

§ 467c. Determination of danger to human life and property

For the purpose of determining whether a dam (including the waters impounded by such dam) constitutes a danger to human life or property, the Secretary shall take into consideration the possibility that the dam might be endangered by overtopping, seepage, settlement, erosion, sediment, cracking, earth movement, earthquakes, failure of bulkheads, flashboard, gates on conduits, or other conditions which exist or which might occur in any area in the vicinity of the dam.

AMENDMENTS

1996—Pub. L. 104-303 inserted section catchline.

§ 467d. National inventory of dams and low-head dams

(a) In general

The Secretary of the Army shall maintain and update information on the inventory of dams and low-head dams in the United States.

(b) Dams

The inventory maintained under subsection (a) shall include any available information assessing each dam based on inspections completed by a Federal agency, a State dam safety agency, or a Tribal government.

(c) Low-head dams

The inventory maintained under subsection (a) shall include—

- (1) the location, ownership, description, current use, condition, height, and length of each low-head dam;
- (2) any information on public safety conditions at each low-head dam; and
- (3) any other relevant information concerning low-head dams.

(d) Data

In carrying out this section, the Secretary shall—

- (1) coordinate with Federal and State agencies, Tribal governments, and other relevant entities; and
- (2) use data provided to the Secretary by those agencies and entities.

(e) Public availability

The Secretary shall make the inventory maintained under subsection (a) publicly available (including on a publicly available website), including—

- (1) public safety information on the dangers of low-head dams; and
- (2) a directory of financial and technical assistance resources available to reduce safety hazards and fish passage barriers at low-head dams.

(f) Clarification

Nothing in this section provides authority to the Secretary to carry out an activity, with respect to a low-head dam, that is not explicitly authorized under this section.

(g) Low-head dam defined

In this section, the term “low-head dam” means a river-wide artificial barrier that generally spans a stream channel, blocking the waterway and creating a backup of water behind the barrier, with a drop off over the wall of not less than 6 inches and not more than 25 feet.
