.03 per contract increase for NYSE Amex Specialists, eSpecialists, Market Makers who trade with directed and non-directed order flow, Professional Customers and Non-NYSE Amex Options Market Makers is both equitable and not unfairly discriminatory.

The Exchange notes that the proposed $.03 per contract increase is not applicable to Firm Proprietary electronic transactions or Broker Dealer electronic transactions. As noted above, the fee increase is designed to offset the higher costs associated with the growth in trading volumes, option classes and messaging traffic and is specifically targeted at those users who consume the majority of those resources. The Exchange has found that, historically and at present, both Firm Proprietary electronic transactions and Broker Dealer electronic transactions comprise a small portion of the electronic transactions relative to the electronic transactions of the participants affected by this fee change. In fact, the majority of Firm Proprietary and Broker Dealer volumes on the Exchange are executed in open outcry and therefore place little burden on the infrastructure of the Exchange. For these reasons the Exchange feels that it is reasonable, equitable and not unfairly discriminatory to increase the fees as proposed, while leaving the fees for Firm Proprietary and Broker Dealer electronic transactions as they are.

⁴ In calculating ADV, the Exchange will consider all trading days in a month, regardless of the length of the trading day.

⁵ 15 U.S.C. 78f(b).

⁶ 15 U.S.C. 78f(b)(4).

⁷ See NYSE Amex Rule 995NY(b).

The Exchange believes that the ability for NYSE Amex Specialists, eSpecialists, and Market Makers that trade with directed and non-directed order flow to earn back the lower rate by executing more than 50,000 contracts ADV each day in a month is reasonable, equitable and not unfairly discriminatory for several reasons. First, NYSE Amex Specialists, eSpecialists, and Market Makers that trade with directed and non-directed order flow all subject themselves to various obligations,⁸ including quoting obligations that compel them to put themselves at risk to trade with any and all interest in a large number of options at any one time. The Exchange believes it is important to continue to incentivize NYSE Amex Options Market Makers to obligate themselves to accept the risk of trading with any and all interest and as such it is warranted in permitting NYSE Amex Options Market Makers, which undertake those obligations as evidenced by their trading volumes, to earn back a lower per contract rate. Conversely, Professional Customers and Non-NYSE Amex Options Market Makers have no obligation whatsoever to post a bid or offer but rather can react selectively to the bids and offers posted by NYSE Amex Options Market Makers who do have obligations. It is these differing levels of obligations that cause the Exchange to believe that granting NYSE Amex Specialists, eSpecialists, and Market Makers that trade with directed and non-directed order flow the ability to earn back a lower rate by generating at least 50,000 contracts ADV each day in a month as a Market Maker is warranted. Further, the Exchange believes that excluding both Strategy Executions and QCC trades from the calculation of the 50,000 contract ADV threshold is appropriate since Strategy Trades are already subject to a lowered rate and are in turn capped while QCC trades can be effected without risk of trading with an unknown party. The Exchange does not believe that including QCC trades in the calculation of the 50,000 contract ADV threshold is appropriate, given the Exchange's desire to continue to incentivize NYSE Amex Options Market Makers to continue to provide firm quotes accessible by all participants. For these reasons, the Exchange believes the proposed change is reasonable, equitable and not unfairly discriminatory.

The Exchange also believes that the fees being proposed are reasonable because they are within the range of fees presently charged by other exchanges.

⁸ See NYSE Amex Rules 925NY, 925.1NY(b), 972NY(c), and 927.5NY.

For example, the International Stock Exchange ("ISE") charges Non-ISE Market Makers $.45 per contract,⁹ as well as a $.29 fee for Professional Customers in select symbols.¹⁰ Additionally, NASDAQ OMX PHLX LLC charges market makers a rate of either $.22 or $.23 per contract depending on whether the option is part of the penny pilot or not.¹¹

The Exchange operates in a highly competitive environment in which participants can not only move their business elsewhere, but also, if they choose, change the manner in which they access the Exchange. For example, Non-NYSE Amex Options Market Makers can avail themselves of the lower rates applicable to NYSE Amex Specialists, eSpecialists, and Market Makers that trade with directed and non-directed order flow by becoming NYSE Amex Options Market Makers. Likewise, a Professional Customer could either send fewer than 390 orders on average to begin trading as a Customer or they could register as a broker-dealer to trade on the Exchange as a Firm Proprietary trader or even a NYSE Amex Options Market Maker.

For the reasons noted above, the Exchange believes that the proposed fee changes are fair, equitable, and not unfairly discriminatory.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

The Exchange does not believe that the proposed rule change will impose any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants, or Others

No written comments were solicited or received with respect to the proposed rule change.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

The foregoing rule change is effective upon filing pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A)¹² of the Act and subparagraph (f)(2) of Rule 19b-4¹³ thereunder, because it establishes a due,

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[Release No. 34–66560; File No. SR–OCC–2012–01]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; The Options Clearing Corporation; Order Approving Proposed Rule Change Relating to Public Directors

March 9, 2012.

I. Introduction

On January 20, 2012, The Options Clearing Corporation (“OCC”) filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (“Commission”) proposed rule change SR–OCC–2012–01 pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (“Act”)¹ and Rule 19b–4 thereunder.² The proposed rule change was published for comment in the Federal Register on February 2, 2012.³ The Commission received no comment letters regarding the proposal. For the reasons discussed below, the Commission is granting approval of the proposed rule change.

II. Description

The proposed rule change would modify the corporate governance structure of OCC by: (i) Increasing the number of public directors on OCC’s Board of Directors from one to three, (ii) creating a staggered term system for the public directors, and (iii) adding a public director to the Nominating Committee.

III. Discussion

Section 19(b)(2)(B) of the Act directs the Commission to approve a proposed rule change of a self-regulatory organization if it finds that such proposed rule change is consistent with the requirements of the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder applicable to such organization.⁴ In particular, Section 17A(b)(3)(C)⁵ of the Act requires that the rules of a clearing agency assure a fair representation of its shareholders and participants in the selection of its directors and administration of its affairs.

The proposed change would allow OCC to increase the number of public directors from one to three, to create a staggered term system for the public directors, and to add a public director to the Nominating Committee. In proposing these changes to the composition of its Board of Directors, OCC stated that the changes would enhance the corporate governance structure at OCC. As such, the Commission finds that the proposed rule change is consistent with OCC’s obligation under Section 17A(b)(3)(F)⁶ of the Act’s requirement that the rules of OCC be designed to remove impediments and perfect the mechanism of a national system for the clearance and settlement of securities transactions.

IV. Conclusion

On the basis of the foregoing, the Commission finds that the proposal is consistent with the requirements of the Act and in particular with the requirements of Section 17A of the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder.

It is therefore ordered, pursuant to Section 19(b)(2)⁷ of the Act, that the proposed rule change (File No. SR–OCC–2012–01) be, and hereby is, approved.⁸

For the Commission, by the Division of Trading and Markets, pursuant to delegated authority.⁹

Deputy Secretary.
